The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $150,318.75, with interest thereon from the 7th day of December, 1900, together with costs and allowance amounting to $323 36-100, together with interest thereon since December 7th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of the taxes and water rents or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $4,566.39.—Dated New York, December 18th, 1900.

LOUIS ADLER, Referee.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —FERDINAND N. MONJO and Jennie M. Monjo, his wife, plaintiffs, against GEORGE A. WIDMAYER, Henry E. Widmayer, William F. Widmayer, and Nicholas F. Monjo, as trustees under the will of George Widmayer, deceased, George A. Widmayer and Hannah B. Widmayer, his wife; Henry E. Widmayer and Adeline Widmayer, his wife; William F. Widmayer and Louisa C. Widmayer, his wife; Julia M. Hurtt and Frank D. Hurtt, her husband; George H. Ebbinghausen and Jennie A. Ebbinghausen, his wife; Gustavus L. Lawrence and Clementine G. Lawrence, his wife; Helen S. McLean, defendants.

I, the undersigned, duly appointed referee, by order of this Court, dated on the 19th day of October, 1900, do hereby require each person not a party to the above-entitled action who, on the said 19th day of October, 1900, had a lien upon any undivided share or interest in the property hereinafter described to appear before me, at my office, No. 2 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 17th day of January, 1901, to prove his lien and the true amount due, or to become due, to him by reason thereof. The said property is described in the complaint in this action as follows:

All those certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Nineteenth Ward of the City of New York, and which taken together are bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the southerly line of Twenty-third Street with the easterly line of Seventh Avenue; running thence southerly along the easterly line of Seventh Avenue one hundred and forty-eight feet one and one-half inches; thence easterly at right angles to Seventh Avenue one hundred feet; thence northerly and parallel with Seventh Avenue thirty-nine feet ten and one-half inches; thence easterly at right angles to Seventh Avenue twenty-five feet; thence northerly and parallel with Seventh Avenue nine feet six inches; thence easterly at right angles to Seventh Avenue fifty feet; thence northerly parallel with Seventh Avenue ninety-eight feet nine inches to the southerly line of Twenty-third Street, and thence westerly along said southerly line of Twenty-third Street one hundred and seventy-five feet to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, Nov. 26, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

EUGENE L. BUSHE, Esq., Attorney for Plaintiffs, 150 Broadway, Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property above described, the street numbers being 215, 217, and 219 Seventh Avenue and 160, 162, 164, 166, 168, 170, 172, and 174 West Twenty-third Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York.

West 23d Street.

West 22d Street.

Dated New York, Nov. 20th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

d5-1aw6wW.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—ELIZABETH MYERS, Plaintiff, against WILLIAM H. BREDER as administrator, etc., and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date 27th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 24th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Bryan L. Kennelly, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, (not including the buildings thereon erected,) being twenty-five (25) feet in breadth in front, situate, lying, and being in the late Tenth Ward, now Seventeenth Ward, of the City of New York, and on the westerly side of Chrystie Street, between Rivington and Stanton Streets, and known and distinguished on the map of the Delancey Estate as number two hundred and forty, (240,) which said lot is now known and distinguished as number One Hundred and Eighty-one (181) Chrystie Street, between Rivington and Stanton Streets, together with all the rights to the alley or passage way in the rear thereof, now belonging to the party of the first part. Being the same premises herstofore conveyed to Anna Breder, by deed of Amos Hurd and Eliza Rose, his wife, both of the City of Brooklyn, County of Kings and State of New York, bearing date the 6th day of January, 1884, and which said deed is recorded in the office of the Register of New York County in liber 1768 of Conveyances, page 497, on the 9th day of January, 1884.—Dated New York, December 31, 1900.

JOSEPH C. LEVI, Referee.

HUGO S. MACK, Attorney for Plaintiff, 7 Beekman Street, New York City.

Chrystie Street.

The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $11,621.66, with interest thereon from 14th day of December, 1900; together with costs and allowances amounting to $695.60, with interest from December 29th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $1,278.58 and interest, and said premises are to be sold subject to a mortgage for $5,000, with interest at five per cent. per annum from July 1, 1900.—Dated New York, December 31, 1900.

JOSEPH C. LEVI, Referee.

Ja2-2aw3vW&S&Ja23.

Bankruptcy Notices.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN District of New York.—MORRIS J. MEYER, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Morris J. Meyer, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 2d, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, January 23d, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon.

ERNEST HALL,
Referee in Bankruptcy.

New York, January 8th, 1901.

U. S. DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN District of New York.—JACOB SHAPIRO, Bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Jacob Shapiro, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated January 5th, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, U. S. District Judge, in the U. S. Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, January

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Phenix National Bank
62 Wall Street.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL B'LD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS,
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Transact a general banking business; act as Fiscal Agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies. Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Branch Office: 65 State St., Albany.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.
BANKERS,
41 WALL ST., N. Y.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Transact a general banking business. Receive deposits subject to draft. Dividends and interest collected and remitted. Act as Fiscal Agent for and negotiate and issue loans of railroads, street railways, gas companies, etc. Securities bought and sold on commission.
DEAL IN High-Grade Investment Securities.
Lists of current offerings sent on application.
PHILADELPHIA CORRESPONDENTS,
GRAHAM, KERR & CO.

KOUNTZE BROTHERS,
BANKERS,
Broadway & Cedar St., NEW YORK,
BUY AND SELL
Investment Securities.
Receive accounts of Corporations, Firms and Individuals on favorable terms.
Make loans against approved collateral.
LETTERS OF CREDIT.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.
New York Telephone, 3700 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.

Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

Geo. Sheffield. J. H. McCullough.
SHEFFIELD & McCULLOUGH,
Members of the New York Stock Exchange.
52 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.
TELEPHONE, 704 BROAD.

Established 1868. Tel. call, 2385 Cortlandt.
FRED. H. SMITH,
STOCK BROKER, 8 BROAD ST., N. Y.
Member New York Con. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds and Grain.
Bought, sold, and carried on margin.
COMMISSION 1-16TH.
Book of Railway Statistics upon application.

FINANCIAL.

TO THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDHOLDERS
OF THE
Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company.

The interest on the first mortgage bonds of the Fort Worth and Denver City Railway Company, which, by agreement of October 12th, 1895, between a Committee of the Bondholders and the Union Pacific, Denver and Gulf Railway Company and its Receiver, was reduced for a time to four per cent., will, after December 1, 1900, accrue and be payable at the original rate of six per cent.

The control of the Company through stock ownership is in the Colorado and Southern Railway Company, and it appears from published reports that the present earnings of the property are not sufficient to pay the full interest on the bonds. Under these circumstances it becomes essential that the bondholders unite in securing all the consideration to which they are entitled, and, if need be, enforcing their rights under the mortgages and otherwise protecting their interests.

The undersigned have been requested by the principal bondholders to act as a bondholders' committee, and in order to confer upon the committee necessary authority, the bondholders are respectfully urged to deposit their bonds at once with the United States Trust Company under a bondholders' agreement lodged with it.

Engraved certificates of deposit will be issued by the Trust Company, and application will be made to the New York Stock Exchange to list the same.

Copies of the agreement can be obtained either from the Trust Company or from the Committee.

HENRY K. McHARG, 40 Wall St.
MIDELL TILGHMAN, 40 Wall St.
FRANKLIN B. LORD, 120 Broadway.
LORD, DAY & LORD, Counsel.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.

At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 10th day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.

Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.

WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
BY ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JANY. 9TH, 1901,
At 12:30 O'CLOCK, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW RWAY CO.
41,900 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. Pref.
28,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common.
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 shs. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co.
$300,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., March, 1890, Coups. on.
$1,600,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bds.
The sale of the above securities will be adjourned to Wednesday, January 30th, 1901, at same time and place.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
DULUTH, MISSABE AND NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY
First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Dated January 1st, 1893.

The CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY of New York gives notice that in accordance with Article V. of a certain Indenture made by the above Railway Company, dated January 1st, 1893, it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above-described bonds at a rate not to exceed 105 per cent. and accrued interest, the total offer not to consume more than the amount of Eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighteen 81-100 dollars ($83,518.81.) The sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, in New York City, at twelve o'clock noon on the sixteenth day of January, 1901.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.
JNO. G. Sherman, Vice President.

FINANCIAL. FINANCIAL.

WE OFFER SUBJECT TO PRIOR SALE

$600,000

First Mortgage 5% Gold Bonds

City Lighting Company of St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, MO.

Capital Stock, $600,000. Total Bond Issue, $600,000.

THE NORTHERN TRUST COMPANY OF CHICAGO, TRUSTEE.

Price to Yield 4.90% Per Annum.

Dated April 7, 1900. Maturing serially Sept. 1, 1901 to 1910. Denomination $1,000. Both principal and semi-annual interest (March and September) payable at the Northern Trust Company, Chicago, Ill.

The Bonds are secured by an absolute first mortgage upon all the property, rights, privileges and franchises now owned or that may hereafter be acquired by the Company. It limits the issue of Bonds to $600,000.

Contract with City of St. Louis for Public Lighting.

We desire to call particular attention to a feature of these Bonds whereby an income more than is required to redeem Bonds and interest is absolutely guaranteed from the City of St. Louis, through a contract with the City of St. Louis for public lighting in the business district of the city, running for a period of ten years (or the life of these Bonds.) Under this contract, from the rental received from the City of St. Louis, there is paid monthly to the Northern Trust Company of Chicago, Trustee, an amount sufficient for the retirement of the principal and interest of these Bonds as the same become due.

The contract for public lighting carries with it a ten-year franchise to distribute commercial light, heat and power through a territory comprising six square miles, including the entire business district of St. Louis.

EARNINGS.

Annual amount received from city as rental, under contract	$105,654.44
Annual amount Commercial Lighting, under contract	36,000.00
	$141,654.44
Annual operating expenses (as estimated by Mr. B. J. Arnold)	51,000.00
Surplus earnings to pay bonds and interest	$90,654.44

Further information and special circular will be furnished on application.

T. B. POTTER,
172 Washington St., Chicago.

REDEMPTION NOTICE NO. 8.
RICHMOND AND DANVILLE RAILROAD COMPANY
EQUIPMENT MORTGAGE BONDS, DATED SEPTEMBER 3, 1889.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that fifty-three (53) Equipment Mortgage Bonds of the Richmond and Danville Railroad Company were this day drawn for the sinking fund, in accordance with the requirements of Article Three of the Trust Mortgage, numbered as follows, viz.:

27	204	362	548	832	1000	1121
31	241	373	550	846	1022	1122
43	274	382	607	885	1057	1184
64	281	437	614	890	1080	1185
141	290	448	631	934	1086	1204
152	316	483	728	948	1103	1238
171	320	490	752	961	1119	1249
175	339	544	758

ALL future interest of any of the bonds so designated ceases with the coupons due March 1st, in accordance with the terms of the mortgage.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK,
By E. F. HYDE,
2d Vice President.
New York, December 5, 1900.

We, the undersigned, hereby certify that the fifty-three bonds were designated by lot in our presence, as above stated.
FRED C. RANDALL,
With Central Trust Company of New York.
R. D. LANKFORD,
With Richmond & Danville R. R. Co.
FRANK B. SMIDT,
(Seal) Notary Public, N. Y. Co.

In accordance with the foregoing certificate, said mentioned bonds, and the coupons thereto maturing March 1, 1901, will be paid at this office on or after the first day of March, 1901, at par.
Central Trust Company of New York, Trustee.
By E. F. HYDE,
2d Vice President.

MORTON TRUST COMPANY,
38 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, $2,000,000
Surplus & Undivided Profits, $3,000,000

OFFICERS:

LEVI P. MORTON,	President
THOMAS F. RYAN,	Vice-President
JAMES K. CORBIERE,	2d Vice-Prest
H.M. FRANCIS,	Secretary
W. REDMOND CROSS,	Treasurer
EUGENE E. VARET,	Asst. Secretary
H. B. BERRY,	Trust Officer

DIRECTORS:

John Jacob Astor,	Joseph Larocque,
George F. Baker,	D. O. Mills,
Edward J. Berwind,	Levi P. Morton,
Frederic Cromwell,	Richard A. McCurdy,
James B. Duke,	W. G. Oakman,
Henry M. Flagler,	George Foster Peabody,
G. G. Haven,	Samuel Rea,
Joseph C. Hendrix,	Elihu Root,
Abram S. Hewitt,	Thomas F. Ryan,
James N. Jarvie,	Jacob H. Schiff,
Walter S. Johnston,	John Sloane,
A. D. Juilliard,	William C. Whitney.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE:
LEVI P. MORTON,
THOMAS F. RYAN,
EDWARD J. BERWIND,
G. G. HAVEN,
JOSEPH C. HENDRIX,
JAMES N. JARVIE,
GEORGE FOSTER PEABODY,
JACOB H. SCHIFF,
WILLIAM C. WHITNEY.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.
Allows Interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.
HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT, Vice-Pres. T. STALLKNECHT, 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS, Treasurer. ERNEST EHRMANN, Secretary.

DIRECTORS:

Frederic P. Olcott,	Augustus D. Juilliard,
James Stillman,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Anthony N. Brady,	William A. Nash,
Alwyn Ball, jr.,	James N. Jarvie,
John D. Crimmins,	James H. Post,
Michael Coleman,	Frederick Southack,
Ernest Fhrmann,	Hugh J. Grant
Henry Morgenthau.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

UNLISTED MARKETABLE SECURITIES
A SPECIALTY.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 WALL ST.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 9, 1901.
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS.
560 shs. Reading Co. 1st Prefd.
30 shs. Reading Co. 2d Prefd.
10 shs. Reading Co. common.
20 shs. Chicago Terminal Transfer Co. common.
25 shs. Chicago Terminal Transfer Co. Prefd.
25 shs. Distilling Co. of America common.
100 shs. Iowa Central R. R. Prefd.
$1,000 St. Nicholas Club 2d Mtge. Bds.
100 shs. Produce Exchange Trust Co.
172 shs. Menantic Steamship Co. (managed by Messrs. T. Hogan & Sons, No. 21 State Street, N. Y. City.)
50 shs. Manhansett Improvement Co.
10 shs. American District Telegraph Co.
300 shs. Ohio & Indiana Consld. Natural & Ill. Gas Co.
$5,000 United N. J. R. R. & Canal Co. 4 p. c. Bds., 1944.
44 shs. Bank of New York, N. B. A.
FOR ACCT. OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
16 shs. William Hecker Co. (Hypd.)
1 shars New York Life Ins. & Trust Co.
25 shs. Westchester Trust Co.
100 shs. Nashville & Chattanooga R'way Co.
50 shs. National City Bank.
25 shs. National City Bank.
$11,000 Indiana Natural & Ill. Gas Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds.
$10,000 Ohio & Indiana Gas Co. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1926.
$7,000 Logansport & Wabash Valley Gas Co. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1925.
117 shs. Ohio & Indiana Consld. Natural & Ill. Gas Co.
10 shs. Bank of Commerce.
20 shs. National City Bank.
25 shs. Importers and Tradere' Natl. Bank.
$29,000 Florida Central & Peninsular Consld. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1943.
$23,000 Lou., Nashville, N. O. & Mobile 2d Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1930.
2 shs. Guaranty Trust Co.
3 shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
10 shs. Holland Trust Co.
10 shs. Continental Trust Co.
17 shs. National City Bank.
25 shs. Trust Co. of New York.
50 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
10 shs. Morton Trust Co.
15 shs. Lawyers' Surety Co.
75 shs. Trust Co. of New York.
$5,000 3d Avenue R. R. 1st Con. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 2000.
13 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
10 shs. Bond & Mortgage Guarantee Co.
$8,500 Halcyon Hotel Co. 2d Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1909, Oct., 1900, Coups. on, (Hypd.)
50 shs. American Surety Co.
20 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
$2,000 Evansville & Ind'ap's R. R. 1st Consld. Guar. 6 p. c. Bds., 1926.
100 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
115 shs. Atlantic Coast Electric Ry. Co.
10 shs. Holland Trust Co.
50 shs. Merchants' Trust Co.
60 shs. Mechanics' Bank of B'klyn.
25 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
$10,000 State of Louisiana 4 p. c. Bds., 1914.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co., Ltd., 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co., Ltd., 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds.
100 shs. Inter-State Oil Co.
5 shs. American Surety Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
25 shs. Title Guar. & Trust Co.
20 shs. Union Trust Co.
20 shs. North American Trust Co.
10 shs. Bank of the State of New York.
10 shs. Long Branch Pier Co. common.
10 shs. Long Branch Pier Co. prefd.
$625 Retail Coal Exchange Bds.
100 shs. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.
$10,000 Ohio Mining & Manf'g Co. 5 p. c. Inc. Bds.

RICHARD V. HARNETT & CO., AUCTIONEERS, will sell at auction, Wednesday, Jan. 9, 1901, at 12:30 o'clock P. M., at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, for account of whom it may concern: 1 bond Quincy Granite Quarries Co., $1,000, (hypothecated.)

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS $1,000,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows Interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Registrar, &c. HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. Cammann, V.Pres. H. W. Reighley, Sec.

Haskins & Sells,
Certified Public Accountants,
NO. 30 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.

Meetings and Elections.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of The Mers Universal Extractor & Construction Company, for the election of seven Directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, No. 788 Broadway in the City of New York, on the 14th day of January, 1901, at 2 o'clock P. M. W. GREVEL, Secretary.

GERMAN EXCHANGE BANK, N. Y.
New York, December 14th, 1900.
The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 330 Bowery, on Thursday, January 10th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock M. and 2 o'clock P. M.
CHAS. L. ADRIAN, Cashier.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of Stockholders of THE ELLIOTT & HARCH BOOK TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the Company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, Wednesday, January 16, 1901, at One o'clock P. M. for the election of five Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.
E. H. SCHLEY, Sec'y.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of stockholders of THE KEYSTONE TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on TUESDAY, JANUARY 22, 1901, at 1:30 o'clock P. M., for the election of five Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.
E. H. SCHLEY, Sec'y.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of the stockholders of THE AMERICAN RAILWAY TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on TUESDAY, JANUARY 22D, 1901, at one o'clock P. M., for the election of five Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting
W. H. WOOLVERTON, President.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

New York, January 8th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the National Park Bank, held this day at the banking house, 214 Broadway, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Joseph T. Moore,	August Belmont,
Stuyvesant Fish,	Richard Delafield,
George S. Hart,	Francis R. Appleton,
Charles Sternbach,	John Jacob Astor,
Charles Scribner,	George S. Hickok,
Edward C. Hoyt,	George Fred'k Vietor,
W. Rockhill Potts,	Hermann Oelrichs,
Albert H. Wiggin.

And as Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year, Jno. M. Cornell, Wm. D. Baldwin, and Chas. L. Hadley.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Mr. Richard Delafield was elected President and Stuyvesant Fish, Albert H. Wiggin, and Gilbert G. Thorne were elected Vice Presidents, George S. Hickok, Cashier, and Edward J. Baldwin, Assistant Cashier.

The Peoples Bank
of the City of New York,
393 & 395 Canal St.
January 8th, 1901.
At the annual election held this day the following gentlemen were elected to serve the ensuing year:
DIRECTORS:

Scott Foster,	Alfred B. Maclay,
Adolph Wimpfheimer,	Stevenson Taylor,
Theodore W. Morris,	Thomas Williams,
William Milne.

INSPECTORS.

Freeman Bloodgood,	Frederick V. Price,
Alex. S. Clark.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Scott Foster, Esq., was unanimously re-elected President, and Adolph Wimpfheimer, Esq., was unanimously re-elected Vice President.
WILLIAM MILNE, Cashier.

YORKVILLE BANK,
Third Avenue, corner 85th Street.
NEW YORK, January 8th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the shareholders of this bank, held to-day, the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year:

Richard H. Adams,	Jacob Ruppert, Jr.,
E. B. Amend,	Jacob Schlosser,
Thomas E. Crimmins,	Leopold Schmid,
Chas. C. Clausen,	H. B. Scharmann,
Henry Diedel,	Emil Unger,
Karl Hutter,	Louis von Bernuth,
Henry F. Poggenburg,	Moses Weinman,
Reinhold Van der Emde.

WM. L. FRANKENBACH, Cashier.

Mechanics' National Bank,
New York, Jan. 8, 1901.
At the shareholders' meeting, held to-day, the following named gentlemen were elected Directors of this bank for the ensuing year:

Henry E. Nesmith,	Charles M. Prail,
Alexander E. Orr,	Henry Talmadge,
Lowell Lincoln,	John Sinclair,
Horace E. Garth,	William B. Boulton,
Henry Hentz,	Granville W. Garth.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors Mr. Horace E. Garth, for many years President of the bank, declined re-election, whereupon Messrs. Granville W. Garth and Alexander E. Orr were unanimously elected President and Vice President, respectively. HENRY TALMADGE, Chairman of the Meeting.

Leather Manufacturers National Bank,
29 WALL ST.,
New York, Jan. 8th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors of this bank for the year ending on the second Tuesday in January, 1902:

Wm. M. Kingsland,	Nicholas F. Palmer,
Wm. Rockefeller,	Wm. C. Sturges,
Wm. H. Macy, Jr.,	Geo. W. Quintard,
John T. Willets,	Gates W. McGarrah.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Nicholas F. Palmer, President; William H. Macy, Jr., Vice President, and Gates W. McGarrah, Second Vice President, were unanimously re-elected.
GATES W. McGARRAH, Cashier.

Irving National Bank,
New York, January 8th, 1901.
At an annual election for Directors, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Chas. F. Mattisge,	Chas. Reed,
John W. Castree,	John W. Nix,
Chas. H. Fancher,	Henry Kroeger,
W. H. B. Totten,	Daniel P. Morse,
Sam'l B. Downes,	Wm. H. Barnard,
William C. Demorest.

J. DENNISON, Cashier.

EMPIRE STATE-IDAHO MINING & DEVELOPING CO.
NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.
New York, December 21st, 1900.
A special meeting of the stockholders of the Empire State-Idaho Mining & Developing Company will be held on the 14th day of January, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., at the office of the Company, No. 45 Cedar Street, New York City, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y., for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to increase its capital stock from $1,000,000, consisting of 100,000 shares of the par value of $10 each, to $6,000,000, to consist of 600,000 shares of the par value of $10 each.
GEO. W. YOUNG,
GEORGE COX, Jr.,
EDWIN PACKARD,
F. J. KILNER,
A majority of Directors.

BUFFALO HUMP MINING COMPANY.
NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.
New York, December 21st, 1900.
A special meeting of the stockholders of the Buffalo Hump Mining Company will be held on the 14th day of January, 1901, at half past three o'clock P. M., at the office of the Company, No. 45 Cedar Street, New York City, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y., for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to decrease its capital stock from $3,000,000, consisting of 300,000 shares of the par value of $10 each, to $1,000,000, to consist of 100,000 shares of the par value of $10 each.
EDWIN PACKARD,
THOMAS C. CALLENDER,
GEO. W. YOUNG,
F. J. KILNER,
A majority of Directors.

THE SECURITIES COMPANY.
Notice of Annual Meeting.
The Annual Meeting of THE SECURITIES COMPANY for the election of Directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before such meeting will be held at the office of the company, No. 45 Wall Street, in the City of New York, on the second THURSDAY in January, 1901, that is, the 10th day of January, 1901, at two o'clock in the afternoon. Transfer books will be closed on the 29th day of December, 1900, and will reopen on the 11th day of January, 1901.
Dated December 26th, 1900.
A. J. MILLER, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A MEETING of the stockholders of the McDowell Garment Drafting Machine Company will be held at the office of the Company, No. 6 West 14th Street, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on the 16th day of January, 1901, at twelve o'clock, noon, for the purpose of electing four Directors for the ensuing year and two Inspectors of Election to serve at the next annual meeting, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before said meeting.—Dated New York, December 31, 1900.
JAY LEISER, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT A MEETing of the stockholders of The Warren Chemical and Manufacturing Company, a domestic corporation, will be held at the office of said company at No. 81 Fulton Street, New York City, Manhattan Borough, on the 23d day of January, 1901, at three o'clock in the afternoon of that day, for the purpose of voting upon a proposition that the said Warren Chemical and Manufacturing Company be forthwith dissolved.
THOMAS M. RIANHARD, Secretary.
New York, Dec. 28, 1900.

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE THAT THE ANNUAL meeting of the stockholders of the Henry Elias Brewing Company, for the election of five Directors for the year 1901 and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, at 403 East 54th Street, in the City of New York, on the 21st day of January, 1901, at 4 o'clock P. M. The transfer books will be closed on the 29th day of December, 1900, at six o'clock P. M., and will remain closed until the 22d day of January, 1901.
JOSEPH F. LIPPE, Sec'y.

CITY TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK.
The Annual Meeting of Stockholders of the City Trust Company of New York for the election of Directors to supply the places of those whose terms expire will be held at its office, 36 Wall Street, on WEDNESDAY, January 16th, 1901, at 11 o'clock A. M.
The Transfer-Books will close January 2d, 1901, at 3 P. M., and reopen on January 17.
ARTHUR TERRY, Secretary.
December 26, 1900.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of THE FORTY-SECOND STREET, MANHATTANVILLE AND ST. NICHOLAS AVENUE RAILWAY COMPANY, for the election of thirteen Directors and three Inspectors of Election, and to act upon any other business that may be brought before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, Numbers 118 and 120 East Forty-second Street, New York City, on Thursday, January 17th, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon. Polls open from 12 to 1 P. M.
Transfer books of this Company will be closed from 3 P. M. January 2d, 1901, until 10 A. M. January 18th, 1901.
THOMAS A. MAHER, Secretary.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing Year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.
O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of The Sicilian Asphalt Paving Company for the election of Trustees and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year, and for such other business as may come before the meeting, will be held at the offices of the Company, Rooms 47 to 50, Times Building, in the City of New York, on Wednesday, the 30th day of January, 1901, at 3:30 P. M.
C. S. CHAMBERLIN, Secretary.

ANNUAL MEETING STOCKHOLDERS ROME Mining Company will be held at office of J. C. Thompson, 95 Liberty St., New York, TUESDAY, January 15, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon.
ALFRED H. BROWN,
For the Directors.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

Insurance Company of the State of New York.
80-82 William St.,
New York City, Jan. 5, 1901.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of this company will be held at the office of the company, No. 80 William St., on TUESDAY, January 22d, 1901, at 3 P. M.
H. R. CHAMBERS, Secretary.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of the stockholders of THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY will be held Wednesday, January 16th, 1901, at 11 o'clock A. M., Room 147, Times Building. A resolution to decrease the Board of Directors from seven to five will be presented.
BEN. C. FRANCK, Secy.

Savings Banks.

105TH SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
INSTITUTION FOR THE SAVINGS OF MERCHANTS' CLERKS.
NO. 20 UNION SQUARE.
A Dividend for the six months and three months ending December 31, 1900, has been declared and will be credited Jan. 1 to all depositors entitled thereto under the by-laws, at the rate of Three and One-half Per Cent. Per Annum on sums from $5 to $3,000, payable on and after January 21, 1901.
Money deposited on or before January 10 will draw interest from January 1.
Bank open daily, holidays excepted, from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. Saturdays from 10 A. M. to 12 noon.
FRANK M. HURLBUT, President.
WILLIAM H. ROCKWOOD, Secretary.
JOHN T. WEEKS, Cashier.
GEORGE G. WILLIAMS, Treasurer.

Metropolitan Savings Bank
1 and 3 THIRD AV., (opp. Cooper Institute.)
Chartered 1852.
95TH DIVIDEND.
New York, Dec. 11, 1900.
INTEREST FOR THE HALF YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31, 1900, at the rate of FOUR PER CENT. PER ANNUM
will be credited to depositors entitled thereto under the by-laws of the bank on sums from $5 to $3,000. INTEREST PAYABLE JANUARY 16TH, 1901.
MONEY DEPOSITED on or before January 10 will draw interest from January 1, 1901.
JONATHAN B. CURREY, President.
EDWARD SHERER, Secretary.

Siegel-Cooper & Co., Bankers,
6th Ave., 18th and 19th Sts.
Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum credited to depositors on January 2, 1901, for the three and six months ending December 31, 1900.
Deposits made before the 10th day of any month draw interest for full month.
Banking hours 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.

THE FRANKLIN SAVINGS BANK,
656 and 658 Eighth Av., corner 42d St.
EIGHTY-FIRST
SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
On and after January 21st, 1901, interest at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF per cent. per annum will be paid to depositors entitled thereto on all sums from $5 to $3,000. Money deposited on or before the 10th of January will draw interest from the 1st. Bank open from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M., and Monday from 6 to 8 P. M., holidays excepted. Closes at 12 M. on Saturday.
Assets, $10,520,000. Surplus, $920,000.
A. TURNER, President.
WM. G. GONKLIN, Secretary.

THE NEW YORK SAVINGS BANK,
8TH AV., N. W. COR. 14TH ST.
The trustees have ordered that the interest to be credited to depositors Jan. 1, 1901, shall be at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. PER ANNUM on all sums from $5 to $3,000.
Deposits made on or before Jan. 10 will draw interest from Jan. 1.
PETER A. WELCH, President.
RUFUS H. WOOD, Treasurer.
WILLIAM FELSINGER, Secretary.

CITIZENS' SAVINGS BANK,
56 and 58 BOWERY, COR. CANAL ST.
81ST SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
The Trustees have ordered that interest at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF (3½) PER CENT. per annum be paid to depositors on and after January 15th, 1901, on sums of $5 and up to $3,000 which have remained on deposit for the three or six months ending December 31, 1900, in accordance with the by-laws and rules of the bank. Money deposited on or before January 10th will draw interest from January 1st.
HENRY HASLER, President.
CHARLES W. HELD, Secretary.
HENRY SAYLER, Assistant Secretary.

GREENWICH SAVINGS BANK.
S. E. Cor. 6th Ave. and 16th St.
INTEREST AT THE RATE OF THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. PER ANNUM will be credited depositors for the SIX MONTHS and THREE MONTHS ENDING DEC. 31, 1900, on all sums from five dollars to three thousand dollars, entitled thereto under the by-laws, payable JAN. 21, 1901.
JOHN HARSEN RHOADES, President.
JAMES QUINLAN, Treasurer.
B. OGDEN CHISOLM, Secretary.
Deposits made on or before JAN. 10, 1901, will draw interest from JAN. 1, 1901.

Union Dime Savings Institution
BROADWAY, 32D ST. & SIXTH AVENUE.
GREELEY SQUARE, NEW YORK.
Interest THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. from $5 to $3,000. Credited January 1st, payable January 17th or any time later.
Money deposited on or before January 10th draws interest from the first.
CHARLES E. SPRAGUE, President.
GEORGE N. BIRDSALL, Treasurer.
FRANCIS M. LEAKE, Secretary.

NORTH RIVER SAVINGS BANK
266 West 34th Street, (Near Eighth Avenue.)
70th SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
The Board of Trustees have directed that interest be credited depositors on Dec. 31st, 1900, at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. per annum on sums of $5.00 to $3,000.
Deposits made on or before January 10th will draw interest from January 1st.
SAMUEL D. STYLES, President.
ALEXANDER C. MILNE, Treasurer.
IRVING M. SHAW, Secretary.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company
Mills Building, New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings of the company a dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of the Company, the same to be paid Feb. 5, 1901, to the stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on December 24, 1900.
For the purpose of such dividend, and for the purpose of facilitating the exchange of stock for voting trust certificates, the transfer books of this company will be closed at 3 P. M. on December 24, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 A. M. on January 10, 1901.
NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.
23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
The transfer books of its Voting Trustees for Common Stock Trust Certificates of the NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY will close in New York and Berlin at 3 P. M. on Dec. 24, 1900.
On Feb. 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. on the Common Stock of the Company, when received by them, among the parties entitled thereto, as the same appear of record on their books when closed as above.
The Voting Trustees having dissolved the Voting Trust, to take effect January 2d, 1901, the transfer books of the Voting Trustees will not be reopened.
J. P. MORGAN & CO., New York,
DEUTSCHE BANK, Berlin,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

COMMONWEALTH (FIRE) INS. CO. OF NEW YORK.
68 William St., Jan. 3, 1901.
The Directors have declared the following DIVIDENDS: THREE PER CENT. upon the Capital Stock, payable on demand on or after Jan. 7, 1901;
FIVE PER CENT. Interest upon the outstanding Scrip payable on demand on or after Feb. 19, 1901; and
TEN PER CENT. in Scrip upon the Participating Policies expired in 1900, Certificates for which will be issued on demand on or after May 21, 1901.
The Transfer Books will remain closed until the 10th inst. CHAS. S. BARTOW, President.

The Denver & Rio Grande R. R. Co.
New York, December 6th, 1900.
The Board of Directors has this day declared a semi-annual dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF (2½%) PER CENT. out of the net earnings on the Preferred Capital Stock, payable Jan. 15, 1901.

$18,000 to $20,000 a mile, and that it can be laid at night, block by block, surfaced up by daylight, and in no way interrupt the general traffic of the city. It is claimed beyond all this that the independent motors can run anywhere in the city over any tracks, and any injury to one or more will not interfere with the regular transportation of the passenger business on all other cars in service.

TICKERS RESTORED.

Acting under orders from the Committee of Arrangements of the Stock Exchange, the stock tickers removed a few days ago from the offices of Ennis & Stoppani, and H. C. Friedman & Co., members of the Consolidated Exchange, were yesterday restored by the Gold and Stock Ttelegraph Company.

Members of both firms appeared before the Stock Exchange committee on Monday, when a thorough hearing of and investigation into the matter followed. The result was that both firms were exonerated of all charges of "bucketing," and their tickers were accordingly ordered restored.

OVERWORKED BROKERS' CLERKS.

The clerks in the offices of the prominent Wall Street Stock Exchange houses are having a hard time of it at present, due to the great activity on the Stock Exchange. For the past two weeks they have on not a few occasions worked at their offices till midnight, checking up accounts, arranging for transfers and loans, and generally doing office work.

Following Monday's record-breaking day of over 2,000,000 shares, the clerks in many of the offices were working as late as 2 o'clock yesterday morning. As a consequence of this continued rush a number of them are down with sickness, while in the larger offices great difficulty is being experienced in getting a sufficient clerical force. "Green" men in such an emergency are almost next to useless.

COAL TRADE FIGURES.

The Coal Trade Journal in its issue today will publish the official anthracite tonnage of shipments for the past year, making comparison with the previous year, as follows:

Month.	1900.	1900.
January	3,701,766	4,455,000
February	2,810,450	3,198,000
March	3,416,711	4,136,000
April	3,078,088	3,277,918
May	3,557,693	3,800,755
June	4,073,364	4,076,850
July	4,189,250	3,581,516
August	4,319,031	4,319,000
September	4,502,880	3,936,350
October	4,899,303	4,313,531
November	4,088,859	4,071,574
December	4,562,892	5,061,328
Total	47,665,201	45,846,024

The output for 1900, it will be noticed, is less than for 1899, but this is explained by the small output in September and October, when the coal strike was on.

Discussing the general situation, The Coal Trade Journal will say:

There is now seen so complete a control of this important industry that a steadiness to prices is assured; the violent fluctuations at seasons of the years are within the memory of all in the trade, and this feature is now a thing of the past. Under the prevailing circumstances it is not to be wondered at that trade conditions are so firm as they are; the market seems to be in about as buoyant a condition as one can well imagine, and with the promise of a maintenance of prices, one may find much of hope in the future of this branch of the fuel industry. In all, the combinations of producing interests none has equaled that at present prevailing. There are yet further moves in this direction which will add to the value of the anthracite properties and give steadiness to the commercial feature of the trade.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Chicago dispatches stating that the Distilling Company of America has borrowed $5,000,000 and will issue 5 per cent. gold bonds to cover the amount.

Business on the books of the Pressed Steel Car Company said to be sufficent to keep the entire capacity of the shops in operation for some time.

Advance of ½d in the open London market quotation for American eagles, to 76s. 6½d., and a like rise in the price of bar gold, to 77s. 10½d.

Increase of $996,937 in exports of general merchandise for the week, as compared with the previous week, and decrease of $4,080,474, as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Shipments of 750,000 ounces of silver to Europe by to-day's steamer.

Montreal rumors that Dominion Coal interests are endeavoring to obtain control of the Montreal Gas Company.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 3@4½ per cent., closing at 3 per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4½@4¾ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4¾@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $305,910,066; balances, $15,109,929; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,577,089.

Money on call in London, 3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 3⅝@4 per cent. for short and 4@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was strong. Nominal rates were $4.83⅝ for sixty days and $4.87½ for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.83; demand, $4.86⅝@$4.86¾; cables, $4.87¾; commercial bills, $4.82@$4.82¾.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.18¾ less 1-16 and 5.15⅝@5.15¾ less 1-16; reichsmarks, 94@94⅜ 9-16 and 95 3-16, and guilders, 40⅜ and 40⅝.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—25c premium. Boston—Par @ 5c premium. New Orleans—Commercial, 50c discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 15c premium; telegraphic, 17½c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-10c premium. Savannah—Buying, ⅜c discount; selling, par. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14½@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Tenders for £4,000,000 of local loans at 98 will receive about 70 per cent. of the amount named.

Money was not appreciably affected today, owing to its abundance. Discounts were easy, the firmness of the Continental exchanges and the competition of foreign houses for bills with the plethora of money causing a downward tendency.

On the Stock Exchange bull dealings were small, and the inclemency of the weather was not conducive to cheerfulness. Funds were fairly steady. Home rails were easier, owing to the belief that the snowstorms will affect traffic returns. Americans opened dull and irregular on profit taking, but recovered somewhat. There was a good undertone, and they closed steady. Missouri was the feature. Erie and Ontario were specially supported.

Kaffirs were the poorest department.

Consols for money, 97 1-16; consols for the account, 97 5-16; Atchison, 47⅝; Canadian Pacific, 84⅞; St. Paul, 102½; Illinois Central, 135; Louisville, 98⅝; Union Pacific preferred, 85½; New York Central, 148½; Erie, 30⅝; Pennsylvania, 77½; Reading, 18⅝; Erie first preferred, 63¾; Northern Pacific preferred, 90⅜; Grand Trunk, 7⅛; Anaconda, 9⅝; Rand Mines, 3⅝.

Money, 3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 3⅝@4 per cent., and for three months' bills, 4@4⅛ per cent.

The amount of bullion withdrawn from the Bank of England on balance to-day was £78,000. Gold premiums: Buenos Ayres, 131.10; Madrid, 34.45; Lisbon, 38; Rome, 5.40.

Bar silver closed firm at 29½d per ounce.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—Prices on the Bourse today were weaker, owing to the unfavorable attitude of rentes, the decline in Kafirs, and the disposition of foreign Bourses not being considered satisfactory. Later prices improved, but at the close there was a fresh relapse.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f 07½c for the account. Exchange on London, 5f 11½c for checks.

Spanish fours closed at 70.92½.

BERLIN, Jan. 8.—There was a reserved disposition on the Boerse to-day, owing to the excitement in New York. International bonds were firm. Home funds were easier. Locals were calm and irregular.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 45¾ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3½ per cent.; three months' bills, 3¾ per cent.

MADRID, Jan. 8.—Spanish fours closed to-day at 78.00. Gold was quoted at 34.45.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 8.—There was lessened interest and smaller volume of business in the market to-day, with prevailing heaviness in prices. Agricultural Chemical was the leading home specialty, dropping under pressure from 32¼ to 29, on sales of some 3,000 shares, in the morning, with a rally to 30 in the afternoon. The preferred lost 1½ to 80. Massachusetts Electric lost ½, to 23½; Old Dominion Mining dropped ½, to 29½, recovering to 30; Isle Royale eased ¾, to 36, with rally to 36½; Cochiti fell ⅛, to 10¼, later 10½; Montana dropped 10, to 300, rallying to 304, some 1,300 shares coming out in the morning. New Haven and Hartford was in good demand at 212, and home railroads generally held firm. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and National Tube continued active. American Telephone rose 2, to 157½; Arcadian was off ¾, at 17½; Erie Telephone fell 5, to 75; Parrot dropped ¾, to 49, and Wolverine ½, to 48½.

Money loaned at the Clearing House at 3 and 2½ per cent., and New York funds sold at par and 5c premium.

Money on call rules from 4 to 5 per cent., mostly at 4@4½ per cent. A prominent brokerage house paid up yesterday a call loan at 5 per cent. on coppers. On time, money is in good supply from 4 to 5 per cent. for all dates, according to the character of the collateral.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure	10	10½	Old Colony	3½	4¼
Allouez	3	3¼	Old Domin	30	30½
Arcadian	17	17¾	Osceola	81	82½
Arnold	4½	5	Parrot	48½	49
Ash Bed	3.75	.50	Quincy	175	190
Atlantic	28	29	Rhode Island	4½	5
Baltic	34½	35	Santa Fé	6½	..
Bost. & Mon.	310	..	Santa Ysabel	2¼	3
Butte & Bos.	73	78	Shoe	31¾	32
Cal. & Hec.	830	835	Tamarack	320	327
Centennial	23	23¾	Utah Cons.	33½	..
Franklin	17¾	18	Washington	.50	1
Humboldt	.50	1	Winona	5¾	6
Isle Royale	36	37	Wolverine	45½	49½
Mohawk	..	20

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	252	253	Cent. M. pf.	62	..
Bost. & Low.	242	..	Fitchburg pf.	139	140
Bost. & Me.	..	196	N. Y. & N. E.	6s	108¾
Bost. & Pr.	300	..	E. 7s	112¾	..
Bost. Elev.	159	160	N. Y. & N. W.	82½	93½
Bost. B. 5s.	80	..	West End	82½	..
Cent. Mass.	15	15¼

Miscellaneous Stocks.

A. T. & T.	150	156½	N. Eng. Tel.	127	129
Chi. S. Y.	145	145½	U. S. Oil	16	16½
Dom. Coal	38	39	Westinghouse Electric	54¼	56
Dom. C. pf.	108	110	Westinghouse Elect. pf.	66½	..
Erie Tel.	75	60
Mex. Tel.	2¾	2⅞

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 8.—Lehigh Valley was the feature of the market to-day, 16,000 shares being sold in the first two hours on an advance to 34¼, and back to 33½; later there was another rise. The price ruled higher than at any previous time since 1896. The advance, of course, is based on future developments, with the present accompaniment of manipulative influences. The stock on its merits is regarded as high, and the reasons for this belief are based on the knowledge that the forthcoming annual report will show no small deficit for twelve months.

Except for the anthracite stocks, the market was motionless. There was a fractional improvement in Cambria and Marsden, but these were offset by corresponding losses in United Gas Improvement and Union Traction. The announcement of W. W. Gibbs's retirement from the post of executive head of the commonly known Gibbs companies—Marsden, Alkali, Rubber, and International Paper—caused much gossip, but, in the light of recent events, was no surprise, and the only response was a sale of 12,000 shares of Alkali in one block, and an advance in Marsden simultaneously with the receipt of the news. Asphalt of America 6s recovered to 60, on the belief that the Venezuelan controversy is nearing a head.

The close was strong, at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry., Lt.	31½	33	Lehigh Nav.	67¾	68
Cambria	20¼	20½	Lehigh Val.	34½	34¾
Choctaw	39	39½	Marsden	6¾	7
C. T., N. J.	60	61	North. Penn.	107	110
C. T., N. J., 5s	.100	100¼	Penn. Steel	72	74
C. T., Pitts.	27½	27¾	Penn. S. pf.	90	98
E. & P. 4s	100½	100¾	Peo. Tr. 4s	108	109
El. Stge. B.	80	88	Phila. & E.	28	30
E. S. B. pf.	82	86	Phila. Trac.	99¼	99½
E. Cas. of N. J.	2¾	3¼	Union Trac.	35	35¼
H. & B. T.	18	20	U. Co.'s, N. J.	274	276
H. & B. T. pf.	..	..	U. G. & I.	125	126
			Welsbach Lt.	46	48

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 8.—On the Exchange today stocks were a shade easier, but actual declines were unimportant. Biscuit common was traded in at 40⅝@40¼, and the preferred at 94⅜@94⅝. Metropolitan preferred opened at 80, but declined to 78½, and closed at 79. Traction common sold at 13½@13¾, and West Chicago was steady around par. There were a number of trades in Lake Street Elevated stock at 10¼, and the bond issues of the company advanced to 95¼ for the debentures and 87 for the incomes.

	High.	Low.	Close.
240..American Linseed	7	6⅞	7
138..American Linseed pf.	35¾	34¾	34¾
10..American Radiator	236	236	236
14..American Sliver pf.	108½	106	106¾
205..American Strawboard	34½	34	34
4..Chicago Edison	155	155	155
60..Chicago Union Trac.	13½	13¼	13¼
200..Chicago Union Trac. pf.	50	50	50
247..Diamond Match	135½	135	135
510..Lake Street El.	10¼	10¼	10¼
100..Lake Street El. pf.	10	10	10
970..Metropolitan L. pf.	80	78½	79
2,967..National Biscuit	41	40⅝	40¼
100..National Biscuit pf.	94¾	94¾	94⅝
50..National Carbon	16⅝	16⅜	16⅝
8..Northwestern L.	28½	28½	28½
20..Shelby Steel Tube	7½	7½	7½
149..Shelby Steel Tube pf.	42	42	42
169..South Side L.	100½	100	100
57..West Chicago	100½	100¼	100½

TREASURY BALANCES.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—To-day's statement of the Treasury balances in the general fund, exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve in the Division of Redemption, shows:

Available cash balance	$141,246,492
Gold	96,680,504
Silver	11,765,464
United States notes	11,044,847
Treasury notes of 1890	161,361
National bank notes	8,706,774
Total receipts this day	1,138,908
Total receipts this month	11,274,652
Total receipts this year	313,116,513
Total expenditures this day	1,055,000
Total expenditures this month	9,885,000
Total expenditures this year	282,979,155
Deposits in National banks	99,655,101
National bank notes received to-day for redemption	567,007
Government receipts:
From internal revenue	458,382
Customs	647,658
Miscellaneous	37,866

The condition of the Treasury, Divisions of Issue and Redemption, at the beginning of business to-day, was as follows:

RESERVE FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	$150,000,000

TRUST FUNDS, DIVISION OF REDEMPTION.

Gold coin	$264,442,379
Silver dollars	428,263,000
Silver dollars of 1890	4,666,498
Silver bullion of 1890	56,170,502
United States notes	1,560,000
Total	$755,102,379

DIVISION OF ISSUE.

Gold certificates outstanding	$264,442,379
Silver certificates outstanding	428,263,000
Treasury notes outstanding	60,837,000
Currency certificates outstanding	1,560,000
Total	$755,102,379

GENERAL FUND.

Gold coin and bullion	65,861,394
Gold certificates	25,819,110
Silver coin and bullion	5,405,940
Silver certificates	6,359,524
United States notes	11,044,847
Other assets	14,197,373
Total in Treasury	$128,688,189
Deposits in National banks	99,655,101
Total	$228,346,290
Current liabilities	87,099,797
Available cash balance	$141,246,492

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Thomas Bottling Company of Catskill; capital, $25,000. Directors—T. E. Ferrier, P. W. Decker, and F. M. Thomas, Catskill.

Portville Basket Company of Portville; capital, $15,000. Directors—W. B. Merserean, W. E. Wheeler, and E. G. Dusenbury, Portville.

Colonial Telephone Company of Newburg; capital, $125,000. Directors—Harry A. Bartlett, V. Schoonmsker, and W. G. Taggart, Newburg.

Cattaraugus Telephone Company of Cattaraugus; capital, $1,000. Directors—S. F. Burger, Frank Crawford, and H. B. Easton, Cattaraugus.

B. H. Bacon Company of Rochester, to deal in drugs and medicines; capital, $50,000. Directors—W. E. Humelbaugh, Amelia Bacon, and Jessie Thweatt, Rochester.

Ackerson-Simon Company of New York City, to deal in fish, game, meats, &c.; capital, $2,500. Directors—Elizabeth Elwell, H. A. Simon, and W. E. Ackerson, New York City.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Prices showed considerable irregularity in the market for outside securities yesterday, but except in a few issues there was no increase in transactions. A good demand for bonds was reported, one of the evidences of the current demand for investment securities resulting from present large disbursements in the form of dividends and interest on bonds. Among curb stocks there were few that attracted special attention, and the fluctuations in price were smaller than on Monday.

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was not very active, the day's transactions amounting probably to not more than 1,000 shares. The preferred stock recovered part of the previous day's loss and closed with a net gain of 1½ points, at 30½ bid. Reports were current that the company had issued bonds to the amount of $5,000,000, but the report was said to be premature.

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s were very strong, and, though the transactions in them were not large, a net gain of nearly 1 point appeared at the close. They advanced from 86⅜ to 87¼. The preferred stock was quiet and fell off fractionally. St. Louis Transit, on fairly active trading, sold down to 19 and closed at 18⅞ bid, a net loss of an eighth of a point.

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT was active at 13⅜ and 13¼. Constant progress, it is stated, is being made in the development of the company's business, in this country as well as abroad, where important negotiations are now under way.

STANDARD OIL sold to the extent of about 100 shares. The price rose to 810, but subsequently reacted to 805, and at the close the best bid was 802, a net gain of 3 points.

AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL CHEMICAL common, which a few days ago sold up very sharply, was under selling pressure which forced the price down nearly 3 points. The trading, however, was principally in Boston, only a few hundred shares changing hands in this market. At the close the best bid was 29, a net loss of 2½ points. The preferred stock was practically unchanged.

INTER-STATE OIL sold at the lowest price on record, Late in the day 200 shares sold at 5, and the best bid thereafter was 4. The lowest previous sale was 9¾, made about ten days ago.

NASSAU ELECTRIC 4s were in some demand and advanced substantially. They sold up to 92½ and closed at 92½ bid.

INDIANAPOLIS Gas bonds made a further recovery to 93½, at which figure a sale of $10,000 of the bonds was made. This represented an advance of about 5 points over the lowest price touched on the decline which recently occurred in these bonds.

ILLINOIS TRANSPORTATION sold at 1. About 600 shares changed hands.

FLEMINGTON COAL AND COKE, on what seemed inside buying, advanced to 22. Between 21 and 22 there were transactions in about 500 shares.

Closing quotations yesterday, compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 8. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 7. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem.	29	30¼	31⅜	32½
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80½	81½	80½	81½
American Banknote	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle	5	5¾	5½	6¼
American Bicycle pf.	..	25	25	26½
American Bicycle bonds.	72½	72¾	71	75
American Bridge	45	45¼	45	45¼
American Bridge pf.	94¾	95	94¾	95
American Chicle	83	88	83	88
American Chicle pf.	76	81	76	81
Am. Hide & Leather	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35¼	39
Am. Hide & Leather 8s	90	90½	90	90¼
*American Thread pf.	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8½	9	8½	9
Arlington Copper	4	5	4	5
*British Columbia Copper	22¾	22¾	22⅝	22⅞
British Exch. 3s	98½	99	98½	99
California Copper	1¼	1⅜	1¼	1⅜
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	6	5¼	6
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.	35	40	36	40
Central & So. Am. Tel.	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf.	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	38	44	35	40
Con. Ry. N. & E.	13½	13⅝	13⅜	13⅝
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2½	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf.	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	100	104	106
Crucible Steel	21½	22¼	21¾	22½
Crucible Steel pf.	79½	80½	79½	81
Cramps' Shipyard	90	92	82	86
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	6½	6¾	7	7½
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts	30½	31	29	30
Electric Boat	27½	28½	23	28½
Electric Boat pf.	49	50	49	50
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Electric Vehicle pf.	40	44	40	44
Electric-Pneumatic	2⅝	3	2⅝	2⅞
Empire Steel	6	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	21	23	19	22
General Carriage	3½	3¾	3⅝	3⅝
General Chemical	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf.	97	98½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s	100¼	100⅞	100¼	100⅞
Havana Commercial	9½	10¼	10	12
Havana Commercial pf.	42	45	48	44½
Hudson River pf.	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation	..	¾	1	¾
International Silver pf.	45	50	45	50
Inter-State Oil	4	10	10	15
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	..	1	..	1
Lorillard pf	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13½	14	13½	14
Nat. Enamel & Stamp	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Graphophone	5	12	6	12
Nat. Sugar pf.	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3⅜	3⅝	3⅜	3⅝
N. Y. Transportation	6	6⅝	6	7
Otis Elevator	29	29¾	29½	29¼
Otis Elevator pf.	90⅞	91	91	91⅝
Peo., Dec. & Evans	..	¾	..	1½
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie	29	29¾	29	29¾
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Cooper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.	30	30½	29⅜	30⅜
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf.	79½	80½	79½	80½
Safety Car Heat. & Light.	118	120	115	118
St. Louis Transit	18⅝	19	19	20
Seaboard Air Line 4s	71	72	71	73
Seaboard Air Line	10	11	10	11
Seaboad Air Line pf.	27	27½	27	28
Sheet Steel pf.	76¼	77¼	76	77
Singer Mfg	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac.	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf.	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J.	802	806	799	800
Storage Power	10	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	17½	19	18⅜	19
Tel., Tel. & Co. of A., $15 paid	6¼	7¼	7	7¼
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	8
Trenton Pot. pf.	55	60	55	60
Tubular Dispatch	23¾	32½	23½	32½
Union Copper	5	6	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	33¼	..	37	..
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	112	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s	87¼	87½	86⅜	86⅝
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	68⅜	69	68	69
Va. Coal, I. & C.	5	7	6	7
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	37	38½	37	38½
Westinghouse Air Brake.	370	380	370	380
Worthington Pump pf.	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102¼	102½
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d	102½	103½	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R.	232	234	232	234
Brooklyn B. & W. E. 5s.	101½	103	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E.R. 7s.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf.	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J.	58	60	58	60
Con. Traction 5s.	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N. Av.	1st. 113½	115	113½	115
42d St., M. & St. N. A.	2d. 98	100	98	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry.	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¼	20	21¼
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s.	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.	92½	93½	90	92
New Orleans Traction	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R.	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	83½	84½	83½	84½
North Jersey St. R. R.	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	116½	118	116½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit.	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
28th & 29th St. 5s, 1996.	113¾	114½	113¾	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.	110½	111½	111	113½
United Trac. Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds.	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac.	34½	35½	33½	35½
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf.	107	108	107	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1¾	1⅞	1¾	1⅞
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st	74	76	75	80
Central Union 5s, gtd.	108½	109½	108½	109½
Columbus Gas 5s	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark	..	55	..	55
Con. Gas of New'k bds.	104	106	104	106
Con. Gas of New Jersey.	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	60	85	..	60
Con's'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105½	106	105½	106
Denver Gas	23	24½	22¾	24
Denver Gas 5s	61	62	61	63
Essex & Hudson Gas	35	40	35	40

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE SALES.

Stocks.

Sales.	First.	High.	Low.	Close.
30..Amal. Copper	92¼	92¼	91½	91½
20..Am. Sm. & Ref.	58¾	58¾	58¾	58¾
3,730..Am. Steel & W.	42¾	43	42¾	42¾
22,270..Am. Sugar Ref.	138¾	139¾	136	136¾
4,700..Am. Tobacco	114¾	115¾	113¾	114¼
1,840..A., T. & S. F.	46¼	46¾	45¼	45¾
5,880..At., T. & S. F. pf.	88½	89	87¾	88
1,530..Balt. & Ohio	91¼	94	90¾	91¼
28,270..Brook. Rap. Tr.	85¼	86¼	83¾	84½
350..Ches. & Ohio	40¾	40¾	40	40¼
20,240..C., B. & Q.	146¾	148	144¾	145¾
50..Chi. Gt. West.	16¾	16¾	16¾	16¾
22,510..Chi., M. & St. P.	158¾	161½	156¾	157¾
6,350..Chi., R. I. & Pac.	127¾	127¾	125¾	126¾
190..Col. Fuel & I.	53	53	52¼	52¼
5,280..Cont. Tobacco	42	44	41¾	42¾
30..Del. & Hudson	144	144	144	..
2,770..Erie	29¾	31	29¾	29¾
4,000..Erie 1st pf.	65¾	68	65¾	66¼
4,050..Federal Steel	55¾	55¾	54	55
880..Louis. & Nash.	87½	88¼	87	87¼
8,160..Manhattan	114¾	116¾	114	115¼
100..Met. St. Ry.	166½	166½	166½	166½
70..Mo., Kan. & Tex. pf.	47	48	47	48
11,540..Mo. Pacific	77	82	77	82
100..National Steel	41¾	41¾	41¾	41¾
8,830..N. Y., Ont. & W.	33¼	33¾	32¾	33½
16,500..North. Pacific	86	87	84¾	85¾
170..Pacific Mail	41¼	42	41¼	41¾
6,670..People's Gas	104½	104¾	102¾	103¾
14,200..Reading	34¾	35¾	33¾	35
12,860..Reading 1st pf.	74½	74¾	73½	73½
260..Reading 2d pf.	46¼	46¾	44¾	44¾
90..Rep. Iron & S.	16	16¾	16	16
2,650..Southern Pac.	42¾	43¼	42	42¾
3,150..Southern Ry.	32¼	32¾	31¾	32¼
470..Southern Ry. pf.	73¾	73¾	72½	72½
15,600..Tenn. Coal & I.	52½	55¼	51¾	55¼
920..Texas Pac.	26¾	27	25¾	27
14,200..Union Pac.	81¼	82	80½	81¾
890..Union Pac. pf.	83¾	83¾	83¼	83¾
2,980..U. S. Leather	13¾	13¾	13¾	13¾
890..U. S. Rubber	21¾	22¾	21¾	22¼
2,030..Wabash pf.	25½	27	25½	26½
30..West. Union	83¾	84¼	83¾	84¼
10..Wheel. & L. E.	12	12	12	12
256,980

Bonds.

Sales.	First.	High.	Low.	Close.
$12,000..St. L. S. W. 1st	96	96	96	96
1,300..Wabash deb. B.	42¾	42¾	42¾	42¾
$25,000

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64½@65½c. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted at London at 29½d per ounce, and in New York at 63⅞c. Mexican silver dollars at 49⅝c.

On the Consolidated Exchange, 100

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

New Apartment House on Fifty-fifth Street, Near Broadway—Other Dealings and Auction Sales.

Details will be found in other columns concerning the purchase of the old Real Estate Exchange property by the Chamber of Commerce and the sale of a large plot at Fifth Avenue and Eighty-seventh Street, to Henry Phipps of Pittsburg, Penn.

Slawson & Hobbs have sold the plot, 49 by 100.5, on the south side of Fifty-fifth Street, 105.10½ feet west of Broadway, for Frederick A. Snow to Robert Ferguson, who will ercct thereon a seven-story apartment house.

A. Rothmiller has sold for John S. Lyle to Isaac M. Berinstein, for immediate improvement, the plot of four lots on the south side of One Hundred and Seventeenth Street, 110 feet east of Fifth Avenue.

Stewart & Smith, the builders, have sold to Surrogate Fitzgerald, for $65,000, the five-story American basement dwelling 341 Riverside Drive, 24 by 40.

Paul Mayer reports that the sale of the El Nido apartment house, at the northwest corner of Seventh Avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth Street, to Max E. and Simon Bernheimer has been closed. The price was about $400,000.

Greene & Taylor have sold for John Doyle to J. C. Clark, for about $45,000, the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 70 West Forty-seventh Street, 19 by 60 by 100.5.

Levy Brothers have sold for Joseph S. Marcus, to a builder, for $23,000, the plot, 65 by 100, on the north side of One Hundred and Fourteenth Street, about 100 feet west of First Avenue.

R. Pehlemann & Son have sold for Daniel Buckley the four-story dwelling 950 Lexington Avenue, 20 by 78.

Charles Wolinsky has sold the old buildings 216 to 222 Cherry Street, 100.4 by 117 and irregular, to Jackson & Stern, who give in exchange the two new six-story tenements 87 and 89 Columbia Street.

David Stewart has sold for John Davis the lot on the south side of One Hundred and Thirty-ninth Street, 125 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue; also, for P. J. Whitaker, the four-story brick and stone-front flat 166 West Fourth Street, 20.4 by 52; also, for Peter J. McCoy, the five-story flat 514 West One Hundred and Sixtieth Street, 23 by 99.11.

M. Oppenheimer has sold to William and Julius Bachrach, for about $22,000, the four-story brick building 60 Avenue B, 24 by 100.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

1,472 and 1,474 Washington Avenue, east side, 150.4 feet south of One Hundred and Seventy-first Street, each 25 by 156.3, two four-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, the Metropolitan Savings Bank.....$30,400

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co.

235 West Sixty-first Street, north side, 275 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 25 by 100.5, five-story stone-front tenement; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiffs, Fannie Falk and others, executors..... 11,000

By Richard V. Harnett & Co.

240 West Sixty-second Street, south side, 225 feet east of West End Avenue, 25 by 100.5, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to Emma W. Vaughan.. 16,500

1,980 Boston Road, east side, about 150 feet south of One Hundred and Seventy-sixth Street, 50 by 123 by 48.10 by 142.6, two-story frame dwelling, with stable and carriage shed; foreclosure sale, to Dowd & Masten..... 4,725

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

633 East One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street, north side, 381.6 feet east of Alexander Avenue, 25 by 100, five-story brick flat, with store; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Charlotte M. Tytus.... 22,000

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Edmund Luis Mooney, referee, 330 East Seventy-ninth Street, north side, 70 feet east of Second Avenue, 27.8 by 76.7, four-story stone-front flat; 305 East Seventy-ninth Street, north side, adjoining the foregoing on the east, 27.4 by 102.2 and irregular, four-story stone-front flat. Due on judgment, on 303, $6,391; on 305, $8,585; subject to other mortgages, on 303 for $14,000; on 305, for $10,000.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Peter B. Olney, referee, 371 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, north side, 164.3 feet east of Ninth Avenue, three-story brick and stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $9,210.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Henry W. Bookstaver, referee, 401 and 403 Tenth Avenue, west side, 96.2 feet south of Thirty-third Street, each 19.2 by 80, three and four story brick tenements. Due on judgment, $3,886.

By Philip A. Smyth, foreclosure sale, John E. Duffy, referee, East One Hundred and Fifty-first Street, south side, 105 feet east of Robbins Avenue, 25 by 105, two-story frame dwelling, with store. Due on judgment, $1,914.

By John N. Golding, foreclosure sale, William R. Bronk, referee, Grand Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street, 50 by 90, two-story frame dwelling; Grand Avenue, west side, 50 feet south of One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street, adjoining the foregoing, 50 by 90, two-story frame dwelling. Due on judgment, on the former parcel, $7,019; on the latter, $6,487.

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co., foreclosure sale, Edward L. Parris, referee, 518 West One Hundred and Eighty-third Street, south side, 252.10 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 17.1 by 104.11, two-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $6,579.

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co., foreclosure sale, William H. Harris, referee, Amsterdam Avenue, northwest corner of Seventy-ninth Street, 100 by 102.2, seven-story brick flat, with store. Due on judgment, $42,720; subject to another mortgage for $70,000.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Joseph I. Berry, referee, 11 West Eighty-second Street, north side, 198 feet west of Central Park West, 23 by 102.2, four-story brick dwelling. Due on judgment, $31,716.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Alfred Stockler, referee, Ninety-eighth Street, north side, 130 feet east of Park Avenue, 100 by 100.11, two-story brick building and vacant. Due on judgment, $39,247; subject to other mortgages for $54,500.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Vanderbilt Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Eighty-eighth Street, for a three-story frame tenement; 18 by 92; Harriet E. Lockwood of One Hundred and Eighty-seventh Street and Park Avenue, owner; W. C. Dickerson of Third Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, architect; cost, $7,500.

Fifteenth Street, south side, 180 feet east of Avenue E, Unionport, for a two-story frame dwelling, 20 by 40; Paul Koppe, premises, owner and architect; cost, $2,200.

One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, north side, 225 feet west of First Avenue, for a five-story brick flat, 25 by 85.11; Thomas Reilly of 1,832 Madison Avenue, owner; Edward Wenz of 1,491 Third Avenue, architect; cost, $25,000.

Alterations.

No. 32 West Thirty-third Street, to a four-story brick store and studio building; American Realty Company of 35 Wall Street, owner; Alfred H. Taylor of 53 West Thirty-third Street, architect; cost, $12,000.

No. 123 Forsyth Street, to a three-story brick church; Henry Newgass, owner; Bernard Horwith of 47 Delancey Street, architect; cost, $7,000.

No. 59 West Street, to a four-story brick storage house; Schermerhorn estate of 51 Liberty Street, owner; P. F. Brogan of 119 East Twenty-third Street, architect; cost, $1,000.

Nos. 207 and 209 East One Hundred and Eleventh Street, to a one-story brick laundry; Bertha Price, owner; Edward Wenz, architect; cost, $1,000.

No. 207 Seventh Avenue, to a four-story brick flat and store; A. T. Gelleader of 141 Broadway, owner; L. W. Bergeron of 2,071 Seventh Avenue, architect; cost, $5.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 or consideration. The "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyances should therefore show the true consideration:

Tuesday, Jan. 8.

ALL PROPERTY, REAL ESTATE, AND personal property wheresoever situate; Lewis H. Bullard to John W. Weed, (R S $21.70)..... $1

BOONE ST, w s, at intersection of w line of cemetery of First Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of West Farms, runs n 31.8x n e about 4.4 to street x s 33.9 to beginning, gore; Ministers, &c., of the First Reformed Protestant Dutch Church of West Farms to James P. Peffers, (R S 50 cents)..... 1

CASPERELENG AV, e s, 123.6 ft n of Oakland Place, 25x102.6x25x100; Charles Berg to Charles Ast, (R S 50 cents)..... 1

CANAL ST, 248 and 250, (new number, 585,) 51.2x56x irregular; John Van Dolson to Susie Hulse, (mtg $13,000, R S 50c.) 1

COMMONWEALTH AV, w s, Lot 814, Block I on amended map of Mapes estate; Hudson F. Rose to Louis Herbold, (R S $1)..... 1

Lot 62, partition map of Judith Winthrop, 11th and 17th Wards, leasehold, 5 years, 6 per cent..... 1,042

RIEDENAUER, August, to Bertha Heinemann; 3d St, n s, Lot 62, partition map of Judith Winthrop, 11th and 17th Wards, leasehold, due July 8, 1903..... 400

RITTERBUSCH, Richard P., to Sanitary Fire-proofing and Contracting Company, a corporation; Bleecker St, s w corner of Wooster St, demand, 6 per cent..... 800

ROSENTHAL, Charles M., to Cora Landauer; 117th St, n s, 110 ft e of 5th Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 20,000

ROWLEY, Charles T., to Raymond B. White; Riverside Drive, 184, due May 24, 1902, 6 per cent..... 15,000

SHERIDAN, Catherine A., to the Bowery Savings Bank; Avenue St. John, n e s, at e s of Prospect Av, extends to Dawson St, 1 year, 4 per cent..... 12,000

SMITH, William H., and others to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; 25th St, 114 East, 1 year..... 14,500

THE HALL ASSOCIATION OF THE Grand Order of Odd Fellows to the Prince & Kenkel Iron Works; 29th St, s s, 99.6 ft e of 7th Av, installments, 4 per cent..... 3,804

TOMBACK, Samuel D., to Pincus Lowenfeld and another; 80th St, s s, 247.1 ft w of 2d Av, demand, 6 per cent..... 2,800

TURN VEREIN OF THE CITY OF NEW York to Bank for Savings; Lexington Av, s e corner of 85th St, 5 years, 4 per cent..... 100,000

TURN VEREIN IN CITY OF NEW York to George Ehret; Lexington Av, s e corner of 85th St, 1 year, 4 per cent... 50,000

TYRRELL, Matthew, to Matilda Grossman; 10th St, s w corner of Avenue B, Unnport, 3 years, 6 per cent..... 3,000

VICTORY, Patrick, to Hudson P. Rose; Lot 261, Block G, and Lot 374, Block K, on amended map of Mapes estate, West Farms, 3 years..... 200

WAGNER, Peter, to Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 106th St, e s, 100 ft e of Riverside Drive, 198x100.11, 8 years, 10 months..... 285,000

WAGNER, Peter, to Joseph Hamerahlag and another; 106th St, s s, 100 ft e of Riverside Drive, ½ year, 6 per cent..... 30,000

WEABER, Elizabeth A., to American Mortgage Company; 104th St, 128 West, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 1,000

WEINSTEIN, Charles I., to George Haefner; Sullivan St, e s, 59.6 ft s of Prince St, demand, 6 per cent..... 2,000

WOLF, Emanuel E., to Isaac Sprugel; 21st St, s s, 517.6 ft w of 7th Av; also, parcel in rear, 1 year, 6 per cent..... 1,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

AMERICAN MORTGAGE COMPANY, to Catherine Ridley..... $5,000

BLISS, Ernest C., executor, &c., to Anita Bliss, two assignments..... 65,000

BLISS, Ernest C., executor, &c., to Anita Bliss, three assignments..... 67,000

DOOLING, John T., to Jane A. Avery, 1-12 part..... 1,000

HARRISON, J. Orlando, guardian, &c., to John L. B. Jenkins, two assignments... Nom.

HARRISON, J. Orlando, as executor, &c., to John L. B. Jenkins..... Nom.

HASSEY, Anna C. S. to William Hassey..... 1,500

KOPP, Christiane, to Albert and Henry Kopp and others, assigns 2 mortgages.. Nom.

LA FETRA, Edward B., trustee, to Anna F. Gatcomb..... Nom.

LOEWENTHAL, Julius, to Mary L. Clark. 13,000

MILLER, Mary E., to Hugh M. Harmer, trustee..... 2,500

McINTOSH, Martha, individually and as executrix, to the State Bank..... Nom.

MORAN, Amedee, executor, &c., to Elizabeth M. Morgan..... 18,000

MORRISON, Isidore D., to Max Borck.. Nom.

PARSONS, Herbert, trustee, and another, to Henrietta Kahn..... 5,750

RAFFERTY, William F., to the Corporation Liquidating Company..... Nom.

TAPPEN, Frederick D., trustee, to Girard Trust Company, trustee..... 28,000

TERRY, John T., and another, trustees, to Elizabeth M. Cornell..... 18,000

WESSLAU, Albert E., to George J. Wesslau, ½ part..... 4,500

Mechanics' Liens.

BROADWAY, 2,647 and 2,649; Becker & Co. against Thomas J. McLaughlin, owner and contractor..... 49

CANNON ST, n w corner of Stanton St, 65x40; Cannon St, w s, 65 ft n of Stanton St, 25x100; Rosa Ellender against Rebecca Cohen and Ernest Myers, owners; Maurice Myers, owner and contractor..... 358

FRONT ST, 227; Mendel Kaufman against John Doe, owner; John Nussbaum, contractor..... 25

UNION AV, s e corner of 156th St, 53.6x100; Frederick Jaeger against Joseph Mariamson, owner and contractor..... 50

11TH ST, 54 East; Anton W. Geratner against Owen Costello, owner and contractor..... 198

20TH ST, 11 West; Cosgrove Brothers against Estelle Spitzer, owner and contractor..... 323

63D St, n s, 200 ft w of 2d Av, 50x100; O'Connell & Hillery Lime and Marble Dust Company against Morris Jacobson, owner; George Martin and Jeremiah Crow, contractors..... 244

108TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of Manhattan Av, 75x100.11; Church E. Gates & Co. against Walter Crosbie, owner and contractor..... 74

BUILDING LOAN CONTRACTS UNDER CHAPTER 78, LAWS OF 1900.

51ST ST, 338 and 340 East; Title Guarantee and Trust Company, with Charles Gens, 6 payments..... $15,500

9TH ST, s s, 100 ft e of West End Av, 50x100.11; J. Allen Townsend, with John S. Pease, 9 payments..... 52,000

ORDERS UNDER CHAPTER 418, LAWS OF 1897.

125TH ST, 530 to 536 West; New York Lumber and Storage Company on P. S. Saitta, and others, to Walter F. Fitzpatrick..... $229

125TH ST, 530 to 536 West; New York Lumber and Storage Company on P. S. Saitta and others, to Henry Cape..... 142

Lis Pendens.

ANTHONY AV, e s, 184 ft n of 176th St, 82x100x80.5x100; Konrad Kromer and another against William B. and Martha Schorer, (foreclosure of mechanic's lien;) attorneys, J. H. Hildreth.

BROOK AV, e s, 49 ft s of 170th St, 24.4x100; Andrew M. Clute, trustee, against Joseph Kinzig and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. de P. Livingston.

DIVISION ST, 219; Department of Buildings against Reuben and Betsey Sattenstein, (violation of building laws;) attorney, E. Otterbourg.

HAVEN AV, w s, 60 ft n from e s of 170th St, if produced, runs w 103.4x e 100x e 103.4 to avenue x n 100 to beginning; Edward Wandenhove against Arnold H. E. Schram and another, (action to compel conveyance;) attorney, E. J. Welch.

UNION AV, w s, 83.4 ft n of 152d, or Kelly, St, 16.8x100; Frank A. Wahlig against George E. Babcock, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Euring & Geiger.

WEST END AV, 1303; Henry B. Auchincloss, executor, &c., against Charles H. and Elizabeth E. Doremus, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Varnum & Harison.

3D AV, e s, at centre line of block between 111th and 112th Sts, runs e 100x s 25x 100 to avenue x n 25; Samuel Greenman against Jacob Sommer and another, (action to impress lien, &c.;) attorney, J. Rosenweig.

3D AV, w s, 20.5 ft n of 57th St, 20x80, leasehold; Harriette W. Goelet and another, executors, &c., against Gideon L. Green, individually and as administrator, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. C. DeWitt.

6TH ST, s s, and 5th St, n s, Lot 589 and east ½ of Lot 570, Map of village of Wakefield; John A. Steurer and another, executors, &c., against Mary J. and William T. Welch, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, A. F. Gescheidt, Jr.

35TH ST, n s, 275 ft e of 11th Av, 50x98.9; Margaret Fitzgerald against William Fitzgerald and others, (action to subrogate mortgage, &c.;) attorney, I. N. Williams.

35TH ST, s s, 275 ft e of 11th Av, 60x98.9; Agnes Fitzgerald against William Fitzgerald and others, (partition;) attorney, I. N. Williams.

91ST ST, e s, 150 ft e of 4th Av, 25x100.8; Henry Hachemeister, guardian, &c., against J. Edward Jetter and another, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Miehling.

109TH ST, s w corner of 4th Av, 17x90.10x irregular; Mary E. St. Amant against Catherine Taylor and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorneys, Wells & Snedeker.

122D ST, s s, 130.11 ft w of 1st Av, 169x100x — x —; 1st Av, w s, 25.2 ft s of 122d St, 83.5x 108.7x100.10x71.4; 118th St, e s, 277.4 ft w of Pleasant Av, 16.8x100.10; 3d Av, s e s, 50 ft n of Grove St, 35x85; John S. Chadwick against Matilda and Walter L. Hutchinson, (action to declare deed void, &c.;) attorney, E. G. Stevens.

125TH ST, s s, 279 ft e of Broadway, 107x100.11; Henry J. Braker against Stefano Greco and others, (foracloseure of mortgage;) attorney, W. C. Arnold.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Supreme Court of the United States:

The Chief Justice announced the following order of the Court:

41—The City of Detroit et al., appellants, vs. Ralzemond Parker.—Motion to advance granted, and cause assigned for argument on Feb. 25 next, with No. 498 as one case.

131—The Consolidated Water Company et al., appellants, vs. E. S. Babcock et al.—Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of California.—Dismissed, with costs, on motion of counsel for appellants.

396—Charles C. McChord et al., appellants, vs. The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company; 397—Charles C. McChord et al., appellants, vs. The Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway Company; 398—Charles C. McChord et al., appellants, vs. The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway Company; 399—Charles C. McChord et al., appellants, vs. The Southern Railway Company in Kentucky, and 400—Charles C. McChord et al., appellants, vs. The Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific Railway Company.—Argument continued by James P. Helm for the appellees in 396, and 397, by Robert J. Breckenridge for the appellants, by Alexander Pope Humphrey for the appellees, and concluded by Lewis McQuown for the appellants. Leave granted the appellees to file additional brief within three days and to appellants to file reply brief within two days thereafter.

458—Elias S. A. De Lima et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. George R. Bidwell; 507—Samuel B. Downes, plaintiff in error, vs. George R. Bidwell; 501—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. The United States; 502—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. The United States, and 503—Carlos Armstrong, appellant, vs. The United States.—Five of the counsel allowed to appear for plaintiffs in error and appellant and one hour additional time granted that side on motion of John G. Carlisle for plaintiffs in error and appellant. Argument commenced by F. R. Coudert, Jr., for plaintiffs in error in 458 and 507.

Call for Wednesday: 456, (507, 501, 502, and 509,) 514, 515, 189, 45, 142, 143, and 144.

Calendars for Wednesday, Jan. 9.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Calendar called in Room 124, Post Office Building, by Lacombe, J., at 11 A. M. Day calendar. (Jury.)

208—Messina vs. Met. St. Ry.
204—Realmato vs. Fisk.
218—De Lancey vs. Pell.
119—Nass vs. Patton.
128—Flint vs. Hartford & N. Y. Trans. Co.
135—Sidney vs. St. Michael's P. E. Church.
151—Richards vs. Met. St. Ry.
15—Beek vs. Met. St. Ry.
15½—Clark vs. Barney Dumpling Boat Co.
160—Beattie vs. Edge Moor Bridge Works.
163—Rothbard vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT—Brown, J.—Opens in Room 66, Post Office Building, at 10:30 A. M. Bankruptcy proceedings. Motions.

In re Barnett L. Price.
In re Shapiro & Novick.
In re Morris Welsbrod.
In re David Brecher.
In re W. W. Vaughan.
In re Augustus Mayera.
In re Raphael Aizeman.
In re Schatzberg & Levittan.
In re George D. Sherman.
In re Marcus & Middagh.
In re Fiber & Kanapka.
In re Jos. Vidovtsky.
In re Edward Logan.
Inv. In re W. A. Brown & Co.
In re Jacob Kornreich.
In re Jacob Slomka.
In re Hy. Gutwillig.
In re Emanuel S. Chappelle.
In re Copstein & Co.
In re William Machoff.
In re George D. Ferguson.
In re Tobias Simonowitz.
In re Dresser Brothers.
In re S. H. & G. Stewart.
In re Samuel Knobel.
In re Hy. A. Stadler.
In bankruptcy.
2559—McFarland & Co.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

Caponigri vs. Altieri and another.—Motion for reargument.—Order dismissing appeal set aside and judgment affirmed, with costs.

Hirsch and another vs. Mayer, Peir vs. Spaulding, Upplngton vs. City of New York, Parker vs. Elmira, Cortland and Northern Railroad Company, Peekskill State Camp and another vs. Village of Peekskill, Schuls vs. Baird and another, Citizens' National Bank vs. National Park Bank of New York, McCready vs. Lindenborn, Armour et al. vs. Gaffey and another, Poste vs. American Union Life Insurance Company, Thayer vs. Cahle, Hall et al., executors, vs. Boston, McCrea vs. Hopper, trustee, &c., Borrowe vs. Corbin et al., executors, Stevenson Brewing Company vs. Eastern Brewing Company, Lawrence vs. Smith et al. and Suburban Electric Light Company and another, Nelson vs. Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, Bump vs. New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company, Grant vs. Griffith, Schreyer vs. Saunders, O'Brien vs. Buffalo Traction Company.—Judgments affirmed, with costs.

Deklyn vs. Gould, Ruess vs. Ewen.—Orders affirmed and judgments absolute ordered on the stipulations, with costs.

St. Johns vs. New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, the State Bank of Pike vs. Brown and another.—Judgments reversed, new trials granted, costs to abide the events.

Cartwright vs. Board of Health of the City of Cohoes et al.—Judgment affirmed, with one bill of costs.

Buffalo and Lancaster Land Company vs. Bellevue Land and Improvement Company.—Order and judgment affirmed and judgment absolute ordered for defendant on the stipulation, with costs.

The Village of Champlain vs. McCrea and First National Bank.—Judgment of Appellate Division reversed and that of Trial Term affirmed, with costs to the appellant in this court and in the Appellate Division.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Rumsey, Patterson, O'Brien, and McLaughlin, JJ.—Opens at 1 P. M. Enumerated motions.

19—Thomson vs. Thompson.
20—In re Clarke.
21—Howe vs. Skinner.
23—Hesselbach vs. Savage.
25—Bloomington Mining Co. vs. B'klyn Hygienic Ice Co.
26—Bush vs. Coler.
27—Birnbaum vs. May.
32—Brown vs. Snyder.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term—For the hearing of appeals from the City Court and Municipal Court. Recess.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part I.—Beach, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Litigated motions.

1—McKim vs. N. Y. El. R. R. Co.
2—Fine vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
3—Clark Johnson Medicine Co. vs. Olmstead.
4—Ferguson vs. Hipple.
5—Reilly vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
6—Shrady vs. Shrady.
7—Ehrlich vs. Consol. Stock & Petroleum Exchange.
8—Bill vs. Johnson.
9—Minck vs. Capital City Cold Storage, &c., Co.
10—Albany City Savings Inst. vs. Parker.
11—Hope vs. Daily Tel. Co.
12—Schuyler vs. Rorphura.
13—Selnick vs. Selnick.
14—Sperry vs. Sperry.
15—Lash vs. Lash.
16—Hunter vs. Briggs.
17—Smith vs. Baldour.
18—McKelvey vs. Osborne.
19—Johnson vs. Wilson.
20—Haynes vs. Edison Elec. Ill. Co.
21—Mahan vs. Manahan.
22—In re Wales Av.
23—Montgomery vs. Boyd.
24—Associazione Fraterna Italiano vs. De Conca.
25—Graves vs. Graves.
26—Ferraca vs. Gold.
27—Same vs. Gault.
28—Bensinger vs. Ehrhardt.
29—Rigney vs. Powell.
30—Hirsh vs. same.
31—Armstrong Cork Co. vs. Powell.
32—Hildreth vs. same.
33—Guaranty Trust Co. vs. Birdseye.
34—Schlichter vs. U. S. Rubber Co.
35—Lodholz vs. Krop.
36—State Bank vs. Salomon.
37—In re Bernard Stahlbarth Co.
38—Perkins vs. Stelle.
39—Renner vs. Rowe.
40—In re Forgay.
41—Day vs. Duffey.
42—Whitlock vs. Cuthcon.
43—Roll vs. Coler.
44—In re Commercial Display Adv. Co.
45—In re Klein.
46—McKee vs. White.
47—Seaman vs. Burke.
48—Sperry vs. Sperry.
49—Am. Ice Co. vs. Reese.
50—Friedlander vs. Flouman.
51—Oetting vs. Lyons.
52—Field vs. Perkins.
53—Perrine vs. Ransom Gas Machine Co.
54—Rudnick vs. Wolf.
55—Clark vs. Miller.
56—Remington vs. Mulholland.
57—Nat. City Bank vs. Knecht.
58—Bank of Montreal vs. same.
59—Same vs. Brett.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part II.—Fitzgerald, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Ex parte business.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part III.—Freedman, J.—Opens at 10:15 A. M. Motions at 10:30 A. M. Calendar called clear. Day calendar. Divorces.

2031—Schuyler vs. Schuyler.
2494—Baker vs. Baker.
2234—Keresey vs. Keresey.
1994—Powers vs. Powers
2240—Hoffman vs. Hoffman.
2249—Travers vs. Travers.
2250—Schaetzel vs. Schaetzel.
2210—Root vs. Root.
2232—Julien vs. Julien.
2285—Santriano vs. Santriano.
1997—Rice vs. Rice.
2015—Posey vs. Posey.
2029—Kaminita vs. Kaminita.
2203—Leopold vs. Leopold.
1988—Hollenstein vs. Hollenstein.
1593—Dahnken vs. Dahnken.
1995—Faure vs. Faure. General calendar.
1787—McIlvaine vs. McIlvaine.
2178—Van Beuren vs. City of N. Y.
2186—Singer Mfg. Co. vs. City of N. Y.
1564—Rubricius vs. Wallach.
2120—Coleman vs. Ryan.
1695—Episcopo vs. Mayor, &c.
2148—Kyrits vs. City of N. Y.
2182—John P. Kane Co. vs. Egan.
2143—Abbot vs. Cheseborough.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2186.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part IV.—, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part V.—Leventritt, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VI.—McAdam, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VII.—Dugro, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Elevated railroad cases. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Special Term—Part VIII.—Adjourned for the term.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part I.—Criminal Term—Fursman, J.—Opens at 10 A. M. Assistant District Attorneys Beckham, Osborne, and Schwarzkopf for the People.

1—Otto Spellman and Louis Mathes.
2—Frank Brienzi.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part II.—Andrews, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear.

3139—Gilmour vs. Oakman Motor Vehicle Co.
7986—Kniffen vs. Saranac Lake Hotel Co.
9316—Reusse vs. Monatsberger.
8079—James Curran Mfg. Co. vs. Aultman & Taylor Machinery Co.
6488—Janusch vs. Howden.
8014—Richard vs. Wagner.
8046—Kirschbaum vs. Leroy Bros. Co.
8096—Wallace vs. Fireproofing Mfg. Co.
6134—Kenney vs. Saunders.
8196—Jackson vs. Mansfield.
8193—Stein vs. Simon.
7668—Corbin vs. Churchyard.
8012—Woods vs. Appel.
8244—Munroe vs. Huggins.
8178—Bloch vs. Schneider.
8193—Rieser vs. Sims.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Giegerich, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Clarke, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VIII. Room, at 10:15 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VIII., IX., X., XI., and XII. for trial.

1494—Barentzen vs. Press Pub. Co.
2379—Watson vs. City of New York.
8372—Kochmann vs. Baumeister.
2328—Farley vs. City of New York.
2329—Foley vs. same.
273—Safren vs. Dry Dock, &c., R. R. Co.
1838—Williams vs. Waytack.
2274—Kroll vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2268—Seal vs. Central R. R. of N. J.
2377—Major vs. Hungarian Singing Soc.
2390—Burke vs. Fiske.
1671—Safe Dep. & Trust Co. of Balt. vs. Fabenstock.
2210—L. Tannenbaum Co. vs. Keim.
2216—Keim vs. Tannenbaum.
2195—Ideal Wrench Co. vs. Garvin Machine Co.
1523—Marshall vs. Seelig.
1675—Crosby vs. Mut. Reserve Fund Life Assn.
2401—Oatman vs. Barrington Apartment Association.
2324—Zaenek vs. N. Y. & Queens Co. Ry. Co.
2847—McIntosh vs. Miner.
8413—Auld vs. Manhattan Life Ins. Co.
6558—Lyman vs. Harley.
6505—Monaghan vs. Shipway.
6372—Bradley vs. Columbia Fire Proofing Co.
6604—Castles vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
6087—Canary vs. Bush.
6729—Capone vs. Erie R. R. Co.
6911—Robins vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
6933—Cauley vs. McCormack.
7317—Nat. Bank of the Republic vs. Osborn.
7028—Ferine vs. Hoes.
7343—Vetere vs. Carucci.
6992—Vogler vs. Vogler.
7234—Cogno vs. Cogno.
6459—Mead vs. Consumers' Brewing Co.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2405.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part III.—Scott, J.—Opens at 10:15 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part IV.—Gildersleeve, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part V.—Lawrence, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VI.—Clarke, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Calendar clear.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VII.—MacLean, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Cases to be sent from day calendar for trial. Case on.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Day Calendar—To be called in Trial Term, Part VIII. Room, at 10:15 A. M. Cases to be sent from this calendar to Trial Term, Parts VIII., IX., X., XI., and XII. for trial.

1494—Barentzen vs. Press Pub. Co.
2379—Watson vs. City of New York.
8372—Kochmann vs. Baumeister.
2328—Farley vs. City of New York.
2329—Foley vs. same.
273—Safren vs. Dry Dock, &c., R. R. Co.
1838—Williams vs. Waytack.
2274—Kroll vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
2268—Seal vs. Central R. R. of N. J.
2377—Major vs. Hungarian Singing Soc.
2390—Burke vs. Fiske.
1671—Safe Dep. & Trust Co. of Balt. vs. Fabenstock.
2210—L. Tannenbaum Co. vs. Keim.
2216—Keim vs. Tannenbaum.
2195—Ideal Wrench Co. vs. Garvin Machine Co.
1523—Marshall vs. Seelig.
1675—Crosby vs. Mut. Reserve Fund Life Assn.
2401—Oatman vs. Barrington Apartment Association.
2324—Zaenek vs. N. Y. & Queens Co. Ry. Co.
2847—McIntosh vs. Miner.
8413—Auld vs. Manhattan Life Ins. Co.
6558—Lyman vs. Harley.
6505—Monaghan vs. Shipway.
6372—Bradley vs. Columbia Fire Proofing Co.
6604—Castles vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
6087—Canary vs. Bush.
6729—Capone vs. Erie R. R. Co.
6911—Robins vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
6933—Cauley vs. McCormack.
7317—Nat. Bank of the Republic vs. Osborn.
7028—Ferine vs. Hoes.
7343—Vetere vs. Carucci.
6992—Vogler vs. Vogler.
7234—Cogno vs. Cogno.
6459—Mead vs. Consumers' Brewing Co.

Highest number reached in regular call on general calendar, 2405.

SUPREME COURT—Trial Term—Part VIII.—Clarke, J.—Opens at 10:30 A. M. Calendar clear.

2052—Enright vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
1978—Bloch vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
1990—Kaiser vs. N. Y. Athletic Club.
1361—Harnischfeger vs. Naughton.
2060—Lincoln vs. Zucca.
2061—Same vs. Lyon.
2062—Standacher vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
2063—Bland vs. Bryson.
2064—Hayes vs. Smith.
2065—Isaacson vs. N. Y. Condensed Milk Co.
2066—Williams vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
2067—Hinrich vs. Schmidt.
2068—Fay vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. Co.
2055—Phillips vs. Broughton.
1972—Behan vs. Moore.
2401—Oatman vs. Barrington Apartment Association.
2324—Zaenek vs. N. Y. & Queens Co. Ry. Co.
2847—McIntosh vs. Miner.
8413—Auld vs. Manhattan Life Ins. Co.
6558—Lyman vs. Harley.
6505—Monaghan vs. Shipway.
6372—Bradley vs. Columbia Fire Proofing Co.
6604—Castles vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
6087—Canary vs. Bush.
6729—Capone vs. Erie R. R. Co.
6911—Robins vs. N. Y. C. & H. R. R. R. Co.
6933—Cauley vs. McCormack.
7317—Nat. Bank of the Republic vs. Osborn.
7028—Ferine vs. Hoes.
7343—V

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE LAWYERS' TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY

OF NEW YORK.

37 and 39 Liberty Street, 44½ and 46 Maiden Lane.

Title Insurance is based on examination of title by lawyers. That company is the best and strongest which commands the best legal talent.

Examining counsel and Law Department and Committee of Counsel of the Lawyers' Company pass on title it insures.

Losses for thirteen years, $24,346.37

Money to Loan on Bond and Mortgage at Lowest Rates.

APPLY DIRECTLY & SAVE EXPENSE.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY.
CAPITAL AND SURPLUS - $5,000,000
146 Broadway, New York.
175 Remsen St., Brooklyn.

Builder having lots in A1 location wishes partner or parties with money. Address C. T., 45 Arlington Av., Brooklyn.

$1,000 LOAN WANTED; GOOD SECURITY, AND $100 bonus paid. Address Loan, J. 205 Times.

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Louis Mesier, Auctioneer.
TRUSTEE'S SALE.
ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON
will sell at auction on
TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901,
at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway,
the three-story high-stoop Brownstone Dwelling,
NO. 127 EAST 47TH ST.,
near Lexington Av.,
and
the four-story high-stoop Brownstone Dwelling
NO. 415 WEST 57TH ST.,
near 9th Av.
Maps, &c., at office of Auctioneer, 24 Pine St.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$8,000 EQUITY AND $16,000

mortgage will buy a four family improved Tenement; you can buy this House on the installment plan by paying down $500 cash and $500 every six months until your house is paid for; you can do all of this out of the rents you collect; the house will pay for itself; it is situated near 59th St. "L" station, west side; this is an opportunity that is not offered every day to buy a house on these conditions. For further particulars call on GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

All previous quotations on my new houses, Nos. 39, 41, and 43 East 49th St., are hereby withdrawn. Corrected prices for the completed houses and any further particulars can be had on application to the owner, Charles Buek, No. 109 West 42d St.

WE HAVE FOR SALE
DESIRABLE DOWNTOWN PROPERTY
NETTING 6 PER CENT.
RULAND & WHITING,
6 Beekman Street.

FOR SALE
4 AND 5-STORY BUILDINGS,
ON WEST 53D ST., NEAR 8th AV.,
53 FEET FRONT, WELL ADAPTED
FOR LIGHT MANUFACTURING,
LAUNDRY, OR OTHER PURPOSES.
GOOD CONDITION.
CARRIAGE LIFT; DRIVEWAY.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 BROADWAY.

149TH ST., 536 TO 558 WEST.

For Sale or to Rent at $900.00 per annum.—Beautiful four-story American basement dwellings. Ten rooms and two bath rooms. Caretaker in No 558, or WARREN & SKILLIN, 96 Broadway.

THOMAS P. PAYNE, 90 BROADWAY, HAS many parcels, large and small, of the finest city and country Properties for sale and exchange. Flats, Tenements, Business Property, Lots, private Dwellings, all sizes and all sections; suburban Houses and Farms; cash buyers for bargains; bargains for cash buyers; money on mortgage at lowest rates. Call or write.

$22,500.00 EACH WILL BUY TWO 5-STORY apartments; good location; rent over $2,400.00 each; only $5,000.00 cash needed, balance on mortgage 5%; bargain to quick buyer. HALL J. HOW & CO., 234 West 116th Street.

A.—BRONX BARGAINS—TWO-STORY BRICK, 134th St., near Willis Av.; $5,000; another $6,000; $6,500; brick corner, 25 foot, near 165th St. and Boston Av., $8,000. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

BROKERS TAKE NOTICE.—Lots 25x100, on Westchester Av., near Prospect Av., to exchange for 2 or 3-story frame house. RIEHL, 2,809 3d Av.

NEW HOUSE FOR SALE, 2½-STORY, 9 rooms, bath, improvements; Perry Av., north of Bedford Park. Apply HALPIN, on premises, or Fellham Av., Fordham.

LOTS; BRONX BARGAINS; TREMONT, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

A.—$12,000—BIG BARGAIN—BROWN STONE, near Madison Av. and 125th St.; 18 feet wide; want offer. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th St.

BARGAIN.—Handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

NO. 106 GRAND STREET.—Rent, $9,000; price, $100,000; mortgage, $65,000; elevators. GURNEE & HOPKINS, No. 134 West 23d.

GREENE ST. INVESTMENT PROPERTY, near Spring St., $35,000; rent, $2,800. LEWIS B. CRANE, 187 Broadway.

Builders and agents take notice.—For sale, 207, 209, and 209½ Wooster St. SENFTNER & SENFTNER, 258 Broadway.

FOR SALE—12-room residence on most desirable part of St. Nicholas Av.; all improvements. C. B. A., Box 150 Times.

PLOT OF LOTS MUST BE SOLD; WILL double in value in year; bargain. ATWATER, 156 Broadway.

A.—$9,500 BUYS NICE BROWN-STONE, NEAR 2d Av., Harlem. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

RYE, NEAR STATION, APAWAMIS GOLF Club and Sound; select neighborhood; 1½ acres; choice fruited, shaded land; modern; 13 rooms; only $17,500. PERRY, 309 Broadway.

Staten Island Property.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY SOME GOOD BUILDing property on Staten Island, call on or write L. GORTLER, Jr., 71 Duane St., city.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ALL COUNTRY REAL ESTATE A SPECIALTY; bargains and exchanges, all directions. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous Winter resort; we offer plots containing 5 lots for $85; small weekly payments. Special trip to property Sunday, Jan. 13. F. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St.

$18 BUYS 2½ ACRES.
$25 BUYS 5 ACRES.
Almost given away, to close estate at once; installments 50 cents weekly. APPLEBY, 10 Wall.

Bowling.

HANDSOME GOLD WATCH, 14-KARAT; ALSO solid silver watch, gold inlaid, bowled for in afternoon open games at KING'S Bowling Alleys, 125 West 125th St.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Brooklyn.

BORDUGH OF BROOKLYN—SALE OR RENT.
STORE TO RENT ON FULTON ST., 25x100. Best location, in busiest part of the dry goods section; Fulton St.; four-story and basement to lease for term of years; moderate rent; great opportunity to secure an attractive store; best location on Fulton St.
LEONARD MOODY R. E. CO.,
20 Court St., Brooklyn.

PUTNAM AV., BETWEEN RALPH AND Patchen Aves.—2-story and basement frame dwelling; excellent neighborhood; all improvements; only $3,500; small amount down, balance, payments to suit. KETCHAM BROS., 1,565 Broadway, Halsey "L" Station.

ONE LEFT.—2-FAMILY HOUSE, 2 STORY and basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price, $4,000; cash, $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

Mortgage Loans.
New York and Brooklyn Property.
DIOSSY & CO., 5 COURT SQ., B'KLYN.

FAILMEZGER, 1,030 Gates Av., Brooklyn.

Two-story house; basement, attic, and extension; full lot; $3,000. Apply 478 Adelphi St., Brooklyn.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE
piece of business Property, leased to one tenant who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; will trade for Lots on west side of city. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE
large, fine Apartment Houses to trade for free and clear Lots on west side. Send full particulars of what you have to offer to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$26,000 EQUITY IN CORNER
Plot, situated near the West Shore Ferry. What can you offer in trade for same? Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 EQUITY IN FINE
Flat House, situated near 104th st. "L" station, west side. Will trade for Country Seat. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$125,000 EQUITY IN A GILT
edge Apartment House on Broadway; will trade for free and clear Lots or sell for cash. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE
Store Property, near 28th st. and 6th av.; will trade for private House and cash. For full particulars address Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE
flat House; will trade for free and clear private House; send full particulars Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

EXCHANGES NEGOTIATED; COMPLETE list desirable properties, city, suburban, country; principals submit particulars. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

87 BEAVER STREET.

Stores and offices at moderate rents; will be connected with and form part of 69 Wall Street, and altered to suit tenants.

67 AND 69 WALL STREET.

Two large suites and several small offices; all modern conveniences; low rents.

GILL BUILDING, 9-13 MAIDEN LANE.

Three large and a few small offices; especially adapted for the jewelry and diamond trade.

NASSAU-BEEKMAN BUILDING, N. E. COR. NASSAU AND BEEKMAN STREETS.

A number of small offices at reduced rates.

WEST SIDE PARK AVE., 130TH TO 131ST STREET.

Stores and lofts in the two new six-story fire-proof buildings; freight and passenger elevators; private electric power and light; live steam; steam heat.

Apply to Superintendents on premises, or

MACLAY & DAVIES,
67 and 69 Wall Street.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

ST. ANN BUILDING,
3 & 5 West 18th St.,
1 door from 5th Av.
SECOND LOFT.
Modern Fireproof building, with all conveniences.
Passenger & Freight Elevators.
WARREN & SKILLIN, 96 Broadway.

3D AV, NEAR 14TH ST., FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

DESK ROOM, WITH GOOD WINDOW SPACE IF DESIRED; PRIVATE OFFICE; IN LARGE REAL ESTATE OFFICE; $5 TO $15.
HALL & SON,
2,193 7TH AV.

A LARGE NUMBER OF BUILDINGS, STORES, LOFTS, and OFFICES to let in nearly all DOWN-TOWN streets. RULAND & WHITING, 5 Beekman St.

DESK ROOM, WITH DESK, $10 MONTHLY, 203 Broadway, Room 507; choice location; modern building; all improvements.

CORNER STORE, 1 7TH AV., CORNER 11TH St.; rent reasonable. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KINO, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

40TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

TO LET—DESIRABLE OFFICE; EVERY MODern improvement; $25. Inquire room 701, 290 Broadway, Dun Building, Manhattan.

6TH AV., 238.—Large floors, all modern improvements; will alter to suit tenants; ring janitor's bell.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IS YOUR PROPERTY THREATENED WITH foreclosure? Do you wish to sell it, or any other property quickly? City or country. No agents, owners only. Address "PURCHASER," Box 144 Times Office.

SMALL LONG ISLAND COUNTRY PLACE wanted in exchange for modern brownstone Brooklyn dwelling; equity, $3,500. OWNER, 254 East 15th St., Brooklyn.

Auction Sales.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SLAUGHTER SALE OF HOLIDAY BOOKS
Closing out entire stock of rich standard books at 148 Fulton Street, near Broadway. Auction sale begins every day, excepting Sundays, at 12 o'clock, evenings at 6, and will be continued until entire stock is sold. Among other choice works are samples and remainders of the publications of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Appleton & Co., Harper & Brothers, Dodd, Mead & Co., and other leading book houses. A few slightly damaged sets of Huxley, Darwin, Tyndall, and Spencer. Visitors invited. Sale positive. 148 Fulton Street, New York.

A. J. Kaplan, auctioneer, will sell on Wednesday, Jan. 9, 10 A. M., one Great Dane, dog, named Caesar, at 157 East 57th St. By order of William H. Lee, Marshal.

Machinery.

DYNAMOS AND MOTORS, ALL SIZES IN stock, direct from Factory of Triumph Electric Co.; send us postal, we do the rest. CHINNOCK ELECT. CO., 90 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE GRANADA,
95th St., Southeast Corner of Lexington Av.
6, 7, 8, 9 rooms and bath;
elevator, steam heat, hall service, telephone, electric light, gas ranges; modern plumbing; hardwood cabinet trim throughout.
OPEN FOR INSPECTION DAY AND NIGHT.
LIONEL FROEHLICH'S SON,
1,149 Lexington Av.

KENMARE.
Rents $1,300 and upward
S. W. COR. 93D ST. AND CENTRAL PARK WEST; 7 and 8 extra large rooms and bath; elevator, telephone, electric light fixtures. The finish and decorations of these apartments should be seen to be appreciated. AGENT ALWAYS ON PREMISES TO SHOW THE APARTMENTS.
SLAWSON & HOBBS, Agents.
284 Columbus Av., near 72d St.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $12.00 to $15.00. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.
112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

93D ST., 102 WEST.—Marble halls, staircases, hallboys, all improvements; overlooking Park. Rent, $40. Supt. or A. K. MACKAY, 6 Wall St.

Elegant 8 rooms and bath, finest location west side; decorated, steam heated, hot water supplied. Janitor, 849 West End Av., near 102d St.

$20—113TH ST., 12 WEST—$20.
5 and 6 large rooms, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D.)

$36—103D ST., 85 WEST—$36.
6 rooms and bath, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 107, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful steam-heated single flats; 7 large, light rooms and bath, $32.

$50—150TH ST., 507-509 WEST—$50.
9 rooms and bath; heat, hot water; choice.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ELEGANT CORNER FLAT, 6 ROOMS, $19; Ralph and Putnam Av.; 593 Park Place, near Franklin, $14; 62 Bleecker St., 5 rooms, bath, $11. See janitor.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

A 7-ROOM FLAT, $20; LARGEST, CHEAPEST, lightest flats in Harlem; extra wide; bath; improvements; hardwood finish; good service; one month free. Janitor, 2,593 8th Av., near 138th St.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d Street, elegant apartments; 8 rooms, newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

107TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

97th St., 155 West.—Elegantly decorated flats, 5 rooms and bath, hot water, steam heat. Janitor.

104th St., 214 West.—Elegantly decorated 7 large light rooms and bath, near L; $30, $35. Janitor.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV. —3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Brooklyn.

HICKS ST., 363.—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT
THEDFORD'S

We sell and deliver
2000 lbs.
"THE STANDARD TON"

YARDS:

27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE.,	Tel. 386—18
436 W. 41ST ST.,	Tel. 594—38
223 W. 42D ST.,	Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE.,	Tel. 166 Cols.
55TH ST. AND N. R.,	Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY,	Tel. 125 River

THOMAS STOKES,
Coal Dealer. Best grades of house coal, fresh mined, standard weight, lowest prices. Yards, 10th Av. and 32d St., 10th Av. and 54th St., 9th Av. and 34th St. Telephones 244 38th St., 203 Columbus.

ESTABLISHED 1843.
GUEST & CO.,
COAL AND WOOD.
Yards, 7th Av., cor. 49th St. Telephone 435 Columbus. 306 West 43d St. Telephone, 2,279 38th St.

T. H. Thorn & Co.
Best grade of red and white ash coal. Yard, 2d Ave., cor. 29th St. Tel. 1422 Madison Sq.

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD
36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq.
Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Hotels and Restaurants.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

WHERE TO DINE.
TRAVELLERS' INFORMATION CO., 2 Park Place (apply to) 25 Union Sq.
A, à la carte; T, Table d'hote; D, Dinner; L, Lunch.

Pompeiian Room, Gilsey House, B'way & 29th New, Original, Unique.
Rector's 44TH ST. AND BROADWAY. Service A LA CARTE.
Dutch Grill & Palm Court, Hotel Navarre, 38th St. & 7th Av. Orchestra. Alc.
Cafe Boulevard, 2D AVE. & 10TH ST. Tdh. Alc. Hungarian Orchest
Burns' World Renowned Rest. 45 St. & 6 Av. Terrapin, Game, Shellfish. Fine orchestra.
Dorlon's Oyster House, 6 & 7 East 23d St. Open for breakfast at 8 o'clock.
Hotel Metropole, 42d St., B'way. Rathskeller & Palm Garden. Alc. Music.
Dun Bld'g, Rest. Business Men's Dinner Alc Café. Lunch. B'way & Reade St.
Maryland Kitchen Don't miss the Maryland Dinner, $1.25. 254 W. 34 St.
Jack's 43d St. & 6th Av., & 74th & Columbus Noted for shell fish and game.
Wallace's Fifth Av. & 19th St. High-class Chop House & Ladies' Rest.
Ye Olde Tavern, 101 Duane. Quaint surroundings. Vidal & Thompson.
Hartmann's Business Men's Lunch. 1 B'way, Mills Building, 45 B'way.
Cavanagh's 258 W. 23d St. Chops, Steaks, Game, Sea Food. Banquet Rooms.
JACQUIN'S, 54 W. 24th St. Alc. Tdh. (wine)55c.
Rogers' 6 PARK PLACE. A la Carte, Table d'Hote Dinner, 4 to 7, 50c.
Huber's WILHELMINA CAFE, 7 Av. & 116 St. Lunch & Table d'Hote. Alc. all hours.
West End Hotel, 125th St., near 7th Av. Tdh. D., 50c.; Sunday, 75c. MUSIC
J. PECK, French Tdh., (wine,) 50c. 140 Fulton St
Gonfarone's, 36W. 8St. Tdh., (wine,) 50c; Lch, 40c.

Au chat noir. 82 W. 28th St. Business Men's Lunch, (wine,) 50c.
Table d'Hote, (orchestra,) 75c.
A la Carte at all Hours.
And at 551 W. Broadway. Table d'Hote, with wine, 50c.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DOG AND CAT HOSPITAL.
New York Canine Infirmary, 146 West 53d St., H. K. MILLER, Veterinarian.—Treatment, board, washing, clipping of Dogs; exercising grounds; accommodations for country boarders; dogs called for and delivered. Telephone, 851—Columbus.

Lost and Found.

GERMAN-AMERICAN SAVINGS BANK BOOK, Sadie Murphy, lost. Finder will kindly return to bank or 822 Broadway.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00. Do you desire a share of this money? Here is your opportunity; I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet Company articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 invested in a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually; will secure $15 per week salary to ambitious party; larger amounts in like proportion; no scheme, no discretionary pools; safe; will bear investigation. Call Automatic Pic. Company, 88 Wall St.

Best-paying old-established boarding stable in Harlem; long lease; reasonable rent; 65 boarders; will stand strictest investigation; is a bargain to cash buyer; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

Established express, van, and storage business, including equity in building; will sell at bargain to any one who is not afraid to invest; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

A well-established ladies' hairdressing and manicuring establishment, with first-class trade, must sell, account of another establishment; will sell either one; if inexperienced will be taught hairdressing. 1,024 Lexington Av.

MONEY MAKER.—Merchants' Anti-Stepladder; an indispensable commodity for stores; nickel-plated; weight, 1½ pounds; monopolies offered. FLYNN, 73 Warren St., New York.

Be your own boss. Make your own fortune. Others have done it, so can you. Send stamp to Buckeye Novelty Co., E., Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for particulars, &c.

I PAY Cash for any store stocks, fixtures. THOS. TETCHENER, 289 Smith St., Brooklyn.

CASH ADVANCED TO MANUFACTURERS and merchants on their outstanding accounts. MARTIN J. WEIL, 453 Broome St.

ADVICE FREE. Patents promptly procured. Inventors' Guide free. EDGAR TATE COMPANY, Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Accommodation of $20 wanted privately; return lender $40 Monday; valuable security given; references. Fullerton, 1,242 Broadway.

A $25 loan wanted; return lender $45 next week; give good security; references. Bartlett, 1,242 Broadway.

Accommodation.—$50 wanted for ten days; return $70; valuable security deposited; privacy preferred; reference. Chegnay, 1,269 Broadway.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.
CLOTHING for Ladies, Men and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.
PROGRESSIVE
CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO.,
7 W. 14th St., Bet. 5th & 6th Aves. Open Evenings.

Eye Glasses Free

THIS WEEK our opticians will examine your eyes and sell you a pair of our $2.50 gold spring eye glasses for $1, and give you a gold plated eyeglass chain with a safety hook, also leather case, "absolutely free." It's a $3.50 outfit for $1. Spectacles at the same price. KEENEY'S OPTICAL CO., 140 Fulton St., New York, (near Nassau St.) Hours, 8 to 6.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

SPECIAL! CUT THIS OUT!
I have an order for 50 TONS OF OLD METAL and PAPER; if you have any to sell, no matter how large or small a quantity, send me a postal card and I will call promptly. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

PATENTS ON PAPERHANGER'S COMBINATION tool and paperhanger's folding table for sale; an excellent chance for party with capital. Address ROBERT G. ODELL, 7 James St., Peekskill, N. Y.

15 CENTS A POUND paid for old pewter, britannia, and plated ware; 5 pounds or 5,000 pounds bought; call or send postal. I will call. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

AT EBLE'S ART GALLERY, 105 WEST 42D St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 295 Broadway.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW,) $40; REMODELED Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

TYPEWRITERS SOLD AND RENTED; EXpert repairing done. GENERAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1579 Cortlandt.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. N. Y. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.60 dozen. 148 East 59th St.

INDIAN PIPES, NAVAJO BLANKETS, OLD Arms, Brass, Copper, Pewter, Curios. J. H. MAYHEW, 340 West 42d St.

AT 344 6TH AV. AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

DO YOU KNOW I CAN MAKE YOUR FURNITURE look like new? E. STRAUSS, 1,788 Madison Av.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

MUSIC BOXES, 84 TEETH, $24; 15 TUNES free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

PRIZE ANGORA CATS AT A SACRIFICE; must sell at once. JONES, 230 West 99th St.

Watches and Jewelry.

CREDIT, DIAMONDS, WATCHES, OIL PAINTings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Watches, diamonds, jewelry, $1 weekly; delivered immediately; goods guaranteed. National Diamond and Watch Co., 177 Broadway.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

HARRIS'S WINE AND LIQUOR WAREHOUSE, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

L. KUEHN, DELICATESSEN, WINES, LIQuors, bottled beer, 2,176 8th Av., near 118th St. Prompt attention all orders.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 116th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENded into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 39th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

L. PASTER, 42 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments altered and repaired, a specialty; lowest rates.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BOUGHT, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Clothing.

HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR LADIES', GENtlemen's, and children's fine discarded Clothing, Jewelry, Furs, Bric-a-Brac, Furniture, Carpets. Mr. or Mrs. NAFTAL, 744 6th Av.

I give full value for gents' discarded clothing. Bloom, 308 West 115th St. Postals promptly attended to.

MRS. COHEN, 629 6TH AV.—Highest prices paid for ladies' street and evening costumes, jewelry, furs.

Lawyers.

DIVORCE $50 entire expense. Lawyer GEO. ROBINSON, 99 Nassau.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Pianos and Organs.

20c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WEBER
PIANO WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

We offer this week the following used pianos, in first-class condition, that will do far better service and give far better satisfaction than new instruments of inferior makers:

One Weber Upright	$240
One Weber Upright	290
One Chickering Upright	225
One Kranich & Bach Upright	190
One Wheelock Upright	160
One Wheelock Upright	140
One McCammon Upright	125

Careful buyers will find it worth their while to examine these bargains. Cash or installments. New pianos to rent and rent applied if purchased.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

WISSNER PIANOS
Used by Eminent Artists.
BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS
109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.
For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS
The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents $4. MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.

KRAKAUER
PIANOS.
For Sale and to Rent. Easy terms.
113 EAST 14TH ST.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.
A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.
741-743 8th Av., near 45th St.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS, ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 10 O'CLOCK.
PIANO SPECIALS: 6 small uprights, $40 to $60; $3 monthly until paid. Steinway, $50; Bradbury, $40; Gilbert, $25; $2 monthly until paid. Organ bargains. GOETZ & CO., 31-37 Court St., Brooklyn.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 95 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

LIMITED NUMBER OF NEW UPRIGHT pianos; reliable makes; rare chance. Inquire crockery store, 1,047 Broadway, Brooklyn.

LARGE ASSORTMENT SLIGHTLY USED UPrights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week; extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

Piano wanted, baby grand, for cash; good make, good condition; Steinway preferred. BABY GRAND, Box 240 Times Office.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

$3.00 TO $5.00 PER MONTH RENT. PIANOS with mandolin attachment. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

WILL SELL MY EXPENSIVE UPRIGHT piano, couple months old, for $125. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

Instruction.

10c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

Isaac Pittman; shorthand; private and class lesson; best institution; reasonable rates. Metropolitan School, 288 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 125th.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT 112 EAST 18TH ST.....
.....The ONLY N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 18th, ...BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE. The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....
.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY. Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St. ....GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

Solo basso wants a position; has a deep, rich, flexible voice of over two octaves compass; has been solo bass in choir of church in a Western city; has a large repertory of both sacred and concert songs. S. S., Room 28, 14 Irving Place.

VIOLIN ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

PAULINE ELLIOTT RYDER.—Violinist for concerts and musicales; highest social, musical references; pupils accepted. Address 43 W. 34th.

SOMETHING NEW!—Piano taught in 3 months without notes; accompaniments a specialty; PROMONTORY, 150 West 14th St.

VIOLIN STUDIO, 160 WEST 23D ST.—

It is upon January and February that the "heft" of winter falls—look it up in the good old "Farmer's Almanac," it speaks with the experience of 109 years.

Yet, knowing all that, we've gone and marked down some of our best overcoats.

There is a goodly quantity of $25 blue and black kerseys, a little handful of $30 ones; now priced $15; sizes 32 to 34, $13.

There are others, good ones too, marked $12.50; sizes, 32, 33 and 34, $10.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

Annual January Sale.

Shoe Dep't.

Commencing

Wednesday, Jan. 9th.

Broken lots and sizes to close.

Ladies' Kid, Patent Leather, French Calf and Winter Russets, (bench made), $5.00,

formerly $7 to $8.

Kid and Enamel

Button & Lace Boots, including all misfit custom boots,

$3.65,

formerly $5 to $8.

Velour Calf and Kid

Button & Lace Boots,

$2.65,

formerly $4 to $5.

Misses' and Children's Calf, Straight Goat, Patent Leather and Kid, Button and Lace, 8 to 10½, $1.40,

formerly $2 to $3.

11 to 2, $1.65,

formerly $2.50 to $3.50.

Lord & Taylor,

Broadway & 20th St.

Millinery Dept.

Wed. and Thurs., January 9th & 10th.

Trimmed Hats, Toques, and Bonnets, including Mourning Millinery,

$6.00.

Children's Hats,

$3.00.

Lord & Taylor,

Broadway & 20th St.

Birds Canary singer, $2.00; extra singer, $2.50 and $3.00, each warranted; St. Andreasberg Canary, with soft bell and water notes, $5.00; the Holdem Canary, with fancy notes and echo songs, $10, $12, $15, $20. All kinds singing, whistling, talking birds. Best quality; low prices. Birds sent by express everywhere, safe. Cages all latest styles. Holden's Book on Birds, new, all about food, care, singing, with full price list birds and cages, by mail, 25 cts., stamps.

Piping Bullfinches; one and two songs.

G. H. Holden, 240 6th Av., near 15th St.

TRADE —41— MARK.

EVERYBODY'S WHISKEY

WHY?

Because it is a blend of absolutely pure whiskies, ripe and mellow with age. Bottled only by

L. J. CALLANAN,

41 and 43 Vesey St., New York.

SEND FOR COPY OF MONTHLY PRICE LIST.

HOME
INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK.

Office: No. 119 Broadway.

NINETY-FIFTH SEMI-ANNUAL STATEMENT,
JANUARY, 1901.

CAPITAL STOCK, - $3,000,000.00

THE ASSETS OF THE COMPANY ARE AS FOLLOWS:

Cash in Banks	$ 514,815 89
Cash in hands of Agents and in course of collection	608,932 29
Real Estate	1,718,265 81
Loans on Stocks	249,375 00
Loans on Bonds and Mortgages	160,400 00
Interest due and accrued	47,664 54

BONDS.

		Par Value.	Market Value.
District of Columbia of 1924	3-65 per cent.	$1,000,000 00	$1,230,000 00
United States, (1925)	4 " "	600,000 00	828,000 00
State of Georgia, (Registered) (1920)	3½ " "	25,000 00	26,000 00
New York City (Registered)	3 " "	600,000 00	600,000 00
City of Richmond, Va. (1922)	5 " "	50,000 00	57,500 00
N.Y., Chicago & St. Louis R. R. Co. First Mtge. (1937)	4 " "	112,000 00	119,840 00
Ohio & West Virginia Railway Co. 1st Mtge. (1910)	7 " "	100,000 00	120,000 00
Clev., Colum., Cin. & Inds. R. R. 1st Con'd Mtge. (1914)	7 " "	100,000 00	130,000 00
Louis., New Albany & Chic. Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. (1910)	6 " "	100,000 00	116,000 00
West Shore Railway 1st Mtge. Gtd. (Registered)	4 " "	100,000 00	113,000 00
Jeffs'ville, Mad. & Inds. R.R. Co 1st Mtge. (S.F.) (1906)	7 " "	58,000 00	65,540 00
Chic., St. P., Minn. & Omaha Ry. Co. Con'd Mtge. (1930)	6 " "	50,000 00	55,000 00
Va. Mid. Ry. Co. Gen. Mtge. Gtd. Stamped (1936)	5 " "	50,000 00	55,000 00
Cleveland Terminal & Valley R. R. Co. (1995)	4 " "	50,000 00	47,500 00
Louis., Henderson & St. L. Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. (1946)	5 " "	25,000 00	25,000 00
Standard Gas Light Co. 1st Mtge. (1930)	5 " "	50,000 00	56,500 00
Des Moines Water Works Co. 1st Con'd Mtge. (1917)	4 " "	50,000 00	45,000 00
Denver Union Water Co. 1st Mtge. (1914)	5 " "	48,000 00	43,200 00

STOCKS.

10,000	Shares	Pennsylvania Railroad Company	$ 50 each	500,000 00	725,000 00
5,000	"	Morris and Essex Railroad Co.	50 "	250,000 00	470,000 00
3,000	"	Southern Railway Co. Preferred	100 "	300,000 00	210,000 00
3,000	"	Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co	100 "	300,000 00	255,000 00
3,000	"	Baltimore & Ohio R. R. Co. Preferred	100 "	300,000 00	255,000 00
2,650	"	United New Jersey R. R. & Canal Co.	100 "	265,000 00	720,800 00
2,500	"	Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne & Chi. R'y Co.	100 "	250,000 00	465,000 00
2,500	"	Chicago, Mil. & St. Paul R'y Co. Pref.	100 "	250,000 00	462,500 00
2,500	"	Chicago, Mil. & St. Paul R'y Co. Com.	100 "	250,000 00	350,000 00
2,500	"	Chicago, Burlington & Quincy R. R. Co.	100 "	250,000 00	350,000 00
2,000	"	Northern Pacific Railway Preferred	100 "	200,000 00	170,000 00
1,500	"	Cleveland & Pittsburg R. R.	50 "	75,000 00	138,750 00
1,000	"	Fort Wayne & Jackson R. R. Co. Pref.	100 "	100,000 00	145,000 00
1,000	"	Chi., St. P., Min. & Omaha R'y Co. Pref.	100 "	100,000 00	170,000 00
1,000	"	Rensselaer & Saratoga R. R.	100 "	100,000 00	198,000 00
1,000	"	Connecticut River R. R. Co.	100 "	100,000 00	270,000 00
1,000	"	Chicago & Northwestern R'y Co. Pref.	100 "	100,000 00	200,000 00
1,000	"	Northern Railroad of New Jersey	100 "	100,000 00	95,000 00
1,000	"	Valley Railroad	100 "	100,000 00	130,000 00
1,000	"	New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R.	100 "	100,000 00	210,000 00
1,000	"	Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe R'y Pref.	100 "	100,000 00	85,000 00
1,000	"	Union Pacific R. R. Preferred	100 "	100,000 00	80,000 00
200	"	American Exchange Nat. Bank of N. Y.	100 "	20,000 00	38,000 00
200	"	Mercantile National Bank of N. Y.	100 "	20,000 00	44,000 00
200	"	National Bank of Commerce in N. Y.	100 "	20,000 00	60,000 00
200	"	Fourth National Bank of N. Y.	100 "	20,000 00	34,000 00
200	"	Manhattan Company, N. Y.	50 "	10,000 00	26,000 00
200	"	Merchants' Exch. Nat. Bank of N. Y.	50 "	10,000 00	12,000 00
200	"	Nassau Bank, N. Y.	50 "	10,000 00	17,000 00
400	"	National Broadway Bank of N. Y.	25 "	10,000 00	23,000 00
100	"	Bank of America, N. Y.	100 "	10,000 00	46,000 00
100	"	National Bank of the Republic, N. Y.	100 "	10,000 00	22,000 00
200	"	Chatham National Bank of N. Y.	25 "	5,000 00	15,000 00
200	"	Nat. Butchers' & Drovers' B'k of N. Y.	25 "	5,000 00	4,250 00
200	"	Franklin Trust Company, Brooklyn	100 "	20,000 00	55,000 00
100	"	Long Island Loan & Trust Company	100 "	10,000 00	24,000 00
50	"	Metropolitan Trust Company, N. Y.	100 "	5,000 00	20,000 00
					$13,637,833 53

LIABILITIES.

Cash Capital	$3,000,000 00
Reserve Premium Fund	4,546,125 00
Unpaid Losses	529,318 81
Unpaid Re-Insurance, and other claims	264,890 88
Net Surplus	5,297,498 84
	$13,637,833 53

DIRECTORS.

LEVI P. MORTON,	WALTER H. LEWIS,	HENRY F. NOYES,
OLIVER S. CARTER,	FRANCIS H. LEGGETT,	LUCIEN C. WARNER,
DAVID H. McALPIN,	BENJAMIN PERKINS,	WARNER VAN NORDEN,
CORNELIUS N. BLISS,	ELBRIDGE G. SNOW,	DUMONT CLARKE,
JOHN H. WASHBURN,	GEORGE H. HARTFORD,	JAMES B. VAN WOERT.

JOHN H. WASHBURN, ELBRIDGE G. SNOW, Vice-Presidents.
AREUNAH M. BURTIS, WILLIAM H. CHENEY, Secretaries.
HENRY J. FERRIS, EMANUEL H. A. CORREA,
FREDERIC C. BUSWELL, Assistant Secretaries.

New York, January 8, 1901. STATE OF NEW YORK.
INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

Hon. Francis Hendricks, Superintendent of Insurance. Albany, N. Y.

New York, Jan. 7th, 1901.

Sir:

I beg to report that I have completed the examination of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK, requested to be made by your appointment No. 1390. The examination, undertaken early in December last, was for the purpose of ascertaining the company's condition on December 31st, 1900. This could only be done within the time permitted by checking in anticipation of the close of the year all items capable of being verified in advance of that time. The prompt closing of all books on December 31st, and the admirable manner in which these books are kept, rendered it possible to confirm the accuracy of the figures given in the annual statement by the date of this report. Although testing the correctness of the item of unearned premium fund was by far the largest portion of the work, requiring the services of the entire examination force, yet a portion only of this very considerable fund could be investigated and verified. Such of it as was so verified was drawn off from the written business of the company for a period, less cancellations and reinsurances on corresponding business checked from return policies and reinsurance vouchers. The result conclusively indicates the fact that the unearned premium fund of the company is as required by statute, and that the other items composing assets and liabilities have been correctly reported to you in the annual statement to December 31st, 1900, about to be filed. These are as follows:

Assets	$13,637,833 53
Liabilities, including $3,000,000 capital stock	8,340,334 69
Surplus over capital and all other liabilities	5,297,498 84

Respectfully submitted,
ISAAC VANDERPOEL,
Chief Examiner.

STATE OF NEW YORK, COUNTY OF NEW YORK, } ss.

ISAAC VANDERPOEL, being duly sworn, deposes and says that the foregoing report subscribed to by him is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

ISAAC VANDERPOEL.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 7th day of January, 1901.
[L. S.] GENVIA C. FULLER, Notary Public 122, N. Y. Co.

Albany, January 7th, 1901.

I HEREBY CERTIFY that I have caused the annual statement of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK, hereto attached, showing the Company's condition on December 31st, 1900, to be verified by an examination of its affairs, and that the condition of the company as set forth in said statement was as represented therein on that date, as shown by said examination.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal at the City of Albany, the day and year first above written.

FRANCIS HENDRICKS,
Superintendent of Insurance.

The usual semi-annual dividend of five per cent. and an extra dividend of one per cent. have been declared, payable on demand.

---

use Hayden's
LICORICE TABLETS
made with pure SPANISH LICORICE
Unsurpassed for cure of COUGHS & COLDS
5 and 10¢ PACKAGES.
OUR GLYCERINE TABLETS
For all Throat Affections
—10 and 25¢ BOXES—
Sold by Druggists everywhere or sent prepaid on receipt of price.
Hayden's 863 Broadway, NEW YORK.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

O'Neill's.

Sale of Women's Winter Jackets.

Eight hundred and seventy-five of them have just come to us from one of the largest and best makers in New York. They are all new garments, perfect in fit and finish, and comprise this season's most attractive styles. We place them on sale this morning at

These Extraordinary Prices!

Six Button Reefers of black Kersey,

Velvet or plain Collars, full lined with Satin, finished with rows of stitching,

☞ Regular Price 12.98,

7.98

Black Cheviot at the same price.

Black Kersey and Cheviot Jackets,

Fly fronts, Velvet Collars, Reveres of Peau de Soie, lined with Satin, ☞ Regular Value 15.00,

8.98

Double-breasted Black Kersey Jackets,

Also in Pebble Cheviots and fine Worsteds, some with Reveres and Facings of Silk, others finished in Cloth, excellent lining, finely tailored,

☞ Regular Value 16.50,

9.98

Automobile Coats,

Of black Astrachan Cloth, high storm Collars, Satin lined,

☞ Regular Value 18.00,

9.98

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Annual Sale of Furs.

Commencing on Wednesday, January 9th.

THE ENTIRE ASSORTMENT OF WINTER STOCK AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

SCARFS.
Alaska Sable, . . . $5.50, $8.50 and $10.50.
Mink,—with cluster tails, $10.00, $13.50, " $18.00; Value $12.50 to $25.00.
Stone Marten, ... $17.50; Value $25.00.

BOAS.
Electric Seal, ... $4.50 and $6.00; Value $7.50 and $10.00.
Sable, Wolf and Blue Wolf, ... $15.00; Value $20.00.

MUFFS.
Electric Seal and Astrakhan, ... $2.00.
Black Raccoon, ... $4.50.
Alaska Sable, ... $5.00.
Persian Lamb, ... $6.00.
Sable Wolf and Blue Wolf . . . . . $10.00.
Mink, ... $12.50 and $15.00.
Seal, ... $15.00.

COLLARETTES, . . Alaska Sable, $22.50 and $25.00.
CLOTH CAPE, ... Lined with Fur, $15.00.
SEAL JACKETS, ... $125.00; Value $165.00.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Steinertone GRAND PIANOS

The most marvellous toned Concert Grands now on exhibition and sale. Also in four smaller sizes. 130 FIFTH AVE., Cor. 18th St.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs., 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES TO-DAY & SATURDAY. Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENCE.

CHARLES FROHMAN'S JOHN HARE CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St. Last 4 Nights—Last Mat. Sat. "THE GAY LORD QUEX. Monday, Next—Julia Marlowe. "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & Bway. Ev'gs at 8:15. Matinées, 2:15. Matinées To-day and Saturday. WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. Mats. To-day and Saturday. To-night, 8:20. HERBERT KELCEY EFFIE SHANNON MY LADY DAINTY

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Mad. Av. Matinées To-day & Sat., DAVID GARRICK. MR. E. S. WILLARD Every evening this & next week. TOM PINCH.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. "A credit to Daly's."—Press. "So good a play sure to last."—Times. Lady Huntworth's Experiment. By R. C. Carton, Author Lord & Lady Algy. First Damrosch-Wagner Lecture Jan. 18.

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d. . . . . At 8:30 Daniel Frohman . . . Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15 ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.

BIJOU, B'way & 30th St. Mat. Sat. Ev., 8:20. May Irwin LAST 4 DAYS. Madge Smith. Tues., Jan. 15—Amelia Bingham presents her Com'y, seats now selling, in THE CLIMBERS.

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat. MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT in His New Play, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

WEBER & FIELDS' FIDDLE-DEE-DEE MUSIC Evgs. 8:15, Sharp. HALL. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE. CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av. EVERY AFTERNOON AT 3:30 O'CLOCK.

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evgs. 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. QUO VADIS.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE, Eve. at 8:15. Every Ev. & Sat. Mat., DIE STRENGEN HERREN The Roaring Farce.

GRAND Opera House. | MANN—LIPMAN All on Account of Eliza. | Mat. To-day, 25c., 50c.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—ARISTOCRACY.

HUBER'S 14TH ST. MUSEUM. Trapeze Dog; Giantess; Yucca, Strong Woman.

Amusements.

Proctor's Continuous Performance. 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
23d St. 5th Ave. 58th St. 125th St. {The Finneys, John Kernell, Newsky Troupe, Al Leach and 3 Rosebuds, etc. FOUR COHANS, Papinta, Marcel's Living Statuary & Bas-Reliefs, etc. Mlle. Delbosq, J. W. Albaugh, Jr., & Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Grapewin & Chance, MARIE WAINWRIGHT, Staley & Birbeck, 3 Mascagnos, Johnnie Carroll.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE MATS. TO-DAY and Sat. HERALD.—"THE GIRL FROM UP THERE" will carry everything before it." Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. Evenings at 8 sharp. THE GIRL FROM UP THERE.

EDEN MUSEE WORLD IN WAX. New Groups. CINEMATOGRAPH Last Week of "HUMPTY DUMPTY"

BROADWAY Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Sat. Mat., 2:15. JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS In Klein & Francis's A ROYAL ROGUE.

KNICKERBOCKER, Broadway & 38th St. —ADA— REHAN Evs. at 8:25. Mat. Sat. 2:20. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."

HAMMERSTEIN'S 42d St., B'way & 7Av. NOTHING BUT SUCCESS. VICTORIA DRESSLER Evg. 8:30. Adm. 50c Matinée Saturday. and Comedians. MISS PRINNT. Opera Bouffe.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. To-day & Sat. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, This GIDDY THRONG

THE DEWEY E. 14th St. MATINEE TO-DAY. VICTORIA BURLESQUERS NEW LIVING PICTURES.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Evs., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

Koster & Bial's West 34th St. La Loie Fuller & 20 others. MATINEE DAILY. Sunday Mat. & Eve. Concerts, 1:45-7:45.

Theatre Evs., 8:15. REPUBLIC 42d St., jt west of B'way. Mats. To-day & Sat. 2:15. VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

WALLACK'S Evs. at 8:30. Matinées To-day & Saturday, 2:15. MARY MANNERING —IN— JANICE MEREDITH

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. Quo Vadis With Wilton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault, Bijou Fernandez. Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. To-day & Sat. 2. Ev. 8.

KEITH'S KATHERINE BLOODGOOD, TSCHERNOFF'S DOGS, JAMES THORNTON, FIELDS & WARD, GRANT & NORTON.

MANHATTAN THEATRE, 33d & B'way. Evs., 8:15. Mats. To-day & Sat. THE BURGOMASTER.

HARLEM Opera House Evs. 8:15. Peter F. DAILEY Matinée Saturday 2:15. in Hodge, Podge & Co.

O'Neill's.

The Greatest of All
Blanket Sales!

We have just purchased the entire stock on hand of the largest California and Eastern mills in existence and will place it on sale, beginning this morning,

At the Lowest Prices Ever Known.

If you need Blankets buy them now. If you don't need them at present buy them for future use, for never again will you be able to secure such values as are at your command here this morning.

EASTERN WOOL BLANKETS!

Ten Quarter Size	69c.,	98c.	and	1.35	Pair
				Heretofore 98c., 1.35 and 1.98 Pair
Eleven Quarter Size	1.15,	1.59	and	2.20	Pair
				Heretofore 1.35 to 2.98 Pair
Twelve Quarter Size		3.25	and	3.75	Pair
				Heretofore 3.98 and 4.98 Pair

CALIFORNIA BLANKETS!

Ten Quarter Size	2.40,	2.75	and	3.25	Pair
				Formerly 2.98 to 4.50 Pair
Eleven Quarter Size	2.75,	2.95	and	3.98	Pair
				Formerly 3.75 to 5.25 Pair
Twelve Quarter Size	3.75,	4.75	and	5.50	Pair
				Formerly 4.75 to 7.00 Pair

Special Clearing Sale of

Crochet and Marseilles Bed Spreads!

Two thousand Crochet Bed Spreads, all new patterns, formerly 75c., 98c., 1.25 and 1.35 each. Reduced for this sale to

55c., 70c., 85c. and 95c. Each

MARSEILLES SPREADS Full size, reduced from 1.48 and 1.75 to

1.10 and 1.35 Each

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

What $15 will do:

It will buy many of our $30, $28, $25 and $22 Overcoats—some full silk lined—all this season's cut—long and full—broad shoulders.

$15.00 will also buy a choice of some $28, $25, $22 and $20 Fancy Cheviot and Worsted Suits—the new cut—wide shoulders and body shaped.

Every garment we sell bears our stamp of excellence.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.

Upholstery Dep't.

Fourth Floor.

LACE CURTAINS.

About 400 pairs,—Swiss Renaissance, Point de Paris, Duchess, and Irish Point lace Curtains,—new designs, full size.

4.00, 5.00 and 6.75 per pair.

Arabian lace Curtains,—novel patterns. All lace borders, or panel insertions.

5.75, 7.50 and 8.50 per pair.

PORTIERES.

Brocaded Armure, and Venetian Velours,—finished with heavy rope cord,—handsome Renaissance designs,—3 and 3¼ yards long. Colors:—Crimson, turquoise, myrtle, reseda, rose and red.

4.50 and 8.50 per pair.

Couch Covers,—Bagdad and Kelim patterns,—60 inches wide,

3.00, 5.00 and 6.00 each.

James McCreery & Co.,

Twenty-third Street.

Amusements.

TOSELLI

The Eminent Young Italian Pianist.

CARNEGIE HALL,

TUESDAY AFTERNOON, JAN. 15.

Tickets Now on Sale at Schuberth's.

The Knabe Used.

Symphony Concert

FOR YOUNG PEOPLE

FRANK DAMROSCH.....Director

SATURDAY AFT., Jan. 12, Carnegie Hall. Prelude to "Hansel and Gretel," Humperdinck; "Siegfried" Idyl, Wagner; "Nutcracker" Suite, Tschaikowsky.

MISS KATHERINE HEYMEN, SOLOIST.

Tickets at office of Society, 238 Fifth Ave. (36th Street.)

PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York

EMIL PAUR.....CONDUCTOR

Fri., Jan. 11, at 2 P.M. Sat., Jan. 12, at 8:15 P.M. Soloist....MISS MAUD POWELL.... Violin

Programme: "A Faust Overture," Wagner; Concerto for Violin, D major, Beethoven; Symphony, No. 5, F major, Brahms; Fantasie for Violin, Rimsky-Korsakoff; Overture, "Le Carnaval Romain," Berlioz.

Tickets at Chickering Hall, Tiffany's, and Hallman's

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901

Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.

To-night, at 8—LOHENGRIN, (in German.) Mmes. Nordica and Schumann-Heink; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, Muhlmann, and Bispham. Conductor, Damrosch.

Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 11, at 8—LA BOHEME, (in Italian.) Mmes. Melba and Fritzi Scheff; MM. Saleza, Gilibert, Journet, and Campanari. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Sat. Aft., Jan. 12, at 2—FAUST, (in French.) Mmes. Melba, Bauermeister, Bridewell; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, and Scotti. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 12, at 8—At Popular prices, TANNHAUSER, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Olitzka, and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 13, at 8:15—Grand Popular Concert. Soloists: Mmes. Susan Strong, Suzanne Adams, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Blass, and Scotti. Entire Opera Orchestra. Conductor, Mr. Flon.

Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 14, at 8—MEFISTOFELE, (in Italian.) Mmes. Marguerite Macintyre and Homer; MM. Cremonini and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 16, at 8—Revival of LE CID, (in French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszké, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 18, at 7:45—DIE WALKURE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

WEBER PIANOS USED.

Amusements.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.

Thursday Aftern., January 10, at 3.

MR. and MRS. GEORG

HENSCHEL

VOCAL RECITAL.

Res. Seats, $1 & $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. Management.....Henry Wolfsohn

The Piano used is the Chickering.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Rain; brisk east winds, becoming southwesterly.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,915. NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1901.—FOURTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere, TWO CENTS.

POLICE BILL INTRODUCED

Provides a Single Commissioner with Two Deputies.

Office of Chief of Police Abolished —Police to Have No Control Over Elections—Board of Elections Supersedes Bureau.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The bill abolishing the bi-partisan Police Board in New York City and providing for the appointment of a single Commissioner by the Mayor, subject to removal, without charges, by either the Mayor or the Governor, was introduced in both branches of the Legislature to-night. The measure was introduced by Senator Stranahan in the Senate and by Mr. Kelsey in the House.

Senator Trainor of New York was seen and asked what would be the attitude of the Tammany members on the New York Police bill. He said: "We have not decided upon a programme of action as yet. We will study the bill carefully before reaching a determination as to our attitude."

The text of the bill is as follows:

Section 1. The terms of office of the Police Commissioners of the City of New York, heretofore constituting the Police Board, shall cease and determine within ten days after the passage of this act, and the powers, duties, and functions now by law exercised by and imposed on them are hereby granted to and concentrated upon and vested in a single Police Commissioner, who shall be appointed by the Mayor of said city within ten days after the passage of this act from among the citizens of the United States and residents of the City of New York. The salary of said Commissioner shall be $7,500 a year.

Sec. 2. The said Commissioner shall, unless sooner removed, hold office for the term of five years, and until his successor shall be appointed and has qualified. During his term of office the said Commissioner may, whenever, in the judgment of the Mayor of said city or of the Governor, the public interests shall so require, be removed from office by either. The successors in office of the said Commissioner shall also be appointed by the Mayor of the city, and shall be removed by either the Mayor or the Governor whenever the public interests so require.

Sec. 3. The office of Chief of Police in the City of New York is hereby abolished, and the powers, duties, and functions now by law exercised by and imposed on said Chief of Police are hereby granted to, concentrated upon, and vested in the said Police Commissioner.

Sec. 4. The said Commissioner shall have the power to appoint from the citizens of the United States and residents of said city, and at pleasure remove, two deputies, to be known as First Deputy Commissioner and Second Deputy Commissioner. The First Deputy Commissioner shall, during the absence or disability of the Commissioner, possess all the powers and perform all the duties of the Commissioner, except the power of making appointments and transfers. In the absence or disability of both the Commissioner and the First Deputy Commissioner, the Second Deputy Commissioner shall possess all the powers and perform all the duties of the Commissioner, except the power of making appointments and transfers. The salary of each of such Deputy Commissioners shall be $4,000 a year.

Sec. 5. The said Commissioner shall, from and after the passage of this act, have no cognizance of or control over the General Bureau of Elections and its branches, and the said Bureau of Elections and its branches shall no longer be a part of the said Police Department, and are hereby abolished.

Sec. 6. The fiscal officer of the Police Department shall be the Controller of the City of New York, who is hereby vested with all the powers and functions heretofore existing in the Treasurer of the Police Board.

Sec. 7. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to repeal any statute of the State or ordinance of the City of New York not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and the same shall remain in full force and effect when not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, and shall be construed and enforced in harmony with the provisions of this act. All acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

TO ABOLISH ELECTION BUREAU.

The text of the bill abolishing the present Bureau of Elections is as follows:

Section 1. The bureau in the Police Department of the City of New York known and designated as the General Bureau of Elections, and the branches of said General Bureau in the Boroughs of the Bronx, Brooklyn, Richmond, and Queens, together with the office of Superintendent of Elections of the City of New York, and the offices of the chiefs of the branch Bureaus of Elections in said respective boroughs are hereby abolished, and all of the rights, powers, authority, duties, and obligations immediately heretofore by law vested in and imposed upon the said bureau, branch offices, Superintendent, and chiefs of branch offices, together with every right, power, authority, duty, and obligation immediately heretofore by law vested in and imposed upon the Police Department of the City of New York with respect to general, special, or primary elections, shall forthwith by force of and as an effect of this act be transferred to and continue in the Board of Elections of the City of New York hereby created.

Section 2. There shall be a Board of Elections of the City of New York, to consist of four members, who shall be appointed by the Mayor, and to be known as Commissioners of Elections, each of whom, at the time of his appointment, shall be a resident and voter of the City of New York, and not more than two of whom shall, when either of them is appointed, belong to the same political party, or be of the same political opinion in State or National politics. The salary of each of said Commissioners of Elections shall be $3,000 a year.

Section 3. All books, documents, papers, records, and election appliances or appurtenances held or used by or under the control of the Superintendent of Elections and chiefs of the branch Bureaus of Elections, or under the control of the Police Board of the City of New York, shall be transferred to the care, custody, and control of the Board of Elections created by this act.

Section 4. So far as practicable and necessary, the Superintendent, clerks, and other employes attached to and in the service of the Bureau of Elections of the City of New York and of the branches of said bureau in the respective boroughs on April 1, 1901, shall be continued in the service and employment of the said Board of Elections, with the same salaries, and, so far as practicable, the same duties.

Section 5. The affairs of said Board of Elections under and subject to such rules, regulations, and orders as may, from time to time, be made by said board, not inconsistent with the provisions of this election law or of this act, shall be managed, conducted, and carried on by a person chosen and appointed by said board, who shall be known as the Superintendent of Elections of the City of New York; and such other officers, clerks, assistants, and employes as may be selected or appointed as hereinafter provided.

Section 6. The said Superintendent of Elections shall receive a salary of $6,000 a year, and shall be removed at any time by the Board of Elections.

Section 7. All sums necessary to pay the expenses of said Board of Elections and to meet and defray the charges and expenses of all elections in the City of New York, or in any territory included therein, shall, within the appropriation made therefor, be a charge against the said city and shall upon proper certificates and vouchers be paid in the same manner as by law is provided for the other expenses and charges against the said city. Said charges and expenses shall be included in the annual budget of said city each year and in the yearly taxes levied upon the estates, real and personal, in the City of New York.

Section 8. The Superintendent of Elections, under direction of the Board of Elections, is hereby authorized and directed not less than two years after each election to sell or destroy all registers of electors, statements of canvass, and tally sheets; provided that two copies of the register of electors for each election district to be selected by the Superintendent of Elections shall be excepted and preserved from such sale or destruction.

SIMILAR BILL FOR BUFFALO.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—A bill similar to the New York Police bill was introduced to-night for Buffalo. The Buffalo measure was a surprise. As the bill for New York City legislates Chief Devery out of office, so the Buffalo measure will legislatively decapitate Superintendent Bull, who, like Devery, is a Democrat.

There has been no special agitation for the abolishment of the bi-partisan board in Buffalo, and the Erie members were very angry to-night over the bill, declaring it to be a piece of partisan politics.

Senator Ramsperger said the Erie members would oppose the proposed police legislation for Buffalo to the bitter end.

TO AMEND THE ELECTION LAW.

The City Club Proposes to Substitute Improved Form of Ballot.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—A bill to amend the election law was introduced to-night by Senator Elsberg in the Senate and by Mr. Cooley in the Assembly. It was prepared by the City Club of New York upon the same general lines as the bills drafted by the club in former years. Its purpose is to substitute for the present party-column blanket ballot the so-called Massachusetts ballot, in which the names of candidates for each office are arranged alphabetically in a separate group under the title of the office. The voter marks the name of each candidate for whom he desires to vote.

A feature of the bill is the substitution for the present cross mark made with a pencil of a black mark made with a stamp so as to obliterate a small white circle in a black square. Another feature is the provisions for canvassing the general ballot in sections, so that after a ballot has been voted the parts containing the names of candidates for the various offices can never be identified as belonging to one another. This makes it impossible to mark the ballot for identification as a whole, and greatly simplifies the canvass. The Inspectors have before them at one time only a small piece of paper containing the names of candidates for one office, and they must dispose of this before separating and looking at the part of the ballot with names of candidates for another office.

NO GREATER JERSEY CITY.

Project Killed by the Commission—North Hudson Towns May Consolidate with Hoboken.

"Greater Jersey City" yesterday received its death blow officially by a vote of 15 to 4. That the proposition would be defeated had been known for some time, because all the Commissioners outside of Jersey City announced, several weeks ago, that they were unalterably opposed to the proposed consolidation.

When the commission assembled in the City Hall at Jersey City yesterday Vice President Rudolph F. Rabe announced that Henry Brautigam, President of the commission, had died since the last meeting. Mr. Rabe was elected President to fill the vacancy, and Joseph A. Dear, Sr., was chosen Vice President.

A general discussion of the consolidation of the cities and towns of East and North Hudson followed. Those who favored it were Samuel D. Dickenson, Joseph A. Dear, Sr., William D. Edwards, and John J. Nevin, who, with Mr. Brautigam, represented Jersey City. Augustus A. Rich and other representatives of North Hudson towns made brief speeches opposing the project. The vote was then taken, and resulted as stated. Five members of the commission were absent.

Herman A. Walker, who at a previous meeting had offered a resolution looking to the consolidation of the towns of North Hudson with Hoboken, called for a vote on that subject. His resolution was unanimously adopted. It provides for the appointment of a committee to prepare a bill for the consolidation of the towns indicated, the bill not to become operative until it has been accepted by a majority vote of the people of each town interested. The bill is also to provide that the new city to be created shall assume the debts of each municipality included in the consolidation.

President Rabe named this committee: Herman A. Walker, Guttenberg; George Bruce, North Bergen; Augustus A. Rich, West Hoboken; William H. Schmidt, West New York; Edward A. Duer, Weehawken, and William D. Edwards, Jersey City, at large. The bill prepared by the committee must be submitted to the commission before being sent to the Legislature. The commission will meet on Jan. 25 to receive the committee's report.

PRIVATE SAVES HIS CAPTAIN.

Held Off Filipinos Until Help Came to His Wounded Superior.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Capt. Lucius E. Polk of Company D, Forty-third United States Volunteers, reached Washington to-day. He is a brother of Representative Polk of Pennsylvania, and hails from Tennessee. While in the Philippines Capt. Polk had a remarkable experience. A portion of his regiment was besieging a strongly defended church in the Island of Leyte. The Filipinos commanded all approaches. Capt. Polk, with fifteen men, attempted to find an entrance at one of the sides. He found a covered way leading to an open door, but the Filipinos were heavily massed here and were sweeping the approach with volleys. Polk charged, but the fire was so hot that his men fell back, with the exception of a private named MacLay.

Ignorant that he was alone, Polk broke into the doorway and found himself surrounded by Filipinos. He was hemmed in and unable to escape. He killed two of the Filipinos and wounded another and then received a slash on the right arm which disabled him. Another Filipino slashed his leg with a bolo, and as he fell to the earth he received a third wound in the hip, all this took place in a moment, before MacLay could reach him. He was lying on the ground, with a dozen bolos and daggers about to descend, when MacLay broke into the circle and dashed the Filipinos aside. Then, taking his stand over the wounded officer, MacLay held the Filipinos at bay until the rest of the detachment rallied and came to the rescue. For this act of heroism MacLay was made a Sergeant.

Illinois Democrats Organize.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Ex-Mayor John P. Hopkins of Chicago, who was recognized as one of the leaders of the gold wing of the Democratic Party in Illinois in the campaign of 1896, was to-day elected Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee at the biennial meeting of that body, called for the purpose of organizing for the campaign of 1902. A resolution was passed with but three dissenting votes, recognizing the Kansas City platform as representing the principles of the Democratic Party until the next National Convention.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks Irregular. Financial Affairs.—Pages 10 and 11.
Wheat, 82¾; corn, No. 2 mixed, 47¾; oats, No. 2 mixed, 30; cotton, middling, 10¾; iron, Northern No. 1 foundry, $16; butter, Western creamery, 24c. Commercial World.—Page 9.
Amusements.—Page 6.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 8.
Business Troubles.—Page 8.
Count Calendars.—Page 12.
Legal Notes.—Page 14.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 5.
New Corporations.—Page 12.
Railroads.—Page 12.
Real Estate.—Page 12.
Society.—Page 7.
United Service.—Page 5.
Weather Report.—Page 8.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 8.

MARSHAL IN BOX OFFICE

Klune Takes Possession and Sells Tickets at Koster & Bial's.

Levies on Receipts to Satisfy a Judgment Obtained by Jennie Joyce.

A comedy of complications, in which court, theatre, lawyers, and policemen figured was brought about yesterday and last night as the result of a judgment for unpaid salary secured by Jennie Joyce, the divorced wife of Phil Daly, Jr., against Alexander Hashim of Hashim Brothers, theatrical managers. The day's proceedings began in the Tenth District Municipal Court in the morning, and continued last night, with City Marshal Klune in charge of Koster & Bial's box office looking after the financial interests of Miss Joyce. Miss Joyce's complaint recited that she was engaged for three weeks by the Hashim Brothers—one week in Philadelphia and two in New York—for which she was to receive $200 a week. Part of the money was paid, and then the Hashims, the plaintiff averred, refused to fulfill their part of the contract.

Complication No. 1 happened in court when the judgment was decreed against Alexander Hashim, the Philadelphia manager of Hashim Brothers. When the execution was issued it was made out against Albert Hashim, the Washington manager. When the City Marshal reached the theatre he served the execution upon N. Hashim, manager of the New York house, and thereby fell into more trouble than he was looking for, although he managed to oust the New York Hashim temporarily from the box office. Early in the game Lawyer Emanuel Friend, acting for Lole Fuller, took a hand, which served to make the proceedings all the more interesting.

When Marshal Klune started out early in the afternoon he prepared for expected trouble. A call at the West Thirtieth Street Station brought him an escort of two policemen. At 3:30, well reinforced, he appeared at the theatre.

"I want you to open that box office," said he to the doorkeeper, at the same time thrusting the execution in his face.

The doorkeeper refused, and without further ceremony Klune fell against the box office door and precipitated himself inward. The door went in with a bang, and of a sudden the Marshal became temporary treasurer and general receiver of funds, despite the loud protests of Manager Hashim, Treasurer Hauser, and Business Manager Firman. Press Agent Corbett also took a hand, and the war of words became vigorous and threatening. Only the presence of the policemen prevented possible hostilities.

"Your action is illegal," Hashim said to the Marshal, "and I'll have redress for this."

"Go ahead," answered Klune. "I'm in possession now, See?"

While Klune was busy selling tickets for late comers, there were outbursts of anger behind the scenes. The news of the row had reached the ears of Lole Fuller. The dancer has a contract with the management to receive 20 per cent. of the receipts of each performance. Before Miss Fuller welled up in terrifying proportions visions of the vanishing cash box.

"It's awful! It's awful! It's awful!" cried the dancer in tearful, rising circumflex, to anybody in hearing. "What shall I do? Ah, the telephone! Mr. Friend."

Miss Fuller flew to the 'phone and excitedly told her lawyer all about it.

"What shall I do?" she asked after a hurried recital of the sudden woe.

"Do?" queried the lawyer. "Do nothing until I come. I'll see that you get your money."

Then came the second complication for the Marshal. A few minutes later Mr. Friend strode up to the box office.

"Miss Fuller's got to have that money," said he to Klune. "If she doesn't get it the performance stops and the audience will pile out here and demand their money. Then where'll you be? There will be no performance and you'll be worse off. Now hand over."

Klune thought it out and concluded he'd better give up.

"That's right," said the lawyer, soothingly, as the cash was placed in his hands. Back behind the scenes Miss Fuller was having a nervous spell.

"I've got it!" shouted Friend, coming through the stage door. Miss Fuller breathed sighs of relief and said she felt better. In the meantime Press Agent Corbett had not been idle. He had secured possession of a quantity of tickets and distributed them among the ticket speculators with undue liberality. During the evening Klune continued to sell tickets from the box office, but, as a result of the ticket speculators' activity, the box office receipts fell off considerably. But then Klune said he was satisfied, and even met with apparent indifference the angry statement from Manager N. Hashim that he would go into the City Court this morning and bring suit against him, not only for trespass, but also to get his money back.

"Klune," said he, "will find that he has made a bad mistake. He got the wrong Hashim, but the right money."

AN ERRING WIFE'S RETURN.

Mrs. Terwilliger Wants Her Four Children, and, Incidentally, a Slice of Her Husband's Estate.

Special to The New York Times.

STONE RIDGE, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Mrs. Adrienne L. Terwilliger, whose elopement last April with Silas Wells, a well-to-do resident of this place, caused much comment in the neighborhood, has returned. She left a husband and four little children to flee with the man she thought she loved. She returns to find herself divorced, her husband dead, and her children in the custody of a stranger who has been appointed their guardian.

The main object of the woman's return is, as might have been expected, to obtain possession of her four children, but she also desires to secure the real estate which she owns in Stone Ridge. The children are under the guardianship of Miss Pine, a neighbor, who will probably insist on her rights as guardian.

It has developed that some time prior to her disappearance Mrs. Terwilliger had executed a deed conveying the real estate which she owned to her children, only reserving to herself and husband a life interest. She added a clause to the deed, however, which reserved to her the right to abrogate the whole transfer and to take back the entire property in the event of her husband dying, and, if she elected, to take the children to live with her in Switzerland, the land of her birth.

Lawyers with whom she has consulted hold that while she can take the title to the property if she can take her children to Switzerland, it will be extremely difficult for her to get them there, as they are now the legal wards of Miss Pine.

Meanwhile an attempt is being made in the Surrogate's Court of Ulster County to settle the estate of James Terwilliger, the former husband. In this proceeding the lawyers for the divorced wife have asked that the transfer of the husband's $10,000 life insurance policy to Miss Pine, the children's guardian, be set aside.

Mrs. Terwilliger, in her flight from her husband and children, only went as far as New York with Wells. There her short romance ended. Wells, she says, procured a situation with a steamship company in that city, and she continued on alone to Switzerland, where she has lived during the past nine months. Her love for her children brought her back at last.

Earthquake Shock Near Philadelphia.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Residents of Mansyung, Roxborough, and Wissahickon felt a distinct earthquake shock at 9:12 this morning. The vibrations lasted more than 15 seconds, and traveled from northeast to southwest. James T. Pond'a house, on Walnut Lanc, and several other residences, had window panes broken by the shock, which was also felt in the Falls of Schuylkill, where every building was shaken, although no serious damage was reported. Weather Forecaster Dey says that he has received no report of the shock, and that it was in all probability only an earth tremor.

CARRY YELLOW FEVER GERMS.

Dr. Reed, at Havana, Says Experiments Prove that Mosquitoes Alone Spread the Disease.

HAVANA, Jan. 9.—The American Commission, under the superintendence of Dr. Reed, which has been making experiments at Quemados as to the propagation of the yellow fever germs by the mosquito, has obtained extremely satisfactory results.

Dr. Reed says the experiments show, beyond a doubt, that there is no contagion from an infected person or from infected clothing, but that the mosquitoes alone are responsible for the spread of the disease. In the course of the commission's investigations six non-immune persons were infected direct by the bite of mosquitoes which had previously bitten yellow fever patients, and five of these developed yellow fever.

The last experiment made proved conclusively, Dr. Reed contends, the theory of propagation by mosquitoes. A special building was constructed of disinfected material, and one of the rooms was divided into two sections by a wire mosquito screen. In one section were placed disinfected bedding and clothing, and in the other bedding and clothing from the yellow fever hospital, which had not been disinfected. Two non-immunes occupied the two sections. In the former were put several infected mosquitoes. The patient remained in his room only long enough to be bitten, and in four days a pronounced case of yellow fever developed. The patient is now convalescent.

The other subject slept in the infected bedding for many nights, and has not contracted the fever.

Both patients have been sleeping for twenty nights in garments worn by yellow fever victims and in bedding from the yellow fever hospital. Dr. Reed says they are growing fat, and that in no instance in the course of the commission's investigations has a case of yellow fever developed from exposure to infected bedding or clothing.

MISS PECK MARRIED IN BED.

She Has the Grip, but Her Wedding Was Not Postponed.

Special to The New York Times.

NORWALK, Conn., Jan. 9.—The wedding of Miss Gertrude Peck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Peck, and John Frederic Burrow, Jr., of New York City, took place at the bride's home this afternoon. The Rev. J. Morris Coerr, rector of St. Paul's Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride is ill with the grip and unable to leave her bed. The guests gathered in the bedchamber, and the bride was propped up by pillows until the ceremony was over.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrow will go on a wedding trip as soon as Mrs. Burrow recovers. They will reside in New York City.

FATE OF THE SUBSIDY BILL.

A Vote on the Measure at This Session Is Beginning to be a Matter of Doubt.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—There are daily manifestations of concern by Senator Hanna, the only conspicuous worker for the enactment of the Shipping Subsidy bill, and the character of the announcements made with the approval of the promoters of the measure is calculated to increase rather than diminish fear for its passage. Every mail from the West brings newspaper criticism of the unfairness and inadequacy of the provisions of the Shipping bill to accomplish the purpose set forth in its title, and it is common talk among Western members of the Senate and the House that the bill must be very thoroughly explained before it can be made satisfactory to the people of the interior.

Not until the Army bill has been disposed of, which may not be until the end of this week, will the Subsidy bill be taken up. That programme was expected to be carried out, and there never was any reason to assume that the bill had been permanently shelved. But the distress upon that announcement was intense among the promoters of the bill.

That amendments must be made, in addition to those suggested by the Commerce Committee, is admitted in the announcement, with authority, that "a spirit of compromise is to be observed," with assurances that there is no reason to question the loyalty of those Republicans who have said they were in favor of the bill.

Mr. Hanna's friends say that there is no filibustering to be expected from anybody but the Populist Senators. That may be so, but there will be opposition from Democrats and from Republicans, who may consume time without any deliberate purpose of filibustering. Senator Mason (Rep., Ill.) is spoken of as one of the earnest supporters of the bill. Yet the strongest arguments against the measure in the West have been furnished by a Chicago newspaper that exerts a wider influence possibly than both the Illinois Senators together.

Senator Allison, (Rep., Iowa,) who has been alluded to as not convinced of the soundness of the subsidy bill, may be charged with a desire to filibuster when he insists upon taking up appropriation bills after the shipping bill regains its place. But time flies with the Senate, the appropriations are behind, and when they are taken up, as they may be at any time, the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee chooses to ask to have them considered, the opponents of the shipping bill can consume time without being chargeable with filibustering.

It is beginning to be doubted whether the actual opposition to the subsidy bill will be revealed at this session by a direct vote on the measure.

BOY VETERAN OF THREE WARS.

Capt. Butler Fought in Cuba, the Philippines, and China.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—A nineteen-year-old boy who has served in three wars and won promotion for gallantry arrived in Washington to-day. He is Capt. Smedley D. Butler, a son of Representative Butler of Pennsylvania, who served in the Spanish-American and Philippine wars and in the march to Peking. At the battle of Tien-Tsin Butler, who was then a Lieutenant, was shot while carrying a wounded private to a place of safety under the enemy's fire. The private died beside Butler when they were brought to a place of safety.

Though his wound had not yet healed, Butler went to Peking, participating in all the fighting. He was again wounded at the taking of Peking, but refused to go to the rear, and was chosen to carry a message to Minister Conger. When he reached the Minister, the latter asked him what his name was. On hearing it, Mr. Conger exclaimed, "My boy, when I was in Congress your grandfather was my friend and had the next desk to mine."

After the battle Butler gave in and went to the hospital, where he had a severe siege of typhoid fever. He was again sent to the hospital in the Philippines, and was on the sick list of the transport Grant when she sailed for San Francisco. He recovered on the way, and is now in fair health.

MR. McKINLEY'S CONDITION.

The President Remains in Bed, but Is No Worse.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—It is stated at the White House that the President is no worse than yesterday, and that everything is progressing satisfactorily. He is strictly following the instructions of his physician as to the necessity for his remaining in bed and not attending to any public business. No extra nurses are employed, the servants of the house readily doing everything that is required.

Burnett's Vanilla is pure. Don't let your grocer work off a cheap and dangerous substitute. Insist on having Burnett's.—Adv.

SWINDLED BY BOGUS NOTES

Two Men Arrested for Selling Fraudulent Papers.

Col. Moffatt, Representative of a Western Oil Company, Advanced Money on the Forged Signature of Edward Rafter.

What Capt. Titus of the Detective Bureau calls a "triumph of continuity in detective work" was achieved yesterday by Detective Sergeants Murphy, Stripp, and Gain when they arrested James Delasell and Charles H. Gardner on a charge of swindling. Delasell, who is also charged with forgery and perjury, is fifty-seven years old, and says he is a broker, though the police say he is a hatter. Charles H. Gardner is a note broker, with offices at 35 Nassau Street, who lives at 45 West Sixteenth Street.

The police believe that in making these arrests they have secured the principals of a large and well-organized gang, which has been flooding the country with bogus notes. The first clue was secured when Delasell, on Dec. 24 last, was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Martha Weeks of 205 West Twenty-second Street, who charged him with passing a worthless check on her. Delasell made restitution, and the complaint was withdrawn, but in the mean time the police had made copies of a number of papers and cipher notes found on him. After much work the detectives found that Delasell was on friendly terms with Col. Thomas S. Moffatt of Chicago, who is in this city in the interest of a Western oil company, trying to secure capital with which to develop its oil lands. Moffatt told the detectives that he had met Gardner through a relative of Russell A. Alger, ex-Secretary of War, who knew Gardner only as a reputable note broker.

Moffatt explained to Gardner what he wanted and said that if he could get him some good note negotiator he (Moffatt) would indodse them and secure the capital he needed. Gardner, it is alleged, consulted the commercial ratings and then said that a man named Edward Rafter was rated very high and he (Gardner) could get some of his notes for the Colonel. Moffatt, after an examination of the rating, accepted three notes drawn by Rafter, one for $5,000 and two for $2,500. Gardner asked him to float the notes in Boston as Rafter, who was rated as owner of a number of grocery stores, did not like to have his credit in New York injured. The notes were accordingly sold in Boston, but they afterward turned out worthless, and Moffatt had to refund the money.

A few weeks later Moffatt was approached by one Thomas S. Smith, who had occupied offices with Gardner, and he offered the Westerner notes aggregating $50,000, signed, according to Smith, by "the original Rafter," and drawn on the Mutual Bank of this city. It was learned later that Rafter had no account at that bank. In the meantime, however, Moffatt had prepared affidavits setting forth that the signer of the notes "Rafter" was the original Rafter rated in the commercial agencies, and was the owner of several grocery stores in New York and Brooklyn.

Delasell, it is alleged, posed as Rafter and swore to the affidavits. Thereupon Moffatt took the notes, but soon found them to be worthless, and the arrest of the men followed. The police declare that both men have been arrested before, and that Delasell has served time in Auburn Prison.

Col. Moffatt said last night that the story as given out by the police was correct.

Edward Rafter, who lives at 43 West Eighty-eighth Street, told the police that he knew nothing whatever of the transactions, and promised to be in court when the prisoners are arraigned this morning.

Mrs. Gardner, the wife of one of the prisoners, called on Col. Moffatt last night at his residence and pleaded for the release of her husband. The Colonel said later that he was sorry for the woman, but would let the law take its course.

AN AMERICAN ST. HELENA.

Gen. MacArthur's Order to Deport Filipino Leaders to Guam Will Be Followed by Similar Ones.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Island of Guam is to be the American St. Helena. The action of Gen. MacArthur, recently reported from Manila, in exiling twenty-six Filipino Generals and civilians to Guam is simply the first step. If it should prove a success, other leading Filipinos will be banished also. It is all a part of the vigorous and severe campaign which it was announced last November that Gen. MacArthur was about to wage.

Some time ago Gen. MacArthur proposed this plan of dealing with the Filipino leaders to the Secretary of War, who gave it his approval. Gen. MacArthur asked for a blanket authorization to deport all prominent prisoners whom he should select. The authorization was given, and the twenty-six now selected are the first batch. It is declared at the War Department that the men were picked out by Gen. MacArthur and not by the department, and that it is not known who they are, except that, according to the newspapers, Ricarte, Mabini, and Pio Del Pilar are among them.

Mabini is the famous lawyer whom Senator Hoar eulogized in his remarkable speech in the Senate last May as a great statesman, whose state papers were worthy to rank among those famous in history. Del Pilar is a brother of Gen. Gregorio Del Pilar, the young officer who was killed while holding Tilad Pass with a little force of sixty men to cover the escape of Aguinaldo a year ago.

There is no surprise that Mabini is one of the first to go. It is an open secret that the disposition of Mabini is one of the most annoying problems that has perplexed the military administration of the Philippines. He has been liberated several times, but would never give his promise not to reengage in seditious proceedings, and was always kept under surveillance and promptly rearrested.

Gen. Otis has officially reported a conversation which he had with Mabini when he had the lawyer brought before him and endeavored to get from him a promise that he would employ his talents on the american side. Mabini outargued the General, and was sent back to jail. His influence over his people is so great that both Otis and MacArthur have desired to avoid extreme measures which might still further alienate the Tagals. The same difficulty has been found in treating him that would be the case if Aguinaldo were a prisoner. A way has now been found, and if Aguinaldo is now captured there is no doubt what will be done with him.

BIRMINGHAM REALTY COMPANY

A. L. Fullenwider Succeeds William Halls, Jr., as President.

Special to The New York Times.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 9.—At the annual meeting of the Birmingham Realty Company, successors of the Flyton Company, held in Birmingham to-day, A. L. Fullenwider was elected President in the place of William Halls, Jr., Vice President of the Hanover National Bank, New York. This action was taken at Mr. Halls's request.

Mr. Halls was elected Vice President, J. K. McDonald, Treasurer and General Manager, and Frank Norris, Secretary.

Alexander T. London, Mr. Fullenwider, and F. M. Billings of Montgomery were elected an Executive Committee.

In his annual report the President stated that receipts from sales of real estate during the past year amounted to $113,000, and receipts from rent and other resources to $33,000 more.

The company's policy of improving avenues so as to bring a large amount of property on the market advantageously was approved.

Outside of one annoying lawsuit, all the company's affairs are in good condition.

ALLEGED HAZING AT COLBY.

William Phillips at the Point of Death —Says His Condition Is Due to Blows in the Back.

Special to The New York Times.

BANGOR, Me., Jan. 9.—William Phillips, a student at Colby University, lies at the point of death at his home in Bangor from the effect, as he says, of blows received during the course of hazing by sophomores last Autumn.

Phillips entered Colby University in September, and it was during his initiation to the fraternity of Delta Upsilon that he received the blows complained of. He says that he was blindfolded and that some of the sophomores came up behind and struck him fearful blows in the small of the back, remarking that it was "the goat." Phillips says the blows almost killed him at the time and that he lost his temper and went in for a free fight. Afterward, however, the initiation was completed. He was lame for weeks afterward, and when he came home at Thanksgiving it was observed by his parents that he was not well and physicians were called. He has steadily failed since coming home and now suffers nightly from convulsions.

The doctors, while not stating positively that Phillips's condition is due to the hazing, declare that it is a suspicious case that should be investigated.

Phillips has always been regarded as a giant in strength, and has never before been sick. His parents will have an investigation made.

NO CENSURE IN BOOZ REPORT.

Army Board Does Not Find Cadet's Death Was Due to Hazing.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The report in the Booz case has not yet been made public. It is stated at the War Department, however, that the report contains no censure of any one, and it is intimated that it does not find that Booz's death was due to hazing.

Secretary Root to-day spoke in favorable terms of Col. Mills's work in suppressing hazing at West Point, saying that he had inflicted severe punishment on men found guilty of it, and had done much toward the lessening of the practice at the academy.

The Congressional Investigation.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 9.—The Congressional Investigating Committee, which is sifting the charges of hazing at the West Point Military Academy, arrived here this afternoon. The only witness examined to-day was Col. A. L. Mills, Superintendent of the Academy. He gave a general idea of the workings of the Academy and the rules and regulations governing it.

NO AID REACHES THE RUSSIE.

Desperate Attempts to Save Those on Board Have at Present Failed, but the Gale Is Subsiding.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 9.—Dispatches from the village of Faraman, near which the French mail steamer Russie, from Oran, Algeria, stranded on Monday in a violent storm, say that all efforts to reach the steamer have failed.

The forecastle and part of the forward deckhouse are all of the vessel remaining above water. The Russie lies partly on her beam ends, with her deck facing seaward. The sinking of the stern in the sand proves to have been a lucky thing for those on board, as the bow of the boat is tilted high above all save the biggest waves, and affords a refuge. Otherwise it is believed that all would have long since perished.

A signal message was received from the Russie at 3 o'clock this afternoon, saying that up to that time no one of the 102 persons on board had perished. It added:

"The passengers are kept below, but all the crew are at their posts; and the Captain and officers are lashed to the bridge. The seamen tried to construct several rafts, but, as they neared completion they were washed away."

Every possible expedient has been tried from the shore to save the sufferers. The coastguardsmen and fishermen manned lifeboats, and made several ineffectual attempts to reach the steamer. One lifeboat got half way, when it was capsized. Its crew swam ashore and were dragged out of the water by the people ashore, who formed a line with hands joined and waded breast deep into the water in order to seize them.

Tugs approached as near as possible to the wreck, and then flew kites to which life-lines were attached, in the direction of the Russie, but they failed to reach the stranded vessel. Floats were also sent out from the beach with lines, but in no case did they succeed in reaching the steamer. Rockets were fired fruitlessly until the ammunition of the rocket mortars, which was very meagre, ran out.

The tugs were themselves menaced with disaster, and obliged to relinquish the attempts.

Later, during a lull, the men on shore succeeded in getting a life-line to the Russie, but it snapped as it was being pulled on board.

The most hopeful news yet received is to the effect that the gale is subsiding.

The cruiser Galilee and a tug with rocket apparatus left Toulon Arsenal this evening to attempt to rescue the passengers, who are chiefly colonial functionaries and soldiers.

Harrowing scenes were witnessed at the offices of the steamship company here, outside of which were gathered the weeping wives and children and other relatives of the crew, who mostly hail from Marseilles. A message posted at 3:30 P. M. that up to that time all on board the Russie were alive evoked a pathetic explosion of joy.

The Russie is owned by the Société Générale de Transports Maritimes à Vapeur of Marseilles, and not by the Compagnie Générale Transatlantique. This statement is made in view of the fact that inquiries have been made at the offices of the Compagnie Générale Transatlantique in New York. The Russie is of 623 tons net register and was built in 1897 at Sunderland. She is 281 feet 5 inches long, her beam is 37 feet, and she is 25 feet 7 inches deep.

PENNSYLVANIA GETS NEW LINE.

Secures Midland's Right of Way in Bedford and Blair Counties.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The Pennsylvania Railroad has secured the old Midland Road's right of way in Bedford and Blair Counties, and it is asserted in railroad circles that the company intends to extend its lines to Central City, near the Somerset and Bedford line, at once, thus opening up another route over the mountains.

The Pennsylvania Midland Road was laid out between Cessna Station, Bedford County, and Cook's Mills, Blair County, and about ten miles of the road was completed when financial difficulties brought operations to a halt. Now large numbers of men and teams have been sent into the territory and work is to be pushed to completion at once.

The new route will open up large coal and lumber fields in Somerset County. Within a few miles of the surveyed line along the face of the mountain are large beds of paving stone.

BENEFIT SOCIETY TO LIQUIDATE.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 9.—The Morris and Essex Employes' Mutual Benefit Association held a regular biennial session in Masonic Hall in this city to-day, and a committee of five was appointed to wind up the affairs of the organization. So many men have left the employ of the company, following the change of management, that, previous to last month, when the association issued an extra assessment of $1.40, there were two-thirds of the members not in the employ of the Lackawanna. At that time the membership dwindled down to 500 from 1,200. The organization had at one time a membership of 2,600.

After the debts are paid, the money on hand will be distributed pro rata among members.

A new association, including only men in the employ of the Lackawanna, will, it is said, be organized.

MR. NIXON SAYS HE HAS TALKED TOO MUCH

He Refuses to Discuss Further the Tammany Blackmail Combine.

Commissioner Nagle Not One of the Parties, He Declares—No Way to Remove Guilty Leaders, Mr. Keller Says.

Interest in the work of the Tammany Committee of Five centred yesterday in a hope that Chairman Nixon or some other member of the committee might be induced to throw additional light on Mr. Nixon's statement that Tammany itself has no interest in the blackmail derived from the protection of vice in this city, but that there existed in the organization a "combine" which operated on its own hook entirely distinct from the parent organization. Efforts to gain from Chairman Nixon or the other two members of the committee who would be able to give any enlightenment on the subject failed. Mr. Platzek refused to see reporters until Monday after the meeting, saying that he was too busy to talk. Commissioner Keller said he had been unable to attend the meetings of the committee, and was out of touch with the situation. Mr. Nixon referred to his former statements or declined to answer at all. At the

NEW SERGEANTS ASSIGNED

The Fifty-eight Promoted on Tuesday Sent to Their Stations.

Hitch with Civil Service Commission Over Appointment of Roundsmen —Nearly One Hundred Patrolmen Needed.

Chief Devery and the police situation were forgotten at Police Headquarters yesterday in the lively interest taken in the fifty-eight new Sergeants. Capt. John Flood, the Chief's first aide, was down with the grip, and Chief Devery did not visit Police Headquarters, but transmitted the assignments by telephone at 5 o'clock, subsequently changing several details. The assignments of the new Sergeants, as finally made, were:

Joseph F. McLaughlin, Steamboat Squad.
James F. Fogarty, Fulton Street, Brooklyn.
Patrick Sullivan, Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn.
Philip Grosbeck, Fulton Street, Brooklyn.
John W. McCormick, Grand Avenue, Brooklyn.
John J. Fogarty, Butler Street, Brooklyn.
John McKenna, Adams Street, Brooklyn.
James J. McCarthy, Flushing Avenue, Brooklyn.
Eugene M. Cochen, Lee Avenue, Brooklyn.
Henry M. Shephard, Bushwick Avenue, Brooklyn.
Daniel M. Davis, Flatbush Avenue, Brooklyn.
William J. Conyes, Voorhees Avenue, Brooklyn.
Patrick J. Sheehan, Coney Island.
Louis F. Sharkey, Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn.
John T. Lake, Grand Avenue, Long Island City.
Richard Holmes, Jr., Grand Avenue, Long Island City.
John T. Callahan, Fourth Street, Long Island City.
Frederick Stahl, Mercer Street.
Richard Guilty, East Sixty-seventh Street.
Morris Nash, West Thirty-seventh Street.
Theodore C. Rayner, East Thirty-fifth Street.
Adam G. Ameth, Mulberry Street.
Harry Nugent, Church Street.
Robert McNaught, Jr., Newtown.
Edward J. McAuley, Charles Street.
Martin D. Corbett, West Twentieth Street.
Franklin A. Bechtel, East One Hundred and Fourth Street.
Robert Robinson, West One Hundred and Fifty-second Street.
Peter Fitzgerald, West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street.
James Dunn, High Bridge, Deputy Chief W. W. McLaughlin's staff.
William J. Moriarty, Wakefield.
Thomas W. Walsh, East Fifty-first Street.
Jeremiah O'Brien, Westchester.
Benjamin Wolf, East Eighty-eighth Street.
Frank Ratigeber, President York's office.
Robert Hultpenny, Central Office.
Laurence P. Bowers, East Fifty-first Street.
Wilhelm E. Barnes, Central Office.
Thomas F. Gilhooly, West Thirty-seventh Street.
Frank A. Tierney, Central Office.
James Brady, Central Office.
Henry Cohen, Inspector Brooks's staff.
Patrick H. McGirr, Commissioner Sexton's office.
Dennis Grady, Chief Devery's staff.
Charles E. McManus, Detective Bureau.
Andrew S. Devery, Detective Bureau.
James Hanley, King's Bridge.
George H. Brown, Fulton Street, Brooklyn.
John Lake, Flushing.
Edward J. Harrington, Brooklyn Detective Bureau.
John T. Sweeney, Delancey Street.
George Haerle, Jr., Mulberry Street.
Patrick J. Farrell, Charles Street.
James Savage, Old Slip.
Ernest K. Bluphan, College Point.
John E. Schoiff, Newtown.
Charles F. Fahey, Far Rockaway.
George G. Furr, Far Rockaway.

Many of these assignments are temporary. None of the Commissioners found fault with them. As to the disposition of the patronage in the promotions, a story that it was York 25, Sexton 25, and Abell and Hess 5 each was not contradicted or admitted by the Commissioners.

The following transfers of old Sergeants were also announced:

Sergt. Carson, from West Thirtieth Street to West Sixty-eighth; Sergt. Churchill, from West Sixty-eighth Street to West Thirtieth; Sergt. Burns, from West Thirty-seventh Street to West Sixty-eighth; Sergt. Morgan, from West Thirty-seventh Street to West One Hundredth; Sergt. Murphy, from Butler Street, Brooklyn, to Atlantic Avenue, Brooklyn; Sergt. O'Connor, from Fulton Street, Brooklyn, to Union Market, Manhattan; Sergt. Gallagher, from West One Hundredth Street to Madison Street.

It is said a large number of patrolmen will be assigned to act as Roundsmen to take the place of the men made Sergeants on Tuesday. It will probably be months before their places will be filled with regularly appointed Roundsmen. There is a controversy between the Municipal Civil Service Board and the Police Department over the making of Roundsmen. It has always been held in the department that a Roundsman is only a patrolman assigned by the board to do special duty, and that he may be assigned or put back at the will of the Police Board. The Civil Service Board holds that a competitive examination is necessary, as it is a promotion.

The Police Department now needs sixty-eight Roundsmen, said Chief Clerk Kipp yesterday. The number of patrolmen needed before the promotion of the Roundsmen was forty-eight. The making of acting Roundsmen will bring this number up to nearly 100, and when sixty-eight Roundsmen are made there will be 116 policemen needed, besides the additional men required to fill vacancies, which average ten a month through death, resignations, dismissals, and retirements.

Police Commissioner Sexton was laid up yesterday with a throat affliction.

All the Commissioners admit that the retirement of the Chief has not been discussed by them in any way, and call attention to the necessity of the Chief taking the initiative by applying to the Supreme Court to have the injunction which restrained the board, when Avery D. Andrews was a Commissioner, from exercising its disciplinary powers in his case. The Chief has made no move in this direction.

Chief Devery's attendance at the meeting of the Police Board Tuesday night was not significant. "The story that a communication from me brought the Chief to the Board room is a lie of the old brand," said Commissioner Abell. "I did not know he was coming until he entered the room. He had the privilege of sitting with us and we were engaged in business that should interest him. I know of nothing that has changed his status."

CAPT. HERLIHY'S TRIAL.

Prosecutor Olcott Brings a Witness Who Tells of Conditions in East Side Streets.

The trial of Capt. Herlihy was continued at Police Headquarters yesterday afternoon. The only witness was Emil E. Fuchs, managing clerk of the Deputy Attorney General's office, who had been connected with the Legal Aid Society. Mr. Fuchs testified to the conditions of the "Red Light" district from October, 1899, to November of last year. He had made tours of the district, and had been solicited numerous times by women from the stoops and windows of houses, and upon two or three occasions by men who either ran the places or acted as "lookouts" and "pullers-in." Mr. Olcott asked questions in detail of nearly fifty places in Chrystie, Delancey, Allen, Stanton, Eldridge, and Forsyth Streets.

Fuchs swore that in passing 137 Eldridge Street last Summer he saw four children between four and six years of age playing with some cards that were lying on the sidewalk. He started to tell what he had asked the children in regard to the cards, when Lawyer Grant put in a vigorous objection. "I want to show," said Mr. Olcott, "that conditions were so flagrant that they tainted even the minds of children of tender age. It appears to me that if these children could know of the nature of this house and Capt. Herlihy did not, we ought to have a new system, and the police force ought to be reorganized with children of five or six as Captains." Mr. York would not allow this line of examination.

The direct examination was marked with several sharp passages between Mr. Olcott and Mr. Grant, and by the latter with Mr. York, who would cut off the discussion by ordering him to keep quiet.

On the cross-examination Mr. Grant asked the witness if he could show one single house in Allen Street that had been complained of. Mr. Fuchs cited the case of Bessie Freedman of Sixth Street, whose mother had complained to the Legal Aid Society last year that Bessie had been abducted and taken to a house in Allen Street, but he couldn't remember the exact address. The witness said Lena Reichenthal had been held in $500 bail by Magistrate Pool in the Essex Market Court on the charge of abduction in connection with this case and another.

When the witness had been talking for a few minutes, Mr. Olcott suggested that as he looked warm he might take off his coat. Thereupon Mr. Grant's lips were seen to move.

"Mr. Grant says he'll 'make it hot' for you," said Mr. Olcott facetiously.

"I did not," replied Mr. Grant, looking up suddenly, not relishing Mr. Olcott's humor. "I said I would try to make it warm for him."

"Ah. That's it," said Mr. Olcott.

Another time Mr. Grant complained of not getting fair treatment.

"You'll get all that's coming to you," Mr. York said with emphasis.

"I don't expect any favors from you," answered Capt. Herlihy's lawyer, with accent on the "you."

"Oh, go on, go on!" replied Mr. York, in tones of weariness.

Mr. Olcott said he was anxious to get through by to-morrow. He did not want, he said, to continue witnesses and have them matched by the other side, who could bring any number to swear that the houses the character of which Mr. Fuchs testified to were all right.

The trial will be resumed at 4:30 to-day, when Philip Moscowitz, a public school teacher, will be heard.

THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN.

Reports to be "Far Reaching," Mr. Baldwin Says, and They Will Be Kept Secret.

The Committee of Fifteen was in session for nearly three hours yesterday afternoon. Reports were received from all of the sub-committees.

William H. Baldwin, Jr., said the members of the committee had decided not to give out any information, as the matters they had discussed were too far-reaching and important.

"Have you received the reports of the sub-committees?" was asked.

"Yes. All of them. And it will be impossible for us to say anything at present. The reports are most encouraging—far-reaching, as I said."

Mr. Baldwin, when asked if he would comment on the statement of Chairman Nixon, said: "The Tammany committee seems to have the floor at present. I am willing to let them do all the talking." He did say that the Committee of Fifteen would go "higher up" than the Tammany committee.

The committee is doing much work and private investigating. From Mr. Baldwin's statement at the close of the meeting yesterday it is inferred that important evidence is in its hands which will be made public later.

Joel B. Erhardt, who is a member of the Committee of Fifteen, said to a reporter yesterday that the only way to break up the "combine" that has levied blackmail on the gamblers would be to completely reorganize the Police Department. "There is no politics in the Police Department," he said. "A policeman is a policeman, and nothing else. The system of levying blackmail on gambling houses and disorderly resorts has gone on under every administration for the last thirty years. The combine is not based on politics. It will not be easy to get at the bottom of the thing, though. When I was a Police Commissioner I saw officers take off their shields and place them on my desk rather than testify against a comrade."

THE EDUCATIONAL ALLIANCE.

Arnold Kohn Objects to Making the East Side the "Horrible Example."

The Advisory Committee of the Educational Alliance met on Tuesday night in Louis Stern's residence, 993 Fifth Avenue, to talk on the subject of city reform.

Besides Mr. Stern there were present Jacob H. Schiff, Arnold Kohn, Isidor Straus, Lyman W. Bloomingdale, Assistant District Attorney Gans, and one or two east side reformers.

Mr. Straus said he was pleased to see that vice was being stamped out in New York. He hoped soon to see it driven out altogether. Mr. Gans on behalf of District Attorney Philbin, said that the latter was preparing to proceed with vigor against the keepers of disorderly houses. Mr. Kohn objected to the east side being always held up as a "horrible example" of vice. It was no worse than many other parts of the city. The residents of the east side were principally hard-working, respectable mechanics, and it was not fair to cast slurs on the entire district because disorderly houses were there.

BISHOP POTTER TALKS OF VICE.

Opens the Public Crusade for Reform in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—A mass meeting of citizens, of which Bishop Potter of New York was the central figure, was held in the Academy of Music to-night for the purpose of taking preliminary steps in starting a general crusade against vice in this city. The big building was crowded, most of those present being women. Bishop Potter had been invited by a committee to address an audience on crime in large communities.

The Bishop, when introduced, was enthusiastically welcomed. He refrained from saying much of the conditions of vice as they prevail in this city, leaving that for local speakers to tell. The Bishop touched briefly on his boyhood days, which were spent here, and then discussed in a general way the centralization of power which he said exists to-day in many walks of life. He said there is in the popular mind a belief that Judges on the bench, men in the legislative halls, and the smallest politicians are purchasable. That such a condition should exist, he said, was a dishonor.

Bishop Potter then spoke of the great movement for better government started in New York, and said the conditions that exist in Philadelphia are no different from those prevailing elsewhere. Spoilsmen and public officers who betray their trust should be given no peace. If Philadelphia would take up the work, he said, the two cities could go forward hand in hand in the right direction.

PACKER SENTENCE REVERSED.

Was Convicted of Using the United States Mails to Defraud.

A decision was handed down in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday reversing the conviction of Eugene L. Packer, and ordering a new trial. Packer, who had an office at 32 Broadway, was arrested in September, 1899, by Post Office Inspectors on a charge of using the United States mails for fraudulent purposes. The complainant, Miss Eleanor S. Moody, of Portland, Me., claimed that she gave Packer $300 in answer to one of his circulars to invest in Wall Street. He was doing business at the time under the name of James S. Robinson & Co. She got no return for her money, and Packer's arrest followed. He was convicted in January, 1900, and sentenced to one year and six months in Sing Sing, and ordered to pay a fine of $500.

The reversal of the sentence is based on the claims of Packer's counsel that a letter written to Packer by Miss Moody, saying he was not an honest man or he would return her money to her, was written after the offense charged in the indictment was committed. Packer had been out on $10,000 bail since his sentence. He was arrested with Alfred R. Goslin in connection with the Brooklyn Rapid Transit scandal, and is now out on bail on that charge.

Grip Prevalent in Philadelphia.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The hospitals any many physicians report thousands of cases of grip, and say that unless seasonable weather should set in and continue this city will be suffering the same as are New York and Chicago at the present time. Many of the big commercial establishments report that several of their employes are forced to remain in their homes on account of grip. At the Pennsylvania University and Presbyterian Hospitals large numbers of patients were treated. Several physicians ascribe the epidemic entirely to the weather.

60,000 Grip Cases in Connecticut.

Special to The New York Times.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 9.—What has become a serious epidemic of grip has reached this city from the western part of the State, and is apparently reaching out over the remaining section. Physicians state that not before in eight years, since the first great outbreak of the disease, has there been so much complaint as there is to-day. It is estimated that there are 10,000 cases in New Haven alone and 60,000 in the State. Its appearance at this time is thought to be due to the unsettled weather.

Escaped from Sing Sing.

SING SING, N. Y., Jan. 9.—In the darkness of the early morning Otto Schaefer, a convict in the prison, succeeded in eluding the vigilance of his guard, Charles Orr, and effected his escape.

Schaefer was known among his pals as "The Mouse," and has a bad record.

BELLEVUE DOCTORS AT ODDS WITH MR. KELLER

Friction Over a Report Said to Exonerate Dr. Moore.

NURSES GO, SERVICE CRIPPLED

Report to the State Board of Charities of Lack of Discipline and Generally Bad Conditions at the Hospital.

New and sensational developments occurred yesterday in the investigation of the Bellevue scandals. Friction was reported between the Medical Board and Commissioner Keller. Eight more of the Mills Training School nurses have resigned and twelve are to follow very soon.

The friction between the Medical Board and the Commissioner was due to the rumored action of the Committee of Inspection of the Medical Board, who had exonerated Dr. J. W. Moore from charges of neglect preferred by Mr. Keller.

The Commissioner said only a partial report on the case of Dr. Moore had been made, but admitted that the Rev. J. Butler Tompkins, who had made a complaint of negligence against Dr. Moore, had withdrawn his complaint. The Commissioner says, however, that he has not withdrawn his own complaint, and, furthermore, would not. He added that if the Committee of Inspection had found that Dr. Moore was not guilty of negligence and tendered a report to him which would meet with his approval and satisfaction, Dr. Moore would not be dismissed. He denied that Dr. Moore had been exonerated, and simply said that the committee had not finished its report. Members of the Bellevue staff declare positively that Dr. Moore has been exonerated by the Medical Board's committee.

Nurses Wheeler, Bruce, Lenox, Wright, Clancy, Kenega, Giering, and Deuquios resigned last night. The nursing system is now badly crippled. The nurses give for their reasons of resigning the attitude of Commissioner Keller toward them and the treatment of Davis, Marshall, and Dean, who have been indicted by the Grand Jury for causing the death of Louis Hilliard.

If the twelve nurses who threaten to resign do so it will make forty-one nurses out of the training school since the investigation started. This is out of an original seventy-two. The service is now in a bad way.

During the afternoon the Medical Board held a special meeting in the board room at Bellevue Hospital, and for the first time in the history of the hospital summoned the whole staff into the room. Commissioner Keller had been in the room, but suddenly left for his office.

After the meeting Drs. W. M. Polk, the Dean of Cornell College, and Alexander Lambert, Secretary to the board, left for Commissioner Keller's office. It was said the medical men had called on Mr. Keller to ask him relative to his request of an additional report in the Moore case.

Commissioner Keller told of his intention to call Dr. Fitch before him and question him as to certain accusations made by Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton. The Commissioner stated that Dr. Fitch was ill at present, and was unable to appear at Bellevue.

Messrs. Osborn and Parkhurst of the State Lunacy Commission, who had visited the Commissioner in the afternoon, had suggested a new serviceable means of restraint for violent insane persons. The device is a large sheet with a hole in the centre for the patient's head. On the side is a fastening which holds the man's limbs after the sheet has been properly placed on him. The Commissioner said that he would procure some of these new restraint robes at once.

Superintendent of the Out-Door Poor Department George Blair says he can show he is not to blame for the case of Riva Baron, the woman who was supposed to be sent to Montreal, but who was found deserted in the streets of Philadelphia on the same day she had left Bellevue Hospital.

A complaint of ill usage of Joseph Lieberkash, a patient at Bellevue, will be investigated. Liberkash, it was alleged, in a suit for $50,000 against the city by his widow, was brought to the hospital on June 15, and died on June 16 last year. The Bellevue records, however, show that Lieberkash entered the institution on June 27, and that he died five minutes after his admission.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 9.—Inspector Robert W. Hill, who was detailed by the State Board of Charities to investigate conditions at Bellevue Hospital, New York City, has reported. In his report Inspector Hill reviews all the facts well known in the case of Louis Hilliard and the action of Commissioner Keller thereon. The report continues:

"The two physicians who are examiners in lunacy were before the Coroner's jury, and their testimony was carefully examined. It was evident that they were satisfied to perform their duties in a somewhat perfunctory manner, for their testimony showed that they made no physical examination of any of the patients in the pavilion, and based their opinion as to sanity without taking into consideration the physical condition of the patient. In view of the necessity of avoiding the serious mistake of sending a sane person to the insane asylum on Ward's Island, or to some private retreat, the Commissioner has felt it would be unwise to remove the two physicians before he is assured that their successors will be in every way competent.

"The investigation has revealed a general lack of discipline and a perfunctory performance of duty among employes of the institution. Outside of the medical staff there seems to have been no pride in the service, and in consequence the whole tone of the institution has been very low. In spite of the orders of the Commissioner, subordinates have done the things which were forbidden, and have brought discredit upon the whole service. Some have seen cruelty and abuse of patients and have remained silent, taking it as a matter in which they had no interest.

"Orders had been issued for the dismissal of all unpaid help, and of all given to the drink habit, but the investigation revealed the presence of at least twenty-seven unpaid helpers, and the fact was apparent that a very large percentage of the paid help were given to drink."

The appointment of Dr. George Taylor Stewart as Superintendent and the unanimous indorsement of the selection by the Medical Board is noted, and the report continues:

"Monday, Jan. 7, the Commissioner issued the order appointing Dr. Stewart the new Superintendent, and this morning at 9 o'clock Dr. Stewart took charge. His first official act was to provide for a night Superintendent. The former Deputy Superintendent has been assigned to this night duty, and will be held responsible for the condition of the hospital at night, the time when abuses are most liable to occur. Other changes are to follow.

"The investigation has shown that the whole system at Bellevue has been radically wrong. The service has been of the cheapest character, and the hospital has been what one of the Executive Committee of the Medical Board called it in the conference with Commissioner Keller—'a whited sepulchre.' Nothing save a complete change throughout the staff of employes will be satisfactory, for, with a few notable exceptions, inefficiency, callousness, and idleness characterize those who are employed to do the work of the hospital. The tests of efficiency and zeal, of character and sobriety, have not been applied, and it is by these that the new Superintendent can make Bellevue what it should be—a model hospital. New buildings are needed, but a new spirit and motive far more."

Commissioner Keller said last night of Inspector Hill's report: "The report is all right. I am afraid that what he says is true, but it will now be remedied. That is all I have to say."

BELLEVUE NURSES ARRAIGNED.

They Plead Not Guilty to the Indictment for Manslaughter.

Jesse R. Davis, Clinton L. Marshall, and Edward O. Dean, former nurses in the Bellevue pavilion for the insane, indicted for manslaughter in the first degree, for the killing of Louis R. Hilliard, while the latter was a patient in the pavilion, were arraigned before Judge Cowing, in General Sessions, yesterday and pleaded not guilty.

Lawyer E. B. Anderson appeared for them. All three were permitted their liberty on the bail bond of $5,000 each, furnished by Ogden Mills.

Assistant District Attorney Franklin Pierce, who will prosecute the nurses, announced that he would be ready to go on with the trial Monday.

Charities Commissioner Keller received a visit from State Lunacy Commissioners W. C. Osborn and W. D. Parkhurst yesterday. After an hour's conference with Mr. Keller, the Commissioners made a thorough inspection of Bellevue Hospital in company with Secretary Alden. They declined to discuss their visit. Commissioner Keller declared that he had told them of the changes and reforms in progress in Bellevue, and that they had expressed themselves as satisfied. Mr. Keller said that he would fully investigate the charges of Dr. Allan McLane Hamilton against Dr. Fitch, one of the hospital examiners of insane patients.

"Dr. Fitch will have to explain," said Mr. Keller, "although Dr. Hamilton's letter is rather indefinite. The only specific charge he makes is that Dr. Fitch charged Miss Georgiana Wendell $50 for commitment. This fee has been abolished altogether."

Superintendent Stewart announced no further changes in the hospital staff yesterday. He did state, however, that no more convalescent female alcoholic patients would be put at scrub work. Female help, he said, would be hired by him and paid at the rate of $1 a day. Mrs. Willard and Miss Brennan, Superintendent of the Female Training School for Nurses, have hitherto had the hiring of the female help for the wards.

NURSE TIED PATIENT'S FEET.

Cruelty Alleged in Jersey City Hospital Causes Attendant's Discharge.

Jong Langan of 154 Cornelison Avenue, Jersey City, was on Dec. 30 caught in a steam picker at Stratford's Oakum Works, where he was employed, and injured so badly that he died at the City Hospital on Jan. 2. After he was buried Mrs. Langan called at the hospital and complained to Warden Osborne that her husband had been cruelly treated by Edward Carroll, one of the night nurses. Mrs. Langan said her husband had told her that Carroll had tied his feet with strips of bed clothing. She said nothing about it at the time, fearing that if she did so her husband might receive worse treatment.

Carroll, when confronted with the charge, said he had been obliged to tie Langan's feet to prevent his getting out of bed while delirious. Warden Osborne was not satisfied with this explanation, and Carroll was dismissed.

"I do not think," said Warden Osborne yesterday, "that Carroll was unnecessarily harsh, but I do not think he exercised proper care in the case."

WRECK ON JERSEY CENTRAL.

Lehigh Valley Engine Backed into Passenger Coach—Several Passengers Seriously Hurt.

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., Jan. 9.—A passenger train of the Central Railroad of New Jersey on the New York and Long Branch Road was run into by a freight locomotive of the Lehigh Valley Road as the train was crossing the Lehigh Valley tracks north of Perth Amboy Station about 8 o'clock this morning. The forward passenger car was badly wrecked and two others were derailed. About a dozen persons were injured, one of whom is reported to be fatally hurt. The most seriously injured were:

Thomas Tassini, Matawan.
Henry B. Urdge, Atlantic Highlands.
O. W. F. Randolph, Freehold.
Elmer Gern, Matawan.
Dr. L. F. Meinger, South Amboy.

Dr. Meinger had his legs badly crushed and was injured about the head and body. He had just returned from his wedding trip. Although his injuries are dangerous he will probably recover.

There is a tower house at the crossing and the signals were properly set, giving the right of way to the passenger train, which had left the Perth Amboy Station on its way to New York. No blame apparently can be attached to the engineer of the Central train. After he reached the crossing the Lehigh Valley locomotive was backing rapidly toward the crossing and struck the forward passenger coach of the Central train. The tender of the Lehigh Valley locomotive was thrown by the force of the collision around on the Central track and the forward coach of the passenger train was lifted from the rails and driven against the tower house, which was wrecked. The persons who were injured were all in the first coach.

The second and third passenger coaches of the Central train were derailed. The passengers in these cars received a lively shaking up, but none was seriously hurt.

Engineer Dreidach, who was in charge of the Lehigh Valley locomotive, admitted that he did not have the right of way, but says he could not stop the engine, owing to the wet rails, in time to avoid a collision.

The accident blocked the road for several hours and the New York passenger trains on the Central Railroad were sent to and from New York by way of the Lehigh Valley Railroad through South Plainfield and Cranford Junction over the Perth Amboy and main line of the Lehigh Valley. Trains were delayed an hour in making this roundabout route. Travel was opened on the south-bound track at 10:30, when a Perth Amboy local for New York passed.

HUMAN PINCUSHION'S LOSS.

Maid Dropped a Diamond Brooch in a Broadway Car.

There appeared in a morning newspaper yesterday an advertisement stating that a diamond brooch had been lost by Miss Vera Morris, an actress. The notice also said that the jewelry was lost in a Broadway car, and a reward for its return was offered.

Miss Morris tells a remarkable story of how she lost the brooch. She uses her maid as a pincushion at the theatre. When she began to dress for the performance last Tuesday night she took the brooch from her collar and pinned it on the maid's back. Then she remembered that she had left some flowers at her rooms, in West Forty-ninth Street.

"Run back," she cried to the maid, "and get the flowers."

The maid boarded a cable car, although she had only five blocks to go. As she jumped aboard the car the diamond brooch, valued at $500, glistened on her back. What became of it after that nobody knows. Doubtless some passenger on the car, thinking the jewelry too conspicuous for rear use, appropriated it. Who can tell? When the maid returned with the flowers the mistress happened to glance at her pincushion. She saw that the brooch was gone, and hastily telephoned a "lost ad" to the newspaper office.

Let every baby be fat. That rounds him out and cushions him: keeps the rough world from hurting him. Fat is his reserve of food: it is food laid up for to-morrow.

Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is a certain means of plumping a baby, unless there is something wrong; and he likes it.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

B. Altman & Co.

SUIT DEPARTMENT. (Second Floor.) To-day, Thursday, January 10th.

A number of Women's Street Dresses, in Tailor-Made and Demi-Tailor effects, of Cloth, Cheviot and Homespun materials, formerly $38.00 to $58.00, at

$21.00, $26.00, $37.00

And a number of High Cost COSTUMES AT DECIDED REDUCTIONS.

A CORNER IN CHINCHILLA

George B. Herzig, Who Engineered It, Returns from Bolivia.

EXPERIMENTS WITH INDIANS

Natives Are Good Christians Until They Imbibe Potato Whisky, Which Makes Cannibals of Them.

George B. Herzig, who for several months has been trading with the Imcha and Amana Indians of the Andes, who spend the best part of their lives in trapping the chinchilla, a little rodent whose pearly gray fur forms one of the most expensive as well as desirable skins, returned to New York on the steamship Niagara yesterday. Mr. Herzig practically secured a corner on the entire available supply of the skins in the Bolivian Andes. Known probably to more members of the Imcha and Amana tribes than any other living white man, he has managed during his extended tour to meet nearly all of his semi-savage acquaintances, with the result that the title to practically all the chinchilla skins in the Bolivian Andes is now at his disposal.

Dressed in the garb indicative of the country in which the chinchilla flourishes, accompanied by a retinue of native guides and amigos, (friends,) he went from end to end of the Bolivian section of the range gathering in the skins, to the total of 15,000 dozen, representing an outlay of about 800,000 pesos, or $400,000 in American money. Not only did Mr. Herzig accomplish all that he could desire in the acquirement of the furs, but he managed also to witness and hear about a lot of things that in many cases he would rather have remained ignorant of. The Indians, in times of peace, or when there is a dearth of potato alcohol, are friendly to the stranger, but on other occasions the effect of too much of the potato compound turns them not only into the most relentless foes, but into cannibals as well. A young American engineer named MacDonald, on one occasion, Mr. Herzig says, was slaughtered and eaten by them during one of their savage orgies.

Mr. Herzig, in speaking yesterday of his trip and the incidents that he either witnessed or were told to him by native friends, said:

"I left New York on Feb. 7 last, going to Colon, where I crosed the Isthmus, re-embarked on a Pacific steamship, and sailed down the coast to Bolivia, where I took a coach—there being no such thing as a railroad in all Bolivia—finally arriving at the foot of the Andes, where my tour of the country commenced. In all, my travels covered in the neighborhood of 10,000 miles, beginning at La Paz and extending as far as the Punta Renas, in the Strait of Magellan. I was in search of chinchilla furs, which are secured from the Indians of the Andes. The chinchilla is a little animal that looks something like a squirrel, and also like a rabbit. It is trapped at an elevation of from 6,000 to 16,000 feet by the Imchas and Amanas, who trade in the furs.

"Formerly the animals were smoked or ferreted out of their holes, and in some cases caught with dogs; this was very injurious to the skins, however, and they are now generally trapped in the night-time by the Indians. They are very wild, and a considerable amount of skill is necessary in capturing them. Each tribe puts its stock at the disposal of its chief, who sells the skins. I have known one tribe to accumulate as high as $80,000 worth of the skins at one time and dispose of them at one sale, dividing the money acquired among the tribesmen.

"You ask me if I have ever experienced any trouble with the natives. I have been very fortunate as a general rule with them, for if you treat them right they will in most cases reciprocate and treat you likewise. When I was in La Paz a revolution was in progress. There was considerable fighting going on in the vicinity of the town and I experienced some difficulty in getting out of the place. The Secretary of the American Legation, Mr. Valles, finally came to my rescue, however, and succeeded in getting me passed through the lines, threatening that unless they permitted my free egress an American fleet would bombard the seacoast towns. This struck me as a rather original proposition, since Bolivia has no coast line at all. The threat worked all right, however, and I was more than satisfied with the outcome of the bluff.

"At another time I was present, or rather in the vicinity of, a great national religious festival at an old church in the Andes. The Indians, you know, are very religious, and have original ways of showing it. At this festival they came from Brazil, Argentina, and Bolivia. In front of the church for about 100 yards extended a stone pathway. The stones were small in size and very pointed, making walking on them very laborious, and when I tell you that each Indian had to get on his hands and knees and crawl all the way to the church you can appreciate the fervid fanaticism that marks their devotion. On this occasion the stones of the walk were covered with blood. After they reached the church there was another celebration, in which weird dances predominated. While they are supposed to be good Christians in peaceful times, they are, on the other hand, cannibals in times of war. Several cases where human beings have been butchered and then eaten have been brought to my notice. They will torture an enemy by pulling out his toenails, gouging out his eyes, or removing bones from his jaw, besides performing other barbarous tortures beyond the power of man to describe. It is absolutely necessary, you see, to treat them right, especially if you have any longing to see your native land again.

"On another occasion," said Mr. Herzig, "I attended one of the native fairs, held on the Argentine boundary. Huara was the name of the village where the show took place. It is normally a place of about 500 inhabitants, but on this occasion the visitors swelled the total to more than 10,000. Trading in mules was the principal diversion of the pleasure seekers, who would pick out an animal and then pay a gaucho, or cowboy, a dollar to break him, which he would do in five minutes' time. He would throw, saddle and bridle him as the American cowboy does, except that a Mexican bit would be used, the torture of which would require only a few minutes in which to subdue the beast.

"The great curse of the country is the potato alcohol which, though it is a Government monopoly, is nevertheless, despite all attempts to stop its sale to the Indians, always on hand. Give him this fiery liquor and there is no telling what he will do."

Mr. Herzig brought back with him three live chinchillas, which are the first of the little animals to be brought to this country. He will give them to the Central Park Zoo.

Old Life Saver Put In Command.

BABYLON, L. I., Jan. 9.—John T. Doxsee was to-day appointed as keeper of the Fire Island Life Saving Station. Capt. Doxsee has spent many years in the service and is fifty-six years of age. He formerly was commander of the schooner John Howard.

B. Altman & Co.

FUR DEPARTMENT.

DECIDED REDUCTIONS HAVE BEEN MADE in the prices of Broadtail Coats, Alaska Seal Jackets, Fur Lined Garments, Collarettes, Muffs and Neckpieces.

Fur Trimmings, Fur Rugs, Robes, Mats, Etc.

PREVIOUS TO REMOVAL
to 5th Avenue and 37th Street,
Davis Collamore & Co. Ltd.
HAVE REDUCED THE PRICE OF EVERY ARTICLE IN THEIR MAGNIFICENT STOCK OF FINE TABLE CHINA AND GLASSWARE, ORNAMENTAL AND USEFUL ARTICLES.
BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT.
BROADWAY AND TWENTY-FIRST ST.

RECIPROCITY SCHEME FAILS.

Because Treaties Are Hung Up—Bureau Established Under Dingley Act Probably Will Be Abolished.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—It is highly probable that in a short time the Commission Plenipotentiary under the Tariff act will be abolished. This will be an official acknowledgment of the death of reciprocity, and it will be directly attributable to the Senate's way of handling treaties. This commission is the bureau of the State Department which, under the terms of the Dingley act, has charge of reciprocity. John A. Kasson of Iowa is its head. This provision was the only one which moderated the terms of the Dingley act so as to make it acceptable to the old Blaine Republicans.

The commission has worked hard and in good faith for three years. Mr. Kasson, who is an expert in such matters, has given his time and labor with enthusiasm to the perfection of reciprocity projects, and has secured the negotiation of a number of treaties. They have all been hung up by the Senate. At last, despairing of having his work either accepted or rejected, Mr. Kasson has intimated to the President his wish that he be relieved of his office.

The total failure of reciprocity is so generally admitted that the President will probably accept Mr. Kasson's resignation and abolish the bureau. The President is deeply disappointed over the failure of reciprocity. He has given much of his time and attention to the work, and is as much chagrined as Mr. Kasson over the wreck of the promising scheme. The only cause for the abolition of the commission is the refusal of the Senate to sanction efforts to make good the reciprocity provisions of the Dingley law.

DEATH STOPS A LAWSUIT.

Bridgeport Woman, Fighting Her Husband in Court, Returns to Him When He Is Dying.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Jan. 9.—The strange suit for $115,000 damages brought by Mrs. Mary E. Wright Smith of this city against her husband, Eli C. Smith, came to a sudden end to-day when death claimed the respondent, a few hours after suffering an apoplectic shock.

Not the least strange phase of the case was its ending, for at the last Mrs. Smith was at the bedside of her dying husband ministering to his needs. With the opposing litigants were their two sons, Daniel and William, who are students at Yale.

The action was brought by Mrs. Smith to recover on account of the transfer of large parcels of real estate formerly owned by her, and which she alleged passed out of her hands through the agency of her husband, who, "on account of his violent temper," prevented her from liquidating mortgages with local banks. Mrs. Smith further claimed that the respondent subsequently secured the property by settling for a small figure the amount of the obligation.

Receiver for a Coal Mining Company.

Special to The New York Times.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 9.—Judge Swain of the United States Court this afternoon appointed Burgess Little receiver of the Montevallo Coal and Railway Company. The appointment was made upon the petition of Irvine I. Gardner and others, who alleged that the property was becoming impaired by mismanagement. The property consists of a valuable mine in Shelby County.

$25,000 Fire at Elmer, N. J.

ELMER, N. J., Jan. 9.—Fire, supposed to have been started by an incendiary, this morning burned two of the largest buildings in the village. The flames started in the Baker Building, and from that spread to the Reed Building, and then to Garrison's drug store and to W. B. Jones's general store. The total loss is estimated at $25,000.

Keystone Telephone Company's Capital.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The Keystone Telephone Company, which is backed by a number of Philadelphia capitalists, to-day filed a certificate with the Secretary of State, increasing its capital stock from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000.

"Belle of Bohemia" Sails Away.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—"The Belle of Bohemia" Company sailed for Liverpool to-day on the Bohemian.

RAYMOND'S Mark Down Sale of Suits and Overcoats
STARTS TO-DAY.
Men's $13, $15, and $17 All Wool Business Suits, marked down to..... $10.
Men's $18, $20, $22, (and some $24) Extra fine Suits marked down to..... $15.
Winter and medium weight Overcoats, all sizes and materials, never priced less than $20 and most were $25, marked down to.... $15.
Men's $5 and $6 Trousers, in all sizes, alt patterns and all materials marked down to..... $3.95
Equally Substantial Reductions Throughout Entire Establishment.
A. Raymond & Co., ESTABLISHED 1857. N. E. Cor. Nassau and Fulton Sts.

Once More We Call

attention to the fact that only straight whiskeys can be pure. Don't touch blended (mixed) ones; use, a straight, Hand Made Sour Mash. Gold Medal awarded for purity, Paris Exposition, 1900.

OLD CROW RYE,

H. B. KIRK & CO., Sole Bottlers, N. Y.
Wine Merchants. Established 1853.

PAYN SEEKS VINDICATION

Ex-Superintendent Aldridge Also Wants an Appointment.

BOTH WANT TO SUCCEED DUNN

Would Like to be Railroad Commissioner, but Something Else Equally as Good Will Do.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The question of the hour here is whether or not there will be found room in Gov. Odell's plan of economy for Louis F. Payn of Chatham, formerly Superintendent of Insurance, and George W. Aldridge of Rochester, formerly Superintendent of Public Works. Both of these gentlemen are seeking vindication at the hands of the present State administration. Both would like to have places upon the Railroad Commission. They have indicated their preference, but at the same time have informed Senator Platt, the Governor, and State Chairman Dunn that something equally as good will be satisfactory.

According to the gossip here, Aldridge was the first in the field. He put in his application for Railroad Commissioner. Then the suggestion was made that Capt. Dickey, who is a close personal friend of Gov. Odell's, resign his place as Shipping Commissioner, accept a place as Railroad Commissioner, and thus leave the way open for Aldridge's appointment as Shipping Commissioner. The evident purpose of this suggestion was to find some way in which Aldridge could be taken care of without making him a charge on the administration. But this suggestion was not favorably received by Mr. Aldridge. What he wanted, first of all, was a vindication, and this would not be afforded by securing a Federal appointment for him. He insisted upon having one of the places upon the Railroad Commission, or some State appointment of equal prominence.

When Col. Payn heard of Aldridge's move, he lost no time in coming to the front with his claim for recognition. He called upon Senator Platt and informed the Senator that if Aldridge was vindicated by the present State administration, he expected to receive similar vindication. His plea was that he and Aldridge were in exactly the same boat, both having been turned down by Roosevelt. Like Aldridge, he also intimated that an appointment as Railroad Commissioner was the sort of vindication he desired.

The efforts being put forth to have him take care of both Payn and Aldridge are said to be anything but pleasing to Gov. Odell, and it is not expected that he will yield to the importunities of the friends of these two candidates. He is willing, it is said, to lend his influence to help both of them to good Federal places, but that is the extent to which he will go in aiding their political rehabilitation.

Ever since his election as Chairman of the State Republican Committee, there has been talk of George W. Dunn resigning his place on the Railroad Commission, but Col. Dunn, it is now said, will hold on as long as there is any agitation for the appointment of either Payn or Aldridge.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEES NAMED

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Speaker Nixon to-day announced the appointment of the following committees:

WAYS AND MEANS—Messrs. Allds, Chenango; Kelsey, Livingston; Costello, Oswego; Babcock, St. Lawrence; Fish, Madison; Ellis, Genesee; Fancher, Cattaraugus; Rogers, Broome; Wilson, Kings; Roberts, Jefferson; Frisbie, Schoharie; Kelly, Albany; Dickey, Rockland.

JUDICIARY—Messrs. Fish, Madison; Patton, Erie; Fowler, Chautauqua; Rulenbeck, Monroe; Cooley, Westchester; Knipp, Chemung; Morgan, Kings; Bell, New York; Nye, Schuyler; Leggett, Niagara; McInerny, Kings; Sanders, New York; Foth, New York.

GENERAL LAWS—Messrs. Burnett, Ontario; Bryan, Jefferson; Mason, Oneida; Baker, Onondaga; Stevens, Franklin; Gardiner, Wyoming; Vacheron, Queens; Sherer, New York; O'Malley, Erie; Blackwell, Kings; Harburger, New York; Scanlon, New York; Dooling, New York.

REVISION—Messrs. Hatch, Steuben; Lewis, M. E., Monroe; Wilson, Kings; Cooley, Westchester; Morgan, Kings; O'Malley, Erie; Nye, Schuyler; Reynolds, Rensselaer; Sullivan, New York; Juengst, Kings; Hasenflug, Kings; Foth, New York; Dooling, New York; Durcuss, New York.

CODES—Messrs. Weekes, New York; Cook, Erie; Plank, St. Lawrence; Price, Kings; Phillips, Allegany; Smith, Columbia; Dickinson, Cortland; Bennett, New York; Smith, W. H., New York; Mains, Westchester; Hyman, New York; Daly, Kings; Durcuss, New York.

TAXATION AND RETRENCHMENT—Messrs. Lewis, M. E., Monroe; Darrison, Niagara; Hatch, Steuben; Harris, Fulton-Hamilton; Stevens, Franklin; Davis, New York; Fisher, Cattaraugus; Orr, Orange; Coons, Albany; Dusinbery, Sullivan; Sullivan, New York; Hawkins, Kings; Geoghan, Erie.

CANALS—Messrs. Lewis, T. D., Oswego; O'Brien, Clinton; Gardner, Wyoming; Weber, Kings; Plank, St. Lawrence; Schneider, Erie; Smith, Columbia; Swarts, Yates; McQuade, Oneida; Salyerds, Monroe; O'Connell, New York; Geoghan, Erie; Honeck, New York.

AFFAIRS OF CITIES—Messrs. Kelsey, Livingston; Lewis, M. E., Monroe; De Graw, Kings; Davis, New York; Burnett, Ontario; Cotton, Kings; O'Malley, Erie; Seymour, New York; Hammond, Onondaga; Ross, Albany; McKeown, Kings; Bradley, Erie; Fitzgerald, New York.

RAILROADS—Messrs. Bedell, Orange; Axtell, Delaware; Costello, Oswego; Fancher, Cattaraugus; Smith, Dutchess; Weekes, New York; Hitchcock, Warren; Everett, Putnam; Swift, Broome; Schneider, Erie; Smith, J. E., New York; Lynn, New York; Egan, New York.

COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION—Messrs. Snyder, R. A., Ulster; Apgar, Westchester; Galbraith, Rensselaer; Hitchock, Warren; Lewis, T. D., Oswego; Adler, New York; Remsen, Kings; Radney, Kings; Bell, New York; Juengst, Kings; Halpin, New York; Burns, New York; Van Name, Richmond.

INSURANCE—Messrs. Coughtry, Albany; Apgar, Westchester; Hatch, Steuben; Adler, New York; Price, Kings; Adams, Kings; Monsfield, Saratoga; McQuade, Oneida; Cadin, Onondaga; Smith, Columbia; Riordon, New York; McInerny, Kings; Meister, New York.

BANKS—Messrs. De Graw, Kings; Smith, Dutchess; Remsen, Kings; Treat, Cayuga; Smith, Otsego; Coughtry, Albany; Walrath, Montgomery; Thorn, Ulster; Snyder, Ulster; Bennett, New York; Holsten, Kings; Prince, New York; Hasenflug, Kings.

ELECTRICITY, GAS, AND WATER SUPPLY—Messrs. Rogers, Broome; Fordyce, Cayuga; Henry, New York; Ellis, Genesee; Gardiner, Monroe; McMillan, Schenectady; Waite, Kings; Platt, Steuben; Hanford, Tioga; Brooks, Erie; Kelly, Albany; McKeown, Kings; Sullivan, New York.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS—Messrs. Doughty, Queens; Conger, Tompkins; Baker, Onondaga; Irwin, Washington; Phipps, Orleans; Reynolds, Rensselaer; Robinson, Suffolk; Swarts, Yates; Brill, Oneida; Weber, Kings; Delaney, Kings; Fitzpatrick, Kings; Keenan, Queens.

LABOR AND INDUSTRIES—Messrs. Costello, Oswego; Fish, Madison; Swift, Broome; Hitchcock, Warren; Everett, Putnam; Snyder, Ulster; Roberts, Jefferson; Brooks, Erie; Leggett, Niagara; Orr, Orange; O'Connell, New York; Prince, New York; Richter, New York.

EXCISE—Messrs. Knipp, Chemung; Burnett, Ontario; Fowler, Chautauqua; Rogers, Broome; Hallock, Suffolk; Stevens, Franklin; Mansfield, Saratoga; Orr, Orange; Brill, Oneida; Ruehl, Erie; Harburger, New York; Juengst, Kings; Egan, New York.

AFFAIRS OF VILLAGES—Messrs. Fowler, Chautauqua; Galbraith, Rensselaer; Harris, Fulton-Hamilton; Griffith, Wayne; Walrath, Montgomery; Phillips, Allegany; Treat, Cayuga; Robinson, Suffolk; Allston, Herkimer; Ryder, Greene; Kaiser, Seneca; Van Name, Richmond.

PUBLIC PRINTING—Messrs. Bradyce, Cayuga; Doughty, Queens; Darrison, Niagara; Gardner, Wyoming; McMillan, Schenectady; Cook, Erie; Coons, Albany; Traub, Onondaga; Meister, New York; Honeck, New York; Baum, New York.

PUBLIC HEALTH—Messrs. Henry, New York; Fordyce, Cayuga; Gardiner, Monroe; Vacheron, Queens; Hanford, Tioga; Ruehl, Erie; Sherer, Kings; Nye, Schuyler; Sanders, New York; Prince, New York; Reilly, New York.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS—Messrs. Griffith, Wayne; Conger, Tompkins; Hallock, Suffolk; Babcock, St. Lawrence; Morgan, Kings; Fisher, Cattaraugus; Reynolds, Rensselaer; Landon, Dutchess; Ross, Albany; Baum, New York; Dickey, Rockland; Rierdon, New York; Brucknor, New York.

PUBLIC LANDS AND FORESTRY—Messrs. Smith, Lewis; Galbraith, Rensselaer; Price, Kings; Bryan, Jefferson; Harris, Fulton and Hamilton; Conger, Tompkins; Plank, St. Lawrence; Gracff, Essex; Fisher, Cattaraugus; Dempsey, New York; Richter, New York.

PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS—Messrs. Adler, New York; Ahern, Rensselaer; Coughtry, Albany; Smith, Dutchess; Griffith, Wayne; Phipps, Orleans; Dickinson, Cortland; Schneider, Erie; Matthews, Kings; Bradley, Erie; Ulmann, New York.

MILITARY AFFAIRS—Messrs. Cotton, Kings; Henry, New York; Davis, New York; McQuade, Oneida; Ruehl, Erie; Landon, Dutchess; Mains, Westchester; Scanlon, New York; Hawkins, Kings; Hasenflug, Kings; Reilly, New York.

SOLDIERS' HOME—Messrs. Platt, Steuben; Swift Broome; Smith, Otsego; Irwin, Washington; Remsen, Kings; McMillan, Schenectady; Hanford, Tioga; Egan, New York; Smith, J. E., New York; Halpin, New York; Ryder, Greene.

CLAIMS—Messrs. Wilson, Kings; Coley, Westchester; Patton, Erie; Seymour, New York; Smith, W. H., New York; Dickinson, Cortland; Blackwell, Kings; Lynn, New York; Fitzgerald, New York.

FEDERAL RELATIONS—Messrs. Ellis, Genesee; Vacheron, Queens; Ahern, Rensselaer; Bell, New York; Brooks, Erie; Bradley, Erie; Hyman, New York; Wilson, New York.

CHARITABLE AND RELIGIOUS SOCIETIES—Messrs. Patton, Erie; Treat, Cayuga; Walrath, Montgomery; Apgar, Westchester; Mansfield, Saratoga; Traub, Onondaga; Roberts, Jefferson; Smith, J. E., New York; Delaney, Kings.

STATE PRISONS—Messrs. Bryan, Jefferson; Knipp, Chemung; Ahern, Rensselaer; Thorn, Ulster; O'Brien, Clinton; Traub, Onondaga; Landon, Dutchess; Holsten, Kings; Bruckner, New York.

PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS—Messrs. Rodenbeck, Monroe; Cook, Erie; Axtell, Delaware; Smith, Lewis; Marson, Oneida; Phillips, Allegany; Lewis, Oswego; Daly, Kings; O'Connell, New York.

TRADES AND MANUFACTURES—Messrs. Darrison, Niagara; Patton, Erie; Waite, Kings; Mains, Westchester; Cadin, Onondaga; Rainey, Kings; Dempsey, New York; Kaiser, Seneca; Ulmann, New York.

AGRICULTURE—Messrs. Phipps, Orleans; Graeff, Essex; Smith, Lewis; Smith, Otsego; Brill, Oneida; Swarts, Yates; Salyerds, Monroe; Geoghan, Erie; Ryder, Greene.

INDIAN AFFAIRS—Messrs. Fancher, Cattaraugus; Baker, Onondaga; Dusinbery, Sullivan; Robinson, Suffolk; Everett, Putnam; Adams, Kings; Meister, New York; Burns, New York; Baum, New York.

RULES—The Speaker, Chautauqua; Messrs Allds, Chenango; Kelsey, Livingston; Bedell, Orange; Frisbie, Schoharie; E. Kelly, Albany.

PRINTED AND ENGROSSED BILLS—Messrs. Babcock, St. Lawrence; Coons, Albany; Allston, Herkimer; Salyerds, Monroe; Fitzpatrick, Kings.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS—Messrs. Gardner, Monroe; Platt, Steuben; Thorn, Ulster; Rierdon, New York; Honeck, New York.

THE SENATE COMMITTEES.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The following committees were appointed in the Senate:

FINANCE Messrs. Higgins, Raines, Malby, Brown, Krum, Stranahan, Humphrey, Armstrong, Stewart, Martin, and Foley.

JUDICIARY—Messrs. Brackett, Krum, Davis, Brown, Elsberg, Thornton, Slater, Mills, McKinney, McCarren, and Dowling.

AFFAIRS OF CITIES—Messrs. Stranahan, White, Davis, Marshall, Elsberg, Foster, Sherwood, Audett, Green, Ahearn, and McCarren.

RAILROADS—Messrs. Raines, Parsons, Wilcox, Brackett, Goodsell, Prime, Green, Willard, Fuller, Martin, and Plunkitt.

CODES—Messrs. Malby, White, Brown, Elsberg, Hill, Slater, McKinney, Trainor, and Hennessy.

TAXATION AND RETRENCHMENT—Messrs. Krum, Higgins, Stranahan, Humphrey, Sherwood, Mills, Wiley, Foley, and Cullen.

COMMERCE AND NAVIGATION—Messrs. Elsberg, Parsons, Foster, Ambler, Hill, Russell, Cocks, Sullivan, and McCarren.

CANALS—Messrs. Davis, White, Humphrey, Wilcox, Sherwood, Fuller, Cocks, Foley, and Ramsperger.

INSURANCE—Messrs. Parsons, Raines, Malby, Thornton, Ambler, Marshall, McEwan, Ahearn, and Donnelly.

MISCELLANEOUS CORPORATIONS—Messrs. Goodsell, Wilcox, Malby, Stewart, McEwan, Sullivan, and Wagner.

BANKS—Messrs. Humphrey, Foster, Audett, Prime, Wiley, Wagner, and Trainor.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS—Messrs. Wilcox, Davis, Thornton, Prime, Fuller, Plunkitt, and Dowling.

FOREST, FISH, AND GAME LAWS—Messrs. Brown, Russell, McKinney, Wiley, Willard, Sullivan, and McCabe.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS OF TOWNS AND COUNTIES—Messrs. Foster, Ambler, Armstrong, McEwan, Willard, Donnelly, and Ramsperger.

PUBLIC EDUCATION—Messrs. White, Parsons, Brackett, Marshall, Mills, Sullivan, and Cullen.

PUBLIC HEALTH—Messrs. Audett, Wilcox, Green, Mills, Cocks, Ramsperger, and McCabe.

MILITARY AFFAIRS—Messrs. Hill, Malby, Armstrong, Wiley, Cocks, Cullen, and Hennessy.

REVISION—Messrs. Fuller, Thornton, Foster, Hill, Green, Donnelly, and Plunkitt.

PRINTED AND ENGROSSED BILLS—Messrs. Marshall, Brown, Slater, Wagner, and Ramsperger.

AFFAIRS OF VILLAGES—Messrs. McEwan, Brackett, Goodsell, Trainor, McCabe.

AGRICULTURE—Messrs. Ambler, Prime, Cocks, Dowling, Hennessy.

PRIVILEGES AND ELECTIONS—Messrs. Thornton, Brackett, Ambler, Donnelly, Trainor.

PUBLIC PRINTING—Messrs. Sherwood, Armstrong, Audett, Cullen, Hennessy.

INDIAN AFFAIRS—Messrs. Russell, White, Stewart, Ahearn, Martin.

ROADS AND BRIDGES—Messrs. Armstrong, McKinney, Willard, Trainor, Hennessy.

TRADE AND MANUFACTURES—Messrs. Slater, Goodsell, Russell, Plunkitt, McCabe.

RULES—Messrs. Ellsworth, Raines, Grady.

SENATOR ELSBERG'S TAX BILL.

Present Plan of Equalization Is Abolished—Each County to Pay a Fixed Proportion.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Senator Elsberg gave an explanation of his tax bill introduced to-night. The provisions of the bill are as follows:

1. For the abolition of the present system of equalizing assessments between the counties and for the determination of the proportion of State taxes to be paid by each county on a mathematical basis as follows:

Each county shall pay such proportion of the State tax as the gross revenue raised by the county bears to the aggregate gross revenue raised by all the counties of the State together.

2. For local option in taxation, each county (or a city where the city includes more than one county) is given the right to determine the classes of property on which taxes shall be levied, provided that no property now exempt from taxation shall be taxed and no class of property not now taxable shall be subjected to taxation. In other words, the localities are given the right to exempt present taxables, but not to add to present taxables. A further proviso is that every exemption of property from taxation which might be made under the provisions of the act shall have uniform operation throughout the county or city in which it is made, and no exemption shall be made on the ground of ownership.

The two great reforms effected by this bill, the Senator said, would be first, that the present iniquitous method of equalizing assessments would be abolished and the functions of the State Board of Tax Commissioners with reference to the apportionment of State taxes would be exercised on a mathematical and equitable basis; and, second, the giving to the counties of local option would clear the way for a better and more scientific tax system.

By the apportionment system many of the up-State counties would benefit in the way of paying a smaller proportion of the State taxes; in fact, every county whose proportion of State tax is more than 9 per cent. of its local revenue would under the system created by the bill pay less of the State tax than it now pays.

This bill is the one unanimously approved by the Chamber of Commerce of New York City at its recent meeting, and it has also received the approval of a large number of bodies throughout the State, including the Central Federated Union and other labor organizations.

BILL TO SUPPRESS GAMBLING.

Makes Bettors Amenable and Owners of Property Used Responsible.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Assemblyman Vacheron of Queens has introduced a bill for the suppression of gambling and pool selling.

It provides that any person who engages in pool selling or bookmaking, and any person who records or registers, bets, or wagers, or sells pools upon the result of any trial or contest of skill, speed, or power of endurance, of man or beast, or upon the result of any political nomination, appointment, or election; or any person who being the owner, lessee, or occupant of any room, shed, tenement, &c., knowingly permits the same to be used or occupied for any of these purposes, is guilty of a misdemeanor, except when another penalty is provided by law, and upon conviction is punishable by a fine of $250, and in default of the payment of such fine, shall be committed to the county jail of the county until such fine be paid or satisfied by imprisonment.

The Superintendent of Elections is charged with the execution of the law, violators of which can be arrested without a warrant by policemen detailed to assist him.

SALE OF THE STATE CANALS.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment to Allow Such Action.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—In the Assembly to-night Mr. Hatch of Steuben introduced a concurrent resolution amending Section 8 of Article 7 of the Constitution, relating to the disposition of the canals giving to the Legislature the power to provide by law for the sale or other disposition of the State canals.

The measure specifies the Erie Canal, the Oswego Canal, the Champlain Canal, the Cayuga and Seneca Canal, and the Black River Canal, and of all the rights, easements, appurtenances, and other property belonging to the State connected with the use of such canals.

TO TAX REAL ESTATE COMPANIES.

Bill Introduced to Remedy Defects in the Corporation Tax Law.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Assemblyman McInerney of New York City introduced a bill to-night which is intended to bring companies who purchase and hold real estate, who are now exempt from taxation, within the provisions of the statute. Speaking of his bill, Mr. McInerney said:

"I have introduced this bill for the purpose of curing some defects in the tax law relative to corporations. Under the construction given by the courts to the statute which provides for the taxation of corporations, many companies have been enabled to escape the payment of taxes. For instance: In a decision which has greatly reduced the State's income from corporations, the Court held that a company organized 'to purchase and hold real estate' was not subject to taxes for the reason that its capital was not 'employed in doing business,' the Court saying, 'If capital can be invested without being employed, the case before us seems to be a fair instance of it.'"

BEST & CO

LILIPUTIAN BAZAAR

Special Sale.

Girls' Muslin Underwear.

The following lines are offered at the lowest prices ever made on similar desirable goods. All are clean, fresh, well made, nicely trimmed garments, and deserve the attention of every mother.

Misses' Skirts,

all sizes, 4 to 18 years,

39c., 59c., 65c., 98c., $1.10 and $1.65.

Misses' Night Gowns,

39c., 59c., 69c., 79c., 89c. and $1.10.

60-62 West 23d Street.

Imprisonment for Judgment Debts.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Assemblyman Prince introduced a bill to-night for the better collection of judgments obtained in favor of wage earners. The bill has the support of all the labor organizations of the State. It provides that in an action brought in the municipal court of New York City by a wage earner to recover for wages earned, the judgment given for a sum not exceeding $50, exclusive of costs, shall provide that the defendant shall be liable to arrest and imprisonment upon execution. The defendant arrested by virtue of an execution against his person must be actually confined in jail for fifteen days.

For Vestibuled Cars in Brooklyn.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Assemblyman Adams of Brooklyn to-night introduced a bill to compel the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company to place vestibuled cars on its street surface roads.

Bill to Cede Governors Island.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Senator Ellsworth will introduce a bill conferring power upon the State Land Board to cede Governors Island to the Federal Government. The purpose to which the island is to be devoted are the defenses of New York Harbor and in connection with the improvement of Buttermilk Channel.

OTHER BILLS INTRODUCED.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The following bills were introduced in the Senate:

Senator RUSSELL—Authorizing Rensselaer County to obtain title to all toll roads within its limits.

Senator BRACKETT—Providing that employers shall be fully responsible for all accidents to employes during hours of labor.

Senator WAGNER—Amending tax laws by fixing the property as place of taxation instead of residence.

Senator WAGNER—A concurrent resolution requesting Congress to abolish the war tax on beer.

Senator STRANAHAN—Increasing the salary of the Deputy State Controller from $4,000 to $4,500.

The following bills were introduced in the Assembly:

Mr. McINERNY—To tax trust companies the same as banks.

Mr. J. E. SMITH—Amending the Penal Code so as to permit private individuals to manufacture their own soda water.

Mr. HENRY—Providing that the non-voting list shall be exhausted first in the drawing of panels for juries; also providing for a thorough description on naturalization papers.

APPOINTED BY THE GOVERNOR.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Gov. Odell to-night sent the following nominations to the Senate:

Member State Board of Mediation and Arbitration—Bernard Stark, Albany County.

Trustee New York State Soldiers and Sailors' Home—Thomas W. Bradley of Orange County, to fill the vacancy created by the failure to qualify of Thomas R. Prestor.

Manager Binghamton State Hospital—G. W. Fairchild of Otsego County, to succeed John W. Stanborough, whose term of office as such manager has expired.

State Tax Commissioner—J. Edgar Leaycraft, (reappointed,) New York County.

Superintendent of Public Works—John L. Partridge of Kings County, (reappointed.)

Managers Buffalo State Hospital—Thomas Lathrop, M. D., Erie County, (reappointed;) Walter S. Cooke of Erie County to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Daniel H. McMillan.

Manager Hudson River State Hospital—George M. Hina of Dutchess County, vice Eugene N. Howell.

Manager Manhattan State Hospital—Louisa Pierpont Satterlee of New York County, whose name has been thus changed from Louisa Pierpont Morgan by marriage.

The reappointment of John L. Partridge and of the present members of the Board of Trustees of the State Consumptives' Hospital, and the appointment of Cuthbert W. Pond as Civil Service Commissioner were confirmed.

ASTORIA LAND CASE DECIDED.

Appellate Division Says Grant to the Astoria Company Is Valid.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The Appellate Division here has handed down a decision in the case of the application of the City of New York to review the proceedings of the State Land Board in granting to the Astoria Light, Heat and Power Company land under water in Queens County, sustaining the grant and holding that the New York City Dock Board veto is of no value as against the Land Board's decision.

The contention of the City of New York was that the Dock Board of that city alone had the right to determine whether or not a grant of land under water within the limits of the greater city should be made, and that, having once determined against the issuance of a grant, the State Land Board had no right to make one. In other words, that the veto of the Dock Board of the City of New York divested the Commissioners of the Land Office of their jurisdiction over lands under water in the City of New York.

Pending action in this case the State Land Board had postponed consideration of some forty applications for grants of land under water in the City of New York. These will now be taken up in their regular order and will be passed upon on their merits.

Decision as to Tax Deeds.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The question of the liability of the State under its quit claim letters patent for lands acquired at tax sales and sold at State Engineer's sale was settled in the Appellate Division to-day by a decision which holds that the State need not refund the money paid when title to the lands granted fails.

BROOKLYN RAPID TRANSIT TAX.

Appellate Division Says Company Must Pay the State $53,499.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The Appellate Division has fixed the amount of property of the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company taxable in this State, for State purposes, at $34,997,501, and the tax thereon at $53,499.

COLOMBIA'S CONSUL MARRIED.

Archbishop Corrigan Officiates at a Wedding in the Cathedral.

Arturo de Brigard, Consul General of Colombia, and Miss Ana Gomez of Carthagena, Colombia, were married at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Chapel of St. Patrick's Cathedral. Archbishop Corrigan officiated.

Andre Gomez acted as best man, and Miss Matilda Parraga as maid of honor. Among the guests were Emilino Isaza, Commissioner of the Colombian Government; M. Comancho Roldan, Mr. and Mrs. Rafael Parraga, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lee and Joaquin Ferro.

LEGISLATURE ACTS ON THE ECONOMY PLANS

Bills Introduced on Lines of Gov. Odell's Recommendations.

Consolidation of Commissions and Bureaus Proposed—List of Legislature's Employes Cut Down.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The Legislature to-night took cognizance of the important recommendations made by Gov. Odell in his first annual message in very prompt fashion. Bills relating to the most drastic changes advised by the Governor were introduced in both Houses.

Chief among the bills were measures carrying out the "plan of economy" providing a substitution for the Fish, Forest, and Game and Forest Preserve Commissions of a single Commissioner, who will have the advice of two State officers to serve without salary, and for the consolidation of all the labor bureaus into a single-headed commission.

In both the Senate and the House there was manifest a disposition to follow Gov. Odell in his suggestions for economic reforms even in their personnel. When the list of Senate and House officers was announced it was found that many of the old-time employes who have been carried on the rolls merely because of political influence are not included. It is estimated that the cutting down of the number of employes will result in a saving of nearly two-thirds of the amount expended for salaries of Senate and House employes last year.

FOREST AND GAME COMMISSION

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Assemblyman Allds to-night introduced a bill legislating the Forest Preserve Board out of office, and practically making the Forest, Fish, and Game Commission a single-headed body, although still composed of three members.

There are to be three Commissioners appointed by the Governor, with the consent of the Senate. Two of the Commissioners are to be appointed from the Commissioners of the land office, or in other words are to be State officers serving in a sense ex officio. The third member is to be appointed for two years, and his successors for a term of three years. He is to be President of the commission. The appointment of the new commission is to be made twenty days after the law goes into effect. The salary of the President of the commission is to be $5,000 per annum. The land board members are to serve without compensation. All members are to receive compensation for expenses necessarily incurred.

The bill provides that the Forest, Fish, and Game Commission to be hereafter appointed shall constitute the Forest Preserve Board, and perform the duties now imposed by law upon the latter body. The bill further provides that the Attorney General shall designate attorneys and counsel to be employed upon work connected with the Forest Preserve Board, subject to the approval of the latter.

STATE LABOR COMMISSIONER.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—Senator Ellsworth introduced in the Senate to-night a bill consolidating the three State departments relating to labor and placing the affairs of all in the hands of a State Commissioner of Labor.

The commissions affected by the measure are the Board of Arbitration and Mediation, the Bureau of Labor Statistics, and the office of the Factory Inspector. The State Commissioner of Labor will be appointed for three years, and will have a salary of $3,500 per annum. He will have two deputies at $2,500 each, and the various work of the three commissions will be divided into departments, which will be conducted by the Commissioner and his deputies. The employes under the first deputy in the various departments remain.

LEGISLATURE'S PROCEEDINGS.

ALBANY, Jan. 9.—The principal feature of the assembling of the two houses of the Legislature to-night was the appointment of committees and clerks, and the reception of a list of appointments by the Governor. A number of minor appointments were made in the Senate and also in the Assembly.

It was 8:45 o'clock when Lieut. Gov. Woodruff called the Senate to order. The standing committees were immediately announced. The dispositions of the various Senators aroused considerable interest, and generally the Republicans were pleased with the assignments. By resolution of Senator Raines, the President pro tem. and Senator Grady were made ex officio members of the Committees on Finance, Insurance, Judiciary, and Cities.

The Governor's secretary brought a number of appointments.

By resolution of Senator Ellsworth the sessions of the Legislature will begin daily at 11 A. M. except on Monday, when they will begin at 8:30 P. M., and on Fridays at 10 A. M.

The Senate adjourned at 9:30 o'clock until 11 o'clock to-morrow morning.

There was a large crowd of interested spectators in the Assembly when Speaker Nixon's gavel fell, shortly after 8:30 o'clock.

The first order of business was the Speaker's announcement of committee designations, which was followed by a long list of appointments of minor officials. Several important bills were introduced, after which a resolution was presented by Mr. Allds fixing the session hours. It was the same as that introduced in the Senate.

Lehigh Valley's Artistic Advertising.

The Lehigh Valley Railroad is spending considerable money for artistic advertising. It has just issued to its patrons an Albertype picture of New York City, as seen from the North River ferryboats. The city's sky-line is shown with great distinctness, and the tall buildings stand out with remarkable impressiveness. The view reaches from the City Hall to the Battery, including almost all the well-known structures in the down-town district. Another bit of neat work is the road's calendar for 1901.

Action on Judge Benedict's Death.

Judge Thomas of the United States District Court has requested the members of the bar to meet in the courtroom in the Brooklyn Post Office Building to-morrow afternoon, to take action on the death of Judge Charles L. Benedict. They will thereafter attend the funeral services in the Church of the Pilgrims at 2:30 o'clock.

FORTY-FIRST ANNUAL STATEMENT

Home Life Insurance Company

GEORGE E. IDE, President.

NO. 256 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.

JANUARY 1ST, 1901.

ASSETS.		LIABILITIES.
Bonds and Mortgages	$3,708,785.00	Policy Reserve (Per Certificate of New York Insurance Department)	$10,132,712.00
Bonds and Stocks (market value)	5,141,104.96	Present Value of all Dividend-Endowment Accumulations (Deferred Dividends)	736,337.00
Real Estate	1,740,748 54	Other Liabilities	124,734.47
Collateral Loans	33,500.00	Fund voluntarily set aside to meet possible fluctuations in price of securities, etc.	65,875.00
Loans to Policy-holders	1,080,455.81	Net Surplus	1,282,588.30
Cash in Banks and Trust Companies	348,500 82
Interest and Rents Due and Accrued	67,230.06
Premiums in transit and Deferred Premiums, less cost of collection	221,921.58
Total Admitted Assets	$12,342,246.77	Total	$12,342,246.77

INCOME IN 1900.		DISBURSEMENTS IN 1900.
Premiums	$2,035,814.92	Total Payments	$1,720,256.27
Interest, Rents and other Receipts	552,489.00	Including Death Claims, Matured Endowments and Annuities $682,927.17; Dividends to Policy-holders 177,799.82; Surrender Values 136,410.83
		Balance,—Excess Income over Disbursements	868,049.65
Total Income	$2,588,303.92	Total Disbursements and Balance	$2,588,303.92

NUMBER OF POLICIES IN FORCE, 29,203, being an increase of	2,941
AMOUNT OF INSURANCE IN FORCE, $54,069,852.00, being an increase of	$4,811,155.00
RECEIVED FROM POLICY-HOLDERS since organization, 1860	34,922,843.87
RETURNED TO POLICY-HOLDERS and now held for their benefit	35,331,978.33

RESULTS OF THE YEAR 1900.

	PER CENT.		PER CENT.
Increase in Total Income	9.11	Increase in Insurance in Force	9.77
" " New Premium income	9.12	" " Deferred Dividend Fund	17.49
" " Renewal Premium Income	7.61	" " Insurance in Force to Insurance Issued	44.00
" " Admitted Assets	8.75	" " Surplus	6.59
" " Total Reserve Liability	8.27

WILLIAM M. ST. JOHN, Vice-President.

ELLIS W. GLADWIN, Secretary. WILLIAM A. MARSHALL, Actuary.

FRANK W. CHAPIN, Medical Director. WILLIAM G. LOW, Counsel.

DIRECTORS.

WM. G. LOW,	THOMAS T. BARR,	ELLIS W. GLADWIN,	E. LE GRAND BEERS,
THOS. H. MESSENGER,	GEORGE E. IDE,	JOHN E. BORNE,	COURTLANDT P. DIXON,
J. WARREN GREENE,	CHAS. W. IDE,	JNO. S. FROTHINGHAM,	ANTON A. RAVEN,
HENRY E. PIERREPONT,	WM. A. NASH,	MARTIN JOOST,	FRANCIS L. HINE,
LEMUEL H. ARNOLD,	JOHN F. PRAEGER,	WM. M. ST. JOHN,	JAMES McGOVERN.

WOOL MANUFACTURERS MEET.

Discuss a National Textile Chamber of Commerce.

The establishment of a National Textile Chamber of Commerce was one of the subjects discussed yesterday at the thirty-sixth annual meeting of the National Association of Wool Manufacturers at the Hotel Savoy. The idea is that the trade shall have a body which may decide, without reference to the courts, disputes which may arise between manufacturers and dealers. The proposition was referred to the Executive Committee. Another matter considered was the collection of data to enlighten the members as to the condition of business by ascertaining the annual output and the busy and dull seasons.

Charles H. Harding of Philadelphia is President of the association. Among those present yesterday were Secretary S. N. D. North of Boston, Benjamin Phipps of Boston, John N. Carpender of New Brunswick, N. J.; David L. Einstein of Raritan, N. J.; H. L. James of Rockville, Conn.; F. S. Clark of North Billerica, Mass.; John P. Wood of Philadelphia, William C. Greene of Peacedale, R. I.; Charles H. Stott of Lowell, Mass.; John Hopewell of Boston, E. M. Goodall of Sanford, Mass.; F. W. Hobbs of Lawrence, Mass.; Galen C. Moses of Bath, Me.; W. J. Battison of Boston, C. B. Rockwell of Bristol, R. I.; A. Park Hammond of Rockville, Conn.; Justin A. Wayre of Worcester, Mass.; George M. Bassett of Worcester, Mass.; William White of North Adams, Mass., and Edward Denny of Worcester, Mass.

The following officers were elected: President—Charles H. Harding, Philadelphia; Vice Presidents—James Phillips, Jr., Fitchburg, Mass.; John N. Carpender, New Brunswick, N. J.; George Sykes, Rockville, Conn.; Treasurer—Benjamin Phipps, Boston; Secretary—S. N. D. North, Boston, and an Executive Committee of fifteen members.

Secretary North reported that he expected the Fifty-seventh Congress would attempt a readjustment of the tariff affecting wool, and it was well for the association to be prepared to meet any emergency. The past year, Mr. North declares, was the severest the wool business has ever known, while the losses have been greater than ever before. The course of prices had been directly contrary to prediction.

Mr. North expressed a belief that the worst is well behind the wool manufacturers, and that there is a fair prospect for them of participating in the general prosperity of the country. Mr. North also advocates the enactment of a Federal law making the use of the metric system of weights and measures, particularly in the numbering of yarns, compulsory. The meeting was supplemented by a dinner last night, at which several speeches were made.

President Harding spoke of the quick adaptation of the wool manufacturers to popular demands, both in the way of producing the finest goods and the cheapest fabrics, displaying a quick invention and equally prompt appropriation of methods. He said:

"For the best classes of fabrics, knit or woven, only caprice or hide-bound habit can now be offered in excuse for asking for 'goods from abroad.' Domestic manufactures are now made from the world's finest wools, and of the highest style. With the world approaching our standard of textile wages, with the inventive tact of Americans, and with the establishment of textile machine shops to make, develop, and improve textile machinery, and supply it at prices greatly less than the present duty-paid prices of foreign-made machinery, the export of American woolens will some day cease to be a dream."

George H. Sutton, Senator Warren of Wyoming, S. Uchida, the Japanese Consul General in this city; John Hopewell of Boston, and Major Charles A. Stott of Lowell, Mass., were the other speakers.

THE NEW CONGRESS DISTRICTS

Thought They Will Be Formed in a Manner Favorable to Republicans.

The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store

A Very Remarkable Offering of Fine CLOTHING for BOYS

If there is a boy in Greater New York, or near it, that has need of a new suit or overcoat this is the day of opportunity to supply clothes of high character at prices not to be matched in a twelve-month.

Many of to-day's prices will scarcely buy the cheapest cotton-mixed goods of sweat-shop make. Yet the Wanamaker Store hasn't a boy's suit or overcoat at any price that is not made of absolutely all-wool cloth, stylish, new, and thoroughly and honestly made at every point.

Many of the garments offered to-day are kinds most asked for. Then there are a few that haven't sold fast enough—maybe the prices were not popular; but that defect is wiped away to-day by such new prices as should clean up this stock in a jiffy.

The news in detail follows:

Russian Blouse Suits—
For boys of 3 to 7 years. Smart, handsome suits that parents love to see on the little fellows—all beautifully made. These two groups:

At $3.75—Suits worth $5 to $6.50
At $5—Suits worth $7.50 and $8

and they are new and highly desirable suits that deserve every cent of their full price at the present moment.

Russian Overcoats—
For boys of 3 to 7 years. Of choicest fabrics, in most popular colors—

$7.50 to $10 Overcoats at $5

You can scarcely find better styles at any price.

Boys' Overcoats—
For ages 4 to 10 years. Smartly tailored coats, though not our best styles. Splendid for school wear.

At $3.75—Values $6.50 and more

Pure wool, remember; well made, too.

Single and Double-breasted Suits—
For boys of 9 to 16 years. Handsome stylish suits of finest cheviots and cassimeres—

At $5, from $9 and $10

All highly desirable suits of the newest patterns.

Raglan Overcoats—
Raglans and Raglan Paddocks, for boys of 6 to 16 years; in Oxford, olive and green-mixed cheviots—beautiful coats, with every touch of grace and style. Two groups:

$11 to $15 Overcoats at $9
$16.50 to $20 Overcoats at $12

Velveteen Sailor Suits—
For boys of 3 to 12 years. Stylish, dressy suits that are handsome and highly serviceable—

At $5, from $10

For 3, 4 and 5-year-old Boys—
Just these sizes in Sailor Suits, Vestee and Russian Blouse Suits—that's why they are marked at to-day's ridiculous price—

$2.50 a Suit

They're all pure wool—remember that; and no pure wool suit of any sort can be bought for that price regularly. These are worth double and more. A few sailor suits in sizes for 11 and 12 years.

Boys' Reefers—
For ages 3 to 8 years. Of tan, Cambridge and brown mixed frieze, with shield fronts—

At $3.50, from $6

News enough to bring hundreds of parents, rain or shine. Goods of this character, and such variety, are worth taking pains to share. Lots are large in some cases, small in others. Prompt folks will fare best.

Second floor, Ninth street.

The Sale of Parlor FURNITURE

Perhaps you were not planning to buy furniture this month. But this movement suggests large economies for those who revise their plans.

A saving of from five dollars on a chair to a hundred dollars on a parlor cabinet is well worth taking advantage of, a few weeks, or even a few months earlier than you expected.

All of these reductions are on goods of the highest character, and there is splendid variety to select from.

These hints of prices:

Parlor Suites—
At $35, from $58—Three pieces; imitation; tapestry cover.
At $49, from $75—Three pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $60, from $90—Five pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $65, from $86—Three pieces; imitation; tapestry cover.
At $72.50, from $92—Three pieces; mahogany; velour cover.
At $75, from $100—Five pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $82.50, from $110—Three pieces; mahogany; tapestry cover.
At $90, from $185—Three pieces; green and gold; damask cover.
At $100, from $190—Four pieces; mahogany; velour cover.
At $110, from $180—Three pieces; mahogany; damask cover.
At $117.50, from $154—Three pieces; mahogany; damask cover.
At $125, from $200—Three pieces; mahogany; tapestry cover.
At $132.50, from $178—Three pieces; mahogany; velour cover.
At $150, from $210—Five pieces; mahogany; tapestry cover.
At $200, from $285—Three pieces; mahogany; Empire; damask cover.

Sofas—
At $35, from $70—Mahogany divan; velour cover.
At $37.50, from $65—Mahogany sofa; velour cover.
At $47.50, from $60—Mahogany sofa; tapestry cover.
At $60, from $90—Mahogany sofa; denim cover.
At $75, from $95—Mahogany sofa; tapestry cover.
At $60, from $120—Mahogany sofa; velour cover.

Odd Chairs—
At $10, from $15—Imitation chair; damask cover.
At $12, from $18.50—Mahogany chair; damask cover.
At $15, from $20—Mahogany chair; tapestry cover.
At $16, from $25—Oak arm chair; velour cover.

Music Cabinets—
At $5.25, from $10.50—Imitation mahogany.
At $7.50, from $12—Imitation mahogany
At $15, from $24—Mahogany inlaid.
At $16, from $25—Mahogany.
At $22, from $35—Mahogany.
At $25, from $40—Mahogany.
At $28, from $40—Mahogany.

Parlor Cabinets—
At $30, from $46—Mahogany.
At $32.50, from $55—Mohogany.
At $42.50, from $56—Vernis-Martin.
At $55, from $85—Vernis-Martin.
At $60, from $100—Vernis-Martin.
At $75, from $125—Vernis-Martin.
At $95, from $140—Gold.
At $175, from $275—Vernis-Martin.

Fourth avenue.

Men's Trousers

About two hundred and fifty black cheviot trousers that remain from full lines have been gathered up. All comparatively new, in this season's cut, and of good honest materials—kinds that would be priced regularly up to $6. All at one price now—$3.50 each.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Men's Neckwear

Just before the holidays, yet too late to derive any benefit from the active demand usual at that period, we came across this bit of good fortune. A maker offered his entire stock of narrow four-in-hands at half the regular price. The stock is here. It embraces a wide variety of good patterns and colorings. And the price shall be 25c for choice. Regularly the price would be 50c.

Men's Store, Broadway and Ninth.

WOMEN'S NECKWEAR Some Opportunities

Choosing among this stock of dainty neckwear for women is at once easy and difficult. Easy, because there's no question but that your desires can be speedily met from among the collection. Difficult, because so many attractive creations dispute the right of precedence in your favor. Ruffs? The newest conceits in these charming, fluffy bits of silk, chenille and feathers are here, from those of Liberty silk, with plaited ends, at $1, to ruffs of ostrich plumes, with chenille ends, at $18.

Two exceptionally attractive offerings among the stock are ruffs of black Liberty silk, with plaited ends, at $1, worth $1.50; and ruffs of black taffeta silk, edged with chenille, and chenille ends, at $2, fully worth $3.

Broadway and Tenth street.

Enameled Ware

Ten Cents Each for all of these various pieces, though if they were altogether faultless they'd be priced at 25c to 45c. They are perfect on the inside, and that's the really important feature. Nearly every piece of any sort is likely to be chipped a bit after the first time it's used. And there's nothing more serious with any piece in this collection. Just slight blemishes on the outside, and 10c for the regular 25c to 45c kinds.

There are Wash Basins, in 3 sizes; Milk Pans, in 2 sizes; Pudding Pans, in 2 sizes; 1-quart Covered Buckets, 4-quart Milk Cans, Cake Moulds, Tea and Coffee Pots, Cuspidors—10c each.

Basement.

All Around the Store

Women's Hemstitched Handkerchiefs. Among the generous assortment of our pure-linen handkerchiefs for women, are some hemstitched, with neat hand-embroidered initial, at 75c a dozen, that would be moderately priced at $1. Also scalloped and embroidered handkerchiefs, usually sold at 25c and 35c each, that are marked 18c and 25c.

Tally Cards. Many a party is being planned, for which these score cards are essential. We have just received a full assortment of them of numerous attractive and individual designs, at prices ranging from 15c to 50c a dozen.

Down Quilts. Delightfully warm and comfortable; filled with pure odorless down, which will not shed; covered with sateen, figured both sides. The price on them has been reasonable at $5, but we've marked a lot of them $4 each.

Skating Shoes. They're a timely subject, while the red ball is up—in fact, all winter long, now that the skating is independent of the weather out-doors. We have them for men and women, built to fit properly, support the ankles and afford a firm hold for the skates, without pinching or binding anywhere. With such shoes, skating becomes an unalloyed delight.

Lace Stripes and other Fancy Muslins, in a wide variety of the coming season's designs, but in small sample lots, are offered at 12½c a yard. Their counterparts will be sold, a little later, at double this price.

Men's Underwear. At $1, shirts or drawers of heavy weight natural colored merino; durable in quality, strongly put together and neatly finished. The best value-for-price we know about.

Cream Almonds. We have made a particularly low price, for to-day only, on these delicious almonds. Freshest of nuts and finest of sugar—vanilla and rose flavors. 20c a pound, instead of 30c.

Little Clocks, with ornamental dials, in cases of Vienna leather, fancifully

Women's Washable Gloves. There's no extravagance involved in wearing light colored gloves which can be cleaned with a sponge and water. We have just received a supply of our own "Royale" washable pique gloves, two-clasp, for women, in tan, cream, pearl and white. $1.50 a pair.

Carved Ivories at Half Price. The Japanese Store holds a fascinating collection of delicately carved bits of ivory, which, though moderately priced at $5 to $65, are now exceptionally cheap at $2.50 to $32.50. A pearl cabinet at $37.50, formerly $75, and pearl inlaid tables, one of which is $25, instead of $65, are also to be found there.

New Foulards from London. They are all hand-printed, in a wealth of strikingly rich, but harmonious colorings and original designs. Prices vary according to the elaborateness of the colorings, but all are moderate—$1.25, $1.35 and $1.50.

Double Satin Damask Linen, made from the famous Courtrai flax, is now priced at $1.25 a yard—a saving of fifty cents a yard over last week's price. Patterns are exclusively ours. Damask napkins to match, 22 in. square, are reduced from $3.75 to $2.90 a dozen.

Window Mirrors. Some people call them "busybodies." When properly adjusted outside of a window, nothing passing on the street below escapes their watchful attention. Particularly entertaining for invalids or all those who are housed. $3 and $3.75.

Tooth-brush Racks, to hang up, holding two brushes, and ornamented with a grotesque Japanese mask, are 25c each.

Silk Hand Screens or Fans, decorated with the flags and colors of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania and Cornell, suitable for favors, are 25c each, in either of two sizes.

Sterling Silver Pencils. A number of handsome designs in different sizes, of these always useful pencils, are priced at scarcely their bullion value—less than one-

New SILKS

The Japanese washable silks are here, more beautiful than ever, in wider assortment than ever.

Particularly handsome are the black and white effects, some of the patterns on shot ground. But there's richness, too, in plenty among the brilliant colors—the pinks and the blues with stripes of white, in plain and elegant corded effects.

Price? Very little. The genuine Habutais are 50c a yard; the corded effects, 45c a yard.

Rotunda.

Linen BATISTES Half Price or Less

You'll thank us later for impressing upon you this golden opportunity to buy now goods that are destined to become immensely popular this season—for this is going to be a linen year—and at prices from a third to a half of their imported value. Never mind who lost by the transaction; it's for you to grasp this splendid value now. Half of the twelve thousand yards we told you about a day or two ago have gone, but there are still 30 attractive patterns to choose among; brightly colored silk stripes, plaids, embroidered figures, on natural linen ground.

And the price, for 37½c and 50c values, is but

Eighteen Cents a Yard

Rotunda.

FURS Reduced

High-grade Furs. Splendid seal garments, rich royal sable set, beautiful broadtail coat and so on. And all at new lower prices. At the season's beginning they were priced very moderately—lower than furs of such high order of excellence sell for usually elsewhere. Now a full quarter has been taken from each price, as follows:

Extra long Scarf and Muff of Imperial Russian Sable, $375 for the set; was $500 yesterday.
Handsome Mink Cape, made of choice Eastern skins; $337.50, from $450.
Seal Coat, with collar and deep revers of Hudson Bay sable, $281.25, from $375.
Seal Coat, with deep revers and collar of chinchilla, $262.50, from $350.
Broad-tail Coat, with collar and revers of real chinchilla, $262.50, from $350.
Seal Coat, with collar and revers of blended baum marten, $225, from $300.
Seal Coat, with chinchilla trimming, $206.25, from $275.
Extra Choice Fisher Cluster Scarf and Muff, $131.25, from $175.

Second floor, Broadway.

WRAPPERS Under-price

Two lots of comfortable, well made Wrappers that will likely be sold in a jiffy to-day:

At $1, from $1.25 and $1.75—Of flannelette in dark grounds, with neat fancy stripes or figures; body lined; 3 styles; trimmed with fancy braid or cord; all have ruffle on skirt.

At $2, from $2.75 to $4.50—Of German flannel; 4 styles, light and dark grounds, with fancy stripes or figures; trimmed with braid or velvet ribbon.

Second floor.

New Offerings Come to the Under-price Store

And they'll continue to come daily now. Bargain-seekers should not fail to watch these announcements. Desirable goods of all kinds will be on sale here from time to time, and always priced way below regular.

Sheets and Pillow Cases—
They're priced at about the cost of the muslin by the yard. Absolutely nothing for the making, though that's far superior to most home-work. The prices quoted below are lower than they're likely to be soon again. All of very good durable muslin.
54x90 in., 37c; 63x90 in., 40c; 63x99 in., 44c; 72x90 in., 45c; 72x99 in., 49c; 81x90 in., 50c; 81x99 in., 55c; 90x99 in., 60c.
Bleached Pillow Cases—42x36 in., 10c; 45x36 in., 11c; 50x38½ in., 13c; 54x38½ in., 15c.

35c White Lawn Aprons at 25c
A very good white lawn, and well and neatly made; various attractive styles. Easily worth 10c more, even according to our very reasonable valuation.

Initial Bath Towels, 15c each—
One hundred dozen of these. Snow-white, with turkey red borders, the initial in white; 20x38 in. Would be moderately priced at 20c.

Memorandum Tablets—

Women's Handkerch'fs so Cheap
Various excellent grades and desirable styles in this offering. All pure linen, of course. Some hemstitched handkerchiefs that are regularly $3 a dozen, are now marked $2, or 17c each. Another quality, regularly $4.20 a dozen, is now $2.50 a dozen, or 21c each; and some that were 35c each are now 25c. Embroidered handkerchiefs that were 25c are now 18c.

Fancy China at Half Price—
Austrian and French china plates and cups and saucers, beautifully decorated in floral designs, and gilded, at 25c each. Good value at 50c.

Books at 10c each—
They are neatly bound in cloth. About 1,000 volumes in this offering, comprising history, fiction and so on—odds and ends of lots from which we sold a very large number at 15c and 25c each.

Papeteries Greatly Reduced—
They have attractively illustrated covers. Prices have been 35c and 50c. Choice

The CARPET SALE Carpet Sample Rugs To-day

Fifteen hundred Rugs are ready this morning. Made from the samples of carpet which we show during the season. They are a yard to a yard and a half long, in Wilton, Axminster, Body and Tapestry Brussels; all neatly bound at the ends. Now marked at which is about half their value. These sales are watched for and the Rugs eagerly bought. This hint for promptness.

25c to $1.75 Each,

There is still good picking among the carpet remnants; though principally in two lines:

Axminsters at 50c to $1, from $1 to $1.65
Ingrains at 30c to 50c, from 70c

The other sorts are in small quantities that will just suit some people, but too few to talk about here.

Third floor

Muslin UNDERWEAR

Why do we sell such vast quantities of the White Garments in January? Principally because the time suits our convenience and yours—also the manufacturers. On our part we can afford to give buying time in midsummer and selling time in January to a movement that affords little profit. The store is too busy to devote to a White Sale in April, and you are then too busy with more important matters of dress to bother with underwear buying. You are as much interested in having it all over as we are. Then when we add to your convenience such prices on goods as well made, or better made, than in any other regular stock, there is little wonder that there is such tremendous buying at this time.

The savings are large and positive. These price-hints to-day:

Night Gowns—
75c—Of muslin, with yoke of 4 rows of insertion and cluster of plaits; V-neck trimmed with torchon lace.
85c—Of cambric, with square neck, trimmed with lawn ruffle, and edge of torchon lace.
$1—Of fine muslin, with yoke of 2 rows of insertion and cluster of plaits; V-neck trimmed with neat embroidery.
$1.25—Of cambric, with square neck; yoke of cluster of plaits and neat embroidered insertion; neck and sleeves trimmed with embroidery.
Other styles, 38c to $9.

Petticoats—
$1—Of cambric, with deep lawn ruffle, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertion.
$1.25—Of cambric, with umbrella ruffle of lawn, 2 gathered ruffles and 6 rows of hemstitching in clusters.
$1.50—Of cambric, with umbrella ruffle of lawn, trimmed with torchon lace, and plaits above.
$1.75—Of cambric, with umbrella ruffle of lawn, trimmed with handsome embroidery and plaits.
Other styles, 35c to $15.

Chemises—
40c—Of cambric, with square neck, trimmed with torchon lace; cambric ruffle on skirts.
60c—Of nainsook, with round neck, trimmed with Valenciennes lace.
85c—Of nainsook, with round neck, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, insertion and ribbon.
Other styles, 25c to $4.50.

Drawers—
25c—Of muslin, with cambric ruffle and plain hem; plaits above.
30c—Of cambric, with gathered ruffle, trimmed with torchon lace.
50c—Of cambric, with deep ruffle of lawn; plain hem hemstitched, and hemstitched plaits above.
Other styles, 15c to $4.25.

Short Petticoats—
35c—Of muslin, with deep cambric ruffle; plain hem, hemstitched.
50c—Of muslin, trimmed with ruffle of fine embroidery, and plaits above.
75c—Of cambric, with deep lawn ruffle, trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.
Other styles, 25c to $2.75.

Second floor and Basement.

Fancy ARTICLES At a Little Price

Main aisle counters are filled with these pretty articles to-day—work boxes, collar-and-cuff boxes, handkerchief and glove boxes, necktie boxes, in leatherette, fancy cretonne in dainty colors, and other flowered cloths. Also some handkerchief cases of plaited straw. Various sizes, large and small. You can choose as you will for

Twenty-five cents each

And there is nothing worth less than 50c, and many worth much more.

Women's Fine French UNDERWEAR

There's a notable showing of new Paris lingerie in the well-known French room, second floor. This elegant little store has been called "Au Petit Paris." And not in any one store in all Paris, we believe, is there so varied an assortment as this bijou establishment contains. Shipments began to arrive a month ago, and have been coming continuously ever since. The last pieces from the last shipment were taken from the cases only yesterday. All the newest ideas in the cut and trimming of fine underclothing are here represented.

Wholly new thoughts find happy expression in effects that will delight the eyes of women generally. As to what the newness consists of, you don't want to be told—couldn't tell you if we tried. You'll only be satisfied with a personal viewing anyhow.

This hints as to prices:

Night Gowns, $4.50 to $30; Corset Covers, $2 to $14; Petticoats, $4.50 to $38; Short Petticoats, $2.50 to $18; Drawers, $2.50 to $30; Chemises, $2.25 to $20.

ARGUMENTS CONTINUED IN PORTO RICAN CASES

Mr. Coudert Concludes and the Solicitor General Begins.

Mr. Richards Maintains that the Island Is Not a Part but a Possession of This Country.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Upon the reconvening of the United States Supreme Court to-day, F. R. Coudert, Jr., resumed his argument in the Porto Rican cases, continuing his contention that Porto Rico is not foreign territory, and hence that it is incompetent for the Government authorities to levy and collect duties upon articles imported from Porto Rico to New York. Before taking up the thread of his argument, Mr. Coudert undertook to respond to a question propounded to him yesterday by Justice Brown. The question was whether a country can cease to be a foreign country and yet not be part of the United States—whether there is an intermediate condition.

Replying, Mr. Coudert expressed the opinion that such a condition might exist temporarily, and he added that the Supreme Court had recognized it in dealing with Tampico, in the case of Fléming vs. Page, and in dealing with California, in the case of Cross vs. Harrison, before the acquisition of California by the United States was completed.

In such cases, he said, there was still a foreign element to be reckoned with, and the assumption of authority was military in character. This assumption could be only tenporary, and in case of the subsequent acquisition of the country in question, civil government must of necessity supersede the military control. On the other hand, if the territory is not acquired and is restored, the foreign sovereign takes control without any ostentation, showing that all the time its rights have existed, though they have been dormant.

Mr. Coudert contended that in a case of acquisition the dividing line is passed when a treaty of acquisition is signed and ratified. When, he said, the United States sanctions acquisition by the ratification of a treaty, it thus signalizes control of and sovereignty over new territory. This, he asserted, had been done in the case of Porto Rico in the treaty of 1898, and by that treaty Porto Rico had become as much a part of the United States as California had become through the proceedings subsequent to the war with Mexico.

Mr. Coudert then resumed his regular argument, taking up the question as to what part of the Constitution applies to Porto Rico. He followed his brief quite closely in this part of his address. Before he concluded he was subjected to a number of questions from the bench, and he obtained leave to file a supplementary brief which it is presumed will contain replies to them.

ALPHONSO HART'S ARGUMENT.

Mr. Coudert was followed by Alphonso Hart, who spoke especially of the Armstrong case, in which the question involved is the collection of duty on goods shipped from New York to Porto Rico. He contended that the Constitution of the United States extends over every portion of the National domain, whether State, Territory, or District, and that as Porto Rico was ceded to the United States by the Paris treaty, there was an absolute change of sovereignty and of title. He also argued that the President, being an executive officer only there, had no right to impose duties on commerce between Porto Rico and "other parts of the United States" by executive order after the ratification of the Paris treaty. Such an order was null and void and without authority of law. This Government had been intended to be a government of limitations, and it had not been intended that special privileges should be guaranteed to any part of it. "The idea," he said, "that in one portion of the country the executive and legislative authority is subject to restrictions and is without restrictions in another is repugnant to the theory of our Government, and cannot be tolerated."

He held that since the ratification of the peace treaty the title to Porto Rico is as complete as the title to Ohio or New York, for there is no such thing as divided sovereignty—half empire and half republic half Spanish and half American. In this connection he quoted the utterances of Chief Justice Marshall in the Loughborough case, in which the Chief Justice declared that States, Territories, and Districts are all part of "The Great American Empire."

Referring to Attorney General Griggs's definition of what constitutes the United States in the "fourteen diamond rings" case, Mr. Hart said that if this definition is correct Oklahoma, and New Mexico, as well as Porto Rico and the Philippines, are not part of the Union.

H. W. Ward, counsel for Dooley, Smith & Co., presented the argument in that case. He laid especial stress upon the fact that the portion of the Porto Rican law providing for the collection of duties is separate from other parts of that law, and that it is limited in operation in point of time to March 1, 1902. He characterized it as a makeshift to provide revenues for the island of orto Rico, and said it therefore was not entitled to the same favorable presumption that it otherwise would have been. Whatever the motive of the provision, it was to his mind a plain violation of the Constitution, and he quoted numerous authorities in proof of the statement.

SOLICITOR GENERAL'S REPLY.

When Mr. Ward finished, Solicitor General Richards began the presentation of the Government's side of the controversy, giving especial attention to the effect of the ratification of the Paris treaty upon the relation of this country and Porto Rico. In this connection he said the denial of the power which is being exercised by the President and Congress amounts to saying that ceded territory becomes by the act of cession an integral part of the United States, to which the Constitution of its own force applies, placing its people, its products, and its ports on an immediate equality with those of the United States, and also extending the constitutional limitations to such countries. If this were the case, said Mr. Richards, the treaty-making power in acquiring territory is necessarily limited to providing for the mere act of cession. "It is thus," he said, "stripped of its proper functions; it cannot treat; it is lame, impotent, impossible, ridiculous."

Mr. Richards argued that newly acquired territory becomes "not a part, but a possession, of the United States, territory belonging to the United States," and he went on to say: "Its disposition and government rest, under the Constitution, with the treaty-making power and with Congress."

"Then does such territory fall within the provision which requires duties to be assessed upon goods arriving from a foreign country?" asked Justice Brown.

Before Mr. Richards could reply the Justice put the question in different shape, saying: "Does it not cease to be foreign country?"

To this query Mr. Richards answered: "I think not, not within the meaning of the customs law. The Dingley law treated as foreign all territory outside of the limits of the United States, meaning the States and Territories, then created, for customs purposes, as the United States, and that condition remains unless Congress may see fit to change it."

Continuing Mr. Richards contended that the President has not power to extend the limits of the United States, but that the legislative branch of the Government may do so upon whatever terms it sees fit. In support of this proposition he quoted Chief Justice Taney as saying that the United States may demand the cession of territory as a condition of peace, and said if this were true the ceded territory could be taken and held upon the terms necessary to carry the purpose into effect.

If Chief Justice Taney was wrong, the President should have sent a commission to Manila in advance of Admiral Dewey to ascertain the desirability of the Philippines, the General said decisively. He said further that the parties to the treaty both knew that the location and condition of the islands acquired by the war with Spain would not permit their incorporation into the United States and the application to them of those laws which the Constitution requires to be uniform throughout the United States. "Certainly," he went on, "the treaty never intended to make these tropical islands a part of the United States in the Constitutional sense, and just as certainly did make them a part of the United States in the international sense."

Mr. Richards had about half concluded his argument when the court adjourned for the day.

House Will Await Decision.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The House Committee on Insular Affairs has decided to postpone the consideration of all questions relating to the new possessions until after the Supreme Court renders its decision upon the question as to "Whether the Constitution follows the flag." Until that question is decided, it is considered useless to attempt any legislation for the islands.

There are quite a number of matters of pressing importance, and it is hoped that the decision may be handed down before this Congress expires, March 4. If it is not, all legislation relating to the new possessions will go over until the next Congress meets.

THE RIVER AND HARBOR BILL.

House Spends the Day in Quibbling Over Appropriations and Criticising the Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The House today considered the River and Harbor Appropriation bill. Little progress was made. In a bill carrying such a vast sum for local improvements many are bound to be disappointed, and there is considerable soreness among the members who fail to get what they want. This soreness cropped out in several places to-day, the disappointed members refusing to allow any limit to be placed on the general debate. It extended throughout the day, being seemingly no nearer conclusion at adjournment than when it started.

Mr. Burton, (Rep., Ohio,) Chairman of the Committee on Rivers and Harbors, who is in charge of the bill, made an elaborate explanation of its provisions. Replying to the criticism from certain quarters, to the effect that in the appropriations for rivers and harbors the great lakes were receiving undue consideration, Mr. Burton produced figures to show that the enormous tonnage carried up and down the lakes warranted the extensive appropriations they had received. He devoted some time to giving the committee's reasons for abolishing the Missouri Commission. Over $11,000,000 had been expended upon the river, he said, with only trivial development of navigation. It had less commerce to-day than it had thirty years ago.

In order that the Missouri should not be entirely neglected, he added, the bill carried $300,000 for that portion of the river below Sioux City, and $50,000 for that portion above the city.

Mr. Mondell, (Rep., Wyoming,) produced figures to show that if the money expended upon the Missouri and Mississippi had been used to reclaim the arid lands of the West, it would have been sufficient to build comprehensive reservoirs at the head of those streams which would have prevented floods and insured navigation throughout the year. From this he argued that the Government should immediately enter upon the reclamation of the arid lands of the West.

Mr. Bell (Pop., Col.,) argued along the same lines and gave notice of an amendment he would offer to appropriate $300,000 for reservoirs at the headwaters of the Platte and Arkansas Rivers.

Mr. Wilson (Sil. Rep., Idaho,) asked why, as the committe proposed to repeal the project for a boat railway from the Dalles Rapids to Celilo Falls, Washington, it had not provided for the alternative proposition of the engineers for a system of locks and dams.

"Because a system of locks and dams would cost $4,000,000," replied Mr. Burton. "We provide for an expenditure of about $2,000,000 at the mouth of the Columbia in this bill. If the $4,000,000 were added the title of this bill would have to be changed to 'A Bill for the Development of the Columbia River.'"

Mr. Corliss (Rep., Mich.,) assailed the bill. He contended that with a few exceptions it was not framed in the interest of the general commerce of the country. He cited the appropriation for the Erie Basin, Buffalo, as an illustration of what he termed a purely local improvement, and declared that the appropriation for Buttermilk Channel, New York, was for the benefit of property holders along the Brooklyn water front. He urged that immense sums of money could be saved in improvements on the great lakes, and the navigable depths of the lakes could be increased by raising the levels of the lakes by a series of dams.

Mr. Bishop (Rep., Mich.,) replied to Mr. Corliss, denying that the committee had shown favoritism to particular localities and defied Mr. Corliss to particularize. "It is easy enough for a member to get up here and scold," said he, "if he has been disappointed in getting something he wants."

Mr. Richardson (Dem., Ala.,) spoke in favor of an amendment which he said he would offer, to construct a lock and dam at Colbert Shoals, on the Tennessee River.

Consideration of the bill will be resumed to-morrow.

Lieut. Whitside to be Married To-day.

SANTIAGO, Cuba, Jan. 9.—Gen. Whitside and his family left Santiago this afternoon for Manzanillo, to attend the wedding to-morrow of Gen. Whitside's son, Lieut. Warren W. Whitside, and Miss Lillian Rigney, only daughter of Joseph Rigney, the proprietor of Celbahueca, near Manzanillo, the largest sugar plantation in the province. Several officers and their wives accompanied the Whitsides. The function will be a brilliant affair. The Rigneys are well-known Americans, famous for their hospitality, and the plantation is one of the show places of the province. A house party following the wedding will last four days, after which Lieut. Whitside and his bride will go to New York for their honeymoon.

To Replace Aguinaldo's London Agent.

LONDON, Jan 9.—Dr. Apacible, a Filipino, arrived here yesterday evening from the United States and proceeded to Paris. It is believed he will replace Agoncillo, Aguinaldo's agent, here. Dr. Apacible was formerly Chairman of the Philippine Junta at Hongkong. It has been reported that Agoncillo is to succeed Apacible at Hongkong.

May Close Some Philippine Ports.

MANILA, Jan. 9.—The Military Government is considering the question of closing certain ports in the southern islands in order to prevent more effectually communication between the insurgents. The Port of Ubay, on Bohol Island, has already been ordered closed, as the garrison stationed there has been withdrawn.

Organization of Manila Police.

MANILA, Jan. 9.—The act for the organization of the Metropolitan Police of Manila has been passed by the Philippine Commission. The force will consist of three companies selected from the volunteer soldiery.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

First Lieut. Harry H. Stout, Ordnance Department, will proceed from Santa Cruz, Cal., to New York City on official business pertaining to the inspection and manufacture of powders.

A general court-martial is appointed to meet at Fort Totten, N. Y., Jan. 11 for the trial of such prisoners as may be brought before it. Detail: Major W. Fitzhugh Carter, (Medical Department:) Capt. Francis R. Shunk, (Corps of Engineers;) First Lieuts. George P. Howell, (Corps of Engineers,) William D. Connor, (Corps of Engineers,) Frank C. Boggs, Jr., (Corps of Engineers,) and Clark E. Smith, (Corps of Engineers;) Second Lieuts. Earl I. Brown, (Corps of Engineers,) Amos A. Fries, (Corps of Engineers,) James A. Woodruff, (Corps of Engineers,) Edward M. Markham, (Corps of Engineers,) Thomas H. Jackson, (Corps of Engineers,) and William P. Wooten, (Corps of Engineers.) Judge Advocate.

Capt. William C. Rafferty, First Artillery, will proceed to New York City for the purpose of inspecting and adjusting the Rafferty range finders, now in process of construction in that city.

The resignation by Capt. Richmond McA. Schofield, Assistant Quartermaster, of his commission as First Lieutenant of Cavalry has been accepted, to take effect Dec. 11, 1900.

Capt. Walter A. Thurman, Sixteenth Infantry, is detailed for recruiting duty at New Orleans.

Lieut. Col. Edward Hunter, Deputy Judge Advocate General, is detailed as a member of the army retiring board appointed Dec. 29, to meet at St. Paul vice Major F. Henry Ray, Eighth Infantry, relieved.

First Lieut. Weston P. Chamberlain, Assistant Surgeon, will proceed to Fort Adams and report to the commanding officer of the post for duty.

Navy.

Surgeon C. H. T. Lowndes is detached from the Naval Academy, Jan. 14, and ordered to the Lancaster, via steamer from New York Jan. 19.

Surgeon O. Diehl is detached from the Lancaster and ordered home to wait orders.

Passed Assistant Surgeon B. R. Ward is detached from the Naval Hospital at Mare Island, Jan. 17, and ordered to the Boston Yard.

Assistant Surgeon S. S. Rodman is ordered to the Naval Hospital at Mare Island, Jan. 17.

Assistant Surgeon J. B. Dennis is ordered to the Naval Academy, Jan. 14.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Hartford left La Guayra yesterday for Trinidad.

The Vicksburg, en route to the Asiatic station, left Colombo to-day for Singapore.

The Saturn has arrived at Cavite.

The submarine boat Holland, in tow of the Standish, left Annapolis yesterday for Norfolk.

The Mayflower has left San Juan for Culebra.

The Dixie sailed to-day from Gibraltar for Tangier.

NO BEER FOR THE NATION'S DEFENDERS

Senate Tables the Canteen Amendment to the Army Bill.

By a Vote of 34 to 15—Teller, Butler, and Pettigrew Talk Against the Post Exchange.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The army canteen is to be abolished, as the Senate today, by a very decisive vote, concurred in the House provision relating to the army canteen. Only 15 votes could be mustered in the Senate in favor of the canteen, while 34 were cast against it. Most of the time to-day was occupied by Senators Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.,) Pettigrew, (Sil., S. D.,) and Butler, (Pop., N. C.,) who all opposed the adoption of the Senate Committee's amendment which provided for a continuance of the canteen.

Mr. Teller, in his speech, declared his belief that the canteen system was vicious, and he believed that the great majority of the American people held to the same opinion. The Colorado Senator maintained that the excessive use of beer was one of the most degrading phases of intemperance. He declared the statement that the saloon interest was back of the fight upon the canteen was absurd.

"It's true, nevertheless," interjected Mr. Hawley, (Rep., Conn.)

"It is not true," retorted Mr. Teller, "and the Senator cannot prove that it is true."

Adverting to the situation in the Philippines, Mr. Teller declared that the United States was cursing the people of those islands with a curse as "vicious and vile as any the Spanish ever placed upon them." It was, he said, within the power of the President and within the power of Congress to destroy Government encouragement of drinking among the soldiers of the American Army and the Filipinos. He directed attention to a statement of President Schurman of the old Philippine Commission, to the effect that one of the most demoralizing influences taken to the Philippines by the United States was the American saloon. He said that the few thousand Americans in Manila drank more per capita than the same number of Americans anywhere.

Mr. Lodge, (Rep., Mass.,) interrupting Mr. Teller, inquired if it was not a fact that the Government of the United States had nothing to do with the saloons established in Manila; that the army canteen was an entirely different matter.

Mr. Teller replied that that was true, but that it was within the power of the President to close every saloon in Manila as soon as a cablegram could reach the city.

Mr. Lodge said he deprecated the establishment in Manila of the American barrooms which had followed in the wake of the American Army. "If there be any way to close them I would favor it heartily. I do not know the reason for the condition in Manila," said Mr. Lodge, "but I do know that, under the command of Gen. Ludlow, that thing—the establishment of saloons—absolutely was stopped in Havana."

"I never heard any complaint of this thing when I was in Havana last Spring," said Mr. Teller, "or anywhere in Cuba. But this condition of affairs exists in Manila."

Mr. McComas (Rep., Md.,) called Mr. Teller's attention to the fact that within a very brief time the Taft Commission has so restricted the sale of liquor in Manila that in that respect the city was freer from this business than is any American city of equal size.

Mr. Teller reiterated his former statement that the President could close the saloons in Manila in an hour, and he believed that if the President and Congress did not act in the matter they would "deserve the cundign contempt of the American people."

Mr. Foraker, (Rep., Ohio,) at this point arose to explain that he was compelled to be absent from the Chamber during the remainder of the day, and said that if he were present when the amendment was voted upon he would vote against the committee amendment which continues the canteen.

Mr. Lodge said that, while he did not believe the canteen had done any particular harm in the Philippines, he was convinced that the saloon had done incalculable harm there. He gave notice of an amendment prohibiting the importation of distilled liquors into the Philippines except for medicinal purposes.

Mr. Pettigrew then made a characteristic attack upon the pending bill, devoting some time to a criticism of the Senate committee for not bringing into the Senate a more elaborate report in support of the measure. He urged that the report submitted dealt almost exclusively with the canteen provision, while the far greater question of the proposed increase of the army to 100,000 men was passed by with only a brief paragraph. He was not opposed, he said, to the post exchange, but he was opposed to the sale of liquor in the post exchange, which, he declared, had become "nurseries of drunkenness and kindergartens of profligacy."

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Pettigrew said that the President had refused to obey the act of Congress prohibiting the sale of liquor on army reservations, and had directed his Attorney General to write an opinion in support of his refusal.

"Oh! now the Senator does not mean that the President dictated to the Attorney General the nature of the opinion he should write," protested Mr. Spooner, (Rep., Wis.)

"Well, I don't know whether he did or not," responded Mr. Pettigrew.

"I wouldn't say that he did, then," suggested Mr. Spooner.

Mr. Pettigrew read and commented upon the opinion of the Attorney General upon the law relating to the canteen passed by Congress last year. "The President certainly cannot be in need of the advice of an Attorney General capable of placing such a construction upon the law unless he is desirous of an excuse for violating an act of Congress," he said.

In response to questions by Mr. Mallory, (Dem., Fla.,) Mr. Pettigrew said he had no doubt the Attorney General could find "not reasons, but words, for overriding the provisions proposed by the House," as he had found them for "overriding the present law."

Mr. Butler spoke in support of the House provision of the bill relating to the canteen, after which Mr. Gallinger moved that the canteen amendment of the committee be laid on the table. The motion was carried 34 to 15, as follows:

YEAS.

Allen, (Pop., Neb.)	Hansbrough, (Rep., N. D.)
Allison, (Rep., Iowa.)	Hoar, (Rep., Mass.)
Bard, (Rep., Cal.)	Jones, (Dem., Ark.)
Bate, (Dem., Tenn.)	Lodge, (Rep., Mass.)
Berry, (Dem., Ark.)	McComas, (Rep., Mo.)
Beveridge, (Rep., Ind.)	McCumber, (Rep., N. D.)
Burrows, (Rep., Mich.)	Nelson, (Rep., Minn.)
Butler, (Pop., N. C.)	Perkins, (Rep., Cal.)
Clifton, (Dem., Texas.)	Pettigrew, (Sil., S. D.)
Clay, (Dem., Ga.)	Platt, (Rep., Conn.)
Daniel, (Dem., Va.)	Platt, (Rep., N. Y.)
Deboe, (Rep., Ky.)	Simon, (Rep., Oregon.)
Dolliver, (Rep., Iowa.)	Teller, (Sil. Rep., Col.)
Fairbanks, (Rep., Ind.)	Towns, (Dem., Minn.)
Foster, (Rep., Wash.)	Turley, (Pop., Tenn.)
Frye, (Rep., Me.)	Wellington, (Rep., Md.)
Gallinger, (Rep., N. H.)	—34.
Hale, (Rep., Me.)

NAYS.

Caffery, (Dem., La.)	Morgan, (Dem., Ala.)
Clark, (Rep., Mont.)	Pettus, (Dem., Ala.)
Cockrell, (Dem., Mo.)	Pritchard, (Rep., N. C.)
Elkins, (Rep., W. Va.)	Sewell, (Rep., N. J.)
Hawley, (Rep., Conn.)	Shoup, (Rep., Idaho.)
Heitfeld, (Pop., Idaho.)	Spooner, (Rep., Wis.)
McLaurin, (Dem., S. C.)	Stewart, (Rep., Nev.)—
Mallory, (Dem., Fla.)	15.

The effect of the vote is to restore to the bill the House provision abolishing the army canteen so far as the sale of any kind of intoxicants is concerned. As the section now stands in the bill, it reads as follows:

"The sale of or dealing in beer, wine, or any intoxicating liquors by any person in any post exchange or canteen or army transport, or upon any premises used for military purposes by the United States is hereby prohibited. The Secretary of War is hereby directed to carry the provisions of this section into full force and effect."

Mr. Proctor, (Rep., Vt.,) on behalf of the Military Affairs Committee, offered an amendment providing how volunteers in the Spanish and Philippine wars may be appointed to the grades of Lieutenant in the regular army. It provoked considerable discussion, and finally was laid over until to-morrow.

Senator Money (Dem., Miss.,) introduced an amendment to the bill, limiting its operations to the time between now and July 1 next, and providing that after the latter date the army shall be restored to its size previous to 1898, except in the artillery arm, where the increase is to be maintained.

Other amendments to the Army bill proposed were: By Senator Lodge, "The importation or sale of distilled spirits into the Philippine Islands or their dependencies, except for medicinal purposes or for use in the arts, under regulations to be prescribed by the Commissioner of the United States, is hereby prohibited."

By Senator Gallinger, providing that all license for the establishment of American saloons in the Philippines shall be revoked, and that hereafter no such license shall be issued.

By Senator Penrose, (Rep., Penn.,) providing that when a soldier serving in the Philippines re-enlists he shall be paid $300, the average cost of sending a new soldier to the archipelago and bringing a discharged man home.

By Senator Morgan, (Dem., Ala.,) providing that whenever in the judgment of the President it shall be impracticable to enforce the laws of the United States by the ordinary judicial proceedings he shall have authority to call forth the militia of any or all of the States, and to employ such part of the land and naval forces of the United States as he may deem necessary to prevent a forcible obstruction of the laws of the United States, either within the confines of the United States or elsewhere.

Favorable Report on Brosius Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The House Committee on Banking and Currency to-day reported favorably the Brosius bill to extend the charters of National banks.

AFRAID OF FRIDAY HOODOO.

Battleship Wisconsin Not Likely to be Commissioned Feb. 1.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Capt. Reiter of the navy, who is supervising work on the new battleship Wisconsin, at San Francisco, has recommended that the plan of putting the ship in commission on the 1st prox. be reconsidered. When that plan was arranged, the fact was overlooked that Feb. 1 falls on Friday.

Old salts say that there is no record of a warship being put into active service on that so-called unlucky day of the week. The matter has evidently been brought to the attention of Capt. Chester, for a letter has just been received at the department from him recommending that the Wisconsin be put in commission on either Jan. 28 or Feb. 4, (both Mondays,) instead of on Feb. 1, the day originally selected. Although he does not say so, it is pretty well understood that the Friday superstition is only the reason for the change of date.

SUGAR TRUST'S MEETING.

President Havemeyer's Annual Report —National Company Meets.

The annual meeting of the American Sugar Refining Company was held yesterday in Jersey City. President Havemeyer presided and presented his annual report. The retiring Directors, Charles H. Senff and W. B. Thomas, were re-elected.

President Havemeyer asked the stockholders to approve the action of the board and the management of the Directors. He said it had been the policy to keep the company strong so as to meet any emergency that might arise. During the year, he said, an increase had been made in the margin between raw and refined sugar.

The company was strong and sound and the policy that had been in force to acquire all the needed appliances in the interest of economy would be continued.

The stockholders passed a resolution that the company's surplus, less the amount necessary to pay the dividend due Jan. 2, and less such amount as may be required to pay future dividends, be reserved for working capital. The action of the board was also approved.

There was also a meeting of the National Sugar Refining Company and the retiring Directors were re-elected. The board, at its meeting, elected James H. Post President, P. D. Mollenhauer Vice President, and Herbert D. Cory Secretary. No annual report was presented.

A. M. MATTHEWS MAY RETIRE.

Dropped from the Directorate of the Second National Bank of Orange.

ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 9.—The annual stockholders' meeting of the Second National Bank was held yesterday afternoon, and Capt. Ambrose M. Matthews and Horton D. Williams were dropped from the Board of Directors. In their places were chosen former Mayor George H. Hartford and John Oxenbridge Heald.

Mr. Hartford is President of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company of New York, and Mr. Heald is a lawyer in Wall Street, and the only son of Daniel A. Heald, who was President of the Home Insurance Company. It is thought Mr. Hartford will succeed Capt. Matthews as President. The stock of the Second National Bank at a recent sale brought 140. On Jan. 1 it announced a dividend of 8 per cent.

NEW JERSEY BANK ELECTIONS.

James B. Dill a Director in the Greenville Banking and Trust Company.

James B. Dill, a financier of New York, who liver in Orange, N. J., has been elected an additional Director of the Greenville Banking and Trust Company of Jersey City. Henry Lambeck was re-elected President Thomas Cogan Vice President, and Edward S Pierson Cashier.

The Directors of the Commercial Trust Company yesterday re-elected J. Warren Hardenbergh President, George W. Young and Robert S. Ross Vice Presidents, and Oscar L. Gubelman Secretary and Treasurer.

Coffee Exchange Ticket.

The annual meeting of the members of the Coffee Exchange will be held on Jan. 17 at 1:30 P. M. The Nominating Committee has selected the following named members to be balloted for: For President—James H. Taylor; Vice President—Percy B. O'Sullivan; Treasurer—James H. Kirby; Board of Managers—J. H. Labaree, J. C. Russell, George Gravenhorst, William Bayne, Jr., W. J. Buttfield, and Gustav A. Jahn. Mr. Buttfield was selected as a representative of the tea trade, which is now interested in the Exchange.

DROP IN PRICE OF EGGS.

There Will Be Further Declines Unless There Comes a Cold Spell.

There was an unusual drop in the price of eggs yesterday. The best Western eggs sold at 24 cents a dozen, while Jersey and Pennsylvania selected eggs were selling at 28 cents a dozen. This is a decline of 3 cents a dozen and about 90 cents a case on the price of eggs from the day before. Representatives of several commission merchants said yesterday that there would probably be a still further decline in the price of eggs to-day. They say that this is the result of the unusually mild weather which has been prevailing in the West and Southwest recently.

If cold weather does not set in, they say, it is likely that eggs will be still lower in price next week.

MR. MORGAN DENIES RUMOR.

J. Pierpont Morgan was asked yesterday by two reporters what truth there was in various rumors of the acquisition by him of the Delaware and Hudson and other railroad properties. Robert Bacon, a member of the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co., was present at the interview.

"Mr. Morgan," said the first reporter, "there is a rumor that you have acquired or are seeking to acquire control of the Delaware and Hudson."

"That is absolutely untrue," said Mr. Morgan.

"There is a similar report regarding New York, Ontario and Western," continued the reporter.

"That also is absolutely untrue," was the answer.

"Mr. Morgan," asked the second reporter, "will there be anything given out regarding the terms of the Jersey Central transaction?"

"What do you mean?"

"Why, the transaction by which Reading secured Jersey Central."

"Whose business is that?" demanded Mr. Morgan.

"Well, there are the minority stockholders," ventured the reporter.

"Whose business is it?" repeated Mr. Morgan, and he added: "It's nobody's business but my own, if I buy a property."

EFFECT OF ISTHMUS CANAL.

Times (London) Says It Will Be Bad for British Manufacturers.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—In a special article regarding the effect of the Nicaragua Canal on British commercial interests, The Times expresses the opinion that London, Liverpool, Manchester, and the large manufacturing centres generally are, in the most favorable view of the situation, "threatened with an increase of competition which will successfully tax their best efforts." The paper adds:

"British manufacturers have at least a decade to prepare for the struggle, and possibly more, but it would not be advisable to reckon on much longer."

SAVES MEAT

LIEBIG

COMPANY'S EXTRACT

OF BEEF

Makes Meat Go Further

Makes Soup Taste Richer

Little ahead—sure enough.

Special sale of Derbys and Alpines—All of our $2.85 hats (the hat we claim is as good as any $5 hat made) and all of our $1.85 hats will go on sale to-day at $1.50.

WM. VOGEL & SON.

Broadway. Houston St.

FREE FIGHT AT FRENCH BALL.

Inspector Thompson Attacks a Waiter and Is Roughly Handled.

The chief attraction at the French Ball was put on the boards about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, when Police Inspector Thompson, disguised as a countryman, gave an exhibition of club swinging which was by far the most sensational exhibition of the entire function. The Inspector was incidentally severely pummeled and bruised by a waiter, but this did not seem to detract from the enjoyment of the thing, judging from the interest taken in it by the spectators.

The Inspector tried to annihilate the waiter with his club, and might ultimately have succeeded had not Capt. Thomas of the West Thirtieth Street Station, assisted by scores of policemen, detectives, and wardmen, dragged the men apart. The waiter beat up the Inspector's face very well and might have done even better had he not been interfered with. Thompson tore himself away from Capt. Thomas three times and attacked the waiter fiercely, tearing the latter's clothes and acting like a madman. The spectators sided with the waiter, and there were a number of incipient clashes between them and the police, but no one was hurt much except Inspector Thompson. The scene in the Garden for a half hour reminded the grizzled French ball veterans of the olden times.

The fun began—as it always does at the French ball—over a bottle of wine. A man in a box was asked by the waiter to pay for a bottle of wine, which he said he had never seen. The waiter finally got his money, and was moving off, when Inspector Thompson took a hand in the proceedings. The Inspector for some unknown reason doffed his uniform, which he had worn during the early part of the function, and now appeared in citizen's clothes, and looking like a countryman. He ran after the waiter, but lost him in the crowd, and not to be cheated of his prey seized another one.

The second man was struck once by the apparent "hayseed," and then he started in and almost knocked the Inspector's disguise off. The fight attracted nearly everybody in the hall, who crowded around the combatants. A swarm of policemen came to Thompson's rescue, and the spectators, seeing that the police were taking the side of the waiter's opponent, sided with the waiter. Some policemen were holding the waiter, and when Thompson broke away from Capt. Thomas and began belaboring the man with his club, the onlookers, compelled him to let the waiter loose. Then he and the Inspector clinched and rolled over on the floor.

Policemen tried to separate them, and many spectators interfered. There was cursing and swearing and shouting, during which several men in the boxes who had been lost in dreamland for an hour woke up and imagined for a moment that the French ball had been suddenly endowed with its old-time sizzle and sparkle. Time and again Thompson in a frenzy broke loose from those who were trying to hold him and rushed upon the waiter, using his club vigorously. The waiter fought back as well as he could with his fists, and did fairly well. Several times they clinched and fell on the floor in a furious embrace, but were torn apart.

The spectators stuck to the waiter all the way through, and a serious fight with the police was narrowly averted. The waiter was finally gotten out to the street and taken to the West Thirtieth Street Police Station badly crumpled and torn. He was discharged and allowed to go home without having given his name. The Inspector, with a badly bruised face, was spirited away.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.	P. M.		P. M.
Sun rises...7:24	Sun sets..4:51	Moon rises..10:59

High Water This Day.

A. M.	A. M.		P. M.
S. Hook..1:12	Gov. Isl'd..11:35	H. Gate..11:31
P. M.	P. M.		A. M.
S. Hook..11:50	Gov. Isl'd... ..	H. Gate.... ..

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (THURSDAY,) JAN. 10.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Caribbee, Bermuda, &c.	12:30 P. M. *1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Cyprian Prince, Rio Janeiro	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
El Rio, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Guyandotte, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
La Bretagne, Havre	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Norman Prince, Argentina, &c	1:00 P. M.	3:00 P. M.
Syracusa, Pernambuco and Santos	11:00 A. M.	1:00 P. M.

FRIDAY, JAN. 11.

Cienfuegos, Santiago	12:00 M.	3:00 P. M.
Colorado, Brunswick, Ga.	.....	3:00 P. M.
Comanche, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Jamestown, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Seneca, Mexico, via Tampico	12:00 M.	3:00 P. M.

SATURDAY, JAN. 12.

Andes, Haiti	10:00 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Arabistan, Argentina &c	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
Athos, Fortune Island, &c	10:00 A. M. *10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Buffalo, Hull	.....	.....
Cap Frio, Hamburg	.....	10:00 A. M.
Comus, New Orleans	.....	3:00 P. M.
Curityba, Matanzas, &c.	12:30 P. M.	2:00 P. M.
Furnessia, Glasgow	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Jefferson, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Kaiserin Maria Theresia, Naples	8:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Menominee, London	.....	3:00 P. M.
Mercator, Progreso	10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Mexico, Havana	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Nuecee, Galveston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Philadelphia, San Juan, &c	9:00 A. M. *9:30 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
Potsdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Sardinian, Glasgow	.....	9:00 A. M.
Seminole, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Servia, Queenstown	8:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

MONDAY, JAN. 14.

Guyandotte, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.

TUESDAY, JAN. 15.

City of Washington, Coruna	8:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
Hamilton, Norfolk	.....	3:00 P. M.
Iroquois, Charleston	.....	3:00 P. M.
Trave, Bremen	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for Hawaii, Japan, China, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 11, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Gaelic. Mails for Hawaii, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 11, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Zealandia. Mails for China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via Tacoma, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 15, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Olympia. Mails for Hawaii, China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 19, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Hongkong Maru. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia,) New Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji, and Samoan Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Jan. 16 and up to Jan. 18, inclusive, or on day of arrival of steamer Campania, due at New York Jan. 19, for dispatch per steamer Sonoma. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 22, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Empress of Japan, (registered mail must be directed "via Vancouver.")

Transpacific mails are forwarded to port of sailing daily and the schedule of closing is arranged on the presumption of their uninterrupted overland transit. †Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (THURSDAY,) JAN. 10.

California, Gibraltar, Dec. 26.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 30.
Circassian Prince, Shields, Dec. 24.
El Mar, New Orleans, Jan. 5.
Elwick, Huelva, Dec. 22.
Germanic, Liverpool, Jan. 2.
Hleo, Bordeaux, Dec. 22.
Jamestown, Norfolk, Jan. 9.
Kennett, Colon, Jan. 1.
Liv. Aligers, Dec. 23.
Lowther Castle, Glasgow,

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, THURSDAY, JAN. 10, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

MR. NIXON'S SITUATION.

Is Mr. NIXON'S Committee of Five plunging into a blind alley to bring up against a dead wall? It looks as though that were to be its melancholy and somewhat ludicrous fate.

According to Mr. NIXON'S own statement "there is an organization of men known as the 'combine' that is organized for systematic blackmail, and they cloak their workings by pretending to be paying Tammany Hall the money they collect for the protection they are supposed to furnish in its name." This is but the repetition with qualifications of the general facts which THE TIMES published in detail and with specific addresses of the places blackmailed and protected and the members of the "combine" long ago. It has significance now because it is made by the Chairman of Mr. CROKER'S committee, and while he denies that the money has gone to Tammany Hall, he admits that it has been collected, that it was paid for protection, and that those who paid it did so to secure the influence of Tammany Hall.

The sums collected have been very large. Mr. NIXON has ascertained that "practically all [gambling] houses pay $25 per week and $100 per month, and those not belonging to the 'combine' must pay in addition a large percentage of their receipts." He has also ascertained "the house of the man who receives this money," whither "from the first to the fifth of each month men may be seen going to pay their portions, although the $25 a week and the $100 per month are collected in the districts." He has ascertained that "the men who wish to open places know whom to see," and that "certain men who act in defiance of the 'combine's' orders are given short shrift." This is a good deal of information to have been gathered in a few weeks by a committee of the peculiar composition of that over which Mr. NIXON presides.

On the face of it and to the impartial observer not influenced by partisan feeling on one side or the other, it justifies and even compels inferences quite different from those that Mr. NIXON draws from it. He refers to the protection "supposed" to be furnished in the name of Tammany to the violators of the law. What room is there for supposition in the matter? The protection is furnished. Mr. NIXON himself says so in another part of his statement. It is furnished, as Mr. NIXON says, "in the name of Tammany Hall." Does Mr. NIXON think that it could have been furnished if Tammany Hall had been determined that it should not be? He has found out in a very short time, so surely that he makes no qualification of the facts, that large amounts of money are paid to secure the favor of the police, that those who do not pay are "given short shrift," and, therefore, there does not remain the slightest shadow of doubt that the police is corrupted. Does he think that this state of things has been unknown to the leader of Tammany and to the Mayor during the long period for which it has been going on? Does he think that an honest and capable man at the head of Tammany Hall or in the Mayor's office would have allowed protection of vice to be sold in his name for three years? Would he himself, in the place of either Mr. CROKER or Mr. VAN WYCK, have permitted it if he had known it, or failed to know it when it was a matter of public notoriety? And, finally, does Mr. NIXON really think that the gamblers and the other subscribers to the police corruption fund were not justified in supposing that they were buying the favor of Tammany Hall?

It is our opinion that Mr. NIXON and his committee are going out of their way at this time to screen Tammany from the logical consequences of the facts that the committee has admitted. He would have done far better to go ahead with his investigation, get all the evidence he could, use it in prosecution of offenders where it was adequate, give it to the public in full where it was morally if not legally conclusive, and leave Tammany to take care of itself. Assuming, as we are bound to, that Mr. NIXON and his committee are intent on securing the exposure and the correction of police corruption, without regard to the effect on parties, they have made a grave blunder at this time in dragging in an apology and defense of Tammany and of Mr. CROKER. The inferences from their own statement of facts are all against Mr. CROKER and Tammany, and the committee only expose themselves to suspicion of partisan purpose in gratuitously and uselessly trying to screen them.

CHINA AND THE POWERS.

Nobody that we know of will be pained by the evidence, which is afforded by every day's dispatches, that the Chinese Government is in pain. So it ought to be. And one of the most curious things about the recent and present situation in China is the assumption, on the part of critics generally not unfriendly, that the attitude of the United States has been dictated by some undue sympathy with China or with the members of the Chinese Government. In answer to such an accusation as this we can safely fall back on our "record." We can "point with pride," or rather with shame, to the fact that our legislation toward China has shown more perfidy and cruelty and animosity than that of any other nation nominally Christian.

But that is not the question, nor are our National sentiments toward China the question, when it is of present policy. We object to the disestablishment of the Chinese Government solely upon the ground that it would be "bad business." It would require the Western nations to provide a protectorate for China, of which they know so little except that it is very big, very various, and very "set in its way." There are scarcely more than two living men, one of them the Emperor of Germany and the other the Vice President-elect of the United States, who would confidently tackle the task of providing a Government for those teeming and unknown millions. In insisting that we should not undertake to govern China, but should enable and if necessary encourage the Chinese to govern themselves, our Government is but putting into practice the words of Lord SALISBURY. It is a matter of pure policy with which sympathy has nothing to do.

THE KAISER AND HIS CANALS.

There was one feature in the speech from the throne delivered before the Prussian Diet last Tuesday which foreshadows a repetition of those interesting scenes which characterized the session of that particular Legislature a year ago last Autumn—the announcement of a new Canal bill. This is perhaps the most praiseworthy of the many hobbies which are constantly agitating the mind of WILHELM II. It is neither a Government nor a Conservative measure, but the Kaiser's own, and so radical, so liberal, and so generally beneficial is it in its tendencies that in August, 1899, the Prussian Cabinet tried to rebuke its author by resigning, while Conservative newspapers mournfully reproached him with being the victim of the monomania of commercialism. But at that time the Agrarians, to whom the passage of the bill would have been of incalculable benefit, were loath to support the measure with their full strength, being not quite sure of the entire disinterestedness of the sovereign.

An obvious way for the Kaiser to achieve victory would have been for him to modify his desires, to conciliate his own party by a measure less radical and less offensive to the Prussian aristocracy, and at the same time to have given unmistakable evidences of his sincerity to the Agrarians. But, according to the speech from the throne, the Kaiser will return to the charge with a still more elaborate and radical bill, "comprising," says the cable dispatch, "not only the Rhine and Elbe scheme, but also the construction of a waterway for large ships between Berlin and Stettin, a more practical waterway between the Oder and Vistula, and improvements in the Warthe, Lower Oder, Lower Havel, and Spree." No self-respecting Conservative convinced of the desirability of maintaining the present state of things can conscientiously support such a measure.

But the Kaiser is evidently armed at other points. Most of the rivers of Northern Germany flow from south to north. The Rhine, Ems, Weser, Elbe, Oder, and Vistula have but few tributaries, and to connect these rivers by a system of canals would mean a commercial and industrial regeneration of Western Germany. The Kaiser has talked this all over recently, and this time the Agrarians can have no doubt of his entire sincerity for the good of the country. At the same time they are conscious of the responsibility thrust upon them and would turn it to present account. For this reason we may shortly see the Kaiser looking indulgently upon their demands for a double tariff in regard to Russian and American wheat. But by what means he can maintain peace with the Prussian Cabinet and the Conservatives after this double rebuff to his "personal" party remains to be seen. There is such a thing in Germany as paying two marks for one mark's worth of benefit.

IN FIGHTING CONDITION.

Mr. BRYAN is the most contented man in the United States. There is no end to the joy that fills his soul as he looks out upon the world that has treated him so well, and, in the words of Faust when his dearest wishes had been realized, exclaims, "Just stay with me, thou art so fair."

Fortune has inverted the horn of plenty over Mr. BRYAN and shaken it empty into his lap. With abilities and opportunities that justified an actuarial expectation of about $30 a week during the working years of his life, he finds himself at forty in the enjoyment of a very large income, with several millions of friends and followers, and the welcome glare of publicity full upon him. He has the health and vigor of a hired man. The ravages of two campaigns have not impaired his exhaustless vocal powers. His occupation of addressing his fellow-citizens upon the greed of man and the arrogance of the dollar as often as anybody invites him is perfectly congenial. Best and kindest fate of all, he is not sensitive. Defeat cannot abash him nor unpopularity relax his adamantine resolution to make a good living as a perpetual candidate.

Accordingly, Mr. BRYAN insists that "the Democratic Party was never in better fighting condition than it is to-day." A once robust and respectable man, weakened by prolonged debauchery and wasting disease, his clothes in tatters, his bones broken, his head in a barrel, jumping, bounding, and rapidly rolling down a declivity into the Dead Sea of oblivion would be in a condition closely resembling that of the Democratic Party in the stage of degradation and disrepute to which Mr. BRYAN has brought it. But for his purposes the party is, indeed, in fine fighting condition. The movement to be rid of him, to drop him and his ideas altogether, for which time and the party are fully ripe, will be resisted by him with struggles and loud outcries that will attract wide attention and sell his paper. When my circulation is on the jump, says this practical statesman, I turn the large cold ear of indifference to the welfare of my party.

In drawing the line of eligibility for reorganizing work in the party in such a manner as to exclude all Democrats who refused to vote for him, however, Mr. BRYAN forgets that among those who voted for Bryan Electors last November were thousands of Democrats who take about as much interest in him as they do in TIGLATH-PILESER. These Democrats were looking ahead when they cast the votes that qualified them to sit in the councils and have their say about the organization, its men, and its principles. They are still looking ahead, while W. J. BRYAN is looking far behind. There are hundreds of lecture engagements and a big circulation in the old issues yet.

SENATOR HOAR.

We cannot think of anything, in the sane line, more pleasing and reassuring to believers in the democratic system of government in these United States than the announcement, made by The Associated Press, that the renomination of Senator HOAR to the seat which he has so long filled is likely to be unanimous.

Our readers are well aware that we have differed from Senator HOAR on many measures of public policy. Upon the question of public policy which has engaged his most serious attention within the past year or two, we have differed from him radically and altogether. That fact makes it all the more incumbent upon us to say, as emphatically as we can, that it would have been a disgrace to Massachusetts if there had been any opposition, in his own party, to a Senator who has served her and the country so well.

The plain fact is that Senator HOAR is one of the few Senators left in the body to which he belongs who are of unquestionably Senatorial calibre. It would be a National misfortune, and a State disgrace, if one of them should be mustered out while he was still able and willing to serve. Even in the speech which marks, the most strongly of all his public utterances, the difference between Senator HOAR'S opinions and our own, he vindicated his Senatorial quality, his inherent right, so to speak, to represent his State in the Senate of the United States. It is to the advantage of us all that dissenting opinions should be urged there by the best and most eminent counsel. The "anti-imperialists" are fortunate in being represented in the Senate by a man so able and so pure. And that great majority of the people which differs from them is also fortunate in being assured that the best that can be said for their cause has been said in the Senate by a spokesman, entitled by character and by intellect to be there, whose motives are at least pure and public.

LORD DUFFERIN.

Americans sometimes have their difficulties, even upon festive and effusive occasions, in accepting the casual Briton who may be presented to them as a "representative of our common race." But no enlightened American has ever had any difficulties of that kind with respect to Lord DUFFERIN. Reading Americans have had a kindness for him ever since the publication of his "Letters from High Latitudes," now more than forty years ago. Since then he has run the entire gamut of British diplomatic distinction. But to Americans he particularly endeared himself during his administration of the Canadian Viceroyalty, which was distinguished, among other things, by the formation of the International Park at Niagara, which was without doubt due to Lord DUFFERIN'S initiative.

That such a man, who had received every honor that a grateful people could bestow should be, in his old age, knowingly connected with a swindling operation in stocks, was too tough a proposition to be accepted except upon stronger evidence than had been given on behalf of it. There are a good many Americans who felt, upon the publication of the charge, as if their own country and their own countryman were involved.

It cannot be said that Lord DUFFERIN'S statement, made yesterday, altogether absolves him from complicity in the too common British practice of lending his name to a concern of the actual operation of which he knew no more than those whose subscriptions were invited by his Chairmanship. But he gave the final proof of good faith by himself investing in the shares he was induced to "boom," and he is himself a large loser. When this fact was brought out, and the further fact that it was under the pressure of a domestic affliction by the illness of one son serving in South Africa, where the other had already lost his life, that he had resigned from the Chairmanship, while leaving his investment in the company, it is no wonder that his opponents, who had imagined themselves his victims, should have been melted and disarmed. The personal vindication seems to have been complete. But what may be supposed most to have "awed and melted a victorious party, inflamed with just resentment," was the astounding discovery that the great-grandson of RICHARD BRINSLEY SHERIDAN was able to make a straight and satisfactory financial statement.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—Controller COLER continues every once in a while to charge the New York public and press with the display of cruel inappreciation in the case of the late Street Cleaning Commissioner JAMES MCCARTNEY. The Controller's charge was last made in a speech delivered in a Brooklyn church, and it took this form: "People said that the streets of New York were not as clean as before, though they were cleaned by the same men. The Commissioner resisted all the pressure brought to bear upon him, and he went to his grave a hero." Now, these remarks we find just a little irritating. In the first place, the people may have been, and we think were, quite right in saying that the condition of the streets did change for the worse when Mr. MCCARTNEY succeeded Col. WARING, and this despite the fact that many or most of the old working force were retained. The new chief was presumably well-intentioned, but he never showed the slightest inclination definitely to break off his political associations with men whose ideas of public service were low and selfish. He resisted their efforts to destroy the efficiency of the department which Col. WARING had created, but only once, and then to no purpose, did he reveal the nature of the difficulties with which he was contending. A single direct appeal to the people would have raised him far above the reach of the spoilsmen, and won for him the appreciation he lacked—the appreciation which the Controller himself has not found it hard to secure. Mr. MCCARTNEY tried to serve two masters, the public and the machine, and naturally he contented neither. On the single occasion when he did lose patience with the politicians, and briefly refer in a report to the evil pressure they were exerting upon him, instant attention was attracted and from all sides came offers of encouragement and sympathy. His revolt against the machine and machine methods was only momentary, however, and though he stood his ground with some firmness, he made no open attack upon the enemies of the city. We are convinced that he received precisely as much recognition as a hero as he deemed it safe and judicious to get.

—Chicago always begins to get uneasy when superlatives are used by other cities in describing themselves, and the uneasiness is not less apparent when the superlatives are those of condemnation than when they are those of compliment. So, at the present time, when New York is widely advertising what she regards as her unparalleled wickedness, Chicago hastens to declare that our vice, as compared with hers, is too mild to be really worth talking about. The Inter Ocean quotes, as "the plain, unvarnished truth," known to be such by every observant Chicagoan who has ever visited New York, a local expert, who says: "A man walking from The Inter Ocean office to the Auditorium Annex will be accosted by more beggars, solicited by more abandoned women, and, if the walk is taken after dark, will have to dodge more footpads and hold-up men than would cross his path in New York if he were to walk from Union Square to Central Park every day for a month. A walk through the slums and red-light districts of New York is attended by about as much excitement born of danger as would attend a walk through Lincoln Park on a Summer afternoon." This critic asserts that Tammany Hall at its worst would be surprised as well as shocked by the depths of depravity calmly endured by the Chicago public as represented by its municipal authorities and the police. Of course The Inter Ocean laments the existence of this state of affairs, but one cannot help suspecting in its moans an undertone of gloomy pride in Chicago's dreadful preeminence. This may be merely a fancy, however, and, anyway, there is consolation in the discovery that things are not so bad here that they might not be much worse.

—Elaborate and expensive experiments have recently been conducted with a view to the possibility of utilizing simple but very strong pressure as a substitute for the more or less deleterious drugs now employed as food preservatives. The effect of pressure on the higher forms of life is a matter of common observation, and the idea was that the bacteria in milk or similar food substances might not survive the imposition upon them of an unaccustomed weight, any more than fishes wont to swim near the surface can live in the ocean depths. So an apparatus was devised by means of which a hydrostatic pressure of 450,000 pounds to the square inch could be conveniently exerted, and the experiments began. Moderate force was first tried, and it gave no notable results. These came, however, when greater force was used, and milk subjected to pressures of 70 to 100 tons kept from 24 to 60 hours longer without souring than untreated milk. The degree to which the keeping qualities of milk were improved appeared to depend as much on the time for which the pressure was maintained as upon the actual pressure reached. Pressures of ninety tons per square inch maintained for an hour delayed the souring of milk from four to six days. Complete sterilization of the milk, however, was in no case effected, even at the highest pressures, and the milk in many cases acquired peculiar tastes and odors on keeping, indicating that certain species of bacteria were killed while others were not. So not much came from the experiments with the big press except the discouraging information that the ends attained by "embalming" food cannot be secured by squeezing it, no matter how fiercely. It is probably a fundamental mistake to regard the bacteria as enemies. They play an infinitely important part in the scheme of nature, and their control is more to be desired than their banishment. It is easy enough to make food "keep," but the kept food is never more than a temporarily useful substitute for something better. The scientists will be best employed if, instead of working to prevent the disintegration of edible substances, they labor to improve and regulate methods of production and transportation.

—Despite the assurances of our remarkable Commissioner of Street Cleaning that his force of workers is numerous and efficient to a degree never excelled in the history of the department, other observers continue to declare that the condition of the streets not only evidences gross neglect, but is such as seriously to imperil the public health. Better weather than we have had for weeks past could not be desired, and yet an epidemic of influenza is spreading through the city, killing not a few and rendering thousands upon thousands intensely miserable. A well-known doctor interviewed by one of our neighbors expresses the opinion that the outbreak has been helped along, if not created, by the dust and worse that fill the air at all hours as a result of the deplorable change which has manifested itself in the guardians of our pavements. "The side streets in the up-town districts," he said, "are not kept clean, though some attention is paid to the main thoroughfares. Since election the lack of street cleaning has grown steadily worse. In some of the up-town side streets a street cleaner is not seen for three or four days at a time." The doctor prophesied a marked increase of the prevalent maladies on the arrival of the damp weather soon to be expected, and supported his theory by the fact that a majority of the grip cases are found in the better parts of the city, which are precisely those that have been most nearly left to take care of themselves. But is it true that the neglect of the streets is more pronounced in one section of the city than in others? More street cleaning is done, perhaps, on the lower east side than in regions where the inhabitants are more careful of their surroundings, but even on the east side the old standards have been forgotten, and the amateur assistance which Col. WARING commanded is no longer sought or obtained. What is to be expected, however, from a Street Cleaning Commissioner much of whose available time and energy must be devoted to the refutation of open charges that he is involved in the doings of a "combine" obnoxious even to a committee appointed by Mr. R. CROKER?

A DEFENSE OF THE BRITISH.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In your issue of to-day, John J. Rooney condemns Lord Kitchener's South African policy as worse than Weyler's in Cuba. In the same issue, Benedict Prieth denounces British officers for profaning "the most sacred house of worship in China with their typical British vulgarity."

It is a striking coincidence that both these correspondents—one an Irishman and the other a German—deemed is desirable or necessary to personally certify that they are Christians. Prieth says he "considers himself a real Christian," while Rooney remarks that he speaks "as a Christian." If Prieth had proclaimed himself the greatest philosopher that ever lived, and if Rooney had asserted that he was the leading metaphysician in the universe, we should have paused for substantiating evidence. A man's estimate of himself is not generally accepted, nor is it often voluntarily given.

It is reasonable to assume that Rooney and Prieth had a motive for declaring themselves Christians. Presumably the object was to lend character and force to their anti-British views. If this assumption is correct, it follows that, in the opinion of the writers themselves, the subject matter of their communications was not such as to impress the reader that the authors were Christians.

Lord Kitchener's speech at the Pretoria meeting of burghers pointed out the necessity of clearing "the country of inhabitants and food, because so long as food remained the commandoes would be able to continue in the field." If Lord Kitchener had ordered that all food be collected, and that the inhabitants be left behind to starve, he would have deserved to be denounced, but, by taking within the military lines the inhabitants and the food supplies, little or no suffering has been or will be caused. By this admirable system the inhabitants become refugees who are fed regularly, and are otherwise well taken care of by the Government. Instead of being condemned for this humane policy Lord Kitchener merits, and should receive, commendation.

The throne of grace has been inundated with appeals for the destruction of the British and for the preservation of the so-called Boer Republics. Oom Paul, also a self-certified Christian like Rooney and Prieth, has asserted times without number that God is on his side. However, God has not helped the Boers to any appreciable extent, if at all; and present indications point to the complete ultimate triumph of British arms. The logical deduction is that if God is not with the British in this fight, He is neutral.

Rooney may be a Christian in his own estimation, but he surely transcends the limits of modesty and leaps headlong into the abyss of sacrilege when he arrogates to himself omniscience by declaring that "such work will call down the vengeance of God upon the perpetrators." Like all other free American citizens, Rooney has many privileges and rights, but he has no authority to speak for God, who in His divine wisdom would probably not select Rooney as His representative on earth.

Prieth essays to denounce "those British officers who profaned the most sacred house of worship in China with their typical British vulgarity." This charge is no doubt untrue. At any rate, every intelligent reader knows that "vulgarity" is no more typically British than it is typically Dutch, typically German, typically Irish or typically American. RUSS.

New York, Jan. 6, 1901.

The Independent Press.

From The Evening Post.

Nothing ever happened which vindicated so clearly and strikingly the attitude of the independent press toward public men as the hearty commendation that Gov. Odell is now receiving from newspapers which have criticised him in the past. The partisan organ praises one man and condemns another "on general principles," without regard to his conduct. The journal which tries to tell the truth about men of both parties is as quick to commend a good action as it was to denounce a bad one. Indeed, it is a special satisfaction to such a newspaper when it finds evidence that one whom it has criticised for conduct on a low plane has advanced to a higher level. It is for these reasons that such journals as THE TIMES in New York, The Herald in Boston, The Republican in Springfield, and The News in Indianapolis are praising Gov. Odell on the basis of his new platform as outspokenly as they would have blamed him if he had started out as Gov. Black did four years ago.

NUGGETS.

Proper Return.

"I hurl the lie back in your teeth!" he cried.

Which was quite appropriate, for they, too, were false.—Philadelphia North American.

Accounting for Their Activity.

Mr. Hayseed—These New Yorkers jes' rush theirselves to death. Why on 'arth do they kill theirselves that way?

Mrs. Hayseed—Land sakes! they've got to. Think of the rents they pay.—New York Weekly.

With Pleasure.

"Look after your own grammar, George Ferguson!" exclaimed the irate Mrs. P. "You make a business of picking me up on little blunders!"

"On the contrary, my dear," soothingly replied Mr. Ferguson. "I make a recreation of it."—Chicago Tribune.

Prompt.

Holden—What kind of a boy is that new one who came last week?

Winter—Oh, he's all right—only a little dull. He was talking rather loudly the other afternoon and I hollered, "Shut up!" Well, Sir, before I knew what he was about, he had half the shutters up.—Boston Transcript.

THE TWENTIETH CENTURY.

From The Somerville (Mass.) Journal.

So far the brand-new century seems greatly like the old.
The January days are short, the nights are long and cold.
When Summer comes the mercury no doubt will soar as high
As it did a hundred years ago in August and July.
The bill collectors come around just as they used to do
In eighteen-zero-zero, when the century was new.
The debtors make excuses just as debtors used to then,
And calmly say: "I'm short to-day; you'll have to call again."
The girls are just as beautiful, the men are just as bold
On the edge of the new century as they were all through the old.
The grocers still sell sugar fifteen ounces to the pound,
And now, as then, love is the thing that makes the world go round.
The boys and girls are much the same as their elders used to be,
They think they know it all—but they don't, as their elders plainly see.
In short, in a single sentence the story may be told:
This brand-new century that's come is exactly like the old.

VARIOUS DRAMATIC TOPICS

Comment on Current Plays and the Acting in Them.

The Musical Farce of This Hour Needs Reformation—"Charley Hoyt Actors"—Willard and Miss Shannon.

The song with an acrobatic accompaniment, obligato, as one might say, is one of the oldest of all the "turns" of the variety theatres. One comedian sings the song, another tumbles about in time with the music. If the performers are a mixed team, the woman will sing while the man jumps and turns somersaults. Actually, the builders of the new burletta, "The Girl from Up There," have employed that ancient feature half a dozen times. Miss May sings while Farren Soutar, (who, by the way, is a son of Nelly Farren,) poses and gesticulates; twice Miss Earl sings while Harry Davenport clowns in time with the music, and once a brace of acrobatic dancers accompany Miss May in one of her dazzling melodic flights.

Ingenuity and novelty are missing in "The Girl from Up There." It is a handsome production, with suitable scenery and gorgeous dresses, but there is nothing new in it from first to last. Mr. Kerker's kind of light, reminiscent music has already become old-fashioned. Fashions change quickly in the minor drama, and its purveyors must always be ready with something new.

Some one in the orchestra stalls the other night, when Otis Harlan and Harry Conor were on the stage together, remarked quite audibly that "Here was a remarkable combination—two of the best of Charley Hoyt's actors in the same piece!" Undoubtedly both Harlan and Conor are well paid. But in the late Mr. Hoyt's farces Mr. Hoyt himself was the prime actor. There was small use for acting. He chose men and women to fit characters he had imagined or caricatured from his observation of life. Otis Harlan was exactly the fellow he was thinking of when he put together his wild burlesque of border life, and Harlan got a great deal of credit through his performance of Hot Stuff, which belonged properly to Mr. Hoyt. Conor is rather more of a comedian and less of a patterer with an unchanging personality. It always seems that he might learn to act if he settled down to business. But his tearful reception of a song was always his funniest act, and it is introduced in every farce employing his services.

Mr. Willard surely deserves all the praise that has been so cordially bestowed upon him in his present engagement at the Garden Theatre. He is an actor of rare skill and charming personality, and his range is broad. But he is not fulfilling the promise of his early work by any means, and he is not taking his proper place among the leaders of the stage. Robertson's out-of-date adaptation of the French "Sullivan," and a crude compilation of incidents in "Martin Chuzzlewit" are surely not fit things for an actor of Willard's ability and age to potter around with when there is men's work to be done in the theatre.

To be a leader among actors, as in any other walk of life, one must fight for his place and keep up the fight every minute after he gets it. Genre work is all very well once in a way, but in that sort of thing Willard, after all, is not on the plane of Coquelin and Jefferson. He has virility, youth, (for he is in the very prime of life,) versatility, and uncommon intelligence, and he ought to be in the race with Mansfield and Beerbohm Tree, as at present he is not.

In the second act of "My Lady Dainty," (let the first act pass,) Effie Shannon is a young housewife living on the fifth floor of a flathouse. She enters waving $18 in bills, which she has just earned by teaching, her husband being an extravagant fellow. The janitor sends up word that the coal is "out." So original is the play of Madeline Lucette Ryley's fancy in her latest venture, Miss Shannon and the friend of the family, who stalks through the play with the grace of a young hearse horse, get a huge clothes basket and go out to get wood. Before starting, Miss Shannon thoughtfully borrows her servant's hat and shawl, so that when, on returning, she finds her husband talking with two strange ladies, and that odd survival of the eighties, (on the stage—only on the stage,) a "dude," she can pretend to be the servant and assume the accent and manners of the theatrical slavey.

Later on, Miss Shannon has some work to do better worth doing, but it is all of an utterly conventional sort, and while it exhibits her appreciable command of pathos and her increased dramatic force, is not likely to make her new play popular.

William Boag, who appears as the villain in Mrs. Ryley's play, is a promising actor who has not yet quite found his place on the stage, though he unquestionably has a place there. He used to be in Mr. Crane's company, and he had one or two good "bits" in Crane's later plays. The grasping, conscienceless fellow he now acts is clearly not a study from life. But Mr. Boag lends a new tone to his expression of his treachery and evil design, and gives the part dignity if not exactly interest.

They say Mr. Mansfield is going to act Omar Khayyam next year. The play "embodies most of the Rubaiyat." The year after, perhaps. Mr. Mansfield may act Job in a play embodying most of the sayings of the man of Uz. That seems just as likely.

There is probably more truth in the report that E. H. Sothern will soon produce a comedy by Laurence Irving, of which the famous Richard Lovelace is the hero. Lovelace appears, quite ingloriously, in "Sweet Nell of Old Drury" as a meek young man subdued by his wig.

In London Sir Henry Irving's Spring play at the Lyceum will be "Coriolanus." Ellen Terry will act Volumnia. Sir Laurence Alma Tadema has made all the designs for the costumes. George Alexander will soon produce at the St. James's Theatre "The Awakening," a new modern comedy by Haddon Chambers, whose "Tyranny of Tears" was so good that much will be expected of his new piece.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.

"Lohengrin" Again Delights a Multitude of Enthusiasts.

The feature of Mr. Grau's present delectable season of opera at the Metropolitan Opera House appears to be first appearances. Never before was there an opera company of such proportions that in the fourth week of the season not all of its members had made their debuts, and some were still reserved for the fifth. Yet such is the case with the extraordinary aggregation of singers now giving delight to the multitudes at our opera house. The list of tenors, for instance, comprises Messrs. de Reszke, Saleza, Van Dyck, Cremonini, de la Tour, and Salignac, while the sopranos are Mmes. Melba, Nordica, Ternina, Gadski, Bréval, Adams, and Strong. Of these Miss Bréval is for next week. Last night's first appearance was in the baritone department. Thus far the labors in this line have been confided to Messrs. Scotti, Campanari, and Bertram, but last evening Mr. David Bispham came forward, singing his familiar rôle of Telramund, in Wagner's "Lohengrin."

In all other respects the cast was identical with that offered a week ago Monday on the occasion of the return of Mr. Jean de Reszke. It would be idle at this date in the annals of opera in this town to discuss at length Mr. Bispham's impersonation of the ambitious weakling, dominated by the superior will and intelligence of his spouse. We long ago learned its limitations, which are not narrow, and its possibilities, which are large. Suffice it to say, then, that Mr. Bispham is still the same sombre-toned singer, and that he displays all of his old skill in the composition of the character. He was received last night with manifestations of public regard, but it must be admitted that it is hard for an opera singer to escape them. Mr. Jean de Reszke appeared again in his fascinating interpretation of the Swan Knight, and once more won the enthusiastic plaudits of the assembly. Well indeed did he deserve them. Mme. Nordica repeated her intelligent Elsa, a performance which has the notable merit of growing more beautiful as the opera proceeds. She makes an admirable companion to Mr. de Reszke. Mme. Schumann-Heink's Ortrud was full of sincerity and dramatic puissance, and the King of Edouard de Reszke possessed all of its usual excellences. Mr. Muhlmann was again the Herald, the chorus sang out of tune in the customary places, and the orchestra under Mr. Damrosch did good work. On the whole it was a performance worthy of the best traditions of the house. The audience was a very large one, and its enthusiasm was great.

THEATRICAL GOSSIP.

At the Murray Hill Theatre "Aristocracy" will give place next week to "The Man from Mexico," Du Souchet's lively farce.

John Hare, now appearing at the Criterion Theatre in "The Gay Lord Quex," will go to the Harlem Opera House next Monday night.

After Miss Viola Allen finishes her engagement of "In the Palace of the King" here, she is to tour the Pacific States. At present her audiences are large, despite the dull season, and tickets are being sold a fortnight in advance.

A notable performance of Gutzkow's "Uriel Acosta" will be given at the Irving Place Theatre next Monday night, Carl Emmerich taking the title rôle, with Frau Kierschner as de Silva, Ada Merito as Judith, Herzmann as Ben Akiba, Max Hasensler as Van der Straaten and Vladimir Schamberg as Ben Jochai.

Charles J. Ross has been engaged to play a part in "My Lady." Mr. Chamberlyn's production that is now running in Boston. The piece will follow Mathews and Bulger at the Victoria Theatre on Feb. 4. Mr. Ross, for the last few years a member of Weber & Fields's company, recently severed his connection with that organization on account of a disagreement with the managers.

CROSMAN-AARONS ROW.

Circulars Reflecting on the Actress Are Being Sent Out.

Following the lengthy discussions that have been printed concerning the Crosman-Aarons controversy, there comes the news that circulars tending to throw a slur on the actress have been distributed throughout the country, being mailed to various theatrical managers, advertisers, and newspapers in different cities. One of these circulars was sent to a manager of this city from Poughkeepsie yesterday morning. Many others turned up later in the day.

The circulars contain an excerpt from the last issue of The Dramatic News, headed "Miss Crosman Insults a New York Audience—The Savoy Theatre Closed Because Her Maid Was Not Permitted to Annoy Boxholders."

Manager Campbell, Miss Crosman's husband, announced last night, through a typewritten statement, that he had sold out his interests in "Mistress Nell." He declined to say who was the buyer, nor did inquiries made last night result in the obtaining of the purchaser's name.

A new play will be presented in the Savoy on the 28th. It is Robert Grant's "Unleavened Bread," dramatized by Leo Ditrichstein. In the cast are to be Edward J. Morgan, Elizabeth Tyree, Eleanor Robson, Alice Fisher, Margaret Fuller, Virginia Buchanan, Florida Pier, Vivien Townsend, Malcolm Williams, George Woodward, George Fawcett, Morton Selton, and Lawrence Marston.

SOTHERN TO GO TO LONDON.

Will Cut Short Present Tour to Play "Hamlet" in England.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Mr. Sothern is considering two propositions to take "Hamlet" to London. He will probably accept the one providing for sharing on percentages, according to the American plan. He declines to give the names of the bidding managers. This move will cut the Philadelphia engagement short one week and eliminate Washington and two weeks of one-night stands. Washington did not get "Hamlet" this year, and the local manager there had to be satisfied with a sixteen-hundred-dollar check for indemnity. All the one-night stands between Buffalo and New York will be cut out.

The company will leave as it is, soon after finishing in Philadelphia about March 30. Mr. Sothern hopes to stay in London playing "Hamlet" only until it is time to return for the ten weeks at the Garden Theatre, New York. It is expected that the London engagement will add greatly to the brilliancy of the season in New York. The production of Laurence Irving's play, "Richard Lovelace," will thus be indefinitely postponed.

None of Mr. Sothern's other plays will be presented during the London engagement.

THE CASTELLANE LITIGATION.

Representative of the Minister of Justice Declares Some Wertheimer Transactions Suspicious.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—The hearing of the suit of Charles Wertheimer, the London bric-a-brac dealer, against Count and Countess Boni de Castellane to recover payment for art objects sold to the defendants, the transaction taken as a test case involving the sum of 12,940f., was resumed to-day before the First Civil Tribunal of the Seine.

The session was devoted to the usual summing up by the representative of the Minister of Justice, and the case was then again adjourned for a week, when judgment will be pronounced.

The speaker to-day expressed an opinion in favor of the Castellanes' demand for the appointment of experts to determine the value of some of the art objects involved, but only in the case of objects exchanged since 1899. The transactions up to June, 1899, he considered entirely settled, and expressed the opinion that the court was not justified in going back to them. But the operations dating from June, 1899, he regarded as different. He instanced the case of a bill for 155,875f. which was left unsettled, in which Wertheimer was engaged in making exchanges, during the course of which Wertheimer paid money to Count Boni, the operations involving sums aggregating 2,000,000f.

These transactions were not, in the speaker's opinion, naturel, and were open to the suspicion of being of a usurious character, which justified the appointment of experts to appraise the articles which the Count claimed were taken by Wertheimer at an inferior valuation. He came to the same conclusion in the case of Asher versus Wertheimer.

FRANCO-RUSSIAN AMENITIES.

But the Word "Alliance" Is Not in the Foreign Ministers' Dispatches.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—In view of the statements of the anti-Republican press, corroborated by the utterances of the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg, that the Franco-Russian alliance is practically ended, the messages passing to-day between the French Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. Delcassé, and the Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs, Count Lamsdorff, attain more than usual significance.

M. Delcassé, congratulating Count Lamsdorff on his appointment as Minister of Foreign Affairs, recalls their close personal friendship, which, he believes, will be utilized for the common interests of their countries. Count Lamsdorff expresses a sincere desire to contribute to the consolidation of the unalterable friendship which has united the two countries.

It is noted that the words "alliance" or "allies" are not contained in the dispatches.

Vickers-Maxim and Cramp Combine.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—Albert Vickers allows the inference to be drawn that a combination of the Vickers-Maxim Company with the Cramps of Philadelphia will be effected. He says, however, that, so far as the Vickers-Maxim Company is concerned, the deal is not yet concluded, though he hopes it will be.

Another £1,000 from Mr. Astor.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—William Waldorf Astor has given £1,000 to the Prince of Wales's Hospital Fund.

Kaiser Confined to His Apartments.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Emperor William's cold confines him closely to his apartments.

Venezuelan Insurgents Surrender.

CARACAS, Venezuela, Jan. 9.—The last place occupied by the revolutionists, Carupano, surrendered yesterday.

Carupano is a seaport town of Venezuela, in the State of Bermudez. It is fifty-seven miles northeast of Curuana. The population is about 5,000.

ANTI-FOREIGN ELEMENT RULES CHINESE COURT

But Earl Li and Ching Expect Their Counsels to Prevail.

NOTE MEANWHILE UNSIGNED

Emperor Kwang-Su Said to Have Made Up His Mind to Return to Peking.

PEKING, Jan. 9.—Li-Hung-Chang is better. Both he and Prince Ching balked at signing the joint note until the Court is heard from again, explaining that the Emperor's edict directing them to put off signing prevented them from using the imperial seal until permission had been received, which permission they claim to expect hourly.

It is known here among the Chinese that the extreme anti-foreign element is now in power, and that the Court favorites now advise the Empress Dowager. Of these the best known are Li-Chuan-Lin, a Cabinet Minister; Gen. Ma and Gen. Tung-Fu-Siang. Their views coincide perfectly with those of the Southern Viceroys, particularly with those of Chang-Chi-Tung, who has threatened to rebel if the note is signed.

Earl Li and Prince Ching both strongly urge the signing of the agreement, and they believe their counsels must prevail. They have pointed out in the strongest possible terms that the very existence of China depends on the acceptance of the terms of the powers.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 9.—A newspaper of this city publishes a letter from Sian-Foo announcing that the Emperor has fully decided to return to Peking to administer the reformed Government.

According to this letter, the Empress Dowager offers no opposition to the Emperor's determination.

LETTER FROM SECRETARY HAY.

Does Not Think It Wise to Publish Communications from Missionaries.

Secretary Hay has written a letter to the Rev. Dr. Arthur J. Brown, one of the Secretaries of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, regarding current reports criticising the missionaries in China for urging the Government to adopt a vengeful policy toward the Chinese. The Secretary of State says that the secretary to the President had referred to him a letter received from Dr. Brown on this subject, and he quoted from that letter a sentence to the effect that if any "bloodthirsty communications" from missionaries had been received at the White House or the State Department, it is important to know to what denomination such missionaries belong, in order that no injustice be done to innocent parties. In his letter Col. Hay says:

> Many worthy and estimable men have written to the department in regard to the manner of settling the Chinese problem. No communications of this nature have been received from the great Mission Boards or from the authorized representatives. Indeed, letters have been addressed to me by missionaries, active or retired, honestly and sincerely expressing their personal sentiments, to which the President and I attach weight because the writers appear to have a useful knowledge of China and its people, so that no indication of this kind based on knowledge or belief is passed over. These communications, like those we receive from more or less well-informed laymen, and like the utterances of popular sentiment in the press, and the conclusions of the representatives of the powers at Peking, give widely various opinions as to the degree of reparation and punishment which may be deemed effective and deterrent for the future.
>
> It is not thought that at the present juncture any good result can accrue from the publication of individual views, whether moderate or extreme in either direction. All alike have aided this Government in shaping its own course so as to give the most hopefully practical effect to the determination, long since announced, to exact the uttermost accountability of the authors of the crimes whereby our citizens have suffered in China, and to reach a settlement which shall secure the good order and integrity of China, preserve the just rights of foreigners in the empire, and prevent a recurrence of the late disorder.

THE AMERICAN PROPOSITION.

Powers Have Not Yet Decided Whether They Will Agree to Transfer the Negotiations.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—It is understood that the subject of the lengthy interview which United States Ambassador White had yesterday with the Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs was in regard to the proposal of the United States that the powers withdraw their troops from China as soon as the Chinese Government accepts all the articles of the joint note, except those relating to indemnity and commercial treaties, these being left for settlement at a conference of the powers at Washington or elsewhere.

No final decision in the matter has been announced, but the feeling in diplomatic circles seems to be opposed to the United States proposition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The lengthy conferences held by Ambassador Choate with Lord Lansdowne, British Minister for Foreign Affairs, and by Ambassador White with the German Minister for Foreign Affairs, as briefly reported by cable, relate to the proposition made by the United States for the removal of the two subjects of indemnity and commercial treaties from Peking to Washington or some other foreign capital, for negotiation before an international commission.

It appears, however, that the Berlin understanding that Mr. White submitted a proposal for the withdrawal of troops from China as soon as the Chinese Government accepts the articles of the joint note, is rather an inference from the proposal, and not a part of the proposal itself. The United States has from the outset sought to avoid a prolonged occupancy of China by the foreign forces.

This desire has become emphasized of late as the refusal of China to sign raised a direct refusal with the "irrevocable" terms of the powers, threatening to bring on a prolonged occupancy of Peking and other parts of the empire. For this reason it is believed that Mr. White may have directed attention to the desirability of a withdrawal, but in any event this has been more in the nature of a conversation on measures of mutual expediency than a direct proposition from the United States.

The interviews of the American representatives with foreign governments have not yet brought about any determination as to the proposed transfer of negotiations to a point outside Peking, and it is probable that some days will elapse before the envoys will be able to advise the State Department definitely as to the attitude of the several powers.

Waldersee May Leave China in March.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—"Should no fresh developments render his presence in China necessary," says the Shanghai correspondent of The Daily News, "Count von Waldersee will return to Europe about the end of March."

New Manhattan Club Members.

Many new members will be elected by the Board of Governors of the Manhattan Club at a meeting to-night. Among those who will be chosen to membership are ex-Senator David B. Hill, Frank Campbell, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee; ex-State Treasurer Elliot Danforth, James T. Woodward of New York, and Charles M. Preston, ex-State Superintendent of Banks.

Commissioner Nagle's Mother Dead.

Mrs. Nagle, the mother of Percival E. Nagle, the Street-Cleaning Commissioner, died last night at her home, at One Hundred and Twenty-second Street and Third Avenue. Her death was due to heart disease. She had been ill for some time.

Death of Frank I. Stott.

Frank Irving Stott died yesterday of pneumonia at the residence of his sister, Mrs. H. G. Romaine, in the thirty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Stott was a public accountant and was a member of the New York Athletic and the Colonial Club.

Would Aid a Colored Man.

The Brooklyn Bureau of Charities appeals for $80 to secure the admission of an old colored man into a home. The man is highly recommended by those who know him as being of excellent moral character and as having come to misfortune through no fault of his own.

FATHER RIEGLE'S MURDER.

Bryan, Arrested Here, Confesses Priest Was Killed in Philadelphia by Knockout Drops.

Robert Bryan, alias "Sailor Bob," alias "Jack" Harris, wanted in Philadelphia for complicity in the murder there on Friday night last of the Rev. Father Riegle, a priest of the Roman Catholic Church, was arrested in this city last night by Detective Sergeants Heap and Holland of the Central Office.

Bryan was arrested at 11 o'clock at Chatham Square, and when taken before Capt. Titus of the Detective Bureau made a confession in which he told the story of the murder of the priest.

Bryan is a saloon keeper and runs what he terms a "speak-easy," a Philadelphia term for an unlicensed saloon, in North Eighth Street, Philadelphia. Bryan came to this city Saturday night last and was arrested at the request of Chief Quirk of the Philadelphia police.

The story told by Capt. Titus concerning the confession made by Bryan is as follows: On Friday night last there went to Bryan's place a man whose name Bryan gives, but which is withheld by Capt. Titus, and whom he called "Jack," for the sake of brevity. "Jack" was accompanied by three companions and the Rev. Father Riegle. The latter was very much intoxicated. Bryan lived at the same place, and with him Anna Miller. She was present when the men entered, it is said, but was sent from the room.

Jack and three men gave frequent orders for beer, for which the priest always insisted on paying. Each time he paid he displayed a large roll of bills. He was so intoxicated that he dropped bills on the floor. The men struck his hands, and made him drop more. Bryan admits getting $10 in that manner, and asserts that others got more. "Jack" excused himself and left the room. Presently he returned. He carried a small vial, which Bryan says was filled with a dark liquid. Bryan declares this liquid was 20 cents' worth of laudanum and chloral, which "Jack" had purchased on prescription at a nearby drug store.

Two glasses of beer were poured out. In one "Jack" poured the contents of the vial. This he held in his right hand, while in his left he held the undrugged beverage. He extended the drugged beer to the priest, who took it and drank about half its contents, while "Jack" emptied the other glass. Bryan says he was not in the room at that time, but saw all this done.

"What did you give that priest?" Bryan asked "Jack."

"That's good stuff," "Jack" replied. "That will fix him all right."

Bryan says that then "Jack" admitted he was going to rob the priest.

"Then," said Bryan, as he told his story, "I told 'Jack' I would not stand for that in my place. That I was afraid I would get into trouble. I made 'Jack' and his friends take the priest out of the room."

He says they took him out, supporting him between them.

Bryan says that after they had gone he found a silver snuff box on the floor. This he threw out into the street.

He then went to bed, he says, and knew nothing further about the affair until Saturday morning, when he wakened about 11 o'clock. Then Anna Miller told him that the body of a priest had been found dead in the hallway of the house next door.

"I trust that that priest, I told her," said Bryan last night.

Bryan says he looked for "Jack" all day, but could not find him. But about 7 o'clock that evening "Jack" appeared at the saloon.

"I accused Jack of having killed the priest," said Bryan, "but he denied it. Anna Miller and another woman accused him of killing the priest. He denied it. But she told him she knew better. 'Your name is on a prescription at that drug store,' she told Jack."

Jack and the woman then left Bryan's place, and he had not seen them since. Bryan said the police were put on the case, and that he became frightened and left town, taking a 10 o'clock train Saturday night for New York City.

Bryan declared he had made a full statement so far as he knew anything about the place.

Bryan has been in prison for robbery.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—The police received the information that Father Riegle was murdered from Ethel Henry and Maud Zedwick, who were apprehended early on Tuesday morning and afterward made a statement to Superintendent Quirk.

Capt. Millar and the detectives upon the case are satisfied that the priest was lured to his death by a woman. There are witnesses who saw him on Eighth Street with a female. This was at a late hour of the night, and no particular attention was attracted. At the time Father Riegle was conducted to the hallway where his body was found, the streets were probably deserted, and if any chance passer had seen the occurrence he might easily conclude that an intoxicated man was being taken to his lodging by friends. Nearly all the plunder taken from the person of Father Riegle has been recovered. The police deny this, but it is a fact nevertheless.

ENTRENCHING AT CAPE TOWN.

Defenses Being Constructed Across the Flats—British Commandeering Horses.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 10.—Entrenchments are being constructed across the Cape Flats from False Bay to Table Bay.

Commandeering of horses has begun in the districts where the owners have refused to sell them to the military authorities.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Dr. Leyds, according to a dispatch to The Daily Express from The Hague, is organizing a band of agitators, to proceed to Cape Town and to endeavor to establish a corner in provisions.

The British casualties in the fighting on Jan. 5 between Col. Babington's forces and the Boers under Gen. Delarey and Gen. Steenkamp at Naauwpoort, when the burghers were forced to retire, were twelve men killed and thirty-three wounded.

TO RECRUIT MORE CANADIANS.

Special to The New York Times.

OTTAWA, Jan. 9.—The Department of Militia has completed arrangements for the enlistment of 1,000 or more Canadians to join Gen. Baden-Powell's constabulary in South Africa. Notices will be sent out to-morrow calling for recruits.

The delay in issuing the notices was due to the order that Canadians had to be attested at Cape Town. As this would involve hardship on those who might be rejected, the department here desired that the order should be changed, and that all recruits should be attested before leaving Canada. A cablegram has been received from the Colonial Secretary, the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, agreeing to this, and now the recruiting will proceed.

Judging from the offers which are reaching the department from all parts of Canada, there ought not to be much trouble in getting all the men that are required if 1,000 men enlist, a certain number of commissions in the army will be given to Canadians. The men will be paid 5s. a day.

BEGGAR SCHLOEFER IS DEAD.

An east side character, Jacob Schloefer, beggar, ninety-five years old, died yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. The body lies on a floor in a squalid apartment at 51 Orchard Street. His widow, seventy years old, herself a professional beggar of considerable standing in the strange guild, sits beside him muttering broken sentences—prayers perhaps—in a foreign tongue. Three candles burn on one side of the body and two on the other. They were bought by the old widow with her last remaining pennies, and they flicker and sputter from strange candlesticks. One of these makeshifts is a pie plate, another a tomato can, a third a tumbler, another a kerosene lamp, and the last a real old candlestick, but broken. The candles are of different lengths, and they add a dismal color to the already gloomy chamber.

He was a picturesque figure, having been tall and venerable looking, with snow-white hair and long, bushy white whiskers and eyebrows, covering everything but his eyes and ears and nose. His wife is wholly deaf and can speak no English. The mother gave half her earnings every day to her married son, Philip, who lives on Bayard Street, and is very poor. The old man gave half his daily earnings to his married daughter, Amelia Gordon, sixty-five years old, a widow with two children. The children of the old people were by former marriages.

Two weeks ago the old man became ill. A doctor prescribed for him, but did no good. He was worse on Tuesday, and told his wife that he was going to die. It being the wish of many Jews to have people by them when they die, he sent his wife to the Roumanian Synagogue, on Orchard Street, and in answer to her request the rabbi and ten men came. Then the old man died peacefully.

Yesterday the old woman went out and sold everything she had for $14, which she gave to a charitable society to bury her husband. It was said the interment would take place to-day.

THE ERIE BASIN FIRE.

Dock Destroyed and Also Two Steamers —Loss Will Be $500,000.

The damage caused by the big fire which occurred early yesterday morning at Erie Basin, Brooklyn, is estimated at about $500,000. The large dock of the Beard estate was destroyed, the British tramp steamship St. Dunstan gutted, the steamboat Idlewild of the Starin Line almost entirely destroyed, the steamship Coya, owned by William It. Grace & Co., damaged, and hundreds of bales of jute burned up. The fire on the St. Dunstan was not put out until yesterday afternoon.

The fire started on the Idlewild shortly after 1 o'clock. The Idlewild was laid up at the breakwater for the Winter. She was immediately cut adrift. There was about twenty minutes' delay in turning in an alarm, as the men on the breakwater had to go nearly half a mile to reach the nearest alarm box, it being necessary for them to make a wide detour. Four alarms were turned in, calling out the entire fire-fighting force of the lower part of the borough, as well as the fireboats Seth Low and New Yorker.

The wind carried the blazing boat over to Beard's wharf, at the foot of Richard Street. There were two steamers moored there, the big new tramp St. Dunstan, recently arrived from Calcutta with jute and general merchandise, and the Coya. Most of the St. Dunstan's cargo had been taken out and was piled up on the wharf. The burning Idlewild struck the wharf and set fire to it. The flames were swiftly communicated to the St. Dunstan. The crew made an effort to save the ship, but the fire spread so rapidly that they were compelled to abandon the vessel.

When the fire engine companies reached the scene the fire had gained great headway. The wooden pier on which the St. Dunstan were blazing fiercely together, while out in the stream the Idlewild drifted about, a great mass of flame. The blaze lit up the heavens and the waters of the bay and was visible from the shores of Staten Island and New Jersey and the lower part of Manhattan. There were several thousand bales of jute on the Beard dock, and these burned furiously. The fireboats, with the aid of tugs, pulled the St. Dunstan and the lighters Portland and Sweet, owned by Wright & Cobb of Manhattan, which had also caught fire, out into open water, and turned powerful streams upon them. Ashore two engines were put to work throwing water on the Beard warehouses, in which a great quantity of saltpetre was stored. The warehouses were saved from the flames, but the large dock was destroyed.

The Idlewild burned until she was but a guarled and twisted hulk, sinking finally and showing only her flagstaff above water. The St. Dunstan was gutted. This ship was launched just one year ago yesterday.

Although the fire caused a great deal of damage, several millions of dollars' worth of property was saved from the flames through the efforts of the firemen. The steam yachts Aphrodite and Atalanta and other noted pleasure craft were among the boats in the basin. The Atalanta, which has been purchased by Venezuela, is being converted into a gunboat. The United States Army transport Crook and the steamers Panama, St. George, Orlgen, and other ships were moored in the basin, but all escaped damage.

FUNERAL OF BISHOP WIGGER.

Requiem Mass To-day in the Newark Cathedral and a Marching Escort of Five Divisions.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 9.—The body of Bishop Winand Michael Wigger now lies in state in St. Patrick's Cathedral, this city.

A mass of requiem was celebrated in the Chapel of the Immaculate Conception at Seton Hall College. The members of the college Faculty, a number of the students, and some outsiders were in attendance. The Rev. John A. Stafford, President of Seton Hall, was the celebrant.

After the mass the students were drawn up on the campus and stood with uncovered heads as the procession passed down the drive and out onto the avenue. A guard of honor was formed at Thirteenth and Littleton Avenues, in this city, under James Taaffe as Grand Marshal. It was composed of representatives of various Catholic organizations. Nickols's Band and a squad of policemen headed the procession. Many of the priests of Newark marched in line with their parishioners. As the procession was slowly moving down the bells of all the Catholic churches were tolled. When the head of the procession reached the cathedral, the escort drew up in double line, between which the hearse was driven, while the men stood with uncovered heads. The Very Rev. J. J. O'Connor, Vicar General of the diocese and Acting Bishop, blessed the body in the vestibule of the church. Then the procession moved toward the altar with a cross bearer leading. Sixteen clergymen followed the remains. The casket was placed on an inclined bier, and the cover was removed, exposing full length the body of the Bishop, clothed in full vestments, even to mitre and episcopal ring. The altar and the episcopal throne were draped in purple, and the body of the church in white and black.

The funeral service to-morrow morning will be most solemn. At the pontifical mass, Archbishop Corrigan of New York will officiate. The music of the mass will be Gregorian. The sermon will be preached by the Right Rev. Bishop McFaul of the Diocese of Trenton.

While the mass is in progress, the funeral procession will form in five divisions in the vicinity of the cathedral. The procession will move about 12:30 and go directly up Central Avenue to the Cemetery of the Holy Sepulchre, in East Orange, where the body will rest until the new cathedral is completed. It will then be removed to the crypt there.

LORD DUFFERIN EXPLAINS.

London and Globe Shareholders First Hiss and Afterward Loudly Cheer Him—The Meeting Adjourned.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—After he had been assailed with cries of "Turn him out!" hootings, and other hostile interruptions, the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, Chairman of the suspended London and Globe Finance Corporation, Limited, at the extraordinary general meeting of the company called for to-day, succeeded in appeasing the wrath of the shareholders toward himself.

The hall was packed, and the Directors were evidently supported by a considerable faction, as warm cheering was mingled with the hisses and hootings.

Lord Dufferin spoke with evident emotion as he explained his personal relations with the corporation, and the result of the meeting was largely a tribute to himself. In the course of his remarks he explained that he was induced to accept the Chairmanship at the solicitation of the late Lord Loch and Sir William Robinson.

The Marquis said that he felt that when two such eminent men were connected with the concern he could legitimately join. He soon discovered that he had bitter opponents who desired his resignation, hoping that a depreciation of the securities would follow. But he stuck to his position and investments, and, though a greater sufferer than most of the shareholders, he had no regret if he had helped to convince them of his good faith. Later, he found the duties to be a physical strain beyond his advancing years, and he wanted to withdraw, but was haunted by the fear of the detrimental effect his withdrawal would have. He therefore held on to the Chairmanship until he received news of the serious condition of his youngest son, when he yielded to his wife's prayer to take her at once to South Africa. He sent in his resignation with a clear conscience, believing that the surrender of his position under such circumstances was so natural that no one would dream of placing a sinister interpretation upon it. He had no anticipation then that the London and Globe would default from its engagements on the Stock Exchange. The news reached him in Ireland, and in the presence of such a calamity he felt that every private consideration must be sunk.

In conclusion, Lord Dufferin, who was deeply moved, declared that the patience and generosity with which the shareholders had heard him would be one of the brightest souvenirs of his old age. He resumed his seat amid loud cheers.

Whitaker Wright's reception was of a mixed character. He announced that the Directors had practically arranged with the creditors, and that the company would soon be sailing smoothly again. It would be necessary, he added, to adjourn until Monday, when, he believed, the shareholders would hear that all their interests were safe and that a scheme for the reconstruction of the company would be proposed, insuring its future prosperity. Mr. Wright added that he had advanced a quarter of a million pounds to tide the corporation over its struggles.

Mr. Wright's further remarks were listened to with considerable impatience. The meeting closed with further cheers for Lord and Lady Dufferin, after those present had agreed to an adjournment till Monday.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

To-day's social programme is again full of incident. Mrs. William R. Sands will give a large luncheon for women in honor of her nicce, Miss Lillian S. Tyler, at the Metropolitan Club Annex. The wedding of Mr. D'Oench and Mrs. Alice Grace Hellcway, daughter of ex-Mayor Grace, will take place this afternoon at the ex-Mayor's residence, 31 East Seventy-ninth Street. Among the large dinners of the evening will be those to be given by Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., and Mrs. E. Ellery Anderson. The Whist Club will hold its second meeting at the residence of Mrs. George R. Schieffelin, 5 East Forty-fifth Street, and there will be a seven-handed euchre party at the residence of Mrs. James L. Barclay, 14 East Forty-eighth Street. Among the receptions of the day will be those to be given by Mrs. W. H. Parsons, 4 East Sixty-fifth Street; Mrs. Edward H. Ripley and Miss Ripley of 76 Park Avenue, and by Mrs. David S. Cowles (Miss Matilda Parsons) of 278 West End Avenue. There will also be a number of "at homes."

***

Mrs. Thomas Thacher of 21 West Fifty-first Street will give a tea on Monday next and another on Jan. 21. Mrs. Nicholas Fish will give a luncheon on Tuesday next for her daughter, Mrs. Robert B. Potter, who has recently returned from abroad. Mrs. Morgan Dix has issued invitations for a dinner to be given on the evening of Jan. 15 in honor of Miss Frederica V. Webb. Mrs. E. H. Harriman of 1 East Fifty-fifth Street has issued invitations for two dinners, to be given on Jan. 19 and 26, respectively.

***

The dinner to be given by Mr. and Mrs George Bird for Miss Frederica Webb daughter of Dr. W. Seward Webb, first announced in this column on Tuesday, will take place at Sherry's this evening. The dinner will be one of forty covers.

***

A number of dinners were given last evening. Dr. W. Seward Webb and Mrs. Webb gave a dinner of sixteen covers for young people, and their guests went on to the Moran dance. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Harriman of 1 East Forty-fifth Street also gave a dinner for young people, and their guests also went on to the Moran dance. Miss Delia Garnee was another dinner-giver. Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burden, Jr., gave a dinner of eight covers, and this was followed by bridge whist.

***

The engagement has been announced of Harold Lomas of Manchester, England, and Miss Virginia Washington Swayne, daughter of Gen. Wager Swayne, United States Army. And Mrs. Swayne, (Miss Ellen Harris.) Miss Swayne is a niece of Mrs. Edwin Parsons, and is well known in the younger set in society. Miss Swayne's younger sister, Miss Eleanor Swayne, was introduced last Winter, and spent a part of the Summer abroad.

***

Mrs. Daniel Butterfield of 616 Fifth Avenue gave the first of two large receptions yesterday afternoon at her residence. Mrs. Butterfield received alone. She wore a gown of ecru satin trimmed with Flemish lace, and the bodice was embroidered in coral and finished with a black velvet girdle. The house was decorated with pink and white lilies, and the table decorations were all of pink. A string orchestra of seventeen pieces, under the direction of Victor Harris, played throughout the reception. Selections were rendered from Bach, Mendelssohn, Chopin, and other composers. Mrs. Butterfield's second reception will take place on Wednesday next. Mrs. Butterfield, with Gen. Butterfield, will leave town for Palm Beach, Fla., a day or two later, and will spend some weeks there.

***

Mrs. Ramsay Turnbull (Miss Martha Benedict) gave the first of two receptions at her residence, 87 Park Avenue, yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Turnbull was assisted in receiving by her sister, Miss Benedict, and by Miss Alison Turnbull of Morristown, N. J. Mrs. Turnbull was gowned in beige silk, with trimmings of turquois velvet; Miss Benedict was in white lace, and Miss Turnbull's gown was of white mousseline over green taffeta. Mrs. George Post and Mrs. Blair poured tea. The house was simply decorated with cut flowers. Among the callers were Mrs. W. Starrs Wells and Miss Nathalie Wells, Mrs. Thomas Hastings, Mrs. Frederic Benedict, Mrs. Varnum, Mrs. Benjamin Tucker, Mrs. Leroy, Mrs. George Turnure, Miss Nathalie Schenck, Miss Helen Kountze, Miss Robinson, and Miss Marion Fish. Mrs. Turnbull will give a second reception on Jan. 23.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel H. Valentine gave a large dinner at their home, 44 East Fifty-seventh Street, last evening.

The engagement is announced of George B. Dyer, younger son of ex-Gov. Elisha Dyer of Rhode Island, and Miss Dexter Scott, granddaughter of Walter S. Gurnee.

***

Amadee De Pau Moran of 17 West Fifty-sixth Street gave a dinner dance last night for his younger and débutante daughter, Miss Rosalie Moran. The guests at several other dinners, notably those of Mrs. E. H. Harriman and Mrs. Webb, came in for the dancing. The house was beautifully decorated, and electric lights were put in especially for the occasion. These were draped with filmy material and veiled with vines and flowers. There was a cotillion, for which the favors were extremely pretty, and included memorandum books for the girls and fancy blotters for the men; in another figure feather wands for the girls and miniature banjos for the men. Other favors were fans painted in hunting scenes, and silk golf caddy bags, and fancy ribbons for the girls and belts for the men. Among the guests were the Misses Mary Harriman, Sydney S. Henop, Charlotte Prime, Nora Iselin, Therese Iselin, Sophie Langdon, Florence Twombly, Helen Kountze, and the Messrs. Schieffelin, Barclay Kountze, Arthur Street, Walton Oakley, Morris, Benjamin, and others.

***

The women who will receive at the second Assembly Ball, which is to take place at the Astoria on Thursday night, Jan. 24, will be Mrs. W. Bayard Cutting, Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies, Mrs. Duncan Cryder, and Mrs. William Douglas Sloane.

***

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish will give a dinner of thirty-four covers at her residence on Friday evening, from which she and her guests will go to the Mills dance. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rhinelander have cards out for dinners on Thursday, Jan. 17, and Wednesday, Jan. 23, respectively.

VANDERBILT-FRENCH WEDDING.

Floral Decorations to be More Elaborate than at First Intended.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, Jan. 9.—The floral decorations for the wedding of Miss French and Alfred G. Vanderbilt on Monday next will be more elaborate than was at first intended. The decoration of the church will be begun immediately after the services on Sunday, and the work will be continued all night. The roses, orchids, and other flowers will be kept in ice-boxes on the cars bringing them from New York until a few hours before they are put in place.

The floral table decorations and those for the dining hall and other rooms to be used on Saturday evening next, when Miss French gives the dinner in honor of her bridesmaids, are coming from New York on Saturday. They will consist principally of pink orchids, American Beauty roses, and lilies of the valley. Thirty-four guests will be present, and the wedding gifts will be shown.

The portrait of Miss French by Munzig has arrived at Harbourview.

This afternoon a number of valuable wedding gifts were taken from Harbourview to the Aquidneck National Bank vaults by Gen. and Mrs. Eaton, Mr. Vanderbilt, and Miss French. Gen. Eaton and Mr. Vanderbilt went from Harbourview to the bank in Mr. Vanderbilt's locomobile, while Mrs. Eaton and Miss French were driven in Mr. Vanderbilt's open victoria. After the visit to the vaults the party went for a drive.

The burglar alarm at the bank rang twice to-day, the second time at 11 P. M. The alarm is connected with the vaults, where the gifts are deposited. The ringing of the alarm to-night, with the hurrying of a squad of police to the bank, brought together a large gathering of sightseers. Nobody, however, was trying to enter the vaults.

Harbourview to-day was in the hands of the electrical workers, and gardeners were at work erecting evergreen arches at both driveway entrances.

This evening Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, who is to be the maid of hono at the wedding, and her son, Reginald Vanderbilt, who will be the best man, arrived from New York and were met at the Wickford boat landing by Alfred G. Vanderbilt and Miss French. The party were driven to The Breakers, where Mrs. Vanderbilt was visited later by Mrs. French and Gen. and Mrs. Eaton.

Local weather prophets claim that Newport will have very bad weather during the next few days.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—There was a short but interesting list of Cabinet receptions this afternoon, Mrs. Gage, Mrs. Root, Mrs. Griggs, and Mrs. Charles Emory Smith being at home to visitors.

Mrs. Gage received alone, but gave one of the largest receptions of the afternoon. Among her visitors were Mrs. Manning and Mrs. Carlisle, the first the wife of the Secretary of the Treasury under the first Cleveland Administration, and the second occupying a similar position during Mr. Cleveland's second term. The appearance of Mrs. Carlisle at this and other receptions excited much interest, and she was greeted everywhere by hosts of old friends, delighted with this opportunity of again greeting her.

Mrs. Root and Miss Root were assisted in welcoming their visitors by Mrs. Edward Wales of New York, the sister-in-law of the hostess, who, with her husband, is making a week's visit to the Secretary of War and his family.

Mrs. Griggs looked particularly well in a becoming gown of white cloth, and was assisted by her guest, Mrs. Clark of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Smith had as her only assistant Miss Augusta Warner Miller, daughter of the ex-Senator from New York.

Mrs. Henderson, wife of the Speaker, gave her first reception of the season this afternoon at the Normandie. She was assisted by Mrs. Sereno E. Payne and Mrs. J. K. Stewart, both of New York; Mrs. Julian Richards, Miss Hemphill, and Miss Hancock.

Mrs. Reginald De Koven was the hostess at a tea this afternoon. Miss Wallach and Miss Lay did the honors of the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Francis of New York gave a large theatre party to-night in honor of Miss Fannie Fuller, the débutante sister of Mrs. Francis. The company was entertained at supper after the play at the residence of Mrs. Francis's parents, the Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller.

Mrs. J. Fairfield Carpenter gave a large luncheon in honor of Mrs. Ten Eyck Wendell of Cazenovia, N. Y., on Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Wendell have been the recipients of much social attention since they arrived in Washington.

WEDDINGS OF A DAY.

Scott—Pierson.

The wedding of Edward Walker Scott, Jr., of Virginia, and Miss Adeline Chandler Pierson, younger daughter of Gen. J. Frederic Pierson and Mrs. Pierson, was celebrated at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 20 West Fifty-second Street. The bride, whose gown was of white satin, made severely plain, wore a veil of tulle edged with point lace, and carried a bouquet of white lilacs. Her father, Gen. Pierson, gave her away, and Dean Robbins of All Saints' Cathedral, Albany, performed the ceremony. The bride's maid of honor was her sister, Miss Marguerite Pierson, and the bridesmaids were the Misses Julia Pierson, a younger sister of Gen. Pierson; Marie Hamilton, a cousin of the bride; Josephine Isham, and Laura Lee. The maid of honor wore a gown of delicate blue chiffon trimmed with primrose-colored panne velvet, and carried a bouquet of violets and marguerites. The bridesmaids were in pale blue crepe de chine, trimmed with yellow lace, and they carried yellow roses. Mr. Scott's best man was his brother, George Cole Scott, and his ushers were his uncle, George W. Scott, James R. Pierson, a brother of the bride, and C. B. Antrim and John F. Walker of Washington.

The house was handsomely decorated with white flowers, and the prie dieu was covered by Hodgson with white orchids. Garlands of white flowers were used in the drawing room, and sprays of orchids were placed here and there. The table in the dining room was decorated with red roses and ferns, and palms were used all through the house and to form a screen for the musicians. Ropes of green foliage were used in the dining room in May-pole effect and holly was also used. There was no reception. Among the 200 guests present were Mr. and Mrs. J. Frederic Pierson, Jr., Miss Watmough, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Miss Barron, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Hamilton, Mrs. du Fais and Miss du Fais, Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Pooler, Miss Lyman of Boston, Miss Rhoades of Providence, the Misses Gibert, Mr. and Mrs. William Grosvenor of Providence, R. I.; Miss Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, Leonidas Westervelt, Hamilton B. Tompkins, J. Norton Winslow, Mr. and Mrs. Prime, and the Misses Smith.

Brokaw—Inman.

The wedding of Clifford V. Brokaw, son of William V. Brokaw, and Miss Nannie Inman, daughter of the late John Inman, was celebrated quietly at the residence of the bride, 42 West Fifty-seventh Street, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Inman, who was given away by her brother, Hugh H. Inman, wore a gown of white silk crêpe, trimmed with point lace, and her veil was also of point lace, fastened to her coiffure with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley. The maid of honor and only attendant was the bride's sister, Miss Lucy Inman, who was gowned in cream lace. She carried pink roses and wore one in her hair. Clare Hamilton, a cousin of the bridegroom, was his best man, and there were no ushers. The Rev. Dr. Purves of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church performed the ceremony, which took place in the drawing room. This room was decorated by Thorley with vases of white roses and white violets, and the prie dieu on which the couple knelt was of white roses. Only relatives of the young couple were present, and there was no reception.

Merriman—Jackson.

The wedding of Henry M. Merriman and Miss Maude A. Jackson was celebrated at 4 o'clock P. M. yesterday in Grace Church Chantry by the Rev. Dr. Huntington. The bride's gown was of white satin and her veil of tulle. The maid of honor, Miss Violet Harper, was in white, with girdle and hat of red, and the sleeves trimmed with bands of red. She carried red carnations and the bride carried lilies of the valley. The bridegroom's best man was his brother, Heminway Merriman, and the ushers were Morgan R. Howe, H. G. Wey, William Van Deventer, C. W. Hungerford, and Gilman Collamore.

J. C. S. Blackburn Not Engaged to Marry

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 9.—Concerning a widely circulated report of his engagement of marriage to a New York lady, Senator-elect J. C. S. Blackburn to-day telegraphed The Louisville Times an emphatic denial, saying: "The report is absolutely false."

ALBANY SOCIETY DINNER.

Pleasant personalities and reminiscences characterized the Albany Society's seventh annual reunion, for which about 200 members and guests assembled at Delmonico's last evening. The speeches which followed the dinner were largely personal, and the witticisms and humorous allusions to members evoked frequent and hearty laughter.

The dining room was decorated with the Stars and Stripes, and the seal of Albany occupied a conspicuous position. Beneath it stood a portion of the silver service presented to the cruiser Albany by the City of Albany. Louis Stern, who was elected President last night, presided and introduced as toastmaster Dr. Thomas H. Willard.

Dr. Willard said that the evening would be devoted to old memoirs. "We expected to have two speakers of National reputation with us," he added, "but the Reed we leaned on failed us, and the Beveridge is lacking." He then introduced George H. Daniels, who responded to the toast "Albany and the United States—The United States Contains Albany and Some Other Cities." Other toasts and those who responded to them were: "Arbor Hill," Thomas Wilson, Jr.; "The Bench and the Bar of Old Albany," Gen. Amasa J. Parker; "Financial Albany," Charles R. Hall; E. Franklin, "Albany Commerce Redivivus," W. B. Jones; Robert D. Williams spoke of the city's gift to the cruiser.

Prior to the dinner the following officers were elected: President—Louis Stern; First Vice President—Walter Dickson; Second Vice President—Edward E. McCall; Secretary—Thomas Wilson, Jr.; Treasurer—Charles A. Walker.

Col. William L. Trenholm Better.

Col. William L. Trenholm, who is ill at his home, 312 West Seventy-third Street, was reported to be slightly improved last night. During the day Col. Trenholm became worse, but rallied during the evening.

TARRANT FIRE INQUIRY.

Coroner Trying to Fix Responsibility for Death of Victims.

Coroner Bausch yesterday began the inquest into the death of seven persons killed by the explosion and subsequent fire in the drug store of Tarrant & Co. on Oct. 29 last. Assistant District Attorney Walsh represented the State. Alfred Ely appeared for Tarrant & Co., Bartow S. Wecks for the estate of Benjamin F. Moorehouse, the shipping clerk who lost his life, and Vernon M. Davis and Almet R. Latson for wholesale firms having goods stored in the building.

John F. Devanny, Captain of Engine Company No. 29, said that the fire began on the third floor, and that while he and three men of his company were directing a stream of water upon it from the stairway, about three minutes after his company arrived, the first explosion occurred. Hugo Limberger, an employe of M. J. Breitenbach & Co., on the second floor of the Tarrant Building, and Frederick J. Bennett also testified. The inquest will go on to-day.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Thomas W. Adams.

Thomas W. Adams, a wealthy jewelry manufacturer of Newark, died at his home, 107 Clinton Avenue, that city, Tuesday night rather suddenly. He had suffered from throat trouble for some time, but nothing serious was anticipated. A sudden attack of heart trouble brought the end. Mr. Adams, who was seventy-eight years old, was a native New Yorker. He settled in Newark at an early age, and after learning the jewelry business entered the firm of Harriott, Jennings & Adams. He subsequently became the owner of the business, the firm name now being Adams & Sons. Mr.

COLUMBIA'S BOATHOUSE

Quarters on Harlem Promised by the Alumni of the College.

NEW ROWING CLUB FORMED

Candidates for 'Varsity and Freshman Crews to Begin Work on the Machines To-day.

About 300 Columbia students assembled yesterday afternoon in Havemeyer Hall for the purpose of organizing a new rowing club and of taking steps which will assure a prosperous future for the sport at the university. By far the most important proposition of the meeting was made by Francis S. Bangs, '78, who proposed a plan from the alumni by which crew expenses are guaranteed and a new boathouse on the Harlem River is promised. Mr. Bangs said that the alumni had held a meeting and had estimated that the expenses of the crew for the year would be slightly over $8,000. Their proposition is to the effect that if the freshman class contributes its customary $2,500 and the other three classes raise another $2,500 by subscription, the graduates would add $3,000, thus providing amply for the crews. "If this is done," said he, "a certain alumnus of Columbia College has offered to give the funds necessary to build a boathouse for the university on the Harlem River at One Hundred and Thirty-second Street." Some years ago the rowing club was the owner of a fine boathouse on the Hudson, which it sold at a ridiculously low figure on the acquisition of the new house on the Hudson. It has been found necessary, however, every year to put the crew on the Harlem for early Spring work before smooth water is available on the Hudson. Since the Columbia club sold its own house it has been given quarters every Spring in the houses of several of the Harlem clubs. As this is not entirely satisfactory, a new house was thought necessary. It will be built on a site selected by Coach Edward Hanlan, and will be fitted up to supply every need of a college crew.

Mr. Bangs forcibly stated in his remarks that if graduate support was to be expected the utmost economy must be practiced in the management of the crew. "Under these circumstances," said he, "funds will be forthcoming for the training of the oarsmen, for the expenses of a crew at Annapolis, of a crew in the Harlem Regatta, of a second crew to meet Pennsylvania and Cornell at Ithaca on May 30, and of the 'Varsity and freshman eights and 'Varsity four at Poughkeepsie." Mr. Bangs said that a proposition was being considered of holding a single-sculls race in connection with the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie if enough entries were assured for the event.

After Mr. Bangs concluded his remarks Chairman J. B. Smith of the General Athletic Association read the proposed constitution for the new rowing club as drawn up by Gustavus T. Kirby, 1895; J. A. E. Cowles, 1883; S. P. Nash, 1901; B. M. Falconer, 1901, and H. Bayne, 1901. The constitution was adopted and will go into effect immediately. It differs from the old constitution in that it provides for paid membership to the club and for a Board of Directors composed of graduates and undergraduates, which will have general supervision of rowing at the university.

An election of officers for the new club was held which resulted as follows: President—Stephen Payn Nash, 1901, college; Vice President—Roland Pearce Jackson, 1902, college; Secretary—Marcellus Hartley Dodge, 1903, college; Board of Directors—Francis Sedgwick Bangs, '78; Justus A. B. Cowles, '83, and Bruce McLean Falconer, 1901, college. F. S. Bangs was re-elected as Columbia's representative on the Board of Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association.

Coach Hanlan was called on for a speech. He said that Columbia's prospects were of the brightest and gave the students assurance that under his coaching no favoritism would be shown in choosing the crew. He said that the small and weaker men would receive as much attention from him as the stronger candidates. Concluding, he said: "I am proud of my position, and will do my best to bring Columbia to the front in intercollegiate aquatics."

Capt. Frederick B. Irvine of the 'Varsity crew next spoke on the work of the year. He said that in Hanlan Columbia had found the right man to guide her rowing interests. He said that instead of beginning work with a debt of $2,200, as last year's crew did, the men will start out free from debt and with six of the men who rowed last June at Poughkeepsie. Before concluding his remarks Capt. Irvine made the announcement that the 'Varsity and freshman crews will begin work to-day on the machines.

Indian Harbor Yacht Officers.

Frank Tilford was elected Commodore of the Indian Harbor Yacht Club last night at the annual meeting held in the Yachtsman's Club, 47 West Forty-third Street. He succeeds Charles T. Wills, who presided at the meeting until the election of the new Commodore was announced. Beside the election of officers, the prizes won during the year in the club regattas were distributed. The list of officers chosen for the coming year is:

Commodore—Frank Tilford, steamer Norman; Vice Commodore—Alfred Peats, sloop Enpronzi; Rear Commodore—George F. Dominick, steamer Varuna; Secretary—Charles W. Kirby; Treasurer—Richard Outwater; Trustees (Class of 1904)—Charles T. Wills and L. R. Alberger; Regatta Committee—Frank Bourne Jones, (Chairman,) Charles F. Kirby, Charles P. Tower, F. C. Henderson, and Charles E. Simms.

CRESCENTS WON AT HOCKEY.

Brooklyn Skating Club Beaten in a Rough Game in Clermont Rink.

Referee Howard Walton of the St. Nicholas Skating Club attempted to reference the league championship match of hockey between the Skating Club of Brooklyn team and the Crescent Athletic Club seven, at the Clermont Avenue Ice Skating Rink, Brooklyn, last night, but before the game had got fairly started there was an absence of the rudiments of the game, and the keen rivalry that exists between these two aggregations of stick wielders and skaters came to the surface, and after that science was thrown to the wind. Crescent won by the score of 10 to 3, but the roughness of the game was the chief characteristic. Body checking of the hardest kind, tripping, and even a little bit of slugging was indulged in in a way that left the office of referee anything but a sinecure. Bullen was caught a clip with the puck from Wall's stick, knocked out and the game stopped until he came to.

The forwards of each team had a continual mêlée.

Kennedy and Liffiton faced off for the puck, and Liffiton got it, who scored the first tally for Brooklyn amid wild cheers. The second goal was made by Shiebler on a pass from Dobby after leaving the score a tie. Williams made the next goal for Brooklyn on a pass from Bullen, and then Kennedy tallied on a pass from Dobby. Dobby made the prettiest goal of the match next on a long pass from Kennedy along the side; the sixth and last goal of the half was made by Dobby.

The second half started with a rush. It was a hot game, but by this time each team's members had begun to tire from their frantic efforts to wipe the other out of existence.

The Crescents played all around the Brooklyns in this half. For the Brooklyns, Liffiton tallied on a pass from Murray. For the Crescents, Wall made a goal on a long dribble, Kennedy made another on a pass from Dobby; Wall tallied next again on a pretty assist by Dobby, then Kennedy on a pass from Wall, and Wall on a side pass from Kennedy, and Dobby on a pass from Wall, leaving the final tally of the match, Crescent Athletic Club, 10 goals; Skating Club of Brooklyn, 8 goals. Line up:

Crescent A. C., 10.	Position.	Brooklyn S. C., 3.
Hallock	Goal	McKenzie, (Capt.)
Randall	Point	Jennison
Drakeley	Cover Point	Post
Kennedy	Forward	Williams
Shiebler	Forward	Liffiton
Wall, (Capt.)	Forward	Bullen
Dobby	Forward	Murray

Referee—Howard Walton, St. Nicholas Skating Club. Umpires—D. Kennedy, Skating Club of Brooklyn, and Harry Niven, Hetfley School. Timekeeper—J. Allen Smith. Goals—Dobby, 3; Kennedy, 3; Wall, 3; Shiebler, 1; Liffiton, 2; Williams, 1. Time—Twenty-minute halves.

ENTRIES FOR SPRING STAKES.

List of Horses to Run in Suburban and Brooklyn Handicaps.

All the entries for the Spring stakes opened by the Brooklyn and Coney Island Jockey Clubs have been received. For the Brooklyn Handicap the following list has been announced by the Brooklyn Jockey Club:

The Brooklyn Handicap, mile and a quarter, for three-year-olds and upward, $10,000.

W. M. Barrick's McMeekin, 4 years; L. V. Bell's Mischievous, 4; August Belmont's Brigadier, 4; Kilogram, 4; Perry Belmont's Ethelbert, 5; Mrs. R. Bradley's Robert Waddell, 3; M. Clancey's St. Finnan, 4; Richard Croker's Beau Gallant, 3; Bellario, 3; W. C. Daly's Alsike, 5; P. Dunne's Alcedo, 4; P. J. Dwyer's Withers, 4; Eastin & Larabie's Kinley Mack, 5; High Order, 4; Deimel & Farrell's Illdrim, 4; Frank Farrell's Bonnibert, 3; C. Fleischmann's Sons' Blues, 3; J. W. Fuller's George Arnold, 6; F. Gebhard's Zeus, 4; F. R. Hitchcock's Decanter, 6, and Asquith, 4; J. R. Keene's Choir Master, 3, and Teddy, 4; R. & F. P. Keene's Conroy, 3, and Militant, 3; C. Littlefield, Jr.'s, Watercure, 4; C. H. Mackay's Banastar, 6; J. E. Madden's Golden, 4, and Approval, 5; John P. Martin's Kumara, 4; J. H. McAvoy & Co.'s Prince McClurg, 5; P. H. McCarren's King Bramble, 4; Pedenter, 6, and Alfonso, 3; O. L. Oliver's All Gold, 4; O. L. Richards's Charentus, aged; Robinson & Leach's John Yerkes, 4; Mrs. R. Roche's Standing, 4; T. H. Ryan's St. Simonian, 6; John P. Schorr's F. W. Brode, 4; B. Schreiber's Hannisburn, 6; J. E. Seagrand's Procession, 4; W. Showalter's Box, aged; W. Spence's Maximo Gomez, 6; Thompson Brothers' Sidney Lucas, 4, and W. C. Whitney's Star Bright, 4.

The nominations for the Brighton Handicap, to be run at the Brighton Beach Summer meeting, are as follows:

Brighton Handicap, mile and a quarter, for three-year-olds and upward, $10,000.

John F. Schorr's Alard Scheck, 3 years; P. Dunne's Alcede, 4; P. H. McCarren's Alfonso, 3; O. L. Oliver's All Gold, 4; F. R. Hitchcock's Asquith, 4; C. H. Mackay's Banastar, 6; S. S. Brown's Batten, 5; R. Croker's Beau Gallant, 3; Bellario, 3; J. Fleischmann's Blues, 3; Frank Farrell's Bonnibert, 3; W. Showalter's Box, aged; A. Belmont's Brigadier, 4; O. L. Richards's Charentus, aged; J. R. and F. P. Keene's Conroy, 3; F. R. Hitchcock's Decanter, 6; L. Belmont's Ethelbert, 5; John F. Schorr's F. W. Brode, 4; J. E. Madden's Golden, 4; Deimel & Farrell's Illdrim, 4; A. L. Aste's Jack Point, 5, W. M. Barrick's James, 4; A. Belmont's Kilogram, 4; P. H. McCarren's King Bramble, 4; Eastin & Larable's Kinley Mack, 5; C. Littlefield, Jr.'s, Latson, 6; Osceola Stable's Maid of Harlem, 5; W. Spence's Moximo Gomez, 6; J. R. and F. P. Keene's Militant, 3; W. M. Barrick's McMeekin, 4; L. V. Bell's Mischievous, 4; J. S. Ferguson's Musette, 4; J. Worth's Philippine, 4; J. H. McAvoy & Co.'s Prince McClurg, 5; F. D. Beard's Prince of Melbourne, 4; John F. Schorr's Sam Phillips, 4; Arkell & Elmore's Sarmatian, 4; Thompson Brothers' Sidney Lucas, 4; John F. Schorr's Silverdale, 3; C. E. Durnell's Slap Dash, 3; Mrs. R. Roche's Standing, 4; W. C. Whitney's Star Bright, 4; J. R. Keene's Toddy, 4; J. Worth's Wait Not, 5; C. Littlefield, Jr.'s, Water Cure, 4; P. J. Dwyer's Withers, 4.

Following are the entries for the Brighton Cup:

The Brighton Cup, two and one-quarter miles, for three-year-olds and upward, weight for age, $5,000 added.—P. Dunne's Alcede, 4 years, 124 pounds; C. T. Patterson's All Green, 3, 106; F. R. Hitchcock's Asquith, 4, 124; W. C. Whitney's Ballyhoo Bey, 3, 106; J. Fleischmann's Blues, 3, 106; Frank Farrell's Bonnibert, 3, 106; J. R. Keene's Commando, 3, 106; J. R. & F. P. Keene's Conroy, 3, 106; Perry Belmont's Ethelbert, 5, 127; G. B. Morris's Favonius, 5, 127; Deimel & Farrell's Ildrim, 4, 124; W. M. Barrick's McMeekin, 4, 124; J. R. & F. P. Keene's Militant, 3, 103; J. H. McAvoy & Co.'s Prince McClurg, 5, 127; F. D. Beard's Prince of Melbourne, 4, 124; Mrs. R. Roche's Rochester, 4, 124; Arkell & Elmore's Sarmatian, 4, 124; Thompson Brothers' Sidney Lucas, 4, 124; Mrs. R. Roche's Standing, 4, 124; W. C. Whitney's Star Bright, 4, 124; Will T. Shafer's Terminus, 3, 106; R. T. Wilson' Jr.'s, The Parader, 3, 106; F. Gebhard's Zeus, 4, 124.

Except a few straggling pieces of mail from distant points, all the entries now are in for the stakes at Gravesend, Sheepshead Bay, and Brighton Beach.

RIDERS AND DRIVERS MEET.

Property Owners and Pleasure Seekers Ask to Have Seventh Avenue Asphalted

A meeting of representatives of the Automobile Club of America, the Associated Cycling Clubs of New York, the League of American Wheelmen, and property owners along Seventh Avenue from Eleventh Street to Fifty-eighth Street, was held at the Hotel Navarre, Thirty-eighth Street and Seventh Avenue, last night, to renew the effort to have Seventh Avenue paved with asphalt.

The question of asphalt paving for Seventh Avenue was discussed, all present unreservedly favoring the plan. The improvement asked, it was stated, was favored by the owners of more than three-fourths of the property in Seventh Avenue, between the points named, this proportion of the property owners having signed a petition to the Municipal Assembly nearly a year ago. In discussing the matter, Alderman Oatman said that when the Municipal Assembly considered the petition, both houses adopted resolutions providing for the improvement. This improvement, however, was checked by Commissioner of Highways Patrick Keating, who, according to Alderman Oatman, made the excuse that the city had no money to pay for the new paving at the time. That, Alderman Oatman declared, was untrue. The city had the money, but Commissioner Keating was waiting, he charged, until the Metropolitan Street Railway Company decided what changes in motive power for its lines should be made, Mr. Keating holding the streets of the City of New York open for the company until it decided what streets it wanted.

The meeting adopted a resolution favoring the repaving of Seventh Avenue with asphalt up to Longacre Square, where the present street is satisfactory, and paving Longacre Square to Fifty-eighth Street, and also called on the clubs represented to adopt similar resolutions. Messrs. Brendon, Hickuk, Putney, Thompson, Tousey, and Oatman were appointed on a committee, with instructions to confer with Commissioner of Highways Keating and Superintendent of Public Works Maurice F. Holahan with a view to having them indorse the plans of the meeting.

The resolutions adopted by the club will be attached to a signed petition of the property owners and presented before the Municipal Assembly at an early date.

Among the property owners who have signed this are the Rhinelander estate, Robert B. Roosevelt, the Clark estate, John D. Crimmins, George W. Hulme, the John Taylor estate, Carnegie Hall, the Metropolitan Opera House Real Estate Company, the estate of Thomas Laughlin, William Hoffman, the estates of Reuben Ross and William F. Coe, the Merchants' Library Association, the Children's Aid Society, and about all the churches owning property in Seventh Avenue. The meeting adjourned, subject to the call of the Chairman.

Race Track Results.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 9.—Mile—Gray Daily, 102, (Dale,) 1; Porter B., 96, 2; Valdez, 104½, 3. Time—1:48. Six furlongs—W. J. Baker, 107, (Cochran,) 1; W. J. Deboe, 101, 2; Divonne, 96, 3. Time—1:16¾. Handicap, steeplechase, short course—Violet Parsons, 145, (Finnegan,) 1; Don Clarencio, 132, 2; Bristol, 132, 3. Time—3:25¾. Handicap, mile and an eighth—Sarilla, 93, (Weber,) 1; Admetus, 107, 2; Annoy, 100, 3. Time—2:00. Seven furlongs—Deponan, 104, (Dale,) 1; Island Prince, 110, 2; Colonel Cassidy, 107, 3. Time—1:32. Mile—Beana, 102, (May,) 1; Phidias, 101, 2; Old Fox, 101, 3. Time—1:46.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Five furlongs—Kattie Gibbons, 103 pounds, (O'Connor,) 1; Little Minch, 102, 2; Dunberl, 107, 3. Time—1:09. Six and a half furlongs—Prestidigitator, 101, (J. Daly,) 1; Wallenstein, 103, 2; Grand Sachem, 104, 3. Time—1:22¾. Three furlongs—Prestano, 105, (Mounce,) 1; Dr. Scharff, 108, 2; Sol. Lichtenstein, 108, 3. Time—0:37. Six furlongs—Bullick, 103, (O'Connor,) 1; Necklace, 107, 2; Gold Bade, 91, 3. Time—1:16¼. Mile and fifty yards—Horton, 109, (O'Connor,) 1; Bernota, 86, 2; Sybaris, 106, 3. Time—1:47. Five and a half furlongs—Saintly, 105, (J. Woods,) 1; Osmond, 103, 2; Nora Ives, 101, 3. Time—1:09.

Another Boxing Match Ends Seriously.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 9.—After a ten-round boxing match before the Atlantic City Athletic Association last night, Lewis Mojane, a local pugilist, fell to the floor in a faint. To-day he is in the City Hospital at the point of death, and his opponent, Charles Abramowitz, also of this city, is in jail awaiting the result of the former's injuries.

CHURCH ATHLETIC GAMES.

Athletes from St. George, Grace, and St. Bartholomew's Athletic Clubs Contest for Trophy.

Institutional Church methods of the present day, as directed toward the athletic development of young men, were illustrated last evening before an audience of nearly 1,500 persons in the gymnasium of St. Bartholomew's chapel and clubrooms, at 203 East Forty-second Street. The meeting was the first indoor triple contest of the St. George, Grace, and St. Bartholomew's Athletic Clubs. A silver cup has been offered for annual competition between the athletic clubs of these three churches.

One of the unexpected features was a boxing exhibition between two St. Bartholomew lads, between fourteen and sixteen years of age, Tommy Shortell and George McFadden, which was greeted with loud applause by the young spectators.

The Rev. Dr. David H. Greer of St. Bartholomew's Church was one of the interested spectators of the games. Grace Church was represented by the Rev. George H. Bottome, Vicar of Grace Chapel, and St. George's was represented in its clergy by the Rev. Mr. Sturgis.

The games were late in starting, and it was midnight before they were finished, but with the broad jump unfinished the St. Bartholomew athletes led by 20 points to 14 for St. George, and were virtually the winners of the cup.

The pole vault was one of the most interesting events, and at 9 feet 6 inches T. Nevin and J. Diviney of St. Bartholomew's tied for honors. As neither could clear 9 feet 9 inches, the tie was settled by a toss, and Diviney got first. O. Steffen of the Grace Athletic Club, and the champion all-around gymnast of America, had to be content with third honors after a tie.

In the twelve-pound shot put event one of the contestants threw the leather-covered ball with more force than necessary, and it fell into the front row of seats, narrowly missing two women, but for the agility of one of the ushers, who bounded forward and caught the weight just as it was about to fall on a woman's head. The chairs in that locality were quickly vacated until the uncertain throws of some of the competitors were over. J. S. McCauley, a victor in many open events, won, with a put of 43 feet 2 inches. The summaries are:

Running High Jump.—Won by W. Schafer, St. Bartholomew A. C., 5 feet 8 inches; James Price, St. George A. C., second, 5 feet 5 inches; F. Singer, Grace A. C., third, 5 feet 4 inches.

Potato Race.—First Heat—Won by George Gramdich, St. Bartholomew. Second Heat—Won by James Miller, St. George. Third Heat—Won by N. Klippel, Jr., St. George. Final Heat—Won by Miller, Kippel second, Gramlich third. Time—0:45.

Putting Twelve-Pound Shot.—Won by J. S. McCauley, St. Bartholomew, 43 feet 2 inches; P. V. Boeckman, St. George, second, 41 feet 10 inches; O. Sauer, St. Bartholomew, third, 41 feet 1 inch.

Pole Vault.—Won by J. Diviney, St. Bartholomew, 9 feet 6 inches, after a tie at that height with Thomas Nevin, St. Bartholomew, who got second. O. Steffen, Grace A. C., and A. Hart, St. Bartholomew, tied for third place at 9 feet 3 inches.

Boxing exhibition by Tommy Shortell and George McFadden, St. Bartholomew's.

Parallel Bars, Exhibition.—O. Steffen, C. Priester, C. Runge, L. Morlo, and M. Roper of Grace A. C.

The cup will become the property of the club winning it three times.

Record for New Athletic Sport.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 9.—A. B. Wegener, physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association in this city, and two of the athletes in classes in his department, P. D. Jennings and J. Nicholson, claim to have beaten the world's record in the rope vault. The previous world's record is 8 feet 6 inches, held by Edmunds of Chicago. The Rochester men will put in a claim of having cleared the bar at 9 feet.

Many Entries for Joint Games.

There will be a gathering of National Guard track and field athletes at the joint athletic games of Company I of the Seventy-first Regiment and the Star Athletic Club on Saturday night in the armory at Thirty-fourth Street and Fourth Avenue. Three hundred entries have been received for the games. In the two-mile run, forty athletes will take part.

Penn to Have Graduate Coaches.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—At a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Athletic Association of the University of Pennsylvania held this afternoon, George Woodruff, Pennsylvania's football coach, was elected Financial Secretary of the association, and was also selected as head coach of the new Board of Graduate Coaches to be appointed.

The creation of a Board of Graduate Coaches to instruct football candidates is a radical change in the method of training the players, as heretofore Coach Woodruff was practically the only person at the university to perform those duties. The positions of Financial Secretary and Treasurer were always filled by one person, but the duties of the dual positions became so arduous that the board decided to separate them.

Salaries for School Football Coaches.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Superintendent of Schools E. G. Cooley, to whom the Board of Education assigned the task of revising the rules of football, will recommend that a coach be employed for every public school football team. In addition, he will recommend that no boy be permitted to become a member of a school team unless he has the written consent of his parents, and is able to stand a thorough physical examination.

Mr. Cooley said that only men who knew every detail of the game and were perfect gentlemen should be selected for coaches. He favored paying salaries, if necessary.

Roosevelt on Prizefighting.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Vice President-elect Roosevelt, in an interview on prizefighting, published in The Tribune, said:

"Boxing might have been going on in New York right now if the men who had charge of the clubs had handled it with credit. They made a mistake by not stopping contests when they became brutal, or when it was manifest to all that one of the contestants had no possible chance of winning."

He cited the Jeffries-Sharkey bout, which, he said, "should have been stopped at the end of the twenty-third round, as it became brutal after that, and Sharkey had no chance."

Gov. Roosevelt characterized the McCoy-Corbett fight as a "sell out," and added that "there are only a few honest fighters."

Foreign Cyclists Sail for Home.

Rudolph Muller, Karl Kaser, and Fritz Ryser, three of the foreign professional cyclists who competed in the six-day race recently held in Madison Square Garden, sailed for Europe on the Red Star liner Kensington yesterday. Fischer and Fredericks expected to sail also, but were unavoidably detained at the last moment.

Knickerbocker A. C. Billiards.

Joseph Steiner and W. Fraley were the victors last night in the Knickerbocker Athletic Club handicap billiard tourney. They were both competitors in the Class Y series, straight rail, 1,000 points. Steiner beat Dr. Brauneis at 100 to 71 points. In the second game W. Fraley beat I. A. Hirsa 100 to 61 points. The tournament will be continued to-night.

Columbia Freshman Basket Ball Games.

The following schedule of games has been arranged for the Columbia freshman basketball team for January: Jan. 11, Montclair High School, at Montclair; Jan. 15, Cutler School, at Columbia gymnasium; Jan. 18, Mount Vernon High School, at Mount Vernon; Jan. 19, Polytechnic Preparatory School, at Brooklyn; Jan. 29, Barnard School, at Columbia gymnasium.

BOSSCHEITER MURDER TRIAL.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 9.—The first step of the Bosscheiter murder trial was taken to-day, when Walter McAllister, William Death, Andrew Campbell, and George J. Kerr were brought into court to witness the drawing of the jury panels which will consider their cases. The Kerr panel was drawn first.

Judge Dixon notified the four prisoners to be ready for trial on Monday. It is asserted by those who pretend to know that if the case of George Kerr is called for trial first, he may tell all he knows about the matter. Should this happen, it is believed Campbell is likely to ask to be taken before the Court, that he may throw himself upon its mercy.

It is intimated that the defense has ready a surprise, but what it may be is not divulged. It is understood it has reference to the cause of death, which will be one of the important features in the trial.

BOWLING IN CHICAGO.

Low Scores Still Characterize the Playing of New York Teams.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Crowds of enthusiastic bowlers filled the Welsbach Building this afternoon to watch the progress of the bowling tournament, and in the evening, despite one of the most severe storms that has visited Chicago for a year, the attendance was in no way diminished. The Inter-State Club of Erie, Penn., which led at the conclusion of last night's playing, had dropped to third place by the time the third round was completed to-day, the Standards and Crescents, both of Chicago, being first, and second, respectively. The scores for the day were as follows:

Palace, Brooklyn, 2,407; Mechanics', Chicago, 2,382; Inter-State, Buffalo, 2,338; Imperial, Brooklyn, 2,586; Metropolitan, Cleveland, 2,505; Jap-A-Lac, Cleveland, 2,528.

				Totals.
Monarch, New York	815	816	856	2,487
Standard, Chicago	879	896	945	2,720
Oriental Stars, Cincinnati	817	804	827	2,448
Elephant, Brooklyn	793	822	865	2,480
Commercial Athletics, South Bend, Ind.	888	792	809	2,489

Night scores:

Fidelia, New York	842	841	905	2,608
Empire, New York	796	817	809	2,422
Peerless, Akron, Ohio	772	785	752	2,209
Fellowship, Chicago	906	897	826	2,629
Cresecnt, Chicago	829	916	947	2,692
Hofmann, Chicago	861	851	854	2,566

The Corinthian Club of New York was to have played, but because of the absence of one of its members it was compelled to postpone its game until Friday.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Golden Rod Team Wins Two Games from Our Council Five.

The Golden Rod five won two games from the team of Our Council, Royal Arcanum, in the National League tournament, on Starr's alleys last night. The scores:

GOLDEN ROD B. C.				OUR COUNCIL, R. A.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Dormagen	168	159	176	Bullwinkle	170	160	187
Sherwood	189	169	158	Schroeder	146	161	190
Eckstein	157	199	160	Cantrell	157	206	156
Eck	178	162	187	Ritter	204	196	—
Schroeder	187	189	159	Wilkens	104	—	139
	—	—	—	Wendroth	—	155	167
Total	879	869	840	Total	841	878	839

In the tournament of the Life Insurance Bowling League, which was continued on Ehler's alleys last night, the Fidelity and Casualty and Mutual Life Insurance teams each won two games and lost one, while the Germania and Metropolitan fives each won one and lost two games. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 121; Junge, 148; Arnheiter, 124; Kruse, 150; Leyser, 144. Total, 687.

Fidelity and Casualty Company—Ferres, 152; Bracken, 137; Heron, 113; Ege, 156; Varian, 142. Total, 700.

SECOND GAME.—Fidelity and Casualty Company—Ferres, 156; Bracken, 148; Heron, 134; Ege, 180; Varian, 131. Total, 755.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—Cluff, 134; Simpson, 114; Rand, 170; Whitney, 124; Newkirk, 188. Total, 730.

THIRD GAME.—Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—Cluff, 133; Simpson, 130; Rand, 140; Whitney, 164; Newkirk, 127. Total, 694.

Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 129; Junge, 160; Arnheiter, 121; Kruse, 150; Leyser, 193. Total, 753.

FOURTH GAME.—Mutual Life Insurance Company—Babcock, 158; Carbonell, 137; Mandeville, 142; Garrison, 156; Sorenson, 152. Total, 745.

Metropolitan Life Insurance Company—Cluff, 125; Simpson, 131; Rand, 185; Whitney, 151; Newkirk, 169. Total, 761.

FIFTH GAME.—Mutual Life Insurance Company—Babcock, 173; Carbonell, 167; Mandeville, 155; Garrison, 149; Sorenson, 157. Total, 801.

Germania Life Insurance Company—Huberth, 216; Junge, 150; Arnheiter, 123; Kruse, 117; Leyser, 153. Total, 770.

SIXTH GAME.—Fidelity and Casualty Company—Ferres, 199; Bracken, 137; Heron, 104; Ege, 158; Varian, 186. Total, 784.

Mutual Life Insurance Company—Babcock, 175; Carbonell, 167; Mandeville, 145; Garrison, 145; Sorenson, 163. Total, 793.

Cathedral Catholic Club team No. 1 defeated Holy Cross Lyceum Team No. 2 and Spalding Literary Union Team No. 2 in the Archdiocesan Union League tournament on Thumann's Colonial alleys last night, and Holy Cross defeated Spalding by 10 pins. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Cathedral Catholic Club, Team No. 1—Feeley, 188; Smith, 147; Mahoney, 154; Haggerty, 132; Lyon, 162. Total, 777.

Holy Cross Lyceum, Team No. 2—Gentle, 152; Steffan, 149; King, 92; Ford, 145; Byrne, 128. Total, 666.

SECOND GAME.—Holy Cross Lyceum, Team No. 2—Gentle, 150; Steffan, 139; Donohoe, 164; Ford, 133; Byrne, 195. Total, 731.

Spalding Literary Union, Team No. 2—J. Powers, 164; Clancy, 130; Cole, 143; Shannon, 141; Markey, 143. Total, 721.

THIRD GAME.—Spalding Literary Union, Team No. 2—J. Powers, 133; Spliger, 141; Henriques, 157; Cole, 127; Markey, 131. Total, 683.

Cathedral Catholic Club, Team No. 1—Feeley, 153; Smith, 144; Mahoney, 162; Haggerty, 150; Lyon, 149. Total, 764.

The team of F. Vietor & Achells defeated the Passavant & Co. and Rogers, Peet & Co. fives in the Commercial League tournament on the Monarch Palace alleys last night, and Passavant & Co. beat Rogers, Peet & Co. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Passavant & Co.—Kuncken, 152; Krausler, 138; Fry, 143; Toussaint, 178; Clingen, 118. Total, 729.

F. Vietor & Achells—Mertz, 169; Herrmann, 142; Berg, 166; Gallussere, 172; Buek, 174. Total, 823.

SECOND GAME.—Passavant & Co.—Kuncken, 121; Krausler, 113; Fry, 184; Toussaint, 189; Clingen, 173. Total, 780.

Rogers, Peet & Co.—Denton, 180; Langdon, 113; Duane, 122; Brooks, 144; Coughlan, 184. Total, 743.

THIRD GAME.—Rogers, Peet & Co.—Denton, 134; Langdon, 122; Duane, 140; Brooks, 177; Coughlan, 179. Total, 752.

F. Vietor & Achells—Mertz, 150; Herrmann, 154; Berg, 141; Gallussere, 193; Buek, 176. Total, 814.

The tournament of the United Bowling Clubs was continued on the Germania alleys last night, the Cannon Bowling Club winning two games and the Expansion team winning one. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Cannon Bowling Club—Scherman, 128; W. Crecoll, 110; Berken, 148; Weber, 162; J. Klumpp, 111. Total, 659.

Expansion Bowling Club—Rausch, 102; Vogel, 130; Schoch, 109; Schlech, 114; Lahr, 138. Total, 593.

SECOND GAME.—City Schuetzen Bowling Club—Radloff, 163; Busse, 131; Hansen, 102; Schumacher, 140; Wiltz, 124. Total, 690.

Expansion Bowling Club—Rausch, 119; Vogel, 135; Schoch, 146; Schlech, 180; Lahr, 170. Total, 750.

THIRD GAME.—Cannon Bowling Club—Scherman, 133; W. Crecoll, 147; Berken, 143; Weber, 158; J. Klumpp, 124. Total, 705.

City Schuetzen Bowling Club—Radloff, 119; Busse, 128; Hansen, 119; Schumacher, 130; Wiltz, 145. Total, 641.

Two more teams met in the Morning Newspaper League series on the Germania alleys yesterday and broke even, as their predecessors so far have done. The score:

FIRST GAME.—New York Tribune—Van Tassell, 158; Ketcham, 144; Wylie, 168; O'Neill, 148; Bentley, 149; Bullard, 140; Lewis, 141; Roll, 161. Total, 1,263.

New York World—Siddall, 169; Harney, 147; Hiram, 152; McLaughlin, 155; Ronse, 146; Moffatt, 129; Agabee, 157; Terhune, 173. Total, 1,228.

SECOND GAME.—New York Tribune—Van Tassell, 191; Ketcham, 120; Wylie, 134; O'Neill, 140; Bentley, 140; Bullard, 113; Lewis, 136; Roll, 184. Total, 1,149.

New York World—Siddall, 141; Harney, 89; Hiram, 145; McLoughlin, 155; Ronse, 132; Moffatt, 107; Agabee, 135; Terhune, 130. Total, 1,034.

Yacht Masters Bowl a Match.

A party of thirty-five members of the Boston branch of the Yacht Masters and Engineers' Association arrived yesterday on a visit to the local members of the association. A bowling match for a challenge cup was rolled in the afternoon at Karn's Hall, South Brooklyn, the out-of-town team winning by 43 pins. Dinner and a theatre party occupied the evening, and the return to Boston will be made to-day.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Tuesday night until 12 o'clock Wednesday night.)

10:05 A. M.—238 East Thirty-eighth Street; John Johnson; damage, $100.

12:05 P. M.—1,461 First Avenue; P. J. Monahan; damage, $100.

12:40 P. M.—397 Pearl Street; Miss Kate Conway; damage, slight.

2:05 P. M.—3 Hester Street; Frank Siegel; damage, slight.

3:45 P. M.—111 East One Hundred and Twenty-first Street; Parbano Specialty Company; damage, slight.

6:25 P. M.—399 Columbus Avenue; J. C. Donner; damage, slight.

7 P. M.—427 Thirteenth Street; Rigley Brothers; damage, $500.

9:15 P. M.—One Hundred and Fourteenth Street and Seventh Avenue; New York Bill Posting Company; damage slight.

10:10 P. M.—2,567 Marion Avenue; Mr. Comb; damage slight.

10:45 P. M.—619 East Thirteenth Street; George Veith; damage, $2.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

ALLENTOWN, Penn., Jan. 9.—Immediately after the audience had been dismissed from the Academy of Music to-night fire was discovered on the gallery stairs, and before the flames were extinguished the entire building was ruined. The building was valued at $43,000, and the loss is estimated at $25,000, fully insured.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF-ASTORIA—W. G. Elliott, Wilmington, N. C.; J. M. Culp, Washington; M. H. Smith, Louisville.

GRAND—Capt. John V. White, Seventh United States Artillery; Capt. W. H. Hart, United States Engineer Corps.

HOFFMAN—Donald Cameron, Boston; Judge J. B. Lyons, Albany.

MANHATTAN—Gen. Charles Dick, Washington; Major H. A. Kasson, Washington.

PLAZA—J. H. and J. B. Banigan, Providence; W. C. Frick, Pittsburg.

SAVOY—Samuel A. Eliot, Boston.

FIFTH AVENUE—Judge Alfred Hand, Scranton; Senator Nelson W. Aldrich, Rhode Island.

ASTOR—The Very Rev. J. Hickey, Braddock, Penn.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Gutman, Nathan & Co., Baltimore, Md.; N. Gutman, dry goods; 28 Howard Street; Hotel Marlborough.

Kaufman Brothers, Pittsburg, Penn.; L. Kaufman, cloaks, suits, and waists; 648 Broadway; Herald Square Hotel.

Dey Brothers & Co., Syracuse, N. Y.; C. H. Post, domestics; 66 Grand Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Nusbaum & Livingstone, Albany, N. Y.; I. Nusbaum, millinery; W. G. Mulhorn, millinery; Miss L. Phelan, millinery; Herald Square Hotel.

Gutman, Julius, & Co., Baltimore, Md.; J. Gutman, dress goods and millinery; Herald Square Hotel.

Carleton Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo.; W. G. Sloane, linens, white goods, and laces; M. G. Wiener, dry goods; 56 Worth Street; Herald Square Hotel.

Marks, Rothenberg & Co., Meridian, Miss.; I. Rothenberg, dry goods; 22 Howard Street; Hoffman House.

Steppacher, William, & Co., Philadelphia, Penn.; W. M. Steppacher, piece goods; Hoffman House.

THE COMMERCIAL WORLD

CASH QUOTATIONS.

Wheat, No. 2 red	.82⅞
Corn, No. 2 mixed	.47¾
Oats, No. 2 mixed	.30
Flour, Minneapolis patents	$4.25
Cotton, middling	.10¼
Coffee, No. 7 Rio	.07⅛
Sugar, granulated	5.50
Molasses, O. K. prime	.40
Beef, family	11.50
Beef hams	20.00
Tallow, prime	.05⅞
Pork, mess	13.50
Hogs, dressed, 160 lb	.07⅛
Lard, prime	7.70
Butter, Western creamery	.24

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Cash quotations were as follows: Flour steady; No. 3 Spring wheat, 67@74c; No. 2 red, 76@78c; No. 2 corn, 37½c; No. 2 yellow, 37½c; No. 2 oats, 24½c; No. 2 white, 27@27¾c; No. 3 white, 26¾@27½c; No. 2 rye, 53½@54c; fair to choice malting barley, 38@62c; No. 1 flaxseed, $1.59; No. 1 Northwestern, $1.61; prime timothy seed, $4.75; mess pork, per barrel, $14.75@$15; lard, per 100 lb, $7.25@$7.37½; short ribs, sides, (loose), $6.90@$7.25; dry-salted shoulders, (boxed), 6½@6¾c; short clear sides, (boxed), $7.37½@$7.50; whisky, basis of highwines, $1.27; clover, contract grade, $10.75.

COTTON.—In some respects, it was a day of reckoning for the bulls on the Cotton Exchange yesterday, the market losing a considerable portion of recent gains, while the bears once more seemed to gain positive control. Spirited speculation was at no time in evidence, practically the entire business reported being settlements pending a fresh and unbiased view of the situation. The last hour of the session was a feverish, uncertain one in the pit with neither side fully satisfied with the way things were shaping. Covering for the generous profits in sight caused frequent slight uplifts, but the general trend of fluctuations was toward still lower prices. Stop orders were reached when March touched 9.50, and for a time the indications pointed to a very severe additional break in values. But quiet buying by the reactionists, led by several prominent houses, eventually steadied the market. The feeling was finally steady, with prices net 3 to 13 points lower. Spot cotton ruled dull, with quotations 3c lower, on the basis of 10¾c for middling upland and 10¾c for middling Gulf. Sales, 200 bales. Southern spot markets were telegraphed as follows: New Orleans quiet, unchanged, at 9⅝c; Mobile quiet, unchanged, at 9½c; Savannah quiet, unchanged, at 9⅝c; Charleston quiet, unchanged, at 9¾c; Wilmington firm, unchanged, at 9½c; Norfolk steady, 1-16c higher, at 9 11-16c; Baltimore nominal, unchanged, at 10¼c; Augusta firm, unchanged to 1-16c higher, at 9⅝c; St. Louis quiet, unchanged, at 9 11-16c.

Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	9.05	9.05	9.78	9.70@9.80
February	9.05	9.05	9.03	9.50@9.58
March	9.06	9.07	9.50	9.53@
April	..	..	..	9.50@9.51
May	9.44	9.44	9.48	9.56@9.57
June	9.02	9.02	9.50	9.47@9.49
July	9.57	9.57	9.43	9.43@9.44
August	9.27	9.27	9.22	9.14@9.15
September	8.73	8.73	8.85	8.04@8.05
October	8.37	8.37	8.29	8.29@8.30

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 9.—Spot cotton quiet; prices 1-16d higher; American middling, fair, 6 1-16d; good middling, 5¾d; middling, 5 31-32d; low middling, 5¾d; good ordinary, 5½d. The sales of the day were 8,000 bales, of which 500 bales were for speculation and export, and included 7,200 bales American. Receipts, 14,000 bales, including 13,800 bales American. Futures open quiet, but steady, and closed steady, American middling, low middling clause, January, 5 33-64@5 34-64d buyers; February-March, 5 27-64@5 28-64d buyers; February-March, 5 27-64@5 28-64d buyers; March-April, 5 25-64d sellers; April-May, 5 22-64d buyers; May-June, 5 19-64@5 20-64d buyers; June-July, 5 17-64d sellers; July-August, 5 14-64d sellers; August-September, 4 62-64d buyers.

BREADSTUFFS.—WHEAT—The actions of the wheat market yesterday rather suggested that Wall Street, or the big elevator interest in Chicago, or whoever it may be that has recently been dominating the market, had decided to let it drop and adjust itself to legitimate conditions of supply and demand. While at times the market displayed quite a firm undertone, there was persistent selling on every advance, and notably in the last hour, when a large amount of wheat was thrown out under which prices broke rapidly, closing unsettled at a decline of ⅝@⅞c from the previous night. The English decline amounted only to 3d, and inferred free offerings of near-by deliveries for the account of tired holders. Paris markets were from 10 to 45 points lower, Berlin ½ mark off, Budapest 2 points lower, and Antwerp unchanged. Quotations of cash wheat, free on board afloat basis, were as follows: No. 1 hard, Duluth, 91⅞c, nominal; old No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 83⅞c; No. 1 Northern, Duluth, 80¾c; No. 1 Northern, New York, 84¾c; No. 1 Northern, Chicago, 84¾c; No. 2 red, New York, 82¾c, store; No. 2 red, New York, 82⅞c, afloat; No. 2 hard, New York, 80¼c.

DULUTH, Jan. 9.—Wheat—No. 1 hard, cash, 78¾c; to arrive, 77¼c; May, 80¾c; No. 1 Northern, cash, 74¾c; to arrive, 75¼c; May, 78¼c; July, 79¾c; No. 2 Northern, 64¼@70c; No. 3 Spring, 56@60c. Corn, 36¾c. Oats, 20¼@28c.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 9.—Wheat—No. 1 Northern, 77@78c; No. 2 Northern, 74½@75c. Rye firm; No. 1, 54c. Barley dull; No. 2, 60@61c; sample, 40@57½c.

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 9.—Wheat—Cash, 75¾c; May, 76¾c; July, 77¼c; on track, No. 1 hard, 77¾c; No. 1 Northern, 75¾c; No. 2 Northern, 71¾@72¾c.

FLOUR AND FEED.—Spring patents were quoted $4.10@$4.40; Winter straights, $3@$3.90; Winter patents, $3.70@$4; Spring clears, $3@$3.35; extra No. 1 Winter, $2.70@$2.95; extra No. 2 Winter, $2.55@$2.75; no grade, $18.60@$18.75, spot and to arrive; buckwheat flour $2.10@$2.20. Rye Flour—Quiet. Fair to good, $2.80@$3.15; choice to fancy, $3.15@$3.30. Cornmeal—Firm. Yellow, $2.40@$2.50, as to brand. Buckwheat—Firm. Fine white and yellow, $1@$1.05; coarse, 91@92c. Feed—Firm. Spring bran, spot, $16.75@$17; sacks, to arrive, 200 lb, $17@$17.50; Spring bran, bulk, $16.25@$16.50. Coarse Winter bran, $16@$18; city bran, $16.50@$17. cornmeal, $25; linseed oilcake, $27.75; corn oilcake, $19; hominy chop, $17; oil meal, $23.25.

FUTURES.

NEW YORK PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	..	..	..	80⅞
March	81 15-16	82¾	81⅝	81⅞
May	82⅝	84 5-16	82⅛	82⅜
Corn—
January	..	..	..	40¼
May	44⅛	44⅝	44¼	44⅝
Lard—
January	..	..	..	$7.70

CHICAGO PRICES.

Wheat—	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	75¼	75⅝	74⅜	74½
May	77¾	78¾	77⅛	77⅜
Corn—
January	36⅞	37	36¾	36¾
February	37¼	37½	37¼	37¼
May	38 7-16	39 1-16	38 7-16	38⅝
Oats—
January	..	..	..	23⅜
May	25½	25½	25¼	25¾
Lard—
January	$7.22½	$7.37½	$7.22½	$7.37½
May	7.37½	7.47½	7.35	7.47½
Ribs—
January	6.97½	7.10	6.97½	7.10
May	7.12½	7.22½	7.07½	7.20
Pork—
January	14.75	15.00	14.75	15.00
May	14.10	14.30	14.05	14.20

PROVISIONS.—PORK—Strong; mess, $13@$14; family, $14.50@$16.50; short clear, $14.50@$17. BEEF—Firm; mess, $9@$9.50; family, $10@$12; packet, $10@$10.50; extra India mess, $14@$16. BEEF HAMS—Dull, $19@$20. DRESSED HOGS—Firm; bacons, 6¾c; 180 lb, 7c; 160 lb, 7¼c; pigs, 7¾c. CUTMEATS—Pickled bellies quiet; smoking, 8¾c; 10 lb, 8c; 12 lb, 7¾@7¾c; 14 lb, 7¼@7½c; pickled shoulders steadier, 5½@6c; pickled hams steady, 8½@9¼c. TALLOW—Firmer; city, 5¼c; country, 5¼@5¾c. LARD—Firmer, $7.70; city lard strong, $7.20; refined lard firm; South America, $8.50; Continent, $7.90; Brazil, kegs, $9.50; compound steady; city, 5¾@6¼c; Western, 5¾@5¾c. STEARINE—Firm; oleo, 7c; city lard stearine, 8c.

LIVERPOOL, Jan. 9.—Closing: Beef—Extra India mess steady, 98s 9d. Pork—Prime mess, Western, steady, 63s. Hams—Short cut, 14 to 16 lb, firm, 45s 8d. Bacon—Cumberland cut, 25 to 30 lb, firm, 45s; short rib, 16 to 24 lb, firm, 43s 9d; long clear middles, light, 28 to 34 lb, dull, 42s 9d; long clear middles, heavy, 35 to 40 lb, steady, 41s 6d; short clear backs, 16 to 20 lb, firm, 40s 3d; clear bellies, 14 to 16 lb, firm, 48s. Shoulders—Square, 11 to 13 lb, firm, 34s 3d. Lard—Firm; prime Western, in tierces, 37s 6d; American refined, in pails, 39s 6d. Butter—Finest United States steady, 95s; good steady, 82s 6d. Cheese steady; American finest white, 52s; American finest colored, 53s.

COFFEE.—Contract prices ranged as follows:

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
January	6.05	5.85	5.65	5.60@5.65
February	5.70	5.70	5.70	5.70@5.75
March	5.80	5.80	5.80	5.80@5.85
April	..	..	..	5.80@5.90
May	5.90	5.90	5.90	5.85@5.90
June	..	..	..	5.85@5.90
July	..	..	..	5.90@5.95
August	6.05	6.05	6.05	5.95@5.95
September	6.05	6.05	6.00	5.95@6.00
October	6.05	6.05	6.05	6.00@6.05
November	..	..	..	6.00@6.05
December	6.10	6.10	6.10	6.05@6.10

METALS.—Iron—Northern, No. 1 foundry, $16; Southern, No. 2 soft, $15.50; steel rails, $26; pig iron warrants, $10; lake copper ingot, $17; tin, $26.62½; exchange lead, $4.37½; spelter, $4.12½.

SUGAR.—Centrifugal, 4⅝c; muscovado, 3⅝c; molasses, 3⅜.

NAVAL STORES.—Tar, regulars, $2; tar oil, barrels, $4; spirits turpentine, 46@46½c; resin, common to good strained, $1.75@$1.80; E, $1.80; F, $1.87½; G, $1.90; H, $1.92½; I, $1.95; K, $2.05; M, $2.20; N, $2.50; W G, $3; W W, $3.25.

WILMINGTON, N. C., Jan. 9.—Spirits of turpentine steady, 35½@36c; receipts, 30 casks. Resin steady, $1.20@$1.25; receipts, 218 bbls. Crude turpentine quiet, $1.30@$2.30; receipts, 75 casks. Tar firm, $1.30; receipts, 255 bbls.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 9.—Spirits of turpentine firm, 36c; receipts, 389 casks; sales, 430 casks; exports, 218 casks. Resin steady; M and below, 5c off as inside; receipts, 5,765 bbls; sales, 4,787 bbls; exports, 1,359 bbls.

CHARLESTON, S. C., Jan. 9.—Turpentine firm, 35½c. Resin firm, unchanged.

OILS.—Petroleum, barrels, $7.70, and in bulk, $5.15; Philadelphia, barrels, $7.65, and in bulk, $5.10; refined, cases, New York, $8.75. Cottonseed Oil—Prime crude, barrels, 29¼c; prime Summer yellow, 31¼@32c; off-Summer yellow, 30¼c; prime white, 34@35c; prime Winter yellow, 30@31c. Linseed—American, raw, 56c; American, boiled, 58c; Calcutta, raw, 86c; Western linseed quoted 3c under city brands. Lard oil, 60@64c.

Summonses.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT.—Trial desired in New York County.—ELLEN BLACKBURNE, plaintiff, against CHARLES W. FURBER, and Emma B. Furber, his wife; Amthele J. Furber; Amelia F. Dykman, if living, and if she be dead, John Doe and Richard Roe, and all other persons having or claiming to have as legatees, legal representatives, executors, administrators, or assigns of Amelia F. Dykman, or otherwise, any interest in a certain mortgage made to Amelia F. Dykman by Charles W. Furber and Emma A. Furber, dated September 9th, 1892, and recorded in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, in Liber 1,692 of Mortgages, Page 14, said names John Doe and Richard Roe being fictitious, and the said John Doe and Richard Roe and all other persons having any interest in said mortgage being unknown to this plaintiff; George W. Proctor Knott; Eleanor Knott; New York Telephone Company; Robert B. Nooney, Commissioner of Jurors in the City of New York; Patrick Curry; the Sunlight Oil and Gasoline Company; Laura Landgraff, executrix of the last will and testament of Henry A. Landgraff, deceased, defendants.—Amended summons.

To the above-named defendants and each of them: You are hereby summoned to answer the amended complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the amended complaint.—Dated December 17th, 1900.

JOHN J. BRADY, Plaintiff's Attorney, office and Post Office address, No. 99 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To the defendants Amelia F. Dykman, if living, and if she be dead, John Doe and Richard Roe, and all other persons having or claiming to have as legatees, legal representatives, executors, administrators, or assigns of Amelia F. Dykman, or otherwise, any interest in a certain mortgage made to Amelia F. Dykman by Charles W. Furber and Emma A. Furber, dated September 9th, 1892, and recorded in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, in Liber 1,692 of Mortgages, Page 14, said names John Doe and Richard Roe being fictitious, and the said John Doe and Richard Roe and all other persons having any interest in said mortgage being unknown to this plaintiff: The foregoing amended summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of the Hon. David Leventritt, a Justice of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, First Department, dated the 24th day of December, 1900, and filed with the amended complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 26th day of December, 1900.

JOHN J. BRADY, Attorney for Plaintiff, office and Post Office address, No. 99 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. d27-1aw6wTh

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—RICHARD H. DEEVES, Adolph G. F. Hasslacher, Louis F. Hasslacher, Otto T. Hasslacher, and Emma Jackson, plaintiffs, against CHARLES A. RAE and Amanda Rae, his wife; Barbara Rae Simpson, Thomas Rae, Mary E. Rae, George Watson, husband of Margaret Watson, deceased; Edward Watson, James Watson, Mary Watson, Gertrude Watson, Francis Watson, and Margaret Rae Watson, defendants.

To the above-named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiffs' Attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New York, May 20, 1900. DAVID THORNTON,

Plaintiffs' Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 38 Park Row, Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

To Thomas Rae, Barbara Rae Simpson, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Honorable David Leventritt, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 19th day of December, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y. DAVID THORNTON,

Plaintiffs' Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 38 Park Row, Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.
d27-1aw6wTh

N. Y. SUPREME COURT.—Trial desired in New York County.—JEANNETTE W. RYER, plaintiff, against CHARLES A. RAE and Amanda Rae, his wife; Barbara Rae Simpson, Thomas Rae, Mary E. Rae, George Watson, husband of Margaret Watson, deceased; Edward Watson, James Watson, Mary Watson, Gertrude Watson, Francis Watson, and Margaret Rae Watson, defendants.

To the above-named defendants:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's Attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear, or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default, for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated May 23rd, 1900.

GEORGE WOOD, Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 54 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

To Thomas Rae, Barbara Rae Simpson, defendants:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication pursuant to an order of Honorable David Leventritt, Justice of the Supreme Court, dated the 19th day of December, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y.

GEORGE WOOD, Plaintiff's Attorney,
Office and Post Office address, 54 Market Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.
d27-1awdwTh

Bankruptcy Notices.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE Southern District of New York.—No. 3,147. In the matter of WILLIS BALDWIN, bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that Willis Baldwin, bankrupt, has filed his petition, dated Jan. 8, 1901, praying for a discharge from all his debts in bankruptcy, and that all creditors and other persons are ordered to attend at the hearing upon said petition before the Hon. Addison Brown, United States District Judge, in the United States Court House and Post Office Building, in the City and County of New York, on Wednesday, Jan. 30, 1901, at 10:30 A. M., and then and there show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petitioner should not be granted, and also attend the examination of the bankrupt thereon. MACGRANE COXE,

Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, Jan. 8, 1901.

RECEIVER'S SALE.—District Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York.—In the matter of ROBERT M. BOWLBY, EDWARD KLEIN, and LEO BECKER, individually, and doing business as Bowlby, Klein & Becker, and Robert M. Bowlby and Leo Becker, individually, and doing business as Bowlby & Becker, bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that the personal property belonging to the estate of the above-named bankrupts, and consisting of machines, fixtures, &c., will be sold at public auction, by Chas. Jacobs & Co., auctioneers, at No. 598 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Monday, January 14th, 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon of said day.

You will also taken notice that said property may be inspected on Friday, January 11, 1901, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M., and on Saturday, January 12, 1901, from 9 A. M. to 12 M.

The receiver reserves the right to reject all bids which are less than 75% of the appraised value.

Dated New York, January 9, 1901.

THEODORE M. TAFT, Receiver.
MYERS, GOLDSMITH & BRONNER, Attorneys for Receiver, 309 Broadway, Manhattan, City of New York.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of the DURANT McLEAN COMPANY, Bankrupt.—No. 3,025.

To the creditors of the Durant McLean Company of the County of New York and district aforesaid, bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 24th day of October, A. D. 1900, the said the Durant McLean Company was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 71 Broadway, City and County of New York, N. Y., on the 23d day of January, A. D. 1901, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

STANLEY W. DEXTER,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
January 9th, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of OTTO EMMERICH, Bankrupt.—No. 3,045. Bankruptcy.

To the creditors of Otto Emmerich of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt.

Notice is hereby given that on the 7th day of January, A. D. 1901, the said Otto Emmerich was duly adjudicated bankrupt, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at the office of Nathaniel A. Prentiss, referee in bankruptcy, 120 Broadway, New York City, on the 21st day of January, A. D. 1901, at three o'clock in the afternoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

NATHANIEL A. PRENTISS,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, January 9th, 1901.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED States for the Southern District of New York.—In Bankruptcy.—In the matter of ABRAHAM MICHELSON and DAVIS MICHELSON, Bankrupts.—No. 3,045.

To the creditors of Abraham Michelson and Davis Michelson of the County of New York, and district aforesaid, bankrupts.

Notice is hereby given that on the 29th day of December, A. D. 1900, the said Abraham Michelson and Davis Michelson were duly adjudicated bankrupts, and that the first meeting of creditors will be held at my office, No. 302 Broadway, City and County of New York, N. Y., on the 21st day of January, A. D. 1901, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a Trustee, examine the bankrupts, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

NATHANIEL S. SMITH,
Referee in Bankruptcy.
New York, January 9th, 1901.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

Surrogate Notices.

GIRBER, PAUL.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PAUL GIBER, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, the office of J. J. Karbry O'Kennedy, their attorney, at No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 10th day of March next.—Dated September 6th, 1900. EMIL A. NERESHEIMER, CHRISTINE DE R. COEURET, Executors. J. J. KARBRY O'KENNEDY, Attorney for Executors, 111 Broadway, N. Y. City. s6-1aw6mTh.

GRIFFITH, MARY J.; the Younger.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, one of the Surrogates of the County of New York, notice is hereby given that the undersigned intends to apply to the Surrogates' Court of the County of New York for the issuance to him of Letters of Administration upon the estate of MARY J. GRIFFITH, the younger, late of the County of New York, deceased, under the provision of the final paragraph of Section 2,664 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and all persons having claims against the said Mary J. Griffith, the younger, deceased, are hereby notified to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to one of the Surrogates of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' office in the County Court House, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and County of New York, on or before the 7th day of February, 1901.—Dated New York, January 7th, 1901. DANIEL J. GRIFFITH, Petitioner. WALTER R. BEACH, Attorney for Petitioner, No. 38 Park Row, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. ja7-2aw4w.

HOFF, IGNATZ.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against IGNATZ HOFF, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at No. 42 West 61st Street, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the first day of July, 1901.—Dated New York, the 12th day of December, 1900.

ANDREW WEIS,
LAWRENCE SCHLOSSER,
Executors.
JOHN L. BROWER, Attorney for Executors, 156 and 158 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. d13-1aw6mTh

HAVEMEYER, WILLIAM M.—In pursuance of an order of Honorable Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WILLIAM M. HAVEMEYER, late of Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, South America, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at his place of transacting business, No. 32 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 14th day of June next.—Dated New York, December 13th, 1900. WILLIAM R. WILLCOX, Executor. HENRY H. WHITMAN, Attorney for Executor, 41 Wall Street, New York City.

PEARSE, AUGUSTUS F.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to MARY L. PEARSE, Martha W. Hedden, Augustus F. Pearse, Lura Hollenbeck, Edwin A. Hollenbeck, Martha Wilkinson, George A. Pearse, Ann Lucretia Burt, Laura Augusta Smith, Charles L. Hedden, George A. Hedden, William H. Hedden, Edward Hedden, Florence Laughlin, Nelson Stuart Smith, Anna Cole Smith, Laura M. Gorman, Carrie V. Rooney, George A. Pearse, Junior, Frederick W. Pearse, Edward H. Pearse, and Pauline Pearse, and to all persons interested in the estate of AUGUSTUS F. PEARSE, late of the County of New York, deceased, as creditors, legatees, next of kin, or otherwise, send greeting:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear before our Surrogate of the County of New York, at the Surrogates' Court of said county, held at the County Court-House in the County of New York, on the fifteenth day of February, 1901, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the judicial settlement of the account of proceedings of Charles B. Pearse and Edward Tillou as Executors of and Trustees under the last will and testament of said deceased and such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto [Seal.] affixed. Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said county, at the County of New York, the 20th day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
GURDON S. BUCK, Attorney for Executors, No. 55 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

TIFFANY, WILLIAM.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against WILLIAM TIFFANY, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of his attorney, W. Holden Weeks, Esq., No. 11 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before February 2d, 1901.

Dated New York, August 1st, 1900.

BELMONT TIFFANY,
Administrator.
BALDWIN & BOSTON, Attorneys for Belmont Tiffany, 11 Broadway, N. Y. City. au2-1aw6mTh

ÜBELHÖR, JOHANN.—The people of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Henry Übelhör, Sophie Hasselbacher, Elisabeth Übelhör, the widow, heirs, and next of kin of Johann Übelhör, otherwise called Johann Uebelhoer, John Übelhor, and John Uhelhor, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Charles Übelhör, of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, duly proved as the last will and testament of said JOHANN ÜBELHÖR, otherwise called Johann Uebelhoer, John Übelhor, and John Uhelhor, late of the County of New York, deceased. Therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half-past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And in case of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County, at the County of New York, the 4th day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN,
Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.
ja10-1aw6wTh&f21

WEEKS, JULIA A. M.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against JULIA A. M. WEEKS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of his attorney, W. Holden Weeks, Esq., No. 229 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 22d day of January next.—Dated New York, the 18th day of July 1900.

WILLIAM H. WEEKS,
Administrator.
W. HOLDEN WEEKS, Attorney for Administrator, No. 229 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City. jy19-1aw6mTh

Referees' Notices.

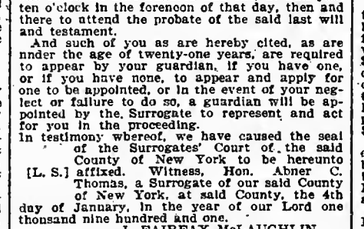
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK.—MUTUAL RESERVE FUND LIFE ASSOCIATION, Plaintiff, against JOHN CASEY and others, Defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date 23d day of November, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, City and County of New York, on the 28th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock M., on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All those two certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the City of New York, and which, taken together, are bounded and described as follows: Commencing at a point on the easterly side of Third Avenue, distant twenty-seven (27) feet and two (2) inches northerly from the point formed by the intersection of the northerly side of Seventy-fifth Street with the easterly side of Third Avenue, and running thence easterly and parallel with Seventy-fifth Street one hundred and five (105) feet; thence northerly and parallel with Third Avenue fifty-six (56) feet and three (3) inches; thence westerly and parallel with Seventy-fifth Street one hundred and five (105) feet to the easterly side of Third Avenue, and thence southerly, along the easterly line of Third Avenue, fifty-six (56) feet and three (3) inches to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, December 31st, 1900.

THOMAS F. DONNELLY, Referee.
GEORGE BIRNHAM, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff, 309 Broadway, (Manhattan,) New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold, the street numbers being 1,313 and 1,315 Third Avenue, Borough of Manhattan:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $83,393.75, with interest from the 23d day of October, 1900; together with costs and allowances amounting to $443, with interest from November 23d, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $3,200 and interest.—Dated New York, December 31st, 1900.

THOMAS F. DONNELLY, Referee.
ja7-2aw3wM&Th&ja28

Referees' Notices.

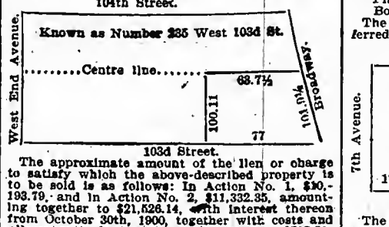
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. JACOB LAWSON, plaintiff, against AQUILA W. WANMAKER and others, defendants.—Actions Nos. I. and II.

In pursuance of judgments of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in each of the above entitled actions, bearing date respectively the 30th day of October, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in each of said judgments named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and County of New York, on the 22d day of November, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Richard V. Harnett & Company, auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgments to be sold, and thereinafter described as follows: All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of One Hundred and Third Street with the westerly side of Broadway, formerly called the Boulevard, and running thence westerly along the northerly side of One Hundred and Third Street seventy-seven feet; thence northerly and parallel with West End Avenue one hundred feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Third and One Hundred and Fourth Streets; thence easterly along said centre line of the block sixty-three feet seven and one-half inches, more or less, to the westerly side of Broadway, and thence southerly along the westerly side of Broadway one hundred and one feet nine and one-half inches to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, October 31, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.
CLARENCE L. WESTCOTT, Plaintiff's Attorney, 146 Broadway, Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the premises to be sold:

104th Street.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is as follows: In Action No. 1, $10,193.79, and in Action No. 2, $11,332.35, amounting together to $21,526.14, with interest thereon from October 30th, 1900, together with costs and allowance in both actions amounting to $709.70, with interest thereon from October 30th, 1900, and the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $3,100 and interest.

The property will be sold subject to two prior mortgages, the first being for $73,000, which sum is to bear interest, with interest to be computed from March 27th, 1899, to the time of making the sale, at six per cent. per annum, and the second being for $90,000, which sum is due thereon, with interest at six per cent. per annum, which, computed to the day of sale herein provided, will amount to $6,187.24, and the interest to accrue thereafter until the time of closing the sale.—Dated October 31, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby adjourned to the twenty-eighth day of November, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated November 22, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the fifth day of December, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated November 28, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the twenty-seventh day of December, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated December 5th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the tenth day of January, 1901, at the same hour and place.—Dated December 27th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—SARAH J. FLANAGAN, Plaintiff, against THOMAS GRAHAM, as administrator, &c., of William Van Wyck Graham, deceased, and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made and entered in the above-entitled action, and bearing date the 10th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 10th day of January, 1901, at twelve o'

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Central National Bank
320 Broadway.

The Nassau Bank
Corner Beekman and Nassau Streets.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00
ST. PAUL B'LD'G, 222 B'way.

Washington Trust Company
Stewart Building, 280 Broadway.

Bankers' Cards.

G. Sidenberg & Kraus,
BANKERS & BROKERS.
20 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Orders Executed for Stocks and Bonds for cash or on margin.
INTEREST ALLOWED ON DEPOSIT.
Investment Securities.

HENRY CLEWS & CO.,
BANKERS,
11, 13, 15, and 17 Broad St.
MEMBERS N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.
Orders executed for investment or on margin. Interest allowed on deposits, subject to check at sight. Act as Financial Agents for Corporations and Investors. Industrial Combinations Organized. Government and other Investment Bonds bought and sold.
BRANCH OFFICES:
22 W. 33d St., op. Waldorf. 202 5th Av., cor. 25th St. 487 B'way, Silk Ex. Bldg. 56 Worth & 39 Thomas St. 57 Hudson St., Merc. Ex. 16 Court St., Brooklyn.

Vermilye & Co.,
BANKERS,
New York and Boston.

Henry L. Wardwell. Edward L. Adams.
Telephone 3243 Broad.
WARDWELL & ADAMS,
STOCK BROKERS,
16 BEAVER ST., NEW YORK.
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
Stocks, Bonds, & Investments

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

I. F. MEAD. T. H. CURTIS.
I. F. MEAD & CO.,
44 & 46 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Twenty-five years' membership in N. Y. Stock Exchange.
STOCKS AND BONDS
Bought and Sold for Cash or on Margin.

Dominick & Dominick,
BANKERS,
100 Broadway, New York.
BONDS AND INVESTMENTS.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
38 WALL STREET.

JACOB BERRY & CO.
MEMBERS CONSOLIDATED STOCK EXCHANGE.
44 and 46 Broadway, New York.
ESTABLISHED 1865.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
A commission house working in the interest of clients, executing all orders upon the exchange and giving names of Brokers with whom transaction is made in every instance. We issue upon request a book describing accurately the above markets and influences governing them. Also monthly fluctuation sheets and market reports. COMMISSION 1-16. MODERATE MARGINS.

Stoppani & Hotchkin,
Members New York Consolidated Stock Exchange,
66 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Telephone, 3078 Cortlandt.
Orders executed for investment or on margin.
STOCKS, BONDS, GRAIN, COTTON.
Branch Office: N. E. cor. Broadway and 30th St.

1900 2nd EDITION 1901
OF OUR POCKET STATISTICS
STOCKS. BONDS.
STREET RAILWAYS. INDUSTRIALS.
Free upon application.
WM. COSSITT CONE & CO.,
44 BROAD ST., NEW YORK.
Members Consolidated Stock Exchange.

FINANCIAL.

Oregon Railway and Navigation Company, SINKING FUND.

In accordance with the terms of the deeds of trust of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company First Mortgage 6 Per Cent., Article 4, Section 2, the Trustee has this day drawn by lot, for account of the Sinking Fund, the following numbered bonds, viz.:

141 BONDS.

Nos. 1	679	1187	2230	3197	3483	4129	5040
2	708	1285	2248	3200	3538	4182	5074
44	830	1302	2295	3217	3651	4192	5096
45	872	1308	2529	3219	3695	4193	5206
226	902	1443	2537	3229	3698	4204	5227
228	939	1510	2570	3262	3739	4340	5235
291	1005	1638	2581	3295	3743	4590	5264
330	1007	1651	2757	3298	3753	4614	5297
336	1009	1668	2796	3299	3768	4657	5503
405	1048	1685	2797	3350	3779	4658	5553
407	1061	1687	2804	3353	3771	4671	5633
410	1084	1752	2917	3371	3773	4682	5650
442	1093	1825	2946	3372	3799	4684	5743
526	1097	1828	2948	3375	3838	4690	5771
538	1127	1829	2965	3420	3879	4796	5787
603	1145	2006	3122	3453	3995	4851	5853
634	1162	2099	3168	3457	4069	4980	5971
655	1172	2156	3189	3480	4127	4983	5978

The interest on the above bonds ceased 1st January, 1901, and are PAYABLE AT PAR on presentation at the office of The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, 16, 18, 20, and 22 William Street, New York.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Co.
Trustee.
By E. S. MARSTON, President.
New York, January 2d, 1901.

OMAHA & GRANT SMELTING COMPANY
FIRST MORTGAGE 6% BONDS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Seventy-two (72) First Mortgage 6% Bonds of the Omaha & Grant Smelting Company were this day drawn for the Sinking Fund in accordance with the requirements of the Sinking Fund clause of the Trust Mortgage; numbered as follows, viz.:

17	196	394	538	740	894	1029
18	228	432	550	741	899	1041
19	242	458	582	746	902	1097
42	259	499	624	759	905	1098
66	311	507	637	782	933	1156
80	313	511	649	783	936	1167
84	328	514	650	797	937	1232
149	340	528	657	832	947	1235
156	352	533	669	861	951	1248
172	375	537	680	871	1012	1249
173	388

All future interest of any of the bonds so designated ceases with the coupon due March 1st, 1901, in accordance with the terms of the Mortgage.

The bonds hereinbefore designated will be paid on presentation at the office of the Central Trust Company of New York on and after March 1st, 1901, at 105 and accrued interest to March 1st, 1901.

OMAHA & GRANT SMELTING COMPANY,
GUY C. BARTON, President.
New York, January 5th, 1901.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

N. Y. & Staten Island Electric
1st Mortgage 5% Bonds.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL.

$4,500,000

Indiana, Illinois & Iowa Railroad Co.

First Mortgage Four Per Cent. Gold Bonds.

DATED JULY 1, 1900. DUE JULY 1, 1950.
INTEREST PAYABLE JULY 1ST AND JANUARY 1ST IN NEW YORK CITY. Principal and Interest Payable in Gold Coin of the Present Standard of Weight and Fineness.

Amount of present issue - - - - - - $4,500,000

ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, Chicago, Trustee.

A LETTER OF T. P. SHONTS, ESQ., PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY, STATES IN PART AS FOLLOWS:

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Co. now owns and operates about 200 miles of road, extending from South Bend, Ind., to a connection with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad at a point near Illinois Valley and Northern Junction, from which place this Company has trackage rights over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy to Clinton, Iowa. It also operates under lease the St. Joseph, South Bend and Southern Railroad Co., comprising 39 miles, extending from South Bend to St. Joseph, Mich., where connection is made with the Pere Marquette, making in all 239 miles under operation, with additional trackage rights of 60 miles over the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy. The property of this Company forms a connecting link between the following roads centring in the City of Chicago, thus constituting a short and convenient line for the interchange of traffic.

Eastern Connections:	Southern and Western Connections:
Michigan Central,	Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville,
Lake Shore and Michigan Southern,	Chicago and Indiana Coal Road,
Wabash,	Illinois Central,
Grand Trunk,	Chicago and Eastern Illinois,
Lake Erie and Western,	Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis,
Baltimore and Ohio,	Wabash,
Pittsburg, Ft. Wayne and Chicago,	Chicago and Alton,
New York, Chicago and St. Louis,	Chicago, Burlington and Quincy,
Erie,	Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé,
Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis.	Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific.

The earnings of this Company for the years ending June 30th have been as follows:

	1899.	1900.
Gross Earnings	$902,305	$1,226,150
Net Earnings	$340,210	$468,086
Other Income	1,565	11,753
Total Income	$341,775	$479,839
Taxes and Rentals	51,203	54,750
Applicable to Interest	$290,572	$425,089

The net earnings for four months to October 31, 1900, show an increase of $47,952, or on the basis of about $150,000 net increase for the year. . . . and at the present rate of increase, the Company should show a net profit applicable to interest for the year ending June 30, 1901, of $575,000. The entire interest charges being interest on the bonds you have purchased, will amount to $180,000 per annum.

The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa is now paying regular dividends of 4 per cent. per annum upon its entire capital stock of $5,000,000.

The Company will have in its treasury on February 1st a working capital of approximately $400,000 in cash. The issue is limited to $12,000,000, of which $4,500,000 are now issued and the remainder reserved to be issued only to acquire additional property or for extensions or for improvements under most rigid restrictions in the mortgage. The bonds are secured by a first and only lien upon the entire property of the Company now owned or hereafter acquired. They are dated July 1, 1900, and mature July 1, 1950, principal and interest at 4 per cent. payable in gold, and are not subject to call before maturity.

WE OFFER FOR SUBSCRIPTION THE ABOVE DESCRIBED BONDS AT 97½ AND ACCRUED INTEREST.

INTERIM CERTIFICATES OF THE ILLINOIS TRUST AND SAVINGS BANK, EXCHANGEABLE FOR DEFINITIVE BONDS WHEN READY, WILL BE DELIVERABLE AT OUR OFFICE ON OR ABOUT FEBRUARY 1ST.

SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS WILL BE OPENED ON JANUARY 10TH AT OUR OFFICES AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M., AND CLOSE AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M. OR EARLIER THE SAME DAY.

PAYMENT IS TO BE MADE: 2½ PER CENT. ON ALLOTMENT, AND 95 PER CENT. AND ACCRUED INTEREST ON DELIVERY OF THE INTERIM CERTIFICATES.

THE RIGHT IS RESERVED TO REJECT ANY APPLICATION AND TO ALLOT SMALLER AMOUNTS THAN APPLIED FOR.

Lee, Higginson & Co.,
44 State St., Boston.

Redmond, Kerr & Co.,
41 Wall St., New York.

TO THE HOLDERS OF
First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Refunding Gold Bonds of 1948
OF
The Indiana, Illinois & Iowa R.R.Co.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Company has exercised the option reserved to it in its First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Refunding Gold Bonds secured by its First Mortgage Five Per Cent. Refunding Gold Bond Mortgage, dated October 1 A. D. 1898, to Continental Trust Company of the City of New York, and Joseph D. Oliver, Trustees, to redeem said bonds and each of them at any time, at its option, by paying to the Trust Company, Trustee in said Mortgage, or to the lawful holders of said bonds, par and ten per centum premium thereon and accrued interest, and that it intends to redeem all of said bonds then outstanding, on the First (1st) day of February, A. D. 1901, by paying therefor on said date to the Continental Trust Company of the City of New York, or to the lawful holders thereof, at the office of the said Trust Company, Number 30 Broad Street, in the City of New York, par and ten per centum premium thereon and accrued interest.

Thereupon, under the provisions of said mortgage and the bonds secured thereby, INTEREST WILL CEASE TO ACCRUE THEREON AND SAID BONDS WILL BE FULLY PAID.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS.
The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Company,
By T. P. SHONTS, President.
R. P. AHRENS, Secretary.

3,300 SHARES

Sharon Railway of Pa.

6% Guaranteed Stock.

The Sharon Railway is leased for 900 years to the Erie Railroad Company and forms a part of the main line of the system.

Price and Particulars on application.

Street, Wykes & Co.,
44 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
DULUTH, MISSABE AND NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY
First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Dated January 1st, 1893.

The CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY of New York gives notice that in accordance with Article V. of a certain Indenture made by the above Railway Company, dated January 1st, 1893, it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above-described bonds at a rate not to exceed 105 per cent. and accrued interest, the total offer not to consume more than the amount of Eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighteen 81-100 dollars, ($83,518.81.) The sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, in New York City, at twelve o'clock noon on the sixteenth day of January, 1901.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.
By G. Sherman, Vice President.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company.

30 Broad Street, New York, January 2d, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that the following-described bonds of this company for $1,000 each, known as Income Sinking Fund Convertible 5 per cent. bonds, have been selected by lot in accordance with the terms of the bonds, to be paid for at 105 per centum of principal, with accrued interest, on presentation at this office. The numbers are as follows:

197	387	829	832	836	1116	1747	1750
291	299	830	835	1115	1117	1749	1885
295

Interest on these bonds will cease on the 2d day of February, 1901.

ROSWELL MILLER, Chairman.

WANTED—A competent manager for Foreign Exchange Department. Must be experienced in all matters pertaining to Travelers' Letters of Credit, and capable of managing that department also. Replies, giving details as to experience, age, references, &c., will be treated in strict confidence. G., Box 179 Times.

MORTON TRUST CO.
37 NASSAU STREET.
Capital, Surplus & Undivided Profits, $6,000,000
Levi P. Morton, President. Thomas F. Ryan, V.-Pres. James K. Corbiere, 2d V.-P. H. M. Francis, Sec. W. Redmond Cross, Treas. H. B. Berry, Trust Officer.

The Trust Co. of America,
149 BROADWAY, NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $5,245,894.13.
ASHBEL P. FITCH.....President.
WILLIAM H. LEUPP, WILLIAM BARBOUR, Vice Presidents.
RAYMOND J. CHATRY, HENRY S. MANNING, Secretary. Vice Presidents.
ALBERT L. BANISTER, LAWRENCE O. MURRAY Treasurer. Trust Officers.

THE UNDERSIGNED ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR
100,000,000 Reichsmark

BAVARIAN Government Loan

At 100½ and Accrued Interest.

These bonds bear 4% interest p. a. coupons payable May 1st and November 1st. Bonds will be issued January 22nd. Subscriptions will be received by us for the above issue, until Friday, January 11th, 4 P. M.

Allotments can be paid in full or in three installments.

40 % January 22nd.
30 % March 26th.
30 % May 28th.

Zimmerman & Forshay,
BANKERS,
9 AND 11 WALL STREET.

DEVLIN COAL COMPANY
6% Mortgage Gold Bonds.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the terms of the Trust Deed dated January 1, 1894, that the undersigned, as Trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to 12 M. of the 15th day of January, 1901, for the sale to it of bonds, as above described, secured by said deed, at a price not exceeding par and accrued interest, to an amount sufficient to use the sum of Three thousand nine hundred dollars ($3,900.)

CONTINENTAL TRUST COMPANY of the City of New York, Trustee.
WILLARD V. KING, Secretary.
January 9, 1901.

Savings Banks.

Siegel-Cooper & Co., Bankers,
6th Ave., 18th and 19th Sts.

Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum credited to depositors on January 2, 1901, for the three and six months ending December 31, 1900.

Deposits made before the 10th day of any month draw interest for full month.

Banking hours 9 A. M. to 5:30 P. M.

THE NEW YORK SAVINGS BANK,
8TH AV., N. W. COR. 14TH ST.

The trustees have ordered that the interest to be credited to depositors Jan. 1, 1901, shall be at the rate of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. PER ANNUM on all sums from $5 to $3,000.

Deposits made on or before Jan. 10 will draw interest from Jan. 1.

PETER A. WELCH, President.
RUFUS H. WOOD, Treasurer.
WILLIAM FELSINGER, Secretary.

Meetings and Elections.

N. Y., January 3d, 1901.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANNUAL Meeting of the Stockholders of the American Speaking Telephone Company will be held at the Executive Office of the Company, Room No. 60, No. 195 Broadway, in the City of New York, on Thursday, the 17th day of January, 1901, at eleven o'clock A. M., for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election, and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting. A. R. BREWER, Secretary.

GERMAN EXCHANGE BANK, N. Y.
New York, December 14th, 1900.

The annual election for Directors of this Bank will be held at the banking house, 330 Bowery, on Thursday, January 10th, 1901, between the hours of 12 o'clock A. and 2 o'clock P. M.

CHAS. L. ADRIAN, Cashier.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE annual meeting of Stockholders of THE AMERICAN STANDARD TYPEWRITER COMPANY will be held at the Company's office, 256 Broadway, New York City, on Tuesday, January 22, 1901, at 2:00 o'clock P. M. for the election of five Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

J. D. CAMERON, President.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place, December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.

O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

Bleecker St. & Fulton Ferry Railroad Company.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the above-named company, for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election, will be held at the office of the Company, No. 621 Broadway, New York City, on Thursday, January 17th, 1901, at 4 o'clock P. M.

C. E. WARREN, Secretary.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

National Broadway Bank.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank this day held, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

FRANCIS A. PALMER,
HUDSON HOAGLAND,
DAVID S. WALTON,
GEORGE C. CLARKE,
SETH E. THOMAS,
WILLIAM B. PUTNEY,
GEORGE J. PERRY,
EUGENE BRITTON,
ADOLPH RUSCH,
AARON ADAMS,
RICHARD B. KELLY,
ANDERSON FOWLER,
WILLIAM BALLIN,

and

J. A. GEISSENHAINER,
FRANCIS P. FURNALD, Jr.,
HORACE P. HUTCHINSON,

were elected Inspectors of the next ensuing election.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors Mr. FRANCIS A. PALMER was re-elected President and Mr. HUDSON HOAGLAND was re-elected Vice President, both unanimously.

CHAS. J. DAY, Cashier.

The Liberty National Bank of New York.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Liberty National Bank of New York, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Henry C. Tinker,	H. C. Fahnestock,
Henry Graves,	Henry W. Maxwell,
Geo. F. Baker,	Charles G. Emery,
E. F. C. Young,	E. C. Converse,
Wm. Runkle,	Charles A. Moore,
Dumont Clarke,	T. A. Gillespie,
Jno. H. Starin,	Francis L. Hine,
	Henry P. Davison.

At a subsequent meeting of this Board of Directors Mr. Henry C. Tinker was unanimously elected President, Mr. Henry W. Maxwell and Mr. Henry P. Davison, Vice Presidents.

CHARLES W. RIECHS, Cashier.

Columbia Bank,
Fifth Avenue and 42d Street.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

James Stillman,	Myer S. Isaacs,
William Rockefeller.	Charles Reed,
Jacob H. Schiff,	D. H. Rowland,
Cleveland H. Dodge,	Simeon Ford,
Joseph Fox,	Max J. Lissauer,
Daniel T. Hoag,	Lewis Seasongood.

As Inspectors of Election:
HENRY S. HERRMAN,
N. SHIVERICK.
HERMAN MENDEL.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Mr. Joseph Fox was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. D. H. Rowland was unanimously re-elected Vice President.

W. S. GRIFFITH, Cashier.

(Established 1784.)
The Bank of New York.
National Banking Association.
New York, January 9, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the Stockholders, held on the 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Charles D. Leverich,	John L. Riker,
George H. Byrd,	J. Kennedy Tod,
G. Amsinck,	John Crosby Brown,
A. W. Hard,	Henry C. Swords,
H. B. Laidlaw,	John G. McCullough,
D. O. Mills,	Wm. A. Read,
	Daniel A. Davis.

And as Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year:

George Macculloch Miller,	H. H. Cammann,
Samuel Riker.

CHAS. OLNEY, Cashier.

The Central National Bank of the City of New York.
New York, January 9, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held at the banking room on January 8, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Wm. A. Wheelock,	Courtlandt D. Moss,
James H. Dunham,	Henry Tuck,
Edwin Langdon,	Henry Sampson,
Woodbury Langdon,	Louis F. Dommerich,
John A. McCall,	Jacob S. Bernheimer,
	FRANK JAY GOULD.

For Inspectors of Election:
RALPH L. CUTTER, CHARLES A. HOYT,
FRANK A. MUNSEY.

At a subsequent meeting of the board, Mr. Edwin Langdon was unanimously re-elected President.

CHARLES S. YOUNG, Cashier.

The Chemical National Bank of New York.
January 9th, 1901.

At the Annual Election for Directors, held at the banking house on January 8th, the following named gentlemen were elected Directors of this Bank for the ensuing year:

GEORGE G. WILLIAMS,
FREDERIC W. STEVENS,
W. EMLEN ROOSEVELT,
AUGUSTUS D. JUILLIARD,
GEORGE G. DE WITT,
WILLIAM H. PORTER.

At a meeting of the Board held this day, Messrs. George G. Williams and Wm. H. Porter were re-elected President and Vice President, respectively.

FRANCIS HALPIN, Cashier.

YORKVILLE BANK,
Third Avenue, corner 85th Street.
NEW YORK, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of this bank, held to-day, the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year:

Richard H. Adams,	Jacob Ruppert, Jr.,
E. B. Amend,	Jacob Schlosser,
Thomas E. Crimmins,	Leopold Schmid,
Chas. C. Clausen,	H. B. Scharmann,
Henry Diedel,	Emil Unger,
Karl Hutter,	Louis von Bernuth,
Henry F. Poggenburg,	Moses Weinman,
	Reinhold Van Ande Emde.

WM. L. FRANKENBACH, Cashier.

THE ASTOR NATIONAL BANK.
New York, January 9th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

Geo. F. Baker,	Alexander H. Stevens,
John Jacob Astor,	Frederick D. Tappen,
Charles A. Peabody, Jr.,	W. Emlen Roosevelt,
Harrison E. Gawtry,	Robert H. McCurdy,
John Downey,	Douglass Robinson.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. George F. Baker was unanimously re-elected President and Mr. Alexander H. Stevens Vice President.

GEO. W. PANCOAST, Cashier.

THE GALLATIN NATIONAL BANK OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK.—New York, January 9th, 1901.—At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of this bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

Frederick D. Tappen,	Alexander H. Stevens,
Adrian Iselin, Jr.,	Henry I. Barbey,
Thomas Denny,	W. Emlen Roosevelt,
Frederic W. Stevens,	Charles A. Peabody, Jr.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. Frederick D. Tappen was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. Alexander H. Stevens Vice President.

SAMUEL WOOLVERTON, Cashier.

Seaboard National Bank of the City of New York.
New York, January 8, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank for the election of Directors, held this day, the following named gentlemen were re-elected to serve for the ensuing year:

Samuel G. Bayne,	Stuart G. Nelson,
Edward C. Bodman,	Daniel O'Day,
T. Wistar Brown,	Franklin Quinby,
Lucius A. Cole,	Wm. A. Ross,
Francis V. Greene,	Joseph Seep.
Edward V. Loew,

JOHN F. THOMPSON, Cashier.

The National Bank of the Republic.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At a meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held 8th instant, the following gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

George B. Carhart,	William Barbour,
Oliver S. Carter,	James A. Blair,
Stunner R. Stone,	Charles Parsons,
D. H. McAlpin,	Anson R. Flower,
Charles R. Flint,	George H. Macy,

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Oliver S. Carter was unanimously re-elected President.

CHARLES H. STOUT, Cashier.

Garfield National Bank.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year: James H. Breslin, Wm. H. Geishenen, James McCutcheon, Charles T. Wills, Charles W. Morse, Harry F. Morse, Morgan J. O'Brien.

At a regular meeting of Board of Directors, held Jan. 9th, 1901, Mr. Wm. H. Geishenen was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. Charles W. Morse was unanimously re-elected Vice President. R. W. POOR, Cashier.

Continental National Bank.
At the annual election, January 8th, the following were elected for the ensuing year:

Edmund D. Randolph,	Thomas W. Evans,
Charles H. Marshall,	Edwin Einstein,
Benjamin Perkins,	A. Gifford Agnew,
Cord Meyer,	Vernon H. Brown,
J. Henry Dick,	Alexander D. Seymour,
INSPECTORS.
William Kevan,	William Turnbull,
	George B. Agnew.

At a meeting of the Directors, January 9th, Benjamin Perkins was re-elected President, Charles H. Marshall, Vice President, and Alexander D. Seymour, 2d Vice President.

ALFRED H. TIMPSON, Cashier.

The National Butchers and Drovers Bank.
New York, January 9th, 1901.

At the annual election, held on the 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors of this Bank for the ensuing year, viz.:

Gurdon G. Brinckerhoff,	George F. Johnson,
William H. Chase,	Adolph D. Bendheim,
Henry Hofheimer,	Henry W. Kennedy,
	Richard C. Fellows.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day Mr. Gurdon G. Brinckerhoff was unanimously re-elected President.

WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

THE WESTERN NATIONAL BANK of the City of New York.

At the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, held 8th January, 1901, the following named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Valentine P. Snyder,	Martin Erdmann,
James W. Alexander,	John F. Dryden,
Marcellus Hartley,	Thomas H. Hubbard,
H. M. Alexander,	James H. Hyde,
Charles T. Barney,	Brayton Ives,
C. Ledyard Blair,	Otto H. Kahn,
Charles J. Canda,	Luther Kountze,
Juan M. Ceballos,	John Howard Latham,
William N. Coler, Jr.,	David H. Moffat,
Chauncey M. Depew,	James H. Parker,
	Sidney F. Tyler.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors of this Bank, held 9th January, 1901, Mr. Valentine P. Snyder was unanimously re-elected President and Messrs. James W. Alexander and Marcellus Hartley Vice Presidents.

HENRY A. SMITH,
Cashier and Secretary of Board of Directors.

East River National Bank.
New York, January 8, 1901.

At the annual election, held this day, the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors of this Bank for the ensuing year:

David Banks,	Charles Banks,
Joseph Rogers,	Raymond Jenkins,
	David Banks, Jr.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors, Raymond Jenkins was unanimously re-elected President and David Banks, Vice President for the ensuing year.

Z. E. NEWELL, Cashier.

New York Carbide & Acetylene Company.
45 Broadway, Room 95.
New York, December 28, 1900.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of this company will be held at 2 o'clock P. M. on Monday, January 14th, 1901, at the office of the Company, for the purpose of electing Directors and for the transaction of any other business authorized to be done at an annual meeting.

The Polls will remain open one hour.

The Transfer Books will be closed from December 24th, 1900, to January 15th, 1901.

A. B. PROAL, Secretary.

The American District Telegraph Company.

The annual meeting of stockholders of the American District Telegraph Company will be held at 195 Broadway, Room 60, New York, on Thursday, January 24, 1901, at 1 o'clock P. M., for the election of Directors and Inspectors of Election for the ensuing year, and for such other business as may properly come before the meeting. Transfer books will be closed on January 17 at 3 o'clock P. M., and reopened on January 25 at 10 o'clock A. M.

C. S. SHIVLER, Secretary.

Jan. 10, 1901.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE ANnual meeting of the stockholders of THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY will be held Wednesday, January 16th, 1901, at 11 o'clock A. M., Room 147, Times Building. A resolution to decrease the Board of Directors from seven to five will be presented.

BEN. C. FRANCK, Secy.

THE ANNUAL ELECTION OF THE CLASS of Trustees, whose term shall then expire, will be held on the second Monday in January at the Dispensary Building, and will begin at four and close at five o'clock P. M.

FREDERIC J. DE PEYSTER, Prest.
DAVID MAGIE, Sec.

ANNUAL MEETING STOCKHOLDERS ROME Mining Company will be held at office of J. C. Thompson, 95 Liberty St., New York, TUESDAY, January 15, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon.

ALFRED H. BROWN,
For the Directors.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company.
MILLS BUILDING,
New York, January 9, 1901.

The Company has this day declared from the net earnings a dividend of One Per Cent. on its Preferred Stock for the quarter ending March 1, 1901, payable March 5, 1901, at the office of MESSRS. J. P. MORGAN & CO., NEW YORK, to the Preferred Stockholders of record in New York, and at the DEUTSCHE BANK, BERLIN, to the Preferred Stockholders of record in Berlin, at the closing of the transfer books on February 15, 1901.

For the purpose of such dividend the transfer books in New York and Berlin will close at 3 P. M. on February 15, 1901, and will reopen at 10 A. M. on February 26, 1901.

NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.

23 Wall Street,
New York, January 9, 1901.

On and after March 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. among the parties entitled thereto upon presentation of their Stock Trust Certificates at our offices for stamping.

After February 15, when the Railway Company closes its transfer books, and until March 5, when it pays the dividend, a due bill will be given for dividends upon shares represented by Stock Trust Certificates deposited for conversion.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.,
DEUTSCHE BANK, BERLIN,
Agents for the Voting Trustees.

NEW YORK OFFICE OF THE
AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY.
100 Broadway, Dec. 17, 1900.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day there was declared from the surplus net earnings a dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT. (2⅝%) on the Preferred Stock of this Company, in full for the period up to Oct. 1, 1900, payable Jan. 24, 1901, to the holders of record of the Preferred Stock at the closing of the transfer books on Jan. 10, 1901.

For the purpose of such dividend the Preferred Stock transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M. on Jan. 1, 1901, and reopened at 10 A. M. on Jan. 25, 1901, at the office of the

AMERICAN BRIDGE COMPANY.
By H. SCHOONMAKER, Secretary.

23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 17, 1900.

On Jan. 24, 1901, the undersigned will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of TWO AND FIVE-EIGHTHS PER CENT. (2⅝%) when received by them, among the registered holders of their Trust Receipts for Preferred Stock of the American Bridge Company.

J. P. MORGAN & CO.

COMMONWEALTH (FIRE) INS. CO. OF NEW YORK.
68 William St., Jan. 3, 1901.

The Directors have declared the following DIVIDENDS: THREE PER CENT. upon the Capital Stock, payable on demand on or after Jan. 7, 1901;

FIVE PER CENT. Interest upon the outstanding Scrip payable on demand on or after Feb. 19, 1901; and

TEN PER CENT. in Scrip upon the Participating Policies expired in 1900, Certificates for which will be issued on demand on or after May 21, 1901.

The Transfer Books will remain closed until the 10th inst. CHAS. S. BARTOW, President.

Central Fireworks Company.
Office of the Treasurer.

Preferred Stock dividend No. 6.
Common Stock dividend No. 8.

The regular semi-annual dividend of 3½ per cent. on the Preferred Stock and a dividend of 1 per cent. on the Common Stock have been declared, both payable February 9th to stockholders of record February 2d, 1901. Transfer Books will be closed February 1st and re-opened February 11th, 1901. Checks will be mailed.

GEO. T. EGBERT, Treasurer.

Central Railroad Company of New Jersey.
143 Liberty Street,
New York, January 7th, 1901.

A dividend of ONE AND ONE-QUARTER Per Cent.

as 130 and closing at 126, a net gain of 5¼ points on dealings in 8,000 shares. The advance was directly due to the demand by Henry Hart of his Third Avenue stock from the syndicate who took it from him a year ago. All day long brokers acting for some of the members of the syndicate were going about the Street endeavoring to borrow the stock for delivery, offering as high as ¼ or ⅜ per cent. per day for the use of it, representing practically 100 per cent. a year. They obtained little stock, however.

PEOPLE'S GAS IN CONTROL.

The Chicago gas war has at last been officially settled. As a matter of fact, the settlement was arrived at some time ago, as was stated at the time by Senator Depew, but up to yesterday the exact details and terms had not been made public. They are now presented herewith, in the following official statement given out yesterday at the office of Flower & Co. in this city:

"The Directors of the People's Gas Company of Chicago has authorized the closing of the contract with the Ogden Gas Company. Under this contract the People's Company agrees to purchase the property of the Ogden Company at the expiration of the latter's franchise in 1945. This contract is to be deposited with the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company by the Ogden Gas Company to secure the $6,000,000 of Ogden bonds.

"A majority of the capital stock of the Ogden Gas Company has been purchased by a syndicate who are friendly to the interests of the People's Gas Company, but the two companies will be kept separate and distinct until the acquisition of the franchise of the Ogden Gas Company, when its property will be taken over by the People's Company."

This, in effect, means that the People's Company is in control of the Chicago gas situation much as is the Consolidated Gas Company in New York.

One of the reports on the Street yesterday was that People's Gas stockholders as a result of the settlement will be given some valuable privileges, though of what nature was not disclosed. Asked as to the report, officials of the company here said that they had nothing to say.

IRON AND STEEL PROSPERITY.

According to The Iron Age, the monthly blast furnace statistics show that we entered the new year with a considerable increase in the active capacity. The furnaces were producing at the rate of a little over 250,000 tons per week as compared with 229,000 tons on Dec. 1, 1900, and 204,000 tons on Jan. 1, 1900. Furnace stocks of all kinds of iron were down to about 550,000 tons on Jan. 1, as compared with 557,000 tons on Dec. 1 and 670,000 tons on Oct. 1, 1900.

On the general situation The Iron Age says:

As yet the increase in the product has not run its course, since a number of furnaces have started since the opening of the year and others are to follow. It looks, therefore, as though in the near future production may slightly overbalance the consumption. In fact, in some important districts there has been a slight increase in the stocks.

Aside from some large sales of basic pig and of lower foundry grades to pipe makers in the Philadelphia district, no markedly important transactions have taken place in pig iron.

The steel billet makers had a meeting during the past week, but did not touch prices. Reports from Europe indicate the decline which has taken place there. German steel is being offered at $4 25s., free on board, Rotterdam, and correspondingly low prices are quoted in England. It is figured roughly that with a $5 through rate from Pittsburg to Great Britain it would be difficult to net more than about $16.50, Pittsburg, for export orders.

Aside from the report that the Fort Wayne plant at Pittsburg, calling for about 10,000 tons, has been closed, no large transactions have taken place in structural material. There is some talk of very extensive track elevation in Philadelphia, which ought to bring out a large tonnage.

The plate mills continue crowded. An interesting indication of the situation is furnished by the fact that a Chicago mill has taken an order for 4,500 tons of plates for tidewater delivery.

A sensation has been created by the announcement that the Carnegie Steel Company is to build a large plant at Conneaut, on Lake Erie, for the manufacture of merchant pipe. This is said to be merely the forerunner of similar undertakings in other directions. Since it is proposed to produce the steel from the ore up, it does not affect the question of securing an outlet for surplus steel tonnage in the Pittsburg district. In fact, it is positively asserted that relief there is to be sought by the building of a large sheet mill.

In the trade the move of the leading Pittsburg producer to the lake is regarded as a significant recognition of the advantages of lake facilities.

The project furthermore shows how insecure is the claim to even an approach to monopoly claimed for some of the large consolidations. Recently the indications have been multiplying that the disturbance of old relations between the old seller of the semi-finished material and the buyer, transformed into a consolidation, may strain old relations and cause preparations to invade territory formerly respected. It looks as though the battle of the giants may develop sooner than expected. The current year will probably merely be one of preparation.

COAL TRADE DEVELOPMENTS.

The January letter of the Anthracite Coal Operators' Association, just issued, dealing with the interesting developments in the coal situation, says, among other things:

Since the last issue of The Letter there have been developments of great moment in the anthracite industry, changes which affect every land owner, mine operator and employe in the regions, and which, through the railroad interests directly and indirectly involved, have an effect upon the thousands of owners of the various securities of these roads. No industrial movement in this country has ever had such widespread results.

From the beginning of the anthracite mining industry, the individual operators fought against the rates of freight charged by the transportation lines entering the coal regions, and through their efforts to secure relief, one after another of the existing anthracite railroads has been built to, or extended into, these regions, each one offering something a little better than had previously been given.

In the earlier days of the anthracite industry, there were in only a few individual cases contracts by which the railroads, or the coal companies operated by them, purchased coal from independent operators. * * * These contracts extended for seven years, and expired in 1899. In 1898, after repeated efforts had been made to secure the promise of their renewal on more favorable terms, each falling any definite result, the individual operators organized the New York, Wyoming and Western Railway Company; surveyed a line from the Wyoming region to tidewater; bought several thousand tons of rails; secured right of way; a satisfactory tide terminal, and began construction. Upon this, negotiations were opened by the railroads, culminating, after nearly a year, in a satisfactory plan, which was begun but not completed. After this, the opportunity occurring, the interests of the operators were consolidated with the Pennsylvania Coal Company, the bed of the abandoned Delaware and Hudson Canal was purchased and the Delaware Valley and Kingston Railway Company incorporated.

The contracts upon which this new road was to buy the operators' coal, gave to the latter 65 per cent. of the tidewater price, or in other words reduced the freight rate from one-half the free on board price, which it was prior to the 1902 contracts, to but little over one-third, besides making even more material concessions in pea coal and the smaller sizes, and giving an opportunity for more days' work each year than had been possible under the former arrangement. Under such conditions the operators had hoped to be able to market their coal at a lower price, thus reducing the cost to the public, while receiving themselves the benefit of the increased output.

NEW SECURITIES LISTED.

The following new securities were yesterday listed by the Listing Committee of the New York Stock Exchange:

Cleveland and Pittsburg Railroad Company—$828,000 general mortgage 3½ per cent. guaranteed gold coupon bonds, Series D, of 1950, for $1,000 each, No. 8,001 to 8,828, inclusive.

Texas and Pacific Railway Company—$77,000 additional first mortgage 5 per cent. gold coupon bonds of A. D. 2000, for $1,000 each, No. 697 to 773, inclusive, making the total amount listed to date $23,822,000, Nos. 1 to 774, inclusive, and No. 3,952 to 25,000, inclusive.

New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company—$1,500,000 additional refunding mortgage 4 per cent. 100-year gold coupon bonds of 1992, for $1,000 each, No. 15,438 to 16,937, inclusive, making the amount listed to date $16,937,000, No. 1 to 16,937, inclusive.

Chicago and Eastern Illinois—$1,000,000 additional preferred stock and $1,000,000 additional common stock, making the total amount of preferred stock listed to date, $6,830,700, and of common stock, $7,197,800.

Saginaw, Tuscola and Huron Railroad Company—$1,000,000 first mortgage guaranteed 4 per cent. gold coupon bonds of 1931, for $1,000 each, No. 1 to 1,000, inclusive.

Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway—$1,150,000 additional first consolidated mortgage 5 per cent. gold coupon bonds of 1928, for $1,000 each, No. 1,063 to 2,196, inclusive, and No. 15,990 to 16,023, inclusive, making the total amount listed to date $7,412,000, No. 1 to 2,196, inclusive, and No. 16,808 to 16,023, inclusive.

The Hocking Valley Railway Company—$162,000 additional first consolidated mortgage 100-year 4½ per cent. gold coupon bonds of 1999 for $1,000 each, No. 9,169 to 9,270, inclusive, making the total amount listed to date $9,270,000, No. 1 to 9,270, inclusive.

Northern Pacific Railway Company—$4,118,500 additional prior lien railway and land grant 4 per cent. gold coupon bonds of 1997, No. M80,315 to M81,076, inclusive, M81,561 to M83,068, inclusive; M83,367 to M85,214, inclusive, for $1,000 each, and No. D20,151 for $500, making the total amount listed to date $94,007,500, No. M1 to M76,000, inclusive; M76,600 to M81,076, inclusive; M81,561 to M83,068, inclusive; M83,367 to M85,214, inclusive, for $1,000 each, and No. D1 to D20,151, inclusive, for $500 each.

Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company—$1,512,000 additional 3½ per cent. general mortgage gold coupon bonds of 1987, for $1,000 each, No. 9,998 to 11,507, inclusive, making the total amount listed to date $11,507,000, No. 1 to 11,507, inclusive. The committee further recommends that it be empowered to add to the list, from time to time, $4,493,000 additional bonds, as and when officially notified that they have been issued and disposed of by the company. The amount of said bonds, including such additional issues, shall not exceed in the aggregate $16,000,000.

Directors Re-elected.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Central Realty Bond and Trust Company, held yesterday, the following named gentlemen were re-elected Directors for a term of three years, expiring in 1904: Anthony N. Brady, James Stillman, John D. Crimmins, Ernest Ehrmann, and James H. Post.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the Bowling Green Trust Company yesterday the following Directors were elected: William Nelson Cromwell, Myron T. Herrick, Edmund C. Converse, Winslow S. Pierce, George R. Bidwell, E. F. C. Young, Joseph W. Ogden, and William M. Laws.

Bavarian Bond Subscription.

Zimmermann & Forshay announce that they are prepared to receive subscriptions at par and ½ and accrued interest for the 100,000,000 reichsmark Bavarian Government loan. The bonds bear 4 per cent. interest, payable semi-annually on May 1 and Nov. 1. Bonds will be issued Jan. 22. Allotments at the option of the subscriber may be paid in full, or 40 per cent. Jan. 22, 30 per cent. March 26, and 30 per cent. May 28. The subscription books will close Jan. 11 at 4 P. M.

Indiana, Illinois, and Iowa Bonds.

Redmond, Kerr & Co., in conjunction with Lee, Higginson & Co. of Boston, offer by subscription $4,500,000 Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Company's first mortgage 4 per cent. gold bonds, bearing semi-annual interest, and due July 1, 1950. The Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago is the trustee. The bonds are issued to retire the 5 per cent. bonds which have been called for payment at 110, and to pay for extensions of the line already completed. The bonds are offered at 97½ and accrued interest. Payment is to be made as follows: Two and a half per cent. on allotment and 95 per cent. and accrued interest on delivery of the interim certificates. The right is reserved to reject any application or to allot smaller amounts than are applied for. The Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad Company is now paying regular dividends of 4 per cent. per annum. In the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, its earnings applicable to interest amounted to $425,089, against $290,572 in the previous year. The net earnings for four months to Oct. 31, 1900, show an increase at the rate of $130,000 for the current year, making the net profit applicable to interest $555,000, while the entire interest charges will amount to only $180,000. The bonds offered are secured by a first and only lien upon the entire property of the company now owned or hereafter acquired. The total issue is limited to $12,000,000, and the amount remaining after the $4,500,000 present issue is to be reserved from issue except to acquire additional property or for extensions or for improvements under rigid restrictions in the mortgage. The subscription books will open at 10 A. M. on Jan. 16 and close at 3 P. M., or earlier, the same day.

Ninth National Bank Officers.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Ninth National Bank, Alvah Trowbridge was elected President, H. H. Nazro cashier, and E. K. Chapman assistant cashier.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Sales on the Stock Exchange of 220 shares of Bank of Commerce at 330, and 83 shares at 331.

According to Philadelphia dispatches, the Pennsylvania Railroad will spend over $5,000,000 in improvements this year.

Statement that application will be made to have the stock of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company placed on the unlisted department of the New York Stock Exchange.

Decision of the traffic agents of all the railroads entering Birmingham, Ala., to make no changes in the rates on any kind of iron of that region.

Listing on the Philadelphia Stock Exchange of $259,650 additional common stock and $83,950 additional preferred stock of the Choctaw, Oklahoma and Gulf Railroad Company.

Petition of the Fitchburg and Leominster Street Railway Company to the Massachusetts Railroad Commissioners for authority to issue $500,000 twenty-year 4½ per cent. coupon bonds.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 3@4 per cent., closing at 3 per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4½@4¾ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4¾@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $244,341,931; balances, $12,130,844; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $951,211.

Money on call in London, 3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 3⅝@4 per cent., and for three months' bills, 4@4⅛ per cent.

Spanish 4s closed at 70⅝.

Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 131; Madrid, 34.45; Lisbon, 38; Rome, 5.47½.

American eagles are quoted in the open market at 76s 5d and bar gold at 77s 10½d.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Prices on the Bourse opened firmer to-day. Governments were steady, except rentes, which reacted, after a sharp rise, on profit-taking. Spanish 4s improved sensibly. Kafirs reflected the strength of London. In the afternoon offers of industrials predominated, their decline affecting other sections.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f 90c for the account. Exchange on London, 25f 11c for checks.

Spanish 4s closed at 71.35.

BERLIN, Jan. 9.—Business on the Boerse to-day was dull and unsatisfactory. The advices from foreign markets, in conjunction with the conditions in China and South Africa, caused an indisposition to enter into fresh commitments. Spanish 4s were in brisk demand on Paris advices.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 45¾ pfennigs, for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' bills, 3 per cent.

MADRID, Jan. 9.—Spanish 4s closed to-day at 78.20. Gold was quoted at 34.47.

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Business in the outside market yesterday continued on a small scale and little of interest was developed by the day's transaction. Prices were again irregular and the declines were even more numerous than on the previous day, though in but few cases did the losses assume large size. Some few advances resulted from the day's trading, but the market was weak. In no instance, however, were the price movements accompanied by heavy transactions.

***

NEW YORK TRANSPORTATION was weak, and some attention was drawn by the sharp decline which the stock underwent. After going as low as 5, the best bid at the close was 4¾, which showed a net loss of 1¼ points. The efforts made to explain the weakness in the stock led to a report to the effect that another assessment would soon be called on the stock. It was officially stated that no meeting of the Directors had been called for such a purpose. Moreover, it was pointed out that such action would be directly opposed to the expressed policy of the company. When the other transportation companies reduced the par value of their shares it was generally understood that a similar course would be adopted in regard to the New York company.

***

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was dull and weak. The common stock closed at 5⅝ bid, against 6½ bid on Tuesday, and the preferred lost over a point. The reports to the effect that the company had disposed of $5,000,000 of bonds was officially stated to be untrue.

***

AMERICAN BRIDGE, though not very actively dealt in, fluctuated considerably. The common stock declined to 44 and showed a net loss of 1 point, while the preferred stock advanced fractionally, closing at 95½ bid.

***

UNION COPPER sold again at 4¾, several hundred shares changing hands at this price. A Director of the company stated yesterday that a new vein has just been discovered on the company's property, and that it is richer than any of the other veins which have been opened up. It was stated that the concentrating plant is now working satisfactorily, although its full capacity has not yet been utilized.

***

TELEPHONE, TELEGRAPH, AND CABLE was weak. The transactions in the stock were light, but the price declined substantially. At the close stock was offered at 6, and the best bid was 4½.

***

TUBULAR DISPATCH advanced to 25 bid, but no transactions were reported. The reports from Washington to the effect that the Postal Department had recommended a considerable increase in the pneumatic mail service was stated by persons interested in the stock to be likely to result in considerable benefit to the company.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s were traded in to the extent of about $75,000, between 87 and 87½. The stocks were less active than on the previous day, and showed only slight changes in price.

***

COLONIAL TRUST was in demand at 380. This was bid for about 50 shares of the stock.

***

Closing quotations yesterday, compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 9. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 8. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem..	29	30	29	30½
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80	81	80½	81½
American Hankscot.....	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle	5	5¾	5	5¾
American Bicycle pf.....	24	26	..	..
American Bicycle bonds.	72	73	72½	72¾
American Bridge	44	44⅝	45	45¼
American Bridge pf.....	95½	96	94¾	95
American Chicle	80	88	83	88
American Chicle pf.....	76	81	76	81
Am. Hide & Leather...	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	30
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90½	90	90½
*American Thread pf....	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8½	9	8½	9
Arlington Copper.....	4	5	4	5
*British Columbia Copper	22½	22¾	22¾	22⅞
British Exch. 3s.....	98½	99	98½	99
California Copper	1½	1¾	1½	1¾
Cast-Iron Pipe	0	1¼	0	9
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.....	35	37	35	40
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks.....	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf....	70	75	70	75
Compressed Air	42	45	38	44
Con. Agy. N. & E.....	11	13½	13½	13⅝
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2½	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	100
Crucible Steel	20⅝	21¼	21¼	22½
Crucible Steel pf.....	79¼	80	79½	80½
Cramps' Shipyard.....	79	82	70	82
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	5⅝	6	6½	6¾
Dist. Co. of Am. pr. tr. rcts.....	20	30	30½	31
Electric Boat	27	27½	27½	28½
Electric Boat pf.....	40	50	48	50
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Electric Vehicle pf.....	40	44	40	44
Electric-Pneumatic.....	2¾	3	2¾	3
Empire Steel	6	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.....	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	19	22	21	23
General Carriage.....	3½	3¾	3½	3¾
General Chemical	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf....	87	98½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s.....	100¼	100¾	100¼	100⅞
Havana Tobacco	7¼	10½	10½	10½
Havana Commercial pf..	42	45	42	45
Hudson River Tel.....	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation...	⅝	1	⅝	1
International Silver pf..	45	50	45	50
Inter-State Oil.....	4	10	4	8
Iron Steamboat	3	4	3	4
Iron Steamboat bonds...	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	½	1
Lorillard pf	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
New York Const. pf.	13½	14	13½	14
Nat. Enamel & Stamp...	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Gramophone ...	5	12	5	12
Nat. Sugar pf.....	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝	3⅝
N. Y. Transportation....	4¾	5¼	0	6¾
Otis Elevator.....	20	20⅝	20	20¾
Otis Elevator pf.....	90⅞	91	90⅞	91
Peo., Dec. & Evans.....	¾	1	¾	1
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie..	20	20¾	20	20¾
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds.....	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.....	30	30½	30	30½
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf....	80½	80½	80½	80½
Safety Car Heat & Light.	118	120	118	120
St. Louis Transit.....	18⅞	19	18½	19
Seaboard Air Line 4s....	71	72	71	73
Seaboard Air Line.....	10	11	10	11
Seaboard Air Line pf....	27	27½	27	27½
Sheet Steel pf.....	76½	77	76¼	77½
Singer Mfg.	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac..	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf.....	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J....	802	806	802	806
Storage Power	9	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	18	19	17½	19
Tel. Tel. & Co. of A., $15 paid	4½	6	6¼	7½
Trenton Potteries	5	8	6	8
Trenton Pot. pf.....	50	55	50	60
Tubular Dispatch.....	25	32½	32½	32½
Union Copper	4¾	5	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	38½	40	38¾	..
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	110	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s.	87½	87¾	87½	87½
United Rys. of St. L. pr.	68½	69	68¾	69
Va. Coal, I. & C.....	4	6	5	7
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	37	38½	37	38½
Westinghouse Air Brake.	370	380	370	380
Worthington Pump pf....	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av.....	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102½	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d....	102½	103¼	102½	103½
Brooklyn City R. R.....	232	234	232	234
Brooklyn R. T. 4s.....	101½	102	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	198½	202
Cent. Park, N. & E.R. 7s.	104½	105½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf....	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J....	60	70	60	70
Con. Traction 5s.....	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St. M. & St. N. Av. 1st.	113½	115	113½	115
42d St. M. & St. N. A. 2d.	99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry....	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¼	20	21¼
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s....	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.....	92½	93½	90	92
New Orleans Traction...	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R. 5s.....	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	83½	84½	83½	84½
North Jersey St. R. R....	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.....	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	116½	118	118½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit..	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
23d & 29th St. 5s, 1996.	113¼	114½	113¼	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.....	111	113¼	111	113½
United Trac., Providence.	109	110	109	111
United Traction bonds..	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac..	34½	35½	33½	35½
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf....	107	108	107	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅝
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock....	9	9	8	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st....	74	76	74	76
Central Union 5s, gtd..	103½	109½	103½	109½
Columbus Gas 5s.....	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark.....	..	55	..	55
Con. Gas of New'k hds..	104	109	104	108
Con. Gas of New Jersey..	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	85	..	80
Con's'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105¼	106	105¼	106
Denver Gas	23	24½	22½	24
Denver Gas 5s.....	61	63	61	63
Essex & Hudson Gas....	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	50	60	50	60

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Boston's particular specialties were dull to-day. Interest centred in National Tube, Federal Steel, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Union Pacific, and the ever-prominent Sugar. Some 3,000 shares of Tube, 4,000 of Union Pacific, and 2,000 of Chicago, Burlington and Quincy sold in the morning. Erie Telephone rallied from 76 to 79½, later 78½; Franklin Mining was bought well at 17⅜; Trimountain lost 1, to 19⅜; Osceola fell 1⅜, to 80¼, rallying to 81; Montana was off 2, to 33⅜, but rallied to 34¼; Mohawk fell 1⅜, to 233, later 234½; Baltic was ⅜ lower, at 83⅜; Dominion Coal lost ½, to 37; Agricultural Chemical was off ⅝, at 29, with preferred ⅛ better, at 80½; American Telephone rose 1¼, 157½; Massachusetts Electric rose ½, to 26, preferred touching 78, later 78¾, and Utah, after losing ¾, to 33½, recovered to 34. Good buying of Franklin continued all day.

The rate between banks at the Clearing House was 2½ per cent. for most of the loans, although a few loans were made at 3 per cent. New York funds, still in good demand, sold at par and 5 cents premium.

Call money is being offered to strong borrowers at 4 per cent. and loans are placed at from that figure up to 5 per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure ..	10	10¼	Old Colony..	3½	4½
Alaska	3	3½	Old Dominion	30¼	30½
Arcadian	17¼	18	Osceola	81	83
Arnold	4½	5	Parrott	48½	49
Ash Bed.....	37½	.50	Quincy	175½	177
Atlantic	28	29	Rhode Island	4½	5
Baltic	84	35	Santa Fé....	6½	..
Bos. & Mont.	317	318	Santa Ysabel	2½	3
Butte & Bos.	78	80	Shoe	31½	32
Cal. & Hec..	825.	830	Tamarack ..	328	332
Centennial ..	23	24	Utah Cons...	33	34
Franklin	17¾	18	Washington..	.50	1
Humboldt ..	.50	1	Winona	5½	5¾
Isle Royale..	37	38	Wolverine ...	48	48½
Mohawk	24	..

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	18	19
Brooklyn Ferry 5s.....	85	86	85	86
East River Ferry.....	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s....	96	98	96	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s..	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st.....	110½	112½	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s..	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	80	31½	80	31½
Union Ferry bonds.....	91	92	91	92

Railroad Stocks.

Bos. & Alb..252	254	Cent. Mass...	15	16½
Bos. & Low..242	..	C. Mass. pf..	62	..
Bos. & Me....185	196	Fitchburg pf.	139	140
Bos. & Prov.	300	N.Y.,N.H.&H.	190	..
Bos. Elev....169½	160	N.Y.&N.E. 7s.	113	..
Bos. Gas 5s. 80	..	West End...	92½	93

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. T. & T...	156	Mex. Tele....	2¾	3
Chi. St. Yds.	144½	146	N. Eng. Tel.	128	130
Dom. Coal..	37½	38	U. S. Oil....	15½	16
Do. Coal pf..	108½	110	West. Elec..	54¼	..
Erie Tel.....	78½	79

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 9.—Heavy buying for New York interests made Lehigh Valley again the monopolizing feature in the Philadelphia market. More than 130,000 shares of this stock have changed hands during the last week. The character of the buying and other considerations sustain the accepted theory that the stock is to be exchanged at 50 for a 4 per cent. collateral trust bond. The shareholders have waited since 1893 for dividends, and would hardly be content with less than 4 per cent. During the forenoon the stock was down to 34¼, but later moved up to 35, a new high-price record. It is reported that the New York Exchange will list the stock.

Pennsylvania and Reading were comparatively quiet and inclined to weakness, though there were no price changes. Lake Superior common showed actively at 28¼. It is understood that the dividend will be doubled in June or before. Favorable news from Venezuela affected asphalt and the first 5s advanced to 62. The Choctaws were unaccountably weak. The market for Railways General was good, and Marsden was stronger. Reports of easier money rates in New York continue to find no reflection in money rates of this city. Call money at the banks brought 4½ per cent. to-day, with a slightly better demand for loans.

The market's close was weak, at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry. Lt.	32	33	Lehigh Val.	34⅞	34½
Cambria	20¼	20⅜	Marsden	7	7⅛
Choctaw	30	39¼	N. Penn.	107	110
Con. Tr., N.J.	59½	60½	Penn. Steel	72	74
Con. Trac., N. J., 5s...	109	109¼	Penn. Steel pf.	90	98
Con. Tr., P.	27⅜	27¾	Phila. & Erie.	29½	30
El. & Peo.	4s. 100½	101	Phila. Trac..	99⅛	99¼
El. Stg. Bat.	76	79	Union Trac..	35	35¼
El. Stg. B. pf.	76	79½	United Cos., N. J.....	274	276
El. Co. Am..	9¼	9⅝	United G. Im.	124	124½
Hunt. & Bt..	18	20	Welsb. Lt....	46	48
Hunt. & Bt. pf	49	50
Lehigh Nav.	67	68

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—Trading on the Exchange to-day was somewhat quieter, and there was little feature to the market. Biscuit common ranged from 40 to 40⅝, closing at 40¼. West Chicago was steady at par. The Lake Street Elevated issues were firm, at 10¾ for the stock, 10 for the trust certificates, and 95¼ for the debenture bonds. Metropolitan Elevated preferred opened at 79, sold up ½, but declined to 77⅞, closing at 78. Northwestern Elevated common sold at 29, and the preferred at 78@78½.

	High.	Low.	Close.
50..American Linseed.....	7	7	7
25..American Linseed pf....	36	36	36
200..American Strawboard...	33	33	33
12..Chicago Telephone.....	245	245	245
200..Chicago Union Trac....	12¾	12¾	12¾
200..Chicago Union Trac. pf.	50½	49½	50½
3..City Railway.....	260	260	260
220..Diamond Match.....	135	135	135
605..Lake Street L.....	10¾	10¼	10¼
420..Lake Street L. pf.....	10½	10	10
210..Metropolitan L.....	27	26	26
273..Metropolitan L. pf....	79¼	78	78
1,892..National Biscuit.....	40¾	40	40¼
257..National Biscuit pf....	94½	93½	94
100..National Carbon.....	16⅜	16⅜	16⅜
90..National Carbon pf....	94½	94½	94½
25..Northwestern L.....	29	29	29
510..Northwest

MINING STOCK QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 9.—Heavy selling by insiders this morning brought down Consolidated Virginia and Ophir. When several thousand shares of each were thrown on the market by a well-known broker, there was a rush to realize among small speculators that carried these stocks and the whole market rapidly downward. The slump probably is due to some unfavorable development which has not yet been reported.

The official closing quotations for mining stocks to-day and yesterday were as follows:

	Wednesday.	Tuesday.
Alta	.05	.06
Alpha Con.	.06	.06
Andes	.12	.15
Belcher	.12	.13
Best & Belcher	.33	.42
Bullion	.03	.04
Caledonia	.90	.95
Challenge Con.	.18	.20
Chollar	.19	.22
Confidence	.60	.75
Con. Cal. & Va.	2.45	2.80
Con. Imperial	.01	.01
Crown Point	.12	.14
Gould & Curry	.50	.74
Hale & Norcross	.22	.27
Julia	.01	.01
Justice	.09	.10
Kentucky Con.	.01	.01
Lady Washington Con.	.02	.03
Mexican	.43	.56
Occidental Con.	.05	.09
Ophir	.94	1.15
Overman	.16	.17
Potosi	.19	.22
Savage	.19	.23
Sag Belcher	.04	.04
Sierra Nevada	.32	.41
Standard	4.10	3.95
Syndicate	.09	.11
St. Louis	.08	.08
Union Con.	.29	.37
Utah Con.	.07	.09
Yellow Jacket	.20	.21
Silver bars	.63¾	.63¾
Mexican dollars	50½	50½
Drafts, sight	.15	.15
Telegraph	.17½	.17½

Special to The New York Times.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Jan. 9.—Gardner & Co. report closing quotations as follows:

	Wednesday. Bid.	Asked.	Tuesday. Bid.	Asked.
Acacia	28½	29¾	28¾	29¾
Alamo	11¾	12	11¾	11¾
Argentum	28	30	29	30
Anaconda	44½	44¾	44½	45¾
Buena Bell	99	100	99	100
Battle Mountain	25	25¼	24¾	25¼
C. C. Consolidated	14	14¾	14¼	14¾
C. C. & M.	95	97	10	10¾
Columbine Victor	11¾	12	12½	12¾
Coriolanus	19	20	19	20½
Dante	9	9½	9¾	9¾
Damon	14¾	16	14	15
Doctor Jackpot Con.	98½	100	98½	100
Elkton	186	187	186	186½
El Paso	50	50½	50	50½
Findlay	12¾	12½	12	12¾
Golden Fleece	25	30	25	25
Gibson	20	20	20	22
Gold King	100	115	100	114¾
Gold Knob	10	10½	11	11½
Gold Coin	325	600	450	550
Gold Dollar	14¾	25	24¼	24¾
Garfield	7	9	8	8
Gold Sovereign	8	8¾	8	8¾
Gould	31½	32	31½	32
Hart	15¾	17	15	17
Ida May	23	24¾	23	24
Ingham	21	21¾	21¾	22
Isabella	88	89½	88	89½
Independence	29	30	32½	33
Jackpot	69	70½	70	71½
Keystone	14	15	13½	14
Last Dollar	70	74	69	71
Lexington	12¾	13½	12¾	13
Mount Rosa	42½	46	42½	46
Maine	17	20	17	20
Mary Cushen	14	14½	15¾	15½
Moon Anchor	29	30	29	30
National	10	10¾	10	10¾
New Haven	8	8¾	8	8¾
Nugget	23	24	23	23¾
Ophir	34	40	33	35
Orphan	13	15	13	16
Pharmacist	8¾	9	8¾	10½
Pinnacle	17	19	17	19
Portland	325	330	230	237
Rose Nicol	10	11	10¾	10½
Rawlins	20	25	20	25
Vindicator	125	129	125	129
Work	21	21¾	21½	22

RAILWAY STATEMENTS.

The following railways reporting yesterday gross earnings for the fourth week in December showed increases, as compared with the corresponding week in 1899:

Cleveland, Cin., Chi. & St. Louis	$47,984
Pittsburg & Western	2,850
Total increase 2 roads	$50,834
Increase previously reported	1,278,056
Total increase 39 roads	$1,328,890
Decrease 7, roads previously reported	42,750
Net increase	$1,286,140

For the first week of January, Wisconsin Central showed an increase of $10,339, as compared with corresponding period last year.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

	1900.	1899.	1898.
C., C., C. & St. LOUIS—
Mileage	1,891	1,858	1,834
4th week Dec.	$511,316	$463,332	$416,127
Month	1,658,322	1,553,829	1,352,402
From July 1	9,256,944	8,656,709	7,783,249
PITTSBURG & WESTERN
Mileage	352	352	352
4th week Dec.	89,204	86,414	.....
Month	293,204	280,846	.....
From July 1	1,861,246	1,799,470	.....
WISCONSIN CENTRAL—
	1901.	1900.	1899.
Mileage	950	950	957
1st week Jan.	82,540	72,101	72,850
From July 1	2,823,082	3,097,648	2,676,210
CHICAGO, INDIANAPOLIS & LOUISVILLE for November—
	1900.	1899.	1898.
Gross earnings	338,058	360,622	274,109
Op. exp. & taxes	240,954	222,571	199,554
Net earnings	121,104	138,051	74,555
Gross, 5 months	1,761,736	1,814,656	1,509,172
Net, 5 months	670,285	756,825	511,199
CHICAGO TERMINAL TRANSFER for November—
Gross earnings	117,253	106,926	102,754
Op. expenses	59,783	44,445	39,842
Net earnings	57,470	62,491	62,912
Gross, 5 months	580,470	522,970	506,185
Net, 5 months	294,811	323,075	310,135
INDIANA, ILLINOIS & IOWA for November—
Gross earnings	108,690	99,514	65,647
Op. exp. & taxes	78,355	72,465	43,340
Net earnings	30,341	18,049	20,307
Surplus	15,305	5,165	5,818
Gross, 5 months	540,591	435,457	324,798
Net, 5 months	181,436	121,182	112,885
YAZOO & MISSISSIPPI VALLEY for December—	1900.	1899.	Increase.
Gross earnings	635,045	612,701	22,344
From July 1 to Nov. 30—
Gross earnings	2,448,763	2,374,750	74,013
Op. exp. & taxes	1,402,501	1,288,089	114,412
Net earnings	956,062	980,661	*30,599

*Decrease.

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Dividends have been declared by the Northern Pacific Railway Company and by the National Biscuit Company. Details may be found elsewhere.

The forty-first annual statement of the Home Life Insurance Company is elsewhere printed. The treatment of the present value of deferred dividends as a liability, a practice which has always been maintained by this company, is worthy of special notice. That fund now amounts to $736,357. The securities of the company, which are of the highest grade, have been most conservatively valued, and as an additional safeguard a fund of $95,875 has been voluntarily laid aside to meet possible future fluctuations in price. The statement indicates growth and progression, and at the same time added security and financial strength for the protection of the policy holders.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Monroe Pearl Button Company of Rochester; capital, $25,000. Directors—L. H. Gilbert, G. H. Clark, and C. L. Yates, of Rochester.

Forest Lawn Water Company of Forest Lawn; capital, $1,800. Directors—C. G. Alexander, Mary F. Duoning, and Florence D. Alexander, of Rochester.

Tonawanda Brewing Company of Tonawanda; capital, $50,000. Directors—Anthony Golembiewski, Julia Golembiewski, and Simon Usienski, of Tonawanda.

W. & W. F. Crockett of New York City, to engage in business as carpenters and builders; capital, $10,000. Directors—William Crockett, W. F. Crockett, and C. De W. Rogers, New York City.

Progressive Cycle and Automobile Supply Company of New York City, to deal in bicycles and automobiles; capital, $6,000. Directors—George Herrnstadt, W. S. Hofstatter, and Elias Fitzele, New York City.

The New York Loan and Improvement Company of New York City has filed a certificate of reduction of its capital stock from $1,970,900 to $1,739,500. The certificate states that the amount of capital of the company paid in is $1,970,900; and that its debts and liabilities do not exceed $600,000.

The Columbia Pipe Line Company, to construct a pipe line forty miles long for conveying petroleum, gas, and liquids from Stanar's Post Office in Allegany County, through Potter County, Penn.; capital, $60,000. Directors—Hugh King and Thomas McGosy, New York City; Anson W. Stone, Buffalo; William J. Richardson, Wellsville.

Incorporated in Delaware.

Special to The New York Times.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 9.—The following charters were secured at Dover to-day:

Rival Baking Powder Company of Baltimore, to manufacture baking powder, essence, &c.; capital, $250,000.

Dover Construction Company of Dover, to engage in contracting and building; capital, $50,000.

Kirk B. Armour Critically Ill.

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Jan. 9.—Kirk B. Armour, nephew of the late Philip D. Armour, and head of the Armour interests in Kansas City, is critically ill at his home here with pneumonia.

THE WESTERN RAILROAD DEAL.

No Lease of the St. Paul, but a Strong Traffic Arrangement—To Acquire Other Roads.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9.—The Tribune says that the facts that formed the basis for the recent advance in the price of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul stock have been learned from an authoritative source. There will be no lease of the road to the Great Northern, but close relations, practically amounting to consolidation, will be established between the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroads, and these roads will make a strong traffic arrangement with the St. Paul similar to the one now in existence between the Chicago and Northwestern and the Union Pacific.

The financial combine which is bringing about an amalgamation of all the great railway systems in the country concluded that the Northwestern with its iron-clad contract with the Union Pacific had too great an advantage over the Milwaukee and St. Paul on north Pacific Coast business, as the Union Pacific is competing in that field through the Oregon Short Line and Oregon Railway and Navigation Company. It was therefore judicious in order to prevent undue competition to even things up by bringing about an arrangement or legal contract for the interchange of through traffic.

The Canadian Pacific is understood to be interested in this deal, having been guaranteed a fair share of the business from both the Milwaukee and St. Paul and Chicago and Northwestern Roads in order to stop the rate-cutting which has heretofore been practiced by the Canadian road.

The intention of the financial combine, it is said, is gradually to get control of the Chicago Great Western and Wisconsin Central Railroad, the latter being now controlled by the Rockefellers, and divide the properties up between the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Chicago and Northwestern. These two systems, one controlled by J. Pierpont Morgan and the other by the Vanderbilts, will then control the railroad situation between Chicago and St. Paul, and the rate wars which have so seriously affected the revenues of the lines between Chicago and St. Paul will become a thing of the past. It is this prospect that has caused the rise in Milwaukee and St. Paul stock.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 9.—The Wisconsin prints an interview with a "railway authority." In which it is stated that legal obstacles are in the way of the Great Northern-Northern Pacific-Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul deal. The Wisconsin's informant says there are laws in Minnesota and the Dakotas which forbid combinations, leases, or other traffic arrangements between and among parallel competing lines, which the named railways are.

JAMES J. HILL IN NEW YORK.

James J Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, is in this city, and his advent has given rise to many rumors, none of which he will take the trouble to either verify or deny.

The importance of Mr. Hill just now is due to the belief that he is at present engaged in an attempt to consolidate, combine, or connect in some other way the controlling interests in the Great Northern, the Northern Pacific, the St. Paul, the Erie, the Baltimore and Ohio, and two or three other railroads so as to create one grand transcontinental railway system. Mr. Hill has repeatedly denied that he has any such scheme on hand, but Wall Street has so far refused to believe him, and is daily expecting the announcement that some such great "deal" has been completed.

After leaving the Hotel Netherlands early yesterday morning, Mr. Hill went to his office, on Pine Street. Immediately the report was circulated that the "deal" was being settled in his office. Then he dropped into Mr. Morgan's office, and rumors became current that he would be Mr. Morgan's chief assistant in the anthracite coal combination. Mr. Hill then went over to the Chase National Bank, the President of which, H. W. Cannon, is a close friend of his. Mr. Cannon is a Director in the Chicago Great Western, and the report spread that Mr. Hill's influence would be used to bring that road into harmony with the other anthracite lines. This report was strengthened when Thomas P. Fowler, President of the Ontario and Western, called to see Mr. Hill. Mr. Hill was busy and Mr. Fowler said he would call again. James Stillman, President of the City Bank; Jacob H. Schiff, and E. H. Harriman, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Union Pacific, were the next callers, and there were more rumors.

Mr. Hill finally met the reporters and told them that he had come to New York, accompanied by M. D. Grover, the road's general solicitor, and D. Miller, the Vice President, as well as by his private secretary and two or three others whom he does not generally bring with him on his frequent visits, simply to clean up some small matters, none of them as important as the papers would have the public believe," and also to consult with shipbuilders in regard to some ships for his lake lines. It was noticed, however, that he did not see any shipbuilders yesterday. Asked about the reports of large railroad combinations, Mr. Hill said that these reports were exaggerations of a few facts. Beyond this he would say nothing except that he had been misrepresented in the public prints and he had decided that the best policy was silence concerning his own affairs, it being better for his own interests.

Mr. Hill left the Chase National Bank about 1:30 to take luncheon. Later he returned to his office and then went up town earlier than usual. He did not attend the meeting of the Northern Pacific Directors.

One of the Directors of the St. Paul Road said yesterday that one reason why no change would be made in the status of the St. Paul was because any "deal" between the Great Northern and the St. Paul could be effectively opposed by the Chicago and Northwestern and the other Chicago-St. Paul roads who interchange much traffic with the Great Northern.

NEW COAST LINE.

An important enterprise in the railroad world is the construction of the new coast line of the Southern Pacific Company between Los Angeles and San Francisco, which, it is expected, will be ready for service within a short time. The line has been under construction for many years, progress being rendered slow by the heavy tunnel work required. The passenger schedule, so far as completed, provides for a night and a day express. The night trains will carry through sleepers and baggage. The day trains will be fully vestibuled and will have a dining or grill car, which will be provided with a large kitchen suitable for preparing any kind of meals, excepting possibly roasts. A Pullman parlor car will also be attached to each train. The morning trains from San Francisco will have a connection through to Monterey.

The new route runs through the principal coast resorts of California and will bring the passenger into San Francisco without any water transfers. The last rail connection on the line was recently made near Cementeria Cañon.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

D. H. McAlpin Sells Broadway and Fifty-fifth Street Corner.

David H. McAlpin has sold the plot now covered by old buildings, at the southeast corner of Broadway and Fifty-fifth Street, 77.9 feet on Broadway by 105.11 feet on the street.

A. L. Mordecai & Son have sold for Felt & Livingston to I. Macy for about $500,000 the new seven-story apartment house at the northwest corner of Manhattan Avenue and One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, on a plot 100 by 100.11.

It is reported that the Columbia Bank has bought the old three-story dwelling 495 Fifth Avenue, 16.9 by 100, between Forty-first and Forty-second Streets. Joseph Fox, President of the bank, would not discuss the report yesterday. The Columbia Bank already owns 497 and 499 Fifth Avenue, adjoining, and occupies No. 501; at the southeast corner of Forty-second Street, making, with its purchase of No. 495, a plot 73.3 by 100.

The Lee estate's property at the southeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Sixtieth Street, was again the subject of rumor yesterday, although William C. Orr, attorney for the estate, said that he had heard of no recent negotiations for its sale. It is said that a project is on foot for the erection of an apartment house on the plot, which will be owned and conducted on a co-operative plan by the present tenants of the Boikenhayn apartment house, at the northeast corner of Fifth Avenue and Fifty-eighth Street. The latter structure was leased last Summer to the Hotel Savoy, which it adjoins.

B. C. & F. T. Barry have sold for Mrs. H. T. Cutting, for about $38,000, the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 43 East Sixty-fourth Street, 20 by 55 by 100. The buyer will convert the dwelling into a house of the American basement type.

Miles & Heifer have sold for Lucy Kean to Leopold Kaufman 157 Second Avenue, southwest corner of Tenth Street, 26.7 by 100, and an adjoining lot on Stuyvesant Street, 25 by 80, the two forming an "L"-shaped plot, on which the buyer will erect an apartment house.

Miles & Heifer have also sold for the Union Real Estate Company to M. J. Newman three lots on the west side of Eleventh Avenue, between One Hundred and Seventy-ninth and One Hundred and Eightieth Streets.

Charles W. Ogden is the buyer of the 55-foot frontage on the south side of Seventy-ninth Street, just east of Fifth Avenue, sold recently by H. H. Cook.

William J. Roome has sold for the estate of Cornelia A. Munson, for about $11,000, the four-story dwelling 305 West Fifty-second Street, 16.8 by 100.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for H. W. Droge the lot, 25 by 79.11, on the north side of One Hundred and Eighty-second Street, 75 feet west of Audubon Avenue.

Max Hart has sold to Alfred Hexter the five-story tenement at the southwest corner of Second Avenue and Sixty-third Street, 25 by 80.

D. Kempner & Sons have sold, for about $50,000, the four-story front and rear brick buildings 321 and 323 West Forty-second Street, 50 by 100.

Lowenfeld & Prager have bought the northeast corner of Grand and Forsyth Streets, 20 by 87.6.

Deeds transferring the plot, 61.9 by 100, at the northwest corner of Fifth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street to the Knickerbocker Trust Company were recorded yesterday. By one instrument Horace Russell and another, as executors of the estate of Charles J. Clinch, convey a thirty-ninety-fifths interest in the parcel for $197,368, while by the other deed Prescott H. Butler and others transfer the remaining sixty-five-ninety-fifths for $427,631—a total consideration of $644,999.

F. Kramer has sold for $15,000 the four-story brownstone single flat, 25x100, at 8 East One Hundred and Thirty-third Street. He has also sold the northeast corner of Hoe Avenue and Freeman Street, for $12,000.

Bell & Houpt, in connection with John Byrne, have sold for the owner, the Hamilton Fish leasehold property, three-story brick building, 163 Third Avenue, as a lot 19 by 60. Also, for George Breiser, the three-story brick building at 202 East Sixteenth Street, on a lot 20 by 103.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

303 East Seventy-ninth Street, north side, 70 feet east of Second Avenue, 27.6 by 76.7, four-story stone-front flat; foreclosure sale, to J. L. Weinberg $19,621

305 East Seventy-ninth Street, north side, adjoining the foregoing on the east, 27.6 by 102.2 and irregular, four-story stone-front flat; foreclosure sale, to J. L. Weinberg 22,910

371 West One Hundred and Twenty-third Street, north side, 34.3 feet east of Ninth Avenue, 16.3 by 86.11, three-story stone-front dwelling; foreclosure sale, to John Fitzgibbon 10,000

401 and 403 Tenth Avenue, west side, 96.2 feet south of Thirty-third Street, each 19.2 by 80, three and four story brick tenements; foreclosure sale, to George Hommel 23,007

By Philip A. Smyth.

East One Hundred and Fifty-first Street, south side, 105 feet east of Robbins Avenue, 25 by 105, two-story frame dwelling, with store; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Herman Mundhum 2,650

By John N. Golding.

Grand Avenue, southwest corner of One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street, 50 by 90, two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Eliza Meehan 6,000

Grand Avenue, west side, 50 feet south of One Hundred and Eighty-fourth Street, adjoining the foregoing, 50 by 90, two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Flora Pressy 6,000

By D. Phoenix Ingraham & Co.

518 West Fifty-first Hundred and Eighty-third Street, south side, 352.10 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 17.1 by 104.11, two-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiffs, Caroline Eichberg and others 7,300

Amsterdam Avenue, northwest corner of Seventy-ninth Street, 100 by 102.5, seven-story brick flat, with store; foreclosure sale, to the defendant, Henry M. Denton 110,625

By James L. Wells.

11 West Eighty-second Street, north side, 198 feet west of Central Park West, 23 by 102.2, four-story brick dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Justus L. Bulkley 30,000

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

Ninety-eighth Street, north side, 130 feet east of Park Avenue, 100 by 100.11, two-story brick building and vacant; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Solomon Jacobs 66,507

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By Philip A. Smyth, foreclosure sale, Charles A. Hess, referee, 673 to 677 Wales Avenue, west side, 237.8 feet south of Westchester Avenue, 75 by 130.5 by 86.9 by 86.9, three four-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $5,620; subject to other mortgages for $35,000.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Richard H. Clarke, referee, Lot 509 on the map of the Dyckman estate, being on the north side of Nichols Place, near Prescott Avenue, 188.2 by 86.10 by 50 by 165.1. Due on judgment, $5,256.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Louis Adler, referee, 276 to 282 Mercer Street, southeast corner of Washington Place, 49.9 by 100, five-story brick hotel. Due on judgment, $150,647.

By Richard V. Harnett & Co., foreclosure sale, Augustus H. Vanderpoel, referee, 235 West One Hundred and Third Street, northwest corner of Broadway, 77 by 101.9 by 63.7 by 100.11, eight-story apartment house, with stores. Due on judgment, $22,235; subject to other mortgages for $103,000.

By Bryan L. Kennelly & Co., foreclosure sale, Edward Kropp, referee, 1,003 Morris Avenue, west side, 169 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street, 21 by 105, two-story frame dwelling. Due on judgment, $736.

By George R. Read, foreclosure sale, Henry D. Hotchkiss, referee, 68 East One Hundred and First Street, south side, 80 feet west of Park Avenue, 25 by 100.11, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $21,822.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Grenville B. Winthrop, referee, 532 West One Hundred and Forty-ninth Street, south side, 241.8 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 16.8 by 99.11, three-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $13,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, John H. Judge, referee, 24 and 26 East Ninety-fifth Street, south side, 63.0 feet west of Madison Avenue, 17 and 18, respectively, by 100.8, two five-story brick dwellings. Due on judgment, on 24, $28,913; on 26, $26,806.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, John H. Judge, referee, King's Bridge Road, east side, 265.10 feet south of One Hundred and Sixty-fifth Street, 106 by 140.6 by 99.11 by 102.5, two two-story brick dwellings and vacant; One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street, north side, 100 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, 50 by 99.11, vacant. Due on judgment, on the former parcel, $37,563; on the latter, $16,042.

By H. C. Mapes & Co., foreclosure sale, Claude Gignoux, referee, Sackett Avenue, Westchester, south side, 100 feet west of Deane Place, 50 by 100, vacant; Sackett Avenue, south side, 275 feet west of Deane Place, 50 by 100, vacant. Due on judgment, $1,418.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

No. 541 to 545 West Forty-ninth Street, for a six-story brick flat, 75 by 90.4; Mrs. E. M. Foote of 500 West Fifty-first Street, owner; S. M. Caldwell of 10 East Twenty-third Street, architect; cost, $35,000.

Broadway, northeast corner of Ninety-seventh Street, for a seven-story brick flat, 144.7 by 100.11; Catherine Wilson of 229 East Fifty-eighth Street, owner; William H. Boylan of 2,572 Broadway, architect; cost, $275,000.

Westchester Avenue, south side, 225 feet west of Avenue B, Unionport, for a one-story frame stable, 13 by 13; William Schmitz, Westchester, owner; Andrew Schott of 63 Amsterdam Avenue, architect; cost, $150.

No. 58 St. Mark's Place, for a six-story brick flat, 25 by 80; L. Kaufmann of 2,487 Second Avenue, owner; Schneider & Herter of 46 Bible House, architects; cost, $30,000.

Bergen Avenue, northwest corner of Westchester Avenue; also, Westchester Avenue, north side, 84 feet west of Bergen Avenue, for two two-story brick and iron stores, 84 by 70 and 77 by 80; F. A. Wilcox of 1 Broadway, owner; A. Arctander of 362 Alexander Avenue, architect; total cost, $36,000.

Alterations.

First Avenue, southeast corner of Thirty-eighth Street, a six-story brick malthouse; Patrick Skellyn of 51 West Sixteenth Street, owner; J. B. Snook & Son of 261 Broadway, architects; cost, $400.

No. 2,281 to 2,289 Broadway, to a brick office, hall, and store; John O. Baker of 117 Second Avenue, Newark, N. J., owner; James R. Hay, Nutley, N. J., agent; cost, $100.

No. 42 to 46 Hamilton Street, to a one-story brick stable; Philip Collins of 78 Monroe Street, owner; John G. Crane, Avenue C and Seventeenth Street, architect; cost, $400.

No. 2,157 to 2,161 Prospect Avenue, to a one-story brick factory; Schwitzer & Traber, owners; Franz Wolfgang, architect; cost, $7,000.

No. 1,666 Broadway, to a one-story brick store; C. Lorenzen, premises, owner; William H. Totten of 113 Broadway, architect; cost, $50.

Nos. 525 and 527 East Eleventh Street, to a four-story brick store and lofts; J. Steinmullen, premises, owner; Henry Regelmann of 132 Seventh Street, architect; cost, $500.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration:

Wednesday, Jan. 9.

BROOK AV, widened, s w corner of 161st St, 47.5x97.1x—x49.3; Thomas D. Connors to Margaret Leahy, (mtg $31,000, R S $1) $1

CLINTON ST, 14, e s, 20x100.2; Cecelia Fuchs and others to Samuel Wacht, (R S $3, mtg $27) 1

HOUSTON ST, 165 West, 23x76.10; Albert H. Kehlenbeck to Philip Kehlenbeck, (mtg $8,000, R S $6.50) 1

LEXINGTON AV, s e corner of 78th St, 72.2x20; Mary M. Coulter to Georgiana McGinley, ¼ part and all title, (mtg $35,000, R S $2.50) 1

LOT 176, map of Section A, Tyrs estate; Sarah A. Lisk to Catharine Daly, (mtg $7,000, R S $1) 1

LOTS 390 and 423, map of the Arden property, East and West Chester; Allan G. Macdonell to James Roberts, (all liens, R S $2.50) 1

LOTS 602 and 603, map of Laconia Park; Edward Isakson to Louis Bohm, (R S $1) 650

MADISON AV, w s, 40.5 ft s of 66th St, 20x80; Julia D. G. Hanks, executrix, to John P. Duffy, (R S $12.50, mtg $24,000) 37,250

MARION ST, n w s, Lot 311, map of Washingtonville, 50x100 to Railroad Av; William D. Berrian to Joseph W. Downs 1,387

MARION ST, n w s, Lot 311, map of Washingtonville, 50x100 to Railroad Av; Joseph W. Downs to Sarah M. Downs, (mtg $1,000, R S $50c) 1

NELSON AV, 25, 25.1x64.7x25x62.9; Joseph H. Jones to Ernest B. Wintersmith, (mtg $4,500, R S $3) 1

SOUTHERN BOULEVARD, w s, 50 s of 167th St, 25x100; Thomas Steed and another to Anna S. Finck, all liens, (R S 50c) 1

TIFFANY ST, w s, 285.11 ft w from n s of 167th St, runs w 125x n 27x e 125x s 27; A. R. Conklin to Katie Carmin, (R S $1.50) 1

3D AV, 2,277, 25x100; Jacob Spies to Jacob Spies, (mtg $20,000, R S $20) 1

3D AV, 1,497, 25.6x100; Henry Moeller to Karl Mass and another 41,000

5TH AV, n w corner of 34th St, 61.9x100; Horace Russell and another, executors of Charles J. Clinch, to Knickerbocker Trust Company, 36-95 parts, (R S $197.50) 197,368

5TH AV, n w corner of 34th St, 61.9x100; Prescott H. Butler and others to Knickerbocker Trust Company, 65-95 parts, (R S $428) 427,631

6TH AV, n e corner of 25th St, 26.7x75; Mary L. Gimbernat and another, executors, &c., and others to Herbert C. Lakim, (R S $125) 125,000

3D ST, 60 East, 22.9x101.5x22.0x101.4; Louis and Benjamin Nieberg to Harris Goldman and Isaac Shapiro, (mtg $33,250, R S $3.50) 1

12TH ST, 290 West, 16.10x117.4x17.3x115.4; Wilber McBride, referee, to William E. Cahn 13,375

21ST ST, n s, 150 ft w of 6th Av, 25x98.9; Samuel Adams and wife to the Adams Dry Goods Company, a corporation, quitclaim, all title, (correction of deed) 1

35TH ST, 41 West, 18.9x98.9; William Weiss to Elmer S. Messinger, (R S $15.50, mtg $28,500) 43,500

56TH ST, n s, 162.6 ft w of Park Av, 22.6x100.5; Anna E. Bissell to Arthur F. Bissell ..... Gift

64TH ST, n s, 125 ft w of West End Av, 25x100.5; Katharina Goll to Eugene Goll, (mtg $4,500, R S $4) 1

69TH ST, 204 West, 18x100.5; Henry Hermann to Anna Harper, (R S $1, mtg $17,250) ..... Exchange

82D ST, 310 East, 25x102.2; William Seitz, Jr., to Emma Hassinger, (R S $7.50) 1

82D ST, 225 East, 25.10x102.2; Bernhard Klingenstein to Annie Simon, (mtg $9,000, R S $5) 100

88TH ST, 112 East, 25.7x100.8; Margaret Moran to Thomas J. Brady, (mtg $20,000, R S $10) 28,000

90TH ST, s s, 30 ft w of Columbus Av, 70x100.8; Maximilian Morgenthau to Nellie Sondheim, (mtg $70,000, R S $90) 100

92D ST, n s, 88.6 ft e of Park Av, 38x100.8; Ann Nevett to William Wiese, ¼ part and all title, (¼ part of all liens, R S $5) 1

92D ST, s s, 100 ft e of 2d Av, 50x100.8; Francis J. Schnugg to Auguste E. Kuntz, (R S $16, mtg $42,000) 16,000

96TH ST, s s, 100 ft e of Madison Av, 60x100.8; F. J. Schnugg to Auguste E. Kuntz, (R S $10, mtg $62,000) 19,000

100TH ST, 341 to 345 East, 75x100.9; Isaiah Dahut to Abraham A. Silberberg, (mtg $78,000, R S $1) 1

106TH ST, 7 West, 25x100.11; Charles D. Frey to Rosa Steinberg, (R S $6.50, mtg $22,500) 1

115TH ST, s s, 175 ft w of Broadway, 50x100.11; Nelson D. Stilwell to Milton E. Oppenheimer, (R S 50 cents) 1

133D ST, 8 East, 25x99.11; Catherine Daly to Sarah A. Lisk, (R S $1, mtg $10,000) .. 1

140TH ST, 516 West, 15x99.11; Augustus L. Haynes to Payson Merrill, (all liens, R S $2.50) 1

206TH ST, s s, 287.10 ft w of Perry Av, 50x100; Bronx Realty Company to Mary F. Gray, (R S $1, mtg $492) 100

Recorded Leases.

6TH AV, 695; Abby M. Gardner to Gustav Ringe, 5½ years $3,000 3,300

7TH AV, 380; Annie M. Diehl to Maria Mierengarden, 3 years, per month 110

85TH ST, 147 and 149 East; Solomon Jacobs to Christian Hofman and another, 5 years 1,200

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 5 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

BARRY, John J., to Jeremiah J. McCarthy; 148th St, s s, 565 ft w of Brook Av, 2 years $500

BERLINER, Hyman, to Solomon Frankel; Delancey St, 241, 1 year, 6 per cent 2,000

BLAKE, Annie T., to James D. Putnam; 16th St, 13 East, demand, 6 per cent 9,850

BLAKE, Annie and 149 East; Metropolitan Life Insurance Company; 16th St, n s, 241.10 ft e of 5th Av, due March 1, 1902 90,000

BOHM, Louis, to Edward Isakson; Lots 602 and 603, map of Laconia Park, 2 years, 4 per cent 350

CARMIN, Katie, to the North New York Co-operative Building and Loan Association; Tiffany St, w s, 285.11 ft w from n s of 167th St, runs w 125x n 27x e 125 to Tiffany St x s 27 to beginning, 3 years, 6 per cent 5,500

CARMIN, Katie, and Abraham R. Conklin; Tiffany St, w s, 285.11 ft w from n s of 167th St, runs w 125x n 27x e 125 to Tiffany St x s 27 to beginning, 1 year, 6 per cent 900

DAHUT, Josiah, and wife to the National Citizens' Bank, 105th St, 339 East, due March 8, 1901, 6 per cent 1,800

DUFFY, John P., to Julia D. G. Hanks, executrix, &c.; Madison Av, w s, 40.5 ft s of 66th St, 1 year 6,000

FEIST, Simon, to Ernest Ehrmann; Amsterdam Av, 681, 3 years 35,000

GAHN, William E., to Eliza Lockwood; 12th St, 290 West, 1 year 4,200

GRANT, Thompson S., and Thomas Hooker to Susan Devin; 112th St, e s, 125 ft s of Broadway, 3 years, 4½ per cent 13,000

GRANT, Thompson S., to Maria M. Power and another; 112th St, s s, 125 ft e of Broadway, 3 years, 6 per cent 3,000

GRAY, Mary F., to Emily Walther; 206th St, s s, 287.10 ft w of Perry Av, 1 year, 6 per cent 1,000

HERTER, Peter J., to Anna Fahrenholz; 4th St, 228 West, 2 years, 6 per cent 4,000

KELLY, Mary, to Columban J. Kelly; Lots 105 and 106, map of 370 choice lots known as McGraw estate, 3 years, 6 per cent 550

KENNELLY, Augustina, and William, to John B. Doerr; Lexington Av, 441, 1 year, 6 per cent 685

LELAND, Frederick S., to Matthias Harfen; Lot 73, Block B, map of Mapes estate, West Farms, 3 years, 6 per cent 2,200

LEOPOLD, George H. and Paulina E., to George Leop

TELLER ALVORD HAS MADE RESTITUTION

Some of the Stolen $620,000 Returned to First National Bank.

IS GUILTY ON THREE COUNTS

Lawyer's Petition for Mercy Stopped by Judge Thomas, Who Will Pass Sentence on Tuesday.

Cornelius Alvord, Jr., former note teller of the First National Bank, pleaded guilty yesterday to three counts in the indictment charging him with having stolen $620,000 from the bank during the past three years. He will be sentenced next Tuesday, and is at present locked up in the Ludlow Street Jail. Both Jacob F. Miller, his counsel, and the officials of the bank admitted yesterday that the defaulting note teller had returned a considerable part of the money he had taken. They refused to say how much had been returned, but Mr. Miller said that everybody concerned was satisfied that Alvord had given up all the money in his possession.

Alvord, more careworn and grayer and shabbier than when he was arrested, was led before Judge Thomas in the Criminal Branch of the United States Circuit Court with petty offenders, charged with passing counterfeit coins, washing stamps, stealing letters from the mail, and other trifling offences. When the indictment containing fifty-seven counts was read, Mr. Miller, after withdrawing a former plea of not guilty, said his client was willing to plead guilty to the counts charging Alvord with having made false entries in the books and Clearing House sheets of the bank, and having stolen $620,000 of its money.

Mr. Miller started to ask the Judge to be lenient in his treatment of the prisoner, but Judge Thomas interrupted him by saying that he would not impose a sentence until next Tuesday. Mr. Miller said he had some important affidavits to file, and Judge Thomas told him he would be in his chamber at 9:30 o'clock Monday.

After Alvord had been led back to Ludlow Street Jail his counsel said that he had made arrangements with the bank in regard to returning some of the money he had taken from it.

"Did Alvord return as much as half the money he took?" Mr. Miller was asked.

"I can't say just how much he returned," he said. "But I can say that he turned over a pretty good sum of money. He returned a considerable part of the money he took. The bank officials are satisfied with his action."

At the bank, 2 Wall Street, it was also admitted that the defaulting note teller had made some reparation. Francis L. Hine, the Vice President, said: "All our expectations as to recovering part of the money stolen from us by Alvord have been fully realized."

"Then one might infer from that that Alvord had restored the greater part of the money he took?"

"Yes," said Mr. Hine. "Of course you might infer anything you wanted to," he added.

Attachment on Reward for Alvord.

Deputy Sheriff Ahearn has received an attachment against Alexander S. Tooke for $895 in favor of John Livezey. The claim consists of money loaned between Dec. 15, 1899, and May 20, 1900, $576; price of 1,000 shares of mining stock, $100, and a note for $319. The attachment was obtained on the ground that Mr. Tooke is a resident of Texas. It was served on the cashier of the First National Bank and on Police Captains Titus and McClusky. It was reported that the attachment was to attach any interest Mr. Tooke may have in the reward offered for the arrest of Note Teller Alvord.

MUST PAY $1.05 FOR GAS.

Peter Jaubert, Who Made Test Case, Loses His Suit.

Peter Jaubert, who conducts a restaurant at 133 East Fifty-ninth Street, thought for some time that the gas war that prevailed last Spring was a most profitable thing for himself. Since Justice Blanchard handed down a decision in the Supreme Court yesterday Mr. Jaubert has been doing some figuring to find out exactly where he stands. Jaubert had applied to the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the Consolidated Gas Company from charging him more than 65 cents per thousand feet of gas for one year dating from June 20 last, and this injunction has been denied.

The company in its answer submitted the contract, which was at 65 cents a thousand "or the established price." As this price was at $1.05 at the end of the "war," the Justice held that Mr. Jaubert would have to pay that rate from the time the war was ended, on July 20 last.

HENRY WIESEN ASPHYXIATED.

Gas Turned on in the Room in Which His Wife Found Him Dead.

Henry Wiesen, a wealthy retired grocery merchant living at 2,175 Bathgate Avenue, was found lying on the floor of his room dead yesterday morning by his wife. The Wiesens occupied a handsome Queen Anne cottage at that address. Last Tuesday night Weisen and his wife paid some visits and did not return home until 2 o'clock yesterday morning when they retired to separate but adjoining rooms on the second floor. Mrs. Weisen went into her husband's room to awaken him at 7:30 and found him lying on the floor, face downward, clad in his nightdress. The room was filled with gas. It is supposed that Weisen arose during the night and lighted the gas, later turning it off and then on again.

YARDMASTER CURRY DISAPPEARS.

Jersey City Police Asked to Look for Him—Said to be in Chicago.

The police of Jersey City were yesterday asked to look for John Curry, who disappeared from his home, at 205 Pavonia Avenue, on Dec. 13. Curry was for eleven years yardmaster of the Erie Railroad freight yards at the west end of the Bergen tunnel. He has a wife and four children. He left home on the night of Dec. 13 with $23 in his pocket. His wife has not seen him since, but he was at her brother's home, in Union Hill, two days later. She went there to see him, but he left two hours before her arrival.

Shortly after Mrs. Curry left her brother's house a strange man called and asked for her, saying he had news of her husband. He refused to tell what he knew about Curry, but said he would see Mrs. Curry at her home. He did not do so, but through other sources Mrs. Curry was informed that her husband was in Chicago. She wrote to the police there, but they were not able to find him. Mrs. Curry says she lived happily with her husband.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$1,000 LOAN WANTED; GOOD SECURITY, AND $100 bonus paid. Address Loan, J. 205 Times.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SPLENDID HOME IN NEW ROCHELLE.—Fine stable; house all improvements; lot 75x325. Easy terms, $7,500. Apply to CHAS. H. NOXON, lawyer, 21 Park Row, 25th floor. Tel. 3681 Cortlandt.

Staten Island Property.

IF YOU WANT TO BUY SOME GOOD BUILDing property on Staten Island, call on or write L. GORTLER, Jr., 71 Duane St., city.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous Winter resort; we offer plots containing 5 lots for $85; small weekly payments. Special trip to property Sunday, Jan. 13. R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St.

$18 BUYS 2½ ACRES.
$35 BUYS 5 ACRES.

Almost given away, to close estate at once; installments 50 cents weekly. APPLEBY, 10 Wall.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ALL COUNTRY REAL ESTATE A SPECIALTY; bargains and exchanges, all directions. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$8,000 EQUITY AND $16,000

mortgage will buy a four family improved Tenement; you can buy this House on the installment plan by paying down $500 cash and $500 every six months until your house is paid for; you can do all of this out of the rents you collect; the house will pay for itself; it is situated near 59th St. "L" station, west side; this is an opportunity that is not offered every day to buy a house on these conditions. For further particulars call on GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

All previous quotations on my new houses, Nos. 39, 41, and 43 East 49th St., are hereby withdrawn. Corrected prices for the completed houses and any further particulars can be had on application to the owner, Charles Buek, No. 109 West 42d St.

149TH ST., 536 TO 558 WEST.

For Sale or to Rent at $900.00 per annum.—Beautiful four-story American basement dwellings, 7 rooms and two bath rooms. Caretaker in No 538, or WARREN & SKILLIN, 96 Broadway.

THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 BROADWAY, HAS many parcels, large and small, of the finest city and country Properties for sale and exchange. Flats, Tenements, Business Property, Lots, private Dwellings, all sizes and all sections; suburban Houses and Farms; cash buyers for bargains; bargains for cash buyers; money on mortgage at lowest rates. Call or write.

$22,500.00 EACH WILL BUY TWO 5-STORY apartments; good location; rent over $2,400.00 each; only $5,000.00 cash needed, balance on mortgage 5%; bargain to quick buyer. HALL J. HOW & CO., 234 West 116th Street.

A.—BRONX BARGAINS—TWO-STORY BRICK, 134th St., near Willis Av.; $5,000; another $6,000; $6,500; brick corner, 25 foot, near 165th St. and Boston Av., $8,000. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

BROKERS TAKE NOTICE.—Lots 25x100, on Westchester Av., near Prospect Av., to exchange for 2 or 3-story frame house. RIEHL, 2,899 3d Av.

NEW HOUSE FOR SALE, 2½-STORY, 9 rooms, bath, improvements; Perry Av., north of Bedford Park. Apply HALPIN, on premises, or Pelham Av., Fordham.

LOTS; BRONX BARGAINS; TREMONT, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

A.—$12,000—BIG BARGAIN—BROWN STONE, near Madison Av. and 125th St.; 18 feet wide; want offer. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th St.

BARGAIN.—Handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

NO. 106 GRAND STREET.—Rent, $9,000; price, $100,000; mortgage, $65,000; elevators. GURNEE & HOPKINS, No. 134 West 23d.

GREENE ST. INVESTMENT PROPERTY, near Spring St.; $35,000; rent, $2,800. LEWIS B. CRANE, 187 Broadway.

Builders and agents take notice.—For sale, 207, 209, and 209½ Wooster St. SENFTNER & SENFTNER, 258 Broadway.

FOR SALE—12-room residence on most desirable part of St. Nicholas Av.; all improvements. C. B. A., Box 150 Times.

PLOT OF LOTS MUST BE SOLD; WILL double its value in year; bargain. ATWATER, 156 Broadway.

A.—$6,500 BUYS NICE BROWN-STONE, NEAR 2d Av., Harlem. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

15c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Brooklyn,
BOROUGH OF BROOKLYN—SALE OR RENT.

STORE TO RENT ON FULTON ST., 25x100. Best location, in busiest part of the dry goods section; Fulton St.; four-story and basement to lease for term of years; moderate rent; great opportunity to secure an attractive store; best location on Fulton St.

LEONARD MOODY R. E. CO.,
20 Court St., Brooklyn.

PUTNAM AV., BETWEEN RALPH AND Patchen Avs.—2-story and basement frame dwelling; excellent neighborhood; all improvements; only $3,500; small amount down, balance payments to suit. KETCHAM BROS., 1,565 Broadway, Halsey "L" Station.

ONE LEFT.—2-FAMILY HOUSE, 2 STORY and basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price, $4,000; cash, $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

Mortgage Loans.
New York and Brooklyn Property.
DIOSSY & CO., 5 COURT SQ., B'KLYN.
FAILMEZGER, 1,030 Gates Av., Brooklyn.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE

piece of business Property, leased to one tenant who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; will trade for Lots on west side of city. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE

large, fine Apartment Houses to trade for free and clear Lots on west side. Send full particulars of what you have to offer to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$26,000 EQUITY IN CORNER

Plot, situated near the West Shore Ferry. What can you offer in trade for same? Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 EQUITY IN FINE

Flat House, situated near 104th st. "L" station, west side. Will trade for Country Seat. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$125,000 EQUITY IN A GILT

edge Apartment House on Broadway; will trade for free and clear Lots or sell for cash. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE

Store Property, near 28th st. and 6th av.; will trade for private House and cash. For full particulars address Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE

flat House; will trade for free and clear private House; send full particulars Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

HAVE 3 GOOD PAYING INCOME PROPERties, Manhattan and Brooklyn; will trade for Long Island farm only; my equity is $15,000. Write all particulars, brokers invited, OWNER, Box V116 New York Times.

EXCHANGES NEGOTIATED; COMPLETE list desirable properties, city, suburban, country; principals submit particulars. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

3D AV, NEAR 14TH ST., FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

DESK ROOM, WITH GOOD WINDOW SPACE IF DESIRED; PRIVATE OFFICE; IN LARGE REAL ESTATE OFFICE; $5 TO $15. HALL & J. HOW, 2,193 7TH AV.

CORNER STORE, 1 7TH AV., CORNER 11TH St.; rent reasonable. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

40TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

TO LET—DESIRABLE OFFICE; EVERY MODern improvement; $25. Inquire room 701, 290 Broadway, Dun Building, Manhattan.

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

PETER F. MEYER, Auctioneer,
Will Sell at Auction on MONDAY, January 21, 1901,
at 12 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway, EXECUTOR'S SALE.

All the undivided one-half interest that Joseph W. Meeks had on the first day of March, 1878, the time of his death, in and to the following described tract of land situated in Archer County, Texas, being 736 acres of land off the west end of the William Baker survey of 7,817,735 square varas of land, patented to the heirs of William Baker, deceased, by Patent No. 423, Volume 21, Abstract No. 15, beginning 2,308 varas west of the southeast corner of said survey at a point on the south line of same; thence north 1,850 varas to the north line of said original survey; thence west 2,237 varas to a stake in the east boundary line of a survey in the name of A. J. Richardson, a mesquite, bears north 20 degrees east 3 varas; thence south 1,850 varas, with east boundary line of Richardson's survey to a rock mound in prairie; thence east 1,050 varas, J. M. Taylor's, northwest corner 2,237 varas, to the place of beginning, containing 738 acres of land.

E. G. DUVALL, Esq.,
Atty. for Executors,
No. 141 Broadway, N. Y. City.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IS YOUR PROPERTY THREATENED WITH foreclosure? Do you wish to sell it, or any other property quickly? City or country. No agents, owners only. Address "PURCHASER," Box 144 Times Office.

SMALL LONG ISLAND COUNTRY PLACE wanted in exchange for modern brownstone Brooklyn dwelling; equity, $3,500. OWNER, 254 East 15th St., Brooklyn.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE GRANADA,
95th St., Southeast Corner of Lexington Av.

6, 7, 8, 9 rooms and bath; elevator, steam heat, hall service, telephone, electric light, gas ranges; modern plumbing; hardwood cabinet trim throughout. OPEN FOR INSPECTION DAY AND NIGHT.

LIONEL FROEHLICH'S SON,
1,149 Lexington Av.

KENMARE.

Rents $1,300 and upward

S. W. COR. 93D. ST. AND CENTRAL PARK WEST; 7 and 8 extra large rooms and bath; elevator, telephone, electric light fixtures. The finish and decorations of these apartments should be seen to be appreciated. AGENT ALWAYS ON PREMISES TO SHOW THE APARTMENTS.

SLAWSON & HOBBS, Agents.
284 Columbus Av., near 72d St.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $12.00 to $15.00. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.

112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

Elegant 8 rooms and bath, finest location west side; decorated, steam heated, hot water supplied. Janitor, 849 West End Av., near 102d St.

$20—118TH ST., 12 WEST—$20.
5 and 6 large rooms, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D.)

$36—103D ST., 85 WEST—$36.
8 rooms and bath, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful steam-heated single flats; 7 large, light rooms and bath, $32.

$50—150TH ST., 507-509 WEST—$50.
9 rooms and bath; heat, hot water; choice.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ELEGANT CORNER FLAT, 6 ROOMS, $19; Ralph and Putnam Av.; 593 Park Place, near Franklin, $14; 82 Bleecker St., 5 rooms, bath, $11. See janitor.

Apartments Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Lady employed during the day desires small, well-furnished apartment, west side, below 59th St., for $40 monthly. B., Box 279, 1,269 Broadway.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-$18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 92d St.

21 and 23 East 90th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $20; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $10-$21, at 2 East 110th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $23.

A 7-ROOM FLAT, $20; LARGEST, CHEAPEST, lightest flats in Harlem; extra wide; bath; improvements; hardwood finish; good service; one month free. Janitor, 2,593 8th Av., near 138th St.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d Street, elegant apartments; 8 rooms, newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

10TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

97th St., 155 West.—Elegantly decorated flats, 5 rooms and bath, hot water, steam heat. Janitor.

104th St., 214 West.—Elegantly decorated 7 large light rooms and bath, near L; $30, $35. Janitor.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV. —3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartments; 8 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Brooklyn.

HICKS ST., 363.—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT
THEDFORD'S

2000 lbs. THE STANDARD TON

YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 386—18
436 W. 41ST ST., Tel. 594—38
223 W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 166 Cols.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY, Tel. 125 River

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD

38TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq. Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Hotels and Restaurants.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

BARRETT HOUSE.

European Plan. 6th Av. & 38th St.
MINUTE FROM BROADWAY.

A select hotel for permanent and transient guests, convenient to leading theatres and shopping district, "L" station, and all car lines; rooms newly furnished and decorated; single or en suite, with or without private bath; steam heat, electric light, elevator.

W. P. BARRETT, Proprietor.

Auction Sales.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SLAUGHTER SALE OF HOLIDAY BOOKS

Closing out entire stock of rich standard books at 148 Fulton Street, near Broadway. Auction sale begins every day, excepting Sundays, at 12 o'clock, evenings at 6, and will be continued until entire stock is sold. Among other choice works are samples and remainders of the publications of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Appleton & Co., Harper & Brothers, Dodd, Mead & Co., and other leading book houses. A few slightly damaged sets of Huxley, Darwin, Tyndall, and Spencer. Visitors invited. Sale positive. 148 Fulton Street, New York.

CHATTEL MORTGAGE SALE.

S. L. Peyser, auctioneer, sells this day, at 10 o'clock, at the Wyoming Stables, No. 168 East 83d St., New York City, three express wagons, by virtue of a chattel mortgage filed March 26, 1900. By order of the Mortgagee.

Machinery.

DYNAMOS AND MOTORS, ALL SIZES IN stock, direct from factory of Triumph Electric Co.; send us postal, we do the rest. CHINNOCK ELECT. CO., 39 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00. Do you desire a share of this money? Here is your opportunity: I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet Company articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 invested in a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually; will secure $15 per week salary to ambitious party; larger amounts in like proportion; no scheme, no discretionary pools; safe; will bear investigation. Call Automatic Pic. Company, 58 Wall St.

Best-paying old-established boarding stable in Harlem; long lease; reasonable rent; 65 boarders; will stand strictest investigation; is a bargain to buyer; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

Printer.—By American, 30, practical printer, expert operator on Mergenthaler linotype machine, situation in one of our Spanish-speaking possessions; speaks a little Spanish. David Brown, 172 Division Av., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Established express, van, and storage business, including equity in building; will sell at bargain to any one who is not afraid to invest; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

A well-established ladies' baldressing and manicuring establishment, with first-class trade, must sell, account of another establishment; will sell either one; if inexperienced will be taught hairdressing. 1,024 Lexington Av.

MONEY MAKER.—Merchants' Anti-Stepladder; an indispensable commodity for stores; nickelplated; weight, 1½ pounds; monopolies offered. FLYNN, 75 Warren St., New York.

Be your own boss. Make your own fortune. Others have done it, so can you. Send stamp to Buckeye Novelty Co., E., Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for particulars, &c.

I PAY Cash for any store stocks, fixtures. THOS. TITCHENER, 289 Smith St., Brooklyn.

CASH ADVANCED TO MANUFACTURERS and merchants on their outstanding accounts. MARTIN J. WEIL, 453 Broome St.

ADVICE FREE. Patents promptly procured. Inventors' Guide free. EDGAR TATE COMPANY, Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.

CLOTHING for Ladies, Men and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.

PROGRESSIVE
CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO.,
7 W. 14th St., Bet. 5th & 6th Aves. Open Evenings.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

SPECIAL! CUT THIS OUT!
I have an order for 50 TONS OF OLD METAL and PAPER; if you have any to sell, no matter how large or small a quantity, send me a postal card and I will call promptly. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

15 CENTS A POUND paid for old pewter, britannia, and plated ware; 5 pounds or 5,000 pounds bought; call or send postal. I will call. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickendorfers, Hammonds, Williamsons, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

AT EBLE'S ART GALLERY, 105 WEST 42D St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW,) $40; REMODELED Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 148 East 58th St.

INDIAN PIPES, NAVAJO BLANKETS, OLD Arms, Brass, Copper, Pewter, Curios. J. H. MAYHEW, 340 West 42d St.

AT 844 6TH AV. AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

DO YOU KNOW! I CAN MAKE YOUR FURNITURE look like new? E. STRAUSS, 1,788 Madison Av.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

MUSIC BOXES, 84 TEETH, $24; 15 TUNES, free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

PRIZE ANGORA CATS AT A SACRIFICE; must sell at once. JONES, 230 West 99th St.

Watches and Jewelry.

CREDIT, DIAMONDS, WATCHES, OIL PAINTings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Watches, diamonds, jewelry, $1 weekly; delivered immediately; goods guaranteed. National Diamond and Watch Co., 177 Broadway.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

HARRIS'S WINE AND LIQUOR WAREHOUSE, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

L. KUEHN, DELICATESSEN, WINES, LIQuors, bottled beer, 2,176 8th Av., near 118th St. Prompt attention all orders.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDed into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 39th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

L. PASTER, 42 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments altered and repaired, a specialty; lowest rates.

Storage.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT MORGAN & BROTHER'S STORAGE WAREHOUSE, 232, 234 & 236 WEST 47TH ST., near Broadway, separate rooms for furniture, pianos, baggage, &c. PADDED VANS FOR REMOVAL OF FURNITURE; &c. Boxing, shipping promptly attended to; estimates furnished. Telephone, 113—38th.

UNIVERSAL STORAGE WAREHOUSE COMpany, 202-208 East 88th St., near 3d Av.—Storage of furniture, pianos, &c.; separate compartments; estimates given for packing, shipping, moving, city or country. Telephone, 28-79th.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BOUGHT, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DOG AND CAT HOSPITAL.

New York Canine Infirmary, 148 West 53d St., H. K. MILLER, Veterinarian.—Treatment, board, washing, clipping of Dogs; exercising grounds; accommodations for country boarders; dogs called for and delivered. Telephone, 851-Columbus.

Clothing.

HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR LADIES', GENtlemen's, and children's fine discarded Clothing, Jewelry, Furs, Bric-a-Brac, Furniture, Carpets: Mr. or Mrs. NAFTAL, 744 6th Av.

Lawyers.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Pianos and Organs.

20c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WEBER
PIANO WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

We offer this week the following used pianos, in first-class condition, that will do far better service and give far better satisfaction than new instruments of inferior makers:

One Weber Upright $240
One Weber Upright 290
One Chickering Upright 225
One Kranich & Bach Upright 190
One Wheelock Upright 160
One Wheelock Upright 140
One McCammon Upright 125

Careful buyers will find it worth their while to examine these bargains. Cash or installments. New pianos to rent and rent applied if purchased.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

WISSNER
PIANOS
Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS

109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.

For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS

The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents $4 up.

MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.

741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS, ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST, & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

LIMITED NUMBER OF NEW UPRIGHT pianos; rellable makes; rare chance. Inquire crockery store, 1,047 Broadway, Brooklyn.

LARGE ASSORTMENT SLIGHTLY USED UPrights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week, extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

STEINWAY; EVERY IMPROVEMENT; BEAUtifully carved; great sacrifice; Elegant Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

$3.00 TO $5.00 PER MONTH RENT. PIANOS with mandolin attachment. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

WILL SELL MY EXPENSIVE UPRIGHT piano, couple months old, for $125. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

Winter Resorts.

30c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

HEALTH, STRENGTH AND PLEASURE
In America's Great Winter Resorts
IN CALIFORNIA.
Take the luxurious
"SUNSET LIMITED"

which comprises everything that is up to date and modern in the railroad world, and is the only solid train between the Mississippi River and San Francisco remote from the inconveniences of high altitudes and snow.

Special through trains consisting of sleeping and dining cars leave New York every Monday, Thursday, and Saturday, connecting directly with the "Sunset Limited" at New Orleans.

For full information, free illustrated pamphlets, maps, and time tables, also lowest rates, sleeping-car tickets, and baggage checked, apply to Southern Pacific Co., 349 Broadway, N. Y. City.

GOLF. HUNTING. FISHING.
FLORIDA GULF COAST HOTELS
PLANT SYSTEM.

Excellent Golf Courses, with Turf putting greens and tees, connected with hotels. Professionals in charge.

TAMPA BAY HOTEL, TAMPA, FLA., A. E. Dick, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
Hotel BELLEVIEW, Belleair, on the Gulf, Fla. J. F. Champlin, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
SEMINOLE HOTEL, Winter Park, Fla. Edw. R. Swett, Lessee and Prop. Open Jan. 15th.
OCALA HOUSE, Ocala, Fla. P. F. Brown, Manager. Open Jan. 15th.
HOTEL KISSIMMEE, Kissimmee, Fla. Now Open.
THE INN, Port Tampa, Fla. J. H. Murdick, Manager.

NEW YORK OFFICES, 12 West 23d St., and 200 Broadway. Also TRAVELERS' INFORMATION CO., 3 Park Place and 25 Union Square.

THE LAUREL-IN-THE-PINES, LAKEWOOD, NEW JERSEY.

Improved in all essentials since last season, with new Palm

GOFF SIGNS PAPERS IN THE MOLINEUX CASE

Decision on Appeal May Be Had Within Three Months.

Recorder Makes About 1,000 Alterations in the Record—Counsel Not Satisfied.

Papers in the case of Roland B. Molineux, on appeal, prepared by his lawyers, amended by the District Attorney, and passed upon by Recorder Goff, were signed by the latter yesterday and filed with the Chief Clerk of the Court of General Sessions. Recorder Goff ordered stricken from the record, which now consists of 4,100 typewritten pages, all wrangles and arguments between Weeks & Battle and Assistant District Attorney Osborne, desired retained by the former; all obiter remarks of counsel on either side, all examinations of talesmen not selected as jurors, and all other extraneous matter other than the evidence and the rulings of the Court. In addition to these important changes the Recorder directed between 1,100 and 1,200 minor alterations, principally elisions, in the transcript. After these alterations are made by Deputy Chief Clerk Henry Welsh and his assistants, the record will be printed and forwarded to the Court of Appeals for final action. Clerk Welsh estimates that, working steadily, he cannot prepare the case for the printer in less time than a month. When placed upon the Court of Appeals calendar, the case will become privileged, and may be taken up and ordered argued upon ten days' notice.

A decision should be rendered by the higher court within three months. John G. Milburn of Buffalo will, with Weeks & Battle, argue the case before the Justices of last resort. George Gordon Battle of counsel for Molineux, when notified that the appeal papers had been signed by the Recorder hurried to the Criminal Court Building and examined the thirty-five-page order of the Recorder, passing on the District Attorney's amendments directing alterations be made therein and in the defendant's lawyers' briefs. Mr. Battle will go over the order to-day, and will then decide, after a conference with Mr. Weeks, whether the defendant's counsel are satisfied with the numerous elisions ordered by the Recorder, and, whether or not they will move before the latter for a resettlement of the case.

"We wished to have retained in the record," said Mr. Battle, "all remarks of the District Attorney, which we deemed improper and which the Court of Appeals has frequently deemed sufficient to justify ordering a new trial. We are also anxious to know what ruling was made upon the examination of Mamie Melando, and the admission of the evidence relating to the death of Barnet. I cannot say at this time whether or not we will move for a resettlement."

Weeks & Battle began to submit Molineux's case to the District Attorney on March 16 last, one month after the prisoner's conviction. Their complete case was in the District Attorney's office on May 4. Assistant District Attorney Le Barbier prepared the people's amendments to the case on appeal prepared by the defendant's lawyers, Col. Gardiner advising. Mr. Le Barbier made 238 amendments, and the papers in the case were submitted to the Recorder on July 28, the day before he started upon his vacation. Notwithstanding this fact, the Recorder set to work upon the papers during his vacation. The case and amendments had been so hurriedly and improperly prepared, not complying with some important legal requirements, that it was necessary to have the defendant's counsel make marginal corrections and additions, and the papers were submitted to the District Attorney again, in order that the original amendments might be supplemented.

The papers were all this time, officially in the Recorder's hands, but in reality were in the possession of Assistant District Attorney Osborne, who went over the case at length, and made about 1,000 additional amendments. Mr. Osborne, after returning from his vacation, received the papers about the 1st of September. He worked on the transcript until the middle of November, when they were again submitted to the Recorder, since which time the Recorder has been going over the papers and the amendments thereto submitted by the District Attorney. Numerous conferences were held by him with the accused man's counsel and with the Assistant District Attorney. More than 100 amendments of the District Attorney, agreed to by Weeks & Battle, were granted by the Recorder. One hundred that were not agreed to by Molineux's lawyers were also granted, and nearly fifty were not allowed.

The Recorder also directs about 1,000 alterations, principally elisions tending to shorten the manuscript. The Code of Criminal Procedure provides that in cases on appeal only the evidence and the rulings of the Court be submitted to the Court of Appeals. This has been done in the Molineux case. The preparation of this case has not taken as long as did the Meyers or the Buchanan case. The expense of printing the latter record was about $4,000, borne by the county. The record as submitted to the Court of Appeals was a volume about the size of the unabridged dictionary. The Molineux case, Clerk Welsh estimates, will fill two volumes this size, and the cost of printing will be about double. The case, however, will probably be prepared in several volumes of about 500 pages each.

DIED WHILE DANCING.

Henry A. Grower Stricken at a Brooklyn House Party.

While dancing at a house party at 1:30 o'clock yesterday morning Henry A. Grower, forty-five years old, who lived at Livonia Avenue and Hendrix Street, Brooklyn, was attacked by heart failure, and died in a few minutes. Mr. Grower and his wife were guests at a progressive euchre party held at the residence of Mrs. George Cozine, 824 Sutter Avenue.

After supper there was dancing. While going through a lancers Mr. Grower was seized with pains about his heart and fell. He became unconscious and a physician was sent for. Mr. Grower died before the doctor reached the house.

THE PENNS IN FAC SIMILE.

Dolls Dressed Like Pennsylvania's Founder for Swarthmore College.

Swarthmore College has received a donation this past week of small fac similes of William Penn, the founder and Governor of Pennsylvania, and Hannah, his wife. These little figures, or dolls, were at the Pennsylvania table of the National Woman Suffrage Association Bazaar in the Madison Square Concert Hall last December. William Penn is dressed with historical accuracy in the dress of a Friend, as he is represented in the statue upon the City Hall in Philadelphia.

Hannah Penn has a certain distinction in the eyes of Friends and believers in woman suffrage in that for several months during her husband's illness she took the reins of government in her own hands and conducted the affairs of State. Her dress is an absolutely accurate reproduction of the orthodox dress of the Quaker women of to-day. Her bonnet was made at one of the Philadelphia shops where the genuine Quaker bonnets, which must be made with great accuracy and precision, are made to-day and cost the large sum for so small a lady of $1. The Friendly bonnet is always expensive, but has the advantage of not changing in style. The two dolls will go into the historical museum of the college, and will there represent to future generations a style of dress which is rapidly passing away.

New Horticultural Society Meets.

The new Horticultural Society of New York, which is to "collect and diffuse information on all topics relating to the culture and care of plants, fruits, flowers, and vegetables, and to promote a taste for the same," held its first meeting yesterday afternoon at the rooms of the American Institute in the Berkeley Lyceum Building, Forty-fourth Street. The subject for discussion was "New Discoveries in the Movements of Sap." The President of the society is J. Wood; Treasurer, F. R. Newbold, and Secretary, L. Barron. Dr. N. L. Britton of the New York Botanical Garden is Chairman of the Council of the society, which is composed of the officers and twenty-five members. J. Coyngham, D. O. Mills, J. Pierpont Morgan, and Samuel Thorne have become life members, paying $50 each. The new organization expects to do some valuable scientific work.

A RAILROAD BUILDER'S WILL.

Bequeaths Large Interests, Although Actually Worth Only $100.

The will of John Charles Gibney of New York, Pennsylvania, and the Republic of Colombia, South America, which was filed in the Surrogates' office yesterday, disposes of property worth several millions dollars, yet the petition and affidavit accompanying the will say that the testator was worth only $100. This peculiar condition grows out of the fact that when Mr. Gibney died he held the contract for the building of the Colombian National Railway, which would connect Bogota, the capital of the Republic of Colombia, with the seacoast. On the completion of this road Mr. Gibney was to have received a substantial reward from the Colombian Government. He died on July 21 last, at the scene of his railroad operations.

The will left by Mr. Gibney is dated at London, England, on Aug. 11, 1890, just before he was starting to South America. In this will the testator sets forth the fact that he has the contract for building the road and also refers to a power of attorney he has given to Lafayette Hoyt DeFriese, a lawyer of New York and London. The will states that William Liddstone of 1 Victoria Street, London; George C. Odell of Fredrickton, Canada; Thomas J. Gibney of Celina, Ohio; Christopher M. Gibney of Cleveland, Ohio; Michael J. Bolan of Springfield, Ohio, and Michael J. Fenton, a contractor of 160 Broadway, New York, are interested in building the road along with Mr. Gibney. To these "assistants," as Mr. Gibney terms his associates, the will gives over about $200,000 worth of stocks and mortgage bonds, providing they carry out his plans and complete the road. To each of his three sisters Mr. Gibney gives $10,000 in stocks and bonds. He names Mr. DeFrieso and John R. Van Wormer of the Lincoln Safe Deposit Company as the executors under the will, and to each of them he gives $25,000 in stocks and bonds.

The balance of his estate he divides into four equal shares, and leaves them to his widow, Bridget T. Gibney of Ashley, Penn., and his three children.

WORKMEN BADLY BURNED.

Explosion at Standard Oil Works While Men Were Repairing a Boiler.

Two men were probably fatally injured and a half dozen slightly hurt by an explosion which occurred yesterday afternoon at the works of the Standard Oil Company, at Kingsland and Meserole Avenues, Greenpoint. The men were Patrick Dooley, thirty-two years old, of 99 Norman Avenue and Thomas Hoolihan, thirty-three years old, of 37 Driggs Avenue, Williamsburg. They were horribly burned about the face, hands, and body, and were removed to the Williamsburg Hospital, where their condition is regarded as very critical.

Dooley and Hoolihan, with half a dozen other workmen, were repairing a large boiler, which is used for refining oil, when the explosion occurred. The men had gone into the boiler with a lamp, and the explosion is believed to have resulted from the accumulated gas which was in the boiler.

SIGNS ON STREET CORNERS.

Ordinance to be Drawn Compelling Property Owners to Supply Them.

President Guggenheimer of the Municipal Council received a petition yesterday signed by 105 prominent men, urging the Municipal Assembly to pass an ordinance compelling the owners of corner lots to place signs on their property giving the names of the streets which the sign faces. Among the signers were John E. Parsons, G. G. Haven, Jr., John T. Terry, William C. Wilson, George Munro, Wallace A. Downs, Gherardi Davis, and Thomas J. Barbour.

The petition outlines the trouble which pedestrians have in finding out the names of streets, and shows how easily the trouble can be avoided by property owners having signs painted.

President Guggenheimer said the plan was an excellent one, and that an ordinance would be drawn and presented to the Municipal Assembly at the meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 15.

THE WINTERS WILL CONTEST.

Legatee Tells of His Marriage to Woman More than Twice His Age.

The taking of testimony in the contest over the will of Anne Maria Dooley Winters was continued yesterday before Justice Bischoff and a jury in the Supreme Court. Relatives of Mrs. Winters objected to her leaving nearly all of her two million dollars to her second husband, Byram L. Winters, who was thirty years old, while she was seventy, at the time of their marriage. Mr. Winters was on the stand again yesterday and told how he had met the widow of Alderman Dooley when he was a law clerk at $15 a week, and had eventually married her.

Stella Elliot, an old friend of the testatrix, told of an interview she had had with Mrs. Dooley in 1893. At this time Mrs. Dooley told the witness that she thought of getting married again. The witness suggested a man aged sixty-five years and he appeared acceptable to the widow. Introductions followed. Mrs. Dooley became engaged to the man, but the engagement was broken off.

DEATH OF A BRAVE FIREMAN.

Paul J. Chappell, Who Saved Six Lives, Died After a Long Service.

Paul J. Chappell, the fireman who, on Oct. 7, 1886, saved six lives at a fire at 69 Bayard Street, died on Tuesday last. In making the rescues he climbed into an attic window, scaled a peaked slate roof at the risk of his own life, and then hauled the six apparently doomed people to safety. For this deed of bravery the City Club presented him with a gold and silken badge on Nov. 14, 1886, many of the members of the club being present, and some of them making eulogistic speeches about Chappell.

Chappell joined the Fire Department in 1856, after which he served for two years with Neptune Hose Company, No. 48. Subsequently he became a member of Marion Hose Company, No. 4, by which he was chosen as a delegate to the Board of Representatives. In that company he served until the disbanding of the old department. In 1869 he joined the Exempt Firemen's Association, and he was an organizer of the Veteran Firemen's Association. Funeral services took place last night in Firemen's Hall, 18 Greenwich Avenue, and he will be buried in Greenwood Cemetery this morning.

MARITIME ASSOCIATION MEETING.

Recommendation for Point Judith Breakwater—Ship Subsidy Indorsed.

The Board of Directors of the Maritime Association of the Port of New York held their regular monthly meeting yesterday, President John V. Barnes in the chair.

Four new members were elected: J. Boyd Anderson, with J. & R. Wilson, Limited; A. W. Duckett, Frederick Hayes, and L. M. Smith, with the Marine Manufacturing and Supply Company.

All certificates of membership in arrears for dues were ordered sold at auction.

A resolution declaring that the full purpose of the breakwater off Point Judith, R. I., could be effected until it is extended to the eastern shore, thereby giving shipping full protection, was adopted.

The following resolution was also adopted:

Whereas, The Maritime Association of the Port of New York is vitally interested in the pending measure designed to increase the merchant marine of the United States, and

Whereas, There is now a measure before both houses of Congress, known as the Ship Subsidy bill, which is so designed; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Board of Directors of the Maritime Association of the Port of New York advocates Governmental aid to American shipping, and the passage of some measure at the present session of Congress that will accomplish this purpose.

No Board Walk for Coney Island.

After a hearing before the Board of Public Improvements, the plan to build a large board walk on the beach at Coney Island was defeated. A number of property owners appeared at the hearing. They advocated the adoption of the plan prepared by Chief Engineer Risse. President Grout objected to the plan, and asked that it be referred back to the local board in Brooklyn. Controller Coler asked about the cost of the improvement, and when informed that it would take $130,000 to build the board walk, he voted to lay the matter over for future consideration.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Sale of Linen.

SHEETS, PILLOW CASES, TABLE CLOTHS, NAPKINS AND TOWELS.

Continued Reduction of Stock.

TWO THOUSAND TABLE CLOTHS.

2 x 2 yards, . . $1.50, $2.00, $2.40.
2 x 2½ " . . $1.85, $2.50, $3.00.
2 x 3 " . . $2.75, $3.00, $3.75.

THREE THOUSAND DOZEN NAPKINS.

5-8,— . $2.15, $2.40, $3.25 per dozen.
3-4,— . $3.00, $3.50, $3.60 " "

SEVEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOZEN HUCK TOWELS—hemmed and hemstitched, large size,

$3.00 per dozen.

New Cotton Dress Goods.

Advance materials for Spring and Summer Dress,—varied designs and colors in embroidered Swiss, Plumetis, Gauzes and all sheer fabrics.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

REGAN IS AGAIN WARNED

Pabst Hotel Portico the Subject of a Second Ultimatum.

Commissioner Says Obstruction Must Come Down Without Unnecessary Delay.

The portico and inclosed balcony of the Pabst Hotel, in West Forty-second Street, which squat on the public sidewalk and occupy an area valued by experts at more than $88,000, will be removed if James B. Regan, the proprietor, obeys a final and peremptory order served on him by James P. Keating, Commissioner of Highways, or if Mr. Keating acts as he threatens in case of non-compliance by Regan.

THE NEW YORK TIMES first called attention to the obstruction in its issue of July 8 last. Commissioner Keating sent an ultimatum to Regan in regard to the incumbrance Aug. 20, but did not act because of mandamus proceedings instituted to compel the removal of the illegal structure, which is to all intents and purposes a building. His order of Tuesday follows and explains the hesitancy.

Office of the Commissioner of Highways, New York, Jan. 8, 1901.

James B. Regan, Esq., The Pabst Building, Northwest Corner of Broadway and Forty-second Street, Borough of Manhattan:

Dear Sir: By a letter dated Dec. 31, 1900, Mr. Stillman E. Kneeland reminded me of my publicly announced intention to remove the portico erected by you in violation of law on the north side of Forty-second Street, between Broadway and Seventh Avenue. He pointed out that the reason given by me for delaying action in the matter, namely, the pendency of the court proceedings instituted by Simon Strasburg, could no longer exist, as the plaintiff had since died.

I immediately addressed a letter to the Corporation Counsel asking for his advice before taking final action. He informs me to-day that it is plainly my duty to remove the portico without further delay. I am, therefore, obliged to notify you that unless you cause the removal of the portico within three days from the receipt of this notice, or give me, within that time, written assurance that you have made arrangements to have the portico removed without delay, I shall order that the obstruction be taken down and removed to the Corporation Yard.

This notice is final, and nothing less than prompt compliance therewith can be accepted by this department. Very respectfully,

JAMES P. KEATING,
Commissioner of Highways.

A reasonable, but not unlimited, delay will be accorded to Regan if he exhibits good faith in complying with the order. If he ignores it, Commissioner Keating will proseed to remove the incumbrance on Saturday.

Regan and his counsel, Emanuel Blumenstiel, were yesterday before Justice D. F. Martin in the Tenth Municipal Court, in a suit instituted by the Law Department to recover twelve penalties for violations of law by reason of the illegal occupation of the sidewalk by the Pabst Hotel portico. The case was set down peremptorily, and Junior Assistant Corporation Counsel Herman Stiefel was prepared to present evidence. Mr. Blumenstiel, however, pleaded for delay on account of a family bereavement, and the cases will be tried Jan. 17.

The case of the Pabst Hotel portico is one of many illegal encroachments on the public domain which in time will receive proper attention.

ANOTHER KRUEGER CHILD DEAD.

Mysterious Death in Bayonne Attributed to Ptomaine Poisoning.

The poison which ended the life of little Charles Krueger of Bayonne on Monday caused the death of Martha, his seven-year-old sister, on Tuesday. She was taken ill at the same time as her brother. A double funeral will be held to-day from the Krueger home, 15 East Twenty-seventh Street, Bayonne.

The cause of the trouble has not been discovered. County Physician Converse visited the house previous to the death of Martha. No autopsy was held, but after he had conferred with Dr. Abbott and Dr. Woodruff, who had been in attendance on the children during their illness, it was announced that the boy's mysterious death was caused by meningitis, resulting from ptomaine poisoning, and that the girl was similarly affected.

Where, how, or when the poison was taken into their systems is a mystery. Mr. and Mrs. Krueger blame candy, apples, and sour milk in turn, but there is no evidence that supports the conclusion that either or the combination of all of these caused death. The physicians are inclined to the belief that neither of these can be blamed, and that the trouble dates further back. Dr. Converse finds no cause for criminal action.

Former Chorus Girl Wants Alimony.

Caroline Heustis Graves, the chorus girl who married Frederick Rufus Graves, son of the proprietor of the Hotel Cadillac, wants the Supreme Court to allow her counsel fees and alimony pending the trial of an action for absolute divorce brought against her by her husband. Caroline Heustis was a chorus girl when on Dec. 31, 1898, she and Mr. Graves were married. The marriage surprised the young man's father, but he forgave the couple and furnished a flat for them. Mr. and Mrs. Graves separated in August, 1899. Meanwhile Mrs. Graves sued her father-in-law, charging him with having alienated her husband's affections.

Walden University's New President.

The Rev. Dr. Jay Benson Hamilton, pastor of the De Kalb Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Brooklyn, has been elected President of Walden University, Nashville, Tenn. He was nominated for the position some time ago. Dr. Hamilton will continue at the De Kalb Avenue church until April, when he will enter upon his duties as President of the university.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DEAD.

Woman Supposed to Have Become Insane and to Have Turned on the Gas.

George Baird, fifty-six years old, and his wife, Emma, forty years old, were found dead in their apartments on the third floor of 45 Sumner Avenue, Williamsburg, yesterday morning, while two pet dogs belonging to the couple were unconscious in the room. Death was due to asphyxiation from illuminating gas. Four burners were found turned on, three in the kitchen and one in the bedroom where the couple slept. The discovery was made by Mrs. Michael Fields, a washerwoman living at 304 Floyd Street. It was 9 o'clock when she reached the apartments, and failing to get a response to her repeated knocks at the door, called one of the other tenants in the house. The two women then forced the kitchen door. When Mrs. Fields entered the place it was filled with gas, and on the kitchen floor was lying the dead body of Baird. Mrs. Baird's body was found on the bed in the other room.

When the tragedy was first discovered it was believed to be a case of double suicide, but this theory was soon exploded, as the police learned that the couple had lived most happily during their married life of twenty years, never having had a quarrel. There was also found $200 in Baird's trousers pocket, showing they were not in need. The police learned that Mrs. Baird had been ill with the grip for a week, and it is believed that she suddenly became insane and turned on the gas. Baird had evidently been awakened by the barking of his pet dog, and finding the rooms filled with gas, started for the kitchen to throw open the windows, but became unconscious before reaching there.

A singular thing is that one of the burners in the kitchen was found lighted, and it is considered a miracle that an explosion was averted. Baird was an oyster merchant, doing business at 169 Charles Street, and had an oyster boat at Pier 20, North River. His relatives live in Cuba. The couple had no children.

LEGAL NOTES.

EXPLOSION IN A BREWERY.—A recovery by Xavei Wiedeman, in his suit against James Everard, for injuries he received from an explosion in Mr. Everard's large brewery, in which he was employed, has been affirmed by the Appellate Division, two of the five Justices dissenting. On the 9th of July, 1891, Wiedeman was at work in what is known as the malt box, upon the first story of the brewery. The fire originated in the mill, on an upper story, and was carried down through a chute to where the plaintiff was at work. There it caused the fine dust floating in the air to explode. In the prevailing opinion, by Justice Ingraham, it is held that the plaintiff, while at work at the bottom of the chute, was entitled to rely upon the presumption that the master had performed the duty of using all reasonable precautions to make this a safe and proper place in which to prosecute his work. It was understood that the fine dust was highly inflammable, and that there was danger of explosion in case it became ignited. The defendant had provided an appliance to prevent the spread of fire, called a safety valve, in the chute, and this appliance was out of order. The jury was justified in finding that the explosion occurred because of neglect of the master to perform the duty of keeping this safety appliance in order, and that this neglect was the proximate cause of the fire spreading to that room from the floor above. Justice McLaughlin, in a dissenting opinion, concurred in by Presiding Justice Van Brunt, held it was not shown what was the cause of the fire and where it originated.

***

STENOGRAPHER TO THE CORONERS.—Frederick A. Baker, a stenographer appointed by the Board of Coroners to take testimony in the Coroners' Court, with a salary of $2,500, was unsuccessful on the trial of his suit against the city for transcripts of testimony for the use of the District Attorney, amounting to 6,568 folios, for which he charged $394.08, which he claimed to be entitled to in addition to his regular salary. Judgment rendered for the defendant on the ground that the clause of the consolidation act relied upon had been repealed by the charter, has been reversed by the Appellate Division, Justice O'Brien, giving the opinion of the Court, said: "As the right of the District Attorney to such transcripts, and the compensation to be paid to the stenographer for furnishing them, is to be found alone in the consolidation act, it would be an anomaly to conclude, in the absence of express language which would justify such a construction, that the clause of the consolidation act requiring the furnishing of transcript should be saved, but the clause with reference to the compensation repealed. We would gladly have reached another conclusion, because we think the policy of paying the stenographer to the Coroners a stated salary of $2,500 a year and permitting him, in addition, to receive compensation for work done in that position, is not a good one; but the remedy is with the Legislature, and not with the courts, whose duty it is to ascertain and enforce the law, and not to determine questions of policy."

Non-Union Bakers Organize.

The non-union bakers who have remained at work started a new feature in the Hebrew bakers' strike yesterday by organizing as the Independent Hebrew Journeymen Bakers' Union, which will affiliate with no other body. Aaron Green is President of the organization. Members of the new union say that the old Hebrew bakers' union, which is handling the strike, is officered by trousersmakers, capmakers, and shirtmakers, and that the strikers are less than a third of the Hebrew bakers.

Strike Against the "Cheap Floor."

A strike of eighty cigarmakers took place yesterday at Julius Ellinger's cigar factory in Vesey Street to force the firm to abolish what is known as the "cheap floor." There are different scales of wages for each floor in the factory, graded according to the kind of cigars made. The strikers get the smallest pay of any of the employes.

We, Americans, are apt to run to extremes and run a good thing to the ground.

The rage for the Tuxedo—dinner coat, or whatever you like to call it—shows it where it was never intended to be seen, with the wrong accessories, on the wrong men. Don't kill a good thing. Wear the regulation evening clothes where the regulation clothes should be worn.

The cut of ours is the cut of the good tailor to whom you pay twice the money.

$30 to $50. Dinner coats of course $16 to $27.
All accessories of course.
Evening clothes for little boys, of course.
Everything men wear.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

USE BRUMMELL'S CELEBRATED COUGH DROPS.

Positively relieve Coughs and Colds and all irritation of the throat. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Amusements.

Proctor's 23d St. 5th Ave. 58th St. 125th St. | Continuous Performance. | 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville. | The Finneys, John Kernell, Newsky Trompe, Al Leach and 3 Rosebuds, etc. FOUR COHANS, Papinta, Marcel's Living Statuary & Bas-Reliefs, etc. Mlle. Delbosq, J. W. Albaugh, Jr., & Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Grapewin & Chance, MARIE WAINWRIGHT, Staley & Birbeck, 3 Mascagnos, Johnnie Carroll.

KNICKERBOCKER. Broadway & 38th St. ADA REHAN. Evs. at 8:25. Mat. Sat. 2:20. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY." MONDAY, JANUARY 21. N. C. GOODWIN—MAXINE ELLIOTT. "WHEN WE WERE TWENTY-ONE." SEATS ON SALE THURSDAY, JAN. 17.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Matinées Wed. and Sat. at 2. HERALD.—"'THE GIRL FROM UP THERE' will carry everything before it." Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. Evenings at 8 sharp. THE GIRL FROM UP THERE

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN. Opening Saturday Night, Jan. 12th. Sixth National Exhibition of CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES Automobiles and Accessories. 50c. ..... ADMISSION ..... 50c.

HAMMERSTEIN'S 42d St., B'way & Lex. Av. NOTHING BUT SUCCESS. VICTORIA DRESSLER Evg. 8:30. Adm. 50c Matinée Saturday. and Comedians. MISS PRINNT. Opera Bouffe.

THE DEWEY E. 14th st. MATINEE TO-DAY. VICTORIA BURLESQUERS NEW LIVING PICTURES. This Sunday Night—Grand Concert, 25c., 50c.

WALLACK'S Evgs. at 8:30. Matinées Wed. & Saturday, 2:15. MARY MANNERING IN JANICE MEREDITH

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evg., 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. THE BURGOMASTER.

HURTIG & SEAMON'S Mats. Wed. & Sat. West 125th St. Hart & De Mar, Streator Zouaves, Etta Butler &c. January 13, First Sunday Matinee.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE. CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av. EVERY AFTERNOON AT 3:30 O'CLOCK.

GRAND Opera House. MANN—LIPMAN All on Account of Eliza. Next w'k, Ward & Vokes.

KEITH'S KATHERINE BLOODGOOD, TSCHERNOFF'S DOGS, JAMES THORNTON, FIELDS & WARD, GRANT & NORTON.

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evgs. 8:15. 25c., 35c. 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. QUO VADIS.

Harlem Op. House Peter F. Dailey In Hodge, Podge & Co. Evs. 8:15 Mat. Sat Nxt wk, Mr. John Hare in "The Gay Lord Quex."

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Eve. at 8:15. Every Ev. & Sat. Mat., The Roaring Farce, DIE STRENGEN HERREN

MORE DEPUTIES REMOVED.

Mr. Philbin Finds One in Office Whom No One Ever Heard Of.

District Attorney Philbin yesterday requested the resignations of Deputy Assistant District Attorneys Cornelius J. Collins and Patrick H. Loftus. The appointment of Jerome Monks, son of former Dock Commissioner Monks, to be a Deputy Assistant, was also announced. Mr. Monks is a member of the law firm of Russell, Tucker & Monks of 45 Broadway, and is about twenty-six years old. He is a graduate of Yale and the New York Law School. Mr. Philbin said, in making the appointment, that Mr. Monks accepted the position at a nominal salary, somewhat lower than that usually received by Deputies.

Cornelius F. Collins was appointed by Col. Gardiner on Jan. 1, 1900. When the resignation of Deputy Assistant District Attorney Loftus was announced, inquiries were immediately made by many as to who Mr. Loftus was. Few of the attachés of the Criminal Courts Building had ever seen or heard of him. He was appointed by Col. Gardiner about two months ago at a salary of $2,000 per year and placed in charge of the bond department. He is from "Battery Dan" Finn's district.

District Attorney Philbin said that it was not his intention to make any more appointments to the professional staff, as he has no reason to believe that the staff as it is now constituted is not adequate to perform the business of the office. He indicated that there would be no more immediate removals, although he would not say so positively.

Lapsed License Revoked by Judge.

The license of the Dewey Theatre in East Fourteenth Street has been revoked on an order of the Supreme Court, but notwithstanding this fact, the theatre will continue to do business as usual. This apparent contradiction is due to the fact that the revoked license expired by limitation last May, and since that time a new license has been taken out by other persons. The action was brought by the Sabbath Committee, and was directed against State Senator Timothy D. Sullivan and Maurice Krause.

Corsets.

Various models,

White Coutil, fancy Broche and black Sateen,

$1.45;

Value $2.75, $3.25 and $3.75.

James McCreery & Co.,

Twenty-third Street.

Meyer Jonasson & Co.

owing to the lateness of the season, and in order to close out their entire stock of high-class furs, will offer TO-DAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY special values in

Scarfs, Collarettes and Muffs of Russian Sable, Hudson Bay Sable, blended Hudson Bay Sable and Chinchilla.

BROADWAY AND 12th ST.

SOROSIS TRADE MARK.

THE BEST SHOE FOR WOMEN.

None genuine without the Sorosis Label.

$3.50 per pair.

The varieties of design provide a model for every type of foot.

The materials and styles vary for every occasion and dress.

James McCreery & Co.,
Broadway and 11th Street.
Twenty-third Street.

Amusements.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. "A credit to Daly's."—Press. "So good a play sure to last."—Times. Lady Huntworth's Experiment. By R. C. Carton. Author Lord & Lady Algy. First Damrosch-Wagner Lecture Jan. 18.

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....At 8:30. Daniel Frohman....Manager. Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15. ANNIE RUSSELL IN A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs., 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY. Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENCE.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. "A distinct success."—Telegram. Mats. Wednesday and Saturday. To-night, 8:20. HERBERT KELCEY EFFIE SHANNON MY LADY DAINTY

CHARLES FROHMAN'S JOHN HARE CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St. Last 3 Nights—Last Mat. Sat. "THE GAY LORD QUEX." Monday, Next—Julia Marlowe. "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Evgs at 8:15. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY. WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Mad. Av. Mats. Wed. and Sat., David Garrick. MR. E. S. WILLARD Every evening this & next week. TOM PINCH.

MAUD POWELL. WILL PLAY BEETHOVEN'S Violin Concerto (Allegro movement,) and RIMSKY-KORSAKOFF'S Fantasy for violin on RUSSIAN THEMES, at the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY'S Public Rehearsal, January 11th, at 2 P. M., and Concert, January 12th, at 8:15 P.M., Carnegie Hall, 7th Av. and 57th St.

Mendelssohn Hall. Tues. Evg., nine o'clock. CARRIE BRIDEWELL and HEINRICH MEYN. Jorist Song Recital. Reserved Seats $1.50 and $1.00. at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq. L. M. Ruben, Mgr.

MENDELSSOHN HALL. Morgan String Quartet TO-NIGHT AT 8:15. Seats at Schuberth's, 23 Union Square.

EDEN MUSEE WORLD IN WAX. New Groups. CINEMATOGRAPH Last Week of "HUMPTY DUMPTY"

BROADWAY JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Sat. Mat., 2:15. In Klein & Francis's A ROYAL ROGUE.

Theatre Evs., 8:15. REPUBLIC Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

BIJOU, B'way & 30th St. Mat. Sat. Ev., 8:20. LAST 3 DAYS. Madge Smith. May Irwin. Tues., Jan. 15—Amelia Bingham presents her Com'y, seats now selling, in THE CLIMBERS.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. Quo Vadis With Wilton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault, Blou Fernandez. Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Ev., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat. MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT In His New Play, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

Koster & Bial's West 34th St. La Loie Fuller & 20 others. MATINEE DAILY. Sunday Mat. & Eve. Concerts, 1:45-7:45.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE. GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901. Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.

To-morrow Ev'g., at 8—LA BOHEME, (in Italian.) Mmes. Melba and Fritzi Scheff; MM. Saleza, Gilibert, Journet, and Campanari. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Sat. Aft., Jan. 12, at 2—FAUST, (in French.) Mmes. Melba, Bauermeister, Bridewell; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, and Scotti. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 12, at 8—At Popular prices, TANNHAUSER, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Olitzka, and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 13, at 8:15—Grand Popular Concert. Soloists: Mmes. Susan Strong, Suzanne Adams, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Blass, and Scotti. Entire Opera Orchestra. Conductor, Mr. Flon.

Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 14, at 8—MEFISTOFELE, (in Italian.) Mmes. Margherite Macintyre and Louise Homer; MM. Cremontini and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 16, at 8—Revival of LE CID, (in French.) Mmes. Lucienne Bréval and Nordica; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszké, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.

Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 18, at 7:45—DIE WALKURE, (in German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.

WEBER PIANOS USED.

CARNEGIE HALL. Thurs. Ev'g., Jan. 17, at 8:15. Programme: SCHUMANN, Overture, Scherzo and Finale, op. 52; HAYDN, Concerto for Violoncello, in D; RICHARD STRAUSS, Symphonic Fantasie, "In Italy," op. 16. Soloist, Mr. Hugo Becker. Boston Symphony Orchestra.

Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2:30. Programme: TSCHAIKOWSKY, Symphony No. 5, in E minor, op. 64; CESAR FRANCK, Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra; LISZT, Symphonic Poem, No. 3, "The Preludes." Soloist, Mr. Courtlandt Palmer. Mr. Gericke, Conductor.

Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. On sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

CARNEGIE HALL. PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York. EMIL PAUR.....Conductor. FRIDAY, January 11, at 2 P. M. SATURDAY, January 12, at 8:15 P. M. Program: "A Faust Overture".....Wagner. Concerto for Violin (first movement)...Beethoven. MISS MAUD POWELL. First appearance in New York this season. Symphony, No. 3, F major.....Brahms. Fantasie de Concert, B minor (new).....Rimsky-Korsakoff. MISS MAUD PO

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER.
Rain, turning to snow; easterly winds shifting to northwesterly.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,916. NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JANUARY 11, 1901.—SIXTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. Elsewhere. TWO CENTS.

BIG STEEL COMBINE FORMING IN LONDON

English, American, and Canadian Companies to Join Interests.

OBJECT TO LESSEN EXPENSES

Will Erect Plants at Various Places, with Welland Canal as an Outlet.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The negotiations toward the formation of another American iron and steel combination, which have been carried on recently in London, reached a point this evening where their culmination became practically assured.

The companies intending to amalgamate are the Canadian Steel Company, the Lake Superior Power Company, the American Sheet Steel Company, the Otis Steel Company, the Pittsburg Steel Company, and the Wellman-Seaver Company of Cleveland. Combined with these, if the deal is completed, will be several English firms, who will take part in the enterprise financially and commercially.

At this evening's conference there were present Mr. Seaver, President of the Wellman-Seaver Company; Mr. Pew, President of the Canadian Steel Company; Mr. Douglas of Philadelphia, President of the Lake Superior Power Company; Mr. Wicks, President of the American Sheet Steel Company; Mr. Head, Managing Director of the Otis Steel Company, and Mr. Huber of the Pittsburg Steel Company.

The moving spirit in the undertaking appears to be Mr. Pew.

It is the intention of the projectors to erect plants at various places, with the Welland Canal as an outlet. The object is to minimize expenses, and, acting with the English co-operators, to secure markets here and elsewhere.

The project may be termed an English-American-Canadian combination to take advantage of existing opportunities. It is freely discussed in the English press. The reason for holding the meeting in London was that English capital and trade are desired. The capitalization has not yet been decided upon.

Says America Leads in Steel.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—In the course of an editorial upon Andrew Carnegie's prediction that the United States, within a quarter of a century, will surpass all the other countries of the world combined in steel production, The Daily Telegraph says: "The United States have secured the lead in steel and will increase it, and, since Germany is also preparing to 'dump' the surplus production abroad, we are on the eve of the greatest triangular duel yet seen in international trade. British manufacturers must wake up and imitate the methods of their rivals. Above all, obstructive rules and methods like those of the trades unionists must be swept away."

FEAR FOR EUROPEAN TRADE.

Vienna Paper Declares Approaching Commercial Supremacy of America Cannot Be Averted.

VIENNA, Jan. 10.—The Viennese papers comment extensively upon Senator Lodge's discussion of America's supremacy in the trade of the world, during the debate in the United States Senate Monday on the bill to increase the military establishment. His utterances are regarded as a serious challenge, and the papers advocate, as the sole effective means of defense, a European customs union, such as was recently recommended by M. Leroy-Beaulieu.

The Neues Wiener Journal, which considers the struggle between Europe and America likely to constitute the "leading characteristic of the twentieth century," says:

"The only object of the immense economic changes now occurring in the United States is to flood Europe and the European markets in Asia with American industrial products."

It complains that no step has yet been taken to realize the proposals put forward by Count Goluchowski, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, and asserts that continued European indifference can only lead to disaster.

The Neues Wiener Tagblatt observes: "Owing to the burden of taxation imposed upon Europe by militarism, America is gradually becoming the creditor of the whole world. The approaching supremacy of the United States cannot be averted by the protectionist tariffs advocated by the German and Austrian Agrarians.

"Count von Bülow, by assisting the Agrarians, becomes the ally of Senator Lodge. The only remedy is the abolition of militarism, which is a cancer upon European agriculture, trade, and industry."

LONDON'S BOOM IN AMERICANS.

G. M. Lambertson Says Big Railway Pool Will End Reckless Era.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—G. M. Lambertson, in an interview published by The Daily Mail this morning, says:

"The present boom in American railroad securities is quite healthy. It is the outcome of the Nation's prosperity and of the confidence that followed the indorsement of President McKinley's Administration." Therefore railway securities may safely be bought as a permanent investment, especially preferred stocks and bonds.

"I believe with the recent great railway pool the days of wildcat and reckless management pass away. In my opinion the anti-pooling regulations of the Interstate Commerce Commission do not apply to this pool."

W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Warned.

HEMPSTEAD, L. I., Jan. 10.—The Board of Village Trustees has directed the Village Clerk to send a communication to William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., requesting an observance of the village ordinance respecting the speed of his automobile while within the village limits. Mr. Vanderbilt frequently passes through the village in his auto, on his way to Brookholt, the country seat of his mother, west of the village. The law has been constantly violated by others, and the board will hereafter enforce it.

$60,000 Fire Near Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—The shoddy mill of Peel & Co., at Fisher's Lane and the Reading Railroad, in Germantown, a suburb of this city, was entirely destroyed by fire late to-night. The loss is estimated at about $60,000, fully covered by insurance.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks weaker. Financial Affairs.—Pages 12 and 13.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 82½c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 47⅞c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 30½c; cotton, middling, 10¼c; iron, Northern, No. 1, foundry, $16; butter, Western creamery, 24c.
mercial World.—Page 13.
Amusements.—Page 9.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 10.
Business Troubles.—Page 14.
Court Calendars.—Page 14.
Legal Notes.—Page 14.
Marine Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 10.
New Corporations.—Page 13.
Railroads.—Page 12.
Real Estate.—Page 14.
Society.—Page 9.
United Service.—Page 6.
Weather Report.—Page 10.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 10.

SUCCOR FOR THE RUSSIE.

Line Attached to the Stranded Steamer by Which Food Can Be Furnished —Efforts at Rescue.

MARSEILLES, Jan. 10.—A message from Faraman at 9 o'clock this morning says that, in spite of the heavy sea still running, a lifeboat succeeded in reaching the French steamer Russie at 8 A. M. and attached a line to her, by which food can be furnished to the passengers and crew, who have all been cooped up in the forecastle of the stranded vessel since Monday evening and are famishing.

It is hoped that the rescue of the endangered persons is possible, now that communication with the Russie is established.

Dawn to-day found the situation of the steamer unchanged. The wind blew with terrific violence all night long, but the rain had ceased. On the bridge and forecastle of the steamer some of the crew and passengers could be plainly seen. The first signal this morning said:

"Hasten or we die of hunger."

A few minutes later the following message was signaled:

"We are constructing a raft, which we will try to launch with a sail."

The attachment of the line was due to the heroic efforts of twenty fishermen, who attempted what appeared to be a foolhardy task. Their flat-bottomed craft was tossed about like a straw on the waves. The spectators watched it with bated breath. Several times they thought the small craft was lost, but it finally got into a current, which carried the boat to the starboard side of the Russie's bow. A line was then thrown on board the wreck.

The Captain of the Russie, standing on the bridge, shouted:

"We have not lost heart, and have confidence in you; but be quick."

A moment later great excitement among the spectators ashore, the line was seen to part. But the fishermen made another effort, and again got the line on board the stranded vessel. They then returned to the beach, where hundreds of willing hands pulled their boat high and dry, while a thrilling scene of enthusiasm ensued. The fishermen were carried in the arms of the people out of reach of the waves.

Later the line again parted, causing much anxiety, as the sea was becoming rougher. Then the same fishermen made another attempt to reach the Russie in their flat-bottomed boat. On the first attempt they were cpsized into the surf and the men were thrown back on the strand. They made a fresh effort, with a few newcomers in the ranks, and the same boat's crew again succeeded in getting a line on board the Russie. This time its security was enhanced by the line being attached to several rafts between the wreck and the shore.

The Russie, from Oran, Algeria, stranded on Monday during a violent storm. She has 102 passengers and crew on board.

MRS. MACKAY SAVES CHURCH.

Pays Arrears of Taxes to Prevent Sale of St. Joseph's.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Mrs. Mackay has paid 20,000f. arrears of taxes since 1898 to save from sale by the French Government the Church of St. Joseph, on the Avenue Hoche, the Passionist Fathers and chaplains having appealed to American and British Catholics for assistance.

The gift is in memory of her son, John W. Mackay, Jr., who was killed by being thrown from his horse in Paris, Oct. 18, 1895, and of a devoted friend of the family, Père Richard Foy.

On Jan. 7 last Father Michael Watts Russell, Superior of St. Joseph's, wrote to THE TIMES from Paris explaining the circumstances in which they were placed owing to the demands of the French Government, and appealing to the public for assistance.

NEW WAY TO STOP A CAR.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—Fred Zolle, chagrined because three street cars had passed him in the rain without as much as hesitating, broke the window of the fourth car with a stone. It came to a standstill and he coolly boarded it and took a seat. The conductor had him arrested, but in the police court this morning the Judge fined him and then remitted the fine, saying that he had noticed the tendency of the street car company to pass passengers and he believed the prisoner's story.

WIRELESS WARNINGS TO SHIPS.

Special to The New York Times.

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 10.—Prof. R. T. Fessenden, a scientist connected with the United States Weather Bureau, is here for the purpose of making some experiments with wireless telegraphy.

His experiments will be made along this coast, and stations will be established at Capes Hatteras and Henry and at other coast points north of Cape Hatteras.

This marks the first serious effort on the part of the Government to communicate storm warnings to vessels at sea off that dangerous locality. It is intended also to send storm signals to the life saving stations along the east by this means when the wires are disabled, as is frequently the case. The towers to be erected along the coast will be manned by experts under the personal supervision of Prof. Fessenden, who will have full charge of all the experiments.

If the tests are successful the entire coast will be similarly equipped.

INVITATION TO THE "400."

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Autograph invitations requesting the presence of New York's 400 at Keith's Theatre to hear May De Sousa sing Ald. Coughlin's song "Dear Midnight of Love," have been sent to the social lions of that city by "Bathhouse" John.

Among those whom Mr. Coughlin addresses as "Dear Friend" and to whom invitations have been sent are Senator Depew, Russell Sage, Dr. Parkhurst, Mayor Van Wyck, A. H. Hummel of Howe & Hummel; George Gould, Harry W. Walker, Richard Croker, Chief Devery, William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., "Dry Dollar" Sullivan, John F. Carroll of Tammany Hall, Charles Rector, James J. Corbett, and others.

PRESIDENT McKINLEY BETTER.

Still Confined to His Bed with the Grip, but Is Improving.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The President is still confined to his bed with grip, but is improving steadily. Nothing thus far has occurred to give his physician any concern as to his speedy recovery.

It is not thought prudent, however, for him to leave his bed for some days yet.

Major Gen. Otis Has the Grip.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Major Gen. Elwell S. Otis, in command of the Department of the Lakes, is a victim of the grip.

While his condition is said to be not serious, Col. Hall, Adjutant General, said to-day that Gen. Otis was very ill.

GAVE THOUSANDS TO CHARITY.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The will of Huntington W. Jackson, who died last week in Newark, N. J., was filed for probate here to-day, and disposes of an estate valued at $450,000, more than half of which goes to charity.

To the Chicago Art Institute, the Illinois Commandery of the Loyal Legion of the United States, the American Sunday School Union, and the Field Columbian Museum, and nineteen institutions and organizations covering a diversity of interests, $1,000 each is given.

To his sisters, Miss Julia Huntington Jackson and Miss Hannah Wolcott Jackson, both of Newark, $40,000 each is bequeathed. The remainder of the estate is divided among the decedent's brothers and the children of a deceased brother and sister.

BURGHERS PRESS ON TOWARD CAPE TOWN

5,000 Are Making Their Way to the Heart of Cape Colony.

KITCHENER REPORTS ATTACKS

Says Loss on Both Sides Was Heavy—Several British Garrisons Supposed to Have Been Captured.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—"Five thousand Boers, supposed to be trekking west from Vryburg," says the Cape Town correspondent of The Daily Mail, "are now making their way into the heart of Cape Colony. The supposition is that they have captured several small garrisons on the way."

Gen. Kitchener sends news of a serious simultaneous attack on the night of Jan. 7 by the Republicans on the British positions between points sixty miles apart, along the lines of the Pretoria and Lorenzo Marques Railway. The losses on both sides were heavy. According to reports, the Boers were beaten off after prolonged fighting. In his dispatch, Lord Kitchener says:

"On the night of Jan. 7 the Boers made simultaneous and determined attacks upon all of our posts, at Belfast, Wonderfontein, Nooitgedacht, and Wildfontein. Intense fog prevailed, and taking advantage of the cover it afforded, the Boers were able to creep up close to our position. A heavy fire continued until 3:40 A. M., when the Boers were driven off. One officer was killed and three wounded, while twenty men were killed and fifty-nine wounded. The loss of the Boers was heavy, twenty-four dead being counted.

"A convoy taking supplies to Gordon's Brigade, north of Krugersdorp, was attacked by Beyer's commando Tuesday. The Boers were driven off, leaving eleven dead on the field. Our casualties were four slightly wounded."

The situation in South Africa grows worse rather than better. Lord Kitchener's dispatches are more laconic than those of Lord Roberts, and little else of importance is allowed to come through.

The Times, in an editorial to-day, finds comfort in the thought that the "process of attrition is doing its work and must shortly lead to the inevitable result." In other quarters, however, there is less satisfaction with the position of affairs, which has practically necessitated the fortification of Cape Town.

No steps have been taken to comply with Lord Kitchener's demands for reinforcements Lord Coleridge, in a letter excusing his non-attendance at a political meeting, says:

"I loathe and detest this war and the policy which brought it about, the mode in which it is conducted, and the undignified excitement over the defeat of a handful of peasants defending their country at the hands of ten times their number of trained soldiers, backed by the wealth of England."

This morning's dispatches report that a small party of Boers carried off cattle close to the east fort at Pretoria. Nine hundred Boers, under Commandant Britzinger, are fifteen miles from Richmond, in the direction of Murraysburg.

Rumors are spreading at Porterville that the rebels have joined the Boers in the Calvinia district.

The Military Commissioner of Police at Johannesburg has warned the public to beware of the dangerous dynamite mines laid in the Rand to protect the mines, as the authorities cannot hold themselves responsible for injuries resulting therefrom.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 10.—The refugees are approaching the military authorities to obtain permission to form a corps for the protection of Johannesburg and the mines only, as they wish to be on the Rand to assist in the defense of their own property. The Chamber of Mines has adopted a similar attitude.

On the Picquetberg road the Boers occupying Calvinia and Sutherland consist of two columns, one advancing in the direction of Clanwilliam and the other toward Worcester, or in this direction. All passes in front of Worcester have been occupied by seasoned troops, which are gathering at strategic points.

The tranquil Dutch openly disapprove of the raid, many even sending horses to the British camp.

THE SHIP SUBSIDY BILL.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Republican Senators who take the business of the Senate seriously and who are in favor of the Ship Subsidy bill, as well as those Senators of the Republican Party who are not for the bill, treat the report that Senator Hanna (Rep., Ohio,) has threatened to have an extra session of the Senate if this session fails or refuses to pass the shipping bill as unworthy of contradiction. Senator Allison, when it was repeated to him, at once declared that the inquiry as to whether there would be an extra session was one that President McKinley alone could answer. He was of the opinion that nothing but the failure of the Army bill, or of one of the great appropriation bills, would make an extra session necessary.

When Senator Frye (Rep., Me.,) was asked what he thought of the story that Senator Hanna had told Senator Clay (Dem., Ga.,) that there would be an extra session unless the opponents of the Ship Subsidy bill permitted a vote to be taken on that measure at this session, he responded, very quietly, "That cannot be so; Hanna is not a fool." Some of the advocates of subsidies fancy that the report was originated by and in the interest of the opposition, and that the circulation of the report that Mr. Hanna was asserting a power over the Congress to call it together to do work in which he is particularly interested would serve to injure the prospects of the shipping bill during the present session.

Another day has passed, and the bill has not been reached, and to-night it did not look as if the Senate would get through with the Army bill before the end of the week. Senator Frye does not admit that he is discouraged about the prospect for subsidies. He says that the bill will be subject to interruptions by appropriation bills, but he hopes that several days will be secured without interruption after 2 o'clock.

Still, it will not be possible or reasonable to protest against the occupation of time by the Appropriation Committee, as the time is short before adjournment and Mr. Allison is a good judge of the time needed in which to consider appropriation measures.

Mr. Frye repeated his statement that he had been informed that there would be no factious opposition to the Subsidy bill

The Senate Committee on Commerce today agreed to make several additional amendments to the bill. One of these, made on Page 12, extends the benefits of the bill to ships engaged both in the foreign and the coastwise trade, such as those of the Panama Railroad Line. The amendment grants subsidy to the extent that the cargo is foreign.

Another amendment is inserted on Page 24, which permits a majority of the owners of a steamship to sign contracts with the Secretary of the Treasury, instead of requiring all the owners to sign, and in lieu of a bond the Secretary is authorized to retain 25 per cent. of the earned compensation as security for the performance of the contract.

Chicago and Northwestern Extension.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—It is reported from the West that preliminary steps toward surveying a route for an extension of the Chicago and Northwestern line from Omaha to Denver have been begun. Construction engineers, headed by Elliott O. Duncan, are said to have started from the Nebraska metropolis to the Colorado capital, and it is expected that after they have made the trip the actual work of surveying will be taken up. It is estimated that the construction would not necessitate a greater outlay than $8,000 a mile. The line would be about 300 miles long.

TO SUCCEED MR. CHANDLER.

Henry E. Burnham to be Senator from New Hampshire.

CONCORD, N. H., Jan. 10.—Henry E. Burnham of Manchester was nominated tonight in the Republican legislative caucus to succeed Senator William E. Chandler, whose term of service will expire March 3 next. The nomination was made on the first ballot, which resulted as follows: Henry W. Blair, 1; Henry B. Quinby, 22; Cyrus A. Sulloway, 23; Henry M. Baker, 29; William E. Chandler, 47; Henry E. Burnham, 198. The nomination, which finally was made unanimous, is equivalent to election.

The nomination of Mr. Burnham ends one of the fiercest political fights in the history of New Hampshire. Senator Chandler was opposed tooth and nail by men in his party, who objected to his pro-silver views, his criticism at times of the Administration, and his ideas on different measures, and, in addition, he was opposed by those who thought he had been Senator long enough. Another great factor in the contest, and which has figured in other political fights, was his determined and continual attack on the railroad interests—the Boston and Maine system—in the State. The use of money had been freely charged by each and all of the half dozen candidates, and only last night Senator Chandler issued a statement that the railroad had ordered all its agents here to influence the balloting.

The election will occur next Wednesday. Charles F. Stone of Laconia is the Democratic nominee.

Mr. Burnham was born in Dunbarton, N. H., Nov. 9, 1844, was graduated from Dartmouth in 1865, was admitted to the New Hampshire bar in 1868, was Judge of Probate for Hillsborough County, 1876 to 1879, a member of the House of Representatives in 1875-4, and of the Constitutional Convention of 1889.

He is a member of the present House of Representatives.

The defeat of Mr. Chandler in the Senatorial caucus is regarded by New Hampshire politicians as the end of his long political career. Senator Chandler entered the political arena in 1862, when he became a member of the New Hampshire House of Representatives. During the two succeeding years he served as Speaker in that body.

In 1865 he became Solicitor and Judge Advocate General of the Navy Department, which office he resigned in the Fall of 1867. He became a member of the New Hampshire Constitutional Convention in 1870, and in 1881 again was a member of that State's House of Representatives. In that year also he was appointed Solicitor General by President Garfield, but was rejected by the Senate.

Under President Arthur Mr. Chandler accepted the portfolio of Secretary of the Navy. He served in this capacity until 1885. Two years later he was elected to the Senate to fill the unexpired term of Austin F. Pike, which ended in 1889. In 1889 he was re-elected to the Senate and in 1895 was chosen a third time.

Mr. Chandler was born in Concord, N. H., in December of 1835. His early training was a common school education. He entered the Harvard Law School and was admitted to the bar in 1855.

ATLANTIC TRANSPORT SOLD?

Reported to Have Been Bought by the American Line—Contracts, It Is Said, Already Signed.

The announcement was made in Wall Street yesterday that contracts had been signed by which the International Navigation Company acquires the Atlantic Transport Line. No confirmation of the report was obtainable here.

Clement A. Griscom, the President of the International Navigation Company, is in Washington. He refused to be seen last evening, sending word that he had retired for the night. His son Rodman, when seen in Philadelphia, refused to confirm or deny the report.

President B. N. Baker of the Atlantic Transport Line was seen in Baltimore. He requested that a denial of the reported sale to the International Navigation Company be made. Other officials of the Transport Line made similar denials.

In Washington no information concerning the reported deal had been received by those who are interested in the shipping legislation. Senator Frye, when asked what he knew of it, said that he was then informed for the first time of the matter. If it were true it would not make any difference in the subsidy bill. Its terms would not need changing to accommodate them to this addition.

The International Navigation Company was incorporated under the laws of New Jersey, June 6, 1893, to operate the American and Red Star Lines of steamers between the ports of New York and Philadelphia and Southampton, Antwerp, and Liverpool. The company owns the well-known steamers New York, Paris, St. Louis, and St. Paul, all of which are United States mail steamships.

The capitalization consists of $9,295,000 8 per cent. non-cumulative preferred stock, ($10,000,000 authorized,) and $5,000,000 common stock, par value, $100. The officers of the company are Clement A. Griscom, President; W. H. Barnes and James A. Wright, Vice Presidents; Emerson E. Parvin, Secretary, and James S. Swartz, Treasurer.

The Atlantic Transport Company, Limited, was incorporated under British laws in 1889 to operate a steamship service between London and New York and Baltimore and Philadelphia. The authorized capital is £100,000 of preferred and £900,000 of common stock. The officers are B. N. Baker, President; C. G. Heim, Treasurer, and Waldo Newcome, Secretary.

THE REPORT IN PHILADELPHIA.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Rumors are again extant of a deal whereby the International Navigation Company will absorb the Atlantic Transport Line. At the general office of the International Navigation Company here Rodman Griscom, the manager of the line, peremptorily refused to either deny or affirm the report that his company had purchased the Atlantic Transport Company. All inquirers were referred to the Atlantic Transport Line's general office, at Baltimore.

It is stated by those posted that the Pennsylvania Railroad, which is the largest stockholder in the Atlantic Transport Line, has purchased the foreign holdings of the concern with the view of operating the line under its direct supervision.

The Atlantic Transport Company owns about fifty vessels plying between the ports of Baltimore, Philadelphia, and New York and London, and is one of the largest freight carriers between America and England. Those here who are fighting the passage in Congress of the Ship Subsidy bill, assert that the absorption of the Atlantic Transport Line indicates the first step in the formation of a gigantic steamship trust in the event of the Subsidy bill being enacted, and from the same authority comes the assertion that Clement A. Griscom, who has been at Washington for some time watching things closely, must have inside knowledge that the friends of the bill are in the majority, and that, in consequence, he is negotiating for the line in question, preparing for a monopoly on the money to be disbursed by the United States Treasury to the American merchant marine.

JUSTICE CLARKE'S SALARY.

Judge John Proctor Clarke, who was appointed by Gov. Roosevelt a Supreme Court Justice, to succeed the late Henry E. Beekman, was tendered a check for $286.26 by a representative of Controller Coler for services. Justice Clarke refused the pay check, and claimed that he was entitled to $470, or pay for ten days more. Controller Coler claims that Justice Clarke's pay began when he took the oath of office. Justice Clarke claims pay from the date of appointment.

Controller Coler's experts are investigating the matter. Justice Clarke received $10,000 for the part he took in the investigation of the Surrogates' office, and also $5,000 in fees as special counsel to the Board of Education under appointment of Gov. Roosevelt.

Florida and Metropolitan Limited via Seaboard Air Line Railway, effective Fourteenth instant, leaves from Pennsylvania Railroad Twenty-third Street Station twelve fifty-five P. M. daily and arrives Jacksonville four P. M., St. Augustine five P. M. following day. Drawing-room, compartment and dining cars. Through day coaches. —Adv.

BANK WRECKER PELL AGAIN UNDER ARREST

Financial Juggler and ex-Convict Charged with Larceny.

BROKER SHARPE HIS ACCUSER

Complainant Wants to Recover International Paper Company's Stock, Pledged to Pell for a Loan.

George H. Pell, who was sentenced to Sing Sing ten years ago for wrecking the Lenox Hill Bank, the Sixth National Bank, and badly crippling the Equitable Bank, by removing from the former institution thirty-one of its bonds, and using the proceeds of the sale thereof to further his personal interests, found himself again in the clutches of the law yesterday, when he was arraigned in the Centre Street Court by Detective O'Connor, charged with the larceny of one hundred shares of stock of the International Paper Company, valued at $6,400, the property of the United States Security Company of 31 Nassau Street. Theodore F. Sharpe, a note broker, of 67 Liberty Street, made the complaint against Pell, and obtained a warrant for his arrest.

Assistant District Attorney Carr, who represents the District Attorney in the case, says that the United States Security Company commissioned Sharpe to execute for them a loan of $4,500. Promissory notes were drawn, redeemable at different dates, and, as further security, the one hundred shares of preferred stock of the International Paper Company were pledged. As is the custom in such transactions, the stock was turned over in blank. Sharpe, says Mr. Carr, negotiated the loan through Pell, who claims to have an office at 50 Broadway. From whom Pell obtained the money Mr. Carr does not know. It appears, however, he says, that Pell received the stock from Sharpe and immediately had it transferred to himself, in violation of law, and converted the same to his own use, collecting the dividends as they fell due.

When the United States Security Company attempted to take up the notes as they matured, says Mr. Carr, Sharpe was unable to secure the notes or the stock from Pell, who has persisted in refusing to give it up. Sharpe therefore caused Pell's arrest. Magistrate Mayo held the latter in $2,500 bail for examination. Bail was furnished, and when Pell left the courtroom he would say only that matters relating to the transaction, when known, would set him right.

George H. Pell was a member of the firm of Grovesteen & Pell in 1887, when that firm failed under peculiar circumstances. His chief claim to remembrance was in connection with the wrecking of several banks a few years later. In December, 1890, Peter J. Claasen, a promoter, with Pell and Charles E. Wallack, Pell's partner in the brokerage firm, Pell, Wallack & Co., entered into a conspiracy to obtain possession of the Sixth National Bank, of which Charles H. Leland was President. This institution acted as the clearing house for the Lenox Hill Bank and the Equitable Bank, in both of which Claasen was interested. Claasen proposed to Mr. Leland that he, with a syndicate he claimed to have formed, should buy Leland's stock in the Sixth National Bank at about double its market value.

Leland consented and sold his 1,035 shares to Claasen for $650,000. Frederick D. Tappen, at that time a member of the Clearing House Committee, told the remainder of the story of this transaction at that time. "Immediately on assuming possession," said Mr. Tappen, "Claasen made three loans of $60,000 each, presumably to the Lenox Hill and Equitable Banks, secured by stock of the former institution. He then made his deposit vaults in the National Park Bank and abstracted therefrom first-class railroad bonds, the property of the Sixth National Bank, of the par value of $622,000. These bonds he gave to George H. Pell for sale. Cashier Colson took alarm at the peculiar proceedings and notified the Clearing House Committee."

Claasen was compelled to disgorge $201,000 of the bonds, but the Sixth National and the Lenox Hill both closed their doors on Jan. 30, 1890.

Pell was indicted for participation in the proceedings tried before Recorder Smyth, and sentenced on June 9, 1900, to seven years and six months' imprisonment in Sing Sing. Subsequently he was pardoned.

DEALERS AGAINST TRUSTS.

Nebraska Implement Men Want Action by Congress.

Special to The New York Times.

OMAHA, Neb. Jan. 10.—The Nebraska and Iowa Retail Implement Dealers' Association to-day declared against trusts, and memorialized Congress to take action against these organizations, fixing the price of farm implements. This action is the result of prices having doubled through the West for farm machinery in the past three years.

The resolution says that the late advance in all classes of agricultural implements, farm machinery, &c., is apparently chargeable to the producers of building materials, who have organized themselves into trusts and have succeeded in thoroughly crushing out competition, and by limiting production are now enabled to force buyers to pay exorbitant prices, which is taking millions of dollars annually beyond legitimate profit.

The manufacturers of all lines of goods the dealers are offering for sale, it is said, express their inability to cope with the great corporate trusts to enable them to buy the material used in their factories at a reasonable price, and they are compelled to advance the prices of their manufactured articles in proportion to the additional cost they are compelled to pay for their structural material and to add such additional costs to the goods offered to customers.

The resolution concludes with a demand "in our own behalf, and in the name of our customers, the agricultural classes," for the immediate enactment of National anti-trust laws by the present Congress.

GLASS PRICES TO RISE.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 10.—W. T. Grey of New York, President of the National Window Glass Jobbers' Association, in an interview says:

"A peculiar condition of affairs exists at present in the window glass business. It is impossible for the jobbers to buy window glass and hard for the consumers to obtain supplies from the jobbers, the latter selling their little stock only where it is necessary to preserve good relations with customers. The contract for 600,000 boxes, which was placed with the American Company three months ago, has been delivered, and is about exhausted, but we cannot renew our stocks because we cannot get the glass from any of the companies which manufacture.

"It is probable that the new prices will be announced Monday of next week, and if that is done the jobbers' Executive Committee will be called together and we shall place contracts for glass for all members of our organization. It may be that an increase of 15 or 20 per cent. will be made at once, or a series of increases may be decided upon. In either event we shall place as large an order as possible, perhaps amounting to 600,000 boxes. We shall take as much as we can get, but it is not likely that we shall be able to get as much as we may want, as the glass companies will probably cut down our quantity in view of advances that will probably be ordered later in the season."

Inauguration of Through Train Service to Florida.

The Pennsylvania Railroad will place in service on January 14th three Limited Express trains composed of Pullman sleeping, compartment, and observation cars between New York and St. Augustine.—Adv.

ANCHOR LINER AGROUND.

The Ethiopia from Glasgow to New York in a Bad Position on Holy Island.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Anchor Line steamship Ethiopia, Capt. McKenzie, which left Glasgow yesterday for New York, via Moville, Ireland, is ashore on Holy Island, in the Firth of Clyde. She is in a bad position.

The Ethiopia is a British, bark-rigged, iron screw steamer. She is 402 feet long, 40.2 breadth, 33 feet depth of hold, gross tonnage of 4,005, registered 2,604. She was built at Govan, Scotland, in 1873. Her last survey was in New York in May, 1894. Her owners are Henderson Brothers.

THE SENATE MAY DROP TAX REDUCTION BILL

Believed at the Treasury Present Law Will Stand Until 1902.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Tax reduction does not seem to flourish in the Senate Committee on Finance, but that it has been abandoned for the session none of the members of that committee will admit. It is very remarkable, however, that every member of the commitee who was asked to-day about the report that the reduction bill had been "hung up" answered that he was not at liberty to say anything about it, as there had been an agreement among members to be silent on the subject. It is only possible to get inferential statements from Senators not on the committee.

At the Treasury the notion is entertained that there will not be any reduction in revenues for the year 1901-2; that is, up to June 30, 1902. The next Congress, owing to the pressure upon the time of this one, may carry out the idea of Senator Aldrich and sweep off all the war taxes at once.

A Senator not on the Finance Committee said that it was his impression, from hints offered to him, that when required to choose between a bill that took off $30,000,000 or nothing, the Finance Committee decided that it should be nothing. Then the pressure of beer men and other interests to be taken care of by the Senate has made it difficult to report the bill as passed by the House.

SOUVENIR FOR MR. ROOSEVELT.

Colorado Miners Present Him with the Same Scantling with Which He Was Assaulted in September.

Special to The New York Times.

LEADVILLE, Col., Jan. 10.—Theodore Roosevelt's first day in Colorado served to remind him of his exciting visit to Victor, Sept. 26 last, when he was mobbed by an excited crowd. The Vice President-elect now possesses an enduring souvenir of the occasion in the identical scantling with which he was struck by a burly miner, but the end which prodded him in the chest is covered with a cap of gold from the Portland, Independence, and other mines of the Cripple Creek district, with the inscription: "To Theodore Roosevelt. A pleasant recollection of Sept. 26, 1900, from the citizens of Cripple Creek and Victor."

The presentation was made by a band of several hundred citizens from the big gold district, headed by "Brave Dan" Sullivan, the small but vigorous Cripple Creek Postmaster, who wrenched the riot souvenir from the assailant's hands, and it was this same assailant who, blushing awkwardly, handed the trophy to the Rough Rider when Sullivan finished his little speech. The presentation occurred at Divide, a station of the Colorado Midland, twenty-four miles from Victor, and the little platform was packed with cheering humanity, who applauded Spokesman Sullivan's suggestion that the souvenir was "a peace offering from the gold camp."

ILLINOIS GRAIN DECISION.

Chicago Judge Declares the Act of 1897 Is Unconstitutional.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Judge Tuley has decided that the Act of 1897 amending former acts so as to permit public warehouse men to store and mix their own grain in warehouses controlled by them is unconstitutional.

In his decision Judge Tuley declares that that amendatory act was plainly in the interests of the warehousemen, and gave to the producer such protection as the "wolf gives to the lamb."

For over a year the matter had been pending on contempt of court proceedings brought in the name of the people in a test case against the Central Elevator Company, John S. Hannah, and Carrington, Hannah & Co.

President Warren said of Judge Tuley's decision: "This is the beginning of the end of the fight against present methods of grain storage. The mills of the gods grind slow, but they will bring results some day. Of course the opposition will carry the matter to the Illinois Supreme Court. I have no doubt of the result there. That court knows that a sneak was made in passing the law, while an adverse decision was pending."

ARRESTED FOR FRAUD.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—A man who gives his name as Morris Chaules was to-night placed under arrest in this city on a charge of having secured goods through false representation.

Using the name of "A. H. Friese, dry goods dealer," he had made preparation to have delivered at a newly rented office on South Gay Street a great amount of merchandise of various kinds. On Fort Avenue is a legitimate firm doing business under the name of A. H. Friese, and it was through an inquiry as to an order placed in New York by Chaules or an agent, which reached the real firm in this city, that led to the arrest.

The man had just opened mail under the name of Friese when taken into custody. He explained that he had met a man named Friese in Philadelphia, who had told him to buy goods and have them shipped to Gay Street, Baltimore.

From the letters received he had placed orders with the following firms, some of the goods already having been shipped to this city: The Equitable Suspender Company, S. Hilpolsteiner, Preger & Silverman, Jacob S. Bernheimer, the Garfield Shirt Company, Louis Weisman, I. Saperstein, the Phoenix Shirt Company, and several other firms, all of New York, and William H. Burns & Co., Worcester, Mass. His orders had been placed for several days back, the office in this city having been rented on Jan. 3, and it is thought that the mail received by the man during the past few days, when secured, will disclose a great number of other orders placed for goods of various kinds.

When arrested Chaules had just made arrangements to have a lot of the ordered goods brought from the railroad depot to the office on Gay Street, having hired two trucks for that purpose. Another man who is said to have been working in this city with Chaules, has not been captured, and it is thought that there was a third man working in New York, placing the orders. Letters from New York firms speak of "Your Mr. Shearer" and "Your agent, Mr. Keane," as having called to place the order and arrange the terms of credit.

KING OF SWEDEN BETTER.

Will Resume the Reins of Government on Jan. 19.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Daily Telegraph publishes the following from its Copenhagen correspondent:

"The King of Sweden is better and will resume the reins of Government Jan. 19. Queen Sophie, who has been continuously ill, is now suffering from a serious inflammation of the shoulder, but Prince Eugene is much better."

VIEWS ON THE POLICE BILL

President York Approves of the Single-Headed Provision.

Commissioner Abell Pities the Man Who Will Be Appointed—Opposition to Governor's Power of Removal.

Bernard J. York, President of the Police Board, and others interested in the single-headed police bill, introduced in the Legislature at Albany on Wednesday, gave their views of the measure yesterday.

"The vital part of the bill," said President York, "is the absolutism of the single Commissioner, the head of the department. That is what I have always advocated. I regard the other provisions of the measure in the light of matters of detail, and do not care to discuss them when the essential to police administration is provided for.

"As to the Controller being the disbursing agent of the department, I have said that while under the present system the police force is paid on the first of the month, under the provisions of the new bill greater or less delay in paying off would be likely to occur. And the new bill does not deal specifically with the Police Pension Fund and the 1,700 pensioners. Now the Commissioners are the trustees of the fund, and, in my judgment, the new law should be explicit in regard to it. And the pensioners should be paid at some place where identifications could be made more readily than at the Controller's office. I will not discuss the adequacy of the salaries the single-headed bill proposes for the Commissioner and Deputies, nor the necessity of more than one Deputy."

Commissioners Hess and Sexton would not be quoted in regard to the bill.

Commissioner Abell said:

"There have been four Commissioners here trying to run this department. They have had a hard enough time of it dividing the responsibility of the department and the abuse that is inevitable upon the head of the Police Department. I pity the one man who has the provision of the bill which gives the Governor the power to remove the Commissioner "whenever the public interests shall so require." We protest that it is unfair to remove the Commissioner from office without preferring charges against him, which he shall have full and fair opportunity to answer. And to give this power of removal at pleasure to the Governor is obnoxious to the spirit of home rule. Why should the present Governor of New York have such power over a great department of the City of New York? It is an unwarranted interference with the affairs of the people of the city.

"Gov. Odell was not the choice of the citizens of New York City for the office which he holds. They thought his opponent was a better man for the high position which he occupies, and they said so at the polls by a substantial majority. In view of this fact, it is a slap at home rule for the city to give the Governor power to remove the Police Commissioner of the city without even the necessity of assigning a reason for his action."

Other Tammany members talked in the same strain as Senator Grady. The policy of the Tammany members will be to propose amendments to the bill. The two amendments decided upon are to vest the sole power of removal in the Mayor, and to provide for a trial court other than the Commissioner for all members of the force arraigned for any cause. In the event that the Tammanyites are not able to command the necessary support for the amendment vesting the sole power of removal in the Mayor, and there is no prospect that they will, they will then try to have an amendment adopted which, while it gives the Governor the power of removal, will stipulate that he can remove only upon charges.

AMENDMENTS TO THE CHARTER

Chairman Kelsey Says Assembly Committee Will Not Act Hastily.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Several amendments to the charter of Greater New York were offered yesterday, and to-day were referred to the Committee on Cities, which held its first meeting this morning. Chairman Kelsey, when seen after the meeting of the committee, which was merely for the purpose of organization, said that the disposition of the committee was toward conservatism in dealing with the New York charter.

"Of course, the committee will give hearings upon these individual bills, if such hearings are desired," said Mr. Kelsey, "but, at the same time, I do not believe the committee will countenance tinkering at the charter, but will rather adopt a comprehensive scheme of revision. As to just how far the committee will go, I cannot, of course, say. It will be impossible to make any prediction in this respect until after we have the bill, or bills of the Charter Revision Committee before us, and have had time to thoroughly digest them.

"In the case of the Police bill, an exception will likely be made. That is a matter which has been agitated in all its phases for some months past, and the public is entirely familiar with what is proposed. There is no reason why that bill should not be acted upon separately and without much delay, and I have no doubt that it will be."

THE ELECTION BUREAU BILL.

What Police Commissioners and Gen. Bodenbough Think of It.

None of the Police Commissioners was disposed to discuss the bill providing for a Board of Elections with four Commissioners equally divided as to political faith.

"No such board," said President York, "could be other than bi-partisan. The proposed act appears to be built around Gen. Rooenbough, the present Superintendent of Elections, and his staff and employees, while, of course, the Commissioners could do as they pleased in the matter of continuing their services."

"The advantages of the new election bill," said Commissioner Abell," are mainly sentimental. As to running the election business, I cannot see much difference. There are to be four Commissioners exercising a ministerial function. Election officers have been chosen by the two parties of legal record. We couldn't do anything with them. All we did was to use the police to do messenger boys' work in delivering ballots, carrying the returns, and the like. They will do that under the new arrangement. The only thing different will be a separate commission. But the people who want this will throw up their hands and say, 'Now the police cannot interfere in elections.' They never did. Every year Mc'Cullagh or others have rolled the stuff to the bugaboo of police interference and violence and fraud at the elections. And every year, the day after election, the same people have come out and said that there was no violence and very little fraud, not as much as they expected, due to their efforts. The while the police force has been used to guard the polls and has done it. It has insured quiet elections. Perhaps some people would like a return to the days when it did not interfere and crowds took possession of polling places and smashed the polling boxes."

"The bill," said Gen. Rodenbough, "is apparently framed on the lines of charter revision which was recommended. It does not touch on the field of duty of State Superintendent McCullagh. I do not care to discuss the proposed law or my status, but it was evidently the intention of the framers of the bill to provide the new commission with a staff of experienced men and the option of continuing it in service."

State Superintendent John McCullagh was yesterday interested in his private affairs at Goshen, N. Y., where he may become the owner of a farm, which he will renovate and equip as a home for his family.

A DEARTH OF ROUNDSMEN.

Sixty-eight Vacancies May Be Filled by Chief Devery.

With the promotions to Captaincies and Sergeantcies out of the way the Police Commissioners are now deeply interested in filling up the quota of Roundsmen, fifty-eight of whom were raised from the grade to rank on Tuesday. There are now sixty-eight vacancies for the grade of Roundsman and the discipline of the department will surfer if they are not filled.

It is extremely probable that the board will call on Chief Devery to fill the vacancies. The question of this appointment is greatly involved, muddled, in fact. When the board in presenting its 1901 budget to the Board of Apportionment asked $10,825,000 for salaries of Commissioners and the police force for the current year, the amount granted was $278,000 less. This shortage operates throughout the uniformed force, and prevents the filling of the ranks and grades to the full quota sanctioned by law. For this reason only fifty-eight Sergeants were appointed on Tuesday, although there are eighty vacancies.

When the budget was presented there were 3581 Roundsmen and money for 3261 was asked for. The Municipal Civil Service Commission has contended that the creation of a Roundsman, who gets but $100 a year more than a patrolman, is so much of a promotion—not a detainment or assignment to a grade that those thus created should be taken from a list furnished by the commission under civil service rules. The result has been that all Roundsmen appointed by the board have had their salaries held up by the Civil Service Commission. Those affected have drawn patrolmen's salaries, and many of them have instituted suits to test the law as interpreted by the civil service authorities. None has as yet reached a stage of determination.

"The only way out of the difficulty," said a police official, "is for the board to call on the Chief to fill the vacancies, sixty-eight, and he will bridge the situation by appointing as many acting Roundsmen. Proper action will be taken when the question is legally settled."

THE COMMITTEE OF FIFTEEN.

Chairman Says Its Position Will Be Made Clear in a Few Days.

There was no disposition on the part of those connected with the two vice investigating committees to give out any additional information yesterday. William H. Baldwin, Jr., Chairman of the Committee of Fifteen, refused to enter into any details as to the progress of the committee's work further than was suggested after the meeting on Wednesday, when it was announced that important results had been reported by the various sub-committees.

When asked if it was true that the action of the committee will be to present evidence to the Legislature and seek legislative investigation into certain forms of corruption or file evidence against the Mayor, charging maladministration, he declined to outline the future action of the committee.

"The public must wait a day or two longer," he said, "until the committee is ready to make its position clear."

M. Warley Platzek also declined to answer any questions, and Louis Nixon said that there had been too much talk already, and he would have nothing more to say.

MR. NIXON NON-COMMITTAL.

Lewis Nixon, when seen late last night, said that he could add nothing to what had already been said about the work of his committee. He was asked if he was correctly quoted in an interview yesterday morning, in which it was stated that an effort had been made to "put up a job" on the committee by returning its lists of gambling houses with some of the addresses changed.

"I have not read the interview," he said, and he was unwilling to look at a copy of it.

When pressed for a statement regarding the portion of it referring to the attempt to hoodwink the committee, Mr. Nixon said:

"That is true only so far as it is borne out by the statement I gave out in my second interview on Monday last."

"Did you make the statement that you hold the police and Chief Devery responsible for the conditions that exist?"

"I will not discuss that at all," answered Mr. Nixon.

CAPT. HERLIHY'S TRIAL.

Public School Teacher's Testimony Concerning the "Red Light" District.

The only witness examined yesterday at the trial of Police Captain Herlihy before the Police Commissioners was Henry Moskowitz, a teacher in the public schools and the Secretary of a sub-committee of the Committee of Public Morality. His testimony was largely a repetition of that given by Emil Fuchs at the session ot the day before.

He said that forty-four houses in the "Red Light" district were disorderly houses, and gave the address of each house. All the houses he mentioned are situated on Allen, Rivington, Stanton, Delancey, Chrystie, Eldridge, and Forsyth Streets, within a territory covering about five ordinary city blocks. He said that all the "Red Light" houses did not have red lights before them. Some of them had blue lights, and some white.

There was one house, he said, directly opposite a public school, from which women had spoken to him on several occasions.

HEARING ON POLICE BILLS.

Senator Stranahan Has Received No Application Yet.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Senator Stranahan, Chairman of the Senate Cities Committee, said this morning that he had received no application yet for a hearing on either the New York or the Buffalo Police bills. Until such applications are received he will not announce the dates of the hearings.

It is understood that the Democratic Senators are planning for a vigorous opposition to these bills, which are closely related to each other in provisions and purposes.

LIEDERKRANZ BACHELORS.

Clubhouse Prettily Decorated — Silver Shoe Horn the Souvenir.

The bachelors of the German Liederkranz, who call themselves the "Bachelor Circle," appeared in the rôle of hosts last evening, and entertained their friends. The "Bachelor Circle" is not altogether what its name indicates, for in its membership is a contingent of "wayward" members who have wronged the cult of bachelordom, but who are held in great esteem by their former comrades of singleness, and allowed to remain in good standing. Then, also, there are many associate members, and altogether the circle in one way or another is never wanting in numbers. Last night nearly all these were present, and, besides, the older members of the club, of guests a host.

The clubhouse was elaborately decorated in roses, with smilax and other trailing greens hung in festoons in the hallways, ballroom, and dining room, these being reinforced by palms and potted plants. According to their custom, the bachelors gave souvenirs to the women, this year a silver shoe horn bearing the inscription, "The Bachelor Circle, 1901." To the members of the Executive Committee President Hermann G. Friedmann gave a sterling silver knife.

The grand march opened about 10 o'clock, the President leading with Miss Anna G. Hupfel. Following him were these ex-Presidents of the club and their escorts: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Klenke, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Schaefer, R. C. Kammerer and Miss Kammerer, his sister; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brickelmaier, William F. Rudolphy and Miss Hattie Bossert, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Haik, Mr. and Mrs. William Forster, Col. Jacob Ruppert, Jr., and wife, F. E. Perkins and Miss Sadie Bergman, Emil Schwed and Miss Schwed, and Harry T. Eschwege and Miss Anna Scharmann.

During the evening the Bachelor Circle received a delegation of the young Arion and Beethoven bachelors.

Among those present were J. Wilson and Miss Wilson, Amos F. Eno, Charles Forster, Charles F. Heller, M. H. Hartman, Ashbel P. Fitch, Col. Abraham Gruber, C. H. Liebert, L. C. Raegener, Edward Scheller, Arthur J. Keller, Hubert Cillis, Francis Draze, E. Lansing Beard, Fred W. Brown, Dr. F. Krug, C. L. Peters, Julius Rohe, Fred Vilmar, F. W. Woerz, Oscar B. Weber, Julius A. May, Miss Adele Friedmann, Mrs. C. H. Liebert, Miss Sadie Troescher, Miss Frida Mohr, Miss Hattie Beck, Mrs. J. Henry Fisher, Miss Heppenheimer, Mrs. J. H. Duis, Mrs. M. J. Huber, Mrs. G. O. Rudolphy, Mrs. R. P. Palmenberg, Mrs. C. T. Palmenberg, Miss Tiedemann, Miss Heitemeyer, Miss Alice May, and Mrs. O. M. Eldlitz.

NATHANIEL JARVIS, JR., DEAD.

Was Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas in This City for Thirty Years.

Nathaniel Jarvis, Jr., who was clerk of the old Court of Common Pleas in this city for over thirty years, and for over a generation a familiar figure to frequenters of the County Court House, died yesterday at his home, at 62 East Sixty-fifth Street. At one time he was well-known as a Tammany Hall man, and was for some time a sachem in the society.

Mr. Jarvis was born in this city eighty years ago. His father, Nathaniel Jarvis, came from an old Long Island family, which had settled near Hempstead, L. I., early in the century. Mr. Jarvis was educated in the schools in this city, and after leaving them commenced to study law with the late John R. Brady, Judge of the old Court of Common Pleas, who was then a young man.

Mr. Jarvis entered into a partnership with Judge Brady as a lawyer, and began to practice law in the city with considerable success. In April, 1857, he was appointed a clerk in the Court of Common Pleas, and remained in that office until August, 1889, when he resigned. While he was a clerk in the Court of Common Pleas he became a defendant in a suit over the Colah estate, which attracted a great deal of public attention at the time.

Bomanjee Byramjee Colah was a Parsee merchant who died insane in New York about thirty years ago. He left an estate which was supposed to amount to $100,000. This estate was afterward placed in the hands of Nathaniel Jarvis, Jr., by the courts. Later on Prescott Hall Butler, ancillary administrator of the estate, brought a suit against Jarvis for $100,000, which he said he had not properly accounted for. Jarvis claimed that the money had all been swallowed up by injudicious investments, and fought the suit to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, where it was finally decided against him. Joseph H. Choate, who was counsel for the plaintiff in the suit, effected a settlement of it with Mr. Jarvis for $65,000, in December, 1889.

Before that, Mr. Jarvis had resigned from his position as Clerk of the Court of Common Pleas. He had been subjected to unfavorable criticism in connection with the Flack divorce scandal which came out in the Summer of 1889, and on Aug. 27 he resigned his position as clerk.

He married a sister of the late Judge Brady, and leaves two daughters and three sons, one of whom is now a clerk in the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. His wife died a few months ago, and it is said that her death caused Mr. Jarvis to fall into despondency and ill health. Up to last Monday, when he fainted and fell on the street while out walking, he had not been confined to his house.

Dr. Wheeler of Montreal Dies Here.

Dr. Thomas Brown Wheeler, a physician of Montreal, Canada, died suddenly yesterday morning in his apartments in the Murray Hill Hotel, where he had been staying with his wife and two daughters. He had been confined to his room ever since his arrival here on Jan. 7, suffering with an ailment which had long afflicted him. Mrs. Wheeler and a daughter started for Montreal with the body in the afternoon.

HOTEL MEN GIVE A DINNER

Twenty-second Annual Function Attended by 300 Guests.

President Tells How He and His Associates Go About Doing Good.

Hotel proprietors of the city, known collectively as the Hotel Men's Association of New York, following their yearly custom, gathered together as their guests last night at Delmonico's 300 of the city's distinguished men, to partake of the twenty-second annual banquet of the association. The dinner was no dreary function of stilted formality. The hotel men do not give that kind of dinners. With their guests, they gather to have a good time, and a good time they had last night.

Senators, Supreme Court Justices, Magistrates, ministers, politicians, purifiers, and a few plain people sat side by side, and swapped funny anecdotes continuously. Simeon Ford of the Grand Union Hotel presided at the dais table, behind which was banked a large stand of the National colors. At his right sat H. H. Brockway, and on his left Judge Rufus B. Cowing. Others at the table of honor were Supreme Court Justices Morgan J. O'Brien, David McAdam, Blanchard, O'Gorman, Bischoff, and Hatch, Surrogate Fitzgerald, Randolph Guggenheimer, Job Hedges, George H. Daniels, Cornelius Van Cott, T. L. Feitner, W. J. Fanning, and W. J. Hawk.

Others present were George C. Boldt, Police Captain James K. Price, John F. Carroll, C. A. Du Vivier, G. N. Vilas, James B. Regan, Magistrates Brann, Mott, and Zeller, Inspector Cross, Commissioner Sexton, Peter F. Meyer, Charles Frohman, A. Luchow, Mark E. Merrifield, W. C. Muschenheim, Judges Foster, Newburger, and McMahon, Sheriff Grell, Percival E. Nagle, Register Fromme, and Dr. Edward Bedloe of the Clover Club, Philadelphia.

President Ford said that this was the one day of the year when the landlords sat down at table and dined with the boarders.

"Everybody knows," he continued, "that the landlords get the first crack at everything and the boarders get what's left. Just look around and see if we look as if we played second fiddle to anybody. I claim that we are the fattest, best natured, best nourished, most virtuous and happiest lot of men in the community. We are not in business for mere vulgar gain, but for our health and for the good of mankind. We delight in going about doing good. When we do anybody we do 'em good.

"We have had another year of good business, and, in consequence, have been enabled to turn over quite a little money to our landlords and supply people. Not much of it has stuck to us. Nothing seems to get stuck on us except ourselves. I guess we must be too smooth."

Dr. Bedloe recited to the diners a lengthy poem of Conan Doyle's, about the daring deeds of Major Mahonet before Cremona, and received at the hands of Mr. Hedges, who followed him, an artistic roasting, in approved Clover Club style, that set George C. Boldt, who sat beside him, roaring.

Introducing Mr. Hedges, President Ford said that the speaker who would next address the diners was best known to fame as the tea brewer to a well-known reform official.

Mr. Hedges said that for five years he had been attempting strenuously to live down his tea-brewing reputation and had almost made an inebriate of himself demonstrating that tea was not his only and exclusive libation.

"I am very well aware that I am here to make an after-dinner speech in return for the dinner I have just had, but as it is the first thing I ever got out of a hotel keeper free I am going to go ahead and enjoy myself. I will admit that I have been in the reform business at so much per year, but outside of a simon pure reformer, no one on this earth gets more without violating the Penal Code than the aggregation of hotel keepers before me. [Laughter.]

"Not content with saving the country every four years and the State every two years, the people of this city have determined to save the city right now. This saving business is a great thing. I've been in it myself and know. There are always some patriots who are willing to save the municipality in times of distress. They divide themselves into groups of five and fifteen and they work up a popular demand for reform. It is the height of success in the reforming business to work up a great popular demand, and at the right moment to yield gracefully to it."

George H. Daniels said that Job Hedges was one of the most remarkable men of his time. "He carries a record," said Mr. Daniels, "in New York, of a politician without a party, and yet he has held more offices in a given period than any man before or since his time."

W. S. Hawk of the Manhattan Hotel said that he had been asked to fill the place of Dr. Van De Water, but that he had never tried preaching, except on the rare occasion when guests were practicing on tough beefsteaks in his restaurant, and he had endeavored to preach tenderness without much effect.

LEATHER MEN DINE.

Morocco Manufacturers' Association Entertained by Local Merchants.

Members of the Morocco Manufacturers' National Association, who yesterday completed their annual session here, were the guests at a banquet last evening at the Waldorf. It was given by the Glazed Kid Manufacturers and the Goatskin Merchants of New York. About 200 were present.

Those who were to respond to toasts were Henry F. Mitchell, Bird S. Coler, Theodore C. Search, Richard Young, William B. Rice, J. Parke Postles, Francis B. Thurber, and Frank W. Norcross. Mr. Mitchell, in responding to the toast, "the Morocco Manufacturers' National Association," went into an exposition of the objects of the association.

Letters of regret were read from ex-Gov. Roosevelt, Gov. B. B. Odell, and Oscar S. Straus. Bird S. Coler spoke on "The City of New York," and told of the size, power, and wealth of the city.

The Rev. Dr. D. J. Burrell took the place of Theodore Search, and responded to the toast of the "Perils of Prosperity." Speaking of the prevalence of vice in this city, and the attempt to uproot it, he said:

"There are a good many men in this great city who are well heeled, but half soled; lots of them well soled, but without any uppers. The government of this city is not as good as it might be, but thank God it isn't any worse."

Gen. J. Parkes Postle, speaking on the "Diamond States," commented at length on the industries of Delaware, and then referred to State politics in that State by saying, after enumerating the great men of that part of the country: "We don't know what great men we may yet send into the council chambers of the Nation. Addicks still lives; and he has a pocketbook."

William B. Rlee of Boston spoke on the "Necessity of a Foreign Market for Leather Goods." He commented on the fact that only 25 per cent. of the facilities for manufacturing leather goods in this country were being used.

Others who spoke were Richard Young, Francis B. Thurber, who said he favored the Ship Subsidy bill, and Frank W. Norcross.

BURGLAR SCARE IN A BANK.

Alarm Brought Police, but They Found Only a Sleeping Janitor.

Several scores of persons stood about in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street at 1 o'clock this morning, in front of the building in which is the Hamilton Bank, at 213 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, while a dozen policemen with drawn clubs went through the bank and searched for burglars that were supposed to be in hiding there.

An automatic burglar alarm in the bank rang into the office of the agency at 109 West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street at 12:45 o'clock. A messenger boy was at once dispatched for a policeman, and Policeman Glavin of the West One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street Station started on a run from the corner of Lenox Avenue. He rapped for aid, and a dozen policemen sprang into sight and followed. Janitor David Pender was asleep in the bank, but was quickly aroused. A diligent search was made, but no intruders could be discovered.

"That alarm is too automatic," said a policeman, as he dispersed the crowd that had gathered in the street.

Senator McCarren Out of Danger.

State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, who has been confined to his home, 97 Berry Street, Brooklyn, for several days, is reported to be out of all danger. The attending physician, Dr. Peter Hughes, said last night that Senator McCarren would be able to attend to his duties at Albany by Monday next, provided the weather is favorable.

GRIP ON THE INCREASE

Not Likely to Abate Before March, Health Officials Say.

Thirty-six Deaths in One Week Reported in the City—A Repetition of Last Year's Epidemic.

The weather yesterday was the most cheerful and enjoyable of the season from the point of view of the grip germ, and, together with the physicians, the druggists, and the weather man, it put in a busy day of it. The drizzle that started in during the morning hours was reinforced about noon by a mist that settled down over the city like a pall, delaying street-car traffic and upsetting the schedules of the steamers and ferryboats on the rivers and in the bay.

The weather was too oppressive for an overcoat, and those who went without this garment made of themselves inviting subjects for the grip epidemic which has New York in its clutches. In every street car and public conveyance there were the constant sounds of coughing and wheezing, and the drugstores were overrun for quinine and other remedies and preventives of colds.

The cases of grip continue to increase, and the officials of the Health Board expect them to go on increasing from now until March. Dr. Tracy, the Registrar of the board, said yesterday that the weather of the present Winter was typical grip weather, similar to that of the same season last year. From December to March last year there were 5,000 deaths due to this cause, and the rate of increase this year is about the same as last. For the week ended Jan. 5 there were 15 deaths in Manhattan alone and 36 for the entire city. It is expected that the ratio of increase will be kept up for several weeks.

Dr. Cosby, when seen yesterday, emphasized the necessity for people going to bed as soon as the first signs of the grip are manifested. Such precautions, he said, would mitigate the effects of the disease. The trouble with the grip, he said, was that it was apt to lead to complications.

Lady Francesca Hope was too ill with the grip to appear at the New York Theatre last evening. Other members of the theatrical profession who have been attacked by the malady are Adele Ritchie, Joseph Wheelock, Jr., and Edward Price.

The Rev. Dr. Morgan Dix and Sheriff Grell were reported to be much better yesterday. Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon, who, it appears, has been dangerously sick, was also mending, but the condition of Col. William L. Trenholm was critical last night.

Grip in Nassau County Clerk's Office.

MINEOLA, L. I., Jan. 10.—The Nassau County Clerk's office is very shorthanded, the attachés of the office being afflicted with the grip. First Deputy County Clerk Harry Starr was stricken, but returned to his desk after a few days' confinement to his home. Deputy Starr had hardly returned to duty before County Clerk Patterson was forced to retire. Mr. Vandervoort is also among the absentees.

SEEKS TO RECOVER SON.

Wife Disappears with Boy and Wants to Bring Him Up a Hebrew.

Habeas corpus proceedings have been begun in the Supreme Court by Stamatias E. Stamatello, a tobacconist of 1,364 Fulton Street, Brooklyn, to secure the control of his two-year-old son, Emanuel Stamatello. The action has been brought because of a difference of faith of the mother and father of the child, and the wish of each to bring the child up in his or her own faith. The father is a Greek Catholic and the mother is a Hebrew.

The mother's name was Ida Feinberg. Her parents would not become reconciled to the marriage. On New Year's Day the mother took the child and fled from her husband's home. Stamatello searched far and wide, but outside of a note left by his wife which said that she had left the city he had no clue to her until last Tuesday.

Then in his mail he found a note which said he would find his wife and child on the first floor at 12 Market Street that night at 11 o'clock. His wife was there when he called, and said that she would not return to him unless he agreed to bring his son up in the Hebrew faith. As she refused to surrender the son to his father, the suit was brought.

BIG DIFFRACTION GRATING.

Special to The New York Times.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 10.—The largest "diffraction grating," the invention of Dr. Henry Rowland of Johns Hopkins University, for breaking up compound lights into their separate elements for spectral investigations, is now being completed in the physical laboratory of the university, for the United States Naval Observatory, and will be used on the Island of Sumatra this Spring in observations of a solar eclipse. Six inches of ruling, which means 90,000 lines, 15,000 to the inch, is the largest grating attempted by Theodore Schneider, the expert at the university.

The diamond point frequently wears out or breaks, even in smaller ones. When this occurs the plate must be repolished, another diamond fitted into the ruler, and the whole process repeated. The new grating will be eight inches long, if properly completed. Four rough castings of the concave plate have been made in speculum metal, and these will be sent to Pittsburg for polishing. This alloy contains two parts of copper and one of tin, and will receive a very high polish. Only one grating is desired, but the four mirrors will be prepared in case of emergencies like the wearing out of the diamond.

The lines are made simply by the microscopic scratching of parallel lines on a slightly concave surface of highly polished metal. The simplicity lies chiefly in the explanation. The execution is more difficult. When it is understood that these little lines lie so close together that one inch includes 15,000 of them, this will be appreciated. The scratches are ruled into the metal with a diamond point moved by a delicate mechanism which has never been duplicated. Diamond after diamond is tried, until a point fine enough for the purpose is found. This alone often consumes many days.

TO CURB DISEASE IN MISSOURI.

Special to The New York Times.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 10.—To-morrow the Missouri Board of Health will meetin special session at Jefferson City for the purpose of outlining a plan to curb the epidemics of smallpox, grip, and diphtheria now rampant in Missouri.

The grip epidemic affects not only St. Louis, where twelve deaths have occurred in the last week, but various points in the State. It is estimated by physicians that at least 100,000 persons in St. Louis are now in the clutches of the grip and that fully 25,000 have been confined to their beds with it.

In the State the smallpox situation is very grave. Its prevalence is attributed to the returned Cuban and Philippine volunteers.

Much diphtheria and typhoid fever are prevalent in the cities. Bad water and bad sewerage are held responsible for their presence.

MANHATTAN CLUB NEW MEMBERS

The Board of Governors of the Manhattan Club held its regular monthly meeting last night. It was announced afterward that about forty new members had been elected. Among them were David B. Hill, Charles M. Preston, Elliot Danforth, Frank Campbell, and Judge John B. McMahon of Rome, N. Y.

The board passed a resolution that the club tender a subscription dinner to its President, Justice Charles H. Truax. The following committee was appointed to arrange the plans for the dinner: Charles W. Dayton, W. S. Rodie, John Hone, Perry Belmont, and Sylvester J. O'Sullivan. The date was left to the committee.

Carpenters to Receive 44 Cents an Hour

A regular rate of wages for journeymen carpenters of 44 cents an hour was fixed at the regular monthly meeting of the Master Carpenters' Association. The association has for many months been attempting to arrange a scale for journeymen carpenters. There were only three dissenting votes when the wage was fixed.

CASTELLANE A SCAMP, DECLARES LAWYER

Mr. Untermyer Says Count Tried to Defraud Creditors.

HEARING IN INJUNCTION SUIT

Affidavit by Bric-a-Brac Dealer Wertheimer Shows $280,000 Still Due on Account of $500,000.

The extraordinary purchases of art objects made by Count Boni de Castellane and his wife and the huge indebtedness incurred on the strength of the Gould millions to the London bric-á-brac dealer, Asher Wertheimer, were brought up in the Supreme Court again yesterday before Justice Beach on an argument to continue the temporary injunction restraining the Gould estate from paying any portion of her income from the property to the Countess Anna de Castellane. The suit was up for the fourth time on the original order issued by Justice Fitzgerald. Letters and affidavits from France and England, produced by Lawyer Samuel Untermyer, revealing the Court's utter dependence on "Brother George" to pay his debts, made a striking contrast to his utter personal inability to satisfy his debt to the London dealer, of hundreds of thousands of dollars, long past due. Mr. Untermyer, in a long argument, showed by affidavit that the Count between 1895 and 1898 had incurred an indebtedness to Wertheimer of over $500,000, of which there still is due a balance in the neighborhood of $280,000.

Some of the items followed others with startling rapidity, when de Castellane was purchasing articles for his new house, a reproduction of the Little Trianon at Versailles. June 24, 1895, he bought articles to the value of $104,000; July 1, $16,000; July 2, $10,000; May 27, 1896, $85,000, and Sept. 23, 1898, $180,000 worth. Various other heavy purchases between the first and last dates increased the amount to about half a million, the sum, as the attorney alleged, being but a small proportion of the Count's total indebtedness of about $4,000,000. Of the amount due to Wertheimer, $377,000, he said, was in drafts accepted. Among other interesting revelations, Mr. Untermyer endeavored to show by letters from de Castellane to Wertheimer that de Castellane on one occasion wrote joyfully to the bric-á-brac dealer that all had been arranged, and that funds would be immediately forthcoming for liquidation, these being followed by a note of anger that remittances had failed, with a threat of taking matters into his own hands and selling some of the Gould securities, which, he asserted, "I have a right to realize upon in America." A striking assertion of the art dealer is that of all the objets d'art the de Castellanes bought from him, only a few remain, the rest having been resold by them, with the money still owing.

When argument opened Mr. Untermyer appeared as counsel for Anton Dittmar, assignee of the sum alleged to be due to Wertheimer. Ex-Judge Dillon, Col. Edward C. James, and Charles C. Gardiner represented the Gould trustees. Mr. Untermyer began by filing Asher Wertheimer's affidavit, saying that he expected to receive other affidavits, which he would reserve the right to bring up later. Wertheimer gave a detailed account of the alleged transactions between himself and the Castellanes, in which he said he met the defendants June 24, 1895, through Mr. Stettiner, an art dealer of Paris, at his place of business, 154 New Bond Street, London. Wertheimer then explains how they told him they were making purchases for their new house. He averred that Countess de Castellane selected many of the articles for which drafts were given by her husband. The first transaction was a sale the gross value of which he says amounted to £20,800, in a list of items 1 to 6, which is given below. At this interview the art dealer says he agreed to accept £20,000 to be paid at a subsequent date, which the Count, as he shows by a letter, agreed to accept.

CASTELLANE'S MANY PURCHASES.

The next transaction was on June 26, 1895, when they again bought articles, as stated in No. 7 in the list. On June, 28, 1895; July 1, 1895; July 2, 1895, and July 6, 1895, they bought other articles. They had no further transactions with Wertheimer until May 27, 1896. Other sales were made Feb. 26 and June 18, 1897; Sept. 23, 1898, and April 21, 1899. The sales were made both in Paris and London.

In his affidavit, Wertheimer goes on to say that he agreed to allow the Castellanes a running credit, and shows letters from de Castellane on the subject, adding that the articles sold are all genuine, and that there is no ground for the suggestion that any are imitations, as Count de Castellane said after his relations with Wertheimer became strained. On a payment for $50,000, due on or before June 24, 1896, the affidavit relates that de Castellane requested an extension, to which he says he assented, on condition that Count and Countess de Castellane give their joint acceptances for the several amounts, then owing, the total, with interest, being about $251,000. After saying that some of the money was paid by installment, the art dealer declares that the draft for $50,000 was dishonored, but was afterward partly paid in cash and by two acceptances in 1897. After several transactions of this kind, the debt had been reduced by comparatively small amounts.

WERTHEIMER MAKES CHARGES.

"I deny that at any time," declares the art dealer, "I forced acceptance in the Count and Countess or that on the renewal of the acceptances other articles were sold to them at exorbitant prices. Acceptances were given voluntarily and willingly by the Count and Countess, the whole matter having been transacted through Charles Kennerley Hall of Paris, my legal adviser there, in conjunction with Mr. Bizot, the Count's legal adviser. The Count always represented himself to be a man of enormous means, though he stated a little difficulty had been raised by Mr. Gould, his wife's brother, as to the immediate provision of funds to meet this matter, which entitled." Certain items, the dealer said, he repeatedly requested the Count to resell to him at the price at which he (Wertheimer) sold them. This especially applies to the portrait by Gainsborough of Nancy Parsons. The Count stated that the Gainsborough was in his wife's bedroom.

"The pictures, with other articles, were," said Wertheimer, "have since ascertained, sold either to my brother, Charles Wertheimer, who has no connection with me in business, or to some other dealer, and that when he made the above representation and promise to me, the pictures had already been disposed of. As a fact, they have disposed of most of the articles purchased from me, very few of which are now in their possession."

Mr. Wertheimer's affidavit is sworn to before the United States Consul General in London on Dec. 29, 1900.

The list of items referred to by Mr. Wertheimer in his affidavit is as follows:

1. A fine console table, epoch Louis XVI., dove marble, enriched with beautifully chased and gilt mounts, "Genthiere."
2. A pair of old Sevres vases, turquois ground, decorated with classical heads in medallions.
3. A Louis XVI. entre deux, with large panels of old black and gold lace, with fine metal enrichments, surmounted by marble slab.
4. A pair of very fine old French silver Seaux.
5. Three grand old marble vases.
6. An old bronze equestrian figure of Louis XVI., on boule stand.
7. An old Sevres Seau, green ground, painted in compartments in flowers.
8. Two pairs of chased and metal gilt candlesticks, Louis XVI. period.
9. A cylindrical bureau in marqueterie richly mounted with ormolu of the Louis XVI. period signed J. E. Solon, M. E.
10. A pair of fine old metal mounted barometers.
11. Three arm chairs, six occasional chairs, and two foot stools covered with silk.
12. A set of three Celadon China vases, beautifully mounted with old French mounts, boy satyr handles, oakleaf festoons.
13. A set of tapestry furniture worked with flowers, vases, &c., in carved frames, consisting of four arm chairs, a sofa, and a screen.
14. A pair of large Louis XVI. gilt candelabra. From the collection of the Marquise of Lansdowne.
15. A Louis XVI. clock on marble pedestal, top formed of a group of figures and a pair of candlesticks of female figures on marble plinths.
16. A pair of gilt fire dogs, regence period, formed as sphinxes.
17. A pair of Louis XVI. inkstands of cannons and cupids.
18. A pair of Louis XIV. girandoles, cupids, &c.
19. A Louis XVI. gilt clock, sides formed of figures surmounted by a boy.
20. A sofa, cushions covered with silk.
21. A grand picture by George Romney, portrait of Mrs. Morton Pitt and child, less a pair of silver Seaux, returned.
22. Two consoles, Boule.
23. Two torcheres, Boule.
24. A picture portrait of Nancy Parsons, afterward Lady Maynard. From the collection of the Marquise of Lansdowne.
25. A dark blue vase, enriched with Louis XV. metal mounts.
26. A pair of Japanese vases, enriched with old French mounts.
27. A pair of square Rose du Barre jardinieres.
28. A pair of Rose du Barre, ground Sevres plates.
29. Two Louis XV. carved easy chairs covered with flowered brocade silk.
30. A pair of small Louis XV. sofas, borders carved with flowers. Seats and backs covered en suite.
31. Two circular carved stools covered with old French tapestry.
32. A pair of Louis XV. candlesticks of ormolu, with fifurees of boys.
33. A pair of Louis XV. metal gilt lions.
34. A large Louis XIV. Boule Armoire.
35. A Boule Armoure, smaller.
36. Two pairs of Louis XIV. Boule cabinets medallien.
37. A Louis XIV. cabinet in three compartments.
38. A large Louis XIV. Boule Console.
39. A pair of Louis XIV. Boule coffers.
40. A large Louis XIV. writing table.
41. A smaller Louis XIV. writing table.
42. A Louis XVI. Bonheur de Jour.
43. A Louis XV. ormolu clock decorated with figure of a female cupid's trophies, &c. Surmounted by figure of Time.
44. A barometer by Passement on ormolu case with Sevres plaque.
45. A Bonheur du Jour table, inlaid with Sevres.
46. A regulator clock enriched with scholls and mounted by a figure of Cupid as Justice.

WAS LIBERAL IN PROMISES.

One of the letters signed by de Castellane and dated from Paris, Dec. 26, 1896, announces politely the forwarding of funds from America, and in which he asks Wertheimer not to have a draft presented for payment until the end of January. April 29, when in London, de Castellane writes that he has made an arrangement with his brother-in-law by which Mr. Wertheimer's bill will be paid in eight days. It remained unpaid after that time, however. The Count next proposes to sell some fine objects of art when he returns, but in between comes the following notice of appeal to George Gould:

Now, after making an appeal to Mr. Gould and receiving affirmative replies, which were not followed by execution, I have decided to take my affairs into my own hands and to owe no one within a year. Therefore, I desire to get rid of certain furniture I own, and to sell certain securities, undivided between all the Goulds, which I have the right to realize on in America. This is why I start to America. I intend to return to Paris by Feb. 10.

In his argument for the Court to continue the injunction, Mr. Untermyer said the decision would probably determine the litigation, as the defendants, the trustees under Mr. Gould's will, had raised technical objections which, if sustained, would prevent the continuance of the plaintiff's suit. Mr. Untermyer, in a discussion of the objections, said: "The trouble in the French courts is that the de Castellanes have no property in Paris except their residences. The Countess owes no less than $4,000,000 and is insolvent. Some of the property has been sold by the Count de Castellane, and some of it has been bought by George Gould at prices in advance of those charged the Count. Nothing was ever heard of a fraudulent claim until these proceedings were begun, as I can prove by these letters. The Count even admits the debts and asks for renewed acceptances. In this transaction the Count shows himself as mean and thoroughgoing a scamp as can well be conceived. He keeps our furniture and sells it. He even has the audacity to say that five pictures are not from the collections to which they were alleged to belong when he purchased them from Mr. Wertheimer."

Mr. Untermyer argued that the Countess's allowance be cut down to $100,000 a year, which he considered ample while they owed so much, and presented an amended complaint to this effect.

In opposition Col. James held that Wertheimer is the real party at interest, not Mr. Dittmar. His main points were that the Court is without jurisdiction over the person of the Countess, and is without power to determine what part of her income is necessary for the support of herself and children. Col. James closed by asking the Court to dismiss the injunction, and let W

GRAND JURY READY TO INVESTIGATE BELLEVUE

Will Begin the Examination of Witnesses To-day.

More Nurses Resign and Dr. Stewart Is Instructed to Secure Their Successors.

The Grand Jury will begin the investigation of Bellevue Hospital to-day. It was believed that the Grand Jury would take up the matter yesterday, but this was found to be impossible owing to the congested condition of the Tombs. District Attorney Philbin said that the Bellevue matter would certainly be taken up to-day, although he declined to say whether the Grand Jury intended first to investigate conditions in the pavilion for the insane or the general hospital.

All sorts of witnesses will be called, and it is understood that the jury will inspect the institution. The District Attorney's office early yesterday morning served notice on Registrar Gleason to produce the records of the hospital, and shortly after 10 o'clock the books of Bellevue for 1900 were taken down to the Criminal Courts Building. The books, seven in number, include all the entries into the pavilion for the insane for the year.

In regard to the action to be taken by the Grand Jury Commissioner John W. Keller said yesterday:

"I shall welcome any investigation it may make, because I think it will follow the lines of my own investigation. For that reason I should like to appear before the Grand Jury."

It is stated that the books of the Manhattan State Hospital have also been sent for, and will be compared with the Bellevue records.

The Bellevue nurses are still resigning. It was reported yesterday that twelve more would resign. This will make, with those who have resigned and those who have been discharged, a total of forty-one. The stoop of the Mills Training School for Nurses was crowded with the departing nurses' trunks, which were being plied on an express wagon.

In speaking of the shortage of nurses Commissioner Keller said that he had instructed Dr. Stewart to get nurses wherever he could. He would not be tied down by the red tape of civil service where it was a matter of life and death. He said patients should not be permitted to suffer merely because of civil service requirements. Graduate nurses would be procured in the city to fill the vacancies.

Dr. Stewart yesterday discharged six of the attendants at Bellevue for being absent without leave. Three of them were men and three women. Dr. Stewart said that he would appoint a new night head attendant for the pavilion for the insane. Dr. Stewart also said that he wanted the assistance of the press and the public in his efforts to clean up things. He would like to have more attendants, and all those who addressed him by letter or came with recommendations would be examined as to their fitness.

The situation as regards Commissioner Keller and the Medical Board in relation to Dr. J. W. Moore's suspension remains unchanged. Dr. Moore is still suspended, and no action has been taken by the Medical Board.

Commissioner Keller said, however, there was no friction between himself and the Medical Board and denied that he had been ousted from a meeting of the board. He said that neither the board nor any member of it had shown him any discourtesy.

The Commissioner received a visit yesterday from Thomas W. Minnock, one of the principal witnesses at the Hilliard inquest, who was an eye-witness of the occurrences in the pavilion for the insane. Mr. Keller said Mr. Minnock repeated the story of what he saw and told of a man named Fitzgerald, who was in the pavilion and who was handed over to an attaché to be sent to Philadelphia. According to the story instead of being taken to Philadelphia Fitzgerald was taken on a car to Eighty-sixth Street, given a quarter, and turned loose, the inference being that some one pocketed the railroad fare.

The Commissioner said that he would investigate this case, which comes under the jurisdiction of Superintendent Blair of the Out-Door Poor Department. He will also look further into Mr. Blair's office relative to the complaints of blackmail charges by Banker George Crouch.

Commissioner Keller denied the story to the effect that a conspiracy existed whereby bodies were taken from the Morgue and buried under names of persons insured so as to collect the insurance money. He said the records of Bellevue's morgue would show that everything was conducted right there.

Commissioner Keller admitted that one of the members of the Medical Board styled Bellevue Hospital as a "whited sepulchre," as set forth in the report of Inspector Robert W. Hill of the State Board of Charities, made at Albany yesterday, but thought that this term was used rather hastily, as Bellevue had its good side as well as its bad side. The Commissioner received the report of Dr. Hill yesterday morning. Dr. Hill said that the report was only a preliminary one, and that a fuller report would be submitted after the new Superintendent had begun his work of reorganization and the State Board had an opportunity to see what is being done.

A new complaint by the firemen of Bellevue and others employed throughout the Charities Department was brought to light yesterday. A walking delegate of the Union was present and claimed that court proceedings would soon be instituted against the Charities Department for allowing men to work twelve hours a day. The union people are also fighting the Department and want the Commissioner to give the prevailing rate of wages. Some of the firemen have stated that inexperienced men, or pauper help, were put in charge of the fires of the large boilers, and that many times these men were intoxicated, and the ordinary regular appointee had to do the work of three men.

OBJECTS TO DAKOTA DIVORCE.

Hollisters of White Plains Again in Court—Wife Has Remarried.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 10.—The suit of Charles A. Hollister against Naomi Hollister, his wife, for a divorce was heard before Supreme Court Justice S. T. Maddox, holding a special term of court here to-day. They live in Mount Vernon. The wife some time ago got a divorce from her husband in North Dakota.

He now comes into court claiming that it is not a legal divorce, and wants it set aside and himself granted a divorce from her. He testified, and also a servant, and then the Justice took the papers, reserving decision until a record of the proceedings in the court at North Dakota could be obtained.

Since she obtained the divorce she has married Edward Valentine, against whom Mr. Hollister has begun a suit in the Supreme Court for $10,000 for alienating his wife's affections.

Water Company Will Dissolve.

Lawyer Thomas E. Pearsall late yesterday afternoon applied to Justice Dickey in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, for an order dissolving the Long Island Water Supply Company. The company's plant, which is in the East New York section of Brooklyn, formerly the Town of New Lots, which it supplied with water for a number of years under a franchise granted by the town authorities, is now a part of the Brooklyn water supply system, the city having purchased the company's rights and property. The company is now out of business and desires to wind up its affairs. A hearing will be had on Feb. 12.

Sentenced for Whipping a Child.

Aileen Lawrence, twenty-two years old, of 264 East Seventy-eighth Street, was sentenced to sixty days in the City Prison in Special Sessions yesterday for cruelly beating her eleven-year-old sister, Bertha. Dr. F. S. Gibbs of the Children's Society testified that he found more than fifty wounds, bruises, and scars on the child's body. The beating occurred on Dec. 19 last, the child said, five days before the defendant was to have been married. When Justice Jerome pronounced sentence, the prisoner fainted.

Actress Loses a $200 Purse.

Mrs. "Jack" Bloodgood called at the West Thirtieth Street Police Station last night to report the loss of a purse valued at $200, but which contained only 25 cents at the time she last had it. She missed the purse after leaving a cab at the stage door of the Bijou Theatre. The police will try to find the driver of the cab.

FIRE IN HORSE CAR STABLES.

Lives of 400 Animals Saved by Employes and Outsiders—Two Persons Injured.

Fire broke out in the stables of the Ninth Avenue horse car line, corner of Fifty-fourth Street and Ninth Avenue, shortly after 8 o'clock last night, and before the flames were under control the interior of the building was badly damaged. When the fire was discovered the entire force of stablemen, assisted by outsiders and policemen, ran into the stables and cut loose the 414 horses that were in the stalls. After the flames were under control one horse was found dead from suffocation and twelve were suffering from the effects of the smoke. Two of these afterward died. The fire started in a shed used for storing sand, and is supposed to have been caused by a defective insulation of an electric wire.

The building is a two-story brick structure, was built more than sixty years ago, and the beams and floors were old and dried out and filled with hay and straw. The credit for discovering the fire is claimed by nine citizens and four policemen. According to the officials of the company it is believed the fire was discovered by Edward Griffen, a "hitcher," who was standing at Fifty-fourth Street and Ninth Avenue. Griffen saw smoke coming from the sand pit and told "Starter" Timothy McNamara. The men sounded a large bell which called the night foreman, Dooling. In the meantime the smoke had been seen by Patrolman Van Buskirk, who turned in the first alarm.

The firemen of Engine Compsny 23 responded, and kept the fire from the portion of the stables occupied by the horses until all had been driven down the runaways to the street. While the horses were being turned loose other alarms were sent in, and Chief Croker and Deputy Chief Duane reached the scene of the blaze.

The fire communicated by means of an air shaft with the portion used for storing the hay and straw, and spread rapidly. The firemen had considerable difficulty in keeping the flames back until all the horses had been released.

Chief Croker took charge, and, after nearly an hour's work, announced that the blaze was under control.

William Baker, janitor of the West Side Court Building, opened the building and allowed the firemen to draw a line of hose upstairs to a side window so that they could play it on the blaze. Night Keeper Patrick Carroll of the prison closed the shutters of the prison windows. There was no excitement among the thirty-one male and nine female prisoners. Chief Croker announced that the damage would amount to $5,000. Several cable and horse cars were destroyed.

Max Link, thirty-seven years old, of 364 West Fifty-fourth Street, one of the employes in the stables, was overcome by smoke, and was removed to the Roosevelt Hospital. Valentine Schoenbacher, twenty-two years old, of 324 West Forty-seventh Street, fractured a leg while watching the fire by jumping from a shed on top of a pile of scrap iron. He too was taken to Roosevelt Hospital.

COLUMBIA'S CANE SPREE.

Freshmen Win Every Bout in the Annual Event—A General Scrimmage Follows.

The annual cane spree between the sophomore and freshman classes of Columbia University took place yesterday afternoon in the university gymnasium, and resulted in an unexpected victory for the freshmen. It also resulted in one of the warmest under-class mix-ups that has ever been witnessed at the local university.

The cane spree at Columbia is the institution which has superseded the old and barbarous car rush. The change was made through the efforts of the class of '99, and has prevailed since. The spree is held every year to decide the question most vital to the freshman heart, namely, the carrying of canes, for if they win they can sport their sticks to their heart's desire. The event is divided into three bouts, a light weight, a middle weight, and a heavy weight. Each bout is contested by one man from each class, and is fought in rounds of three minutes, with one minute intermission.

The contestants are given a heavy stick of hard wood, which they strive to wrest from each other. In yesterday's contest the bouts were fought as follows:

Lightweight—E. S. Whitin, 1904, defeated H. M. McKlintock, 1903.

Middleweight—W. C. Duell, 1904, defeated R. B. Bartholomew, 1903.

Heavyweight—J. R. Fisher, 1904, defeated A. Brinkerhoff, 1903.

After the contest was finished, in some way or other a dispute arose in the gymnasium between the two classes, which soon developed into a lively scrimmage. The crowd surged out of the building onto the campus, and there ensued a fierce-fought battle between the under classmen. The sophomores formed themselves into a solid phalanx and charged the broken lines of the freshmen, and drove them in utter rout. The freshmen, however, soon restored order in their ranks, and managed to meet the onslaughts of their opponents in more organized manner. The campus, wet with the recent rain, was soon churned into a reeking quagmire, through which the students struggled, and through repeated falls were quickly smeared with mud.

The contest waxed so fierce that the university proctors, although on the scene of action, were able to do nothing.

After the fight had progressed for about a half hour the upper classmen interfered and brought the fray to a close, and the late enemies shook hands and repaired to the dressing room and bath.

WOKE UP IN A CEMETERY.

Boy Tells Strange Story of Being Robbed and Spirited Away.

Louis Goldeurr, a sixteen-year-old messenger boy, employed by A. Zeleza of 123 Madison Street, returned to his home, at 1,728 Madison Avenue, last evening, after having been missing since early Wednesday morning, and told a strange story of adventure. The boy was covered with mud, and was almost fainting from exhaustion and exposure. The boy left home at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning to go to work. A couple of hours later his employer gave him $10 to go out and purchase supplies. He was sent to 39 Warren Street.

Louis states that he rode over on a Madison Street car, and that opposite him sat a young man, who eyed him closely. Louis says that when he left the car the young man followed, and that he proceeded a short distance after him until he reached his destination. As he entered the hallway at 39 Warren Street, the young man grasped him, caught him by the throat, and choked him, wresting his $10 from the hand in which it was clutched.

Then the lad says he lost consciousness, and woke up yesterday morning lying beside a gravestone in a cemetery. He thinks it was Mount Vernon. He at once started for home, walking all the distance. When he reached there he told his story to his mother. The family physician was summoned and diagnosed the case. He said the lad was suffering from exposure, exhaustion, and possibly from the effects of some drug. His condition is critical.

The boy's employer speaks highly of him, and states that he believes the lad's story. He says he has frequently been intrusted with much larger sums than the one he lost.

Ex-Russian Colonel Stricken in a Car.

Moses Plotz, formerly a Lieutenant Colonel of the Russian Army, who lived at 1,078 Madison Avenue, was stricken with apoplexy in a Madison Avenue car yesterday while going down town with Dr. Isaac Plotz, his son, and died in the East One Hundred and Fourth Street Station, where he was taken in an ambulance. Mr. Plotz, who was sixty-eight years old, had two medals for bravery, one received for services in the Turkish war and the other in the Polish revolution. He was obliged to come to this country during the latter years of his life on account of persecution.

Too Old to Work, He Took His Life.

Despondency, caused by an attack of the grip and the fact that he was too old to find employment, caused Louis Wood, a former dry goods clerk, fifty-two years old, to commit suicide at his home, 103 West Fourteenth Street, shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday morning. He had been out of employment for several weeks, and Wednesday night, in the drug store at 846 Broadway, he bought two ounces of carbolic acid. While his wife slept he went into the bath room and drank the poison. An ambulance was summoned, but Wood was dead before it arrived.

ALLEGED PLOT TO ROB INSURANCE COMPANY

One of Its Agents, a Doctor, and Two Other Men Indicted.

Many Policies, It Is Charged, Were Secured on Persons at the Point of Death.

An alleged conspiracy to swindle the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, which has its principal office at 43 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, was made public yesterday. The Hudson County Grand Jury on Wednesday afternoon indicted Thomas J. Kelly, thirty-two years old, recently of 57 West Twelfth Street, Manhattan; William Necker, an undertaker, and Thomas Martin, the editor of The Daily Dispatch, both of Union Hill, and Dr. Richard Jahr of Weehawken Heights.

Secretary and Manager Ernest Heppenheimer of the Colonial Life Insurance Company said that Kelly, while an agent of the company, had taken very bad risks on which the company had paid money to Necker and Martin as beneficiaries. Dr. Jahr was the examining physician of the company who certified to the good health of the persons Kelly insured. Mr. Heppenheimer and ex-Judge Joseph D. Bedle, counsel to the company, said they did not think Dr. Jahr had been guilty of a criminal intent, but had been careless in signing papers presented by Kelly. Dr. Jahr made a statement to the officials of the company and to Chief Murphy at Jersey City Police Headquarters. He was not arrested. Martin, Kelly, and Necker were released on $1,000 bail each. They pleaded not guilty.

Mr. Heppenheimer said that three cases had been found in which Kelly and the others had defrauded the company, and it was believed there were other cases. Mr. Heppenheimer, however, only gave particulars of one case, that of Robert Brennan, who was a brother-in-law of Thomas Martin. He said he feared a disclosure of the two others would be against the ends of justice.

The company had noticed a high death rate among the persons insured by Kelly, and refused to insure Brennan for more than $282. The policy was made out by Kelly for $484. When Brennan died, in October last, soon after the policy was insured, the company started an investigation of Agent Kelly's work, and soon afterward dismissed him and Dr. Jahr. It was learned that Brennan's father and mother had died of consumption, and that Brennan died of that disease after a lingering illness. Brennan had lived with Martin, and received the $282 as beneficiary. It is not charged that Martin was concerned in any other case.

Mr. Heppenheimer said that one of the men insured by Kelly had been in Bellevue Hospital shortly before the insurance was placed and died soon after. One case was so flagrant that the company heard of it and Necker, having reason to fear trouble, accepted a return of the premium. In this case the policy was for $1,000. In the other suspected cases the insurance was for smaller amounts.

One of the cases on which the indictments were found is said to have been on a man named O'Brien, in Howeth, N. J., who was hopelessly ill at the time and died within a few days. The company canceled fifteen policies written by Kelly on persons who have since died of lingering diseases.

Mr. Heppenheimer and ex-Judge Bedle denied reports that evidence had been found that the company had paid insurance on corpses removed from Bellevue.

Martin made the following statement concerning the charge against him:

"All I know about this case is that two years ago my brother-in-law, Robert Brennan, who had lived with me three years, took out an insurance policy in the Colonial Life Insurance Company. I did not know about it until my wife suggested that I be the beneficiary. Brennan had proposed that his sister, my wife, be the beneficiary. I laughingly said 'All right,' and paid no further attention to it. I understand Brennan was examined by Dr. Jahr, but I do not know Dr. Jahr. Brennan used to leave the money with me for the company's agent. Three weeks before he died he went to the hospital. The company got proof at the hospital of Brennan's death, and a day or two afterward paid me the money. I never gave Kelly any money. He once tried to borrow $5 of me after Brennan's death."

Necker also denied that he had been guilty of any wrongdoing against the insurance company. He remembered that he buried Brennan, and that the death certificate mentioned consumption. He did not recall the name of the physician who signed the certificate.

It is said that Kelly's true name is Thomas Waldron. He has appeared in several boxing contests without much success.

The Colonial Life Insurance Company is a comparatively young corporation. Its assets on Dec. 31, 1899, were $127,000. E. F. C. Young is its President.

CANNOT SELL ROGERS PLANT.

Stockholders Must Consent Before the Works Can Be Disposed Of.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 10.—From recent developments it would seem that had J. S. Rogers consulted his lawyers before he closed down the Rogers Locomotive Works and issued his demand of "first give me a $200,000 bond to take the works at the appraised value and then I will have them appraised," it is probable he would not have taken the action he did. The Katz Brothers, who have made earnest efforts to save the works, and who, when all else failed, decided to start up the works themselves, are satisfied they can make the shops pay. All terms had been settled when Katz Brothers, from their legal advisers, got notification that Mr. Rogers could not sell.

The Rogers Locomotive Company owns the shops. J. S. Rogers owns the vast majority of the stock of this corporation, but he does not own it all, and if he should sell the assets of the corporation unless under the forms of law and with the assent of every stockholder, he might render himself liable to heavy damages. Mr. Rogers, however, has caused a notice of the dissolution of the corporation to be published, though the corporation is not in a position to dispose of its assets in its own way.

What will have to be done under the law is to appoint appraisers and have them appraise the machinery of the works. When the appraisement is made Mr. Rogers will have to sell the works to the highest bidder and divide the proceeds among the stockholders pro rata, according to their stock. If this is not done, any one of the minority stockholders may go to court and have a receiver appointed, who will sell the works under the direction of the courts and divide the proceeds among the stockholders.

THIEF HELD ON HIS RECORD.

Anderson, Arrested on Suspicion, Identified as ex-Convict.

Howard Anderson, alias Andrew Andrews, said by the police to be a well-known English thief, was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday and turned over to Chief of Police Carpenter of White Plains, in which city he is wanted on a charge of robbing the Summer home of Charles W. Dickel, who keeps a riding school in this city.

Policeman Powers of the East One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Street Station, at 1 A. M. yesterday, arrested Anderson on the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad Station at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth Street with a large bundle in his possession.

At the station house the bundle was found to contain a woman's coat and two fowling pieces. In court Detective Frank Price identified Anderson as Andrews, who has an international reputation as a second-story thief. The detective said the prisoner had served 6½ years of a 10-year sentence for stealing $10,000 worth of silverware from the residence of a millionaire in Hempstead, L. I.

The Baltimore to be Reconstructed.

Orders were received at the Brooklyn Navy Yard yesterday authorizing extensive work on the cruiser Baltimore. The Baltimore has been at the local yard for several months. She is to be practically reconstructed and her main battery is to be changed from eight-inch guns to six-inch rapid-fire guns. The work will involve an expenditure of fully $500,000, it is believed, and will occupy about 400 working days.

Women's $10.00 Skirts at $5.86.

Made of double-faced cloth, gore style, twenty rows of tailor stitching—gray and brown. Just the Skirt for walking, skating, golfing. Made to retail at $10.00; our price $5.86.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

Both Sides 14th St. from 13th to 15th, 6th Av.

Women's $13.00 Golf Capes at $8.74.

They are made of fine worumbo cloth, large variety of colors, strikingly handsome plaid backs, hood and high collar, 30 inches long, made to retail at $13.00; our price $8.74.

The Macy Sale of Muslin Underwear.

This is THE sale of the period. The town's agog over it. No wonder. It includes every element that invites success. No use telling you anything else concerning quantity, quality, beauty, freshness and cheapness in connection with these goods. Those points have been thoroughly emphasized in former announcements. Every word applies as strongly now as then. Makes no odds what others claim, the real facts are plain—too plain for controversy—that

The Macy Prices Are the Lowest.

55c. French Twilled Flannels at 39c.

Five Hundred Pieces French Twilled Flannels from the celebrated Atlantic Mills, strictly all-wool, over twenty colorings to choose from, sold by others at 55c. per yard; our price 39c.

A Sale of Men's Trousers That Is the Culmination—the Acme—Of Various Remarkable Transactions Resulting in Unequalled Values

An aggregation of Trousers in the Annex. All of them are reliable, stylish and hence desirable. They were collected—chosen systematically, carefully and economically. The choicest products of several of the leading manufacturers. We secured broken lots and unsold balances at decisive concessions. But in no case did we accept a single pair for the sake of more price-cheapness. Intrinsic quality, workmanship of genuine merit and unmistakable style had to be in evidence before we'd talk "trade" with the maker. That explains the fresh, elegant and nobby stock you'll find here. Three quotations that fitly represent the character of the offerings:

$4.50 to $5.50 Trousers at $2.99.

Of splendid worsteds—absolutely all wool and heavy weight. Everything from pockets to buttons made for service.

$5.50 to $6.50 Trousers at $3.99.

Of fine domestic worsted, all wool, high grade trimmings, sewed with pure silk, cut in accordance with newest mode.

$7.00 to $8.00 Trousers at $4.99.

Of richest domestic and imported worsted, shaped and finished just like the ones made by exclusive custom tailors.

Men's and Boys' Unlaundered Shirts 31c., 38c., 44c., 68c.

We quote four prices—31c. to 68c. Of course, you'll buy the best your means afford. However, whether you decide upon the 31c. quality, or the 38c. quality, or the 44c quality, or the 68c. quality, you may depend upon securing more real Shirt value than the same money can command elsewhere. That's not just a random statement. We've bought Shirts from other stores for the sake of making impartial comparisons. The results warrant all we say—and more.

Men's Unlaundered Shirts, made of good heavy muslin, three-ply linen inserted bosoms, reinforced front and back, full-felled seams throughout, continuous facings, cut full size in body; at 31c

Men's Unlaundered Shirts, made of Williamsville muslin, three-ply 1700 count linen inserted bosoms, hand-worked buttonholes in neck-bands, reinforced front and back, full felled seams throughout, continuous facings, collar button protector and tie tape, open back or open back and front, sizes up to 18; at 38c

Men's Unlaundered Shirts, made of Utica Nonpareil or New York muslin, three-ply 1800 count linen inserted bosoms, hand worked buttonholes in neckband, reinforced back and front, full-felled seams throughout, continuous facing, collar button protector and tie tape, open back and open back and front, short and regular bosoms, sizes up to 18; at 44c

Men's Unlaundered Shirts, made in our own factory of Utica Nonpariel muslin, three-ply solid linen bosoms, hand-worked button and eyelet holes, linen neck and wristbands, open back or open back and front, sizes up to 18 in. We have manufactured and sold this Shirt for over twenty years, constantly bettering and strengthening it wherever possible; our price 68c

Men's Night Shirts, made of heavy muslin, 52 in. long, full width, neatly trimmed with fast color woven braids; all sizes up to 20, at 39c.

Men's Pajamas, made of good flannelette in dainty pink and blue stripes, warranted fast colors, sold elsewhere at $1.00; our price, 69c.

Men's "Webster" Collars.

The well known "Webster" Collars, made to our special order—all the favorite shapes, pure linen, four ply—making them strong and durable; improved bar-end buttonholes. They will wear as long as any of the standard 25c. collars. Our regular price is 66c. per half dozen; now offered at 43c. per half dozen.

Men's Winter Underwear At Much Less Than Regular Price.

You know why the price of these goods is less than half. Weather, weather, weather—weather! These springy and autumny days have hurt the manufacturers of Underwear. Here's a single instance of a sacrifice that indicates the losses they have had to bear:

Men's Fine White Cashmere Shirts and Drawers—made of finest selected Australian yarn, full-fashioned and regular made.

Regular price elsewhere, $2.50 | Regular price here, $2.19.

Our Price Now $1.19 Our Price Now

Lucky chance for all men who haven't yet bought winter Underwear and for those who are clever enough to buy now for next winter—if present needs are supplied.

Winter Dress Goods At And Less Than Half Price. Fabrics That Ranged From 49c. to $3.49 A Yard Are Now 19c. to 98c.

That's the way we'll get rid of all short lengths and depleted lines. Among the weaves are:—

Venetians, Tweeds, Henrietta Cloths, Homespuns, Crepons, Serges, Coverts, Armures, Hopsackings, All-wool Plaids, Silk-and-wool Plaids, Golf Plaid-back and Reversible Suitings.

Nearly all the pieces contain enough for either skirt or suit. The reductions are almost absurd—19c. to 98c.—our former prices, 49c. to $3.49.

Women's and Children's Rubbers.

Women's Sandal Rubbers, with straps at instep, 44c.

Women's Storm Rubbers, best grade, sold elsewhere at 60c.; our price, 47c.

Women's Storm Alaskas, arctic style, made like a rubber, at 99c.

Women's Arctics, best grade, button and buckle styles, at 99c., $1.99 and $2.63.

Children's Storm Rubbers, sizes 6½ to 10½, at 37c.; sizes 11 to 2, at 44c.

Men's Rubbers—(Annex.)

Men's Rubbers, "Goodyear" quality, mostly narrow toes, broken sizes, worth 90c.; our price, 24c.

Men's Storm Rubbers, best quality, all shapes and lasts, 71c.

Men's Storm Alaska Overshoes, lined with pure wool, 99c.

Men's Arctics, one-buckle style, lined with pure wool, light and heavy weight, at $1.49.

Men's High Cut Storm Arctics, three-buckle style, lined with pure wool, at $2.49.

Men's and Boys' Mackintoshes—(Annex.)

Boys' Pure Gum Coats, sizes 4 to 16 years, at $1.99.

Men's and Boys' Mackintoshes, gray and tan, guaranteed waterproof, value $4.00; our price, $2.98.

Men's Mackintoshes, black, blue and light brown, guaranteed waterproof, value $7.00; our price, $4.99.

Men's Mackintoshes, black, blue and gray, guaranteed waterproof, value $10.00; our price, $7.49.

Men's Mackintoshes, blue and black, guaranteed waterproof, value $13.00; our price, $9.99.

Women's and Misses' Mackintoshes.

Women's Mackintoshes, made of wool cashmere, one and two cape style, velvet collar, checked lining, at $2.99.

Better qualities at prices proportionately low, ranging up to $5.19.

Misses' Mackintoshes, made of wool cashmere, two capes, velvet collar, checked lining, at $2.39.

Children's and Misses' Garments.

Children's Reefers, large variety of materials, colors and styles, neatly trimmed, sizes 4 to 12 years, were $7.49; reduced to $3.98.

Children's Double-breasted Box Coats, lifted and semi-fitting styles, with or without capes, made of cheviot, boucle and kersey cloth, all the newest shades, sizes 4 to 14 years, were $8.49; reduced to $4.98.

Children's Long Coats, made of kersey and double-faced cloth, large variety of styles and colorings, trimmed and untrimmed, sizes 4 to 14 years, were $13.74; reduced to $8.46.

Misses' Double-breasted Paletots, semi-fitting styles, made of black and castor kersey cloth, bell sleeves, lined throughout with satin, sizes 12 to 18 years, were $21.16; reduced to $14.74.

Continuation of the Stationery Sale.

The values originally advertised may still be had. They, and the new items recorded to-day, are among the best of Stationery offerings ever made by us.

Satin and Linen-finished Paper, pound packages, 8c. Envelopes to match, 9c. per hundred.

Puritan Velum Paper, pound packages, 9c. Envelopes to match, 13c. per hundred.

Fine Bond Paper, commercial size, pound packages, 24c. Envelopes to match, 5c. per package.

High-grade Silk-fibre Paper, pound packages, 34c. Envelopes to match, 13c. and 14c. per package.

TRAGEDY IN BOSTON.

Suicide Kills His Wife and Injures His Mother and Child.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Sevante Anderson, a Swede, thirty-six years of age, shot and killed his wife and probably fatally wounded his mother and three-year-old boy at their home, 1 Sheridan Street, Jamaica Plain, about 6:30 o'clock this morning. He then killed himself.

Anderson's act is attributed to mental aberration, as the result of business troubles. He has been a resident of this city for several years, and has been considered a sober and industrious citizen. Up to two months ago he was employed as a sole leather sorter by W. F. Moshier & Co.

Taken Fatally Ill in Broadway Car.

Alexander Abrams, forty-eight years old, steward of the Hebrew Orphan Asylum, One Hundred and Forty-eighth Street and Amsterdam Avenue, was taken ill yesterday in a north-bound Broadway cable car when the car was near Broome Street. Policeman Dennin of the Broadway Squad removed him to a near-by store and sent to St. Vincent's Hospital for an ambulance, but Abrams died before it arrived. Heart disease was given as the cause of death.

WORK OF ANIMALS' FRIENDS.

What the Society for Their Protection Has Accomplished in One Year.

At the thirty-fifth annual meeting of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, held yesterday, President John P. Haines said that during the twelvemonth the organization prosecuted in the courts 515 cases of cruelty to animals; through its interference 3,835 disabled animals were temporarily suspended from labor; 3,036 horses, mules, and other large animals, disabled past recovery, were humanely destroyed, and 552 disabled horses and other large animals were removed from the streets in the society's ambulances; 28,314 diseased, starving, and homeless dogs and 64,276 cats were taken to the society's shelters; 1,938 lost dogs were restored to their owners, and horses were found for 319 dogs and 286 cats. During the year 1900 56,610 cases were investigated.

President Haines surprised even some of the members of the society by the statement that during the year 26,318 members had been enrolled in the Young Defenders' League, a youthful offspring of the parent society. There was great applause when the speaker referred to the fact that the society's exhibit at the Paris Exposition had received the grand prize.

William Fahnestock was elected Treasurer vice Charles Lanier, resigned.

TROLLEY STRIKES CARRIAGE.

Michael O'Malley, the Driver, Thrown Out and Killed.

YONKERS, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Michael O'Malley was killed in a trolley accident in Hastings early this morning by his carriage being run into by a trolley car. Thomas Kane, the motorman of the car, was severely injured. The accident happened a little after midnight. The scene is a lonely one, just across the Yonkers city line. It is usual at all hours of the day to travel at a high rate of speed on this section. The owl car left this city about midnight for Hastings. All went well until the dark spot was reached. Then Kane turned on the loop, and the car shot along at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour. Kane says he saw nothing in his way until the rays from his headlight showed a horse and vehicle approaching him and less than two car lengths away. There was a crash, and the horse and wagon and driver shot off to one side.

Conductor Alonzo Rossi and the passengers ran back and found Mr. O'Malley lying on the sidewalk. His death occurred a couple of minutes later. His skull was crushed in and his face cut. The horse lay in the roadway with his back and two legs broken. The wagon was broken to pieces. Meanwhile other passengers found Kane lying on the floor of the forward platform. He was badly cut about the face.

O'Malley lived at 120 Elm Street, this city. He was a collector and had been out on his rounds. He leaves a wife and three children.

Date Set for Dr. Kennedy's Retrial.

In the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, Justice Fursman yesterday set Feb. 4 as the date for the second trial of Dr. Samuel J. Kennedy, convicted of the murder of Dolly Reynolds at the Grand Hotel on Aug. 16, 1898. The prisoner made affidavit that he had neither money nor property, and Cantell & Moore of 320 Broadway were assigned as his counsel. Former Assistant District Attorneys McIntyre and Hennessy have been retained by District Attorney Philbin for the prosecution.

Cornell Alumni's Annual Dinner.

Cornell alumni in this city and vicinity are to hold their annual dinner to-morrow evening at the Waldorf-Astoria. There will be speeches by President J. G. Schurman and Prof. H. Morse Stephens of Cornell, Hamilton W. Mable, Henry Galbraith Ward of the University of Pennsylvania, the Rev. Frank D. Gamewell, Cornell, '78, conspicuous in the defense of the legations in Peking, and other well-known Cornell alumni.

The Wanamaker Store

Women's Suits

Here are startling reductions of some of the handsomest costumes that have been shown in New York this season. Best latest styles, all of them. Of various materials, such as are employed only in high-grade costumes like these. All the desirable colorings, and all sizes; in one lot or another.

These splendid suits should be in service. They shall not be permitted to linger here beyond their time. And their time's up now. As newly priced, the offering stands unmatched in value-giving — doubt whether it will be equalled at any time this season:

At $20—value up to $36 At $25—value up to $42
At $75—value up to $150

Second floor, Broadway.

Fancy Eiderdowns
Below Value

These warm and pretty flannels, with soft wool face, offer you excellent choosing from among forty attractive designs in colored stripes and figures on light-colored grounds.

You'll surely get satisfying service from them before long. Even if you didn't, at their present low price they're worth laying by for next year's needs—for, depend upon it, the makers won't make another mistake in over-production, such as the one which enables us to offer you now these Eiderdowns in

37½c quality at 25c a yard
50c quality at 28c a yard

Fourth avenue and Tenth street.

CORSETS

Two particularly interesting groups. One contains 800 corsets—P. D. and J. B. They are all of excellent coutil; in white, drab and black; medium and long waists. The prices regularly are $2.75 and $4. Reduced to $1.25 and $1.50.

The other is a lot of 500 Lillian corsets—in our opinion the leading imported corsets. These are of coutil, Italian cloth and sateen, in white, drab, and black. Long and medium waists. These are very moderately priced at $1.75 to $5. Second floor, Tenth street.

PETTICOATS

Some pretty styles of short petticoats are priced very low. They are of flannelette in neat checks or stripes; plain hem; yoke band; 25 cents.

Petticoats of black sateen are shown in 4 styles, at $1 each. Attractively made, with fluted ruffle; three of these styles are unlined; the other has lining of flannelette. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES

Pretty colored dresses. Inexpensive. For the very little ones, under 3 years. There's wide variety. All newest, most tasteful styles.

50c—Of gingham; in pink and blue stripes and checks; Mother Hubbard style; yoke finished with ruffle; sizes 1 to 3 years.

$1—Of gingham; small checks; white yoke of drawn work and cording; finished with hemstitched ruffle; sizes 2 and 3 years.

$1.25—Of percale; light and dark polka dots; made with waist; shield of white pique; finished with shaped collar.

$1—Boys' one-piece kilt dress of percale; in pink and blue stripes; 3 box plaits from neck in front and back; sailor collar with band of white duck; sizes 2 and 3 years.

$1.50—Boys' one-piece kilt dresses of percale; dark blue with white polka-dot; buttons on side; standing collar, belt and cuffs trimmed with white; sizes 2 and 3 years.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Men's SUITS
To Order Very Cheap

Choice of all good stylish patterns in various cheviots, worsteds and mixed cassimeres. They are qualities from which we have been selling sack suits at $30 to $40—a fair proportion of the higher priced grades. While this excellent collection lasts, which is not likely to be long, the price shall be $25.

Another group comprises piece goods from which sack suits have been made to order, up to this time, at $25 and $30—very moderately priced. Good choosing now at $20. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

The Book Sale

New features, and unusually attractive ones, too, enter into this notable book event. A publisher sends us his remaining lots of two-volume sets of standard literature. Not a large quantity, but varied, and interesting both as to character and as to the pricing. Well printed books and well bound. Published at $2. Priced now at 60c a set. Among the sets:

Count of Monte Cristo.
Tom Brown at Oxford and Tom Brown's School Days. Thomas Hughes.
French Revolution. Thomas Carlyle.
Charles O'Malley. Charles Lever.
Harry Lorrequer. Charles Lever.
Montaigne's Essays.
History of Our Own Times. Justin McCarthy.
Makers of Florence and Makers of Venice.
Homer's Iliad and Odyssey.

Two especially good offers in single volumes:

The Barrys. By Shan F. Bullock. Published at $1.25. Our price, 20c.

Cyrano de Bergerac: A play. By Edmond Rostand. Translated. 12mo, with illustrations from the play. Published at $1. Our price, 25c.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Expert Eye-fitting

Just as irrational to try to fit your eyes with a pair of ready-made glasses, as to attempt to cure your ailment with some nostrum bought on your own diagnosis. We'll take the responsibility for fitting your eyes perfectly, if you'll let our expert optician examine them—without cost to you, of course, for the test.

As much care is bestowed upon remedying your visual defects as in determining them; and the glasses we'll furnish you are as good as the best quality of silex crystal, skill in grinding the lenses, and in adjusting the frames and mountings can produce. Prices for glasses begin at $1.

Tenth street aisle.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

The Wanamaker Store

The Sale of BOYS' CLOTHING

You have surmised it—the rain of yesterday extends these splendid opportunities to to-day. Hundreds came, rain and all—it's so easy to get to Wanamaker's, rain or shine—but hundreds more waited until to-day. Those who came yesterday will not be sorry; but there is plenty still to choose from.

Best feature of the sale is the high character of the clothing. It is all our own carefully selected stock. Pure wool fabrics in every garment; and made up with the best tailoring that is done in this country for boys.

The story is so stirring that it well deserves this second telling.

Russian Blouse Suits—

For boys of 3 to 7 years. Smart, handsome suits that parents love to see on the little fellows—all beautifully made. These two groups:

At $3.75—Suits worth $5 to $6.50
At $5—Suits worth $7.50 and $8

and they are new and highly desirable suits that deserve every cent of their full price at the present moment.

Russian Overcoats—

For boys of 3 to 7 years. Of choicest fabrics, in most popular colors—

$7.50 to $10 Overcoats at $5

You can scarcely find better styles at any price.

Single and Double-breasted Suits—

For boys of 9 to 16 years. Handsome stylish suits of finest cheviots and cassimeres—

At $5, from $9 and $10

All highly desirable suits of the newest patterns.

Second floor, Ninth street.

Raglan Overcoats—

Raglans and Raglan Paddocks, for boys of 6 to 16 years; in Oxford, olive and green-mixed cheviots—beautiful coats, with every touch of grace and style. Two groups:

$11 to $15 Overcoats at $9
$16.50 to $20 Overcoats at $12

For 3 and 4-year-old Boys—

Just these sizes in Sailor Suits, Vestee and Russian Blouse Suits—that's why they are marked at to-day's ridiculous price—

$2.50 a Suit

They're all pure wool—remember that; and no pure wool suit of any sort can be bought for that price regularly. These are worth double and more. A few sailor suits in sizes for 11 and 12 years.

Boys' Reefers—

For ages 3 to 8 years. Of tan, Cambridge and brown-mixed frieze, with shield fronts—

At $3.50, from $6

Sale of JACKETS and Newmarkets

Stock-righting time before stock-taking. You know what that means—prices down to the bottom notch, to close out surplus stocks in a jiffy. Winter has been kind to you this year, and waited for the bargain sales; to the loss of makers and dealers, and your great gain.

This is how we mend matters; so that we can be quickly free to think of other things:

At $6—Jackets worth up to $15
At $10—Jackets worth up to $18
At $13.50—Jackets worth up to $26
At $25—Jackets worth up to $43
At $20—Velour Jackets worth up to $35
At $40—Velour Jackets worth up to $75
At $60—Velour Jackets worth up to $100

Also a group of smart and handsome Newmarkets—

At $25, from $30 to $43.50

These are best garments—best styles and fabrics—obtainable at their regular prices. There is nothing newer or choicer.

Second floor, Broadway.

The MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

The best under-garments that taste, knowledge, and skill can make gathered in the broadest variety ever attempted; and marked at the lowest prices which vast buying, economical handling, and prompt selling can make possible.

That's the White Sale story in a nutshell. Reason enough for the enormous selling.

These descriptions and prices of a few popular garments:

Night Gowns—

65c—Of muslin; yoke of cluster of plaits; V neck trimmed with hemstitched ruffle.

75c—Of muslin; yoke of fine plaits; square neck trimmed with embroidery and insertion.

$1—Of muslin; yoke of 8 rows of cluster plaits and hemstitching; embroidery on neck and sleeves.

Others at 38c to $8.

Petticoats—

75c—Of muslin; umbrella ruffle of cambric; plain hem, hemstitched.

$1—Of muslin; umbrella ruffle; or cambric; trimmed with torchon lace and 2 rows of insertion.

$1.75—Of cambric; umbrella ruffle of lawn trimmed with torchon lace and 2 rows of insertion and plaits above.

Other styles at 35c to $15.

Corset Covers—

25c—Of cambric; full cover, with drawstring at waist; neck trimmed with torchon lace.

35c—Of cambric; full cover, with drawstring at waist; round neck, trimmed, and armholes trimmed with neat embroidery.

50c—Of cambric; short cover to waist; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery and ribbon.

60c—Of cambric; full cover; draw-string at waist; front with 4 rows of insertion; round neck trimmed with torchon lace.

Others up to $3.75.

Drawers—

25c—Of muslin; plain hem, hemstitched; hemstitched plait.

35c—Of muslin; trimmed with embroidery and plaits above.

50c—Of cambric; deep ruffle trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.

Others at 15c to $4.25.

Chemises

25c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with lace.

35c—Of cambric; round neck, trimmed; hemstitched lawn ruffle and insertion.

50c—Of cambric; round neck trimmed with neat embroidery; cambric ruffle on skirt.

Others up to $4.50.

Short Skirts

25c—Of muslin; cambric ruffle and plaits above.

30c—Of cambric; gathered ruffle, hemstitched, and plain hem.

50c—Of cambric; trimmed with torchon lace and plaits above.

Others up to $2.75.

Second Floor and Basement

The Under-price Store

Sent to the basement store last night and ready, this morning, these lots of worthy goods at much less than usual prices. Many other attractive offerings, previously announced, are still in good supply.

Flannel Waists—16 Styles—

There are 7 styles at $2.50, though regularly $3.75 to $5. These are all of French Flannel, in solid colors, light and dark shades—some also in stripes and dots. Some plain, others elaborately plaited, velvet or embroidery trimmed, and so on. Six styles at $3, reduced from $5.50 to $6.50. All excellent, handsome flannel waists, in light and dark colors, made up in the best of recent styles.

Patent Bath Towels—

Turkish on one side, plain on the other. A little shop-worn — nothing more serious. Yet the price, which was originally 50c each, has now become 20c. Not many—they'll go quickly.

Basement.

Printed Denims and Cretonnes—

1,200 yards of the denims, taken from our fall stock—used for furniture coverings, hangings and screen panels,—the kind that sold until to-day at 25c a yard, now at 17c. About 1,000 yards of the printed cretonnes, also comparatively new, suitable for the same purposes as the denims, at 17c a yard, instead of 25c.

Fur Scarfs and Collarettes—

Bought a lot of Alaska Sable Scarfs at a decided bargain. They are still, for the price is $12 each, and at $17.50 would be very fair. To this lot is added these fully as good values taken directly from our stocks: Dyed Opossum Collarettes, with high storm collar, at $7.50 from $12.50; Double Sable Fox Boas at $15, instead of $20; Alaska Sable Cluster Scarfs at $4, instead of $5 and $6.50.

JOHN WANAMAKER

The Wanamaker Store

The Carpet Sale

Still hundreds of the Rugs made from samples of carpets. They help wonderfully in brightening up a house; some are quite handsome, the most modest piece will cover a thin place in a bedroom and maybe save a carpet. On the floor they are quite as effective as rugs regularly made. These cost only a fraction of the price. All are neatly bound. Sizes range from a yard to a yard and a half long, in Wilton, Axminster, Body and Tapestry Brussels. Now marked at

25c to $1.75 Each

Third floor.

The Important Sale of Parlor FURNITURE

A third chapter of the interesting story of parlor suites, sofas, divans, and odd chairs, all at exceptionally low prices. The preceding chapters have dealt with certain excellent grades of furniture, especially arranged for this occasion. This tells of the remainder of those goods with additions of high-grade furniture—samples—not originally intended to go into this sale. Thus the story grows still more interesting—the bargains even better than before—while the assortment remains as good as ever.

An excellent collection of Vernis-Martin and mahogany parlor cabinets, music cabinets, writing desks, are a feature of this offering:

Parlor Suites—

At $32.50, from $43—Three pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $37, from $74—Two pieces; imitation; velour cover
At $52, from $67—Three pieces; inlaid; tapestry cover.
At $52.50, from $70—Three pieces; imitation; tapestry cover.
At $65, from $86—Three pieces; imitation.
At $65, from $130—Three pieces; overstuffed; damask cover.
At $67.50, from $135—Three pieces; inlaid; damask cover.
At $75, from $100—Five pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $85, from $115—Three pieces; inlaid; damask cover.
At $90, from $120—Five pieces; imitation; tapestry cover.
At $92, from $125—Three pieces; carved frames; velour cover.
At $95, from $120—Three pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $95, from $155—Three pieces; mahogany; damask cover
At $100, from $140—Four pieces; imitation; damask cover.
At $110, from $180—Three pieces; mahogany; damask cover.
At $120, from $160—Three pieces; mahogany; damask cover.
At $125, from $153—Two pieces; mahogany; tapestry cover.
At $125, from $175—Three pieces; mahogany; velour cover.
At $150, from $210—Five pieces; carved; tapestry cover.

Parlor Suites—

At $160, from $203—Three pieces; mahogany; velour cover.
At $300, from $400—Three pieces; Empire design; damask cover.

Sofas and Davenports—

At $35, from $55—Mahogany inlaid sofa; tapestry cover.
At $35, from $70—Mahogany sofa; velour cover.
At $37.50, from $65—Sofa in velour; covered frame
At 60, from $80—Mahogany sofa; tapestry cover.
At $60, from $90—Mahogany davenport; Colonial design.
At $90, from $120—Mahogany davenport in velour.
At $75, from $95—Mahogany sofa; Colonial design; tapestry cover.

Fancy Parlor Chairs—

At $8.50, from $14—Imitation wall chair.
At $8, from $12—Mahogany wall chair in tapestry.
At $9, from $15—Mahogany wall chair in tapestry.
At $9.50, from $15—Imitation wall chair in damask.
At $9.75, from $18.50—Mahogany wall chair in tapestry.
At $11, from $15—Mahogany wall chair.
At $11, from $18—Mahogany wall chair in tapestry.
At $12.50, from $20—Imitation wall chair.
At $13.50, from $25—Oak arm chair.
At $13.50, from $18—Imitation arm chair.

Reducing LINENS
On a Rising Market

Sounds like a paradox, and a money-losing one, at that. But it merely illustrates the Wanamaker foresightedness, that led us to place huge linen orders far ahead at low prices, in anticipation of just such a rise in the price of flax as has occurred—is still occuring, too, by leaps and bounds.

But it's only a question of time when we, too, shall have to pay higher prices, so you'd best take advantage of the present day of grace, in laying in your household supplies.

To-day's news is very interesting. There are offerings of Moravian and Scotch Double Damask Table Cloths, Napkins, and Towels that deserve your especial attention:

Dinner Cloths—

Dinner cloths of the best Moravian double damask; a few odd cloths, priced thus:
2½ yards square, at $5.50, were $6.25; $7, were $8; and $10.50, were $12.50.
2½x3 yards, $6.50, were $7.50; $8.50, were $10; $10.50, were $12.50; and $12.75, were $15.
Dinner cloths of fine Scotch double damask, from one of the best makers; a limited number of patterns at these prices:
2x2 yards; $4; were $5.25.
2x2½ yards, $5; were $6.50.
2x3 yards, $6; were $7.75.
2½x2½ yards, $6.75; were $8.50.
2½x3 yards, $8; were $10.
2½x3½ yards, $9.25; were $11.50.
Napkins to match, 27 in. square, $6.50; were $8.50 a dozen.

Napkins—

95c a dozen—Bleached Scotch damask napkins, 17 in. square, with full selvedge edges; never before sold by us at less than $1 a dozen, and then only as a leader.

$1.80 a dozen—Bleached Scotch napkins, splendidly assorted patterns, 20 in. square; our regular $2.50 kind.

$2.90 a dozen—Bleached Flemish napkins; our exclusive designs; 22 in. square; our regular $3.75 kind.

Towels—

25c each—The "J. W. Special" bleached huckaback towel; damask border, with hemmed ends. This is the best 25c towel we know, and, at to-day's prices, is fully worth 35c.

Linen Store, Fourth avenue.

Fancy LINENS

These are the very practical pieces that give constant service as well as touches of daintiness. No housekeeper ever gets too many of them; and just now they cost much less than usual. Every piece pure linen.

At 40c a doz.—Finger Bowl Doilies; plain linen, hemstitched; 6x6 in.; regularly 55c.

At 50c each—Bleached damask Scarfs; 22x48 in.; regularly 75c to 95c each.

At 75c each—Bleached linen Scarfs, Squares and Tray Covers; regularly sold at $1 to $1.50.

At $1.25 each—Hemstitched linen or damask Squares, Scarfs and Tray Cloths; odd lots; regularly sold from $1.65 up to $2.50 each.

$1.50 each—Tea Cloths of bleached damask, hemstitched; some with drawnwork; a yard and a yard-and-a-quarter square; formerly $2 to $2.50 each.

At $2.50 each—Tea Cloths, finer than above; 1¼ and 1½ yds.; formerly $3 to $5 each.

At $3.25 each—Tea Cloths, hemstitched; double satin damask; bleached; with a row of hand-drawn work all round; a yard-and-a-quarter square; reduced from $4, $4.50.

Fourth avenue.

MATTRESSES

Only of the elastic felt sort, at this time. They're constantly growing in favor, and we're hearing naught but good of them from those who have bought here.

We're showing six grades now. The prices for full bed size, which will weigh 45 lbs., are $5.50, $7, $9.50, $10.50, $11,25 and $13.50. The three-quarter and single bed sizes are proportionately lower. All are made in one part, and are covered with best blue-and-white ticking.

CANDY

An old-fashioned sort—but made a little better than any you've ever known. "Buttercups"—pure caramel centers covered with crisp pulled candy. This quality sells regularly at 30c a pound. Here's a fresh lot that will be 20c a pound all this week. Basement.

Broadway, Fourth Avenue,
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

TO DROP ELECTION CASES?

J. H. Hammond's Resignation May Be Significant.

Attorney General Davies Says Deputy Hammond's Work Was Practically Completed.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—In connection with the resignation of Deputy Attorney General John Henry Hammond, Attorney General Davies to-day made a statement which has occasioned some surprise. Mr Hammond was appointed to look after the preparation and prosecution of election law violations in New York City. He was the complainant before Gov. Roosevelt when District Attorney Asa Bird Gardiner was removed on charges. When the Attorney General was asked to-day for the reason of Mr. Hammond's resignation he said that Mr. Hammond could not afford to work for the State longer, as he could make much more in his private practice. And then he added: "Mr. Hammond is a very bright young lawyer, and I regretted very much losing him from my staff, but the work which he started in to do is practically completed."

The work to which the Attorney General referred was the prosecution of the election fraud cases. It was because of his alleged interference with the prosecution of these cases that District Attorney Gardiner was removed. It will be recalled that a number of indictments against persons charged with election frauds were returned, and Superintendent of Elections McCullagh made the prediction that some of the offenders were quite likely to see the inside of a penitentiary. The impression created by the manner of bringing the cases, and the resentment which was manifested when District Attorney Gardiner was guilty of his alleged interference, was that all of the cases were to be vigorously pushed.

The resignation of Deputy Attorney General Hammond, who had charge of the preparation of the cases, and the statement of the Attorney General that Mr. Hammond had "practically completed his work in connection with the cases," have created a suspicion that the desire of the Superintendent of Elections to vigorously prosecute fault as strong as it was at election time. In fact, it is hinted here that Mr. Hammond resigned because he saw there was "nothing doing" so far as the election cases were concerned. Deputy Attorney General Hedges will have charge of the cases in case any of them are brought to trial.

TAX ON SAVINGS BANKS.

Gov. Odell Says the New Bill Is Being Put Into Shape.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Gov. Odell said this morning, in relation to the proposed tax on savings banks and trust companies:

"You can't draw a bill like that in a day. We are trying to whip it into shape now. I am quite sure that the bill will pass when introduced, because I hope it will be in such form as to commend itself to all interests."

CUT IN PRISON EXPENSES.

Superintendent Collins Says Convicts' Meals May Be Cut Down.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Gov. Odell's State Department retrenchment scheme is causing State Superintendent of Prisons Cornelius V. Collins very little annoyance. He takes the threatened "cut" calmly, declaring that the "shorn official lamb adapts himself to the appropriation wind." Superintendent Collins made this statement today:

"If the appropriation for the State Prison Department is cut down, I will cut down the distribution of the money to suit. I ran my department as economically last year as it could be in accordance with the law. I'll run it this year the same way. If I am cut down a third I will furnish two meals instead of three. If I am cut down two-thirds, I will serve one meal a day. If there's another cut, then I will furnish one meal a week, if that's all that can be done. I'll stretch the appropriation to the last penny. That's the only way to live up to the law. Do the best you can with the money you get, and they can't expect any more from you."

LEGISLATURE'S PROCEEDINGS.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—The Senate convened promptly at 11 o'clock this morning.

Following the introduction of bills, Senator Higgins asked that his bill to amend the charter of Olean be ordered to a third reading because of the fact that an election will soon be held in that village. Senator Hill asked that the Buffalo Grade Crossing bill be ordered printed promptly, so that fuller action may soon be taken, the commission desiring to complete the work before the Pan-American Exposition.

Senator Brown received unanimous consent to introduce a bill amending the fish and game law, consolidating the two commissions, the Forest Preserve Board and the Fish and Game Commission.

On motion of Senator Ellsworth, the Senate adjourned at 11:20 o'clock until 10 A. M. to-morrow.

The only business transacted in the Assembly was the first reading of bills, the session lasting about ten minutes.

Assemblyman Julius Harburger of New York attempted to introduce a concurrent resolution for the appointment of a joint committee, which shall prepare a bill, framing an amendment to the Constitution so as to limit the powers of the Governor in the removal of officers elected by the people, and providing for a review by the Court of Appeals of the action of ex-Gov. Roosevelt in removing from office Col. Asa Bird Gardiner, as District Attorney of New York County.

Leader Alids objected to the introduction of the resolution at this time, and, under the rules, it went over until Monday night.

The Assembly adjourned until Friday at 10 A. M.

TAX ON PERSONAL PROPERTY.

Assemblyman Smith's Bill to Compel Listing in Detail.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—The combined opposition to the barge canal scheme, through Assemblyman S. W. Smith of Columbia County, to-day introduced a bill to compel the listing of personal property. Mr. Smith claims that the barge canal proposed would only benefit big shippers, without aiding in reducing the price of commodities. His listing bill will reach the heads and the stockholders of these big corporations and add millions to the State Treasury.

The bill exempts from taxation the personal property of an individual or corporation to the extent of $1,000, in addition to all other exemptions now provided by law. It provides that the Assessors of each tax district shall annually, between May 1 and July 1, ascertain by diligent inquiry all the property and the names of all the persons taxable therein. For that purpose they shall annually, between the first and fifteenth days of May, deliver or cause to be delivered to each person residing within the tax district a blank form or schedule of personal property, in such form as shall be prescribed by the State Board of Tax Commissioners.

The persons to whom such blank forms or schedules are delivered shall, on or before June 1, make and deliver to the Assessors a statement in writing and in detail verified by the oath of the person making it, of all personal property owned or held by him or her on May 1 then next preceding, together with a statement of the value thereof, whether held or owned in such person's own right or as executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, agent, or other representative capacity, and, if owned or held in such representative capacity, the name of the beneficiary or real party in interest, and the location of said property, if out of the tax district.

Such statement shall include an enumeration of all municipal bonds, all stocks and bonds of incorporated and other companies, and the par value and the market value thereof on May 1 next preceding; also all mortgages upon property real and personal, the location of the property covered by said mortgage, and the name of the owner thereof; also all promissory notes and other obligations or evidences of indebtedness owned or held, with the name and residence of the debtor, the amount of the debt, and the accumulated interest; also all moneys on hand or deposited in savings banks or depositories, with the amount of accumulated interest, if any.

The Assessors shall not be bound by the statements contained in such schedules, but shall themselves assess said personal property at its full and true value, according to the best information they can secure. For that purpose they may subpoena the person making such statement and such other person or persons within the district as they may deem necessary to appear before them at a time and place to be specified to give evidence with respect thereto.

Any person who shall willfully withhold from the Assessors information as to any personal property owned or held by him or her shall forfeit to the people of the State of New York 2 per centum of the value of the property as to which information is so withheld.

WAGNER'S PERSONAL TAX BILL.

Non-Residence of Owner No Excuse Under the Proposed Plan.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Senator Joseph Wagner's bill relating to the payment of taxes on personal property by persons removed from the State has caused a sensation among legislators of both houses who have been tinkering with taxation problems for several sessions past. The bill is very short as to text, merely inserting nine words to the present general tax law and omitting nine words. These brief insertions and omissions, however, threaten to set all the legislative tax students in a wrangle.

The bill as a whole provides that the tax on property is to be levied where the property is located, regardless of the place of the owner's residence. This proposition is an amendment of Section 8 of Chapter 908 of the Laws of 1896, entitled "An Act in Relation to Taxation, Constituting Chapter 24 of the General Laws." The section, at the point where the change is proposed, reads:

"Every person shall be taxed in the district where he resides." The bill eliminates the words "he resides" and adds "where his property is located, regardless of the owner's residence." The remainder of the section is preserved intact until the sentence is reached reading: "When a person shall have acquired a residence in a tax district and shall have been taxed therein, such residence shall be presumed to continue for the purpose of taxation until he shall have acquired another residence in this State." At this point the words "or shall have removed from this State" are added.

Senator Wagner's avowed object in introducing the bill is to save to the State large sums every year in taxes on property within the State borders that are lost through the "swearing-off" process on the ground of non-residence. The text of the measure is believed to be so drastically constructed that there will be no chance for evasion through any legal quibble.

PUNISHMENT FOR KIDNAPPERS.

Bills Introduced at Albany Provide Long Term Imprisonment.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Senator Plunkitt has introduced a measure to punish kidnappers of children by imprisonment for not less than twenty-five years. In conjunction with this bill Senator Plunkitt says he is moved to act because of the dastardly crimes committed recently by organized gangs of kidnappers. He mentioned the Marion Clarke case in New York, the Cudahy case, and the threatening epistle sent to the Rev. J. P. Peters.

A second kidnapping bill was introduced in the Senate this morning by Senator Cullen. The act defines kidnapping, amends Section 211 of the Penal Code, and makes the crime punishable by imprisonment for the offender's natural life.

FERRYBOAT AND BRIDGE TRAFFIC.

Five Bills to Regulate It Introduced in the Assembly.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman McNamee of Richmond to-day introduced five bills regulating ferryboat and bridge traffic between sister boroughs and New York City. One prohibits the operation of ferryboats thirty-five years old, and provides that ferryboats shall operate between the hours of 1 A. M. and 5 A. M. for the accommodation of passengers and teams at least hourly.

Bill No. 3 is to compel monthly commutation by the issuing of a card or book, good for sixty-two trips; No. 4 fixes the rate of fare for foot passengers between the hours of 5:30 A. M. and 8 A. M. and 5 P. M. and 7 P. M. at 3 cents each way instead of 5.

The fifth bill is to compel railroad companies using or leasing bridges connecting a city of the first-class with another State, and which is used for freight trains, to operate across said bridge two passenger trains daily each way.

TO REFORM MUNICIPAL COURTS.

Two Measures Introduced in the Assembly to Improve Conditions Here.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman H. Wilson introduced a bill this morning which is intended to revolutionize the present New York City municipal court system. Within thirty days the Board of Justices of the Municipal Court are to appoint a commission consisting of three Justices from Manhattan and one Justice each from the Bronx, Brooklyn, Queens, and Richmond, who are to revise, amend, reform, simplify, abridge, and codify the laws, rules, practice, pleadings, forms, and proceedings of the Municipal Court, the clerks, officers, marshals, and attendants. The revision made is to be sent to the Legislature for action. The commission is to act without compensation.

A bill amending the Municipal Court procedure in New York City, so far as it affects bond executions and the selection of jurors for the court, was introduced by Assemblyman Weber. Section 1,359 of the Charter is amended so as to read that executions against the body shall not issue in any case where the action is commenced by the service of a summons only, unless such summons has indorsed thereon a notice that the defendant is liable to arrest and imprisonment upon the judgment demanded in such action, or unless the defendant appears and pleads to complaint therein.

TO IMPROVE STREETS HERE.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Senator Plunkitt today introduced a bill to amend Chapter 152 of the Laws of 1894, entitled an act providing for the improvement of the land and water front adjacent to Riverside Park, in the City of New York. It provides for an additional wharfage of 1,500 feet for the Dock Department at West Ninety-sixth Street, west side. At present only 700 feet of water front is available.

Assemblyman W. H. Smith introduced a bill for the widening and improvement of One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street west of St. Nicholas Avenue, in the City of New York, at a cost not to exceed $250,000. A similar bill was introduced in the Senate.

Assemblyman Price of Brooklyn, by request, introduced a bill providing that two-thirds of the cost of the grading and paving of the public highway or avenue known as Prospect Avenue, between Ninth Avenue and the old city line of the City of Brooklyn, in the Borough of Brooklyn, Kings County, be made a charge upon the City of New York at large, and one-third of the amount of the assessment on each piece or parcel of land within the district of assessment for said improvement be made a charge upon each such piece of land.

The lien of the assessment now on said property, and every part thereof, is canceled and discharged, and the land assessed relieved therefrom except to the extent of one-third thereof.

Common Law Marriage Bill.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Weekes of New York to-day introduced his "common law marriage" bill, which makes it compulsory upon the parties contracting such a marriage to have the ceremony performed by a regularly ordained clergyman. The bill, which is a most important code amendment, was passed in the House last Winter by a vote of 117 to 9. In the Senate it was reported out of committee during the closing days of the session, and was never called up for passage. Mr. Weekes feels positive that his measure will get through both houses during the present session.

Moose to Stock the Adirondacks.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Price introduced a bill to-day giving the Fish and Game Commission the right to acquire by gift, purchase, or capture a sufficient number of wild moose to stock the Adirondacl region, and that they may care for, herd, and yard the same temporarily, and liberate them in such regions at such times and places as is deemed most conducive to their probable subsistence and increase.

Boxing at Pan-American Exposition.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—Assemblyman Charles F. Brooks of the Fifth District of Erie County will introduce a bill permitting boxing contests in Buffalo while the Pan-American Exposition is in progress. The bill will provide for State surveillance of the sport, and a portion of the receipts is to be turned into the State Treasury.

For Divorce Trials in Open Court.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 10.—Assemblyman William A. Bennett introduced a bill in the House to-day amending the Code of Civil Procedure, relative to references in actions for a divorce, which will prohibit the granting of references in cases for an absolute divorce. This bill really provides for a trial in open court.

OTHER BILLS INTRODUCED.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—These bills were introduced in the Assembly to-day:

Mr. HOLSTEN—Establishing a public market in the Eighth Ward, Brooklyn.

Mr. W. H. SMITH—Authorizing the Controller of New York State to acquire title to the Hamilton Grange at Convent Avenue and One Hundred and Forty-third Street, New York.

Mr. HOLSTEN—Redistricting the City Court in New York City so as to make these changes: The Second District, omit the Eighth Ward; the Eighth Ward to be included in the Fifth District.

Mr. McINERNEY—Amending the penal code increasing the maximum punishment for the crime of bigamy from five to fifteen years.

Mr. APGAR—Permitting the appointment of a trust company as guardian for an infant with or without the will annexed.

Mr. KELSEY—His Women's Suffrage bill of last year permitting women who have the proper qualifications to vote for village officers.

Mr. MARSON—Adding a new section to the lien law by providing that a creditor may acquire a lien upon property of a third person or persons, partnership or corporation belonging to a debtor of such creditor.

Mr. McKEOWN—Permitting the District Attorney of Kings County to appoint a Chief Clerk at a salary of $5,000 per annum.

Mr. BLACKWELL—Prohibiting the construction of railroads upon Ashland Place, Brooklyn.

Mr. T. P. SULLIVAN—To restrict the manufacture and sale of cigarettes. The bill is the same as the one introduced by Mr. Sullivan for the past three or four years, which failed of passage. It compels every seller of cigarettes to obtain a tax certificate, first taking oath that the cigarettes do not contain any injurious drug, narcotic, or other deleterious matter.

Mr. S. W. SMITH—Repealing that section of the public health law appointing a special committee of the State Board to investigate the disease of tuberculosis.

The following bills were introduced in the Senate to-day:

Senator WAGNER—To adjust and validate an assessment for certain expenses incurred by the City of Brooklyn and New York in reference to the Jamaica and Brooklyn Plank Road.

Senator ELSBERG—Authorizing the Justices of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in the First Department to appoint an officer who shall be known as the Court Attorney and defining his duties. The appointee must be a resident of New York County, and his salary is not to exceed $5,000 a year. It shall be his duty to attend all hearings had before the Supreme Court in said department for judgment in uncontested matrimonial actions, and perform such other duties in connection with such actions as the Court may designate.

Senator HUMPHREY—To protect the stockholders in building and loan associations by forbidding the investment of funds of the association in anything but first mortgages.

Senator MARSHALL—To permit the Board of Supervisors in the Second Judicial District to equalize the salaries of the Supreme Court Justices so that they will conform with those paid to the Justices in the First District, who are better paid.

CONSUMPTION HOSPITAL SITE.

State Boards Approve the Location Recommended.

ALBANY, Jan. 10.—The State Forest Preserve Board and the State Board of Health to-day approved the site recommended by the Trustees of the State Hospital for the Treatment of Incipient Pulmonary Tuberculosis.

The site, which is located at Raybrook, three miles southeast of Saranac Village, contains 521 acres and will cost the State $7,500, which is about $3,500 less than the price asked for last week. The site selected is on the side of a hill, sloping to the southeast, admirably sheltered from the prevailing Winter winds and facing the picturesque Raybrook Mountain, a mile away. A little to the right of the proposed site is the group of the highest Adirondack Mountains. The top of the hill, which commands a beautiful view to the north and west, is a plateau which would be admirably adapted for tents during the Summer, in which the male inmates of the hospital could live.

Most of the property immediately adjoining the proposed site is State land. There is an abundant water supply. The place is accessible by means of both the New York Central and Chateaugay Railroads, the latter being a Delaware and Hudson branch.

DENTIST HELD IN DAMAGE SUIT.

Action for $10,000 by Patient Causes Arrest of Dr. J. D. Hyland.

Dr. James D. Hyland, dentist, of 246 West Forty-second Street, was arrested yesterday on complaint of Mrs. Beatrice L. Bagnall, who alleges that in March last an assistant of the dentist pulled a tooth for her, and that, as a result, she was ill in bed for three months. Mrs. Bagnall brought suit against Dr. Hyland for $10,000 damages. Growing out of this was the case in which the dentist's arrest was ordered by Justice Fitzgerald. The doctor subsequently was released on $2,000 bail.

Mrs. Bagnall says that when she went to Dr. Hyland's office a man who represented himself as Dr. Hyland, pulled her tooth, and managed to take out with it a piece of her jaw. He could not stop the bleeding, and she went away. Later she returned to the office, and the real Dr. Hyland worked over her for two hours. He was equally unsuccessful. Mrs. Bagnall says she then went home, and called in a physician, who relieved her, but a long period of illness followed.

MRS. AUGUSTA WEEKS DEAD.

Was Well Known in Patchogue for Her Numerous Charities.

The funeral of Mrs. Augusta Josephine Smith Weeks, who died on Tuesday last of pleuro-pneumonia at Patchogue, L. I., will take place to-morrow. Mrs. Weeks was one of the richest women in Patchogue, and as a philanthropist was prominent. She and her three sisters started on small salaries as seamstresses for a cloak house in Manhattan, and after serving several years went into business for themselves.

During their ten years in the cloak business the four sisters made twenty-six voyages across the Atlantic, visiting every country in Europe for the purpose of buying goods and obtaining the current fashions.

Mrs. Weeks was always liberal to the poor, and, in accordance with the usual custom, distributed gifts last Christmas to the needy. Mrs. Weeks leaves valuable real estate in Patchogue and Brooklyn. Of the four sisters, Mrs. Ruth N. Smith is the only survivor.

HOME FOR CONSUMPTIVE POOR.

Help Offered for the Proposed Sanitarium at Kushaqua Lake.

The first meeting of the Stony Wolde Sanitarium Building Fund Committee was held yesterday morning at the house of Mrs. George F. Shrady, 8 East Sixty-sixth Street, and the members listened to a description of the proposed building site and opinions of prominent workers in New York City who know the need of sanitoria for the consumptive poor.

The site proposed is at Kushaqua Lake, Franklin County, and on the grounds are a hotel and cottages, with a boathouse. The people of Malone, the nearest town, Mrs. James E. Newcomb, the Treasurer, said, were anxious to have the sanitarium in their neighborhood, and have made many offers of service. The plumbers, electricians, and other workmen will do work on the buildings free of charge; the women are willing to give their services, and one dry goods merchant has promised to give an order of $50 for dry goods. A number of pledges of money have been received, and auxiliaries are being formed through the city and State to raise the $100,000 desired immediately to purchase the property and inaugurate a fund.

Herman J. Biggs of the Board of Health told of 30,000 cases of consumption a year estimated in New York City by the Board of Health, and said there were undoubtedly many other incipient cases not reported.

Miss Lillian D. Wold of the Nurses' Settlement said that tuberculosis should be treated as an epidemic. She told of one of the nurses of the Settlement attending six cases of tuberculosis in as many families who successively had lived in a certain room on the east side.

Letters were read from Jacob Riis, James Reynold of the University Settlement, Howard Townsend, and Robert W. De Forest, telling of the great need of accommodations for poor consumptives.

FIGHTING AT WEST POINT

Congressional Committee Inquire About Cadets' Rules.

Cadet Bettison, President of First Class, Describes Methods in Vogue—Mr. Driggs Examines Him.

WEST POINT, Jan. 10.—The Congressional committee investigating hazing at the Military Academy devoted a large part of the day to an examination of Cadet William R. Bettison of Kentucky, who said he has been President of the first class for two years. The inquiries to-day were devoted principally to bringing out the style of fighting practiced by the cadets.

Cadet Bettison told of five fights he knew of in his first year, and of many others since. He gave the names of the participants in twenty-one of them, and added that, so far as he knew, the authorities had made no investigation in any case, and no one had been punished. Mr. Smith asked:

How do these fights occur?

If an offense is reported to me and I deem it is serious enough I call seven or eight men together, and if they decide that action should be taken the offender is called out.

That is the scrapping committee is it not?

Yes, Sir.

Is it a standing committee?

No, Sir, although I generally call the same men together.

Who are they?

Mr. Deen, Mr. West, Mr. Meyer, Mr. Spalding, Mr. Lynch, and Mr. Keller.

The witness, in reply to other questions, said that the better class of men were not afraid of being "called out," but acknowledged that the means of coercing a fourth-class man to do what he was requested was the threat to "call him out." The reason for the defeats of the fourth-class men was due generally to the better physical development of the upper-class men. Some of the men got so marked up that they had to go to the hospital, and if questions were asked any answers that might be made as to the cause of these injuries would be true. The witness went on to say that untruthfulness was not tolerated by the cadets, as it was considered ungentlemanly.

Congressman Driggs of Brooklyn took the witness in hand, and said: "I would like to learn a little more about this style of fighting." He asked several questions as to rules, conditions, duties of referee, &c., which showed that the Representative from Kings had a thorough knowledge of the fistic art, and the replies given to his many questions proved that Cadet Bettison had a rather hazy idea of the rules governing fist fights. Mr. Driggs asked:

How are the men dressed?

Stripped to the waist, wearing pants or drawers, and rubber-soled shoes.

No gloves?

No, Sir.

Under what rules are these fights conducted?

Marquis of Queensberry rules, two-minute rounds and one-minute rests.

Mr. Driggs smiled. He evidently saw that there was very little Queensberry in these rules. He continued:

I am going to use a fighting term, so that we can the better understand each other. Suppose a man is groggy when he goes to his corner at the end of the two-minute round, what is done?

His seconds try to revive him.

And if he is still groggy at the expiration of the minute rest, what is done then?

He goes on, Sir.

Well, what then?

If he's groggy, he does not last long.

Then it's a finish fight in every case?

Yes, Sir; but in some cases a man might break his hand or something like that, and according to how the fight stood at that time it might be called a draw.

You are a football player?

Yes, Sir.

What position do you play, may I ask?

Centre.

Now, then, when a man is injured in a football game is not the game stopped until the man is revived or a substitute provided?

Yes, Sir.

Yet in your fights here under what I may call "West Point Rules," you force a man to fight on when groggy, and it's just a bare knuckle fight to a finish.

Yes, they are nearly all finish fights.

Then you here hold fights of a brutal nature which the laws of forty-one out of the forty-five States in the Union have prohibited by law?

This was too much for Bettison, who had no reply ready.

Bettison then told the story of his correcting former Cadet Booz for improperly patroling his post, and acknowledged to Gen. Dick that this was one of the causes of Booz's being called out. He also explained that Booz had made an untruthful reply to a complaint made against him by Cadet Caples. Booz, he said, also made an improper remark to an upper class man when spoken to, and in consequence of all three causes he was "called out."

The witness said he had never heard Booz called "Bibles." He took occasion to tell the committee that he had never known a man to be annoyed for his religious practices or convictions. He had seen Booz coming into camp after his fight with Keller and told how he went to the Bristol cadet's tent and remonstrated with him for his actions in the fight. In reply to Col. Clayton, the witness said:

The reason that I myself did not fight Booz was that I was several inches taller and nearly thirty pounds heavier than he.

Did Mr. Booz object to fight, or did he make any objections to the preparations?

No, Sir, he did not.

Cadet Bettison was on the stand for over five hours, and prior to his being excused Chairman Dick asked him if he had anything more to say in a general way, and he replied:

I want to say, Sir, that the difference between hazing of a man here and at colleges is that in colleges freshmen are hazed by sophomores in a spirit of mischief, and sometimes hands are laid on him brutally. Here we never lay hands on a man except in the case of a fight. Our hazing is specifically for the purpose of making a fourth-class man realize the necessity of prompt and unquestioned obedience.

William F. Ennis, a cadet at large who preceded Bettison as President of his class, succeeded Bettison on the stand. He was rigorously examined as to certain threats he made about reporting former Cadets Hutezler and Albert for every transgression of the rules of the academy so that they would be discharged on account of demerits.

Ennis reiterated time after time that he felt they were unfit to stay at the academy, and acknowledged that he as Corporal was in a position to report their shortcomings in every detail. He said he did so in every case, but protested that he did not do them any injustice.

Col. Clayton, who is a graduate of the academy, gave the young man a chance to redeem himself in the eyes of the committee, and finally said: "I wish to ask this witness no more questions, but I would advise the young man to revise his ideas if he intends to remain in the army."

Cadet Keller, who fought with Booz, was made to tell the story of the bout between himself and the Pennsylvanian on Aug. 6, 1898. His story was in every detail similar to that given by him before the military court last month.

A CENTENARIAN'S DEATH.

Wish of John Magee that He Might Live in Three Centuries Was Gratified.

Born in the last year of the eighteenth century, it was the wish of John Magee of 40 Fleet Place, Brooklyn, to live to see the twentieth century. His wish was realized, for he lived until Wednesday night last, when his death occurred from the weakness of old age. John Magee was born Jan. 1, 1800, in Ireland. He came to this country with his wife in 1825. He taught school in this city and later was appointed sexton of St. Peter's Church, Brooklyn. He was later made sexton of the Church of the Redeemer, which position he held until four years ago, when he was retired on a pension.

When Mr. Magee reached the age of ninety years he declared that he would surely live to be one hundred yars old, and it was his hope to see the dawn of the twentieth century. All through the year 1899 he contended that the new century would begin on Jan. 1, 1900. He finally admitted that the weight of reason and opinion placed the dawn as Jan. 1, 1901. He then declared that it meant that he must live one more year.

On the first day of the twentieth century, which was also Mr. Magee's one hundred and first birthday, he was obliged to take to his bed. Mr. Magee never used tobacco, and was a total abstainer from alcoholic drinks. His wife died six years ago at the age of ninety-two years. He is survived by a son, a daughter, eleven grandchildren, and a score of great-grandchildren.

Sir Edward S. Symes Dead.

RANGOON, British Burma, Jan. 10.—Sir Edward S. Symes, Chief Secretary to the Government of Burma and member of the Legislative Council of India, who shot himself in the head while riding in a carriage several days ago, is dead.

CHINA SAID TO HAVE SIGNED JOINT NOTE

But Asks to Have Some Conditions of Peace Modified.

Prince Ching and Li-Hung-Chang Will Continue to Act for the Empire.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—It was stated in authoritative quarters to-day that the Chinese plenipotentiaries signed the joint note yesterday, thus concluding the preliminary stage of the negotiations. It was added that this important step was insignificant, compared with the difficulties to be met with between the powers themselves, whose clashing interests will have full play in the coming discussions. The United States' proposal to shift the seat of the negotiations finds no favor in the European Chancelleries. Three reasons are given for this opposition.

First—It is considered a great mistake to transfer the negotiations from China, where all the information is at hand respecting the situation, and the feeling among the Chinese themselves, and more especially regarding the conditions of trade and commerce with which the negotiations will be chiefly concerned.

Second—The United States' commerce with China is comparatively small when compared with that of several other countries. Therefore, the United States is not entitled to expect the negotiations to be carried on at Washington.

Third—The European powers have not felt sufficient confidence that the United States Government might not find itself influenced in the negotiations at Washington by the pressure of interests having an eye to the exploitation of China.

The attitude of some of the powers, moreover, is swayed by other motives in opposing the United States' proposal. Great Britain, for example, which seems to be the most strongly antagonistic, has probably taken into consideration the attitude of the United States toward the Clayton-Bulwer treaty.

The feeling here favors Shanghai, if any change is made, as it is poined out that Shanghai is the most important trade centre in China, and, moreover, that the Southern Viceroys, who are favorable to foreigners and anxious to further trade, could make their influence felt. Failing Shanghai, Berlin or Paris is more likely to be chosen. The enormous British interests are in favor of the choice of London, but it is improbable that the other powers will agree to this.

There is no reason to suppose that Russia will withdraw from the joint negotiations. The treaty she has concluded with China concerns her special interests in regions contiguous to her territories, but she has great political interests to defend, and further in the joint conference, which will bristle with obstacles to a speedy settlement, Russia aims chiefly at a wide expansion of her political influence. Great Britain wants to, roughly, open the Chinese Empire to her commerce, and at the same time strengthen her political foothold. The efforts of the United States, apparently, will be devoted to securing commercial advantages, while France and Germany will desire to increase their trade generally and their political influence in certain provinces.

The struggle between these conflicting designs will be bitter, and, in any case, will greatly protract the negotiations. One thing which Great Britain and the United States wish secured is the raising of the prohibition, which now exists in China, against foreigners acquiring landed interests, considerable extension of commerce being thereby anticipated.

The Ministers of the powers will be assisted in the negotiations by commercial advisers, while Prince Ching and Li-Hung-Chang will continue to act for the Chinese Government.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—A special dispatch from Peking to the Lokal Anzeiger late this evening says:

"The Chinese Court has abandoned its objections to the joint demands of the powers, and it is believed that Prince Ching and Li-Hung-Chang will sign in a few days. It is expected that a telegraphic authorization will reach them from Sian-Foo to use the imperial seal, which is under guard in Peking."

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—A dispatch from Sian-Foo, where the Chinese Court is situated, to a native newspaper, says:

"Some of the clauses of the conditions of peace are impossible of acceptance, consequently the Emperor and Empress and the much-troubled Court have telegraphed to Liu-Kun-Yi, the Viceroy of Nanking, and Chang-Chih-Tung, the Viceroy of Hankow, to proceed to Peking immediately and confer with the foregn Ministers and Chinese Commissioners in an attempt to secure a modification of the obstructive conditions. They have been instructed, if they are unable to proceed to Peking, to propose a suitable meeting place for the Ministers elsewhere."

It is reliably reported that Prince Ching and Li-Hung-Chang have telegraphed the newly appointed Treasurer of the Province of Chi-Li, Chung-Yu-Shan, to hasten to Peking to assist in the negotiations.

AMERICAN PROPOSAL DROPPED.

Opposition of Powers to Proposition to Negotiate Outside of China Causes Its Withdrawal.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—It is with evident reluctance and concern that the United States has abandoned its effort to induce the powers represented at Peking to select some country other than China in which to continue the negotiations for the settlement of the questions at issue between the powers and the Chinese Empire.

The proposition submitted by the President to transfer the negotiation of the questions of indemnity and revision of commercial treaties to some other place than Peking was designed to facilitate the conclusion of negotiations as a whole by separating those still requiring consideration and deliberation from those already determined. As some of the powers do not look with favor upon this separation, and others hesitate to decide the question, the President has deemed it advisable to withdraw the proposition and has directed the diplomatic representatives of the United States to so inform the Governments to which the proposition was addressed.

At the same time, desiring above all else to avoid delay in the progress of the negotiations, he has directed Mr. Conger to urge forward their early conclusion at Peking. The other Governments also have been urgently requested to avoid all unnecessary delay in completing the settlement of the Chinese question.

Looking beyond the statement of the situation as it appears in cold diplomatic language, which is not supposed to reveal anxiety, it is not difficult to find a very dubious condition of things at Peking, with the prospect for free action by the Chinese Imperial authorities very much smaller than it was a week ago. Minister Wu may have appreciated the delicacy of the situation to-day when he called upon the Department of State and remained an hour talking with Assistant Secretary Hill.

The unwillingness of the powers to remove the negotiations out of the atmosphere of the court, away from the chance of frequent diversions from the plain path to peace and a good understanding, may make all the difference between a settlement with Chinese autonomy and a settlement with partition.

85,000 CHINESE DRILLING.

PEKING, Jan. 10.—A Chinaman from Sian-Foo, where the Court is at preaent, says that within the city 85,000 Chinese troops are drilling continuously, and the majority of them are armed with modern rifles. He says that the feeling of the people there is bitterly anti-foreign, and that they believe that they can meet the allies in the open, fight, and defeat them.

The Ministers are considerably astonished over the Chinese grant to Russia of a concession north of the Pei-Ho at Tien-Tsin, as compared with the British and French concessions combined. The grant, according to the Russians, was made voluntarily for services in endeavoring to bring about peace. The Ministers think that the concession constitutes good pay, when considered in addition to the annexation of all Manchuria.

HEIR APPARENT PUNISHED.

SHANGHAI, Jan. 10.—Sen Wen Pao, heir apparent, was given forty bamboo strokes for not paying due respect to the Emperor. The Empress Dowager acquiesced in the punishment.

MORE GERMANS TO GO TO CHINA.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—Nine hundred recruits and twelve officers are going to Chinese waters to reinforce the German ironclad division there.

THE MANCHURIA AGREEMENT.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 10.—Official circles represent the Manchurian agreement as a necessary and temporary safeguard for the province against disturbances and in the interest of the Chinese themselves. The Novoe Vremya, probably correctly informed, sharply reproves the Paris Temps for taking its cue from English newspapers. It asserts that the conditions under which the Chinese administration has been re-established are reasonable, were known a month ago, and excited little comment. It believes that Great Britain and Germany interpolated a clause in the agreement, expressly excepting Manchuria.

Russia, the Novoe Vremya adds, does not interfere with France in Tonquin, and why should France block Russia in Manchuria?

The Novosti declares Russia is entitled to treat Manchuria as a conquered country, but will be faithful to her earlier declarations.

The local press of the Amur district reports the Manchurians as demanding Russian sovereignty and that Russia fight the famine.

GEN. LAMBERT DEAD.

Commanded in the Defense of the House of "The Last Cartridge."

PARIS, Jan. 10.—Gen. Lambert, Senator for the Department of Finisterre, is dead, after a short illness.

He commanded, during the Franco-Prussian war, in the defense of the house made famous by the battle painter, Alphonse de Neuville in the painting known as "The Last Cartridge."

KING CHRISTIAN TO ABDICATE?

Danish Minister in Paris Expresses Surprise at the Rumor.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—The Danish Minister here, J. H. von Hegermann-Lindencrone, in an interview regarding reports from Copenhagen that the King of Denmark, Christian IX., was disposed to abdicate in favor of his son, Prince Frederick, said:

"Such a story greatly surprises me, as the King, in spite of his years, is in such vigorous health that the little difficulties of internal politics do not fatigue him. He is still very capable of governing, but, of course, he may decide otherwise. I cannot say what he will do."

King Christian of Denmark was born in 1818. The heir apparent, Prince Frederick, was born in 1843. Among the children of his Majesty are the Princess of Wales, King George of Greece, and the Dowager Empress of Russia.

GERMAN AGRARIANS SCORE.

Make a Point in the Reichstag in Regard to Russian Corn.

BERLIN, Jan. 10.—The Agrarians scored another point in behalf of agriculture in the Reichstag to-day during the debate on the estimates of the Department of the Imperial Chancellor in procuring the reference to the Budget Committee of a resolution by which Russian corn consigned to Prussian Baltic ports will, in future Russo-German treaties, be obliged to pay higher freight charges on German railroads, unless destined for export over the sea.

Count von Kanitz, the Agrarian leader, emphasized that, while the Conservatives were constrained to support the movement, they still attached the greatest value to the maintenance of the friendship with Russia.

The Secretary of State for the Interior, Count von Posadowsky-Wegner, answering a question, said the meat inspection law would be put into effect as soon as possible. He explained that the necessary preliminary measures were difficult and comprehensive.

DESCHANEL URGES MODERATION.

Resumes the Presidency of the French Chamber of Deputies.

PARIS, Jan. 10.—M. Deschanel resumed the Presidency of the Chamber of Deputies to-day. He said he would exercise his office with perfect impartiality and hoped the deliberations would be calm and fruitful. The new century, he added, was likely to see profound transformations. All Frenchmen, therefore, must remain closely united. They should be more moderate in polemics and more tolerant and respectful toward others' convictions. They must have an active diplomacy, supported by a powerful army, united and respected, and by a finance carefully controlled.

M. Marcel Sembat, Radical Socialist, one of the Deputies for the Seine Department, introduced an interpellation on the influence of the Vatican upon the internal politics of France.

M. Waldeck-Rousseau asked that the interpellation be allowed to follow the order of the day.

The Chamber rejected this suggestion, but agreed to a subsequent request by the Premier that the discussion should take place next Monday before the debate on the law of associations.

The Senate has re-elected M. Fallières as President of that House without opposition.

URIC ACID or GOUT POISON

Physicians at Hot Springs use and prescribe

BUFFALO LITHIA WATER

in Gout, Rheumatic Gout, Rheumatism, Calculi, etc.

Dr. Algernon S. Garnett,

Surgeon (retired) U. S. Navy, Resident Physician, Hot Springs, Ark.: "My experience in the use of BUFFALO LITHIA WATER is limited to the treatment of Gout, Rheumatism, and that hybrid disease, 'Rheumatic Gout,' (so-called), which is in contradistinction to the Rheumatoid Arthritis of Garrod.

"I have had excellent results from this Water in these affections, both in my own person and in the treatment of patients for whom I have prescribed it. Of course, the remed

MR. GRIGGS TALKS ON PORTO RICAN CASES

Contends Congress Has Absolute Power Over Territories.

Declares People of Former Spanish Islands Are Not Joint Partners with the States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Solicitor General Richards resumed his argument in the Porto Rican cases when the Supreme Court convened to-day. Before taking up the line of his argument he made reply to a question by Justice White as to the meaning of the words "the territories," as used by Chief Justice Marshall in the Loughborough case. He said in that connection that the power of Congress over territory does not cease when it is organized and brought under the United States, but that he did recognize that there is a distinction in the control under the differing circumstances.

The Solicitor General then discussed at some length the different uses of the words "United States." The first use defined was that in which sovereignty is expressed, and in that sense he expected the words refer to the area occupied by the people who participated in the functions of Government. Another use was that in the legislative sense, in which sense the words were used to indicate the States and Territories as regarded by Congress for legislative purposes. Then there was an international sense in which the words could be used. In that sense the words indicates, he said, all territory coming under the dominion of the United States, whether organized or not. But while he recognized sovereignty over unorganized territory, he said it did not become a part of the union for legislative purposes until it is organized.

Discussing the constitutional provision of uniformity in the matter of taxation Mr. Richards said that provision was inserted to remedy the diverse and conflicting scales of the various States comprising the Union in the matter of the revenues, and was never meant to apply to a condition like that which now confronts the country in connection with its insular possessions.

Justice Harlan interrupted the argument of the Solicitor General as to the rights of States to ask if in the opinion of the Solicitor General Congress might prohibit trade between Porto Rico and the United States and might prevent the people of the Island from coming to this country. Mr. Richards said emphatically that in his opinion it had the right.

JUSTICES ASK QUESTIONS.

Later Justices Harlan and Brewer asked questions which brought out the statement that the Constitutional limitation of equality of taxing power lies only as between the States and not between Territories.

The Solicitor General said Congress could legislate duties for New Mexico or Arizona, provided vested rights of citizens were not impaired, which caused Justice White to ask if there could be such rights without there having been citizenship. The Solicitor further said he believed Congress could sell the Philippines whenever it saw fit. In closing, Mr. Richards said:

"As I have sat here and listened to these elaborate arguments whereby counsel, ignoring the plain and simple provisions of the Constitution, seek by a refinement of reasoning to induce this court to take away from the President and Congress the power to govern newly-acquired territory according to its nature and needs, a power which has been exercised from the days of the founders of the Republic by the Nation, I cannot but recall the impressive language of the great Chief Justice Marshall at the close of the remarkable opinion which he delivered in the case of Gibbons vs. Ogden:

"'Powerful and ingenious minds, taking as postulates that the powers expressly granted to the Government of the Union are to be contracted by construction into the narrowest possible compass, and that the original powers of the States are retained, if any possible construction will retain them, may by a course of well digested, but refined and metaphysical reasoning founded on these premises, explain away the Constitution of our country, and leave it, a magnificent structure indeed to look at, but totally unfit for use. They may so entangle and perplex the understanding as to obscure principles which before were thought quite plain, and induce doubts where, if the mind were to pursue its own course, none would be perceived.'

THE NATION'S RESPONSIBILITY.

"We have the new Territories. We are responsible for them—responsible to their people, to ourselves, to the world. We must provide them a government. May we not give them a government adapted to their needs? May we not in governing them carry out the solemn stipulations of the treaty through which was acquired sovereignty for them? The path of duty is plain, may we not walk in it? Is the Constitution a stumbling block, or a trap, caught in which we shall excite the pity of our friends and the derision of our foes? I refuse to believe so.

"The Constitution is no mere declaration of denials. It created a nation to which was intrusted the full power asserted in the Declaration of Independence, 'to levy war, conclude peace, contract alliance, establish commerce, and do all other acts and things which independent States may of right do.' When it conferred power it took care not to cripple action. It still remains the most perfect instrument ever struck off at a given time by the brain and purpose of man, under which we are armed for every emergency and able to cope with every condition."

MR. GRIGGS'S ARGUMENT.

When Mr. Richards concluded Attorney General Griggs addressed the Court. He said that his remarks were intended to be supplemental to those submitted in the cases involving similar questions which have heretofore been argued. His remarks would apply especially to the construction of the clause of the Constitution which requires duties, imposts, and excises to be uniform throughout the United States.

Before proceeding with his argument the Attorney General took up what he characterized as the misapprehension concerning his position on these questions. He said there were numerous erroneous statements in the brief of the appellants in the Armstrong case, and he quoted some of them, then giving his interpretation of his own remarks made in the previous presentation of the subject. Defining his position, he said:

"In the Goetze case I referred to the undisputed contention of the appellants' that 'The Government of the United States is one of delegated powers, and that its powers are not absolute and untrammeled, but subject to certain limits never and nowhere to be transcended.' I stated the position of the Government to be that the United States has been vested, not with all powers, but only with certain particular powers. These particular delegated powers are in some respects limited and confined in scope and operation, but in other respects they are entirely unlimited.

"I asserted that the contention of the Government did not imply possession by Congress of all unlimited and despotic powers in the government of territory. I declared that in this respect nothing further was meant or intended by the Attorney General than was meant by this Court when it declared the power of Congress over the Territories to be general and plenary, or when it declared, through Mr. Justice Bradley, in the Mormon Church case, that 'in legislating for the Territories Congress would doubtless be subject to those fundamental limitations in favor of personal rights which are formulated in the Constitution and its amendments, but these limitations would exist rather by inference and the general spirit of the Constitution than by any express and direct application of its provisions.'"

UNIFORMITY OF TAXES.

Taking up the question of taxes, the Attorney General contended that the Constitution does not provide for absolute uniformity of duties under all circumstances, and that the uniformity clause of the Constitution refers to the States and not to the Territories. In support of this latter point he said:

"The States, by the compact of submission to the Government organized under the Constitution, were to stand on a perfect equality with each other. The Congress was forbidden to exercise any discrimination between the States or their several ports.

"As to the Territories, no such compact was made. The full power of taxation was conferred on Congress along with the power to govern them, and in the exercise of the power Congress possesses unrestricted discretion, both as to the subjects of taxation and the places where it shall be levied and those where it shall not be levied.

"As between the different Territories, there is no compact in favor of uniformity. Such uniformity is not essential for the protection of the States as between each other, because the Territories are the common property of all of the States, and whatever is done as to territorial taxation is done by the authority of the States and for their equal benefit.

"Congress ought to possess, and we contend does possess, the power to vary its system of taxation according to the location, conditions, and circumstances of the different Territories. Otherwise, not only will the Government be embarrassed and hampered, but actual injustice will be done to some sections of our possessions."

The power to govern territory, Mr. Griggs said, is expressly conferred by the Constitution. This power was given without limitation, and there was no reservation of power in the people of the Territories, though there is in the people of the States.

"On the subject of the government of the territory of the United States," he continued, "the States reserved nothing; they granted the power to make all needful rules and regulations respecting it."

POWERS OF CONGRESS.

Then he drew the inference that the power to govern territory, which is absolutely conferred upon Congress, includes the power to tax either by direct or indirect methods. This right was absolute, but not despotic, and Mr. Griggs contended that it included the constitutional right to lay duties on merchandise imported into the United States from its insular possessions. He contended that such a proceeding does not violate the uniformity clause, and laid down the following general proposition:

"There is no principle of inherent justice or personal rights at stake. It is a pure matter of geographical equality. There is no question of arbitrary or despotic power such as counsel has imagined. We find power in the Constitution, not outside it nor beyond it, nor contrary to it." Defining his position more specifically, he said:

"Direct taxes must be laid on all the States alike; none may be exempted. They may be, but they need not be, laid on the territorial possessions. In the same way we contend that indirect taxes must be uniformly imposed throughout the States which compose the Union; that they may be extended, but do not need to be extended, to the territorial possessions.

"The laws, the administration, and the revenues of the Territories are subject to the absolute control of Congress. Congress may repeal the whole form of Government existing in a Territory; may destroy the Legislature, vacate all the offices, and take over all the public funds and absorb them into the common Treasury. It may appropriate out of the Federal Treasury all the money necessary to carry on a territorial government, omitting all local taxation. We must not forget that 'Territory belonging to the United States' is the common property of the United States, and is to be administered at the common expense for the common benefit of the States united, who jointly, as a governing entity, own it."

Referring to the acquisition of Porto Rico and the Philippines, Mr. Griggs said: "The inhabitants of the islands are not joint partners with the States in the transaction. The islands are territory belonging to the United States, not a part of the United States. The islands were the things acquired by the treaty; the United States were the party who acquired them, and to whom they belong. The owner and the thing owned are not the same."

STATUS OF PORTO RICO.

Upon the point that laws of Congress do not extend in operations to territory, Mr. Griggs said that many instances of legislation show that Congress has always considered "something more than the term 'United States' to be necessary when it designed statute to extend to territory.

The Attorney General cited authorities to show that internal revenue laws have not been universal in application in the history of the country, and concluded that "while Congress has provided throughout the United States and its Territories for the enumeration upon which direct taxes have been apportioned, it never seems to have been supposed that such taxes must be levied beyond the States or apportioned to the Territories unless Congress saw fit so to provide."

"Barring the stipulations of treaty and the construction of personal rights, there is no difference between the status of Porto Rico and Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Congress has the right to govern and tax and alienate any of its territory, and should this country be overcome by war it might be the wisest course, and no one could criticise the right of the United States to withdraw its sovereignty from any of its territory.

"It must not be taken that every act may be repealed by another act; that every treaty may be repealed by another treaty; an act which grants vested rights cannot be repealed by the simple passage of another act. No one will contend that Congress may pass an act admitting a State, and then may repeal that law and cast out the State.

"How Congress may deal with the Territories is a political question under the Constitution." Under such widely varying conditions as exist in this vast country, Congress has a large discretion to create a government which will meet the varying conditions.

"There is a vital question here. If we cannot govern the peoples of new Territories according to their customs, then this country will not take any territory which is not capable of government, except under the laws of the Union as it now exists.

RIGHT TO GOVERN TERRITORIES.

"The right to govern Territories is an inherent right, not an implied one. It is in the Constitution. So is the power of Congress to tax, with the three limitations which are provided. Congress may even choose the articles which may be taxed. Porto Rico's tariff is of the local kind; for all revenues derived from imports are allowed to be taken by the people for the support of the Government. Never before was there such liberality on the part of a Government."

The Attorney General argued that since the terms "throughout the United States" were used, both as providing for the election of Presidential Electors and for uniformity of taxation, the same interpretation should be given to the expression, thus showing that Congress intended that there should be uniformity between the States alone.

While the Attorney General was discussing the rights of Congress to levy taxes, Justice Brewer interrupted to ask if, in the opinion of the Attorney General, it was in the spirit and letter of the Constitution to have one tariff rate in the States and another in the Territories. Mr. Griggs was emphatic in his belief that it was.

Justice White stated a case, viz.: The setting aside of a free port on the Atlantic seaboard through which goods might be distributed to the States, and asked if that might be done. The Attorney General said with such a port in a Territory it might, but that it would be an abuse of power.

Justice Harlan returned to a point he had brought into the Solicitor General's address, the right to prohibit trade between the Islands and the States. The Attorney General held this was in the absolute power of Congress. By creating Indian reservations and by reserving islands in the North Pacific, the Government, he said, had shown that it could prohibit traffic and the movement of persons whenever it saw fit.

THE PRESIDENT'S POWERS.

Referring to the President's right of exercising the legislative function, Mr. Griggs said: "When, as Commander-in-Chief, he exercises government over conquered territory, he has, by the undoubted law of nations, the right not only to govern, but to make laws for the territory so occupied. The legislative functions thus exercised are not a part of the legislative power conferred by the Constitution upon Congress, and have no relation to it. They are merely incidents under the public law of belligerent right, vested by the Constitution in the President as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy. They are not unconstitutional, but are exercised by virtue of the Constitution; not by any express clause which confers them, but are implied in the functions and duties of the Commander-in-chief."

Attorney General Griggs had not concluded when adjournment was had. He will continue to-morrow and will be followed by ex-Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle.

Smallpox Scare in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 10.—A special from Madison says the law school of the Wisconsin University was closed to-day on account of a smallpox scare. The order was issued on account of one of the students being stricken with the disease. Over 300 students were exposed. It is feared if the disease continues to spread the whole university may be closed.

Mr. Carrack Rallies.

BUFFALO, Jan. 10.—Bart M. Carrick, the New York contractor, who has lain in the hospital for several days, the victim of some disease that blotted out his memory, rallied last night and set all doubts at rest concerning his identity. As yet the reassertion of memory is only partial.

RIVER AND HARBOR BILL IN THE HOUSE

Mr. Cushman of Washington Tells Where the Money Goes.

By a System of Charts Shows that States of Members of the Committee Get the Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The general debate on the River and Harbor bill continued in the House to-day until 4 o'clock, when the death of Representative Clarke of New Hampshire was announced and the House adjourned out of respect to his memory. The features of the debate to-day were the speeches of Mr. Hepburn (Rep., Iowa,) and Mr. Cushman, (Rep., Washington,) attacking the bill.

Mr. Hepburn in his speech complained of the enormous sums appropriated for purely local and State improvements.

"I understand," said Mr. Hepburn, "that some gentlemen here are getting their backs up because a gentleman is proposing to exploit the manner in which the States of members of the committee are taken care of in this bill. What are you complaining of?" he asked, addressing the members of the committee. "The notoriety of the act or the act itself?"

Mr. Hepburn and Mr. W. A. Smith (Rep., Mich.,) had a sharp exchange, in which personalities were bandied back and forth. Many of Mr. Hepburn's criticisms were aimed at the undue amounts which the State of Michigan received, and this fact aroused the resentment of the Michigan member.

Mr. Hepburn also assailed the policy of the River and Harbor Committee in deepening the harbor to meet the draught of some ship which some freak shipbuilder saw fit to build. Because a Scotch shipbuilding firm was building a ship to draw 34 feet the last River and Harbor bill decided to increase the channel in New York Harbor to 40 feet; now this bill proposed to deepen the channel at Boston Harbor. Next year Philadelphia would demand deeper water, then Baltimore, Charleston, and New Orleans. He argued that shipbuilders could be compelled to conform the draught of their ships to the depth of water in the harbor they were to enter, and not the harbors to the draught of the ships.

Speaking of the Mississippi River, he declared that, although $40,000,000 had been spent on that river, no substantial increase in the navigation of the river had resulted. He defied any one, "unless he were interested in river and harbor improvements, or an engineer of the United States Army," to produce proof to the contrary.

A few years ago, Mr. Hepburn said, he expected to live to see a River and Harbor bill carry $100,000,000. To-day it reached $60,000,000. A few years more and it would pass the $100,000,000 mark. He warned members of the subtle danger in the "continuing contract system," by which the real amount of the appropriations for river and harbors was concealed. Another danger was looming up in the West. The young members, who now lived at the headwaters of the navigable streams, wanted the River and Harbor bill to contain appropriations for the reclamation of arid lands. Mr. Hepburn said he was opposed to the reclamation of the arid lands of the West for selfish reasons. When there arose an agricultural necessity for reclaiming those lands, when the present agricultural area was no longer able to supply the food of the world, then let the generation to be benefited pay for the cost of reclamation.

Mr. Cushman, who followed Mr. Hepburn, illustrated his remarks with an enormous chart, which he had brought into the hall. Members crowded about to examine the exhibit it made. In a table on one side, in figures sufficiently large to be read from the remotest limits of the hall, was a list of seventeen States which had members on the River and Harbor committee, giving the sums appropriated and authorized in the bill. The direct appropriations amount to $14,238,260. The authorized appropriations amount to $24,457,896.

He said the seventeen States with members on the committee got all of the appropriations, with the exception of $8,349,-577 in appropriations and authorizations left to the remaining twenty-eight States and Territories, ten of which got no appropriations whatever. Mr. Cushman said he was in favor of river and harbor improvements. But a bill for that purpose should be for the benefit of the whole country, not for the benefit of the members of the committee.

Mr. Cushman spoke, he said, as one who had been victimized by the bill. He said the committee had "overlooked" his State as if it had been a "white chip" in a faro game. He represented a city that had a tonnage of $6,000,000, and it got the "measly" sum of $30,000.

"If you think my vote can be bought at that price," said he, addressing members of the committee, "you are off your base." Mr. Cushman's criticisms aroused the members of the committee, and they kept up a continual fire of questions while he was speaking. As a result there were some exceedingly spicy exchanges.

"Imperial Caesar," Mr. Cushman said, "divided all Gaul into three parts. Caesar was an ancient and a provincial. Had he lived to the dawn of the twentieth century he would have divided Gaul into enough fragments to give one to each member of the River and Harbor Committee of the House.

Mr. Cushman had brought into the hall another chart showing the proportion of appropriations to the recommendations of the Chief of Engineers. The States represented by the River and Harbor Committee, he said, got 85 per cent. of the appropriations recommended. "I invite the members of the committee," said he, "to go up against the frozen facts of that chart."

One by one, Mr. Cushman paid his respects to the members of the committee, producing individual maps showing the appropriations each member had secured. The district of Mr. Bishop, (Rep., Mich.,) he said, had six counties with frontage on Lake Michigan, and each one had an appropriation in the bill.

"And each one has a harbor," interposed Mr. Bishop.

"Have you ever examined the map of the State of Washington?" retorted Mr. Cushman, amid laughter.

At another time Mr. Cushman declared that the Florida member of the committee had secured an appropriation in the bill for a harbor that could not be found in the latest and largest map. He was especially severe in his criticism of the appropriations secured by Mr. Tongue (Rep., Ore.,) for his State, calling attention to the fact that, although $5,000,000 had been spent upon the Columbia between Portland and the sea, the depth of water to-day was less by seven feet than it was before a dollar was expended.

In conclusion, Mr. Cushman disclosed the reason for his attack. It was because the committee had not provided for the Seattle ship canal. He made an eloquent plea for justice for his State.

Mr. Alexander, (Rep., N. Y.,) a member of the River and Harbor Committee, made a general defense of the committee, pointing out how fallacious it was to charge to a State money expended for the improvement of the general commerce facilities of the country. He also pointed out how natural it was that the River and Harbor Committee should be made up of members whose sections were interested in river and harbor improvements.

After some further remarks by Mr. Mann (Rep., Ill.,) and Mr. Otey, (Dem., Va.,) the committee rose.

EXCHANGE OF GOLD AND SILVER

Secretary Gage and Horace White of New York Discuss Pending Bills Before a House Committee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Secretary of the Treasury Gage, Horace White of New York, and several other prominent financiers to-day appeared before the House Committee on Coinage, Weights, and Measures, at the request of the committee, and gave their views on the Overstreet, Levy, and Hill bills to maintain the parity of money of the United States. The three bills although containing different provisions, each provide for the exchange at the option of the holder of the gold and silver coins of the United States. To accomplish this the Overstreet bill authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to use the gold reserve fund in the Treasury, and the Levy bill authorizes him to issue 2 per cent. bonds.

Before the hearing Chairman Southard (Rep., Ohio) read a letter from John H. Rhoades, the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the New York Chamber of Commerce, heartily indorsing the bills and urging the enactment of the proposed legislation at this session of Congress.

In opening the discussion Horace White said he assumed that no argument was necessary in support of the gold standard. The only question at issue was the means to be placed at the disposal of the Secretary of the Treasury to secure its maintenance. He then took up the languages of the bills and gave the Hill bill his indorsement.

Mr. Shafroth (Sil., Col.) asked whether to make silver and greenbacks exchangeable in gold did not in fact make them simply promises to pay in gold.

"Certainly," replied Mr. White.

Then you desire to impound $500,000 in silver, and eventually dump the silver on the country as bullion?"

"Not at once, but gradually," replied Mr. White. "We should do just what Germany has done. I think we would be lucky if we could get back half of what we paid for the silver."

Mr. Hill (Rep., Conn.) said that in his opinion the two dangers which threatened the gold standard were the greenbacks and the silver. Of those two he considered the former the greater, but the country seemed to think otherwise. He asked if Mr. White did not agree that much of the silver could be recoined into subsidiary coin and the remainder made exchangeable. Mr. White agreed to this proposition.

Secretary Gage said that the question involved in the bills before the committee was simple. He agreed with Mr. White that in times of dullness or business depression the bankers and other holders of money in the centres of population would gradually withhold gold and allow silver and silver certificates to pile up in the Treasury through the payment of custom dues and taxes. If Congress wanted to make gold and silver exchangeable it implied a doubt as to whether they were at a parity. As long as this doubt, no matter how slight it might be, existed, the bankers and the holders of money refused to take the risk.

Mr. Cochran (Dem., Mo.) asked the Secretary if silver was to be made redeemable in gold, why it would not be better, from the standpoint of economy, to sell the silver and place it in the gold fund for redemption purposes.

If it could be done without seriously disturbing the money markets," replied Secretary Gage, "I think that course would be more honest."

Mr. Levy, (Dem., N. Y.,) who was present to advocate his bill, created something of a sensation by stating that Mr. Bryan, the recent Democratic candidate for President, had told him that if elected President he would find a way to pay the obligations of the Government in silver.

After a recess Mr. White was asked a few questions by members of the committee. Mr. Gaines asked whether the making of gold contracts did not tend to produce disparity between gold and silver coin as money. Mr. White said he did not think so. He did not know why it should. "There is no money but gold," he said. It was the measure of value and medium of exchange. Nothing but gold filled that bill. Silver, Mr. White said, in response to further questions, is not money, and silver subsidiary is not money; it is small change.

FILIPINOS ASK FOR FREEDOM.

Senator Teller Presents a Memorial Declaring that the Natives Will Never Cease Fighting.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—In the Senate to-day Mr. Teller (Sil. Rep., Col.,) presented a memorial from 2,006 "Filipinos and peaceful inhabitants" of Manila. The memorial was in the form of an appeal to the Congress of the United States, and, as Mr. Teller stated, was "signed personally by the leading people of Manila and that section—lawyers, bankers, and professional men representing the best elements of that community." It reviewed the circumstance leading up to the present struggle of the Filipinos for independence. It paid a high tribute to the work of Aguinaldo and his coadjutors in their endeavor to obtain liberty and independence for the people of the Philippines.

Reference was made to some of the principal events of the present revolution against American authority, the petition urging that the American troops had failed to make a serious impression upon the revolutionary party. It pointed out that Aguinaldo had declared he might lose the hope of victory, but he would not lose the hope of dying for the liberty and independence of his people.

It points out that the revolution has the support of practically all the people of the Philippines, and declares that though 10[illegible] revolutionists be destroyed 1,000 will rise up to support the fight for independence. All of the islands of the archipelago, says the memorial, are supporting the revolution, and they will not yield until the last drop of Filipino blood has been shed.

The Filipino nation, the memorial continues, bearing in mind the history of America and its humanitarian doctrines, asks the Government of the United States to cease its "persecution of men struggling to be free—struggling against greater odds and greater wrongs than those which inspire the fathers of the Republic." This they say "in the name of Washington, of Jefferson, of Lincoln, in the name of justice, and in the name of the God Eternal."

The appeal declares that an autonomy similar to that enjoyed by Canada or Australia would not be acceptable to the Filipinos, who desire full liberty and independence, and they urge the Government of the United States to give them liberty and independence.

When the reading of the memorial had been concluded, Mr. Teller asked that it be printed as a document.

"I object," said Mr. Hawley, (Rep. Conn.) "It is a treasonable denunciation of our Government and an attack upon our soldiers."

Mr. Teller later in the day presented an order for the printing of the Filipino appeal as a Senate document.

"I protest against the paper being printed as a Senate document," said Mr. Hawley. "It is an attack upon the United States, its authority, and its troops, and a passionate appeal to the Filipinos to continue to kill our men. If Jefferson Davis had brought forward a similar paper after the battle of Gettysburg and demanded to have it read and printed as a Senate document it would have been a mild crime in comparison with this."

On account of the objection of Mr. Hawley, the order went over until to-morrow.

FILIPINO LEADERS DISAGREE.

Agoncillo Refuses to Obey Aguinaldo's Order to Go to Hongkong—Prefers to Stay in Paris.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—A serious disagreement has arisen between the Filipino representatives in Europe. Agoncillo, whom Aguinaldo ordered to Hongkong to direct the operations of the Junta there, has revolted, and refuses to go to Hongkong or give up his post in Paris to Dr. Apacible. Aguinaldo ordered the latter to go to Canada, from Hongkong, to watch the United States elections. He was then ordered to replace Agoncillo. The disputants have both cabled to Aguinaldo, and are waiting for his reply.

Dr. Apacible favors acquiring the independence of the Philippines through an arrangement with the United States.

CUBAN UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE.

Constitutional Convention Votes for Unrestricted Ballot.

HAVANA, Jan. 10.—The Cuban Constitutional Convention, in secret session to-day, decided by a practically unanimous vote to insert in the draft of the Constitution a clause providing for universal suffrage in the future republic. Only one vote, it is understood, was cast against the proposal. Several Conservative members, who are known to be opposed to it, were absent but the advocates of universal suffrage claim a clear majority, and say there will be no opposition when the question comes to a vote in public session.

Heretofore this subject has been delicately handled, and it was thought the convention would leave the settlement of the matter to future legislation.

The friends of Gen. Maximo Gomez, who assert that he is the popular candidate for the Presidency, are elated over the prospect of an unrestricted vote.

The convention has made several modifications in the original draft submitted by the Central Committee. Many members say that the public sessions will begin next week and that a Constitution will be accepted and presented to Congress immediately.

Prizefighter Accused of Manslaughter.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Jan. 10.—The Warren County Grand Jury to-day indicted on the charge of manslaughter "Paddy" Donovan, who in a prizefight at the Cedar Park Athletic Club at Phillipsburg on Jan. 1 knocked out Frank Walsh, who died of his injuries Tuesday. Indictments were also found against Herman Stein and Jack Lansing for aiding and abetting a prizefight.

ARMY BILL IN THE SENATE

An Amendment to Promote Three Generals Adopted.

Senator Pettigrew Protests Against Advancement of Shafter for "Blundering Incapacity."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Considerable progress was made to-day by the Senate with the Army Reorganization bill, but the final vote upon the measure seems to be as far off as ever. To-day's proceedings were characterized by several sharp colloquies, some of which were of a decidedly personal character.

After concluding consideration of the committee amendments to the bill, the Senate took up the amendments proposed by individual Senators. The amendments providing for the appointment of Gens. James H. Wilson, Fitzhugh Lee, and Shafter to be Major Generals of the regular army and retired, precipitated an extended and, on the part of Mr. Pettigrew, (Sil., S. D.,) a bitter debate. The amendments prevailed, however, despite the opposition.

The question pending when the bill was taken up was the amendment offered by Mr. Proctor, (Rep., Vt.,) for the Military Committee, providing how volunteers might be appointed First and Second Lieutenants in the regular army. The amendment as agreed to finally was as follows:

Persons not over forty years of age who shall at any time have served as volunteers subsequent to April 21, 1898, may be ordered before boards of officers for such examination as may be prescribed by the Secretary of War, and those who may establish their fitness before these examining boards may be appointed to the grades of First or Second Lieutenants in the regular army, taking rank in the respective grades according to seniority as determined by length of prior commissioned service; but no officer appointed under the provisions of this section shall be placed above another in the same grade with longer commissioned service, and nothing herein contained shall change the relative rank of officers heretofore commissioned in the regular army.

Enlisted men of volunteers may be appointed Second Lieutenants in the regular army under the same conditions now authorized by law for enlisted men of the regular army.

A committee amendment to increase the number of first-class privates in the signal corps from 200 to 250 was adopted.

To Section 31 of the bill, providing for the retirement of officers, amendments were made that the section should not apply to any officer whose active service in the army does not exceed thirty-five years; and it shall not apply to any officer who has been promoted on the retired list by virtue of any special act of Congress, or to any officer who has already received such higher grade." In discussing these amendments at length, Mr. Teller (Sil. Rep., Col.) said: "I want to say that this bill was drawn in the army office. It was drawn with the idea of taking care of pets of the service." The pending bill, he declared, was neither just nor reasonable.

Mr. Proctor, replying to Mr. Teller, said the pending bill certainly had not been drawn with the idea of rewarding favorites. He felt that the bill went as far in providing for the retirement of officers as it should go reasonably.

Pending action upon the amendment proposed by Mr. Teller to increase the retired list, the whole matter went over until to-morrow.

Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.) offered an amendment authorizing the President to select from the list of Brigadier Generals of Volunteers two officers, without regard to age, for the purpose of appointing them Major Generals of the regular army and retiring them. Mr. Daniel stated that the amendment was intended to provide for the retirement of Gen. J. H. Wilson and Gen. Fitzhugh Lee.

Mr. Sewell (Rep., N. J.,) offered an amendment to the amendment authorizing the President to select a regular army officer not above the rank of Brigadier General to be appointed as a Major General and retired.

In response to some criticism by Mr. Pettigrew of the propositions conveyed by the amendments, Mr. Sewell paid a handsome tribute to both Gen. Wilson and Gen. Lee. The latter, he said, had conferred brilliant service upon the country in a civil capacity, and it was well known that he had been selected to lead the attack upon Havana. He characterized him as one of the finest officers in the army. In answer to an inquiry by Mr. Teller, Mr. Sewell replied that his amendment was intended to apply to the benefit of the "man who conquered the Spanish nation"—Gen. Shafter.

Mr. Pettigrew declared there was nothing in the history of the conflict at Santiago which warranted the proposed action by the Senate. "It is conferring distinction for honors not won," he declared, "and for services not rendered. I am opposed to it. If I read the history of that engagement correctly the credit for our victories does not belong to Gen. Shafter."

Mr. Pettigrew then sent to the clerk's desk and had read a chapter of Senator Lodge's, (Rep., Mass.,) "History of the Hispano-American War," giving an account of the battle of Santiago. After the clerk had read for some time, Mr. Pettigrew himself took up the reading, making, as he proceeded, sarcastic comments upon Gen. Shafter's conduct of the battle.

"Yet," said he, "this is the man who is to be specially honored by Congress, after what has been before it this damaging testimony from the most eminent historian of this body. The victory at Santiago was won, not by Gen. Shafter, but in spite of Shafter. Now we propose to promote him for mere blundering, incapacity, and inefficiency without parallel in the history of the battles resulting in victory.

"We have already promoted Corbin, who was not away from Washington during the war, and Ainsworth, who acted only as a clerk, and now we propose to put Shafter over them. I wish to emphasize the fact that Congress never promotes anybody unless it is sure he has never done any fighting."

Mr. Sewell made a warm defense of Gen. Shafter. He declared that Gen. Shafter had been selected to command the army in Cuba as one of the best soldiers in the army—an officer who had settled satisfactorily all the Indian troubles in the Southwest, and who was the fighting man of the period. That he was a military genius, said Mr. Sewell, was conceded by military authorities and all competent to judge.

Mr. Sewell's amendment was then agreed to, 41 to 11, and the original amendment as amended was agreed to without division.

Mr. Pettigrew offered as a new section of the bill an amendment providing that one-third of the original vacancies created by this act shall be filled by selections from the officers of that grade.

Mr. Proctor opposed the amendment.

In support of the amendment, Mr. Daniel declared that the bill as it now stood was a proscription against the whole volunteer force of the United States. It was a measure designed to fence off commissions in the regular army from volunteer officers.

Mr. Daniel said that the Chairman of the Military Affairs Committee had said truly a day or two ago that the Nation was not out of sight of war. He might have added quite as truly that the Nation was at war—a war which to-day is in progress in the Philippines, in which this country has engaged 68,000 men, half of them volunteers. He desired not to do any injustice to the regular soldier, but he was equally desirous of preventing any injustice to the volunteers.

Without concluding his speech Mr. Daniel yielded the floor until to-morrow.

INCREASES IN THE NAVY.

Appropriation Bill Will Provide for Battleships and Cruisers, but for No More Holland Boats.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The House Committee on Naval Affairs to-day practically completed the Naval Appropriation bill, but it will not be in shape to be made public until to-morrow or Saturday. The question of the increase of the navy, which usually entails the largest contest, was easily settled this year by the acceptance of the recommendation of the Secretary of the Navy for two battleships and two cruisers. The committee also finally decided to give the full increase of enlisted men asked for by the Secretary—5,000 instead of 3,000, as tentatively agreed upon yesterday.

The bill also will carry a provision to commission the two classes from the Naval Academy now on their cruises, and also to commission the present senior class immediately upon their graduation, in June. This action was taken to provide the additional officers of which the department is greatly in need. It will make about 150 new officers available for duty. As the Senate has twice declined to accept the House proposition to shorten the Naval Academy course from six to four years, the committee did not insert it in the bill.

There is a possibility that, in addition to the increase of the navy, a number of submarine boats of the Holland type will be provided for at the last moment, but this is hardly probable. The representatives of the company are to be given a hearing to-morrow, but the committee has a confidential report of the Board of Bureau Chiefs of the Navy Department, signed by Admirals O'Neil, Melville, and Bradford and Naval Constructor Woodward, which strongly opposes the authorization of further boats of this type. Eight of these boats were authorized by the last Naval Appropriation bill. The conclusion of the board is as follows:

"Without desiring to discredit the Holland in any way or to detract from her merits, the board is of the opinion that the utility of boats of this class has not yet been sufficiently demonstrated to warrant the construction of others than those already authorized—eight in number—which are considered a sufficient number to experiment with.

"As regards the cost of the present boats, namely, $170,000 each, the board is of the opinion that if the cost of construction, with a reasonable profit to the contractors, is a one considered, it is a very high price; but if the expenses of the company in developing the boats are taken into consideration, the price is not excessive."

Bill to Raise Justices' Salaries.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Senator Hoar to-day gave notice of an amendment he will offer to the Legislative, Executive, and Judicial Appropriation bill increasing the salary of the Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court to $15,500 and that of the Associate Justices to $15,000 each.

Contracts for Warships Executed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Secretary of the Navy to-day executed contracts with the Cramps at Philadelphia for the construction of cruisers Nos. 4 and 7, as yet unnamed. One of these vessels is to be sheathed and the other to be unsheathed.

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

Second Lieut. Francis H. Pope, Sixth Artillery, will proceed to Fort Leavenworth and report to the commanding officer of that post for treatment by the post surgeon.

Second Lieut. Albert N. McClure, Fifth Cavalry, is relieved from duty at Fort Myer, Virginia, and will proceed to Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, and join his troop.

Lieut. Col. Henry W. Wessels, Jr., Third Cavalry, will proceed to Fort Porter, New York, and upon his arrival there, report by letter to the commanding General, Department of the East, for assignment to light duty at that post.

Lieut. Col. Philip H. Ellis, Eighth Infantry, will proceed at once to San Francisco, and report to the commanding General, Department of California, for assignment to duty pertaining to the organization of new companies.

Second Lieut. Carlos W. Pierce, Forty-sixth Infantry, United States Volunteers, is honorably discharged from the service of the United States to take effect Jan. 20.

Capt. Elias Chandler, First Infantry, is relieved from further duty as Collector of Customs at the Port of Sagua La Grande, Cuba, and upon the expiration of his leave of absence will join his company.

Movements of Naval Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Admiral Schley's flagship, the Chicago, has sailed out from Montevideo for target practice.

The Alabama is expected to leave the New York Navy Yard for Tompkinsville Saturday. She is to join the North Atlantic Squadron and accompany it on its southern cruise.

The hospital ship Solace has left Yokohama for Cavite.

The Wilmington has arrived at Singapore.

The torpedo boat Winslow has been put into commission at the New York Navy Yard.

The training ship Prairie sailed to-day from Havre for New York.

TARRANT FIRE INQUEST.

Treasurer Allen Swears There Were No Dangerous Substances in the Building.

Coroner Bausch continued the inquest into the death of the seven persons killed in the Tarrant fire explosion yesterday. Max J. Breitenbach, a medicine manufacturer in the Tarrant Building; Patrolman Richard O'Flaherty, and George Limberg, Breitenbach's clerk, repeated their testimony given to the Fire Marshal.

Thomas F. Main, President of the Tarrant Company, said that no medicines prepared by the firm contained explosive substances. He did not know definitely what goods were stored in the building. He could not say how much collodion was stored in the basement. Saltpetre was purchased, he said, in 100-pound kegs; muriatic, nitric, and sulphuric acids in one carboy at a time, or in five-pound lots.

William C. Allen, Treasurer of the Tarrant Company, said that Benjamin Moorehouse, the dead clerk, was the only employe who knew what was stored in the building. His books, he said, showed the names of a dozen firms having goods in storage.

"What precautions were taken to prevent the storage of dangerous substances?"

"We were dealing with reputable New York firms and knew that they would not handle unlawful articles."

"Then you relied on the business reputation of these firms?"

"The storage clerk, Mr. Moorehouse, was an old and trusted employe, and would not permit the storage of dangerous substances."

"There might have been tons of nitroglycerine stored in the building and you would not have known it, then?"

"There might have been, but there was not; there were no dangerous substances there."

Mr. Allen denied that any preparation containing nitro-glycerine was made by his firm. Moorehouse, he said, was the only man who knew definitely what was received for storage and where it was placed. Coroner Bausch expects to give the case to the jury to-day.

TRIED TO PAWN TWO PAINTINGS

Prisoner Known to an Artist—He Says He Is Greater than Paderewski.

Detective Boyle of the Central Office yesterday morning saw a man in a pawnshop at Seventh Avenue and Twenty-eighth Street in the act of pawning two large paintings which had been cut from the frames. The detective decided to arrest the man, who gave his name as Boleslaus Bohuzinsky, fifty-five years old, of 222 West Twenty-fifth Street. The man told several stories about where he got the paintings, the last one being that he brought them from Europe with him ten years ago. He stuck to this story when he was arraigned later in the Jefferson Market Police Court. He went on to give a lot of general information about himself.

"I am a great

THE EVENING POST
Review of the Century

THE NEW YORK EVENING POST of Saturday, January 12, 1901, will contain a notable series of articles by eminent writers, who will present a philosophic and historical review of the main aspects of the Nineteenth Century. This issue of THE EVENING POST will, therefore, be a record of the wonderful progress of the world during the last one hundred years. The scope of the enterprise may be judged by the following list of subjects, together with the well-known authorities who have been engaged to write on them:

Subjects and Writers for The Century Number

1. The Immutability of the Constitution — Judge C. C. Nott, Of the U. S. Court of Claims
2. Progress of International Law — Prof. John B. Moore, Of Columbia University
3. American Literature — Prof. W. P. Trent, Of Columbia University
4. English Literature — Edmund Gosse
5. The American Theatre through the Century — J. R. Towse, Dramatic Editor of The Evening Post
6. The Musical Century — H. T. Finck, Musical Editor of The Evening Post
7. Progress in American Architecture — Russell Sturgis
8. Painting in the Nineteenth Century — Kenyon Cox
9. Printing in the Nineteenth Century — Theodore L. DeVinne
10. Progress in Medicine — John S. Billings, M. D., U. S. Army, Director New York Public Library
11. The Birth and Progress of Photography — Dr. John Nicol, Editor American Amateur Photographer
12. Changes in Higher Education — President Franklin Carter, Of Williams College
13. Higher Education of Women — Mrs. Alice Freeman Palmer, Formerly Pres. of Wellesley College
14. Political Status of Women — Mrs. Julia Ward Howe
15. Women in the Professions — Mrs. Carrie C. Catt, Pres. National American Woman Suffrage Association
16. The Century's Great Men in Science — C. S. Peirce, Scientific Editor of the Century Dictionary
17. Progress of Astronomical Science — Prof. Simon Newcomb, U. S. N., late of the U. S. Naval Observatory
18. Psychical Research of the Century — Andrew Lang
19. Scope and Tendencies of Physics — Prof. Oliver Lodge, Of Birmingham University, England
20. Development of Libraries — Charles A. Cutter, Of Forbes Library, Northampton, Mass.
21. Evolution and Religious Conceptions — Leslie Stephen
22. Geographical Conquests of the Century — Louis Heilprin, Author of the "Historical Reference Book."
23. The U. S. Navy — Edgar S. Maclay, Historian of the U. S. Navy
24. The Evolution of Life Insurance — James W. Alexander
25. Changes in Military Science — Capt. C. DeW. Willcox, U. S. Army, Instructor at West Point
26. The Gold Standard and Gold Production — Horace White, Editor of The Evening Post
27. Railway Economy in the Century — Prest. Arthur T. Hadley, Of Yale University
28. Organization and Management of Railroads — J. W. Midgley, Late Chairman Western Freight Association
29. Development of the Merchant Marine — Eugene T. Chamberlain, Commissioner of Navigation
30. Progress in Electricity — Prof. John Trowbridge, Of Harvard University
31. Development of Steel Manufacture in the United States — Andrew Carnegie
32. England — Arthur G. Sedgwick
33. Germany — Prof. Munroe Smith, Of Columbia University
34. Russia — Prof. A. C. Coolidge, Of Harvard University
35. Canada — Sir J. G. Bourinot, Clerk of the Canadian House of Commons
36. Mexico — Charles S. Lummis, Author of "Mexico of To-day."
37. Changes in China and Japan — W. E. Griffis, Author of "The Mikado's Empire," etc.
38. A Century of Building Development — G. C. Stewart

To be sure of a copy
Order it in advance of your newsdealer.

THE EVENING POST
Review of the Century

Saturday, January 12, 1901

Price, as usual, three cents per copy.

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, FRIDAY, JAN. 11, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....515 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Dréhmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 80 cents per month.

SIXTEEN PAGES

ONE HEAD FOR THE POLICE.

The police bill drafted by Judge COHEN is so good that it is not asking much of the Legislature to suggest that it should be made better by two amendments. The power of summary removal of the Police Commissioner should not be conferred on the Governor as well as on the Mayor. No good can come of providing two axes for striking off one head, and it would be most unreasonable to ask any fit and competent man to take an office where the peril of removal might at any time arise, not through his own fault, but as an incident of political warfare between Albany and New York. Furthermore, the office of Chief of Police should not be abolished, but, being retained under an honest and efficient Commissioner, should be made and would be made the seat and source of executive authority from which would emanate the commands and the influence that would restore and maintain the discipline, the moral tone, and the loyal spirit of the uniformed force. With these two amendments the bill will establish a principle and consummate a reform in the City of New York for which strong men have battled for twenty years against the always triumphant opposition of the party bosses and their machines.

It is a substantial merit of this bill over the amendments proposed by the Charter Revision Commission that it grants us immediate relief—the present Police Commissioners giving way to the single head of the department within ten days after the bill becomes a law—instead of deferring the change until Jan. 1, 1902. In other respects, with the two exceptions we have noted above, Judge COHEN'S bill follows the general lines of the revisers' amendments. The revisers fix the salary of the Police Commissioner at $10,000, which the bill reduces to $7,500, a mistaken economy. The smaller emolument would scarcely attract a man fit for these labors and responsibilities. The supplementary bill creating a Board of Elections independent of the Police Department is identical with the charter amendments prepared for the same purpose by the Revision Commission, save that it is to take effect, apparently, on April 1 next. In this board it is necessarily provided that not more than two of the Commissioners shall be of the same political faith.

If any other motive than that of partisan gain led to the insertion in this bill of the preposterous provision that the Governor as well as the Mayor should have power to remove the Police Commissioner, it sprang from a delusion. On a superficial view it might be thought that in the present moral predicament of this community we ought to have some other reliance than the curious person who sits in the Mayor's chair against the appointment to and continuance in office of, say, a member of the Gambling Commission as the head of the Police Department. But it ought to be plain that so long as the power to appoint remains with the Mayor, and it should and must remain there, the axe in the Governor's hands would afford no protection whatever. The machine ought not to insist on a violation of principle unless something can be gained by it.

The abolition of the office of Chief of Police is beyond doubt a serious mistake. The capacities and the training that would fit a man for the office of Commissioner would not at all qualify him for the executive organization and management of the force. Congress might with as much propriety insist that the Secretary of War should be General of the Army. A Commissioner exercising the power of appointment to the force and having the administrative work of the department upon his hands, would find his energies taxed to the limit without assuming in addition the responsibility and labor of directing the force even in its daily routine, not to mention occasions of emergency.

We suppose the argument will be made that if we have both a Commissioner and a Chief of Police we perpetuate the evil of a divided responsibility, while if we have only one pair of shoulders to bear the whole responsibility, the lash of the public censure can more easily and surely reach them. This argument is illusory, for the Commissioner, according to the charter revision plan, would have the appointment of the Chief, and might if he chose select a man outside the uniformed force. It is safe to assume that whenever the Governor as well as the Mayor has had the power of removal he has used it, and he would be likely to do so in the future. Under the bill as it stands the Governor would be the court of last resort, and would be called upon to act only in case of the Mayor's failure to do his duty. Probably Mr. VACHERON is ignorant of its origin and intent. It seems to be a bill to give the rural statesmen of the Republican Party a "whack" at the enormous revenues of the Gambling Commission. Superintendent MCCULLAGH'S office is superfluous, and his indiscretions of utterance and demeanor during his incumbency of it have confirmed the belief that his functions should be diminished rather than increased. The Vacheron bill is too obviously irrational and bad to have much chance of enactment. Gov. ODELL, we trust, will give it a merited veto if the country members should be unable to resist the temptation to compel the Tammany blackmailers to divide with the other party.

THE PRESIDENT IN DESPAIR.

It is now nearly a score of years since the fertile brain of Mr. BLAINE conceived the plausible notion that the dull and belated despotism of the protective tariff could gradually be tempered by the adoption of treaties of commercial reciprocity. Undoubtedly he was much too keen a man not to see that this was the exact analogue of the ancient policy in Russia by which despotism was tempered by assassination, and that in the long run reciprocity must be fatal to the old doctrine of protection. In his day Mr. BLAINE found little encouragement for his method of anticipating the inevitable, but the idea took a certain hold, and in the Dingley tariff law provision was made which, if acted on in good faith, would have gone far to loosen the trammels in which American industry and production had been enmeshed.

Much credit is due to President MCKINLEY and to his Cabinet for their conduct in this matter. Of the President's good faith there has never been the least doubt. He was understood to be the virtual author of the reciprocity clauses in the Dingley Tariff act, and he has done everything that he possibly could do to give them effect. Indeed, it is a fair inference from his course in this matter and from numerous collateral utterances of his, that he saw as plainly as did Mr. BLAINE that the country had far outgrown the swaddling clothes of protection, and that the real problem for the Government was how to open access to foreign markets by the gradual removal of the barriers to trade that had been erected in order to guard the home markets. Certainly from the moment of his second message to Congress he has made nothing but the most perfunctory references to the tariff, while he has manifested keen and practical interest in the possibilities of reciprocity. It was to him that was due the formation of the Commission Plenipotentiary with ample powers to negotiate reciprocity treaties under the Dingley act. At the head of this commission he placed the Hon. JOHN A. KASSON of Iowa, one of the most advanced and enlightened of the Republicans of the Northwest, who had long before distinguished himself by his advocacy of free raw materials as an essential element in any fiscal policy intended to build up American industries. Mr. KASSON, moreover, added to his extensive knowledge and sound views as to our industrial policy, a well-established reputation for efficient diplomatic service. This commission, with infinite care, patience, and labor, and with the hearty concurrence of the State Department and the President, has succeeded in the last three years in negotiating a series of treaties within the scope permitted by the Dingley law, and the President has from time to time submitted them to the Senate. There they have gone their way to dusty death in the pigeonholes of the committees or the Secretary. Practically nothing has been allowed to come of the resolute and faithful labors of the President and his selected agents.

Finally, the President, in apparent despair, is reported to have come to the conclusion that it is useless to go further, and has decided to dissolve the commission and leave the Senate to work its sweet and stupid will with the interest of the commerce and industry of the country. For such a decision certainly no one can blame him, but the Senate should be made to understand what discredit it has earned in the eyes of intelligent Americans. Its action is as foolish from the party standpoint as from that of patriotism. The Republican Party is entirely committed to the policy of reciprocity. The last three National Conventions have declared for it in clear terms. The President, the official head of the party, warmly advocates it. The sentiment of the party is even more advanced than its platforms indicate. The great body of business men in the party, including the manufacturers themselves, understand that the old narrow protection notion is out of date and a wretched obstacle to the progress on which the country has entered. The Senate simply blocks the way open to the party to keep itself in line with the development of the country, and it does this in obedience to the pressure of petty private interests that ought not for a moment to be considered. It is a most discreditable situation, and if the sense of shame is not entirely stifled in the minds of the majority Senators, they will try to retrieve it.

THE NIXON COMMITTEE AND THE POLICE.

We judge from some of the public utterances of Mr. NIXON that he thinks that the centre of the trouble is in the Chief of Police. With that opinion we heartily concur. But while the wide ramifications of the scheme of corruption could not have come into existence without complicity in high quarters, it is of the utmost importance that the minor agents in the scheme should be detected and exposed and punished. It was probably through them that the money was in the first instance either collected or its payment compelled. If any of them, even if a single one of them, can be completely exposed and adequately punished, so that all will fear a like fate, the power of the higher officials will be broken, and the way opened for their punishment also. Mr. NIXON'S committee is supposed to have plenty of money. If they should offer a reward of, say, $1,000 for evidence leading to the conviction of the crime of extortion and receiving bribes in the case of any patrolman, and a reward of $5,000 for like evidence in the case of a Captain, and publish these offers in the neighborhood Yiddish papers on the east side, we think that the chances are that something worth while would come of it.

In any event, Mr. NIXON must be convinced that the real work of his committee is not to defend Tammany on the one hand, nor, on the other, to try to eradicate vice, but to stop the corrupt protection of vice by the police. He is plainly convinced of the corruption of the police. He has more power than any man has before had to expose and stop it. If he shall do that, the people will not question his motives, or the motives of those behind him.

LORD RUSSELL OF KILLOWEN.

MELVILLE W. FULLER, JOSEPH H. CHOATE, and JAMES C. CARTER are the highly respectable names of the American members of the General Committee appointed for the purpose of devising and executing an appropriate memorial to the late Lord Chief Justice of England, Lord RUSSELL of Killowen. They appeal "to the legal profession, and to others who may be interested in the project," for contributions to that end. It has been resolved that the memorial take the forms of a seated or other statue to be placed in the London Law Courts, and of a replica of the Sargent portrait, to be offered to the National Gallery.

We cannot conceive of any American manifestation of the celebrated "understanding" which would be more assuring and satisfactory to Britons in general than a full and generous American subscription to this project. Of course it is, as the American committee suggests, from American lawyers that such a contribution is mainly to be expected. The reputation of a great lawyer, and of a great Judge, is made by lawyers. Laymen must take it from them. How many Americans, not lawyers, could produce an estimate that lawyers would respect of the intellectual standing, for example, of JOHN MARSHALL, our greatest judicial name? To put the question is to show how esoteric is the standing of a Judge, or of any other lawyer excepting a leading advocate. An intelligent and open-minded Queen's Counsel in London would be able to give a better explanation of the greatness of this great American than any American who is not a lawyer, or who has not been compelled to go into the larger questions of Constitutional interpretation and the like which MARSHALL adjudicated. And, in the same way, an American lawyer, conversant with the higher courts and the larger questions, would be a better appraiser of the eminence of the late Lord Chief Justice than any Englishman who had not been compelled to acquaint himself with the legal methods and conditions of the ascertainment of truth.

Lord RUSSELL'S one American appearance, his address at Saratoga upon "International Law," was a case in point. What must have struck every intelligent lay reader was the moderation, the circumspection, the technical limitation, so to speak, with which a great Judge felt bound to hedge and safeguard all propositions for reducing to workable formulae the humane aspirations and yearnings of mankind. They are yearnings to which it is a judicial function to state the practical limitations, for a time when, to put it in the most poetical, and therefore the most unprofessional, way:

> The kindly earth shall slumber, lapt in universal law.

It is not, therefore, to be expected, nor even perhaps to be desired, that Americans, not lawyers, nor personal friends of the late Lord Chief Justice, should come forward to help do to his memory the honor which they cannot intelligently pay. But it is to be expected that lawyers who are proud of their profession will regard a participation in this tribute as a duty they owe to it and to themselves. When Mr. PHELPS, himself a leading lawyer, said in London that the United States constituted "the secondary jurisdiction of the British courts," he paid an international compliment which all English Judges and lawyers were prompt to appreciate. And a like compliment would be a generous contribution, on the part of the American bar, to the memorial to the late Lord Chief Justice of England.

VIOLATORS OF THE LAW.

Britain has followed her own precedent. Although the war is in some sense officially over, however, CRONJE has not yet been restored to liberty. That he is still confined in exile is perhaps the highest compliment that Great Britain could pay him, though it is doubtless one with which he would willingly dispense.

The main difficulty with consigning insurgents to a penal colony is first to catch them. Lord KITCHENER has not overcome this initial difficulty with BOTHA or DE WET, nor Gen. MACARTHUR with AGUINALDO, the head and front of the Filipino offending. If these feats had been accomplished, we may suppose that the respective insurrections would already have collapsed. But the American General has nevertheless come into possession of some twenty-six Filipino soldiers and statesmen who are negotiable and plausible leaders of the insurrection, and the War Department has approved his suggestion to keep them out of further mischief by shipping them to the Island of Guam.

We know of no present objection to the Island of Guam as a place of safekeeping for turbulent Filipinos. If Capt. LEARY were still Governor there, it might be objected that it was altogether too pleasant as a place of punishment or even of detention. Wild horses could not have dragged a rational Filipino from an island which combined the climatic charm of the South Pacific with the diversions of opera bouffe. But the successor of Capt. LEARY is reported to be a serious and even solemn officer, who does not put in all his time in devising diversions for his subjects. We do not understand that the captives would be in any danger of actual ill-treatment from him. But it seems quite possible that they might be bored. They might even come to prefer the vicissitudes of dodging American riflemen in Luzon to the calm and sunny eventlessness of Guam.

And, obviously, the thing to do with these Filipinos is to bring them to these United States. A tour across the continent would open their eyes about the comparative resources of this continent and their own island, and about the hopelessness of resisting the power of the United States. If any of them has a gift in the way of after-dinner oratory, here and not there is his field. We could sandwich him in between CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW and WU TING FANG and give him a chance to plead his own cause. He could not be more rancorous than ATKINSON or less scrupulous than PETTIGREW. We might even turn him loose in Boston without fear. Such a journey for the Hispanized Malays who are our prisoners would be so enlightening that we might, after they had undergone a "campaign of education" for six months, safely return them to Luzon as American missionaries.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

——In discussing the needs of Bellevue Hospital, The New York Medical Journal says that the two important objects to be obtained are, first, the removal from politics of this institution, by far the most important one of its kind in the city, and, second, the establishment of a permanent method of management, by which its interests can be conserved and advanced under a more carefully studied and systematic policy than at present. Sometimes, as at present, declares the writer, politics puts the hospital under an efficient and intelligent Commissioner, but there is never any certainty what the next man may be, and even if the next man is equally efficient and intelligent, he must again learn the duties of the office, and his activities may take a new direction. "Besides, it seems impossible, however efficient the Commissioner, that under our political system he can do all that is necessary to secure a well-disciplined and thoroughly organized service. An inspection of the hospital and a comparison of it with other hospitals managed by responsible Boards of Governors, not subject to outside influences, will show how wide the differences are between the two methods." As for the wisdom of having a permanent board of managing officers, that is held to be demonstrated by the success of hospitals thus controlled. "It is in this way," The Medical Journal declares, "that all large non-municipal hospitals are managed throughout this country and in England, and they are usually managed well. On the other hand, the city hospitals of our large cities have the same defects, due to politics and changing policies. That the board hospitals are well run, and the city hospitals badly run, is a perfectly well-established fact for America. Furthermore, in Boston and Cincinnati, where the method we propose has been tried for many years, it has worked successfully, so that this is not a purely experimental scheme. The history of the growth of Bellevue is the damning evidence of the evils of the present policy of its government."

——People who are not professional politicians find some difficulty in deciding just what it is the people who are mean when they use the word "vindication." Take, for instance, those two eminent representatives of up-country statesmanship, Mr. GEORGE W. ALDRIDGE and Mr. LOUIS F. PAYN. In their estimation, apparently, the excellence of a man's character, moral and intellectual, is open to legitimate question so long as, and only so long as, the man is unable to secure an appointment to a well-salaried office. Both of them have fixed upon the position of Railroad Commissioner as exactly meeting their present needs, and each says that until he gets this job, or something "equally as good," the justification of his previous official acts will not be complete—in other words, he will not be "vindicated." But wherein would the appointment prove anything in regard to the doings of Mr. ALDRIDGE while Superintendent of Public Works, or to those of Mr. PAYN while Superintendent of Insurance? It would, to be sure, cast not a little light on the standards of official conduct held up before himself and others by the new Governor. No historical facts would be affected in the slightest degree, but the popular judgment of those

——There is no appreciable diminution either in the number or the vehemence of the complaints about the misuse of the floors of street cars by persons given to the spitting habit, and it is evident that real and complete reformation will never be attained until means more effective than those now in use are devised and adopted. It is all very well to post the orders of the Board of Health in every car, but so long as the attention of the violators of those orders cannot be called to them without personal participation in a painful scene, in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred the crime will be committed with impunity. The people who realize the enormity of the offense against decency and health are just the ones that most dislike to make themselves conspicuous, just the ones to whom the very thought of getting into a public altercation is full of horror. The difficulties of the situation would be overcome if the railway companies would equip each car with a number of electric buttons, so placed that any passenger could touch one of them unseen by any other passenger, and which when thus secretly pressed would drop into plain view a large sign bearing some such legend as "Do you think this is a cattle car?" or "Look at the man with barnyard manners!" This would fasten every eye upon the object of deserved reprehension, and there would be no innocent individual whom he could force to share the unpleasantness of the moment. It is safe to say that even the most callous of filth distributors would not long be able to stand the raking fire of reproachful glances that would converge upon him after the display of the silent monitor, and after he had made his hurried and humiliated exit the conductor could quietly set the trap again. We see no mechanical obstacles to the execution of this plan, and now that most street railways have a practically limitless supply of electricity on tap, the incidental expense would be trifling in comparison with the advantages to be secured.

——Unless—as is probably the case—the anti-vaccinationists are quite incapable of accepting even the plainest demonstrations of their own folly, they can hardly avoid drawing the obvious deduction from what has happened this week in the Melrose Lodging House on upper Third Avenue. First, a mail carrier was found in that house suffering from smallpox. He was at once removed to North Brother Island, and the Health Board officials proceeded energetically to vaccinate everybody in the building. Most of those who had been so closely exposed to infection promptly and gladly submitted to the benificent rite. A few, dreading a temporary inconvenience more than they feared the possibility of smallpox, objected to the operation, but they were soon persuaded or frightened into acquiescence. Only two occupants of the house, PATRICK JOYCE and EDWARD MULLER, were at once ignorant and obstinate enough to resist all argument, and, as absolute compulsion could not be used, they had to be left unprotected. On Tuesday MULLER developed the disease from which his fellow-lodger had suffered, and on Wednesday JOYCE was attacked by it. Of the many others who were equally endangered, not one has yet shown the first signs of infection. If this episode is not a sufficient answer to the anti-vaccinationists, they must be left in their darkness. There is, of course, a mathematical possibility that the selection by the disease of the two men who had not been vaccinated, and its avoidance of all those who had been, merely formed a curious coincidence, but the chance that this is so is too small for ordinary human consideration. As mortal certainties go, it is certain that JOYCE and MULLER would not be in the smallpox hospital to-day if they had availed themselves of the precaution to which their companions more or less willingly submitted. It is also certain that the absence of a compulsory vaccination law is a source of public peril. These men did more than voluntarily accept a personal risk. They put others as well as themselves in danger.

MARK TWAIN, LITERATURE AND WAR.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Mark Twain's speech at the City Club dinner should bring to him the homage of his confrères if only for its outspokenness. For myself, regarding the so-called war in Manila as an effort to lynch the humble Washingtons and Hancocks of that region, I hail Mark Twain's utterance as a sursum corda to the intellectual leaders and public teachers of America. The summons is needed. The cause of peace has certainly declined during the past fifty years. The authors who gave America its literary fame in the middle of the past century—Emerson, Longfellow, Sparks, Hawthorne, Bryant, Holmes, Lowell, Whittier, Motley, to name only some—were celebrants of peace. I can remember the universal wonder when Carlyle's discordant note sounded. But their principles apparently survive only in a few old-fashioned writers; war is defended as a divine method, applause of bloodshed pervades new and popular novels, and apologies for ferocities like lynching and for the culture of brutality in our colleges have become familiar. In a large company of authors where I was called on to speak I alluded to a telegram which had been generally published stating that a Harvard professor had in an address suggested the legalizing of burning at the stake. A professor present who had heard the address declared that its allusion to the stake was a sarcasm. We were all relieved, but in old times we should not have needed the rectification. No reporter would have then taken the sarcasm seriously, and if he had no one would have believed it. But as lynching, and the whipping post, and tortures by "White Caps" and hazers, have taken their place as institutions, and eloquent divines clamor for Chinese heads, and wish us to slaughter Turks for $90,000, one hardly ventures to pronounce any proposal too inhuman to find cultured support. One would know, of course, that any such extreme instance among authors must be sporadic; nevertheless the literary testimony on such matters has become doubtful, and it is well that one trump should announce a day of judgment, and every author realize his or her responsibility for what looks like American decadence.

People look back to the great American authors and orators who in the last generation made their influence felt throughout the land, and talk of the decline of genius. There is, I believe, no decline, but an abdication. There is no genuine leadership of a country except its literature. Preachers are in sectarian bonds, politicians are in partisan bonds, and if the scholars and independent thinkers do not tell the boss-ridden, parson-ridden masses the truth, and uphold national and international justice

"Wherever you once stick your teeth, never let go! Be it in a weak and harmless animal, be it in man, woman, or babe, if your teeth are once fastened heed no cries, but hold on! This is the first and greatest commandment." Is there a thinking man in America who does not see that if a flag is wrongly raised in any place the honor is in lowering it, the dishonor in keeping it there?

I did not hear Mark Twain's speech, and have had no opportunity to ask him if he was accurately reported, but I have no doubt that he declared that a flag stained with brave and innocent blood is "polluted." I have these many years recognized that Mark Twain's humor is apt to feather a serious arrow, and I venture to predict that the indignant "patriots" who are demanding his explanations will not have long to wait. The nation has already heard the protests of some of its finest intellects, among them Howells and Charles Norton, and it may be now hoped that the bugle call of Samuel Clemens will be the signal for an uprising of intellectual forces in America similar to that which in France has just laid low the militarist dragon and plucked the spoil out of its teeth.

I was residing in Paris during the last two years of that struggle, and for the first time realized what tremendous power lay in the united intellectual forces of a cultured nation. With the exception of two or three timid dilettantists, neither of whom ventured to discuss the Dreyfus case on its merits, the authors, professors, artists, confronted the python coiled around France in a phalanx that could not be broken by any military menace or Ministerial persecution. I counted more than 400 of these men of intellectual, literary, scientific, or artistic distinction. They were razed from the Legion of Honor, deprived of professorships, fined, challenged to duels, shot at by assassins, and went on inflexibly with their articles—articles never surpassed by the greatest publicists in history, Junius, Paine, Cobbett—and one after another hostile Ministries fell before their terrible pen, until Militarism, after crawling through all the mires of falsehood, perjury, forgery, was reduced to cover its defeat with the verdict at Rennes, at once perjured and ridiculous, that there were "extenuating circumstances" for high treason!

Such is the splendid record made by the genius of France at the close of the nineteenth century. One-twentieth of the number of those French "intellectuals"—that was the proverbial epithet for them in France—in America and in England equally united and heroic for justice and peace could have prevented the wars that in the Anglo-Saxon world have caused the sun of a century to set in blood.

The admirable sermon of Cardinal Gibbons (Jan. 6) may remind us that it is on the chief Protestant nations that the blood-guiltiness rests. In this day of judgment the Czar and the Pope rise up and condemn the Protestant powers that frustrated their efforts for peace. It was Protestant pulpits that shrieked for Spanish blood, and Turkish blood. It is Protestant missionaries that clamor for Chinese heads. The shame of it all cannot be effaced. But whether the twentieth century is to swell the outrages and the shame will depend on the adequacy or the inadequacy of our scholars and thinkers to recognize that man alone is the providence of this world, that the nation will be what men make it, that there is no law of progress any more than of retrogression, and that it rests mainly on them to restore the control of reason and righteousness, or by default permit the agencies of decay to have it their own way.

MONCURE D. CONWAY.
New York, Jan. 7, 1901.

THE SUBSIDY BILL.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The Ship Subsidy bill's purpose is to build up a merchant marine that will carry American produce in American bottoms. It will not succeed any better than the Dingley tariff did in its purpose to build up a woolen industry. Viewed from the point of the falling off in wool consumed in 1895 and 1896, under the Wilson bill, and now, under the Dingley tariff, the industry has deteriorated by fully 20 per cent. under the fostering care of this subsidy measure to the woolen and worsted mills. The Ship Subsidy bill is likely to act in the same manner. Subsidizing steamships on the basis of speed would hardly benefit the carriers of bulky freight. Our cotton, grain, provisions, petroleum, pig iron, and the like, contributing four-fifths of the value and nine-tenths of the bulk of our exports, do not seek ocean greyhounds for berthroom. The bill is a pretense so far as the carrying trade goes. There has been no lack of shipping thus far—not even in 1900, under the full strain put upon English shipping (comprising two-thirds of the steam fleets of Europe) by the South African exigencies and our increased exports. The cheap carriers, the ocean tramps, have so far supplied all needs at constantly declining rates. Within ten years the steam tonnage of the world has almost doubled. Declining rates and increasing supply show that improvements are all the time active in construction, and that the trade can be safely left to itself. This view is supported by American shippers. Ships of American make are forthcoming at a satisfactory rate under present conditions, when our shipyards are overstocked with orders, and not for American register only. Mr. Cramp told the writer in 1888 when he visited his yards that in the case of one of the cruisers he had under contract then an English firm had put in an estimate at about 10 per cent. below his price; but that the fittings and trimmings in his work were so far superior that he could produce the ship at the English price were he permitted to follow the same specifications and had the same cost of iron and steel, which was then fully 50 per cent. higher than English iron. Now the positions are reversed. We are exporting iron and steel in all forms, and at prices which dismay Europe.

The Commissioner of Navigation, Mr. Eugene Chamberlain, advances a special plea for subsidies by submitting what he says is the cost of two ships of a certain tonnage, the American at $275,000, the English at $214,000, though the English cost of materials is $17,000 higher than the American cost. "The difference," he asserts, "represents the higher wages paid in American than in British yards and the higher cost of superintendence." The principles of "The Economy of High Wages" are proved effectively at work in our iron and steel industries, and are acknowledged as operative in shipyards by Mr. Cramp's admission. The labor in shipbuilding is largely of the kind that is employed in locomotive building. Mr. Henry D. Lloyd in his recent book, "Newest England," relates an instance which shows how we push aside foreign competition: "When I was there," (New Zealand,) he says, "the department had just bought twelve thirty-eight-ton American locomotives for £1,650, delivered at Wellington, and ten sixty-eight-ton engines for £2,000; the same locomotives bought in England cost £2,150." Our constantly growing exports in these complicated labor products, mostly achievements of the last decade, leave little doubt that we shall gradually extend our domain over shipbuilding in the same manner. Our high rate of wages is a safe guarantee of this. This subsidy begging is therefore totally misapplied. Subsidies rather retard than benefit. The uselessness had become apparent. The people are becoming disgusted with the continuous begging expeditions of tariff fattened millionaires to Washington, who privately declare that they do not need these subsidizing bounties, but that they see no harm in taking all they can get from laws shaped to foster their interests. The debauching of public morality which this system of pauperizing industries begets is the cardinal evil of the Republic, and ought to be stamped out without mercy.

That subsidies paid to encourage shipbuilding do not bring forth desired results is shown by France. The latest accounts of subsidies to French shipping give 16,000,000f. as paid in the year 1899. The steam tonnage of 1888 amounted to 500,901 and in 1898 to 485,615, a decline of 5 per cent. in ten years. The development of the steam tonnage (net tons) of Europe in the last ten years has been as follows:

	1888.	1898.
Belgium	73,384	89,247
Denmark	95,650	225,423 opportunity to pass unimproved, if they see a profit. JACOB SCHOENHOF.

New York, Jan. 5, 1901.

A Naval Graduate's Experience.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

With reference to the Booz and the Breth cases at West Point, will you permit a graduate of the Naval Academy to add to the statements, in your issue of Sunday, the 30th ultimo, made by "An Old Graduate" of the Point, concerning the extreme disinclination of those who fail in the mental tests at these schools to admit that their failures are due to the fact that they could not pass the tests?

The Annual Registers of the United States Naval Academy in my possession contain lists of "resignations," and the dates of the resignations are suspiciously close to the dates of the semi-annual and the annual examinations, as a rule. I was looking over some old registers yesterday, covering my time at Annapolis, and I concluded that at least 90 per centum of the resignations were due to the fact that the cadets could not pass the mental tests.

I am far from saying that either Booz or Breth did not tell the exact truth, (for I have been both hazed and hazer, though I never knew or heard of anything, except the H. case at Annapolis, comparable to what Booz alleged,) but the probabilities are, to my mind, against it. My observations compel me to the opinion that it is lack of nerve rather than lack of brains which causes the failures, though both are sometimes causes, and sometimes it is pure "woodenness." One chap at Annapolis at the end of the second month of his fourth class year had but about 2.15 out of a possible 4 in algebra, and not a man in his class had any thought but that he would fail utterly and "bilge" surely. But he did not. He simply buckled down to it and worked for that 2.5, the mark that carries one through, and, by the aid of a friend who was a "math fiend," he had over 2.5 at the semi-annual exams.

That is, he made up his deficiencies in just two months, and he went into the third class in the following June. Hard work and plenty of it will do the trick every time with the average cadet. EX-NAVY.
New York, Jan. 2, 1901.

NUGGETS.

Guide to Wealth.

"The way to get rich is to save money." "That's only half; after you have money you have to resist all the people who want to tell you how to spend it."—Chicago Record.

She Knew Him.

"Old Grouch went to the masquerade the other night disguised as a bear." "Did any one recognize him?" "Nobody but his wife."—Indianapolis Press.

It Costs.

"I'm thinking about that lodger of ours," the landlord remarked to his wife. "About what?" "He pays his rent so punctually I think I'd better raise it on him."—Philadelphia Times.

The Doctor's Credentials.

Sick Man—Is this the Western Sanitarium?

New Girl (mystified)—This is Dr. Blank's house.

"Yes, but doesn't he take sick persons to nurse sometimes?"

"Oh! Maybe he does. There's two or three skeletons in the back office."—Boston Christian Register.

THE LAST CHRISTMAS OF THE CENTURY.

Sir Edwin Arnold in London Telegraph.

I.

We praise it, and we blazon it—our Age—
Born in the blood-stained panoply of War,
And dying in the same sad glories, gauge
How far from those divinest heights we are!
Proclaimed by Angels out of Bethlehem's blue:
Lord Christ! when cometh Thy birth-promise true?

II.

We praise it, and we blazon it. 'Twas ours!
It held our fathers' lives, our own, our sons';
Were ancient days more grand? Were classic hours?
Nay! keep your early splendors, elder ones!
Pharaohs and Caesars! fret not, though we call
Our Nineteenth Century the Crown of all.

III.

Who could its victories count, its powers, its pride?
its deeds, discoveries? How its children tore
Secrets from all those glooms where the gnomes hide
The subtle spells of many a cosmic lore?
Who could its scroll exhaust, naming each name
Of brave, wise, mighty men that brought it fame?

IV.

Many sealed doors of Nature's fair pavilions
Its cunning key of Science did unlock:
Silver and gold it digged by tons and millions,
And bridged the straits, and blasted ridge and rock;
And made a playground of God's sea; and filled
Deserts with cities, and the waste fields tilled.

V.

Across all lands, with flying smoke and fire,
Screamed its steam-eagles; o'er the mastered wave
Thundered its battleships; the trembling wire—
Modern Electra's web—beneath them, gave
Service from shore to shore, for Time and space
Had shrunk abashed before our Century's face.

VI.

Also it learned a master word of Life
From Darwin's lips, and wrung from Chemistry
Her hidden talisman to heal the strife
'Twixt body and pain, and set the sufferer free;
Did make the Sun its painter, did discourse,
Tongueless, across the void; dead voices force

VII.

To sound anew; constrained the tenuous stuff
We breathe to show as water or as stone,
Matched flames of Hell for heat, made frost enough
To suit the leaden chills of Saturn's zone,
And spied with sightless eyes through flesh and skin
To heal the mischief lurking lost within.

VIII.

These and a thousand glittering masteries
Gild the royal annals of our hundred years.
Ah! singing Angels of the Syrian skies,
Why came we nowise clearer from life's fears,
From death's black puzzle, from our strife and sin?
Why must each century end and each begin

IX.

In blood and tears and doubts and darkness? Rend
The veil away from truth and let us know;
Bring war and hate and ignorance to end
And make the presage good pledged long ago:
"Peace upon earth! Good will to men."
Oh! these
Were more than triumphs, trophies, victories.

X.

Sandalphon! Archangel of prayer, wert thou
One of that shining throng amid the stars?
Carry Earth's piteous prayer to God's ear now;
Say how she staggers red with crimes and wars,
Shamed 'mid her sister orbs, yearning to see
Of Christ's dear peace one lovely Century.

XI.

Azrael! Archangel of Death, thou too
Didst sing, may be, amongst the Heavenly Choir;
Doth man know yet what thy cold kisses do?
Hath he come closer, bolder, nearer, higher
T'ward that dread Love of whose all-gathering sword
Thou art the awful Minister and Lord?

XII.

VARIOUS DRAMATIC TOPICS

Creepy Little Play Performed by Mr. Sargent's Pupils.

Quebec Bound to Have a Native Drama —Reviews of the Theatrical Century.

There is more than a hint of the influence of Maeterlinck in the queer and gloomy little play called "The Marriage of Guineth," by Florence Wilkinson, which was performed with abundant zeal by Mr. Sargent's pupils in the Empire Theatre yesterday afternoon. The scene is a castle in a town of Brittany, and the time the fifteenth century. Guineth is to be married, against her will, to a young noble, while she loves, in a sort of lackadaisical way, one Rodic, a good-for-nothing gypsy fellow, who insists that the heart of Egypt has its depths. An idiot pervades the piece with his mouth full of tumultuous but unintelligible imagery, and a leech (who, you know, is only the family physician,) gives Guineth some medicine to quiet her nerves and warningly informs her that an overdose will kill her.

The wedding ceremony occurs, and the feast follows, the rival minstrels at the head and foot of the guests' table improvising their verses amid shouts of approval. But, in the revelry, Guineth drinks her poison and fateful Rodic unlocks the huge gates of the dike and the waters rush in and drown everybody.

The dialogue is fluent, and there is unquestionably much artistic feeling in the little play, but it has no sort of commercial value. Mr. Furst had expressly composed the incidental music. The programme included also a domestic drama in three acts from the Danish of Emma Gad, by Olga Flinch, called "The Silver Wedding."

For the next public entertainment of his pupils, Jan. 29, Mr. Sargent will have what Goldsmith's Mr. Croaker would have called "a rare treat," to wit: a symbolical drama in one act called "The Tragedy of Death," written by a Frenchman, René Peter, and to be produced at the Théâtre Antoine in Paris, but not until after it is seen here. The English version has been made by Edwin S. Belknap, and Harvey W. Loomis has composed incidental music.

A movement is on foot in the Province of Quebec to build up a national drama by offering prizes annually out of the public treasury for the best drama and the best comedy written by citizens of the province. A bill providing for an appropriation to pay the prizes, $800 for each of favored plays, will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature. Presumably a committee composed of persons reputed to have artistic taste will examine the plays and award the prizes. Undoubtedly the plan was conceived in the right spirit, and it seems impolite to even hint at putting a damper upon it.

But, setting aside all opinions of the possibility of getting art work by offering prizes which cannot be as easily obtained without prizes, look squarely at the facts. In 1844 Benjamin Webster, manager of the Haymarket Theatre in London, offered a prize of $2,500 for "the best modern comedy, illustrative in plot and character of British manners and customs." A committee, which included Charles Kemble, G. P. R. James, and the Rev. Alexander Dyce, read ninety-eight plays and unanimously awarded the prize to Mrs. Gore, the novelist, for a play entitled "Quid Pro Quo; or, the Day of Dupes." When the play was acted, with a cast including some of the best actors of an era rich in good actors, it was received with wild derision.

About forty-six years later The New York Herald offered a prize of $10,000 for the best one-act play submitted to a committee as notable in its time and place as Mr. Webster's. The choice fell to "Hearts," written by Echard Golden. This was produced at the Garden Theatre, and failed dismally. Nor has Mr. Golden ever written a successful play.

Either Agnes Sorma's powers are failing or taste in Vienna differs from that in other capitals. Frau Sorma lately made her first appearance in the Austrian city, at the Raimund Theatre, as Nora in Ibsen's best-known play, and was severely treated by the public and the critics. The prices were raised for her engagement, however, and perhaps that sort of thing influences opinion in Vienna more than it does in New York. Certainly, Frau Sorma's portrayal of the childish wife is natural and interesting if not comparable in charm with her acting in "Die Versunkene Glocke" and "Königskinder."

To "review" the plays and acting of the nineteenth century at all adequately one would need make a volume of some hundreds of pages. The advisability of "hastily glancing" at the incidents of the century that seem most striking and suggestive to any one dramatic reviewer depends wholly upon the interest the writer can give to his subject. The English newspapers are full of such reviews, and most of them seem very dull. The dullest thing in the way of "sizing up" the drama of the last century, however, was done by the paper which asked "representative men" to name the "three best" plays of the period. The answers, in most cases, are worthy of Bedlam. Mr. Bernard Shaw, however, gets a great deal of fun out of the matter, and there is a hint of jocularity in the reply of Mr. Walkley of The London Times. It is needless to say that it has not yet been decided which were the three best plays of the century.

THE MORGAN QUARTET.

First Concert of the Season Given at Mendelssohn Hall.

The Morgan String Quartet gave the first of two concerts last night at Mendelssohn Hall. The members of this organization are Geraldine Morgan, first violin; Eugene Boegner, second violin; Fritz Schaefer, viola, and Paul Morgan, 'cello. Their programme was short and pithy. It consisted of Mozart's quartet in B flat, numbered 458 in the Koechel catalogue, and the first of Beethoven's Rassomouffsky quartets, opus 59, No. 1. Certainly no one could complain that his mental digestion was taxed by such a programme. Its brevity and conciseness made music lovers wish that the example of the Morgan Quartet might be widely imitated.

Quartets with women as their leaders are not unheard of, though it must be admitted that they are not common. The temptation to question the ability of a woman to act as a musical leader need not prevail here, for surely if there is any department of art in which the delicate taste and sympathetic insight of a woman might be expected to work for good it is that of chamber music. The performance of the Morgan Quartet last night showed that such an expectation would in this case not be wholly disappointed. In the quality of its tone this quartet leaves not a little to be desired, but in substance and balance the tone is good. It should be noted, too, with particularity that the four players are nearly always in tune. Furthermore, they perform their work in a smooth and well-prepared manner, which gives to the hearer most of the superficial beauties of the music.

It is in the higher requirements of quartet playing that this organization seemed to be deficient last night. Its work was honest and unaffected, and in certain passages of the slow movement of the Mozart work it really interesting. But on the whole the presentation of the works lacked just that peculiar warmth of expression which transforms a quartet playing from a performance into a communication. The audience was one of meagre size and moderate demonstrativeness.

THE HENSCHEL SONG RECITALS.

The Second One Given at Mendelssohn Hall Yesterday.

The second song recital of Mr. and Mrs. Georg Henschel took place at Mendelssohn Hall yesterday afternoon. That the public does not fail to appreciate the charm of these entertainments was shown by the size of the audience, which filled the hall. It was an audience of cheerful humor, too, ready to accept the goods that the gods provided in a spirit of thankfulness. The programme was made after the usual Henschel pattern. It began with a duet from "Elijah," which was followed by some numbers of the early style by Caldara, Leo and Cocchi, sung by Mr. Henschel. Mrs. Henschel then sang songs by Brahms, Dvorak, and Schumann, being particularly happy in her delivery of the lovely "Auftraege," and in her husband's beautiful performance of the accompaniment to it.

Mr. Henschel's first group consisted of Schubert's "Das Rosenband," Brahms's "Wie Froh und Frisch," and Loewe's "The Ruined Mill." In his interpretation of the last named he achieved one of those wonders for which he is noted, his eloquent accompaniment forming the background to a reading of the voice part whose wealth of detail defied the quality of his voice and created for the hearer an illusion too often missed in the work of singers more generously gifted by nature. A duet from Villiers Stanford's music to Tennyson's "Becket" proved to be an uncommonly good piece of writing in the English style, and a song of Mr. Henschel's, "Morgen als Lerche," which Mrs. Henschel sang, disclosed the composer's happiest inspiration.

The recital yesterday came to an end with some examples of the modern French school and one of the best French school of light opera, a duet from Boildieu's "Les Voltures Versées." Mrs. Henschel's singing was characterized as heretofore by the limpidity of her little voice, the finish of her style, and her fascinating nuancing. It is said that the present tour will be the last of this musical couple in this country. Music lovers will be sorry to bid them good-bye.

Suit Against Miss Rigl Reopened.

Justice Hascall, in the City Court, has handed down a decision in which he opens the default taken against Emily Rigl, the actress, by Frank Mordant, the actor. The judgment, which amounts to $500, was entered several days ago. Mordant alleges that Miss Rigl had failed to keep a theatrical contract entered into between them. Miss Rigl did not appear when the case came on for trial. She appealed to have the judgment opened, alleging that she could not be present on the day set for trial.

NATIONAL ACADEMY OF DESIGN.

Annual Exhibition in the Halls of the Society.

SECOND NOTICE.

Easily the most noticeable canvas in the Vanderbilt Gallery is the contribution of the Veteran Academician, Thomas Moran, which fills all the central part of the west wall with masses of angry cloud, brown peaks, and, as it seems, acres of foaming waters, dashed hither and thither between jagged rocks, and finally tumbled in a vast yeasty sea into the abyss. This is Mr. Moran's tribute of 1900 to the series of views from the West, which he has been painting now these many years. It depicts the Shoshone Falls of the Snake River, in Idaho, as they appear to him—for Mr. Moran is not a realist, but a romantic painter, and views nature through the spectacles of a very decided personality of his own. What strikes the observer of his paintings first is not the gorgeousness of this Titanic section of our land so far as color is concerned, but the big plan of the mountains and the rivers, the structure of the earth thereabout. Marvelous, almost incredible color is there, and Moran does not ignore it, but primarily he is concerned with the drawing, not the color. And certainly with great maëstria does he lay in the big lines, his memory helped by the sketches taken on the spot, and his hand guided by the half century of practice in the art of the landscapist that lies behind him. The "Shoshone Falls" would tempt the burin of some etcher of temperament if etchings were now the fashion. Perhaps Mr. Moran himself might be persuaded to take up the gentle art once more and reproduce his own picture on the copper plate. It has a vigor—one may almost say a passionate vigor—that would lose nothing in black and white.

Among the painters whoare drawn toward the figure, Mr. George Barse, Jr., N. A., is interesting; if not always through his achievement, yet through his attempt. "End of the Day" is a symbol wrought out in the form of a woman putting an extinguisher on a torch. The bare torso, violet drapery of the legs, and yellow and green draperies of the upper frame form the most difficult combination, if the artist shall escape from the two pitfalls of sugariness and sentimentality. The color scheme is not the happiest possible. While he has changed his brushwork from the hardness he brought with him when he returned from Rome, it cannot be said that he has made himself master of his latter style. We can recognize, however, and heartily applaud the courage of a man who tries to the best of his ability to work in the path of the old classic masters. The "Wood Nymph," by Edward Potthast, A. N. A., is hardly in the same category; for it is but the sweet portrait of a sweet-faced girl with violets in her hair, without mystery or suggestion of the supernatural—yet by no means an illpainted picture, withal. Nor does Mr. Carroll Beckwith's "Hamadryad" arranging her fair locks convince us that the title is well chosen; she is too human for a spirit of the woody wilds.

Among the measurably successful attempts to symbolize is the "Music," by Miss M. L. Macomber, half lengths of three female figures, two in profile, one full face, which hold lyres to their bosoms and droop their heads, heavy with their auburn hair, in a charmingly sensuous and Rossettilike fashion. The triple presentation of the same face and figure adds to the mystery of a picture which deserved recognition at the hands of the jury which awarded the prizes for women. The coloring carries out the feeling of languorous passion very well. Mr. Childe Hassam comes very close to this rare ability to suggest poetry and music in his "July Night," which is painted in his well-known enamel style. The woman's figure is indicated by flowing lines, and her face is a dark profile against a green night sky, while the Chinese lanterns about her make one think of fruit, say pomegranates. The mystery and half-seen colors of the night are delightfully suggested.

In the sculpture gallery the noble lines of Mr. French's two statues to enrich the Hunt Memorial attract the eye and give the little group of statuary a fine flavor. One symbolizes architecture, the other sculpture and painting. The most virile piece is Mr. Charles Niehaus's bust of John Q. A. Ward, the President of the Sculpture Society. This is a nearly perfect rendering of the old master in his sculptor's frock, pursing up his lips reflectively as he regards a work in the clay. It ought to become the property of the Sculpture Society.

CROWD'S ALL-NIGHT SEARCH VAIN.

But Lloyd's Three Boys, Supposed to be Drowned, Turned Up All Right.

BRIDGETON, N. J., Jan. 10.—The three children of Joseph Lloyd caused the city a search last night and to-day. It was thought they had been drowned in the pond in Temmbling Dam Park, but they were not.

The children, Arthur, aged eleven; Eddie, aged eight, and Frederick, aged five, left home at 11 o'clock yesterday morning to skate on the pond. Between 4 o'clock in the afternoon and sunset they were seen skating. After that no trace of them could be found. The parents, aided by a large crowd of townspeople, dragged the pond and searched the surrounding woods all night and this morning for the missing children. The ice was found to be rotten and broken in many places.

Although the grappling did not bring up their bodies, almost every one but their fatlies gave up hope. He, on the chance that his children might have wandered away and become lost, communicated with the authorities of all the near-by towns. This afternoon word came from Millville that during the early morning hours the boys had tramped into that place, ten miles from their home, and were too tired to talk. They were fed and put to bed and did not wake until noon. They arrived home by train this afternoon.

Answers to Correspondents.

J. ERNEST, Durango, Mexico—In a full-blooded ordinary cocker spaniel the color should be liver and white, with the darker color in a "saddle" on the back and conspicuous on the head and ears, and blotches and ticks of liver on the paws and legs. If a black cocker, the color should be jet black, without a white blemish.

Mrs. A. E. DE FRIESE—Capital punishment has not been abolished in Connecticut.

Successor to Father Purbrick.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The Rev. Francis J. Gannon has been appointed head of the Eastern Province of the Jesuit Order in this country to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of the Rev. Edward J. Purbrick. Father Gannon was the first assistant to Father Purbrick. He was born in Cambridge, Mass.

VANDERBILT-FRENCH WEDDING.

Elaborate Precautions Taken at Newport for the Protection of the Presents.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 10.—Harbourview was a busy place to-day. From early morning until late this evening workmen were arranging the decorations and fitting up the electric lights. Everything is to be completed early Sunday evening.

The electrical illuminations will be very beautiful, and will extend throughout the entire lower floor, which embraces the drawing room, parlors, library, dining hall, Turkish room, and billiard hall. The new portrait of Miss French is hanging in the drawing room.

Mrs. French, Miss French, Mrs. Eaton, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt were each busily engaged yesterday completing the last preparations for the wedding day. The presents continue to arrive in large numbers, and are said to be most magnificent, the majority being gold or jewel gifts.

Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, and her son, Reginald Vanderbilt, visited Harbourview to-day and inspected some of the presents, which were afterward deposited in the bank vaults. They will be brought from the bank vaults on Monday under special police guard and exhibited in the billiard room, and immediately after the wedding reception will be sent back to the vault and kept there until the bride sends for them.

Every precaution will be taken by Chief of Police Richards for the protection of the presents. The police arrangements for the church and the guard at Harbourview will be very elaborate. All boats and trains will be hereafter under the surveillance of the Police Department, which will be assisted by several out-of-town detectives who are already on duty here. Precautions against fire at both the church and Harbourview have also been taken.

Everything in connection with the ceremonies, both at the church and house, has been thoroughly laid out, even to the smallest detail, none of which has escaped the attention of Mrs. French or her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney will arrive at their cottage to-morrow evening with several wedding guests, and Commodore and Mrs. Elbridge T. Gerry, with the Misses Gerry and Robert L. Gerry also are due to-night at Seaverge.

Four additional ushers have been added to the wedding party—Ira Preston, Ernest Iselin, Bayard Cutting, Jr., and William P. Burden.

Amos Tuck French, brother of Miss French, from Tuxedo, and Miss Isabel Stillman of New York, who is to be one of the bridesmaids, arrived this evening and are at the Muenchinger-King cottage.

It was intended that a church service should take place at St. John's Church on Monday morning, but in view of the fact that the wedding decoration work must begin Sunday, and Monday morning is required to complete the work, these services will be omitted.

At Hill Top Cottage, where Alfred G. Vanderbilt's ushers and friends will stop, several dinners will be given by the young men while there, and the dinner which Miss French will give on Saturday evening to her bridesmaids is expected to be a very successful affair.

The wedding has electrified Newport and caused a big boom in business. The people of Newport are therefore well pleased at the decision of Mrs. French to have the wedding here.

The first train of guests leaving the Grand Central Station will arrive Saturday evening, the second on Sunday evening, and the third will come from Boston on Monday, arriving at 11 o'clock.

The remainder of the flowers and plants and the service for the wedding breakfast will arrive from New York on Sunday and Monday morning, and large covered wagons have been secured for the transportation of the material. Stormy weather set in to-day, and it looks as if bad weather was setting in for good.

WEDDINGS OF A DAY.

D'Oench—Holloway.

The wedding of Albert F. D'Oench and Mrs. Alice Grace Holloway, a daughter of ex-Mayor William R. Grace and Mrs. Grace, (Miss Lilias Gilchrist,) was celebrated very quietly yesterday afternoon at the residence of the bride's parents, 31 East Seventy-ninth Street. The wedding took place at 4 o'clock, the Rev. Father Neil McKinnon, S. J., officiating. The bride wore a gown of pale amber-colored peau de soie and renaissance lace, and a white orchid was placed in her coiffure. She had no attendant, and Mr. D'Oench no best man. There were no ushers. The house was beautifully decorated, and the couple were married in a bower of palms, at one side of which Siebrecht had placed branches of white lilac and on the other Golden Gate roses. The dining room decorations were of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Only relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present at the ceremony, and among them were Mr. and Mrs. William R. Grace, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. William R. Grace, Jr., Miss Louise Grace, Joseph P. and Russell Grace, Mr. and Mrs. George B. Kent; Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ayer and Miss Ayer, Prof. T. O'Connor Sloan and Mrs. Sloan, Walter and Morgan Grace, Miss Gilchrist, Master William Holloway, William D'Oench, Jr., Dr. F. E. D'Oench, Mrs. M. D'Oench Tittmann, E. D'Oench Tittmann, O. C. Tittmann, H. D. Meier, Jr., and Mrs. Schmidt, Mrs. Johnston, Mrs. Alker, Miss Bertha Pagenstecher, and A. Pagenstecher, Jr.

Hervey—Hastings.

The wedding of Everett Prey Hervey and Miss Alice Galbreath Hastings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Courtland E. Hastings of 330 West End Avenue, was celebrated at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon in St. Thomas's Church, Fifth Avenue and Fifty-third Street. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Hulse, the acting rector of St. Thomas's. The church was decorated with masses of palms at either side, and sprays of Ascension lilies were tied with broad white satin ribbons on alternate pews on either side of the middle aisle.

The bride, who was gowned in white satin, and the bridesmaids, who were the Misses Charlotte W. Hervey of Boston, sister of the bridegroom; Susan Katzenbach of Trenton, F. Ethel Lucas of Philadelphia, and Florence M. Dimond and Geraldine Frost of New York, were in pink. Allen M. Hervey was his brother's best man, and the ushers were Rufus N. Frost, Edward M. Fennessy, F. W. Stearns, F. W. Hoeninghaus, A. T. Harris, D. W. Lane, F. W. Sayer, D. B. Hyde, and B. G. Waters. The bride's father, on whose arm she entered the church, gave her away. A reception at the residence of the bride's parents followed the ceremony.

BOARD OF RAPID TRANSIT.

Government Bonds as Security—Low Appropriations for Expenses.

The Board of Rapid Transit Commissioners, at its regular meeting yesterday, approved the substitution of the $1,000,000 Government bonds for railroad bonds deposited by August Belmont & Co. with the Controller on Jan. 1.

The lowest appropriation for the annual expenses of any Rapid Transit Commission in this city was approved by the board yesterday. The Commissioners estimate that they can inspect the work on the tunnel until 1902, which will amount to $15,000,000 worth, for $375,000. This is less than 3 per cent. In addition to the inspection, telephoning, and all other expenses incurred, the board has to supervise the construction of the complete road for the year.

TIGHT SHOE CAUSES DEATH.

A Founder of the Carpenter Steel Works Succumbs to Blood Poisoning.

READING, Penn., Jan. 10.—Walter Steel, one of the founders of the Carpenter Steel Works, died last night, after an illness of five weeks, from blood poisoning and gangrene.

Several months ago the large toe of Mr. Steel's left foot became inflamed, as the result of irritation caused by the shoe. Mr Steel paid little attention to it, but about five weeks ago the member began to cause him great pain and became considerably swollen. Mr. Steel went to a physician and began treatment, but he grew steadily worse.

Mr. Steel was General Manager of the Philadelphia Steel and Iron Works, North Reading. He was born in England.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

The event of to-night will be Mrs. Ogden Mills's annual dance. This is always one of the features of the Winter season, and, unless Mrs. Mills is absent or in mourning, is as fixed an event upon the calendar as is the ball given by Mrs. Astor. Mrs. Ogden Mills will, as usual, receive alone.

***

Mrs. W. Storrs Wells will give this afternoon at her residence, 16 East Fifty-seventh Street, the second of her January receptions, at which Miss Natalie Wells will assist her in receiving. Mrs. Henry Ashton Crosby of 20 Washington Square West will also give this afternoon the second of two receptions to introduce her elder daughter, Miss Beatrice W. Crosby. Other receptions will be given by Mrs. Maitland Armstrong and the Misses Armstrong of 58 West Tenth Street, Mrs. William Beekman and the Misses Beekman, and Mrs. Faneuil D. S. Bethune of 13 West Eighth Street.

***

Some of those who are to be guests at the wedding of Alfred Vanderbilt and Miss Elsie French at Newport on Monday will leave to-day for that place, but the majority of the men and women who are going on for the marriage will not leave until Sunday afternoon. The younger element in particular is looking forward to a jolly time at this wedding, and is planning many informal entertainments for the hours they will necessarily spend in Newport other than those devoted to the wedding and the following reception.

***

There will be three dancing class meetings this evening, the most important of which is the Friday Evening Dancing Class, or Mrs. Church's, which will meet in the large ballroom at Sherry's; the second of the four cotillions, which will take place in the small ballroom, also at Sherry's, and the second meeting of the class organized by Mrs. Daniel O'Conor, and which meets at Delmonico's.

***

There are to be several large dinners given this evening. Mrs. Maturin Delafield of 475 Fifth Avenue will give one of these at her residence; Mrs. Spotswood Schenck of 284 Lexington Avenue will give another, and Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish will give one of from thirty-four to forty covers at her residence, 25 East Seventy-eighth Street. Mrs. Fish and her guests will go from the dinner to Mrs. Mills's dance.

***

At the dinner dance to be given for Miss Eleanor Russell Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis Morris, on Tuesday evening next, by Mrs. Robert McAllister Lloyd, the cotillion will be led by Gerard Beekman Hoppin, dancing with Miss Morris. Several dinners, as already announced, will be given on that evening for young people, from which the guests are to go to this dance.

***

John W. Mackay gave a luncheon in the Cable Building yesterday, in honor of Miss Rebecca Darlington of Pittsburg, to which a number of young people were invited. After the luncheon Mr. Mackay showed his guests through the Cable Building, and from there they were driven to the Stock Exchange. Mrs. Hoffman chaperoned the party.

***

Miss Smith Clift, who is at the Waldorf, gave a dinner there last evening, in the Palm Garden, and afterward took her guests to the theatre. Mrs. E. Ellery Anderson of 11 West Thirty-eighth Street gave a dinner of fourteen covers last night. The table decorations were pink, and the guests included Gen. Gillespie and Mrs. Gillespie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Day, Prof. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Henop, and Judge Patterson and Mrs. Patterson. Mrs. Anderson will give a luncheon at her residence on Monday, Jan. 25.

***

Mrs. Frederic de Peyster, who is this Winter occupying the residence of the late Sir Roderick Cameron, 185 Madison Avenue, gave yesterday the first of four "at homes." Mrs. de Peyster was assisted in receiving by the Misses Augusta, Frances and Ella de Peyster. Mrs. de Peyster was gowned in black net embroidered in steel, and the Misses de Peyster were in light Pompadour silk frocks.

***

Among the many receptions and days "at home" of yesterday were those of Mrs. Lewis Rutherfurd Morris, Mrs. Payson Merrill and Miss Cornelia H. Merrill, Mrs. William Henry Parsons, and Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer. In the evening Mrs. James Lent Barclay gave a seven-handed euchre party. Mr. and Mrs. F. De Ruyter Wissman of 707 Fifth Avenue gave an afternoon musicale, at which Mackenzie Gordon sang and Victor Harris and an orchestra played. Mrs. J. Pierrepont Edwards and the Misses Edwards gave a reception yesterday at their residence, 12 East Forty-sixth Street.

***

Mr. and Mrs. George Bird of 202 Madison Avenue gave a large dinner at Sherry's last night in honor of Miss Frederica Vanderbilt Webb. The tables were set in the banqueting hall, and covers were laid for forty-six. Owing to the recent death of Joseph Metcalf of Erie, Penn., an uncle of Miss Betty Metcalf, Mrs. Bird's daughter, Miss Metcalf, was not at last night's function. The guests included Dr. W. Seward Webb and Mrs. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Breese, Mr. and Mrs. George B. De Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Frelinghuysen, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, (Miss Mary Crocker,) and the Misses Marian A. Haven, Eunice Terry, Nora Iselin, Lella Bryce, Caroline Wilmerding, Marion Fish, Catharine Morgan Dix, Lella Sloane, Helen T. Barney, Sarah Van Alen, Florence Twombly, Miss Babcock, Miss Kernochan, Miss Lawrence, Miss Griswold, and Miss Cryder, and W. K. Vanderbilt, Sr., James J. Van Alen, Frederic D'Hanteville, Arden Robbins, Henry W. Bull, Asbel T. Barney, Townsend Burden, Jr., William Burden, Jr., Coster Wilmerding Creighton Webb, Heber R. Bishop, Jr., Milton S. Barger, Henry C. Appleton, Francis H. Winnieti, James W. Gerard, F. L. Polk, William Sloane, and Messrs. Lawrence Gray, Porter, and Dr. Edward Livingston Troudeau. The dinner was followed by informal dancing.

***

Mrs. William R. Sands, (Miss Mary T. Gardiner,) who has recently returned from Europe, gave yesterday afternoon in the Metropolitan Club Annex a large and beautifully appointed luncheon for women in honor of her niece, Miss Lillian G. Tyler. Mrs. Sands gave a similar luncheon there on Saturday last.

***

Among numerous dinners not previously announced are those to be given by Mrs. Frederic J. de Peyster on Jan. 25 at her residence, 185 Madison Avenue; by Mrs. Pembroke Jones on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at her residence, 13 West Fifty-first Street; by Mrs. William Street of 43 Park Avenue on Thursday, Jan. 17, and by Mrs. Henry Mills Day of 6 East Forty-fourth Street, to be given on Saturday evening, Jan. 12.

***

Mrs. J. Frederic de Peyster has issued cards for "at homes" on Thursdays in January. Mrs. Walter Roberts Gillette and Miss Gillette of 24 West Fortieth Street have sent out cards for Tuesdays in January. Mrs. W. Lanman Bull of 805 Fifth Avenue and Mrs. George Place of 44 East Thirty-first Street also have cards out for Thursdays. Mrs. William C. Gulliver and Miss Louise Gulliver of 545 Madison Avenue have cards out for Mondays, and Mrs. Oliver J. Wells, who is at the Astoria, has issued cards for Mondays.

***

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Olyphant, (Miss Caroline Wetmore Muller) of 3 East Sixty-ninth Street have issued invitations to a theatre party on the evening of Friday, Jan. 25, for their daughter, Miss Amy Gordon Olyphant, who was introduced last Winter. After the theatre Mr. and Mrs. Olyphant will take their guests to the Metropolitan Club Annex, where a supper will be served, which will be followed by informal dancing.

***

The ladies of Section 42 of the Army Relief Society will give a progressive euchre party on Governors Island next Saturday. About 100 persons are expected to be present, and the winners of the games will be awarded valuable prizes, while a large white goose will be presented to the winner of the booby prize.

***

The Very Rev. William Travers Lewis, Episcopal Archbishop of Ontario, Canada, accompanied by Mrs. Lewis, is at the Hotel Empire, New York, for an indefinite stay.

***

On Jan. 25, Mrs. J. West Roosevelt will give an informal tea for Mrs. Marion Crawford, who is coming to New York for a short visit, after an absence of many years. Mrs. Crawford will be warmly welcomed by her old friends, as she was much admired and widely known here when as Miss Berdan she spent a couple of Winters in New York.

MISS CONDIT-SMITH ENGAGED.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The engagement is announced of Miss Mary Condit-Smith, who last Summer went through the siege of the Legations at Peking while staying with Minister Conger, to Richard S. Hooker, United States Marine Corps, now stationed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, but formerly of this city.

The wedding is to take place very quietly at the residence of the bride's stepmother the second week in February. Mr. Hooker is the son of Mrs. Bessie Stewart of New York and grandson of Senator and Mrs. Stewart of Nevada.

Miss Condit-Smith is the sister of Mrs. Cyrus Field Judson of New York and of Mrs. Leonard Wood, wife of Gen. Wood, Military Governor of Cuba. She made her début in Washington five years ago, and recently returned from China.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Townsend gave their first dinner party of the season this evening at their new home on Massachusetts Avenue. The guests were the British Ambassador and Lady Pauncefote, the Austrian Minister and Baroness Hengelmüller, the Danish Minister, Mr. Brun, the Netherlands Minister, Baron Gevers, Secretary of War and Mrs. Root, Senator and Mrs. Wetmore, Senator and Mrs. McMillan, Representative and Mrs. Hitt, M. and Mme. Diaz-Albertini, Representative and Mrs. Newlands, Mrs. Kernochan, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. H. B. Beale, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne MacVeagh, Miss Paten, Senator Hale, Senator Wolcott, Gen. Corbin, ex-Gov. John Lee Carroll of Maryland, and Baron Alliotti.

Mrs. Audenried gave a dinner of twelve covers this evening to the Attorney General and Mrs. Griggs. The other guests were Senator Depew, Senator and Mrs. Elkins, Mr. and Mrs. Curry, Mr. and Mrs. Cropper, Gen. and Mrs. Merriam.

Senator and Mrs. Burrows gave a dinner company of twelve at which the guest of honor was Justice Brewer.

Among others who entertained this evening were the Duke de Arcos, the Spanish Minister; Mr. and Mrs. Reginald De Koven, Mr. and Mrs. George Bloomer, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chilton.

REAR ADMIRAL PHELPS DEAD.

Naval Officer Expires in New York Hospital After Two Days' Illness.

Rear Admiral Thomas S. Phelps of Washington died at the New York Hospital at 9 o'clock last night of pneumonia. He was taken to the hospital only last Tuesday from the Hotel Kensington, at the corner of Fifteenth Street and Fifth Avenue. He had come to this city, together with Miss N. R. Adams, Mrs. T. B. Mason, Mr. Mason, and Mrs. J. A. Adams, to be with Mrs. Phelps, who has been sick at the New York Hospital for the past three weeks.

Rear Admiral Thomas S. Phelps, retired, was born in Maine seventy-six years ago. He was appointed to the Naval Academy Jan. 17, 1840, and he saw his first sea service in the United States Navy on the sloop Preble, in the Bay of Fundy and off the coast of Labrador, from March to December of that year. He was promoted to the rank of Passed Midshipman July 11, 1846, and while serving on the sloop Boston, in November of the same year, was wrecked on the Island of Eleutheram, West Indies. In February, 1847, he was ordered to the steamer Polk for war and special service in Mexico. During 1850-1 he served on the old frigate Constitution, in the Mediterranean Squadron. He was made Master March 1, 1855, and commissioned Lieutenant Sept. 14 of the same year.

At the outbreak of the civil war he was attached to the expedition ordered to the relief of Fort Sumter. In organizing the Government it was decided by the chiefs of department that one naval officer skilled in surveying should be detached for special service to co-operate with the army and navy. Lieut. Phelps was selected by ballot for that duty. The Potomac River had been rendered impassable by the Confederates by the erection of heavy batteries and the destruction of lighthouses and buoys, and when Washington was threatened a survey and chart of the river became imperative.

Lieut. Phelps successfully executed the work. He served through the war on various vessels, participating in numerous engagements, among them an engagement with the Confederate gunboat Curlew in 1861, and with many shore batteries. July 16, 1862, he was commissioned Lieutenant Commander. In obedience to demands of Congress and orders of the Navy Department, he executed a close and complete survey of the Potomac River, although opposed by Confederate infantry and artillery. He commanded the Juanita at the capture of Fort Fisher in 1865. He was commissioned Commander Aug. 5, 1865, and was promoted to the rank of Captain in June, 1871. In January, 1879, he was commissioned Commodore. He was made a Rear Admiral and retired on Nov. 2, 1884.

Special Appeal for the Hospitals.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The reports that come to me of the pressure upon the hospitals because of the almost unprecedented prevalence of grip in the city at the present time, and my knowledge of the inadequate resources of the hospitals for meeting the emergency, compel a special appeal to the public for prompt and generous gifts to these institutions.

If you will kindly permit this to appear in your columns, you will greatly benefit the thirty-nine hospitals united in the association, as well as those whom they are seeking to relieve.

GEORGE MACCULLOCH MILLER,
President Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association of New York.
New York, Jan. 10, 1901.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Charles Cooper Halsey.

Charles Cooper Halsey, widely known in fire insurance circles as an expert adjuster, died at his home, 939 Madison Avenue, after a short illness, from heart disease Wednesday. Mr. Halsey was fifty-nine years old, and for the last thirty years was engaged in the fire insurance business in this city. He was born in Hampton, Oneida County. He enlisted as a private at the outbreak of the civil war and served until the close. On receiving his honorable discharge he went to the newly discovered oil fields in Pennsylvania, where he remained for several years, and then went to Detroit, Mich., to accept a position as clerk with the Continental Fire Insurance Company.

He gained rapid promotion, and was transferred to the company's New York office in 1870 to fill the position of assistant adjuster. In 1870 he resigned his position with the Continental and became the general adjuster for the London and Liverpool and Globe Company. After fifteen years of service he resigned and started as an independent adjuster, with offices at 58 William Street, in which business he was engaged up to the time of his death.

He leaves a wife and two children, Mrs. Oliver Bryant Halsey, to whom he was married in Chicago in 1878; Charles Bryant Halsey, a clerk for Charles R. Flint & Co., and Emily Ruby Halsey. Funeral services will be held at the residence to-day.

David Graham Adee.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—David Graham Adee, brother of Assistant Secretary of State Alvey Augustus Adee, and well known as an author, died at 5 o'clock this morning.

He was of old Scotch lineage on both the father's and the mother's side, his maternal grandfather being the eminent New York barrister, David Graham, and his ancestry is traced back to the Graham clan of Fifeshire in the Montrose and Claverhonse lines. On the paternal side the name was originally spelled Adie, the family belonging to the old Scotch Covenanters line. His father, Augustus A. Adee, who died in 1844, was at the time of his death a fleet surgeon of eminence in the United States Navy.

Mr. Adee devoted much of his leisure to literary prose and verse work, and published several novels, among them "No. 19, State Street." Assistant Secretary Adee has been a most devoted brother, the ties between the two being unusually close. The deceased is survived by a wife and three children. The remains will be temporarily interred in Washington.

Commander John N. Quackenbush.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Commander John N. Quackenbush, U. S., retired, died to-day at his residence in this city.

Commander Quackenbush was born in New York and was appointed to the Navy Sept. 24, 1847. He served on the frigate Cumberland during the Mexican war and later saw service in the Pacific Squadron. He was commissioned as Lieutenant-Commander in July, 1862, and was actively employed during the entire period of the civil war. He was retired in 1895.

Obituary Notes.

W. R. JONES, manager of the Caracas, Venezuela, branch of the firm of Mathersen & Co. of Boston, Mass., died a few days ago of yellow fever at Maracaibo.

W. H. REDMAN, Speaker of the Iowa House in 1888, died suddenly at his home in Newton, Iowa, yesterday. He was a member of the Loyal Legion, and served with distinction in the war of the rebellion.

G. ROSS FRENCH, Deputy Superintendent of the Onondaga County Penitentiary, died of pneumonia yesterday evening at Syracuse. For several years he had been prominent in Republican politics. He was fifty-five years old.

EDWARD M. BANNISTER, one of the best-known colored painters in this country, died suddenly from heart disease in Providence, R. I., on Wednesday. He had been in feeble health for some time. He was seventy years of age. Although Mr. Bannister was better known to the last generation than to this, for many years he had been one of the foremost representatives of his race as an artist.

ABRAM C. MOTT, for many years connected with the purchasing department of the New York Central Railroad, died at his home on Nepperhan Avenue, Yonkers, yesterday. He was born in New York City in 1835. In 1865 he became Assistant Paymaster of the Central, and continued as such until 1882, when he entered the purchasing department. For forty consecutive years he was Secretary of Rising Star Lodge, F. and A. M., of Yonkers.

Jersey City Library to Reopen

AUTOMOBILE SIGN POSTS

Practical Guides to Chauffeurs on the Principal Highways.

FRENCH SYSTEM ADOPTED

Out-of-Town Clubs Represented at the Meeting in This City—Routes to be Marked.

Representatives of twelve automobile clubs met yesterday afternoon in the office of President A. R. Shattuck of the Automobile Club of America, at 11 Broadway, to discuss means for placing substantial sign posts upon the leading highways. President Shattuck represented the Automobile Club of America, and the other clubs with delegates in the conference were the Automobile Clubs of Baltimore, North Jersey, Philadelphia, Long Island, Westchester, Rhode Island, Bridgeport, Massachusetts, Brooklyn, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey.

Automobilists, as well as others using the country roads, have complained for a long time about the lack of adequate signboards information. In some counties signboards are kept in a fair degree of repair, while in others, old ones are allowed to decay or the information becomes illegible, without any effort to replace them.

Finding that the State and county authorities are not all inclined to give speedy attention to the matter, the Automobile Club of America has taken the initiative, and its efforts to secure better highway information have met with instant favor from all of the automobile clubs that have been so widely organized within the past year in various parts of the country.

Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, and New Jersey, besides New York, are deeply interested in the subject of good roads, and the automobile clubs are all taking an active part toward securing better facilities in every respect. On the subject of sign posts, for instance, the delegates yesterday unanimously decided to erect sign posts of a uniform character, pointing out clearly the best roads between the principal points. These signs are to be like those used in France. They are to be made of iron and practically indestructible.

As an evidence that the automobile clubs are in earnest in the matter, and intend to begin their crusade for better sign posts at once, it was decided to begin by making the route from New York to Boston, going by way of Bridgeport, New Haven, Springfield, and Worcester, and from Boston to Providence, Providence to Newport. In addition it was proposed to place signs on the road from New Haven to Providence, the road from New Haven to Philadelphia, which will probably be by way of Princeton and Trenton. Other routes will be from New York to Albany and from New York to the principal points on Long Island. Later in the Summer it is hoped to extend these sign posts from Buffalo to Albany and thence on to Worcester, so that it will be possible, with the aid of these posts, to travel quickly from Niagara Falls to Boston.

All of the clubs represented at the conference subscribed funds to carry on the work, and it is expected that by Spring one or two routes at least will be adorned with clear and indestructible signposts.

On the subject of good roads the Automobile Club of America is making strong efforts to secure a large appropriation from the Legislature, and a delegation from the club will probably go to Albany in the near future to argue the subject. From $500,000 to $1,000,000 is wanted for the coming year.

OPPOSITION TO THE FIGHT.

Cincinnati's Counsel Avers Mayor's Permit Will Be Illegal.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 10.—The Jeffries-Ruhlin fight on Feb. 15 has not been declared off by the Saengerfest Athletic Association of Cincinnati, notwithstanding reports to-day to the contrary, but more formidable opposition than ever heretofore developed to-day against having the fight pulled off in Cincinnati.

The Directors of the Saengerfest Athletic Association were in session to-day and later gave the following information to the press:

After a session with their counsel they have not changed their position one iota and any announcement that the contest is off is in no way authorized.

When it was first proposed to have this contest here for the benefit of the old Saengerfest Board, Mayor Fleischmann promised that he would issue a permit for the fight. He still insists that he will issue it, but the permit has not been as yet sent out. Meanting the Corporation Counsel has rendered an opinion that the permit cannot be legally issued, and Judge Davis has instructed the Grand Jury to consider the matter.

There is no doubt now but that the controversy here will be settled to-morrow. As the Directors of the Saengerfest Athletic Association are daily incurring expenses in their preparations they decided to-night that they would to-morrow make a formal request of Mayor Fleischman for the Jeffries-Ruhlin contest, and if the permit shall be granted, and they have it in hand, they will proceed with their arrangements and hold the fight at all hazards. If the Mayor shall not give them the permit they will hold a meeting at once to communicate with the managers of the contestants, with a view to declaring the fight off.

It is stated by some of the members of the Saengerfest Athletic Club and others that politics has entered into the controversy. It is well known that Senator Foraker, who is a candidate for re-election this year, and Gov. Nash, who will head the Republican State ticket for a second term, are opposed to having the fight here.

Cycles at the Garden.

The Cycle Show, which will open to-morrow night at the Madison Square Garden under the direction of the National Cycle Exhibition Company, will be an important exhibition for every one interested in wheels, whether manufacturers or riders. The improvements that have been made in bicycles since they became well known have kept pace with the popular demand, that a wheel shall be light and strong and easy-working. All these necessities seem to have been covered in the models for the new year, and the chainless wheel, which not long ago was an experiment, has become an accepted institution, both for women and men. The show of cycles will be given in the centre of the main floor, and the motor cycle, which is coming to the front rapidly, will have its place in that division. The exhibition of automobiles will be made on the outer edge of the main floor, next to the boxes, and many of those which were popular during the recent Automobile Show will be on exhibition.

Florida's Schedule of Golf Events.

Special to The New York Times.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Jan. 10.—The programme for the Palm Beach golf tournaments for this season, in which a number of Eastern golfers will play, has been announced by Secretary Charles B. Corey as follows: Jan. 17, opening tournament—Medal play, scratch, eighteen holes; 24—eighteen-hole medal play handicap; Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 and 2—President's Cup, thirty-two to qualify, losers in first round of match play to play for the Consolation Cup; Feb. 21, 22, and 23—Secretary's Cup, representing championship of South Florida, thirty-two to quality, losers on first round of match play to play for Consolation Cup; March 1, 2, and 4—woman's championship, sixteen to qualify, losers in first round of match play to play for Consolation Cup.

Madison Wheelmen Tournaments.

The Madison Wheelmen will hold a billiard tournament in their clubhouse, 1,666 Madison Avenue, beginning on or about Jan. 15. Ladies will be invited to witness the games twice a week during the series. The members of the club have taken a great interest in this tournament, and already the following have entered: Moe Isaacs, Rudolph Hess, E. G. "Levy," Joe Koehler, Justus Frankel, R. J. Nagle, "Joe" Mandel, Larry Strauss, Nathan Schreiber, "Jack" Wolff, E. Oppenheimer, Harry Cahn, Dr. Oppenheim, A. Jackson, Aaron Schreiber, Nathan Cohn, L. G. Spooner. The players will be divided into three classes, A, B, and C. Class C plays first, and the winner enters Class B. The winner of Class B enters Class A. As soon as the billiard tournament is over, the committee will hold a pool tournament.

DOG SHOW'S PREMIUM LIST.

Classes Opened in Excess of Those of Former Similar Affairs.

The premium list for the twenty-fifth annual dog show of the Westminster Kennel Club, to be held in Madison Square Garden, beginning Tuesday, Feb. 19, and continuing through Friday, Feb. 22, was announced yesterday. The number of classes opened is largely in excess of the number at any former dog show in America, and the divisions in each class are also numerous, with equally generous provisions. The regular prize list is greatly increased by special premiums, offered by various clubs and individuals.

In the regular premium schedule, the divisions are 7 prizes for St. Bernards, 8 for Great Danes, with club silver medals, in addition, for first prize winners in all classes; 5 for bloodhounds, 14 for pointers, including the President's Challenge Breeders' Cup; 4 Brokaw Challenge Cups for dogs of different weights, and the Walton Challenge Cup; 2 for English setters, 3 for Irish setters, 4 for Gordon setters, 20 for sporting spaniels, 12 for collies, 22 for bulldogs, including the annual cups of the Bulldog Club; 10 for bull terriers, 2 for Airedale terriers, 14 for Boston terriers, 11 for French bulldogs, 6 for beagles, 2 for dachshundes, 11 for fox terriers, 18 for Irish terriers, 11 for Scottish terriers, 1 for Welsh terriers, and 6 for Pomeranians. Among the premiums offered in the regular classes are many cups and trophies, donated by breeders and clubs.

The special prize list is an unusually long and comprehensive one. First of the premiums under this head is the Westminster Kennel Club's Special, for the best team of four dogs of any breed, entered and owned by one exhibitor. The Canadian Kennel Club offers three prizes, which are club medals, respectively, for the best collie, the best fox terrier, and the best cocker spaniel bred in the United States or Canada; the Ladies' Kennel Club of America offers its membership in all breeds, and, in addition, the Sands Point Challenge Cup, for the best St. Bernard dog or bitch owned and exhibited by a member, to be won five times before becoming the absolute property of the winner; the Pallachneola Challenge Cup, for the best setter, under similar conditions, and to be won four times; the Hickory Valley Challenge Cup, for the best cocker spaniel, conditions similar, and the cup to be won three times.

The usual rules, requiring the registry of all dogs shown for prizes in some recognized stud book, and the exhibit to be the bona fide property of the exhibitor at the time of entry, are to govern the show. In addition, the stipulation is made that puppy classes shall be for dogs less than twelve and more than six months of age, no entry of dogs less than six months being accepted.

Entries will close on Monday, Feb. 4, with Secretary James Mortimer, Room 1,001, Townsend Building, 1,123 Broadway.

MEETINGS OF TURFMEN.

Jockey Club and Steeplechase Association Elect Stewards.

The annual meeting of The Jockey Club was held yesterday afternoon at the office of the club, 175 Fifth Avenue. There were present J. H. Bradford, F. K. Sturgis, F. R. Hitchcock, W. C. Whitney, Perry Belmont, O. H. P. Belmont, F. Gebhard, R. C. Hooper, J. G. Follansbee, P. J. Dwyer, H. J. Knapp, R. T. Wilson, Jr., Craig Wadsworth, J. O. Green, W. A. Chanler, S. S. Howland, H. Whitney, Mr. Galway, and Andrew Miller.

H. K. Knapp, Andrew Miller, and F. R. Hitchcock were elected stewards, to serve for two years.

At the annual meeting of the members of the National Steeplechase and Hunt Association, held yesterday in the office of the association, 175 Fifth Avenue, New York, thirty-seven members were present or represented by proxy. The following members were elected stewards, to serve three years, or until their successors shall have been elected: J. O. Green, J. H. Alexander, R. C. Hooper, and W. H. Sands.

Brooklyn Drivers Elect Officers.

The annual session of the Parkway Driving Club of Brooklyn was held last night in the Clarendon Hotel, and the result was the unanimous choice of the officials for the coming term. The Treasurer's report was read and approved. It showed total receipts for the year of $13,423.58, and a total balance on hand of $1,011.17.

Several amendments to the by-laws were passed, one of which provided for the election of 300 associate members, none of whom shall vote or be eligible to hold office, or share in the property of the club, and another that the annual dues shall be $30 per year.

The club intends to hold two meetings next season, one in the Spring and one in the Fall.

The following officers were elected:

President—Frank D. Cramer; Vice President—Frederick G. Lemmermann, Jr.; Secretary and Treasurer—William C. Allen; Board of Directors, to serve three years—William Meyer, C. H. Moller, R. N. Taynton, H. F. Mollenhauer, and Frederick G. Lemmermann, Jr.

Results on Winter Tracks.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 10.—Weather threatening; track heavy. J. F. Holt, the owner of Cathedral, and his trainer, were suspended indefinitely on account of the running of Cathedral, Indian, Miss Hanover, Educate, and Lady Contrary were the winning favorites. Summaries: One mile and an eighth—Banquo 11., 99, (Dale,) 1; Henry of Frantsman, 101, 2; Albert Vale, 110, 3. Time—2:07½. Six and a half furlongs—Tea Gown, 103, (Kane,) 1; Porter B., 102, 2; Water Plant, 95, 3. Time—1:29½. One mile and a sixteenth—Indian, 99, (Flick,) 1; Lillian Reed, 99, 2; Titus, 109, 3. Time—2:03. Seven furlongs—Miss Hanover, 108, (Slack,) 1; Glen Lake, 109, 2; Emigre, 103, 3. Time—1:28. Six furlongs—Educate, 91, (Cochran,) 1; Novelty, 85, 2; Tilden, 106, 3. Time—1:22½. Six furlongs—Lady Contrary, 101, (Wash.) 1; Floyd Dixie, 98, 2; Oleoma, 99, 3. Time—1:24.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 10.—Five and a half furlongs—Urchin, 103, (Mounce,) 1; Fidel Youhn, 101, 2; Santa Lucia, 100, 3. Time—1:10½. Three furlongs—Lapidus, 112, (Mounce,) 1; Jack Tyrrell, 112, 2; Dr. McNutt, 112, 3. Time—0:38½. Five and a half furlongs—Imp. Broadbrim, 110, (Buchanan,) 1; Ducksy, 104, 2; Florinel II., 105, 3. Time—1:11. One mile and fifty yards—Rolling Boer, 84, (J. Martin,) 1; The Fretter, 109, 2; Lennep, 100, 3. Time—1:48½. The McLaughlin selling stakes, mile and a sixteenth—Anjou, 101, (Mounce,) 1; Lena, 92, 2; Malay, 97, 3. Time—1:51½. Seven furlongs—Wyoming, 107, (O'Connor,) 1; Lomond, 102, 2; Essence, 99, 3. Time—1:30½.

Canoe Club Officers.

At the annual meeting of the Knickerbocker Canoe Club, held at the clubhouse, West One Hundred and Fifty-second Street and the Hudson River, last night, the following officers for the coming year were elected: Commodore, L. S. Stockwell; Vice Commodore, G. E. Taylor; Secretary, J. Leach; Treasurer, W. R. Farrell, Jr.; measurer, Warren T. Berry. The reports of the retiring officers showed the club to be in a flourishing condition, as it owns its clubhouse, is free from debt, and has a balance of several hundred dollars in the treasury.

Norwegian Skater Won.

Peter Sinniurd, the Norwegian skater, won the special handicap race at the Clermont Avenue Rink, Brooklyn, last night. After this event Harry P. McDonald skated a fast half-mile exhibition, covering the seven-and-a-half-lap track in 1:30 2-5. Summary:

One-Mile Special Handicap Skating Race.—Won by Peter Sinniurd, Christiania, Norway, (scratch;) W. W. Swan, New York A. C., (80 yards,) second; Arthur Yale Sarony, New York A. C., (20 yards,) third; James H. Wray, West Farms A. A., (scratch,) fourth. Time—3:08 1-5.

Knickerbocker A. C. Billiards.

Only one game in the handicap billiard tournament at the Knickerbocker Athletic Club was played last night. In the class X match A. Bennett won by default from M. A. Diaz. Fred Stayley and T. H. White were the competitors in the class Y, straight rail, match. Each made 75 points, but Stayley won as, by the handicap system, White would have had to make 85 to win.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Wednesday night until 12 o'clock Thursday night.)

12:35 A. M.—101 East Eighty-eighth Street; H. Grey; damage, $25.

2:05 A. M.—318 East Seventy-fifth Street; David Hess; damage, $25.

2:37 A. M.—122 Essex Street; David Linder; damage, $200.

11:05 A. M.—418 West Seventy-ninth Street; Charles Heilig; damage trifling.

4:45 P. M.—310 Lexington Avenue; Eliza Mills; damage, $100.

6:15 P. M.—Bernert Avenue and West New Brighton; owner, James Wheeler; damage, $10.

6:21 P. M.—828 First Avenue; owner, Charles Susskind; damage, $50.

7:40 P. M.—810-814 Ninth Avenue; owner, Metropolitan Traction Company; damage, $5,000.

BOWLERS ELECT OFFICERS.

Brooklyn Candidate for President Beaten by Godfrey Langhenry.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Bowling for two-men championship began to-day in the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress, all of the five-men teams, with two exceptions, having completed their games. Two-men teams monopolized the alleys all day.

Godfrey Langhenry, President of the Illinois Bowling Association, was elected President of the American Bowling Congress at its session to-day, after an exciting contest. Charles H. Ebbets of Brooklyn and F. W. Moore of Chicago were also candidates. Langhenry received 65 votes and Ebbets 51.

There was one candidate for each of the other offices, and their election went through without a formal vote, as follows: First Vice President—W. V. Thompson, Chicago; Second Vice President—F. W. Pryor, New York; Secretary—Samuel Karpf, Dayton, Ohio; Treasurer—George P. Strack, Astoria, N. Y.

Executive Committee—Thomas Curtis, Chairman, Brooklyn; G. W. Young, New York; J. F. Gruver, Cleveland; F. H. Brill, Chicago; Herman Collins, Cleveland; Martin Kern, St. Louis.

Buffalo was selected as the place for holding the tournament of 1902.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Knickerbocker Bowlers Win Three Games in North Side Series.

The Knickerbocker team made a clean sweep in the North Side League tournament on Pump's North Side Palace alleys last night, winning three straight games from the Tremont five. The scores:

KNICKERBOCKER B.C.				TREMONT B. C.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
La Forest..	158	163	148	Schultz	183	154	154
Geisler	169	178	179	Walter	149	150	141
Dieser	153	151	158	Thomas	112	192	136
Snyder	167	174	172	Fowler	136	132	152
Meyer	186	163	173	Dagner	131	137	165
Total....	823	846	828	Total....	711	765	748

Company B of the Twelfth Regiment won two of the three matches with Company F in the regimental tournament the Armory alleys last night. The scores:

COMPANY B.				COMPANY F.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Burr	150	101	134	Bender	85	141	118
Lombard ..	144	130	141	Donough ..	100	126	116
Smith	111	133	157	Bogert	123	134	151
Frank	133	89	150	Fagen	121	110	119
Zipper	97	132	94	Harmey ..	124	122	105
Total....	635	585	676	Total....	553	633	609

The Knickerbocker Athletic Club team won two of their three matches with the Columbia Club five in the Athletic League series on the Knickerbocker alleys last night. The scores:

KNICKERBOCKER A.C.				COLUMBIA CLUB.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Johnson ...	200	191	143	Gells	147	147	191
Davies	153	233	179	Kimball ...	172	147	178
Seymour ..	189	180	162	Hartzel ...	134	180	189
Porter	180	165	161	Hinman ...	181	160	173
Safford	160	181	177	Keller	178	176	148
Total....	882	970	798	Total....	812	796	861

In the tournament of the Fire Insurance Bowling League on Reid's Church Street alleys last night the Lloyds Plate Glass and Liverpool and London and Globe Fire Insurance teams each won two games, the Norwich Union and Caledonian five broke even, and the Lancashire and Hanover bowlers each lost two games. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Lloyds Plate Glass Insurance Company—Pinney, 115; Bennett, 135; Pierce, 95; Smith, 118; Gilfillan, 175. Total, 636.

Lancashire Fire Insurance Company—Goethe, 89; Donaldson, 79; Walton, 146; Munroe, 162; Marks, 147. Total, 623.

SECOND GAME.—Norwich Union Fire Insurance Company—Phillips, 129; Olmstead, 137; Johnson, 123; Porter, 183; Ohl, 123. Total, 695.

Lloyds Plate Glass Insurance Company—Pinney, 129; Bennett, 161; Pierce, 141; Smith, 107; Gilfillan, 170. Total, 699.

THIRD GAME.—Lancashire Fire Insurance Company—Goethe, 121; Donaldson, 111; Walton, 167; Munroe, 132; Marks, 119; total, 590.

Norwich Union Fire Insurance Company—Phillips, 122; Olmstead, 153; Johnson, 126; Porter, 176; Ohl, 137; total, 736.

FOURTH GAME.—Liverpool and London and Globe Fire Insurance Company—Lewis, 109; Willdey, 177; Constant, 127; Gardner, 147; Walker, 170; total, 730.

Caledonian Fire Insurance Company—Stoney, 126; Newman, 111; Franck, 148; Fritzel, 141; O'Connell, 177; total 703.

FIFTH GAME.—Hanover Fire Insurance Company—Meyn, 121; Cogan, 147; Van Ness, 120; Ryan, 112; Thomas, 129. Total, 638.

Liverpool and London and Globe Fire Insurance Company—Lewis, 139; Willdey, 183; Constant, 190; Gardner, 126; Walker, 206. Total, 844.

SIXTH GAME.—Caledonian Fire Insurance Company—Stoney, 184; Newman, 135; Bartley, 114; Fritzel, 189; O'Connell, 175. Total, 797.

Hanover Fire Insurance Company—Meyn, 147; Cogan, 107; Van Ness, 131; Ryan, 140; Thomas, 172. Total, 697.

In the opening games of the New York Royal Arcanum Bowling League, which were rolled last night on Starr's alleys, the Guardant Council team outrolled the Ogden Council and Samaritan Council fives, and Ogden beat Samaritan. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Ogden Council—Hebard, 136; Vogel, 104; Freck, 116; H. Wett, 158; Massey, 180. Total, 694.

Guardant Council—Reid, 154; Sheridan, 113; Cohen, 143; Arnold, 168; Haggerty, 184. Total, 762.

SECOND GAME.—Samaritan Council—Nutt, 128; Hopman, 110; Augenthaler, 126; Thalman, 121; Strehnel, 106. Total, 651.

Ogden Council—Hebard, 122; Vogel, 115; Freck, 118; H. Wett, 210; Massey, 178. Total, 743.

THIRD GAME—Guardant Council—Reid, 157; Sheridan, 139; Cohen, 110; Arnold, 149; Haggerty, 147. Total, 708.

Samaritan Council—Nutt, 168; Hopman, 113; Augenthaler, 125; Thalman, 112; Strehnel, 169. Total, 687.

The Hamilton Trust Company team defeated the Queens County and the Manufacturers' National Bank fives in the Brooklyn Bank Clerks' League tournament on Knubel's Fulton Street alleys last night, and the Queens County bowlers won from the Manufacturers' National team. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Hamilton Trust Company—Hoffmire, 102; Pierce, 159; Hecker, 200; McKenna, 145; Wentz, 176. Total, 782.

Manufacturers' National Bank—Z. Haslach, 140; Weeks, 118; J. Haslach, 143; Kelly, 135; Cheshire, 148. Total, 684.

SECOND GAME.—Queens County Bank—Laws, 122; Rockford, 110; White, 120; Woodhall, 151; P. M. Rushmore, 157; total, 663.

Manufacturers' National Bank—Z. Haslach, 115; Weeks, 130; J. Haslach, 110; Kelly, 122; Cheshire, 126; total, 603.

THIRD GAME.—Hamilton Trust Company—Hofimire, 85; Pierce, 135; Hecker, 190; McKenna, 138; Wentz, 133. Total, 681.

Queens Co. Bank—Laws, 101; Rockford, 129; White, 105; Woodhall, 131; P. M. Rushmore, 136. Total, 602.

The Mogul bowlers beat the Seventeenth Ward and Duffer teams in the tournament of the United Bowling Clubs of New York, on the Germania alleys, last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Seventeenth Ward Bowling Club—Feldmann, 101; Kettler, 96; Gras, 115; Herr, 136; Schuler, 105. Total, 553.

Duffer Bowling Club—Martini, 141; Cordes, 148; Stroh, 102; Dietrich, 146; Grahl, 124. Total, 671.

SECOND GAME.—Mogul Bowling Club—Strohman, 199; Kreimeier, 161; Haussel, 135; Voller, 196; Dryfuss, 133. Total, 824.

Seventeenth Ward Bowling Club—Feldmann, 124; Kettler, 107; Gras, 109; Herr, 98; Schuler, 108. Total, 546.

THIRD GAME.—Duffer Bowling Club—Martini, 129; Cordes, 149; Hoehlein, 136; Dietrich, 121; Grahl, 131. Total, 666.

Mogul Bowling Club—Strohman, 140; Kreimeier, 133; Haussel, 165; Voller, 131; Dryfuss, 133. Total, 702.

A meeting to organize the North Side National Bowling League of twenty-one clubs will be held at Pumps North Side alleys Sunday afternoon at 3 P. M.

The Tamaqua Wheelmen defeated the Brooklyn and the Logan Wheelmen in the tournament of the Associated Cycling Clubs of Long Island on Thum & Ehler's Palace alleys, Brooklyn, last night, and the Brooklyns beat the Logans. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Brooklyn Wheelmen—Lewis, 122; Taylor, 130; Urquhart, 152; Worth, 152; S. Egelhoff, 126. Total, 683.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Van Sicien, 153; Doughty, 186; Denham, 162; Jordan, 144; Shipley, 150. Total, 795.

SECOND GAME.—Brooklyn Wheelmen—Lewis, 98; Taylor, 134; Urquhart, 166; Worth, 170; S. Egelhoff, 107. Total, 843.

Logan Wheelmen—E. Egelhoff, 148; Jones, 160; Bint, 146; Hooper, 130; Weinpahl, 154. Total, 738.

THIRD GAME.—Logan Wheelmen—E. Egelhoff, 146; Jones, 147; Bint, 169; Hooper, 156; Weinpahl, 153. Total, 771.

Tamaqua Wheelmen—Van Sicien, 196; Doughty, 144; Denham, 162; Jordan, 129; Shipley, 161. Total, 792.

The Belvidere bowlers beat the Royal Arcanum Wheelmen and the Enterprise teams in the Columbia League tournament on Schlusing's Columbia alleys last night, and the wheelmen also defeated the Enterprise five. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Belvidere Bowling Club—Pearse, 134; Hunken, 179; Lockwood, 231; Buckbee, 143; MacDonald, 169. Total, 856.

Royal Arcanum Wheelmen—Detlef, 164; Cook, 192; Crum, 150; Kitchelt, 177; Cantrell, 146. Total, 799.

SECOND GAME.—Enterprise Bowling Club—Schumacher, 161; Stumbohm, 160; Wiesel, 120; Weber, 174; Ficken, 141; total, 756.

Royal Arcanum Wheelmen—Detlef, 179; Cook, 153; Crum, 116; Kitchelt, 173; Cantrell, 190; total, 841.

THIRD GAME.—Belvidere Bowling Club—Pearse, 224; Hunken, 148; Lockwood, 151; Buckbee, 180; MacDonald, 208. Total, 911.

Enterprise Bowling Club—Schumacher, 142; Stumbohm, 101; Wiesel, 143; Weber, 159; Ficken, 178. Total, 783.

A New World's Bowling Record.

BALTIMORE, Md., Jan. 10.—In a friendly contest to-day J. C. Cross of this city rolled the world's record in duck pins. His score was 171, as follows: 20, 40, 58, 67, 77, 103, 120, 127, 153, 171.

WORK ON CUP DEFENDER.

Bending of the Frames on the Herreshoff Boat Nearly Completed.

Special to The New York Times.

BRISTOL, R. I., Jan. 10.—The bending of the frames for the new cup defender at Bristol has been rushed along so well since Monday that quite two-thirds of the entire job of bending is completed. Although the larger part of the frames have passed through the hands of the benders, the work of trueing is only well begun. The turn of the mid-section frames would give any one of a mechanical turn of mind the impression that the floor will be considerably flatter than the Columbia's, and there are also strong indications that there is an inward bend of the upper part of these frames to suggest a wall-sided boat, but not in any radical way. In conjunction with the getting out of the frames for the new boat is also being carried on the forming of binders or angle iron, with holes drilled through, for the purpose of binding the frames in place when set up on the lead keel in order to prevent the timbers from getting out of place before the plating is put on.

It is arranged to have the builders string from end to end of the boat temporarily with the ends lapping past each other.

One thing noticeable in the south boat shop is that there is a mixture of numbers on the end frames, probably to overcome all attempts for any one outside of the designer to ascertain the exact length over all of the boat. No. 1 frame, as marked, will rest seven or eight feet abaft the stem, while on the after end the frames for the section bear single and double ciphers. The stern post has been reared aloft from the after end of the lead keel, and is ready to take the frames.

To-day a flat car, partly loaded with steel plates, arrived from Pennsylvania. These set of plates, numbering fully a score, are not as long as those received a couple of weeks ago, but are much thicker, fully a quarter of an inch thick. The plates appear to be devoid of nickel alloy. It is understood the material is to be used for the patent platform that will rise upward from the floor and into which the mast will step. The platform will rise to such a height that the main mast will bury but 8½ feet below the deck.

The work on the laying out of the new steel main masts for the cup defender was stopped two days ago, at which time the bracings for the interior had been cut to length and holes bored in the nickel steel plates for the rivets. Work is to be pushed upon it next week.

FOOTBALL ON TAN BARK.

Saranacs Won from the Manhattan Eleven by the Score of 30 to 0.

Indoor football attracted about 500 spectators to the gallery of the Horse Exchange, Broadway and Fiftieth Street, last night, and it was quite evident before the close of the evening that enthusiasm for that popular sport was by no means dead, even though the season prevents its competition out of doors. Four rival teams furnished the excitement, and miniature evidences of college games were not wanting in the different colored banners, bows of ribbon jauntily worn by the fair sympathizers of the players, and a few tin horns, whose strident tones always rose above the din occasioned when one of the young players made a good run.

The field was barely half the size of a regular gridiron, and the goal posts were marked by small flags. No kicking was allowed, but in all other respects the games were played in the orthodox football style, and there was plenty of vim and snap to the sport.

The first game was between the Saranac Athletic Club's second team and the Manhattan Football Club of Greenpoint, L. I. The line-up was:

Saranac 2d. 30.	Position.	Manhattan. 0.
Day	Left end	Eiring
Madden	Left tackle	Summers
Schultz	Left guard	Van Cott
Healy	Centre	McGuire
Becker	Right guard	Welch
Hirschfeld	Right tackle	Ciulo
Joe Tallon	Right end	Wrench
Strube	Quarter back	M. McGregor
Kettner	Left half back	J. McGregor
Walsh	Right half back	Jones
Wise, Capt	Full back	Hussey, Capt.

The young Saranacs, spurred on by the shouts of their friends, rushed the ball from the start, and after a fairly lively game won by 30 points to 0. Walsh made two goals and Kettner one in the first half, and in the second half Walsh, Healey, and Kettner made the goals.

The young Saranacs were jubilant over their victory, for it is the thirteenth triumph on the football field since Fall, and their escutcheon shows no defeats. Next Thursday, at the same place, they will play the Monitors of Harlem.

The Saranac first team later in the evening lined up against the Columbus eleven and defeated the latter by the score of 35 to 10.

Football Election Postponed.

The election of the manager and assistant manager of the Columbia football team, which was to have been held to-day, has been postponed. It is understood that the members of the Graduate Advisory Committee have had the election postponed in order that they may examine the new method of voting which was to be used, but which they have never approved.

PRINCETON WON AT HOCKEY.

St. Nicholas Team Beaten in a Close Game by Score of 4 to 3.

Princeton University's hockey team, considered one of the weakest of the Intercollegiate teams, gave a decided surprise to followers of the game by defeating the St. Nicholas seven in an exciting game at the St. Nicholas Rink last evening. The score was 4—3.

Princeton played a surprisingly good game, and gave a really good exhibition of fast team and individual playing. Her defense was excellent, and St. Nicholas had to exert herself to the greatest extent to make as good a showing as she did. The game afforded a good illustration of the superiority of collective over individual work. Play during the greater part of the time was in the vicinity of the St. Nicholas goal, and the adherents of the local team were constantly surprised over the excellent playing of the Princeton team.

McAlpin made the first score by smashing the puck past De Witt. Only a few minutes later Purnell repeated his team mate's feat, and Princeton followers were elated. The half closed without further scoring.

St. Nicholas apparently improved the time between the halves, for they were much more aggressive, and in a warm scrimmage K. Gerdon got his team's first score. Princeton disputed the point, but it was allowed. It took but a little more of this fast work to net another point and tie the score through a crashing side shoot by Walton. The Tigers then rallied, and Purnell scored for the Orange and Black in an exciting scrimmage. In another mix-up McAlpin tallied again. Walton got the last goal on a long side shoot, but St. Nicholas could not cut down Princeton's lead. The line up:

Princeton, 4.	Position.	St. Nicholas, 3.
Paul	Goal	De Witt
Sheffield	Point	Ayres
Little	Cover point	Campbell
Hoskin	Forward	Gerdon
Ogden	Forward	Conway
Purnell	Forward	Walton
Poe	Forward	Gunther

Goals scored—Walton, 2; Gerdon, 2; McAlpin, Purnell, 2. Time of game—15 minutes halves. Referee—T. Barron, St. Nicholas.

Naval Battalion Hockey Team Won.

The Second Naval Battalion hockey team easily defeated Dwight School in the Clermont Avenue Ice Skating Rink, Brooklyn, last night, by a tally of 7 goals to 0. Line-up:

Dwight School, 0.	Position.	2d Naval Bat., 7
Stillman	Goal	Kellum
Brown	Point	Dorsett
Patterson, Capt.	Cover point	Welch
W. Fling	Forward	Cooke, Capt.
Klaus	Forward	Holton
Roderick	Forward	Hardenbergh
H. Fling	Forward	Grant

Referee—W. H. Shiebler, Crescent Athletic Club. Umpires—W. P. Burtenshaw, for the Second Naval Battalion, and Leeds Burchard, for Dwight School. Timekeeper—J. Allen Smith, Clermont Hockey Club. Goals—Holton 5, Cooke 1, Hardenbergh 1. Time—Twenty-minute halves.

CHARGED WITH ROBBING BOY.

Policeman on Trial for Taking a Dollar from Sammy Fishman.

Moritz Fishman, a painter, of 137 Monroe Street, was a complainant at the police trials yesterday against Policeman John Lope, whom he charged with taking $1 away from his eleven-year-old son Sammy on the morning of Dec. 28. Fishman testified that he sent his son with a dollar to pay a rabbi for tuition for German lessons. Sammy with three other boys started down the street from home, Sammy tossing the silver dollar in his hands. They met the policeman, who asked Sammy where he got the dollar. Sammy told him.

"Give it to me," the policeman is said to have demanded.

The boys started to run away, according to Fishman's story, when Lope pursued them and, catching Sammy, forced his hand open and took the dollar, telling the boy that it was no good. The boy told his father and Fishman made a complaint.

Policeman Lope, when asked by Commissioner Abell to give his side of the story, said he was standing at the corner of the street when the Fishman boy came to him and told him that the other boys had taken the dollar away from him. He chased the boys, who scattered. He then took Sammy to his father, who wanted the policeman to restore the dollar.

Fishman, who had his son, and the other three boys who were with the lad at the time of the alleged occurrence, in court, went on to state that Lope had been to see him since the occurrence, and offered to pay him a dollar and any other amount besides, to "settle it."

The case was postponed until Monday afternoon in order to secure more evidence.

UNION LEAGUE CLUB ELECTION.

At the annual meeting of the Union League Club, held in the clubhouse last night, the following officers were elected unanimously:

President, Frederick D. Tappen, re-elected.

First Vice Presidents, Class of 1903, Charles L. Tiffany, William E. Dodge, John W. Sterling, and George R. Sheldon.

Secretary, George S. Terry, re-elected.

Treasurer, William G. White.

Executive Committee, Class of 1903, Samuel T. Peters, Edward V. W. Rossiter, Charles Myers, Frederick C. Wagner, and Robert C. Black.

Committee on Admissions, to fill vacancy, Class of 1902, John C. Tappin, Daniel F. Kellogg; Class of 1903, Pierre de P. Ricketts, John C. Coleman, Frank L. Montague, Albert O. Beebe, and William E. Webb.

Committee on Library and Publications, to fill vacancy, Class of 1902, Harris K. Bird; Class of 1903, Nathaniel C. Fisher, William R. Wilcox, and Ormond G. Smith.

Committee on Art, Thomas B. Clarke, Alfred E. M. Purdy, Joseph S. Stout, Henry R. Mo-Lane, Davis Barnes, E. Clifford Potter, and Robert V. V. Sewell.

Committee on Political Reform, Cephas Brainerd, Charles T. Harbeck, James A. Blanchard, E. B. Hinsdale, Thomas L. James, Edward Mitchell, Samuel Thomas, John S. Wise, Edward F. Brown, Justus A. B. Cowles, David Wilcox, William H. V. Hoffman, and John C. O'Conor.

Auditing Committee, Walter A. Pease, Andrew Mills, and William T. Cornell.

Secretary Terry said that more than a half dozen new members were admitted to membership. He declined to say who they were.

HORSE WAS A GLASS EATER.

Nicholaus and Kinker Gabriel, merchants of Union Hill, N. J., were ordered by a jury yesterday to pay $20 to Max Stenberg, who brought suit before Justice Unger to recover the value of a 6 by 4 pane of glass, said to have been eaten by one of the merchants' horses. The complainant testified that he had the glass on his truck, which was waiting on a street corner, when the Gabriels' glass-eating steed came along.

"The horse approached my truck and instantly proceeded to chew up the glass. I tried to scare him away, but he kept on eating until more than half of the pane was consumed," he said.

The defendant's counsel tried to compromise by offering to give to Stenberg the horse with the glass in his stomach, but Stenber

CRITIC OF SCHOOL SYSTEM DENOUNCED

Education Board's Reply to Merchant Association's Charges.

President O'Brien Calls Them Untruthful, Malicious, and Mischievous—Sarcastic References to Controller Coler.

President Miles M. O'Brien of the Board of Education filed with Mayor Van Wyck yesterday a reply to charges against the management of the public schools, made by the Merchants' Association. The charges were contained in a report prepared by Frederic B. De Berard, who was hired as an expert by the Merchants' Association to investigate the condition of certain city departments. President O'Brien denounces the report as untruthful, malicious, and mischievous. He goes into every detail with a view of showing that Mr. De Berard was ignorant concerning the system he was criticising. The charges are answered specifically. Attached to the statement of President O'Brien are statements from Superintendent Maxwell and Borough Superintendent Jasper.

In answer to charges that the records of attendance in the public schools are not properly kept, Superintendent Maxwell writes:

The statement by Mr. Frederic B. De Berard, a so-called expert, employed by the Merchants' Association, with regard to public school accounts, contains the following sentence: "During the last school year, although about 15,000 new seats were supplied, the attendance was less than the previous year." This statement is not true. The average attendance in the school year 1899-1900 exceeded the average attendance in the school year 1898-1899 by 19,314 for the entire city. Mr. De Berard has falsified the public school statistics by substracting from the attendance on day schools the attendance on evening schools.

Borough Superintendent Jasper devotes his attention to the part of the De Berard charges in reference to school accommodations. He claims that the statistics while the Merchants' Association gave to the public were inaccurate, misleading, and false.

President O'Brien goes into the detail of the supplies required in the schools and denies that the allowances made by the Board of Estimate for maintaining the schools are based on false data, as charged by Mr. De Berard.

Superintendent of School Buildings C. B. J. Snyder writes about the charges concerning the cost of equipping New York schools:

The compiler of the pamphlet for the Merchants' Association could have avoided making an exhibition of his ignorance and the worthlessness of his conclusions had he applied for information on the subject, which he never did of this Bureau. Had he done so, such information would have been as cheerfully furnished him as it is to applicants, without stopping to inquire what the motive might be which prompted the request.

In concluding his report to the Mayor, President O'Brien writes:

It (Mr. De Berard's report) is clear in one great particular, and that is the intent to so combine the details of the fabrication as to convey to the mind of the unwary and casual reader that some wrong has occurred. Let it be clearly understood:

That the alleged discrepancies do not exist, and their citation is the result of statistical manufacturing and of manufacturing.

That the Board of Education has never submitted questionable items to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, and that the imputation thus cast is as reprehensible as it is malevolent and untrue.

That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment has always had the Commissioners of Accounts at its command, whose duty it is and has been to analyze, tabulate, examine, and report to the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, on the estimates of all departments.

That the Commissioners of Accounts did perform their duty in relation to the estimates of the Department of Education, and their reports and findings are matters of record, and available for the use and guidance of every member of the Board of Estimate and Apportionment.

That the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, or any of its members, has never complained of the absence of requisite information; on the contrary, the method of compilation and information furnished has been the subject of favorable comment on more than one occasion.

President O'Brien also makes some sarcastic references to Controller Coler, as follows:

The report goes on to call attention to the legal powerlessness of the Controller to check wasteful outlays of whose character he is aware, by reason of which it is further alleged that the city suffers heavily. The report further calls attention to bills inspected, now on file in the Controller's office, (to which office the compiler appears to have had unusually easy access, considering the fact that the alleged investigation made is cautious and not called for by any public demand,) which bills contain alleged overcharges, resulting from contracts or agreements made by city officials under statutory provisions which enable them to commit the city to the payment of such obligations.

It appears to be impossible to submit the Controller's conclusions as to the value of school work, materials, and supplies are of any greater value than those of authorities in actual charge of the school system, and it is equally questionable whether the Controller's means and facilities for the determination of such matters are any better, or as good, as those of the educational authorities of this city. If his means, methods, facilities for administration, and knowledge, honesty, and probity are better than what is to be found in the other departments of the city government, then it would be best and most economical for the entire city administration to be placed in his sole charge, not excepting the care and education of the children. Such a recommendation would be a fitting finale to the report under consideration. It can, however, be suggested with propriety that all the ability, intelligence, and honesty is not solely centred in the Department of Finance; these qualifications are also to be found elsewhere.

Summonses.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—STEPHEN P. ANDERSON, plaintiff, against H. H. CHAMPLIN & COMPANY, defendants.—Summons.

To the above-named defendant:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorneys within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, and in case of your failure to appear or answer judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.—Dated New York, October 30th, 1900.

PHILBIN, BEEKMAN & MENKEN, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and Post Office address, No. 111 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

To the defendant D. H. CHAMPLIN & COMPANY:

The foregoing summons is served upon you by publication, pursuant to an order of Hon. James Fitzgerald, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, dated the twenty-eighth day of November, 1900, and filed with the complaint in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York, at the County Court House in the Borough of Manhattan, City of the City of New York, on the twenty-eighth day of November, 1900.—Dated New York, November 28th, 1900. PHILBIN, BEEKMAN & MENKEN, Plaintiff's Attorneys.

Office and Post Office address, No. 111 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

n30-1aw6wF&j11

Legal Notices.

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—In the matter of the final accounting of THORNLEY DICKSON, as assignee of the estate of Henry M. Anthony under a general assignment for the benefit of creditors.

The people of the State of New York, to all persons interested in the estate assigned by Henry M. Anthony to Thornley Dickson for the benefit of creditors, as creditors or otherwise:

You and each of you are hereby cited and required personally to be and appear at a Special Term of the Supreme Court, to be held at Part I. thereof, in the County Court House, in the County of New York, on the 28th day of February, 1901, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, then and there to show cause why a final settlement of the accounts of said Thornley Dickson, assignee of the above-named Henry M. Anthony, the insolvent debtor, should not be had, and if no cause be shown, then to attend the final settlement of the assignee's accounts.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto caused the seal of the said Supreme Court, in the City and County of New York, to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. David Leventritt, Justice of said Court, this 3d day of January, 1901.

WM. SOHMER, Clerk.

H. D. BRADBURY, Attorney for Assignee, 31 Nassau Street, New York City.

IN PURSUANCE OF AN ORDER MADE BY the Hon. David Leventritt, one of the Justices of the Supreme Court of the State of New York, on the 24th day of December, 1900, and entered in the office of the Clerk of the County of New York on said day, notice is hereby given to all creditors and persons having claims against JOSEPH COHN, formerly doing business at No. 72 Second Avenue, Manhattan, New York City, that they are required to present their claims, with the vouchers therefor, duly verified, to the subscriber, the assignee of said Joseph Cohn, for the benefit of his creditors, at his place of transacting business, No. 90 Nassau Street, Manhattan, New York City, on or before the 15th day of March, 1901.

Dated New York, December 27th, 1900.

WILLIAM P. SCHOEN, Assignee.

LEWKOWITZ & SCHAAP, Attorneys for Assignee, No. 99 Nassau Street, Manhattan, New York City.

Surrogate Notices.

ADEE, FREDERIC W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against FREDERIC W. ADEE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, the office of Philip E. Connell, his attorney, No. 45 Pine Street, in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, on or before the 1st day of April, 1901.

Dated, New York, Sept. 21, 1900.

PHILIP H. ADEE, Administrator.

PHILIP E. CONNELL, Attorney for Administrator, 45 Pine Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

se21-14wF6m.

ABBE, SARAH FULLER.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against SARAH FULLER ABBE, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of B. W. B. Brown, their attorney, No. 18 Wall Street, in the City of New York, Borough of Manhattan, on or before the 25th day of April next.—Dated New York, the 12th day of October, 1900.

WALDO F. ABBE, SUSIE A. MORSE, Executors.

B. W. B. BROWN, Attorney for Executors, 18 Wall St., N. Y. City, Borough of Manhattan.

ARMSTRONG, ANDREW C.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ANDREW C. ARMSTRONG, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscribers, at their place of transacting business, at the office of Ritch, Weedford, Bovee & Wallace, their attorneys, at No. 18 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on or before the 10th day of June next.—Dated New York, the 30th day of November, 1900. M. SINCLAIR ARMSTRONG, ANDREW C. ARMSTRONG, Executors. RITCH, WOODFORD, BOVEE & WALLACE, Attorneys for Executors, 18 Wall Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

CLENDENIN, PAUL.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PAUL CLENDENIN, late of Santiago de Cuba, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, Rooms 3-6, No. 55 Liberty Street, in the Borough of Manhattan and City of New York, on or before the 12th day of February next.—Dated New York, the 8th day of August, 1900. HARRIET OSGOOD CLENDENIN, Administratrix. WILLIAM C. WILSON, Attorney for Administratrix, No. 55 Liberty Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York. au10-law6mF

DAVOREN, PATRICK.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against PATRICK DAVOREN, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Victor J. Dowling, her attorney, No. 280 Broadway, in the City of New York, on or before the first day of July next.—Dated New York, the 13th day of December, 1900. MARGARET DAVOREN, Executrix. VICTOR J. DOWLING, Attorney for Executrix, 280 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, N. Y. City. d14-law6mF

GORDON, WILLIAM, otherwise WILLIAM F.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to Catharine J. Greene and Mary J. Riley, of full age, and to any and all persons, if any there be, whose names and places of residence are unknown and cannot after diligent inquiry be ascertained, and who are or may be the heirs and next of kin of WILLIAM GORDON, otherwise WILLIAM F. GORDON, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas Charles J. McDermott of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, proved as the last will and testament of WILLIAM GORDON, otherwise WILLIAM F. GORDON, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you, and each of you, are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office in the County of New York, on the 5th day of January, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited as are under the age of twenty-one years are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 11th day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN, Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

[L. S.]

d14-law6wF

PEARSON, SAMUEL W.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against SAMUEL W. PEARSON, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with vouchers thereof, to the subscriber, at her place of transacting business, at the office of Eugene H. Pomeroy, her attorney, No. 31 Nassau Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 2d day of May, 1901, next.—Dated New York, the second day of November, 1900. ANNIE PEARSON, Admx. EUGENE H. POMEROY, Att'y for admtrx., 31 Nassau St., N. Y.

n2-law6mF

RICHARDS, T. ADDISON.—In pursuance of an order of the Honorable Abner C. Thomas, one of the Surrogates of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against T. ADDISON RICHARDS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same, with the vouchers thereof, to the subscriber at its place of transacting business, at the office of Butler, Notman, Joline & Mynderse, No. 54 Wall Street, in the Borough of Manhattan and City of New York, on or before the first day of May, 1901.—Dated New York, October 25th, 1900. CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, Executor. BUTLER, NOTMAN, JOLINE & MYNDERSE, Attorneys for the Executor, 54 Wall Street, New York City.

o26-law6mF

TRUSDELL, SAMUEL G.—The People of the State of New York, by the grace of God free and independent, to John J. Trusdell, Warren N. Trusdell, George R. Trusdell, Abram K. Trusdell, Bernard H. Trusdell, Jane Wisner, Florence De Graw, Lucretia Brink, Manda Sayer, and Christiana J. De Kay, the heirs and next of kin of SAMUEL G. TRUSDELL, deceased, send greeting:

Whereas, Phebe J. Trusdell of the City of New York, has lately applied to the Surrogates' Court of our County of New York, to have a certain instrument in writing, relating to both real and personal property, proved as the last will and testament of Samuel G. Trusdell, late of the County of New York, deceased, therefore you and each of you are cited to appear before the Surrogate of our County of New York, at his office, in the County of New York, on the 28th day of February, one thousand nine hundred and one, at half past ten o'clock in the forenoon of that day, then and there to attend the probate of the said last will and testament.

And such of you as are hereby cited, as are under the age of twenty-one years, are required to appear by your guardian, if you have one, or if you have none, to appear and apply for one to be appointed, or in the event of your neglect or failure to do so, a guardian will be appointed by the Surrogate to represent and act for you in the proceeding.

In testimony whereof we have caused the seal of the Surrogates' Court of the said County of New York to be hereunto affixed. Witness, Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of our said County of New York, at said county, the 3d day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and one.

J. FAIRFAX McLAUGHLIN, Clerk of the Surrogates' Court.

[L. S.]

ja11-1aw6wF

Referees' Notices.

NOS. 500 EAST 11TH STREET, 172 AVENUE A.—New York Supreme Court, County of New York.—JOHN M. BOWERS, as executor, etc., plaintiff, against BLINA BILLETT et al., defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 3rd day of January, 1901, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on Friday, the 1st day of February, 1901, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, the premises described in said judgment, as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land situate, lying, and being on the southeasterly corner of Avenue A and Eleventh Street, in the Seventeenth Ward of the City of New York.

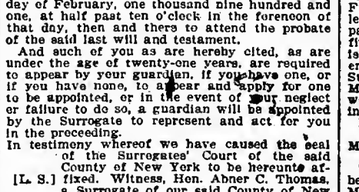
Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Avenue A and Eleventh Street; thence running easterly along the southerly side of Eleventh Street seventy-five feet six inches; thence southerly and parallel with Avenue A twenty feet; thence westerly and parallel with Eleventh Street, seventy-five feet six inches to the easterly side of Avenue A, and thence northerly along the said easterly side of Avenue A twenty feet, to the place of beginning.

Dated New York, January 10th, 1901.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Jr., Referee.

FREDERIC J. MIDDLEBROOK, Attorney for Plaintiff, 31 Nassau Street, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, New York.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold as described above:



The approximate aggregate amount of the plaintiff's lien upon the premises with interest, costs, and disbursements is $18,727.68, and of taxes, assessments, and water rates, $885.70.

ROBERT W. THOMPSON, Jr., Referee.

FREDERIC J. MIDDLEBROOK, Attorney for Plaintiff. ja11-2aw3wF&W&f1

Referees' Notices.

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —W. EDGAR PRUDEN, plaintiff, against JACOB D. BUTLER and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action and bearing date the 10th day of October, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 21st day of December, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

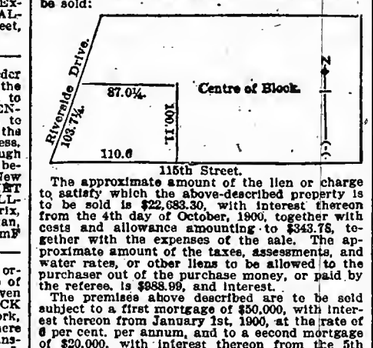
All those certain lots, pieces, and parcels of land situate in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and which taken together are bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the easterly side of Riverside Drive, or Avenue, with the northerly side of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, running thence easterly along said northerly side of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street one hundred and ten feet and six inches; thence northerly at right angles to One Hundred and Fifteenth Street one hundred feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fifteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth Streets; thence westerly along said centre line of the block eighty-seven feet and one-fourth inch to the easterly side of said Riverside Drive, or Avenue, and thence southerly along said easterly side of said Riverside Drive, or Avenue, one hundred and three feet, seven and one-fourth inches to the point or place of beginning, being the same premises conveyed to the party of the first part by James H. Havens and wife, by deed bearing even date and intended to be recorded simultaneously herewith, (purchase money mortgage,) this indenture being given to secure a part of the purchase or consideration moneys therein.

Dated New York, November 28th, 1900.

GEORGE W. ELLIS, Referee.

JOSEPH McELROY, Jr., Attorney for Plaintiff, 155 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $22,683.30, with interest thereon from the 4th day of October, 1900, together with costs and allowance amounting to $343.75, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates, or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $888.99, and interest.

The premises above described are to be sold subject to a first mortgage of $50,000, with interest thereon from January 1st, 1900, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, and to a second mortgage of $20,000, with interest thereon from the 5th day of October, 1899, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum.

Dated New York, 28th day of November, 1900.

GEORGE W. ELLIS, Referee.

The foregoing sale is hereby further adjourned to January 4th, 1901, at the same hour and place.

Dated New York, 21st day of December, 1900.

GEORGE W. ELLIS, Referee.

The foregoing sale is hereby further adjourned to January, 25th, 1901, at the same hour and place.

Dated New York, January 4th, 1901.

GEORGE W. ELLIS, Referee.

ja7-2aw6wM&F

SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —THE IRVING SAVINGS INSTITUTION, plaintiff, against JULIUS A. ROBINSON and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 7th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of January, nineteen hundred and one, at 12 o'clock M. on that day, by William M. Ryan, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece or parcel of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situated in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, being on the southeasterly corner of Mercer Street and Washington Place, and bounded as follows, viz.:

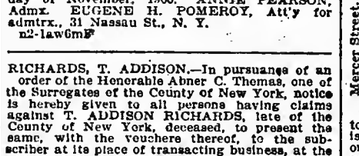
Beginning at the southeasterly corner of Mercer Street and Washington Place, and running thence easterly along Washington Place one hundred (100) feet; thence in a southerly direction on a line parallel with Mercer Street forty-nine (49) feet and nine (9) inches to a lot of land formerly belonging to George Lovett; thence westerly along said lot on a line parallel with Washington Place one hundred (100) feet to Mercer Street, and thence northerly along Mercer Street forty-nine (49) feet and nine inches to the place of beginning.

Being the same premises which were sold and conveyed to the said Julius A. Robinson by George L. Kingsland and others by deed dated April 12th, 1882, and recorded in the office of the Register of the County of New York in Liber 1,672 of Conveyances, Page 81, on the first day of May, 1882.

Together with the appurtenances thereunto belonging. The land above described lies in Section 2, in Block 626, on the land map of the City of New York.—Dated New York, December 18th, 1900. LOUIS ADLER, Referee.

FRANCIS W. JUDGE, Jr., Att'y for Plaintiff, No. 289 Greenwich St., Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold, its street number now being No. 4 Washington Place.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $156,318.75, with interest thereon from the 7th day of December, 1900, together with costs and allowance amounting to $328 36-100, together with interest thereon since December 7th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of the taxes and water rents or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is about $4,568.39.—Dated New York, December 18th, 1900.

LOUIS ADLER, Referee.

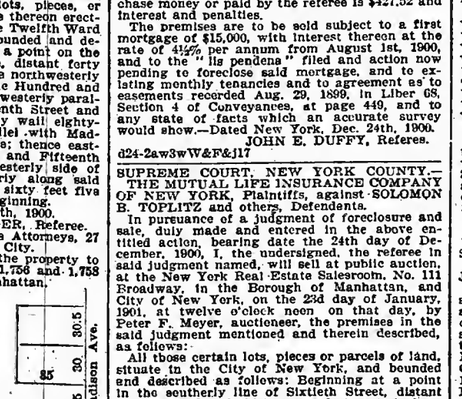
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —MARIA E. HERRICK, plaintiff, against FANNIE M. UPDIKE, defendant. In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action bearing date the 14th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the eleventh day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon of that day, by L. J. Phillips & Co., auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described as follows: All those two certain lots, pieces, or parcels of land, with the buildings thereon erected, situate, lying and being in the Twelfth Ward of the City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the westerly side of Madison Avenue, distant forty feet five inches northerly from the northwesterly corner of Madison Avenue and One Hundred and Fifteenth Street; running thence westerly parallel with One Hundred and Fifteenth Street a part of the way through a party wall eighty-five feet; thence northerly parallel with Madison Avenue sixty feet five inches; thence easterly parallel with One Hundred and Fifteenth Street eighty-five feet to the westerly side of Madison Avenue; thence southerly along said westerly side of Madison Avenue sixty feet five inches to the point or place of beginning.

Dated, New York, December 17th, 1900.

PAUL HELLINGER, Referee.

M. S. & I. S. ISAACS, Plaintiff's Attorneys, 27 and 29 Pine Street, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold. Its street numbers are 1,756 and 1,758 Madison Avenue, Borough of Manhattan.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold is four thousand seven hundred and ninety-one and 71-100 dollars, with interest from December 13, 1900, together with costs and allowances amounting to $226.57 and interest, together with the expenses of the sale.

The approximate amount of the taxes, assessments, and water rates or other liens to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $2,598 and interest. The premises will be sold subject to a mortgage for twenty thousand dollars on No. 1,758 Madison Avenue and two mortgages amounting to $25,000 and interest on No. 1,756 Madison Avenue.

Dated, New York, December 17, 1900.

PAUL HELLINGER, Referee.

d20-2aw3wTh&S&ja11.

Surrogate Notices.

ROGERS, ANDREW J.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Frank T. Fitzgerald, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against ANDREW J. ROGERS, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscribers at their place of transacting business, at the office of Hitchings, Palliser & Moen, No. 100 William Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 3d day of June (1901) next.—Dated New York, the 28th day of November, 1900. FRANK LITCHENHEIM, MARY E. ROGERS, Executors. HITCHINGS, PALLISER & MOEN, Att'ys for Executors, 100 William Street, New York City.

n30-1aw6mFri

STEINAM, LOUIS N.—In pursuance of an order of Hon. Abner C. Thomas, a Surrogate of the County of New York, notice is hereby given to all persons having claims against LOUIS N. STEINAM, late of the County of New York, deceased, to present the same with vouchers thereof to the subscriber, at his place of transacting business, at the office of James, Schell & Elkus, No. 56 Pine Street, in the City of New York, on or before the 25th day of January next. —Dated New York, the 10th day of July, 1900. JOSEPH L. STEINAM, Administrator. JAMES, SCHELL & ELKUS, Attorneys for Administrator, 56 Pine Street, New York City.

jy13-1aw6mF

Referees' Notices.

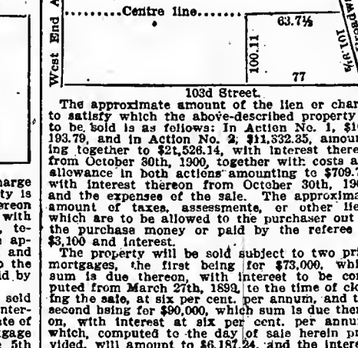
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —JACOB LAWSON, plaintiff, against AQUILA W. WANMAKER and others, defendants.—Actions Nos. I. and II.

In pursuance of judgments of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in each of the above entitled actions, bearing date respectively the 30th day of October, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in each of said judgments named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 22d day of November, 1900, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Richard V. Harnett & Company, auctioneers, the premises directed by said judgments to be sold, and therein described as follows: All that certain plot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City and State of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at the corner formed by the intersection of the northerly side of One Hundred and Third Street with the westerly side of Broadway, formerly called the Boulevard, and running thence westerly along the northerly side of One Hundred and Third Street seventy-seven feet and six inches; thence northerly and parallel with West End Avenue one hundred feet and eleven inches to the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Third and One Hundred and Fourth Streets; thence easterly along said centre line of the block sixty-three feet seven and one-half inches, more or less, to the westerly side of Broadway, and thence southerly along the westerly side of Broadway one hundred and one feet nine and one-half inches to the point or place of beginning.—Dated New York, October 31, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

CLARENCE L. WESTCOTT, Plaintiff's Attorney, 146 Broadway, Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the premises to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is as follows: In Action No. 1, $10,193.79, and in Action No. 2, $11,332.35, amounting together to $21,526.14, with interest thereon from October 30th, 1900, together with costs and allowance in both actions amounting to $709.70, with interest thereon from October 30th, 1900, and the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $3,100 and interest.

The property will be sold subject to two prior mortgages, the first being for $73,000, which sum is due thereon, with interest to be computed from March 27th, 1899, to the time of closing the sale, at six per cent. per annum, and the second being for $90,000, which sum is due thereon, with interest at six per cent. per annum, which, computed to the day of sale herein provided, will amount to $6,187.24, and the interest to accrue thereafter until the time of closing the sale.—Dated October 31, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby adjourned to the twenty-eighth day of November, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated November 22, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the fifth day of December, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated November 28, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the twenty-seventh day of December, 1900, at the same hour and place.—Dated December 5th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the tenth day of January, 1901, at the same hour and place.—Dated December 27th, 1900.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

The sale of the property above described is hereby further adjourned to the 24th day of January, 1901, at the same hour and place.—Dated January 10th, 1901.

AUGUSTUS H. VANDERPOEL, Referee.

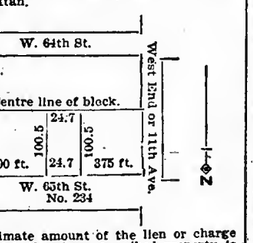
SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF NEW YORK. —RICHARD COHN, plaintiff, against ADELLE GALLIKER and others, defendants.

In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above-entitled action, bearing date the 13th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 17th day of January, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon on that day, by Philip A. Brown, auctioneer, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold, and therein described as follows:

All that certain lot, piece, or parcel of land, with the building and improvements thereon erected, situate, lying, and being in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point on the southerly side of 65th Street, distant 400 feet westerly from the corner formed by the intersection of said southerly side of 65th Street with the easterly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, and running thence southerly and parallel with said westerly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, 100 feet and 5 inches to the centre line of the block, thence westerly along said centre line of the block, 24 feet and 7 inches, thence northerly again parallel or nearly so with said westerly side of Amsterdam (formerly Tenth) Avenue, but to and so far as the same extends along the easterly side of the easterly wall of the brick building adjoining on the west the premises hereby described 100 feet and 5 inches to a point on said southerly side of 65th Street, distant 424 feet and 7 inches westerly from said westerly side of Amsterdam Avenue, and thence easterly and along said southerly side of 65th Street, 24 feet and 7 inches to the point or place of beginning, be the aforesaid several distances and dimensions more or less, and being same premises now known by the street number as No. 234 West 65th Street.—Dated New York, Dec. 24th, 1900.

JOHN E. DUFFY, Referee.

JOSEPH ROSENZWEIG, Attorney for Plaintiff, No. 90 Nassau Street, New York City, Borough of Manhattan.



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above-described property is to be sold is $3,557.90, with interest thereon from the 1st day of December, 1900; together with costs and allowances amounting to $247.71, with interest from Dec. 13th, 1900, together with the expenses of the sale. The approximate amount of taxes, assessments, or other liens which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money or paid by the referee is $427.52 and interest and penalties.

The premises are to be sold subject to a first mortgage of $15,000, with interest thereon at the rate of 4½% per annum from August 1st, 1900, and to the "lis pendens" filed and action now pending to foreclose said mortgage, and to existing monthly tenancies and to agreements as to easements recorded Aug. 29, 1898, in Liber 68, Section 4 of Conveyances, at page 449, and to any state of facts which an accurate survey would show.—Dated New York, Dec. 24th, 1900.

JOHN E. DUFFY, Referee.

d24-2aw3wW&F&j117

SUPREME COURT, NEW YORK COUNTY.—THE MUTUAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF NEW YORK, plaintiff, against SOLOMON B. TOPLITZ and others, Defendants.

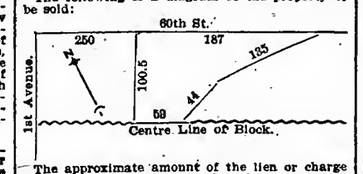
In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale, duly made and entered in the above entitled action, bearing date the 24th day of December, 1900, I, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, in the Borough of Manhattan, and City of New York, on the 23d day of January, 1901, at twelve o'clock noon on that day, by Peter F. Meyer, auctioneer, the premises in the said judgment mentioned and therein described, as follows:

All those certain lots, pieces or parcels of land, situate in the City of New York, and bounded and described as follows: Beginning at a point in the southerly line of Sixtieth Street, distant four hundred and thirty-seven feet easterly from the southeasterly corner of First Avenue and Sixtieth Street, running thence westwardly along the south line of Sixtieth Street one hundred and eighty-seven feet, thence southwardly parallel with First Avenue one hundred feet five inches to the centre line of the block, thence eastwardly along said centre line fifty-nine feet to land formerly of the estate of Thomas C. Pearsall, deceased, thence northeastwardly along said last mentioned land forty-four feet, thence northeastwardly still along said last mentioned land one hundred and thirty-five feet to the point or place of beginning, being the northerly part of lots known on map filed in the office of the Register of the City and County of New York, entitled "Map of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., surveyed September 5th, 1826, by Edward Doughty, City Surveyor," by the numbers 26 and 27, being the same premises conveyed by William G. Lathrop, Jr., referee, to said Lippman Toplitz, by deed dated December 26th, 1894.—Dated, New York, December 31st, 1900.

C. DONOHUE, Referee.

DAVIES, STONE & AUERBACH, Attorneys for Plaintiffs, 32 Nassau St., Borough of Manhattan, New York City.

The following is a diagram of the property to be sold:



The approximate amount of the lien or charge to satisfy which the above described property is to be sold is $14,308.47, with interest from the 13th day of December, 1900, together with the costs and allowances, amounting to $411.86, with interest from the 24th day of December, 1900, and the expenses of sale. The approximate amount of taxes and assessments, or other liens, which are to be allowed to the purchaser out of the purchase money, or paid by the referee, is $264 and interest.

The premises are sold subject to a first mortgage thereon for $11,000, and interest at 5 per cent. from December 15, 1900; and also subject to two other mortgages also prior to the plaintiff's lien on which there is due for principal of advances made thereon, the sum of $6,732 and accrued interest.

Dated the 20th day of December, 1900.

JOHN H. JUDGE, Referee.

d20-2aw3wTh&M&ja11

Travelers' Guide—Railroads.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD.

STATIONS FOOT OF WEST TWENTY-THIRD STREET AND DESBROSSES AND CORTLANDT STREETS.

☞The leaving time from Desbrosses and Cortlandt Streets is five minutes later than that given below for Twenty-third Street Station, except where otherwise noted.

7:55 A. M.—FAST MAIL.—Limited to two Buffet Parlor Cars New York to Pittsburg. Sleeping Car Pittsburg to Chicago. No coaches to Pittsburg.

9:25 A. M.—FAST LINE.—Pittsburg and Cleveland.

9:55 A. M.—PENNSYLVANIA LIMITED.—Pullman Compartment Sleeping, Dining, Smoking and Observation Cars. For Chicago, Cleveland, Toledo, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis.

1:55 P. M.—CHICAGO AND ST. LOUIS EXPRESS.—For Toledo, Nashville, (via Cincinnati and Louisville,) Indianapolis, Chicago, St. Louis. Dining Car.

5:55 P. M.—ST. LOUIS EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg, Indianapolis, Louisville, St. Louis. Dining Car.

3:55 P. M.—WESTERN EXPRESS.—For Chicago. For Toledo, except Saturday. Dining Car.

7:55 P. M.—PACIFIC EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg and Chicago. For Knoxville, daily, via Shenandoah Valley Route. Connects for Cleveland except Saturday.

8:23 P. M.—CLEVELAND AND CINCINNATI EXPRESS.—For Pittsburg, Cleveland, Cincinnati.

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS, AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL BLD'G. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

New York Telephone, 3700 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.

Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

SIMON BORG & CO.,
BANKERS,
No. 20 Nassau St., New York
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.

Geo. Sheffield. J. H. McCullough.
SHEFFIELD & McCULLOUGH,
Members of the New York Stock Exchange.
52 BROADWAY, NEW YORK CITY.
TELEPHONE, 704 BROAD.

FINANCIAL.

CENTRAL REALTY BOND AND TRUST COMPANY
59 TO 65 LIBERTY ST., NEW YORK.
Capital and Surplus, $1,500,000.

Allows interest on deposits subject to check and transacts all Trust Company business.

HENRY MORGENTHAU, President.
HUGH J. GRANT, 1st Vice-Pres. T. STALLKNECHT, 2d Vice-Pres.
W. J. B. MILLS, Treasurer. ERNEST EHRMANN, Secretary.

DIRECTORS:

Frederic P. Olcott,	Augustus D. Juilliard,
James Stillman,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Anthony N. Brady,	William A. Nash,
Alwyn Ball, jr.,	James N. Jarvie,
John D. Crimmins,	James H. Post,
Michael Coleman,	Frederick Southack,
Ernest Ehrmann,	Hugh J. Grant

Henry Morgenthau.

New Jersey Zinc Company.

The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company as Trustee under the mortgage made by the New Jersey Zinc Company dated February 1, 1897, hereby gives notice of its intention to redeem the bonds secured by said mortgage bearing the numbers hereinafter mentioned, at 105 and accrued interest, which bonds have been drawn for redemption in accordance with the provisions of said mortgage, viz.: Eighty-one bonds, numbered 4, 39, 58, 59, 60, 61, 64, 122, 124, 130, 185, 198, 248, 249, 275, 280, 306, 314, 319, 321, 335, 338, 342, 423, 424, 428, 436, 451, 455, 456, 474, 493, 495, 521, 525, 526, 557, 565, 575, 827, 861, 862, 867, 868, 873, 734, 738, 778, 786, 788, 791, 800, 838, 939, 948, 976, 986, 1009, 1010, 1012, 1033, 1035, 1073, 1078, 1079, 1088, 1125, 1150, 1178, 1190, 1192, 1194, 1195, 1196, 1212, 1213, 1220 1228, 1229, and 1230, for $1,000 each.

Said bonds will be redeemed upon the terms above mentioned upon presentation and surrender thereof and all unmatured coupons to the said The Farmers' Loan and Trust Company at its office, Nos. 16-22 William Street, New York, on the 1st day of February, 1901. No further interest on the bonds so designated will be payable from and after the said date if not then presented.

The Farmers' Loan & Trust Co. as Trustee,
By EDWIN S. MARSTON, President.
New York, December 19th, 1900.

REAL ESTATE TRUST CO. OF NEW YORK,
No. 30 Nassau Street.
CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS $1,000,000.
DESIGNATED LEGAL DEPOSITORY.
Allows interest on deposits.
Acts as Executor, Trustee, Registrar, &c. HENRY C. SWORDS, President.
H. H. Cammann, V.Pres. H. W. Relghley, Sec.

To the Stockholders
OF THE
AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE CO.
PROXIES.

At the request of the holders of a large amount of the preferred and common stocks of this company, we solicit the co-operation and support of all stockholders who desire the election of an efficient Board of Directors at the next annual meeting to be held on the 19th day of February, 1901. We are prepared to receive proxies entitling us to vote stock at said meeting.

Blank forms of proxies can be obtained at our office.

WELLES, HERRICK & HICKS,
15 Wall St., New York.

SALE OF MUNICIPAL BONDS.

Notice is hereby given that on the 22d day of January, 1901, at the Front Door of the Town Hall, in the village of Waterford, N. Y., at 12 o'clock at noon, the undersigned will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder, for not less than par, thirteen bonds of the Village of Waterford of the par value of one thousand dollars each. Such bonds are dated February 1st, 1901, are payable one thousand dollars each February 1st, 1905, and one thousand dollars annually thereafter, bear interest at 3½ per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually on March first and September 1st, interest and principal payable at the Garfield National Bank, in the City of New York. Ten per cent. required at time and place of sale, and the balance February 1st, 1901. Coupon or registered bonds, as the purchasers may elect.

Dated Waterford, N. Y., January 7, 1901.
J. W. FORD, President.
T. FRED BOOTMAN, Treasurer.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
DULUTH, MISSABE AND NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY
First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Dated January 1st, 1893.

The CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY of New York gives notice that in accordance with Article V. of a certain Indenture made by the above Railway Company, dated January 1st, 1893, it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above-described bonds at a rate not to exceed 105 per cent. and accrued interest, the total offer not to consome more than the amount of Eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighteen 81-100 dollars ($83,518.81.) The sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, in New York City, at twelve o'clock noon on the sixteenth day of January, 1901.

CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.
By G. Sherman, Vice President.

WANTED—A competent manager for Foreign Exchange Department. Must be experienced in all matters pertaining to Travelers' Letters of Credit, and capable of managing that department also. Replies, giving details as to experience, age, references, &c., will be treated in strict confidence. G., Box 179 Times.

DEVLIN COAL COMPANY
6% Mortgage Gold Bonds.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the terms of the Trust Deed dated January 1, 1894, that the undersigned, as Trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to 12 M. of the 15th day of January, 1901, for the sale to it of bonds, as above described, secured by said deed, at a price not exceeding par and accrued interest, to an amount sufficient to use the sum of Three thousand nine hundred dollars ($3,900.)

CONTINENTAL TRUST COMPANY of the City of New York, Trustee.
WILLARD V. KING, Secretary.
January 9, 1901.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

LOST.—Fifty shares of American Tin Plate common stock, certificate No. M 1,623, in name of Elmer I. Phillips; transfer has been stopped. Reward will be paid for return of same to DE COPPET & DOREMUS, 30 Broad St., New York City.

FINANCIAL.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS OF THE
Distilling Company of America.

New York, January 10, 1901.

Notice is hereby given that the right is now granted to Stockholders of the Company, as they may appear of record at the closing of the Transfer Books at three o'clock P. M. on January 17, 1901, to subscribe for the $5,000,000 Five Per Cent. Ten Years Collateral Trust Gold Bonds of the Company at 85 per cent. of their par value, to an amount not exceeding ten per cent. of their respective holdings of Preferred Stock and five per cent. of their respective holdings of Common Stock, but in cases where such stock is represented by certificates of deposit of The Mercantile Trust Company the holders of such certificates, if the same shall be presented at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company, 120 Broadway, in the City of New York, at or before three P. M. of the 17th day of January, 1901, for proper endorsement, shall have the right to subscribe as stockholders on the above basis.

Subscriptions must be made in writing upon blank forms which may be obtained from The Mercantile Trust Company, and all subscriptions must be lodged with The Mercantile Trust Company, at its office, No. 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, at or before three o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of January, 1901. The right to subscribe will then expire.

Every subscription must be accompanied by a payment to The Mercantile Trust Company in New York funds of fifty per centum of such subscription price in cash or by certified check; the balance to be paid as follows:

Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of March, 1901, and

Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of April, 1901;

for all of which payments negotiable certificates of said Trust Company will be given, exchangeable for bonds when the same shall be issued, and proper interest adjustment will be made upon delivery of the bonds.

Subscribers may, when filing their applications, make the full payment of the amount of their subscriptions, if they so desire.

In the event of any default in making said payments, or any of them, The Distilling Company of America may sell for account of the defaulting subscriber the bonds so subscribed for, and retain out of any payments made by such defaulting subscriber five per cent. of the par value thereof as liquidated damages for failure to comply with the contract of subscription.

The success of the proposed issue of bonds is assured by an underwriting of $4,000,000 thereof and any bonds not subscribed for or taken will be disposed of as the Directors may determine.

As no bonds for less than $1,000 will be issued, it will be necessary for Stockholders holding less than 100 shares of Preferred or 200 shares of Common Stock to cause their stock to be transferred or combined with other stock to entitle them to a subscription, no subscriptions for a fractional amount of bonds being receivable.

The allotment of bonds will be made by The Mercantile Trust Company and shall be final and conclusive and binding upon all subscribers.

The Transfer Books of the Company will be closed on the 17th day of January, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., and will be reopened on the 22d day of January, 1901, at ten o'clock A. M.

Stockholders are referred to the report of the Committee for particulars as to this issue of bonds.

A copy of the mortgage is on file at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company.

By order of the Board of Directors.
S. M. RICE, President.
THOS. H. WENTWORTH, Secretary.

THE UNDERSIGNED ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR
100,000,000 Reichsmark
($24,000,000)
BAVARIAN Government Loan
At 100½ and Accrued Interest.

These bonds bear 4% interest p. a. coupons payable May 1st and November 1st. Bonds will be issued January 22nd. Subscriptions will be received by us for the above issue until Saturday, January 12, noon.

Allotments can be paid in full or in three installments.

40 % January 22nd.
30 % March 26th.
30 % May 28th.

Zimmerman & Forshay,
BANKERS,
9 AND 11 WALL STREET.

Dividends.

The Colorado & Southern Railway Co.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings for the calendar year 1900 a dividend of TWO PER CENT. on the first preferred stock of this Company payable February 14, 1901, to the holders of record of the first preferred stock at the closing of the transfer books on January 31, 1901. The transfer books for the first preferred stock of this Company will be closed at three P. M. on January 31st, 1901, and will be reopened at ten A. M. on February 15th, 1901.

The Colorado & Southern Railway Co.
By HARRY BRONNER, Secretary.

28 Broad Street, New York, January 10, 1901.

The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for the first preferred stock of the Colorado and Southern Railway Company will be closed at three P. M. on January 31st, 1901, and will reopen at ten A. M. on February 15th, 1901. On February 14th, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of TWO PER CENT. when received by them, at the office of Messrs. Hallgarten & Co., among the parties entitled thereto, as same appear of record on their books when closed as above.

HALLGARTEN & CO.,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

The Trust Company of America.
DIVIDEND NO. 2.
149 Broadway, New York, January 10, 1901.

The Board of Directors of the Trust Co. of America have this day declared a dividend of THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. upon the Capital Stock of the Company, from the net earnings of the Company for the six months ending December 31, 1900, payable January 21, 1901, to stockholders of record on the 17th of January, 1901.

Transfer books will be closed at 3 P. M., January 17, 1901, and reopen 10 A. M. January 22, 1901. RAYMOND J. CHATRY, Secretary.

Louisville & Nashville R. R. Co.

The Board of Directors of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Co. this day declared a dividend of TWO AND ONE-HALF (2½) PER CENT., payable on and after February 11th, proximo, to such as shall be registered stockholders of the Company at 3 P. M. on January 28th, 1901.

The stock transfer books will close at 3 P. M. on the 28th inst., and reopen at 10 A. M. on February 11, 1901.

AUGUST BELMONT, Chairman.
New York, Jan. 10, 1901.

The Lawyers' Title Insurance Company of New York.
37 & 39 Liberty St., and 44½ & 46 Maiden Lane.
New York, January 9, 1901.

The Board of Directors of this Company has this day declared a dividend of Two and One-half Per Cent. and an extra dividend of One-half Per Cent., payable at the Company's office on February 1st, 1901. The transfer books will be closed Monday, January 14th, and reopened on Saturday, February 2nd.

JOHN DUER, Treasurer.

Central Railroad Company of New Jersey.
143 Liberty Street,
New York, January 7th, 1901.

A dividend of ONE AND ONE-QUARTER Per Cent. has this day been declared, payable February 1st to stockholders of record at the close of business January 21st. The transfer books will be closed from 3 P. M. of Monday, January 21st, until the morning of Monday, January 28th.

J. W. WATSON, Treasurer.

American Type Founders Co., Treasurer's Office,
Jersey City, New Jersey, January 10, 1901.

At a meeting of the Directors held this day, it was voted that a dividend of ONE PER CENT., amounting to ONE DOLLAR per share, is hereby declared upon the capital stock of the Company, payable January 15, 1901, to stockholders of record at the close of business January, 10, 1901. MORRIS H. SMITH, Treasurer.

Office of Philadelphia Company,
Pittsburg, Pa., January 9th, 1901.

DIVIDEND—The Directors this day declared the regular quarterly dividend on the Common Stock of One and One-fourth (1¼%) Per Cent., payable January 21, 1901, to stockholders of record January 11th, 1901. Checks will be mailed.

C. J. BRAUN, Jr., Treasurer.

Pacific Fire Insurance Company.
NINETY-SEVENTH DIVIDEND.

A semi-annual Dividend of FIVE PER CENT. (5%) is payable on demand at the office of the Company, No. 32 Pine Street, New York.

GEORGE JEREMIAH, Secretary.
New York, January 10, 1901.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

National Broadway Bank.
New York, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank this day held, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

FRANCIS A. PALMER,
HUDSON HOAGLAND,
DAVID S. WALTON,
GEORGE C. CLARKE,
SETH E. THOMAS,
WILLIAM B. PUTNEY,
GEORGE J. FERRY,
EUGENE BRITTON,
ADOLPH RUSCH,
AARON ADAMS,
RICHARD B. KELLY,
ANDERSON FOWLER,
WILLIAM BALLIN,

and

J. A. GEISSENHAINER,
FRANCIS P. FURNALD, Jr.,
HORACE F. HUTCHINSON,

were elected Inspectors of the next ensuing election.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors Mr. FRANCIS A. PALMER was re-elected President and Mr. HUDSON HOAGLAND was re-elected Vice President, both unanimously.

CHAS. J. DAY, Cashier.

Mount Morris Bank,
January 11th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held Jan. 10th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Richard Delafield,	Edward H. Landon,
Thos. L. Watt,	John E. Borne,
Wm. Morton Grinnell,	L. M. Schwan,
W. Rockhill Potts,	Sidney Dillon Ripley,
Hermann Oelrichs,	Francis R. Appleton,
Geo. B. Brown,	Aaron S. Thomas,
John McQuade,	Edward L. Hoyt,
August Belmont,	Edmond H. Hamilton,
Henry Marquand,	Albert H. Wiggin,
George S. Hart,	Fred'k W. Livermore,
Thomas H. Newman,	William H. Crocker,
George F. Victor,	E. G. Mitchell.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors L. M. Schwan was unanimously elected President, Albert H. Wiggin and Fred'k W. Livermore Vice Presidents, Lindley H. Hill, Cashier, and F. M. Spencer, Asst. Cashier.

LINDLEY H. HILL, Cashier.

Hamilton Bank,
of New York City.
215 W. 125th Street.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 9th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

William H. Caldwell,	Bernard Loth,
Cyrus Clark,	William A. Martin,
Martin D. Fink,	Edwin S. Schenck,
William S. Gray,	Frederick B. Schenck,
Robert J. Horner,	John J. Sperry,
John J. Lapham,	Julius W. Tiemann,
	Lucien C. Warner.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day Mr. Edwin S. Schenck was unanimously re-elected President and Mr. Frederick B. Schenck was unanimously re-elected Vice President.

JESSE C. JOY, Cashier.

YORKVILLE BANK,
Third Avenue, corner 85th Street.
NEW YORK, January 8th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of this bank, held to-day, the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year:

Richard H. Adams,	Jacob Ruppert, Jr.,
E. B. Amend,	Jacob Schlosser,
Thomas E. Crimmins,	Leopold Schmid,
Chas. C. Clausen,	H. B. Scharmann,
Henry Diedel,	Emil Unger,
Karl Hutter,	Louis von Bernuth,
Henry F. Poggenburg,	Moses Weinman,
	Reinhold Van der Emde.

WM. L. FRANKENBACH, Cashier.

The Lincoln National Bank,
32 East Forty-second Street, New York,
January 10th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Lincoln National Bank, held in its banking rooms, January 8th, 1901, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Thomas L. James,	James D. Layng,
William R. Grace,	E. V. W. Rossiter,
Matthew C. D. Borden,	Alfred Van Santvoord,
Charles C. Clarke,	James Stillman,
Marcellus Hartley,	William Rockefeller,

And for Inspectors of Election, Charles F. James and Eben E. Olcott.

At a subsequent meeting of the board, Thomas L. James was unanimously re-elected President, and Edward V. W. Rossiter, James D. Layng, and William A. Simonson were unanimously elected Vice Presidents.

WILLIAM T. CORNELL, Cashier.

The Ninth National Bank of the City of New York,

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Ninth National Bank of N. Y., held this day, the following named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Albert C. Hall,	Guy G. Major,
Jordan J. Rollins,	Catholina Lambert,
Augustus F. Libby,	Charles T. Root,
N. S. W. Vanderhoef,	Carl A. Spilker,
Warner Van Norden,	Alexander King,
James B. Dill,	Samuel Elseman,
William W. Peabody, Jr.	Alvah Trowbridge,
George F. Raldolph,

At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors Mr. Alvah Trowbridge was elected President; H. H. Nazro was appointed Cashier, and A. K. Chapman, Assist. Cashier.

H. H. NAZRO, Cashier.

The German American Bank.
New York, January 9, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

L. F. Dommerich,	Henry Rocholl,
Oscar Dressler,	Alfred Roelker,
J. F. Frederichs,	Samuel M. Schafer,
Antonio Gonzalez,	Casimir Tag,
Marcellus Hartley,	Edward N. Taller,
Harmon W. Hendricks,	Frederick Von Bernuth,
Henry R. Kunhardt,	Charles A. Zoebisch,
Robert Reutter,

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Mr. Casimir Tag was re-elected President and Mr. Henry Rocholl Vice President.

J. F. FREDERICHS, Cashier.

GERMAN EXCHANGE BANK.
New York, January 10th, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the German Exchange Bank, held this day at its banking house, 330 Bowery, the following were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

M. J. Adrian,	Thos. Rothmann,
B. G. Amend,	Jos. Schaeffler,
Auke Dooper,	Geo. Storm,
Sol Mehrbach,	Jno. Schugg,
S. Niewenhous,	Henry Weller,
	Chas. L. Adrian.

Office of the Eagle Fire Co.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At the annual election for Directors of this Company, held on the 8th inst., the following named gentlemen were elected:

Frederic W. Stevens,	Charles De Rham, Jr.,
A. J. Clinton,	George G. De Witt,
Augustus F. Holly,	John W. Condit,
Joseph H. Choate,	John M. Burke,
John D. Skidmore,	Thomas J. Gaines,
G. G. Williams,	John S. Huyler,
	H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board A. J. Clinton was unanimously re-elected President.

THOMAS J. GAINES, Secretary.

The Fourth National Bank
of the City of New York.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

J. Edward Simmons,	Robert W. Stuart,
Cornelius N. Bliss,	Richard T. Wilson,
Charles Stewart Smith,	William S. Opdyke,
	James G. Cannon.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. J. Edward Simmons was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James G. Cannon was unanimously re-elected Vice President.

CHARLES H. PATTERSON, Cashier.

The National Butchers and Drovers Bank.
New York, January 9th, 1901.

At the annual election, held on the 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors of this Bank for the ensuing year, viz.:

William H. Chase,	Adolph D. Bendheim,
Henry Hofheimer,	Henry W. Kennedy,
	Richard C. Fellows.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. Gurdon G. Brinckerhoff was unanimously re-elected President.

WM. H. CHASE, Cashier.

NEW YORK JUVENILE ASYLUM.—An election to supply the vacancies occasioned by the expiration of the terms of office of eight Directors of this Institution will be held on the Second Monday of January—the 14th inst.—at four o'clock P. M., at the House of Reception, No. 106 West 27th Street, New York City. The polls will be open for one hour.

EVERT J. WENDELL,
EDMUND DWIGHT, Jr., } Inspectors of Election.
ALEXANDER HADDEN,
HENRY N. TIFFT, Secretary.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.

O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

Cimiotti Unhairing Co.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of this company will be held at 3 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, January 23, 1901, at the office of the company, 55 West Third St., New York City, for the election of Directors for the ensuing year and for such other business as may properly come before the meeting.

GUSTAV CIMIOTTI,
Pres. and Manager.

ANNUAL MEETING STOCKHOLDERS ROME Mining Company will be held at office of J. C. Thompson, 86 Liberty St., New York, TUESDAY, January 15, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon.

ALFRED H. BROWN,
For the Directors.

FINANCIAL.

The Bank of New Amsterdam,
Broadway, corner 39th Street.
New York, January 10, 1901.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held on the 8th instant, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

C. T. Barney,	C. W. Morse,
Frederic Cromwell,	H. F. Morse,
Frank Curtiss,	Thos. F. Ryan,
G. G. Haven,	Louis Stern,
Joseph J. Kittel,	Jno. A. Stewart,
R. V. Lewis,	F. K. Sturgis,
R. R. Moore,	Frank Tilford.

At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. R. R. Moore was unanimously elected President, and Mr. Charles W. Morse was unanimously elected Vice President.

G. J. BAUMANN, Cashier.

Savings Banks.

EAST RIVER SAVINGS BANK,
NO. 3 CHAMBERS ST.
105th SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDEND,
NEW YORK, Dec. 10, 1900.

A DIVIDEND at the rate of FOUR PER CENT. per annum has been declared for the six months ending Dec. 31 upon all accounts entitled thereto, from $5 to $5,000, payable after January 10, 1901.

DEPOSITS made on or before Jan. 7 will draw interest from Jan. 1.

WILLIAM H. SLOCUM, President.
CHARLES A. WHITNEY, Secretary.

GREENWICH SAVINGS BANK.
S. E. Cor. 6th Ave. and 10th St.

INTEREST AT THE RATE OF THREE AND ONE-HALF PER CENT. PER ANNUM will be credited depositors for the SIX MONTHS and THREE MONTHS ENDING DEC. 31, 1900, on all sums from five dollars to three thousand dollars, entitled thereto under the by-laws, payable JAN. 21, 1901.

JOHN HARSEN RHOADES, President.
JAMES QUINLAN, Treasurer.
B. OGDEN CHISOLM, Secretary.

Deposits made on or before JAN. 10, 1901, will draw interest from JAN. 1, 1901.

Copartnership Notices.

543 Broadway,
New York, January 1st, 1901.

We beg to announce that Mr. LOUIS LUBETKIN has this day been admitted a partner to our firm.

AARON GARFUNKEL & CO.,
Proprietors,
BROADWAY BARGAIN HOUSE.

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS.

JOHN B. GARRETT RESIGNS.

Vice President of the Lehigh Valley Withdraws from Railroad Life.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—John B. Garrett announced to-day that he will retire on Tuesday next from the Vice Presidency of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company. This decision was communicated to President Walter in November last, and he has remained in office since that time at Mr. Walter's request. Mr. Garrett's decision was known only by a few personal friends. He withdraws from railroad life and will devote his time to educational and philanthropic work.

In presenting his resignation Mr. Garrett said that his chief reason for resigning was the fact that his duties required his presence in New York City, and this divided his interests to such an extent that he decided to relinquish his office.

The Directors of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company held a special meeting this afternoon, but a successor to Mr. Garrett was not chosen. The annual report of the company was read and adopted, but was not made public.

SUIT FOR $50,000 FOR AN IDEA.

Flaherty Asks Damages for Lawyer's Alleged Theft of His Plan.

A suit brought in September, 1894, by Robert J., Flaherty, in the then Court of Common Pleas, against Clarence Cary and F. W. Whitridge of Cary & Whitridge, E. C. Henderson, and Edward T. Rice, Jr., was called for trial yesterday before Justice Scott in the Supreme Court. The plaintiff asks $50,000 damages for alleged breach of contract. Cary & Whitridge are well-known lawyers of this city. Mr. Whitridge is a son-in-law of Matthew Arnold of London. The firm, among its other interests, represents the Bank of England in this country.

In his complaint Mr. Flaherty, who styles himself a skilled insurance agent, alleges that he devised a plan for insuring the principal and interest of moneys loaned on bonds and mortgages and other security. In December, 1891, he says, he entered into an agreement with the defendants by which they agreed to form a company to engage in mortgage insurance, each side to fulfill certain conditions of organization. Flaherty alleges that the defendants repudiated the agreement, availed themselves of his plan, and were instrumental in the formation of the Lawyers' Mortgage Insurance Company with a capital of $500,000, leaving him without compensation for his plan and work.

The defense is a general denial. The case was called late in the day and the selection of a jury was not completed when court was adjourned.

Low Rates to Buyers.

The Merchants' Association has received word from Chicago that the Central Passenger Association, at a meeting in Chicago on Wednesday, granted the reduced rates from all points in their territory to New York for the Spring buying season on the same basis on which those rates had been granted in previous years. The dates in Central Passenger Association territory on which the rates will be effective are Feb. 13 to 17 inclusive, and March 1 to 4 inclusive, with a return limit of thirty days from date of sale of ticket.

HOTEL CASTLETON SOLD.

Bought by John R. Beam of Paterson, N. J., for $41,000.

The Hotel Castleton property, at New Brighton, S. I., sold on the premises yesterday under a decree of partition affecting the holdings of the Tallman estate, was bought by John R. Beam of Paterson, N. J., for $41,000. All the furnishings of the hotel and the plot of about eighty lots on which it stands were included in the sale.

A small adjoining parcel, a plot about 70 by 150, with a two-story frame dwelling thereon, was sold to Robert Miller of this city for $1,650. The sale was conducted by Auctioneer William Kennelly.

SHERIFF'S WARM RECEPTION.

Mistaken for a Robber by Friends of Man Whose Goods He Seized.

A boy, panting and breathless, ran into Hoboken Police Headquarters yesterday and announced that "Deputy Sheriff Stanton was being murdered at 428 Washington Street." A squad of reserves sent to the scene found that Stanton, having levied upon the stock of Morris Jancowitz, dry goods dealer at the address given, under a writ of replevin, to satisfy creditors whose claims amounted to $3,000, had been attacked by friends of Jancowitz, under the impression that the latter was being robbed.

The crowd was dispersed, and Jancowitz, who had loaded his goods into vans before Stanton arrived, was required to move the goods back into the store. Stanton was then placed in possession, and the row was over.

MIDDLESEX COUNTY BANK CASE.

Directors Arguments Against Being Held Liable for Cashier's Theft.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 10.—Argument for the defense in the effort being made by Receiver Edward S. Campbell of the Middlesex County Bank of Perth Amboy to have the Directors held responsible for the stealings of Cashier George M. Valentine was heard by Vice Chancellor Pitney today.

Capt. James Parker of Perth Amboy maintained that the Directors could not be held responsible and challenged the opposing side to show a precedent under which bank directors are required to maintain a constant system of espionage.

"Espionage is not the word," interrupted the Vice Chancellor. "Simply a checking up of the accounts is required. I am a Director of a savings bank myself."

Cortland Parker, Sr., of counsel for the defense, argued that under the by-laws of the bank the cashier was placed in absolute charge of the accounts and funds and no specific duties were imposed upon the Directors. He held that the Directors could be made liable for losses by defalcation only by proof of gross negligence. Such proof, he claimed, had not been adduced. In conclusion he maintained that a decision against them would mean their utter ruin.

THE FINANCIAL MARKETS

Stocks weaker.

STOCK TRANSACTIONS.

	Shares.
Jan. 10	1,265,303
To date this year	12,648,324
Corresponding date last year	4,830,309

BOND TRANSACTIONS.

Jan. 10	$3,442,600
To date this year	$29,998,450
Corresponding date last year	$12,818,600

Money rate: Collateral loans on call, 2½@4 per cent.; at three months, 4¼ per cent.; at six months, 4½ per cent. Commercial paper, sixty to ninety days, 4½@4¾ per cent.

Net changes in stocks of one-half of 1 per cent. or more were:

Stocks Advanced.

Am. Sugar Ref. pf.	½	Nat. Biscuit pf.	⅝
Am. Tobacco	1	Nat. Salt	½
B., R. & P.	1½	N. Y., C. & St. L. 1st pf.	½
Chi. Term. Trans.	½	Pac. Coast 1st pf.	2¼
Cont. Tobacco	1½	Pac. Coast 2d pf.	3
Cont. Tobacco pf.	1¾	Pacific Mail	1¼
General Electric	4	St. L. S. W.	1½
Int. Power	⅝	Tenn. Coal & Iron	1½
Louis. & Nash.	⅝	West. Union Tel.	2½
M., St. P. & S. S. M.	¾

Stocks Declined.

Amal. Copper	⅞	Int. Pump pf.	½
Am. C. & F. pf.	½	Kan. City So. pf.	⅝
Am. Ice pf.	½	Met. Street Ry.	1¼
Am. Smelt. & R.	½	Mo., K. & T.	⅝
Am. Steel Hoop	1	Mobile & Ohio	⅝
Am. S. H. pf.	1	Nat. Biscuit	½
Am. Tin Plate	1¼	National Steel	¾
Am. Wool pf.	1	Nat. Steel pf.	½
Anaconda Copper	1½	Nat. Tube	1½
At., T. & S. F.	⅝	New Cent. Coal	2
Balt. & Ohio	1¼	N. J. Central	1
B'klyn Rapid Trans.	1½	N. Y. Air Brake	2
Chi. & Alton pf.	½	N. Y. Central	1½
Chi., B. & Q.	⅝	N. Y. C. & St. L.	1½
Chi., Ind. & L.	1½	N. Y., O. & W.	½
Chi., I. & L. pf.	¾	Northern Pacific	1½
C., M. & St. P.	5	North. Pac. pf.	1⅝
C., R. I. & Pac.	1½	Penn. R. R.	1½
Chi. Term. Tr. pf.	½	Pressed Steel Car	2
Consol. Gas	½	Pressed S. C. pf.	2
Del. & Hudson	1	Pullman Co.	1
Den. & Rio Grande	⅝	Reading	1
Den. & R. G. pf.	½	Reading 1st pf.	½
Des M. & Ft. D.	½	Reading 2d pf.	⅝
Erie	1½	Rep. Steel pf.	⅝
Erie 1st pf.	¾	St. L. & S. F. 2d pf.	⅞
Erie 2d pf.	2½	Southern Railway	⅝
Federal Steel	⅝	Sloss-Sheffield	3½
Great North. pf.	2½	Third Avenue	1
H. B. Claflin	3	Union Bag & P. pf.	1½
Hocking Valley	⅝	U. S. Rubber	⅝
Hock. Valley pf.	⅝	U. S. Rubber pf.	4⅝
Illinois Central	½	Wabash	⅝
Iowa Central	1	W. & L. E. 2d pf.	½
Iowa Central pf.	1½

Net changes in bond quotations of 1 per cent. or more were:

Bonds Advanced.

Austin & West. 5s	1
Cent. of Ga. 1st pf., inc.	1
Flint & P. M. 6s	1
F. & P. M. con. 5s	1
L. & N., M. & M. 4½s	1
Mil., L. S. & W. 1st	1
Mo. Pac. 3d 7s	1

Bonds Declined.

Mex. Cent. con. 4s	1
St. P. & Dul. con. 4s	2½

MARKET MOVEMENT.

Room traders were in control of the stock market yesterday all day long, with the result that concerted pressure was brought to bear upon it. There were indications that the larger financial interests were content during the greater part of the day to give the market a thorough test, and it was not until the last hour—and this despite the continued pressure—that aggressive buying on the part of Morgan, Vanderbilt, and Standard Oil interests appeared, lifting prices well above the low figures and closing the market in a rally. The movement of prices, indeed, was much as it was on Thursday of last week, and there was some speculation in the Street after the close of business as to whether last Friday's wild scramble to cover on the part of the bears will be duplicated today.

The bears made much ado over the published interviews of Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hill in the morning papers, and distorted the utterances of these gentlemen to such lengths that instead of a policy of community of interest among the railroads, in which Mr. Morgan and Mr. Hill are inerested, it was almost made to appear that a rate-cutting war was forthwith to begin. For the third consecutive day President McKinley's illness was also magnified and made to do duty to depress prices, the report yesterday being that the sickness had taken a sudden turn for the worse.

St. Paul stock, which last week enjoyed the distinction of a 12-point rise in one day, yesterday sold off sharply over 6 points to below 152, marking a decline of over 10 points from the high figure of the early part of the present week. Traders offered the stock down following the statement that no lease of the road was actually contemplated, while at the same time President Hill's published interview was distorted to mean that the entire deal with Great Northern-Northern Pacific was off. This, however, is not the case, and assurance of this was responsible for the recovery in the price of the issue from the low figure.

The declines in Northern

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

The market for outside securities yesterday was dull and weak. Some few advances were recorded, but in most parts of the list the day's closing quotations showed recessions in price, which, in some instances, were substantial. In no part of the market was there any change from the more or less lifeless conditions which have prevailed for so many days past. Not much news came to hand of a character to affect prices, though a few of the day's changes were attributable to unconfirmed rumors.

***

TELEPHONE, TELEGRAPH AND CABLE was notably weak, being offered down without developing any demand for the stock. At the close it was offered at 5⅝, with practically no bid. As an assessment of $5 was paid on the stock Dec. 31 last, yesterday's quotation showed the stock to be offered at practically the amount of the last payment. As the stock is now $15 paid, the present price represents a very heavy loss to the original subscribers. In explanation of the weakness of the stock, there was the report that the company had sold to the Bell Telephone Company the shares of the Erie Telegraph and Telephone Company recently purchased by the Telephone and Cable Company. At the office of the company no information in regard to the matter could be had. President William J. Latta refused to either confirm or deny the report. Some time ago the company issued a circular stating that the plans of the Directors would probably be announced to the stockholders before the first of the present month, but as far as learned no announcement of any plans in regard to the future of the company has yet been made.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS preferred was traded in to the extent of 500 shares or more, between 68½ and 68. Later the bid rose to 68⅝, and the stock closed there unchanged for the day. The bonds were not traded in, but they showed strength, and closed at 87½ bid.

***

RUBBER GOODS sold down to 29⅛ and closed with a net loss of 1 point, at 29 bid. A smaller decline occurred in the preferred stock. The selling of the stock seemed to be due to the weakness of United States Rubber, although it is stated that the unfavorable conditions prevailing in the affairs of the United States Company in no wise extend to the Rubber Goods Company, the business of the two companies being practically distinct.

***

NASSAU ELECTRIC 4s showed marked strength, and without sales advanced over 2 points above the last sale of the previous day. At the close 94⅞ and interest was bid for any part of $250,000 of these bonds.

***

UNION COPPER sold to the extent of 1,000 shares or more between 4⅞ and 4½. The stock recovered to 4¾ at the close, and showed no net change for the day.

***

INTER-STATE OIL was offered down to 5 yesterday, and no better bid than 2 was made for the stock.

***

PITTSBURG, BESSEMER AND LAKE ERIE rights sold at $35 per hundred shares. The new preferred stock is to be issued to the stockholders at par at the ratio of one-twenty-third of a share for each share now held.

***

ROYAL BAKING POWDER preferred sold at 94⅜, the sales amounting to 200 shares.

***

Closing quotations yesterday compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 10. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 9. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem..	29	30	29	30
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80	81	80	81
American Banknote.....	50	55	50	51
American Bicycle	5	5¾	5	5¾
American Bicycle pf....	24	27	24	26
American Bicycle bonds.	72	73	72	73
American Bridge	43½	44	44	44¾
Am. Bridge pf., ex div..	91½	92	95¾	96
American Chicle	83	88	83	88
American Chicle pf....	91	96	91	96
Am. Hide & Leather....	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	39
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90¾	90	90¾
*American Thread pf....	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	19	25	19	24
Arlington Copper.....	4	5	4	5
*British Columbia Copper	22¾	23	22¾	23¾
British Exch. 3s.....	88½	90	88½	90
California Copper	1	1½	1	1¾
Cast-Iron Pipe	5	6½	5¼	6
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.....	35	37	35	37
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf....	70	73	70	75
Compressed Air	40	44	42	45
Con. Ry. N. & E.	123	125	13	13¼
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	3	2½	3
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	21	21½	20¾	21¾
Crucible Steel pf.....	79	80	79	80
Cramps' Shipyard.....	70	82	79	82
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts.	5¾	6	5¾	6
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts	29¼	30	29	30
Electric Boat	26½	27	27	27½
Electric Boat pf.....	48	50	49	50
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Electric Vehicle pf....	40	44	40	44
Electric-Pneumatic....	2¾	3	2¾	3
Empire Steel	6	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.....	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	19	22	19	22
General Carriage	30¼	33	30¾	33½
General Chemical	62	65	62	62
General Chemical pf....	97	98½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s....	100¾	100¾	100¾	100¾
Havana Commercial	99	100	99	100
Havana Commercial pf..	42	45	42	45
Hudson River Tel.....	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation..	¾	1	¾	1
International Silver pf..	45	50	45	50
Inter-State Oil	2	5	4	10
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds...	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	½	1
Lorillard pf	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13½	15	13½	14
Nat. Enamel & Stamp...	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Ornamental...	12	15	12	15
Nat. Sugar pf.....	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3¾	5	3¾	3¾
N. Y. Transportation....	4¾	5½	4¾	5½
Otis Elevator.....	29	29¾	29	29¾
Otis Elevator pf.....	90	91	90	91
Peo. Gas & Evans.....	¾	1	¾	1
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie..	29	29¾	29	29¾
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds.....	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Cooper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods	29	29¼	29	29¼
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf....	79	79½	80	80½
Safety Car Heat. & Light.	118	120	118	120
St. Louis Transit.....	18½	19	18⅝	19
Seaboard Air Line 4s....	71	72	71	73
Seaboard Air Line.....	9½	10	9½	10
Seaboard Air Line pf....	27	27½	27	27½
Sheet Steel pf.....	76	77¼	..	..
Singer Mfg	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac..	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf.....	120	125½	120	125½
Standard Oil of N. J....	802	806	802	806
Storage Power	10	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	18	19	18	19
Tel., Tel. & Co. of A..	$15 paid		5⅝	4½	6
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	8
Trenton Pot. pf.....	55	60	55	60
Tubular Dispatch	24	24½	25	32½
Union Copper	4¾	5	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	39½	40½	38½	40
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	112	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s.	87½	88¼	87½	87½
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	65	68¼	69	69
Va. Coal, I. & C.	4	6	5	7
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	37	38½	37	38½
Westinghouse Air Brake.	370	380	370	380
Worthington Pump pf...	111	113	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av....	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102½	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d..	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st 5s.	115	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d....	102¾	103½	102¾	103½
Brooklyn City R. R....	232	234	232	234
Brooklyn B. & W. E. 5s.	101½	103	101¼	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	200½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E. R. 7s.	104½	104½	104½	105½
Columbus Railway pf....	34	37	34	37
Columbus Railway pf....	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J....	58	60	58	60
Con. Traction 5s.....	108	109	108	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St. M. & St. N. Av. 1st.	113¼	115	113¼	115
42d St. M. & St. N. Av. 2d.	99	100	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry....	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¼	20	21¼
Jersey City & H. P. 4s....	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.....	94⅞	..	94⅞	95½
New Orleans Traction...	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	96	91	93
9th Av. R. R.....	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	87½	88½	87½	88½
North Jersey St. R. R. 5s.	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.....	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s.	118½	118	118½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit..	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
23d & 24th St. 5s, 1996	113¼	114½	113¼	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.....	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds ..	113½	116	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac..	35	37	34½	35½
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf..	105	108	107	109

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅝
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock...	8	9	8	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st....	74	76	74	76
Central Union 5s, gtd..	103½	103½	103½	103½
Columbus Gas 5s.....	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark....	..	66	..	66

	Jan. 10. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 9. Bid.	Asked.
Con. Gas of New'k bds.	104	108	104	108
Con. Gas of New Jersey..	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	85	80	80
Con'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105¼	106	105¼	106
Denver Gas	23	24½	22½	24
Denver Gas 5s.....	61	63	61	63
Essex & Hudson Gas....	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	60	60	59	60
Indianapolis Gas bds. 6s.	95½	96	95½	96
Mutual Gas of N. Y.....	295	299	295	299
Madison (Wis.) stock....	70	75	70	75
New Amsterdam 5s.....	109½	110	109⅝	110
N. E. Gas & Coke.....	13	14	13	14
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s....	70	72	60½	70½
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. 1st.	112½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	106	109	106	109
Northern Union 5s.....	105½	106	105½	106
Nor. Hud. L., H. & P. Co.	55	56	55	56
Nor. H. L., H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego).	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1930.	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.).....	31	33	31	38
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s.....	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock.....	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds.....	75	80	75	80
Standard Gas, New York.	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	161	163	150	153
Standard Gas 1st.....	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock.....	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	96	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s.....	107	109	107	109

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	19	21
Brooklyn Ferry 5s.....	85	86	85	86
East River Ferry.....	69	71	69	71
East River Ferry 5s....	96	98	96	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s.	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st.....	110½	112½	110½	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolitan Ferry 5s...	108	110	108	110
Union Ferry	30	31½	30	31½
Union Ferry bonds.....	91	92	91	92

BULLION AND MINING.

Silver bullion certificates were quoted on the Stock Exchange at 64½@65c. There were no sales.

Bar silver was quoted at London at 29⅝d per ounce, and in New York at 64¾c. Mexican silver dollars at 49¾c.

On the Stock Exchange 200 shares of Standard sold at 4.15.

On the Consolidated Exchange 300 shares of Challenge sold at .18, 500 Cripple Creek Consolidated at .12, 3,500 Comstock bonds at .00, 300 Dunkin at .14, 1,000 Gold Dollar at .25, 100 Horn Silver at 1.15, 200 Isabella at .70, 500 Justice at .10, and 1,000 Work at .20.

***

Closing bids for mining stocks on the Consolidated Exchange were as follows:

Alamo	.11	Horn Silver.....	1.10
Anaconda	.42	Iron Silver.....	.62
Alice	.45	La Cresca.....	.14
Adams Con.....	.20	Leadville Con.....	.08
Belcher	.10	Little Chief.....	.16
Best & Belcher.....	.30	Mexican	.40
Bruns. Con.....	.25	Moulton	.30
Caledonia, B. H.....	2.50	Ontario	6.00
Catalpa	.10	Ophir	.85
Chrysolite	.09	Occidental	.05
Chollar	.17	Phoenix G. M. Co..	.10
Con. Cal. & Va....	2.25	Potosi	.17
Com. T. Co. stock..	.04	Quicksilver	.01¼
Com. T. Co. bonds..	.03½	Quicksilver pf.....	7.00
Com. T. Co. scrip..	.03	Savage	.15
Crescent	.08	Sierra Nevada.....	.35
Daly	1.25	Standard	4.05
Deadwood Terra....	.55	Small Hopes.....	.65
Eureka Con.....	.15	Union Con	.22
Father De Smet....	.25	Yellow Jacket.....	.17
Golden Sheaf.....	.20	Argentum Juanita...	.20
Gould & Curry....	.45	Isabella	.67
Hale & Norcross....	.20	Mollie Gibson.....	.20
Homestake	60.00	Portland	3.15

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 10.—Boston specialties were dull this morning and mining stocks were neglected, with the prevailing tone heavy. National Tube shares led in attractiveness to traders, 5,700 shares of the common and 1,400 shares preferred selling. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, Union Pacific, and Sugar continued active. Rubber stocks were sold quite freely. In the afternoon there was more display of animation, some stocks improving sharply. American Telephone was prominent, advancing 3¾, to 159¾. Old Dominion ran up 2, to 32; Wolverine, ½, to 49; Trimountain, 1, to 21¼; United States Oil, ½, to 16; Tamarack, 5, to 335; Copper Range, ½, to 34½; Montana, 4, to 315. Baltic fell 1¼, to 32½, but recovered to 34. Erie Telephone lost 4, to 74, and Gas and Coke, 1, to 69.

At the Clearing House money between the banks loaned at 3 and 3½ per cent., and New York funds sold at 5 and 8 cents premium.

Call money is still loaning at from 4 to 5 per cent., with most of the business being done at 4 and 4¼, and with the supply of money abundant. The choicest collateral loans find ready buyers at 4 per cent. for four to six months. Loans on mixed collateral are quoted at 4½ per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure.....	10¼	10¾	Old Colony....	3½	4½
Allouez	3	3½	Old Dom.....	31½	32
Arcadian	17½	18½	Osceola	80½	82
Arnold	4½	5	Parrot	48¼	49
Ash Bed.....	.50	..	Quincy	175	180
Atlantic	27½	28	Rhode Isl....	4¼	4⅝
Baltic	33½	..	Santa Fé....	6½	7
Bost. & Mon. ..	315	..	Sta. Ysabel...	2½	3
Butte & Bos. 7s	80	..	Shoe	31½	32
Cal. & Hec...	830	840	Tamarack	333	336
Centennial ..	23	24	Utah Con....	33	33½
Franklin	..	17¾	Washington..	.50	1
Humboldt	.50	..	Winona	4¼	4½
Isle Royale..	37½	38	Wolverine....	48½	49
Mohawk	24	25

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	252	253	C. Mass. pf.. 62
Bost. & Me.	212	..	Fitchburg pf.	138	139
Bost. & Me.	194	196	N. Y. & N. ..	..	..
Bos. & Prov.	300	..	E. 6s	100	..
Bost. Elev..	159	160	N. Y. & N. E. 7s	113	..
Bos. Gas 5s.	80	..	West End ..	92½	93
Cent. Mass..	15	15¼

Miscellaneous Stocks.

Am. T. & T. ..	156	Mex. Tele....	27⅜	3
Chi. Stck. Y.	144	146	N. Eng. Tel.	129	..
Dominion C..	37½	38½	U. S. Oil....	15½	16
Dom. C. pf..	108	109	W'ghouse El.	54	..
Erie Tel.....	74	..	W'se El. pf.	67	..

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 10.—Lehigh and Reading issues continued to-day to control the market, and the tone was decidedly improved. Denials that the former road is to come under the control of the latter found credence, and there was an attitude of expectancy for new developments. The belief seemed to be gaining ground that the New York Central was after the property. The buying in Lehigh Valley was almost entirely for New York account, the price of the stock see-sawing between 34½ and 34¾. Reading common showed the influence of the room traders during the early hours of the day, suffering a decline from 16 11-16 to 16⅝, but recovered partially at noon, although it continued to sell at 1⅛ points below yesterday's top price. Both first and second preferred showed somewhat similar loss. Philadelphia Electric was strong, and advanced on buying, which was marked by considerable confidence, to 5¼. Railways Company General made substantial gains on the belief that it was planned to sell one of the company's properties at a profit, and to buy another in the near future.

The close was steady, at the following bid and asked prices:

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Am. Ry Lt..	32½	34	Hunt. & B.T.	18	20
Cambria	205	210½	Lehigh Nav..	67	68
Choctaw	39½	39½	Lehigh Val'y	34½	34¾
Con. Tr. N. J.	59½	60½	Marsden	7	7⅛
Con. Tr. N.	..	..	North. Penn.	107	110
J., 5s.....	109	100½	Penn. Steel..	70	73
Con. Tr., P.	27¾	27¾	Penn. Steel pf	99	97
El. & Peo. 4s.	106¾	106¾	Peo. Tr. 4s.	106½	110
El. Stge. Bat.	75	79	Phil. & Erie.	31	32
El. Stge. Battery pf.....	75	80	Phil. Trac..	99½	90½
Elec. Co. of Am.	0¼	9⅜	Union Trac..	35	35½
Hunt. & B. T. pf.....	49½	50	Un. Co.'s N. J.	274	270
			Un. Gas Imp.	124	124½
			Welsbach Lt.	43	45

CHICAGO QUOTATIONS.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—The market was easier to-day and the volume of business was light and scattering. There was some demand for Biscuit common at 40¼@40 and for the preferred at 93¾@93½. West Chicago was steady at 100½. Metropolitan Elevated common brought 25 and the preferred closed at 79, a point gain for the day. Traction preferred was firm at 49½. Linseed brought 6¼@6⅜ and the preferred 30.

		High.	Low.	Close.
1,140..	American Linseed	6¾	6¼	6¾
200..	Am. Linseed pf.....	36	30	36
150..	Am. Strawboard	32½	32½	32½
10..	Canal & Dock.....	68	68	68
3..	Chicago Telephone	244	244	244
25..	Ches. & Ohio.....	40	40	40
65..	Chic. Union Trac. pf....	49½	49½	49½
44..	City Railway	260	260	260
905..	Lake St. Elevated.....	10¼	10¼	10¼
225..	Lake St. Elev. ctfs.....	10⅜	10¼	10⅜
100..	Metropolitan Elevated...	25	25	25
530..	Metropolitan Elev. pf...	79	78	79
750..	Northwestern Elev.....	29	29	29
100..	Northwestern Elev. pf..	78	78	78
2,022..	National Biscuit	40¼	40	40
100..	National Biscuit pf.....	93¾	93½	93½
46..	National Carbon pf.....	84	84	84
200..	Sheet Steel pf.....	76½	76	76
200..	North Chicago	192	192	192
100..	South Side Elev.....	99	99	99
100..	West Chicago	100¼	100¼	100¼

Sales....1,265,303

SETTLE FOR £300,000.

London Brokers and Operators Yield to Threats of Exposure.

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Six brokers and outside operators, who engineered the recent collapse of Lake Views and the consequent downfall of sixteen firms, have been compelled to pay over £300,000 for the benefit of the injured firms, under threat, it is reported, of an exposure of questionable transactions.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

Complete Transactions in Stocks—Thursday, Jan. 10, 1901.

—Closing.— Bid.	Asked.	Sales.		First.	High.	Low.	Last.	Net Change.
145.	150	20	Adams Express	150	150	150	150	.....
91	91½	10,300	Amalgamated Copper.	92⅜	92⅝	90⅝	91⅜	— ⅞
21⅞	22⅛	1,450	Am. C. & F. Co., ex d.	21½	22⅝	21½	22⅝	+ ⅛
70⅝	71	685	Am. C. & F. Co. pf., x d.	71½	71½	70⅝	70⅝	— 1⅛
30¼	30¼	650	American Cotton Oil.	30⅝	30⅝	30½	30⅝	— ⅛
89	92	24	Am. Cotton Oil pf....	90	90	90	90	.....
175	185	56	American Express	189	189	175	175	.....
39¾	40¼	1,000	American Ice Co.....	40½	40½	39¾	40⅜	+ ⅝
69	70	200	American Ice Co. pf..	68½	69⅝	68½	69⅜	+ ⅝
6⅝	6¾	735	American Linseed Co.	6¾	6¾	6⅝	6⅝	— ⅛
34½	35¼	1,720	Am. Linseed Co. pf....	35¾	35¾	34½	34½	— 1¼
4¾	5	300	American Malting Co.	4¾	4¾	4¾	4¾	.....
57	57½	4,025	Am. Smelt. & Ref. Co.	57⅝	58	56¼	57	— ½
96½	96¾	1,370	Am. S. & R. Co. pf.	96½	97	96⅛	96⅝	— ¼
2¼	3	100	Am. Spirits Mfg. Co..	2	2	2	2	.....
29½	30	1,000	Am. Steel Hoop Co...	30¼	30¼	29	30	— 1
76	76½	300	Am. Steel Hoop Co. pf.	76½	76½	76	76	— 1
42¾	43	5,650	Am. Steel & Wire.....	43	43⅝	42¼	43	.....
87½	87⅝	2,200	Am. Steel & Wire pf..	87⅝	87⅝	86⅞	87½	— ⅛
138	138¼	22,275	Am. Sugar Ref. Co....	138	139¼	137¾	138½	+ ⅞
118⅜	119	310	Am. Sug. Ref. Co. pf..	118¼	118¾	118¼	118⅜	— ⅛
59⅞	59⅞	5,085	American Tin Plate..	60	60	59	59½	— 1¼
90	90½	175	Am. Tin Plate pf.....	90	90	90	90	.....
114⅝	114⅞	41,690	American Tobacco	113⅞	115½	112½	114⅞	+1
19½	19¾	600	American Woolen	20	20	19¾	19¾	— ¼
72	74	100	American Woolen pf..	73	73	73	73	—1
46½	46¾	300	Anaconda Cop. M. Co.	47	47	46¼	46¼	—1¼
45¾	45⅞	14,870	At., T. & S. F.....	46	46¼	45	45⅜	— ⅛
86⅞	86¼	25,550	At., T. & S. F. pf., x d.	87	87¼	85¾	86¼	— ¼
90½	91	12,333	Baltimore & Ohio	92⅛	92⅜	90½	90½	—1¼
86¾	87⅛	2,573	Baltimore & Ohio pf..	87½	87⅝	86¼	87	+ ⅛
83¾	83⅞	35,230	Brooklyn Rapid Tran.	85¼	85⅝	83⅜	83¾	—1¼
83	85	200	Buff., Roch. & Pitts..	85	85	85	85	+1¼
57⅝	58½	1,400	Canada Southern	58¾	58⅞	57¼	57⅜	— ⅜
39⅞	39⅞	6,700	Chesapeake & Ohio...	40¼	40¼	39¼	39⅞	— ⅛
40¼	40½	7,100	Chicago & Alton	40⅞	41	40	40⅛	— ⅜
74½	75	1,400	Chicago & Alton pf..	74¼	75¼	74¼	74½	— ⅛
144¼	144½	33,300	Chi., Bur. & Quincy...	145⅜	145⅞	143⅞	144¼	— ⅜
94½	95	800	Chicago & East. Ill...	94⅝	95	94⅝	95	— ¼
123½	124	200	Chi. & East. Ill. pf...	123¼	123¼	123¼	123¼	.....
16¾	16⅞	1,125	Chicago Great West..	16⅞	16⅞	15½	16⅜	+ ⅛
25¾	26¼	400	Chi., Ind. & Louis...	20½	26½	26	26	—1¼
60½	61	900	Chi., Ind. & Louis. pf.	61¾	61⅝	60¾	61	— ⅜
152½	153	70,895	Chi., Mil. & St. Paul.	155	155	151⅝	152⅝	—5
191	192¼	10	Chi., Mil. & St. P. pf.	192	192	192	192	.....
171¾	172½	700	Chicago & Northw....	172⅜	172⅝	172	172	.....
125	125⅛	20,655	Chi., R. I. & Pac.....	126½	126½	124¼	125⅛	—1⅜
133	138	200	Chi., St. P., M. & Om.	135	135	135	135	.....
123½	123⅝	200	Chicago Term. Trans.	124	124½	124	124½	+ ½
34½	35	700	Chi. Term. Trans. pf.	35½	35½	34⅜	35	— ½
75½	76	1,200	C., C., C. & St. L....	76	76⅝	75⅛	75⅛	.....
52⅝	52⅝	3,300	Colorado Fuel & Iron.	52½	52¾	52	52⅜	— ¼
7⅞	8	4,300	Colorado Southern ..	8	8	7⅞	7⅞	— ⅛
43¼	43½	1,424	Col. Southern 1st pf...	43¼	43½	42⅜	43	.....
16¼	16⅜	1,174	Col. Southern 2d pf...	16¼	16⅜	16½	16½	.....
193	193	2,100	Consolidated Gas	193	193	192	193	— ½
42¼	43⅜	53,420	Con. Tobacco Co.....	42¼	44½	41¼	43⅝	+1
95½	96	1,600	Con. Tobacco Co. pf..	96½	96	94	96	+1¾
147	147¾	144	Delaware & Hudson..	147	147¾	144	145¼	—1
31⅞	31⅞	1,800	Denver & R. G.....	31⅞	32⅛	30⅞	31⅛	— ⅝
83⅞	83⅞	610	Denver & R. G. pf....	83⅞	83⅞	83⅜	83⅜	— ½
19	19	100	D. M. & Ft. Dodge....	19	19	19	19	— ½
29	29⅛	65,520	Erie	29	29⅛	27	27⅜	—1⅝
64½	65¼	23,426	Erie 1st pf	65¼	65¼	62½	64¼	— ⅝
43	43	2,500

LEGAL NOTES.

RIGHTS OF BICYCLES AND CARRIAGES.—While Henderson Hill was riding his bicycle on the morning of Sept. 27, 1899, down Park Avenue, from Sixty-fifth Street, toward Sixty-fourth Street, nearer to the sidewalk than to the tunnel in the centre of the avenue, he saw a carriage, also facing south, standing by the sidewalk, half a block away. He was going about five miles an hour. When he was five or six yards from the carriage, near the centre of the street, the driver faced his horses right out into the avenue and started to turn directly around. Hill claimed, in his suit against William Moehus, the owner of the carriage, that it was impossible for him to get out of the way. He rang his bell, but the tongue of the carriage struck his head, the wheel was smashed to pieces, and he was injured in his stomach. John Feddick, the coachman, testified he first saw Hill when four feet away, and shouted, but it was too late; then he stopped his team, but the plaintiff hit the side of the pole. The Appellate Division has reversed judgment of the Municipal Court given in favor of the plaintiff, holding, in an opinion by Justice O'Brien, that the questions of negligence and contributory negligence were issues of fact for the Judge of the Municipal Court to pass upon. "While using due care in riding his bicycle along the avenue, giving notice of his approach by ringing his bell, plaintiff was intercepted by defendant's servant suddenly and without warning, as proper attempt to guard against injury to others, turning his horses abruptly into the middle of the narrow roadway, with the result that the plaintiff was seriously injured. The plaintiff was on the proper side, lawfully using the avenue, in riding his bicycle. Without determining the right of the driver to turn around on the west side of the avenue, it is certain that he could not do so in violation of the rights of others, who were properly using that side, and were justified in proceeding upon the theory that a carriage facing south would not, without warning or notice, make an abrupt turn from the curb where it was standing to go in an opposite direction."

***

LIFE TENANT AND REMAINDERMAN.—Among the securities owned by John Lowry at the time of his death, in January, 1895, were fifty shares of Pullman Palace Car Company stock, and the Farmers' Loan and Trust Company, as executor of Mr. Lowry's will, in dividing the trust estate, set apart eight of these shares, among other securities, to Edmund J. Lowry, one of the testator's children, who by the will was to receive the "entire rents, issues, and profits" of the portion of the estate set apart for his benefit. The trust company paid Mr. Lowry upon the shares, up to October, 1898, all of the cash dividends declared by the Pullman Company, payable to the holder of such shares, including an extra dividend of 20 per cent. in October, 1898, the Pullman Company—out of the undivided profits of surplus which it then had, amounting to about $20,000,000 declared a stock dividend of 50 per cent., payable on the 15th of November following, and four of such shares were on the latter date delivered to the trust company. Mr. Lowry claimed these shares, but the trust company refused to deliver them, claiming they belonged, not to the life tenant, but to the remainderman. A suit brought by Lowry in the Supreme Court to determine his title was dismissed at Special Term, but a reversal has been unanimously directed by the Appellate Division. The Court holds, in an opinion by Justice Hetzlandh, that the stock dividend of 50 per cent declared upon the capital stock of the Pullman Company, four shares of which were allotted to the eight shares held by the trust company in trust for the benefit of the plaintiff, was, according to the intent of the testator, "Income," and belonged to the plaintiff absolutely.

***

SHERLOCK MAY NOT HAVE TO GO TO THE PENITENTIARY.—William F. Sherlock, who was convicted of libelling The Sun and sentenced to three months in the Penitentiary by Judge Rufus B. Cowing, and whose conviction was affirmed by the Appellate Division, has appealed to the Court of Appeals. Chief Judge Alton B. Parker of the Court of Appeals, on application of Benjamin Patterson, has certified that there is reasonable doubt whether the judgment of conviction should stand. This acts as a stay of proceedings until after the Court of Appeals has passed upon the case, and in the meantime Mr. Sherlock will be admitted to bail. Justice James Fitzgerald of the Supreme Court has fixed the amount of bail pending the appeal to the Court of Appeals in the sum of $500. This case is of interest as involving the rights of publishers under the section of the Constitution which gives power to the jury to determine in criminal libel suits both the law and facts.

President Reprieves a Murderer.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The President to-day commuted the sentence of Charles L. McClin, who was to have been hanged in this city to-morrow, to imprisonment for life. In December, 1898, McClin, who was a motorman on one of the street railways, killed another motorman. Jealousy was the cause.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

New Apartment House on East Thirty-first Street Sold—Other Dealings by Brokers and at Auction.

Ranald H. Macdonald has sold to Theodore H. Mead the new seven-story apartment house 22 East Thirty-first Street, 25 by 98.9.

John N. Golding has sold for C. S. Frank to William H. Moore the stable property 202, 204, and 206 West Fifty-eighth Street, on a plot 75 by 100.

L. J. Phillips & Co. have sold for Margaretta Berker and another 200 and 208 East Eighty-third Street, and for a Mrs. Ward 214 East Eighty-third Street. The buyer is John McLaughlin, who recently purchased, through the same brokers, the intervening parcels, Nos. 210, 212, and 216. The entire plot will be improved.

Plummer & Schurman have sold for John Woods, for about $40,000, the five-story flat 210 West One Hundred and Second Street, 25 by 100.11; also, for Michael E. Keefe, as trustee for the estate of David Kilmer, for $25,000, the front and rear brick tenements 231 East Twenty-fifth Street, 25 by 98.9.

In part payment for the Harold apartment house, at Manhattan Avenue and One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, Felt & Livingston take four lots on the south side of One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street and seven and one-half lots on the north side of One Hundred and Twenty-fourth Street, both plots beginning 200 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue.

Christian Jetter, who recently took title to 8 Barrow Street, has also acquired No. 6, and will improve both parcels.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought the two six-story tenements 189 and 191 Allen Street, 50 by 88.4, and have sold to M. Makrunsky the four-story brick building 75 East Fourth Street, 25 by 100.

The Central Realty Bond and Trust Company took title yesterday from Eugene F. O'Connor to the Hotel Virginia property, at Broadway, Eighth Avenue, and the Grand Circle. The transfer is made for $5,000 over mortgages of $235,000.

The City Homes Improvement Company has taken title to the model flats recently erected by Lubomir R. Mestaniz on the plot running through from One Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street to One Hundred and Thirty-eighth Street, 200 feet east of Willis Avenue, 150 by 200. The transfer was made yesterday, for a consideration of $484,000. The new owner of the property has mortgaged it to the Knickerbocker Trust Company, as trustee, for $320,000, to secure an issue of ten-year gold bonds for that amount.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By Philip A. Smyth.

673 to 677 Wales Avenue, west side, 237.8 feet south of Westchester Avenue, 75 by 130.5 by 86.9 by 86.9, three four-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to A. L. Françola.....$33,718

By William M. Ryan.

Lot 509 on the maps of the Dykman estate, being on the north side of Nichols Place, near Prescott Avenue, 188.2 by 86.10 by 50 by 165.1; foreclosure sale, to William Wilson.....4,000

By Bryan L. Kennedy & Co.

1,007 Morris Avenue, west side, 169 feet north of One Hundred and Sixty-fourth Street, 21 by 105, two-story frame dwelling; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Alice E. Wentworth.....3,349

By George R. Read.

68 East One Hundred and First Street, south side, 80 feet west of Park Avenue, 25 by 100.11, five-story brick flat; foreclosure sale, to Emma W. Vaughn.....22,500

By Peter F. Meyer & Co.

24 and 26 East Ninety-fifth Street, south side, 45.9 feet west of Madison Avenue, 50 and 16, respectively, by 100.8, two five-story brick dwellings; foreclosure sale, No. 24, to George W. Arthur.. 29,500
No. 26, to the same buyer.....27,000

By H. C. Mapes & Co.

Sackett Avenue, Wechester, south side, 100 feet west of Deane Place, 50 by 100, vacant; foreclosure sale, Miles Hughes.... 1,025

To-day's Auction Sales.

The following sales at auction are down for to-day at 111 Broadway:

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Daniel P. Ingraham, referee, 90 Prince Street, south side, 20.4 feet east of Mercer Street, 36 by 101 and irregular, eight-story brick building. Due on judgment, $35,781; subject to other mortgages for $140,000.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, Augustine H. McMahon, referee, 600 Lexington Avenue, northwest corner of Fifty-fourth Street, 20.5 by 70, five-story brick flat, with stores. Due on judgment, $26,155.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, John H. Judge, referee, 2,670 and 2,672 Eighth Avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Fifty-second Street, 49.11 by 100, two five-story brick flats, with stores. Due on judgment, $16,042; subject to other mortgages for $17,730.

By William M. Ryan, foreclosure sale, John C. Coleman, referee, 506 and 507 West One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, north side, 115 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, each 15 by 99.11, two four-story brick dwellings. Due on judgment, on each, $12,700.

By L. J. Phillips & Co., foreclosure sale, Paul Hellinger, referee, 1,750 and 1,758 Madison Avenue, southeast corner of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, 30 and 30.5, respectively, by 85, two five-story brick flats. Due on judgment, $5,018; subject to other mortgages for $45,000.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Richard H. Clarke, referee, 938 Jackson Avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, 19 by 86.4, four-story brick flat, with store; 927 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, north side, 19 feet east of Jackson Avenue, adjoining the foregoing, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; 929 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; 931 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flats; 933 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 27 by 68.4, four-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $4,938; subject to other mortgages as follows: On 938 Jackson Avenue, $15,500; on 927 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, $12,000; on 929, $12,000; on 931, $12,500; on 933, $11,500.

By James L. Wells, foreclosure sale, Edmund J. Thisdale, referee, 935 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, north side, 27.6 feet west of Forest Avenue, 26.6 by 67.5, four-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $2,637; subject to another mortgage for $10,000.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, S. Kohn, referee, 106 West Seventy-eighth Street, south side, 106.3 feet west of Columbus Avenue, 23.9 by 100.1 by 26 by 100.6, four-story stone-front dwelling. Due on judgment, $32,717.

By Peter F. Meyer & Co., foreclosure sale, Charles H. Knox, referee, 207 West One Hundred and Second Street, north side, 132.6 feet east of Broadway, 22.6 by 100, five-story brick flat. Due on judgment, $2,619.

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Thirteenth Street, south side, 100 feet east of Washington Street, for a three-story brick factory, 125 by 206.6; estate of John J. Astor of 23 West Twenty-sixth Street, owner; Trowbridge & Livingston of 287 Fourth Avenue, architects; cost, $200,000.

No. 185 West One Hundred and Eleventh Street, for a one-story frame power house, 20 by 75; Farrell, Hopper & Co. of 215 West Twenty-fifth Street, architects; cost, $300.

Wendover Avenue, north side, 221.11 feet east of Webster Avenue, for two four-story brick flats, each 37.6 by 73.6; Herbert Aldhons of 770 Wendover Avenue, owner; Julius Spindler of 544 Brook Avenue, architect; total cost, $52,000.

One hundred and Eighteenth Street, south side, 220 feet east of Lenox Avenue, for four five-story brick flats, each 25 by 87.11; Robertson & Grant of 245 West One Hundred and Seventh Street, owners; J. C. Cocker of 238 East Eighty-eighth Street, architect; total cost, $100,000.

Alterations.

No. 409 West Fourteenth Street, to a four-story brick store and factory; J. S. Herman of 238 West Seventy-first Street, owner; R. Maynicke of 725 Broadway, architect; cost, $700.

Fordham Avenue, southwest corner of Beller Place, City Island, to a two-story frame dwelling; Henry T. Booth, City Island, owner and architect; cost, $200.

No. 604 East Eighteenth Street, to a three-story brick storage house; Myer Hellman of 66 Liberty Street, owner; Charles Renz of 153 Fourth Avenue, architect; cost, $2,000.

No. 20 East Twentieth Street, to a four-story brick restaurant; R. B. Roosevelt of 33 Wall Street, owner; Escher & Evans of 162 West Twenty-seventh Street, architects; cost, $200.

Gold Street, northeast corner of Ferry Street, to a ten-story brick factory; A. Healy & Sons of 88 Gold Street, owners; W. B. Tubby & Brother, architects; cost, $75,000.

No. 24 West Forty-fifth Street, to a four-story and basement brick bachelor apartment house; Samuel Emory of 142 West Forty-third Street, owner; Charles C. Thaln of 156 Fifth Avenue, architect; cost, $12,000.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "nmc" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyances should therefore show the true consideration:

Thursday, Jan. 10.

BOWERY, w s, 135.2 ft n of Broome St, 25x100; William H. Macy, Jr., and others, executors, to Charles Goldstein. (R S $27.50).....$27,100

BOWERY, w s, 135.2 ft n of Broome St, 25x100; Charles Goldstein to Selig Citron and another. (R S $5.50, mtg $19,000)

BRADHURST, 51, w s, 18.2x87.9x irregular; Edward Dougherty and another to Christopher McCaffrey. (R S $5, mtg $8,000)

BRADHURST AV, 51, w s, 18.2x87.0x18x 90.3; Christopher McCaffrey to Jane McMenomy. (R S $1, mtg $8,000)

GRAND AV, e s, 125 ft n of 20th, 25x100; Barbara Rosch to John O'Leary. (R S $1)

LOTS 471 and 472, Block P, map of Hudson P. Rose of Mapes estate; Mary E. Gordon and another to Henry Robinson. (R S 50 cents, mtg $2,000).....2,900

MADISON AV, e s, 267.4 ft s of Kings Bridge Road, 17.4x100; Catharine Meehan to James Gavin. (R S $1).....

MORRIS AV, w s, 190 ft n of 164th St, 25x105; R. F. Emmerich to Frank Schaeffler. (R S $5).....3,000

STREETS AV, 1,155, 22.6x87.6x22.5x 94.6; John O'Leary to Barbara Rosch. (mtg $4,250, R S $2.50).....

WALTON AV, e s, 102.11 ft n of Tremont Av, 100x100; Elizabeth A. Edwards to James J. Raisbeck. (R S $1.50, mtg $1,854).....

WEBSTER AV, n s, 85 ft w of 206th St, 50x112.6; Elizabeth Edwards to R. J. Lyons and another. (R S $2, mtg $1,550).....3,000

WEST END AV, 966, 20x90; Charles H., Doremus to Jeannette B. Anthony. (mtg $25,000, R S $5).....3,000

1ST AV, e s, Lots 1,275 to 1,278, map of the Village of Wakefield; Peter A. Sheil to James F. Donnelly. (R S $5).....

2D AV, e s, 25 ft s of 85th St, 25x88; Emma Block, executrix, to Samuel Kopp. (R S $6, mtg $15,000).....21,000

2D ST, 222, s s, 24.9x94 block; Moritz Koppe to Morris P. Joachim. (R S $10.50).....100

5TH AV, w s, 31 ft n of 36th St, 18.4x irreg. irregular; Clara W. Stetson to George C. Boldt. (mtg $70,000, R S $105).....100

6TH ST, 605 East, 25x70; Lena Spiegel to Abraham H. Fleischer. (R S $8.50, mtg $20,000).....28,500

6TH ST, 448, e s, 24.8x100; Mary A. T. de Balaine to Townsend Underhill. (R S $5, mtg $15,000).....

8TH ST, s s, 300 ft e of 2d Av, 25x97.6; the United Hebrew Charities of the City of New York to Leopold Kaufmann. (R S $21.50).....

8TH AV, n e corner of 58th St, 97.8 ft to Broadway x75.8 to Grand Circle x 75.1 to 8th Av x40.8 to beginning of the block; Eugene F. O'Connor to Central Realty Bond and Trust Company. (mtg $235,000, R S $5).....

9TH AV, 703, w s, 25.1x100; Albert L. David to Charles McDowell. (R S $8.50, mtg $35,000).....

10TH ST, 147 East, 22x73.2 irregular; Simon R. Well and another, executors, &c., to David Lippmann.....10,500

13TH ST, 7 East, 22x81.8x22.8x87.2; Edward A. Hammond to Jane M. Stelle.

16TH ST, 607 East, 25x100.3; Zax K. Berlin to David J. Cohen and another, all title. (R S 50 cents, mtg $28,000)....Omitted

20TH ST, n s, 120 ft w of 2d Av, 25x 68.9x irregular; Charles Strauss, referee, to Henry Kellus. (R S $25.50).....25,100

33D ST, n s, 55 ft w of Park Av, 25x 95; George C. Boldt to George W. Stetson. (R S $40).....100

35TH ST, 50 West, 20x98.9; Caroline Lawrence, widow, executrix, to Lydia M. Sullivan. (R S 50 cents).....357

35TH ST, 139 and 141 West, 50x105; Ellen Archbold to Charles E. Rector. (R S $1, mtg $80,000).....1

44TH ST, n s, 70 ft e of 2d Av, 20x100.5; Josephine K. Jones and others, executors, &c., to Henry Kern.....5,000

45TH ST, 162 and 164 East, 40x100.5; William S. Hunter to Montgomery Maze. (mtg $30,000, R S $12).....100

48TH ST, s s, 210.4 ft w of 2d Av, 18.8x 100.5; A. H. Vanderpool, referee, to Pincus Lowenfeld and another. (R S $9).....9,000

50TH ST, 58 East, 19x100.5; Charles Buek to Mary D. Pell. (mtg $26,000, R S $12.50).....1

51ST ST, n s, 525 ft e of 11th Av, 40x 100.5; Katherina Karl to Elizabeth Linder. (mtg $10,000, R S $10).....Gift

56TH ST, s s, 313 ft w of 8th Av, 20.8x 100.5; Edward B. Locke to Joseph N. Collins. (mtg $33,500, and all liens, R S $15).....1

56TH ST, s s, 333 ft w of 8th Av, 20.8x 100.5; Louis Clark, Jr., as assignee, &c., to Edward B. Locke, all title, &c., (mtg $33,500).....

56TH ST, s s, 313 ft w of 8th Av, 20.8x 100.5; Louis Clark, Jr., and wife to Joseph N. Collins, quitclaim.....1

57TH ST, 429 East, 20x75 block; Susannah Blamey to Elizabeth A. Hartog. (R S $10).....1

57TH ST, 429 East, 20x75 block; Elizabeth A. Hartog to Susannah Blamey. (R S $10).....10,000

60TH ST, s s, 450 ft w of 10th Av, 25x 100.5; Mary Brothers to Fanny Brothers, ½ part. (R S $1.50, mtg $7,000).....900

63D ST, 148 East, 25.8x102.2; Townsend Smith of Stephen Ball. (R S $4, mtg $11,500).....1

87TH ST, s s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 36.6x100x irregular; Augustus R. Macdonough, trustee, to the Congregation Rodoph Sholom, all title, quitclaim.....75

87TH ST, s s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 36.6x35.7x irregular; John P. Thornton to Congregation Rodoph Sholom. (R S 50 cents).....200

87TH ST, s s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 36.6x34.7x irregular; the Congregation Rodoph Sholom, or Congregation Rodoph Sholom, to William Evans and another. (R S $16).....16,000

88TH ST, s s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 36.6x100x irregular; Mary A. Flatley and another, individually and as administrators, with the Congregation Rodoph Sholom, all title, quitclaim.....75

98TH ST, s s, 214.11 ft w of Columbus Av, 18x100.11; William J. A. McKim, referee, to Marietta Wilsey.....15,000

99TH ST, n s, 350 ft w of Central Park West, 25x100.11; Henry Thompson, referee, to Duncan Edwards. (R S $1, mtg 24,562).....1,000

100TH ST, n s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 225x 100.11; William Ebling and another, executors, to Jacob Schattman. (R S $87.50, mtg $55,000).....1

129TH ST, 308 and 310 West, 50x90.11; Louis Stern to Mary A. Brennan. (R S $8.50, mtg $35,000).....1

137TH ST, n s, 300 ft e of Willis Av, 150x 200 to 138th St; Linbomir R. Mestaniz to City Homes Improvement Company. (R S $480).....480,000

138TH ST, 118 West, 20.10x103.3; Ellen Archbold to Mary A. Ackron, trustee. (R S $1, mtg $24,000).....1

147TH ST, s s, 100 ft e of Prospect St, 50x100; B. W. Robinson, referee, to Elizabeth Rintelen. (R S $1.50).....1,200

148TH ST, s s, 75 ft w of College Av, 50x 100; Solomon McLaughlin and others to Caroline Coby.....7,200

Recorded Leases.

AVENUE A, 1,641; Adam Huebner and others to Paul Grathwohl, 3 years.....$900

BROADWAY, 1,405; Emilie Huber to Jacob Harris, from Sept. 15, 1900, to May 1, 1901.....6,000

MORRIS AV, 544; Matthew Sullivan to James David, 5 1-3 years.....780

3D AV, 2,189; William T. Purdy and another to Moses Zimmermann, 3 1-3 years.....2,000

10TH AV, 621; Madeline W. Ayres and others, trustees, to Valentine Hattemer, 5 years.....1,450

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest is at 5 per cent., unless otherwise specified.

BIRKLER, Louisa A. and Louis H., to George Knauer; 11th St, 327 to 331 East; also 2d Av, 176 and 213, all title, demand, 6 per cent.....$161

BOGERT, Seba, to Hazel B. Liebes; St. Ann's Av, 419, 1 year.....1,000

CITY HOMES IMPROVEMENT COMPANY to Knickerbocker Trust Company, trustee; 137th St, n s, 300 ft e of Willis Av, 150x200 to 138th St, secures 10-year gold bonds.....320,000

COEY, Caroline, George J. Lyons and others, executors, &c., 148th St, s s, 75 ft w of College Av, 3 years.....4,000

COMSTOCK, Ella F., to Anna J. Tallman; 97th St, 169 West, 1 year, 6 per cent.....1,200

DAVID, James, to George Ehret; Morris Av, 542 and 544, s e corner of 149th St, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent.....2,500

DONALDSON, Helen L., and Annie P. Swift to the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States; South Washington Square, 44, 3 years, 4½ per cent.....12,000

EVANS, William, and John H. Buscall to Congregation Rodoph Sholom; 88th St, s s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 1 year.....13,500

FELT, George L., to Simon May; Cliff St, 51, 1 year.....25,000

FLEISCHER, Abraham H., to Lena Spiegel; 6th St, 605 East, 5 years, 6 per cent.....4,500

FOGARTY, Patrick, to Azuba L. B. Jaffray; 131st St, s s, 175 ft e of Amsterdam Av, 3 years.....18,000

GOLDSTEIN, Charles, to William H. Macy, Jr., and others, executors, &c.; Bowery, w s, 135.2 ft n of Broome St, 3 years, 4½ per cent.....19,000

HAMMOND, Eugene H., to Jacob Metzger; 3d, Prospect Av, s e 24.10.6 ft n of Freeman St, due Jan. 1, 1901.....4,000

HERRMANN, George, to Anthony W. Miller; 30th St, s s, 96 ft e of 9th Av, 2 years.....1,000

HIGGINS, Margaret and Patrick, to Nathan L. Ely; 93d St, s s, 333.2 ft w of 3d Av, 5 years.....7,000

JOACHIM, Morris P., to Moritz Koppe; 2d St, 223, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....16,500

JONAS, Leopold, to Anna Shay; 156th St, s s, 28 ft e of Cauldwell Av, 5 years, 4½ per cent.....5,000

KAUFMANN, Leopold, to the United Hebrew Charities of the City of New York; St. Mark's Place, 58, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....17,000

KAUFMANN, Leopold, to Jonas Weil and Bernhard Mayer; St. Mark's Place, 58, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....25,000

KEILUS, Henry, to American Mortgage Company; 29th St, 235 East, 3 years.....20,000

KERN, Henry, to Josephine K. Jones and others, trustees; 44th St, n s, 70 ft e of 2d Av, 1 year, 4 per cent.....5,000

KESSLER, Leonora, to Rosa Strauss; Houston St, 402 East, and 293 2d St, 1 year, 6 per cent.....1,000

KOPP, Samuel, to Union Trust Company; 2d Av, 1,636, 5 years, 4 per cent..

LIPPMANN, David, to Simon Weil and another, executors, &c.; 104th St, n s, 88 ft e of Waverley Place, 3 years, 4 per cent.....7,000

LOWENFELD, Pincus, and William Prager to American Mortgage Company; 48th St, s s, 219.4 ft w of 2d Av, 3 years.....8,000

McCAFFREY, Christopher, to Bertha Kessler, guardian, &c.; Bradhurst Av, 51, 3 years.....8,000

McDOWELL, Charles, to Franklin Savings Bank; 9th Av, 703, 5 years, 4 per cent.....21,000

McDOWELL, Charles, to Elsie Powell; 9th Av, 703, 2 years, 6 per cent.....2,800

McMAHON, John, to John Campion; Division St, 277, 1 year.....3,000

MELCHERS, John, to the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; Madison Av, s e s, 50.6 ft n of 109th St, 1 year, 4 per cent.....5,000

MONK, George, and William Gillies to Isidore Jackson and another; 9th Av, n e corner of 54th St, 1 year, 6 per cent.....45,000

NILES, Isabel W., to Bowery Savings Bank; Mosholu Parkway North, e s, 205.1 ft n of Bainbridge Av, runs n 743.7x n e — to Woodlawn Road x s 735.6 to avenue x s w 138.5x irregular to Niles St x s 23.5x s w 124.5 to beginning; 206th St, n e corner of Woodlawn Road; also Woodlawn Road, s e corner of 206th St, 5 years, 4½ per cent..40,000

PHYFE, Harry E., to Bridget Cleary; Dey St, 38, 1 year.....2,000

PORR, William and Mary E., to Kathryn F. Britt; 2d St, 65 East, 1 year, 6 per cent.....500

REDFIELD, William H., to American Mortgage Company; West End Av, 169 to 173, 1 year, 3 mortgages, 6 per cent., each.....2,000

REDFIELD, William H., to the City Mortgage Company; West End Av, w s, 25.5 ft s of 68th St, 1 year, 6 per cent..29,500

REDFIELD, William H., to William Hogenkamp; West End Av, w s, 25.5 ft s of 68th St, 1 year, 6 per cent.....28,000

REDFIELD, William H., to American Mortgage Company; West End Av, 173, 3 years.....17,000

REDFIELD, William H., to American Mortgage Company; West End Av, 171, 3 years.....17,000

REDFIELD, William H., to American Mortgage Company; West End Av, 169, 3 years.....17,000

ROSCH, Barbara, to John O'Leary; Stebbins Av, n w s, 547.10 ft n e of 167th St, 3 years.....450

ROTHSCHILD, Martin, and wife and others to Mary J. Smith; Delancey St, 292, 5 years.....18,000

RYDER, Clarence D., to Caroline Edgar; Fulton St, s e corner of Dutch St; also Dutch St, 16 and 18, ½ part, due May 1, 1902, 1 per cent.....1,000

SCHATTMAN, Jacob, to William and Louis M. Ebling; executors, &c.; 100th St, n s, 100 ft w of 1st Av, 1 year.....51,300

SULLIVAN, Lydia M., to John W. Sterling; 35th St, 56 and 58 West, 1 year, 4½ per cent.....40,000

WEINBERG, Abraham, and another to Emma Weinberg; 127th St, s s, 177.8 ft w of 3d Av, 3 years, 6 per cent.....5,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

BOURNE, Frederick G., and others, executors, &c., to Elizabeth S. Clark, guardian, &c.....Nom.

DAVISON, Emma M., to Victoria Duffy..$3,000

DOUGLAS, Mary S., to E. P. Wheeler, trustee.....Nom.

DOWD, Michael J., to August Kohl.....2,000

HIMMELMANN, Henry A., trustee, to Maria E. Herrick.....13,232

Mechanics' Liens.

BROADWAY, n e corner of 107th St, 81.2x100; Cassidy & Son Manufacturing Company against Joseph A. Stoll, owner and contractor.....$1,921

CENTRAL PARK WEST, s w corner of 92d St, 100x125; William Williams & Co. against Michael H. Gillespie, owner and contractor; John J. Roberts and others, contractors.....2,950

MANHATTAN AV, 517 and 519; Bower Decorating and Painting Company against Mary E. O'Farrell, owner and contractor.....246

6TH AV, s e corner of 9th St, 43.7x77; George Cail & Co. against Johanna Baumann, owner; Edward Smith & Co., contractors.....3,500

154TH ST, s e corner of Melrose Av, 20.8x 100; Schnatz & Massoth against John J. O'Brien, owner and contractor.....696

Lis Pendens.

BOULEVARD LAFAYETTE, e s, at centre line of 160th St, runs s e 116 ft to w s of 12th Av x s w 151.6 to Boulevard x n 191.1 to beginning; also St. Nicholas Av, e s, 50 ft s of 153d St, 25x100; Edgecombe Av, w s, 229.10 ft n of 145th St, 159.10x100; West End Av, w s, 98.5 ft s of 71st St, 16x82.10, and King's Bridge Road, e s, 106.8 ft e of 164th St, 42.8x97.4x 39.11x112.3; American Mortgage Company against Jacob D. Butler and others, (five actions, foreclosing five mortgages;) attorneys, Bowers & Sands.

MINNEFORD AV, w s, adjoining land of William H. Burnap, 100x200 to Main St, City Island; Main St, w s, Lots 648 to 651, map of property of Elizabeth R. B. King, City Island, 100x100; Fordham Av, e s, part of Lot 127, map of Village of Morrisania, 39.6x121; Fordham Av, s e corner of 8th St, runs e 222x s w 120x s w 50x n w 109.2x n e 50x n w 209 to avenue x n 89 to beginning; 6th St, s w s, 124 ft s e of Fordham Av, runs s w 58x s e 74.8 to Fulton Av x s w 74x n w 196x n e 133 to beginning; Fulton St, n s, 147.11 ft w of Park Av, 36.6x100; William and Louis F. Zeltner against Caroline Zeltner and others, (partition;) attorneys, Forster & Speir.

THOMPSON ST, 76 and 78; William A. Queripel against Henry Queripel and others, (partition;) attorney, E. Delafield Smith.

14TH ST, 304 East; Edward Randolph against Philip and Eva Boyer, (action to declare lien, &c.;) attorneys, Bowers & Sands.

218T ST, s w s, 350 ft s e of 8th Av, 25x91.11; also Westchester Railroad St, n e s, 135 ft n w of Tinton Av, 100x84; Elizabeth Rintelen against William Rintelen and others, (partition;) attorney, H. A. Bolte.

51ST ST, s s, 80 ft w of 8th Av, 40x100.5; the Washington Trust Company against Catharine Taylor and others, (two actions, foreclosing two mortgages;) attorney, W. M. Powell.

54TH ST, 408 East; Abraham N. Jacob against Abraham Cahn and another, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, E. Bittiner.

125TH ST, n e corner of Boulevard, 75x99.11; Henry J. Braker against Fred T. Nesbit and others, (foreclosure of mortgage;) attorney, W. C. Arnold.

FEDERAL COURTS.

United States Supreme Court.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Supreme Court of the United States:

507—Samuel B. Downes, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. George R. Bidwell.—Leave granted to file an additional brief on motion of F. R. Coudert, Jr., for the plaintiff in error.

456—Elias S. A. De Lima et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. George R. Bidwell; 507—Samuel B. Downes, &c., plaintiff in error, vs. George R. Bidwell; 502—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the United States; 502—Henry W. Dooley et al., plaintiffs in error, vs. the United States, and 509—Carlos Armstrong, appellant, vs. United States.—Arguments continued by Solicitor General Richards and Attorney General Griggs for the defendants in error and appellee.

Call for Friday: 456 (and 507,) 501, 502 (and 509,) 514, 515, 139, 45, 142, 143, and 144.

Calendars for Friday, Jan. 11.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Wallace, Lacombe, and Shipman, JJ.—Calendar called in Room 124, Post Office Building, by Lacombe, J., at 11 A. M. Day calendar. (Jury.)

204—Realmato vs. Fisk.
135—Sidney vs. St. Michael's P. E. Church.
154½—Clark vs. Bayley Dumping Boat Co.
160—Reattie vs. Edge Moor Bridge Works.
167—Rothbard vs. Met. St. Ry. Co.
165—Krauss vs. 3d Av. R. R. Co.
166—Richardson vs. O'Hara.
169—Donato vs. 3d Av. R. R.
173—McClarly vs. Mut. Reserve Fund Life Association.
55—Markey vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
71—Crawford vs. same.
86—Ryan vs. same.
112—Simpson vs. same.
122—Reilly vs. same.
133—Davis vs. same.
141½—Ut. vs. Walsh.
171—Wheeler vs. N. Y., N. H. & H. R. R. Co.
172—Ferguson vs. same.
281—Hess vs. Blen & Co.

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT—Lacombe, J.—Opens at 11 A. M. in Room 124, Post Office Building. Motion calendar. Adjourned cases.

1—Reisenstein vs. Koopman.
2—Goldsmith vs. Mut. Reserve Fund Life Association.
3—Schofield vs. Klein.
4—Brady vs. Bay State Gas Co.
5—Rowers vs. N. Y. Dredging Co.
6—Bonsall vs. T. J. Hamilton Mfg. Co.
7—Barton vs. Crocker.
8—U. S. vs. Vaupel.
9—Lockley vs. Siegel-Cooper Co.
10—A. B. Dick Co. vs. McKelmun.
11—Weiner Machine Co. vs. Steele.
Cases notice l.
12—Carpenter vs. Anglo-Am. Sav. & L. Association.
13—Nat. Comput. Scale Co. vs. Moneyweight Scale Co.
14—Wright Steam Engine Co. vs. Warren Mfg. Co.
15—Hirsch vs. Rothschild.
16—Hutter vs. Bottle Stopper Co.
17—Reinhard vs. S. C. Royal Arcanum.
18—Fayerweather vs. Ilitch.

STATE COURTS.

Court of Appeals.

To-day's calendar: 867, 868, 869, 870, 873, 877, 878, 885.

Decisions.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Term.—Truax, P. J.; Scott and Dugro, JJ.—Carney vs. Metropolitan Street Railway Company. Clark vs. Levine, Rudolph vs. Corrigan, Nicoll vs. Lloyd, McClave vs. McAinsh.—Judgments reversed and new trials ordered with costs.

Jermyn vs. Schweppenhauser—Judgment affirmed with costa on the opinion of the Court below.

Benson vs. Gutterman—Motion denied with costs.

Jaeger vs. Koenig—Leave to appeal to the Appellate Division.

Glegerich and O'Gorman, JJ.—Bloomingdale vs. National Butchers and Drovers' Bank, Lyons vs. Third Avenue Railroad Company, Lang vs. Berkowitz, Sinnott vs. Benollel, Jaskey vs. Consolidated Gas Company, Greenberg vs. American Technical Book Company, Craven vs. Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company.—Judgments affirmed with costs.

Minsker vs. Bendiel, Frazer vs. Born, Sullivan vs. Heliman, White vs. Heilman, Townsend vs. Handlaar.—Judgments reversed and new trials ordered with costs.

Levene vs. Hahner, Koster vs. Koedding.—Referred to February Appellate Term.

New York Calendars—This Day.

SUPREME COURT—Appellate Division—Van Brunt, P. J.; Rumsey, Patterson, O'Brien, and McLaughlin, JJ.—Opens at 1 P. M. Motions.

1—People, &c., vs. Welssman.
2—Same vs. Schlesinger.
3—Norwood vs. Mayor, &c.
4—Murphy vs. Keller.
5—Abendroth & Root Mfg. Co. vs. Feitner.
6—In re Doherty.
7—In re Burns.
8—In re White.
9—In re Goetting.
10—In re Schwarz.
11—In re De Lancey.
12—In re Rosenwald.
13—In re Keane.
14—In re Gleason.
15—In re Starrett.
16—In re Livingston.
17—In re White.
18—In re Miller.
19—In re Schierenbeck.
20—In re Carle.
21—In re Sackett.
22—In re Lansien.
23—In re Potter.
24—In re Jaquez.
25—In re Rume.
26—In re Filtner.
27—In re Mead.
28—In re Hirsch.
30—Barber vs. Lane.
31—Reiners vs. Dunn.
32—Ludington vs. Seaman.
33—Deering vs. Schreyer.
34—Baxter vs. Lancaster.
35—In re Elias.
36—Dunham vs. Hastings Pavement Co.
37—Smith vs. Coe.
38—Bauer v

STOLE HIS SISTER'S TROSSEAU.

Brothers of the Bride and the Bridegroom-to-Be Held for Larceny.

It is not often that a man can be found who can bring himself to stealing his sister's wedding trosseau, but such is the case of Albert Rogers, twenty years old, of 1,369 Fifth Avenue, who was arraigned yesterday in the Harlem Police Court. Arraigned with him was Percy Siegel, nineteen years old, of 11 West One Hundred and Twelfth Street, whose brother John is to marry the sister of young Rogers.

The victim of this singular theft is Miss Tillie Rogers, twenty-three years old, who lives with her brother and her mother, Mrs. Mary Schlessinger. Mother and daughter were in court, and testified that Rogers was wayward. When Percy Siegel, a kindred spirit, came to the house to visit him on Wednesday Mrs. Schlessinger ordered him away. Then, according to Mrs. Schlessinger, the young men conspired to rob the bride-to-be.

They waited until Miss Rogers and her mother departed on a shopping expedition, and then entered the house and took the trosseau, which cost more than $500. They also took many wedding presents. They pawned a pair of opera glasses and took the remainder of the goods to a saloon at One Hundred and Seventeenth Street and Third Avenue. When the mother and daughter discovered the robbery, they notified the police. Detectives found and arrested Rogers and Siegel in a poolroom in One Hundred and Fifteenth Street. The prisoners had nothing to say in court, and were held in $1,000 bail each for examination.

COLORED BRETHREN BARRED.

Admission to Council of the Federation of Churches Refused.

The Rev. R. A. Motley, pastor of Salem Afro-American Baptist Church, Jersey City, yesterday denounced the Federation of Churches for refusing to admit colored ministers to their council. Mr. Motley said he had attended a meeting of the council on Wednesday night, and was denied recognition. He said that when he asked the reason the Rev. Dr. Charles Herr, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, said it was because there was an objection on the part of white people to receiving calls from colored people.

"I have been a minister for twenty-four years," said Mr. Motley, "and have frequently been called on to pray at the bedside of white persons who were dying, in all that time I never heard of any objections to my ministrations, and I can see no reason why the colored people should not be considered in any work intended to evangelize Jersey City."

Dr. Herr confirmed Mr. Motley's statement as to his remarks in reply to that gentleman at the council. He said the colored ministers and churches could not be admitted to the Federation without giving them some sort of social recognition, and thought that if the colored ministers wished to participate in the evangelization of the city they should work independently in their own field.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER DEAD.

Mrs. Parks Did Not Long Survive Demise of Mrs. Meade.

Mrs. Benjamin C. Meade died Sunday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Josephine Parks, at 183 Hart Street, Brooklyn, and on Wednesday Mrs. Parks died. The latter had been ill for some time, but her death is attributed to grief over the loss of her mother. Mrs. Meade was eighty years old, and lived in Greenwich, Conn. It was customary for her to spend the holidays with her daughter every year. She paid the usual visit, and during the holidays was taken ill with a cold, which developed into pneumonia and resulted in her death.

When Mrs. Parks heard of her mother's death she became greatly affected. The body of Mrs. Meade was taken to Greenwich on Wednesday for burial. Mrs. Parks's husband and her seventeen-year-old daughter accompanied it. When husband and daughter returned at night they found that Mrs. Parks was dead. The funeral will take place to-day, and the burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery. Mrs. Parks was forty-nine years old.

MRS. WINTERS BOASTED OF BEAUS

Witnesses in Will Contest Testify that Aged Woman Was Irrational.

The contest over the will of Anne Marie Winters, aged seventy-six years, who left her estate, amounting to over $2,000,000, to her third husband, young Bryan L. Winters, was resumed before Justice Bischoff and a jury in the Supreme Court yesterday morning. As on Wednesday, Mrs. Winters's seven nieces, who are trying to break the will, were in the courtroom.

Mrs. Stella B. C. Elliott of Mount Vernon, who was on the stand when the court adjourned the day before, was recalled, and identified a number of letters which she had written to the deceased before the latter's third marriage, and in which she advised her to contract no marriage with a Mr. Greenleaf, whom she recommended as a lovable man. Mrs. Elliott testified that the two had become engaged, and that the engagement lasted for fourteen days. Former Surrogate Ransom tried to have the witness admit that during the year 1892 the deceased had acted in an irrational manner. His questions were overruled.

Mrs. Addie Kennedy of 243 East One Hundred and Twelfth Street, a cousin of Mrs. Winters, testified that on a visit to the home of Mrs. Winters, who at that time was Mrs. Hunt, she appeared despondent and said she had nothing to live for, though a few moments later she brightened up and said she had many admirers. Mrs. Kennedy and another witness, Mrs. Kate M. Odell, both testified to belief that Mrs. Winters was irrational. Mrs. Odell still was on the stand when court was adjourned until to-day.

No Elevator for Morningside Park.

The Park Commissioners yesterday denied the application of a number of wealthy residents of Morningside Heights for permission to build an elevator in Morningside Park, between One Hundred and Sixteenth and One Hundred and Seventeenth Streets, the board considering that the proposed structure would mar the beauty of the scenery in that part of the park. Some time ago residents of Morningside Heights formed a company to construct an elevator, subject to the approval of the Park Commission. The heights at the point mentioned are very steep, and the summit can only be reached by a stiff climb up winding stone stairs and inclined pathways.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE LAWYERS' TITLE INSURANCE COMPANY
OF NEW YORK,
37 and 39 Liberty Street, 44 1-2 and 46 Maiden Lane.

Issues the strongest policy because it is a Lawyers' company and can secure the best examination of the titles it insures.

The proof of this is to be found in the amount of its losses, which for thirteen years aggregate only $24,346.37

$1,000 LOAN WANTED; GOOD SECURITY, AND $100 bonus paid. Address Loan, J. 205 Times.

Brooklyn Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

PUTNAM AV., BETWEEN RALPH AND Patchen Avs.—2-story and basement frame dwelling; excellent neighborhood; all improvements; only $3,500; small amount down, balance, payments to suit. KETCHAM BROS., 1,565 Broadway, Halsey "L" Station.

ONE LEFT.—2-FAMILY HOUSE, 2 STORY and basement, cellar; all improvements; 12 rooms and bath; price, $4,000; cash, $500, balance $30 quarterly; asphalt street. 1,249 Sterling Place; open; investigate.

Mortgage Loans.
New York and Brooklyn.
DEADY & CO., 7 COURT ST., BKLYN.
FALLENBURGH, 1,488 Gates Av., Brooklyn.

City Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$8,000 EQUITY AND $16,000

mortgage will buy a four family improved Tenement; you can buy this House on the Installment plan by paying down $500 cash and $500 every six months until your house is paid for; you can do all of this out of the rents you collect; the house will pay for itself; it is situated near 59th St. "L" station, west side; this is an opportunity that is not offered every day to buy a house on these conditions. For further particulars call on GEO. W. CAMPBELL, 122 West 103d St., between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

All previous quotations on my new houses, Nos. 39, 41, and 43 East 49th St., are hereby withdrawn. Corrected prices for the completed houses and any further particulars can be had on application to the owner, Charles Buek, No. 109 West 42d St.

THOMAS P. PAYNE, 96 BROADWAY, HAS many parcels, large and small, of the finest city and country Properties for sale and exchange. Flats, Tenements, Business Property, Lots, private Dwellings, all sizes and all sections; suburban Houses and Farms; cash buyers for bargains; bargains for cash buyers; money on mortgage at lowest rates. Call or write.

$22,500.00 EACH WILL BUY TWO 5-STORY apartments; good location; rent over $2,400.00 each; only $5,000.00 cash needed, balance on mortgage 5%; bargain to quick buyer. HALL J. HOW & CO., 234 West 116th Street.

A.—BRONX BARGAINS—TWO-STORY BRICK, 134th St., near Willis Av.; $5,000; another $6,000; $6,500; brick corner, 25 foot, near 165th St. and Boston Av., $8,000. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

BROKERS TAKE NOTICE.—Lots 25x100, on Westchester Av., near Prospect Av., to exchange for 2 or 3-story frame house. RIEHL, 2,809 3d Av.

NEW HOUSE FOR SALE, 2½-STORY, 9 rooms, bath, improvements; Perry Av., north of Bedford Park. Apply HALPIN, on premises, or Pelham Av., Fordham.

LOTS: BRONX BARGAINS; TREMONT, Woodycrest, Aqueduct Avs., Fordham Road; cheap Woodlawn corner. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

A.—$12,000—BIG BARGAIN—BROWN STONE, near Madison Av. and 125th St.; 18 feet wide; want offer. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th St.

BARGAIN.—Handsome private dwelling, East 50th St., near 2d Av.; little cash needed. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

NO. 108 GRAND STREET.—Rent, $9,000; price, $100,000; mortgage, $65,000; elevators. GURNEE & HOPKINS, No. 134 West 23d.

Builders and agents take notice.—For sale, 207, 209, and 209½ Wooster St. SENFTNER & SENFTNER, 258 Broadway.

FOR SALE—12-room residence on most desirable part of St. Nicholas Av.; all improvements. C. B. A., Box 150 Times.

PLOT OF LOTS MUST BE SOLD; WILL double in value in year; bargain. ATWATER, 156 Broadway.

A.—$6,500 BUYS NICE BROWN-STONE, NEAR 2d Av., Harlem. G. A. BRIEL, 81 East 125th.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$17 A LOT.

Adjoining Lakewood, N. J., the famous Winter resort; we offer plots containing 5 lots for $85; small weekly payments. Special trip to property Sunday, Jan. 13. R. HALLEY & CO., 2 East 125th St.

$18 BUYS 2½ ACRES.
$35 BUYS 5 ACRES.
Almost given away, to close estate at once; installments 50 cents weekly. APPLEBY, 10 Wall.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE

piece of business Property, leased to one tenant who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; will trade for Lots on west side of city. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE

large, fine Apartment Houses to trade for free and clear Lots on west side. Send full particulars of what you have to offer to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$26,000 EQUITY IN CORNER

Plot, situated near the West Shore Ferry. What can you offer in trade for same? Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 EQUITY IN FINE

Flat House, situated near 104th st. "L" station, west side. Will trade for Country Seat. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$125,000 EQUITY IN A GILT

edge Apartment House on Broadway; will trade for free and clear Lots or sell for cash. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE

Store Property, near 28th st. and 6th av.; will trade for private House and cash. For full particulars address Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE

flat House; will trade for free and clear private House; send full particulars Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

For Exchange.—Elegant private house fully furnished; all modern improvements; main line of Long Island, about one hour from City Hall, New York; also about 70 desirable lots in New Jersey, 20 miles from New York; both free and clear; will exchange for New York west side flat not very heavily mortgaged. Address Owner, Box 185 Times.

HAVE 3 GOOD PAYING INCOME PROPERties, Manhattan and Brooklyn; will trade for Long Island farm only; my equity is $15,000. Write all particulars, brokers invited, OWNER, Box V116 New York Times.

EXCHANGES NEGOTIATED; COMPLETE list desirable properties, city, suburban, country; principals submit particulars. GEORGE PURVIS, 156 Broadway.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

3D AV, NEAR 14TH ST., FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

DESK ROOM, WITH GOOD WINDOW SPACE IF DESIRED; PRIVATE OFFICE; IN LARGE REAL ESTATE OFFICE; $5 TO $15.
HALL & SON,
2,103 7TH AV.

CORNER STORE, 1 7TH AV., CORNER 11TH St.; rent reasonable. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES
TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

40TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

TO LET—DESIRABLE OFFICE; EVERY MODern improvement; $25. Inquire room 701, 290 Broadway, Dun Building, Manhattan.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IS YOUR PROPERTY THREATENED WITH foreclosure? Do you wish to sell it, or any other property quickly? City or country. No agents, owners only. Address "PURCHASER," Box 144 Times Office.

SMALL LONG ISLAND COUNTRY PLACE wanted in exchange for modern brownstone Brooklyn dwelling; equity, $3,500. OWNER, 254 East 15th St., Brooklyn.

Tenements or flats wanted to lease; singly or rows; any neighborhood. STEVENSON, 327 East 52d St.

Real Estate at Auction.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

HERBERT A. SHERMAN, Auct'r.
WILL SELL AT AUCTION.
THURSDAY, FEB. 14, 1901,
At 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, 111 Broadway.
ABSOLUTE SALE WITHOUT RESERVE.
FOR PARTITION.
Estate of JOEL WOLFE, Deceased.

No. 305 Fifth Avenue.

28.9 feet north of 31st Street; 4-story, basement and cellar brownstone store building, with one-story extension; 2-story stable on rear of lot. Lot 28x150 feet, together with right of way over alley to 31st Street.

No. 121 West Houston St.

Near Sullivan Street, 4-story building with one-story extension; lot 25x95 feet.

No. 124 West Houston St.

Near Sullivan Street, 6-story building and lot 25x100 feet.

Village of Wakefield.

In the Borough of Bronx, 11th and 12th Aves., near 3d St.
SIX LOTS.

Staten Island.

Richmond County, Farm at Princess Bay, Town of Westfield, about Eighty-one Acres.

All titles guaranteed by Title Guarantee and Trust Company, free of charge to purchaser.

Sixty per cent. of the purchase price may remain on bond and mortgage, for three years, at 4%, or seventy per cent. at 4½%.

SHEARMAN & STERLING, 44 Wall St., Attorneys.

EDWARD W. SHELDON, No. 45 Wall Street.
GEORGE E. GARTLAND, 11 Wall Street.
A. E. ACKERMAN, 140 Nassau Street.

For Maps and further particulars apply to SHEARMAN & STERLING, Attys., 44 Wall St., or HERBERT A. SHERMAN, Auctioneer, 9 Pine Street.

Louis Mesier, Auctioneer.
TRUSTEE'S SALE.
ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON
will sell at auction on
TUESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1901,
at 12 o'clock noon, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway,
the three-story high-stoop Brownstone Dwelling,
NO. 127 EAST 47TH ST.,
near Lexington Av.,
and
the four-story high-stoop Brownstone Dwelling
NO. 415 WEST 57TH ST.,
near 9th Av.
Maps, &c., at office of Auctioneer, 24 Pine St.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SPLENDID HOME IN NEW ROCHELLE.—Fine stable; house in improvements; lot 75x325. Easy terms, $7,500. Apply to CHAS. H. NOXON, lawyer, 21 Park Row, 25th floor. Tel. 3681 Cortlandt.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ALL COUNTRY REAL ESTATE A SPECIALTY; bargains and exchanges, all directions. PHILLIPS & WELLS, Tribune Building.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE GRANADA,
95th St., Southeast Corner of Lexington Av.
6, 7, 8, 9 rooms and bath;
elevator, steam heat, hall service, telephone, electric light, gas ranges; modern plumbing; hardwood cabinet trim throughout.
OPEN FOR INSPECTION DAY AND NIGHT.
LIONEL FROEHLICH'S SON,
1,149 Lexington Av.

KENMARE.
Rents: $1,300 and upward
S. W. COR. 93D. ST. AND CENTRAL PARK WEST; 7 and 8 extra large rooms and bath; elevator, telephone, electric light fixtures. The finish and decorations of these apartments should be seen to be appreciated. AGENT ALWAYS ON PREMISES TO SHOW THE APARTMENTS.
SLAWSON & HOBBS, Agents.
284 Columbus Av., near 72d St.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.
112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

$20—118TH ST., 12 WEST—$20.
5 and 6 large rooms, steam; hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D.)

$36—103D ST., 85 WEST—$36.
6 rooms and bath, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful steam-heated single flats; 7 large, light rooms and bath, $32.

$50—150TH ST., 507-509 WEST—$50.
9 rooms and bath; heat, hot water; choice.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ELEGANT CORNER FLAT, 6 ROOMS, $19; Ralph and Putnam Av.; 593 Park Place, near Franklin, $14; 62 Bleecker St., 5 rooms, bath, $11. See janitor.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-$18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 92d St.

21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-$21, at 2 East 119th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c., $15 to $23.

HOFFMAN ARMS,
Madison Av. and 59th St., near Park Plaza. Unfurnished 8 and 9 room sunny housekeeping apartments; special rates; restaurant and superior service to apartments.

A 7-ROOM FLAT, $20; LARGEST, CHEAPEST, lightest flats in Harlem; extra wide; bath; improvements; hardwood finish; good service; one month free. Janitor, 2,593 8th Av., near 138th St.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
234 West 122d Street, elegant apartments; 8 rooms, newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

10TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

97th St., 155 West.—Elegantly decorated flats, 5 rooms and bath, hot water, steam heat. Janitor.

104th St., 214 West.—Elegantly decorated 7 large light rooms and bath, near L; $30, $25. Janitor.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV. —3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Brooklyn.

HICKS ST., 363.—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEDFORD'S
2000 lbs. THE STANDARD TON
YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 386—18
436 W. 41ST ST., Tel. 594—38
223 W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 166 Col.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY, Tel. 125 River

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD
36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq.
Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons guaranteed.

Excursions.

COOK'S WINTER TRIPS
Including Hotels and All Expenses.
Washington....Jan. 17..... 3 days..... $12
Bermuda.....Jan. 16..... 8 days..... $62
Florida.....Jan. 18.....14 days..... $65
Havana.....Jan. 19.....11 days..... $90
Descriptive Programmes free on application.
INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.
THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00. Do you desire a share of this money? Here is your opportunity: I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet Company articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

A contractor, with established business and a varied experience of more than thirty years, desires to interest capital in the formation of a construction company or special partnership for the purpose of doing large contracts for the U. S. Government and municipal work. Address P., (mark personal,) Room 5, 315 Madison Av. N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 invested in a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually; will secure $15 per week salary to annitious party; larger amounts in like proportion; no scheme, no discretionary pools; safe; will bear investigation. Call Automatic Pic. Company, 88 Wall St.

Best-paying old-established boarding stable in Harlem; long lease; reasonable rent; 65 boarders; will stand strictest investigation; is a bargain to cash buyer; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

Established express, van, and storage business, including equity in building; will sell at bargain to any one who is not afraid to invest; no agents. Address BARGAIN, Branch Times Office, 2,263 7th Av.

A well-established ladies' hairdressing and manicuring establishment, with first-class trade, must sell, account of another establishment; will sell either one; if inexperienced will be taught hairdressing. 1,024 Lexington Av.

MONEY MAKER.—Merchants' Anti-Stepladder; an indispensable commodity for stores; nickelplated; weight, 1½ pounds; monopolies offered. FLYNN, 73 Warren St., New York.

Be your own boss. Make your own fortune. Others have done it, so can you. Send stamp to Buckeye Novelty Co., B., Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for particulars, &c.

I PAY Cash for any store stocks, fixtures. THOS. TITCHENER, 289 Smith St., Brooklyn.

CASH ADVANCED TO MANUFACTURERS and merchants on their outstanding accounts. MARTIN J. WEIL, 453 Broome St.

ADVICE FREE. Patents promptly procured. Inventors' Guide free. EDGAR TATE COMPANY, Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.
CLOTHING for Ladies, Men and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.
PROGRESSIVE
CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO.,
7 W. 14th St., Bet. 5th & 6th Aves. Open Evenings.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

SPECIAL! CUT THIS OUT!
I have an order for 50 TONS OF OLD METAL and PAPER; if you have any to sell, no matter how large or small a quantity, send me a postal card and I will call promptly. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

15 CENTS A POUND paid for old pewter, britannia, and plated ware; 5 pounds or 5,000 pounds bought; call or send postal. I will call. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickenderfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

AT EBLE'S ART GALLERY, 105 WEST 42D St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW,) $46; REMODELED Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 148 East 58th St.

GOODYEAR'S RUBBER GOODS, MACKINtoshes, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers, &c., at lowest prices. Call, 105 West 125th St.

INDIAN PIPES, NAVAJO BLANKETS, OLD Arms, Brass, Copper, Pewter, Curios. J. H. MAYHEW, 340 West 42d St.

AT 344 6TH AV. AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1573 Cortlandt.

DO YOU KNOW! I CAN MAKE YOUR FURNITURE look like new? E. STRAUSS, 1,788 Madison Av.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 263 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 81 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 30 West 125th St.

MUSIC BOXES, 84 TEETH, $24; 15 TUNES free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

PRIZE ANGORA CATS AT A SACRIFICE; must sell at once. JONES, 230 West 99th St.

Watches and Jewelry.

CREDIT, DIAMONDS, WATCHES, OIL PAINTings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 37 Maiden Lane.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Watches, diamonds, jewelry, $1 weekly; delivered immediately; goods guaranteed. National Diamond and Watch Co., 177 Broadway.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

HARRIS'S WINE AND LIQUOR WAREHOUSE, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

L. KUEHN, DELICATESSEN, WINES, LIQuors, bottled beer, 2,176 8th Av., near 118th St. Prompt attention all orders.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 116th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BOUGHT, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDed into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 39th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

L. PASTER, 42 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments altered and repaired, a specialty; lowest rates.

Detective Agencies.

BAYERS'S INTERNATIONAL DETECTIVE Agency, former detective Police Department, licensed and bonded, 320 Broadway, Rooms 717-718; telephone 1631 Franklin; all civil and criminal cases attended to by expert detectives; male and female.

Pianos and Organs.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WEBER PIANO WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

We offer this week the following used pianos, in first-class condition, that will do far better service and give far better satisfaction than new instruments of inferior makers:

One Weber Upright $240
One Weber Upright 290
One Chickering Upright 225
One Kranich & Bach Upright.... 190
One Wheelock Upright 160
One Wheelock Upright 140
One McCammon Upright 125

Careful buyers will find it worth their while to examine these bargains. Cash or installments. New pianos to rent and rent applied if purchased.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

WISSNER PIANOS
Used by Eminent Artists.
BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.
Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.
$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS
109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.
For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS
The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents $4 up.
MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE,
A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.
741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS. ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

WINTERROTH PIANOS. CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 94 5th Av.

LIMITED NUMBER OF NEW UPRIGHT pianos; reliable makes; rare chance. Inquire crockery store, 1,047 Broadway, Brooklyn.

LARGE ASSORTMENT SLIGHTLY USED UPrights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week, extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

STEINWAY; EVERY IMPROVEMENT; BEAUtifully carved; great sacrifice; Elegant Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

$3.00 TO $5.00 PER MONTH RENT. PIANOS with mandolin attachment. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

WILL SELL MY EXPENSIVE UPRIGHT piano, couple months old, for $125. 72 Lexington Av., near 26th St.

$200 New piano stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

Auction Sales.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SLAUGHTER SALE OF HOLIDAY BOOKS
Closing out entire stock of rich standard books at 148 Fulton Street, near Broadway. Auction sale begins every day, excepting Sundays, at 12 o'clock, evenings at 6, and will be continued until entire stock is sold. Among other choice works are samples and remainders of the publications of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Appleton & Co., Harper & Brothers, Dodd, Mead & Co., and other leading book houses. A few slightly damaged sets of Huxley, Darwin, Tyndall, and Spencer. Visitors invited. Sale positive. 148 Fulton Street, New York.

BY VIRTUE OF A CHATTEL MORTGAGE, Samuel K. Ellenbogen, auctioneer, sells to-day, at 10:30 A. M., mirrors, front and back bars, with marble tops; stools, shelving, tables, chairs, gas fixtures, gas range, crockery, silverware, linoleum, coffee urns, cash register, &c., at 2,235 Third Av., Borough of Manhattan, by order of Charles Comisky, attorney for mortgagee.

Horses, Carriages, &c.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

I WILL SACRIFICE YOUNG, SOUND, stylish cob, been ridden and driven by lady, winner of six prizes; also, quarter value, Brewster Victoria and Brougham, (rubber tired,) Stivers runabout, family surrey, (seats 4,) imported harness, saddles, bridles, 2 hear robes. Private stables, 65 Madison Av., between 27th and 28th Sts.

AT BARGAINS.—BREWSTER RUBBER-TIRED brougham, Bally pneumatic speeding wagon, handsome family surrey, rubber-tired runabout, elegant harness. Private stable, 169 West 16th St.

Dentistry.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH OF CONTINUOUS GUM Highly Improved.—These teeth represent the highest art in dentistry. They restore form and expression to the face. The gums and roof of mouth, without seam or crevice, (all one piece, porcelain on platinum,) are a perfect reproduction of nature, even in color. Dr. DEANE, Dentist, 454 Lexington Av., cor. 45th St., received highest award Columbian Exposition.

Storage.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT MORGAN & BROTHER'S
STORAGE WAREHOUSE,
232, 234 & 236 WEST 47TH ST.,
near Broadway, separate rooms for furniture, pianos, baggage, &c. PADDED VANS FOR REMOVAL OF FURNITURE, &c. Boxing, shipping promptly attended to; estimates furnished. Telephone, 113—38th.

UNIVERSAL STORAGE WAREHOUSE COMpany, 202

HEARN

West Fourteenth Street.

FRIDAY, AS USUAL, BARGAIN DAY

with SPECIALS for

The Great White Sale

To ATTRACT——to SATISFY——to TALK ABOUT

SOLID VALUES in GOODS OF MERIT.

FRUIT OF LOOM MUSLINS

Mill lengths—1 to 10 yards—regular price 8½ cents per yard.... 4¾
ALSO IN MUSLINS.
Wamsutta Gold Medal—value 12½.... 8¾
Yard wide Unbleached—value 6½.... 4¾

Bleached Sheetings—
Five quarter—regularly 11½..... 9½
Seven quarter—regularly 18..... .13
Ten quarter—regularly 22..... .18½

Unbleached Sheetings—
Six quarter—regularly 15..... .10½
Seven quarter—regularly 16..... .11½
Nine quarter—regularly 21..... .14½

No mail orders filled.

MADE UP SHEETS

Strong, reliable Muslins—
Torn, not cut—will wash and iron straight
54x90..... .25 72x90..... .34
63x90..... .29 81x90..... .38
90x90..... .42
No mail orders filled.

PILLOW CASES

Good, strong quality—
42x36..... 6½ 50x36..... 9
45x36..... 7½ 54x36..... .10
No mail orders filled.

LADIES' UNDERWEAR

From the largest and finest stock in all New York we offer these incomparable values for Friday.....Goods of fine quality, excellent shapes, full sizes and new styles at lower prices than are elsewhere asked for inferior grades.

1,000 Nainsook, Cambric and Muslin Night Dresses—full empire front of Emby. insertings and Pernleaf lace or val. edge ruffles and insertings—BETTER than elsewhere at .98.... .67
Other Night Dresses—BETTER than elsewhere at .49..... .39
1,000 pair Fine Muslin Drawers—extra fine emb'y ruffle or lace—BETTER than elsewhere at .59..... .39
Other Drawers—Hemstitched ruffles—BETTER than elsewhere at .24.... .18
500 full-size White Skirts—flounce entirely made of tucks and lace insertings—elsewhere $1.39..... .95
Magnificent Skirts, with 20-inch flounce of tucks and deep fancy open-work emb'y—BETTER than elsewhere at $2.75... 1.69
Fine Fancy Corset Covers—low neck—French styles—emb'y or lace—some with entire fronts of lace insertings—BETTER than elsewhere at .50..... .39
Cambric Corset Covers—perfect fit—Tasteful trimmings—elsewhere .25.. .18
Fine Muslin Chemises—deep yoke of open-work emb'y or ⅞ insertings—BETTER than elsewhere at .50..... .39

TOWEL SPECIALS

Momie Linen Towels—hemmed and fringed—16x32—were 12½..... 9
18x35—were 15 ..... .12½
21x39—were 19 ..... .14
All Linen Damask Towels—knot fringe—19x38—were 15..... .12

JNO. S. BROWN'S DINNER SETS

2½ yard Cloth—
with dozen napkins—were 8.98..... 5.98
—were 11.98..... 7.98
3 yard Cloth—
with dozen napkins—were 11.98..... 10.98
—were 18.98..... 12.98
All Linen Double Damask Napkins—⅞ size—were 3.29 dozen..... 2.48

LONSDALE CAMBRICS

Yard wide—less than case price.... 7½
No mail orders filled.

GREAT VALUES IN UPHOLSTERY

Fancy Silkolines—36 inch—over a hundred styles and colorings—value 15 cents..... 9¾
Decorative Denimettes—High Class designs—Reversible—value .15 9¾
Imported Tapestries—High art effects—plain and tinselled—value 1.25..... .59
Plush Brocade Tapestries—value $3. .98
Ruffled Sash Muslins—lace inserting and edge—value .25..... .19
Irish Point Sash Laces—value .98... .59
Ruffled Muslin Curtains—were .85.. .59
Ruffled Fig'd Muslin—were 1.19.... .89
Ruffled Net—two inch lace edge and inserting—were 2.49..... 1.49
Two-toned Armure Tapestry Curtains—Heavy fringe—all colors—were 4.98.. 2.98
Corduroy Rib Portieres—panel borders—15 combinations—Heavy rope edge—value 6.98..... 4.98
Rich Brocade and Frou Frou Portieres—high-class effects—were 9.98..... 5.98
Velvet figured Velour Curtains—rose, crimson, olive, myrtle, brown and terra cotta—were 8.98..... 5.98

BED COVERINGS

Silkoline Comfortables—Best White Cotton filled..... .85
11-4 Gray Wool Blankets—extra heavy—regularly 2.75..... 1.98
11-4 White Wool Blankets—extra heavy—regularly 3.69..... 2.79
Full size White Crochet Bed Spreads .39

FLANNEL SPECIALS

Cream Saxony—strictly all wool—20 inch—value .69..... .44
All Wool Dress and Waist Flannels—plaids and plain colors..... .28
Yard wide Cardinal Elderdowns—value 35 cents..... .29
Yard wide Bleached Domets—good value at 14 cents..... 9¾

WASH DRESS FABRICS

Heavy Napped Flannels—were 8¾.... 5¾
Pink Kimona Flannels—were 12½.... 5¾
Yard wide Percales—were 9..... 5
Double Width Cashmerettes—were 18. 9¾
Duck Suitings—dress lengths—were 12½..... 5¾
Fancy Batistes and Lawns—were 12½. 4¾
Fancy Blue Dress Cambrics—were 8.. 3¾

SPECIALS IN LACES

Heavy Laces—White and Butter Colors—2 to 4 inch—insertings to match .12½
Point de Paris, Cluny, Point Arab, Point Venice, Mechlin and Chantilly Laces—White and Butter Color—4 to 7 inches wide..... .25
All over Nets—Venice, Chantilly, Point de Paris, Valenciennes, Cluny and Mercerized..... .98

DRESS SUIT CASES

Two Splendid "Friday" Values!
Ladies' Light Weight—Russet and Olive—steel locks and catches—brass plated..... .98
Solid Sole Leather Suit Cases—quilted satin lining—22 and 24 inch—specially strong—value $9.00.....5.98

PHOTOGRAPHIC SUPPLIES

closing out the Stock!
PRICES JUST HALF THE REGULAR

LADIES' CAPES AND JACKETS

Entire Stock at Great Reductions.
Cloth Jackets and Box Coats, were 5.98 to 18.98....Now 2.98 to 9.98
Plush and Velour Jackets, were 19.98 to 69.98....Now 11.98 to 39.98
Plush and Velour Capes, were 5.98 to 34.98....Now 2.98 to 23.98
Cloth Capes, were 4.98 to 24.98....Now 2.98 to 14.98

LADIES' WAISTS AND SKIRTS

Black Silk Skirts—were 5.98.....3.98
Black Satin Skirts—were 11.98.....7.98
Flannel Waists—were .98..... .69
Flannel Waists—were 1.98..... .95
Flannel Waists—were 3.98.....2.69
Silk Waists—were 4.49.....2.89
Silk Waists—were 6.98.....4.98

BOYS' CLOTHING SPECIALS

Double Breast Suits—were 2.98.....1.98
Overcoats—4 to 14 yrs.—were 4.98...2.9.
Knee Trousers—4 to 15 yrs.—were 60 cents ..... .49
Long Trousers—14 to 19 yrs.—were 2.98 .....1.98
Outing Flannel Waists—were .29.... .19
All Wool Flannel—were .69..... .49
Percale Shirts—laun'd—were .49..... .19
Stiff Bosom Shirts—were .49..... .29
Puff Down Polo Caps—were .69..... .49
Double Band Golf Caps—were .29.... .19
Derbies and Alpines—were 1.49..... .98

MISSES' DEPARTMENT

Reefers—Fancy collars—were 3.98....1.98
Reefers—Novelty styles—were 5.98...2.98
Box Coats—12 to 18 yrs.—were 12.98..6.98
Jackets—14 to 18 yrs.—were 4.98.....2.98
Long Coats—6 to 12 yrs.—were 6.98...3.98
Wool Dresses—6 to 14 yrs.—were 1.98 1.2
Finer Qualities—Equally Reduced.

SPECIALS IN BABIES' WEAR

	Value.	Special.
Cashmere Shirts	.39	.19
Daisy Flannel Sacques.....	.25	.17
Knit Sacques	.69	.49
Domet Flannel Kimonas....	.39	.29
Knit Bands, with straps...	.39	.29
Quilted Silk Bibs.....	.39	.29
Bootees, Mitts and Veils...	.29	.19
Hand Knit Leggin Drawers—with and without feet.....		.98
Nainsook Slips—fancy trim.	.39	.24
Babies' Cambric Short Dresses—tucked yoke with emb'y....	.39	.24
Fine Cambric—tucked and fancy trim'd yokes.....	.49	.34

GREAT CORSET BARGAINS

1,000 pair White and Drab—styles to suit all figures—all sizes, 18 to 30—were .59 to 1.00.. .29
Black Sateen and Extra fine Coutille—Dr. Warner's "Seconds"—straight fronts—22 to 36—were 1.00.. .59

SPECIALS IN LADIES' PETTICOATS

Mercerized Sateen—1, 2 or 3 corded ruffles—warm lining—value 1.19.... .89
French Sateen—deep knife pleating—ruche finish and other styles—value 1.59 ..... 1.19
Umbrella flounce—ruche finish or accordion pleating—hemmed ruffle finish—lined or unlined—value 2.49.. 1.98

HOSIERY SPECIALS

Ladies' Fast Black Cotton..... 7
Richelieu Rib Lisle—fast black.... .19
Children's Fast Black Cotton—double knees—value .17..... .12½
Boys' Heavy Cotton—double knees. .19

SILK SPECIALS

Col'd Taffetas—all silk—27 inch—light and dark—were .59..... .39
Col'd Satin Brocades—value .49..... .29
Fig'd Crepes—fancy shades..... .19
Black Brocaded Silks—were .50..... .39
Black Taffetas—27 inch—were .75..... .59
Fancy Satin Stripe Taffetas—light and dark colors—were .69..... .49
Black Satin Duchesse—24 inch—were .79..... .59

DRESS GOODS

Friday Sale of Remnants.
Black and Colored. All Qualities.
HALF PRICE AND LESS.
ALSO
40 cent Cashmeres—all colors..... .29
60 cent All Wool Zibelines..... .39
75 cent Fancy Stripe Suitings..... .49
85 cent All Wool Homespuns..... .59
1.19 All Wool Venetians..... .89
75 cent Cheviots—Black and Navy—all wool and shrunken—50 inch..... .49

CREPE PAPER LAMP SHADES

All Colors—
regular prices 1.25 and 1.50..... .69

GREAT SALE OF WATCHES

Gold, Gold-filled, Silver, Gun Metal, Nickel, and Enamel—
At following Reductions:—
were 18.98.....now.....12.98
were 14.98.....now..... 8.98
were 10.98.....now..... 6.98
were 8.98.....now..... 4.98
were 5.98.....now..... 3.29
were 4.98.....now..... 2.49

Every week, from day to day, we look around to find those things that have not sold as rapidly as we would wish....Such, while new and still in fashion, we reduce to price that never fails to sell....Friday is the day reduction first is made—oft-times in an hour, so low the price, we sell as many of a lot of goods as have been sold in days before.

ABOVE ANNOUNCEMENT
Made by Us Many Years Ago
Has Since Been Strictly Observed.
SUCCESS OF THE DAY IS DUE TO
Faithful Fulfilment of Promises.
The Best Efforts of Some
WHO CLAIM ORIGINALITY
Are in Pretending
To Follow Us and Our Methods.
ABOVE OFFERINGS
Are Realities, Not Pretences.

Some Folks Have No Shame!

Why is a ball the emblem of progress? Because most things go forward backwards—move in circles.

Once tricot was all the fashion, then got out of fashion, now, it is getting in fashion. People tiring of rough cloths, or smooth cloths that take a shine, have accepted the really beautiful tricot.

The tricot we use is extra beautiful; it is cut into cutaway suits, a suit above all others for the man who wears a Sunday suit.

$25.

Are you lucky enough to have narrow feet?

200 pair of narrow width $5 and $6 shoes have had their price narrowed down to $3.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
568 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1260 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

Registered Trade Mark

Annual Sale.

One of the special lots Table Linen, offered at our January Sale, consists of 1,000 Cloths,

and

200 doz. Napkins,

of heavy Irish double damask, in a good variety of patterns. Magnificent linens for service and fresh, desirable goods in every way.

Cloths.

2 x 2 yards, $2.50; formerly $3.50.
2 x 2½ yards, 3.25; formerly 4.25.
2 x 3 yards, 3.75; formerly 5.00.
2 x 3½ yards, 4.50; formerly 6.00.
2 x 4 yards, 5.00; formerly 7.00.
2½ x 2½ yards, 4.50; formerly 5.50.

Napkins.

Dinner size, per doz., $3.50; formerly $4.50.

Also a good assortment of Bed Linen, Towels and Blankets.

Booklet about these goods mailed free.

"The Linen Store."

James McCutcheon & Co.

14 West 23d Street.

Black Silks.

New weaves for spring, 1901.

Peau de Cygne,
Peau de Soie,
Paillette de Soie, Louisine,
Liberty Duchesse, Poplins,
Armure, Merveilleux,
Satin Cyrano.

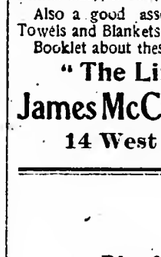
3,000 yards of Black Taffetas Silk,—27 inches wide,

75c. per yard.
Value $1.25.

James McCreery & Co.,
Twenty-third Street.

Kennedy 12 Cortlandt St.

MORE SHIRTS AT A LOSS.



35c., worth 1.00.

It's a profitable loss. We get rid of broken sizes and odd lots and clear our stock for next season's business.

Colored Madras Shirts (cross stripes) 49c.
Scotch Madras (vertical stripes) . 98c.
White Dress Shirts .. . 68c., 95c., 1.49

Birds Canary singer, $2.00; extra singer, $2.50 and $3.00, each warranted; St. Andreasberg Canary, with soft bell and water notes, $5.00; the Holden Canary, with fancy notes and echo songs, $10, $12, $15, $20. All kinds singing, whistling, talking birds. Best quality; low prices. Birds sent by express everywhere, safe. Cages all latest styles. Holden's Book on Birds, new, all about food, care, singing, with full price list birds and cages, by mail, 25 cts., stamps.

Piping Bullfinches; one and two songs.

G. H. Holden, 240 6th Av., near 15th St.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Sale of Silk Gazes.

Fine sheer Fabrics for Reception, Evening or Ball Gowns.

White, black or colored grounds,—with exquisite embroidered or printed designs.

Mousseline or Grenadine weaves,

75 cents, $1.00 and $1.25 per yard;

Formerly $2.50 to $4.00.

Ladies' Silk Hosiery.

Pure Thread Silk Stockings.

Open-work, lace weaves, and embroidered designs.

A very extensive variety of colors, and black and white.

$1.75 per pair;

Value $3.75 to $10.00.

Cotton Dress Goods.

RECENT IMPORTATION OF SPRING FABRICS, including varieties of new MOUSSELINE and printed PLUMETIS.

IRISH DIMITIES, delicate colors and novel designs,

25 cents per yard.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.

JAMES McCREERY & CO.

The Penetrating Cold

of the Atlantic Coast is particularly trying. Wool is no protection against it.

KOTEDSILK

being a double fabric, pure silk on the finest cotton, affords perfect protection. It is warm, light, unshrinkable, and easily washed.

See the word KOTEDSILK TRADE MARK REGISTERED on every garment.

All Leading Stores, and KOTEDSILK UNDERWEAR CO., Millbury, Mass., or 70-72 Franklin Street, N. Y.

Buy a

Sparklet Bottle

and buy one to-day. At a cost of 2½ cents a pint you can make any sparkling drink for yourself—water, wine, tea, milk. It gives all the sparkle of life.

Buy a Sparklet bottle at your druggist's or grocer's, or at our store, 1127 Broadway. Buy one anywhere, but buy one.

The New York Times Saturday Review.

Newsdealers always sell out their supplies early. To be sure of a copy

ORDER TO-DAY.

FOUR GOLD MEDALS
Awarded at Paris Exposition for Milk, Cream and Butter produced at
The Briarcliff Farms.
Quality the best. Service excellent.
NEW YORK STORES:
573 Madison Ave., 58th St.
290 Amsterdam Ave., 74th St.
2061 Seventh Ave., 123d St.

O'Neill's.

Special Values To-day in

Women's Muslin Underwear

CAMBRIC GOWNS—Empire and V shape, trimmed with Torchon lace inserting, neck and sleeves trimmed with Torchon edge.

CAMBRIC DRAWERS, trimmed with Maltese lace, inserting and ruffle, and

MUSLIN SKIRTS, with deep lawn flounces, trimmed with two rows o Torchon inserting and lace edge, all at 59c each

Sixth Avenue, 20th to 21st Street.

Yours for $15.

Many of our new style $30, $28, $25 & $22 Overcoats (silk lined coats included) are yours for $15.00.

And new $28, $25, $22 & $20 Suits, are also yours for $15.00. Sizes in plenty.

Buyer after buyer is attracted to our stores by these great values.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.

3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.

Every line in our suits is a line of beauty.

All goods throughout our store marked down from 20 to 25 per cent. This gives a rare opportunity to customers not wishing to take advantage of our Remnant Sale. Suits formerly $16 to $40 now at $14. Coat and vest, formerly $12 to $30, now $10.50. Trousers, formerly $5 to $10, now $4. Overcoats, long, loose, velvet collars, cuffs, slashed pockets, satin lined throughout, $20.

No risk dealing with us. Your money will obtain double value here. Money back if you think otherwise.

ARNHEIM,

BROADWAY & 9TH STREET.

Amusements.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE
GRAND OPERA SEASON 1900—1901
Under the direction of Mr. Maurice Grau.
TO-NIGHT at 8—LA BOHEME. (In Italian.) Mmes. Melba and Fritzi Scheff; MM. Saleza, Gilibert, Journet, and Campanari. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Aft., Jan. 12, at 2—FAUST. (In French.) Mmes. Melba, Bauermeister, Bridewell; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszke, and Scotti. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Sat. Ev'g, Jan. 12, at 8—At Popular prices, TANNHAUSER. (In German.) Mmes. Ternina, Olitzka, and Susan Strong; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
Sun. Ev'g., Jan. 13, at 8:15—Grand Popular Concert. Soloists: Mmes. Susan Strong, Suzanne Adams, and Schumann-Heink; MM. Imbart de la Tour, Blass, and Scotti. Entire Opera Orchestra. Conductor, Mr. Flon.
Mon. Ev'g, Jan. 14, at 8—MEFISTOFELE. (In Italian.) Mmes. Marguerite Macintyre and Louise Homer; MM. Cremonini and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Wed. Ev'g, Jan. 16, at 8—Revival of LE CID. (In French.) Mmes. Lucienne Breval and Melba; MM. Jean and Ed. de Reszké, Sizes, and Plancon. Conductor, Mancinelli.
Fri. Ev'g, Jan. 18, at 7:45—DIE WALKURE. (In German.) Mmes. Ternina, Schumann-Heink, and Nordica; MM. Van Dyck, Blass, and Bertram. Conductor, Damrosch.
WEBER PIANOS USED.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
FRIDAY, January 11, at 2 P. M.
SATURDAY, January 12, at 8:15 P. M.
Program:
"A Faust Overture".....Wagner
Concerto for Violin (first movement)...Beethoven
MISS MAUD POWELL.
First appearance in New York this season.
Symphony, No. 3, F major.....Brahms
Fantasie de Concert, B minor (new)...Rimsky-Korsakoff
MISS MAUD POWELL.
Overture, "Le Carnaval Romain".....Berlioz
Tickets now on sale at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Ruffman's. Seats, 75c. to $2; boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

MENDELSSOHN HALL
Saturday Afternoon, January 12th, at 3.
FOURTH PIANO RECITAL.
GABRILOWITSCH
Tickets $1.00 and $1.50. On sale at Schuberth's. EVERETT PIANO USED.

CARNEGIE HALL

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Wilhelm Gericke, Conductor.

Thurs. Evg., Jan. 17, HUGO BECKER
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, COURTLANDT PALMER

Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

MAUD POWELL
WILL PLAY
BEETHOVEN'S Violin Concerto (Allegro movement.) and RIMSKY-KORSAKOFF'S Fantasy for violin on RUSSIAN THEMES, at the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY'S Public Rehearsal, January 11th, at 2 P. M., and Concert, January 12th, at 8:15 P.M., Carnegie Hall, 7th Av. and 57th St.

Amusements.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
FRIDAY, January 11, at 2 P. M.
SATURDAY, January 12, at 8:15 P. M.
Program:
"A Faust Overture".....Wagner
Concerto for Violin (first movement)...Beethoven
MISS MAUD POWELL.
First appearance in New York this season.
Symphony, No. 3, F major.....Brahms
Fantasie de Concert, B minor (new)...Rimsky-Korsakoff
MISS MAUD POWELL.
Overture, "Le Carnaval Romain".....Berlioz
Tickets now on sale at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Ruffman's. Seats, 75c. to $2; boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

MENDELSSOHN HALL
Saturday Afternoon, January 12th, at 3.
FOURTH PIANO RECITAL.
GABRILOWITSCH
Tickets $1.00 and $1.50. On sale at Schuberth's. EVERETT PIANO USED.

CARNEGIE HALL

BOSTON SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA
Wilhelm Gericke, Conductor.

Thurs. Evg., Jan. 17, HUGO BECKER
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, COURTLANDT PALMER

Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. Now on sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

MAUD POWELL
WILL PLAY
BEETHOVEN'S Violin Concerto (Allegro movement.) and RIMSKY-KORSAKOFF'S Fantasy for violin on RUSSIAN THEMES, at the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY'S Public Rehearsal, January 11th, at 2 P. M., and Concert, January 12th, at 8:15 P.M., Carnegie Hall, 7th Av. and 57th St.

TOSELLI

The Eminent Young Italian Pianist.
CARNEGIE HALL.
Tuesday Afternoon, January 15
Tickets now on sale at Schuberth's.
THE KNABE USED

Amusements.

BIJOU. B'way, 30th. Mat. Sat. MAY IRWIN
LAST 2 days, MADGE SMITH.
This entire list of songs will be sung Saturday night: "Troubles of My Own," Miss May Irwin, "Ain't Going to Work No More," Miss May Irwin; "When I'se by Her Side," Miss May Irwin; "My Little Jungle Queen," Miss May Irwin; "Everything is Lovely and the Goose Hangs High," Miss May Irwin; "I've Laid Him on the Shelf," Miss May Irwin; "Give Me Back My Liza," Miss May Irwin; "Out! Out! Mamoiselle," Mr. Martinetti; "The Turkey and the Turk," Mr. Sparks; "I'm Going to Marry Angeline," Company; "Why Don't the Band Play?" Company.
Tues., Jan. 15, Amelia Bingham presents her Company. Seats now selling in THE CLIMBERS.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. Ev. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. Quo Vadis With Willton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault, Bijou Fernandez.
Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2. Ev. 8.

CASINO B'way & 39th St. Ev., 8:15. Mat. Sat. FLORODORA

Koster & Bial's West 34th St. La Loie Fuller & 20 others. MATINEE DAILY. Sunday Mat. & Eve. Concerts, 1:45-7:45.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evs. 8:15. Mats. Wed. & Sat. THE BURGOMASTER.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs., 8:20. Matinées, 2:15.
MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY.
Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENCE.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. "A distinct success."—Telegram. Mats. Wednesday and Saturday. To-night, 8:20. HERBERT KELCEY EFFIE SHANNON MY LADY DAINTY

CHARLES FROHMAN'S JOHN HARE CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St. Last 2 Nights—Last Mat. Sat. THE GAY LORD QUEX. Monday, Next—Julia Marlowe. "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs at 8:15. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES WEDNESDAY & SATURDAY. WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Mad. Av. Mr. E. S. Willard Evgs. this & next week. TOM PINCH. Sat. Mat.—DAVID GARRICK. Mats. NEXT WEEK—The Professor's Love Story.

DALY'S B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. "A credit to Daly's."—Press. "So good a play sure to last."—Times. Lady Huntworth's Experiment. By R. C. Carton, Author Lord & Lady Algy. First DAMROSCH-WAGNER LECTURE JAN. 18

LYCEUM 4th Av. & 23d.....At 8:30 Daniel Frohman....Manager Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15 ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY.

Proctor's Continuous Performance. 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
23d St. 5th Ave. 58th St. 125th St. {"The Fingers, John Kernell, Newsky Trouno, Al Lesch and 3 Rosebuds, etc. FOUR COHANS, Papinta, Marcel's Living statuary & Bas-Reliefs, etc. Mlle. Delbosq, J. W. Albaugh Jr. & Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Grapewin & Chance, MARIE WAINWRIGHT, Staley & Birbeck, 3 Mascagnos, Johnnie Carroll.

Symphony Concert
FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
FRANK DAMROSCH.....Director
SATURDAY AFT., Jan. 12, Carnegie Hall.
Prelude to "Hansel and Gretel." Humperdinck; "Siegfried" Idyl, Wagner; "Nutcracker" Suite, Tschaikowsky.
MISS KATHERINE HEYMAN, SOLOIST.
Tickets at office of Society, 388 Fifth Ave. (36th Street.)

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
Opening Saturday Night, Jan. 12th.
SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF
CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES
Automobiles and Accessories.
50c.....ADMISSION.....50c.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE. Matinées Wed. and Sat. at 2. HERALD—"THE GIRL FROM UP THERE" will carry everything before it." Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with THE GIRL EDNA MAY. FROM UP THERE. Evenings at 8 sharp.

EDEN MUSEE WORLD IN WAX. New Groups. CINEMATOGRAPH Last Week of "HUMPTY DUMPTY"

HAMMERSTEIN'S VICTORIA Evs. 8:30. Adm. 50c. 42d St., B'way & 7th Av. Matinée Saturday. NOTHING BUT SUCCESS. DRESSLER and Comedians. MISS PRINNT. Opera Bouffe.

KNICKERBOCKER. Broadway & 38th St. —ADA— Evs. at 8:25 Mat. Sat. 2:20. REHAN "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."

THE DEWEY MATINEE TO-DAY. VICTORIA BURLESQUERS. NEW LIVING PICTURES. E. 14th st. This Sunday Night—Grand Concert, 25c., 50c.

WALLACK'S Evs. at 8:30. Matinées Wed. & Saturday, 2:15. MARY MANNERING —IN— JANICE MEREDITH

Theatre Evs., 8:15. REPUBLIC 42d St., ½ west of B'way. Mats. Wed. & Sat. 2:15. VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

BROADWAY JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS Theatre, 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Sat. Mat., 2:15. In Klein & Francis's A ROYAL ROGUE.

KEITH'S KATHERINE BLOODGOOD, TSCHERNOFF'S DOGS, JAMES THORNTON, FIELDS & WARD, GRANT & NORTON.

14th St. reet Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat. MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT In His New Play, ARIETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. FIDDLE-DEE-DEE and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE. CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av. EVERY AFTERNOON AT 3:30 O'CLOCK.

GRAND Opera House. MANN—LIPMAN Next w'k, Ward & Allon Account of Eliza. Vokes.

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evs., 8:15. 25c., 35c., 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. QUO VADIS.

Harlem Op. House Peter F. Dailey in Hodge, Podge & Co. Evs. 8:15 Mat. Sat. Nxt wk, Mr. JOHN HARE, "The Gay Lord Quex."

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—ARISTOCRACY.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Eve. at 8:15. Every Ev. & Sat. Mat. DIE STRANGEN HERREN The Roving Paras.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

The New York Times.

THE WEATHER. Clearing following snow or rain; wind northerly.

COPYRIGHT, 1901, BY THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

VOL. L...NO. 15,917. NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1901.—FOURTEEN PAGES. ONE CENT In Greater New York, Jersey City, and Newark. / Elsewhere. / TWO CENTS.

VENEZUELA IS STUBBORN

Situation in the Asphalt Trust Affair Becomes More Serious.

Minister Loomis Informed that Venezuela Does Not Recognize United States's Right to Interfere.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Venezuelan situation has again become serious, and rather more so than before.

A dispatch has been received from Minister Loomis announcing that, in spite of the remonstrance of the State Department, the Venezuelan Government intends to carry out its purposes. Venezuela has informed Minister Loomis that she does not recognize the right of the American Government to interfere in her affairs. Minister Loomis has been directed to address a strong protest to the Venezuelan Government.

In view of the gravity of the situation, it is remarkable that so little is known of what is going on. None of Minister Loomis's dispatches have been made public, and only the gist of a few of them.

It is not known exactly what was the threatened attack on the property of the Asphalt Trust which was warded off by Mr. Loomis. That there was an actual display of force at or near the lakes claimed by the trust was intimated some days ago, but whether it was made by the trust's employes or by the Government is not known. It is known that the trust armed a force of men and threw up some earthworks or other rude fortifications, and that soon afterward the Venezuelan Government announced its intention of crushing what it considered a rebellion. About this time Mr. Loomis advised the State Department that there was trouble at the lakes, and in a later dispatch announced that the trouble had been "thwarted." Meantime he had been directed to protest against any Governmental action against the property of the trust, and had done so. Since then nothing definite has been received from Venezuela, until the answer of the Government to the United States protest was received to-day, and followed by orders to Mr. Loomis to make a stronger protest. It is evident that neither Government is willing to recede.

Another peculiar feature of the affair is the voyage of the trust's attorney, H. W. Bean, on the warship Hartford. The commander of the vessel was ordered by the Navy Department to convey Mr. Bean from the scene of the trouble. Mr. Bean then appeared in Washington, and began the work of laying the trust's side of the case before the State Department. Inquiries were made about the assistance which Mr. Bean had received from the Government, and the Navy Department announced that the order to the Hartford had been sent at the request of the State Department.

The State Department made an investigation of the case, which lasted three days, and was only concluded to-day. It now appears that the statement made at the Navy Department was correct, and that the reason given for Mr. Bean's transportation was that he carried important documents. No further explanation of the documents is given, and it is to be assumed that, as Mr. Bean was at the State Department a great deal last week, he must have submitted them then, if they were really so important that he had to call in the services of the navy to get away from Venezuela with them.

It has been ascertained that Minister Loomis was not the representative of the State Department who made the request, but it is not stated who did make it, nor why it took so long to find out who made it.

PREACHER CAPTURES INTRUDER

The Rev. Jacob Loch Makes Charge of Attempted Larceny Against Roland Price.

The Rev. Jacob Loch, pastor of the German Evangelical Lutheran Church, on Schermerhorn Street, Brooklyn, appeared in the Adams Street Court, that borough, yesterday as complainant against an alleged thief whom he had captured in the hallway of his residence, 59 Schermerhorn Street, on Thursday evening. The prisoner described himself as Roland Price, and said that he lived in a lodging house on lower Fulton Street, Brooklyn. He was charged with attempting to steal a rug from the pastor's residence, and was held for the Court of Special Sessions.

The Rev. Mr. Loch was entering his house early on Thursday evening, when he was confronted in the hallway by two shabbily dressed men. One of the men bolted past the minister and ran off down the street. The other man, Price, who is alleged to have had one of the pastor's rugs under his arm, attempted to follow his companion, but Mr. Loch, who is well built and muscular, grabbed him by the collar and held on to him. Price tried to get away from the preacher, but he was no match for the muscular parson and his struggles were vain. Mr. Loch took his man into the church and turned him over to the janitor, while he summoned a policeman. Price was locked up in the Adams Street Station.

It is claimed that Price and the other man called at Mr. Loch's residence, Price explaining to the minister's servant that he had brought his friend around to have him sign the pledge. The two sat down in the parlor saying they would await the clergyman's return. They were leaving with the rug, as alleged, when Mr. Loch returned and caught one of them.

James Moses Wins $100,000 Suit.

TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 11.—A decision rendered by the Court of Chancery to-day holds that James Moses, a pottery manufacturer of this city, who resides mostly at the Plaza Hotel in New York, is entitled to retain $100,000 received from the sale of 2,500 shares of the common stock of the Trenton Light and Power Company, which was one of the big transactions in which former Mayor Frank A. Magowan was interested as promoter. The suit was to compel Moses to turn over the stock he received at the time of the deal.

TO-DAY,

FOURTEEN PAGES

WITH

REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

INDEX TO DEPARTMENTS.

Stocks firmer. Financial Affairs.—Pages 10 and 11.
Wheat, No. 2 red, 81⅛c; corn, No. 2 mixed, 47¼c; oats, No. 2 mixed, 31¼; cotton, middling, 10¼c; iron, Northern, No. 1 foundry, $16; butter, Western creamery, 22½@23c. Commercial World.—Page 12.
Amusements.—Page 6.
Arrivals at Hotels and Out-of-Town Buyers.—Page 3.
Business Troubles.—Page 12.
Court Calendars.—Page 12.
Legal Notes.—Page 14.
Maglne Intelligence and Foreign Mails.—Page 3.
New Corporations.—Page 12.
Railroads.—Page 8.
Railroads.—Page 9.
Real Estate.—Page 12.
Religious.—Page 8.
Society.—Page 7.
United Service.—Page 5.
Weather Report.—Page 3.
Yesterday's Fires.—Page 3.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

SANTO DOMINGO'S DEBTS.

The Republic Repudiates Contract with the New York Company—C. W. Wells Makes a Statement.

SANTO DOMINGO, Republic of Santo Domingo, Jan. 11.—In consequence of the protest of the Belgian bondholders against the contract with the Santo Domingo Improvement Company of New York, the Government has issued a decree disavowing the improvement company and ordering dues to be collected for treasury needs.

The Government has also appointed a commission of Consuls and merchants to supervise financial affairs until a final settlement is arrived at. The steps taken have caused satisfaction among the inhabitants.

Congress is considering a demand of the Government for the credit required for a final settlement with the improvement company.

As announced in a dispatch from Santo Domingo, under date of Nov. 1 last, the Belgian Consul there, M. P. Aybar, was in receipt of another cable message from the Belgian Minister of Foreign Affairs, M. P. de Favereau, to the effect that holders of bonds of Santo Domingo to the amount of £2,013,300 had then signed the protest against the contract whereby the Santo Dimingo Improvement Company of New York undertook the readjustment and liquidation of the debt of the Republic and an improvement generally of the country's financial affairs.

Charles W. Wells and Willard Brown, lawyers, at 71 Broadway, New York City, were the prime movers in the organization of the improvement company. The organization was effected in 1892, with Smith M. Weed as President. After more than a year of negotiation the company made arrangements in April, 1900, to fund the debt of the Republic.

Mr. Wells said last night that he did not believe that the company had been repudiated. Under the contract, he affirmed the only way for the Government of Santo Domingo to get rid of the company was to pay it what it owed it.

"There is no doubt," he said, "that the people would be glad to get rid of us. It is a case that often happens to a man—that of legally incurring an obligation and then wishing he were free from it. Eight years ago, when the annual revenues of the country amounted to $1,200,000 in silver. Now they amount to $2,500,000 in gold. The difference is due solely to the honest and businesslike administration of the customs duties which we have introduced. Through this, however, we have incurred the enmity of many influential persons who formerly derived a large profit from the lax enforcement of the revenue laws.

"Our operations commenced with taking charge of the customs collections. Subsequently we built a railroad for the Government, funded the public debt, and established the paper currency of the country, which had previously practically broken down.

"These undertakings were covered by a bond issue, legally secured until the obligations should be met, by our control of the customs. The only condition was that a majority of the stockholders should agree to whatever line of action was pursued. We secured such an agreement last July, and the Government accepted it. Now a self-constituted committee has risen in Antwerp which wishes to get control of the money matters in the country, without the trifling formality of paying off our debt.

NEW IRON AND STEEL COMBINE.

Company Organized in London Will Try to Have Canadian Bounty Law Extended.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—Representatives of the new American Iron and Steel Company, practically formed here recently, as announced in a dispatch last night, will meet at Ottawa for the opening of Parliament, on Feb. 6, with the object of securing, if possible, an extension of the period of the Canadian iron and steel bounty law.

In view of the immense amount of capital invested, Mr. Pew and others hope that the present bounty will be extended an additional five years, or that the Canadian Parliament will enact a protective tariff on iron and steel equivalent to the present American duties.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—The Canadian Steel Company, which has been referred to as a member of the new English-American-Canadian iron and steel combination, is the project of E. M. Butz, a local mechanical engineer, who is its chief engineer.

Mr. Butz and his associates secured 5,000 acres of land on the Welland Canal, in the town of Welland, and organized a company that is to have £18,000,000 capital, part of common and preferred stock, and some bonds. The company is to have three blast furnaces and a complete steel plant of 2,000 tons daily capacity. The company proposes to take advantage of the bounty of $3 a ton on pig iron offered by the Dominion Government, and $3 a ton on all steel made from Canadian ores. In addition to this, the Ontario Government offers an additional bounty of $1 a ton on steel. The company possesses ore lands in Northern Ontario, and it proposes to haul its coal from the Pittsburg district and make its coke in Solvay ovens at the works.

The Lake Superior Power Company now has immense ore deposits, is building blast furnaces at Sault Ste. Marie, where it has large pulp works, and the Carnegie Company is now using four of its lake-ocean vessels to haul steel to England.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES ON IRON

Will Go Into Effect Feb. 1—Manufacturers Not Pleased.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—The new freight rates on iron and steel products will go into effect Feb. 1. The announcement was made to-day. All iron and steel products to which fifth-class rate applied will be scaled to a basis of 25 cents per 100 pounds, Chicago to New York, while the Buffalo-New York rate will be applied from Pittsburg to New York City, making a reduction on the rate east of 5 cents per 100 pounds. The pig iron and steel billet rates will be reduced 50 cents per ton from Pittsburg to New York and Pittsburg to Chicago.

The concession is not considered as a special favor by manufacturers, although it is more than they expected one month ago. A manufacturer says: "Buffalo has been outjoying these rates and Pittsburg forced to pay a higher rate. Pittsburg metal rates are higher to-day than they were eighteen years ago. A car had not one-third the capacity at that time, rails and other commodities are cheaper, but rates on iron and steel manufactures are held up as high as ever."

MASKED THIEVES ROB STORE.

One Covers Boy Clerk with Revolver, While the Other Empties Register.

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 11.—Two masked men, of whom the police have no other description than that one was tall and the other was short, entered the drug store of Dr. A. Rolerfort, at 243 Plane Street, late to-night, and while one of them held a revolver at the head of Charles Spellman, the boy who was temporarily in charge, the other opened the cash register and took from it $13 in cash

When he was ready to go the one who had been holding up the boy searched the lad's pockets and took his watch and chain. Dr. Rolerfort returned a few minutes later, and the alarm was given at once, but the men made their escape.

Pool of Horseshoe Manufacturers.

Special to The New York Times.

PITTSBURG, Jan. 11.—A pool of the horseshoe manufacturers was formed this week, and strong agreements have been entered into, with forfeits posted by each concern to the extent of $5,000 to guarantee prices adopted. The American Steel and Wire Company's new price list quotes iron horseshoes at $3.50 per keg, steel shoes at $3.25, free on board, Pittsburg; freight to delivering points added in making quotations. Purchasers who buy 2,000 kegs or over during the year are entitled to a rebate of 15 cents a keg. The Burden Iron Company of Chester, Penn., is the only large concern outside of the pool.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

Antediluvian Rye. Aristocratic, old and fine.—Adv.

STATE CHARITIES PLAN

Strong Opposition to Single Commissioner Is Brewing.

Fear that the Various Denominations Will Not Be Fairly Treated—Bishop Doane to Protest.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—The bill providing for a single Commissioner to take the place of the present State Board of Charities is now being prepared and will be introduced in the Legislature next week. Of all the recommendations of Gov. Odell looking to a more economical administration of State offices his recommendation for the abolishment of the Board of Charities promises to encounter the most hostility. Up to the present the opposition to this suggested innovation has all been attributed to the opinion of many who have had experience in charitable work that the change was not desirable from the standpoint of the proper management of the State's eleemosynary institutions. But there is a deeper, and what is likely to prove a more troublesome antagonism to the carrying out of the Governor's recommendation. It is a religious opposition.

Under the article of the Constitution creating the Board of Charities provision is made that the board shall handle and disburse money appropriated by counties, cities, towns, and villages for payment to charitable, eleemosynary, correctional, or reformatory institutions, wholly or partly under private control, which may receive and retain thereby a public charge subject to the rules established by the State Board. Many counties, cities, towns, and villages in the State have made such appropriations, and institutions maintained by the various religious organizations have been the beneficiaries of payments from money thus provided.

In order that the institutions of the different denominations might be dealt with fairly in the disbursements of money under the provision which has been outlined, it has been the custom to have the State Board of Charities made up of persons of different religious affiliations. In this way jealousies have been avoided. Gov. Roosevelt is generally credited with having been particularly successful in reconciling religious differences in the dispensation of public charity. The State Board, as constituted by him, contains members of all the leading religious denominations, including Jews and Catholics. As a result, there have been no quarrels recently over the manner of the disbursement of the State's charity funds. Every denomination has been accorded fair treatment, and all have been pleased. At a recent meeting of the New York City St. Vincent De Paul Society, a Catholic organization, charity workers of all the different denominations were present, and mutual admiration was expressed for the work of each other by the different speakers.

The appointment of a single Commissioner, it is feared, will lead to discrimination which will end in a disruption of the existing harmony between sectarian charitable workers. Because of this fear that their denominations might suffer by the proposed change, the different religious organizations are preparing to combat the proposition of Gov. Odell for a single Commissioner of Charities.

Bishop Doane, the Episcopal Bishop of Albany has already expressed his displeasure over the recommendation by the Governor for the abolishment of the existing Board of Charities, and has intimated his intention of calling upon the Governor at an early date and expressing to him his belief in the folly of the proposed change. Leaders in other denominations are also contemplating protests.

MEXICO TO OPEN A NEW MINT.

Government Preparing to Coin Silver at Monterey.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 11.—A dispatch from Monterey, Mexico, says:

"The Government has taken steps toward the estibishment of a branch of the Federal Mint in Monterey for the coinage of silver money.

"A new refinery, to be operated in connection with the smelter of the American Smelting and Refining Company, formerly owned by M. Guggenheim, Sons & Co., situated here, is being constructed. It will have an output of 600,000 ounces of refined silver per month, all of which will be coined at the Government's branch mint to be established here."

TO DESTROY PRAIRIE DOGS.

Kansas Legislator Asks for $10,000 to Exterminate the Pests.

Special to The New York Times.

TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 11.—Prairie dogs are destroying hundreds of thousands of acres of cattle range in Western Kansas, and to-day Representative Cone of Haskell County introduced a bill carrying an appropriation of $10,000, the money to be used in buying poison to exterminate the pests.

Hundreds of prairie dog towns containing thousands of these pests may be seen in every Western county, and prairie dog Wardens are to be appointed to distribute the poison in these towns.

The dogs burrow into the ground and live on the roots of the succulent buffalo grass, the cattlemen's principal feed.

SENATOR CHANDLER'S DEFEAT.

Regret in the Senate Over His Approaching Departure.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—There was some regret among Senators last night and to-day when it became known that Senator Chandler had been defeated for re-election. It has been understood that his chances were impaired, but none of the reports quite convinced his friends in the Senate that Mr. Chandler had lost his hold upon the people of the State. At times wonder has been expressed because Chandler persisted in talking and voting for free-silver coinage, or for bimetallism, as he preferred to call it, but it was assumed that New Hampshire was willing to humor individual opinion in that respect, just as Massachusetts honors Mr. Hoar, in spite of his opposition to the Administration policy in the Philippines. Not until Mr. Chandler became a frequent and aggressive antagonist of railroads and railroad power in politics did anybody here take any concern about his stay in the Senate.

Chandler stands almost alone in the Senate as a promoter of a certain sort of mischievous debate that always arouses interest and seldom causes any prolonged ill-feeling. The same spirit was manifested when he was a member of the Cabinet of President Arthur, from 1881 to 1885. The only man like him on the Democratic side is Tillman of South Carolina, Tillman, however, using tools that are heavier and ruder to cut out his work. Oddly enough, a strong friendship has grown up between the two, and they fought together to reduce the price for armor plate to be supplied to the Government for battleships and cruisers.

To visitors, Mr. Chandler has always been among the first members of the Senate inquired for, and usually the first Northern Senator asked for by visitors from the South. It is not likely that he will be lost to his old associates, for he has a house here, in which he lived before he became a Senator, and he was accustomed to spend the winter months here and his Summers in New Hampshire. He has business interests at the capital.

Florida and Metropolitan Limited via Seaboard Air Line Railway, effective fourteenth instant, leaves from Pennsylvania Railroad Twenty-third Street Station twelve fifty-five P. M. daily and arrives Jacksonville four P. M., St. Augustine five P. M. following day. Drawing-room, compartment and dining cars. Through day coaches. —Adv.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

MAY HAVE BEEN KIDNAPPED.

Westchester Village Excited Over the Disappearance of Matthew Allen, Jr.

Nearly all the residents of the village of Westchester are alarmed over the mysterious disappearance of Matthew Allen, Jr., the sixteen-year-old son of Matthew Allen of West Farms Road and Third Street, Westchester. The boy has been missing since 8 o'clock on the morning of Wednesday last, at which time he started for St. John's College, Fordham.

Mr. Allen last night said he was of the firm opinion that his son had been kidnapped.

"I may be wrong," he said, "and the youngster may have merely gone away for a lark. But that is not his way. I am certain he has been abducted for purposes of extortion and ransom."

Mr. Allen is one of the most prominent trainers of racing horses in this part of the country. He declares there are many persons who know he is well off financially, and who know also the affection he and his wife have for their son.

When the boy left home Wednesday morning he wore the regulation gray-colored uniform prescribed by the Faculty of St. John's College. It consists of cap, coat, and trousers, there being a small band on the cap on which is the name of the institution. He carried a small lunch bag and several books in a strap. He never reached the college on that day.

Not only are the Westchester police searching for the boy, but Mr. Allen's friends and neighbors as well, and a general alarm has been sent to all police stations in New York.

There are two other children in the family, both younger than Matthew, Jr., one a daughter.

The incident has created the most intense excitement in the neighborhood. Young boys and girls are no longer permitted to play in the streets at night.

Two School Children Missing.

The police of the West Forty-seventh Street Station last night sent out a general alarm for Susan Brennan, seven years old, and her sister, Ellen, five years old, both of 446 West Fifty-fifth Street. At the home of the children it was said they left to go to school yesterday morning and have not been seen since. Susan wore a blue dress and Ellen a purple dress. Both children wore red and blue skating caps.

TRAMP IS HEIR TO $75,000.

Is Now an Inmate of the Warren County (N. J.) Jail.

BELVIDERE, N. J., Jan. 11.—After drifting over the world for many years as a tramp, George Gallaway, alias "Church" Gallaway, who is now in the Warren County jail on a charge of vagrancy, has received word that he has fallen heir to an estate of $75,000.

The windfall has come too late, however, as Gallaway is already reaping what he sowed during his years of "seeing the world."

When arrested on his last charge he was sick, and was removed to the Easton Hospital. Later on he was returned to the jail as incurable. His mind, once brilliant, now fails him altogether at times. He lies in a critical condition and may not live many days. On Thursday Sheriff Cole received a letter from Gallaway's uncle, James H. Gallaway, of Bloomfield, N. J., in which he said that George Gallaway had recently fallen heir to a large amount of money, and would come into possession of it pretty soon. He knew the money came from his mother's relatives, and was in real estate, bonds, and mortgages.

The authorities have intended taking Gallaway to the asylum or County Home, but in view of his expected legacy he will be kept here for a time. Some of the man's relatives, who have not seen him for many years, are expected here in a day or two. Gallaway, who during all the years of his wanderings, was an outcast, seems to have had a host of friends in this place all along. But he does not know it. He imagines himself still alone on country roads and on railroad trucks, with Constables and watchdogs camping on his trail. He will probably never know that he might be living in luxury.

JUDGE PAYS JURY'S CAR FARE.

Rather than allow the jury to accept the favor of a private car from the defendant trolley company in a damage suit in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yesterday afternoon, Justice Gaynor went down into his own pocket and paid the fares of the jurymen to the scene of an accident which they wished to view.

The case was that of Alfred Price against the Brooklyn Heights Railroad Company to recover $5,000 for personal injuries received while at work as a conductor for the defendant company. The accident happened at Ninth Avenue and Ninth Street, Price, while standing on the side step of his car collecting fares, was struck by a pole supporting the wires of the company and injured about the head. The pole had fallen toward the car tracks, and hung so that it almost brushed the sides of passing cars.

The jury in the trial of the suit yesterday expressed a desire to visit the scene of the accident that they might the better determine certain points involvd. Justice Gaynor consented, and a representative of the railroad company immediately offered the use of a private car. Justice Gaynor, however, promptly forbade the jurymen accepting any such favor from the defendant in the suit. He told the jurymen they should pay their own fares. This they were indisposed to do. Justice Gaynor called Court Officer Frederick Brink and, handing him $1.30, instructed him to take the jurymen down to the scene of the accident and to pay their fares and his own with the money.

When the jury returned from the trip some time later they retired, and in a short while brought in a verdict for $2,000 for the plaintiff.

CHARGES AGAINST J. W. BAILEY.

Special to The New York Times.

AUSTIN, Texas, Jan. 11.—The House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature adopted, by a viva voce vote, resolutions providing for the appointment of a committee of seven, which is instructed to conduct a thorough investigation into J. W. Bailey's connection with the readmission into the State of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company, the Southern branch of the Standard Oil Company, to do business in Texas, after it had been forever enjoined from re-entering the State by the United States Supreme Court, which tribunal affirmed the decision of the lower courts, that it is guilty of having violated the anti-trust law of this State. There was a lively debate on the resolutions.

Mr. Bailey is a candidate for the United States Senate, and has no opposition. His election occurs on Jan. 22, unless the investigation instituted by the Legislature to-day finds him guilty of the charges that have been made against him, in which event some one may be brought out at the last moment to run against him.

A GYPSY ELOPEMENT.

SUMMIT, N. J., Jan. 11.—Posey Harrison, the seventeen-year-old daughter of Nailor Harrison, the gypsy king, and heiress to the Queenship of the united tribes in the United States, is missing from her father's home, near Madison, and her father believes she went with and was married to her cousin, Morris Harrison. The supposed bridegroom had been the guest of the King, his uncle, for several months.

Posey occupied a room with her sister. This morning, soon after midnight, this sister awoke and missed her. The front door was found to be ajar, and stretching from it was a rug, evidently put down to deaden the sound of her footsteps. Morris Harrison also had disappeared.

Burnett's Vanilla Extract is the best. The grocers know it. Insist on having it. It is for your food. Pure and wholesome. —Adv.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

PANIC IN A BROADWAY CAR

Vehicle Came to a Violent Stop with Disastrous Results.

Crowded with Passengers Who Were Thrown Down, Hurled Against Windows, and Cut by Broken Glass.

All the passengers in a crowded northbound cable car were badly shaken up and a dozen or more cut by flying glass and bruised through an accident at Broadway and Thirty-sixth Street, directly in front of the Marlborough Hotel, at 8 o'clock last evening. Those most seriously injured were:

CROM, J. J., 124 West Fortieth Street, real estate broker; bad bruises.
FARCHIO, PHILIP, 135 Madison Avenue, electrical engineer; cut about face and neck.
FIELDS, H., 124 West Fortieth Street, real estate broker; severe bruises.
LANGLEY, LELAND H., 133 East Thirty-fourth Street; face cut.
PARR, Dr. H. A., 38 West Thirty-fourth Street; both legs cut and bruises on body.
STEVENSON, JOHN R., 221 West Forty-fifth Street; cut about face; may lose left eye.

The car was operated by Gripman John Cronyn, who lives at 1 Goerck Street. It stopped suddenly while going at a high rate of speed. There was a loud crash and most of the passengers were thrown to the floor, although the vehicle was so crowded that many of them were hanging to the straps. The windows at both ends of the car were smashed by persons thrown against them, while many of the side window panes were broken by the shock. The rear of the car was raised from the rails by the sudden stoppage, and when it settled down the hind wheels were off the track.

There was a wild panic in an instant, for none of the terrified passengers knew what would happen next. Several women were pitched from their seats to the floor and the men who had been standing were projected violently forward, trampling upon them. When they emerged the clothing of all the women was torn and crumpled, while most of the men had their hats smashed and coats torn.

The injured people, many of whom refused to give their names, went to a nearby drug store, where their wounds were dressed, after which they left for home. A New York Hospital ambulance was summoned by Policeman Callan of the West Thirtieth Street Police Station, but all the sufferers declined the surgeon's aid.

The point where the accident happened is the northern terminus of the cables which operate the road from the Houston Street power house to this point, and here the ropes pass over a drum to go back down town. It is necessary for the gripman to release the cable and run the car by momentum a distance of several yards before reaching the up-town cables. Gripman Cronyn declared that he had not forgotten this, but that when he tried to disengage the car from the cable he found that the grip mechanism would not work, and the crash came before he could give any warning. None of the passengers making a complaint, he was not arrested.

Traffic was blocked for twenty minutes on the north-bound track, and the cars extending south for many blocks prevented for a time the operation of the Sixth Avenue trolley road, which crosses the Broadway line two blocks further south. Similar accidents have occurred at this point before, and generally have been found to be due to a broken strand in the cable.

MAY FORM AN EXPRESS TRUST.

Railroad Powers Said to be Seeking Absolute Control of the Business.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—The Record to-morrow will say:

Absolute control of the vast interests of the Nation's express companies may fall into the hands of the railroad financial powers. Preliminary steps toward such an object are said to have been taken under the guidance of J. Pierpont Morgan, James J. Hill, and others who are figuring prominently in the recently reported railway deals, and the general scheme has been outlined.

The report has it that the powers intend to conduct the express business of the country as a regular department of railroad operation, strong provisions being made to have all roads act in harmony.

While nothing definite regarding the plans is obtainable, it is claimed to be the intention of the railroad officials to refuse to renew contracts with the companies where the remaining life of the contracts is not long and to make outright purchases of franchises where the contracts still have long lives before them.

The express companies have contracts ranging all the way from five to twenty years, and at the expiration of their legal agreements they are at the mercy of the railroad companies.

DISLIKES UNIONISTS' PICTURES.

Tennessee Legislator Objects to Portraits in State Library.

Special to The New York Times.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Jan. 11.—At to-day's session of the House of Representatives, Mr. Gordon of Dyer introduced a resolution, the preamble of which stated that "the large and costly portraits of W. G. Brownlow and Gen. George H. Thomas have occupied the most prominent place in the State Library since the dark days of reconstruction, while by their sides hang miniatures of Robert E. Lee and Stonewall Jackson, and that this arrangement does not correctly indicate either the sentiment of the people of Tennessee or do justice to the comparative merit of those historic characters."

The preamble says further: "The people of Tennessee, while loving the Union and accepting in loyalty and good faith the issue of the civil war, revere the memory of their Southern heroes and hold them in first place and affection."

"Therefore," says the resolution, "be it resolved that these portraits of Gen. Thomas and W. G. Brownlow be removed from the State Library and donated to the Pension Office at Knoxville, to the end that the space occupied by them may be secured for similar portraits of Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, and Bedford Forrest."

Representative Murphy, after remarking that Gov. Brownlow in many ways was a better man than some men "down here," as he had served him as office boy and knew him well, moved that the resolution be tabled. The motion was carried.

Brownlow was Governor of and United States Senator from Tennessee immediately after the war.

MORGAN PROJECT CHECKED.

Proposed Lease of Edison Electric Light Company Declared Illegal.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—A message was received by the House of Representatives to-day from Gov. Crane, accompanied by a communication from the Gas and Electric Light Commissions, stating that the proposed lease of the Edison Electric Light Company to a third corporation under a guarantee of 10 per cent. on $3,000,000 of stock was in violation of the anti-stock-watering laws of the State, and detrimental to public interests. The communication was referred to the Committee on Manufactures.

The action of the Commissioners had an important bearing on the project of J. P. Morgan & Co. of New York, to lease the Boston Electric Light Company and the Edison Company and combine the interests. The Boston Company already has accepted the proposition of Mr. Morgan to take a lease at 10 per cent. The success of the transaction hingea on similar action by the Edison Company.

Dowager Empress Frederick Again Ill.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—According to advices from Berlin, the health of Dowager Empress Frederick is again causing anxiety.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

CUDAHY HOME ON FIRE.

Flames Quickly Extinguished—E. A. Cudahy Had Been Warned that His House Would Be Burned.

Special to The New York Times.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 11.—To-night the residence of Edward A. Cudahy was found to be on fire. The flames were quickly extinguished.

The Fire Chief is not yet satisfied as to whether the fire was of incendiary origin or spontaneous. It originated on the outside, and might have been due to either cause.

The incident has renewed the excitement over the famous Cudahy kidnapping case, as the elder Cudahy has been repeatedly warned by letters since he offered the reward for the apprehension of the kidnappers that his home would be burned if the reward were not withdrawn. A policeman was on guard at the Cudahy home at the time of the mysterious blaze.

Both the police and family are reticent as to the affair.

OFFICES FOR JUSTICES' SONS.

Harlan's and McKenna's Appointments in the Army Excite Comment.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A great many persons who have the most profound respect for the Supreme Court of the United States, as an institution, are indulging in comment tinged with wonder because of the fact that, while important cases are pending in the Supreme Court, involving very seriously the comfort or embarrassment of the Administration in their determination, two sons of Justices of the Court have been appointed to places in the "colonial" service and in Porto Rico.

The son of Associate Justice Harlan, who was named to be Attorney General for Porto Rico, is referred to as having been undoubtedly convinced, before consenting to accept the nomination, that the status of Porto Rico was already as good as settled. Justice Harlan's friends say that the reputation of that Justice is too high to justify any notion that his judgment would be affected by a mere crumb of patronage offered to him at an anxious moment. Senator Pettigrew has stopped the confirmation of Mr. Harlan, and in the discussion in executive session it is promised that he will object to it on the ground of impropriety.

At the same time it is asserted that he will also ask the Senate to consider the propriety of the selection of a son of Associate Justice McKenna to be made a Captain and Inspector General in Porto Rico. He had been a First Lieutenant, having been graduated from the Military Academy. Just before his promotion, Lieut. Col. R. B. Harrison was discharged from the post of Inspector General of Porto Rico because there was no longer any need for his services. Yet, immediately after his dismissal by telegraph from a post that army officers unite in saying he had filled admirably, two officers were assigned to the same service, Capt. McKenna being one of them.

Those who comment upon the changes do not question the competency of the War Department to judge of the necessity or desirability of making changes, but it is considered unfortunate that in making the changes it was considered important to put a son of a Justice of the Supreme Court in a competent officer's place. It is a common occurrence for Justices of the Supreme Court to announce that they have not participated in a decision on some important matter, the understanding being that undue personal interest suggested their non-participation in the judgment upon a controversy. Some Senators entirely friendly to and without prejudice against the Supreme Court have wondered whether any of the Justices will abstain from participating in the settlement of the Porto Rico cases for reasons of this sort.

CLARK MAY LOSE SENATORSHIP

Fusionists in Montana Fail to Get Caucus to Nominate Him.

Special to The New York Times.

HELENA, Mon., Jan. 11.—Five petitions were circulated among the fusionist members of the Legislature for a caucus last night on the six-year Senatorial term, for which W. A. Clark is the only candidate.

There are fifty-three fusionists (Clark Democrats, Populists, and Labor) out of a total of ninety-two, but when the caucus was called to order there were but twenty-five present, or twenty-two less than a majority. To-day the calls were again circulated, but the result was the same, and both were compelled to adjourn without action.

The failure of Clark to secure the caucus nomination to succeed Senator Carter has created a decided sensation, although he asserts that he will be elected on the first ballot next Tuesday. The refusal of the entire delegation from Helena and all but three of that from Butte to sign the caucus call serves to belittle Clark's chances.

Clark's leading organ in this city avers that it is a "hold-up" game, and warns the members in no uncertain tones of the penalty for bribery. The Populists and labor men held a separate caucus, but decline to divulge the result of the proceedings.

HER DEATH EXCITES SUSPICION

The police are making an investigation into the death of Lillian E. Groth, twenty-four years old, a stenographer, who died in her apartments at 120 West Eighty-ninth Street, shortly after 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The young woman had been employed in the offices of Morrison & Hughes, at 43 Leonard Street, but had been ill since last Wednesday.

According to the police, Edward Morrison, a contractor, living at 56 Manhattan Avenue, called on Miss Groth shortly before 11 o'clock yesterday, and found her suffering intense pain. She asked him to call a physician, and Dr. Alexander Gale of 136 West Ninetieth Street reached the house a short time later. He found the woman lying on the sofa, while beside her lay an empty bottle, which had contained whisky. On a table near by was a bottle of gin. Dr. Gale prescribed for her and left the house, saying he would call again at 1 o'clock. Shortly before that hour Morrison again went for the physician. Dr. Gale responded, but when he got to the house the woman was dead.

The woman lived with her brother, who is night bartender in the Hotel Belvidere, Eighteenth Street and Fourth Avenue. Dr. Gale said that when he called on the young woman there were signs of alcoholism about her. On the second visit, when he found her dead, he found that one of three strychnine tablets, which he had prescribed, had been taken. The Coroner will investigate.

NOTED ABOLITIONIST DEAD.

Special to The New York Times.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 11.—The Rev. John G. Fee, the noted abolitionist and founder of Berea College for the Co-education of Races, died this evening at Berea. He was eighty-four years old, and had resided at Berea since that city was laid out.

Mr. Fee was born in Bracken County, Ky. At an early age he began to preach the doctrine of anti-slavery and as a result suffered several times from mobs. He was attacked four different times, the most violent assault being made at College Hill. While preaching, a mob of sixty men surrounded the house with pistols and guns. Mr. Fee was dragged out and a man with a rope swore that he would be swung up if he did not leave the county. He declined to obey their demands, however, and continued preaching against slavery.

His life work was devoted to the colored people. He studied two years at Oxford, Ohio, then took a theological course at Lane Seminary, Ohio. Berea College, which owes its existence to him, is in a flourishing state. Several children survive him.

Deerfoot Farm Sausages. There is nothing more appetizing and delightful for a Winter's breakfast. Try a two-pound package.—Adv.

Hiram Ricker & Sons' Poland Water. Depot is at 3 Park pl., New York. Tel. 118 Cort. —Adv.

CHINA'S PARTITION BEGUN?

Great Britain and Russia Said to Have Come to an Agreement.

Former to Give Up Rights in Shan-hai-Kwan Road—Yang-tse Valley May Be the Consideration.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily Chronicle makes the following important statement:

"From a trustworthy source we learn that Lord Salisbury has agreed to cede to Russia the railway from Niu-Chwang to Shan-hai-Kwan. It is not known what compensation will be received for the concession."

Leading financiers versed in Chinese affairs, who were interviewed yesterday by representatives of The Daily Chronicle, appeared to think that, if the news were correct, it indicated that Lord Salisbury recognized the impossibility of preventing the partition of China, and that Russia would get the North and Great Britain the Yangtse Valley.

The original prospectus of the railway company stipulated that the bondholders, mainly British, could be bought out at any time at the rate of £120 per £100 bond.

The Daily Chronicle, in an editorial on the subject, taunts Lord Salisbury with having made another "graceful concession" because Great Britain's entanglements deprive her of the strength to back up her diplomacy.

"Prince Ouchtomsky's mission to Pekking," says the St. Petersburg correspondent of The Daily Mail, "was to secure a convention, I understand, on the following basis:

"In return for renouncing her claim for war indemnity, Russia demands an indefinite instead of a ninety-year lease of the Liao-Tung peninsula and of Port Arthur. In other words, she demands annexation, as well as the complete possession of the Manchurian Railway, which, under the existing agreement, reverts to China after nin

REFORM COMMITTEE KEEPS PLANS SECRET

Busy Days at the Headquarters of the Fifteen.

Further Aggressive Action by Committee Not Needed if Tammany Keeps Promises, Mr. Baldwin Says.

Just what kind of a mine the Reform Committee of Fifteen is preparing or when it will be sprung, or what form the explosion will take, are carefully guarded secrets, and not one of the members of the organization seen yesterday would say a word about the plans of the body. By a solemn agreement entered into at the last meeting the members pledged themselves to constitute Chairman William H. Baldwin, Jr., who is also the President of the Long Island Railroad, their only mouthpiece, and, while Mr. Baldwin is ready enough to discuss the committee's purposes in a general way, he becomes silent when any questions are propounded bearing on the important developments which are expected before another week has passed.

Some significance may attach to the announcement that Senator Timothy D. Sullivan, who has been sojourning in the Far South ever since election for the benefit of his health, has abandoned his trip and is hurrying home, but Maurice Kraus, his partner in the Dewey Theatre, said last night that he was going straight to Albany to attend to his official duties.

Lots of business is being transacted at the headquarters of the committee, in the Park Row Building, these days, and Secretary Morgan spends much of his time closeted with single callers in his private office, while every mail brings important-looking envelopes.

Chairman Baldwin, who is in charge of the detective work of the committee, was at headquarters for a time yesterday morning and declared that no statement would emanate from the committee before the next meeting, which will be held on Wednesday. He denied a report that the committee, upon the report of the Sub-Committee on Legislation, had as a body approved without amendment the report of the Charter Revision Commission. No such action had been taken, he said, although he added that the general feeling in the committee was that the work of the commission had been satisfactory. He said further that the committee had not yet approved the single-headed Police Commission bill, for they had not seen a copy of it the time of their last meeting. He reiterated the declaration that the committee is not in any way a political body.

"The only way in which we should ever go into politics," he said, "would be to call upon any political organization or any political party in power to bring about the results for which we are asking. No matter who is in power, if the present conditions continue, we are up against them.

"If we succeed in educating the people into a proper sense of the shameful condition of the present state of affairs and a proper sense of their duty to their city, I think the people will take care of the rest. The work of education will always be one of our principal duties.

"There is an honest element in Tammany Hall which is properly grieved at the prevailing conditions. If the organization fulfills all the promises of improvement made in the last thirty days there will be no need of any further aggressive work on the part of our committee.

"We intend to approach this matter in a practical manner. We are not in for any idealist scheme of reform, but will strive earnestly to bring about what undoubtedly is needed—honesty and decency.

"The question of offering pecuniary rewards for evidence such as is needed in the work has not been considered. 'It is not the best way to go about it,' he commented.

Mr. Baldwin has already said that the committee is in possession of most important evidence, and he denied yesterday that there was any present intention on the part of the body to lay these proofs of misconduct on the part of officials before the Mayor.

Joel B. Erhardt, who is Chairman of the Sub-Committee on Legislation, is ill at his rooms at the Union League Club, and it was said at his office yesterday that there is little likelihood of his coming down town again before Monday.

MUM'S THE WORD, SAYS PLATZEK.

Tammany Investigation Committee Hedges Itself Around with Silence.

The intention of the Tammany Hall investigating committee to in future limit the statements of its members to the official announcements issued after their sessions in the Germania Bank Building was made clear yesterday by the attitude of M. Warley Platzek, the legal adviser of the committee, and Lewis Nixon, its Chairman. Mr. Platzek declined to talk on any subject concerning the committee.

"What I have to say in future," said he, "will be limited to what may be said after our Mondays' sessions. This will prevent garbling and misconstruction, malicious or otherwise, of what I may say as a committeeman or as an individual. Besides, I have to attend to my professional business, and up to within a day or two half of my time has been taken up with interviewers. I saw Mr. Nixon yesterday and know what he has done and is doing. I cannot answer any question in regard to lists he sent to the police being tampered with or his intention to appeal to Mayor Van Wyck to do his duty, and, if he fails, to ask the Executive Committee of Tammany Hall to arraign the municipal administration."

Chairman Nixon would not entertain either of these subjects or affirm or deny that he had stated that a list of gambling places and poolrooms sent to the police was returned with additions of addresses of respectable places or that he would appeal to the Mayor to do his duty. Mr. Nixon added that he was not disposed to talk of the operations of his committee, while he was quite satisfied with the results of its statement of last Monday, as the objects of its publication were attained.

DEVERY CALLED TO TESTIFY.

Chief Wanted as Witness at the Herlihy Trial—More "Red Light" District Evidence.

The trial of Police Captain Herlihy was continued all day yesterday, before the Police Commissioners at Police Headquarters. Only three of the Commissioners were present, Commissioner Sexton not appearing in the courtroom at all. The testimony was largely to the same effect as that elicited at the hearing of the day before.

Prosecutor Olcott early in the day produced some stir by saying that he intended to call Chief of Police Devery as a witness during the afternoon in order to prove that Capt. Herlihy had not applied for a warrant from him to raid some of the disorderly houses complained of in his precinct. Although messengers were sent for him several times, however, the Chief did not appear. Late in the day he sent word that he begged to be excused from acting as a witness that afternoon, as he was very busy with other matters. Ex-Judge Olcott then announced that he would call upon him to testify at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, when the hearings will be resumed.

Paul Edelson, a student in political science at Columbia University, and a teacher in a night school, was the first witness called yesterday. He spoke of various disorderly houses in the "Red Light" district, and said that he had been accosted by women belonging to them many times.

Morris Osowski, a teacher of physical culture at 80 Delancey Street, said that there was disorderly houses in the same street from which women addressed him in language that was unfit to print.

Prosecutor Olcott submitted as evidence the "complaint book" of Capt. Herlihy's precinct, and ten separate reports signed by Capt. Herlihy, in which he said that he was unable to find any violation of the law in houses which had been complained of.

Orrin R. Booth, who is Secretary of the Committee of Fifteen, was the last witness called. He said that he was a worker in the "Rescue Army," and that he devoted much of his time to visiting the inmates of disorderly houses and urging them to lead a better life. He described scenes he had witnessed in many of the houses, and said that on one occasion when he had paid a visit to a place in Forsyth Street to get statements as to the character of the inmates, he was compelled to give up the statements he had already collected in order to get out alive.

Under cross-examination Booth admitted that he was stenographer for Frank Moss during the Mazet investigation. He said that he had received his present position as Secretary for the Committee of Fifteen through the influence of Dr. Paddock.

JUSTICE JEROME ON GAMBLING.

His View Should the Police "Wake Up" and Raid Canfield's.

Justice Jerome, in the Court of Special Sessions, yesterday from the bench asserted that gambling existed in New York and expressed his opinion of what would happen if the police should "wake up" and arrest the proprietor of Canfield's gambling establishment, which the Justice said was next to Delmonico's.

The remarks of the Justice were inspired by the plea of the counsel of Louis Abramowitz, charged with having a slot machine in his place of business, at 12 Rutgers Place, that the machine had been placed there without the proprietor's knowledge.

"It is ridiculous to say that this slot machine was in this man's place without his knowledge," declared the Justice. "I suppose if the police should wake up and arrest that man Canfield, who conducts a gambling house next door to Delmonico's, in Forty-fourth Street, he would plead that he was never arrested or convicted before. I suppose he would ask to be discharged on that ground, despite the fact that gambling is going on there nightly."

The Justice's unexpected utterances caused a sensation among the court attendants and hangers-on. Abramowitz was fined $15.

THE WINTERS WILL CASE.

Coachman Testifies About Aged Bride Being Mistaken for Her Husband's Mother.

The contest over the will of the late Anne Maria Dooley Winters, which was continued yesterday, promises to be long drawn out. The case has been on for several days before Justice Bischoff and a jury in the Supreme Court, and from the opinions expressed yesterday by the lawyers on either side, it is almost certain that the taking of testimony will continue for at least another week. In her will Mrs. Winters, who was seventy-four years old at the time of her death, left more than $1,000,000 to her husband, Byram L. Winters, who was less than half her age, and who at the time of their marriage was a law clerk at $15 a week.

Thomas L. Doherty, coachman for Mrs. Winters, was the principal witness yesterday. The witness had been in her employ for some time prior to her marriage to Mr. Winters. He said that he frequently purchased whisky, brandy, and cigars for her.

"Did you ever see her smoke?" he was asked.

"No."

"How much whisky and brandy did you buy each time?"

"A bottle of each."

"How often in a week did you make such purchases?"

"Two or three times a week."

"What did you do with the liquor?"

"I always took it up to Mrs. Winters's bedroom."

The witness then told how Mrs. Winters had kept the liquor in a little closet, where it was easy of access, and that she frequently gave him drinks, saying: "It's good to prevent the grip." Doherty also told of driving his mistress, and a man to whom she had been engaged to be married before she married Mr. Winters, to a jewelry store, where an engagement ring was purchased.

"How did she dress when she became Mrs. Winters?" the witness was asked.

"Very flashy."

"What do you mean by that?"

"She wore flashy colors, blue and red, and other bright things. She dressed like a girl of sixteen years old."

"How did Mr. and Mrs. Winters act toward each other?"

"Every one thought that he was her son."

The witness also testified that in 1896 Mrs. Winters was ill, and told him that she believed that some person was trying to poison her. As to his own experience with Mrs. Winters, the witness said that in 1896, shortly before he left her employ, she had said to him during a dispute over a veterinary bill, "Get to hell out of this. I won't pay the bill. All coachmen are thieves, and I think you are trying to be one too." Other testimony was repetition of that before the Surrogate, when the will was admitted to probate about a year ago. The case was adjourned until Monday morning.

DR. BUCHANAN'S WIDOW WINS.

Husband's Will in Favor of Mrs. Kate M. Foster-Belsey Set Aside.

The application of Mrs. Margaret Buchanan, widow of Dr. Alexander Buchanan, to have set aside the will of her husband, which was admitted to probate by ex-Surrogate Arnold, was decided in her favor by a jury before Justice McLean, in the Supreme Court, last evening. The suit was brought against Mrs. Kate M. Belsey, formerly Mrs. Kate M. Foster, who was the principal beneficiary under the terms of the will.

Dr. Buchanan died in 1895, leaving his wife $50 and giving each of his three daughters the sum of $5. The balance of the estate, estimated at $200,000, he left to Mrs. Foster. Dr. Buchanan died at Mrs. Foster's home and before his death Mrs. Buchanan recovered a verdict of $50,000 against Mrs. Foster for the alienation of her husband's affections.

Robert E. A. Dorr's Will Filed.

The will of the late Robert E. A. Dorr, publisher of The Mail and Express, was filed for probate in the Surrogate's office yesterday afternoon. Mr. Dorr left his entire estate to his widow, Mary Bertha Dorr, and arranged that she should look after the interests of the two children, Robert E. A. and Ruth F. Dorr. At the death of Mrs. Dorr, who is named as executrix under the will, the estate is to be divided equally between the children. The testator requests that his stock in The Mail and Express be so handled by the executrix as to provide a remunerative position for his son. The value of the estate is not stated in the petition accompanying the will.

Mrs. Babcock Left All to Daughter.

J. Pierpont Morgan, as executor, yesterday filed the will of Susan Adams Babcock in the Surrogates' office. Mrs. Babcock died at the Hotel St. Andrew, Broadway and Seventy-second Street, on Dec. 2 last. Her will is dated May 21, 1892, and a lengthy codicil bears date of June 11, 1895. According to the petition, the estate is valued at from $50,000 to $55,000, and with the exception of a $500 bequest it goes to Cordelia L. Babcock, the daughter of the testatrix.

INQUEST IN W. M. RICE CASE.

Coroner Will Decide Cause of Death Before Patrick Is Accused.

Assistant District Attorney Osborne announced yesterday that the inquest into the death of William Marsh Rice, who died Sept. 23, at his residence, 500 Madison Avenue, under suspicious circumstances, probably would be held within the next two weeks. Albert T. Patrick, now in the Tombs charged with forging Rice's name for checks for $25,000, was implicated in Rice's death by Rice's valet, Charles F. Jones, who attempted suicide after making a confession. He is held now as a State's witness in the House of Detention.

The inquest will be held under the direction of Coroner Hart, and the only object to be determined will be the cause of death. When this is made known the Assistant District Attorney will decide whether a charge of murder shall be made against Patrick. This will depend entirely upon the report of Prof. R. A. Witthaus, the chemical expert, who already has stated that he found traces of mercury in Rice's body. He now is endeavoring to determine whether or not the mercury was present in quantities sufficient to cause death. His report is expected by Coroner Hart at any time. When asked if he had any evidence against either Patrick or Jones tending to show that Rice had been murdered, Mr. Osborne said:

"I cannot say that I have. But from my point of view I have plenty at least for a Coroner's inquest." The inquest probably will begin Monday, the 21st.

POLICE BILL DISCUSSION

Senator Grady Gives Reasons for Tammany Opposition.

To Accuse Senator Platt and Gov. Odell of Opposing a Similar Measure in 1897.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Senator Grady has decided to postpone the issuance of his formal statement on the New York Police bill until Monday. This morning he declared that the bill would be vigorously opposed and every effort made to prevent its passage in its present form.

"We oppose two provisions of the Police bill," said Senator Grady, "and will endeavor to prevent its passage in its present form. First, we oppose the section which permits the removal of the Commissioner or Superintendent without any trial and without any charges by the Governor. He may be removed on some secret insinuation or charge contained in a letter to the Governor, the contents whereof he may never be aware of. He may be removed as a result of public clamor or prejudice. In fact, a dozen different reasons, all unjust and unwise, may serve to injure and cause the removal of a man who may be an excellent head of the Police Department.

"We also oppose the Police bill because of the absence of a trial provision. We believe that when charges are preferred against Inspectors, Captains, Sergeants, Roundsmen, or policemen, that they should be tried not by one man, but by a board composed of at least three men who shall be the superiors in rank of the men tried. I will go further; I will say that we care not who constitute the trial board so long as there shall be more than one man. Let the board be composed of Captains acting with the Chief or with Sergeants or patrolmen. Giving this one man all the authority of a trial judge and the power of removal is dangerous.

"Consider that there are upward of 350 trials a year and these of men who have a life tenure of office, yes, even more than a life tenure; they have a personal and a property interest in the pension fund, and how easy it would be to remove a large number of men who have served almost a sufficient number of years to get on the pension roll and thus relieve a great drain on the fund and prevent those persons who have worked and deserve a pension from getting it.

"But the idea most obnoxious to us is, I reiterate, that which gives the power of removal of the Superintendent or Commissioner without any formal charges. This is contrary to the spirit of a democratic form of government and savors too much of autocratic and kingly power. There is no chance for redress, no chance to explain, if, in fact, there is any reason for explanations. The Governor on some rumor, possibly groundless, is permitted to remove the Superintendent or Commissioner, the official why he is removed, thus casting upon probably an innocent man a stigma, creating in the public mind a suspicion that he is a dishonorable if not a positively dishonest man."

"I am now comparing the bill introduced by Senator Stranahan with measures similar in character which have been previously before the Legislature," added Senator Grady. "When I have concluded the comparison I will make up a statement which I think will be worth while."

Among the bills with which Senator Grady undoubtedly will compare the Platt-Odell Police bill, as it is generally called, is a bill which was introduced in the Legislature by Senator Jacob Cantor in 1897. This bill provided for a single-headed Police Commission and abolished the then existing Bureau of Elections. It is said to have been similar in all respects to the present bill, with the two exceptions that it did not give the Governor the power of removal, and did provide that removal by the Mayor must be preceded by the filing of charges, which the Commissioner should have an opportunity to answer.

It was asserted here to-day by persons well versed in the political and legislative history of the State for the past decade that when the Cantor bill was up for consideration it was opposed by both Senator Platt and Mr. Odell. The reasons which these two Republican leaders urged in opposition to the Cantor bill are being looked up. If found, they will be used with all possible effect by the opponents of the pending bill.

Some of the minority, however, are disposed to look on the measure as not so bad as it might be. Discussing the bill to-day, Senator Donnelly said:

"I am not so sure that the single-headed Police bill is such a bad thing after all. Of course we cannot stand for the omission of the trial before dismissal provision, but I think if we make a determined stand for such an amendment, it will be inserted. With such a beneficial change, I think we would support the bill. As to what Mayor Van Wyck's action will be I cannot opine. If the bill is changed in the way I say, I think the Mayor would approve it within twenty-four hours after he received it. But passed just as it is, he will of course have fifteen days to hold it before he disapproves. I think we are entitled to the change and will get it."

Discussing the proposed Board of Elections, Senator Grady said to-day:

"The Democrats are in favor of having the bureau separated from the Police Department. But we are opposed to the provision concerning the composition of the commission, that the Mayor should appoint the Commissioners, selecting them from the two political parties. When the Republicans are called on to select a Democrat they select a man like Philbin, who has voted twice for McKinley and twice for Roosevelt. They seem to believe that such men are good Democrats."

GRADE CROSSING BILL.

Plan to Give the New York Central a More Direct Route at Cost of the City.

Special to The New York Times.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman Scanlon to-day introduced a bill the title of which hardly gives a fair idea of its scope. The title of the bill is "A bill to abolish certain grade crossings in the City of New York." A more comprehensive, if not a better, title would have been "A bill to give the New York Central Railroad Company a new and a more direct route out of the City of New York, at the expense of the City of New York."

Stripped of unnecessary verbiage the bill provides that the Board of Public Improvements of the City of New York, the Spuyten Duyvil and Port Morris Railroad Company, the New York Central and Hudson River Railroad Company, and the lessee of the Spuyten Duyvil and Port Morris Railroad Company are authorized to agree upon and adopt a plan to abolish the grade crossings of the Spuyten Duyvil and Port Morris Railroad Company at King's Bridge Road, East Two Hundred and Thirtieth Street, Broadway, Corlear Street, Tibbett Avenue, and West Two Hundred and Thirty-seventh Street.

"Such contract shall provide that the said Spuyten Duyvil and Port Morris Railroad Company shall acquire all lands, or interest in lands, right of way, or easements, which may be necessary for the carrying out of such plan, and that the expense of acquiring all such lands shall be borne and paid as required by the City of New York. The Controller of the City of New York shall from time to time, when authorized by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment, prepare and issue corporate stock of the City of New York in the manner provided by law for the purpose of defraying the cost and expense of acquiring such lands.

"Such stock shall not be sold for less than par value, and money received for the stock shall be deposited in the Treasury of the city and paid out by the Controller for the objects and purposes of the act."

After thus providing that the company shall acquire the lands which it thinks it needs and turn in its bill to the city, possible objections to the proposition on the part of the city authorities is overcome by the following provision:

"The consent or approval of the Municipal Assembly to or for the issue of corporate stock of the City of New York, as provided in Section 169 of the Charter of Greater New York, Chapter 378 of the Laws of 1897, shall not be necessary to authorize the Controller to issue such corporate stock for the purposes mentioned.

In brief the proposition of the bill is to give the company authority to acquire a new right of way, and have the city pay the bill by the issue of corporate stock, the city authorities to have no voice in the matter.

The last section of the bill indicates a disposition to give the city some sort of a return for its outlay. It provides as follows:

"In case any of the lands now held for the present roadway of the company, or companies, are abandoned, all the right, title, and interest in such lands may be exchanged for any lands in interest which may be necessary to carry such plans into effect. If not so exchanged, all right to lands held for the present roadway shall be sold and conveyed and the proceeds paid to the City of New York."

While the officials of the Railroad Commissioners' office had no comment to make upon the fairness or unfairness of the proposition of the New York Central Company, they were of the opinion that the improvement at which it aims is most desirable. Between Fordham and Spuyten Duyvil the New York Central describes a sort of a crescent. In this crescent are the bad grade crossings which are mentioned in the bill. Both ends of this crescent touch the Harlem Ship Canal. If the railroad company had a track which would follow the course of the ship canal a considerable circuit would be cut off. The bad grade crossings of the present right of way would also be avoided.

Brief Session of Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—The Senate was in session for five minutes this morning without a quorum and adjourned to Monday night without doing any business except the introduction of six bills, three of which were previously introduced in the Assembly. Without a quorum and with Assemblyman Aitds presiding, the Assembly met at 10 o'clock, and while the echo of the opening prayer still lingered, adjourned to meet at 8:30 o'clock on Monday night.

Salary for Sheriff of Kings.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman Wilson of Kings has introduced a bill providing that after Jan. 1, 1902, the Sheriff of the County of Kings shall receive a salary of $15,000 a year in lieu of all fees. The salaries to be paid the assistants, clerks, employes, or subordinates in the Sheriff's office are specified. The Sheriff may employ counsel at a salary not to exceed $5,000 per annum.

To Divide Court of Special Sessions.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman Scanlon introduced a bill to-day redividing the Court of Special Sessions in the City of New York. The First Division is to be divided into two parts, and the Second Division is to consist of one part only. The Courts of Special Sessions shall have jurisdiction to determine with or without the aid of a jury, at the election of the defendant, all charges of misdemeanor committed within the City of New York except charges of libel.

In doubtful condition of lungs, in nervous adults and in children, loss of weight is a very serious sign.

Do also what else the case may require; but Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil is part of the remedy.

We'll send you a little to try, if you like.
SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

TO AMEND CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

Bills to be Introduced Next Week on Lines of the Governor's Recommendations.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Senator White and Assemblyman Cooley will simultaneously introduce next week in the Legislature an amendment to the civil service law, which is intended to afford better protection to civil service appointees. The bill will provide that when charges are preferred against city employes they must be made in writing and specifically stated.

The measure will be introduced in accordance with the recommendations made by Gov. Odell in his message to the Legislature. He said on this subject:

The decision of the Court of Appeals, which in effect makes the tenure of office no longer secure, should receive your early consideration. It has come to my knowledge that the employes of various city departments have been coerced in numerous instances under the ruling as now laid down by the Court of Appeals.

I recommend that an amendment be enacted making the section of the civil service law affected by that decision legislative. This is due to the man who works by the day as well as to the higher paid official. Both should have the same protection under all circumstances, and the full intent and purpose of our civil service laws be given effect.

NEW PURE BEER BILL.

Proposed in the Form of an Amendment to the Public Health Law.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Senator Malby of St. Lawrence and Assemblyman Jean Burnett of Ontario introduced to-day a "Pure Beer" bill, which is an amendment to the public health law. It differs very much from the Stevens bill of last year.

Under its provisions pure beer, ale, and porter shall be deemed to be beer, ale, and porter in the manufacture of which are used pure barley malt, pure hops, or pure extracts of hops, pure yeast, pure water, or pure cereal products, made only of wheat, or corn, or both, by a process entirely mechanical and without the use of any liquids or chemicals.

The word "beer" as used in the bill shall be construed to include any and all fermented or malt liquors commonly known as and called beer, and any and all fermented or malt liquors in the manufacture of which hops or barley malt are used, whether or not such manufactured article be known by, or called, any name other than, or in addition to, that of beer.

Assemblyman Burnett, who has been the persistent champion of pure beer legislation in the interest of the farmers ever since he has been in the Legislature, said in explanation of his bill:

"This bill has been prepared with more care and research than any previous measure along this line, and it represents the efforts of a number of legislators and leaders high in the councils of the party. The bill is so drawn that not a cent of additional expense to the State will be insured by its enforcement.

"This legislation is introduced primarily in the interests of the farmers of the State. If we can do away with the use of substitutes for hops and barley malt in the manufacture of fermented liquors, it can of course increase the demand for those products and thereby help the agriculturists. Incidentally the consumers of beer are benefited also. No honest brewers can oppose such a bill."

AGAINST LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

Bill to Repeal the Law Providing for Their Incorporation.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman Scanlon has introduced a bill peremptorily repealing the law of 1895, providing for the incorporation of associations for loaning money on personal property.

The act sought to be repealed was passed at the instance of charitable organizations of the State which sought to establish bureaus where worthy indigent persons could obtain loans on personal property at low rates of interest. Associations already established at the time of the passage of the law for the loaning of money at high rates of interest have fought the charitable organizations ever since, and the Scanlon bill hopes to drive the latter out of business. Members of the Vanderbilt family backed the law on its passage.

RIGHTS OF STOCKHOLDERS.

Amendment to Corporation Law Proposed in the Legislature.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Senator Brackett, in the Senate, and Assemblyman Fish, in the House, introduced duplicate bills to-day amending the corporations law relating to the qualifications of members as voters at an election of Directors and other meetings. Any stockholder of record not in default in payment of subscriptions on his stock or disqualified by by-laws is entitled to one vote for every share of stock held by him ten days preceding such meeting. At meetings of a non-stock corporation every member not disqualified by the by-laws shall be entitled to one vote.

On stock held as a pledge by a stockholder of record, the pledger shall be entitled to receive from the pledgee a proxy to vote upon such stock. A trustee or a pledgee of stock shall be deemed to be the owner of the stock as between himself and the beneficial owner. Stockholders have the right to transfer their stock to voting Trustees, vesting such right to vote for a term upon conditions specified.

Stockholders upon request may transfer stock to voting Trustees and participate under such trust, and the voting Trustees so appointed may vote upon the stock so transferred to them. The bill eliminates the three-year limit during which a domestic corporation has the right to extend its existence, so that such extension can be made at any time.

The Reform Most Needed

was the elimination of all sediment from bottled ale.

EVANS' ALE is the reformer

Building Commissioner for the Bronx.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—An amendment to the Greater New York charter has been introduced by Assemblyman Scanlon, making several changes in the Department of Buildings of that city. The board is increased from three to four Commissioners, the additional member being apportioned to the Borough of the Bronx, the other three being stationed, one in Manhattan, one in Brooklyn, and one in Queens and Richmond. The bill provides for a branch office in the Borough of the Bronx. The salary of the newly appointed Bronx Commissioner is to be $7,500 yearly.

Municipal Ownership of Docks.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Assemblyman Van Name of Richmond introduced a bill to-day which proposes to place the docks and ferries in New York City under a municipal ownership.

OTHER BILLS INTRODUCED.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—These bills were introduced to-day:

Mr. PRICE—Assessing two-thirds of the cost of grading Prospect Avenue in Brooklyn on the City of New York.

Mr. EGAN—Amending the labor law by providing that no naturalized citizen shall be employed on public works unless he produces his naturalization papers or a certified copy thereof.

Mr. JUENGST—Prohibiting ferry companies from charging fare for a bicycle in the possession of a passenger.

Mr. McINERNEY—Reducing the license of pawnbrokers in cities from $500 to $250, and fixing the rate of interest at 1½ per cent. for the first six months, and 1 per cent. for each succeeding month upon any loan not exceeding $100, and 1 per cent. on loans over $100.

Mr. EGAN—Amending the lien law by providing that if the labor is performed for the improvement of real property which is subject to a purchase money, or mortgage, recorded prior to the filing of a lien, or which has been sold under a contract or other arrangement by the terms of which the vendor is to loan money to or in any manner aid the vendee in the improvement of such real property, the lien for such labor shall extend to the enhancement of the value of such real property caused by the performance of such labor.

Mr. FITZGERALD—Amending the Penal Code so as to prohibit the use of tickets of admission to places open to the public generally, unless the admission price is marked upon them.

Mr. EGAN—Amending the labor law so that all scaffolding or staging used in the construction of buildings shall have attached thereto suitable mechanical devices adapted to prevent falling, in case of failure of the ordinary means of suspension.

Mr. DAUGHTY—Fixing the bond of the Receiver of Taxes of Hempstead, Queens County, at a penalty of not less than $50,000, as the Supervisor of the town of Hempstead shall direct, with the sureties upon such bond double the amount of the penalty.

Mr. SCANLON—Amending the poor law so that indigent soldiers, sailors, or marines or members of their families may be admitted to the almshouses of the State.

Mr. SCANLON—Amending the Greater New York charter so that the salary of the Clerks of the Municipal Court in the Boroughs of Queens and Richmond shall be increased from $2,000 to $3,000 per annum. The salaries of court officers are also increased in all Municipal Courts from $1,000 to $1,200, and an interpreter is appointed for the court in the Borough of the Bronx at $1,200.

Senator MARSHALL—An act to make the office of Clerk of the County of Kings a salaried office and regulating the arrangement of said office. The Clerk shall receive $8,000 per annum. Also, an act to make the office of Register of Kings County a salaried one. He shall receive $8,000 per annum.

Brooklyn Rapid Transit's Tax.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Attorney General Davies will appeal to the Court of Appeals from the decision of the Appellate Division, Third Department, fixing the tax which the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company should pay on its capital to the State Controller for the year ending Oct. 31, 1899, at $53,490. The late Controller, William J. Morgan, fixed the amount of the tax at $64,092.

PORTICO CASE TIME EXTENDED.

Commissioner Grants Five Additional Days to Proprietor of Pabst Hotel.

James P. Keating, Commissioner of Highways, made public yesterday the correspondence in relation to the removal of the portico and inclosed balcony of the Pabst Hotel, which squat on the public domain in Forty-second Street, between Seventh Avenue and Broadway. The following letter was written by counsel for the proprietor of the hotel:

BLUMENSTIEL & HIRSCH,
The Vincent Building, 302 Broadway, New York.
Jan. 9, 1901.

James P. Keating, Esq., Commissioner of Highways, 21 Park Row, New York:

My Dear Sir: My client, Mr. James B. Regan, has handed me your letter of the 8th inst., with respect to the portico upon the Pabst Building, Forty-second Street and Broadway. The aspect of this matter has been altered somewhat by the death of Mr. S. Strasburg, who instituted the mandamus proceedings.

Before advising Mr. Regan as to the course to be pursued by him in the matter I desire to examine the law upon the subject and the authorities fully, and I would request that you kindly extend the time mentioned in your letter to Mr. Regan about ten days so as to give me an opportunity to examine the law on the subject in order to advise Mr. Regan as to the position which he should take in the matter. Yours truly,
EMANUEL BLUMENSTIEL.

In according half of the delay asked, Mr. Keating wrote:

DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS.
Jan. 10, 1901.

Emanuel Blumenstiel, Esq., 302 Broadway:

Dear Sir: I am in receipt of your letter of the 9th inst., referring to my notice of Jan. 8 to your client, Mr. James B. Regan, to remove the portico from in front of the Pabst Building within three days from receipt of said notice.

You request on behalf of Mr. Regan an extension of ten days' time to enable you to examine the law before advising Mr. Regan how to act.

Upon consideration of the matter I think that, in view of the size and permanent character of the portico, the time limit of three days given in my communication of the 8th inst. to Mr. Regan was rather short, and I therefore extend the time by five days, making eight days in all, within which to comply with the notice from this department.

If on or before the expiration of this extended time limit Mr. Regan shall not cause the portico to be removed or give me written assurance that arrangements are being made whereby its removal will be effected without further delay, I shall be obliged to take the summary action of which Mr. Regan was advised in my notice to him of Jan. 8. Very respectfully,
JAMES P. KEATING,
Commissioner of Highways.

Mr. Blumenstiel said that he would not for a day or two be able to say what course his client would take, as he proposed to thoroughly examine every point of law on the subject before advising him.

GUILFOYLE'S REMOVAL ASKED.

Charges Before Mayor Made Against Brooklyn Building Commissioner.

Charges have been filed with Mayor Van Wyck asking for the removal from office of Commissioner of Buildings John Guilfoyle of the Borough of Brooklyn. John Dunbar, a resident of Sheepshead Bay, claims that he built a solid structure, and through personal spite the building was ordered demolished by Commissioner Guilfoyle. He charges that, in tearing down the structure, the men hired by the Department of Buildings charged for four days' work at very high wages, when they worked only eight hours in one day.

The charge is also made that Commissioner Guilfoyle allows certain favored contractors and friends to charge and collect four or five times the value of their services. Stephen M. Hoye of Brooklyn is counsel for the property owner.

Hudson County Republican Officers.

The Hudson County Republican Committee met in Jersey City last night and elected these officers: Chairman—Edward W. Woolley; Vice President—J. Flavel Mcgee; Treasurer—Michael Schultz; Secretary—Frank J. Higgins; Sergeant at Arms—Albert Blakey. There was no opposition. All are re-elections, except that Secretary Higgins succeeds Frank T. Lockwood.

New Cotton Dress Goods,

in very great variety for the Spring Season.

New Foulard Silks,

in a very extensive assortment. Advance patterns and colors.

Ladies' Silk Hosiery.

Pure Thread Silk Stockings.
Open-work, lace weaves, and embroidered designs.
A very extensive variety of colors, and black and white.

$1.75 per pair;
value $3.75 to $10.00.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

NEW LINE TO THE ORIENT

Large Steamers to Ply Between This City and the Far East.

Capital Stock of the Company Is $5,000,000—Twin-Screw Vessels to be Used.

A new steamship company of large proportions as to ships and tonnage is expected to begin operations in the Spring with a regular service between this port and China, Japan, and the Philippines. The new company was incorporated three weeks ago in New Jersey as the Pan-American Steamship Company. It was supposed that the new line was to run between here and Porto Rican and Cuban ports, but yesterday it was learned that the new company contemplates a freight service to the Orient.

The capital stock of the new company has been placed at $5,000,000, and the new concern is to charter a fleet of twin-screw fast freight carriers. Later they may build vessels for the service.

Among the shareholders in the company are Henry W. O. Edye of Funch, Edye & Co.; Herbert Barber of Barber & Co., Charles Alexander Tomes of Shewan, Tomes & Co. of China and Japan; George B. Hopkins, the banker, and Gen. Edward C. O'Brien of the International Express Company. The latter, who was Commissioner of Navigation under President Harrison, and a former President of the Department of Docks, will hold an important position in the new company. Mr. O'Brien spent three months in England recently, and it is thought he induced some of the steamship men of the United Kingdom to interest themselves financially in the proposed new company to China.

After the line is established it is expected that a weekly service will be inaugurated. The trip is expected to be made in fifty days, the vessels going through the Suez Canal. There is no weekly service between China and America, not even on the Pacific Coast. The San Francisco and Vancouver Lines have fortnightly service. The Atlantic seaboard is handicapped in the trade with China and Japan by spasmodic tramp steamships or sailing vessels.

The incorporators of the new line are already seeking to secure docking facilities in this city. They are waiting, it is said, for the action of Congress on the Ship Subsidy bill.

Gen. O'Brien, when asked about the matter, said: "The company has been incorporated, but I do not care to go into details at this time. It is true, however, that the proposed line will run between New York and the Orient. The enormous trade with China and Japan demands the service of a line of this kind, and we expect to get a portion of the freight which now comes to this country either by way of the Pacific Coast or by England. Further than this I do not care to say at present."

Herbert Barber said: "The company has been incorporated, but it is too far ahead to discuss the plans."

ATLANTIC TRANSPORT LINE.

Will Continue as Reorganized, Says President Bernard N. Baker.

President Bernard N. Baker of the Atlantic Transport Line, who was in New York yesterday, speaking of rumors recently current concerning a plan for the absorption of the line by the International Navigation Company, said:

"There is no truth in the report. The fact that the Atlantic Transport Line is planning a refinancering of the company is the probable cause of the rumor. We have a capitalization of only $3,000,000, while we have two vessels that alone cost in the neighborhood of $4,000,000. The line, however, needs more money to put the service in good shape and to increase the fleet to meet the requirements of our trade.

"We have made arrangements to float our securities in this country and England, and the future course to be pursued depends on the fate of the Subsidy bill now before the Congress. If the bill should pass our vessels will be put under the American flag and our fleet increased in conformity with the requirements of the measure. As it is at present, the cost of construction in this country and the high wages paid to American seamen make it impossible to build ships in America and operate them successfully against English vessels. If the Subsidy bill becomes a law, all this disadvantage will be overcome and the vessels of this line will, as I have said, be brought under the American flag."

Mr. Baker said that the two 10,000-ton vessels now being built for the company at Sparrows Point would be placed in the foreign service should the bill fail to become a law, otherwise they would be utilized in the coastwise trade, which would be a new departure for the company.

New Boat to Run to Roslyn.

The burning of the steamboat Idlewild at the Erie Basin Wednesday morning will not interfere with the water route between New York and Roslyn. The steamer Nantasket has been purchased by Long Island Railroad interests, and will be put on the route early in the Spring, and will make daily trips to and from New York.

RAYMOND'S Mark Down Sale of Suits and Overcoats.

SPECIALS TO-DAY.

Men's $13, $15, and $17 All Wool Business Suits, marked down to..... $10.

Men's $18, $20, $22 and some $24) Extra fine Suits marked down to..... $15.

Winter and medium weight Overcoats, all sizes and materials, never priced less than $20, and most were $25, marked down to..... $15.

Men's $5 and $6 Trousers in all sizes, all patterns and all materials marked down to..... $3.95

Equally Substantial Reductions Throughout Entire Establishment.

A. Raymond & Co.,
ESTABLISHED 1857.
N.E. Cor. Nassau and Fulton Sts.

Pianola Recital

TO-DAY,

Saturday, Jan. 12th, at 3 P. M.

Soloist:

MR. HEATHE GREGORY, Basso.

Admission Complimentary to All.

PROGRAMME.

Lamentation, Op. 45, No. 1..Guilmant
AEOLIAN PIPE ORGAN.
Piece rustique, Op. 30, No. 8..Moszkowski
PIANOLA.
A Warrior Bold.....Adams
MR. GREGORY.
Scherzo from New World Symphony..Dvorak
AEOLIA

GRAND JURY TAKES UP BELLEVUE SCANDAL

Dr. McDonald Exhibits Photographs of Ill-Treated Patients.

State Board Inspector to Testify—Three Nurses to Have Charge of Insane Pavilion.

Investigation into the conditions existing at Bellevue Hospital prior to the removal of Superintendent O'Rourke and the charges of inhuman treatment of patients in the insane pavilion of that institution was begun yesterday by the Grand Jury.

Dr. A. E. McDonald of the Manhattan State Hospital occupied the attention of the jurors during a special afternoon session. He exhibited several hundred photographs of patients transferred from Bellevue to the Manhattan State Hospital, with great welts, bruises, and scars on their bodies as a result of their treatment at the hands of the insane pavilion nurses. Dr. McDonald also had the books and records of admission of patients of his institution, and these were compared with several volumes of Bellevue records brought to the Criminal Courts Building by Registrar Gleeson, at the command of the Grand Jury. Dr. Rowe of the Manhattan State Hospital also testified.

George Blair, Superintendent of the Out Door Poor Department, and Thomas Spencer, clerk in the insane pavilion, were in the corridors of the building, but were not summoned before the Grand Jury, which adjourned at 4:30 until Monday, without making any report. The investigation will be resumed on that day.

Supt. Blair would make no statement for publication concerning the recent charges made against him.

"I will talk at the proper time," was all he would say.

Before concluding its investigations it is not improbable that the Grand Jury will make a tour of inspection of all the institutions under the care of the Charities Department.

George Crouch, who charges Superintendent Blair with extorting $600 from him in connection with charges made against the latter by a woman named Emma Griffen, was in consultation with Assistant District Attorney Franklin Pierce yesterday, and will appear before the Grand Jury next week.

Of the original eighty-five nurses from the Mills Training School who were in Bellevue at the beginning of the agitation for reform, only thirty-five remain, the others having resigned or been dismissed. In the present crowded condition of the hospital Dr. Stewart and his staff are a little handicapped in the treatment of the patients, but nurses are being recruited as rapidly as possible. Dr. McDonald has informed Superintendent Stewart that he is ready to furnish three competent nurses to take permenent charge of the insane pavilion at any time their services are requested. Dr. Stewart will accept this offer and the nurses will be placed in entire charge of the pavilion at an early date.

Commenting upon the resignations of a number of nurses, Commissioner Keiler said it was a good thing for the hospital that they decided to get out, if they were in sympathy with the kind of treatment to which some patients have been subjected.

In reference to Dr. Hamilton's statement that the charges against officials and nurses were not being disposed of in the proper way, the Commissioner said that he would dispose of all charges as rapidly and as impartially as possible.

District Attorney Philbin stated that the Bellevue investigation had been brought about by the Grand Jury itself. The State Board of Charities, he said, recently commissioned State Inspector Robert W. Hill to make a thorough inspection and examination of the institution. Inspector Hill made a lengthy report to the State Board, and with a number of witnesses would go before the Grand Jury.

Dr. Alexander Lambert, Secretary of the committee of five appointed by the Bellevue Medical Board to investigate conditions in the hospital, notified the officials of the hospital last night to prepare a list of deaths occurring in the hospital during the last five years.

It is intended to show by the list that a large portion of the deaths were of patients transferred from other hospitals, and that the death rate in Bellevue Hospital will be lessened 10 per cent. It is also proposed to show that a large number of the transfers made from private hospitals and other institutions which resulted in death should not have been made and that the patients were not in proper condition to be transferred.

DR. DURYEA'S DEFENSE.

Declares that William J. Finnigan Was Not Maltreated at the Kings County Hospital.

Dr. Jesse T. Duryea, General Medical Superintendent of the Kings County Hospital, yesterday afternoon made a report to Commissioner of Charities Goetting on the death of William J. Finnigan, who died in the hospital on Sunday. Mrs. Finnigan is employed in the family of V. H. Kimmelmann of 709 Avenue D, Flathush. Her husband, who was suffering from Bright's disease, had been an inmate of the Kings County Hospital for some time.

Mrs. Finnigan claims that when she visited her husband on Wednesday of last week she found him suffering from a deep gash on the top of his head and another cut on the side of his head. He told her he had been maltreated by the nurses. The hospital authorities told her that her husband had received his injuries by falling out of bed. Mrs. Finnigan says that she heard nothing further from the hospital people as to her husband's condition until last Wednesday, when she paid her usual weekly visit to the hospital. She was greatly shocked then to be informed that her husband was dead.

The hospital authorities explained to Mrs. Finnigan that they had sent her word of her husband's death, but that, through an error, the letter was addressed to 709 Avenue D, New York. It is claimed by Mrs. Finnigan that there was no reason for the letter being wrongly addressed, as the hospital authorities had communicated with her on several occasions before through the mail, and none of the letters had gone astray. Mrs. Finnigan informed her employer of the matter, and he determined to have it sifted thoroughly.

Dr. Duryea denied emphatically that Finnigan had been ill-treated at the hospital. On Nov. 8, he said, Finnigan fell out of bed and received a slight contusion of the scalp. This brought on atromatic aneurism, which, at Finnigan's own request, was cut out. This was the cut Mrs. Finnigan saw. There was no other cut or bruise on the man, Dr. Duryea declared, and his death was caused by Bright's disease.

SAYS HIS BRIDE IS "DETAINED."

Principals in a Brooklyn Marriage Tell Conflicting Stories.

Conflicting stories were told yesterday by the principals in a marriage which took place in Brooklyn last week. John Bagley, twenty-four years old, is the bridegroom. He is employed by Bernard Rice & Sons of 618 Broadway, Manhattan, of which firm his father is a member. The Bagleys live at 788 Carroll Street, Brooklyn.

Some time ago, while attending a drill at the Thirteenth Regiment Armory, he met Miss Evelyn Kingsland, the eighteen-year-old daughter of Howard S. Kingsland, a retired merchant, who lives at 274 Jefferson Avenue. Miss Kingsland was recently graduated from Packer Institute.

On the afternoon of Jan. 8, accompanied by John Duff, a lawyer, who is a friend of Bagley, the couple went to the home of the Rev. Dr. Madison C. Peters, 123 Bainbridge Street, and were married. A supper at the Clarendon Hotel followed, and then Bagley took his bride to her father's house. Instead of parental blessings, he said yesterday, that Mr. Kingsland took his daughter in, but has since refused to allow her to see Bagley.

Mr. Kingsland said last night that it was true that his daughter had married Bagley and that she was now at home. He denied, however, that he is detaining her from her husband, and said that Bagley had made no effort to see her. The bride also denied that she was being detained by her father against her will.

Joseph W. Birdsall Dies Suddenly.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Joseph W. Birdsall died at his home here to-night very suddenly. Heart disease caused death. Mr. Birdsall lived with his family at the Elberon Hotel. This evening he started to attend a dinner, but was taken sick and returned to the hotel. He reached his room and he suddenly dropped dead on the floor. Mr. Birdsall was for many years a bookkeeper in the Bowery Savings Bank in New York City.

CHANGES IN PHILBIN'S OFFICE.

Ten "County Detectives" Dismissed, and a $4,000 Deputy Assistant Appointed.

District Attorney Philbin yesterday dismissed ten subpoena servers, who were connected with his staff, and dignified by Col. Gardiner with the title of "county detectives." This will cut down the expenses of the office $10,000 per year, and still will leave the office with twenty-five "county detectives" to transact the business of the office allotted to them. Mr. Philbin already has accomplished since taking office a saving of $25,000 in his annual pay roll.

The appointment was announced yesterday as Deputy Assistant of Arthur C. Train, twenty-five years old, a graduate of Harvard University and the Law School. Mr. Train was admitted to the bar in Massachusetts, and connected himself with the firm of Ropes, Gray & Loring of Boston. Removing to this city he entered the law office of Robinson, Biddle & Ward. For some time he has been associated with the counsel for the Legal Aid Society. Mr. Train's salary will be $4,000 per year.

The State Board of Charities at its meeting in Albany, Wednesday, adopted resolutions of regret over the resignation of Mr. Philbin as a member of that board. "Mr. Philbin entered the board possessed of unusual qualifications for efficient service," states the resolution. "His trained judgment and judicial mind gave weight to his opinion on all legal questions that came before the board. He rendered a conspicuous public service by his unselfish assumption in an emergency of the Chairmanship of a special committee charged with an important and difficult investigation. The board's sense of loss at his retirement is tempered only by the knowledge that his resignation was due to the acceptance of a call from the Governor to the high and responsible position of District Attorney."

Pierce N. Poole, the bond clerk of the District Attorney's office, said yesterday that Mr. Philbin had instructed him to require every surety to produce information issued by some well-known title guarantee company as to the name of the person holding the property offered as security, on the day when bail is given. The entire amount of forfeited bail bonds remaining uncollected is said to be in the neighborhood of $1,000,000, and Mr. Philbin does not desire to have the amount increased during his incumbency.

STOLE PREACHER'S OVERCOAT.

Bold Thief Robs the Rev. Dr. Babcock in the Presence of Many Persons.

Detectives of the West Thirtieth Street Station are looking for a bold sneak thief who stole a beaver overcoat worth from the Rev. Dr. Maltbie D. Babcock in full view of a large number of the congregation which attended services at the Marble Collegiate Church, at Fifth Avenue and Twenty-ninth Street, last Monday afternoon. The very coolness of the fellow led to his success, for he deliberately picked up the overcoat from where it lay and then tried on Dr. Babcock's glossy silk hat which had been left near, but, finding that it did not fit him, put it back and retained his own hat. Then he walked out with the passing throng and was soon lost in the streets.

Dr. Babcock is pastor of the Brick Church, at Fifth Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street, but officiated in the Marble Church at the opening service of the week of prayer. He entered the church by the door in the side street, which was used by many at this service, and laid his outer garments on the piano in the schoolroom. That he did not discover the thief was due to the fact that he remained at the foot of the pulpit conversing with some members of the congregation, though had he looked behind him at the right moment he might have seen the thief at work.

The man had been observed by many during the service sitting well forward and apparently paying strict attention to all that passed. He was a large man and quite well dressed, about thirty-five years old, with a heavy brown mustache. The police suspect him of being guilty of several similar thefts which have been brought to their notice in the same precinct.

WALKED OFF WITH FOLDING BED.

Bernstein Took Furniture Store Display and Was Held for Theft.

Joseph Bernstein of 61 Bowery, passing Broome and Essex Streets on Thursday evening, suddenly seized a folding bed which was on exhibition before a furniture store temptingly marked to be sold at a ruinous sacrifice. Bernstein had not walked far with the bed, however, before he was overtaken by Policeman Ryan of the Eldridge Street Station and arrested.

Bernstein tried to explain that he had been employed by a man with a red beard to take the bed to an address he was not positive about, and that he had not the slightest idea that it had been stolen. In the Essex Market Court yesterday morning Magistrate Brann rejected the story about the bearded man and held Bernstein for trial in Special Sessions.

ALLEGED INSURANCE FRAUD.

Deputy Regent of the Royal Arcanum Arrested at New Haven.

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 11.—Charles H. Boylan, a Deputy Regent of the Royal Arcanum, was arrested this afternoon for forgery in attempting to secure payment of a death benefit of $3,000 on an alleged false application for membership.

According to the police, a man named Fannon was initiated into the local council last Spring, but, although his dues were paid regularly by Boylan, he did not attend any of the meetings. On Oct. 15 last Boylan informed the council that Fannon had died in New York four days previous of injuries received in the Galveston flood, and attempted to collect the benefit for a woman named in the policy.

Investigation did not support Boylan's story, and the arrest followed.

DEAN OF BARNARD COLLEGE.

Miss Laura D. Gill Appointed to Succeed Mrs. George Haven Putnam.

A regular meeting of the Board of Trustees of Barnard College was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Abram S. Hewitt. Mrs. Henry Munn was elected a Trustee.

The vacancy in the Deanship, which had existed since the resignation of Mrs. George Haven Putnam, January, 1900, was filled by President Low's appointment of Miss Laura D. Gill, A. B., A. M., a graduate of Smith College.

Miss Gill studied in the public schools of Brooklyn, Mass.; Smith College, Leipsic University, University of Genoa, and one year in the Sorbonne in Paris. She took a special course in philosophy under Prof. Garman of Amherst, and has spent much time in special studies of mathematics and mathematical astronomy.

During the Cuban war Miss Gill served as a nurse, and since that war had been the representative of the Cuban Orphan Society in Cuba.

Tufts College Alumni Dinner.

The sixth annual dinner of the Tufts College Alumni Association of New York will be held at the Hotel Savoy next Thursday evening. President Austin B. Fletcher will preside. Other speakers will be Elmer H. Capen, President of Tufts College, whose subject will be "Educational Portents in the New Century"; Prof. Charles E. Fay, "The College"; Hosea M. Knowlton, Attorney General of Massachusetts, "What an Organized Alumni Can Do for the College"; Benjamin H. Hinds, "Reminiscences of Early Days"; Tabor Ashton of Philadelphia, "The Random Remarks of a Sixty-niner," and the Rev. Dr. J. Coleman Adams, "Scintillations."

Silk Mills Sold Under Foreclosure.

The Rhenania Silk Mills at College Point, Queens, have been sold under foreclosure at the Long Island City Court House, to satisfy a judgment of the Manhattan Life Insurance Company, to whom the property was knocked down for $10,000. The original cost of the mills was over $100,000. The mills have been closed since the failure of their owner, Hugo Funke, more than a year ago. At one time 400 hands were employed and more than 100 looms operated in the mills.

Ten Years' Sentence for Spellman.

Otto Spellman, a pianomaker, of 342 East Seventy-sixth Street, yesterday was sentenced to ten years' imprisonment in Sing Sing by Justice Fursman, in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, for killing William Willow in a fight at Doll's piano factory, where both were employed, on Nov. 13 last. Spellman and Willow quarreled, and Willow was struck on the head with a "skid" and sustained a fatal injury.

R. H. Macy & Co.'s Attractions Are Their Low Prices.

Macy's

Both Sides 14 St. from 13th to 15th. 6th Av.

Our ad in yesterday's papers was filled with extraordinary values—and the rain didn't stop a minute. That's why the same goods are still on sale.

THE TARRANT FIRE VERDICT

President Main and W. G. B. Powers Held Responsible by Coroner.

Official Also Orders the Two Men to Appear Before Him and Furnish Bail.

Thomas F. Msin, President, and W. G. B. Powers, a member of the drug firm of Tarrant & Co., were found liable, by a jury before Coroner Bausch yesterday, for the death of seven persons killed in the fire and subsequent explosions which wrecked their premises on Oct. 29 last.

Coroner Bausch directed their counsel to bring both men before him at 11 o'clock today, in order that they might be admitted to $5,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury. Assistant District Attorney Walsh, who has the case in charge, states that the matter will be presented to the Grand Jury at once.

H. M. Kirkland, Superintendent of the firm of McKesson & Robbins, testified yesterday that his firm had stored in the Tarrant Building 245 barrels of sulphur and 45 barrels of chlorate of potash. "Did you know that under the law only 1,000 pounds of sulphur could be stored in a building?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"I supposed Tarrant & Co. had a proper permit."

Henry S. Chatfield of Rogers & Pyatt said his firm had about 644 kegs of chlorate of potash, each containing 112 pounds, stored in the building at the time of the fire. Patrick Martin, the elevator man, said that he had taken 14 barrels of sulphur to the third floor several days before the fire. "Didn't you swear before the Fire Marshal that you took those barrels to the fourth floor?" asked Mr. Walsh. "No." The witness's testimony before the Marshal was read to him.

George S. Murray, Inspector of Combustibles, admitted that after a permit is secured, there is no way to prevent dealers from increasing combustible stores in their buildings. The first explosion, the Inspector thought, might have been a dust explosion, which threw the hot debris on the dry chemicals, causing the subsequent explosions.

Coroner Bausch, addressing the jury, said that it had been impossible to throw light on the origin of the fire, but that it had been shown to have started on the fourth floor.

Alfred Ely, counsel for Tarrant & Co., asked that the jury be charged that the death of the seven persons was not caused by an explosion of sulphur, as Inspector Murray had said it might have been caused by a "back draught." "Inspector Murray had several theories," said the Coroner.

The jury deliberated half an hour, and then handed up the following verdict:

"The said seven persons came to their death on the 29th of October at 273 Greenwich Street by inelneration caused at the time and place aforesaid, as the result of an explosion and fire. We find that the said explosion was caused by the storage of combustible chemicals in excess of the quantities permitted by law, and we hold Tarrant & Co. criminally responsible for the deaths of the deceased." Coroner Bausch said that in view of the verdict it was his duty to hold the members of the firm of Tarrant & Co., and he directed their counsel to produce Thomas F. Main and William G. B. Powers to-day, when he would accept their bail in the sum of $5,000 each. Mr. Ely said that Mr. Powers, not being actively identified with the firm, could not be held. The Coroner replied that Mr. Powers shared in the profits resulting from the illegal storage of explosives in the building, and he would therefore hold him with President Main.

SECRECY ABOUT NEW TAX BILL.

Details of Proposed Measure Withheld by President Feitner.

A conference was held in the office of President Feitner of the Department of Taxes yesterday about a new tax bill. President Feitner would not give out any information about the proposed bill. He said that the details were being discussed and that it would be some time before a draft of the proposed law could be made public. It is settled that provision will be made in the bill for the city to collect more taxes each year on personal property.

The Personal Tax bill introduced in the Legislature by Senator Wagner, proposing a tax on personal property without reference to the residence of the property owner, does not meet with the approval of the Department of Taxes. President Feitner said yesterday that he did not favor the Wagner bill, but would not discuss the details.

Rock Island Acquires Another Road.

Special to The New York Times.

FORT DODGE, Iowa, Jan. 11.—A deed transferring the Gowrie and Northwestern Railway, running from Gowrie, in Webster County, to a junction with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern, at Sibley, to the Rock Island, was recorded today. The consideration was $1,479,245. A mortgage to the Central Trust Company of New York was simultaneously filed by the Rock Island.

THE WEATHER.

LOCAL FORECAST.—Clearing following snow or rain, wind north to northwest.

The disturbance has slightly increased in energy, and was central last night over Southeastern Virginia; another disturbance was central over the Canadian Northwest. Clearing weather is indicated for the Northeastern section of the country, except New England, where snow or rain will continue. Local snows are also indicated for portions of the Northwest. Lower temperatures are indicated generally for the Middle Atlantic, South Atlantic, and East Gulf States, and the Ohio Valley, and higher temperatures in the extreme Northwest. Brisk to high northeasterly winds, shifting to northwesterly, are indicated for the New England Coast, brisk to high northwesterly winds on the Middle Atlantic Coast, and fresh to brisk winds, generally westerly, on the South Atlantic Coast. Storm warnings are displayed on the Atlantic Coast from Hatteras to Eastport.

The record of temperature for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from THE NEW YORK TIMES'S thermometer and from the thermometer of the Weather Bureau is as follows:

	—Weather Bureau—		—TIMES.
	1900.	1901.	1901.
3 A. M.	38	37	37
6 A. M.	36	37	36
9 A. M.	38	36	37
12 M.	44	35	36
4 P. M.	41	36	37
6 P. M.	37	36	37
9 P. M.	32	36	37
12 P. M.	28	35	37

THE TIMES'S thermometer is 6 feet above the street level; that of the Weather Bureau is 285 feet above the street level.

Average temperatures yesterday were as follows:

Printing House Square	36¾
Weather Bureau	36
Corresponding date 1900	37
Corresponding date for last twenty-five years	29

At 6 A. M. the barometer registered 30.05 inches, and at 8 P. M. 29.83 inches. The humidity at 8 A. M. was 80 per cent., and at 8 P. M. 96 per cent. The maximum temperature was 37 degrees at 6 P. M., and the minimum 35 degrees at 3 P. M.

TILDEN CLUB'S ADDRESS

Calls on All Democrats to Cooperate with It.

Temporary Headquarters Secured in the Sherman Square Hotel—Board of Directors Chosen.

The Tilden Club, formed to take an active part in National, State, and municipal politics, held an organization meeting last evening in the Sherman Square Hotel. A Board of Directors was chosen and an address was issued to the voters as follows:

"The Tilden Club has been organized for the purpose of promulgating Democratic principles and promoting Democratic success. It is not simply a local club, and its purpose is to participate in campaigns, National, State, and municipal. It will furnish a rendezvous for Democrats who believe in the principles of the party as enunciated by its founders and maintained and advocated by a long line of illustrious statesmen.

"In recent years there have been introduced into the party platforms certain policies and principles of government believed by many to be hostile to the fundamental principles of sound Democracy. Whatever may be the opinion of individual Democrats concerning these policies and principles, upon one thing all must agree: they have been rejected by the people, and have alienated many thousands of our citizens who had theretofore given to the party their loyal support.

"Under these circumstances we believe the time has come for Democrats to unite, seeking unity of force and purpose in those traditional and accepted tenets of the party for the exercise of which the present condition of our National affairs furnishes such abundant opportunity. Unless this is done, we must expect to see the Democratic Party continue in a hopeless minority. Our aim is to avoid this; to restore to the party its sword and shield, and to place it before the people clothed in familiar raiment, fearless and aggressive.

"To all Democrats to whom these views appeal, and especially to those who believe that the present Democratic organization in this city does not, in local affairs at least, fairly represent the patriotic and unselfish Democratic citizens of this great city, we extend a cordial invitation to cooperate with us.

"The club has secured temporary headquarters at the Sherman Square Hotel until suitable repairs can be made to its clubhouse. Applications for membership may be addressed to George A. Heaney, Secretary, Sherman Square Hotel."

The following will compose the Board of Directors: Lewis H. Spense, Herbert J. Davis, William H. Duckworth, Robert E. Dowling, Miles M. Dawson, William A. Barber, Jacob A. Cantor, Henry D. F. Hotchkiss, Perez M. Stewart, Nathaniel Shaw, Jr., James R. Ely, and William Arrowsmith.

It was decided at the meeting last evening to rent a house on Seventy-second Street, which will be handsomely furnished.

City Democracy's Plans.

A meeting of the City Democracy, organized by ex-Sheriff O'Brien to fight the domination of Richard Croker as a political leader, held a meeting last evening. It was arranged to open a Harlem headquarters in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street, and two members from each Assembly district up town will form a committee to perfect all the details of local organization.

PARK FOR EASTERN BROOKLYN.

Aldermen's Committee Favors Plan to Relieve Congested District.

The Committee on Parks of the Board of Aldermen held a public hearing yesterday on the proposed park in the Eastern District of Brooklyn. The Rev. Dr. Ivie spoke in favor of establishing the park, and told of the need of the thousands of poor people in the tenements of the district for some recreation place. The ground proposed to be taken for the park includes 600 city lots. The cost would be about $600,000.

There was no opposition to the park plan, and it was said that a favorable report would be made at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen next week. Senator McCarren has been active in trying to get the park plan through the Municipal Assembly.

AT THE HOTELS.

WALDORF-ASTORIA—Antonio Lazo Arriaga, Guatemalan Minister to the United States, Washington; Samuel H. Cramp, Philadelphia.

HOLLAND—J. Sloat Fassett, Elmira; J. H. Eckels, Chicago; Butler Ames, Lowell.

MURRAY HILL—E. Anderson, United States Army.

VICTORIA—William S. Cox, Mayor of Omaha.

GRAND—Col. S. M. Mansfield, United States Army; W. H. Coffin, United States Army.

GILSEY—Col. William H. Powell, United States Army.

STURTEVANT—Titus Sheard, Little Falls, N. Y.

FIFTH AVENUE—Ex-Gov. A. B. White, West Virginia; George H. Bridgman, Consul of the United States at La Paz, Mexico.

ARRIVAL OF BUYERS.

Representatives of Out-of-Town Firms Now in the City.

Sanger Brothers, Dallas, Texas; I. Newburger, woolens and boys' and children's clothing; L. A. Michelson, boys' and children's clothing, 9 Walker Street.

Macauley Bros., Detroit; Mich.; A. H. Macauley, millinery; Criterion Hotel.

Greenebaum, I., & Co., Baltimore, Md.; M. Greenebaum, clothing; Herald Square Hotel.

Hecht Brothers & Co., Baltimore, Md.; M. G. Hecht, dry goods; Herald Square Hotel.

Heiser, Muhlfelder & Co., Albany, N. Y.; D. Muhlfelder, dry goods; Hotel Imperial.

Topp, Leathers & Co., Charlotte, N. C.; J. L. Topp, dry goods; G. B. Carter, dry goods; St. Denis Hotel.

Hutzler, A., & Sons, Richmond, Va.; I. Hutzler, dry goods; Hotel Marlborough.

Michaels Brothers, Athens, Ga.; M. G. Michaels, dry goods; Hotel Marlborough.

Waldman Brothers, Albany, N. Y.; L. Waldman, cloaks; Hotel Imperial.

Schlesinger & Mayer, Chicago, Ill.; D. Mayer, dress goods; 377 Broadway; Holland House.

Rice-Stix Dry Goods Company, St. Louis, Mo.; A. K. Wilson, woolens; 55 Franklin Street; Park Avenue Hotel.

Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago, Ill.; D. Pease, domestics; 115 Worth Street.

Jones & Audette, Jamestown, N. Y.; C. L. Audette, dry goods; Broadway Central Hotel.

Bearse, Murphy & Co., Portland, Me.; T. J. Murphy, notions and fancy goods; Broadway Central Hotel.

McKillot-Smith Company, Burlington, Vt.; W. C. Reynolds, carpets; Hotel Normandie.

Hart & Co., Cleveland, Ohio; E. L. Hart, millinery; F. W. Hart, millinery; 621 Broadway; Murray Hill Hotel.

Ellis, A. C., & Co., Pittsburg, Penn.; R. J. Geddes, millinery; Broadway Central Hotel.

Porter, J. J., & Co., Pittsburg, Penn.; J. J. Porter, millinery; Broadway Central Hotel.

Syracuse Dry Goods Company, Syracuse, N. Y.; G. B. Williams, hosiery; C. J. Barnard, domestics; 51 Leonard Street; Hotel Manhattan.

LOSSES BY FIRE.

LITCHFIELD, Conn., Jan. 11.—The Lakeside Inn, situated on the northern shore of Bantam Lake, was totally destroyed by fire to-day. The hotel was valued at $10,000.

SYRACUSE, Jan. 11.—The Crouse block, one of the largest apartment buildings in the city, was damaged by fire this evening to the extent of $10,000.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES.

(From 12 o'clock Thursday night until 12 o'clock Friday night.)

7:10 A. M.—1,470 Second Avenue; David Carr; damage, $10.

4:20 P. M.—66 East One Hundred and Twenty-second Street; Sigmund Katz; damage, $2.

5:15 P. M.—289 Mott Street; Antonio Milo; damage, $5.

5:25 P. M.—340 St. Ann's Avenue; George Condler; damage, $10.

8:40 P. M.—62 Stanton Street; Samuel Stone; damage, slight.

9:45 P. M.—176 Madison Avenue; Joseph Beckstein; damage, slight.

11:15 P. M.—302 East Fiftieth Street; Frederica D. Katz; damage, $50.

11:21 P. M.—354 East Forty-first Street; James Fulton; damage, $10.

SHIPPING AND FOREIGN MAILS.

Miniature Almanac—This Day.

A. M.	P. M.	A. M.
Sun rises...7:23	Sun sets...4:54	Moon rises...

High Water This Day.

A. M.	A. M.	P. M.
S. Hook..12:34	Gov. Isl'd...1:00	H. Gate...2:56
P. M.	P. M.	A. M.
S. Hook..12:37	Gov. Isl'd..12:51	H. Gate...2:47

Outgoing Steamships.

TO-DAY, (SATURDAY,) JAN. 12.

	Mails Close.	Vessels Sail.
Andes, Haiti	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:30 A. M.
Arabistan, Argentina	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
Athos, Fortune Island, &c	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:30 A. M.
Buffalo, Hull
Cap Frio, Hamburg		10:00 A. M.
Comus, New Orleans		2:00 P. M.
Curityba, Matanzas, &c.	12:30 P. M.	2:00 P. M.
Fornessia, Glasgow	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Jefferson, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Kaiserin Maria Theresia, Naples	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Menominee, London		9:00 A. M.
Mercator, Progreso	10:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Mexico, Havana	10:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
Nueces, Galveston		3:00 P. M.
Philadelphia, San Juan, &c	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
	*9:30 A. M.
Potsdam, Rotterdam	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Sardinian, Glasgow		9:00 A. M.
Seminole, Charleston		3:00 P. M.
Servia, Queenstown	6:30 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

MONDAY, JAN. 14.

Guyandotte, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.

TUESDAY, JAN. 15.

City of Washington, Colon	9:30 A. M.	1:00 P. M.
	*10:30 A. M.
Dominic, Northern Brazil	12:00 M.	2:00 P. M.
Hamilton, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Iroquois, Charleston		3:00 P. M.
Mae, San Juan	9:00 A. M.	11:00 A. M.
Trave, Bremen	8:00 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*9:30 A. M.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16.

Comal, Galveston		3:00 P. M.
Germanic, Liverpool	8:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:00 A. M.
Havana, Havana	12:00 M.	3:00 P. M.
Lauenburg, Inagua and Haiti	9:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
Noordland, Antwerp, via Southampton	8:30 A. M.	12:00 M.
	*10:00 A. M.
Princess Anne, Norfolk		3:00 P. M.
Trinidad, Bermuda	8:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.

THURSDAY, JAN. 16.

La Champagne, Havre	7:00 A. M.	10:00 A. M.
Santiago, Santiago, &c	12:00 M.	3:00 P. M.
	*12:30 P. M.

*SUPPLEMENTARY MAILS.—Additional supplementary mails are opened on the piers of the American, English, French, and German steamers and remain open until within ten minutes of the hour of sailing.

TRANSPACIFIC MAILS.

Mails for China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via Tacoma, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to January 13, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Glenogle. Mails for China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via Tacoma, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 15, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Olympia. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia,) New Zealand, Hawaii, Fiji, and Samoan Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Jan. 6 and up to Jan. 19, inclusive, or on day of arrival of steamer Campania, due at New York Jan. 19, for dispatch per steamer Sonoma. Mails for Hawaii, China, Japan, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 10, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Hongkong Maru. Mails for China and Japan, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 22, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Empress of Japan, (registered mail must be directed "via Vancouver.") Mails for Hawaii, Japan, China, and Philippine Islands, via San Francisco, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. up to Jan. 27, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer China. Mails for Australia, (except West Australia, which goes via Europe, and New Zealand, which goes via San Francisco,) and Fiji Islands, via Vancouver, close here daily at 6:30 P. M. after Jan. 10, and up to Feb. 2, inclusive, for dispatch per steamer Aorangi, (supplementary mails, via Seattle, close at 6:30 P. M. Feb. 3.)

Transpacific mails are forwarded to port of sailing daily and the schedule of closing is arranged on the presumption of their uninterrupted overland transit. §Registered mail closes at 6 P. M. previous day.

POST OFFICE NOTICE.

Postmaster Van Cott announces that the mails from China, Japan, and Hawaii of the following dates, Hongkong, Dec. 11; Shanghai, Dec. 15; Yokohama, Dec. 22, and Honolulu, Jan. 1, which arrived at San Francisco per steamer Gaelic, were dispatched east at 6 P. M. Jan. 8, and are due in New York to-morrow morning, and that the mails from China and Japan, which arrived at Vancouver and were dispatched east on Jan. 9, are due in New York on the morning of Jan. 14.

Incoming Steamships.

TO-DAY, (SATURDAY,) JAN. 12.

California, Gibraltar, Dec. 26.
Cevic, Liverpool, Dec. 30.
Circassian Prince, Shields, Dec. 24.
Elwick, Huelva, Dec. 22.
Fontabelle, St. Kitts, Jan. 7.
Hiso, Bordeaux, Dec. 22.
Koehn, Bremen, Dec. 30.
Liv. Algiers, Dec. 18.
Marengo, New Castle, Dec. 25.
Max, Dantzic, Dec. 23.
Nicola II., Copenhagen, Dec. 26.
Noordland, Antwerp, Dec. 31.
Pocasset, Gibraltar, Dec. 27.
Ponce, San Juan, Jan. 1.
Princess Anne, Norfolk, Jan. 11.
Puritan, Hamburg, Dec. 23.
Ranza, Algiers, Dec. 26.
Sardinian, Glasgow, Dec. 27.
Umbria, Liverpool, Jan. 5.
Woodburn, St. Michael's, Jan. 1.

SUNDAY, JAN. 13.

El Paso, New Orleans, Jan. 8.
Guyandotte, Norfolk, Jan. 12.
La Champagne, Havre, Jan. 5.
Lady Joicy, Sunderland, Dec. 24.
Norge, Christiansand, Dec. 31.
Ohio, Hull, Jan. 1.
Phoenicia, Hamburg, Jan. 1.

MONDAY, JAN. 14.

Columbia, Gibraltar, Jan. 6.
Boston City, Swansea, Dec. 30.
Jeanne, Port au Prince, Jan. 8.
Louisiana, New Orleans, Jan. 9.
Marquette, London, Jan. 3.

TUESDAY, JAN. 15.

Advance, Colon, Jan. 8.
Canadian, Liverpool, Jan. 3.
Georgic, Liverpool, Jan. 5.
Hubert, Para, Jan. 3.
Jamestown, Norfolk, Jan. 14.
Lampasas, Galveston, Jan. 9.
Maracaibo, Curacao, Jan. 7.
Ohio, Hull, Jan. 1.
Spaarndam, Rotterdam, Jan. 3.

PREVIOUS TO REMOVAL
to 5th Avenue and 37th Street,

Davis Collamore & Co. Ltd

WILL CONTINUE THE SALE, AT REDUCED PRICES, OF THEIR MAGNIFICENT STOCK OF

FINE TABLE CHINA AND GLASSWARE, ORNAMENTAL AND USEFUL ARTICLES.

BARGAINS IN EVERY DEPARTMENT.

Patrons are respectfully requested to come as early in the day as possible to ensure good attention.

BROADWAY AND TWENTY-FIRST ST.

The world-wide appreciation accorded

"CANADIAN CLUB" WHISKY

is the best testimony as to its intrinsic merit. Its delicate flavour and unmistakable aroma have made it the desired whisky of the connoisseur everywhere.

s6

Arrived.

SS Mae, McDonald, Arroyo, &c., Jan. 2, with mdse. to New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company. Arrived at the Bar at 9 A. M.

SS Germanic, (Br.,) Haddock, Liverpool, Jan. 2, and Queenstown, 3d, with mdse. and passengers to the White Star Line. Arrived at the Bar at 1:57 A. M.

SS Energie, (Ger.,) Thalen, Hamburg, Dec. 22, in ballast to Philip Ruprecht. Arrived at the Bar at 1 A. M.

SS Ciudad de Cadiz, (Span.,) Oyarbide, Genoa, &c., Dec. 22, with mdse. and passengers to J. M. Ceballos & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 2 A. M.

SS Powhatan, (Br.,) Harnden, Palermo, &c., Dec. 16, with mdse. to Phelps Brothers & Co. Arrived at the Bar at 8 A. M.

SS Gwent, (Nor.,) Titland, Port Antonio, &c., Jan. 2, with fruit and passengers to the United Fruit Company. Arrived at the Bar at 3 A. M.

SS Begonia, (Br.,) Smith, Port Natal, &c., Dec. 7, in ballast to North & Son. Arrived at the Bar at 1 A. M.

SS Kirn Bleddyn, (Br.,) Liddle, Laguna, &c., Dec. 18, with mdse. to W. D. Munson. Arrived at the Bar at 5 A. M.

SS Rotterdam, (Dutch,) Voege, Rotterdam, Dec

The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store The Wanamaker Store

Men's PERCALE SHIRTS

3 for $1---Worth a Dollar Apiece!

This is a startling announcement. And it is just as remarkable as the figures indicate. It is the wind-up of a vast purchase of Shirts which we sold by the thousands at sixty cents apiece. Now we have put together all that were left from both sales in New York and Philadelphia, and find that all regular sizes are here; as well as a very wide variety of patterns to choose from. Not a shirt in the lot is worth less than a dollar. Many dollar shirts are not so well made as these. There are to-day five hundred and sixty-four dozens to pick from, at the most remarkable price for which really excellent shirts were ever sold—

35c each---Three for $1

Shown to-day on special counters in the Ninth street aisle.

Also this companion offering for Men—

600 SCARFS worth $1 to $2.50 at 50c Each

This is a clean-up of odd lots of fine imported and domestic Scarfs left from our holiday selling. The group includes English Squares and Imperials, in dark shades of fine fancy silks. It is a splendid collection; but they'll likely be sold out in a jiffy.

A Personal Note to the Readers of Our ADVERTISING

A new century is here, and while the days seem much the same as the last days of the Nineteenth Century, yet they indicate advancement in the world's years, and demand progress in all lines of effort.

We want the Wanamaker advertising to be the best in the world. And by "best" we mean to have it give to our readers just the news they wish to hear, in just the way they want to hear it. We have no way of knowing your private opinion; yet your individual good opinion is vital to this store's success. We spend a vast sum of money annually to interest you in this store through our advertising, and we would like to use the space we buy in the newspapers in the way that would be most valuable to you.

We believe that our store news is as important as stock reports and fashion news; for it is both, when rightly done. But we would like to add your ideas to ours, in so far as a change in method would prove of value to you.

What is lacking in the Wanamaker advertising that you would like to see in it? What exists in the Wanamaker advertising which is of no interest to you and might be omitted?

We request your reply to these questions only because by helping us, we believe we can help you. The aim of the Wanamaker Store is not only to be constantly the best server of public needs in merchandise; but to be better and better every day and hour. We want it to be as near your ideal of a store as it can be made. We want to incorporate as many of your ideas as are practicable in order to make our service constantly better and better for you.

If convenient for you to do so, we will appreciate very highly your frank criticisms and suggestions.

Please address letters to

JOHN WANAMAKER,
Advertising Office. New York.

Prince Albert COATS and Vests

This word to good dressers—men who wish to be correct in every detail of dress. We wish them to know this line particularly. A great many know it, to their perfect satisfaction. And the list is steadily growing.

We'll fit anybody from these stocks. Don't imagine that because you're unusually stout, or exceptionally tall, or because you differ in any way from the average man, that we won't be able to give you a perfect fit. It shall be correct, or you shall not have the garments at any price.

And as to prices—you cannot be other than pleased at ours. Some fine coats and vests of black Thibet, serge lined, at $20—silk lined, at $25. And some of imported black vicuna, silk lined, of course, at $35.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

Boys' Clothing

A single announcement seems to be sufficient to turn over these various odd lots to other hands. They've been finding a great many of these little incomplete lines and making them so surprisingly low that the end of bargains of this sort is not in sight. The rummaging is almost over, but there are still these very excellent values for to-day. May find a few after these, but none better:

$3.25—Good $6 suits. Double-breasted coats; all wool; silk-sewed; splendid school suits for boys of 9 to 16 years.

$5—Three-piece suits for 9 to 16-year boys; double-breasted vests; pure wool cheviots. Value $7.50 and $8.

$5—Fifty high-grade reefers; fine kerseys and cheviots; stylish, durable; sizes 3 to 8 years. Values up to $10.

$9—Raglans and other topcoats of Oxford frieze and Cambridge cheviot; very fine garments for boys of 6 to 16 years. Values $12 to $15.

Second floor, Ninth street.

SHEET MUSIC

Everything that is new and popular; as well as standard and classic music. A most complete collection. All the sheet music known as the fifty-cent sort—though never sold at that price—is here regularly at

Eighteen Cents

This brief list of titles:

Songs—
The Spider and the Fly. Von Tilzer.
Mr. Dingy, Don't be Stingy. Jones.
Pansy. Smith.
He's Laid on the Shelf. Arnold and Boorum.
Paddy's Cat. Chauncey Olcott.
My Dinah. Perrin.
Day by Day. Tony Stanford.
The Game of Eyes. Brill.
It's Just Because I Love You So. J. B. Davis.
I've a Longing in My Heart for You, Louise. C. K. Harris.
When Sousa Leads the Band. Horwitz and Bower.
You Needn't Say the Kisses Came From Me. Carter.
My Sunflower Sue. Bratton.

Songs—
I Am Waiting Here for Julia. Rowley.
All I Want is Ma Chickens. Deas and Wilson.
You're Just the Girl for Me. Havez.
My Charcoal Charmer. Gus Edwards.
Just My Little Yaller Boy and Me. Carter.

Instrumental—
Richard Carvel (march). Furst.
Ragtime Reveries. Carter.
Blue Ribbon (march). Morse.
Mississippi Side-step. Berliner.
Lion Tamer (march). Berliner.
Comedy King (two-step). Hirst.
Polly (waltzes). Morse.
Lily of the Nile (waltzes). Berliner.
Ace of Spades (march). Berliner.
Hannah's Promenade. Ellis.

A piano to try these pieces on, in the section next to the Underprice store. Basement.

CALENDARS

There are 27 kinds still remaining. All beautifully lithographed. Prices were 10c to 45c—very moderately priced at those figures. Choice now at 5c and 10c.

Book Store, Ninth street.

Formerly
A. T. Stewart & Co.

Parlor CABINETS

To-day's particular word from the sale of Parlor Furniture is about parlor cabinets at very positive price-concessions. Quite a number of very choice designs comprise the offering, which should be highly attractive to every housekeeper.

There is still a good assortment of the reduced parlor suites and odd chairs and divans, prices of which have already been quoted. These hints of the cabinets:

Parlor Cabinets—
At $23, from $42—Mahogany with inlaid lines.
At $30, from $46—Mahogany inlaid.
At $32.50, from $55—Mahogany; mirror back and glass shelves.
At $35, from $48—Mahogany; inlaid lines.
At $36, from $55—Vernis-martin.
At $40, from $55—Mahogany; mirror back and glass shelves.
At $42.50, from $56—Vernis-martin.

Parlor Cabinets—
At $45, from $67.50—Vernis-martin.
At $55, from $85—Vernis-martin.
At $57.50, from $80—Mahogany; hand-painted decorations.
At $60, from $100—Vernis-martin.
At $60, from $92—Mahogany; hand-painted decorations.
At $75, from $125—Vernis-martin; hand-painted decorations.
At $95, from $140—Gold.

Music Cabinets—
At $16, from $25—Mahogany; 5 drawers.
At $22, from $35—Mahogany inlaid.
At $25, from $40—Mahogany; hand-painted decorations.
At $25, from $40—Mahogany inlaid.
At $28, from $40—Mahogany; medallion decorations.
At $35, from $55—Vernis-martin.
At $60, from $80—Vernis-martin.

Fourth floor.

Clean-up Sale of GIRLS' COATS

Our entire splendid stock of foreign and domestic Coats for girls is included in this sweeping price reduction. This means all styles, of course, that are made for girls of 6 to 16 years. Full-length, three-quarter and box coats in all of the season's best shades and fabrics—all made in the smart and stylish way that is essential to all coats that wish to gain admittance to this stock.

These are the new prices:

At $7.50—Coats worth $10 to $15
At $10 —Coats worth $16 to $20
At $15—Coats worth $21 to $25
At $20—Coats worth $27.50 to $30

Second floor, Ninth street.

MUSLIN UNDERWEAR

Those who take pains to know, tell us that there is no such collection of muslin garments elsewhere in Greater New York. That while there are to be found a few isolated items here and there that seem to approach some of ours, that there is nowhere any attempt to equal the variety; nowhere are the garments so refined and attractive; nowhere are they kept so clean and orderly.

All this is so because we make it so. The sale is great because a great principle is behind it. These price-hints:

Night Gowns—
75c—Of muslin; yoke of 4 rows of lace and cluster of plaits; neck and sleeves trimmed with torchon lace.
85c—Of cambric; square neck, trimmed with lawn ruffle and edged with torchon lace.
$1—Of cambric; Empire style; trimmed with hemstitched lawn ruffle and insertion.
$1.25—Of cambric; high neck; yoke of 4 rows of insertion and cluster of plaits; neck and sleeves trimmed with embroidery.
Other styles, 38c to $8.

Corset Covers—
25c—Of cambric; square neck, trimmed with hemstitched lawn ruffle.
50c—Of cambric; square neck, trimmed with point de Paris lace and insertion and ribbon.
Other styles, up to $3.75.

Drawers—
35c—Of muslin, with deep lawn ruffle; plaited and hemstitched hem.
50c—Of cambric; trimmed with ruffle of neat embroidery and plaits.
75c—Of cambric, with deep lawn ruffle, trimmed with Valenciennes lace and insertions.
Other styles, 15c to $4.25.

Short Petticoats—
35c—Of muslin; deep ruffle of cambric; plain hem, hemstitched.
50c—Of muslin; trimmed with embroidery ruffle and plaits above.
75c—Of cambric, with deep ruffle of lawn, trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.
Other styles, 25c to $2.75.

Chemises—
50c—Of cambric; round neck, trimmed with torchon lace and insertion.
75c—Of cambric; round neck, trimmed with embroidery and insertion.
$1—Of nainsook; round neck, trimmed with Valenciennes lace, embroidery and ribbon.
Other styles, 25c to $4.50.

Petticoats—
50c—Of muslin; umbrella ruffle of cambric; plain hem, and plaits above.
85c—Of cambric; trimmed with 2 ruffles of lawn, and Valenciennes lace.
$1—Of cambric, with deep lawn ruffle; plain hem hemstitched, and plaits above.
$1.25—Of cambric, with deep lawn ruffle, trimmed with torchon lace, insertion and plaits.
Other styles, 35c to $15.

The JACKETS That the Rain Left

Busy yesterday; but not busy enough to affect the variety of these under-priced coats in this stock-righting sale.

Our entire stock is included—every sort of coat, all styles, all fabrics, all colors, all grades. These are our choicest, latest styles. Nobody has, or has had, smarter or better made garments at their regular prices; yet these are the prices now:

At $6—Jackets worth up to $15
At $10—Jackets worth up to $18
At $13.50—Jackets worth up to $26
At $25—Jackets worth up to $43
At $20—Velour Jackets worth up to $35
At $40—Velour Jackets worth up to $75
At $60—Velour Jackets worth up to $100

Also a group of smart and handsome Newmarkets—
At $25, from $30 to $43.50.

Second floor, Broadway.

JOHN WANAMAKER

Paris Notes from the office of JOHN WANAMAKER

44, RUE DES PETITES-ECURIES,
PARIS, December 24, 1900.

The aspect of the "carnet mondain" gives every indication of lively doings in society at this Christmas time. Many dinner and theatre parties are being given at this moment and the races are more fashionably attended than ever, unusually so for December. There was a very large attendance at the Auteuil Steeplechases last Sunday, when the pesage was crowded with many elegantly dressed Parisiennes. Among them was the Princess Murat, gowned in a chic costume of violet panne; the corsage and skirt, incrusted with a light mauve cloth, was embroidered in black and gold and trimmed with chinchilla fur. Panne is in very great favor just now and is worn by all the smartest "grandes dames." The Comtesse Le Marois wore black panne, braided with black and gold, together with a handsome ermine and broadtail pelerine. The Marquise de Noe was becomingly dressed in mordore "drap de zibeline," the bolero corsage and skirt strapped with gold-embroidered brown velvet and sable. Another "drap de zibeline" gown was in a pretty reseda shade. The skirt opened slightly on either side, showing a plaiting strapped by narrow black and gold cords, and small buttons. The corsage, having a very high ceinture of white panne, studded with gold and a gold buckle in front, had a shoulder pelerine of ermine incrusted on to points of guipure: this was caught together in front by a heavy gold braid lace.

Some wonderful gowns are now to be seen on the stage at the little theatre called L'Athenee Comique; in no other play has the dressing been so very elaborate and up-to-date. The principal gown is a gorgeous tea-gown or "robe d'interieur" of white panne. It forms a Watteau plait at the back and is somewhat loose in front. Gold spangled tulle fills up the transparent yoke, and below it comes a bertha of white panne, having colored floral applications of the same material, dotted with gold. Just above the hem of the skirt is a very wide band of similar embroidery. The design, as well as it can be seen from the auditorium, was one of pale pink and pale mauve orchids. Another "robe d'interieur" is of blood-red crepe de Chine. It falls from a bolero of stiff gold embroidery, which is cut square at the neck.

A very smart shooting dress worn by a particularly chic and slim young lady, who comes incidentally into the play, is of Gordon plaid—the material being a rough cheviot. The tight little double-breasted jacket has a high military collar, and the short skirt, which comes only to the tops of a pair of high and smart brown boots, is kilted in wide kilts. A chic little round hat of soft hairy felt, beige in color, and trimmed in front with a couple of quills, completes this charming costume.

It is very fashionable to wear a good deal of neck-adornment with evening dress. The pearl collars that are the appanage of almost everybody in these days of lavish expenditure, are now supplemented by twists of lace and of the chiffon of which the gown is made; and against this wisp of dainty fabric a single-row pearl necklace or a diamond collar looks effective, and is considered very smart.

The huge gold tissue roses that are so much in favor for millinery, are the latest idea for enhancing the effect of an evening dress. They are as large as cheese-plates, and are placed with apparent carelessness near the left shoulder.

Gold on gowns continues its popularity. The gilt tags on ribbon velvet ties for the neck are still much used, and on most gowns there is a rosette or a bow, and ends placed somewhere to which a "ferret" can be affixed.

FURS Reduced

A fur store that could do business on a day like yesterday must have some peculiar attractions. This store offered some splendid bargains—the sort that would bring people in mid-summer. Interesting additions are made to-day to the offerings of yesterday. In fact, there's rich picking in all sorts of splendid furs, all at much less than former fair figures:

$4—Alaska sable scarfs, trimmed with 8 tails; were $5 and $6.50.
$12—Alaska sable scarfs, trimmed with 8 full tails; value $17.50.
$15—Sable fox boas, with 2 large brush tails; were $20.
$17.50—Short electric seal capes; were $25 and $30.
$25—Natural lynx collarettes; pointed fronts; high storm collar; were $50.
$25—Plain electric seal Eton jackets; were $35 and $40.
$30—Electric seal Eton jackets, with collar and revers of blended mink; were $45.
$41.25—Plain electric seal coats; were $55 and $57.50.

Second floor, Broadway.

Women's Waists

Sixteen styles. Sixteen bargains. In two groups: $2.50 for choice among $3.75 to $5 kinds. All French flannel; solid colors, stripes and dots; light and dark shades. Severely plain to very elaborate. Seven styles.

$3 for choice among $5.50 to $6.50 values. These are of very good flannel in light and dark colors, and handsomely made up. Nine of the best, recent styles.

Second floor, Fourth avenue.

WOMEN'S WRAPPERS

Warm, well made wrappers, comfortable and cheap. Two lots; Some at $1, that were priced $1.25 and $1.75. Plenty of the better grades for early comers. These are of flannelette in dark grounds, with neat fancy stripes or figures; body lined; 3 styles; trimmed with fancy braid or cord; all have ruffle on skirt.

The other is a group of $2.75 to $4.50 wrappers. They're now priced at $2 for choice. Of German flannel; 4 styles, light and dark grounds; with fancy stripes or figures; trimmed with braid or velvet ribbon. Second floor, Fourth avenue.

To-day's Doings in Three SHOE STORES

Bargains. Very decided bargains in all of our shoe stores. Unusually good values for men, women and children. All seasonable footwear. All good styles. All perfect. This hint tells only a part of the many good things in to-day's offerings:

Women's $2 Shoes at $1.40—
Some are worth even more than $2. They are of fine grained kidskin; neat toe shapes and heels; tipped with patent leather and kidskin; rather heavy, but flexible soles; comfortable, durable.

Boys' Shoes at 50c—
And there are values in this lot up to $1.25; mussed a bit; a little dressing will make them good as new; sizes 10 to 13.

Children's Leggings at 85c—Of velvet, red, blue, brown, black. Were $1.25.

The bargain store for men is across Ninth street, Fourth avenue.

Among the new attractions there are:

Men's Shoes at $1.90—
They are grades that usually sell for $3 and $3.50. Heavy box calf lace shoes, with solid extension soles—winter shoes. Some patent leather and kidskin shoes also, in this lot.

Boys' $2 Shoes at $1.25—
Heavy leathers, good solid soles; with heels.

Men's Shoes at $2.45—
$3.50 to $5 are the regular prices of the shoes in this group. Fine high-grade winter shoes; also some light-weight stylish shoes.
Nearly all leathers. Not all sizes. It will pay you to look for yours.

Children's Warm HATS and CAPS

Headwear for winter days—for rainy, snowy, freezy days—in broad variety. Primarily protectors, yet pretty and jaunty effects, many of them. And none is expensive. Some surprisingly low.

Heavy woolen Toques, plaid colors and combinations, for boys and girls, 25c to $1.25
Small Toques for children of 4 to 6 years, in attractive color combinations, 35c and 50c
Camel's-hair Toques, 50c and $1.
Tam o'Shanters of camel's-hair, solid colors and Scotch plaids, 50c and $1.
Golf Caps; double band to keep the ears warm; plain blue and mixed colors, 65c to $1.25.
Plush Polo Caps, 75c, $1.25 and $1.50.
Chinchilla Polo Caps, $1.25.
Alpine and Telescope Hats for boys; pearl, castor, black and brown, $1.50.
Derby Hats, black and brown, $1.75 and $2

Second floor, Tenth street.

Latest Word from the Under-price Store

Six floors contribute, at one time or another, to this popular basement store. It's a store the stocks of which are all priced below—much below—the market. Mostly of fresh, clean, perfect goods.

New lots to-day supplement the splendid offerings of yesterday and the day before. Fairly good supplies of the latter are still here, owing to the very unfavorable weather.

Women's Handkerchiefs—Excellent Values—
100 dozen handkerchiefs, at 10c. each—they're regularly 20c. Unlaundered, hemstitched, with drawn-work or revers.
Plain hemstitched handkerchiefs, at 17c and 25c, and others neatly embroidered at 18c and 25c, that have sold at 25c and 35c.

Indian Clothes Hampers Half Price—
These are the work of Canadian Indians. Well woven, strong and serviceable. Of generous size. Would be fairly priced at $1.50. This lot at 75c each.

Italian Silk Blankets, Reduced—
Also called "slumber robes," and used frequently as couch covers. This collection comprises various effective combinations of colorings—all stripes. The price is $1.25 each. Yesterday it was $2.

Women's Umbrellas Under-priced—
A group containing various good grades and styles. Some of union taffeta; others of Helvetia cloth; all stylish natural wood handles. Values $1.25 to $2—the majority being of the higher priced qualities. Choice at $1.

Boys' Waists for Very Little—
Flannel blouse waists, various good colorings, sizes 2½ to 15 years, at 50c each. Were 75c and $1. And some washable waists, not perfectly fresh, but without injury, at 25c instead of 50c and 75c. Sizes 2½ to 15 years.

Books at 10c—Values up to 25c—
Cloth bound books. Fiction, history and so on. Regularly and moderately priced at 15c to 25c. Several hundred from which to choose now at 10c.

25c. Papeteries at 15c a box.

Broadway, Fourth Avenue.
Ninth and Tenth Streets.

MR. CARLISLE ON THE PORTO RICAN CASES

His Argument for the Plaintiffs Before the Supreme Court.

Says Real Issue Is Whether the Constitution Extends Over Congress, President, and Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Attorney General Griggs concluded his argument before the United States Supreme Court today, continuing his statement of the position of the Government as to the rule of uniformity in tariff and internal revenue taxes. He insisted that the application of the internal revenue laws to Porto Rico would be unwise, and in many places unprofitable. A rule of uniformity in internal taxes, he said, could be estimated when applied to contiguous States, as the States were governed by similar laws and similar conditions. But when it came to applying these taxes to widely separated territories inhabited by polyglot races, a wide discretion was necessary, and to endeavor to apply a system of internal taxes would be rather applying a strait jacket than a constitution. So, he said, the correct rule required the United States to consider the uniformity of the States; but diversity was the necessary rule as to territories, because of diversity as to geography and racial characteristics observable in the territories.

Continuing, Mr. Griggs said Congress should have discretion to impose only such taxes as the people could bear. Americans had been so long accustomed to regard the United States according to its old lines, said Mr. Griggs, that it was almost a wrench to consider that there was now United States territory within the arctic circle and in the islands of many seas. This expansion should result in a larger comprehension of the duties and necessities, and the impossibility of enforcing an iron-clad rule of uniformity everywhere should be borne in mind.

As to internal revenue duties, the speaker said, there was never an objection to the action of Congress in failing to extend the internal revenue laws. In the annexation of Hawaii, when the local laws were left in force, there was then not a single objection raised as to the constitutionality of the proceeding. The varying taxes which States might levy indicated that Congress had similar powers to vary taxes.

The Attorney General reviewed the history of the internal revenue legislation, showing that the first tax on distilled spirits was applicable only to States, and a subsequent act extended the provisions to the territories. Subsequent similar legislation referred to the States and Territories, and the District of Columbia. In the Alaska legislation it was cited that the internal revenue laws were not extended at first, and when excise laws were extended not all of such duties were made applicable.

Referring to the fact that there were different rates of taxation applied to the Indians, the Attorney General said there was no warrant in law for one rule for a tribe of red men and another for a race of brown men or a race of black men.

As to the future, he said, they must consider the possibility, not the probability, of the acquisition of Egypt, the Soudan, Central Africa, China, or a spot in the antarctic circle, and the classes of people who might at any future time be entitled to citizenship. The powers of Congress to legislate were amply sufficient to permit the settlement of all such contingencies.

The Attorney General concluded by insisting that no private right would be conserved, but that the rights of the Government would be hampered by the success of the contention of the plaintiffs.

MR. CARLISLE'S ARGUMENT BEGUN.

John G. Carlisle, chief attorney for the plaintiffs, followed Mr. Griggs. He began by saying that he would not discuss questions of policy, as they belonged to another forum. The questions were to be settled only on the Constitution. He said he had been as yet unable to form an opinion as to the exact contention of the Government. First, however, he believed the contention was that the Island of Porto Rico did not become a part of the United States either on the signing of the protocol or the ratification of the treaty of Paris; that there was a condition existing which placed the Island under the general protection and jurisdiction of the United States, subject to certain limitations; that during a period between the acquisition of the territory and the passage of laws by Congress the island might be governed by the President, subject to laws of war, and that the Island did not become a part of the United States until admitted by Congress, and until such time as Congress might legislate for the Island. From this it was argued that, the Island not being a part of the United States, Congress had a right to say what taxes might be levied and collected.

Mr. Carlisle first took up the conditions which led to the taking of the island, and read from proclamations of Gens. Miles and Wilson to show that the occupation was meant to be permanent. The cession of the island by Spain, he said, was complete, and had been acknowledged by all nations.

Justice White asked if the President might acquire territory without the consent of the treaty-making power, but Mr. Carlisle said he was arguing that peace obtained after the signing of the protocol; that there was then no war, and that the President could only create a de facto government and have it governed. It was not a capitulation by an officer in the field, but a solemn acknowledgment by a Government that it had been conquered.

THE CONQUEST OF CALIFORNIA.

Taking up similar cases, Mr. Carlisle cited decisions of the court as to the conquest of California, and undertook to show that by the conquest the United States land laws were extended and that the government was only carried on by military officers, who performed municipal duties. While the Constitution imposed the duty upon Congress of regulating commerce, yet since the signing of the protocol the President had exercised the powers of assessing duties and carrying out all the duties of Congress. The court had decided that a treaty between two powers took effect from its date, whenever possession was given.

The contention of the Administration, Mr. Carlisle said, was that even during a temporary occupation of an enemy's country, the right of the President was to maintain a local government to protect private rights, to levy upon the enemy for support of the army, and to exercise power for the purpose of carrying on the war. While by such occupation all local laws inconsistent with the laws of the United States were immediately superseded, yet the contention was made that the President might step in and enforce another set of laws equally inconsistent. The government of such territory, the speaker said, was always a local civil government, which must exist until Congress should make proper laws. He argued also that such a de facto government of army office could not exercise greater powers than a de jure government as provided by Congress. In the case of New Mexico, he said, Gen. Kearney promulgated a code providing for a Legislature and Delegate to Congress, but the President promptly set that aside and allowed only the local laws to stand, and later the United States Supreme Court sustained an action under that code.

REAL POINT AT ISSUE.

In this case, Mr. Carlisle proceeded, there was no concern as to the status of the citizens of Porto Rico, but as to the status of the power of the Government. It was not whether the Constitution extended to the inhabitants of Porto Rico, but whether it extended over the Congress, the President, and the Cabinet. The contention was that the Constitution protected every person in the land in his personal and property rights as a citizen. When a government took from one man more than it should it was not taxation, but it was taking his property without due process of law and giving him no compensation for it.

On the point that the Territories were not a part of the United States, Mr. Carlisle read a history of the framing of the Constitution, showing that first it was the intention that "all acts and treaties" should be the supreme law of the land. This was before the word "Constitution" had been introduced, and he took it to mean that it was the intention to have the Constitution apply to all parts of the country, whether in the States or simply in territory belonging to them.

Mr. Carlisle argued that the Constitution must be interpreted as a whole, and must enable the Government to accomplish all the purposes for which it was framed. It must be considered as entire, to which all the agents of the Government must look for power. International law, he said, could not govern any agent of the United States Government, but the court could look to it for defining what the Constitution meant. There would be two Constitutions, in the interpretation of counsel on the other side, one for States, defining the powers and caring for the rights of citizens, and the other for the Territories, giving no rights. Upon the Constitution there had been constructed a comprehensive system of laws governing all States and Territories, and from the first Congress had made uniform laws for traffic between States and Territories as well as extradition, bankruptcy, and naturalization laws. In the interpretation of the Government there were sitting courts outside the United States in a Territory, granting citizenship in the United States to a resident upon five years' inhabitation of a Territory outside the United States.

STATUS OF THE TERRITORIES.

Mr. Carlisle undertook to show that both direct and indirect taxes had been laid upon States and Territories alike, and tariff duties had been laid upon imports into Territories as well as States. Under the contention of the Government that Territories were not part of the United States, he said, it might be taken that goods could go free from Porto Rico to Alaska, but this was not the case, for the same duties were charged on goods from a territory going to Porto Rico as from a State. That the tax levied was a local tax was denied, but it was denominated a tax for local purposes.

Mr. Carlisle read the portions of the Porto Rican act establishing the rates of duty and disposition of the moneys collected as a basis for his complete argument. He said the court would see that on all goods from the United States to Porto Rico there were to be levied 15 per cent. of duties on foreign goods with the internal revenue of Porto Rico added, and that goods from Porto Rico to the United States entered upon the payment of 15 per cent. of customs with internal revenue only added when the goods were of Porto Rican manufacture, while goods from other countries paying the Porto Rico internal revenue might come into this country without other internal revenue tax.

"We insist," he said, "that this is not an import duty. We object to the form under which the Government seized our goods and held them on their arrival at Porto Rico until we paid them tribute in the form of a tax. An import is something coming from a foreign country. Porto Rico cannot be a foreign country, for its courts send appeals to this body. This is therefore not an import tax, but an export tax upon goods sent out of these States, and there are two specific prohibitions against such export duties." Opinions of the court were cited to show that the tribunal had held that no duty might be laid on exports from one State to another as to a foreign country.

Mr. Carlisle argued that there must be fixed some time when Porto Rico ceased to be foreign territory, and even granting that point, he urged that the tax must be considered unconstitutional. If Congress could levy export duties, he said, there could be as many rates of duty as there were States or Territories, for there was no provision for uniformity or export taxation.

SAYS THE TAX IS AN EXPORT TAX.

Argument was made that the tax was an export tax, and as such in direct violation of the Constitution of the United States. "This tax," said Mr. Carlisle, "which under this law is just as general as a tariff law, is said to be a local tax. It is collected everywhere. In every State and Territory. How can it be called local? Is the fact that proceeds of this tax are to be used for certain purposes of more consequence than that the tax is laid first and appropriated afterward, in proving that this is a local tax? More than half the general duties are collected at New York, yet it is not a local tax, but a tax the proceeds of which may be used everywhere."

"We deny," the speaker went on, "that Congress has any right to impose any such tax upon the trade between the States and Territories. Congress may regulate commerce, and may govern the Territory, but under the guise of governing that Territory may not govern the States of New York or Pennsylvania. When it places a tax upon the goods taken to Porto Rico it is governing the State. The limitation must follow every power. The power of Congress to legislate must be subject to all the limitations of the Constitution."

THE DRED SCOTT CASE.

"Had it not been that African slavery was involved," said Mr. Carlisle, in conclusion, "there would have been no dissent from the decision in the Dred Scott case. Now we have a case with the negro eliminated. We have a case where citizens are taking their property into a Territory of the United States, but in which there is no conflicting point like slavery. The conditions are changed. Then the unlimited power of Congress was urged by the advocates of slavery; now it is urged by the advocates of freedom. If it is true that there lies this arbitrary power in the Constitution we should be delighted that it was not discovered for more than 100 years, until we had a great country made up of free States and filled with free people. I do not believe that the framers of the Constitution ever meant to give to Congress unlimited power over the lives and property of the people."

When Mr. Carlisle concluded, Senator Lindsay of Kentucky began the argument for the plaintiff in the next of the Porto Rican cases, that of Huus vs. the New York and Porto Rico Steamship Company. The case is one involving the question of whether or not Congress had the right to make the trade with the Islands coasting trade or foreign trade.

PENSION DAY IN THE HOUSE.

Large Number of Bills Passed—Gen. A. V. Rice's Pension Increased.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—This was pension day in the House. Not since the Fifty-first Congress has the House passed as many private pension bills at a single sitting as it did to-day. In all, 170 special pension bills were passed at to-day's session.

The most important bill was one to increase the pension of Gen. Americus V. Rice from $30 to $100 a month. Gen. Rice made a gallant record during the rebellion. He was wounded several times, and lost a leg at Vicksburg. He was formerly a member of Congress from Ohio, and was the author of the Arrearages of Pension act. The Senate had passed a bill to increase his pension to $60, and the House raised the amount to $100.

ADDRESS BY GEN. WHEELER.

Talks to Biographical Society on the Results of Our Recent Successes.

Gen. Joseph Wheeler last night addressed the New York Genealogical and Biographical Society on "The Results of Our Recent Successes" at the annual meeting of the society, at its room, 226 West Fifty-eighth Street. The meeting was presided over by Gen. James Grant Wilson, and the gathering was large and representative.

Gen. Wheeler, in his address, reviewed the successes of American arms since the Declaration of Independence. He said that the cycle of civilization had swept over the earth like the changing seasons, and its centre had now reached the United States of America. It was destined to sweep on to its old starting point on the Pacific shores of Asia by reason of our rising supremacy, not only on the Pacific, but as a world power.

The civilization which we were carrying eastward would create a demand for its material benefits, and there would now be millions of customers in the East ready to buy our goods. For this reason it was good that the Chinese looked on us as a friend; for this reason must we prevent a division of China among the powers, which would result in the cutting into pieces of our market.

In order to bring us still nearer to Asia, the building of the Nicaragua Canal should be hastened. In order to maintain our position we must maintain our nationality. The patriotism of our ancestors and of our people had done more than anything else to make us prosperous, and admired and feared by the rest of the world.

Gen. Wheeler closed with a glowing tribute to American womanhood.

Three New Smallpox Cases.

Three new cases of smallpox were discovered yesterday in the city, and one death was reported. The new cases are John Klumlich, twenty-eight years old, a coal peddler of 51 Goerck Street, and John and Charles Allerdice, three and eight years old, of 201 West One Hundred and Thirty-fifth Street. The deaths now number sixteen.

PRESIDENT AND THE ARMY

Fight in the Senate Over Proposed Discretionary Power.

MR. HOAR'S AMENDMENT LOST

Mr. Daniel's Proposal that Volunteer Officers May Be Appointed Captains in Regular Army Passed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Senate today continued consideration of the Army Reorganization bill. The feature of the debate was a vigorous attack upon that portion of the bill which confers on the President discretionary power to increase the strength of the army to the maximum limit fixed by the bill.

As soon as the bill was placed before the Senate Mr. Hawley, (Rep., Conn.,) Chairman of the Committee on Military Affairs, withdrew the committee amendment, Section 31 of the new bill, providing for the retirement of officers on the active list of the army.

Mr. Teller (Silver Rep., Col.,) also withdrew his amendment to that section.

Mr. Hoar (Rep., Mass.,) formally offered the amendment of which he had heretofore given notice, providing that no further military force shall be used in the Philippine Islands except such as may be necessary to keep order in places in the peaceable possession of the United States, &c.

Mr. Carter, (Rep., Mon.,) a member of the Committee on Military Affairs, moved that the amendment be laid on the table. The motion prevailed by 32 to 19.

Mr. Pettigrew's (Silver, S. D.,) amendment providing that one-third of the appointments to commissioned rank in the regular army should be made from officers of the volunteer army—the amendment which was under discussion when the Senate adjourned last evening—was defeated by 33 to 16.

Mr. Daniel (Dem., Va.,) offered an amendment providing that volunteer officers may be designated for examination, and those who establish their fitness may be appointed to the grade of Captain in the regular army as well as to the grade of First and Second Lieutenant, as provided for by the Senate Committee's amendment. Mr. Daniel addressed the Senate at length in support of his amendment. He had no desire, he said, to discriminate against the officers of the regular army, but he felt that it was due to the volunteer officers that they should have proper opportunity for advancement in the army. He maintained that the volunteers ought to have as generous consideration as Congress could give them, without, of course, disparaging thereby the officers of the regular army.

In the course of a reply to Mr. Daniel Mr. Proctor (Rep., Vt.) said that unfortunately the United States had no system whereby an officer or enlisted man in the army could be rewarded for gallant or conspicuous services by promotion. He believed that the proposed amendment would not be a proper solution of the problem presented, because it would operate as a great injustice to scores of officers in the regular service who were as clearly entitled to consideration as were the volunteers.

The amendment was agreed to by 34 to 22.

Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.) moved to strike out the provision that the President in his discretion may increase the number of Corporals in any troop of cavalry to eight and the number of privates to seventy-six. He said he did not believe the President should have discretionary power to regulate the size of the army.

Mr. Platt (Rep., Conn.) said he had none of the fear that seemed to worry some Senators as to the increase of the army to 100,000 men. Such an army could do the country no harm, and it could not be considered a menace.

In response to a question by Mr. Berry, (Dem., Ark.,) Mr. Platt said he feared the pending bill did not confer upon the President authority to increase the army from 58,000 to 100,000 at any time. That power, he thought, ought to be conferred upon the President.

Continuing, Mr. Platt said he was astonished at the fear expressed by some Senators that the President would not exercise such authority with due regard to the country's interest. There need be no fear that the United States would ever have a President who would abuse the power conferred upon him. He urged that the power to increase the army be left in the hands of the President, who ought to be regarded as a conscientious, able, and patriotic man.

"If we could eliminate politics and argument for political effect from this chamber for a single day," Mr. Platt declared, "I believe it would be the unanimous sentiment that there should be some flexibility in the army."

Replying to Mr. Platt, Mr. Bacon (Dem., Ga.,) said he thought the country had fallen upon an evil day when a Senator could rise in that chamber and express views which he regarded as dangerous to the liberties of the people and productive of one-man power, and it was an evil truly when the Senator reflected the attitude of the dominant party.

"The passage of this bill," declared the Georgia Senator, "will mark an epoch in the United States. Senators may scoff, but it is nevertheless true that the passage of a bill by which the President shall control the size of the army is a march toward empire. It is the evident purpose of the bill to eliminate for all time the volunteer system from the military establishment of the country and create for all time a great standing army. The issue is not to be evaded. Shall it be in the future the province of the President to raise armies, or shall that be the province of Congress? I would rather see the party I belong to condemned to universal and never-ending banishment from political power than see such an authorization of power placed upon the statute books."

Mr. Hoar expressed the opinion that an army of 100,000 at present would not make the Executive more formidable than he was made by an army of 25,000 when that limit was fixed. He did not regard an army of 100,000 as a menace, that number, in his judgment, was far within the limit of domestic safety. The bill, in addition, authorized the President to reduce the number of the army still lower. However, on account of the use to be made of that army, he (Mr. Hoar) would have to vote against the bill.

The Army bill was then laid aside.

PHILIPPINE POLICE FORCE.

A Number of the Men Who Were Expected to Return Home on the Sheridan Believed to Have Joined It.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The War Department believes that a large number of the soldiers who are to be mustered out next Summer, and who are now serving in the Philippines, are about to join the police force which is being organized to take the place of the provost guard. There is no hope that any appreciable number of the soldiers will re-enlist, but joining the police force is a different matter.

Gen. MacArthur has reported the sailing of the transport Sheridan with only 654 enlisted men of the Thirty-seventh Regiment. He reported, only a few days ago, that 800 men of this regiment would sail. The difference is accounted for, according to War Department officials, by the offering of positions on the police force, which have proved attractive to a considerable number of the men. Gen. MacArthur understands that the police force is strongly favored at the War Department, and has been instructed to do everything he can to secure enlistments in it.

Gen. MacArthur has also been instructed to give every facility to soldiers who desire to remain in the Philippines in order to go into business there. It is believed, however, that the police force has offered more attractions than any business to those soldiers of the Thirty-seventh who have chosen to remain in the islands.

The new force is not designed exclusively for Manila. It is for the present to supersede the provost guard, and gradually, as order becomes general, to be turned into a regular police force. It can be extended to all the places now under American control.

PHILIPPINE SCHOOL CONFLICT.

Filipinos Protest Against Commission's Rule Allowing Sectarian Instruction.

MANILA, Jan. 11.—The first day's public discussion of the bill to establish a department of public instruction, to-day, developed a contest on the question of religion in public schools. Interest centres in the section permitting priests and ministers to teach religion for half an hour three times weekly outside of school hours, provided the parents express a written desire for such instruction, and prohibiting teachers from conducting religious exercises or teaching religion. The directors of the Federal Party were represented by a committee, who, although Catholics, argued strongly in favor of the elimination of the section. They declared that the use of schoolhouses for religious purposes is contrary to the United States Constitution, and also to the platforms of the American parties and the Philippine Federal Party, and is certain to cause discord.

Representatives of the Central Catholic Society, who appeared in behalf of permitting religious instruction in the schools, said they did not assume to represent the Filipinos politically, but religiously. They asked time for the preparation of a reply, and were given until Monday.

Judge Taft said the attitude of the United States Philippine Commission as a legislative power was one of absolute indifference between the Catholic, Protestant, or Mohammedan religions. The Commissioners, he added, endeavored to frame the act so that the people's prejudices would assist instead of retarding its success. He reminded Tomas del Rosario, who was speaking in behalf of the Federals, that a similar provision was in effect in at least one State in America. Rosario replied: "One only?" He then said he was not speaking of exceptions, but of the fundamental principles of the American Constitution. Rosario insisted on the doctrine of the absolute separation of Church and State, so as not to permit a priest to use a schoolhouse.

Judge Taft asked whether the speaker's opinion of this section was influenced by former experiences with friars and the fear of ecclesiastical domination of schools under the American Government.

Rosario responded: "No; I am dealing with doctrines."

Judge Taft remarked that it was not a question of broad doctrine, but of how to work practically under the conditions they had to meet.

Rosario replied that such ideas were unsustainable practically or doctrinarily.

The remainder of the day was devoted to the discussion of the proposed amendments, the most important being the establishment of agricultural schools. It will probably be adopted.

There were arguments in behalf of the employment of many more than the 600 teachers authorized by the Commissioners, but the latter decline to incur more expense than the probable revenue from taxation will justify.

NATIVE ULTIMATUM TO REBELS.

The People Will Aid Americans to Run Down Insurgents.

MANILA, Jan. 11.—The civil officers of several towns in Zambales Province met at San Antonio recently and signed an ultimatum, to send to the insurgent leaders, notifying the insurgents that they will be paid 30 pesos apiece for rifles and liberated if they agree to keep quiet, setting forth that since Gen. MacArthur's proclamation it is impossible to any longer contribute assistance and announcing that if the insurgents do not return to their homes by Jan. 30 they will be considered enemies of their people, who will then assist the Americans to pursue them.

The campaign in Northern Mindanao is directed personally by Brig. Gen. Kobbe, with headquarters at Cagayan. Col. Birkhimer, with five companies of the Twenty-eighth Regiment, has swept the country and destroyed Filipino strongholds in the vicinity of Santa Ana.

Major Case of the Fortieth Regiment is operating in the mountainous region of Southwest Cagayan. He has destroyed several strongholds and captured some prisoners.

Minor captures and surrenders continue in Luzon.

Manila Railroad Claims $1,000,000.

MANILA, Jan. 11.—The representatives of the owners of the Manila-Dagupan Railroad have presented detailed claims for more than $1,000,000 as compensation for damage done during the insurrection. This is exclusive of the compensation which will be demanded later for damages during the period when the American Government operated the road. The owners are British subjects.

Manila Printing Office Confiscated.

MANILA, Jan. 11.—A printing establishment here, charged with publishing seditious matter, has been confiscated.

BUSINESS OF THE MINT.

Annual Report of Director Roberts—Coinage in Excess of That in Any Previous Year.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—George E. Roberts, the Director of the Mint, in his annual report shows that the coinage of the past year was in excess of that in any previous year in the history of the service, aggregating $141,301,960, as compared with $136,855,676 in the last fiscal year. The value of the gold coinage was slightly below that of the previous year, being $107,037,110, as compared with $108,177,180. The coinage of silver dollars was $18,244,084, as compared with $18,254,709 in the previous year.

The chief increase was in the output of subsidiary and minor coins, which surpassed all records, and which, it is stated, may doubtless be attributed to the extraordinary activity of retail trade throughout the country. The coinage of subsidiary silver amounted to 57,114,270 pieces of the value of $12,876,849, and of minor coins to the extraordinary total of 101,301,753 pieces of the value of $2,243,017.

The deposits of gold bullion at the Mints and Assay Offices of the United States during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, exclusive of redeposits, were of the value of $153,120,119, against $143,497,190 reported the previous year.

The total deposits of gold were not so great as in the previous year, the imports of bullion showing a decline, but the deposits of domestic bullion again surpassed all records, amounting to $87,453,836, against $76,252,487 last year.

The seigniorage on the coinage of silver dollars, subsidiary, and minor coins during the year amounted to $10,236,302.

Including silver contained in gold deposits, the deposits and purchases of silver during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, exclusive of redeposits, amounted to 11,296,137 standard ounces, against 14,073,454 standard ounces reported for the previous year.

The fluctuations in the price of silver in the London market during the twelve months ended June 30, 1900, were not of a wide range, the lowest price being 28¾d., and the highest price 28 9-16d. For the first nine months of the fiscal year the market was sustained mainly by purchases for India and the Straits Settlements, with small demands on Continental account, and also for the domestic coinage of England and her colonies.

Early in April, 1900, a demand for silver came from China, which continued for the remainder of the year, and this, with the demand by the Indian Government, caused the price to advance by the end of June to 28 9-16d., the highest price of the year.

The average price of silver for the year, based upon daily London quotations, was 27.3750d., equivalent at par of exchange to 80.0017 per ounce, fine, in United States money.

At the highest market price for silver during the year, the commercial ratio of silver to gold was as 1 to 32.61; at the lowest price, 1 to 35.41; at the average price, 1 to 34.44.

Mr. Hanna's Article in The Daily Mail.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—The Daily Mail this morning publishes a two-column article signed by Marcus A. Hanna, discussing the aspects of the merchant shipping question in the United States and giving his reasons for supporting the bill now before the United States Senate.

KILLED HERSELF ON BIRTHDAY.

Mrs. Lillie Schilling Drinks to Her Own Honor and Then Dies.

Mrs. Lillie Schilling, a young German woman, who boarded with Mrs. Harry Harris at 193 Scholes Street, Brooklyn, committed suicide yesterday afternoon by drinking acid. Yesterday was the twenty-second anniversary of the suicide's birth. Before taking the acid she told Mrs. Harris that she would treat her to a pint of beer. Mrs. Harris's husband went for the beer, and after it had been poured out Mrs. Schilling raised her glass and exclaimed "Drink to my birthday, for I'll never see another." No attention was paid to the remarks. A few minutes later Mrs. Schilling became deathly sick, and it was discovered she had swallowed the acid.

Harris ran to the street and found a policeman. A call was sent to St. Catharine's Hospital and Dr. Allen responded. The woman was placed in the ambulance, but died before the hospital was reached.

Seven weeks ago Mrs. Schilling left her husband and went to board with Mrs. Harris. She sought employment, but was not able to find it. This made her despondent.

INVESTIGATION OF HAZING

Congressional Committee Forces Cadets to Answer Questions.

DECLARES HAZING MUST STOP

Instances of Brutal Treatment at West Point—Mr. Driggs Asks Why Six-Shooters Were Not Used.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Jan. 11.—The Congressional committee which is investigating the matter of hazing at the Military Academy continued its work to-day. Cadet George R. Spalding of Michigan, who acted as timekeeper at the Keller-Booz fight, being the first witness called. He was examined by Congressman Wanger. He said he was an ex-officio member of the "scrapping committee," being Vice President of his class.

Is that a standing committee?

Yes, Sir; but there is not as much use for it now as there was some time ago.

Why don't you use the army six-shooter in settling these affairs of honor among cadets? Would not that be fairer than fighting with fists?

It would not be fair to the fourth-class man. He might never have handled a revolver, and he might be nervous.

Don't you think the upper class man might be a bit nervous, also?

He ought not to be.

Why place the men six feet apart, then.

It would be perfectly fair, Sir.

Did you ever know a man to faint or have convulsions through being exercised?

I have heard so, Sir, but have no personal knowledge of such a case. I would like to state, though, that in Summer drills many cadets fall out of ranks and faint. One night last Summer thirteen men fainted on parade.

Is there a difference between fainting in the line of duty and as a result of hazing?

Yes, Sir.

Cadet O. N. Tyler of Maryland, one of Booz's seconds in the Keller fight, described the fight, but added nothing new. He acknowledged that he had told Booz that he was a disgrace to the corps. This was in the evening of the day of the fight.

In reply to Mr. Driggs, the witness said that he had been exercised almost to the point of exhaustion.

What had you to do?

I kegled.

How many times?

About 400 times.

As many as that?

Yes, Sir.

What heinous crime were you expiating?

I had done nothing, Sir. I was walking up the company street when Cadet Harlee, who is now out of the corps, met me and told me to go to a certain tent, where I would get a few points on woodenness.

And you got them?

Yes, Sir.

What else had you to do?

I was required to hang from a stretcher, hold out Indian clubs, and sit on a box and hold my feet off the floor.

How long did all this take?

About one hour, Sir.

Were you very tired?

I was very near to fainting, Sir. I got back to my tent and my mate helped me to dress for parade. I attended the parade, but my knees were very weak. I also had to do guard duty that night.

Were you laid up after this?

No, Sir; I was pretty well fagged all next day, but I got along all right.

The Chairman asked Tyler the name of the man who hazed him, but the witness said he would rather not tell.

Was it Harlee?

"No, Sir; Harlee sent me to the tent. It was a man who is now in the corps who hazed me.

Congressman Driggs insisted that the witness should tell the name, as the man ought to be brought before the committee, he said, so as to give some explanation. Tyler said that he did not like to do so, as it might injure the man, who is now near graduation. The committee then went into executive session to discuss whether the witness would have to answer.

During the time the committeemen were in executive session in another room the witness sat still, but was so affected that tears run down his cheeks. He was approached by a reporter from a New York morning newspaper, who spoke to him in reference to the question. The reporter was immediately told to resume his seat by Sergeant at Arms Casson, who reported the matter to the committee. On returning to the courtroom Gen. Dick, addressing the reporter, said:

Have you approached this witness while we were away, as a newspaper man?

No, Sir, in a private capacity. I spoke to him in reference to this question.

Well, Sir, you are excused from any further sessions of this committee.

The reporter immediately left the room. Turning to the witness, who seemed on the point of breaking down, Gen. Dick said:

Mr. Tyler, the committee appreciates your frankness in answering questions and also your embarrassment at this question, but it appears from your testimony that no severer test of hazing has been presented to this committee. While this committee cannot guarantee to prevent punishment, it is not the intention of the committee to secure punishment. The object of the committee is to secure information for presentation to Congress with a view to preventing a recurrence of such practices. The committee feels that it must insist that you answer the question.

Tyler listened intently to every word uttered, and when the Chairman finished speaking, the witness, in a faltering voice, said:

Cadet Evans, who has been since expelled, and Cadet J. A. Barry of the present first class.

The witness, in answer to some other questions, said that nothing had been done to force a man out of the academy, but the "cutting" of a man seemed to have the desired effect.

Are prizefighters always heroes?

No, Sir.

Many good soldiers never had a fist fight?

That's the only way we have to try them here.

Congressman Driggs, addressing the witness, said:

Mr. Tyler, I want to exonerate you with every cadet, and I may be frank with you. This committee wants to know all about the Booz case, the Breth case, and generally about hazing. I will insist on answers, and I want you and every cadet to know and understand that we are here to get the facts, and that hazing must stop. We will shield nobody. Now I want you to tell me of all the cases of severe hazing.

Cadet Carpenter was so severely hazed that he had to go to bed.

Looking over a list of the corps, the witness mentioned the names of Cadets Sheridan, McArthur, Carpenter, Albert, Alvord, Ammerman, J. B. A. Barry, and C. B. Clark. The last three are not now in the academy.

Who hazed McArthur?

There were two men, of whom Cadet Dockery was one.

Tyler told of the hazing of Carpenter, one of his classmates. Cadet Meyer of the present first class interrupted the hazers and made them desist. Carpenter was put to bed suffering from muscular convulsions. He was also hysterical and delirious, but was all right in the morning. He was not attended by a physician.

Do the cadets not call for a physician when a man is hazed into convulsions?

I never knew of a doctor being called in any case.

What about McArthur?

He was the worst case, Sir. He had convulsions, and it took quite a while to bring him around. I saw him in bed whimpering hysterically.

In reply to the Chairman, Tyler said that the class which came here in 1899 suffered from more severe hazing than his class, (the present third,) to which Booz belonged. Since 1899, he said, severe hazing had been done away with, and there was no exercising now.

Cadet Edward H. De Armond of Missouri, of the present first class, who was one of the sentinels at the Keller-Booz fight, described the fight, and said he did not think Booz was knocked out. Col. Clayton asked De Armond about the administering of tabasco sauce in the mess hall. The witness, whose father is a Representative in Congress, said that while he was willing to tell everything, he felt that he was not bound to answer any questions which might incriminate himself. Congressman Driggs said:

This is a serious matter. This institution is on trial, and so is everybody connected with it. We are here as representatives of the House of Representatives, of which your father is a member, and we must get the facts.

The witness then told of some pepper sauce being given fourth class men in the mess hall during the encampment of 1898. He did not say that he had required any one to take it. Congressman Driggs asked the young Missourian to listen to his reading three words and their meanings from the Standard Dictionary. The words were "barbarous," "brutal," and "cruel."

Now, which of these describes the form of hazing practiced by West Point upper class men when a man is pushed to the limit of his endurance?

In such extreme cases, I should say 'cruelty describes it best, because it causes pain.

Suppose a man fainted while being exercised, wouldn't that be brutal?

Well, it would be brutal, but not brutal for the man who hazed him, as he would not intend him to faint.

This answer caused a lot of merriment.

WHEN YOU CAN BUY

THOMPSON FINE CLOTHING

AT PRACTICALLY

HALF PRICE

it is absurd to think of buying any other sort.

Thompson Clothing

is well known for its excellence and correct style. This half-price sale is our method of stock clearance every season.

READ WHAT WE HAVE TO OFFER:

$12, $13, $14 Suits at $7.50.

Men's Swell Suits made from All-Wool Cheviots and fancy Cassimeres, that are excellent value at $12, $13 and $14. You can buy now at..... $7.50

$15, $18 & $20 Suits at $10.

Men's Swell Suits made from plain and fancy patterned Cheviots, Vicunas, Worsteds and Thibets; superb value at $15, $18 and $20. You can buy now at..... $10

$22, $23, $25 Suits at $12.50.

Men's Swell Suits made from Scotch Cheviots, fancy dressed and undressed Worsteds and Tweeds, custom tailored and really worth $22, $23 and $25. You can buy now at.... $12.50

$27, $28 & $30 Suits at $15.

Men's Highest Grade Suits made from finest Vicuna-Thibets, Worsteds, Tweeds, Cheviots, etc., in plain colors and fancy patterns, perfectly tailored and worth $27, $28 and $30. You can buy now at..... $15

$12.50 & $14 Overcoats at $7.50

Men's Stylish Overcoats made from Frieze and Kersey, plaid lined and plain lined, with velvet collars; good $12.50 and $14 values. You can buy now at..... $7.50

$16 & $18 Overcoats at $10.

Men's Stylish Overcoats made from fine Oxford Cheviots and Vicunas, beautifully tailored and perfect in every particular; generous $16 and $18 values. You can buy now at..... $10

$20 & $22 Overcoats at $12.50

Men's Swell Raglans and other Overcoats, in Oxford, Cambridge, and Black Vicuna-Cheviots, and all the new overcoating fabrics, superbly tailored and worth $20 and $22. You can buy now at..... $12.50

$25 & $28 Overcoats at $15.

In this lot you will find some of the very finest Overcoats, including Silk-lined Kerseys, Oxford Thibets, Black Vicunas, Moules and Elysians; coats that are worth every cent of $25 and $28. You can buy now at..... $15

SPECIAL TROUSERS SALE!

All our $4 and $5 Worsted and Cassimere Trousers reduced to . . $3

All our $6 and $7 Fine Worsted and Cassimere Trousers reduced to $4

STORE OPEN SATURDAY NIGHT.

THE Thompson 245 COMPANY CLOTHIERS BROADWAY

(Opposite City Hall Park, Just below Murray St.)

NEW WORLD CONDITIONS.

Dr. Josiah Strong Says the Way of the Star of Empire Is Now Southward.

"Expansion under New World Conditions" was the subject of an address delivered last night at the Hotel Savoy before the Patria Club by the Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong.

"We have arrived at a condition," said he, "when the great races of the world must enter upon a new era of competition with each other. The great movement which heretofore has been westward with the 'Star of Empire,' must hereafter be southward toward the tropics, where the unoccupied lands of the world are. Indeed, both of these movements have already commenced, and in the last fifteen or sixteen years the European powers have laid hold of more than 5,000,000 square miles in the tropics—an area larger than all Europe by half."

The next fact to which Dr. Strong pointed as a new world condition was the manufacturing supremacy of the United States. European nations, which had been accustomed to look at this country as the great farm of the world, were just awakening, he said, to the fact that it is becoming the world's great workshop.

The Isthmian Canal was pointed to as another New World fact of immense importance. He thought that the first shot from Dewey's guns at Manila had forever settled the question whether Slav or Anglo-Saxon should impress his civilization on the Far East.

After alluding to the growing better understanding between the English-speaking peoples, and having pleaded for further cementing the bonds between them in the interest of the new world civilization, he concluded:

"We should take all these facts in consideration when we sit in judgment upon the question of expansion. The Anglo-Saxon race has been made powerful, rich, free, and exalted, not for its own sake, but for the sake of humanity. It has been made powerful, not to enslave but to save. It has been made rich not for the sake of getting richer, but to learn from practical experience that it is more blessed to give than to take. It has been made free not only to exult in freedom, but to make others free. It has been exalted not to look down, but that it should lift up."

SENATE PASSES BURLEIGH BILL.

Reapportionment Act Sent to the President for Signature.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Senate late this afternoon passed the Reapportionment bill as it came from the House. The bill now goes to the President for his signature.

WILL NOT OPPOSE MR. HOAR.

Secretary Long Thinks the Massachusetts Senator Should Be Re-elected.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Secretary Long to-day made known to his friends that he would not be a candidate against Mr. Hoar for United States Senator, and at the same time took occasion to express his belief that Mr. Hoar ought to be re-elected. This was communicated in a letter to Frederick M. Hersey of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, who had addressed the Secretary on the subject. In replying to-day, Mr. Long says:

"My Dear Hersey:

"I have your letter, and hasten to say in reply that I had supposed it was distinctly understood, if not, I wish it to be, and I authorize you to say so to everybody who need information, that I not only will not be a candidate against Mr. Hoar for United States Senator, but that I think he ought to be re-elected. Very truly yours, JOHN D. LONG."

THE UNITED SERVICE.

Army.

Capt. Daniel C. Pearson, Second Cavalry, is detailed for recruiting service, and upon receipt of further instructions will proceed to Kansas, N. Y., and enter upon duty accordingly.

Capt. William T. Wilder, Eleventh Infantry, is detailed for recruiting service, and will report to the recruiting officer at St. Paul.

Board of Survey, to consist of Capt. George Mck. Williamson, (Quartermaster's Department,) and Capt. Robert Sewell, (Quartermaster's Department,) is appointed to me

The New York Times.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

PUBLISHED EVERY DAY IN THE YEAR.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JAN. 12, 1901.

OFFICES:

NEW YORK:
Publication Office.....41 Park Row
All American District Telegraph Offices.
WASHINGTON.....513 Fourteenth St.
SWITZERLAND, Geneva: P. Drehmann, Librairie Nouvelle, Rue du Mont Blanc.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

BY MAIL, POSTAGE PAID.

DAILY, per Month	$0.50
DAILY, per Year	6.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Year	7.50
SUNDAY, per Year	1.50
MONDAY, with Financial Supplement, per Year	1.00
DAILY AND SUNDAY, per Month	0.65
THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, per Year	1.00

For postage to foreign countries add 50 cents per month.

FOURTEEN PAGES
AND REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

DISTURBING EUROPE.

Europe is expressing some queer opinions in regard to the United States these days, but they are all very earnest indeed.

Senator LODGE'S rather vaunting speech in the Senate the other day seems particularly to have excited some of the Viennese papers, which are egging on their friends in Germany to make common cause against the American invasion. They can see no limit to the advance of American exports to Europe, and no hope of contending on equal ground for the possession of their own home markets. They turn with a sort of desperation to the suggestion of M. PAUL LEROY-BEAULIEU that all Europe should form a customs confederation against the United States. Failing that, they insist on what is called a double tariff, that is, one tariff for European nations having reciprocal commercial treaties, and another, much higher, for the nations having no such treaties, which means practically a higher tariff for the United States. The two propositions are not very different in their object, the latter being only a little less radical.

We confess that we should regard either one of these devices with a good deal of patience. Either one might temporarily check the growth of American trade, but in the long run would promote it, because it would tend to drive the United States toward greater freedom of commerce. With greater freedom of commerce, the ultimate progress of this country would be secure. If Europe could be induced to follow M. LEROY-BEAULIEU'S plan and establish substantial free trade among all the countries of the Continent, it would be enormously for the advantage of the people of each. They would become richer and better customers not merely for each other, but for us, and when we showed any disposition to adopt the same policy, we should undoubtedly be admitted to the game. A considerable part of the commercial animosity now felt for us in Europe is due not merely to our gradual invasion of European markets and of neutral markets, but to the greedy and stupid way we have of trying to shut others from our own markets. If all markets were open, our advantage would still be as great as it now is, and much greater, for we should have more prosperous peoples to deal with.

It is not likely, however, that any such sane change will soon take place. We are not yet ready for it, because there is not yet a really intelligent understanding of the essential sources of our prosperity, and we cling blindly to the provincial and even colonial notions of protection for our local trade. Europe is not ready for the change, because the same errors obtain there, and also because the customs duties are sorely needed as sources of revenue for the heavily burdened Governments. The Neues Wiener Tagblatt is quite right when it says: "Count VON BUELOW, by assisting the Agrarians, becomes the ally of Senator LODGE. The only remedy is the abolition of militarism, which is a cancer upon European agriculture, trade, and industry."

THE PASSING OF CHANDLER.

In the defeat of Senator CHANDLER, the occasion for wonder, even to the Senator himself, is, not that defeat has come, but that it did not come much sooner.

For a dozen years now the Senator has held his seat for a State not at all secure for his own party, and has possessed remarkable influence as a party leader, while he has been wholly out of sympathy with the party in regard to the most important element in its creed, and has managed in the meanwhile to accumulate a varied and extensive stock of vigorous enmities. He has always had a strong faction opposed to him in New Hampshire, and this faction has been able to keep in the other seat in the Senate a cordial and bitter foe of Mr. CHANDLER. He has steadily and acridly fought the railroad interest in his State, and while he does not seem to have won general confidence that his own course was influenced by very high motives, it has not been the less irritating to the railroad people. His position in regard to the silver question has undoubtedly been sincere, probably more sincere than the sounder position which other politicians have assumed in obedience to the change in public sentiment. He appears to have had a certain intellectual fanaticism on this question and to have held tenaciously to ideas that have fascinated him. But fanatic though he may have been in this matter, no one would think of regarding him as an unselfish man in public life. He has in fact enjoyed a remarkable tenure of office without either the moral or the immoral qualities in high degree which are supposed to be the condition of political success.

Unquestionably he has been an intriguer of rare skill and subtlety. But he must have been greatly favored by the circumstances of party life in his own State, for when he has undertaken to act on a broader field he has failed. He has made little impression on the Senate of which he has so long been a most energetic member. He has made no strong impression on the management of his party in the Nation, though he has been untiring in his attention to it. He has left little mark on the legislation of the last dozen years, and is identified chiefly with its mistakes and its failures. He had as Secretary of the Navy some premonition of the growth that the Nation would require in that department, but he succeeded in emphasizing rather the political and partisan use of the Navy Department than its real value. He inspired the people rather with distrust of the abuses probable in extending the navy than with a sense of necessity of the extension.

The gentleman who is to succeed him is not well known outside of his State, but it will go hard with him if he cannot make a good showing against the background of Mr. CHANDLER'S record.

THE SOUTH AFRICAN SITUATION.

That was a very striking dispatch from Cape Town that appeared in yesterday's Sun. It set forth that the defenses of Cape Town on the northern side were being "further elaborated," that the excavation of trenches at the suburban race course had been begun, and that the town guard was "busy drilling, electing officers, and completing other preliminaries."

All this of course means that the people of Cape Town are in doubt and dread whether their town, the most secure British possession in South Africa, may not be in danger of a Boer invasion, months after the war has been declared over. We must have been deceived. In fact, ever since the Anglo-Portuguese understanding and the consequent closure of Lorenzo Marques as an outlet for Boer news and views, we have received virtually no information but that of British official, or officially censored, dispatches. It appears that we have been misled by these. Certainly they have given us no impression that Cape Town itself was in danger.

When the war began Mr. ALBERT STICKNEY, for many years a student of military problems, and an undisguised sympathizer with the Boers as against the British, published a pamphlet to show that the contest was not so unequal as it looked. His argument was founded upon the difficulties of transportation in South Africa, and the increasing troubles an invading force would draw upon itself as it receded from the sea. Accordingly, he assumed that the Boers would not attempt to meet the British in open battle, but would confine themselves to cutting or making unsafe the line of communications from the Transvaal to the coast, a line a thousand miles or so long, and vulnerable at every point of its length. This is what the Boers now seem to be doing. The success with which they are doing it may be inferred from one fact. There is an order now in course of execution from the British Government in this country for the supply of horses and mules to the extent, it is reported, of $20,000,000. The average cost of each beast, landed in South Africa, is put at $300 and his average period of service at three months.

These figures indicate more clearly than any picturesque or rhetorical statement could do the enormous difficulties of the task Great Britain has undertaken. No wonder it should have engrossed her military resources to such an extent as to render her powerless elsewhere and to give point to the reported gibe of Lord SALISBURY, in answer to a correspondent who urged that Great Britain should "show her teeth" in China. The reported answer was that, unfortunately, the teeth of Great Britain were in South Africa.

Of course any Briton so minded may retort upon us that Great Britain seems to be making as much headway against half a million Boers in South Africa as we seem to be making against nine million Filipinos in Luzon. The retort does not lack point. No American can be proud of the situation in Luzon. But, then, the parallel is not complete. We simply could not surrender Luzon to the control of its native savages, who would either render it unapproachable by civilized men, or be suppressed by some other nation which should assume the task we had declined. Was Great Britain under the same pressure of necessity? That is a question which may safely be presented to the British public, with the assurance that the announcement that Cape Town is in danger will stimulate a general searching of British hearts upon it.

SURFACE TRAVEL AND FIRES.

A fire occurred on Thursday evening in West Fifty-third Street which destroyed part of a car line stable. It was not a very bad fire, but in at least one respect it was badly managed. It began about 8 o'clock, just at the time when a great many people were going up or down town on the social errands of the evening. All of the lines of surface cars on both Eighth and Ninth Avenues were blocked for about an hour, including those which swing west through Fifty-third Street. It was about 9 o'clock before the movement of cars was resumed. The interruption was caused by lines of hose stretched across the tracks.

In the case of a fire in a city the protection of life and property is, obviously, a first consideration. The convenience of the traveling public should not for a moment be considered if to consider it would jeopardize threatened property or hamper the operations of the Fire Department. But in view of the ease with which lines of hose can be raised on tripods over car tracks, so as to permit cars to pass under them, without in any way interfering with the efficiency of the engines, it would seem quite proper to consider the public convenience to the extent of making the interruption of travel as brief as possible. This is especially true when a fire occurs in a side street, under conditions entailing no possible danger to vehicles or passengers on the avenues, from falling walls or scorching heats.

To carry tripods for elevating lines of hose over car tracks would not incumber or overload the trucks of the hook and ladder companies. The surface railroad companies have such tripods, but they are kept at the stables and it often consumes a good deal of time to get them on the ground. They should be used at once whenever practicable. The public inconvenience of a congestion of surface lines is not merely local. In thirty minutes it extends from the Battery to Harlem, and may put many thousands of people to great inconvenience and loss, which is excusable only when unavoidable. A proper co-operation between the police and the firemen would discourage any abuse of the privilege of running cars through the fire lines and avoid the needless trouble which now results in so many cases from the congestion of the trunk lines of city travel.

ADMIRAL CERVERA.

The announcement of the severe illness of a Spanish Admiral could not be expected much to affect Americans, in view of the relations of the two countries less than three years ago. And, indeed, there is only one Admiral on the Spanish Navy List in respect to whom such an announcement would much move us. But, unfortunately, and also fortunately, the one Spanish Admiral who could elicit this American feeling is the one Spanish Admiral who is dangerously ill—Admiral CERVERA.

Perhaps we ought not to make too much of our sympathy. It is very notoriously easier for the victor to forget and forgive than for the vanquished. We have just had a curious and unexpected and astonishing instance of this truth in the fact that a certain "camp," or society, of ex-Confederates in Tennessee has put itself on record as opposing an invitation to the President of the United States to visit the next annual reunion of Confederate Veterans. When we consider that there is not now, throughout the United States, an ex-Confederate who is at a social, or a legal, or a political disadvantage by reason of having been a Confederate, we have to own that this action is not large-minded. But the fact remains that the memory of the victors is shorter than the memory of the vanquished.

The ex-Confederates are our countrymen, though we see that some of them will not admit it. Admiral CERVERA is not our countryman. But he has convinced us that, as an eloquent ex-Confederate said not long ago, "all good people are of one country." For, unquestionably, the Spanish Admiral is "good people." When he recognized HOBSON as a brave man he convinced us all of that. And he convinced us of it still more strongly when he came over the side of the Iowa, and gave occasion to one of the many "good sayings" of her commander: "It is hard for a man to look like an Admiral when he comes on board in his undershirt and drawers; but CERVERA did it." The Admiral may have had that kind of contemptuous confidence in his "mechanicians" that our Admirals would have had if "the line" had had its way. He may not be a first-class naval officer in the most modern sense. But that he is a sailor and a gentleman the American people are very well aware. And they have the most sympathetic interest in his reported illness.

A MISTAKE SOMEWHERE.

Prof. CHARLES ELIOT NORTON declares that ex-Gov. ROOSEVELT is "the great disappointment of the present time." This looks like a slur on The Hague Conference, where the nations foregathered to arrange for peace and then went home to fight like cats and dogs, most of them. But granting that Mr. ROOSEVELT is the greatest disappointment of the present time, what is to be done about it? Prof. NORTON is never without a remedy for the evils he continually depicts. He has one for the Roosevelt disappointment.

The downward tendency of the times, which is the cause of the Roosevelt disappointment, has been itself caused by "the great influx of foreigners in the last fifty years." According to the report of Prof. NORTON'S remarks given by our neighbor The Sun, his prescription for these troubles is "to teach literature in the public schools."

This from Prof. NORTON is incredible. He must have been misreported. Teach literature in the public schools as a cure for Roosevelt? Why, Mr. ROOSEVELT himself was stuffed with literature from his earliest infancy. He has for years been the most strenuously literary man in public life. It might be said of him with much more reason than it was said of Lord CURZON, that he reads all the books, and writes most of them. He has produced a shelf full of volumes, and MACAULAY, BUCKLE, JOMINI, the Marquis of QUEENSBERRY, Capt. MAHAN, REINEKE FUCHS, and HENRY CABOT LODGE are the solace of his leisure hours, the companions of his midnight vigils.

It is impossible to see how any more literature could have been got into or out of THEODORE ROOSEVELT. But how would it have stopped him from disappointing Prof. NORTON if in the days when young THEODORE was voluntarily and gayly absorbing the classics of ancient and modern times, his desk-mate, instead of carving surreptitious and prohibited initials on the schoolroom furniture, had sat quaking under the uplifted birch six hours a day engaged in the compulsory assimilation of the works of Mr. SWINBURNE? It is conceded that the teaching of literature to the children of the people is a good thing. There are few better. But it cannot be successfully maintained that if all the little souls in all the schoolhouses in the country had been uplifted and made beautiful by literature, Col. ROOSEVELT would thereby have been restrained from rushing up San Juan Hill and talking considerably about it afterward, and in other ways disappointing Prof. CHARLES ELIOT NORTON.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

—In the special and very handsome New Year's number of The Western Electrician there appears an interview with Mr. THOMAS A. EDISON in regard to the electrical outlook in general and to the future of telegraphy in particular. After prophesying that immediate progress in telegraphy would lie in the direction of improved methods of automatic transmission and of receiving in typewritten letters, Mr. EDISON added this significant remark: "But there is no incentive to-day to any one to devote time or money in attempting to increase the rapidity of telegraphic communication in this country. As you very well know, telegraphy in the United States is in the hands of financiers, and any business man will understand me when I say that it is only too evident that the present policy of the great companies is to 'let well enough alone.'" Mr. EDISON has himself been something of a financier in recent years, and his associations with several great companies have been close enough to give his opinion of their tendencies and policies much value. It is, therefore, a pity that he did not go on and explain just what he means by "letting well enough alone." Information on the subject, however, though not exactly abundant, is still not rare. The public has not knowingly suffered much from corporate refusals to give the best possible telegraphic service, but almost all of us are to some degree aware of the cruel treatment we and the inventors have received from the telephone people. Simply for the sake of getting every possible cent out of old patents and existing plants, improvements in the telephone that might have been made years ago are only now come into general use. The delay has been profitable to the companies—or, rather, to the company—but it has caused a terrible wear and tear on the temper of a helpless population, and relief arrived only on the appearance of competition that could be neither frightened nor bought. Mr. EDISON now tells us that the same thing is true of telegraphy, and perhaps, if all were known, many other public utilities have been exploited in the same conscienceless way.

—A queer possibility of the Bostonian mind is revealed, and an amusing hint given as to the means by which Bostonian pride is conserved, in some modestly exultant remarks of the dear old Transcript about the organization there of another charity. This enterprise, says The Transcript, "is the first of its kind here, and in our natural pride at all the good we undertake to accomplish we would perhaps be pardoned if we doubted the existence of a similar one elsewhere." Now, how is it that Boston has proved at once its virtue and its originality? Listen: "The purpose of the new society is to furnish legal aid gratuitously if necessary to all who appear worthy of such assistance but are unable to procure it on their own recognizance. Its mission is to protect from injustice and imposition the classes in the city too poor to set up these defenses for themselves. There is a wide field for such an organization, and undoubtedly the mere fact that such a one exists will, in many instances, act as a deterrent to persons who in its absence might be tempted to work an injustice against those unable to hire legal advice." When one remembers that New York has had for over a quarter of a century a Legal Aid Society formally incorporated to do exactly the work here outlined, and considering that this society has throughout all that period been both energetic and successful in the performance of its chosen task, and considering further that we have half a dozen other organizations of a similar character, each attending to minor phases of this form of charity, the judiciously timid boast of The Transcript takes on the semblance of a somewhat colossal joke. But there, Boston is all right, and she could hardly be expected to admit that her bright and noble ideas are belated echoes of those evolved in New York. Of course, The Transcript will be pardoned for its doubts as to the existence elsewhere of a charity like that just established in Boston. It can doubt anything except its own right to respect and affection without doing appreciable harm. The line must be drawn somewhere, and we draw it there.

—China's remarkable and somewhat terrible capacity for impressing the mental and physical peculiarities of her own people upon everybody that remains long within her frontiers has been illustrated by her easy assimilation of more than one nominally superior race that has found little difficulty in acquiring domination over the country, and this power has had even more surprising display in the case of a people that everywhere else has succeeded in maintaining its distinctive characteristics. It has long been known that in the town of Kai-fung-foo there is a colony of Jews. When or how they came there is a matter of some uncertainty, but their establishment was of remote date, and their isolation has been almost complete. Just before the outbreak of the present troubles an effort was made by the Jews of Shanghai to ascertain the condition of their mysterious co-religionists, and, though little was accomplished, owing to the disturbed state of the country, still, enough was learned to show that China had done her usual work. A letter published by The Jewish Messenger describes the Kai-fung-foo colony as composed of forty houses and 140 persons. "Their condition in society," says the writer, "is not very high. Once they were the richest and most influential people of the place, but through internal dissension they have dwindled down until now they are very poor. I am sorry to add they have not a very good reputation. One of them is a Buddhist priest, and also has the rank of a small mandarin. They do not know much of their religion." Only a single inscribed stone marks the spot where their synagogue once stood, and unless their associations with the outside world are soon renewed it seems certain that they will become indistinguishable from the yellow millions around them.

—Sins of commission rather than those of omission are just now receiving attention from the critics of the City Government, and for that reason there has been but little comment on the recent receipt by the President of the Municipal Council of a petition for the passage of an ordinance compelling the owners of corner lots to provide signs showing the names of the streets on which the property faces. The matter is an important one, and action should be taken on it immediately. When all the streets were lighted by gas, each lamppost made a convenient place for street name signs, and they were to be found almost everywhere, but since the introduction of electricity many of the old signs have disappeared, especially in the down-town region, and now strangers, and even resident New Yorkers, often find themselves seriously inconvenienced in making their way about. The suggestion that the signs should be supplied by individual property owners does not commend itself very much to us, or, indeed, at all, except as promising something that is better than nothing. The task is obviously one that should be performed by the city, for so only can it be done cheaply and quickly, and with the systematic regularity which is so much to be desired. There is no apparent reason why an expense of this sort, incurred for the benefit of the whole population, should be imposed upon the owners of corner lots, who would profit from it no more than the owners of other lots. Let the city buy the signs and put them up. And they should be, too, of the right kind. Those now on the gas lamps do well enough, even though they have been twisted back parallel to the streets in the old, unreasonable, and inconvenient fashion, but experience and science alike teach that white letters on a blue ground can be read most easily and at the greatest distance. Some day all the signs of this sort will have to be fastened to buildings, and a beginning might as well be made at once in the parts of the city where the usual lampposts are few and far between.

THE MONTGOMERY CONFERENCE.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

In reply to many letters of inquiry, will you kindly let me make the following statement in the columns of THE TIMES? The official report of the proceedings of the Montgomery Conference on the race problems of the South is not published from Montgomery, but has been issued, by authority, from the press of the B. F. Johnston Publishing Company of Richmond, Va. The volume is the authorized report of the first of the annual conferences under the auspices of "the Southern Society for the Promotion of the Study of Race Conditions and Problems in the South."

The volume is one of striking interest and value. It includes a brief history of the Southern Society, with its constitution, and its official statement of plans and policies. There are also included notable addresses by the following speakers: The President of the Southern Society—the Hon. Hilary A. Herbert, ex-Secretary of the Navy; the Hon. Joseph F. Johnston, Governor of Alabama; the Hon. A. M. Waddell, the Hon. John Temple Graves, ex-Gov. William A. MacCorkle, Dr. Hollis Burke Frissell, President of Hampton Institute; Dr. Julius D. Dreher, President of Roanoke College; Dr. J. L. M. Curry, agent of the Peabody and Slater Educational Funds; the Rev. D. Clay Lilly, the Rev. W. A. Guerry, M. A.; the Rev. Father Slattery, the Right Rev. C. C. Penick, D. D.; Prof. John Roach Straton, Prof. W. F. Wilcox, Chief Statistician in the United States Census Office at Washington; Mr. Herbert Welsh, Secretary of the Indian Rights Association; the Hon. Alexander C. King, the Hon. Clifton R. Breckinridge, Dr. Paul B. Barringer, and the Hon. W. Bourke Cockran of New York City. The volume contains a bibliography prepared by Prof. Samuel McCune Lindsay of the University of Pennsylvania.

EDGAR GARDNER MURPHY.
Secretary of the Southern Society for the Promotion of the Study of Race Conditions and Problems in the South.
Montgomery, Ala., Jan. 9, 1901.

Vaccination and Tuberculosis.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

While at the present time, Health Boards, Legislatures, and medical societies are earnestly seeking some practical way of staying the ongoing tide of tuberculosis with one hand, are they not on the other hand promoting its spread by general and compulsory indiscriminate vaccination? Of this result there is imminent danger. Of the three ways of tuberculous infection, viz.: by inhalation, ingestion, and inoculation, the latter is the most positive and certain, and most easy of demonstration.

In times of smallpox scares the vendors of vaccine virus ply their trade in every possible manner, and flood the market with vaccine matter, often of a very questionable character, and frequently produced from subjects, both human and animal, infected with tuberculosis, a disease many fold more virile, insidious, and destructive than smallpox.

I am led to this conclusion by observing in the last few days that patients whose tubercular process was either quiescent or disappearing before vaccination have taken on an active form after vaccination, very similar to that which follows the application of tuberculin serum, denoted by rapid breaking down of lung structure, attended by increase of temperature, pulse, and respiration, with all the positive symptoms of a rapidly progressive form of tuberculosis.

It is my purpose hereby to raise a warning suggestion through your valuable columns, hoping that the attention of the medical and other investigating minds will give to this suggestion the thought and consideration that it merits.

C. C. CARROLL, M. D.
New York, Jan. 9, 1901.

The Times in the Year Just Closed.

From The Fourth Estate.

The most important thing in the history of THE TIMES for the year was the establishing of a Paris Exposition edition. Its success was pronounced from the start, and its publication was considered one of the features of the great show. It was a praiseworthy stroke of enterprise. The New York edition made great headway during the year. The popularity of its Saturday book reviews was largely increased. THE TIMES lives up to its motto of presenting "all the news that's fit to print."

NUGGETS.

An Imitative Woman.

Mrs. Wigg—That odious widow, the hateful thing, has gone and gotten a dress made exactly like mine.

Mrs. Wagg—That's nothing. She's trying to marry my husband's twin brother.—Philadelphia Record.

Would Forget.

"My memory annoys me greatly," said the newly elected Mayor.

"Failing, is it?" inquired his wife.

"No, that's just the trouble. I remember all my ante-election promises, and I wish I could forget 'em!"—Philadelphia Press.

How He Read It.

"Our grocer's mind never rises above business."

"How so?"

"I sent him an order, and just for the novelty of it, dated it thus: 1-5-MCMI."

"Well?"

"Well, he sent us fifteen pounds of mincemeat."—Baltimore American.

No Terrors.

Watts—I broke a mirror yesterday. Isn't there a superstition of some kind connected with breaking a mirror?

Potts—Yes. It means seven years' bad luck.

"It does? I'm glad to hear it. If I am in for seven years' bad luck, I am sure of living that long, anyhow."—Indianapolis Press.

DON'T IDLY DREAM, BUT DO!

George Birdseye in Boston Globe.

Don't idly dream! There is no time for dreaming,
No time to drone and loiter on the way.
With opportunity each day is teeming,
That, till you deign to waken, will not stay.
Be, then, alert, for all around you calling
Are voices, to press onward, heard by few;
Heed them, and venture, with no fear of falling—
Don't idly dream, but do!

Don't idly dream! Great deeds await your doing,
Deeds that will live, and you in them may live.
Noble your thoughts, each day your strength renewing,
Be you but true, that strength your faith shall give.
Life striving round you bids you, then, awaken;
Look, where the future grandly stands in view,
In God press onward! Be your trust ne'er shaken!
Don't idly dream, but do!

NOTES ON ART MATTERS.

Wonderful are the vagaries of that mad etcher, Méryon, to be seen in a collection of his work at Wunderlich's. Here is the Church of St. Etienne du Mont in the street where he lived, an etching present in several states of completion, and here are different impressions of the famous "Apse of Notre Dame," including a particularly charming "final" proof on toned paper, together with a final of the "Tour de L'Orloge." Méryon's etchings are sought by those who love old Paris as she was before Baron Haussmann cut his big swathes. We see the old pumping apparatus on the Seine, which used to supply very bad water. But Méryon cared nothing for sanitation; he only mourned the removal of picturesque bits of the old city. So he burst forth into verse, and carefully etched the verse, moreover—as to how the Pompe without pomp must make way for the new, and quaintly suggested that as an impromptu, before it goes, it might pump—not water, which nobody wants, (!) but wine which everybody desires—a sentiment worthy of the ex-sailorman and Parisian. The collection has a number of his early pot-boilers, copies of prints after Zeeman, Karel du Jardin, and other Netherlanders. The dramatic "Morgue" is here in first and second states, with the rude body of the drowned man borne along the quay, the wailing wife and child, the gesticulating gendarme, and the row of curious laborers on the edge of the river wall above. Then there are various states of the "Pont au Change," such as that with a single balloon labeled "Esperanza," in the sky and the verses to Hone on another sheet, or a balloon and flights of crows, or the balloon marked Vasco de Gama, accompanied by lots of little balloons. This series was one of the supposed indications of his coming madness. More suspicious still is the "Ministère de la Marine," that formal building with the air full of dolphins ridden by men, of snakes, and South Sea flying proas. Here, too, is the etching by Flameng showing Méryon in the madhouse.

***

Paintings to be shown in the fire-proof building at the Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo will consist of those by American artists only, using the word in its widest sense, which have been painted during and since the year 1876, the year of the Philadelphia Centennial. There will be a retrospective exhibition also of the art of the United States.

***

It is an open secret that many of the Academicians and Associates are averse to building on the property they have bought near Columbia University, owing to the somewhat inaccessible condition of that otherwise favored part of Manhattan. They have lost nothing by their investment, however. They could sell it at a very large advance over the cost. The occasion seems propitious for some radically new departure in the policy of the National Academy, which might mark the beginning of a century of wider activity.

***

A miniaturist from Paris, Mlle. Renée de Mirmont, is showing specimens of her work at the galleries of Messrs. Boussod, Valadon & Co. The Society of Miniaturists will hold their annual exhibition in the Knoedler Galleries next month.

***

The budget of Frederick Keppel & Co. for the coming months includes drawings from "Robinson Crusoe" and paintings, water colors, and drawings of fly-fishing, all by Louis Rhead; these for the remainder of January. Then for the half of February etchings, woodcuts, and drawings by Jean François Millet and by Henry Brokman, an illustrator of books; then, still in February, drawings and pastels by Albert Sterner, followed in March by successive exhibitions of etchings by Sir Seymour Haden, and drawings by Joseph Pennell. For his fly-fishing series Mr. Louis Rhead has composed a pretty little catalogue, minim in size, minim in the number of signed copies, containing a preface addressed to anglers, in which he talks of his piscatory ventures in Canadian streams.

***

The Wednesday talk at the National Arts Club, Jan. 16, will be given by Augustus Heming, the illustrator of "Mooswa." Mr. Heming has hunted over large portions of the Hudson Bay territory, and will describe his methods of luring wild beasts within reach of rifle or camera. The Wednesday following, Jan. 23, Mr. G. O. Thields, editor of Recreation, will show a series of slides representing wild animals, and describe them in their habitat. These talks are in line with the exhibition now in the galleries of the club, open to members and those who obtain cards from members, an exhibition of sculptures, paintings, drawings, water colors, and other works of art into which the figures of beasts and birds enter. There are old paintings by George Catlin, and modern by Rungius and N. N. Bickford, sculptures by Bush-Brown and Shrady, colored lithographs of beasts after Audubon, and two series of portraits of birds by Charles R. Knight and Louis Agassiz Fuertes, most lifelike in pose and truthful in coloring.

***

Joseph Linden Smith of Boston is exhibiting at the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn a number of his paintings, water colors, and drawings washed in color, representing architecture and sculpture in Greece and Italy. Mr. Linden Smith has the happy talent of knowing where to stop in the application of color to such objects, damaged as they are by the action of earth and air, softened as to outline, and yet enriched in color by the passage of time. His pictures are very delicate and refined.

***

The ceiling for the Boston Library which Mr. John Elliot has been preparing in Rome for many years, is at last finished, and has reached its destination. It symbolizes the hours, months, and years with figures of horses and men.

***

The poster issued by the Pan-American Exposition called "The Spirit of Niagara" has been so much admired that many artists who have been fortunate enough to secure a copy have hung it in their homes or studios. It represents the falls of Niagara. The face and figure of a water nymph appear just on the brink and against the descending mass of the falls. The edition is said to be exhausted. The author of this poster, attractive in subject and charming in color, is Mrs. Charles Cary of Buffalo, who, as Miss Rumsey, used to attend the classes of the Art Students' League in New York.

RABBI MOSES INSTALLED.

Takes Charge of the Congregation Ahawath Chesed Hashomayim, on Lexington Avenue.

In the presence of a large congregation, the Rev. Dr. Isaac S. Moses was last night installed as rabbi of the Congregation Ahawath Chesed Shaar Hashomayim, Sixty-sixth Street and Lexington Avenue. The synagogue was decorated with flowers and ferns. There was a special musical programme. Marcus Kohner, the President of the congregation, delivered an address welcoming the new rabbi to the city, and then the Rev. Dr. K. Kohler made the installation address. Both addresses were in Hebrew.

Dr. Moses, the new rabbi of the congregation, is fifty-three years old, having been born in Santo Michael, Province of Posen, in 1848. He came to America in 1872, going to St. Louis. His first charge was the Reform Congregation, in Quincy, Ill., where he remained five years. He has had charges in Milwaukee, Nashville, Tenn., and Chicago, coming here from the latter city. A reception will be tendered the rabbi and his wife in Tuxedo Hall on Jan. 17.

Governors of St. John's College.

Special to The New York Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Jan. 11.—At an adjourned quarterly meeting held in McDowell Hall, St. John's College, Wednesday evening, James T. Woodward, President of the Hanover Bank, New York City, was elected a member of the Board of Visitors and Governors, his residence in Anne Arundel County and general interest and welfare of the college being deemed sufficient to render him eligible under the terms of the charter. Judge James Revell presided over the meeting. Others present were Judge J. P. Briscoe, ex-Judge D. R. Magruder, J. Wirt Randall, Justice J. A. Fechtig, Phil H. Tuck of Baltimore, Frank H. Stockett, Nicholas H. Green, L. D. Gassaway, Charles G. Feldmeyer, and Richard M. Chase. Mr. Woodward takes the place of the late Prof. Marshall Oliver, United States Navy.

THE PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY.

Fourth Public Rehearsal at Carnegie Hall Yesterday.

The fourth public rehearsal of the fifty-ninth season of the Philharmonic Society took place at Carnegie Hall yesterday afternoon. The programme was as follows:

"Eine Faust Overture".....Wagner
Concerto for violin, (first movement)..Beethoven
Symphony No. 3, F major.....Brahms
Fantaisie de concert, B minor, for violin, Rimsky-Korsakow

The solo performer was Miss Msud Powell, who made her reappearance after an absence in Europe of two years. The Rimsky-Korsakow composition which she played was heard for the first time here. It is a work which may be classed as not important, but serviceable. It is, as its name implies, a freely written composition, the thematic material, after the fashion so popular with the young Russians, being taken from the music of the people. Russia is especially rich in this kind of music, and the composers of that country are favored by its existence in their constant strivings after nationalism in their productions. It is the fancy of some controversialists in these days to deny the existence of nationalism in music, but the character of Russian folk-tunes is so sharply drawn and the result of their employment in concert compositions so clear that the contention seems idle, not to say puerile. The fantaisie heard yesterday is very unpretentious. It is simply a song of two Russian themes, introduced by a few exclamatory phrases, and then sung by the solo instrument with the addition of a few violin figures and technical embroideries, much after the Liszt pattern. Simply as it is made, however, the composition is useful for a solo violinist, because it gives opportunities for the display of tone, of double stopping, and of harmonics. Miss Powell played it beautifully.

It was, indeed, a delight to hear once more this sterling artist, an honor to her profession and her country. She has not previously treated us to any part of the Beethoven concerto, but after her performance of the first movement yesterday we should like much to hear her play the whole. It was a full-blooded, virile, and well-considered interpretation. We have heard the movement played with more repose, but never with more strength, more incisiveness. There were breadth and dash and aspiration in the reading. There was not a trace of dilettantism or feminine timidity. It was bold, vigorous, earnest violin playing, poured out in clear, penetrating tone, and with a sure and brilliant technic. Solidity and sincerity continue to be the salient traits of Miss Powell's work, but we are inclined to think that she has gained in individuality of tone, in personality of style, and in technical resource. She is a splendidly equipped artist and one of the loftiest ideals. After the fantasia yesterday she played for an encore number a movement from one of the Bach unaccompanied sonatas in a pure and refined classic style. The audience was plainly much moved by her performance.

For the orchestra, of course, the central number was the beautiful F major symphony of Brahms, the gem of his four. It was well played, but for once Mr. Paur raised questionings by his reading. Usually he speaks with the accent of authority in reading Brahms's music, but it was not easy to comprehend his purpose yesterday in taking the first movement at an uncommonly slow pace and the intermezzo at an equally uncommonly brisk one. The Wagner overture is one of Mr. Paur's battle horses, and he brings out its passion and its despair with masterly skill. Yesterday proved no exception to the rule in this matter, and the familiar masterpiece of Wagner's early period was played with warmth and convincing accentuation. It is a pity that such a reading should be marred by technical slips in the wind, but it seems that we must expect that sort of thing on most occasions at the Philharmonic concerts. The audience at yesterday's rehearsal was large. The entire programme will be repeated to-night.

METROPOLITAN OPERA HOUSE.

Puccini's "La Boheme" Repeated Before a Large Assembly.

At the Metropolitan Opera House last night Puccini's "La Bohème" was sung for the third time before a large and demonstrative audience. The slight texture of this work does not militate against its success with this public. It possesses those unfailing elements of popularity in this town, sentimentalism, opportunities for the display of the voices, and mellifluous love duets. A very little observation of the course of events at the Metropolitan will convince any one that these are the operatic sweetmeats for which our public yearns. The performance last night was one of high merit. Its only novelty was the appearance of Miss Fritzi Scheff as Musetta, the part for which she was originally cast, but which she was prevented from singing by illness. Miss Scheff is what is technically known in the theatrical and musical professions as a soubrette, a word so generally misused by reporters that its true meaning has quite been lost. A soubrette is a singing comedian of the fair sex, and Miss Scheff is just that. She has a pretty little voice of very light quality, and she acts with genuine bouffe spirit. She filled the finale of the second act last night with the sparkle of champagne.

Mme. Melba was as heretofore the Mimi and all that has been said before about her performance might be now repeated. She sang the music as clearly and beautifully and soullessly as she did at the other performances, but it was, as before, a pleasure to hear her intone the melodies. Mr. Saleza sang Rudolf with splendid spirit and voice, and delighted all his hearers. Mr. Campanari repeated his admirable performance of Marcel, and Messrs. Journet and Gilibert were excellent as the other two Bohemians. The difficult finale of the second act went well. Mr. Mancinelli conducted with skill.

MR. BAUER'S PIANO RECITAL.

He Plays to a Moderate Audience at Mendelssohn Hall.

Mr. Harold Bauer, who is announced on his programmes as "the great pianist," gave his second recital at Mendelssohn Hall. The question of taste involved in this announcement need not be discussed here. Musical managers are responsible for many queer doings, and Mr. Bauer probably does not describe himself as "the great." His demeanor at the piano is sufficiently modest, though he indulges in that waving of the hands which used to be regarded as a sure evidence of virtuosity. His programme last night consisted of Weber's sonata in A flat, Schumann's allegro, Opus 8; the Brahms variations on a theme by Paganini, Chopin's C minor étude, nocturne in C sharp minor, prelude in D minor and ballade in F minor, a prelude and a romance by Mendelssohn, and Schubert's "Marche Hongroise."

Mr. Bauer has already been discussed in these columns, and, with the best wishes in the world, we cannot discover any more in his work than we have already recounted. He is a pleasing, but not impressive player. He marred his work in the Weber sonata last night by poor pedaling and by uncertainty of rhythm. On the other hand, he must be praised for his continence in the matter of dynamics. He never pounds or forces the tone of the instrument beyond its nature. He has some command of the singing style, but in rapid passages he achieves little in the way of nuancing. Most pianists play the Weber sonata brilliantly, but Mr. Bauer elected to read it in a somewhat dreamy fashion. The allegro by Schumann was so unfamiliar that old and hardened pianists confessed that they had never heard it played in public. It is not a striking example of its composer's thought, but it was worth while to play it. Mr. Bauer's audience was not a large one, but it was apparently well pleased with him.

MISS NETHERSOLE HAS THE GRIP.

Unable to Appear at the Broad Street Theatre, Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Olga Nethersole, who is filling a two weeks' engagement at the Broad Street Theatre, is ill with the grip. She was unable to appear in "Sapho" last night, and the theatre was closed.

Her physician said to-night that she will have to keep to her room until Monday, when she again may be able to appear and complete the final week of her engagement.

MR. McKINLEY'S CONDITION.

President May Leave His Bed Early Next Week.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—It was stated at the White House this evening that the President continues to improve and that no fever or other unfavorable conditions have appeared.

If the present rate of improvement continues, there is no doubt but he will be permitted to leave his bed early in the coming week.

ALFRED G. VANDERBILT SECURES HIS LICENSE

He and Miss French Answer Usual Questions at Newport's City Hall.

WEDDING GUESTS ARRIVING

Two Special Trains to Leave the Grand Central To-day—Dinner to Bridesmaids To-night.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Jan. 11.—In the heavy rain this afternoon Miss Elsie French and Alfred G. Vanderbilt drove to the City Clerk's office, in the City Hall, to obtain their marriage license.

Miss French wore a dark blue box coat. They were directed to the City Clerk's office, where City Clerk Stevens asked the usual questions, which, when answered, were filled in by that official. Mr. Vanderbilt was the first to be questioned, then followed Miss French. When the license was signed by both and by City Clerk Stevens, Mr. Vanderbilt paid the city official the usual fee of 50 cents. The questions asked and answered were the following:

Name of Bridegroom—Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt.
Residence—New York.
Age—Twenty-three years.
Color—White.
Occupation—Railroad business.
Birthplace—New York City.
Father's Name—Cornelius Vanderbilt.
Mother's Maiden Name—Alice Gwynne.
Parents' Birthplace—Father, Staten Island; mother, ——.
Parents' Occupation—Father's, railroad President; mother's, ——.
Number of Marriage—First.
Date—Jan. 11, 1901.

I, the expectant bridegroom named in the foregoing declaration, hereby certify that the information given is correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

ALFRED G. VANDERBILT,
Expectant Bridegroom.

Signed in the presence of William G. Stevens, City Clerk.

Miss French was next questioned and answered as follows:

Name of bride—Ellen French.
Residence—New York.
Age—Twenty-one years.
Color—White.
Birthplace—New York City.
Father's name—Francis Ormond French.
Mother's maiden name—Ellen Tuck French.
Parents' birthplace—Father, Chester, N. H.; mother, ——.
Parents' occupation—Father, banker; mother, ——.
Number of marriage—First.
Date—Jan. 11, 1901.

I, the expectant bride named in the foregoing declaration, hereby certify that the information given is correct to the best of my knowledge and belief.

(Signed) ELLEN FRENCH, expectant bride.

Signed in the presence of WILLIAM G. STEVENS, City Clerk.

All the questions were answered by both Mr. Vanderbilt and Miss French save the birthplace of both of their mothers, which they promised to furnish later, as neither could give the desired information. Both enjoyed the visit to the City Clerk's office immensely and laughed and chatted over the questions which were put to them.

After securing the license, they were driven to the Wickford boat landing, where they met Frederic M. Davies, one of the ushers, and escorted him to Hill Top Cottage. While their carriage was being driven up Hilly Pleham Street the roadbed was so icy that, to keep the horses from slipping, sand had to be used.

Mrs. William E. Shepherd arrived this afternoon, and was driven to the Muenchinger-King cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. Amos Tuck French and Miss Pauline French arrived from Tuxedo to-day, and Robert L. Gerry and Mrs. John Clinton Gray came from New York this evening. A special train for the wedding guests coming from New York will leave the Grand Central Station to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock, the second following at 1:02 to-morrow afternoon.

Harbourview is practically ready for the bridesmaids' dinner to-morrow evening, and for the wedding breakfast and reception on Monday, save for the floral decorations, which will be completed Monday morning and to-morrow evening for the dinner.

Rumors are numerous as to what is to occur when the bride and groom leave Harbourview and board the steamer Monday, and the "send-off" they will be tendered by the ushers, best man, and others of the wedding party. Up to the present time the greatest "send-off" any couple received here while leaving on their wedding trip was that given Mr. and Mrs. Havemeyer, née Rives, last August, when a brass band and an abundance of rice and tin horns played prominent parts, so that on Monday something original is looked for.

Horses and carriages arrived from New York this morning for Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, who will arrive to-morrow.

Commodore Elbridge T. Gerry, Mrs. Gerry, the Misses Gerry, and Peter Goelet Gerry, will arrive this evening, and will go to Sea Verge, where they will remain until Monday or Tuesday. All the Muenchinger-King cottages, Hill Top Cottage, and Hartmann's, where the guests and ushers are to stay, are in Summer trim for the guests.

The wedding presents are still arriving and are so closely guarded both night and day that any one would be risking his life to venture to enter the grounds of Harbourview after dark. Mrs. French personally devised some of the precautions taken for the safety of the valuable gifts. Policemen, detectives, and burglar alarms are now important adjuncts of Harbourview.

Some of the gifts now in the bank vault will be shown at the bridesmaids' dinner to-morrow evening, and all at the wedding reception on Monday. These will be taken from the bank in charge of a member of the family escorted by a force of police, whose duty it will be to continually guard the gifts from the time they leave the bank vaults until they are again deposited there.

The length of the stay of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt at the Breakers, as well as that of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney, is not definitely decided upon, but their visit here at this time will hardly last over the middle of the coming week. Mrs. French, however, will remain the entire Winter at Harborview entertaining members of her family and other guests, and going to New York occasionally to visit relatives and friends.

Mrs. and Miss French, despite all their hard work for the past two weeks, do not show the slightest fatigue.

FATHER AND SON WED SISTERS.

Neighbors Trying to Figure Out the Relationship Problem Resulting.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Jan. 11.—John Voorhees and his son, John, Jr., yesterday married two sisters, daughters of John Bird of Monmouth Junction. Now the neighbors are figuring out the relationship of the parties resulting from the joint ceremony. For instance:

Mrs. Voorhees junior, being the sister of her husband's father's wife, is her own husband's aunt. She is also a sister-in-law of her father-in-law. She is her father-in-law's daughter-in-law, and therefore her own sister's daughter-in-law. Mrs. Voorhees senior is her sister's mother-in-law, and sister-in-law to her son-in-law. Father and son are now brothers-in-law—and all the returns are not yet in.

WILL NOT GO TO WASHINGTON.

Mr. MacCracken Opposed to Students Joining in the Inaugural Parade.

Chancellor MacCracken of New York University yesterday forwarded the following letter, which explains itself, to Wallace Donald MacLean of Washington:

Your request to me as head of New York University to indorse and assist in an effort to gather the entire student body of this university to the inaugural parade March 4 is received with thanks. I am opposed to your movement for the following reasons:

First—The date is near the heart of the college year, when the students should be doing their most earnest work. They cannot, then, afford time for distant journeys which are not absolutely necessary. Attendance at this parade would lose them the first three days of the week, for the rest of Sunday would be lost in order to go, and they could not be back in time for work on Tuesday.

My second reason is the expense. New York University has 1,800 students. A large majority of them must practice economy to obtain an education. The tax that would send even a quarter of their number to Washington would run up into the thousands of dollars.

Thirdly and finally, our 1,800 young men can serve the United States of America far more effectively at less expense of time, muscle, and money than by merely appearing in an inauguration demonstration. The quiet student cannot shine amid the gold lace and feathers of military pomp. It is better for them to choose their own field in which to pay honor to the Chief Magistrate of the country and to the grandeur of our Nation.

I trust the universities in the country will continue to stand for a noble economy of time, talent, and money, in the future as in the past, and that the National Government will be leavened by their influence.

MRS. MILLS'S ANNUAL DANCE.

Unusually Dainty Favors Distributed Among the Guests.

At her residence, 2 East Sixty-ninth Street, Mrs. Ogden Mills gave last evening her annual dance. The cards for this entertainment read, "Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Mills—At Home." Under this polite fiction of a reception society read the bidding to a dance, for, with all the changing conditions of New York society this Winter, as ever, "the dance is the thing."

For over a week past the 200 guests on Mrs. Mills's rather restricted list have been apprehensive lest the cards for the dance should be recalled, owing to the serious illness of Mrs. Mills's twin sister, Mrs. Cavendish-Bentinck, in London. When this feared recall did not come it was assumed that private cables had brought good news regarding Mrs. Cavendish-Bentinck's condition.

The dance of last evening was not given in honor of Mrs. Mills's twin daughters, the Misses Beatrice and Gladys Mills, who are to make their débuts together. It was, however, intended that the Misses Mills should be present at this one dance of the season, but, owing to the illness of Miss Gladys Mills, Miss Beatrice Mills alone was present.

The guests began arriving about 11 P. M., the majority from the opera, where Puccini's "La Boheme" was sung for the second time, and from several dinners. The house was decorated with palms, ferns, and flowering plants. The color keynote was pink, and pink azaleas were chiefly used. Mrs. Mills received alone in the drawing room on the second floor. There was general dancing before supper in the large dining hall, and the supper was served at midnight at twenty small tables, placed in the dining room, library, reception room, and hall. These tables were decorated in different colors and with different flowers. American Beauty roses were used on one, Liberty roses on another, and carnations, daffodils, &c., on the others.

When the supper was over the tables were cleared away, and the cotillion was danced in the dining room, which is used as a ballroom. Worthington Whitehouse led, dancing with Mrs. Mills. There were forty-four couples in the cotillion. The favors were unusually dainty, and many of them were selected by Mrs. Mills abroad last Summer. There were feather fans, wreaths of roses in all shades, tied with tulle or chiffon ribbons, and fancy paper hats for the girls. For the men, there were boutonnières to match the roses, rosettes to match the hats, and fancy horns, silver trifles, pencils, cigarette cases, &c.

Among the gowns worn those that were especially notable were the following:

Mrs. Astor, black velvet paillette with silver. She wore her famous diamonds.

Mrs. Edmund L. Baylies, black satin embroidered in steel and trimmed with deep red roses, and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Maturin Livingston, gray satin with steel paillettes, with much gray chiffon about the bodice, and a diamond tiara.

Mrs. John Jacob Astor, white satin trimmed with silver, pearls and diamonds.

Mrs. Harry McVickar, rose-colored satin draped with lace of the same shade, and on the left shoulder a knot of diamonds with a large ruby in the centre.

Mrs. Kountze, a gown of white brocade.

Miss Helen Kountze, white satin, Empire style, with trimmings of lace and white flowers.

The Misses Ethel and Edith Cryder, white satin gowns, delicately touched with silver, and white heather in their hair.

Miss Caroline Wilmerding, delicate pink satin, veiled with tulle of the same shade and trimmed with wild roses.

Miss Nathalie Wells, yellow tulle trimmed with sprays of pale yellow roses.

Miss Florence Twombly, pale blue satin, draped with spangled tulle and sprays of light pink roses.

Miss Harriet Delafield, pale green silk, trimmed with medallions of white lace and pink roses.

There was a larger number of young people last night than is usual at Mrs. Mills's annual dance. The guests included:

Mrs. Astor,
Mr. and Mrs. W. Reid,
Col. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor,
Mrs. Maturin Livingston,
Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs,
Mr. and Mrs. S. Fish,
Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Harrison,
Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baylies,
Mr. and Mrs. Egerton Winthrop, Jr.,
Mr. and Mrs. V. Sorchan,
Gen. Lloyd Bryce and Mrs. Bryce,
Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Taller,
Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Bishop,
Mr. and Mrs. W. Warren,
Mr. and Mrs. Luther Kountze,
Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Norris,
Mr. and Mrs. O. Rhinelander,
Mr. and Mrs. A. Kemp,
Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gerry,
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Sloane,
Mr. and Mrs. G. B. De Forest,
Mr. and Mrs. C. Oelrichs,
Mrs. John Sloan,
Baron and Baroness de Selliere,
Marquise Talleyrand-Perigord,
H. R. Bishop, Jr.,
Prince Ruspoli,
Ashbel T. Barney,
Mercure Robinson,
Philip Benkard,
Craig Wadsworth,
Rhord Peters,
Creighton Webb,
Mr. and Mrs. C. Oliver Iselin,
Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Burden, Jr.,
Mr. and Mrs F. K. Pendleton,
Miss Nora Iselin,
Miss Therese Iselin,
Miss Elsie Cryder,
Miss Edith Cryder,
Miss Florence Twombly,
Miss Helen Kountze,
Miss Helen T. Barney,
Miss Lelia Sloane,
Miss Alice A. Blight,
Miss Evelyn Blight,
Miss Eleanor Kay,
Miss Evelyn Sloan,
Miss Evelyn Burden,
Miss Gwendolyn Burden,
Miss Bishop,
Miss C. Wilmerding,
Miss Marion Fish,
The Misses Van Alen,
Miss Kernochan,
Coster Wilmerding,
Townsend Burden, Jr.,
Robert Goelet,
Robert L. Gerry,
James W. Gerard.

CLOTHING AND FUNDS NEEDED.

State Charities Aid Association Asks Help for Poor Mothers.

The State Charities Aid Association appeals for donations of clothing for mothers sent with their babies to situations at service in the country. Over 400 situations are provided per year for homeless mothers. Heavy coats and shawls and babies' outfits are especially needed. Clothing suitable for children aged from two to ten years, who are to be placed in permanent homes in the country, is also desired. One hundred and forty-three such children have been placed in homes during the past two and a half years.

About $15,000 per annum is needed to carry on the various lines of work of the association, which is supported wholly by voluntary contributions. Checks should be made payable to the order of Charles S. Fairchild, Treasurer, and sent to Room 702, United Charities Building, 105 East Twenty-second Street. Donations of clothing may be sent to the same address. The officers of the association are: Prof. George F. Canfield, President; Mrs. William B. Rice, Miss Louisa Lee Schuyler, and the Hon. Joseph Choate, Vice Presidents; the Hon. Charles S. Fairchild, Treasurer; Mr. Homer Folks, Secretary.

DIAMONDS IN BRITISH GUIANA.

Company Formed in England to Work the Claims.

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Jan. 11.—The mail from Demerara brings a report of large finds of diamonds in the interior of British Guiana.

A company has been formed in England to work the claims.

SALE OF DANISH WEST INDIES.

Negotiations for Purchase by United States Reported Nearing Settlement.

COPENHAGEN, Jan. 11.—The negotiations for the sale of the Danish West Indies to the United States are seemingly approaching a settlement. The matter has been placed in the hands of the Finance Committee of the Rigsdag, with the view of arranging the difference in the price asked and offered.

The King and Ministry are in favor of the sale, but final action may be delayed by powerful opposition both in the islands and here.

THE ETHIOPIA FLOATED.

Anchor Liner Returns to Glasgow for Repairs.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Anchor Line steamer Ethiopia, Capt. McKenzie, from Glasgow yesterday, for New York, via Moville, which went ashore on Holy Island, in the Firth of Clyde, has been floated and returned to Glasgow.

The weather was calm when the Ethiopia grounded, and there was no panic among the passengers. Signals of distress were made, and a tug stood by until the steamer was gotten off.

The Ethiopia is damaged and has much water in her forehold. Her head is considerably down. Divers are inspecting her bottom.

WHAT IS DOING IN SOCIETY.

Among to-day's incidents will be the dinners to be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison at their residence, 6 West Fifty-sixth Street; a dinner for Miss Mildred Dix, to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Alfred P. Dix of 822 Madison Avenue, at which young people will be the guests, and a dinner for older people, to be given by Mrs. Henry Mills Day of 6 East Forty-fourth Street.

***

Among the passengers booked to sail today on the Kaiserin Maria Theresia, for Mediterranean ports, are Major W. E. Hale and Mrs. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brinton of Philadelphia, Dr. A. S. Knight and Mrs. Knight, Gordon Lee, R. Waldron, Mrs. Waldron, and the Misses M. A., C. E., and Ethel A. Waldron of Kingston, Ontario; Miss Coles, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Farrar, Miss S. M. Farrar, Mrs. James T. Whittaker, the Misses Alice and V. J. Whittaker, and Wallace S. Whittaker of Cincinnati, Ohio; W. B. Pierson and Mrs. Pierson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Nichols and Miss Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Scott, Franklin U. Gregory, the Misses Louisa and Ellen G. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Langdon Mitchell of Philadelphia, Mrs. John E. Cope, Mrs. William Bement and Miss Harriet Bement, Dr. J. W. S. Norris and Judge O. D. Norris, Mrs. Lee, Miss Edith R. Lord, and Thomas Janney.

***

Booked to sail on the Potsdam to-day, for Rotterdam, are, among others, Prince Henri de Croy of the Belgian Legation, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pierson and Miss P. Pierson, and Vance Thompson. On the Menominee, sailing for London, there are booked, among other passengers, I. Olmsted, Lloyd Olmsted, Russell Olmsted, Ingersoll Olmsted, and Miss Eloise Olmsted; Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Morris M. Whitaker, and G. E. Hemmenway.

***

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish will give a dance at her residence, 25 East Seventy-eighth Street, on the evening of Wednesday, Feb. 6. This dance will have many novel features. Mrs. H. Mortimer Brooks has sent out invitations for a large dinner, to be given on Tuesday evening, Jan. 29.

***

The Monday Evening Bowling Club has been reorganized for the coming Lenten season, and the first meeting will be held on the evening of Monday, Feb. 25.

***

There were several dancing class meetings last night, the most important of which was that of the Friday Evening class, in the large ball room at Sherry's. Mesdames B. S. Church, John M. Bowers, Edward Curtis, Christopher Wolff, and H. W. Robbins received, and John V. S. Oddie, Jr., led the cotillion. The favors were, for the men, pincushions with mirrors inserted, and American flags; for the girls, Japanese chrysanthemums and pin trays, and Japanese lanterns. Among the dancers were the Misses Pansy Roosevelt, Jean Brown, Edith Van Cortlandt Jay, Dorothy Schieffelin, Lucille Weeks, Angelica S. Church, and Harry Batcheler, Roland Holt, and J. Montgomery Strong.

***

The second of the four cotillions was also held at Sherry's last evening, in the small ball room, and Mrs. Daniel O'Conor's class had a meeting at Delmonico's.

***

Miss Angelica Schuyler Church is to give on Thursday, Jan. 17, a luncheon of twelve covers for Miss Marjorie Lea, the débutante daughter of Mrs. Lea of 18 West Tenth Street. Miss Church will go to Philadelphia on Friday next for the Assembly ball.

***

Mrs. Maturin L. Delafield gave a dinner of sixteen covers last night for young people. The table was decorated with maiden hair fern and pink roses. The guests included the Misses Caroline Stokes, Catharine Dodge, Susanne Green, Eleanor Thomas, and Henry Morton, Roger Bacon, Douglas Campbell, Wirt Howe, and James Lincoln.

***

Mrs. Spotswood Schenck of 284 Lexington Avenue gave a dinner last night and went afterward with her guests to the opera, where they occupied the August Belmont box. Among her guests were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Le Roy Emmet, Prince Henri de Croy, Franklin Plummer, Frank Otis, and Harold Brown, Jr.

***

Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish gave a dinner of forty-eight covers at her residence, 28 East Seventy-eighth Street, last evening, from which she and her guests went to the Mills dance. The guests were seated at four tables, each of which was elaborately decorated with flowers. One of the tables was in yellow, another in pink, a third in white, and the fourth in red. Among the guests were Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Hermann Oelrichs, Miss Greta Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Pendleton, Harry Lehr, James W. Gerard, James de W. Cutting, and Monceure Robinson.

***

Mrs. W. Storrs Wells, owing to illness, was unable to give the second of her "at homes," scheduled for the day. Other receptions and "at homes" were those of Mrs. Henry Ashton Crosby of 29 Washington Square West, a second coming-out reception for her elder daughter, Miss Beatrice W. Crosby; and Mrs. Maitland Armstrong and the Misses Armstrong. Mrs. Duncan Wood gave a euchre party in the afternoon at her residence in West Fifty-first Street.

SOCIETY IN WASHINGTON.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The Secretary of the Interior and Mrs. Hitchcock gave a dinner this evening in honor of the British Ambassador and Lady Pauncefote. The other guests included the Russian Ambassador, the Brazilian Minister, and Mme. de Assis-Brasil, the Assistant Secretary of State and Mrs. Hill, Senator and Mrs. Hanna, Senator and Mrs. Fairbanks, Mrs. Audenried, Surgeon General and Mrs. Sternberg, and Col. Ernst.

Senator Kean and Miss Kean gave a dinner this evening in honor of Mrs. Alexander of Castle Point, Hoboken, N. J. Among the company present to meet her were the Secretary of the Navy, Baron Gevers, Commander and Mrs. Cowles, and John A. Kasson.

The Postmaster General and Mrs. Smith were to-night the guests of honor at a dinner given by ex-Assistant Postmaster General and Mrs. Perry Heath, who have recently opened their Connecticut Avenue residence for the season. Other guests present were the Chinese Minister and Mrs. Wu, the Solicitor General and Mrs. Richards, Col. and Mrs. Bingham, the Controller of the Currency and Mrs. Dawes, Mr. and Mrs. Olmsted, Mr. and Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Eddy, and Mrs. Yerkes.

Col. and Mrs. Augustus Tyler gave a dinner party this evening to M. and Mme. von Bruening. Others present were Gen. and Mrs. Miles, the Danish Minister, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. P. Lee Phillips, Mrs. Sargent, Mrs. Bessie Stewart, and Count von Hacke of the German Embassy.

The German Ambassador, Dr. von Holleben, gave an at home this afternoon in honor of the new First Secretary of the embassy, Count Quadt Wykradt Isny, and the Countess Quadt Wykradt Isny, the latter only having recently joined her husband. The various Secretaries and Attachés of the embassy, Baron von Herman, Count von Hacke, Count von Montgelas, and Lieut. Commander von Rebeur-Paschwitz, were present to assist in the entertainment. The guests included members of the Diplomatic Corps, the Secretary of War and Mrs. Root, and other members of the Cabinet, the Chief Justice and Mrs. Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Hitt, Mr. and Mrs. Reginald de Koven, Mr. and Mrs. Padelford, and others.

Mrs. Mayo Hazeltine and Miss Hazeltine gave a tea this afternoon at their home, on F Street. Assisting were Mrs. James Marion Johnston, Mrs. Loring, Mrs. Monroe Hopkins, Miss Satterlee, Miss Clara Emery, Miss Kennedy, Miss de Peyster, and Miss Grace Edes.

The Misses Tisdel gave a tea this afternoon at their home, on Q Street, where their friends were invited to meet Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor, the latter formerly Miss Elsie Graham Bell. Mr. and Mrs. Grosvenor, who were married in London in September, have recently returned to Washington and taken an apartment for the Winter. Mrs. David J. Hill and Mme. de Wollant did the honors of the tea room.

For the Haganey Family.

THE NEW YORK TIMES has received $1 from "A Reader" in aid of the Haganey family.

BOERS STILL ADVANCING

Cape Colony Invaders Now Known to Have Guns.

Kitchener Organizing a Force of 30,000 Irregular Horse—Bluejackets Landed at Cape Town.

LONDON, Jan. 12.—It is understood that Lord Kitchener now holds securely all the railroad lines in South Africa, having recovered possession of the Delagoa Bay line, which had been cut on Jan. 7.

According to the Pretoria correspondent of The Daily Mail, Lord Kitchener is now organizing a force of 30,000 irregular horse, which work will occupy some weeks. When this force is ready he will resume offensive operations.

Meanwhile the invasion of Cape Colony looks more threatening. The news that Commandant Hertzog has two guns is rather startling, as it was formerly asserted that the invaders had no guns.

The defenses of Cape Town, including two 4.7 naval guns, are now completed, and the recruiting of volunteers is active throughout the colony. According to dispatches to The Daily Express, the Admiral of the cape fleet is prepared in an emergency to land a naval brigade of 2,000 men, with six Hotchkiss guns.

A Murraysburg telegram this morning says the Dutch there received the British troops sullenly, and it reports that there are rumors that the colonial rebels of the neighborhood are joining the invaders.

The Pretoria correspondent of The Morning Post wires that a member of the Burgher Peace Committee, whom he interviewed, frankly confessed that there was no hope of many burghers surrendering.

The following dispatch has been received from Gen. Kitchener, dated Pretoria, Jan. 10:

"The Boers attacked Machadodorp last night, but were driven off before dawn.

"Hertzog's commando is in the neighborhood of Sutherland, Cape Colony. Settle is organizing a column to head him off.

"In the Midlands and eastward the Boers have broken up into small bodies, some returning north and some hiding in the mountains northwest of Jamestown."

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 11.—The British warship Sybil has anchored in Lambert's Bay and landed a force of bluejackets and a number of guns. This force has constructed intrenchments.

Hertzog's main body, 700 strong, with two guns, has crossed the Roggeveld Mountains, and is now probably in the neighborhood of Eland's Drift, fifty miles east of Clanwilliam. Hertzog's intention is apparently to move toward Ceres and Worcester. Only a few passes are available for the guns, and the whole country is difficult to traverse. The passes are narrow and easily defended.

According to latest reliable reports another party of 500 Boers has reached the Doorn River, seventy miles south of Calvinia. The authorities are doing all in their power to meet the situation.

Refugees from Calvinia and Clanwilliam are flocking to Picquetberg Road. They state that many poor whites are certain to join the Boers, as are also many bitter bondsmen in the neighborhood of Clanwilliam and Malmesburg, who openly declare that they intend to join the invaders.

A small commando, about 200 strong, crossed the Orange River near Aliwal. It was met on the borders of the Aliwal, Wodehouse, and Barkley East districts by a body of police and mounted farmers, and was repulsed with some loss. It will probably attempt to cross the river again.

De Wet was last reported in the neighborhood of Bothaville.

All the towns in Orange Colony on the main line of railway are strongly held by the British, and the Boers show no disposition to approach them.

M. DE WITTE'S VIEWS.

Russian Minister of Finance Says Money Difficulties Come from the South African War.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—"In this question Russia and America are altogether of one mind. Indeed, throughout the Chinese trouble America and Russia have been like that."

The speaker, the Russian Minister of Finance, S. J. de Witte, locked his forefingers to illustrate the words. He referred to the United States proposal to make a permanent settling the compensation and commercial treaty questions, these to be relegated to a congress. M. de Witte continued:

"We are faithful friends of the United States, and it is our faithful friend."

Such words cannot help but be gratifying to Americans, coming from one of the wisest and most powerful statesmen in Europe, whose influence upon the Russian Empire continues to grow and seems destined to become still greater. This was his first reception day since his return here. After dismissing the last of the petitioners who crowded his ante-room, M. de Witte invited the correspondent of The Associated Press into his workroom and consented to set right current opinion regarding the effects of the Chinese troubles upon the economic affairs of Russia. The petitions and reports stacked upon his desk set forth, more plainly than words could do, that time was precious.

The correspondent observed that even the Russian journals declared that the effects of the Chinese disturbances were more serious upon industry and commerce than the entire Russo-Turkish war, an opinion which, he was informed, bankers also shared.

M. de Witte said:

"Our position is quite normal, compared with other countries. Our maladies are not from ourselves, but from without, and prevail in all the European markets. They come from the war in the Transvaal. When once this malady is passed our affairs will be all right again. The principal evil is the lack of capital, which is due to many causes, equally effective also in Berlin, Paris, Vienna, and London. While many causes are operative, as stated, the greatest is the Transvaal. This is true because—first, Great Britain has had enormous expenses, which absorb capital otherwise available for the world's commerce and industry; secondly, the Transvaal gold is not coming to Europe."

The correspondent:

"You believe English expenses in the Transvaal have been greater than those of all the powers in China?"

M. de Witte:

"Much greater. Our expenses have been extravagantly overestimated."

The correspondent:

"Can you foresee a speedy improvement in the situation?"

M. de Witte:

"When the Transvaal and Chinese questions are settled. Those affairs ended, there will be amelioration."

TRAIN SNOW-BOUND A WEEK.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 11.—Dispatches from Sebastopol depict the sufferings of 3,000 snow-bound passengers, on ten trains, throughout the southwest, as being extreme.

One train was inaccessible for a whole week, and others for two and three days.

The passengers were largely school children and people going home for the holidays.

WEDS PLANTER'S DAUGHTER.

MANZANILLO, Province of Santiago de Cuba, Jan. 11.—Miss Lillian Rigney, daughter of Joseph Rigney, the well-known planter and sugar manufacturer of this province, was married yesterday evening to Lieut. Warren Webster Whitside of the Tenth United States Cavalry, son of Brig. Gen. Whitside, the Military Commander of the Province of Santiago de Cuba.

Father William Daly of St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York City, and Chaplain of the Sixty-ninth Regiment, N. G. N. Y., performed the ceremony, which took place at the beautiful country home of the bride's parents near here. Many friends of the young couple from far and near were in attendance.

Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Whitside left for the United States by way of Havana.

Among the guests present were Hugh Kelly, the banker, and James Reilly and his two daughters, all of New York City, and the owners of all the neighboring estates, in addition to the officers of the Tenth Cavalry, the band of which played during the ceremonies.

Accountants' and Bookkeepers' Dinner.

The following public officials and business men have promised to address the guests at the first annual dinner of the New York Society of Accountants and Bookkeepers, to be held Jan. 17 at the Hotel Marlborough: Bird S. Coler, Morris S. Wise, William A. Prendergast, G. Waldo Smith, John R. Loomis, and Charles W. Haskins.

RUSSIE'S PASSENGERS SAVED.

Taken Off the Stranded Steamer in Boats After Four Days of Suffering.

FARAMAN, Bouches-du-Rhone, Jan. 11.—After another night of terrible suspense and four days of privation and suffering, all of the passengers and crew of the French steamer Russie have been safely landed.

As the lifeline connected from the shore with the steamer parted again yesterday afternoon, when night set in no communication with the stranded steamer was possible. The last signaled message read as follows:

"We have not a scrap of food left. Consternation prevails on board."

On receipt of this appeal, the fishermen made two more plucky launches of their boat, but were beaten back, and as the Russie disappeared in the darkness, those on board were seen apparently trying to launch their only remaining boat.

The storm raged with renewed fury during the night, and only those who were compelled to do so staid on the shore, part of them huddled beneath a tarpaulin and others seeking refuge from the gale in the Faraman Lighthouse.

At midnight two floats, with lines attached to them, were launched, but both attempts to reach the Russie were fruitless.

In the early hours of the morning torches were lighted at the bow of the Russie, and in response to the signal the fishermen made another effort to reach the wreck. But they were again tossed ashore, and the crew of the lifeboat, who belong to the fishing village of Carro, gathered around a bonfire made of wreckage from the steamer, drenched to the skin and with their teeth chattering from cold.

With daybreak the weather perceptibly moderated and the sea became calmer. The Carro fishermen at about 6:30 A. M. again put to sea. The spectators watched anxiously as the boat disappeared through the waves. More than once it was thought she was engulfed, but the small craft rose in sight again on the crests of the seas, and approached gradually nearer to the Russie. Then a rope was thrown, which the fishermen caught, and the lifeboat soon afterward was alongside. Then, above the howling wind, rose cries of joy from those on board the Russie, which were re-echoed by the crowd ashore.

Another boat, manned by four men, was then launched, and succeeded in reaching the wrecked vessel.

A few minutes later the Carro boat left the Russie's side, heavily laden. As she approached the shore the occupants were seen to be women and one baby. The enthusiasm was delirious. The spectators plunged into the sea. Some of them dragged the lifeboat ashore and others lifted the women out of the boat and carried them in their arms through the waves to dry land.

One woman was clasped in the arms of her son, who had been waiting on shore since Monday. She swooned and had to be transported on a stretcher, hastily constructed from wreckage and covered with blankets, to the lighthouse. The other women collapsed with fatigue, cold, and want of food. Their haggard faces and trembling limbs told of the awful experiences they had gone through. It was unfortunate that want of foresight resulted in all the nourishment being kept at the lighthouse, two miles distant, for the sufferers had to walk there, assisted by their friends, before restoratives could be administered to them.

The four-oared boat next arrived, with seven more passengers, and the lifeboats then made repeated journeys, until all were saved and sheltered in the lighthouse.

WILLIAM LEE TRENHOLM DEAD.

William Lee Trenholm, the banker and at one time Controller of the Currency of the United States, died yesterday morning at his home, 312 West Seventy-third Street, of an attack of the grip which developed into pneumonia.

Mr. Trenholm was born sixty-five years ago at Charleston, S. C., coming of an old Southern family. His father, George M. Trenholm, was Secretary of the Treasury of the Confederate States. Mr. Trenholm was graduated from the College of South Carolina in 1855, and immediately went into business with his father in Charleston. At the outbreak of the civil war, Trenholm became Colonel of the Rutledge Mounted Riflemen, which he raised and equipped. After the war he resumed business in Charleston. He was offered the post of United States Civil Service Commissioner when Cleveland entered on his first term as President, in 1885. After serving one year, Mr. Trenholm was appointed Controller of the Currency, which position he held until 1889. During his term of office he advocated the retirement of the greenbacks, and suggested a plan for that purpose, but it was not favorably received.

After his retirement from office Mr. Trenholm came to New York and was elected President of the American Surety Company. He resigned this office in 1897 to become President of the North American Trust Company. From this office he resigned in 1899 to retire from active business. Mr. Trenholm published a book on the financial question in advocacy of the gold standard, and wrote many articles on financial subjects. He was a member of the Century, Reform, City, and University Clubs, and of the Southern Society, the Chamber of Commerce, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He was married to Miss Kate Macbeth, and the widow and eight children survive him. Arrangements for the funeral have not yet been completed.

DEAD AT THE AGE OF 103 YEARS

SOUTHOLD, L. I., Jan. 11.—Nicholas McQuillan died at the residence of his nephew, Joseph H. Thompson, in this village, at the age of one hundred and three years. Mr. McQuillan came to this country from Ireland with his wife in 1864, and settled at Greenport, where he engaged in business as a weaver. He afterward moved to Arshamomoque, two miles from here, and conducted business there until 1886, when he gave up his loom to his son Lawrence, and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson. His wife died in 1879.

Of ten children born to the couple, four survive, two sons and two daughters. The oldest child of those living is Mrs. Dennis Mullen of Bridgeport, Conn., who is seventy-one years old. Mr. McQuillan retained the full use of his senses up to within a few hours of his death, which came at the end of a two days' illness, which was due to organic throat trouble and the weakness incident to old age.

The funeral will be held to-morrow morning in St. Patrick's Church. Father James Lynch will officiate. The interment will be in St. Patrick's Cemetery.

DEATH LIST OF A DAY.

Charles Augustus Clapp.

Charles Augustus Clapp of the publishing firm of E. P. Dutton & Co. of West Twenty-third Street died at the Plaza Hotel yesterday of pneumonia. He was in failing health for two years.

Mr. Clapp was born in Dorchester, Mass., in November, 1835. After leaving school he obtained a position as clerk with Ticknor & Fields, publishers in Boston. In 1864 E. P. Dutton bought the firm's retail business, and Mr. Clapp was taken in as a partner, and until 1868 they conducted the famous "Old Corner Bookstore" in Boston. Then E. P. Dutton & Co. sold out their Boston business and opened a store at 713 Broadway, this city, where they remained for fifteen years, then moving to their present quarters on Twenty-third Street.

It was Mr. Clapp's boast that until two years ago he had never needed the services of a physician. Mr. Clapp leaves a wife and one daughter, the wife of Joseph A. Smith of 325 West End Avenue, at whose home the funeral services will be held to-morrow, the Rev. Robert Collyer officiating. The burial will be in Mount Auburn Cemetery, near Boston.

Mr. Clapp was a member of the Union League Club, Driving Club, New England Society, Colonial Club, and the Up-Town Association.

The Rev. Andrew Shiland.

The Rev. Andrew Shiland, who died at his residence, at 272 West Eighty-fourth Street, on Thursday, was born in Cambridge, N. Y., in 1820. He was graduated at the Union College, in Schenectady, and afterward was graduated at the Princeton Theological School. In 1847 he was pastor of the Associate Presbyterian Church in Philadelphia, and afterward became pastor of the Presbyterian church at Southampton, L. I.

He retired from the ministry seventeen years ago, although up to a short time before his death he had filled pulpits in various churches in the absence of the regular pastors. He was best known to the public through the interest he took in the Briggs heresy trial. As a member of the Presbytery, he scarcely missed a session throughout the whole trial, and frequently attracted attention by the speeches he made. Two sons and three daughters survive him.

Thomas N. McCarter.

Thomas N. McCarter, a distinguished corporation lawyer and leader of the New Jersey bar, died last night at Newark after a short illness. Mr. McCarter was born at Morristown seventy-seven years ago. He was graduated from Princeton in the class of '42, and became prominent as a lawyer. He twice declined appointment to the Supreme Court bench. He was for many years counsel for the Lehigh Valley Railroad and other railroads and corporations. He leaves three sons and three daughters. One of his sons is State Senator McCarter of Essex County.

Bernard F. Shanley.

Bernard F. Shanley died suddenly yesterday at his home, 335 West Thirty-eighth Street, of heart disease. He was at business on Wednesday at his restaurant, and complained of illness on leaving for home that night. He was forty years old, and leaves a wife and several children.

Obituary Notes.

JOHN B. KETCHAM, a real estate deal

RELIGIOUS NEWS AND VIEWS

Eighth Conference of Foreign Mission Boards to Convene Jan. 16.

Sixtieth Anniversary of the Broadway Tabernacle to be Celebrated—East Side Settlement Work.

The eighth conference of Foreign Mission Boards in the United States and Canada will be held in the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church, at Fourth Avenue and East Twenty-second Street, from Jan. 16 to 18 inclusive. The visiting delegates will be entertained by the Board of Foreign Missions of the Reformed Dutch Church in America. On Wednesday morning, Jan. 16, the sessions of the conference will begin, with the Rev. James I. Good, D. D., in the chair. At this session reports will be read, relating chiefly to the Ecumenical Conference on Foreign Missions, which convened in Carnegie Hall last Spring. The afternoon session, which will be presided over by the Rev. A. S. Lloyd, D. D., will be devoted chiefly to discussion of the reports of the morning and to a paper on "The Mohammedan Missionary Problem," by the Rev. Henry O. Dwight, D. D.

Thursday morning will be taken up with the report of the Committee on the Science of Missions, by Robert E. Speer, and by addresses by Samuel B. Capen, LL. D., and by Charles I. Rhoades, D. D. In the afternoon session the subject of "Relations of Missions and Missionaries to Governments, Questions of Indemnity, Political Protection, Native Lawsuits," &c., will be presented by the Rev. F. F. Ellinwood, D. D., and James H. Ingram, M. D. The Rev. T. S. Barbour, D. D., will read a paper on "Relations of Missions and Missionaries to Religions and Customs of People."

On Thursday evening there will be a public meeting under the auspices of the conference at the Marble Collegiate Church, at which the Rev. David J. Burrell, D. D., the pastor of the church, will preside. The addresses on this occasion will be devoted to the subject of "The Church and Its Opportunity in China."

On Friday morning, when the last session of the conference will be had, reports will be read by Walter R. Lambuth and by Charles W. Hand, after which the topic on "Missionary Problems of Our New Possessions" will be discussed by H. K. Carroll, LL. D., and Bishop James M. Thoburn of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Almost coincident with the conference at the Fourth Avenue Presbyterian Church there will be the meetings of the Fourth Interdenomination Conference of the Woman's Board of Foreign Missions in the United States and Canada, which will be held at the Marble Collegiate Church on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday next.

On Friday morning the closing session will be devoted to Mrs. R. E. Morse, on "Settlement Work in India," and by Miss Mary Deyo, on "The Most Successful Methods of Evangelistic Work in Japan."

The Broadway Tabernacle Church, Sixth Avenue and Thirty-fourth Street, stands for the beginning of Congregationalism in New York. It is to begin next Wednesday evening a sixtieth anniversary celebration of the founding of the society in 1880. The opening meeting will be devoted to reminiscences. Deacons Whittemore, Dorman, Washburn, and Thomson will give tales of old-time Congregationalism in New York.

The Tabernacle Church began in Broadway, near Worth Street, finally getting settled on its present historic corner some time before the beginning of the civil war. Methodists are about to enter east side settlement work. Their old Eleventh Street church, near Avenue B, has been converted into an institutional church, and is hereafter to be known as the "People's Home Church." It will be opened to-morrow, and among the speakers will be the Rev. R. L. Paddock, the Vicar of the Episcopal Pro-Cathedral Settlement, in Stanton Street. The forces behind this new Methodist move are the Extension Society of New York, made up of the same men who began the Metropolitan Temple five or six years ago.

A purchase was made of a tenement house adjoining the church on the west. This tenement was torn down, and at a cost of $17,000, the property itself having cost $16,000, a model Settlement House has been erected that is intimately connected with the church building. The latter has also been remodeled.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON.

Notes of the International Series Selection for Jan. 20, 1901.

Copyright, 1900, by John R. Whitney.

SUBJECT.—Greeks Seeking Jesus. (John, xii., 20-33.)

GOLDEN TEXT.—We Would Seek Jesus. (John, xii., 21.)

The so-called "Triumphal Entry" of Jesus into Jerusalem was like the flashing of a meteor, very brilliant, but very fleeting, and producing no apparent results. The uprising of the people to welcome Him with hosannas was very sudden, very spontaneous, and very enthusiastic, but it had no organization and no definite purpose. The chief priests and pharisees were alarmed. The disciples of Jesus were sure that all of their expectations were about to be realized. The blind and the lame who had been healed were filled with a grateful gladness, and strangers in the city who were not Jews became anxious to see Him who had been welcomed as the "King of Israel." No one seemed to be altogether unmoved, except the stolid Roman soldiers. But it all ended there.

Even the Gospel writers have but little to say about the close of that day which began so gloriously. From all their accounts, it would seem that when Jesus reached the Temple, or probably before He reached it, the great crowd which accompanied Him dispersed and was scattered about the city. Then He entered it as He had often done before, "looked round about upon all things," staid but a short time, and then left for Bethany on foot and attended only by "the twelve."

During this brief stay in the Temple an incident probably occurred, however, to which St. John alone calls attention. It is this interview of "certain Greeks" with Jesus. Some very careful investigators, however, are of the opinion that it did not take place until the next day. But it was just such an incident as would be most likely to attract the attention of John, and not that of any of the other Apostles, for the reasons which we have already considered. It is not strange, therefore, that he is the only one to record it, or that he does it, not as bearing at all upon the expectations of the people and of "the twelve," or as laying any stress upon the conduct of men toward each other and toward God, but as greatly magnifying the person and the work of Jesus. This gave it a peculiar charm to him. And as he records it in connection with the entry into Jerusalem on that "Palm Sunday," it seems but reasonable to consider that it did actually occur on that very day, rather than on the day following.

ALIENS FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

When Jesus and His Apostles entered the Temple they passed through "The Court of the Gentiles" into "The Court of the Women," and from that into "The Court of Israel." "The Court of the Gentiles," however, was as far as any one not a Jew could enter. "A marble screen four and a half feet high, and beautifully ornamented, bore Greek and Latin inscriptions, warning Gentiles not to proceed on pain of death." (Edersheim.) In this court, probably, were these "certain Greeks." For they were not "Hellenists," or foreign Jews who spoke the Greek language, and who are elsewhere called "Grecians," (Acts, vi., 1,) but foreigners who were not Jews at all. They were, however, certainly devout, earnest men, and they had come to Jerusalem, John expressly tells us, "among them that came up to worship at the feast." (V. 20.)

Being by nature "Gentiles in the flesh" they were "aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world." (Ephesians, ii., 11, 12.) But they were evidently not satisfied to remain in this condition, and being no longer content to worship an "unknown God," they were seeking after the Lord, "if haply they might feel after Him and find Him." (Acts, xvii., 27.) So they had come up to Jerusalem "to worship" the God of Israel.

They may have become proselytes, and so have hoped to have all of their spiritual longings fully met. But Judaism evidently had not satisfied them any more than heathenism. In it "they had not; it would seem, found rest to their souls; there was something more to be known about God which was still hid from them." (Bruce.) Perhaps this wonderful Stranger could reveal it. So Philip, having probably been pointed out to them by some one in "The Court of the Gentiles" as a follower of Jesus, they came to him with the request that he would introduce them to his Master.

Philip, however, was by nature very cautious, and very careful to weigh every question well before he decided it. But his fellow-townsman, Andrew, was quick and practical, always seeing at a glance what was best to do, and prompt to do it. When, in the matter of feeding the five thousand, for instance, Philip stopped to consider whether "two-hundred pennyworth" of bread would be sufficient, Andrew at once went to work to find out just how much they had in hand. Evidently, therefore, Philip had come to rely very much on his townsman.

So when the question of introducing "Greeks" to Him whom he fully believed was about to declare Himself "The King of Israel," came before Philip, it was a very delicate one for him to decide. It might not only be unadvisable, but it might even be dangerous. It had better, perhaps, be deferred until after Jesus had become fully established on the throne of David. But Andrew could probably help him very materially with some practical suggestions. So he went at once to consult with him as to what had better be done. With his usual good, clear, judgment, Andrew promptly settled the matter by proposing that they refer it to Jesus Himself. Thus "Philip cometh and telleth Andrew, and again Andrew and Philip tell Jesus." (v. 20.)

THE DESIRE OF ALL NATIONS.

It is very interesting to note that all this occurred at just this particular time. "When Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea, behold, there came wise men from the East"—the representatives of the great Gentile world—"to Jerusalem, saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews?" (Matthew, ii., 1, 2.) Now, again, just before His death—when He has been hailed by the people as in truth "The King of Israel"—these "certain Greeks," representatives of the same great Gentile world, come with the same request—"Sir, we would see Jesus." The two occasions—the one at the beginning, and the other at the close of His earthly ministry—mark with great emphasis that in Jesus of Nazareth, the prophecy of Haggai was fulfilled, and "the desire of all nations" (ii., 7) had truly come.

Evidently when these Greeks came to Philip, saying, "Sir, we would see Jesus," they were not prompted by a mere desire to look upon One to whom such homage had been paid, and of whom they had heard so much. For such a curiosity could have been easily gratified by securing a favorable position as the procession passed through the streets or as Jesus and His disciples passed into the Temple. Neither could it have been as a matter of homage and respect due from them as foreigners, for Jesus was in no position to receive representatives from other nations as Kings receive Ambassadors. Evidently it was not for any reason that they desired to "see Jesus" merely in the sense of perceiving Him by the eye, as one would see a stone or a star. But it was for the purpose of knowing, understanding, and having fellowship with him. It was not a physical gratification which they sought, but an intelligent and spiritual one. They "sought to see Jesus who He was," in the same spirit, and with the same longings, that moved the shepherds. (Luke xvi., 15.)

The report which St. John gives of this interview with Jesus is evidently very fragmentary. It opens very abruptly, and continues without any clear or close logical connection between the various phases of truth which it presents. It is not, therefore, wise, neither is it necessary, that we should try to analyze it in detail. There are certain great truths, however, clearly set forth in it, which demand our believing attention.

When Philip and Andrew brought these Greeks to our Lord He was apparently surrounded by a multitude of people. What He said, therefore, was not addressed to them alone. It was meant for all "the people." (Verse 34,) and for us. From the circumstances, it is not unreasonable to suppose that, when introduced, they saluted Him as "The King of Israel," and possibly made some inquiries into the nature and extent of His kingdom. This thought, however, He at once dismissed. Although He never denied that He was a King, yet when these men came anxious to know Him and His work, it was not to His Kingship and Almighty Power that He directed their attention, but to Himself as "The Son of Man."

THE SON OF MANKIND.

This was the title which He almost always used when speaking of Himself. And when He used it, it was not to designate His personal relations to men, but His official relations. It designated Him as One who had come from a higher to a lower sphere, not to be merely—a man—walking among men to show them how to live toward each other and toward God, but to be the legal representative of all men before the bar of God, the Son of Mankind. Hence the apostle calls Him "The Second Man," as Adam was "The First Man." (1 Cor. xv., 47.)

He did not, therefore, receive these men with the assurance that the hour had come when "The King of Israel" should have universal sway, but He said, "The hour is come that The Son of Man should be glorified." (v. 23.) And this, not by being exalted upon a throne, but by becoming obedient unto death, even the death of the cross." (Phil. ii., 8.) This would mark the crowning, the glorious completion of His work as man's representative. For He came, not as a teacher, or as an example, or simply to reveal the Father, but "to redeem them that were under the law." (Gal. iv., 5.) Therefore He must not only satisfy every demand of that law for obedience, but must bear the penalty due to every transgression of every law. That penalty was death (Gen. ii., 17,) and "to taste death for every man" (Heb. ii., 9)—He must die that death which was deemed the just due of the most degraded, criminal slave, that no man—however steeped in sin, might ever be able to say that He did not take his place and die for him.

In fact, it was only by death that He could "draw all men" to Him, just as "a corn of wheat" would be but a corn of wheat, if it did not "fall into the ground and die." And the only way by which any one can follow Him is himself to die unto sin, as He died for sin. So He added, "He that loveth his life shall lose it, and he that hateth his life in this world shall keep it until life eternal." (v. 25.)

As He thus spake of Himself as the great Sin-Bearer, who was "to put away sin by the sacrifice of Himself," (Hebrews, ix., 26,) —and as a deep consciousness of the world's guilt before God presented itself to His mind—the shadow of Gethsemane seemed to fall upon Him. "Now is My soul troubled: and what shall I say?" He exclaimed. But when He added—"Father, save Me from this hour"—it was not another form of the prayer—"O My Father, if it be possible, let this cup pass from me." (Matthew, xxvi., 39,) but was rather the unhesitating acceptance of all that was involved in being the Sin-Bearer. It was not a petition, but a positive answer to His own question—"What shall I say?—Father, save Me from this hour"—No. "For this cause came I unto this hour." He could not be the sinner's Saviour unless He made a full atonement for the sinner's sins, and it was for the express purpose of doing this that He became "The Son of Man."

PLAN FOR MAN'S REDEMPTION.

Therefore, He immediately added as the supreme desire of His heart—"Father, glorify Thy name." When He prayed in Gethsemane "there appeared an angel unto Him from Heaven strengthening Him," (Luke, xxii., 43,) but now "came there a Voice from Heaven saying, I have both glorified it and will glorify it again." It was the voice of the Father Himself, indorsing and accepting His work. When He entered upon that work and undertook to "fulfill all righteousness," that same Voice said, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased"—hear ye Him." (Matthew, iii., 17.) When He appeared in the "excellent glory" upon the Mount of Transfiguration the same Voice said again, "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased—hear ye Him." (Matthew, xvii., 5.) And now, when He is about to meet the full penalty of the broken law by His death, that same Voice again declares that by that death He Himself will be glorified. Then His plan for man's redemption will be "finished" by His own Son.

The people, however, could neither apprehend the nature of the Voice, or the meaning of what it declared. But Jesus knew both. So He said, "This Voice came not for Me"—to comfort and strengthen Me—"but for your sakes," that you might know that "now is the judgment of this world; now shall the Prince of this world be cast out." (Verses 30, 31.)

The scene presented to us in these words is a judicial scene, in which "the Judge of all the earth" (Genesis xviii., 25,) assures all men that Christ's death destroyed "him that had the power of death, that is, the Devil." (Hebrews ii., 14.) And why? Because "the sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law." (First Corinthians, xv., 55.) But when Christ died every demand of the law was fully satisfied. "The Accuser" (Revelation xii., 10,) therefore, has no standing in the court, and so is "cast out." Moreover, He who cast him out is "able to keep from falling" all who put their trust in Him, and "to present" them "faultless before the presence of His glory with exceeding joy." (Jude 24.)

Not only, however, was the power of Satan destroyed by the death of Christ, but the supremacy of Christ Himself was thereby established. For He said also, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men unto Me." St. John here interjects the information—"this He said signifying what death He should die." For the term "lifted up" expressed a special form of death which was then well understood, just as "hanging," "electrocuting," "garroting," "guillotining," express different modes of inflicting the death penalty, which are well understood in our day. It meant death by crucifixion.

How "the Son of Man" could die and yet abide "forever" (v. 34) the people could not fathom. Jesus, however, did not explain it to them. He simply directed them to "believe," saying, "Yet a little while is the light with you; while ye have the light, believe in the light, that ye may be the children of light," (vv. 35, 36.) He says the same to all men to-day.

QUESTIONS ON THE LESSON.

What was the effect of the so-called "Triumphal Entry," and how did the Gospel writers speak of it?

When did this interview with "certain Greeks" take place, and what is said of the record of it?

Who were these "Greeks," and why had they come to Jerusalem "to worship"?

What did Philip do when they came to him, and why?

What is said of the relation of this incident to the coming of the "Wise Men" at Jesus's birth?

How did these men desire to "see" Jesus, and what is said of St. John's account of the interview?

To what did Jesus direct their attention, and what was its significance?

How was "The Son of Man" to be glorified, and why must He be crucified?

How did the consciousness that He was "The Sin-Bearer" affect Jesus, and what did He say?

How was He answered, and how did He explain the answer?

How was Satan "cast out" by Jesus's death, and what is said of the term "lifted up"?

What important direction did Jesus give the people?

Religious Notices.

BAPTIST CHURCH OF THE EPIPHANY, Madison Av. and 64th St., Rev. Howard L. Jones, Pastor.—Services 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. All welcome.

CALVARY CHURCH, WEST 57TH ST.—Dr. MacArthur preaches 11 and 8. Evening, "Christianity and Confucianism," second in course on "The Ethnic Masters and the Divine Masters."

CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH, 42D STREET, West of Broadway. Frank M. Goodchild, Pastor.—11 A. M., "The Church's Glory"; 7:45 P. M., "Faults of Christians," first in course on "Excuses." Baptism at night.

FIFTH AVENUE BAPTIST CHURCH, 0 WEST 46th St., Rev. W. S. Richardson, Assistant.—Services at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Preaching by Rev. George C. Lorimer, D. D., of Boston, Mass. Prayer meetings Monday and Friday evenings at 8.

JUDSON MEMORIAL, WASHINGTON Square.—10:45 and 7:30, preaching by Mr. MacMurray. Special musical service in the evening. Hymns and anthems selected from Sir Arthur Sullivan.

MADISON AV. BAPTIST CHURCH, cor. 31st St. —Rev. Henry M. Sanders, D. D., pastor, will preach at both services; morning, 11; evening, 8.

BROADWAY TABERNACLE CHURCH, Corner Broadway and 34th St. Regular services at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. The pastor, Rev. CHARLES E. JEFFERSON, D. D., will preach at 11 A. M., Bible class, conducted by William H. Thomson, M. D. Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 8.

MANHATTAN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH, S. W. Corner Broadway and 83d St., Rev. H. A. Stimson, D. D., Pastor.—Morning service at 11; Sunday school at 12:15.

PILGRIM CHURCH, 121ST ST. AND MADISON Av.—Preaching morning and evening by the pastor, REV. FRANK E. RAMSDELL. Hours of service, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. All welcome.

Sunday Afternoon Praise Service.

4 o'clock—Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway, cor. 34th St. Address by Rev. Albert H. Studebaker, D. D., of Brooklyn, N. Y. Come and bring your friends.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH, MADISON AV. AND 66th St.—Rev. R. Heber Newton will preach at 11 A. M. Evensong 8 P. M., (seats free.) Rev. Walter E. Bentley will preach; subject, "The Vanishing World," followed by a brief organ recital.

ALL ANGELS' CHURCH, WEST END AV. and 81st St., Rev. S. De Lancey Townsend, Ph. D., Rector.—Services 8, 11, and 4.

AT THE CHURCH OF THE DIVINE PATERNity, Central Park West and 76th St., Charles H. Eaton, D. D., Pastor.—Services 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Morning subject: "Is a 'Revival' Possible in the Universalist Church?"; evening, "Music and the Religious Life—a Tribute to the Life and Work of Sir Arthur S. Sullivan." Music by Sir Arthur Sullivan.

AT SOUTH CHURCH, MADISON AV. AND 38th St., Rev. Roderick Terry, D. D., Pastor.—Services at 11 A. M. and 4 P. M.; the pastor will preach.

CHURCH OF ST. MARY THE VIRGIN, EPIPHany Octave.—Masses for communion 7:30, 8:15, 9; solemn mass and sermon, 10:45; solemn evensong, 4; solemn processions.

CHURCH OF THE ASCENSION, FIFTH AV. and 10th St., Rev. Percy S. Grant, Rector. Morning service, 11 A. M. Musical service, 4 P. M. Anthem; "Jesu, Word of God Incarnate".....Gounod Offertory, "Out of Darkness".....Gounod Evening service, 8 P. M. Sittings free at all services.

CHURCH OF THE HEAVENLY REST, FIFTH Avenue, above 45th St., Rev. D. Parker Morgan, D. D., Rector.—8 A. M., Holy Communion; 11 A. M., Litany, Holy Communion, sermon by the rector; 4 P. M., evening prayer, sermon by Rev. John Williams.

CHURCH OF THE TRANSFIGURATION, 5 East 29th St.—Communion 7, 8, and 9 o'clock. Choral CELEBRATION 10:30; Choral EVENSONG, 4 o'clock. Rev. A. B. Conger delivers his SECOND CONFERENCE, 8 P. M.

CHURCH OF ZION AND ST. TIMOTHY, 57th Street, Between 8th and 9th Avenues. Services to-morrow:

8 A. M.—Holy Communion.

11 A. M.—Morning Prayer and Litany; sermon, by the Right Rev. A. C. A. Hall., D. D., Bishop of Vermont.

8 P. M.—Evening Prayer; sermon by the rector, Rev. Dr. Lubeck.

ST. BARTHOLOMEW'S CHAPEL. Parish House, 211 and 218 East 42d St. Rev. LESLIE E. LEARNED, Pastor. Morning service.....11:00 A. M. Evening service.....8:00 P. M.

ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH, 84TH ST., NEAR Central Park West, Rev. ARTHUR H. JUDGE, Rector.—8 A. M., Holy Communion; 11 A. M., morning prayer and sermon; 8 P. M., evening prayer and sermon.

Brooklyn Advertisements. Brooklyn Advertisements. Brooklyn Advertisements.

Frederick Loeser & Co.

BROOKLYN.

Ladies' Kid Gloves.

Clearing Up Sale of One of the Largest and Best Glove Makers in the World.

23,500 Pairs.

No seconds, soiled or damaged goods, but perfect in every respect. The lines of sizes and colors are absolutely complete. This is the largest transaction ever attempted in the glove trade, or by a retail house. We offer them at the lowest price ever known for such good gloves.

Ladies' 2 clasp Gloves, regular price 85c., for 59c.
Ladies' 4 hook Foster Gloves, regular price 85c., for 59c.
Ladies' 2 clasp Gloves, much better quatity, regular price $1.00, for 69c.
Ladies' 4 hook Foster Gloves, much better quality, regular price $1.00, for 69c.
Ladies' 4 and 5 hook Foster Gloves, finest quality, real kid, regular $1.75 and $2.00, at 85c.

Religious Notices.

ST. JOHN'S CHAPEL, TRINITY PARISH, Varick St., Below Canal.—Sunday services, 7:30, 10:30 A. M., 7:30 P. M. Seats free.

ST STEPHEN'S CHURCH, 122-128 West 69th St. Rev. NATHAN A. SEAGLE, Rector. Services 8, 11 A. M.; 4, 8 P. M.

ST. THOMAS'S CHURCH, 5TH AV. AND 53D St.—Holy communion at 8 o'clock; morning prayer, sermon, and holy communion at 11 o'clock; evening prayer and sermon, 4 o'clock; Rt. Rev. Thomas Underwood Dudley, D. D., LL. D., Bishop of Kentucky, will preach morning and evening.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF ST. James, Madison Av. and 73d St., Rev. J. B. Remensnyder, D. D., Pastor.—Morning, 11; evening, 8. Series on "Heroes of Faith."

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF the Advent, 2,307 Broadway, Above 83d St., Rev. G. F. Krotel, D. D., Pastor.—Service, 11 A. M. Sunday school, 9:30 A. M.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH OF the Holy Trinity, 21st St., Near 9th Av., Rev. C. Armand Miller, Pastor.—Services, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

AT EIGHTEENTH STREET AND EIGHTH Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, Dr. W. McKendree Darwood will preach; morning subject, "Soul Winners"; evening, "Divine Reinforcement."

METROPOLITAN TEMPLE. 7th Av. and 14th St.

Dr. Cadman at 11, 4, and 8.

Illustrated Lecture on Siege of Pekin.

Tuesday evening by F. D. Gamewell, engineer in charge. Meetings every night. Prayer service Wednesday evening.

JANE STREET CHURCH, Near 8th Av.—Holy communion at 11, Dr. Belcher; Rev. T. S. Bond at 8.

PERRY STREET CHURCH, Near Greenwich St.—Rev. Geo. E. Mayer at 11 and 8.

METROPOLITAN TEMPLE,

Grand Concert To-night, with Special Talent.

People's Church 61st St., near 3d Av. Rev. E. A. DENT, Pastor. Services, 11 and 8.

ST. ANDREW'S METHODIST EPISCOPAL Church, 70th St., West of Columbus Av., Rev. J. F. Wilson, D. D., Pastor.—Dr. Wilson will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. Evening subject: "Our Sins: What Has God Done With Them?" Special services next week as follows: Tuesday night, Rev. E. S. Osbon, D. D. Wednesday, Rev. W. F. McDowell, D. D. Thursday, Rev. John J. Reed, D. D. Friday, Rev. A. B. Leonard, D. D. The public is cordially invited.

ST. JAMES METHODIST EPISCOPAL Church, Madison Av. and 126th St., Rev. E. S. Tipple, D. D., Pastor.—10:30 and 7:45. Sermons by Rev. Egerton R. Young.

ST. PAUL'S METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH, West End Av. and 86th St., Rev. GEORGE P. ECKMAN, Ph. D., Pastor. Preaching, 11 A. M., by Rev. W. P. Odell, D. D. 8 P. M. by the pastor.

Prayer service, Wednesday evening, 8 o'clock. Mr. Frank Moss will speak Thursday evening at 8:15. Subject: "Things in General."

ADAMS CHAPEL, UNION THEOLOGICAL Seminery, 700 Park Av.—Sunday afternoon service at 4:30 o'clock. Preacher, the Rev. Professor Marvin R. Vincent, D. D. All are welcome.

AT SCOTCH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Central Park West, 96th St., Rev. Dr. Wylie, pastor; Rev. Mr. Gantz, Assistant.—Services 11, 8. Sabbath school 2:45. Welcome.

BRICK CHURCH, Fifth Avenue and 37th Street, Rev. Maltbie D. Babcock, D. D., Pastor. Services Sunday, January 13th: Dr. Babcock will preach at 11 A. M. and 4:30 P. M. Sunday school 9:45 A. M. Young Men's Bible Class 10 A. M. Weekly evening service Wednesday at 8 o'clock.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, NO. 220 West 57th St., Near Broadway, Rev. Wilton Merle Smith, D. D., Pastor; Rev. Walter Lowrie, Assistant.—8 A. M., morning prayer; 11 A. M., morning service, Dr. Smith preaches; 4:30 P. M., afternoon service, Dr. Smith preaches; 8 P. M., evening service, preaching by Mr. Lowrie. Sunday school at 3 P. M.; Christian Endeavor Monday evening, 8; devotional meeting Wednesday evening at 8.

DR. J. WILBUR CHAPMAN, FOURTH PRESbyterian Church, West End Av., 91st St.—Services 11 and 8. Sunday school and Dr. Chapman's Bible class, 9:45.

FIFTH AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 5th Avenue and 55th Street.

The Pastor, Rev. George T. Purves, D. D., will conduct the services on Jan. 13th at 11 A. M. and 4:30 P. M. Afternoon topic: "The Book of Esther: a Strange Story with a Great Lesson." Bible School at 9:30 A. M. Wednesday service at 8 P. M. The public is cordially invited.

MADISON AVENUE PRESBYTERIAN Church, Corner 53d St.—Howard Agnew Johnson, D. D., pastor, preaches at 11 A. M., "The Prayer of Life"; 8 P. M., "Daniel in Babylon."

MADISON SQUARE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Madison Avenue, corner of 24th St.—Sabbath services at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. The pastor, Rev. C. H. Parkhurst, D. D., will preach. Bible school in chapel, 10 A. M.; classes for adults.

NORTH PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, CORNER 9th Av. and 31st St.—Rev. Wilson D. Sexton, pastor-elect, preaches at 10:30 A. M. "Excessive Individualism"; 8 P. M., "The Obstacle to Salvation." All are welcome.

RUTGERS PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, Broadway, Cor. 73d St.—Services at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.; preaching by the Rev. A. F. Schauffler, D. D.; weekly service Wednesday evg. at 8 o'clock, conducted by Dr. Schauffler.

The "Old First" Church,

5th Avenue, 11th to 12th Street.

Howard Duffield, D. D.

11 A. M.—"On the Heights."
4 P. M.—"Knowledge Worth Having."
WELCOME.

UNIVERSITY PLACE PRESBYTERIAN Church, Corner 10th Street.—Public worship tomorrow 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. The pastor, Rev. George Alexander, D. D., will preach. Wednesday evening service at 8 o'clock.

WEST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, 42D ST., Between 5th and 6th Avs.—The pastor, the Rev. Anthony H. Evans, D. D., will preach at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.; midweek prayer meeting on Wednesday, 8 P. M. You are invited.

BLOOMINGDALE REFORMED CHURCH, Broadway, Corner 68th St.—The pastor, Rev. William C. Stinson, D. D., will preach, 11 A. M., "Overcoming the Demon, or Discouragement"; 8 P. M., "A Bad Bargain." All are welcome. Music for morning, Prelude in A, (Wely;) "The Life and Light," (Tours;) "How Long Will Thou Forget Me?" (Pflenger;) postlude, march in C, (Gounod;) 8 P. M., prelude, Spring Song, (Mendelsohn;) Benedictus, (Caes;) Repentance, (Gounod;) postlude in C, (Salome.)

CHURCH OF THE ETERNAL HOPE, 81st St., Between Columbus and Amsterdam Avs. Dr. Crowe preaches, 11 A. M. "Has Christianity Served Its Turn?"

GRACE REFORMED CHURCH, SEVENTH AV. and 54th St., Rev. J. R. Duryee, D. D., Minister.—Services 11 A. M. and 8 P. M.

Religious Notices.

CHURCH OF THE MESSIAH, 34TH ST., CORner of Park Av.—Services, 11 A. M.; Rev. Robert Collyer will preach. Sunday school, 10 o'clock, in chapel; entrance, Park Av. All are cordially invited.

MARBLE COLLEGIATE REFORMED Church, 29th St. and 5th Av. Rev. David Jas. Burrell, D. D., Minister. Morning worship, 11 o'c. Evening worship, 8 o'c. Dr. Burrell will preach at both services. Morning subject, "Our Divine Birthright." Evening subject, "Look and Live."

FIFTH AVENUE COLLEGIATE REFORMED Church, 45th St. and 5th Av. Rev. Donald Sage Mackay, D. D., Minister. Morning worship, 11 o'c. Evening worship, 8 o'c. Rev. Francis L. Patton, D. D., President of Princeton University will preach at both services. Annual meeting of the Society for Christian Work. Wednesday evening, January 16th, at 8:15 o'c.

WEST END COLLEGIATE REFORMED Church, West End Av. and 77th St. Rev. Henry Evertson Cobb, Minister. Morning worship, 11 o'c. Evening worship, 8 o'c. Mr. Cobb will preach at both services.

MIDDLE COLLEGIATE REFORMED CHURCH, 2d Av. and 7th St. Rev. John G. Fagg, Minister. Morning worship, 11 o'c. Evening worship, 8 o'c. Mr. Fagg will preach at both services.

CHURCH OF THE NEW JERUSALEM, 35TH St., Between Park and Lexington Avs.—The Rev. JULIAN K. SMYTH, pastor. Sunday school, 9:45 A. M. Church service, 11 A. M.

AT TEMPLE BETH-EL, 5TH AV. AND 76TH St., regular Sunday service at 11 A. M.; Rev. Dr. S. Schulman will lecture on "The Morals of Money."

CHRISTIAN ISRAELITE CHURCH. Subject: "Woe Unto You that Desire the Day of the Lord. To What End is it for You? The Day of the Lord is Darkness and Not Light!" "Beware, therefore, lest that come upon you which is spoken of in the prophets; behold ye despisers, and wonder and perish, for I work a work in your days, a work which ye shall in no wise believe, though a man declare it to you." 108 First St., 7:30 P. M.

ALL SOULS' CHURCH, UNITARIAN, 4TH AV. and 20th St.—Sunday school, 10 A. M.; the pastor, Rev. Thomas R. Slicer, will preach at 11 A. M.; subject, "Need of Courage in Religion"; the public cordially invited.

AT REFORMED CATHOLIC SERVICES, Christ's Mission, 142 West 21st St.—Evening, 7:45, Rev. Dr. Fasanotti speaks; subject, "Pope's Temporal Power." Father O'Connor also preaches.

BOWERY MISSION ANNIVERSARY

AT ACADEMY OF MUSIC, 14th Street, New York City, to-morrow, SUNDAY, JANUARY 13th, AT 3:30 P. M. Sermon by REV. T. DE WITT TALMAGE, D. D. The Rev. J. Wilbur Chapman and others will take part. Doors open 3 P. M. A CORDIAL WELCOME EXTENDED TO ALL.

CONCERT TO-NIGHT, FREE.—Stephen Merritt Auditorium, 8th Ave. and 19th St. Special programme. Everybody welcome. Mr. Radcliffe, leader.

DISCIPLES OF CHRIST (CHRISTIAN) Start the Century

Right with God

Special services every evening except Saturday. Able addresses; spirited singing—soloists and quartet; elocutionists. All welcome. Rev. B. Q. DENHAM, Pastor, 323 West 56th St.

DR. JOSIAH STRONG

Author of "Our Country," &c., will speak upon "The Times and Their Appeal to Men" in the West Side Auditorium, 318 W. 57th St., Sunday, 4:15. Male chorus of 50 voices. Thos. Beynon, soloist. For men exclusively. All seats free.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. REV. T. DE WITT TALMAGE, D. D., will preach SUNDAY, JANUARY 13th, AT 3:30 P. M. Bowery Mission Anniversary.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, 137-143 West 48th St., Between 6th and 7th Ave.—Christian Science service Sundays, at 10:45 A. M. and 8 P. M. Wednesday evenings at 8 o'clock. Reading rooms open daily from 9 to 5.

FIVE POINTS HOUSE OF INDUSTRY, 155 Worth St., William F. Barnard, Superintendent.—Service of song on Sunday at 3:30 P. M.; singing by the choir of children of the institution; public cordially invited; donations of clothing and shoes solicited.

HENRY FRANK. Carnegie Lyceum, mornings, 11:15, "Socialism, Individualism, Progress."

HUGH O. PENTECOST

64 Madison Av., near 27th St.—Sunday, 11 A. M., "Do we Need Belief in Immortality?"

INTERDENOMINATIONAL GOSPEL MEETing.—Stephen Merritt Auditorium, 8th Ave. and 19th St., Sunday, 11 A. M. and 8 P. M., Rev. Stephen Merritt. 4 P. M., union meeting, Rev. Chas. L. Meade will speak. Special music. Mr. Radcliffe, leader. Meetings every night.

McAULEY CREMORNE MISSION, 104 West 32d St.

Nineteenth anniversary services Sunday evening, Jan. 13, 1901, 8 P. M. Address by Rev. C. W. Millard, D. D., and other friends. Music. Testimonies from redeemed men and women; John Noble Stearns will preside. Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Ballou, Supts.

SPIRITUALISM. DIVINE CIRCLE, CHIMNEY Corner Hall, 25th St., 6th Av.—Sunday evenings, 8, wonderful tests to all; MANNA STRAFFORD, Christ's inspired medium; private sittings; spiritual meetings at residence, 810 Lafayette Av., Brooklyn.

SPIRITUALISM.—First Association, Tuxedo, Madison Av., 59th St., Sunday, 3 and 8. J. Homer Altemus, phenomenal psychic, will demonstrate immortality; good music.

SPIRITUALISM.—Why misunderatand it? Hear Mrs. Helen Temple Brigham, morning and evening, 713 Lexington Av., 58th St. Questions answered. Good music. Seats free.

TALMAGE.

Rev. Dr. Talmage will preach at the Academy of Music, New York, to-morrow, at 3:30 P. M. Doors open 3 P. M. Everybody welcome.

THEOSOPHICAL SOCIETY.

8 Grand Circle, 50th, 8th Ave. Lectures, Sunday evenings, 8:15. Jan. 13th, "The Three Objects of the Theosophical Society," by T. R. Prater.

Brooklyn Churches.

CENTRAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH, JEFferson and Marcy Avs., Brooklyn, Rev. J. F. Carson, D. D., Pastor.—Services to-morrow morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 7:30. Strangers cordially invited.

PLYMOUTH CHURCH.—The pastor, Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, will preach morning and evening. The evening sermon will be the usual monthly address under the auspices of the Young Men's Club. The general topic, "The Great Preachers of the Nineteenth Century, from Chalmers and Channing to Spurgeon, Brooks, and Beecher."

Summonses.

NEW YORK SUPREME COURT, COUNTY OF New York.—LEO POPPER, Edwin S. Popper, and Emil L. Popper, plaintiffs, against JOHN M. BRODY, Charles A. Runnette, Thomas D. Collins, Oliver W. Proper, Thomas J. Bowman, Thomas J. Cullen, and John C. Bowman, doing business under the name and style of "Honesta Mantel Manufacturing Company," defendants.—Summons, with notice.—Place of trial to be had in County of New York.

To the above-named defendants and each of them:

You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, and to serve a copy of your answer on the plaintiff's attorney within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer

NEWS OF THE RAILROADS

Forty-sixth Annual Report of the Lehigh Valley.

Deficit of $2,077,796 Due Mainly to Operating Expenses of the Road.

The forty-sixth annual report of the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, for the year ended Nov. 30, 1900, was made public yesterday. The report shows a deficit of $2,077,796, due mainly to the increase in operating expenses of 9.58 per cent. over the previous year. This increase was caused by the heavy expenses for improvements, which had to be charged to operating expenses. Gross earnings increased 1.72 per cent., and net earnings decreased 25.33 per cent., and, including taxes, a decrease in net earnings of 31.61 per cent. is shown. The percentage of railroad operating expenses to earnings was 83.48, an increase of 5.08 per cent. The report says that as soon as these large expenditures uguinst income can be reduced a better result in net earnings will be shown.

The general expenses were $732,308.25, an increase of $164,318.04, or 28.93 per cent. Of this amount, $51,824.05 is due to change in classification, the items formerly having been included in the cost of maintenance and conducting transportation. The line of insurance carried on the property is much greater than heretofore, entailing an increased cost of $41,344.10.

The income account shows:

Earnings from operation—
From coal traffic	$9,413,472.21
From miscellaneous freight traffic	9,650,172.13
From passenger traffic	2,059,378.49
From express and mail	399,727.96
From miscellaneous sources	617,531.43
Total earnings		$23,049,282.22
Expenses of operation—
For maintenance of way and structures	$3,861,926.59
For maintenance of equipment	4,738,198.11
For conducting transportation	9,909,898.52
For general expenses	732,308.25
Total expenses		19,242,421.47
Net earnings from operation		$3,806,860.75
Less taxes		632,805.78
		$3,174,054.97
Deduct lose and depreciation water lines		290,638.60
		$2,883,371.17
To which add income from other sources		1,055,784.78
		$3,930,155.95
Less interest payable, general account		254,882.93
Total income		$3,684,273.02
Deduct—
Interest on funded debt, car trust obligations, and rentals of leased lines	$4,936,370.00
Interest on bonds of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company, guaranteed	825,700.00
		5,762,070.00
Deficit carried to debit of profit and loss		$2,077,796.98

The operating earnings and expenses, as shown above, include the operation of the lighterage line and the towing line in New York Harbor, the results heretofore having been included in the item designated as net receipts from other transportation lines. The debit balance of the profit and loss account is $1,910,584.

The condensed balance sheet shows:

ASSETS.

Cost of road	$18,639,291.95
Equipment	19,018,413.99
Equipment trust	4,800,000.00
Real estate	1,431,606.96
Securities owned	38,218,124.58
Other permanent investments—
Advances to railroad and water lines included in Lehigh Valley system, for property	5,867,483.37
Current assets—
Cash	1,601,350.41
Due by station agents	1,378,940.50
Due by individuals and companies	1,457,783.29
Advances to other companies	1,122,245.52
Material and supplies on hand	1,374,105.69
Contingent assets—
Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, lessees	3,215,341.34
Total assets	$98,214,699.59
Profit and loss to balance	1,910,584.94
Total	$100,125,284.53

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$40,441,100.00
Funded debt	35,700,000.00
Equipment trust obligations	5,050,000.00
National Storage Company trust certificates	5,000,000.00
Depreciation of equipment	365,744.52
Current liabilities—
Mortgages on real estate	215,020.90
Accrued bond interest, rentals, &c.	2,182,888.09
November pay roll	776,196.05
Audited vouchers	2,163,866.52
Due to individuals and companies	1,695,557.25
State taxes accrued	470,489.23
Employes' pension fund	30,457.12
Deferred liabilities	731,690.10
Contingent liabilities—
Philadelphia and Reading Railroad Company, lessees	1,556,528.81
Unadjusted lease accounts	145,939.94
Total	$100,125,284.53

The Lehigh Valley Coal Company's report shows that its operations resulted in a loss of $989,947.

While the average price realized for all sizes of coal was very slightly in excess of that for the previous year, the percentage of sales of sizes above pea, which produce the largest revenue, decreased from 66.60 per cent. to 62.52 per cent., or 4.08 per cent.

There was produced during 1900, from the collieries operated by the Lehigh Valley Coal Company and its tenants, and from collieries operated by tenants of land companies in which the Lehigh Valley Coal Company or the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company is interested through ownership of stock, a tonnage aggregating 4,946,164.07 tons of all sizes, a decrease of 375,640.03 tons, as compared with the figures for 1899.

During the year 1900 there was expended at the anthracite mines $497,126.04 for colliery improvement work, which amount, in addition to a depreciation charge of 5 cents per ton, amounting to $141,656.79 for reduction of the old improvement account, was charged directly to cost of mining.

SOFT COAL TRUST'S NEW ROAD.

Steel Men Behind the Pittsburg, Youngstown and Cleveland Company.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 11.—An evening paper says:

"It develops that the Steel Trust and the Pittsburg Coal Company, better known as the Soft Coal Trust, are behind the recently incorporated Pittsburg, Youngstown and Cleveland Railroad Company.

"The new road will extend from Pittsburg to Willoughby, fifteen miles east of Cleveland. Great docks will be built on the lake near the latter place, a fine harbor will be made near Mentor, and an immense coal and ore storage plant built.

"High freight rates and the handling of coal and other cars by the railroads in the interests of the Carnegie Company, it is said, are among the causes leading up to the trust's move.

"The interested companies will be able to control freight rates and cars, which will carry ore to Pittsburg and return with coal. They will transport their manufactured products on their own cars from Pittsburg to the lakes, and thence to the great lake ports on the ships the American and Federal Steel Companies have lately bought.

RAILROAD MANAGER RESIGNS.

George T. Jarvis to Retire from the Wisconsin Central Road.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 11.—George T. Jarvis, General Manager of the Wisconsin Central Railroad Company, has resigned, and his resignation has been accepted by President H. F. Whitcomb and the Board of Directors.

The resignation, it is understood, is to take effect on the appointment of Mr. Jarvis's successor. No reason could be learned for Mr. Jarvis's action. He has been with the Wisconsin Central less than four months.

MR. HILL HASN'T HEARD OF IT.

Intimates that His Line Has Not Yet Leased the St. Paul.

Mr. J. J. Hill of the Great Northern Railway Company was told yesterday afternoon that a dispatch from the West stated in effect that the lease of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Road to the Great Northern and the Northern Pacific Roads had gone through. He said that if the deal had been closed he had not been informed of it. He was asked if it were possible for it to go through without his knowledge, and he said he did not think so.

"Is it probable that the St. Paul deal will be effected?" asked the reporter.

"You had better put that among the possibilities," was the reply. "All things are possible, you know."

Brief Railroad Items.

The Directors of the Delaware and Hudson Company yesterday declared a dividend of 7 per cent., payable in quarterly installments during the year. This represents an increase of 2 per cent. as compared with 1900.

W. H. Wells has been appointed Engineer of Construction of the Southern Railway. He will have offices at Washington, and will report to the First Vice President.

Thomas P. Fowler, President of the New York, Ontario and Western, says that there is no truth in the report that the Delaware and Hudson coal tonnage is to be diverted to the Ontario and Western. Delaware and Hudson's coal for tidewater is carried by the Erie under a traffic contract which has some time to run.

ANOTHER TUNNEL CONTRACT.

Difficult Section to be Built by Engineer Benezette Williams of Chicago.

After many months of delay, the section of the Rapid Transit Railroad lying between Forty-first Street and Park Avenue and Forty-seventh Street and Broadway has been let to Benezette Williams, a Chicago engineer and contractor. The Forty-second Street section was the last open one on the entire line, and would have been closed early last Fall except for the number of engineering difficulties that cropped up, and the subsequent negotiations with the New York Central officials for a change of route leading under the Grand Central Station.

Mr. Williams signed the contract with John B. McDonald on Thursday. The announcement was made yesterday at the offices of the Rapid Transit Subway Company that the sub-contractor will begin work just as soon as he can assemble his equipment for excavation, which will probably be during February. The Forty-second Street portion of the route, from the multiplicity of underground obstructions and character of the soil, is considered one of the most difficult of the line. Although starting several months behind many of his fellow-sub-contractors, Mr. Williams expects to finish his section by the time the others are ready for operation.

Mr. Williams is a well-known engineer, particularly in the West, where most of his time has been spent. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan. He was at one time City Engineer of Chicago, in charge of the Bureau of Sewers and of Tunnels. He was also a member of the commission which recommended Chicago's drainage canal. He afterward became its chief engineer. Mr. Williams built the Equitable Gas Plant of Chicago, and besides is well known in various parts of the country for his connection with water works and sewerage systems.

CYCLING AND ATHLETIC ALLIANCE

An Agreement Proposed Between the A. A. U. and the N. C. A.

Articles for an alliance between the National Cycling Association and the Amateur Athletic Union have been prepared by Chairman Batchelder of the National Cycling Association Board of Control, and have been submitted to the Board of Governors of the union. There has been an understanding between the two bodies ever since the League of American Wheelmen withdrew from the control of cycle racing, but there has been no formal alliance, as there has been with the League of American Wheelmen.

The new alliance will be based upon the one between the League of American Wheelmen and the Amateur Athletic Union, with the exception of the clause providing for the trial of Amateur Athletic Union cyclists by a board from that organization, which is omitted. Neither body will permit meets unsanctioned by the other organization to be held in connection with its own meets, and neither cyclists nor athletes who have been suspended by their governing organization will be permitted to compete in the games of the other organization.

Cycle Show Opens To-night.

Wheels of the latest design, that are pictures in themselves, attractive to every one interested in the bicycle, motor cycles, which are coming into vogue, and at every exhibition attract attention; automobiles that are operated by all the motive powers and accessories that are necessary in the bicycle trade, will be shown at the Madison Square Garden to-night, and continue on exhibition during the next week. There are no vacant spaces in the show, and with the main floor laid out for the best convenience for the visitor and the exhibition, the wide platform over the arena boxes, and the accessories and small exhibits located there, the Garden will look well. The souvenirs given away will be appropriate and pretty. The show will open at 8 o'clock.

Work on the Lawson Yacht.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The yacht-building arrangements for the Lawson cup defender are becoming systematized at the Atlantic Works, and the various abstract ideas are gradually being worked out into tangible proportions. To-day a large consignment of lead went into the boat shed and was dumped into the bulb when the outer shell is ready.

The bulk of the frames ought to be here from Phenixville, Penn., to-morrow, as an express company has them in charge, and is forwarding them by fast freight. From the frames seen to-day, they appear to be larger and lighter than those used in the Columbia, but as to their shape there seems to be little difference. The arrival of the bronze for the body will indicate that the yacht is really under way.

Late in the day six molds for the new boat were taken from Lawley's yard to the Atlantic works. They were for the frames in the midship region of the boat. Mr. Lawley has denied that the frame for the keel plate, or fin, and the hollow casing for the lead would be of gun metal. It will be of manganese bronze. Designer Crowninshield left for New York to-night, to remain until Monday. He will visit Islip, L. I., to confer with Capt. Haff regarding the selection of a crew for the boat.

Many Entries for Joint Games.

Two hundred and fifty entries have been received for the joint games of Company I of the Seventy-first Regiment and the Star Athletic Club, to be held in the regimental armory to-night. Battery E of the Thirteenth Regiment of Brooklyn will send thirty-nine men, most of whom, as well as those entered from other regiments, will take part in the one-mile bicycle race, open only to members of the National Guard.

There are twenty-five cross-country runners entered in the two-mile run and thirty-seven sprinters in the sixty-five-yard run.

W. B. Curtis Monument.

President E. E. Babb of the Amateur Athletic Union announces that the general committee on the W. B. Curtis memorial has secured one of the finest lots in Woodlawn Cemetery in which to inter the remains of the dead athlete, and that the committee on the design of the monument has reported that the form of a Greek sarcophagus has been selected.

As all funds must be in the hands of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Amateur Athletic Union by Jan. 28, the committee urges that all who desire to contribute to the erection of the memorial should do so at once.

New York Yacht Club Meeting.

A special meeting of the New York Yacht Club will be held at the old clubhouse, 67 Madison Avenue, on Tuesday evening. Two challenge cups, one for sloops and the other for schooners, will be presented to the club by the navy members, and the committee on the new clubhouse will report that the new house will be open for occupancy on the following Saturday morning. This meeting will be the last held in the old clubhouse, as that building will be closed next Friday evening.

Horseshoe Harbor Y. C. Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Horseshoe Harbor Yacht Club will be held at the Hotel Manhattan on Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock. The following nominations for officers for the coming year have been made: Commodore—E. C. Griffen; Vice Commodore—E. S. Ballou; Treasurer—Lester H. Riley; Secretary—Harold S. Hayward; Trustee—A. V. Smith. A supper will be served.

Baseball at Cornell.

ITHACA, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Cornell's baseball candidates will begin Winter training to-morrow. Hugh Jennings of the Brooklyn team, who will coach the Ithacans and begin his work in the Law School Feb. 1, came to Ithaca to-day. He will devote his attention to batting instruction for the first few weeks.

Columbia and Yale Meet To-night.

To-night in the Columbia Gymnasium Columbia's basketball team will play its first college game of the season, with Yale. Admission to the game is by invitation only.

HOCKEY TEAM SUSPENDED

Players Who Defied the Columbia Faculty Are Disciplined.

NO ATHLETICS FOR ONE YEAR

The Team Played in Pittsburg After the University Authorities Had Forbidden the Trip.

Columbia University's new Faculty Athletic Committee made its first important ruling yesterday afternoon, when it suspended the entire 'Varsity hockey team, including its manager, from all participation in the athletics of the university for the remainder of the college year. The step thus taken not only deals a death blow to the season's hockey, but also strikes heavily at other branches of sport. It is, however, in strict accordance with the university's general policy toward purifying athletics and follows the letter of the stringent rules recently adopted for the governing of Columbia's sport.

A short time before the Christmas vacation the manager of the hockey team applied to the committee for permission to take the team to Pittsburg for the purpose of playing a series of games with the Pittsburg Hockey Club. Permission, however, was not granted, because the trip would take the men away from their college work for three days, and because Columbia teams in general are not allowed to compete away from home with a non-college team. To all appearances the matter was ended with the refusal of the committee to sanction the trip, but the members of the team were anxious to go to Pittsburg, as the series of games would give them valuable practice for the coming intercollegiate season. At last, after much consideration, a plan was hit upon which, it was thought, would solve the difficulty perfectly and would permit the boys to play the games without acting in disobedience of the Faculty Committee. The plan was this: The Columbia University Hockey team would, for the time being, be disbanded, and the Columbia Hockey Club, formed from its members, would go to Pittsburg and play the scheduled games.

This plan was carried out, and was successful in every detail, except one—the committee was not to be fooled by any such easy evasion of its commands.

When information reached the Faculty Committee that the hockey team had acted in direct opposition to its dictum a meeting was immediately called, and the members of the belligerent team summoned before it. The defense offered by the hockey men was the fact that they had played as the Columbia Hockey Club and not as a 'Varsity team, and therefore did not come under the jurisdiction of the committee. This excuse was, however, considered foolish by the members of the committee, because the Columbia Hockey Club, composed of members of the 'Varsity team, had played the series of games which that team had been scheduled to play, and had received the same sum of money for expenses which had been guaranteed to the 'Varsity team. The committee, therefore, in secret session, and after much discussion, determined that the only course allowable under the athletic regulations of the university was the suspension of all men who played on the team, together with their manager.

In pursuance with the decision of the committee, the following letter has been issued to the Captains and managers of all the different athletic teams and associations of the university:

I beg to announce to you that on account of violation of specific instructions of the Faculty Committee on Athletics the following men, R. S. Woodward, A. Lawrence, A. Wolff, D. S. Hudson, A. Coggeshall, S. Campbell, W. Duden, and F. X. O'Dwyer, are disqualified from representing Columbia University or participating in any athletic competition or event of the university, or of any school, department, or class thereof during the remainder of the academic year 1900-1. (Signed) WATSON L. SAVAGE, Secretary.

By the action of the committee the cycle team will lose its Captain, D. S. Hudson; the track team its long-distance runner, W. Duden; the crew one of its strongest oars, A. Lawrence, and the lacrosse team A. Coggeshall. The step taken by the committee is final, so that each of the men suspended is completely out of athletics until next Fall.

INTERNATIONAL HOCKEY.

New York Athletic Club Team Beaten by the Victorias of Canada.

Although defeated by a score of 8 to 5, the hockey team of the New York Athletic Club played a splendid and plucky game against the champion team of the Victoria Hockey Club of Canada in the first of the international contests at the St. Nicholas Rink last evening. Fully 1,500 excited partisans filled the rink, and during the progress of the game cheered wildly at the good plays and hissed impartially at the rough work which was the only unpleasant feature.

Handicapped by the absence of Belden, one of their fastest forwards, and outpointed in height and weight, the wearers of the winged foot not only had to fight these natural disadvantages, but had to battle with a team whose whole time is spent in perfecting the fine points of the game in a country where it is the national sport. The Victorias displayed most beautiful team work, magnificent dash, admirable stick play, and a wonderful attack that, against a less determined team, would have early carried the day. But the New Yorks never despaired, even at the darkest moments, and their showing against the former champions of the world could not help but provoke admiration.

The Victorias certainly played a style of game that was fairly a revelation to local spectators. Their aggressiveness and ability to keep right with the puck, no matter where the athletic club sent it spinning, were marvelous. The New York team play has always been considered excellent, but the superb way in which those four forwards played into each other's hands has not been seen before in New York. Their passing was not only wonderfully accurate and puzzling, but it was remarkably speedy.

The one feature of the game that was unpleasant was the rough play. The Victorias had no hesitation in tripping, checking from the rear, jabbing their opponents with their elbows, and using their sticks for purposes other than hitting the puck. Naturally, being attacked, the New Yorks resorted to similar methods, and there was one period in the game when there were only four men playing on the Canadian team and only five on the New York seven, as the others had been ruled off for foul playing.

The game began with a rush at the New York goal, but Fenwick got the puck and carried it down toward the Victoria goal. After three minutes' play, Stuart came square in front of O'Donnell, where he smashed the puck into the net, bringing satisfaction to the handful of Victoria followers. Play that followed was very rough, and the Montreal players were having by far the best of the checking. A moment after the first score, Howard, the crack local player, from exactly the centre of the rink sent a crashing shot that never stopped till it landed in the net. On the face-off, Russell repeated for Victoria a duplicate of Howard's shot, and his team was again in the lead. Howard captured the rubber, and on another angle shot got the second and last point of the half for his team. Russell again, aided by the whole seven, tallied as time was up.

Play was livelier in the second half, and in the first face-off Stuart got his team's sixth point. Howard was ruled off for rough play, and Yulle, Strachan, and Bowie later in the half were each twice sent to the side lines, while Russell and Cobb went off once each. New York's third goal was the best of the lot. Fenwick extricated the rubber from a mass of fighting players and carried it half way toward the goal. There Yulle took it away, but Hornfeck recaptured it, and, skating cleverly in and out, smashed the disk into the net. Stuart got the seventh score for Victoria on an individual dash from one end of the rink to the other, and Locke quickly repeated his team mate's trick. This was Victoria's last score. New York braced up a little too late, but in the remaining five minutes Howard and M. Hornfeck gained two pretty and spectacular goals. Line-up:

Victoria H. C., 8.	Position.	N. Y. A., C., 5.
Munro	Goal	O'Donnell
Strachan	Point	Hunt
Yulle	Cover point	Fenwick
Bowie	Forward	Howard
Russell	Forward	Cobb
Locke	Forward	G. Hornfeck
Stuart	Forward	M. Hornfeck

Referee—T. W. Post, Brooklyn Skating Club. Goal umpires—Crit" Ayres, St. Nicholas Skating Club, and Howard Walton, St. Nicholas Skating Club. Time of game—Twenty-minute halves.

The detailed score of goals:

FIRST HALF.

Player and Team.	Score.
Stuart, Victoria	1—0
Howard, New York	1—1
Russell, Victoria	2—1
Stuart, Victoria	3—1
Bowie, Victoria	4—1
Howard, New York	4—2
Russell, Victoria	5—2

SECOND HALF.

Stuart, Victoria	6—2
Cobb, New York	6—3
Stuart, Victoria	7—3
Locke, Victoria	8—3
Howard, New York	8—4
M. Hornfeck, New York	8—5

Summary: Goals scored—Stuart, 4; Russell, 2; Bowie, 1; Locke, 1; Howard, 3; M. Hornfeck, 1; Cobb, 1.

HOCKEY CLUB WON EASILY.

New York Skaters Beat Quaker City by Eight to Two.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 11.—Capt. Russell's team from the Hockey Club of New York completely outclassed the Quaker City players at the Ice Palace, here to-night in the first match on the local rink in the championship series. The visitors won the match by the one-sided score of 8 goals to 2. The game was exceedingly fast and necessarily was rough. Russell at centre and Phillips at rover were easily the stars of the visiting team. Orton and Gorman won what little honor was due Quaker City. Rhodes played a poor game at goal in the first half and allowed the visitors to score five points to one by his team. The locals took a brace in the second half, and, playing a superb defense game, held the visitors down to three goals, while Rogers managed to score once for Quaker City. Capt. Russell was struck back of the ear by the flying puck in this half and the match was delayed for a few minutes on that account. The line-up:

New York.	Position.	Quaker City.
Ellison	Goal	Rhodes
Cunningham	Point	Robertson
Newberg	Cover point	Gorman
Phillips	Cover	Devins
Russell	Centre	Orton
Leo	Right forward	Vanny
De Casenovis	Left forward	Rogers

Goals for New York—Phillips, 3; Russell, 2; Leo, 2; Newberg; for Quaker City—Orton, Rogers.

Referee—Mr. Dobby, Crescent Athletic Club, Brooklyn. Umpires—Mr. Harmer, Pennsylvania Dental College; Mr. Davies, Hockey Club of New York. Timekeeper—Mr. Rosen, Pennsylvania Dental College. Time—Twenty-minute halves.

PROTEST NEW YORK BOWLERS.

Chicagoan Objects to Awarding Championship to Starr and Voorheis.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—New York bowlers captured first and second honors in the bowling of the two-men team championship of the United States, which was concluded to-day in the annual tournament of the American Bowling Congress. To-day's bowling did not affect the general result, Starr and Voorheis, who made the high score of 1,203, and Shiman and Linden, who scored the second highest number of pins, 1,137, having played their games yesterday.

A vigorous fight, however, will be made against awarding the championship to Starr and Voorheis. Harry Kiene of the Standard Bowling Club of Chicago to-day filed a formal protest with former President Timm of the Executive Committee of the American Bowling Congress. The protest was made under the rules of the congress, which say that the ball used must be not more than 27 inches in circumference. It is alleged that the ball used by the New York man was a quarter of an inch too large in diameter. The matter will come up before the Executive Committee before the prizes are awarded.

The Corinthians, one of the New York five-men teams, played their postponed game to-day, finishing just outside the money. First honors in this class go to the Standards of Chicago, with 2,720 pins; second honors to the Crescents of Chicago, with 2,692 pins, and third honors to the Inter-State Club of Erie, Penn., with 2,678 pins.

Starr and Voorheis both belong to the Metropolitan Bowling Club and were members of the National League team which won the bowling championship of Manhattan two weeks ago, after winning the west side championship. Shiman and Linden belong to the Empire Bowling Club and were members of the Harlem League team, which won the championship of the east side clubs, but was defeated by the National League team in the final series for the championship of the borough.

BOWLERS' TOURNEY IN CHICAGO.

New York Teams First and Second in Two-Men Contest.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—At the conclusion of the bowling tournament to-night prizes were awarded as follows:

FIVE-MEN TEAM PRIZE WINNERS.

Stanard, Chicago	2,720
Crescent, Chicago	2,692
Interstate, Erie, Penn.	2,678
Difficulty, Belleville, Ill.	2,660
Fellowship, Chicago	2,629
Diels, St. Louis	2,627
Prosperity, Brooklyn	2,616
Fidelis, New York	2,608

TWO-MEN PRIZE WINNERS.

Voorhees and Starr, New York	1,203
Shiman and Linden, New York	1,137
Mrosek and Langhenry, Chicago	1,130
Brill and Conklin, Chicago	1,110
Kiens and Banghart, Chicago	1,109
Knox and Jay, Indianapolis	1,108
Kenna and Haslans, Chicago	1,103
Crawford and Bender, Chicago	1,091
Murray and Weber, Chicago	1,090
Newberry and Meminger, Detroit	1,087
Alten and Strocke, Chicago	1,078
Reed and Collin, Columbus, Ohio	1,078
Fisher and Breen, New York	1,077
Bastian and Jaeger, Chicago	1,076

INDIVIDUAL PRIZE WINNERS.

F. Brill, Chicago	648
J. Koster, New York	621
B. D. Jones, Chicago	606
P. H. Hursen, Chicago	600
H. C. Alten, Chicago	596
S. D. Higby, Lansing, Mich.	596
G. Williamson, Brooklyn	593
H. Saxby, Columbus, Ohio	592
C. Schaeffer, New York	580
E. Stiver, New York	579
D. Koster, Erie, Penn.	577
E. Funke, Belleville, Ill.	574
T. C. Johannsmeyer, New York	572
A. Volrath, Belleville, Ill.	569
H. Collin, Columbus, Ohio	569
F. Lee, Columbus, Ohio	566
M. Saeger, Chicago	564

The Double Century Bowling Club won the five-handed championship, which was finished to-day in the Women's Bowling tournament. The Centuries won by 148 points with a score of 1,876, made the first day of the meet. Second place went to the Modern Bowling Club, with 1,728 points. The Crescents, who finished up the contest to-day, secured third place with a score of 1,698. In the three-handed contest begun to-day the Center team scored 1,207 points; the Three Turkeys, 1,105, and the Star Trio, 994. This class will be continued to-morrow.

ON LOCAL BOWLING ALLEYS.

Bronx Council Won Three Games In Royal Arcanum Series.

In the tournament of the Royal Arcanum Bowling League, Borough of the Bronx, on Pump's North Side Palace alleys, last night, the Bronx Council team won three straight games from the Claremont Council five. The scores:

BRONX COUNCIL.				CLAREM'T COUNCIL.
Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.	Name.	1st.	2d.	3d.
Fincke	149	198	161	Fox	142	151	125
Ballard	123	187	121	Kuder	132	191	134
Healy	135	150	133	Gleger	105	120	108
Oakes	159	132	140	Ludwig	128	148	118
Turner	150	176	131	Schultz	111	147	182
Total	717	798		Total	698	767	665

Colonial Council won two games in the New York Royal Arcanum League tournament on Starr's alleys last night, defeating Benevolent and Morningside Councils, and Morningside beat Benevolent by two pins. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Colonial Council—Davis, 171; Schuck, 198; Wanderer, 153; Darrell, 153; Haus, 158. Total, 833.

Benevolent Council—Simon, 145; Ward, 182; Roth, 116; Lehmann, 104; Strauss, 153. Total, 650.

SECOND GAME.—Benevolent Council—Simon, 170; Strauss, 152; Rosenthal, 169; Lasker, 105; Strauss, 159. Total, 755.

Morningside Council—Duncan, 146; Devine, 129; Simmons, 114; H. Doncourt, 173; L. Doncourt, 178. Total, 832.

THIRD GAME.—Morningside Council—Duncan, 170; Devine, 134; Lawson, 143; H. Doncourt, 160; L. Doncourt, 186. Total, 793.

Colonial Council—Davis, 156; Schuck, 177; Wanderer, 161; Darrell, 149; Haus, 171. Total, 814.

The Standard, Phoenix, and Dolando teams broke even in the Columbia League tournament on Schlesing's Columbia Alleys last night, each winning one game and losing one. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Standard Bowling Club—Kohler, 195; Steeves, 160; Tobin, 147; Thompson, 161; Kahlsdorf, 198. Total, 861.

Phoenix Bowling Club—Moynahan, 148; McLean, 146; Hunt, 169; Church, 174; Clute, 192. Total, 829.

SECOND GAME.—Phoenix Bowling Club—Moynahan, 183; McLean, 179; Hunt, 168; Church, 175; Clute, 189. Total, 879.

Dolando Bowling Club—Kirby, 158; Schlusing, 158; Stumpf, 114; Roeschlau, 179; Dolin, 191. Total, 800.

THIRD GAME.—Dolando Bowling Club—Kirby, 133; Schlusing, 190; Edwards, 164; Roeschlau, 162; Dohn, 206. Total, 855.

Standard Bowling Club—Kohler, 169; Steeves, 157; Tobin, 153; Thompson, 178; Kahlsdorf, 163. Total, 820.

The Cyclone bowlers outrolled the Colonial and Hyperion teams, in the Harlem League tournament, on Thum & Kahlsdorf's Harlem Palace alleys last night, and the Hyperion five beat the Cyclones. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Colonial Bowling Club—Bell, 170; Ruhl, 113; Schaefer, 155; O'Brien, 155; Vogel, 155. Total, 745.

Hyperion Bowling Club—Herrmann, 186; Schlett, 122; Klepper, 168; Fecher, 215; Loehr, 174. Total, 815.

SECOND GAME.—Cyclone Bowling Club—C. Boettjer, 234; A. Boettjer, 180; Schoales, 139; Le Beau, 198; Setzer, 147. Total, 895.

Colonial Bowling Club—Bell, 190; Ruhl, 156; Schaefer, 168; O'Brien, 168; Vogel, 169. Total, 849.

THIRD GAME.—Hyperion Bowling Club—Herrmann, 158; Schlett, 124; Klepper, 137; Fecher, 168; Loehr, 167. Total, 754.

Cyclone Bowling Club—C. Boettjer, 168; A. Boettjer, 174; Schoales, 169; Le Beau, 174; Setzer, 149. Total, 834.

Columbus Catholic Club team No. 1 defeated the Loyola and Leo teams in the Archdiocesan Union League tournament on Thumann's Colonial alleys last night, and Leo beat Loyola by 10 pins. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Columbus Catholic Club Team No. 1—Ferril, 148; Boyle, 157; Fox, 142; Jarvey, 172; Schultz, 183. Total, 802.

Loyola Catholic Club—Carroll, 168; Nicholson, 99; McMahon, 124; O'Dair, 149; Monahan, 179. Total, 719.

SECOND GAME.—Loyola Catholic Club—Carroll, 168; Nicholson, 97; McMahon, 109; O'Dair, 150; Monahan, 134. Total, 658.

Leo Catholic Club—Boyle, 124; Dunn, 133; Etzel, 163; Higgins, 148; McCarthy, 160. Total, 668.

THIRD GAME.—Leo Catholic Club—Boyle, 141; Dunn, 132; Etzel, 168; Higgins, 106; McCarthy, 125. Total, 672.

Columbus Catholic Club Team No. 1—Ferril, 166; Boyle, 136; Fox, 182; Jarvey, 157; Schultz, 147. Total, 838.

The Aurania team won two games and the Eclipse team won one in the tournament of the United Bowling Clubs of New York on Thum's Germania alleys last night. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—Black Bass Bowling Club—Cramer, 113; Heinbeck, 126; Siegel, 95; Maysuhrt, 123; Meyer, 138. Total, 595.

Aurania Bowling Club—Lait, 110; Taylor, 132; Krup, 197; Kroeger, 123; Muller, 166. Total, 728.

SECOND GAME.—Eclipse Bowling Club—Timmons, 176; Jickert, 88; Kweer, 106; C. Thompson, 103; E. Thompson, 116. Total, 589.

Black Bass Bowling Club—Cramer, 132; Heinbeck, 100; Siegel, 160; Maysuhrt, 127; Meyer, 161. Total, 680.

THIRD GAME.—Aurania Bowling Club—Schoeppior, 129; Lait, 141; Krup, 188; Taylor, 155; Muller, 136. Total, 753.

Eclipse Bowling Club—Timmons, 128; Jickert, 110; Kweer, 121; C. Thompson, 134; E. Thompson, 142. Total, 635.

The Herald and The Journal teams each won a game and lost one in the tournament of the Morning Newspaper League, on the Germania alleys yesterday. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—New York Herald—Holland, 138; Moran, 121; McCandless, 105; Long, 126; Gillespie, 148; Knecht, 151; Nutzhorn, 149; Davis, 176. Total, 1114.

New York Journal and Advertiser—Juppe, 162; Caspari, 143; Fitzpatrick, 146; Jeffries, 132; Wood, 137; Ullman, 132; Perkins, 160; Strawinski, 144. Total, 1,156.

SECOND GAME.—New York Herald—Holland, 143; Moran, 191; McCandless, 136; Long, 142; Gillespie, 119; Knecht, 176; Nutzhorn, 168; Davis, 176. Total, 1,212.

New York Journal and Advertiser—Juppe, 147; Caspari, 144; Fitzpatrick, 125; Jeffries, 146; Wood, 99; Ullman, 147; Perkins, 141; Strawinski, 185. Total, 1,134.

The I. D. K. bowlers defeated the Reinecke and the Atlantic teams in the Carruthers National tournament on the Elephant Club alleys, Brooklyn, last night, and the Reineckes beat the Atlantics. The scores:

FIRST GAME.—I. D. K. Bowling Club—Hartman, 189; Troester, 232; Bauman, 168; Norrie, 208; Fink, 204. Total, 998.

Reinecke Bowling Club—Meyer, 194; Lincoln, 182; Mahlan, 195; Wulpern, 148; Kruse, 184. Total, 903.

SECOND GAME.—Reinecke Bowling Club—Meyer, 175; Lincoln, 167; Mahlan, 208; Wulpern, 154; Kruse, 148. Total, 872.

Atlantic Bowling Club—Dozaph, 179; Lewis, 168; Haucke, 135; Hemminger, 176; Langenberg, 151. Total, 809.

THIRD GAME.—Atlantic Bowling Club—Dozaph, 185; Lewis, 159; Haucke, 164; Hemminger, 167; Langenberg, 175. Total, 850.

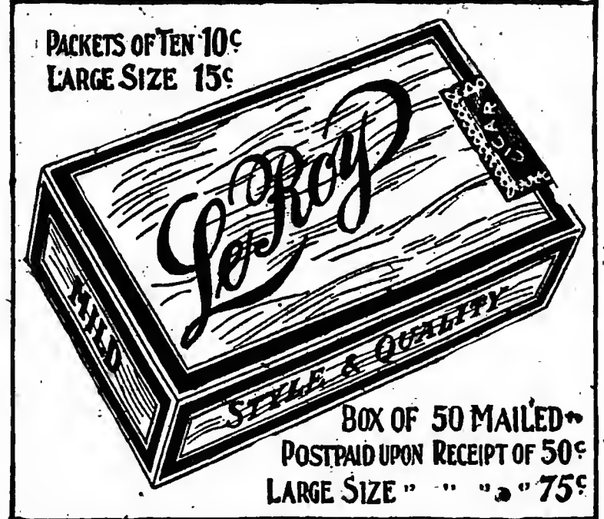
I. D. K. Bowling Club—Hartman, 198; Troester, 160; Bauman, 140; Norris, 167; Fink, 209. Total, 874.

Benefit for Columbia Athletics.

In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the athletic benefit held last night in the Columbia University gymnasium was both a social and a financial success. It is estimated that about $1,000 was netted for athletics. This will go quite a way in helping sport at the local institution out of its pecuniary difficulties. The younger set of New York society was out in force, and after the musical part of the programme had been rendered, dancing was indulged in until quite late.

The programme, which was rather long, included numbers by the glee, banjo, and mandolin clubs, a whistling solo by F. C. Seaman, '03, Law, and songs by Messrs. Oscar Bullard, '02, college; W. R. Planten, 1900, Law; G. R. Lang, 1900, and H. S. Hall, 1900, Science.

LE ROY LITTLE CIGAR



PACKETS OF TEN 10¢
LARGE SIZE 15¢
BOX OF 50 MAILED
POSTPAID UPON RECEIPT OF 50¢
LARGE SIZE " " " 75¢
L. MILLER & SONS 543 B'WAY N.Y.

Buy a
Sparklet
Bottle
and buy one to-day. At a cost of 2½ cents a pint you can make any sparkling drink for yourself—water, wine, tea, milk. It gives all the sparkle of life.
Buy a Sparklet bottle at your druggist's or grocer's, or at our store, 1127 Broadway. Buy one anywhere, but buy one.

International Armor Brand
BOND 3-in.
HELENA 2¾in.
BOULEVARD 2½in.
NEW CREATIONS
Shirts, Collars, Cuffs.

FIGHT MAY NOT TAKE PLACE.

Cincinnati's Mayor Legally Advised that Proposed Pugilistic Contest Is Unlawful.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 11.—The Directors of the Saengerfest Athletic Association of Cincinnati express the fullest determination to-night that the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight will be pulled off here Feb. 15, but the preponderance of public sentiment is to the cont

FINANCIAL.

Hanover National Bank
Capital $3,000,000. Surplus and profits, $5,000,000.
9 and 11 Nassau St.

Colonial Trust Company
CAPITAL, SURPLUS AND UNDIVIDED PROFITS, $2,000,000.00.
ST. PAUL BLDG. 222 B'way.

Bankers' Cards.

Spencer Trask & Co.
BANKERS,
27 & 29 Pine Street, New York.
Transact a general banking business; act as Fiscal Agents for corporations, and negotiate security issues of railroads and other companies. Execute commission orders and deal in
INVESTMENT SECURITIES.
Members New York Stock Exchange.
Branch Office: 65 State St., Albany.

DOUGLAS & JONES,
Members New York Stock Exchange.
ESTABLISHED 1886.
24 Broad St., New York City.
STOCKS AND BONDS BOUGHT AND SOLD ON COMMISSION AT THE NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE AND CARRIED ON MARGIN.
Daily Market Letter on Application.
CORRESPONDENCE INVITED.

New York Telephone, 3790 John. Brooklyn Telephone, 391 Brooklyn.
Geo. H. PRENTISS & CO.
DEALERS IN
LOCAL SECURITIES,
48 Wall Street, New York. 208 Montague St. Brooklyn.
MEMBERS OF N. Y. STOCK EXCHANGE.

I. F. MEAD. T. H. CURTIS.
I. F. MEAD & CO.,
44 & 46 BROADWAY, N. Y.
Twenty-five years' membership in N. Y. Stock Exchange.
STOCKS AND BONDS
Bought and Sold for Cash or on Margin.

Dominick & Dominick,
BANKERS,
100 Broadway, New York.
BONDS AND INVESTMENTS.

P. J. Goodhart & Co.,
Dealers in
Bank & Trust Co. Stocks
Members N. Y. Stock Exchange.
38 WALL STREET.

LEHMAN BROS.,
NOS. 16-22 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK,
Deal in investment securities, and execute orders on New York Stock Exchange.
Members of the Stock, Cotton, Coffee, and Produce Exchanges, New York.

FINANCIAL.

CITY TRUST CO
OF NEW YORK.
.36 WALL STREET.
CAPITAL..... $1,000,000
(Entirely invested in City of New York Bonds.)
SURPLUS..... $1,000,000
OFFICERS.
Jas. Ross Curran, President.
John D. Crimmins, Vice-President.
George R. Sheldon, 2d Vice-President.
Arthur Terry, Secretary.
Walter W. Lee, Asst. Secretary.
DIRECTORS.

John D. Crimmins,	Henry O. Havemeyer,
Frank H. Ilart,	Hooper B. Parsons,
George R. Sheldon,	Alfred G. Vanderbilt,
Edward Eyre,	William H. Gelshenen,
Peter Doelger,	Eugene Kelly,
Willson Hallis, Jr.,	Edwin Warfield,
James D. Layng,	Elverton R. Chapman,
William R. Grace,	Charles V. Fornes,
Hugh Kelly,	Frank R. Lawrence,
Charles W. Morse,	Jas. Ross Curran.

NORTHERN PACIFIC
PREFERRED STOCK.
23 WALL STREET,
January 11th, 1901.
Holders of Northern Pacific Preferred Stock TRUST CERTIFICATES are urged to present the same for exchange for stock before FEBRUARY 15TH, 1901, after which date all Preferred Stock Trust Certificates that have not been exchanged will have to be presented for stamping before the dividend payable March 5th can be paid.
To facilitate this exchange we rescind our notice limiting the number of schedules to be received to 100 per diem for the Preferred Stock.
J. P. MORGAN & COMPANY,
Fiscal Agents.

SINKING FUND NOTICE.
DULUTH, MISSABE AND NORTHERN RAILWAY COMPANY
First Consolidated Mortgage Bonds, Dated January 1st, 1893.
The CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY of New York gives notice that in accordance with Article V of a certain Indenture made by the above Railway Company, dated January 1st, 1893, it will receive sealed proposals to sell the above-described bonds at a rate not to exceed 105 per cent. and accrued interest, the total offer not to consume more than the amount of Eighty-three thousand five hundred and eighteen 81-100 dollars ($83,518.81.) The sealed proposals will be opened at the office of the CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, in New York City, at twelve o'clock, noon on the sixteenth day of January, 1901.
CENTRAL TRUST COMPANY OF NEW YORK, TRUSTEE.
By G. Sherman, Vice President.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Trustees in Dissolution of the AMERICAN LIGHT AND FUEL COMPANY will sell at public auction, by Frank Stevens, Auctioneer, on Thursday, January 24th, 1901, at 12:30 P. M., in the Jersey City Board of Trade Room, No. 65 Montgomery Street, Jersey City, New Jersey:
200 shares Preferred Capital Stock of Sing Sing Gas Manufacturing Company.
700 shares Common Capital Stock of Sing Sing Gas Manufacturing Company.
1,281 shares Capital Stock Brockton Gaslight Company.
Terms and conditions of sale made known at time of sale, or may be had on application to the undersigned attorneys.
AMERICAN LIGHT AND FUEL COMPANY,
by SAMUEL L. LAWRENCE, President.
DAVIES, STONE & AUERBACH, Attorneys, No. 32 Nassau Street, New York City.

WANTED—A competent manager for Foreign Exchange Department. Must be experienced in all matters pertaining to Travelers' Letters of Credit, and capable of managing that department also. Replies, giving details as to experience, age, references, &c., will be treated in strict confidence. C., Box 179 Times.

WANTED—AS A CLERK IN A FOREIGN BANKING HOUSE, A YOUNG MAN; MUST BE FAMILIAR WITH ACCOUNTS AND FOREIGN EXCHANGE, AND UNDERSTAND ENGLISH AND GERMAN. APPLY, STATING REFERENCES, TO BOX 1,834, P. O., NEW YORK CITY.

BROWN BROTHERS & CO.,
NO. 59 WALL ST.,
ISSUE INTERNATIONAL CHEQUES, COMMERCIAL and TRAVELERS' CREDITS AVAILABLE IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

N. Y. & Staten Island Electric
1st Mortgage 5% Bonds.
DAVID PFEIFFER, 18 Wall St.

FINANCIAL.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
REGULAR AUCTION SALE OF
STOCKS AND BONDS
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16TH, 1901.
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
BY ORDER OF THE WASHINGTON TRUST CO. OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, SOLE EXECUTOR OF THE ESTATE OF CHARLES H. SCOTT, DEC'D.
$5,000 Ches. & Ohio Ry. Co. 1st Consld. Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$5,000 St. Louis Southern R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1931.
$5,000 Chic. & Eastern Illinois R. R. Co. 5 p. c. Genl. Consld. & 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 Wabash R. R. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 1939.
$10,000 Montana Cent. Ry. Co. 6 p. c. 1st Mtge. Bds., 1937.
$5,000 St. Paul, Minn. & Manitoba Ry. Co. Consld. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$10,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Extn. & Impt. 5 p. c. Skg. Fd. Mtge. Bds., 1929.
$5,000 Long Island R. R. Co. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1938.
$5,000 Peoria & Eastern R'way Co. 1st Consld. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
$7,000 Toledo, Peoria & Western Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1917.
$5,000 Rochester & Pitts. R. R. Consld. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1922.
$8,000 Texas & Pacific Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds., 2000.
$10,000 Chic., Mil. & St. Paul Ry. Co. (So. Minn. Div.) 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$4,000 Atch., Topeka & Santa Fé Ry. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1995.
$2,000 Atch., Top. & Santa Fé Ry. 4 p. c. Adj. Bds., 1995.
$5,000 Union Pacific R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. R. R. & Land Grant 4 p. c. Bds., 1947.
$3,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. Co. 6 p. c. Consld. 1st Mtge Bds., 1921.
$5,000 Mil. & Northern R. R. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$5,000 Norfolk & Western R. R. Genl. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1931.
$5,000 Scioto Valley & New England R. R. 1st Mtge. 4 p. c. Eds., 1989.
$5,000 Cent. Pacific Ry. 4 p. c. 1st Refund. Mtge. Bds., 1949.
$1,000 Chic., Milwaukee & St. Paul R. R. Consld. Mtge. (released from Skg. Fund) 7 p. c. Bd., 1905.
$1,000 Mil., Lake Shore & Western Ry. Co. 6 p. c. Income Bd., 1911.
$3,000 Ohio Southern R. R. Co. Genl. Consld. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., (Trust Co. Certf. of Deposit.)
50 shs. Chic., Mil. & St. Paul Ry. Co. pfd.
25 shs. Union Pacific R. R. Co. pfd.
BY ORDER OF EXECUTORS.
15 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
40 shs. Natl. Broadway Bank.
$5,000 United N. J. R. R. & Canal Co. 4 p. c. Bds., 1944.
$2,000 Chicago, St. Paul & Minn. R. R. 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1918.
100 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
31 shs. National Citizens' Bank.
532 shs. Third Avenue R. R. Co.
BY ORDER OF TRUSTEES.
$1,500 City of New York 6 p. c. Consl. Gold Stock, 1901.
BY ORDER OF ADMINISTRATRIX.
$1,000 N. Y. & New Jersey R. R. Genl. Mtge. 5 p. c. Convt. Bd., 1920.
$1,000 Coney Island & Brooklyn R. R. 5 p. c. Ctfs. of Indebtedness, 1003.
15 shs. N. Y. & New Jersey Telephone Co. for account of Albert T. Otto.
480 shs. Chicago Heights Land Association common.
FOR ACCOUNT OF WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
85 shs. New York, New Haven & Hartford R. R.
80 shs. National Park Bank.
$13,000 United States Flour Milling Co. 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Gold Bds., 1939, May, 1900, Coupons on.
60 shs. Dennett Surpassing Coffee Co. common (Hoguet).
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
30 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Hanover National Bank.
13 shs. Market & Fulton Natl. Bank.
80 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
19 shs. National City Bank.
20 shs. American Cotton Oil Pfd.
$2,000 Edison Electric Illuminating Co. of N. Y. 1st 5 p. c. Bds., 1910.
$2,000 Northern Pacific Terminal 1st 6 p. c. Bds., 1933.
$2,000 Richmond & Danville R. R. Consld. Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds., 1915.
$1,000 Northern Pacific Prior Lien Gold 4 p. c. Bds., 1997.
$5,000 Morgans., Louisiana & Texas R. R. & Steamship Co. 7 p. c. Bds., 1918.
$2,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co., Ltd., 1st Mtge. 6 p. c. Bds.
20 shs. Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Pfd.
20 shs. Natl. City Bank.
20 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank Co.
20 shs. National Park Bank.
55 shs. National Broadway Bank.
10 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
50 shs. American Surety Co.
10 shs. Bowling Green Trust Co.
15 shs. Gallatin Natl. Bank.
100 shs. National Citizens' Bank.
88 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
107 shs. Natl. Shoe & Leather Bank.
$3,000 Manhattan Beach Hotel & Land Co. Genl. Mtge. 4 p. c. Bds., 1940.
20 shs. Colonial Trust Co.
25 shs. National City Bank.
5 shs. Importers & Traders' Natl. Bank.
20 shs. Union Trust Co.
50 shs. United N. J. R. R. & Canal Co. Guar.
80 shs. Cleve. & Pittsburgh R. R. Co. Guar.
50 shs. Erie & Pittsburgh R. R. Guar.
6 shs. Lincoln Natl. Bank.
2 shs. New Jersey Zinc Co.
61 shs. Cayuga & Susquehanna R. R.
60 shs. National Bank of Commerce.
20 shs. Atlantic Trust Co.
$10,000 Milwaukee City R. R. 1st Mtge 5 p. c. Gold Bds., 1908.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
25 shs. People's Trust Co.
$1,000 Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co. 1st Mtge 6 p. c. Bds., 1928.
6 shs. Peru La Salle Gas Light & Power Co.
100 shs. Interstate City Co.
10 shs. Hanover Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Natl. Bank of Commerce.
20 shs. Bank of America.
25 shs. Merchants' Exchange Natl. Bank.
100 shs. Farmers' Loan & Trust Co.
$10,000 Ohio Mining & Mfg. Co. 5 p. c. Inc. Bds.

LOUIS MESIER, Auctioneer.
By ADRIAN H. MULLER & SON,
WEDNESDAY, JAN. 30, 1901.
At 12:30 o'clock, at the New York Real Estate Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway.
FOR ACCOUNT OF THE REORGANIZATION COMMITTEE OF THE CINCINNATI, JACKSON & MACKINAW R'WAY CO.
41,900 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. pref'd.
20,100 shs. The Cincinnati Northern R. R. Co. common.
1,500 shs. Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. common.
15,000 shs. Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R.R. Co.
$200,000 Jackson & Cincinnati Ry. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. Bds. March, 1896, Coups. on.
$1,500,000 Detroit, Toledo & Milwaukee R. R. Co. 1st Mtge. 5 p. c. 50-year Gold Bonds.

THE UNDERSIGNED ARE PREPARED TO RECEIVE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR
100,000,000 Reichsmark
($24,000,000)
BAVARIAN
Government Loan
At 100½ and Accrued Interest.
These bonds bear 4% interest p. a. coupons payable May 1st and November 1st. Bonds will be issued January 22nd. Subscriptions will be received by us for the above issue until Saturday, January 12, noon.
Allotments can be paid in full or in three instalments.
40 % January 22nd.
30 % March 26th.
30 % May 28th.
Zimmerman & Forshay,
BANKERS,
9 AND 11 WALL STREET.

3,300 SHARES
Sharon Railway of Pa.
6% Guaranteed Stock.
The Sharon Railway is leased for 900 years to the Erie Railroad Company and forms a part of the main line of the system.
Price and Particulars on application.
Street, Wykes & Co.,
44 WALL STREET, NEW YORK.

DEVLIN COAL COMPANY.
6% Mortgage Gold Bonds.
Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the terms of the Trust Deed dated January 1, 1894, that the undersigned, as Trustee, will receive sealed proposals up to 12 M. of the 15th day of January, 1901, for the sale to it of bonds, as above described, secured by said deed, at a price not exceeding par and accrued interest, to an amount sufficient to use the sum of Three thousand nine hundred dollars ($3,900.)
CONTINENTAL TRUST COMPANY of the City of New York, Trustee,
WILLARD V. KING, Secretary.
January 9, 1901.

FINANCIAL.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS OF THE
DISTILLING COMPANY OF AMERICA.
New York, January 10, 1901.
Notice is hereby given that the right is now granted to Stockholders of the Company, as they may appear of record at the closing of the Transfer Books at three o'clock P. M. on January 17, 1901, to subscribe for the $5,000,000 Five Per Cent. Ten Years Collateral Trust Gold Bonds of the Company at 85 per cent. of their par value, to an amount not exceeding ten per cent. of their respective holdings of Preferred Stock and five per cent. of their respective holdings of Common Stock, but in cases where such stock is represented by certificates of deposit of The Mercantile Trust Company the holders of such certificates, if the same shall be presented at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company, 120 Broadway, in the City of New York, at or before three P. M. of the 17th day of January, 1901, for proper indorsement, shall have the right to subscribe as stockholders on the above basis.
Subscriptions must be made in writing upon blank forms which may be obtained from The Mercantile Trust Company, and all subscriptions must be lodged with The Mercantile Trust Company, at its office, No. 120 Broadway, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, at or before three o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of January, 2101. The right to subscribe will then expire.
Every subscription must be accompanied by a payment to The Mercantile Trust Company in New York funds of fifty per centum of such subscription price in cash or by certified check; the balance to be paid as follows:
Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of March, 1901, and
Twenty-five per centum on the 1st day of April, 1901;
for all of which payments negotiable certificates of said Trust Company will be given, exchangeable for bonds when the same shall be issued, and proper interest adjustment will be made upon delivery of the bonds.
Subscribers may, when filing their applications, make the full payment of the amount of their subscriptions, if they so desire.
In the event of any default in making said payments, or any of them, The Distilling Company of America may sell for account of the defaulting subscriber the bonds so subscribed for, and retain out of any payments made by such defaulting subscriber five per cent. of the par value thereof as liquidated damages for failure to comply with the contract of subscription.
The success of the proposed issue of bonds is assured by an underwriting of $4,000,000 thereof, and any bonds not subscribed for or taken will be disposed of as the Directors may determine.
As no bonds for less than $1,000 will be issued, it will be necessary for stockholders holding less than 100 shares of Preferred or 200 shares of Common Stock to cause their stock to be transferred or combined with other stock to entitle them to a subscription, no subscriptions for a fractional amount of bonds being receivable.
The allotment of bonds will be made by The Mercantile Trust Company, and shall be final and conclusive and binding upon all subscribers.
The Transfer Books of the Company will be closed on the 17th day of January, 1901, at three o'clock P. M., and will be reopened on the 22d day of January, 1901, at ten o'clock A. M.
Stockholders are referred to the report of the Committee for particulars as to this issue of bonds.
A copy of the mortgage is on file at the office of The Mercantile Trust Company.
By order of the Board of Directors.
S. M. RICE, President.
THOS. H. WENTWORTH, Secretary.

$3,000,000
New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company
5% Sinking Fund First Lien Gold Notes
(Part of an Issue Limited to $3,500,000)
Dated December 1st, 1900, and maturing by Semi-Annual Instalments from 1901 to 1915.
Interest payable semi-annually on June 1st & Dec. 1st in the City of New York.
PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST PAYABLE IN GOLD COIN.
Coupon Notes, in denomination of $1,000, with registration provision.
We offer these First Lien Gold Notes ON A BASIS TO YIELD 4½ PER CENT. INTEREST PER ANNUM, EQUALLING A PRICE OF 103 PER CENT. FOR THE AVERAGE RUNNING PERIOD OF THE NOTES. They are secured by FIRST MORTGAGE upon important coal properties in the Scranton district, recently acquired at a cost of about $8,000,000, and are the direct obligation of the New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company, the net earnings of which for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1900, according to its published statement, amount to more than double its fixed charges, viz.:

NET EARNINGS	$1,548,565.40
INTEREST, RENTALS, AND CHARGES	689,541.08
SURPLUS	$859,024.32

For further details reference is made to a letter from Thomas P. Fowler, Esq., President, and to the mortgage, as well as to the schedule of semi-annual maturities, all of which can be obtained upon application at our office.
The subscription list will be opened at 10 o'clock A. M. on Wednesday, the 16th inst., and will be closed at 3 o'clock P. M. or earlier on the same date, the right being reserved to reject any applications and to award a smaller amount than applied for.
NOTES AWARDED UPON SUBSCRIPTION ARE TO BE PAID FOR ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 23D, 1901, WHEN THEY WILL BE READY FOR DELIVERY.
Kuhn, Loeb & Co.,
January 11, 1901. 27 & 28 PINE ST.

NO. 2.
Mexican 5 Per Cent. Consolidated External Loan of 1899.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Bonds of this Loan, the numbers and particulars of which are given below, and which have been purchased by the Company at the stipulations contained in Article 4 of the Agreement relating to the same, dated 1st, 2d, and 3d July, 1899, were, together with the Coupons belonging to said Bonds, from the 1st day of January, 1901, to the 1st day of January, 1915, this day produced cancelled to the undersigned Notary.

32 BONDS:

Nos.	183	270	278	575	576	577
	578	592	603	685	791	994
	1083	1084	1085	1086	1087	1127
	1135	1137	1138	1435	1436	1495
	1550	1552	1553	1564	1648	1849
	1696	1697

for £1,000 each, Series A, £32,000

82 BONDS:

Nos.	4220	4221	5418	5505	5506	5635
	5746	5869	5870	5871	5872	5873
	5874	5875	5876	5878	6289	6306
	6413	6414	6491	6986	7305	7453
	7883	7884	8064	8065	8066	8207
	8249	8323	8324	8325	8326	8462
	8575	8708	9001	9002	9972	9973
	9974	9975	9976	9977	9978	9979
	9980	9981	9982	9983	9984	9985
	9986	9987	9988	9989	9990	9991
	9992	9993	9994	9995	9996	9997
	9998	9999	10000	10447	10449	10525
	10868	10940	11071	11427	12010	12471
	12475	12478	12479	12480

for £500 each, Series B, £41,000

2 BONDS:

Nos.	96862	96863	for £100 each, Series D, £200

£73,200

London, 28th December, 1900.
ENRIQUE CAMACHO GUISASOLA, Secretary, Financial Agency of the Mexican Government.
JOHN VENN, Notary Public, 50 Gresham House, Old Broad Street, E. C.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

New York, January 12th, 1901.
Election Notice.
Missouri Pacific Railway Co.
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, March 12, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day, at 12:00 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, Jan. 29th, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.
GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

New York, January 12, 1901.
Election Notice.
St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern Railway Co.
Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the stockholders of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern Railway Company will be held at the general office of the company, in the City of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, March 12th, 1901, at 9:00 o'clock A. M., for the election of thirteen Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of any other business that may come before said meeting. The annual meeting of the Directors will be held at the same office on the same day at 12:00 o'clock noon. The transfer books will be closed on Tuesday, January 29, 1901, at 3:00 o'clock P. M., and reopened on the day following the annual meeting of the stockholders or any adjournment thereof.
GEO. J. GOULD, President.
A. H. CALEF, Secretary.

Mechanics' and Traders' Bank,
488 BROADWAY.
(Organized 1830.)
New York, January 11th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this bank, held the 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year:

Leo Schlesinger,
Isaac Stiebel,	Charles Strauss,
O. B. M. Harvey,	Myer Foster,
Max Danziger,	Joshua Piza,
John P. O'Brien,	Daniel Butterfield,
Max Jagenheimer,	Aaron Hecht,
Henry Corn,	Eugene Galland,
I. D. Einstein,	Aaron J. Bach.

At a meeting of the board, held this day, Mr. LEO SCHLESINGER was unanimously re-elected President and Mr. ISAAC STIEBEL was unanimously re-elected Vice President.
A. M. DEDERER, Cashier.

The H. B. Claflin Company.
At a meeting of the stockholders of The H. B. Claflin Company, held this day at the office of the Company, in Elizabeth, N. J., John Claflin, Edward E. Eames, Dexter N. Force, George E. Armstrong, John C. Eames, and Stewart W. Eames were elected Directors for the ensuing year.
At a subsequent meeting of the Directors the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:
President, John Claflin.
Vice President, Edward E. Eames.
2d Vice President, John C. Eames.
Treasurer, Dexter N. Force.
Assistant Treasurer, Stewart W. Eames.
Secretary, George E. Armstrong.
Mr. Chas. W. Gould was elected Counsel for the Corporation. GEORGE E. ARMSTRONG,
January 11, 1901. Secretary.

Hamilton Bank,
of New York City.
215 W. 125th Street.
New York, January 10, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 9th, 1901, the following named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year:

William H. Caldwell,	Bernard Loth,
Cyrus Clark,	William A. Martin,
Martin D. Fink,	Edwin S. Schenck,
William S. Gray,	Frederick B. Schenck,
Robert J. Hoguet,	John J. Sperry,
John J. Lapham,	Julius W. Tiemann,

Lucien C. Warner.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day Mr. Edwin S. Schenck was unanimously re-elected President and Mr. Frederick B. Schenck was unanimously re-elected Vice President.
JESSE C. JOY, Cashier.

Office of the Eagle Fire Co.
New York, January 10, 1901.
At the annual election for Directors of this Company, held on the 8th inst., the following named gentlemen were elected:

Frederic W. Stevens,	Charles De Rham, Jr.,
A. J. Clinton,	George G. De Witt,
Augustus F. Holly,	John W. Condit,
Joseph H. Choate,	John M. Burke,
John D. Skidmore,	Thomas J. Gaines,
G. G. Williams,	John S. Huyler,

H. Van Rensselaer Kennedy.
At a subsequent meeting of the Board A. J. Clinton was unanimously re-elected President.
THOMAS J. GAINES, Secretary.

The Fourth National Bank
of the City of New York.
New York, January 10, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held January 8th, 1901, the following-named gentlemen were unanimously re-elected Directors:

J. Edward Simmons,	Robert W. Stuart,
Cornelius N. Bliss,	Richard T. Wilson,
Charles Stewart Smith,	William S. Opdyke,

James O. Cannon.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. J. Edward Simmons was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James O. Cannon was unanimously re-elected Vice President. CHARLES H. PATTERSON, Cashier.

New York National Exchange Bank,
New York, Jan. 8th, 1901.
At the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the year 1901:

James Rowland,	Robert H. McCutcheon,
Hudson Hoagland,	William Wills,
James M. Donald,	William Halls, Jr.,
Wm. J. Merrell,	Warren Cruikshank,
Frank S. Hyatt,	Lewis E. Pierson,
John H. Seed,	Daniel W. Whitmore.

At a subsequent meeting of the Board, James Rowland, Esq., was elected President and Frank S. Hyatt, Esq., Vice President.
LEWIS E. PIERSON, Cashier.

The Puritas Mineral Water Company.
Office of the Secretary,
New York, January 4, 1901.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Puritas Mineral Water Company, for the election of three Directors for the ensuing year, and two Inspectors of the next election, and for the transaction of any other business that may be brought before the meeting, will be held at the office of the Company, No. 400 West 57th Street, Borough of Manhattan, New York City, N. Y., on the second Monday, (being the 14th day) of January, 1901, at eight o'clock P. M. The polls will be opened at 8:15 o'clock P. M., and remain open until all present shall have voted or shall have had an opportunity to vote.
ALBERT B. QUENCER, Secretary.

To the Stockholders of the Manaos Railway Company.
Notice is hereby given that the Annual Meeting of Stockholders of the Manaos Railway Company will be held at the office of the Company, in Room 1,310, 30 Broad Street, in the City of New York, on January 22d, 1901, at ten o'clock A. M., for the purpose of electing nine Directors for the ensuing year, and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting.
Polls will remain open from eleven A. M. to twelve M. Transfer books will be closed from the 12th day of January until the 23d day of January. W. D. WALKER, Secretary.

NEW YORK JUVENILE ASYLUM.—An election to supply the vacancies occasioned by the expiration of the terms of office of eight Directors of this Institution will be held on the Second Monday of January—the 14th inst.—at four o'clock P. M., at the House of Reception, No. 106 West 27th Street, New York City. The polls will be open for one hour.
EVERT J. WENDELL,
EDMUND DWIGHT, Jr., } Inspectors of Election.
ALEXANDER HADDEN,
HENRY N. TIFFT, Secretary.

Cimiotti Unhairing Co.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of this company will be held at 3 o'clock P. M. on Wednesday, January 23, 1901, at the office of the company, 55 West Third St., New York City, for the election of Directors for the ensuing year, and for such other business as may properly come before the meeting.
GUSTAV CIMIOTTI, Pres. and Manager.

CONSOLIDATED GAS COMPANY OF NEW YORK, 4 Irving Place.—December 31st, 1900.—The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company for the election of the Trustees to serve during the ensuing year will be held at this office Monday, Jan. 21st, 1901. Polls open from 12 M. to 1 P. M. Transfer books will close Saturday, January 5th, at 12 M., and reopen Tuesday, Jan. 22d, 1901.
O. F. ZOLLIKOFFER, Secretary.

The Colonial Assurance Co.
of the City of New York.
45, 47, and 49 Cedar St.
New York, Jan. 7th, 1901.
An Election for five Directors of this Company for the ensuing year will be held at this office on Wednesday, the 16th day of January next. Polls will be open from 12 to 1 o'clock P. M.
E. E. HALL, Sec'y.

Cosmopolitan Range Company.
The annual Stockholders' Meeting will take place on SATURDAY, January 12th, 1901, at 8:00 P. M., at the office of the Company, Nos. 26 and 28 Sullivan St., where the President's and Treasurer's report will be heard; also the election of officers for the year 1901. Transfer book will be closed January 5th.
A. ZUCCA, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the Stockholders of the Bollman Brothers Company will be held at the office of this Corporation, No. 109 East 14th Street, New York, on Friday, January 25th, 1901, at 3 P. M., for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before this meeting.
OTTO BOLLMAN, Secretary.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKholders of the Sebastian Wagon Company, for the election of trustees for the ensuing year, will be held at the Company's office, 224 E. 44th Street, on Monday, January 14, 1901, at 10 A. M.
CHAS. A. STADLER, Pres.

ANNUAL MEETING STOCKHOLDERS ROME Milling Company will be held at office of J. C. Thompson, 95 Liberty St., New York, TUESDAY, January 15, 1901, at 12 o'clock noon.
ALFRED H. BROWN, For the Directors.

FINANCIAL.

Meetings and Elections.

The Hanover National Bank
of the City of New York.
New York, January 11th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the stockholders of this Bank, held the 8th instant, the following-named gentlemen were duly elected Directors for the ensuing year:
VERNON H. BROWN,
WILLIAM BARBOUR,
JAMES M. DONALD,
SIGOURNEY W. FAY,
MARTIN S. FECHHEIMER,
WILLIAM HALLS, JR.,
HUDSON HOAGLAND,
EDWARD KING,
LUCIUS MOORE,
WILLIAM ROCKEFELLER,
ELIJAH P. SMITH,
JAMES HENRY SMITH,
JAMES STILLMAN,
ISIDOR STRAUS,
JAMES T. WOODWARD.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, Mr. James T. Woodward was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. James M. Donald and Mr. William Halls, Jr., were unanimously re-elected Vice Presidents.
WILLIAM LOGAN, Cashier.

New York Produce Exchange Bank.
New York, Jan. 11th, 1901.
At the annual meeting of the Stockholders of this Bank, held Jan. 8th, 1901, the following Board of Directors was elected for the ensuing year:
FORREST H. PARKER,
ALEX. E. ORR,
JAMES McMAHON,
CHARLES R. FLINT,
CHARLES W. MORSE,
WILLIAM H. WALLACE,
ALEX MUNN,
E. S. WHITMAN,
ALBERT S. ROE,
ADELBERT H. ALDEN,
JOHN A. MAPES,
JOHN E. WEEKS.
At a subsequent meeting of the Board of Directors held this day, Mr. Forrest H. Parker was unanimously re-elected President.
WILLIAM A. SHERMAN, Cashier.

Pacific Bank,
New York, Jany. 8th, 1901.
At the annual election held this day, the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors of this bank for the ensuing year:
Hart B. Brundrett, Chas. H. Steinway,
Olin G. Walbridge, Geo. A. Hearn,
Thomas B. Kerr, John S. Browning,
Alex. D. Napier, Wm. Skinner, Jr.,
Jno. F. Degener, H. W. Hoops,
Geo. Lecg.
At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Mr. Hart B. Brundrett was unanimously re-elected President, and Mr. O. G. Walbridge was unanimously re-elected Vice President.
S. C. MERWIN, Cashier.

The National Citizens' Bank,
401 Broadway,
New York, Jan. 11th, 1901.
At the annual election, held on the 8th inst., the following-named gentlemen were elected Directors for the ensuing year, viz.:
Ewald Fleitmann, Arthur L. Lesher.
Elkan Naumburg, Frederick Southack,
Pearson Halstead, William J. H. Boyd,
Edward L. Merrifield, Emil Seyd, Jr.,
Henry B. Stokes, Charles Merrick,
Jacques Huber, William N. Stebbins,
Edward A. Walton, David C. Tiebout.
At a subsequent meeting of the Board, Mr. Ewald Fleitmann was unanimously re-elected President and David C. Tiebout Vice President.
W. M. WOODS, Cashier.

Dividends.

OFFICE OF THE
Northern Pacific Railway Company
Mills Building, New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
At a meeting of the Board of Directors, held this day, there was declared from the net earnings of the company a dividend of ONE PER CENT. on the Common Stock of the Company, the same to be paid Feb. 5, 1901, to the stockholders of record at the closing of the transfer books on December 24, 1900.
For the purpose of such dividend, and for the purpose of facilitating the exchange of stock for voting trust certificates, the transfer books of this company will be closed at 3 P. M. on December 24, 1900, and will be reopened at 10 A. M. on January 10, 1901.
NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY,
By GEORGE H. EARL, Secretary.
23 Wall Street,
New York, Dec. 12, 1900.
The transfer books of the Voting Trustees for Common Stock Trust Certificates of the NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILWAY COMPANY will close in New York and Berlin at 3 P. M. on Dec. 24, 1900.
On Feb. 5, 1901, the Voting Trustees will be prepared to distribute the above dividend of One Per Cent. on the Common Stock of the Company, when received by them, among the parties entitled thereto, as the same appear of record on their books when closed as above.
The Voting Trustees having dissolved the Voting Trust, to take effect January 2d, 1901, the transfer books of the Voting Trustess will not be reopened.
J. P. MORGAN & CO., New York,
DEUTSCHE BANK, Berlin,
Agents for Voting Trustees.

The Colorado & Southern Railway Co.
New York, January

trade returns to retailers must have been quite good. Bank clearings, swelled partly by continued heavy stock speculation at New York, but also by the passage of large sums of money through the banks of the rest of the country, have been of enormous volume, far exceeding all previous weeks. Easy money has been a feature noted not only at the large Eastern centres, but also at smaller interior markets, pointing to very large annual settlements on merchandise account.

Along the same lines Dun's says:

Only in the textiles is special hesitation shown. Staple products are firm, iron and steel prices are held without trouble, boots and shoes and wool are steady, and all with fair demand, so that manufacturers are busy. In textiles, however, the improvement which seemed to be promised with the new year is still delayed, and in cotton goods stocks are growing in some quarters, though still not oppressively heavy anywhere. Throughout the country distribution of merchandise continues on a good scale, and collections are unusually prompt. Bank clearings for the week at New York increased 56.7 per cent. over 1900 and 45.3 over 1899, while at leading outside New York the gain is 14.6 per cent. over 1900 and 19.4 over 1899.

***

Of steel and iron Bradstreet's says:

Inquiry rather than active demand is a leading feature in iron and steel, but quite an increase of activity is reported in Bessemer pig iron and billets at Pittsburg and in plates at Chicago. A sale of 4,500 tons at the latter market is for the Atlantic Coast, showing that demand here is sufficient to keep local mills busy. Some of the billets sold at Pittsburg are for the East, and sold at a basis of $21.50 at Philadelphia. No change in billets or plates has been agreed on as yet. Iron production is increasing, but has not yet overtaken consumption, and stocks are reported smaller than a month ago. There are only two idle furnaces now in the Chicago district. Hardware is active, considering the season. Copper has weakened here in sympathy with the break in London, and tin is lower for a similar reason.

On the same subject, Dun's says:

Construction of bridges and buildings, together with contemplated track elevation, crowds the capacity of all concerns making structural shapes of iron and steel. Orders for locomotives, cars, rails, and all forms of railway equipment are also abundant, and there is no sign of reaction in the industry. Plate and sheet mills have large business, and merchant steel is in brisk demand. The Carnegie Company proposes to erect a pipe plant on Lake Erie, and many other concerns are extending facilities. Competition is keen, however, and increased operations fail to affect prices. New schedules are promised in the near future, and lower freight rates are anticipated. The iron Age reports an increase in pig-iron production to 250,351 tons weekly, which is the largest amount since July, and new furnaces have been added since the statement was issued. Stocks decreased slightly in December, but there is fear of accumulation, and quotations at Pittsburg and Philadelphia have declined during the past week.

***

In particular lines Bradstreet's says:

Cotton has weakened on discouraged bull liquidation, due to larger receipts, while cotton goods have been quiet on the advices of a backward Spring trade at the East. Wool has been in rather better demand than of late, due to better buying by manufacturers. A fair business has been booked in overcoatings on next Fall account at lower prices, but the regular heavyweight season has not yet opened. Plain dress fancies are being ordered quite freely, but fancies are neglected. Worsted dress goods in shades is quieter, but is quite good at retail. Travelers are now going out with Fall styles of shoes, which will sell slightly lower than last year. Leather is quite active East and West, and stocks are reported well under control. Hides are firmer than of late and quite active. Lumber is in good demand at the East at wholesale, but still rather quiet for immediate use. The outlook is for an active building demand next Spring. At the West white pine is quite active, and car builders are large buyers of yellow pine and hardwood. The epidemic of influenza has had an appreciable effect on the demand for several kinds of drugs.

Much in the same way Dun's says:

Wool has ceased to decline, and sales at the three chief Eastern markets increased slightly to 3,308,700 pounds, against 3,121,000 in the week preceding. A year ago sales were considered remarkably small for that season at 5,188,000 pounds. Manufacturers purchase with extreme caution, and domestic fleecers suffer by increased competition of cheap wool from Australia and China. Some dealers hope for higher prices at Tuesday's London sale, although it is known that large stocks are to be offered, and there is nothing in the foreign situation to support sanguine expectations. Makers of boots and shoes insist on full prices, and as a result shipments from Boston have declined 5,450 cases for the week. In two weeks forwardings aggregate 159,436 cases, against 179,574 last year. Jobbers in this vicinity are doing well, and wholesalers' orders are urgent. Sales of leather increase, with hemlock sole fairly held, although concessions are made in upper stock. Heavy union backs are scarce, prime lots commanding about a cent advance over regular quotations. While the hide market at Chicago is unchanged, the tone is irregular.

***

Cereals, Bradstreet's declares, have given a further exhibition of life this week, partly on light Northwest receipts and advices that Argentine shipments will not exceed 35,000,000 bushels, or about half those of a year ago, but also largely on the unquestionably heavier volume of Wall Street money seeking an outlet in the grain market:

Complaints of low grading of arrivals and of visible stocks continue marked. Fluctuations have been wider, and it has been essentially a traders' market, with net changes for the week small. Corn is slightly higher in sympathy with wheat and small receipts of contract. World's wheat supplies, as reported by telegraph and cable to Bradstreet's, decreased but slightly in December, the falling off being less than 2,000,000 bushels, or 1 per cent. European stocks, which decreased relatively heaviest, fell off only 1,000,000 bushels, and American supplies are practically unchanged from a month ago. The total world's stock aggregated 171,857,000 bushels on Jan. 1, against 173,588,000 bushels on Dec. 1, 1900, and 176,057,000 bushels on Jan. 1 a year ago. Compared with two years ago supplies are, however, 50,000,000 bushels larger. American supplies, aggregate 96,597,000 bushels, or about 3,000,000 bushels less than last year, but 40,000,000 bushels more than in 1899. European supplies on Jan. 1, 1901, were 71,400,000 bushels, a decrease of 1,000,000 bushels from last month, but a gain of 3,200,000 bushels over last year.

EARNINGS OF RAILWAYS.

Earnings of railways continue steadily to increase, as will appear from the following tables to be published to-day by The Commercial and Financial Chronicle:

4th Week December.	1900.	Inc.	Dec.
Alabama Gt. South...	$63,637	$8,910	.....
Ann Arbor	57,155	5,951	.....
Buff., Roch. & Pitts.	134,453	11,268	.....
Bur., Ced. Rap. & No.	119,103	7,800	.....
Canadian Pacific	1,049,000	57,000	.....
Central of Georgia...	190,575	25,083	.....
Chattanooga Southern.	1,702	.....	207
Chesapeake & Ohio...	388,301	26,238	.....
Chicago & Early Ill...	118,014	15,730	.....
Chicago Gt. Western.	160,198	.....	2,339
Chicago, Ind. & L...	107,601	4,800	.....
Chicago, Mil. & St. P.	1,247,299	99,244	.....
Chicago Term. Trans.	31,802	9,138	.....
Clev., C., C. & St. L.	511,316	47,084	.....
Peoria & Western...	31,199	20,057	.....
Clev., Lor. & Wheel.	39,769	.....	8,425
Col., Sand. & Hock..	20,846	.....	3,493
Denver & Rio Grande.	285,900	20,900	.....
Dul., So. S. & Atlan.	57,708	.....	1,680
Evansville & Indianap.	7,842	.....	1,396
Evansv. & Terre H..	40,153	2,181	.....
Ft. Worth & Rio G..	22,727	13,930	.....
Georgia	49,854	12,284	.....
Grand Trunk—Det. Gr. Haven & Milwaukee	830,298	28,170	.....
Hocking Valley	85,492	692	.....
Internat. & Gt. Nor...	151,373	25,927	.....
Kanawha & Michigan.	18,568	2,016	.....
Kan. C., Ft. S. & M..	152,302	26,788	.....
Kan. C. Mem. & Bir.	54,421	15,784	.....
Louis., Ev. & St. L..	57,129	4,404	.....
Louis., Hend. & St. L.	20,822	4,224	.....
Louisville & Nashville	685,945	.....	21,857
Mexican Central	405,208	61,151	.....
Mexican National	188,000	2,000	.....
Minneapolis & St.	86,098	20,602	.....
Minn., St. P. & S.S.M.	122,904	20,920	.....
Mo., Kansas & Texas.	415,346	127,977	.....
Mo. Pacific & Iron Mt.	1,072,000	169,000	.....
Central Branch	54,000	.....	7,000
Mob., Jackson & K..	1,091	138	.....
Norfolk & Western..	301,503	59,270	.....
Northern Pacific	737,749	71,370	.....
Ohio River	28,505	1,454	.....
Pere Marquette	230,358	41,425	.....
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie	20,405	.....	0,516
Pittsburg & Western.	80,294	2,850	.....
Rio Grande Southern.	13,429	.....	42
Rio Grande Western..	130,000	4,100	.....
St. Louis & San F....	250,597	60,050	.....
St. Louis Southwest..	257,916	75,035	.....
Santa Fé, Pr. & Ph..	27,313	162	.....
Southern, Ry. & So..	375,000	19,587	.....
Southern Railway ...	865,675	60,242	.....
Texas Central	20,362	11,622	.....
Texas & Pacific	420,484	158,018	.....
Toledo & Ohio Central	61,603	8,007	.....
Toledo, Peo. & West.	30,508	8,222	.....
Wabash	498,120	32,983	.....
Wheeling & Lake Erie, Clev., Canton & So...	72,390	9,528	.....
Wisconsin Central ...	130,000	10,549	.....
Total, (62 roads)...	$13,533,045	$1,521,135	$53,055
Net Inc., (12.17 p. c.).	.....	1,468,080	.....
Month of December.	1900.	Inc.	P. C.
Gross ear'gs, (95 rds.)	$60,476,895	$5,111,910	9.23

It will be seen that there is a gain on the roads reporting in the amount of $5,111,910, or 9.23 per cent.

CANADIAN TRADE.

Reports to Dun's from the Dominion of Canada tell of unusually satisfactory conditions. There is a better demand for staple groceries at St. John, but in other lines orders for prompt shipment come in slowly. The season has been favorable for lumbering. While wholesale trade is quiet at Hamilton, the snowfall has caused activity in shoes and dry goods. Toronto reports travelers receiving fair orders for Spring lines of dry goods, and the outlook is encouraging. Wholesale trade shows renewed activity at Montreal, Spring dry goods move well and payments on the 4th were satisfactory. Travelers in hardware, paints, and oils are starting out, and business prospects are bright.

Orders come in well at Quebec for Spring goods, with collections up to the average. Leading wholesale lines are doing an average business at Vancouver, and collections improve, but local trade is depressed by inclement weather; stock taking makes quiet conditions at Ottawa, but collections continue fair. Similar conditions are reported by Halifax, but revival of activity is expected shortly.

WALL STREET TOPICS.

Increase of 4.46 per cent. in the net earnings of the Grand Rapids Gas Light Company for December.

Report of the Mine Inspector of West Virginia showing that the total output of coal for that State in 1900 was 22,000,000 tons, against 6,230,000 tons in 1889 and 16,700,000 in 1898.

According to Philadelphia dispatches, a large batch of buying orders in Lehigh Valley has been sent over from New York.

Shipments of 617,000 ounces of silver to Europe by to-day's steamer.

Increase of $74,029 in imports of dry goods for the week as compared with the previous week, but decrease of $1,409,960 as compared with the corresponding week last year.

Sale on the Stock Exchange of 10 shares of National City Bank stock at 542.

MONEY AND EXCHANGE.

Money on call, 3@3½ per cent., closing at 3 per cent.

Time money, 4 per cent. for thirty days, 4@4½ per cent. for longer periods. Mercantile paper, 4½@4¾ per cent. for sixty to ninety days' indorsements, 4¾@5 per cent. for choice four to six months' single names, and 5@6 per cent. for others.

Clearing House statement: Exchanges, $356,036,915; balances, $17,483,921; Sub-Treasury debit balance, $1,680,538.

Money on call in London, 2½@3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market, 4@4¼ per cent. for short and 4 1-16@4¼ per cent. for three months' bills.

Foreign exchange was firm. Nominal rates were $4.84 for sixty days and $4.88 for demand. Rates for actual business closed as follows: Sixty days, $4.83¾; demand, $4.87@$4.87½; cables, $4.88; commercial bills, $4.82½@$4.83.

Continental exchange was quoted as follows: Francs, 5.18⅝@5.18½ less 1-16 and 5.15⅝; reichsmarks, 94 9-16 and 95 3-16, and guilders, 40⅛ and 40⅜.

Exchange on New York at domestic centres: Chicago—10c premium. Boston—5@10c premium. New Orleans—Commercial, 25c discount; bank, par. San Francisco—Sight, 15c premium; telegraphic, 17½c premium. Charleston—Buying, par; selling, 1-10c premium. Savannah—Buying, ⅛c discount; selling, par. Cincinnati—Between banks, 14½@15c premium; over the counter, 50c premium.

THE LONDON MARKET.

LONDON, Jan. 11.—The Bank of England's endeavors to reduce the supply of money is bearing fruit. There was less disposition to-day for business at the recent low rates, and discounts tended to harden.

On the Stock Exchange most departments were quiet, in view of the mining carryover, which is progressing satisfactorily. Apprehensions of failures seemed to have diminished. Americans opened dull on Wall Street advices and further indications of profit-taking.

The Exchange welcomed cessation of activity. Hopes were expressed that it will be still quieter on the Exchange before the making up of the prices for Monday, because some of the differences between the last contangos and the present prices are assuming such proportions as to cause fears that the money will not be paid at the coming settlement. Later, prices advanced and closed good.

Consols for money, 97 1-16; consols for the account, 97⅛; Atchison, 46⅝; Canadian, 94; St. Paul, 157¾; Illinois Central, 134⅝; Louisville, 92⅝; Union Pacific preferred, 85½; New York Central, 148½; Erie, 27; Pennsylvania, 70½; Reading, 16⅝; Erie first preferred, 66; Northern Pacific preferred, 87⅝; Grand Trunk, 7⅜; Anaconda, 9⅝; Rand Mines, 5⅜.

Bar silver steady, at 29½d per ounce.

Money, 2½@3 per cent. Rate of discount in the open market for short bills, 4@4⅛ per cent., and for three months' bills, 4 1-16@4⅛ per cent.

Spanish 4s closed at 70⅝.

Gold premiums are quoted as follows: Buenos Ayres, 130.00; Lisbon, 38.50; Rome, 5.50.

American eagles are quoted at 76s 5½d and bar gold at 77s 10½d.

In Continental Centres.

PARIS, Jan. 11.—Prices were weaker on the Bourse to-day, apparently influenced by the high contangos in London. Rentes were easier. Spanish 4s declined, on the adjournment of the Cortes. Industrials were better, Thomson & Houston being in great demand, and finished firm. Rio Tintos relapsed, on London advices and the decline in copper. Kafirs were heavy.

Three per cent. rentes, 101f 77½c for the account. Exchange on London, 25f 12c for checks.

Spanish 4s closed at 71.37½.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—Prices on the Boerse to-day were irregular. Internationals were quiet. Home funds were in good demand, Americans were weak, Canadian Pacifics declined on the decrease in the traffic returns, banks were dull, especially Austrian credits, on Vienna sales, and mines were irregular.

Exchange on London, 20 marks 45½ pfenings for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3 per cent.; three months' bills, 3¾ per cent.

MADRID, Jan. 11.—Gold was quoted to-day at 34.55.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Jan. 11.—The market to-day had three sharply marked features—Erie Telephone, American Telephone and Kansas City, Fort Scott and Memphis. Early in the day Erie fell from 74 to 62, with over 1,700 shares changing hands in the morning; later there was a rally to 65, the closing price. Erie sold less than a year ago at 122, and has fallen from 99 since 1901 began. Fort Scott rose 5½, to 53½; it sold at 30 two months ago. The 6s sold to-day at 115½. American Telephone was bought steadily and was strong, at 162.

There was continued activity in tube shares, but less selling than yesterday and more of a disposition to hold stock, instead of sacrificing it under the Carnegie competition. Old Dominion led the mining shares in activity, touching 23¾, later 23¼, over 4,000 shares selling in the morning. Père Marquette was up ½, at 35, for common, and 1½, at 74, for preferred. Planters' Compress rose 1¼, to 22½, later 22. Edison Electric Illuminating was up 8, at 225. Boston Electric Light was off, to 208, later 215, and still later 100. Baltic hardened ¾, to 34½, and Butte 1, to 81. Copper Range recovered 2½, to 37. Parrot was ⅝ better, at 49. Utah rose 1½, to 34½, later 33⅞. Dominion Coal was ¾ lower, at 37¼. Central Massachusetts sold freely at 16.

At the Clearing House, money between the banks was in large supply, at 2½ per cent. The demand was light and balances were largely carried home. New York funds sold at 5, 8, and 10 cents—mostly 10 cents.

National banks are buying the best grade of paper as low as 4 per cent. Good paper is still going at 4½ per cent., but the demand at this figure far exceeds the supply. In collateral loans, rates range from 4 to 5 cents, according to the character of the collateral. Call money is offered freely to the strongest borrowers at 4 per cent., and to others at 4½ per cent.

Closing bid and asked:

Mining Stocks.

	Bid.	Asked.		Bid.	Asked.
Adventure ..	10	10½	Old Colony...	81½	.....
Allouez	3	3½	Old Domio..	31⅝	32½
Arcadian ...	18	19¾	Osceola	80½	.....
Arnold	4½	5	Parrot	49	50
Ash Bed....	37½	.50	Quincy	179	180
Atlantic	27½	.....	Rhode Island	4½	4¾
Baltic	34¼	35	Santa Fé....	6½	.....
Best. & Mon.	315	317	Santa Ysabel	2	2½
Butte & Bos.	80	82	Shoe	31½	32
Cal. & Hec.	855	.....	Tamarack	835	.....
Centennial ..	23¾	23¾	Utah Cons....	33½	34
Franklin ...	17	18	Washington.	.50	1
Humboldt ..	.50	1	Winona	5½	.0
Isle Royale.	....	38	Wolverine ..	48½	49
Mohawk	24½	24½

Railroad Stocks.

Bost. & Alb.	253	..	Cent. M. pf.	62	..
Bost. & Low.	241	..	Fitchburg pf.	139	140
Bost. & Me..	195	196	N. Y. & N. E.	68	..
Bost. & Pr.	300	..	E. 6s.....	109	..
Bost. Elev..	150	160	N. Y. & N. E. 7s.....	113	..
Bost. Gt. 5s..	12	16½	West End....	92¾	93½
Cent. Mass...	15¾	.....

Miscellaneous Stocks.

A. T. & T..	161¾	162½	N. Eng. Tel.	127¾	..
Chi. Stk. Y.	144	140	U. S. Oil....	15½	16
Dom. Coal..	37¼	..	Westinghouse Electric ...	55	..
Dom. C. pf..	108	109	Westinghouse Elect. pf...	67	..
Erie Tel....	63	65
Mex. Tel....	2⅞	3

OUTSIDE SECURITIES.

Some improvement in prices appeared in the outside market yesterday, but active trading was confined to a very few stocks. As has been the rule for many days past, the greater part of the list was almost entirely neglected, and no issue showed more than moderate activity.

***

DISTILLING OF AMERICA was favorably affected by the announcement of the stockholders' committee's plan to supply the company with additional working capital, but as the announcement had been to some extent anticipated, the effect on the stock was not very marked. The preferred stock, which closed the previous day at 29¼ bid, advanced to 30¾, and closed at 30½ bid. The common stock sold up to 6¾, an advance of half a point. In neither of the stocks, however, was the trading active. The total transactions scarcely exceeded 1,000 shares.

***

INTERNATIONAL SILVER.—A Director of the International Silver Company is authority for the statement that at the meeting of the Directors to be held next month a dividend will be declared on the preferred stock. The company since its organization has paid but one dividend on the preferred stock, which is a 7 per cent. cumulative issue. This payment was made in April of last year, and the next quarter the dividend was passed, and none has been paid since. It was not stated yesterday just what the amount of the next dividend would be. The Director quoted stated that at least 1¾ per cent. would be paid, and that it is possible that a larger amount, covering some of the back dividends, would be declared. Although he stated that the dividend would positively be paid, he qualified his words by stating that the matter was not officially determined, but that the condition of the company assured the resumption of dividends in April.

***

CONSOLIDATED EQUIPMENT sold to the extent of 500 shares or more, between 12¼ and 12. The stock closed with a net loss of three-quarters of a point.

***

UNITED RAILWAYS OF ST. LOUIS 4s were again very strong and showed more activity than most other issues. They advanced to 88½, and closed at 88⅜ bid. The preferred stock was very dull, and closed at 68½ bid. St. Louis Transit sold at 19 and closed practically unchanged.

***

UNION COPPER was the only one of the copper stocks that was even fairly active. On trading in about 1,500 shares the stock sold up to 5 and reacted to 4⅞.

***

TRUST COMPANY OF AMERICA continued to advance, and sold as high as 226, a gain of 15 points over the price quoted two days ago. Trading in the stock was fairly active.

***

CENTRAL FOUNDRY preferred was offered at 10, with 7¾ bid. This stock is scarcely ever traded in, and there seems to be practically no demand for it. Last year it sold about 60 points above the present price.

***

NASSAU ELECTRIC 4s sold to the extent of $7,000 at 94⅞, and later this figure was bid for any part of $500,000 of the bonds.

***

Closing quotations yesterday compared with those of the previous day were as follows:

Industrial and Miscellaneous.

	Jan. 11. Bid.	Asked.	Jan. 10. Bid.	Asked.
Am. Agricultural Chem..	29	30	29	30
Am. Agricult. Chem. pf.	80	81	81	81
American Banknote....	50	53	50	53
American Bicycle	5	5¾	5	5¾
American Bicycle pf....	24	27	24	27
American Bicycle bonds.	72	73	72	73
American Bridge	43½	44	43½	44
Am. Bridge pf.....	91½	92½	91½	92
American Chicle	83	88	83	88
American Chicle pf....	76	81	76	81
Am. Hide & Leather....	10	11	10	11
Am. Hide & Leather pf.	35½	39	35½	39
Am. Hide & Leather 6s.	90	90½	90	90½
*American Thread pf....	4	5	4	5
Am. Typefounders.....	57	62	57	62
Anthracite Coal	8⅞	9	8½	9
Arlington Copper.....	4	5	4	5
†British Columbia Copper	22¼	22½	22¾	22½
British Exch. 3s.....	98½	99	98½	99
California Copper.....	..	1¼	1½	1¾
Cast-Iron Pipe.....	5	5½	5	5½
Cast-Iron Pipe pf.....	35	37	35	37
Central & So. Am. Tel..	102	104	102	104
Central Fireworks.....	22	25	22	25
Central Fireworks pf....	70	76	70	76
Compressed Air	40	44	40	44
Con. Ry. N. & E.....	11¾	12¼	12½	12⅝
Con. Rubber Tire	2½	4	2½	4
Con. Rubber Tire pf....	28	32	28	32
Continental Tobacco deb.	104	106	104	106
Crucible Steel	22	22½	21	21½
Crucible Steel pf.....	79	80½	79	80½
Cramps' Shipyard	81	83	79	82
Dist. Co. of Am. tr. rcts.	6	6½	6¾	6
Dist. Co. of Am. pf. tr. rcts	30½	31	29½	30
Electric Boat	27½	28½	26½	27½
Electric Boat pf.....	48¼	50	48	50
Electric Vehicle	17	18	17	18
Electric Vehicle pf....	40	44	40	44
Electric-Pneumatic	2¾	3	2¾	3
Empire Steel	6	7	6	7
Empire Steel pf.....	39	48	39	48
Flemington Coal & Coke.	19	22	19	22
General Carriage	3½	3½	3¼	3⅜
General Chemical	60	65	60	62
General Chemical pf....	97	97½	97	98½
German Treasury 4s....	100¼	100⅝	100¼	100⅜
Havana Commercial	9½	10½	9½	10½
Havana Commercial pf..	42	45	42	45
Hudson River Tel.....	117	119	117	119
Illinois Transportation..	..	¾	..	¾
International Silver pf..	45	50	45	50
Inter-State Oil	2	5	2	5
Iron Steamboat	2	3	2	3
Iron Steamboat bonds...	55	65	55	65
Joseph Ladue Mining pf.	½	1	..	1
Lanston Monotype.....	100	105	100	105
†Markeen Copper	1½	3	1½	3
Mex. Nat. Construct. pf.	13½	14	13½	14
Nat. Enamel & Stamp...	17	20	17	20
Nat. Enam. & Stamp. pf.	80	84	80	84
National Gramophone ..	5	12	5	12
Nat. Sugar pf.....	100	102	100	102
New England Transport.	3⅝	3⅞	3⅝	3⅝
N. Y. Transportation....	4¾	5¼	4¾	5¼
Otis Elevator	28½	29½	20	29¾
Otis Elevator pf.....	90½	91⅞	90¾	91
Peo., Dec. & Evans....	¾	..	¾	..
Pitts., Bess. & L. Erie	29	..	29¾	29
Retsof	32	..	32	..
Retsof bonds.....	78	85	78	85
Royal Baking Powder pf.	94	95	94	95
Royal Copper	11	12	11	12
Rubber Goods Mfg.....	23½	29½	29	29½
Rubber Goods Mfg. pf..	79	79½	79	79½
Safety Car Heat.& Light.	118	120	118	120
St. Louis Transit	18¾	19	18⅞	19
Seaboard Air Line 4s....	71	72	71	73
Seaboard Air Line	9¼	10¼	9¼	10¼
Seaboard Air Line pf....	27	27½	27	27½
Sheet Steel pf.....	76	77¾	76	77¾
Singer Mfg	250	275	250	275
Southern Light & Trac..	32	35	32	35
Standard Coupler	33	38	33	38
Standard Coupler pf....	120	123½	120	123½
Standard Oil of N. J....	802	806	802	806
Storage Power	10	12	10	12
Tennessee Copper	18	19	18	19
Tel. Tel. & Co. of A., $15 paid	..	5⅜	..	5⅜
Trenton Potteries	5	8	5	8
Trenton Pot. pf.....	55	60	55	60
Tubular Dispatch	24½	25	24	24½
Union Copper	4¾	5	4¾	5
Union Typewriter	39½	40½	39½	40½
Union Typewriter 1st pf.	112	114	112	114
Union Typewriter 2d pf.	113	114	112	114
United Rys. of St. L. 4s.	87½	..	87½	88½
United Rys. of St. L. pf.	68½	69	68½	69
Va. Coal, I. & C.....	4	6	4	6
Va. Coal, I. & C. bonds.	37	38½	37	38½
Westinghouse Air Brake.	370	380	370	380
Worthington Pump pf....	111	114	111	114

*Selling dollars per share. Par value $5.
†Selling dollars per share. Par value $100.

Street Railways.

Broadway & 7th Av....	230	235	230	235
Broadway & 7th Av. 1st.	102½	102½	102¼	..
Broadway & 7th Av. 2d.	110	113	110	113
Broadway Surface 1st.	116	116	115	116
Broadway Surface 2d....	102½	103½	102¼	103½
Brooklyn City R. R....	232	234	232	234
Brooklyn B. & W. E. 5s.	101½	103	101½	103
Cent. Park, N. & E. R.	200	202	199½	201
Cent. Park, N. & E.R. 7s.	104½	105¾	104½	105½
Columbus Railway pf....	37	37	34	37
Columbus Railway 5s....	90	92	90	92
Con. Traction of N. J....	53	60	58	60
Con. Traction 5s.....	108	109	106	109
Eighth Avenue Railroad.	390	400	390	400
42d St., M. & St. N. Av. 1st.	113½	115	113½	115
42d St., M. & St. N. Av. 2d.	100	103	99	100
Grand Rapids St. Ry....	27½	30	27½	30
Grand Rapids St. Ry. pf.	80	..	80	..
Jersey City, Hob. & Pat.	20	21¾	20	21¾
Jersey C., H. & P. 4s....	82½	83	82½	83
Nassau Electric 4s.....	94⅞	..	94⅞	..
New Orleans Traction....	22	..	22	..
New Orleans Traction pf.	94	98	94	98
9th Av. R. R.....	198	205	198	205
North Jersey St. R.R. 4s.	83½	84½	83½	84½
North Jersey St. R. R..	24	25	24	25
Second Av. R. R. consols.	118	119	118	119
Sixth Av. R. R.....	200	210	200	210
Steinway Ry. Co. 1st 6s..	116½	118	116½	118
Syracuse Rapid Transit..	15	20	15	20
Syracuse Rap. Transit pf.	37	43	39	43
28th & 29th St. 5s, 1996.	113¼	114½	113¼	114½
Union Ry. 1st 5s.....	111	113½	111	113½
United Trac., Providence.	109	111	109	111
United Traction bonds...	113½	115	113½	115
Worcester (Mass.) Trac..	35	37	35	37
Wor. (Mass.) Trac. pf..	105	108	105	108

Gas Companies.

Bay State Gas	1¼	1⅝	1¼	1⅝
Buffalo (N. Y.) Stock...	6	9	6	9
Buffalo (N. Y.) 1st....	74	76	74	76
Central Union 5s, gtd..	108½	109½	108¼	109½
Columbus Gas 5s.....	106	107	106	107
Con. Gas of Newark.....	..	..	..	55
Con. Gas of Newk bds..	104	106	104	106
Con. Gas of New Jersey..	10	15	10	15
Con. Gas bonds of N. J.	80	85	..	80
Con's'rs Gas (J. C.) bds.	105½	106	105¼	106
Denver Gas	23	24½	23	24½
Denver Gas 5s.....	61	63	61	63
Essex & Hudson Gas....	35	40	35	40
Indianapolis Gas	50	60	50	60
Indianapolis Gas bds. 6s.	92½	96	92½	98
Mutual Gas of N. Y....	285	299	285	299
Madison (Wis.) stock....	70	75	70	75
New Amsterdam 5s.....	109	110	109½	110
N. E. Gas & Coke.....	13	14	13	14
N. E. Gas & Coke 5s....	..	69	70	72
N. Y. & E.R. Gas Co. 1st.	112½	114	111	114
N. Y. & E. R. Gas Co. con.	106	109	106	109
Northern Union 5s.....	105½	106	105½	106
Nor. Hud. L. H. & P. Co.	53	56	55	56
Nor. H. L., H. & P. Co. bds.	107	109	107	109
Peo. Gas & El. (Oswego).	25	30	25	30
Peo. G. & E. (Os.) 5s, 1930.	99	101	99	101
St. Joseph (Mo.).....	81	93	81	93
St. Joseph (Mo.) 5s....	91	93	91	93
St. Paul Gas stock.....	..	50	..	50
St. Paul Gas bonds.....	75	80	75	80
Standard Gas, New York.	131	133	130	133
Standard Gas, N. Y., pf.	151	153	150	153
Standard Gas 1st.....	115	117	115	117
Syracuse Gas stock.....	8	10	8	10
Western Gas	96	100	96	100
Western Gas 1st 5s.....	105	107	105	107

Ferry Companies.

Brooklyn Ferry	19	21	19	21
Brooklyn Ferry 5s.....	85	88	85	88
East River Ferry.....	69	71	69	72
East River Ferry 5s....	96	98	96	98
Hoboken Ferry con. 5s..	94	95	94	95
Hoboken Ferry 1st.....	110¼	112½	110¼	112½
Hoboken Ferry	80	81	80	81
Metropolit

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

CANADIAN PACIFIC—

	1901.	1900.	1899.
Mileage	7,448	6,952	6,678
1st week Jan.	$453,000	$406,000	$442,000

CHICAGO & EASTERN ILLINOIS—

Mileage	711	648	648
1st week Jan.	126,200	148,500	90,900

CHICAGO GREAT WESTERN—

Mileage	929	929	930
1st week Jan.	108,536	106,083	92,706
From July 1	3,274,788	3,509,932	3,026,588

DENVER & RIO GRANDE—

Mileage	1,675	1,673	1,673
1st week Jan.	175,900	160,400	162,500
From July 1	6,124,700	5,333,900	4,992,100

EVANSVILLE & INDIANAPOLIS—

Mileage	146	146	146
1st week Jan.	4,872	5,514	5,731
From July 1	182,490	203,770	186,854

EVANSVILLE & TERRE HAUTE—

Mileage	162	168	167
1st week Jan.	25,610	23,531	21,908
From July 1	766,651	779,195	680,289

HOCKING VALLEY—

Mileage	246	246	246
1st week Jan.	95,782	93,894	61,784
From July 1	2,520,725	2,240,490	1,500,938

ILLINOIS CENTRAL—

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Mileage	4,240	3,679	3,671
Month, Dec.	3,129,932	2,810,570	2,560,585
From July 1	18,318,926	16,381,964	14,390,755
	1901.	1900.	1899.
From July 1 to Dec. 31
Gross earnings	21,462,638	21,179,152	2,283,786
Oper. expenses	15,542,638	13,444,717	2,097,921
Net earnings	7,920,000	7,734,435	185,865

INTERNATIONAL & GREAT NORTHERN—

Mileage	775	775	775
1st week Jan.	82,541	73,550	71,022

KANAWHA & MICHIGAN—

Mileage	172	172	172
1st week Jan.	15,566	14,539	.....
From July 1	462,702	373,708	.....

LOUISVILLE, EVANSVILLE & ST. LOUIS—

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Mileage	372	372	372
4th week Dec.	57,128	52,934	46,229
Month	170,531	164,636	130,599
Fiscal year	2,022,937	1,818,011	1,566,130

MEXICAN CENTRAL—

	1901.	1900.	1899.
Mileage	2,054	2,016	2,010
1st week Jan.	294,651	335,051	257,102

MEXICAN NATIONAL

Mileage	1,923	1,266	1,219
1st week Jan.	122,368	125,514	124,274

MINNEAPOLIS & ST. LOUIS—

Mileage	643	508	366
1st week Jan.	51,333	44,510	36,272
From July 1	1,629,716	1,591,726	1,277,163

MISSOURI, KANSAS & TEXAS

Mileage	2,197	2,197	2,197
1st week Jan.	255,186	195,218	211,550
From July 1	8,245,971	7,316,582	7,059,044

MISSOURI PACIFIC—

Mileage	4,938	4,938	4,938
1st week Jan.	515,000	440,000	432,000
Central Branch—
Mileage	388	388	388
1st week Jan.	20,000	17,000	17,000

NORFOLK & WESTERN—

Mileage	1,555	1,551	1,561
1st week January	258,991	198,599	202,052
From July 1	8,179,795	7,065,573	6,114,599

OHIO RIVER—

Mileage	224	224	224
1st week January	20,989	25,814	19,184

RIO GRANDE SOUTHERN—

Mileage	180	180	180
1st week January	8,352	8,274	8,565
From July 1	300,673	286,318	271,541

SHERMAN, SHREVEPORT & SOUTHERN—

Mileage	201	155	155
1st week January	13,183	5,754	.....
From July 1	425,667	230,590	.....

TOLEDO & OHIO CENTRAL—

Mileage	371	371	371
1st week January	44,570	39,913	.....
From July 1	1,352,010	1,165,945	.....

WABASH—

Mileage	2,358	2,326	2,326
1st week January	211,457	206,181	239,924
From July 1	9,415,470	8,915,277	7,638,450

BALTIMORE & OHIO, including the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, for December—

	1900.	Inc.
Gross earnings	3,982,588	3,556,761	425,827
Oper. expenses	2,547,142	2,233,704	313,439
Net earnings	1,435,445	1,323,057	112,388
From July 1 to Dec. 31—
Gross earnings	24,462,638	21,179,152	2,283,786
Oper. expenses	15,542,638	13,444,717	2,097,921
Net earnings	7,920,000	7,734,435	185,865

ILLINOIS CENTRAL for November—

	1900.	1899.	1898.
Gross earnings	3,142,878	2,821,763	2,563,749
Exp. and taxes	1,791,444	1,691,239	1,440,617
Net earnings	1,022,025	1,027,349	923,132
Gross, 5 months	15,178,394	13,570,394	11,839,170
Net, 5 months	4,138,566	4,440,967	3,560,929

LEHIGH VALLEY for the year ended Nov. 30—

	1900.	1899.	Inc.
Gross earnings	21,040,282	21,770,502	1,478,780
Oper. expenses	19,242,422	16,948,829	2,293,593
Net earnings	3,797,860	4,821,673	*1,114,813
Less taxes	632,806	650,639	*17,833
Balance	3,174,054	4,271,034	*1,096,980
Loss and dep. water lines	280,684	239,980	50,695
Balance	2,893,370	4,031,054	*1,147,675
Other income	1,055,783	1,117,728	*61,945
Total income	3,949,153	5,148,773	*1,209,617
Less int. payable	254,883	20,592	234,291
Balance	3,694,273	5,128,381	*1,444,108
Fixed charges	6,762,070	5,051,574	170,496
Deficit	2,077,796	523,193	1,554,603

*Decrease.

Misscellaneous Earnings.

The H. B. Claflin Company reports for six months ended Dec. 31:

	1900.	1899.	Decrease.
Net earnings	$302,045	$640,819	$338,774
Interest on 1st pf.	65,007	65,007
Balance	237,038	575,812	338,774
Interest on 2d pf.	77,118	77,118
Balance for com.	159,920	498,694	338,774
Two quar. div. com	153,164	153,164
Surplus	6,756	345,530	338,774
Surplus June 30	1,126,541	463,702	*662,839
Total surplus	1,133,297	809,232	*324,065

For the calendar year of 1900:

Net earnings	914,354	1,247,851	333,497
Interest on 1st pf.	130,014	130,014
Balance	784,340	1,117,837	333,497
Interest on 2d pf.	154,236	154,236
Balance	630,104	963,601	333,497
Div. on common	306,328	287,172	*19,156
Surplus	323,776	676,429	352,653

*Increase.

FINANCIAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Details of a dividend declared by the Audit Company of New York will be found in another column.

J. P. Morgan & Co. urge holders of Northern Pacific preferred stock trust certificates to present the same for exchange for stock before Feb. 15 after which time only preferred trust certificates that have not been exchanged will have to be presented for stamping before the dividend, payable March 5, can be paid. In order to facilitate this exchange, J. P. Morgan & Co. rescind their previous notice, limiting the number of schedules to be received at 100 per diem for the preferred stock.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. offer for subscription on a basis to yield 4½ per cent. per annum for the average running period of the notes, equalling a price of 102 per cent. $3,000,000 New York, Ontario and Western Railway Company's 5 per cent. sinking fund first lien gold notes. The notes maturing by semi-annual installments from 1901 to 1915. They are secured by first mortgage upon important coal properties in the Scranton district, recently acquired at a cost of about $6,000,000. Subscription books will open at 10 A. M. on Wednesday next, and will be closed at 3 o'clock or earlier on the same day.

Products Exported in December.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The monthly statement of the exports of domestic products of the United States, issued by the Bureau of Statistics, shows that during the month of December, 1900, the exports by articles were as follows, comparisons being made with December, 1899:

		Increase.
Breadstuffs	$24,322,665	$5,150,000
Cattle and hogs	3,163,923	1,100,000
Provisions	15,038,283	*350,000
Cotton	44,153,788	18,322,000
Mineral oils	5,127,863	*350,000

*Decrease.

For the twelve months the aggregate was $832,364,250, a net increase of $119,000,000.

Story of German Loan Denied.

BERLIN, Jan. 11.—The Boersen Courier denies the statement in a dispatch from New York that Germany is trying to place a loan of 600,000,000 marks in New York and London. It also denies that a part of the Bavarian Railway loan will be placed in those capitals, adding: "The heavy subscriptions of the last few weeks for first-class loans show that Germany has no need of foreign assistance."

NEW CORPORATIONS.

Greater New York Stevedore Labor Contractors of Brooklyn; capital, $1,250. Directors—John Powell, J. R. Jones, and W. N. Fuller, Brooklyn.

A. G. Spies Company of Rochester, to manufacture parlor furniture, couches, &c.; capital, $4,000. Directors—A. G. Spies, J. S. Fromm, and H. C. Shaw, Rochester.

Grant Realty Company of New York City; capital, $4,000. Directors—J. N. Smith, New York City; W. H. McKenzie, Newark, N. J.; W. E. Johnson, Brooklyn.

Mary Anderson Warner, (Incorporated,) of New York City, to deal in dry goods, furniture, &c.; capital, $2,000. Directors—Eva A. Robertson, Mary Anderson Warner, and Maud Curris, New York City.

American Wall Paper Company of Sandy Hill; capital, $200,000. Directors—William F. Patterson, Harry D. Sarver, Charles F. Beach, G. M. Ingalsbe, J. E. Howland, S. S. Keoyon, and J. J. Cunningham, Sandy Hill, and John M. Sarver, Canton, Ohio.

American Bridge Company of New York; capital stock, $100,000. Directors—Herbert Wright, Henry Schoonmaker, and John P. Thomey, Brooklyn; W. De Sansure Trunholm, Robert Walker, Joseph P. Cotton, Jr., and W. L. Ball, New York City.

Incorporated in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 11.—The Secretary of State to-day, at Dover, granted charters to the following companies:

American Salvage Company of Lewes, Del., to manufacture, purchase, and sell lumber, coal, lime, and other building materials; capital, $150,000.

Equitable Real Estate Company of Wilmington, to buy and sell real estate; capital, $125,000.

Boullitt Commission Company of Philadelphia, to buy and sell stocks, bonds, and other securities; capital, $100,000.

Peidmont Stock and Grazing Company of Vineland, Cal.; capital, $100,000.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

Sales of Washington Heights Plots—Other Dealings by Brokers and in the Auction Room.

Hall J. How & Co. have sold for James B. Gillie to a client the plot of seven lots at the northeast corner of Eleventh Avenue and One Hundred and Seventy-second Street.

Max Marx has sold to A. D. Middleton, through David Stewart, the plot of ten lots having frontages of 106 feet on Broadway, 218.7 feet on One Hundred and Eighty-third Street and 104.11 feet on Wadsworth Avenue.

Kahn & Baumann have sold for Robertson & Grant to a client for about $29,000 the five-story flat, 21 West One Hundred and Eighteenth Street, 25 by 100.11. This transaction completes the sale of a row recently erected by the sellers.

It is reported that Frederick N. Du Bois has sold to a builder the plot at the southeast corner of One Hundred and Forty-first Street and Hamilton Place, 95 by 100 by 140 by 115, for improvement, with a seven-story apartment house.

Collins & Collins have sold for the Barnes estate the four-story dwelling 46 West Fifty-fifth Street, 20 by 100.5.

T. H. Mead, the buyer of the apartment house 22 East Thirty-first Street gave in part payment the dwelling 251 East Twelfth Street, 25 by 103.3. Collins & Collins and Bloodgood & Hayes were associated with Ranald H. Macdonald as brokers in the deal.

Mrs. T. B. Lee has sold for about $50,000 the four-story brownstone-front dwelling 38 East Forty-ninth Street, 43 feet east of Madison Avenue, 21.6 by 75.

Thomas P. Fitzsimons has sold for the estate of Charles Kerrigan for $17,000 the four-story brick tenement, with store, 446 West Forty-second Street, 25 by 98.9.

Irving I. Kempner has bought from John Landa the four-story tenement 46 Avenue A, 24 by 100.

Rosansky & Rapaport have sold the two seven-story flats 165 and 167 Monroe Street, on plot 54 by 100; also, the six-story flat 90 Ludlow Street, 25 by 87.6.

Mandelbaum & Lewine have bought from the Eichler estate the three-story brick building 125 Delancey Street, 20 by 68.

Jackson & Stern have bought from Francis M. Hopper the three-story dwelling 333 West Nineteenth Street, 25 by 92; also, from Morris Weissberger, the two four-story tenements 331 and 333 East Eighth Street, 49.6 by 94; also, from Emma Dreyfus and others, the four-story building 194 Bleecker Street, 25 by 98; also, from Fanny McGaire, the old buildings 9 Spring Street, 25.4 by 90.

John Peters has sold for Annie Hogan to William K. Kammna, 425 East Fourteenth Street, six-story leasehold tenement, with stores, on lot 25 by 103.3.

Results at Auction.

Yesterday's offerings in the Trinity Building Salesroom resulted as follows:

By William M. Ryan.

90 Prince Street, south side, 26.6 feet east of Mercer Street, 36 by 101 and irregular; eight-story brick building; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Henry M. Denton $180,834

2,070 and 2,072 Eighth Avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Fifty-second Street, 49.11 by 100, two five-story brick flats, with stores; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, the Mutual Bank 18,560

505 and 507 West One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, north side, 115 feet west of Amsterdam Avenue, each 15 by 99.11, two four-story brick dwellings; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Austin, B. Fletcher and another, as trustees 24,000

By L. J. Phillips & Co.

1,756 and 1,758 Madison Avenue, west side, 40.5 feet north of One Hundred and Fifteenth Street, 20 and 20.5, respectively, by 85, two five-story brick flats; foreclosure sale, to the plaintiff, Maria E. Herrick 54,250

By James L. Wells.

Foreclosure Sale.

938 Jackson Avenue, northeast corner of One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, 19 by 86.4, four-story brick flat, with store; to the plaintiff, Ella B. Remington 20,000

927 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, north side, 19 feet east of Jackson Avenue, adjoining the foregoing, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; to the same plaintiff 13,500

929 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; to the same plaintiff 13,500

931 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 25 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; to the same plaintiff 13,500

933 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, adjoining, 27 by 86.4, four-story brick flat; to the same plaintiff 13,500

935 East One Hundred and Sixty-third Street, north side, 27.6 feet west of Forest Avenue, 26.6 by 67.5, four-story brick flat; to G. Gordon 11,700

THE BUILDING DEPARTMENT.

List of Plans Filed for New Structures and Alterations.

Villa Avenue, west side, 180.7 feet north of Two Hundred and Fourth Street, for a two-story frame hotel, 21 by 70; cost, $3,500; also, one one-and-a-half-story frame barn, 25 by 18; cost, $500; A. Principe of 169 Villa Avenue, owner; E. A. Reinisch of 2,315 Cambreling Avenue, architect.

Nos. 75 and 77 Rivington Street, for a seven-story brick flat, with stores, 42.3 by 66.4. I. Lippman of 70 Elm Street, owner; M. Bernstein of 245 Broadway, architect; cost, $35,000.

Alterations.

Nos. 218 and 220 East Twenty-eighth Street, to a six-story brick warehouse; J. A. Trimble of 612 West One Hundred and Forty-seventh Street, owner; William H. Hume & Son of 1 Union Square, architect; cost, $750.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

In the following list "mtg" stands for mortgage and "R S" for revenue stamps. The war revenue law provides that stamps shall be placed on all conveyances at the rate of 50 cents for each $500 of consideration. This "consideration" has been held to mean only the equity above the mortgage, except in the rare cases where the purchaser assumes payment of the mortgage. The amount of the mortgage plus 1,000 times the value of the revenue stamps on the conveyance should therefore show the true consideration:

Friday, Jan. 11.

ALLEN ST, e s, 180 ft s of Grand St, 20 x87.6; Charles Brothers and others to Minnie Brothers, ½ pact, quitclaim $5,000

AMSTERDAM AV, n e corner of 146th St, 25x100; Niels Hansen to James Walsh, (R S $58.10) 100

AMSTERDAM AV, e s, 25 ft n of 146th St, 74.10x100; Niels Hansen to Mary C. Van Cott, (mtg $77,000, R S $34.50) 1

ANTHONY AV, n w corner of Minerva Place, 50x100; William A. Boyd, referee, to Herman Raabe and another, (R S $2) 1,550

ARNOLD AV, e s, 175 ft s of James St, 25x100; Susie E. Potter and another, executors and trustees, to Ellen Anderson, (R S $0) 3,000

ALL TITLE, &c., to any real estate as held, &c., of Gottlieb Dessauer; Simon G. Dessauer to Howard R. Deacon, quitclaim, (R S $1) 1

BATHGATE AV, 2,351, 19.1x100; John Kraus to Elizabeth Bode, (mtg $3,500, R S $1) 1

BELMONT AV, e s, 26.5 ft n of 183d St, 26.5x80.7x26.3x83.6; Grosvenor S. Hubbard, referee, to Eliza M. Zerega, and others, trustees, &c. 21,500

FRANKLIN AV, e s, 399.4 ft s of Jefferson Place, runs n 75x c 145x s 76x w 145; Mary Cushman to George N. and John G. Reinhardt, (mtg $4,500, R S $13) 100

HESTER ST, 63, and Ludlow St, 32 and 32½, n e corner; Abraham Kassel, executor, &c., to Morris Marans 52,000

HESTER ST, 59 and 61, 41.9x60x—x75; Abraham Kassel to Morris Marcus 48,500

KING'S BRIDGE ROAD, e s, at proposed s e s of Teetaw Av, runs s w 104.7x c 117.1x s 25x w 153.5 to e s of private road x n 130 to King's Bridge Road x e 38.6 to beginning; Michael F. McCourt to Mary McCourt 50

MADISON AV, s e corner of 121st St, 17.9 x83; Mary C. Van Cott to Niels Hansen 30,000

MADISON AV, s e corner of 86th St, 102.2x36.8; Jessie Gillender to Henry T. Gray, (R S $90) 1

MARKET ST, 11, 25x90; Joseph M. Alexander and others to Joseph Rosenthal and Morris Osmansky 26,400

MONROE ST, 72, s w corner of Mechanics Alley, 20.2x92x20.2x92.8; Max Gold to Alice F. Morris, (R S $10, mtg $24,000) 1

NELSON AV, w s, 175.6 ft n of 164th St, 25.9x64.7x25x62.0; Ernest B. Wintersmith to Samuel D. Barbari, (mtg $4,500, R S $2.50) 1

PARK AV, e s, 25.11 ft s of 150th St, 77.7 x01.2x74.6x71.8; Arthur D. Truax, referee, to Henry C. Schrader, (R S $5) ... 4,875

ROAD from West Farms to Hunt's Point, n w s, adjoining land of A. Guteriz, runs n w 74.4x n e 16.1x s e 33x42.4 to road x s w 26.1; Reland B. Archer, referee, to John M. Phillips, executor, (mtg $1,000) 50

ST. NICHOLAS AV, e s, 259.10 ft s of 150th St, 49.11x200 to Edgecombe Av; Dennis Horgan to Annie T. Curnen, (R S 50c) 500

ST. NICHOLAS AV, e s, 309.9 ft s of 150th St, 49.11x200 to Edgecombe Av; Annie T. Curnen to Dennis Horgan, (R S 50c) 500

WASHINGTON AV, e s, 175.5 ft s of 171st St, 25.1x154.9x25x150.3; Henry Thompson, referee, to the Metropolitan Savings Bank 15,200

WASHINGTON AV, e s, 150.4 ft s of 171st St, 25.1x150.3x25x137.11; Henry Thompson, referee, to the Metropolitan Savings Bank 15,200

WASHINGTON ST, w s, about 115.6 ft n of Hubert St, runs w 227.9 to West St x n 1.3x e 226.3 to Washington St x s 0.3 to beginning; William W. Astor to James R. Roosevelt and others, trustees, &c., ½ part and all title 1

WATER ST, 388; New York Life Insurance and Trust Company, trustee, to E. Ellery Anderson, &c., trustee, &c., ½ part. (R S $5) 1

WEST END AV, e s, 40.11 ft s of 104th St, 20x67; Rosalie W. Horner to Charles E. Horner, (mtg $14,000) 1

1ST AV, e s, 50.8 ft n of 91st St, 25x94; George A. Magorinsky to Clarence A. Eldredge, (mtg $21,400, R S $5) 1

1ST AV, s w corner of 113th St, 75.11x100; Samuel Cooper to Michael Cooper, (R S $10, mtg $75,130) 1

1ST AV, n w corner of 30th St, 24.9x75; Charles Strauss, referee, to Joseph Meagher 30,100

3D AV, 1,271 and 1,273, 51.1x80; Charles Strauss, referee, to Joseph P. Meagher. 55,000

3D AV, e s, 55.0 ft n of 38th St, 16.7x75x 17.4x75; Issbel R. Clark to W. Irving Clark, (mtg $9,000) 18,700

9TH AV, 683, 28.8x75; Lucia D. Haubner to Ralph Riess, (R S $32.50) 100

9TH AV, 653, w s, 28.8x75; Ralph Reiss to Herman Joveshof, (R S $11.50, mtg $21,000) 1

11TH AV, s w corner of 180th St, 25x180; Thomas S. Walker to J. Allen Townsend, (R S $10) 100

13TH ST, n s, 405 ft w of Avenue D, 50x 108, Unionport; Vincenzo Avallone and wife to Rosa Consalvo 1

29TH ST, 235 East, 25x98.9x irregular; Henry Kellus to Pincus Lowenfeld and another, (R S $7, mtg $20,000) 1

30TH ST, s s, 149.8 ft w of 2d Av, 25.6x 98.9x irregular; Charles Strauss, referee, to Joseph P. Meagher, (R S $27.50) 27,600

39TH ST, s s, 275 ft w of 5th Av, 200x 98.9; Camille Schwarzwalder, heir, &c., to August Finck and another, ½ part, (R S $60) 60,000

42D ST, n s, 300 ft w of 8th Av, 50x100.5; Thomas Farrell to F. K. Seagrist, (R S $17, mtg $50,000) 47,000

51ST ST, 181.3 ft e of 2d Av, 18.9x100.5; Sanders Liebman to Aaron Liebman, (R S $5, mtg $10,000) 1

62D ST, s s, 150 ft e of 11th Av, 25x100.5; Nellie A. Murphy to Peter Duffy, (R S $10, mtg $16,000) 1

65TH ST, s s, 150 ft w of West End Av, 25x100.5; Christian Behlmer to Christian Dohm, (mtg $16,000, R S $4) 1

73TH ST, 18.9x102.2; William E. Rogers to Susan L. R. Rogers, (mtg $16,000, R S $22.50) 1

82D ST, n s, 198 ft w of Central Park West, 21x102.2; Joseph I. Berry, referee, to Justus L. Bulkley 30,000

90TH ST, s s, 30 ft e of Columbus Av, 70x100.8; Nellie Goldheim to Riverside Building Company, (R S $5, mtg $70,000) 1

92D ST, 305 and 307 West, 42x75.8; the Riverside Building Company to Nella Sondheim, (R S $10, mtg $48,000) .....

97TH ST, 169 West, 14x100.11; Ella F. Comstock to Annie Aaron, (R S 75 cents, mtg $10,700) .....

105TH ST, 69 West, 32x100.11; Louis N. Narbonne to Nellie A. Murphy, (R S $10, mtg $28,000) .....

112TH ST, 325 East, 25x100.11x2?x100.11; Gerardo Domi to Marianna Domi, ½ part, all liens .....

118TH ST, n s, 100 ft e of Morningside Av East, 50x100.11; Lcopold Kahn Company to Max Vogel, (R S $14.50, mtg $20,000) .....

121ST ST, 107 East, 17x100.11; Ellen M. Jenkins to Sarah E. Rabold, all title...

121ST ST, 223 West, 25x100.11; Vincedora E. Jackson to Emily A. Ryder, (mtg $30,000, R S $7.50) .....

121ST ST, s s, 142.6 ft w of 4th Av, 21x 100.11; Sanders Liebman to Aaron Liebman, (R S $4) .....

125TH ST, n s, at a s of Manhattan St, runs w 210.6 x n e 97.10 to Manhattan St x s e 176.7; William H. Scott to Eugene C. Potter, (R S $40, mtg $25,000)

125TH ST, 9 to 15 West, 75x99.11; Samuel Green to Joseph Frank, (R S $6, mtg $97,000) .....

126TH ST, s s, 225 ft e of 2d Av, 25x99.11; Christian and Helena Dages to Henry 138TH ST, n s, 129.6 ft w of 7th Av, 17x 99.11; Nellie H. Griesel to Edward Dart, (R S $15) .....

138TH ST, n s, 381.6 ft e of Alexander Av, 25x100; E. L. Parris, referee, to Charlotte M. Tyler, (R S $22) .....

147TH ST, 626 West, 16.6x00.11; Carl H. Koppes, executor, to Michael Fleck, (R S $3, mtg $6,000) .....

148TH ST, n s, 232 ft e of Boulevard, 18 x99.11; Isabelle C. Culbert and others, heirs, to Kate S. Myers .....

Recorded Leases.

MADISON ST., 282; Edward Kochkeller to Samuel Zarowin and another, 5 years... 2,400

HOUSTON ST, 417 East; Jacob Leopold Heidenheim to Simon Cyge, 5 years $775

STANTON ST, s e corner of Suffolk St, 50x100; Samuel Strasbourger and another to Barney Cohen, 3 years..... 11,500

TREMONT AV, 749; Catharine Fox to Charles Fourn and another, 25 years... 8,360

TREMONT AV, 698; Howard J. Timmins to William Schwanemann, 3 years and 3½ months 1,080

WOOSTER ST, 185; R. P. Ritterbusch to William H. Crookston & Brother, 10 years 1,100

1ST AV, 2,354; Basilius Busch to Charles Thiebauth, 7½ years $1,560

1ST AV, 1,277; Louis Parisette to John F. Wurthmann, 3¼ years 360

2D AV, 2,063; Andrew Ludwig to Nicholas Ludwig, 8 years 1,020

21ST ST, s w s, 350 ft n w of 5th Av, 25 x91.11; Mary C. Ogden, by attorney, to Adam C. Rinteien, 21 years 400

Recorded Mortgages.

Interest at 5 per cent. unless otherwise specified.

BARRARI, Samuel D., to New York Building Loan Banking Company; Nelson Av, w s, 175.0 ft n of 164th St, installments, 6 per cent $6,710

BRYAN, Wesley, to Ella A. Gregg; Longfellow St, w s, 176 ft n of Freeman St, 3 years 3,000

CORN, Henry, to Eugene Sondheim; Lexington Av, n e corner of 121st St, 1 year, 6 per cent 5,000

CORNWELL, Abraham D., to Peter W. Felix, trustee; Lewis St, 42, 5 years.. 2,000

DART, Edward, to Nellie H. Griesel; 138th St, n s, 129.6 ft w of 7th Av, 5 years, 4 per cent 13,000

EGAN, Michael J., to Annie V. Wood; Prospect Terrace, w s, 89 ft n of 13th St, William's Bridge, 2 months, 6 per cent 500

FRIEDHOFF, John P., and Henry C. Meyer to Charles W. and Joseph H. Frank; 1st Av, 82, 3 years, 5½ per cent. 5,000

GORDON, Charles D., to Catherine C. Hill; 6th St, s s, w ½ part of Lot 533, map of Village of Wakefield, 3 years, 6 per cent 3,000

GRACE, Mary T., executrix, to Mary A. White; 6th Av, n e corner of 9th St, 1 year, 6 per cent 3,000

GRAY, Henry T., to Jessie Gillender; Madison Av, s e corner of 86th St, due July 10, 1901 45,000

GRAY, Lizzie E., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 123d St, 118 to 122 East, 3 years, 4 per cent 8,500

HANSEN, Niels, Harrison ..... Meyer; Madison Av, 1,861, 3 years 15,000

HERTER, Peter J., to Anna Fahrenholz; 81st St, 211 East, 2 years, 6 per cent... 3,000

HERTER, Peter J., to Anna Fahrenholz; 81st St, 209 East, 2 years, 6 per cent.... 3,000

HERTER, Peter J., to Thomas H. Bauchle, trustee; 211 East 81st St, 5 years 25,500

HERTER, Petec J., to Thomas H. Bauchle, trustee; 209 East 81st St, 5 years 25,000

KISSELL, William, to George Ringler & Co.; 22d St, 212 East; demand, 6 per cent 4,555

LARKIN, Susanna M. C., to Broadway Savings Institution; 51st St, 206 East, due May 1, 1904, 4½ per cent 7,500

LARKIN, Susanna M. C., to Broadway Savings Institution; 51st St, 204 East, due May 1, 1904, 4½ per cent 8,500

LIEBESKIND, Henle, to Simon Adler and others; Madison Av, n w corner 124th St, due May 21, 1901, 6 per cent 3,500

LIPMAN, Max, and Max Gold to Isidore Jackson and Abraham Stern; 4th St, 277 and 279 East, 1 year, 6 per cent 20,000

LOWITZ, (formerly Kiraify,) Elise M., to Mabel R. Cushing; Washington Square West, w s, 27.6 ft n of 4th St, 1 year, 6 per cent 2,000

MARANS, Morris, to Abraham Kassel; Hester St 61 and 63, 4 years, 6 per cent. 17,500

MARANS, Morris, to Abraham Kassel; Hester St, 59, 4 years, 6 per cent 4,000

MEAGHER, Joseph P., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 1st Av, 515; 2 years, 4½ per cent 18,000

MEAGHER, Joseph P., to Title Guarantee and Trust Company; 3d Av, 1,271 and 1,273, 2 years, 4½ per cent 33,000

MEAGHER, Joseph P., to Joseph F. Isaacs; 30th St, 240 East, 2 years, 4½ per cent 15,000

MORRIS, Alice P., to Max Gold; Monroe St, 72, 1 year, 6 per cent 1,500

MORRIS, Octavus J., to Elizabeth S. Clark, guardian, &c.; 9th Av, n e corner of 45th St, 5 years, 4 per cent.. 17,000

McSWEENY, John, to Mark F. Healy, guardian, &c.; Croton Av, or Avenue B, s s, part of Lot 90, on map of Prospect Hill estate, Fordham, 5 years 2,500

OSMANSKY, Morris, and Joseph Rosenthal, to Hannah D. Jennison, guardian, &c; Market St, 11, 5 years, 4½ per cent.. 16,000

PETERS, Mary, to John P. Pape; St. Lawrence Av, e s, 125 ft s of Mansion St, 3 years 3,000

POTTER, Eugene C., to Henry J. Braker; 125th St, n s, at s s of Manhattan St, runs w 210.6x n e 97.10 to s s of Manhattan St x s e 176.7 to beginning, due July 10, 1902 16,000

RABOLD, Sarah E., to Harlem Savings Bank; 121st St, 107 East, 1 year 5,000

RIESS, Ralph, to Lucia D. Haubner; 9th Av, 653, 3 years, 4 per cent 21,000

RUCH, Robert, to Victor Gerhards; 4th St, 209 East, installments 2,000

RIVERSIDE BUILDING COMPANY, a corporation, to Richard S. Colwin; 90th St, s s, 30 ft w of Columbus Av, due Oct. 1, 1901, 6 per cent 20,000

SCHRADER, Henry C., to William H. Sutton; Park Av, e s, 25.11 ft s of 150th St, 3 years, 6 per cent 4,000

SCHROEDER, George J., and Alfred Geering to Clara Stelermann; Haven Av, w s, 425 ft n from s s of 170th St, due Jan. 11, 1904 .....

SMITH, William, to Sarah J. Reid; 40th St, n s, 125 ft e of 11th Av, 5 years...

THIEBAUTH, Charles, to Jacob Ruppert; 1st Av, 2,354, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent 3,000

VANDERVOORT, Devereaux, to Jacob Ruppert; 2d Av, 2,063, saloon lease, demand, 6 per cent 1,500

VOGEL, Max, to Seamen's Bank for Savings; 118th St, n s, 100 ft e of Morningside Av East, 3 years, 4 per cent 70,000

VOGEL, Max, to Louis Bernheimer; 118th St, n s, 100 ft e of Morningside Av East, 1 year, 6 per cent 10,000

WALSH, James, to the National Savings Bank of Albany; Amsterdam Av, n e corner of 146th St, 3 years, 4 per cent.. 27,000

WILSEY, Marietta, to Helen L. Anthon; 98th St, s s, 214.11 ft w of Columbus Av, 2 years, 4 per cent 11,500

WITTNER, Hulda, to Paul Tuckerman; Park Av, s e corner of 68th St, 5 years, 4½ per cent 30,000

Assignments of Mortgages.

BOURNE, Frederick G., and others, executors, &c., to Elizabeth S. Clark, guardian, &c ..... Nom.

BRUNDRETT, Rachel A., to the American Surety Company $10,000

COOPER, Samuel, to Michael Cooper.... Nom.

GOELET, Mary R., executrix, &c., and another to Robert Goelet 50,000

GOELET, Mary R., executrix, &c., and another to Mary W. Goelet 35,000

JOHNSEN, Kate, to Andrew J. Buehler. Nom.

KAHN, LEOPOLD, COMPANY, a corporation, to Leopold Kahn ..... Nom.

LANE, Samuel V., to T. Emory Clocke, executor, &c 3,600

LEVI, Joseph C., trustee, to Abraham Kassel ..... Nom.

RILEY, Charles, to David Burton 32,334

ROSE, Hudson P., to James M. Davis... Nom.

RUPPERT, Jacob, to Irving I. Kempner. Nom.

RUPPERT, Jacob, to Irving I. Kempner. Nom.

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to Frances W. A. Donohue 9,000

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY to Frances W. A. Donohue 9,000

Mechanics' Liens

NAVAL ARCH PLAN REVIVED.

Committees Formed to Raise Funds for Granite Monument that May Be Erected on the Battery.

The Dewey Arch, if plans which are now in progress are carried out, will see its once ephemeral existence restored in stone and mortar. In its more permanent form, however, it will not be a Dewey arch, but a National naval memorial.

The site will also be changed, and while its location has yet to be determined upon, and is subject to the approval of the Municipal Art Commission, it is the present proposal to place it upon the water front, probably facing the Battery, and in such a position as to permit of appropriate approaches from the water, harmonizing in design and general effect with the arch itself.

The movement to erect the memorial originated with a number of prominent naval men, who regretted the failure of the effort to raise a sufficient subscription to perpetuate the Dewey Arch.

Admiral Joseph N. Miller, who was in command of the Pacific Coast Squadron during the war with Spain, and is a close friend of Admiral Dewey, was asked to approach the latter and obtain his views on the project. Admiral Miller did so, and Admiral Dewey replied by a letter, in which he said:

I think, too, as other naval alumni do, that the glorious deeds of the navy have not been fittingly commemorated, and that steps toward building a splendid monument to its valor should at once be taken, and I shall gladly give all the assistance in my power.

A number of special committees were formed to carry on the proposed undertaking in a systematic way. These are as follows:

On Design and Site—Park Benjamin and Thomas C. Wood.

Ways and Means—Jacob W. Miller and Rear Admiral Joseph W. Miller, U. S. N.

Finance—Herbert L. Satterlee, J. J. Berwind, Robert S. Sloane, and W. Butler Duncan, Jr.

Communication with Government—Lewis Nixon, Rear Admiral Henry Erben, United States Navy, and Lieut. Leonard Chenery, United States Navy.

In speaking of the project, Mr. Benjamin, who is the Chairman of the Committee on Design and Site, said yesterday:

"Our Finance Committee is now arranging for a transfer of the funds in the possession of the old Dewey Arch Committee, and we do not anticipate that any objection will be offered to this disposition of the money. As for the memorial, by which it is proposed to collect further subscriptions, we shall adopt the method which was so successful in the case of the Sunday and Saturday Hospital, that is, through the organization of special committees among the different branches of business and the professions."

Mr. Benjamin said that the present proposal is to erect a memorial in granite costing about $250,000. This will be practically an exact reproduction of the general outlines of the old Dewey Arch, although there will be some minor changes in detail.

BOSSCHEITER MURDER TRIAL.

McAllister, Death, and Campbell to be Tried First—Kerr May Testify.

PATERSON, N. J., Jan. 11.—Prosecutor Emley has decided that McAllister, Death, and Campbell shall first face a jury on Monday next, to be tried for their lives for the murder of Jennie Bosschelter.

Kerr, who was jointly indicted with the other three prisoners, and who is to have a separate trial, may be called as a witness against them. Kerr asserts that he was not present at the time the knockout drops were administered to Jennie Bosschelter, and that, although he was a member of the party who drove in the hack with the girl to the outskirts of Paterson, he took no part in the assault.

FRESH MEAT PRICES GO UP.

Highest Point Since 1894 Reached in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Prices for fresh meats yesterday reached the highest point for January since 1894. With 8,000 cattle, 30,000 hogs, and 10,000 sheep on the market at prices ranging from $4.50 to $5.50 for cattle on the hoof, hogs, $5.10 to $5.47, and sheep $3.50 to $4.50 per 100 pounds, the consumer was forced to pay 22 cents per pound for a porterhouse steak, 10 cents per pound for pork chops, and 20 cents per pound for choice cuts of lamb and mutton. The prices were:

Sirloin, 20 cents; pot roast, (beef,) 7 to 12 cents; salt pork, 11 cents, and corned beef, 6 to 12 cents. These prices considerably increased the cost to the heads of families.

Real Estate.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

Oldest Strongest Best

TITLE GUARANTEE AND TRUST COMPANY.

EXAMINES AND GUARANTEES

Titles to Real Estate

CAPITAL & SURPLUS - $5,000,000
146 Broadway, New York.
175 Remsen St., Brooklyn.

$1,000 LOAN WANTED; GOOD SECURITY, AND $100 bonus paid. Address Loan, J. 205 Times.

Real Estate for Exchange.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE piece of business Property, leased to one tenant who does all repairs and pays the Croton water rent; will trade for Lots on west side of city. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$60,000 EQUITY IN THREE large, fine Apartment Houses to trade for free and clear Lots on west side. Send full particulars of what you have to offer to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$26,000 EQUITY IN CORNER Plot, situated near the West Shore Ferry. What can you offer in trade for same? Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$15,000 EQUITY IN FINE Flat House, situated near 104th st. "L" station, west side. Will trade for Country Seat. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$125,000 EQUITY IN A GILT edge Apartment House on Broadway; will trade for free and clear Lots or sell for cash. Send full particulars to Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$40,000 EQUITY IN FINE Store Property, near 28th st. and 6th av.; will trade for private House and cash. For full particulars address Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d st., or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

$20,000 EQUITY IN FINE flat House; will trade for free and clear private House; send full particulars Geo. W. Campbell, 122 West 103d, or call between 9 A. M. and 9 P. M.

HAVE 8 GOOD PAYING INCOME PROPERTIES, Manhattan and Brooklyn; will trade for Long Island farm only; my equity is $15,000. Write all particulars, brokers invited, OWNER, Box V116 New York Times.

EXCHANGES NEGOTIATED; COMPLETE list desirable properties, city, suburban, country; principals submit particulars. GEORGE FURVIS, 156 Broadway.

Handsome paying income house; best location in city; for private house in Brooklyn or country place and some cash. EDWARD LARNER, 814 Mott Av.

HOTEL.—New Jersey, $12,000, unincumbered, for east side Manhattan lots or old buildings. JACKSON, 106 Lexington Av.

Country Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

TO CAPITALISTS—The heirs of an estate of about 75 acres, which for family reasons has been undeveloped, would now like to dispose of the entire tract; it is surrounded on two sides by the town, and on the other sides by fruit farming; land is high and very desirably located, town of about 4,500 inhabitants, and both the Pennsylvania and Reading Roads to Atlantic City pass through the property, both stations adjoining it; climate exceedingly healthy, and especially for throat or lung troubles; beautiful lake, a mile and a quarter long, of pure spring water, within 15 minutes' walk of the property; 25 trains stop daily, counting both roads; correspondence solicited in regard to this offer, when further information will be furnished. Address J. E. WATKIS, Hammonton, N. J.

Farms and village property for sale and rent; cozy homes from $1,200 to $2,500; farm, $100 per acre and upward. Charles H. Seabury, Hempstead, N. Y.

Westchester Real Estate for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SPLENDID HOME IN NEW ROCHELLE.—Fine stable; house all improvements; lot 75x625. Easy terms, $7,500. Apply to CHAS. H. NOXON, lawyer, 21 Park Row, 25th floor. Tel. 3681 Cortlandt.

New Jersey Property for Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

$18 BUYS 2½ ACRES.
$35 BUYS 5 ACRES.
Almost given away, to close estate at once; installments 50 cents weekly. APPLEBY, 10 Wall.

To Let for Business Purposes.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

TO LEASE,

NEW STORE AND LOFT BUILDING, NO. 5 WEST 14TH STREET.—Fine basement, extra large and light store, with gallery; light lofts; steam heat, electric light and power, freight elevator. Whole or part.

CHARLES BUEK, Owner, 109 West 42d St.

VERY DESIRABLE LOFTS,

NO. 579 BROADWAY,

To let at reasonable rental.
Possession Feb. 1. Apply to
HORACE S. ELY & CO.,
64 CEDAR ST.

UNION SQUARE NORTH,
ADJOINING BROADWAY.
LOFT 184 FEET DEEP.
Building has
entrances on two streets.
Inquire at 31 East 17th St., or
J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

POWER AND LIGHT.
STORE, 25x80; steam heat; very low rental.
FIRST LOFT, 50x80, $1,200.
LOFTS, with 2,500, 3,600, or 10,800 sq. ft. on floor.
CONCESSIONS to May 1, Nos. 142-150 Worth St., near Centre St.; two elevators.
VOORHEES & FLOYD, 66 Liberty St.

3D AV, NEAR 14TH ST., FINE BUILDING; store has new double show windows; rent $1,700. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

CORNER 12TH ST. & THIRD AV.—Extra deep store, with large basement. J. EDGAR LEAYCRAFT & CO., B'way, cor. 44th.

DESK ROOM, WITH GOOD WINDOW SPACE IF DESIRED; PRIVATE OFFICE; IN LARGE REAL ESTATE OFFICE: $5 TO $15.
HALL & SON,
2,193 7TH AV.

CORNER STORE, 1 7TH AV., CORNER 11TH St., rent reasonable. DUROSS, 242 West 14th St.

STORES, LOFTS, AND OFFICES TO LET AT LOWEST RATES.
JACOB A. KING, 491 B'WAY—81 E. 125TH ST.

407TH ST., 438 AND 440 WEST.—Large stores, with plate-glass fronts; two rooms; decorated; $15.

Business Property Wanted.

FACTORY LOFTS WANTED.
We have more calls for lofts
than we can supply.
If you have lofts to let send us particulars, or manager will call.
Now is the time to lease.
CHAS. H. EASTON & CO.,
Tel. 795—38. 116 West 42d.

Real Estate Wanted.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

IS YOUR PROPERTY THREATENED WITH foreclosure? Do you wish to sell it, or any other property quickly? City or country. No agents, owners only. Address "PURCHASER," Box 144 Times Office.

SMALL LONG ISLAND COUNTRY PLACE wanted in exchange for modern brownstone Brooklyn dwelling; equity, $3,600. OWNER, 254 East 15th St., Brooklyn.

Tenements or flats wanted to lease; singly or rows; any neighborhood. STEVENSON, 827 East 52d St.

Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

THE GRANADA,
95th St., Southeast Corner of Lexington Av.
8, 7, 8, 9 rooms and bath; elevator, steam heat, hall service, telephone, electric light, gas ranges; modern plumbing; hardwood cabinet trim throughout.
OPEN FOR INSPECTION DAY AND NIGHT.
LIONEL FROEHLICH'S SON,
1,149 Lexington Av.

KENMARE.

Rents $1,300 and upward

S. W. COR. 93D. ST. AND CENTRAL PARK WEST; 7 and 8 extra large rooms and bath; elevator, telephone, electric light fixtures. The finish and decorations of these apartments should be seen to be appreciated. AGENT ALWAYS ON PREMISES TO SHOW THE APARTMENTS.

SLAWSON & HOBBS, Agents.
284 Columbus Av., near 72d St.

71st St. 342 West.

New apartments, overlooking the Hudson and Riverside Drive; 7, 8, and 9 extra large outside rooms, with pantry; two bathrooms each; parquette floors, elevator, electric light, telephones; $1,200 to $1,500. Superintendent.

BACHELOR AP'TS.
112 West 44th St.
2 large light rooms and bath.
ASHFORTH & CO., 1,509 Broadway.

117th St., 360-366 West, Near Morningside Park.—Handsomely decorated six rooms and bath, steam heat, hot water; private surroundings; near Columbia University and convenient to cable and elevated station; $25, $27; references.

$20—118TH ST., 12 WEST—$20.
5 and 6 large rooms, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D.)

$36—103D ST., 85 WEST—$36.
6 rooms and bath, steam, hot water.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

ST. NICHOLAS AV., 167, NEAR 118TH ST.—Beautiful steam-heated single flats; 7 large, light rooms and bath, $32.

$50—150TH ST., 507-509 WEST—$50.
9 rooms and bath; heat, hot water; choice.
H. S. WRIGHT, 2,054 7TH AV., (123D ST.)

Apartments to Let—Furnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

For Rent—Handsome, beautifully furnished corner apartment, Hotel Majestic; family going South for six weeks will let suite to advantage for that time. Apply at hotel office.

Brooklyn Apartments to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ELEGANT CORNER FLAT, 6 ROOMS, $18; Ralph and Putnam Av.; 533 Park Place, near Franklin, $14; 62 Bleecker St., 6 rooms, bath, $11. See janitor.

City Flats to Let—Unfurnished.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

4 and 5 rooms at 91st St. and 1st Av.; new houses; $16-$18; all improvements; also at 304 to 310 East 92d St.

21 and 23 East 99th St., near 5th Av.—Six rooms and bath; private halls; from $23 to $26; 10 rooms and bath, $40.

4 and 5 rooms and bath, $16-$21, at 2 East 119th St., corner 5th Av.

New buildings, s. e. cor. 118th St. and Madison Av., 4 and 5 rooms and baths; hot water supply, &c. $15 to $23.

A 7-ROOM FLAT, $20; LARGEST, CHEAPEST, lightest flats in Harlem; extra wide; bath; improvements; hardwood finish; good service; one month free. Janitor, 2,293 8th Av., near 138th St.

HALF MONTH'S RENT FREE.
284 West 122d Street, elegant apartments; 8 rooms, newly papered and decorated; steam heat and hall service; $30 and upward. See janitor.

10TH ST., 224 EAST.—Three-room apartments; hot water, gas, and coal ranges; decorated; $12-$14.

97th St., 155 West.—Elegantly decorated flats, 5 rooms and bath, hot water, steam heat. Janitor.

104th St., 214 West.—Elegantly decorated 7 large light rooms and bath, rear L; $30, $35. Janitor.

JONES ST., 7, NEAR WEST 4TH ST., 6TH AV. —3-4 room apartments; decorated; $10-$14.50.

124TH ST., 230 WEST.—Large apartments; 6 rooms, bath; newly decorated; price, $16.

Brooklyn.

HICKS ST., 363.—Desirable apartments of two and three rooms; prices, $7 and $8.

Coal and Wood.

BUY YOUR COAL & WOOD AT THEDFORD'S

YARDS:
27TH ST. AND 9TH AVE., Tel. 386—18
79TH ST. & B'WAY., Tel. 717 Riverside.
222d W. 42D ST., Tel. 1715—38
55TH ST. & 10TH AVE., Tel. 166 Cols.
55TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 249 Cols.
88TH ST. AND B'WAY, Tel. 125 River
29TH ST. AND N. R., Tel. 375—38

MURRAY HILL WOOD YARD

36TH ST. AND FIRST AV. Tel. 279 Madison Sq. Selected Pine and Oak for kindling. Pine Knots and extra dry Hickory for Grates and Andirons. Inspection solicited. Satisfaction guaranteed.

Instruction.

30c. per line $4.50 per line for 20 times.

SACRED HEART ACADEMY.

Select Catholic Boarding School; thorough academic and commercial course; athletics, military drill; terms moderate; 2od term begins Feb'y 1st. Address BROTHER AUGUST, West Chester, N.Y.

Carnegie Hall Gymnasium

For women and children. Day and evening classes. Fencing. Miss D. M. ELLION, Room 60.

ISAAC PITMAN SHORTHAND; PRIVATE AND class lessons; best instruction; reasonable rates. METROPOLITAN SCHOOL, 289 4th Av.

FRENCH, SPANISH, ITALIAN INSTRUCTION; best method; expert teachers; terms moderate. Prof. J. M. PELLERIN, 207 West 25th.

Musical.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT 112 EAST 16TH ST.....The ONLY N. Y. CONSERVATORY, 112 East 16th, ...BETWEEN 4TH AV. and IRVING PLACE. The FAMOUS MUSIC SCHOOL.....The FIRST in the COUNTRY. Lessons DAY and EVENING...Years on 14th St. ....GRADUATES PROVIDED with POSITIONS.

CHOIR EXCHANGE, BROOKLYN, 299 Carlton Av.—Church music teaching departments, John E. Webster, Director. Pupils trained for appointments: CHURCHES SUPPLIED WITH FIRST-CLASS organists and singers.

VIOLIN ARTISTICALLY TAUGHT, EITHER residence; terms reasonable; not payable in advance; references exchanged. CHADWICK, 2 Chambers St.

PAULINE ELLIOTT RYDER.—Violinist for concerts and musicales; highest social, musical references; pupils accepted. Address 43 W. 84th.

SOMETHING NEW!—Piano taught in 3 months without notes; accompaniments a specialty; PROMONTORY, 150 West 14th St.

VIOLIN, PIANO; PRIVATE INSTRUCTION; experienced thorough musician; reasonable terms. Prof. A. BYRNE, 341 West 23d St.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION BY JOSEPH GOLDsteln, pupil of Cologne Conservatory, Germany. Terms moderate. 250 Sixth Av., Brooklyn.

Violin Studio, 160 West 23d St.—Advantage to beginners and advanced pupils; private or classes; terms reasonable.

MUSICAL.—COWEN, 327 East 16th, near 2d Av. Park. PIANO LESSONS, 24 for $5; single 25c. ESTABLISHED.

FRED L. HILL.—Instruction in singing; beginners a specialty; terms moderate. 93 West 103d.

Dancing.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

GEORGE W. WALLACE,
Leslie Rooms, 280 West 83d Street;
Ellerslie Rooms, 80-82 West 126th St.
Class and private tuition. See circular.

HARVARD DANCING ACADEMY, 158-162 W. 125th.—Waltz, schottische, two-step, polka, lancers, waltz quadrille guaranteed 6 private, 4 class lessons, $5; 4 class lessons, $1.

PRIVATE DANCING CLASSES FRIDAYS, AFternoons and Evenings.—Adults, children. Professor FERNANDO, Dancing Master, 137 West 123d St.

PROF. STERNS, expert instructor, 20th season Broadway, Myrtle Av., Brooklyn; clogs, reel, cakewalks, specialties, waltz, two-step.

Columbia Dancing Academy, 59th and 6th Av.—Classes forming; 4 lessons, $1; 24, $5; private lessons, (any hour,) $1. Prof. S. Warner.

Lester's Colonial Academy, 101st St. and Columbus Av.—Class and private lessons daily; receptions Wednesday and Saturday.

Excursions.

Cook's Winter Trips.

Including Hotels and All Expenses.

Washington, Jan. 17, 3 days, $12
Bermuda, Jan. 16, 8 days, $62
Florida, Jan. 18, 14 days, $65
Havana, Jan. 19, 11 days, $90

Descriptive Programmes free on application. INDEPENDENT TICKETS EVERYWHERE.

THOS. COOK & SON
Downtown, 261 Broadway, N. Y.
Uptown, 1185 Broadway, N. Y.

Business Opportunities.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

STATISTICS SHOW THAT THE SALE OF toilet articles in the United States amounts to MORE than $40,000,000.00. Do you desire a share of this money? Here is your opportunity: I want a partner with capital, or a person with capital to form a stock company for the purpose of increasing manufacture and exploit of seven Turkish Toilet Company articles, now on the market, for ladies. Highest recommendations; handsomest packages. Address, Col. J. F. MILLIKEN, 287 Broadway, N. Y. City.

$1,000.00 invested in a novel manufacturing business can be doubled annually; will secure $15 per week calary to ambitious party; larger amounts in like proportion; no scheme, no discretionary pools; safe; will bear investigation. Call Automatic Pic. Company, 88 Wall St.

Spencer's, largest dry goods store, 276 Main St., New Rochelle, 18 miles from city on Central R. R.; must sacrifice immediately; stock worth about $9,000; cash or part real estate; old established place; don't waste time corresponding; call any afternoon; convince yourself.

MONEY MAKER.—Merchants' Anti-Stepladder; an indispenseable commodity for stores; nickelplated; weight, 1½ pounds; monopolies offered. FLYNN, 73 Warren St., New York.

Be your own boss. Make your own fortune. Others have done it, so can you. Send stamp to Buckeye Novelty Co., B., Mt. Vernon, Ohio, for particulars, &c.

Advantageous Jersey daily opportunity; splendid form; business $20,000; rare opportunity; $15,000. Publishers' Broker HARRIS, 150 Nassau St.

Magazine opportunity extraordinary; $8,000; doing $15,000; safe, promising, high grade. Publishers' Broker HARRIS, 150 Nassau St.

CASH ADVANCED TO MANUFACTURERS and merchants on their outstanding accounts. MARTIN J. WEIL, 463 Broome St.

Advice Free.—Patents promptly procured; inventors' Guide FREE. EDGAR TATE & CO., Patent Attorneys, 245 Broadway.

Agents Wanted—To sell first-class gold mining stock in the East; liberal commissions paid. Address G., Box 182 Times.

For Sale.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

CREDIT TO ALL WITHOUT SECURITY.

CLOTHING for Ladies, Men, and Boys, ready made or to order. Millinery, Furs, &c.
PROGRESSIVE CLOTHING AND CLOAK CO., 7 W. 14th St., bet. 5th and 6th Avs. (Open eve.)

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smith Premiers, and all standard makes rented, kept in repair; stands and ribbons free. Sold 25% to 75% less than manufacturer's prices. No relics of past ages carried in stock. Every machine sold kept in repair for one year free. F. S. WEBSTER CO., 317 Broadway. Telephone, 1,338 Franklin.

SPECIAL! CUT THIS OUT!
I have an order for 50 TONS OF OLD METAL and PAPER; if you have any to sell, no matter how large or small a quantity, send me a postal card and I will call promptly. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

15 CENTS A POUND paid for old pewter, britannia, and plated ware; 5 pounds or 5,000 pounds bought; call or send postal. I will call. BORNSTEIN, 84 Centre St.

TYPEWRITERS.—Remingtons, Smiths, Blickendorfers, Hammonds, Williamses, Jewetts, Franklins, Caligraphs, sold, rented, exchanged, repaired. GORMAN, 79 Nassau St.

AT EBLE'S ART GALLERY, 105 WEST 42D St., near 6th Av.—Antiques, curios, old jewels, silverware, rare fans, paintings, miniatures, and weapons. Old gold bought.

TYPEWRITERS REPAIRED BY EXPERTS; rented, sold, exchanged. Telephone for estimate. DURRANT, McLEAN & CO., 265 Broadway.

A well-stocked candy, stationery, tobacco store for sale, with newspaper route, and fine living apartments; good reasons for selling. 849 Myrtle Av., Brooklyn.

TYPEWRITER, (NEW,) $40; REMODELED Remington, Smiths, $35; rentals reduced; repairing, (telephone.) CONSOLIDATED TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 241 Broadway.

TYPEWRITERS RENTED, BOUGHT, SOLD; expert repairing. R. & G. TYPEWRITER CO., 202 Broadway. Telephone, 999 Cortlandt.

PHONOGRAPHS BOUGHT, SOLD, AND EXchanged; cash or $1.00 weekly; gramaphone records, $2.50 dozen. 148 East 58th St.

GOODYEAR'S RUBBER GOODS, MACKINtoshes, Clothes Wringers, Carpet Sweepers, &c., at lowest prices. Call, 105 West 125th St.

INDIAN PIPES, NAVAJO BLANKETS, OLD Arms, Brass, Copper, Pewter, Curios. J. H. MAYHEW, 840 West 42d St.

AT 344 6TH AV. AND 172 WEST 23D ST.—Foot Knitting Co.; stockings refooted; underwear repaired.

Typewriters sold and rented; expert repairing done. General Typewriter Exchange, 1 Park Place. 'Phone, 1578 Cortlandt.

DO YOU KNOW I CAN MAKE YOUR FURNITURE look like new? E. STRAUSS, 1,788 Madison Av.

TYPEWRITERS.—All makes; guaranteed; rented $2, $3 monthly; ribbons, stands free. CENTRAL TYPEWRITER EXCHANGE, 203 Broadway.

HIGHEST CASH PRICES PAID FOR SECOND-hand furniture, carpets, pianos, &c. Address LENOX, 61 West 125th St.

$10.00 BARGAINS THIS WEEK.—Domestic, New Home, Singer Sewing Machines. Cash buyers. BROWN, 39 West 125th St.

MUSIC BOXES, 84 TEETH, $24; 15 TUNES free; other instruments. Prof. ADOLPH COHN, 157 West 23d St.

PRIZE ANGORA CATS AT A SACRIFICE; must sell at once. JONES, 230 West 99th St.

Watches and Jewelry.

CREDIT, DIAMONDS, WATCHES, OIL PAINTings, weekly payments, lowest prices, confidential. MANHATTAN DIAMOND CO., 87 Maiden Lane.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS; FINE DIAMONDS, watches; goods guaranteed; lowest prices; business confidential. WATCH SUPPLY, Three Maiden Lane.

EASY PAYMENTS.—Watches and diamonds; reliable goods only. AMERICAN WATCH AND DIAMOND CO., 19 Maiden Lane.

Good Will and Interest for Sale.

DAIRY STORE AND MILK ROUTE FOR SALE, 213 Columbus Av.

Purchase and Exchange.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

BOOKS OF EVERY DESCRIPTION BOUGHT, sold, and exchanged; small parcels or libraries purchased; highest cash prices paid; call at residences free; send postal. LOVERING'S NEW YORK BOOK EXCHANGE, 823 Broadway, near 12th St. Open evenings.

HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE, CONTENTS OF houses and flats, pianos, carpets, &c. J. L., 113 University Place.

Groceries, Liquors, &c.

HARRIS'S WINE AND LIQUOR WAREHOUSE, 1,706 Madison Av., cor. 113th.—Special reductions, holiday wines and liquors.

S. KRAUS, FINE WINES AND LIQUORS. Lowest prices. 2,119 8th Av., near 115th St. Branch, 612 2d Av.

Furs.

FUR GARMENTS REMADE, REDYED, BLENDed into fashionable shapes. Seal Sacques a specialty; estimates given. THE BARKER FUR CO., 111 West 59th St.

ROSENBLAT & FRANK, 1,032 3D AV., NEAR 61st St.—Bargains, Fur Boas, Muffs; Altering, Repairing a specialty.

L. PASTER, 42 WEST 125TH ST.—Practical furrier; seal garments altered and repaired, a specialty; lowest rates.

Personal.

Uncle Dogwood, if you want to see me alive, come or let me know where to find you at once. Mama.

Medical.

Allen's Carboline.—It heals; agents wanted; sample and terms free. JAMES D. ALLEN, Passaic, N. J.

Millinery and Dressmaking.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DRESSCUTTING, LADIES' TAILORING, MILlinery, thoroughly taught; $5 starts you. McDOWELL SCHOOL, 310-318 6th Av. Evening school Monday, Wednesday, Friday. Special. Call this week.

G. MAHLER, 678 LEXINGTON AV., (cor. 56th.) Latest Parisian styles. Suits $35 up. Silk lined throughout. Fit guaranteed.

Pianos and Organs.

20c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

WEBER
PIANO WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

We offer this week the following used pianos, in first-class condition, that will do far better service and give far better satisfaction than new instruments of inferior makers:

One Weber Upright	$240
One Weber Upright	290
One Chickering Upright	225
One Kranich & Bach Upright	190
One Wheelock Upright	160
One Wheelock Upright	140
One McCammon Upright	125

Careful buyers will find it worth their while to examine these bargains. Cash or installments. New pianos to rent and rent applied if purchased.

WEBER WAREROOMS,
5th Ave., cor. 16th St.

WISSNER
PIANOS
Used by Eminent Artists.

BROOKLYN: COR. FULTON ST. & FLATBUSH AV. NEW YORK: 25 EAST 14TH ST.

Second-Hand Uprights of Good Makers.

$85—$125. Grands, $175—$300.

PEASE PIANOS

109 W. 42d St., Just West of 6th Ave.

For 55 years a standard of excellence—a tone that is famous for singing qualities. Direct from manufacturer. Easy terms. Good used pianos different makes $125 up. Write for catalogue.

MATHUSHEK & SON and OPERA PIANOS

The balance of our Holiday stock at reduced prices. You can obtain a bargain from our large stock of slightly used pianos recently taken in exchange, including some celebrated makes; rents $4 up.

MATHUSHEK & SON, B'way, cor. 47th St.

THE BIG WEST SIDE PIANO HOUSE.

A small cash payment secures for you a fine piano stool and scarf; delivered free; balance on easy payments; rents, $4 up.

741-743 8th Av., near 46th St.

$10.00 FIRST PAYMENT, BALANCE EASY INSTALLMENTS, ELEGANT NEW UPRIGHT; DELIVERED FREE. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

$5.00 MONTHLY BUYS FULL-SIZE "BILLINGER & CO." UPRIGHT; EVERY PIANO GUARANTEED. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43D ST.

For Sale—An Acolian, "Chippendale" style; uses the Acolian Grand music rolls; the instrument has had the best of care, and is in first-class condition; price, $300. Address L. D., Room 19 Times Building.

WINTERROTH PIANOS, CASH, INSTALMENTS, $125 UPWARD. 105 EAST 14TH ST. & 98 5TH AV. Open Evenings

EMERSON PIANOS.—Beautiful new designs; several slightly used; at unusually low prices; Steinway Parlor Grand; rare bargain. GEO. W. HERBERT, 10 East 17th St.

BARGAINS.—Upright pianos, $100 upward; more value for money than elsewhere guaranteed; square, $20 upward; rented, exchanged; easy payments. CHRISTMAN, 21 East 14th St.

ELEGANT MAHOGANY UPRIGHT PIANO, slightly used, for $175; easy payments if desired; fully guaranteed. W. F. TWAY PIANO CO., 34 5th Av.

LARGE ASSORTMENT SLIGHTLY USED UPrights; squares taken in exchange; "Weber" bargain. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

SPECIAL SALE OF FINE UPRIGHT PIANOS this week; extraordinary bargains for cash. HAHN, 165 W. 23d St.

STEINWAY; EVERY IMPROVEMENT; BEAUtifully carved; great sacrifice; Upright, only $75. BIDDLE'S, 7 East 14th St.

CALL AND EXAMINE OUR FOUR AND FIVE pedal pianos; something entirely new. WESER BROS., 524 West 43d St.

$3.00 TO $5.00 PER MONTH RENT, PIANOS with mandolin attachment. WESER BROS., 524 W. 43d St.

WILL SELL MY EXPENSIVE UPRIGHT piano, couple months old, for $125. 72 Lexington Av., near 29th St.

$200 New piano stool and scarf, $7 per month. Call at 1,569 B'way, cor. 47th St.

Auction Sales.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

SLAUGHTER SALE OF HOLIDAY BOOKS

Closing out entire stock of rich standard books at 148 Fulton Street, near Broadway. Auction sale begins every day, excepting Sundays, at 12 o'clock, evenings at 8, and will be continued until entire stock is sold. Among other choice works are samples and remainders of the publications of Houghton, Mifflin & Co., Appleton & Co., Harper & Brothers, Dodd, Mead & Co., and other leading book houses. A few slightly damaged sets of Huxley, Darwin, Tyndall, and Spencer. Visitors invited. Sale positive. 148 Fulton Street, New York.

Horses, Carriages, &c.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

I WILL SACRIFICE YOUNG, SOUND, stylish cob, been ridden and driven by lady, winner of six prizes; also, quarter value, Brewster Victoria and Brougham, (rubber tired,) Stivers runabout, family surrey, (seats 4,) imported harness, saddles, bridles, 2 bear robes. Private stables, 65 Madison Av., between 27th and 28th Sts.

Dentistry.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

ARTIFICIAL TEETH OF CONTINUOUS GUM Highly Improved.—These teeth represent the highest art in dentistry. They restore form and expression to the face. The gums and roof of mouth, without seam or crevice, (all one piece, porcelain on platinum,) are a perfect reproduction of nature, even in color. Dr. DEANE, Dentist, 454 Lexington Av., cor. 45th St., received highest award Columbian Exposition.

Storage.

20c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

AT MORGAN & BROTHER'S
STORAGE WAREHOUSE,
232, 234 & 236 WEST 47TH ST.,
near Broadway, separate rooms for furniture, pianos, baggage, &c. PADDED VANS FOR REMOVAL OF FURNITURE, &c. Boxing, shipping promptly attended to; estimates furnished. Telephone, 113—38th.

UNIVERSAL STORAGE WAREHOUSE COMpany, 202-208 East 88th St., near 3d Av.—Storage of furniture, pianos, &c.; separate compartments; estimates given for packing, shipping, moving, city or country. Telephone, 23-79th.

Dogs and Birds.

10c. per line 3 times 24c 7 times 42c Double for display.

DOG AND CAT HOSPITAL.
New York Canine Infirmary, 146 West 53d St., H. K. MILLER, Veterinarian.—Treatment, board, washing, clipping of Dogs; exercising grounds; accommodations for country boarders; dogs called for and delivered. Telephone, 851—Columbus.

Clothing.

HIGHEST PRICES PAID FOR LADIES', GENtlemen's, and children's fine discarded Clothing, Jewelry, Furs, Bric-a-Brac, Furniture, Carpets. Mr. or Mrs. NAFTAL, 744 6th Av.

Bowling.

HANDSOME GOLD WATCH, 14-KARAT; ALSO solid silver watch, gold inlaid, bowled for in afternoon open games at KING'S Bowling Alleys, 125 West 125th St.

Lawyers.

Accidents, damages obtained, lawsuits defended, defamation, contracts, collections. ED. W. BRENEN, counsellor, 171 Broadway; consultation free.

WALDRON'S DETECTIVE BUREAU, 271 Broadway.—Expert detective services; lawyer with bureau; advice free. Telephone, 2144 Cortlandt.

Machinery.

DYNAMOS AND MOTORS, ALL SIZES IN stock, direct from factory of Triumph Electric Co.; send us postal, we do the rest. CHINNOCK ELECT. CO., 39 Cortlandt St., N. Y.

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

"All the News That's Fit to Print."

Hotels and Restaurants.

20c. per line $4.50 per line for 30 times.

The... Berkeley

Berkeley and Boylston Streets,

BOSTON.

The location is most desirable, being in close proximity to the Back Bay Stations of the New York, New Haven & Hartford and Boston & Albany Railroads, central to all places of amusement, and to the shopping district. Electric cars to all parts of the city and suburbs pass the door.

Special attention paid to the cuisine.

Restaurant open till midnight.

JOHN A. SHERLOCK.

THE WALDO "ON THE HEIGHTS" 170 HICKS ST. NEAR PIERREPONT BROOKLYN

Newly Furnished and Heated by Steam. Excellent Table. Reasonable Rates. A Delightful Winter Home. WALDO SPRAGUE, Proprietor.

WHERE TO DINE.

TRAVELLERS' INFORMATION CO., 8 Park Place (apply to) 25 Union Sq.
A, A la carte; T, Table d'hote; D, Dinner; L, Lunch.

Pompeiian Room, Gilsey House, B'way & 29th New, Original, Unique.

Rector's 44TH ST. AND BROADWAY. Service A La Carte.

Dutch Grill & Palm Court, Hotel Navarre, 38th St. & 7th Av. Orchestra. Alc.

Cafe Boulevard, 2d Av. & 10th St. Tdh., Alc. Hungarian Orchestra.

Burn's World Renowned Rest. 45 St.& 6 Av. Terrapin, Game, Shellfish. Fine orchestra.

Dorlon's Oyster House, 6 & 7 East 23d St. Open for breakfast at 8 o'clock.

Hotel Metropole, 42d St., B'way. Rathskeller & Palm Garden. Alc. Music.

Dun Bld' Rest. & Café. Business Men's Dinner Alc Lunch. B'way & Reade St.

Maryland Kitchen Don't miss the Maryland Dinner, $1.25. 254 W. 34 St.

Jack's 43d St. & 6th Av., & 74th & Columbus. Noted for shell fish and game.

Wallace's Fifth Av. & 19

HOSPITALS BESIEGED BY THE CITY'S SICK

Armories May Have to be Used to Accommodate Overflow.

Weather Spreads Grip and Pulmonary Troubles Broadcast — 420 Policemen on the Sick List.

With an incessant fall of rain yesterday and no marked drop in the temperature, the conditions making for an epidemic of grip and bronchial troubles were increased. There is already abundant evidence at the Health Department and in the hospitals and dispensaries of how widespread is the sickness resultant from the unseasonable weather conditions. A further idea as to its extent is furnished by the records of the Police Department, which show that 420 members of the force were off duty yesterday on account of sickness. Of that number, less than one-half were ill on Saturday last. The total represents about 10 per cent. of the entire force of the city.

Dr. Tracy, the Registrar of the Board of Health, commenting on the prevalence of grip, said that the disease had taken a strong hold.

"It is particularly serious," he said, "in its connection with other diseases. Many deaths are reported of persons who have been suffering from various other complaints, where the patient would not have died except for the development of the grip. In many cases the records show that death was caused by pneumonia or bronchitis. A great number of these cases were originally influenza merely, but the later and fatal stages developed therefrom."

For the week ending Jan. 6, 1900, there were only eight deaths from the grip reported to the Health Department. The corresponding week this year shows a record of thirty-six deaths from grip in Manhattan and Brooklyn. During the month of January, 1900, twenty-eight persons died of the grip, or eight less than have died from the same cause in the first week of the present year. In the first five months of 1900 there were 8,441 deaths from influenza, bronchitis, and pneumonia, or an excess of 2,525 over the same period of 1899. Of that excess 121 are specifically attributed to influenza.

Dr. Tracy urges extreme carefulness, particularly with respect to colds, and suggests that heavy clothing should not be removed on account of the warmth.

"It is a good deal better to perspire than to run the risk of grip with complications," he said.

Patients suffering with grip, pneumonia, and pulmonary troubles have been brought to Bellevue Hospital in such numbers in the last few days that record-breaking congestion has resulted. On Thursday night seventeen had to sleep on the floor in the medical department and three in the surgical department. The City and Metropolitan Hospitals are also crowded to their full capacity. In the Bellevue Dispensary the doctors and druggists have been obliged to work steadily from 9 in the morning until 5 in the evening attending to the wants of those who have come suffering with coughs, colds, and kindred ailments. The records of the dispensary yesterday showed twenty-two cases that had been diagnosed as grip, pure and simple, and here were more than a hundred cases of bronchitis and colds.

The increase in this class of ailments treated at the dispensary since the beginning of the year is estimated as fully 10 per cent. over that of the same period last year.

Superintendent Blair of the Outdoor Poor Department said yesterday that, unless there is a marked change for the better, it may be necessary to use the armories for hospital purposes.

"All of the hospitals are crowded," he said, "and the applications for relief continue without a let-up. It will be necessary to make some provision for the sick poor. So far we have done all we could, but if there is a corresponding increase in applications to what we have had in the last few days, it will become an exceedingly serious matter."

The epidemic has spread to the Bronx, and Fordham Hospital is crowded with grip and pneumonia patients. Dr. Eugene Monahan, Sanitary Superintendent of the Bronx, said that physicians all over the district are working day and night to overcome the disease.

The effect of the grip is felt in the theatres, and many actors and managers are among the sufferers. A number have been incapacitated as a result of the epidemic, and, in the words of a well-known member of the profession yesterday, the grip is hard on those who are working.

"Every time I get to a nice point," he said, "and an effective speech, there's a chorus of coughs from all over the house, and my efforts go for nothing."

Of secondary importance is the weather's effect on business. The big shops were more or less deserted yesterday, and in the shopping sections at the hours when thousands of women are ordinarily to be seen the occasional swish of a wet skirt or a "rainy daisy" marked about all the life there was. In the shops the clerks stood about disconsolately. Cabs did a thriving business and street cars were crowded with passengers whose chief effort seemed to be to keep their wet umbrellas at a safe distance from their clothes.

Grip Patient Died in Ambulance.

While being removed to Harlem Hospital yesterday afternoon, Louis Metzger, a butcher of 629 East Forty-first Street, who had been ill with grip since Monday, died in the ambulance. Metzger's wife sent to the hospital for the ambulance and insisted on the removal, though Dr. Levy, the surgeon, advised against it, as the patient's condition was such that he would live only a few hours.

Commissioner Keller Has a Relapse.

Charities Commissioner John W. Keller, who is only recently convalescent from an attack of bronchitis, has had a relapse and is again confined to his rooms at the New Amsterdam Hotel. The Commissioner was forced to leave his office shortly after noon yesterday and return home. Last evening he said he felt much worse, and would be unable to be at his desk to-day.

Three Hundred Cases in Flushing.

About 300 cases of grip are reported in Flushing by the local physicians, who say the disease is epidemic. Thus far only one or two deaths have been reported, but in many cases the malady is complicated by pneumonia symptoms.

Mr. Woodruff Has the Grip.

ALBANY, Jan. 11.—Lieut. Gov. Woodruff is ill at the Hotel Ten Eyck in this city with the grip.

DEATH OF HENRY AMY.

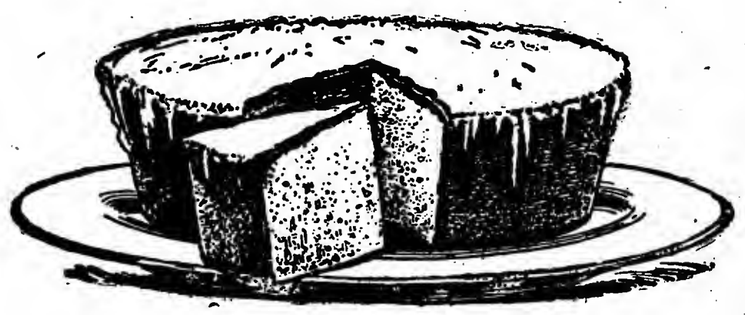
Henry Amy of the banking house of H. Amy & Co. died yesterday at his residence in this city after a lingering illness in the seventy-third year of his age. He was a native of Belgium and came to this country in 1850. He entered the employ of Meyer & Stucken, at that time one of the largest export houses in this city. In 1859 he established the firm of Amy & Heye, succeeding to the business of Meyer & Stucken, and in 1865 formed, in association with H. L. Hoppenstedt, the present banking firm of H. Amy & Co., his eldest son, Louis H. Amy, now head of the firm, becoming partner in 1889, and Mr. Hoppenstedt retiring in 1895.

Mr. Amy, in conjunction with the late L. H. Meyer, took an active part in the reorganization of many railroad companies. Among others, the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company and Chicago and Alton Railroad, and also in the organization of the Denver and Rio Grande Railway, Mexican National Railway, and others.

He was a Director of the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway and of the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank; also Treasurer as well as Director of the Orphan Asylum of St. Vincent de Paul. He was a member of the Lawyers' Club, Catholic Club, Chamber of Commerce, American Museum of Natural History, and American Geographical Society.

Two daughters and four sons survive him.

Besides being so effective with the worst colds, another good feature is that it is safe for the tenderest infant.—Jayne's Expectorant.—Adv.



ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap."

Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior?

Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

The "Royal Baker and Pastry Cook"—containing over 800 most practical and valuable cooking receipts—free to every patron. Send postal card with your full address.

Alum is used in some baking powders and in most of the so-called phosphate powders, because it is cheap, and makes a cheaper powder. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 WILLIAM ST., NEW YORK.

DUTY OF TRUST COMPANIES.

Court of Appeals Decision in the Case of William McClure Against the Central Trust Company.

By a recent decision of the Court of Appeals William McClure has succeeded in overcoming adverse decisions rendered against him in the Supreme Court in his suit against the Central Trust Company of New York, impleaded with others, to recover $7,500 paid by him in May, 1891, on a contract which he sought to rescind, mainly upon the ground that he was induced to make it through fraud and deceit practiced upon him by the defendants.

In 1889 H. H. Warner, who had successfully dealt in proprietary medicines in Rochester, N. Y., sold his business to the H. H. Warner Company, Limited, organized in England. A prospectus was issued by the banking firm of S. V. White & Co., stating, among other things, that they were authorized, but by whom did not appear, to offer the Warner Company's stock for subscription, consisting of 10,000 fully paid and non-assessable shares, represented by trust company certificates of the Central Trust Company, against which certificates a like number of preferred shares of the English company had been deposited, dividends payable at Central Trust Company, New York, and which, with a specified exception, comprised all stock held in this country for sale. It was also stated that trust company certificates had been issued to comply with the requirements of this market; that subscription lists would be opened by the bankers, the Central Trust Company, and the Bank of North America, from whom prospectuses and blank forms of application could be obtained, and that engraved trust company certificates issued by the Central Trust Company would be delivered as soon as practicable after the making of the final payment.

This prospectus was issued with the knowledge of the Central Trust Company, allowed to remain on its counters for distribution, and under which it received subscriptions for the stock. This, the Court of Appeals holds, in an opinion by Judge Vann, constituted the Central Trust Company a depository of the shares of stock of the Warner Company, and it impliedly agreed to deliver to Mr. McClure—who, relying upon the statements set forth in the prospectus, was induced to become a certificate holder—marketable stock free from lien, and an effective deed of transfer of such stock. It appeared that there was an express lien upon the shares and dividends, as collateral security for debts owing to the Warner Corporation, and all dividends were to be applied on such indebtedness; and that the shares were valueless because of such liens. It appeared also that the trust company knew, but Mr. McClure did not know, although he made no inquiry, that the shares were issued subject to these conditions.

The Court of Appeals holds that the fact that the trust company did not know at the time Mr. McClure subscribed for his stock, that there was any lien upon the shares, and did not discover it until long afterward, would not relieve it from liability because, under the circumstances, the law imputed to it the duty of inquiring whether there was anything behind the conditions appearing on the face of the papers in its possession which would make the shares unmarketable before it undertook to place them upon the market under the sanction of its name, and the confidence invited by its standing. It was chargeable with notice of the lien, since a proper inquiry at the proper place would have discovered its existence and would have protected the trust company from being imposed upon itself and from unintentionally imposing upon others. The trust company could not escape liability by claiming that it sold as agent, even if the party to whom it issued the certificates knew it was acting as agent for some one, but did not know whom, since it did not disclose the name of its principal.

Judge Gray gave a dissenting opinion, holding that Mr. McClure had failed to make out a case against the trust company, which did not sell the stock, either as its own or as agent for an undisclosed principal, but was merely an agency selected by Warner for the safe deposit and custody of the English stock, as to the character or value of which it made no representations.

LEGAL NOTE.

EFFECT OF RELEASE AND STIPULATION.—A contract made by Thomas Dwyer with the New York Board of Education, in 1892, for the erection of a school building at One Hundred and Sixty-seventh Street and Courtlandt Avenue, provided that any dispute as to the construction of the plans or drawings and specifications should be decided by the Superintendent of School Buildings, whose decision should be final, and that any other dispute might be arbitrated. Mr. Dwyer was to furnish for $199,700 all the material and work. A claim by him for $3,006.25 for extra work, having been submitted to and rejected by the Superintendent, the Board of Education agreed to examine it, upon Mr. Dwyer releasing all other claims in consideration of a present payment, and also stipulating that the particular claim should thereafter be determined, subject to the approval of the Board of Education and that of the city Board of Estimate and Apportionment. After the Board of Education had allowed the claim at a small percentage of its face, the Board of Apportionment returned it with a request for further information. Before the Board of Education had taksn any further action in the matter Mr. Dwyer sued that board for the whole claim. The Court on the trial, in February, 1897, directed a verdict for the defendant, and that decision was affirmed by the Appellate Division in March, 1898. The Court of Appeals has now ordered an affirmance of the judgment below, on the opinion by Justice O'Brien, in the Appellate Division, in which he held that the action could not be maintained, as Mr. Dwyer's release and stipulation precluded his recovery.

VISITED HOWARD IN HIS CELL.

Alleged Bigamist's Brother and Sister Were First Examined by the Grand Jury.

Miss Howard of Boston, a sister of George W. Howard, who is in Raymond Street Jail, Brooklyn, under indictment for alleged bigamy, and John Howard of Manhattan, brother of Howard, were taken before the Kings County Grand Jury yesterday by District Attorney Clarke. They were refused admission at the jail without the usual pass, and then went to the office of Sheriff Walton, in the Court House, to get a pass.

District Attorney Clarke learned of the presence of the Howards in the Court House, and had them taken before the Grand Jury to testify. They were then served with subpoenas to appear as witnesses in the trial of their brother, which has been set for Jan. 23, in the County Court. The nature of the testimony given by the Howards before the Grand Jury could not be learned. After leaving the Grand Jury room the Howards were provided with passes by the Sheriff, and they visited their brother in jail.

District Attorney Clarke declined to say what the nature of the testimony given by Howard's brother and sister was.

"If I wanted to supersede the present indictment, I have their testimony," he said with apparent significance. "Their testimony might relate to something other than bigamy."

THE ALLEGED INSURANCE PLOT

One of the Accused Men Makes Charges Against the Police—Another Threatens Suit for Damages.

William Necker and Thomas Kelly, two of the men indicted for conspiracy to defraud the Colonial Insurance Company of Jersey City, yesterday made statements denying the allegations of the company's officials. Undertaker Necker said that all he knew about Brennan, one of the men through whose death it was alleged the company had been swindled, was that he conducted Brennan's funeral.

"All the money I received," he continued, "was for his burial expenses. I never paid any premiums on his policy. Why I was dragged into the case I do not know. After it is all over I will see what can be done with the men who instigated it."

Kelly said that when he insured Brennan he was working on The Daily Dispatch, then published by John T. O'Brien, who now conducts The Saturday Post in Union Hill.

"The only man I insured who was ever at Bellevue," said he, "was Michael J. O'Brien, who lived then in Weehawken. One of the company's detectives was with me when I delivered the policy. When he died at Bellevue I made inquiries and found he had been there previously. I reported this fact to the company, and the policy was canceled. The beneficiary received just what had been paid for premiums, no more, and the company's agents thanked me for the course I had pursued.

"Now, I wish to say a word as to the treatment I received. As I was arrested in Union Hill on capias issued out of the Court of General Sessions I should have been taken at once to the County Jail. Instead, I was taken to Jersey City, where Chief Murphy and several detectives and others tried to get me to make admissions that could be used against Necker. I was told that Necker and Martin had money behind them, and would get out of it, and that I would go to jail for ten years. I refused, and then I was locked up without food or drink. Every hour or so some one would come and ask me a few more questions and go away. In the morning they told me that Necker and Martin had made a confession that would convict me, but that if I would make a confession I would be allowed to go free."

Chief Murphy denies Kelly's statements. He says that no unfair means were used to extract information from him.

"The officials of the Colonial Life Insurance Company did the questioning," he added, "and Kelly was duly warned that anything he might say would be used against him. All he said was that he had insured certain men as an agent of the company, and had nothing to do with passing upon their physical condition. That he considered a matter for the company's medical examiner to decide.

General Manager Heppenheimer said he had no fear of any guilt Necker or the other accused men might bring against him or the company for damages.

Dr. Richard Jahr refused to talk of the matter. He said he had given all the information he had on the subject to the company's agents. What he had told them he declined to say, as his statement had been placed in the hands of Prosecutor Erwin. Manager Heppenheimer also refused to make public Dr. Jahr's statement. He said he did not consider that Dr. Jahr had made himself criminally liable.

"He passed the risks to oblige friends. The trouble was that he wanted to be a 'good fellow,' that was all," said Mr. Heppenheimer.

DASHING CONFEDERATE DEAD.

Robert Maxwell Martin of Louisville, one of the dashing men of the Confederacy, died Wednesday night at Dr. Miller's sanitarium, in Fifty-ninth Street. He was one of Morgan's men, and was the author of the plot to abduct Vice President Johnson, when on his way to the inauguration. Martin, who had succeeded to the command of the Third Kentucky Cavalry, went to Louisville in disguise, and with John W. Headley, recently Secretary of State of Kentucky, formed the plot. Only an accidental change of plans prevented its success. Johnson passed through Louisville by boat instead of by stage, as he had arranged, and thus escaped the plotters.

One of Martin's most notable acvhievements was saving the life of Gen. Morgan in Tennessee. Martin settled in Louisville after the war and made a fortune, being a great speculator. He lost it, and several others which he later made, and died comparatively poor. Two months ago he came to New York, where he suffered a paralytic stroke. He was fifty-one years old.

BIG "MAD" DOG BLOCKS TRAFFIC

Turns Up Its Nose at Sausage, but Bites at Boy and Policeman, and Finally Is Shot.

A big, black mongrel dog, that was assumed to be "mad," blockaded the intersection of Monticello Avenue and Brinkerhoff Street, Jersey City, for an hour yesterday and compelled many pedestrians to go a block or two out of their way to get around the animal's domain. A butcher's boy, who was driving that way, tried to bribe the dog with a link of sausages, but whether for anti-cannibal reasons or because he was not hungry, the dog refused to bite at the lure and the horse turned around without waiting for the driver to draw the rein.

The dog showed no reluctance to bite at a boy, however, as John Kaiser found to his cost, though he managed to get away by leaving a part of his trouser leg in the dog's mouth. The animal then ran into Emanuel Britton's fish market, at 108 Monticello Avenue, and drove out a number of women and children who were waiting to be served. Mr. Britton knocked the dog over with a big fish mallet, but the animal regained its feet before he could repeat the blow and escaped to the street.

There he was met by Policeman Frank Lynch, who had been attracted by the commotion. Lynch struck at the dog with his club. The infuriated animal sprang at him and fastened its teeth on the club. The struggle lasted but a moment, as Lynch, loosening his hold on the stick, drew his revolver and fired two bullets into the dog's head. The dog fell into the gutter and was allowed to lie there.

Two hours later another policeman who was passing saw the dog's tail wag. He fired two more bullets into the animal's head. It is confidently believed that the dog is dead now, as it has not moved since.

STRIKERS WON NON-UNION MEN

Employers' Triumphal Parade of "Independent" Bakers Was Stampeded Into Camp of the Enemy.

The leaders of the striking Hebrew bakers executed a strategic move yesterday which upset all the employers' calculations and took 600 of the non-union men, who had been organized as the "Independent Bakers' Union" by the employers, from their ovens and the employers' "union" into the ranks of the strikers.

Friday is pay day with the east side bakers, and as a rule little work is done on that day. The employers conceived the plan yesterday, as a means of keeping their workmen together, of organizing a parade of the Independents, or the non-union bakers, as they are better known. It was put into instant execution in spite of the fact that the strikers were ordered to meet at Victoria Hall, 80 Clinton Street, from which they were to start for the parade early in the afternoon. Ten carriages and a band of music were provided and were waiting outside of the hall ready to head the march, while the 600 non-union men went inside to hold their meeting.

A great crowd gathered and filled the hall. With the crowd came Walking Delegate Bogatsky and President Lurie of the regular Hebrew Bakers' Union and Joseph Barondess, the leaders of the strike. The three applied for the privilege of the floor, and in spite of the opposition of the employers, many of whom attended the meeting, the privelege was granted. Bogatsky and Lurie told the bakers in Yiddish that they were downtrodden slaves. Then Barondess, also speaking in Yiddish, talked so feelingly of the sufferings of the union bakers that a generous applause greeted his remarks. The employers wrung their hands and asked for some one to stop him, but Barondess was allowed to go on.

He talked to such purpose that the 600 non-union men all yelled "Yah" when asked if they would join the strikers. They stampeded from the hall, cheering wildly, and were escorted triumphantly to 86 Attorney Street, the headquarters of the strikers.

DEATH IN A SALOON ROW.

Dominick Yacopetto, a Bystander, Is Shot Through the Breast.

In a row over the Italian game of "morro" one man was shot and instantly killed and another cut so badly about the face and neck that he will be disfigured for life at 126 Mulberry Street last night at 10 o'clock. The scene of the affray was in the back room of an Italian barroom. There were a half dozen men playing the game at one of the rear tables.

The police say that it came the turn of Raphael Yacopetto, twenty-two years old, of 113 Mulberry Street, to be "king" and pay for the drinks. He refused and pulled a razor from his pocket. He then made an attack on Giuseppi De Maci of 118 Mulberry Street and slashed him repeatedly. The blood almost blinded De Maci, but he pulled a revolver and began to shoot.

Seven or eight shots were fired by the wounded man De Maci, one of which took effect in the right breast of Dominick Vacopetto, a brother of the man who the police say provoked the fray. Dominick sank to the floor and died instantly. Dr. Johnson of Hudson Street Hospital was summoned, but his services were of no avail.

Policeman Reichert, who was on the post, hurried to the saloon and placed Giuseppi De Maci, who was almost unconscious from the loss of blood, under arrest. The man was sent to Hudson Street Hospital.

The doctors said it was one of the worst cases they have ever seen, and, though De Maci may pull through, his disfigurement will be awful.

Raphael Vacopetto, whose instigation of the affray, according to the police, caused the innocent death of his brother Dominick, fled from the saloon as soon as De Maci started to fire, and was not arrested, although the police say they will get him.

The body of Vacopetto lay where he fell in the darkened rear room, while relatives and friends sat near after the police had taken charge.

With us the priceman's axe falls upon the just and the unjust alike—upon the suit that is too popular, as well as upon the one that is not enough popular.

Every suit of a lot that is badly broken in sizes, or of a lot that is practically unbroken, has had "dollars" lopped off.

Some more, some less, but $15 buys any of them.

Young men's sizes, $13.

$18 and $25 for some that have been felled from the very tip-top.

ROGERS, PEET & COMPANY.

258 Broadway, cor. Warren, and 7 and 9 Warren St.
569 Broadway, cor. Prince.
1200 Broadway, cor. 32d, and 54 West 33d St.

We fill orders by mail.

FLINT'S FINE FURNITURE

REDUCED.

Handsome Drawing-Room Pieces.

A fascinating collection of decorative designs, some richly and durably gilded—others in skillfully carved mahogany, wrought with the delicacy of filagree ornaments.

Vernis Martin Divan, $14.00, (reduced from $18.00.) Overstuffed suite, 3 pcs., covered with damask, $70.00, (reduced from $90.00.) Louis XVI. gold suite, 3 pcs., in damask, $200.00, (reduced from $250.00.) Superb mahogany suite, 3 pcs., in damask and veiour, $280.00, (reduced from $363.00.)

You will be surprised at the style and quality a very little money will now procure if you promptly

"BUY OF THE MAKER"

GEO. C. FLINT CO.

43 43 AND 47 WEST 23RD ST
NEAR BROADWAY.
FACTORY: 154 AND 156 WEST 19TH STREET

USE BRUMMELL'S

CELEBRATED COUGH DROPS.

Positively relieve Coughs and Colds and all irritation of the throat. Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Amusements.

Proctor's — Continuous Performance. — 15, 25, 50c. Vaudeville.
23d St., 5th Ave., 58th St., 125th St. — The Finneys, John Kernell, Newsky Troupe, Al Leach and 3 Rossbuds, etc. FOUR COHANS, Papinta, Marcel's Living Statuary & Bas-Reliefs, etc. Mlle. Delbosq, J. W. Albaugh, Jr., & Co., Midgley & Carlisle, Grapewin & Chance, MARIE WAINWRIGHT, Staley & Birbeck, 3 Mascagnos, Johnnie Carroll.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN.
OPENS TO-NIGHT AT 8 P. M.
SIXTH NATIONAL EXHIBITION OF
CYCLES, MOTOR CYCLES
Automobiles and Accessories.
50c. ..... ADMISSION ..... 50c.

EDEN MUSEE — WORLD IN WAX. New Groups. CINEMATOGRAPH. Last Week of "HUMPTY DUMPTY"

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE — Matinées To-day and Wed. at 2. "BEST OF ALL GIRLS." Charles Frohman's Musical Comedy Co. with EDNA MAY. Evenings at 8 sharp. THE GIRL FROM UP THERE

MENDELSSOHN HALL, Tues. Evg., 9 o'clock, Joint recital by CARRIE BRIDEWELL and HEINRICH MEYN. Reserved seat: Schuberth's, No. 23 Union Sq.

CASINO — B'way & 39th St. Evs. 8:15. Mat. To-day. FLORODORA

ACADEMY OF MUSIC. 14th St. & Irving Pl. Quo Vadis — With Wilton Lackaye, Elita Proctor Otis, Aubrey Boucicault, Bijou Fernandez. Prices 25, 50, 75, 1.00. Mats. T'dy & Wed. 2. Ev.8.

THE NEW YORK, B'way, 45 St. — Ev. 8:15. Mats. To-day & Wed. New special vaudeville features Followed by Rosenfeld & Sloane's Successful review, The GIDDY THRONG

KNICKERBOCKER. —ADA— REHAN — Broadway & 38th St. Evs. at 8:25. Mat. T'dy, 2:20. "SWEET NELL OF OLD DRURY."

BROADWAY — Theatre. 41st St. & B'way. Evgs., 8:15. Mat. To-day, 2:15. JEFFERSON DE ANGELIS — In Klein & Francis's A ROYAL ROGUE.

HAMMERSTEIN'S 42d St., B'way & 7 Av. — VICTORIA DRESSLER — Matinée To-day. Prices, 50c, 75c, 1.00. and Comedians. MISS PRINNT. Opera Bouffe. — NOTHING BUT SUCCESS.

Theatre — REPUBLIC — 42d St., 1t west of B'way. Evs., 8:15. Mats. Wed. & T'dy, 2:15. VIOLA ALLEN "In the Palace of the King."

WALLACK'S — Evcs. at 8:30. Matinées Wednesday & To-day, 2:15. MARY MANNERING — IN — JANICE MEREDITH

TOOK FAMILY JAR TO COURT.

G. M. Dowd, Son of Once Prominent New Yorker, Accused by His Wife.

George M. Dowd, a son of the late William Dowd, who was President of the Bank of North America, and who was a candidate for election as Mayor of New York fifteen years ago on the Republican ticket, was arraigned in the Harlem Police Court yesterday morning, charged by his wife, Lillian W. Dowd, with abandonment. Dowd, who gave his address as the New Amsterdam Hotel, was handsomely attired. He was arrested on Thursday evening at Forty-eighth Street and Sixth Avenue, on a warrant. Mrs. Dowd appeared in court yesterday, fashionably dressed and accompanied by a colored maid. She said her residence was 439 Manhattan Avenue, and told the Magistrate that she married her husband, who was a broker, fourteen months ago.

"He has left me several times since our marriage," said the complainant, "and he drinks." Mrs. Dowd said that on Monday night, when her husband returned home, he became angry about something and drove her out of the flat at 439 Manhattan Avenue. She was compelled to take refuge in a vacant apartment in the house, she said. Then, according to his wife's story, he broke everything he could and went out.

Magistrate Meade, who knew the elder Dowd, tried to smooth over the quarrel between husband and wife, but was unsuccessful, and adjourned the case to Wednesday next in order to give the couple a chance to come to an agreement. He paroled Dowd until that time.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Suit Dep't.

ENTIRE STOCK OF SEPARATE SKIRTS.

Cheviots, Broadcloth, Homespun, applied Net and Silk.
Tailor made or handsomely trimmed models.
$5.50 to $62.50 each;
former prices $10.00 to $80.00.

Lace Dep't.

LINEN "TURNOVER" COLLARS, Hemstitched or embroidered, 25 cents to 70 cents.

STOCKS and TIES,—made of soft weave, fancy Silks,—with bow and long ends, 50, 75 and 95 cents;
Formerly 95 cents to $2.50.

Infants' Outfitting Dep't.

At one-half former prices.

MISSES' SILK SKIRTS, . . . $2.45.
CHILDREN'S APRONS, . . 25c. and 75c.
GUIMPES, ... 45c. and 75c.
WHITE DRESSES, . . . 45c. to $1.25.
BOYS' KILT SUITS, . . . $1.25 to $3.45.

BROADWAY AND 11TH ST.
JAMES McCREERY & CO.

Our cut in prices attracts the late season buyer who gets great value for little money.

Here's his harvest:
For $15, are $30, $28, $25 & $22 Overcoats.
For $15, are $28, $25, $22 & $20 Suits.
For $5, are $7 & $6 Trousers (fancy worsteds).
The Children's Chance:
For $3.50, are $6 & $5.50 Suits.
Also great markdowns in Boys' & Children's Overcoats.

Hackett, Carhart & Co.
3 BROADWAY Stores: Cor. 13th St. Cor. Canal St. Near Chambers St.
Stores Open This Evening.

Amusements.

EMPIRE THEATRE. B'way & 40th St. Evgs., 8:20. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES TO-DAY AND WEDNESDAY. Empire Theatre Company in MRS. DANE'S DEFENCE.

MADISON SQ. THEATRE, 24th St., nr. B'way. "A distinct success."—Telegram. Mats. To-day & Wednesday. To-night, 8:20. HERBERT KELCEY, EFFIE SHANNON — MY LADY DAINTY

CHARLES FROHMAN'S JOHN HARE — CRITERION THEATRE B'way & 44th St. Last Matinée To-day & Wednesday. THE GAY LORD QUEX. Monday, Next—Julia Marlowe. "When Knighthood Was in Flower."

GARRICK THEATRE. 35th St. & B'way. Ev'gs at 8:15. Matinées, 2:15. MATINEES TO-DAY AND WEDNESDAY. WM. H. CRANE as DAVID HARUM

GARDEN THEATRE. 27th St. & Mad. Av. Mr. E. S. Matinée To-day—DAVID GARRICK. Willard Evgs. this & next week. TOM PINCH. Mats. NEXT WEEK—The Professor's Love Story

DALY'S — B'way & 30th, at 8:15. Dan'l Frohman, Mgr. Mats. Wed. & Sat. "A credit to Daly's."—Press. "So good a play aure to last."—Times. Lady Huntworth's Experiment. By R. C. Carton, Author Lord & Lady Algy. First DAMROSCH-WAGNER LECTURE JAN. 18

LYCEUM — 4th Av. & 23d. At 8:30. Daniel Frohman....Manager. Matinées Thurs. & Sat., 2:15. ANNIE RUSSELL in A ROYAL FAMILY. A ROYAL FAMILY. Jan. 15, Sam Franko's LAST CONCERT, 3:30. American Symphony Orchestra

MAUD POWELL WILL PLAY BEETHOVEN'S Violin Concerto (Allegro movement,) and RIMSKY-KORSAKOFF'S Fantasy for violin on RUSSIAN THEMES, at the PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY'S Concert THIS EVENING at 8:15, Carnegie Hall, 7th Av. and 57th St.

THE DEWEY, E. 14th St. To-morrow — MATINEE TO-DAY. VICTORIA BURLESQUERS. NEW LIVING PICTURES. Night—Grand Concert, 25c., 50c.

MANHATTAN THEATRE. 33d & B'way. Evg., 8:15. Mats. Wed. & To-day. THE BURGOMASTER.

KOSTER & BIAL'S W. 34 Strt. — Grand 25c. Mat. Daily, Evg., Orc. 50c. Big Mat. & Evg. Sunday Concerts. Milton & Dollie Nobles. Blockson & Burns. 15 others.

CHILDREN'S THEATRE. CARNEGIE LYCEUM. 57th St. and 7th Av. EVERY AFTERNOON AT 3:30 O'CLOCK.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL. Evgs. 8:15. Sharp. Mats. Tues., Sat., 2. FIDDLE-DEE-DEE — and Burlesques of Gay Lord Quex and A Royal Family.

KEITH'S — KATHERINE BLOODGOOD, TSCHERNOFF'S DOGS, JAMES THORNTON, FIELDS & WARD. GRANT & NORTON.

14th Street Theatre, nr. 6th Av. Mats. Wed. & Sat. MR. CHAUNCEY OLCOTT — In His New Play, GARRETT (all new songs) O'MAGH

BIJOU. B'way, 30th St., To-day, 2:15; To-night, 8:20. LAST TWO TIMES — MAY IRWIN. MADGE SMITH. Tues., Jan. 15—Amelia Bingham Co., The Climbers.

MURRAY HILL THEATRE, 42d St. & Lex. Av. Matinee Every Day, 25c. This Week—ARISTOCRACY.

IRVING PLACE THEATRE. Matinée To-day & Eve. The Roaring Farce, "DIE STRENGEN HERREN. Mond. Evg., Uriel Acosta.

GRAND Opera House. — Matinee To-day. MANN — LIPMAN — Next w'k, Ward & Vokes.

Harlem Op. House — Peter F. Dailey in Hodge, Podge & Co. Mat. To-day. Nxt wk, Mr. JOHN HARE, "The Gay Lord Quex."

AMERICAN 42D ST. & 8TH AV. Evgs. 8:15. 25c. 35c. 50c. Mat. Daily (except Monday) 25c. QUO VADIS.

Amusements.

CARNEGIE HALL
Thurs. Evg., Jan. 17, at 8:15.
Programme:
SCHUMANN, Overture, Scherzo and Finale, op. 52; HAYDN, Concerto for Violoncello, in D; RICHARD STRAUSS, Symphonic Fantasie, "In Italy," op. 16. Soloist.
Boston Symphony Orchestra — Mr. Hugo Becker
Sat. Aft., Jan. 19, at 2:30.
Programme:
TSCHAIKOWSKY, Symphony No. 5, in E minor, op. 64; CESAR FRANCK, Symphonic Variations for Piano and Orchestra; LISZT, Symphonic Poem, No. 3, "The Preludes." Soloist,
Mr. Gericke, Conductor. — Mr. Courtlandt Palmer
Tickets, $1.50 to 75c. On sale at box office and Tyson's (5th Av. Hotel) at regular prices.

CARNEGIE HALL.
PHILHARMONIC SOCIETY of New York.
EMIL PAUR.....Conductor
SATURDAY, January 12, at 8:15 P. M.
Program:
"A Faust Overture".....Wagner
Concerto for Violin (first movement)...Beethoven
MISS MAUD POWELL.
First appearance in New York this season.
Symphony, No. 3, F major.....Brahms
Fantasie de Concert, B minor (new).....Rimsky-Korsakoff
MISS MAUD POWELL.
Overture, "Le Carnaval Romain".....Berlioz
Tickets now on sale at Carnegie Hall, Tyson's, and Rullman's. Seats, 75c. to $2; boxes, $12 and $15. Admission, $1.
AUG. ROEBBELEN, Secretary.

FOSELLI
The Eminent Young Italian Pianist.
CARNEGIE HALL.
Tuesday Afternoon, January 15
Tickets now on sale at Schuberth's.
THE KNABE USED

SYMPHONY CONCERT
FOR YOUNG PEOPLE
FRANK DAMROSCH.....Director
This (Sat'day) Aft. at 2:30, Carnegie Hall.
Prelude to "Hansel and Gretel," Humperdinck; "Siegfried" Idyl, Wagner; "Nutcracker" Suite, Tschaikowsky.
MISS KATHERINE HEYMEN....Soloist
Tickets at office of Society, 388 5th Ave. (36th Street,) and after 1 o'clock at box office, Carnegie Hall.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Saturday Afternoon, January 12th, at 3.
FOURTH PIANO RECITAL.
GABRILOWITSCH
Tickets $1.00 and $1.50. On sale at Schuberth's. EVERETT PIANO USED.

MENDELSSOHN HALL.
Tuesday afternoon, January 15, at 3,
David Bispham's
SONG RECITAL, assisted by
Hermann Hans Wetzler.
Reserved seats, $1.50, at Schuberth's, 23 Union Sq.

The New York Times.

SATURDAY REVIEW OF BOOKS AND ART.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE NEW YORK TIMES.

Copyright, 1901.
THE NEW YORK TIMES COMPANY.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1901. SIXTEEN PAGES.

CONTENTS.

Some of the Newest Books. Page.
Eggleston's "The Transit of Civilization"..... 17
Addison's "The Clergy in American Life and Letters"..... 18
Walford's "One of Ourselves..... 18
Miss Shinn's "Biography of a Baby"..... 18
Winston Spencer Churchill's "Ian Hamilton's March"..... 19
Mathews's "Annals of Mont Blanc"..... 19
Wilson's "Rambles in Colonial Byways"..... 20
Bullen's "With Christ at Sea"..... 20
"Numbers and Losses in the Civil War"..... 20
Miss Whiting's "The Spiritual Significance"... 20
"The History of Minnesota"..... 21
Hackett's "The Gavel and the Mace"..... 21
Morse's "The Road to Nowhere"..... 21
Robinson's "A Reporter at Moody's"..... 26

American Books.
Why Booms in Particular Books Are Possible—Women, Not Men, the Ones Who Read Them.. 31

Omar Once More.
A New Edition with Commentary and Bibliographical Introduction..... 23

Free Lectures.
Midwinter Courses in This City—A Course Just Established in Brooklyn..... 27

Andre's Captors.
Judge Dykman Refutes New Statments Made in a History of Westchester County..... 22

Two Coming Sales.
Mr. Arnold's First Editions of American Authors—The Second Part of the McKee Library—Browning's First Book Brings £120..... 26

Columbia University..... 24
The Landscape Architects..... 24
Slang and Vocabulary..... 24
Keep Everlastingly at It..... 24
Charlotte Bronte and Her Publishers..... 24
George Eliot Not Neglected in Arizona..... 25
Col. William L. Stone and McDonald Clarke..... 26
An Important Catalogue of Japanese Pottery..... 29
Books and Authors..... 28
Decorations of the John Rylands Library..... 29
Topics of the Week..... 17
Books That Are Books..... 30
Notes and News..... 28
Queries and Answers..... 30
Books Received..... 30

The New York Times
Saturday Review.
$1 Per Year.

Topics of the Week.

Mr. Hall Caine's forthcoming novel about Rome, which has been awaited with eager anticipation by some and with no little apprehension by others, will make its first appearance in this country as a serial in Collier's Weekly, beginning early in February. "The Eternal City" is said to be written with a finer sympathy, for the past at least, than was displayed in Zola's "Rome," although the never-ending struggle between the Vatican and the Quirinal is thoroughly thrashed out from a somewhat cosmopolitan point of view. With the death of the present Pontiff, Hall Caine looks for a more liberal, more rational Church. This he regards as inevitable, the result principally of what is termed on the Continent as "American Catholicism."

At length it has come. Although somewhat vaguely expressed, its meaning is unmistakable. We are to have some posthumous papers of the redoubtable Sherlock Holmes. Here is the nail upon which much delightful anticipation may be hung: Dr. Conan Doyle, in presenting some interesting particulars concerning his prodigy of induction in the current Tit-Bits, deliberately states: "That does not say, however, that because he [Holmes] is dead I should not write about him again if I wanted to." Years have passed since Holmes perished in the Alps, and, although his body was never recovered, we are quite sure that Dr. Doyle, after all this time, would never commit the histrionic blunder of having the death turn out to be a hoax. The idea that the detective's lifelong friend and confidant, Dr. Watson, may be on the point of discovering in some old chest an autobiography, or, at least, some hitherto unpublished chronicles, is certainly pleasant to contemplate.

McClure, Phillips & Co. have secured the American rights of Mr. Poultney Bigelow's "Colonization and Its Problems," which they will issue in the coming Spring. Undoubtedly the time is most encouraging for just such a book written by just such a man. Mr. Bigelow has traveled much and has a keen sense in observation. His point of view is usually based upon such good judgment that very often his impressions have the weight of mature opinions from more deliberate writers. In the forthcoming book, although historical, political, and diplomatic aspects will not be ignored, the colonial systems of the great powers will be mainly discussed from what the author has acquired from personal travel and observation in the colonies themselves and not through interviews with various colonial Secretaries or their representatives.

The American negro problem, through the whole gamut of its various phases, is likely to receive new impetus through a book by William Hannibal Thomas, which the Macmillan Company is to publish early in February, under the title of "The American Negro." The author served in the civil war, and later was one of the legislators of South Carolina during the reconstruction period. Although what he has written is likely to be condemned by many men of his own race, on the other hand he proves to the satisfaction of most candid minds that the white man's scheme for the regeneration of the negro contains several grave faults. While he cannot be accused of lacking sympathy for his race, he presents his subject without an atom of the sentimentality which has so often proved a blemish in many books otherwise most excellent.

The fact that The Living Age has just entered upon its fifty-eighth year deserves special mention. This weekly periodical was first published in Boston in 1844 by Mr. Littell. For nearly half a century, when the serious contents of the famous British reviews were almost inaccessible to the American general public, The Living Age, by its reprints, gave the most distinctive examples of what was important in ephemeral thought abroad—in literature, science, and art. With the passage of the International Copyright act, the periodical broadened its scope so as to include translations of the more important articles on timely subjects that were appearing in the French, German, Spanish, and Italian magazines. The Living Age continues to fulfill a mission to the intelligent man of limited means. To the intelligent man of larger means, who has no acquaintance with foreign languages, or who lacks the time for selection, it should be of great benefit.

A new and sprightly novel from the pen of J. Storer Clouston, author of "The Lunatic at Large," will shortly be published by Longmans, Green & Co., under the title of "The Duke." It recounts the escapades of an adventurous Irishman, who assumes the role of a Duke and plays it, too, with much variety and humor.

Following the publication of the three volumes, "Historic Towns of New England," "Of the Middle States," and "Of the Southern States," G. P. Putnam's Sons have now in active preparation a fourth volume in the series which will be entitled "Historic Towns of the Western States." An interesting comparison is sure to be presented by the chronicles of the old Spanish-founded towns of California, with the brisk story of Chicago's development. All the authors for the work have not yet been selected; so far, however, the list includes Edwin Markham and the Rev. Cyrus Townsend Brady.

The first volume to appear in the Appletons' Great People's Series, edited by Dr. York Powell, will be "The Spanish People," by Martin A. S. Hume, early in February. The author points out that the Spanish peninsula was the battleground upon which the great conflict which created the formative influences of modern civilization was fought. The evolution of Spain into a world power and its later decline are illustrated by a fearless description of the underlying forces of Spanish life.

As we have recently indicated, American literature for the first year of the new century will be particularly rich in history and biography. The same is probably true in regard to England. We learn that "The General History of Modern Times," first announced two years ago, is expected shortly from the Cambridge University Press, under the editorship of Lord Acton. The work will be in eight volumes, and many of the foremost scholars of the day have contributed to it. Then, too, there are expected Mr. Morley's "Life of Gladstone" and Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice's "Life of Lord Granville," and later on, what is doubtless more important than either, popularly or academically, is Lord Rowton's "Disraeli." In the last the element of revealed mystery, which is entirely absent from such careers as Gladstone's or Granville's, is likely to have much interest. Whatever his view may be, the author is sure to inspire plenty of adverse and vehement criticism.

Dodd, Mead & Co. are publishing Mark Rutherford's latest work under the title of "Pages from a Journal." The volume is described by the author as "essays, notes, and tales from a journal of the last thirty years." The contents comprise such subjects as "A Visit to Carlyle," "June," "The Break of a Great Drought," "Spinoza," &c. Mark Rutherford may be described as a sort of British Eliot Gregory of sustained, longer and more direct flights.

SOME OF THE NEWEST BOOKS.

Interesting Volumes of History, Travel, Verse and Fiction.

EDWARD EGGLESTON'S TRANSIT OF CIVILIZATION.*

Directly in line with "The Beginners of a Nation," which came from Dr. Eggleston's pen some time ago, and which was a history of the source and rise of the earliest English settlement in America, is his latest publication, "The Transit of Civilization from England to America in the Seventeenth Century." And it bears the same evidence of a master hand as did the earlier work—fine scholarship, firm grasp of the subject, and a most vigorous and attractive style. "The Beginners of a Nation" was concerned more particularly with the life and character of the people; the later book defines their mental calibre, the degree of cultivation which they brought with them across the sea, and the intellectual advance which they accomplished during the first century of Colonial life. The volume manifestly represents a vast amount of research and contains a vast amount of sifted and classified information which must, in future years, be of high value to students and writers dealing with that period in American history.

In his preface the author hints at the difficulties which he encountered from the entire lack of any American records of the period covered, the inadequacy of such English authorities as exist, and the irritating unanimity with which all authorities omit any mention of the century's civilization. To understand the America of the seventeenth century, Dr. Eggleston says, one must study the England of the same date; yet England cannot be thoroughly comprehended without understanding the Continent, and so backward into antiquity. No matter how small a corner of the world the historian would explore, he finds that all human experience has had an influence upon its conditions, and the wider is his knowledge of the world the better he can know his one little corner of it.

The extremely narrow outlook of the seventeenth century man and the environment from which he came must be taken into consideration before his life and thoughts can be interpreted, and familiar as most Americans think themselves with the history of their own continent, it is certain that many who read Dr. Eggleston's book will be shocked to find how densely dark was the ignorance and superstition that brooded over the earliest settlers along the Atlantic Coast. The author warns "people with ancestors" that they will be disappointed, since in the Virginia, the New York, the New England of that day he finds not a hint of future greatness, nor does he grant that the civilization that later appeared in those regions was in any sense a development of the conditions existing in the original colonies. Seventeenth century literature and seventeenth century learning, in America, had no permanent value and have disappeared into oblivion.

The mental outfit of the American of the seventeenth century, Dr. Eggleston first impresses on his reader, was not at all that of the best educated classes which the colonist left behind him in England or the Continent. Whatever intellectual furniture the colonists carried across the sea was of English make, but of Jonson, Milton, Shakespeare, Bacon, and all the other brilliant lights that then illuminated the mother country they knew little if anything. The only popular science of the time was astronomy, and that was a jumble of errors. The Copernican system was barely beginning to displace the old Ptolemaic theory of the universe, Kepler was working in poverty and obscurity on the three principles that are the foundations of modern astronomy, and it was some time after the settlement of Virginia and New England that Galileo was imprisoned for demonstrating the earth's motion. Even the end of the century found the most of the colonists believing that the earth was the centre of the universe, and that the sole purpose of the heavenly bodies was to illuminate their little sphere. The main use made of astronomy was the casting of horoscopes and the arranging of affairs according to the phases of the moon and the signs of the zodiac, while eclipses and comets were still considered portentous of danger.

The spontaneous generation of insects and animals from putrefying matter was universally believed in, and the migratory birds were supposed to hide for the Winter in river bottoms, caves, rocks, and hollow trees. Cotton Mather even went so far once as to write to the Royal Society that the prodigious flights of pigeons in the colonies rendered probable the existence of an unseen, near-at-hand satellite, from which came these myriads of birds and to which they were wont to retreat again. It was not until the middle of the eighteenth century that the annual migration of birds was understood from observation. Logic, not observation, was the teacher of the seventeenth century.

"Paradise Lost," Dr. Eggleston shows, was an imaginative rendering of the picturesque mythology of the seventeenth century in England. The colonists, living in so different a world, came to believe more in the interest taken by evil spirits in their affairs than in that of the good angels of the poets, and this view was heightened and strengthened by their theological tendency. Witch excitements appeared sooner or later in every colony, though it remained for Salem to carry her belief in diabolism to such an extent as to produce a wholesome revulsion of feeling. The horrible zeal in witchcraft of the clergy and others supposedly well informed, Dr. Eggleston explains by the fact that such men were not the original colonists, with the education of England, but a second generation, with no other training than the scanty one afforded by New England. The grotesque beliefs of even the most prominent citizens of those days in Massachusetts, as the author enumerates them, seem almost incredible, and yet we know that they are true.

*THE TRANSIT OF CIVILIZATION FROM ENGLAND TO AMERICA IN THE SEVENTEENTH CENTURY. By Edward Eggleston. New York: D. Appleton & Co. Price, $2.50.

The medical notions described by the author as belonging to the seventeenth century colonists are something so marvelously erroneous that one wonders only how enough of the inhabitants survived to continue the next era. Harvey's great discovery of the circulation of the blood came in 1616, but it was hardly heard of in America, and, as late as 1699, the fact was still questioned at Harvard. The properties of many simples were known to seventeenth century physicians, but the favorite remedy of the time was blood-letting. Signaturism, which was the belief that God had placed a "signature" on each substance to indicate the disease it would cure, pervaded the colonies, and panaceas were numerous and generally concocted from the most absurd and disgusting materials. "Many remedies," writes Dr. Eggleston, "were in use in the early Colonial practice and in Europe that seem to have had nothing to recommend them except an unconfessed notion that disgust was curative, and the belief that nothing was made in vain."

The English tongue was the one thing which vastly improved by transit to the western side of the Atlantic. Elizabethan English was a splendid language compared with the speech that preceded it, but the new demand made upon it to represent the myriad strange objects and actions and experiences of the New World was, writes the author, one of the most efficient forces for developing modern English. The author points out again, too, that many of the quaint tones and words still existing in our speech, and contemptuously referred to by Englishmen of to-day as Americanisms, were directly imported from England in early times, and were destined to survive here long after they disappeared from view in England. For example, the twang long associated with the Yankee pronunciation of such words as are represented by the spelling "heouse," "keow," "Teown" is directly traceable to London small shopkeepers. "There is nuthing in English dialect more evidently ancient," writes Dr. Eggleston, "for it was a trait of the archaic patois of a portion of County Wexford, in Ireland, which was settled by a colony of English people who crossed St. George's Channel in the Middle Ages under Strongbow, full two hundred years before Chaucer's 'Canterbury Tales' were written."

Most of our proverbial sayings and epigrams were in constant use by the early colonists, as were those quaint beliefs called folk-lore, which are handed down from one generation to another. Books existed in the colonies, but were mostly of a religious character, and they were all brought from England. Certain books were furnished along with arms and provisions to each settlement, and the original list, which has been preserved, includes "2 books of the practice of piety, 3 books of the playne man's pathway," and "halfe a reme of paper." But the author states "that nothing that can properly be called American literature was produced in the early seventeenth century—nothing worthy of the name in its later time." The environment excited men to stupendous bodily activity, and sharpened their minds, but it was not conducive to artistic creation. One might suppose that the very beauties of nature in the New World would have inspired the early settlers to descriptions of its charms, but Dr. Eggleston reminds us that there was no appreciation of nature in the seventeenth century, and declares that an accomplished English traveler in 1621 described the "hideous Alps," which he had crossed, "as uncouth, huge, monstrous excrescences of nature."

The tradition and habit of education Dr. Eggleston traces back nearly fifteen hundred years without a break to the monastic schools of the early Christian centuries. The American district school, he says, has been evolved from the monastery school, through the cathedral school, the semi-monastic free school, the local priest's school, and the parish school. Little except Latin, with now and then writing, was taught in what were called the grammar schools of the seventeenth century, since the aim and object of the education of the day were to raise up ministers, and, for the same reason, New England was far more zealous in the establishment of schools than the regions further south. In 1642 Massachusetts ordained that every child should be taught enough "to read and understand the principles of religion and the capitall lawes of the country," and the preamble of the Massachusetts school law of 1647 makes it the motive of the act to thwart "the ould deluder Satan" by keeping the Scriptures accessible in the original tongues, that "the true Sence and meaning might not be clouded by false glosses of saint-seeming deceivers."

"By this curious law of 1647," writes the author, "the Puritan Government of New England rendered probably its greatest service to the future. The act was not modern in aim, and for a long time it was inefficient, but from that quaint act there has been slowly evolved the school system that now obtains in the United States." The colonists had begun to be alarmed at the rising tide of ignorance among their children, and, to quote their own words, this law was adopted, "that learning may not be buried in the grave of our fathers in the Church and Commonwealth."

The law had come into such disrepute in England from its endless technicalities that, according to Dr. Eggleston, lawyers were forbidden in Colonial courts and the early laws of this country were accordingly simple and direct. The conveyance of land until late in the century was easy, the old custom called "livery of seizin" being in vogue in Virginia in 1748.

The communal holding of land, the oldest known to the English world, was widespread in New England, and even further south, but the New England town differed from the English community in that it became the political unit. In the South, however, where plantations or grants of land extended over wide areas and the planters were separated from one another, a different system, more like the manorial plan of feudal times, grew up, and the parish vestry took the place of the New England township. The custom of primogeniture was followed in New York and the Southern colonies, but in Pennsylvania and New England an estate was divided equally among the sons, in case there was no will, and even the daughters were sometimes included.

From the earliest times England made a practice of ridding herself of her poor and criminal classes by sending them to America as apprenticed servants, and these were a continual source of trouble and evil in the colonies. Blunted in their sensibilities by long familiarity with this kind of servitude, the colonists saw nothing repugnant in the worse enslavement of the blacks. Some little compunction for the negroes and a languid effort to convert them to Christianity appeared now and then before the century closed, but nothing resulted then nor for more than a century afterward.

The reader, as he comes to the end of Dr. Eggleston's interesting and instructive exposition of seventeenth century civilization, agrees with him that but little progress had been made, hardly more than a getting "good and ready" for the real advance of the following age. It is to be hoped that the subsequent phases of American history will find an expounder as good, if not the same. Dr. Eggleston has already made his mark as a novelist, and he bids fair now to add to that fame as a notable historian.

Literary Clergymen in America.*

Mr. Addison's book is the third volume making its appearance in the series of "National Studies in American Letters," edited by Prof. George Edward Woodberry of Columbia University. That Prof. Woodberry's construction of the general subject is not strict is shown plainly by the character of the two delightful numbers which have preceded this, Col. Higginson's "Old Cambridge" and Mr. Lindsay Swift's "Brook Farm." Mr. Addison is favorably known as the author of an excellent life of Lucy Larcom which has the accent of a warm personal friendship. In the present case he would seem to have taken license from the minimum of literature and the maximum of life in Mr. Swift's "Brook Farm" to emphasize the influence of the clergy upon American life and let this crowd their part in letters to the wall. It is conceivable that he may plead that they have done much more in life than in letters. This is true, no doubt. It is also true that what they have done in letters is enough to have filled or overfilled a book of this size with its interesting and instructive story, and if Mr. Addison had undertaken his work with this persuasion it would, I cannot but think, have justified its place in Mr. Woodberry's series as it does not now. For one thing, in that case, we should have had more of the Colonial clergy, and a chapter devoted to Jonathan Edwards might have disputed the right of way with Timothy Dwight or Horace Bushnell or Theodore Parker.

The arrangement of Mr. Addison's matter is suggested by this comment. Of its ten chapters the first four are of a general character, and the last six deal specifically with the three just named, and, with these, Dr. Channing, Henry Ward Beecher, and Phillips Brooks. The first of the introductory chapters is devoted, as its title indicates, to "The Clergy in American Life." The activity of the clergy in American colonial politics is recognized with due admiration. Their fidelity in the anti-slavery conflict was seen otherwise by some of the more godlike who were engaged in it. Of course, the introduction of the voluntary system of ministerial support made courage a more difficult virtue than it was under the more prehensile organization. Reasons are given why more of the clergy were not abolitionists which will be saltrely satisfactory to some of Mr. Addison's readers; not at all so to others. It would have been possible to name clerical abolitionists of the most saintly and heroic character, and not a few. In the matter of temperance the preaching was better than the practice. The innkeeper's bill, after an ordination, showed a less inclination to "the same spirit" than to a diversity of drinks. Writing of dueling Mr. Addison describes with modest praise "Parson Addison" of Georgetown, D. C., who subordinated his Sunday office to the necessity of running down any duel which was on the cards. We should all have been glad to know the exact degree of Mr. Addison's relationship with this excellent namesake. It is a meagre list of clerical college Presidents that includes no Harvard name, when Walker, Sparks, and Everett were within easy reach. And among the clerical historians, why not Sparks, with some of these who were far less important, and also Higginson—unless the living are excluded from this Pantheon. These, like Emerson and many others, left the ministry for other fields, but so did many who are named. It is too generally assumed that Emerson's connection with the ministry ended in 1832 when he resigned his Boston pastorate. He was still a recognized clergyman when he gave the great "Divinity School Address" in 1838, and later still. Mr. Addison could not have done better than to devote a chapter to the men who took a ministerial course by way of unconscious preparation for a literary career.

The "Poetry and Romance" chapter might have been much enriched by following up examples of this kind. Still would have made a full and luminous page. The absence of Dr. Hale must mean that the "dead line" has been drawn. But this does not explain the absence of Bellows and Storrs from the list of social forces. Dr. Storrs appears only as paying Beecher a compliment, and then with the wrong initial for his middle name. Robert T. T. Lowell has just and ample recognition. For those who do not dread the didactic in poetry overmuch, here is one of his stanzas that is at once sonorous and impressive:

There comes in life a frequent hour,
When the full voice of Fate
Calls with a dread, mysterious power
On those who should be great;
To warn them that a mighty dower
Somewhere for them doth wait.

Treating of our American hymn writers, Mr. Addison seems to me to do less than justice to that element in them which transcends sectarian divisions. Is it not also true that they have had more appreciation in England than here at home? One of them, Samuel Johnson, was so intimately associated with Samuel Longfellow that it must have cost Mr. Addison an effort to mention the one and omit the other. Mr. Johnson's hymn, "Father, in Thy mysterious presence kneeling," challenges comparison with Newman's "Lead, Kindly Light, amid the encircling gloom," which, by the way, Longfellow and Johnson first introduced to the American public in their "Book of Hymns" (which Theodore Parker called the "Sam Book") fifteen years after it was written, without being aware of its authorship.

Passing over the valuable chapter "Denominational Literature," which is much more denominational than literary, we come to Mr. Addison's six chapters on Timothy Dwight and others. Coming to closer quarters in these than in his chapters of generalization, he is much more interesting, as we should expect him to be. Timothy Dwight entirely justifies the liberal attention he receives. It is no discredit to his generation that his "Greenfield Hill" was popular with it. It probably reflects the New England of its day as accurately as Whittier's "Snow Bound." But Dwight's Travels in New England and New York," the least literary of his works in its intention, is the most serviceable memoir proceeding from his tireless hand. The chapters on Channing and Parker could not be more sympathetic if Mr. Addison were of their household of faith. The pellucid clarity of Channing's style has less than justice done it, especially as compared with the New England pulpit style to which he succeeded. The suggestion that he is now but little read is without warrant of the facts. We read of Parker that "he was asked to withdraw from the Boston Ministerial Association." Never by the association as such. The date of his first preaching in Music Hall should be Nov. 21, 1852, not March 21. That "after a time theology became only incidental" to his preaching is a statement with little or no warrant. Nor is it a just distinction that his later poems were more religious than the earlier. The opposite opinion would be quite as true. Naturally, the excellent sketch of Bushnell suffers from one's recollection of Dr. Munger's recent life of that deep-thoughted man. Beecher's memory has been so inadequately cherished that Mr. Addison's sympathetic sketch of him is thrice welcome. That of Phillips Brooks is written with completer understanding than any other, and there could be no happier application than that to him of Lowell's representation of himself as an "incurable child." It is a pity that this sound and sweet interpretation of the great preacher must at once compete with Dr. A. V. G. Allen's colossal "Life and Letters."

It is inevitable that in a little book treating so large a theme the reader should miss this and that which he holds in fond remembrance, but he must not imagine that these things bear any considerable proportion to those which Mr. Addison has set in order and touched with the graces of a frank and pleasant style.

JOHN WHITE CHADWICK.

*THE CLERGY IN AMERICAN LIFE AND LETTERS. By David Duleny Addison. Pp. x.-400. 12mo. Cloth. New York: The Macmillan Company. $1.25.

In the High Noon of the Century.*

"One of Ourselves" takes us back toward the high noon of the century, when there was plenty of leisure for "The Daisy Chain" and "The Wide, Wide World," and when nobody demurred at endless conversations of gentle mediocrity that led nowhere in particular, nor at characters that would be uncommonly queer if translated out of the book into real life. Well, after all, there was a certain charm about such stories; they went wonderfully well to a running accompaniment of apples, and who shall say that the pitter-patter of inconsequent talk was not more like talk "as she is talked" than the scintillating cleverness that flashes over the pages of modern novelists? Moreover, the stories were clean and wholesome, and left their readers more inclined to be good than to find badness the brilliant and attractive thing. We may laugh at Guy Carleton as "the nursery hero," but, intolerable prig though he was, he was a safer young gentleman to leave our daughters alone with than those they are too likely to meet between the astonishing book covers of the present day.

"One of Ourselves" ranges well alongside these stories we regard with a reminiscent tenderness. It is, certainly, too long; we cannot deny that it palls at times, nor that we skip, at first timidly, then recklessly as we proceed. Lord Umpreville's family frankness we should declare impossible but for the recollection of our British cousins' little way, as set forth by Miss Baylor in "On Both Sides." Mr. William Farrell's career is so evidently made to order that we refuse to be properly horrified, and Mrs. Tom's remorse is quite absurd in its excess. The three girls who have tumbled up, rather than been brought up, are well and pathetically drawn, and we are glad when all ends happily, if not very naturally, for them. We note, in passing, an unlovely portrayal of a young American Duchess. Was it drawn from life? At all events, it seems a needless little sneer, like Du Maurier's in "Trilby."

"One of Ourselves" is what may be termed a comfortable story, notwithstanding the perilous approach to tragedy from which it just sheers off. It belongs to tranquil leisure, and is not to be taken at a single sitting, nor at two, nor three. It is one of the books that good-naturedly await the reader's pleasure, and do not tempt him to the neglect of every known duty.

It will find its friends, and it deserves them—but we wish we had not so vividly recollected "The Baby's Grandmother" as we opened it.

A Book on Child Study.*

In this age of limitless bookmaking, when publishers' shelves groan with volumes covering ramifications of every conceivable subject, it is rather singular that, notwithstanding aroused interest in the cult of child study, there are few baby biographies. Prof. Tiedemann in the eighteenth century started the ball rolling, Darwin came next with his notes on infant development, introduced for the benefit of his theories; M. Taine, too, wrote upon the subject, and Profs. Preyer and Sully did much toward stimulating a study of infancy; later Mrs. Hall, Mr. Moore, and Mrs. Hogan added data to these records of babyhood. Still there remained room for amplification of the subject, so Millicent Washburn Shinn's new addition to books on babies is welcome as not merely theorizing or dropping into anecdotal reminiscences of some interesting human atom, but of practically demonstrating the evolution of the physical and mental faculties of the new-born child through the first twelve months of its life. The author quotes Joseph Le Conte, who says in reference to generic studies that "very little has yet been done in scientific study of this most important of all possible subjects," and adds, "what is wanted most of all in this, as in every science, is a body of carefully observed facts." The present volume contains these facts, the niece of the authoress being the baby under observation. Beginning by noting the first infantile movements, such as stretching, yawning, swallowing, crying, &c., which merely belong to the class called reflex, and mostly come ready-made at the baby's birth, the first definitely conscious impressions are observed when hearing becomes a realized fact and the child's world of vision emerges from confused "patches of light and dark with bits of glitter and motion" to the actual seeing of things about it. The development of taste and touch is minutely noted, likewise the development of mental qualities, such as memory, dawning affection, curiosity, voluntary locomotion, and self-consciousness.

Attaining the age of nine months, the baby has likes and dislikes; she begins to enjoy life and take keen interest in all about her; "outdoors her happiness was even greater than the month before, and her cries of rapture as she looked up, down, and around and realized her own activity in the midst of all the waving and shiny and blooming things were remarkable, uttered

*ONE OF OURSELVES. By L. B. Walford, author of "Leddy Morget," "Mr. Smith," &c. In one volume. Pp. 448. 12mo, cloth. New York: Longmans, Green & Co.

*THE BIOGRAPHY OF A BABY. By Millicent Washburn Shinn. 1 vol. Pp. 247. New York: Houghton, Mifflin & Co. $1.50.

as it were from the very deeps of her little soul with that impassioned straining of the central muscles by which a baby throws such abandon of longing or ecstasy into its voice. We seem to have lost the vivid expressiveness of primitive cries in getting the precision and convenience of articulate words." During the next three months great progress is noted in the practicing of the powers the baby has just acquired, and so the "story of the swift, beautiful year is ended, and one wee, soft, helpless baby has become this darling thing beginning to toddle, beginning to talk, full of a wide-awake baby intelligence, and rejoicing in her mind and body."

The book, which is appropriately bound in white, will not only appeal to all mothers, but to all observers of human nature who are interested in the study of child life, and especially in that wondrous problem still puzzling scientists, namely, whether human ideas are evolved "from one's own experience of the outer world as given him by his senses, or whether there are, on the contrary, inborn ideas implanted directly by nature or God."

Mr. Churchill's South African Book.*

The war in South Africa drags to its tedious end. A multitude of impressions of that rugged campaign have been written, with more or less sincerity and more or less intelligence, by the cloud of correspondents who followed the armies. We take it for granted that those gentlemen were all enterprising and courageous, or would take this for granted if they would let us. We recognize their gifts for lively narrative. But in the study of this particular war we have passed beyond the picture-book stage; we are bored with mere emotions, and have ceased to be satisfied with fragmentary glimpses of scattered fields, and no longer attach importance to the ready opinions of young men on whom military knowledge descended by virtue of an assignment. We now want facts, collected by men who know the relative value of facts, and we want judgment, ripened by experience and responsibility and meditation.

In considerable degree, Mr. Churchill is qualified to do serious military writing. He is a man of talent, courage, and boundless energy. He is a soldier, and has seen real war as a soldier. He is practiced in observing, arranging, and presenting military facts, for he has already written three or four books. His "River War" is one of the very best books on the reconquest of the Egyptian Soudan. The small volume now before us is only a fragment, being a collection of newspaper letters—revised, corrected and somewhat expanded. But it has a value beyond most similar collections, for reasons which are indicated above. It has a further value, as a tolerably consecutive sketch of an important part of the advance to Johannesburg and Pretoria—a part concerning which little has been published.

Gen. Hamilton's force, which was called the "Army of the Right Flank," operated on the flanks of the main army in the advance from Bloemfontein. It marched 400 miles, always away from the railroad; fought ten general actions and fourteen smaller affairs, took five towns, and was at the very front in the capture of Johannesburg and Pretoria, all of this in about six weeks. The column was made up of 11,000 men, with 12,600 horses and mules, 36 field guns, 2 five-inch guns, (called by the men "cowguns," being hauled by oxen,) 23 machine guns, and 6 pompoms. It was a highly mobile force, beautifully handled. It struck off due east to Thabanchu; moved north 100 miles, striking the railroad again at Kroonstad; swung again to the east by Lindley and Heilbron; crossed to the west of the railroad at Vrederfort, thirty miles south of the Vaal, and then worked on the left flank all the way to Pretoria. The force was never defeated and never held long in check, and was one of Lord Roberts's most efficient instruments in turning the Boers out of one strong position after another. The combined movement was arduous, brilliant, and highly successful. Its difficulties and the fine military qualities displayed cannot be appreciated until the story as a whole is adequately written; it may properly be compared with the immensely more formidable advance of Sherman's army from Chattanooga to Atlanta. In this movement, Churchill says Hamilton's column encountered and overcame the brunt of the Boer resistance. However that may be, it encountered and overcame enough to make a stirring military story.

Perhaps the most interesting part of Mr. Churchill's little book is the glimpse it gives of the personality of Ian Hamilton himself. The frontispiece is from a portrait of Hamilton by John Sargent, which shows a man who, if he had lived 700 years ago, would have been a Knight Templar. The erect, spare figure; the withered left hand, the severe, refined, and stern face, all suggest the ascetic soldier, and there is a hint, too, of possible genius. The useless hand is a souvenir of that bitter day on Majuba Hill in 1881, when Hamilton was a Lieutenant in the Gordon Highlanders and was in command of the outposts. Stupid, brave Colley despised Hamilton's repeated warnings of the progress of the attack, and it is not very fanciful to think that from Colley's stupidity two things came about of supreme importance to the two men; Colley was killed, and from Majuba Hill followed logically this present war, in which Hamilton has made a reputation which will give him a high command in England's next great war, if that comes within his active life.

Of course, Churchill had adventures in this 400-mile march with Hamilton; he has a talent for adventures. In one fight his horse bolted, and he was left on foot within close range of the Boers, and the nearest cover a mile away. He was saved by a gallant trooper, who took him up behind, and who seemed to repent the deed when his own horse was killed by an explosive bullet. But we must not be tempted into relating the experiences of this enterprising young gentleman, and can only stop to say, further, that a very entertaining chapter, quite unrelated to the rest of the book, is the diary of a young officer as a prisoner at Pretoria.

*IAN HAMILTON'S MARCH. By Winston Spencer Churchill. Portrait, Maps, and Plans. 8vo., 412 pp. New York, London, and Bombay: Longmans, Green & Co. 1900. $1.50.

Mont Blanc.*

The history of Mont Blanc, which has been prepared by Charles Edward Mathews, for some time the President of the Alpine Club, is by far the best work on the subject that has yet appeared in print. In fact, it is the only complete and satisfactory history of the great mountain in the English language, and is in many respects superior to the history compiled by M. Charles Durier, the President of the French Alpine Club, which work prior to the advent of the present volume was the only one that could pretend to be a comprehensive history of Mont Blanc. Mr. Mathews is peculiarly well qualified for the task he has accomplished. For over forty years he has been a frequenter of the mountain. He first attacked its summit in 1856, and succeeded in making the ascent twelve times, the last time in 1898. It is evident that mountain history and mountain climbing possess for him a constant and irresistible fascination. This is evidenced not only by the years devoted to exploring the chain of Mont Blanc, but also by the thoroughness of the record which we have before us for notice. Beside the interesting items found in the average handbook of Mont Blanc, we here have a mass of new material gleaned from a variety of fields, including some highly interesting extracts from the hitherto unknown manuscript diary of Dr. Paccard, the companion of Jacques Balmat in the first ascent of the mountain in 1786. These extracts furnish incidents which add materially to the charm and value of the work. The author also gives ample particulars of the various ascents of the mountain from the time of Paccard and Balmat down to the time of Albert Smith, (1851,) when the ascent became fashionable. These details will not only be valuable to readers who are mountaineers, but will prove most attractive reading to all who have the slightest interest in stories of mountain adventure. We do not know of any volume which contains as many thrilling descriptions of mountain climbing as this, and every one of the old stories possesses a new attraction when read in connection with similar recent adventures.

There has always been a romantic charm about Mont Blanc and the stories of the attacks made on its summit. This is true not only for the comparatively few who have scaled its height, but also for the thousands who have seen its summit flushed with rose at dawn and sunset and who have viewed through powerful telescopes, advantageously placed in the Valley of Chamonix, figures creeping toward its summit. It also applies to the countless thousands who know of its grandeur and stupendous natural beauty only through the vivid descriptions of some enthusiastic traveler. Saussure was the man who was mainly responsible for the first conquest of Mont Blanc. Jacques Balmat and Michel Gabriel Paccard were, however, the first persons who succeeded in reaching the summit. The former dictated to the illustrious Alexander Dumas, in 1832, a graphic narrative of the first ascent, which appeared in Dumas's "Impressions de Voyage Suisse." All the credit of the ascent is generally given to Balmat, whom Dumas described as the Christopher Columbus of Chamonix. The author of this volume is inclined to place Balmat second to Paccard, and the arguments and proof supporting this claim are as attractive as they are convincing. To all who are interested in this particular discussion we recommend a perusal of the chapters which cover the controversy.

From 1786 to 1820 no life was lost upon the great mountain, though many travelers and a far greater number of guides had already gained its summit. In those days ample precautions were taken to avoid disaster. Increasing knowledge of the mountain and the well-founded belief that its dangers and its difficulties had been exaggerated had the inevitable tendency to produce indifference. Travelers began to take the advice of the great Tartarin, and the terrible death roll of Mont Blanc was the result. There is but slight danger in climbing Mont Blanc when the weather is settled and under favorable conditions of snow, but its height is so great and its snowfields are so vast that when the weather is unsettled or when the snow is soft and treacherous it becomes one of the most dangerous mountains in the Alps. After the well-known Hamel catastrophe of 1820 there was a cessation of fatalities until 1864. From that year on there have been numerous accidents, until the death roll now contains the names of forty-seven persons, one of the latest victims being an American by the name of Rigel, who had previously climbed the mountain alone from the Chamonix side, and then attempted the

*THE ANNALS OF MONT BLANC: A Monograph. By Charles Edward Mathews. With a chapter on the Geology of the Mountain, by Prof. T. G. Bonney, D. Sc., L.L. D., F. R. S. 8vo. Pp. xxiv. 368. With illustrations and map. Boston: L. C. Page & Co. Price, $4.

(Continued on Page 20.)

J. M. Barrie's

Tommy and Grizel.

The Times Saturday Review Says:

"In its notice of 'Sentimental Tommy' the London Academy remarked: 'Good though the book is, we feel that it will be—must be—followed by one still better.' And now here comes 'Tommy and Grizel' as the rich fulfillment of this prophecy."

A Few Comparisons.

"Sufficient cause for placing Mr. Barrie closer to the niche left vacant by the death of STEVENSON than any other living writer."—Chicago Tribune.

"As elaborately worked out as MR. MEREDITH'S study of an egoist in the person of Sir Willoughby Patterne."—London Standard.

"Mr. Barrie has more drollery than any novelist since DICKENS."—The Bookman. (Illustrated, $1.50.)

Third Large Edition.

A KENTUCKY STORY OF LOVE AND WAR.

Crittenden, By JOHN FOX, JR.

From The Bookman:

"It has been written and written and written how brave was the hopeless resistance that these careless, confident knights-errant met. But it has never—in the opinion of the writer of this review—been so well written, never been told with such fullness, such eloquence, such fire and passion as in this new story by Mr. Fox."

"Mr. Fox has already demonstrated his ability to write well, and we think he has never written quite so well as in the story before us."—N. Y. Times Saturday Review.

"It is, first of all, a fine love story, and then a swiftly moving tale of war."—Mail and Express. ($1.25.)

Charles Scribner's Sons, New York

SELMA WHITE ON THE STAGE

Following the precedents of other popular novels, the heroine of Robert Grant's "Unleavened Bread" will make her début on the stage on January 28. The portrayal of the character of the ambitious wife successively of Messrs. Babcock, Littleton and Lyons will naturally arouse curiosity. Meanwhile, if you have not yet read the striking novel, of which nearly 40,000 copies have been sold, this is your opportunity. It is for sale everywhere, or will be sent to you by the publishers, Charles Scribner's Sons, 153-157 Fifth Ave., N. Y.

"WANTED---A PHILANTHROPIST to give a copy to every English-speaking parent!"——

Thus says The New York Times of

CONCERNING CHILDREN

By CHARLOTTE PERKINS (STETSON) GILMAN, author of "Women and Economics," etc.

At all Bookstores
Price $1.25

SMALL, MAYNARD & COMPANY
PUBLISHERS, BOSTON

NEWEST BOOKS.

(Continued from Page 19.)

same feat from Courmayeur. He lost his life on the Dome Glacier in 1808. Familiarity has bred indifference for the mountain, and it can be truly said that everybody climbs Mont Blanc now. Men have climbed it without guides; women have climbed it; a priest has said mass upon its summit; it has been scaled in the depth of Winter; Prof. Tyndall slept upon its top; M. Vallet spent three days and nights there, and Mr. Marshead climbed and descended it alone in less than seventeen hours. Many undertake the ascent without experience, training, or knowledge. If they succeed, success is often devoid of joy. They will be able to say that they ascended Mont Blanc, but many foolish people have done as much before. Two out of every three who make the ascent have no delight in it. Some are dragged up like logs, are sick at heart before they get half way, and wish they were dead long before the summit is reached. They have not served an apprenticeship to their business. How different with the trained mountaineer. Undue bodily fatigue is unknown to him, and he always possesses a maximum capacity of appreciation. He carries away sunny memories of the vast white solitudes of the night under the silent stars, of the rose of dawn in the east, of the great peaks flushed with carmine at sunset, and of experiences and friendships which have added health and happiness to life.

The one thing above all others which makes this volume readable, as it is a valuable addition to Alpine literature, is the fact that it is in no sense a record of personal adventure. It is a history of Mont Blanc, and comprises about everything known in connection with this famous mountain, including descriptions of its geology and bibliography, and tables of ascents from 1786 to 1851 and fatalities which have occurred between 1820 and 1898. The typography and illustrations of the book are splendid examples of the good work done by English printers and engravers, for, while the volume bears the imprint of an American firm of booksellers, it is one of the many volumes prepared in England and sent to this country for publication.

Rambles in Colonial Byways.*

At the beginning of a new century it is pleasant to reflect that we as a Nation now have a respectable number of centuries back of us. While three in this case can hardly be said to constitute a crowd, it is nevertheless sufficient to justify us in referring casually to events that occurred among us "some centuries ago." And one of the most obvious marks of our advancing years and accumulating associations is the multiplication of our shrines and the growing popularity of pilgrimages. Plymouth Rock has become our Stoneheoge, with almost as many legendary traditions grouped about it as belong to the shrine of Merlin; Bunker Hill is our Seniac; Concord Bridge our Thermopylae, and the Summer traveler who wishes not merely to relax but also to stimulate his mind has no difficulty in picking out a place of historic interest to journey toward. The present author has roamed about what he calls the Colonial region, feeding upon its memories of the past and gathering information to hand on to followers in his footsteps. At times, in fact, the weight of associations connected with places in which we are disposed to linger through Summer vacations becomes almost oppressive, but in the main the author has touched history with a light hand and has confined himself to pleasant, gossipy anecdote and description.

Perhaps the prettiest story told in connection with our Revolutionary landmarks is the one associated with the fac simile of Washington's headquarters at Newburg produced in Paris. The room was copied in the mansion of the old Count de Marbois, where Lafayette shortly before his death was invited to a banquet, together with the American Minister and other Americans. They were taken into this low-boarded room, with its projecting beams and broad-throated chimney, and a table set with old-fashioned bottles and glasses. "Do you know where you are now?" Marbois asked the Marquis and the American guests. They paused for a moment, when Lafayette exclaimed, "Ah! the seven doors and one window, and the silver camp goblets, such as the Marshals of France used in my youth. We are at Washington's headquarters on the Hudson, fifty years ago!'"

There are many guide books to New York City in which historic buildings are pointed out to the inquiring stranger, but as a rule the stranger knows more than the native about this complicated old metropolis of ours. A New Yorker born and bred could perhaps take Mr. Wilson's book and follow its lead about the city for a week of leisure without once feeling the sense of listening to a twice-told tale, but the list of places interesting from the character of their associations could certainly have been swelled for him. He could dine at the dingy Hungarian restaurant at 63 Prince Street, where Monroe once lived and where he died, or he could drink a health to Washington at Fraunces's Tavern, on Pearl Street, where the Commander in Chief took leave of his Generals before surrendering his commission to Congress, but the larger number of the houses mentioned by Mr. Wilson are those that must be enjoyed from the outside only.

Much fuller and more interesting are the accounts of the unusual societies of "God's peculiar people," the Dunkers, the Monastical Society of Snow Hill, the Moravians, the Harmonists, the Inspirationists, and others, some of which have already died out entirely since the first writing of the chapters commemorating them. To the "orthodox" church-goer the customs of all these sects are curious enough, and not the least so is the characteristic Dunker ceremony celebrating the Lord's Supper, described in full by the author.

"It is observed in the evening and is always preceded in the afternoon by a love-feast. This commemorates the supper which Jesus took with His Disciples, and is a solemn religious festivity, each Dunker church having its kitchen provided with great kettles and plain dishes for its proper observance. When the occasion is at hand, after a day of preaching, a lamb is killed and a clear soup is made, into which bread is broken, and then served in great bowls placed on long and very narrow tables, at each side of which sit the participants, four persons eating from each bowl. After the eating of the broth comes the ceremony known as the washing of feet, each sex performing this duty for its own. Those who are to engage in the ordinance presently enter the meeting, carrying tubs of lukewarm water, and each member on the front benches removes his or her shoes and stockings. A man on the men's side and a woman on the women's side then wash the feet one by one, taking the right hand of each individual as they finish the washing and giving the kiss of peace. As one benchful has the ceremony performed it gives place to another, the minister or teachers meanwhile making a brief speech or reading appropriate portions of the Scriptures relating to the subject. Following this ceremony comes the supper itself. Each third bench is so arranged that the back can be turned upon a pivot at each end, so as to form the top of a long table. This is covered with a white cloth, and presently brothers and sisters enter, bearing large bowls of soup, plates of bread and meat, and pies and coffee. Three or four people help themselves out of the same dish, and the ceremony known as the salutation of the holy kiss concludes the supper. Each brother implants a hearty kiss on the bearded lips of his neighbor at table, and in the same manner each sister kisses her sister companion sitting nearest to her. The communion service, which follows, consists in the breaking of unleavened bread and the drinking of unfermented wine, the whole ceremony being concluded by the singing of hymns and preaching. This the Dunkers contend is the only true method of administering the ordinance of the Last Supper, and also hold that it is an exact and faithful copy of that ceremony as celebrated in the earliest Christian Church."

Certainly Mr. Wilson deserves credit for introducing a variety of experiences into his unpretentious rambles, and the tastes of many men of many minds have been considered in his choice of subject matter. Only a very difficult reader could fail to find something to entertain him in the facts contained between the green, summery-looking covers of these attractive little volumes, whether his fancy inclined him or not to such impassionate pilgrimages as the pages describe.

*RAMBLES IN COLONIAL BYWAYS. By Rufus Rockwell Wilson. Illustrated by drawings by William Lincoln Hudson and from photographs. Two volumes. Vol. I., pp. 239; Vol. II., pp. 296. 16mo, cloth. Philadelphia and London: The J. B. Lippincott Company. 1901. $3.

Mr. Bullen's "With Christ at Sea."*

Judging by the usual result of the attempt to write a religious book, few literary achievements can be more difficult. Take from the great mass of volumes barbed with intent to "do good," first, the odious religion-and-water that used to infest Sunday school libraries; next these biographies in which the biographer spends his life examining and recording the working of his own "innards," and, lastly, books written in support of some far-fetched Biblical interpretation or fanatical notion—and how many have we left?

It is, therefore, with peculiar pleasure that one welcomes such a narrative as "With Christ at Sea," a story interfused with manly piety, and, withal, "strong in saving common sense." We note that it is fitly dedicated to a friend, "in admiration of his common-sense Christianity," precisely the quality most conspicuous in the author himself. The recital of his conversion and of his subsequent religious history is delightfully simple and touching. We are sure it cannot be read by the most worldly without their perceiving that in that warehouse in New Zealand the sailor lad of twenty years got hold of something very real; of something that had a regenerating power upon all his after life; of something that purified the very springs of action.

The writer has been blessed with a mind wonderfully "clear of cant." He tells the straightforward story of his spiritual life, just as he tells the story of his experiences as a sailor. According to the traditions of his childhood, he naturally united himself with the Church of England, but, like the Pundita Ramabai, he is a Christian first of all, too genuine and too broad to be labeled by the name of any church or sect. Wherever he gives his own views, as upon "the new birth," the nature of prayer, denominationalism, the Christian life, he is singularly simple and luminous.

As a religious biography, we think the modest little recital cannot fail to become a power for good, both to religious teachers and to the world at large. It should lead the former to reconsider some of their methods and to feel anew their great responsibility, and it cannot fail to impress the latter with the fact that the religion of Christ, stripped of its man-made trappings, is fitted to become the most tremendous elevating agency known to humanity, the one elevating agency that begins at the root and drives out evil by "the expulsive power of a new affection."

Regarded as literature, the story will appeal to many who might be repelled by its title. We believe it was Mr. Alden who, writing either of Mr. Bullen or of Mr. Conrad, said that it looks as though the very best literary training one could give a boy was to tumble him into "the to'-gallant" at an early age. It does look as if that were true. We all know Mr. Conrad's exquisite style; Mr. Bullen's, while lacking Mr. Conrad's perfection of polish, is, in its way, scarcely less admirable. Both writers take us with them as irresistibly as the Christmas spirits bore Scrooge—and that is the high-water mark of a writer's power.

We are beginning to find out that no man possesses that power except he who writes from within—save, indeed, those rare children of genius with whom intuition, inspiration, may take the place of experience. Hence it is that we lift imploring hands against the flood of what Mr. Howells aptly terms "neo-historical romances." They may flutter, even occasionally soar, but they are galvanized, not vital, and there are few who can have any other destiny than—and that in a near future—to fall lifeless with a dull thud, "unwept, unhonored, and unsung." But he who writes what he has lived opens new doors to knowledge; he widens the circle of human sympathies, and, we may say, of human experiences; he educates the preacher and the philanthropist by shewing them the real men they wish to reach. One must sit at Mr. Willard's feet to learn how to deal with tramps; at Mr. Warman's to get the point of view of railroad men; at Mr. Conrad's and Mr. Bullen's to understand the sailor folk, as unique in themselves as in their environment.

Mr. Bullen's unveiling of the condition of seamen in the merchant service has already excited much comment. "With Christ at Sea," like the author's previous books, gives a moving picture of the hardships above deck, the degradation below, the tyranny and too frequent injustice and cruelty of the skippers. Any true story of the sea emphasizes the lesson taught by the history of all slave-holding countries, that poor human nature cannot be trusted with absolute power. At the same time Mr. Bullen considers that amelioration of the sailor's lot must begin with his own elevation to a higher plane.

There is little to carp at in such a book. Two things the reader is tempted to wish Mr. Bullen had not asserted that he read "Paradise Lost" at four years of age, and that in a sudden extremity of peril his swift, impulsive feeling was one of ecstasy. Since Mr. Bullen has said these things, we believe them, but the belief strains our faith.

The narrative somewhat fails to sustain itself; it suffers a collapse toward the close, and ends with an unsatisfactory abruptness. As a Christian, the writer so often found himself "in a minority of one" among his messmates that his light began to burn dimly, and we would fain know how it fared on that last and untold long voyage.

As it stands, however, "With Christ at Sea" is a book to be warmly commended, not only for its tender and brave Christianity, but for its stirring incident, its truth of portrayal, and its consequent wealth of unwritten suggestion. There is small doubt of the fulfillment of the author's "earnest hope and prayer that some good may result" from the reading of what has been so sincerely and clearly written.

*WITH CHRIST AT SEA. A Personal Record of Religious Experiences on Board Ship for Fifteen Years. By Frank T. Bullen. Author of "The Cruise of the Cachelot," "Men of the Merchant Service," "Idylls of the Sea," "Log of a Sea Waif," &c. In one volume. Pp. 325. 12mo, cloth. New York: Frederick A. Stokes Company.

Statistics of Our Civil War.*

For patient research and acumen, Mr. Thomas L. Livermore has an added military experience. The author of "Numbers and Losses in the Civil War in America" was Major and Brevet Colonel of the Fifth New Hampshire Volunteers and Colonel of the Sixteenth New Hampshire Volunteers. In 1897, as member of the Military Historical Society of Massachusetts, he began laying down the foundation of the present work in an essay. He writes: "Later research and study have led to changing many of the figures given in that essay." The task of summing up the losses even in a minor battle is no easy task. When it comes to the computation of losses in an important action, owing to causes well understood, the difficulty accumulates. As to figuring up the totals of deaths from all causes in a campaign, the chances of error are notably increased. The most honest and capable of statisticians is often at his wit's end when he figures what are the losses, as the results of his own computation, when comparing these with Government statements. Pretty generally the English tables of military mortality are to be considered as trustworthy, and, as for that, so are the German ones, but as to the other foreign powers, there is little credence to be placed in their figures. Though Mr. Livermore is careful to indulge in no such comments, it may be as well to present some general figures as to the loss of life, so far as the Germans were concerned, in the Franco-German war. The total number of Germans killed or wounded, it is believed, amounted to 88,867, comprising some 3,658 officers and 84,209 men. But this terrible summary must be largely increased. How many men died of disease incident to bad food, privation, imperfect sanitation? You cannot add a certain fixed percentage, for losses vary, according to the season of the year, the locality, and the individuality of the combatants.

The first thing Mr. Livermore does is to try to arrive at some definite conclusion as to the number of combatants. Supposedly this might not be so difficult, as far as the count went, of those who fought for the Union. When the summing up of the men who took up arms for the Confederacy is compiled, the difficulty is great. The enlistments in the Union Army numbered, it is stated, 2,898,304. But the number of men actually under arms at any one time was less, owing to re-enlistments. The estimate of the Confederate Army is made out to be somewhere between 600,000 and 700,000 men. Mr. Livermore, who is determined to be fair, writes:

It is a part of human nature which persuades the losers in war to believe that the result must have come from a great disparity in numbers. The sustained conflict and terrible loss of life of four years of war placed the reputation of Southern valor so high that exaggerated statements of numbers cannot further exalt it to the consideration of the world. To prove that the estimated ratio of four to one between the two armies is not founded on fact does not diminish that reputation. The result of the war depended much on the superiority of the North in material resources. This outweighed many men. On the other hand, it could not disparage Northern courage to establish a large disproportion in numbers, in view of the defensive attitude of the South, and the necessity of invading and occupying a constantly enlarging territory which was forced upon the Northern Army. This required many more than mere battles upon equal terms would have required.

Going slowly over the ground, Mr. Livermore comes to the conclusion that there were 1,222,330 enlistments on the part of the Confederates, and these were opposed to the 2,898,304 on the Union side. There is even a higher estimate made than this of the Confederate forces, and it is Col. Casselman's, of 1,500,000 men. Disparity of force on the Confederate side has to be acknowledged then, but that does not in the least lessen the brilliant services of the Union Army. In physical resources it must be acknowledged that the Confederates were always at a great disadvantage. Mr. Livermore writes:

With all these things taken into account, the long and resolute contest entertained by the South, and their many successes against superior numbers, must always command admiration. The fact that their attitude was mainly defensive is not enough alone to account for all they achieved, and careful study of the campaigns and battles, with statistics of their losses, leads to the belief not only that the Southern leaders were, at least up to 1864, bolder in taking risks than their opponents, but also that they pushed their forces under fire very nearly to the limit of endurance.

Many extracts might be taken from the volume under notice, as explanatory of conditions as they exist to-day in South Africa. English Generals, like the Union ones, had to defend long lines of railroads; it was their duty to preserve rather than to destroy. It is not vital to the Boer Generals, as we have seen, to defend their cities. "But," adds Mr. Livermore, "good Generals cannot fight battles as the Confederates fought them without extraordinarily good soldiers." Believing that the total of men under arms at one time or another who were on the side of the Confederacy may have been nearly 1,500,000, and on the side of the Union to 2,398,304, the killed and wounded in the Union Army was 385,245. On the Confederate side the loss in killed and wounded was, according to the author's calculations, something like 329,000.

At the conclusion of the volume there are to be found the records of all the battles of the civil war, with number of troops engaged and the losses. As a work of reference, the volume under notice will be found invaluable.

*NUMBERS AND LOSSES IN THE CIVIL WAR IN AMERICA. 1861-65. By Thomas L. Livermore. Cloth. 150 pages. Boston and New York: Houghton, Mifflin and Company.

Death as an Event in Life.*

There was a time, and that easily within the memory of the younger generation, when to speak of Spiritualism, or, more properly, Spiritism, to any circle of intelligent people was to provoke a sneer. Naturally enough, the mere suspicion of a new and mysterious influence attracted a crowd of astute charlatans and facile dupes, with the result of throwing the whole subject into such discredit that all spirit-phenomena were in danger of being relegated to the realm of the Cock Lane Ghost.

The Society of Psychic Research came to the rescue, and, carefully sifting genuine from spurious phenomena, present to-day such a residuum of rigorously tested facts as must convince the most skeptical of the existence of psychic forces and manifestations hitherto undreamed of in our philosophy. Various theories have been suggested to account for the revelations made through Mrs. Piper, "Helen Smith," and all those "mediums," who seem so strangely in touch with an unseen world. Of these theories three have received the attention of students, and each has been ingeniously argued by its supporters. Dr. Hudson, who has many to agree with him, rejects all belief in Spiritism, and in his work on "Psychic Phenomena" regards all such phenomena, even the miracles of Scripture as explicable by telepathy, or the influence of mind upon mind, and of mind upon matter. Another class of writers admits the domination of spirits upon the medium, but believes these to be evil spirits only, and that a person under their influence is simply the subject of demoniacal possession. This view would seem at first sight untenable, but it has been ably supported; notably in "Earth's Earliest Ages," by G. H. Pember, and in a remarkable book on "Demon Possession and Allied Themes," written by a missionary, Dr. Nevins, for forty years a student of spirit manifestation in the Orient. This latter volume has been luminously edited by Henry W. Rankin, a scholarly exponent of this theory, who has fortified his position by copious quotation and reference.

The opinion, however, most natural and most widely held seems to be that, under certain conditions, the spirits of the beatified dead may renew with their beloved the intimacy of their earthly intercourse. This view seems to be gaining ground among men of scholarship and of judgment. We believe Spiritists now claim Dr. William James, Prof. Hyslop, Prof. Sidgwick, Dr. Hodgson, Prof. Oliver Lodge, and many others whose opinions are entitled to respect.

*THE SPIRITUAL SIGNIFICANCE; OR, DEATH AS AN EVENT IN LIFE. By Lilian Whiting. Author of "The World Beautiful," in three volumes: "After Her Death," "From Dreamland Sent," "Kate Field, a Record," "Study of Elizabeth Barrett Browning," &c. In one volume. Pp. 366. 16mo, cloth. Boston: Little, Brown & Co.

One is constrained, therefore, to approach this matter with an open and a reverent mind, even though, with the data before him, Spiritism seems to him still "not proven." Lillian Whiting's books present the subject in a manner both inspiring and elevating. Dr. Phillips Brooks's declaration that "Death is not the end of life, but only an event in life," is the text of all her teaching. To take away "the great sorrow that has surrounded death; the consciousness of loss with which it has been invested," and to inspire those still in the earth-life to "more intelligent and more worthy living," living "a life of spiritual significance"—these are her lofty purposes. Readers of whatever faith, of whatever attitude toward Spiritism, will find in "The Spiritual Significance," as in "The World Beautiful," much to ennoble and inspire.

For ourselves, however, we must frankly admit that the phenomena claimed to be those of spirit manifestation are inexplicable upon any theory whatsoever. To accept Miss Whiting's faith would be not only infinitely consoling, but really simpler and easier than to explain it away by means of any other hypothesis, were it not for one weak spot upon which she herself puts her finger in a quotation from The Catholic Times, and that is that the supposed communications from the dead are not only earthy and material, but consist for the most part of "trumpery recollections of certain unimportant and insignificant details of their lives." Miss Whiting defends this on the ground that such things alone can be "tests of identity"; but eliminate these tests and how much remains? After all, would not the supreme test be such large utterance, such exalted vision, such rapt eloquence, as should convince us that we were listening to something higher than earthbound humanity? But when the spirits cease to give the proofs—and they are marvelous, inexplicable proofs—of their identity, what do we find? Can anything be more commonplace than Miss Fields's account of her twenty-four hours of heaven life? Compare it with Tickell's imagination of what that life is to Addison; with Mrs. Oliphant's dream of it in "The Little Pilgrim." Which is the more spiritual, the more probable—the imagination of the earthly mind, or the supposed realization of the freed spirit? Compare the invocations of Mrs. Piper's "control," Imperator, with those purporting to come from the world of life and of light.

So, while we read with keen interest Miss Whiting's books, doing homage to the sincerity of her convictions and the nobleness of her purpose, and, verily, with "the will to believe" her conclusions, we cannot yet feel that we have entered into the great secret. It may be that we are upon its threshold. As the last century saw an almost miraculous material development, so may the next see an equally amazing unfolding of psychic laws and forces. It may be that the belief in immortality, which has certainly faded during these latter years, is to be given back more abundantly, so that knowledge may take the place of hope. But, as it seems to us, the time is not yet; and still, for all that appears in the revelations of the spirit mediums, we cannot get beyond the silence of the grave, save with the faith and hope of "In Memoriam" and the promise of the Christ.

Minnesota To-day.*

Judge Charles E. Flandrau's competency for the writing of a history of Minnesota cannot be questioned, for he has lived in the State through nearly "the whole period of its political existence, and has taken part in most of the leading events in her history, both savage and civilized." It is in a narrative and colloquial manner that the author gives the facts. Judge Flandrau is neither pompous nor stilted, but constructs the story of his State in a most pleasing and understandable manner. He writes not in the least apologetically: "If I should in the course of my narrative so far forget myself as to indulge in a joke or relate an illustrative anecdote, the reader must put up with it." Minnesota, which according to the last census, has a population of 1,751,395, owes its prosperity to the products of the farm, the dairy, the mine, the quarry, and the forest. Its industries are many, its leading ones being milling and lumbering. The State has, too, an enormous carrying trade. All these various industries are traced by Judge Flandrau from their beginnings. The generally accepted history of Minnesota represents that it was Louis Hannepin, a Franciscan priest, who was the first white man who entered the present boundaries of Minnesota. The date given is 1680. Later researches tend to show that those two Frenchmen, Radison and Grosseller, first saw the fair land as far back as 1652. It is also well authenticated that Du Luth visited Mille Lacs in 1670. Many other Frenchman, as traders and priests, explored the new section of the country, but the impression they made was but slight. The author dwells on the coming of Jonathan Carver, who was born in Connecticut in 1732. He conceived the project of making an exploration of the Northwest. Carver left Boston in 1766, and reached Mackinaw. Step by step the author presents the various settlements which were made in the new country. Minnesota became a Territory in 1849. In 1857 the population was 150,000. In 1858 Minnesota assumed the dignity of a State. Very remarkable is the history of those immense milling interests which have done so much for the prosperity of Minnesota. Twenty years ago the particular variety of wheat grown in the State was not held in high estimation. Mill products were deemed, too, of a poor grade. But new methods of milling were adopted, and to-day Minneapolis produces the finest known qualities of flour. In 1898-99 the estimate of flour made in Minnesota was figured at 25,000,000 barrels. According to the last census the population of Minneapolis was 202,718. The entire educational system of the State is presented. At the conclusion may be found "Frontier Tales," with episodes of adventure having to do with the history of Minnesota.

*THE HISTORY OF MINNESOTA AND TALES OF THE FRONTIER. By Judge Charles E. Flandrau. Cloth. Large 8vo. Portrait. 468 Pages. St. Paul, Minn.: E. W. Porter. $1.75.

Parliamentary Law in Fiction.*

Even a Southerner, that politician born, not made, would scarce expect matter for mirth in a treatise upon the principles of parliamentary practice; while the general reader seeks such a book only when hard pressed by that necessity which "knows no law." Certainly, one would as soon look for humor in Euclid as in a manual entitled "The Gavel and the Mace."

In this little volume, however, Mr. Hackett has achieved the incredible. His pages fairly sparkle, and one is in danger of losing his grasp upon the rules laid down for sheer delight in the writer's delicious "way of putting things," as the dear dead and forgotten "Country Parson" used to say. Even the marginal topics are witty, and the very index "pokes fun." Mr. Hackett sees the comic side of our legislators and legislation, and does not hesitate to make his readers see it, too. His literary and historic illusions are exceedingly apt, and are distinguished by the same humorous touch that characterizes his handling of affairs of the present. For example, he speaks of a certain question before the House of Commons "during one of those lively disputations engendered by the habit that John Wilkes, Esquire, about that time had contracted of appearing, disappearing, and reappearing as a member from Middlesex." One feels that Mr. Hackett wrote the book throughout with a twinkle in his eye.

It is, however, not the less an accurate and valuable manual of parliamentary practice, open, as we have hinted, to but one objection—that in the laugh we may forget the law.

Into an age wherein one cannot feed chickens or black boots without belonging to some society, with its meetings and debates, Mr. Hackett's book comes with a special significance. Since he has made his dry subject bud and blossom in so fascinating a way, it is to be hoped that even our dear "Daughters," and "Dames," and "Mothers" will not disdain to "read, mark, and inwardly digest" the succinct and bright chapters, to the future confusion of the profane who haunt their assemblies for the sake of refreshment to the masculine sense of humor.

The public in general, who relish a literary treat, and who desire "a correct and reasonably complete guide to what is now the approved practice of our various legislative bodies, State and National," will do well to put themselves in the possessive case in relation to Mr. Hackett's accurate and clever book.

*THE GAVEL AND THE MACE. Or, Parliamentary Law in Easy Chapters. By Frank Warren Hackett. In one volume. Pp. 262. 12mo. Cloth. New York: McClure, Phillips & Co.

A Story for Children.*

In "The Road to Nowhere" Mr. Morae has produced a children's story book on what is in many ways a new and original plan. It is the same sort of delightfully rambling and vague series of adventures which the little hero and heroine of the story experience that is found in "Alice in Wonderland," to which the book is dedicated. But it is not by any means an imitation of that great classic for the young. It is a new and successful treatment of a popular idea for a child's story; that is, the adventures of the two children who wander off upon a long journey on the road which runs past their house, in the course of which they see and hear many strange and marvelous things. If we should trace this theme back, it would probably be found to originate in the similar stories to be found in the folk-lore of many different peoples, which run back to a common source many ages ago. It is a subject which is very frequent among the German and Slavonic fairy tales. But Mr. Morae has imitated none of these. His story is his own, as is his working out of it. Among the characters who appear before the children on their journey are many delightful and unfamiliar, as well as some of our old favorites. The Hot-Cross Bunny, the Ginger-Snap, and Cirrus the Cloud join with the Princess, the Witch, the Hen, the Cat, the Pig, and many other old friends, in helping the children on their wonderful journey.

The attractiveness of the story, with its quaint humor and bright dialogue, is still further enhanced by the many charming illustrations printed in colors and drawn by the author's sister, Miss Edna Morse. These pictures, scattered bountifully through the text, are in perfect harmony with it, and add greatly to the spirit of humor which emanates from the whole story. They are not the ordinary illustrations of a child's story, but really clever work in a difficult field. This little volume deserves to find its way into many a happy child's heart, and not the little ones alone, but many children of a larger growth will find some hours' hearty enjoyment of the droll conceits of this amusing story.

*THE ROAD TO NOWHERE. A Story for Children. By Livingston B. Morse. Illustrated by Edna Morse. New York: Harper & Bros. 1900.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY'S NEW BOOKS

A Treasury of Irish Poetry in the English Tongue.

Among the contributors to the volume are: LIONEL JOHNSON, A. P. GRAVES, DOUGLAS HYDE, W. B. YEATS, etc.

Edited by the Rev. STOPFORD A. BROOKE and T. W. ROLLESTON, with an introduction by the former. Cloth, 12mo, $1.75

The Men Who Made the Nation.

Illustrated from Contemporary Prints, Documents, etc., reproduced in facsimile.

AN OUTLINE OF UNITED STATES HISTORY FROM 1760 TO 1865. By EDWIN ERLE SPARKS, Ph.D., University of Chicago. Cloth, $2.00

Who's Who? 1901

In addition to the biographies of living men hard to find elsewhere, the book contains much valuable tabulated information

AN ANNUAL BIOGRAPHICAL DICTIONARY. Edited by DOUGLAS SLADEN. In its 53d year of issue. Crown 8vo, $1.75

The Elements of Astronomy.

By the author of "Starland," "Atlas of Astronomy," "The Story of the Sun," etc., etc.

By Sir ROBERT BALL, LL.D., Professor of Astronomy and Geometry in the University of Cambridge. Cloth, illustrated, 80 cents net.

Outlines of the History of the English Language.

An admirable little Manual for the use of Schools and Training Colleges.

By T. N. TOLLER, M. A., Late Fellow of Christ's College, Cambridge, Professor of English, Owen's College. Cloth, 12mo. $1.10 net.

THE NEW NOVELS. Each Cloth, 12mo. $1.50.

The Life and Death of RICHARD YEA-AND-NAY.

Everywhere pronounced the best novel of its year; by Mr. FREDERIC HARRISON even "The only first-class book of 1900."

By MAURICE HEWLETT, author of "The Forest Lovers," "Little Novels of Italy," etc.

In the Palace of the King.

"A charming idyl, full of intense interest."—Boston Advertiser.

"A capital story."—New York Tribune.

A LOVE STORY OF OLD MADRID.

By F. MARION CRAWFORD, Author of "Saracinesca," etc. Illustrated by FRED ROE.

Who Goes There? By B. K. Benson.

An exquisitely written as well as exceedingly brilliant and captivating romance of the civil war."—Atlanta Constitution.

THE STORY OF A SPY IN THE CIVIL WAR.

"Veterans who took part in the campaigns of the Army of the Potomac will follow every page with absorbed interest."—Springfield Republican.

THE MACMILLAN COMPANY, 66 5th Ave., N.Y.

The Greatest and the Most Charming Love Story of the Twentieth Century

SEVENTIETH THOUSAND

The Cardinal's Snuff-Box

$1.50 By Henry Harland. $1.50

"NO STORY SO PURE, SO CHARMING, SO APPEALING, IS TO BE FOUND IN ALL LITERATURE." "IT HAS ALL THE CHARM THAT IS IN LOVE ITSELF." "THE AUTHOR GIVES US THE INEFFABLY SWEET STORY WITH A WIT, A TACT, A MANNER THAT MAKE ONE WONDER WE EVER THOUGHT OF LOVE AS A TALE THAT WAS OLD AND STALE."

It may be read by the seaside, the fireside, in the study, and by the wayside. It suits all moods, for it charms all moods to its own gracious mood.

JOHN LANE, 251 Fifth Avenue, New York.

COMPLETE YOUR DICKENS

John Jasper's Secret

By Charles Dickens, Jr., and Wilkie Collins

A Masterly Sequel to "Edwin Drood"

12mo, $1.25

R. F. FENNO & COMPANY, NEW YORK

Library of the World's Best Music

Bound in 8 Volumes 2,200 Pages

$200.00 Worth of Sheet Music at One-Tenth Value! 350 best old and new songs, 300 instrumental selections, 400 greatest composers. Ably Edited, Superbly Illustrated. Indispensable in every home where there is a piano. Sent free for examination. Send postal for specimen pages containing 4 complete compositions.

THE UNIVERSITY SOCIETY, 78 Fifth Ave., New York.

ANDRE'S CAPTORS.

Judge Dykman Refutes Recent Statements.

To The New York Times Saturday Review:

The New York History Company has published a new History of Westchester County, which is full and complete, and manifests much patient labor and research, and the authors are entitled to great praise for the history they have produced.

Unfortunately, however, they have fallen into some errors in relation to the capture of Major John André, the British spy.

The errors seem to have arisen in this way: William Abbatt has recently published a book which he has called "The Crisis of the Revolution," in which he collected the facts in relation to the capture of Major André and his movements subsequent to his capture, and the authors of the new history say that Abbatt's book is the final authority upon all the details of the capture of André.

They then say that the number of the original party is often erroneously stated as seven, and that William Abbatt shows that it consisted of eight, whose names are accurately given by Mr. Couch.

In the first place, it is to be said that Mr. Abbatt did not say that there were eight persons in the party engaged in the capture of André. He merely says that another person had stated in an application for a pension for the widow of John Dean that he witnessed the arrival of eight persons at Armonk with Major André.

The new history further states that the part of Dean in the affair is overlooked, or only inadequately referred to in most accounts of the capture of André, and then contains this remarkable statement: "That the great importance of the concealed papers was first really recognized by him at a time when André was pleading for his release and making promises which Dean, if not the others, had a very strong suspicion the British officer both could and would fulfill."

Undisputed facts will show how entirely erroneous that statement is.

Paulding, Williams, and Van Wart stopped André in the Highland Turnpike, where Paulding had the well-known conversation with him and ordered him to dismount. They then took down the fence on the west side of the turnpike and all passed through and went about fifteen rods into the field, where they made the search which resulted in the discovery of the incriminating papers. Paulding was the only one of the three who could read writing, and when the papers were found he declared André was a spy.

Then André commenced pleading for his release, and all of his pleading and all of his offers were made then and there and rejected; and during all that time the party on the Davis Hill was half a mile away.

After the incriminating papers were found André was directed to resume his clothing and the party went back to the post road, which they crossed, and then went a considerable distance to the east of it in the field.

They stopped under the shade of a tree near a spring. André rode the horse and Paulding led it.

The four men came down to them, and Paulding said, "We have got a prisoner," and ordered André to dismount.

Nothing was said there about the papers, and they were not exhibited. There is no record of any interference by Dean, either by act or word, or that he was there.

After the four men from the hill had joined the other three with André, they all went to the old White Plains Road, a short distance from the house of Isaac Read, where they borrowed the cards in the morning, and stopped at that house. Thence they went to the house of Jacob Romer, the father of one of the captors. They then conducted the prisoner first to Kensico, then known as Wright's Mills, and then to Sand's Mills at Armonk, in the town of North Castle.

It is further stated in the new history that Abbatt "points out that Dean was the officer in command, and that he took charge of the prisoner when Paulding, Williams, and Van Wart brought him to the top of the hill."

Now, that sentence amounts to nothing as a statement of fact. They say that Abbatt "points out that Dean was the officer in command," not that Abbatt says so, or the fact is so, but if it is so intended for the assertion of fact that John Dean was the officer in command, then it is sufficient to say of it that there is not the least particle of evidence extant to support it, or that John Dean exercised any command or control at any stage of the proceedings.

The claim for the prominence of John Dean in the capture is new, and now brought forward for the first time. He never claimed to be connected with it in any way, and the excuse for his failure to do so is quite far fetched and unsatisfactory. All of the accounts show that John Paulding was the leading spirit in the capture of Major André.

The language of the writers of the new history, when referring to William Abbatt for authority upon this question, is quite guarded. They do not say that Abbatt says there were eight persons in the party, but that he "shows that it consisted of eight." What he shows may be a matter of inference. It will be very strange, if, after all of Mr. Abbatt's investigation, he stated the number at eight. He took his facts on this subject after consultation with me, from an article published by me in The Magazine of American History, in 1889, and in all of his conversations with me, he never intimated that he had detected any error in my statement of facts.

It is further erroneously stated in the new history that there were eight persons in the party concerned in the capture of Major André. That assertion is not only unsupported by evidence, but it is in direct contradiction of every statement on the subject. The number is stated at eight in the article of Mr. Couch as it is printed in the new history, and it seemed strange to me that he should have fallen into that error, as he is entirely familiar with the facts in relation to the capture of André.

It turns out, however, that he stated the fact as it has always been understood, that there were seven persons engaged in the capture of André, but the number was changed from seven to eight after his manuscript left his possession. Fortunately, however, for Mr. Couch, there yet remains in his article the statement that the money received for the articles taken from André was divided "among the party of seven."

After the most thorough examination of all the evidence, I have reached the conclusion that John Dean was not concerned in the capture of Major André at all, and that he did not constitute one of the seven men who were engaged in that capture. The evidence that he was not so engaged is sufficient to sustain the verdict of a petit jury against him. I will first state all of the evidence there is in favor of his presence with the captors and his participation in the capture.

The first writer who introduced the name of John Dean in connection with the enterprise was Benson J. Lossing. In his "Field Book of the Revolution" he says: John Yerks proposed the expedition and first enlisted John Dean, James Romer, and Abraham Williams, and John Paulding; that Paulding procured a permit and persuaded Isaac Van Wart to accompany them; that on their way they were joined by David Williams. That made seven with Yerks. Lossing gave no authority for that statement, and it differs from the statement of the captors. David Williams said in an original statement made by him that John Paulding requested him to go on the scout; that they started, and, after walking a mile or so, they fell in with David Williams, and they went to the barn of John Anderson, where they slept that night. He says nothing about Dean or Yerks.

In the statement of David Williams he said: "It was about 1 o'clock P. M., as I was standing in the door with Mr. Benedict's daughter, * * * when I saw six men coming. She remarked: 'They have guns.' I jumped over a board fence and met them. 'Boys,' said I, 'where are you going?' They answered: 'We are going to Tarrytown.' I then said, 'If you will wait until I get my gun I will go with you.' The names of five of the six persons were Isaac Van Wart, John Paulding, William Williams, John Yerks, and James Romer. The name of the sixth I have forgotten. John Yerks told Bolton it was Isaac See."

David Williams further stated as follows: "After procuring them," [the cards,] "we went out to Davis's Hill, where we separated, leaving four on the hill, and three, viz., Van Wart, Paulding, and myself, proceeded on the Tarrytown road."

In a sworn statement made by John Paulding he said this, among other things: "That they delivered over André with the papers found on him to Col. Jameson, who commanded on the lines; that shortly thereafter they were summoned to appear as witnesses at the headquarters of Gen. Washington, at Tappan; that they were at Tappan some days, * * * and while there, Col. William S. Smith redeemed the watch [of André] from them for thirty guineas, which, with the money received for the horse, saddle, and bridle, they divided equally among themselves, and they and four other persons who belonged to their party, but when André was taken were about half a mile off, keeping a lookout on the hill."

The Rev. Dr. Todd, who wrote the article upon the town of Greenburgh for Scharf's "History of Westchester County," said this: "The names of the young men as given long after by David Williams were Isaac Von Wart, John Paulding, William Williams, John Yerks, James Romer, and the name of the sixth, added Mr. Williams, I have forgotten. It has been said to have been Isaac See, but Lossing gives the name of John Dean, which seems to be correct, having been confirmed by a statement of a citizen of Tarrytown, who received it directly from Isaac Van Wart himself."

Who that citizen was or to whom he made the statement Dr. Todd does not say. In any view it is hearsay evidence at best. So that the statement that the seventh man was John Dean has no evidence for its support, but the assertion of Lossing alone unsupported by any authority.

Moreover, I have two original statements of Van Wart, and he does not mention the name of Dean in either of them.

I will now state the evidence to prove that there were but seven men in the party engaged in the capture of Major André, and that John Dean was not one of them.

Mr. Bolton, the author of the first "History of Westchester County," received the story of the capture of André from John Yerks, who was one of the party, and Yerks told Bolton that he proposed the matter to John Paulding, and that while Paulding was obtaining the necessary permit Yerks enlisted Isaac See, James Romer, and Abraham Williams. That Paulding soon returned with the permit, accompanied by Isaac Van Wart. That they [six] took the road to Cross River, where they were joined by David Williams, who was the seventh man. Yerks did not mention the name of John Dean at all.

Washington Irving in his life of Washington, says the party consisted of seven men. He says "Four took post on a hill above Sleepy Hollow, to watch the road which crossed the country," but he does not give their names.

The three others, John Paulding, Isaac Van Wart, and David Williams by name, stationed themselves on the road which runs parallel to the Hudson.

The following is an extract from a paper prepared by Gen. Pierre Van Cortlandt and read before the Albany Institute. Gen. Van Cortlandt heard the story of the capture from John Paulding many times.

In a letter which he wrote to a friend about the time when an application was made to Congress to increase the pension of the captors, he said: "I have heard the story of the capture from Paulding thirty years ago, and repeatedly since. It was always uniform and never contradictory." The extract is this: "Although the names of Paulding, Williams, and Van Wart have passed into history as the captors of André, yet the party to which they belonged consisted of seven persons. Their names were John Yerks, John Paulding, Isaac See, James Romer, Abraham Williams; Isaac Van Wart, to join them, while Yerks enlisted. Abraham Williams, James Romer, and Isaac See proceeding to Pleasantville, they were joined on the way by David Williams. * * * Romer, Abraham Williams, See, and Yerks, stationing themselves on the hill above the village, while the remaining three concealed themselves among the trees and bushes which bordered the Post Road."

Here we have a direct statement of the names of the four persons who were stationed on the hill. John Dean was not there, and as he was not there he did not constitute one of the party, for there never was any dispute about the names of the three actual captors, who were by the Post Road.

Mr. Sparks, in his life of Benedict Arnold, says this: "It happened that the same morning on which André crossed Pines Bridge, seven persons who resided near Hudson's River, on the neutral ground, agreed voluntarily to go out in company, armed, watch the road, and intercept any suspicious stragglers or droves of cattle that might be seen passing toward New York. Four of this party were stationed on a hill, where they had a view of the road for a considerable distance. The three others named, John Paulding, David Williams, and Isaac Van Wart, were concealed in the bushes at another place, and very near the road."

Sargent, in his life of André, says this: "On the preceding day seven young men, mostly natives of and well acquainted with the neighborhood, had agreed to waylay the road in quest of spoil."

Lossing, in his "Field Book of the Revolution," says: "On the morning when André crossed Pines Bridge, a little band of seven volunteers went out near Tarrytown to prevent cattle being driven to New York."

Thus Lossing says there were seven persons in the company, but names John Dean as one, instead of Isaac See, contrary to every other statement, and all other historic evidence, except Dr. Todd, who followed him.

I have now shown that the statement in the new history that there were eight men in the party concerned in the capture of Major André is not only unsupported by evidence, but is in direct conflict with all of the evidence on the subject.

I have also shown that the claim for the prominence of John Dean in the transaction is entirely destitute of support, and finally I have shown that John Dean was not one of the party. The claim for his participation falls with the failure to show that there were eight instead of seven persons engaged in the capture or rather in the party engaged in the capture.

It is quite unfortunate that the authors of the new history made an effort to change the settled facts in the André case. It was a most remarkable episode in the history of the Revolutionary War, and the full blaze of history has been turned upon it.

The number and names of the persons engaged in the capture have been long known, and their identity well settled. No new evidence has been discovered to change the current of history, and the historical student will be at a loss to discover any adequate motive for the effort.

J. O. DYKMAN.

White Plains, Jan. 7, 1901.

THE SEASON'S BEST BOOKS.

A List of Our Most Successful Publications and the Reasons for Their Success.

To your dilettante literary man the sales of books may not be of any particular interest, but that they are to the general public is attested by the fact that the publisher invariably announces a large sale as his most potent advertiser.

It may not be out of place, therefore, to note which of our books that we have advertised so widely have done the best during the Christmas rush. Here they are, divided into two classes and arranged alphabetically:

Fiction.

A Bicycle of Cathay, by Frank R. Stockton.
The Cardinal's Rose, by van Tassel Sutphen.
Chloris of the Island, by H. B. Marriott Watson.
The Conspirators, by Robert W. Chambers.
Devil Tales, by Virginia Frazer Boyle.
Eleanor, by Mrs. Humphry Ward.
The Expatriates, by Lilian Bell.
The Idiot at Home, by John Kendrick Bangs.
The Love of Parson Lord, by Mary E. Wilkins.
Lessons in Love, by Katrina Trask.
The Mantle of Elijah, by I. Zangwill.
The Man That Corrupted Hadleyburg, by Mark Twain.
Men with the Bark On, by Frederic Remington.
The Meloon Farm, by Maria Louise Pool.
The Passing of Thomas, by Thomas A. Janvier.
Red Pottage, by Mary Cholmondeley.
The Roggie and Reggie Stories, by Gertrude Smith.

Miscellaneous Books.

The Browning Letters.
From India to the Planet Mars, by Prof. Th. Flournoy.
Hypnotism in Mental and Moral Culture, by Dr. J. D. Quackenbos.
Literary Friends and Acquaintance, by W. D Howells.
Lucid Intervals, by E. S. Martin.
The Martyrdom of an Empress, Anonymous.
Manners and Social Usages, by Mrs. John Sherwood. (New Ed.)
Mother Goose for Grown-Ups, by Guy We more Carryl.
Napoleon—the Last Phase, by Lord Rosebery.
The Riddle of the Universe, by Ernst Haeckel.
The Story of the Nineteenth Century Science, by Henry Smith Williams, M. D.
The Unknown, by Camille Flammarion.
Women of the Bible, by Eminent Divines.

The strength of this list lies obviously in its wide range.

Here are books that appeal to almost every class of reader, from the college professor, who buys a book by Haeckel instinctively, because he knows it is by the greatest living scientist, to the child who is pleased by the colored pictures in the Roggie and Reggie Stories. The list of fiction includes admirable examples of almost every school. The intellectual love story, the romantic love story, humor, dialect and satire are all represented. The list of miscellaneous books includes the most notable works of the year in science, history and biography.

The books are not all new. For example, "The Browning Letters" and "The Martyrdom of an Empress" have both been on the market for two seasons, but the very fact that they are still among our best sellers is in itself the strongest proof of the remarkable character of these books.

* * * * * * *

You have probably been reading the newspaper accounts of the hazing investigation at West Point.

If you want a complete and faithful picture of the life of a boy at the military academy read Captain Charles King's Cadet Days.

This is a book by a man who has been through it all and knows whereof he speaks. It is illustrated by Zogbaum. $1.25.

Harper & Brothers

FRANKLIN SQUARE, NEW YORK

OMAR ONCE MORE.

A New Edition with Commentary and Bibliographical Introduction.*

The Knickerbocker Press has just issued another edition of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam, containing the text of the fifth or generally accepted edition, as well as many unusual features of great interest, so that this edition must of necessity find a place on the shelves of all Omar collectors.

Prof. E. Dennison Ross has contributed to the volume an introductory essay of about seventy pages, on the life and times of Omar Khayyam, divided into two portions, the first containing a review of the political condition of Persia during Omar's lifetime, giving in this way a sort of frame work for the sketch of Omar which follows, all positively known facts in his life being therein summarized and a list of his writings added. This is followed by a biographical sketch of Edward FitzGerald, succeeded in turn by the quatrains themselves. The author, Mr. H. M. Batson, following with about 160 pages of commentary, the quatrains being taken up and discussed, line for line, the author first giving a good description of Persian poetry in general, and especially of the ruba'i or quatrain.

In his preface, Mr. Batson says his book has been written with a view to helping those who, on their first introduction to Omar Khayyam as interpreted by FitzGerald, find difficulty in understanding the metaphysical side of his writings.

Most of us know Omar through the pages of his paraphraser, Edward FitzGerald, whose beautiful rendering is now one of our most cherished classics; but the fascination exercised by FitzGerald is not wanting in Omar himself, as a study of literal translations will soon convince the inquirer who is not able to read him in the original Persian—and the chief reason of this fascination is not far to seek. Nothing is more impressive than to find ourselves, our emotions, our doubts, our immature beliefs, depicted by a great soul that has been for nearly eight hundred years numbered with the immortal dead; in him we see reflected our own heart-searchings, and are not a little touched by them. But it is necessary to recollect, as I shall presently point out, that all which passes under his name was not written by Omar; and it is to be hoped that some competent scholar may at an early day depart so far from the ordinary routine as to give us, as nearly as may be done, the real Omar of the eleventh century—we do not want new metrical translations so much as a judicious sifting of texts, which might leave a residuum genuine beyond dispute.

Mr. Batson, in preparing his commentary on the Rubaiyat, has drawn largely upon the translations and editions of Omar Khayyam made by Edward Heron-Allen, Dole, John Payne, Whinfield, Garner, and McCarthy, as well as upon the "Letters and Literary Remains of Edward FitzGerald," edited by William Aldis Wright, the Glyde Life of FitzGerald," the rare "Two Suffolk Friends," written by F. H. Groome, as well as upon valuable notes on Omar contained in Dean Plumtre's "Ecclesiastes"; confessing also indebtedness to Swinburne's "Blake," and to various magazine articles on Omar Khayyam or his translators.

Prof. Ross also contributes a prefatory note to his sketch of the life and times of Omar Khayyam, in which he says it may indeed be considered rash to attempt the biography of a man of whom so little is known; but the great interest shown in Omar, and the very inadequate biographical sketches so far presented to the public has induced him to collect all available material for such a life to be found in Persian and Arabic literature; summarizing also the political events of the time, followed by all that is at present known of Omar Khayyam from Oriental authorities.

Leaving out of consideration the political position of Nishapur and Merv, the towns in the Province of Khorasan, in Northeastern Persia, with which Omar was most closely connected, and which were at the height of their glory at the time of his death, we find Prof. Ross adding very materially to our knowledge of Omar himself. His account is based on three classes of authorities—the statements of persons who actually knew Omar, two in all; allusions found in works dating from the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries, five in all, and references in works later than the fourteenth century, from which he has chosen the few most important. He also adds that the oldest known "Tezkiret," or Lives of the Poets, 'Awfi's, (about 1200 A. D.,) makes no mention of Omar, which does not prove him unacquainted with the quatrains, but only that he did not consider them important enough to warrant Omar's inclusion among the great poets of Persia, while Dawlat Shah, writing much later, simply mentions Omar in connection with another poet. The "Chahar Makala," by Nizami-i-'Aruzi of Sarmakand, written in the first half of the twelfth century, contains an allusion to Omar, which is said to have been known to Europeans as long as Omar himself. Mr. E. G. Browne has recently published an English version of the whole book, from which the following extract has been taken:

In the year A. H. 506 (A. D. 1112-13) Khwaja Imam Omar Khayyam, and Khwaja Imam Muzaffar-i-Isfizari had alighted in the City of Balkh, in the street of the slave sellers, in the house of Amir Abu Sa'd, and I had joined that assembly. In the midst of our convivial gathering I heard that "Argument of the Truth," Omar, say: "My grave will be in a spot where the trees will shed their blossoms on me twice a year." This thing seemed to me impossible, though I knew that one such as he would not speak idle words. When I arrived at Nishapur in the year A. H. 530, (A. D. 1135-36,) it being then some years since that great man had veiled his countenance in the dust, and this lower world had been bereaved of him, I went to visit his grave on the eve of Friday, (seeing that he had the claims of a master on me,) taking with me a guide to point out to me his tomb. So he brought me out to the Hira cemetery. I turned to the left, and his tomb lay at the foot of a garden wall, over which pear trees and peach trees thrust their heads, and on his grave had fallen so many flower leaves that his dust was hidden beneath the flowers.

Another reference to Omar will be found in a little-known historical work, published in 1405, "The Paradise of Histories," which contains citations from earlier books, one being the exact words of a man who knew Omar in the flesh: "Omar, the son of Ibrahim Khayyam, surpassed his contemporaries in most sciences, and especially in astronomy. He is the author of world renowned and incomparable treatises; among his poems is the following quatrain:

"Every atom which has been on the face of the earth
Was once a sun-faced, Venus-browed beauty;
Blow away the dust from a beauty's cheek with delicacy,
For this, too, was once the cheek and ringlet of a beauty."

Prof. Ross enumerates other allusions to Omar, one to be found in "The Delight of Souls," a history of learned men, by Mohammed Shahrazuri, dating from the middle of the thirteenth century; while a Sufi treatise on the progress of the soul, written A. D. 1223, Nejmyud-Din Razi, contains a long criticism on Omar. "To form an estimate of his utter shamelessness and corruption, it is only necessary to read the following verses composed by him." A little later in the same century will be found a well-known criticism of Omar in Ibn-el-Kifti's "History of Learned Men"; while in a geographical work in Arabic, written by Zakariya-el-Kazwini, who died A. D. 1283, will be found a reference to Omar: "Among the learned men of Nishapur was Omar Khayyam. He was a man versed in all branches of philosophy, and especially in mathematics." The next allusion to Omar is found in Rashid-ud-Din's "Compendium of Histories," 1310, which contains the oldest version of the story of "The Three School Friends."

Of the later accounts of Omar Khayyam, only one, the "Millennium History," which ended with the year 1000 of the Hijra, that is the end of the sixteenth century, adds anything new to our knowledge of Omar. This refers to various scientific pamphlets of his composition, as well as to his belief in the transmigration of souls.

The whole account of Omar Khayyam's life is most interesting; by profession he was an astronomer, and one of the eight men appointed by Melik Shah to reform the calendar, and who instituted the famous Jalali era. While it is supposed that Omar wrote a good many books, ten only are known to us by name; while only three, the Rubaiyat, "Demonstrations of the Problems in Algebra," and "Some Difficulties of Euclid's Definitions;" are all that are in actual existence. The algebra has been edited and translated by M. Woepcke, while the "Euclid Definitions" exists in manuscript form in the Leyden Library.

In concluding his introduction Prof. Ross reminds us that the Persian quatrain, short as it is, is as entirely finished and independent in form as is our own sonnet:

"The ruba'i form of verse is essentially Persian in origin, and as far as mere metrical form is concerned, it was used by the very earliest Persian poets of whom we have any record. It is, however, Abu Sa'id-ibn Abi-i-Khayr (968-1049) who must be regarded as the founder of the epigrammatical quatrain. He was the first to make exclusive use of this form for all his poetical compositions, and he gave to it that special stamp as a medium of terse philosophic utterance which it has retained ever since. To quote the words of Dr. Ethé, 'He made the quatrain the focus of all mystic-pantheistic refractions.'"

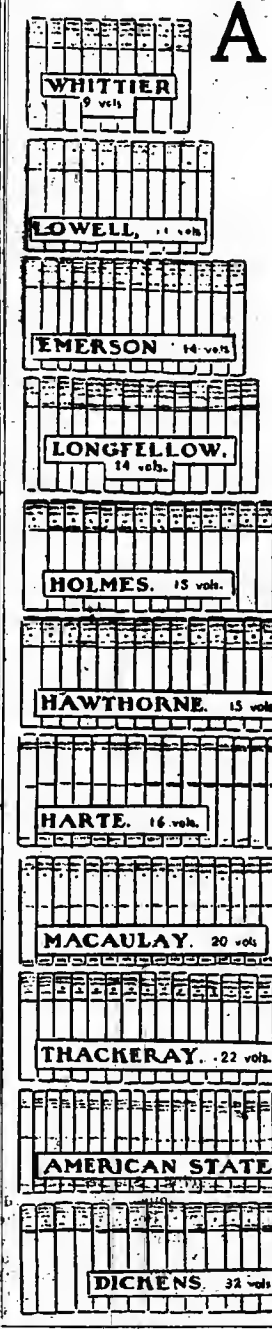
In the introductory chapter to his commentary—in which the quatrains are taken up one by one—Mr. Batson also adds the following short synopsis of Persian poetry, which cannot fail to be found of interest to Omarians:

The poetry of Persia includes the epic and the elegy, the lyrics and the ode, but in the union of mystic and moral through the medium of the ruba'i or quatrain, most of the great poets have found their main vehicle of expression. With some it is the ethical side of their writings which we chiefly know, with others it is the mystical; but in either case the stanzas are strung together with a want of consecutiveness which is extremely embarrassing to the student. No sequence of thought is possible, the form of the ruba'i forbidding anything more continuous than short gnomic utterances contained within a given compass. Even if the work is a long one its poems are quite unconnected in argument; for the quatrain is necessarily complete in itself; three lines introduce the subject and the fourth "drives the nail through the heart." But this is not the whole of the difficulty we find in attempting to pursue the thought of a Persian poet. He writes his sententious verses in a certain order, in which, however, his readers are not permitted to find them. The copying scribe arranges them after the diwan or alphabetical fashion—a method hallowed by long custom. He searches for the rhyme word in each stanza, and arranges the stanzas in accordance with it; all those whose rhyme words end in a are classed together, then those which end in b, and so on to the last letter of the alphabet, so that of all the quatrains written by Omar Khayyam, or attributed to him, no one knows in what order they should be presented; and the only possible clue to the evolution of his religious and philosophical thought is thus denied his readers. FitzGerald to be sure, arranged a number of stanzas with a certain sequence of ideas, but this selection is illusory and misleading, though interesting as an attempt to read unity of design in a collection of isolated epigrams.

*THE RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM. Translanted by Edward FitzGerald. With a Commentary by H. M. Batson and a Biographical Introduction by E. D. Ross-Mottos. Pp. xiii.-288. New York and London: G. P. Putnam's Sons. The Knickerbocker Press. 1900. $1.50.

"Wasps and Their Ways," by Margaret W. Morley, author of "Down North and Up Along," is a nature book of considerable interest and sympathy. It is being published by Dodd, Mead & Co.

A Good Library



HOW TO OBTAIN IT.

A NEW OFFER to bring these and other good books within the reach of every family.

Messrs. Houghton, Mifflin & Co.
Please send me by mail without charge circulars of the books checked on the following list, viz.:
..Whittier; ..Lowell; ..Longfellow;
..Emerson; ..Holmes; ..Hawthorne;
...Harte; ...Dickens; ...Thackeray;
..Macaulay; ..American Statesmen.
Also full particulars of your
NEW OFFER FOR 1901
Name.....
Address.....
(From THE NEW YORK TIMES.)

Cut this out and mail it to
HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO.,
11 East 17th Street, NEW YORK.

☞Books sold on easy payments without increase over the lowest net cash prices.

NO CHARGE FOR OPENING AN ACCOUNT.

ECCENTRICITIES OF GENIUS

By Major J. B. POND.

READ WHAT IS SAID OF IT.

"IT IS MANY A DAY SINCE I HAVE READ SO FASCINATING A BOOK OF REMINISCENCES."—NEWELL DWIGHT HILLIS.
"ONE OF THE MOST INTERESTING BOOKS OF THE YEAR FROM ANY POINT OF VIEW."—ROCHESTER SUNDAY HERALD
"IT FAIRLY REEKS WITH PERSONALITY."—HOME JOURNAL.
"ADORNED BY MANY PICTURES NEVER BEFORE PUBLISHED."
—DETROIT JOURNAL.
"POSSESSES UNPARALLELED ATTRACTIONS."—BOSTON JOURNAL.
"THE WHOLE BOOK IS MARVELOUSLY INTERESTING."—BOSTON TRANSCRIPT.
"AS INTERESTING AS DISRAELI'S FAMOUS 'CURIOSITIES OF LITERATURE.'"—PHILADELPHIA ITEM.
"SHINING BY REFLECTED LIGHT, ITS PAGES LITERALLY TEEM WITH INTERESTING ANECDOTES."—CHICAGO EVENING POST.
"ORIGINALITY STAMPS THE VOLUME, COPIOUSLY ILLUSTRATED WITH PORTRAITS."—THE BOSTON GLOBE
"THE GET-UP IS WORTHY OF THE MATTER OF THE BOOK."
—PHILADELPHIA EVENING TELEGRAPH.

It is a handsome octavo volume, 5¾ x 8¼ inches, of 620 pages, with 100 half-tone portrait illustrations. Beautifully bound in English silk cloth. At all bookstores. $3.50.

G. W. DILLINGHAM CO., Publishers, 119-121 W. 23d ST., NEW YORK.

The Master Christian

By MARIE CORELLI

NOW IN ITS

90th THOUSAND

A novel in which the truth is fearlessly spoken.
12mo, cloth, $1.50. At all booksellers.
DODD, MEAD & CO., PUBLISHERS, N. Y.

JOURNALISM AS A PROFESSION, by JOHN S. RITENOU, and THE PROFITS AND REWARDS OF JOURNALISM, by THEO. A. DE WEESE. Two interesting brochures. Mailed, postpaid, for 25c. S. A. NELSON, Publisher, 16 and 18 Park Place, New York.

A YOUNG AMERICAN GENTLEMAN OF EDUCATION and refinement desires position of a literary nature. A., Box 143 Times.

BOOKS—ALL OUT-OF-PRINT BOOKS SUPPLIED; state wants. BAKER'S GREAT BOOKSHOP, John Bright St., Birmingham, England.

ANY BOOKS, OLD OR NEW, SUPPLIED TO out-of-town residents. Questions answered. Orders promptly filled. Liberal discount on new book. I. BAYLIES, 418 Putnam Ave., Brooklyn, New York City.

ALL KINDS OF BOOKS BOUGHT, SOLD AND exchanged. Write for catalogue. DAVIS' BOOKSTORE, 1535 Broadway, near 45th St.

THE LIBRARY OF THE LATE SAMUEL M. Perkins, consisting of a high class of Literature, History, Encyclopedia Britannica, etc., is placed on sale, every day and evening, from date, at 353 Lewis Av., cor. Hancock St., Brooklyn.

The New York Times.

Saturday Review of Books and Art

SUPPLEMENT TO

THE NEW YORK TIMES.

SIXTEEN PAGES.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1901.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY.

The President and Board of Trustees of "Columbia University in the City of New York" have just made a statement of the situation of the university and its prospects that should appeal with much force to the citizens who care for the better things of our metropolitan life. We shall not enter into the details in this place, as the statement has already been published in the daily edition of THE NEW YORK TIMES. In substance it is that the university has occupied the noble property on Morningside Heights, and made the great extensions in its work with which the public is familiar, at an expense in round numbers of $8,000,000. Of this only $3,000,000 remains as a debt, on which the annual interest charge is $98,500. The Trustees say:

Careful computation justifies the Trustees in saying that in eight years from now the university will be able, by the increase of income from its fees and endowments, to care for its floating debt without embarrassment to its educational work. The falling in of contingent interest already definitely established may hasten this result importantly.

If our interest payable can be taken care of for eight years, the problem of the university, growing out of its removal to the new site, will be solved.

The trust fund of the university has been increased by $1,250,000; the library has grown from 120,000 to over 300,000 volumes, the teaching force from 226 to 361, and the number of students from 1,064 to 2,060. These figures do not include either Barnard College or the Teachers College.

Since removal, also, an educational deficiency of more than $48,000 has been overcome, and the university, after this academic year, will be running within its income, after assuming the full care of its enlarged plant.

This is an excellent and even remarkable showing. The benefits conferred on the city by the university cannot be measured in money, but it is an important element in its usefulness that its affairs are managed with the energy, prudence, and sagacity of a great business enterprise. That fact is a guarantee of its permanence and the growth of its beneficent influence. What has been accomplished since the change in site was determined on is ample evidence that the management of the university is of a very high order. We should say that there ought to be no difficulty in securing the very moderate amount needed annually for so short a period as eight years, when the basis of the university's work will be solid and enduring.

The position of Columbia is a peculiar one. It is practically the sole representative of university education in this great city. It has only recently taken on itself the task of meeting with some degree of completeness the requirements of this vast population as well as of the students it draws from other parts of the country. The task was a most serious one. That it has been anywhere nearly accomplished, the friends and especially the administrators of Columbia would be the last to claim. But they can claim with entire candor and modesty that the task has been entered on with intelligence, zeal, and remarkable energy, and that the beginning that has been made amply justifies the effort and gives sure promise of progress along sound lines. Particularly they may say that the university is a vital organism with the capacity for development. It has already shown its adaptation to changed conditions and its ability to meet new needs, and it is the purpose of the managers of the great institution that it shall be able more and more and better and better to do this. It is in this way only that it can maintain its function in the complex and always changing life of the metropolis. We heartily wish it the utmost prosperity and we commend it unreservedly to the fostering care of the intelligent citizens of New York.

THE LANDSCAPE ARCHITECTS.

The quasi-public dinner of the American Society of Landscape Architects, if that be the proper style of the organization, which was held on Jan. 5 in New York, had possibilities of considerable importance. What was explicitly done had perhaps none other than an esoteric significance. The assembled landscape architects resolved that they would, thenceforth, hold three dinners a year, and that at each of these assemblages they would present, for the criticism of their brethren, what they might have been "up to" since the previous meeting.

And here at once occurs the previous question. How is a landscape architect to show what he has been "up to"? In architecture proper it is assumed that this is easy enough. The projected work can be shown by drawings. And it is quite true that, though nothing can be falser than the perspective effect of an architectural drawing, made by a man who is, as the present rule, not even the author of the design which he thus "fakes," yet the things that are shown on an architectural drawing ought to be made to "come true." But in a design for landscape gardening the case is different. The design can be shown only in a model. Even so, it represents the hopes of the designer rather than his certitudes. If the obstinate trees and the obstinate grass refuse to grow as his design ordains that they shall grow, the effects he has aimed at will not be realized and his work will be, to that extent, a failure.

But at all events he has advantages over the architect who is at present trying, in complete and complacent ignorance, to usurp his function, and whose notion of landscape gardening seems to be that it is something "axial," symmetrical, and subject to architecture, which is subject to the same conditions. Whoever wishes to see this theory reduced to an absurdity, and put to an open shame, cannot do better than to observe the results of such public parkmaking as has been done in accordance with it. The landscape architect, unlike the unqualified architect, at least is "charged with knowledge" about the places and conditions in which trees and grass will probably grow, and the places in which they probably will not. He is, more or less, a horticulturist and an arboriculturist. This is one of the reasons for wishing very well to the Society of Landscape Architects, and more power to its corporate elbow.

SLANG AND VOCABULARY.

Some one recently remarked in the columns of THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW that if young persons were induced to regard books as educators instead of mere story tellers there would be less slang in our daily conversation. Now slang is a lazy man's crutch, and few of us are aware how much of it we employ. Among young persons it is, of course, used more than among the older, but all of us use too much of it. We are unconsciously inoculated with the views of the smart college youth, whose conversation is seldom "Yea, yea," or "Nay, nay," but is more frequently "You bet" or "Nit." From the habit of leaning upon ready-made expressions imported into our daily talk from the ball field, the race track, and the variety show, we come to narrow our vocabulary so that we cannot speak elegantly even when we wish to do so.

It is said by Treveiyan that Macaulay found by experiment that with a vocabulary of four hundred words he could get along very well in a foreign tongue. He was in the habit of committing such a vocabulary to memory and used a Bible as his universal guide to languages other than his own. Now, if a man can manage in a foreign land with such a small vocabulary, it is likely that many of us do not go much further in the use of our own tongue. Yet we have at our disposal the richest of all languages. To put aside deliberately, or through neglect, such treasures of speech is little short of criminally wicked.

Reading stories is not the easiest way, however, of increasing one's vocabulary, for we pay too little attention to the details of diction when we are trying to absorb the contents of an interesting volume. If any one will try the experiment of reading a little in a good dictionary two or three times a week, he will be amazed at the number of words which he has once known and forgotten from disuse of them, and of others whose existence he never suspected. A professional writer who found that his vocabulary was becoming inelastic tried the experiment of reading a dictionary and selecting at each reading two or three words which had fallen out of his list. These he made it a point to employ as often as possible in the writing of the ensuing week, and the following week he added some more in the same way. He was astonished and rejoiced by the results. Those who desire to converse without recourse to slang might find this method profitable.

KEEP EVERLASTINGLY AT IT.

There is no profession, no occupation, that requires so much patience, perseverance, and pluck as literature; no occupation in which it is so necessary to follow the noble advice of Burke: "Even in despair, work on." No person, in these days, like Byron, wakes up some morning and finds himself famous. Literary success is the result of long, hard, and unceasing work, in nine cases out of ten. Keeping everlastingly at it is the only certain way to win literary success. It may be slow—it may take years, but if you have it in you, success will come in the end—come often when least expected; for it is the unexpected that always happens.

Example is better than precept; so here are a few examples taken at random from literary history. Few men ever worked harder, longer, and with less success than Thackeray during the first twelve years of his literary career. For years he was known to editors as a consummate man of letters before he was recognized by the reading public. Did he stop writing—did he lose courage—did he give up the battle of life? No. He gave the world "Vanity Fair," and success at last crowned his works. From that time until his death, fifteen years later, he shared with Dickens the throne of English fiction.

Read the life of our own Hawthorne. What an example of noble courage and perseverance does it not unfold! After 15 years of literary work he spoke of himself as being "the obscurest literary man in America." He was forty-six when "The Scarlet Letter" was published, which placed a crown of literary glory upon his head!

Tennyson did not become the greatest poet of his age at one bound. Nor did he pass, like a Napoleon among poets, from one success to another, until he received the laurel crown. Before he was twenty years old he published a thin volume of poems. The wise critics laughed at him and his verses, just as they had laughed at Byron twenty years before. Christopher North, the leading critic of the time, said "Alfred is best as an owl, [one of his earlier songs was to an owl.] All he requires to make him immortal is to be shot, stuffed, and set up in a glass case, and be stuck in a museum." The young poet did not throw down his pen in despair and accept the verdict as final. He continued to write, but he published nothing for ten years. When he again appeared before the public he was saluted by both critics and readers as the rising young monarch of the throne of poetry, which had been vacant since the death of Byron. He accepted the honors now thrust upon him with the same calmness that he had received the harsh criticism hurled at his earlier volume. He went serenely on in his glorious career, studying and writing; always true to his art, and never publishing anything that might dim the lustre of his brilliant fame. Before another decade of years had passed he astonished the world by a series of poems which placed him not only first among the poets of his age, but gave him a high rank among the illustrious bards whose genius has illuminated the centuries.

Among the French novelists of the nineteenth century, three stand out pre-eminently famous—Victor Hugo, George Sand, and Balzac. The last two won their way to literary success through toil, disappointment, and discouragement. George Sand, when speaking of her early experience, used to say that editors lighted their fires with her literary failures. She persevered, however, and with the usual result, for she made a splendid fame and a handsome fortune.

Balzac's career should be studied by all young writers. His early life was clouded by poverty, suffering, and many disappointments. He lived in a garret, with scarcely sufficient food to keep body and soul together, but he worked with indefatigable energy, and a noble determination to conquer fate, to win fame, or die with pen in hand. After a desperate struggle for fifteen years he emerged from poverty and obscurity, rose to a pre-eminent place among the great writers of the nineteenth century, married a Princess, and reared himself a palace in the heart of Paris, where he had fought bravely and won a noble victory against the world.

The experience of Anthony Trollope was anything but encouraging in the beginning of his literary career. In his autobiography he tells us that during the first ten years of his literary life he did not make enough to pay for the pens, ink, and paper which he used. He kept everlastingly at it, however, and lived to receive $11,000 for a single novel, ("Can You Forgive Her?") During his literary life of thirty-five years he made $370,000 by his writings, averaging about $10,000 a year; some years he made as much as $20,000, for instance, in 1864, when he wrote "The Small House at Allington" and "Can You Forgive Her?" and in 1869, when he published "Phineas Finn" and "He Knew He Was Right."

This is a splendid showing for a writer of Anthony Trollope's mediocre talents, and it should be remembered that during twenty years of this time he was an active and efficient clerk in the British Post Office. He made his ordinary abilities tell by regular and systematic work. In his autobiography he justly claims "whatever merit should be accorded for persevering diligence in his profession." His motto was "Nulla dies sine linea." Keeping this up day after day, month after month, and year after year enabled Anthony Trollope to do more literary work than any other man of his time. He wrote only three hours a day, but he never failed to devote that much time every day to that work, whether he was at home or abroad, on land or at sea, in town or country. He was at his desk every morning at 5:30, and worked faithfully for three hours. He did not sit nibbling his pen, or gazing at the ceiling, waiting for ideas, or words to express them. He was a minute man—wrote 250 words every fifteen minutes. These 1,000 words an hour enabled him to turn out ten printed pages every day. But he was not a slave of the pen. He was a mighty hunter, a great traveler, a clubman, a diner-out, a whist player, a society man; in fact, he led a very full life.

Anthony Trollope has been cited, not as a model novelist, but as a model of literary industry. While he lived his books were read, but who reads his novels now?

To those who are not drawn to literary work until late in life, the case of Mrs. Frances Trollope offers great encouragement. She was fifty years old when she published her first book, the notorious "Domestic Manners of the Americans," which was so bitterly denounced by the people of this country sixty-five years ago. She made $5,000 by that work. She continued to write for twenty-five years, producing in all 114 volumes, chiefly novels and travels. Mrs. Trollope supported her family by her pen, and it was not a very brilliant pen, but keeping everlastingly at it, she made it pay. So can any person of average ability.

There is no royal road to literary success. It requires long, steady, constant work. But success in no other profession is so gloriously rewarded. Dickens rose from poverty and obscurity to a splendid fame, to large wealth, and became an immense power among men. Burns, the plowman, by his genius, was admitted into the best society of Edinburgh, where he fascinated Duchesses; Tom Moore, the son of a poor Irish grocer, became the companion of Princes and nobles. As Byron said, he was "the poet of all circles, and the idol of his own."

To all who aspire to a literary career, there is one golden precept: "Do regular work." One hour a day is better than five hours twice a week. Three hours of writing every day will accomplish wonderful results. Try it. But keep everlastingly at it.

CHARLOTTE BRONTE AND HER PUBLISHERS.

A paper on Charlotte Brontë, to be read in Cornhill for December, will be found of unusual interest. It is written by George M. Smith of Smith, Elder & Co., who in the late forties, after his father's death, was forced, through circumstances, at the age of twenty, to assume the entire responsibility of the firm. Mr. Elder retired in 1845, and the elder Mr. Smith dying in 1846, the boy found a short time later that not only had he to assume the entire responsibility of the firm, but as every penny of his father's money had been invested in the business, and all provision for his mother and sisters depended upon its success, his work was extremely difficult, as the firm's financial position had been greatly undermined, although its business was very good.

Mr. Smith's very interesting paper touches upon the way in which his connection with Mr. W. Smith Williams, whose name is so familiar to all readers of the memoirs and letters of the older writers whose books bore the imprint of Smith, Elder & Co., was formed. Mr. Williams was bookkeeper for a firm of lithographers, with whom Mr. Smith had business dealings, and not too good a one, hating his work, and only finding it endurable through the contribution of reviews and articles, as well as theatrical criticism to The Spectator, then under the editorship of Mr. Rintoul, who, Mr. Smith tells us, hampered his contributor by his dictum that "The Spectator is not enthusiastic and must not be." Arrangements were at once made by which Mr. Williams came to Mr. Smith as literary assistant and general manager of the publishing department. He was a man of shrewd literary judgment, loyal and diligent, the connection lasting until age obliged him to retire from active work.

In July, 1847, a parcel containing a manuscript came into Mr. Williams's hands, bearing the scored out addressee of several firms, which plainly showed it to have been rejected elsewhere. This contained the manuscript of "The Professor," which was not published until after Charlotte Brontë's death. Mr. Williams, after a careful reading of the manuscript, said it showed great literary power, but doubted its being successful as a publication. It was decided, therefore, to write "Currer Bell," declining the book for this reason, but also stating that the firm was of the opinion he could produce a book which would command success.

What followed is too well known to need recapitulation here, although Mr. Smith has managed to put it in very interesting form. The manuscript of "Jane Eyre" was passed upon by Mr. Williams, who handed it to Mr. Smith late one Saturday night with the request that he read it. After breakfast on Sunday the latter took it into his study and began to read, the story at once taking full possession of him. He had an appointment to meet a friend at noon and ride with him, but the book had taken such a hold upon him that a groom was sent with an excuse; lunch came, but he only asked for a sandwich and a glass of wine; dinner was hurried through, and before bedtime he had finished reading the manuscript, which is a strong proof of the power exerted by the story upon all its readers. Mr. Smith adds that he never had any doubts as to the writer's sex, having, perhaps, had the handwriting as a guide, but finding qualities of style and turne of expression which satisfied both Mr. Williams and himself that the writer was a woman.

He next touches upon the familiar story of Charlotte and Anne Brontë's hurried visit to London. Perhaps this account of the first meeting of publisher and author gains new force through being told by one of the principal actors in the scene:

> That particular Saturday morning I was at work in my room, when a clerk reported that two ladies wished to see me. I was very busy and sent out to ask their names. The clerk returned to say that the ladies declined to give their names, but wished to see me on a private matter. After a moment's hesitation I told him to show them in. I was in the midst of my correspondence, and my thoughts were far away from "Currer Bell" and "Jane Eyre." Two rather qualntly dressed little ladies, pale faced and anxious looking, walked into my room; one of them came forward and presented me with a letter addressed, in my own handwriting, to "Currer Bell, Esq." I noticed that the letter had been opened, and said, with some sharpness, "Where did you get this from?" "From the Post Office," was the reply. "It was addressed to me. We have both come that you might have ocular proof that there are at least two of us." This, then, was "Currer Bell" in person. I need hardly say that I was at once keenly interested, not to say excited.

Mr. Williams was called down and presented, and plans were made for the entertainment of the sisters. The most interesting account of this first visit will be found to be the personal impression made upon Mr. Smith by the two sisters:

> This was the only occasion on which I saw Anne Brontë. She was a gentle, quiet, rather subdued person, by no means pretty, yet of a pleasing appearance. Her manner was curiously expressive of a wish for protection and encouragement, a kind of conetant appeal which invited sympathy. I must confess that my first impression of Charlotte Brontë's personal appearance was that it was interesting rather than attractive. She was very small and had a quaint, old-fashioned look. Her head seemed too large for her body. She had fine eyes, but her face was marred by the shape of the mouth and by the complexion. There was but little feminine charm about her; and of this fact she herself was uneasily and perpetually conscious. It may seem strange that the possession of genius did not lift her above the weakness of an excessive anxiety about her personal appearance. But I believe she would have given all her genius and her fame to have been beautiful. Perhaps few women ever existed more anxious to be pretty than she, or more angrily conscious of the circumstance that she was not pretty.

Indeed, Mr. Smith's whole paper, even when it touches upon incidents with which we have long been familiar, seems to gain new interest and value from the fact that it is a record of personal experiences at first hand, and so long a time having elapsed, he feels quite free to tell exactly the impression made by the woman Charlotte Brontë, quite apart from her fame and success as a writer.

So we find him writing of the social side of Charlotte Brontë's visits to his mother's home. The visit of Dr. Browne, a phrenologist, to whom they went as Mr. and Miss Fraser, with the striking estimate of the latter's character given in full, is of much interest. So great an impression did this unknown lady make upon Dr. Browne that Richard Doyle told Mr. Smith that the phrenologist was so impressed he was trying to discover her identity, Doyle adding that if the result was successful he would tell him who it was, because the lady would be worth looking after.

Mr. Smith's family found Charlotte Brontë a somewhat difficult guest, never feeling perfectly at ease with her. Thackeray's acquaintance with Miss Brontë needs no reference here, except that Mr. Smith thinks their failure to get on personally—their opinion as to the literary side of each other's character remained unaltered—"illustrates an aspect of the character of both of them—in Charlotte Brontë her want of social gifts; in Thackeray his impatience of social discomfort."

Mrs. Brookfield, at home in every society, thought Charlotte Brontë the most difficult woman to talk to she had ever met. She was fond of telling of her conversation with the former. She opened it by hoping Miss Brontë liked London; the latter replying curtly, "I do and I don't," which ended the whole talk.

The paper gives full accounts of nearly all the social side of Miss Brontë's visits to London—the meeting with Adelaide Proctor, her visits to Lawrence's studio, her sitting to Richmond, her meeting with Lewes, who said they should be in sympathy because "we have both written naughty books," the Quarterly Review article by Miss Rigby, which surprised almost as much as it hurt the author of "Jane Eyre."

Mr. Smith's old residence, which Charlotte Brontë called "a fine place in Bayswater," was a house in Westbourne Terrace, now occupied by a hairdresser, where its former owner says you may now purchase hairpins in the dining room, and have your hair curled or shampooed in the little room in which we read the manuscript of "Jane Eyre."

"Villette," he tells us, is full of incidents traceable to Miss Brontë's visits to the family. The scene at the theatre in Brussels and the description of the actress came from Rachel, whom they all saw more than once. The scene of the fire comes from a slight accident to the scenery at Devonshire House, when Charles Dickens, John Forster, and other literary men gave a play, Mr. Smith having told Miss Brontë of it in a letter. The former's mother-in-law was the original of Mrs. Bretton in "Villette," several of her expressions being given word for word, while Mr. Smith afterward discovered he was the model for Dr. John; Miss Brontë writing Mrs. Gaskell she had grown uneasy at being kept waiting longer than usual for an opinion on the book, being fearful Mr. Smith had found me out and was offended.

Mr. Smith also tells of a visit to Edinburgh with his sister, in which Miss Brontë was persuaded to join. "We were fortunate in getting a driver, whom we engaged for the whole of our visit, who knew every interesting nook and corner of Edinburgh, who was better read in Scottish history and the Waverley novels than I was, and whose dry humor exactly suited Miss Brontë."

This was their last meeting. In 1853 Mr. Smith writes Miss Brontë of his engagement and approaching marriage, to which a brief reply was sent, followed by a longer letter, and the announcement of her own engegement. Miss Brontë and the younger Mrs. Smith were never to meet, the former's marriage to the Rev. Arthur Nicholls in June, 1854, being followed by her death in March, 1855.

GEORGE ELIOT NOT NEGLECTED IN ARIZONA.

"Neglect of George Eliot." I happened to open THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW of Dec. 15 just to that heading, and though I tried to read the article, the lines of print marched along in rows of sun-browned cacti and dusty clumps of gray sage and grease wood. The pleasant page so ever welcome faded into a sweeping panorama of brown hills, blue and shadowy in their furthest distances, and endless shimmering miles of desert basking hot and lazy under a late May sun.

Again I heard the protests and remonstrances from bronzed old prospectors and grizzled miners as to the sheer madness of a woman tempting three hundred miles of desert in an open wagon. "Be sure your water barrels are full; you won't get a drop till you reach the T—— ranch, sixty miles out. The sand is hub deep in places, and you want to look out for rattlesnakes and centipedes, and tarantulas, and Gila monsters." Two days to the very sunset we plodded along over that endless trail; for it was little more so, so dim we lost it altogether in the rivers of sand that flowed down every cañon, and only found it again as we climbed cautiously up the backbone of rough red hills.

The true desert—no make-believe this. On every side grand, rugged mountains, swept away to the limitless horizon. Bare of even a tuft of withered grass, long since robbed of every ounce of movable soil; seamed and lined like the face of an old man who has known life in many phases and found it good in all, they lie upturned to the bluest sky, the softest sun in the world. Our road wound in and out among them, following long shallow cañons fringed with feathery mesquite trees that show the crisp new green of young grass against the brown hills, or topped rolling mesas where mile on mile cactus, ironwood, grease wood, date palms, and every thorny, eldrish desert denizen struggles for elbow room.

The famous "Giant Cactus" was crowned with masses of snowy blossoms and looked like white capped armies marching over the hills. It was all blossom time from the leafless Palo Verde, one mass of fragile yellow sweetness against its polished green stems, to the venerable palms holding up waxen-white flags of truce to the pitiless sun.

A hundred and twenty-five in the shade! And sand at last; miles and leagues of it, through which we dragged on wearily, our thirst only the greater for the steaming liquid left in the water bags, till up one hill and down another, and we dropped almost into the tiny garden of as pretty a little home as one would find in a thriving village.

At the rumble of our wheels an eager little woman rushed to the gate. "Have you letters for me? Have you seen my husband?" And as we shook our heads to each query: "Do come in and talk to me, anyway; I haven't seen a woman for months." The waiting away two long days behind us was her nearest Post Office, and with a sympathy born of kindred experience, we were genuinely sorry not to have known of her and brought the precious letters that are like rain in the desert.

Here, sixty miles from a doctor, a drug store, or the nearest white woman, this educated woman was making her home. Her husband had been away with his sheep on the few far-off ranges that still knew a scanty supply of water for eight weeks, and for six she had not heard from him at all. The tiny house was shut in on all sides by grand mountains towering thousands of feet above glistening domes and lofty plateaus of solid rock that took on wondrous tints and shapes at sunset, but caught and reflected the burning heat with pitiless intensity.

The closely shaded living room seemed gratefully cool after the outdoor heat, but it was the books that attracted me. Not many, a condensed milk box fitted with two rough shelves held them all. And in one corner, hedged off by a tall ledger, as if to give them a special shrine, were some poems and George Eliot's novels in cheapest editions, but clearly the treasures of the collection.

Just above hung a magazine cut of the Burton etching of the great authoress, (could she in her green English retreat have dreamed of her pictured face in such scenes!) framed in boards, a bit of box cover, on which had been traced the lines: "May I be to other souls the cup of strength in some great agony."

"I like her best of all the novelists because she is so human, so much company; I feel just as if I had had a good visit with somebody when I read her books," said the little woman. "I like her, too, because she is so real; there is never too much happening in her books; they are just like life. Now, all sorts of hair-breadth adventures come to very few people, and very seldom; I've lived out here on the edge of nowhere for two years, and not a thing has happened out of the ordinary.

"Perhaps if I was cooped up in town I'd crave a breath of adventure, but here such things seem childish. The biggest part of life is thinking and doing; pirates and buried treasure and love-lorn maidens are just frills that most of us dispense with.

"I wouldn't like that," as I spoke of the Texas ranch woman who had just one book, and that "Middlemarch." "I want them all; I couldn't spare one. Though I do think I like 'Mill on the Floss' best; all but the end—George Eliot can be so unreasonable at the end. She gets her characters right up to the point where it would be most helpful and interesting to know what they would do and then dodges the issue. There are plenty of Maggie Tullivers in real life, but who of them is lucky enough to find such a timely death? No matter how grateful death would be, most of us have to keep on living; it was hardly fair for as great a woman as George Eliot to shrink from the logical ending of her characters. That is her one weakness, I think; she nearly always flinches at the end; true to art, perhaps, but false to life.

"But I wouldn't give one page of her for a ton of the average fiction; when you can live with a book in the desert you know what it's worth—and I've lived with George Eliot for two years."

So I thought of that far-away ranch and felt that the "neglect" of George Eliot would leave her fame safe in many hearts when the soap bubble popularity of her successors had gone out in a whiff of brilliant spray. CACTUS FLOWER.

Orchard Ranch, Dewey, Arizona, Dec. 20, 1900.

Col. William L. Stone and McDonald Clarke.

To The New York Times Saturday Review:

Mr. Charles Burr Todd, in his excellent and well digested article on McDonald Clarke in THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW, makes quite a serious error. While this correction is not of great moment, yet if an anecdote about eminent men is given, it may, perhaps, be well to have it stated correctly.

Mr. Todd writes that in an acrimonious controversy between Lang of The Gazette and my father, Col. Stone of The Commercial Advertiser, the former had characterised Col. Stone as a man of "zigzag brains," and adds that McDonald Clarke came into the sanctum of The Commercial and wrote an epigram in defense of its editor.

Now, the facts were as follows: Lang, in his New York Gazette, had alluded to McDonald Clarke as "that fellow with zigzag brains." Thereupon, the insulted poet rushed into the sanctum of Col. Stone of The Commercial, blazing with fury.

"Do you see, Colonel," said he, "what Johnny Lang says of me? He calls me a fellow with zigzag brains."

"Well, so you are," said the Colonel. "That's a happy description!"

"Oh! that's very well for you to say," replied Clarke. "I'll take a joke from you. But Johnny Lang shall not destroy my well-earned reputation. Zigzag brains, forsooth! Zigzag brains—think of it, Colonel! I must have a chance to reply to him in your paper."

"How much space would you want?" said the Colonel.

"I think I could use him up in a column and a half," said Clarke.

"A column and a half!" said the Colonel. "Stuff! You shall have no such space. I'll give you just four lines, and if that will answer, fire away, but not a line more."

The poet, thus driven into a narrow corner, sat down at my father's desk and instantly composed the following neat epigram—quite enough to immortalize him, and, as will be seen, it differs somewhat from the one quoted by Mr. Todd:

I can tell Johnny Lang, in the way of a laugh,
In reply to his rude and unmannerly scrawl,
That, in my humble opinion, it is better by half
To have brains that are zigzag than to have none at all.

"There, Colonel," said he, "let Johnny Lang put that in his pipe and smoke it."

Since McDonald's career has thus come up, perhaps it may be well, in concluding this letter, to supplement Mr. Todd's admirable sketch by giving an extract from my father's private manuscript diary regarding McDonald Clarke. My father writes:

> The last time I met him [Clarke] was two or three years before his death, on the familiar curbstone of Broadway. His face was still sunoy and genial, but he was rubbing his arms and chest. I ventured to suggest rheumatism. "Oh, no," said he; "I am very well. I sleep in an attic room in an old and very picturesque building, through the roof of which, that has considerably tumbled in, I can see stars. This is delightful, but for the exception of showers and heavy rains. Last night I got to sleep, and when I woke up I was thoroughly drenched. I have since felt these pains over me; but the water couldn't have done the damage. I think it couldn't. Do you think it could?"
>
> Simple child of nature! I left him rubbing his arms and laughing at the top of his bent. The next I heard of him he was dead, and dead of an injury which was more of a shock to his sensitive nature than the rude blow or thrust of the hind who gave it was to his physical frame.
>
> Why is it that if any man is known to be "cracked," or subject to any illusion or weakness, all the rest of the world, rejoicing in their pride of reason, delight to impose upon him by manifold cruel deceptions?

McDonald Clarke had really a handsome face and person, as the fine engraving by Peter Maverick, from a picture by Inman, clearly shows; and beginning life as a poet and lover of the human race, fell into the delusion of believing that one portion of that race—the gentler sex—was always disposed to fall in love with him. His life, therefore, was a series of adventures, in which it is pretty certain that the course of true love never did run smooth with him.

The wicked wags, those false friends who availed themselves of his weakness, persuaded him by many wiles and false lures to believe that a lovely young lady on Broadway had fallen in love with him. The cross-gartering of Malvolio was nothing to the pranks they made him perform to win the notice of the high-born and proud lady. The plot culminated in an invitation (forged of course) to visit the young lady at her mansion. Clarke proceeded thither, kid-gloved, and dressed in boots. The damsel, annoyed and forewarned, had given directions to her servants to thrust him from the door, which it is said was done rudely and contumeliously. Then came the breaking up and a Greenwood funeral.

WILLIAM L. STONE.

Mt. Vernon, N. Y., Jan. 5, 1901.

BOOKS WHICH MUST SELL—EVENTUALLY.

Here are some stories we've published which we believe have not met with their deserts. Their circulation has been very small, but the critical recognition they've had indicates their intrinsic value. We'd like to send every reader of "The Times," these volumes "on approval," to be examined and then either paid for or returned (the price of each book is $1.50):

LORD JIM. By JOSEPH CONRAD.

This remarkable tale of the sea and of a human soul has been accepted by very many good judges as the most notable book of the year. Among a host of enthusiastic reviewers, Mr. W. L. Alden says in the Times:

"IT IS A GREAT BOOK, A WONDERFUL BOOK, A VERY MAGNIFICENT BOOK. . . . I venture to say that no book like it has ever before been published in the English language. That does not, of course, mean that greater books have not been published. But 'Lord Jim.' stands alone. . . . It is a work of genius—of unique and superb genius."

THE LADY OF DREAMS. By UNA L. SILBERRAD.

This is the second novel by a young authoress who promises to take a foremost place among contemporary women writers. Mr. W. Robertson Nicoll, the well-known critic, says:

"Many novel readers will pronounce it the best book of the year. . . . 'The Lady of Dreams' is a work of genius, and gives Miss Silberrad a place amongst our foremost writers. She has looked below the surface of 'those deep and silent waters' on which, as Maeterlinck says, 'the fragile bark of our daily life is upborne.'"

A WOMAN OF YESTERDAY. By CAROLINE A. MASON.

Author of "A Minister of the World," "The Wind Flower," etc.

This is a remarkable story of strenuous but broadening religious life—a tale of human achievement, full of interest and dramatic power. It covers not only the wonderful change that the last quarter century has caused in religious thought, but also the "burning questions" of missionary work. Professor W. L. Phelps of Yale University says:

"It is one of the really notable books of the year . . . almost worthy of the great masters of fiction."

And Rev. O. P. Gifford of Buffalo writes:

"The reading has quickened me mentally and spiritually . . . the book is a study in soul rearing."

DOUBLEDAY, PAGE & CO.,
34 Union Square E., New York.

TWO COMING SALES.

Mr. Arnold's First Editions of American Authors

William Harris Arnold of this city, the author of "First Report of a Book Collector," (Marion Press, 1898,) and well known as a bibliophile of fine taste and judgment, has decided to sell his collection of first editions of American authors, and this portion of his library, comprising 700 titles, will be dispersed in the auction rooms of Bangs & Co. on Jan. 30 and 31. The catalogue, which has been printed by Frank E. Hopkins at his private press, is, in many respects, the handsomest sale catalogue yet issued in this country. The bibliographical part of it has been done in a straightforward, careful manner, mainly by Mr. Arnold, giving a fresh illustration of the fact, already shown by the Ives, Foote, and Bierstadt catalogues, that the wise specialist can describe his own books much better than any of the ordinary cataloguers. The sale will be absolutely without reserve, and will be free, therefore, from certain unpleasant features which have been associated with a number of prominent American book auctions of recent years.

Mr. Arnold's American library is the result of the work of a discriminating collector. It is a most remarkable collection, when one considers that it has been formed since the sale of the Foote library—with which it will, of course, be at once compared. Mr. Foote's collection, sold in November, 1894, comprised 278 titles, mainly of the works of Emerson, Hawthorne, Holmes, Longfellow, Lowell, Poe, and Whittier. Mr. Arnold's collection is devoted to eight authors instead of seven, excluding Poe and adding Bryant and Thoreau, (Mr. Foote's special collection of Thoreau's works was sold in the third part of his sale,) and is more complete and in every way makes a better showing. Most of the books are in fine condition, much better than usual, copy after copy having been disposed of as better ones were obtained. With few exceptions, they are in their original covers, their gatherer rightly believing that no binding, however well executed, is so desirable a cover for a book as that in which it was given to the world. Mr. Foote's books, though mostly fine copies, were, in many cases, rebound. The introduction to the Foote catalogue said: "It would be almost impossible for any one commencing at this late day to duplicate any of the rare volumes herein described." Mr. Arnold, nevertheless, formed in the six years that have followed a much finer collection, re-emphasizing the old fact that bibliographical predictions are not always to be seriously regarded.

The collection abounds in treasures, containing several unique books and a number equally so as regards the chance of public or even private sale, the only others known being far removed from the prospect of any immediate disposal. The Bryant manuscript, (still unpublished,) which heads the list, is perhaps the earliest of his that remains. It is accompanied by an autograph letter from John H. Bryant, the poet's brother, in which he says: "I do not know that I can recollect any early poems that have not appeared in print that would be worthy of your attention. I have a portion of one written in May, 1809, when he was at his uncle's in North Brookfield, fitting for college, which I send you, in his handwriting." Bryant was in his fifteenth year when he wrote this poem. It begins:

Once more the bard with eager eye reviews
The flowery paths of fancy and the muse;
Once more essays to trill forgotten strains,
The loved amusement of his native plains.

In all there are twenty-seven Bryant items, including "The Embargo," of 1809, (the scarce second edition,) and the "Poems" of 1821, in the original boards, uncut. Mr. Arnold had at one time an opportunity to secure the rare first edition of "The Embargo," of which only two copies are known, (one of which has changed hands four times in ten years;) but, being concerned with other bibliographical matters at the time, did not attempt to obtain it—a fact now to be regretted. The Bryant manuscript, however, lends to the collection interest enough, almost to compensate for the absence of the poet's first book.

Of Emerson there are the "Right Hand of Fellowship," Concord, 1830, the first writing of the author, which is so rare that few collectors have ever seen the pamphlet in which it appears; the "Poems," 1847, and the extremely scarce "Oversongs," 1864. The complete holograph manuscript of "Threnody," written in 1842, will probably be estimated as possessing higher interest than any other item in the whole collection. The poem is one of the longest written by Emerson, no other of his has such a deep personal interest, and none has higher poetical value.

The Hawthornes include a remarkable copy of "Fanshawe," and also "Peter Parley's Universal History," "The Gentle Boy," the three little juvenile publications of 1841, and "The Celestial Railroad," all in fine condition. "Mosses from an Old Manse," 1846, is here in the well-known cloth volume, and also in two parts with paper covers, in which state only one other copy is known to exist.

"The Harbinger," 1833, is the first Holmes book of importance. It is followed by fine copies of the "Poems," 1836; "The Contagiousness of Puerperal Fever," 1843; "In Memory of Fitz-Greene Halleck," 1869; "Fair Play," 1875; "A Family Record," 1877, and the broadside poem, "James Russell Lowell," 1891.

The Longfellow list begins with an autograph letter, 1825, by the poet's father, referring to the son's undergraduate days, and is remarkably complete. The best item is the "Outre-Mer," as issued in two paper-covered parts in 1833 and 1834, respectively. It is undoubtedly the finest copy now in existence.

Among the Lowells are fine copies of the poet's earlier volumes, possessing greater interest, however, are the excessively rare "Mason and Slidell," 1862; "El Escaballo," 1862, and "On Democracy," 1884, both the first edition and an earlier proof copy, with the author's corrections. Maria Lowell's "Poems," 1855, a great rarity, is also here.

No such special collection of Whittier's works was ever offered. It includes such treasures as the "Incidental Poems," the "Legends of New England," "The History of Haverhill," "Mogg Megone," "The Narrative of James Williams," (the first of the three issues,) "A Sabbath Scene," "The Song of the Negro Boatman," and "Fitz-Greene Halleck."

Mr. Arnold's English collection, comprising 300 titles and including both early and modern verse—Milton's "Paradise Lost," 1667, (the issue with the author's name in large letters,) and Robert Browning's "Pauline"—will be sold in April. There is also a set of the Kelmscott books.

The Second Part of the McKee Library.

The catalogue of the second part of the collection of the late Thomas J. McKee has just been issued by the auctioneer, John Anderson, Jr. It consists entirely of works relating to the drama. It is in many respects a remarkable collection, and bids fair to arouse the same interest as the collection of American literature and American plays dispersed in November last. The sale will be held on the 28th and 29th of January, at Mr. Anderson's auction rooms, 34 West Thirtieth Street, New York. Among the notably interesting items in the collection are the following:

Northbrooke, (John.) Treatise on Dicing, Dauncing, Vain Plaies, etc., London, 1579. This was one of the earliest direct attacks upon the stage by the Puritans. It is in black letter.

Gosson, (Stephen.) Playes Confuted. An exceedingly rare piece. London, 1582. James Bindley's copy, with his autograph and notes.

Heywood, (Thomas.) An Apology for Actors. Rare first edition. London, 1612, and also the reissue of 1658.

Green, (John.) A Refutation of the Apology for Actors. London, 1615. This is even rarer than Heywood.

Rainoldes, (D.) Th' Overthrow of Stage Playes. The first edition. London, 1599.

Short Treatise Against Stage Playes. One of only three copies known. London, 1625.

The Stage Player's Complaint. London, 1641. An extremely rare work.

Prynne, (William.) Histrio-Mastix. The Player's Scourge. London, 1633.

Ordinance of the Lords and Commons for the Utter Suppression and Abolishing of All Stage Playes and Interludes. London, 1647.

The Stage Condemned, and the Encouragement Given to the Immoralities and Profaneness of the Theatre Censured. London, 1698.

Downes's Roscius Anglicanus. The exceedingly rare first edition. London, 1708.

Macklin, (Charles.) Memoirs by William Cooke. One volume extended to three by the insertion of a large number of portraits, playbills, autographs, manuscripts, slippings, &c. The playbills include the names of Peg Woffington, Mrs. Clive, Garrick, Foote, Macklin, Mrs. Abington, Mrs. Bellamy, Barry, Mrs. Barry, Mosson, Woodward, Cibber, &c. It contains eight pages of Macklin's manuscript and a letter from him to Tate Wilkinson. The portraits and views are numerous and choice.

The Private Theatre of Kilkenny. 1825. Tom Moore's own copy of this rare work, of which only fifty copies were printed, and contains his bookplate.

Ireland's Records of the New York Stage. New York, 1866. Large paper copy. Only sixty printed.

Memoirs of Mrs. Woffington. London, 1760. A beautiful copy of an excessively rare work.

Supplement to the above, bound uniform with it, and equally rare. 1760.

Philadelphia: Extracts of several treatises, wrote by the Prince of Conti, concerning stage plays, recommended to the perusal of the professors of Christianity in the City of Philadelphia. Printed by William Bradford. 1754.

Whitehead's tragedy of "The Roman Father." W. E. Burton's copy, with manuscript additions and alterations in that famous comedian's handwriting.

Life of James Spiller, the comedian, with portrait. London, 1729.

Spiller's Jests, (with the text of the comedian's tales.) Exceedingly rare. London. 1730.

Actors by Gaslight and Actors by Daylight. Complete sets of these rare publications. London. 1838 and 1839.

British Stage and Literary Cabinet. With all the rare colored portraits by George and I. R. Cruikshank. Five volumes. London. 1817-22.

Shakespeare Miscellany. Containing all the rare portraits, extra illustrated with twenty-one additional portraits and views. London. 1802.

Theatrical Budget. New York, 1828. Contains rare colored portraits of early American actors.

Ryley's Itinerant; or, Memoirs of an Actor. Complete set of the original issues of the three series. Excessively rare. Nine volumes. London. 1808-27.

Minutes (in manuscript) of Meetings of the New York Association, which really presents the complete business and financial history of the first and second Bowery Theatres of New York City. 1826.

Secret History of the Green Rooms. The rare first edition. London. 1790.

New York City. Manuscript records of performances at the different New York theatres during the year 1845. By W. F. Heyer.

New York City. Manuscript account of visits to the various New York theatres in 1852. By H. A. Heyer.

Shakespeare Illustrated. (By Charlotte Lennox.) The copy formerly belonging to Thomas Gray, the author of "An Elegy Written in a Country Churchyard," with lines in his handwriting on the title page. Three volumes. London. 1753-4.

Collection of 46 letters written by J. P. Harley, the comedian, to Mr. George Daniel, relative to the Drury Lane Theatrical Fund, with rare portraits, &c., added. London: 1817-51.

Harley-an Miscellany. A collection of printed newspaper reports of the proceedings at the Annual Fund Dinners from 1829 to 1851. Collected by George Daniel. He has illustrated the text with autograph letters, engraved portraits, programmes, &c.

Manuscript pay roll of the Old Lafayette Theatre, New York City, showing the amounts paid the different performers during the years 1825-7.

Rejected Addresses, offered in competition at the opening of the Park Theatre, New York, 1821. Contains the rare interior view of the theatre.

Copy of Shakespeare's "Richard III.," formerly belonging to William Mitchell of Mitchell's Olympic Theatre, New York. It bears his autograph in five different places, besides having some finely colored scenic paintings by Bengough, the scene painter, who married Mitchell's daughter.

Original manuscript account in the handwriting of Joseph Reed, the dramatist, giving detailed statement of his troubles with David Garrick. It is entitled "Theatrical Duplicity." It formerly belonged to Isaac Reed, and contains some of his writing.

History of the Philadelphia Stage, 1749-1820. By Charles Durang. This valuable history originally appeared in the columns of an early newspaper, and was cut out and carefully mounted on specially prepared leaves.

The Beauties of Mrs. Siddons. London: 1786. With inserted portraits.

Mirror of Taste. Complete and perfect set, containing all the rare early engraved portraits. 4 vols. Philadelphia: 1810-11.

Stephens's Comic Natural History of the Human Race. With the colored caricature portraits of Chanfrau, Forrest, "Jim Crow" Rice, Mary Taylor, Burton, and others. Philadelphia: 1851.

Theatrical Inquisitor. Complete set, with the rare and beautifully engraved full-length portraits of distinguished actors and actresses. London: 1812-20.

Thespian Mirror. Edited by John Howard Payne when only thirteen years of age. Complete set of this rare publication. Only two other copies known. New York. 1806.

Thespian Magazine, complete set, with the beautiful oval portraits engraved by Condé. London, 1793-4.

Thespian Oracle. Philadelphia, 1798. Volume I., No. 1. (Probably all published.)

The Cornucopia. Volume I. (All published.) Contains thirteen colored scenic engravings, with portraits of Macready, Vandenhoff, and others. London, 1821.

Furman, (Gabriel.) A Sketch of the History of Theatres in the United States. (New York City.) Entirely in manuscript of Mr. Furman.

Broadside Poster, "To the Public of Philadelphia," from Mr. Macready, relating to his differences with Edwin Forrest, and which culminated in the Astor Place Riots. Philadelphia, 1848.

Life of an Actor. By Pierce Egan, with colored plates by Theodore Lane. London. 1825.

Thespian Dictionary, with 22 oval tipted portraits. Presentation copy from John Howard Payne. London, 1805.

Memoirs of Madame Vestris, with rare and curious colored prints. Privately printed. London, 1830.

Hodgkinson, (John.) Narrative of his connection with the old American Company. New York. 1797.

Dutton's Monthly Theatrical Reporter Complete set, with the rare full-length portraits by Cruikshank. London. 1814-15.

Autobiography of Clara Fisher Maeder. Edited by Douglas Taylor. Fine portrait reproductions. Only 260 copies printed.

The Rosciad. By Charles Churchill. The excessively rare first edition. London. 1761.

Trial between Maria Foote and Joseph Hayne for a breach of promise of marriage including all the love letters. London, 1824.

Life of Lavinia Fenton, (Polly Peachum,) with inserted portrait. London, 1728. George Daniel's copy.

Thespian Monitor. By Barnaby Bangbar, Esq. Vol. 1. (Probably all published.) Philadelphia, 1809.

Memoirs of that singular comedian, Thomas Weston. London, 1776.

A. M. Palmer's account of the testimonial benefit performance given to Lester Wallack. 1893. Only three copies were privately printed by Mr. Palmer.

Hamlet. A prompt copy, formerly belonging to John Vandenhoff, the tragedian, and contains notes and markings by both himself and his son, George Vandenhoff.

Augustin Daly's Woffington. One of 25 copies of folio size. New York. 1888.

The Great Illegitimates. Public and Private Life of Mrs. Jordan, Late Mistress of the Duke of Clarence, now King William IV., with Portraits of the Children. London: 1830.

Washington and the Theatre. By Paul Leicester Ford. Only 265 copies printed. New York: 1899.

Dunlap's History of the American Theatre. The author's own copy, with manuscript notes and corrections in his handwriting.

Manuscript Diary Record of the Theatre Royal, Dublin, entirely in the handwriting of John Philip Kemble. 1730-51.

Memoirs of the Life of Theophilus Keene, the Tragedian. George Daniel's copy, with his monogram stamped on sides. London: 1718. But two copies of this work are known.

Love Letters of Mrs. Piozzi, Written, when She Was Eighty, to William Augustus Conway. Extra illustrated with numerous portraits, autographs, &c., including one of the originals of the letters which are printed in the volume.

Dramatic Tête-à-Têtes from the Town and Country Magazine, bound in one volume. London: 1771-86.

Doran's Annals of the English Stage. The original edition, two volumes, 1864; also the Lowe edition, large paper copy, with duplicate set of the portraits, three volumes. London: 1888.

Secret Memoirs of Harriott Pumpkin, (Miss Mellen.) By the Ghost of Old Ralph. London: 1825.

Memoirs of John Philip Kemble. By J. A. Williams. London: 1817. Extra illustrated by Mr. McKee with a very choice lot of engraved portraits, including thirty-eight different one of Mr. Kemble.

Collection of Newspaper Clippings Relating to the Controversy Between Edmund Kean and Charles Bucke, (author of "The Italians,") Together with Two Rare Folding Colored Caricatures. It was gathered by Charles Mathews, the comedian.

Daly, (Charles P.:) When was the Drama Introduced in America? Privately printed. New York: 1864.

George Frederick Cooke's own prompt copy of "Timon of Athens," with his autograph in two places, and markings and corrections throughout in his handwriting.

George Colman the Younger's copy of the posthumous letters addressed by celebrated men to his father, George Colman the Elder. London: 1820. It is corrected and annotated freely by him, and was intended as copy for a second edition.

Boston Stage. Effects of the Stage on the Manners of a People. By a Bostonian. Relates to the attempt to repeal the law preventing theatrical performances in Massachusetts. 1792.

Hamlet. Presentation copy, with inscription from Edwin Booth to Charles Kemble Mason. 1866.

The Fool's Opera. By Anthony Aston. With a sketch of the author's life. 1731. An item of extreme rarity. He mentions his visit to America and performances here at dates earlier than are given in any of the stage historians.

Narrative of Facts Relating to the Engagement of Master Betty at Covent Garden Theatre. Manuscript, in the handwriting of Capt. Barlow, the representative of Covent Garden Theatre in the negotiations. London. 1805.

Baker, (Sir Richard.) Theatrum Redivivum: or, The Theatre Vindicated. The rare first edition. London, 1662.

In the collection are many books from notable libraries, and they generally bear some special marks of ownership. There are 24 Garrick items and 22 Cibbers. The collection on the Irish stage is altogether unusual, and the same may be said of the Edinburgh stage. The dispersal of the Daly and McKee dramatic libraries greatly narrows the opportunity of younger collectors for securing rare items.

Browning's First Book Brings £120.

An uncut copy of Robert Browning's "Pauline," London, 1833, in the original drab boards, with white label, fetched £120 at a recent sale at Sotheby's. Crampon's cut-down copy sold for £14 in 1896, but its value was enhanced by the fact that it contained a note in the author's handwriting. The copy sold the other day would have undoubtedly fetched a record price were it not for a defect whereby its value was considerably diminished. On Page 21 a small hole was discovered, which robbed the text of sixteen letters. Among other prices of interest in the same sale were the following.

Sergeant Bell and His Raree Show," containing contributions by Dickens. London, 1839. £12.

Downes's "Roscius Anglicanus," London, 1708. £12.

Hughes's "Tom Brown's School Days," Cambridge, 1857. Morocco, uncut, the scarce first edition. £10.

Keats's "Endymion." 1818. First edition, an uncut copy. £17 5s.

Keats's "Lamia," &c. 1820. First edition, an uncut copy. £20 10s.

Keble's "Christian Year." The scarce first edition, together with the original manuscript of his hymns for State services. £30 10s.

Hasted's "History of Kent." 1788-99. Four volumes, finely, extra illustrated copy. £41.

Charles Lloyd and Charles Lamb's "Blank Verse." 1798. First edition, an uncut copy. £17.

Molière's "Le Tartuffe." First edition, with the "Observations." Paris, 1669-70. £29 10s.

Molière's "Amphitryon." Paris, 1668. First edition, morocco, extra, by Trautz-Bauzonnet. £15.

"The Booke of Raynarde the Fox." London, 1550. Very early edition in English, (said to be one of three known copies.) £28.

Dante's "La Commedia." Venice, V. de Spira, 1477. First and last leaves inlaid. £23 10s. Another edition, Florence, 1481, with Landino's Commentary and two of the rare Botticelli engravings. £32.

Rossetti's "Poems," 1870, one of twenty-five copies on large paper, £12 5s.

Poe's criticism of Simms's "Wigwam and the Cabin," the original autograph manuscript, eleven leaves, £44.

Tennyson's "Poems, Chiefly Lyrical," 1830, first edition, original boards, uncut, paper label, £18; "Poems," 1842, original binding, £17.

Turberville's "Epitaphs, Epigrams, Songs, and Sonnets," 1570, a Shakespearean volume of great rarity and interest, (the Radcliffe, Farmer, and Bibliotheca Anglo Poetica copy,) £31. (This copy was sold last July for £100, but was returned, as a few letters of the last leaf are in fac simile.)

Shelley's "Queen Mab," 1813, first edition, with manuscript notes by the poet's friend Middleton, (author of "Shelley and His Writings,") £30 10s.

Shelley's "Letters," 1852, (the forged letters,) the copy once in the possession of Sir Frederick Madden of the British Museum, with autograph letters, &c., referring to the forgeries, £17.

Puttenham's "Arte of English Poesie," 1589, very rare, £24.

Spenser's "Colin Clouts," 1595, of excessive rarity, £25 10s.

A collection of Byroniana, in fifteen volumes, with many extra illustrations, £66.

"Missale Romanum," a fine manuscript on 130 leaves of vellum, with fifteen beautiful miniatures, executed about 1470, £155.

Braithwaite's "Excellent Piece of Conceipted Poesy," 1658, very rare, the two plates by Vaughan being inlaid, however, £42.

Breton's "Solemn Passion of the Soul's Love," 1602, £33.

Chaucer's "Works," 1561, with the Edward VI. title page, the prologue containing twenty-six rude woodcuts of the Canterbury Pilgrims, £19.

D. L. Moody.*

Miss Robinson's little book, "A Reporter at Moody's," will appeal to all persons who would gain a unique insight into evangelical and mission work. The first chapter contains an interesting autobiographical sketch of the author's own evolution, for, before her regeneration she had believed with countless others that religion was "a relic of the dark ages, crudely remodeled as a family institution." The author's experiences at the Bible Institute are given with much sympathy and with an intelligence that reveals, for the most part, valuable qualities of observation. The Rev. Reuben Archer Torrey figures in these pages as the expounder of many knotty questions of Scripture, and the daily life at the Institute and the mode of education there is presented in an attractive way. Then, too, the actual work of the students of the Institute in the outside world is dwelt upon, which shows that there was room for such work and that it was necessary to have it performed in just the way that it is being accomplished.

Miss Robinson writes with a fine enthusiasm of all that she sees, and all that is imparted to her, and this enthusiasm augments from page to page, so that things gradually take on a semblance of sentimentality which can hardly appeal to a matter-of-fact person if he glances at random through the book. At times the author fails to make the reader as interested in what she is saying as she is herself. The historical present tense too often leads dangerously near an anti-climax. The book would doubtless be much more convincing if the circumspect writing which marks the opening pages had been maintained throughout. Still, we can readily imagine a reader who, opening the first page with proper sympathy, would keep his enthusiasm in the proper relation to that of the author throughout, and derive much moral benefit therefrom. The casual matter-of-fact reader, however, is not likely to be so moved. Sustained repose on the part of the author, even without the recognition of what has been achieved by Biblical students who are not disciples of revealed religion, would have enhanced the influence of the volume.

*A REPORTER AT MOODY'S. By Margaret Blake Robinson. With frontispiece portrait and views. 12mo. Pp. 140. Chicago: The Bible Institute Colportage Association. Cloth, 50 cents; paper, 35 cents.

FREE LECTURES.

Midwinter Courses in This City.

The announcement of lecture subjects for the second course—season 1900-1901—to be given under the auspices of the Department of Education, School Board for the Boroughs of Manhattan and the Bronx, has just been made public. Astronomy, electricity, geography, natural science, physics, physiology, and kindred topics will have exposition and illustration at Public Schools Nos. 15, 23, 29, 96, 102, 154, the American Museum of Natural History, the Baron de Hirsch Trade School, Bethany Chapel, Cathedral School Hall, Judson Memorial Hall, the West Side Auditorium, the Young Men's Christian Association Hall (Twenty-third Street), the Young Men's Christian Association Hall, (One Hundred and Twenty-fifth Street), and at the Young Men's Institute. Art, history, and literature will be themes at the other lecture centres. The lectures in these courses are under the direct supervision of Dr. Henry M. Leipziger, who intends them not for school children but for adults, and the printed statement on the present bulletins, "school children not admitted," is being inforced. The work of providing helpful lectures for the people is not easy. In certain sections they take the place of books and schools to a very great extent, and while a good lecture accomplishes much that is uplifting and beneficial, a bad lecture, or even an indifferent one, fails utterly to do that for which it is intended. The lecturer must get hold of his audience and be to them kindergarten, school, and college. The lectures given are repeated from time to time in widely separated points, so that if a lecture is delivered five times it is before five different audiences.

American history will inspire several lectures to be given at Public Schools Nos. 3, 14, 51, 52, 66, and in the Assembly Hall of the Educational Alliance. Some of the more important of these are: "Historic Traces in New York To-day," by Dr. F. B. Kelley; "The Charity of an Epoch," by Mr. S. D. McCormick; "Benjamin Franklin," by Mr. Henry R. Rose; "Thomas Jefferson," by Mr. William G. McGuckin; "Alexander Hamilton" and "The United States as a Colonial Power," by Mr. G. H. Crawford; "Colonial Life Among the Puritans," by Mr. Louis H. Cornish; "Abraham Lincoln," by Mr. S. T. Willis, and "Early Maritime Life of New England," by Mr. Isaac Townsend Smith.

A series of light lectures on the development of civilization will be given at Public School No. 3 upon the following special subjects: "The Knife," "The Spade," "The Wheel," "The Needle," and "The Pen," by Dr. John C. Adams; "The Railroad as a Factor in Modern Development," Mr. John M. Glitterman; "Artificial Waterways and Their Commercial Advantages," Capt. Charles Campbell, and "How Ships Are Navigated," by Capt. Howard Patterson.

Eight lectures on "Literature" will be given at Public School No. 51. The lecturers will be Richard A. Purdy, William H. Fleming, Prof. Homer B. Sprague, Miss Mary Canney, Thomas Gaffney Taaffe, Michael Monahan, Charles H. Govan, and Wilson Farrand, who will deal with Shakespeare and some of his plays, from various view points; Goldsmith, Moore, Burns and Scotland, and Carlyle.

Art will have particular consideration at Public Schools Nos. 5, 44, 85, and at Columbus Hall. Prof. A. D. F. Hamlin will be heard upon the broad subject of art as manifested in Rome, Constantinople, Venice, Paris, London, and New York, particularly in reference to characteristic architecture. "Sculpture and Art" will have treatment at the hands of M. H. Kerner, and G. T. Snelling will speak upon "A Glimpse at the History of Architecture." A very timely and pertinent theme will be that of J. Scott Hartley upon "The Making of a Statue and Sculpture for the Pan-American Exposition." "Lithography," by Charles Brand, will interest many who know little about it. Frederic Dean will consider Scandinavian music, illustrated by typical songs and piano selections, while Miss Kate S. Chittenden has for her subject, "The Unifying Influence of Music," and Mr. Christopher W. Knauff will give the results he has obtained through a study of "Haydn and His Works." Some side lights upon the Orient—"China and the Chinese," "Chinese Customs and Superstitions," "Life in India," "Japanese Feudalism and Its Castles," "Burmah," "Persia," &c.—will be quite interesting in view of the present Eastern question.

The general subject of music will to a large extent dominate the course as outlined to be given at Public Schools Nos. 30, 84, and 101, Cooper Institute, St. Peter's Hall, and the Alfred Corning Clark Neighborhood House. A new series on great composers—the Romantic period—will be given by T. W. Surette at St. Peter's Hall. Other new lectures will be by Miss Margaret Goetz upon "Folk-songs of Different Nations," Miss Kate S. Chittenden on "Patriotic Songs and War Songs," and Mrs Stella Prince Stocker on "American Music." Literature will alternate with music in the course at the schools and other lecture centres last named, and little journeys in the world of letters will be taken between songs with and without words.

In the remaining schools, Nos. 10, 46, 54, 61, 64, 82, 136, 135, and 167, Institute Hall, Realty Hall, St. Bartholomew's Lyceum Hall, and Young Men's Hebrew Association Hall, a wide range of subjects will be presented in lecture form. These will include poetry, literature, general history, European travel, the lives of eminent men, geography, great industries, &c. Some of the more popular lecturers of last season will be heard again, but there is during each season a large amount of new and fresh lecture material presented, which is true of the present season's arrangement. The lectures will be continued until May 1.

Bulletins of lectures, with dates and places of delivery, can be obtained on application at the rooms of the Board of Education, Park Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, New York City.

A Course Just Established in Brooklyn.

A movement having for its object the establishment of a course of free lectures in Brooklyn, which has been in progress during the last five years, has at last resulted in the Board of Estimate making an appropriation of $10,000 for the current year that will be available for such a purpose. This result has been obtained through the continued efforts of Charles E. Robertson, President of the Brooklyn School Board; Horace E. Dresser, John R. Thompson, John Greene, Dr. Joseph H. Hunt, and others of his board associates. The lectures were begun on Jan. 2, at Visitation Hall, by Prof. Harlan I. Smith, whose subject was "Pre-Columbian Man of North America."

It is designed to give prominence in these lectures to the educational element, rather than to that which is merely pleasing to the eye, although pictorial illustrations will be used freely. Lecture centres will be located in school buildings in all cases where such buildings are available. Other halls will be used when the schools are inadequate in accommodation. School children will not be allowed to attend, as the lectures are intended for those not having the benefit of schools. Small posters containing location of hall and dates of lectures have been sent to factories and other places where many persons are employed, and having been posted there have already aroused considerable interest in the course.

The communities in which the lectures are given are carefully studied, and subjects are selected for treatment that seem educationally promising. For the most part the points of lecture delivery are in the outlying districts of the city, so that there is no competition with the lectures given under the direction of the Brooklyn Institute of Arts and Sciences. The School Board lectures are intended rather to lead up to the Institute lectures. The subjects that will have exposition and illustration are to some extent experimental, but the range is wide, and includes descriptive geography and travel, music, physics, astronomy, invention, literature, the drama, anthropology, hygiene, electricity, heat, light, commerce and industry, history, civics, science, government, and biography.

Thus far sixteen lecture centres have been selected, and one lecture a week will be held at each of the following places at 8 P. M. on the day named:

Public School No. 118, Fourth Avenue and Fifty-ninth Street, Tuesday; Public School No. 77, First Street, near Sixth Avenue, Thursday; Public School No. 72, New Lots Road, near Schenck Street, Thursday; Public School No. 108, Linwood Street, near Arlington Avenue, Monday; Public School No. 110, Knickerbocker Avenue, corner Grove Street, Thursday; Public School No. 33, Troutman Street, near Central Avenue, Tuesday; Public School No. 117, Stagg Street, near Bushwick Avenue, Friday; Public School No. 23, Conselyea, near Humboldt Street, Tuesday; Manhattan Theatre, Bay Twentieth Street, near Cropsey Avenue, Bath Beach, Thursday; Visitation Hall, Tremont Street, between Richards and Van Brunt, District of Public Schools Nos. 27 and 30, Wednesday; City Park Chapel, Concord Street, near Gold Street, and Institute Hall, Jay Street, near York, alternately, Thursday; Andrew Jackson Hall, Kent Avenue, near Myrtle Avenue, Thursday; Boys' High School, Marcy Avenue, corner Putnam Avenue, Tuesday; Hebrew Educational Alliance, Pitkins Avenue, corner Watkins Street, Monday and Thursday; Union Avenue Baptist Church, Manhattan Avenue, near Norman Avenue, Thursday, and McCaddin Memorial Hall, Berry Street, near South Third Street, Tuesday.

The subject of the lecture and the name of the lecturer, with all particulars, appear in announcement upon small circulars obtainable at the rooms of the Board of Education and at the various lecture centres in advance of the several lectures. Among the lectures on literature and history announced for delivery during the present season are those which follow:

"The Passion Play of 1900," Alfred J. Talley; "Shakespeare's Life, Art, and Works," William H. Fleming; "California and the Yosemite Valley," Homer C. Bristol; "The Poetry of Longfellow, Lowell, Whittier, and Bryant," (readings,) Miss Louise Forsyth; "The Geography and History of Long Island," James A. Rooney; "Home, Habits, and History of the French" and "Imperial Berlin and the German Army," Prof. Henry E. Northrop; "The Production and Manufacture of Silk," John Dean; "Westminster Abbey," Miss Lucy R. Bliss; "An Evening in Old Japan," Prof. Arthur C. Maclay; "Norway, the Land of the Midnight Sun," A. A. Brockway; "The Wonders of Egypt," Robert B. Hall; "Persia," Euel Werde; "A History of the Theatre," Hamilton Ormsbie; "Some Songs and Their Writers" and "How a Great Newspaper is Made," George W. Douglas; "China and Its People," Prof. William C. Peckham; "The Women of Shakespeare," Prof. R. E. Mayne; "New Zealand: Its Government, Public and Private Schools," Donald McDougall; "A Run Across British America," Charles M. Skinner; "Our Educational System," Dr. W. B. Gunnison; "Words, Their Beauty, Power, and Meaning" and "California and the Yosemite Valley," George H. Payson.

The lectures will continue until April and be resumed thereafter in October. The management and control of the lectures will be in the hands of the following officers of the School Board: Charles E. Robertson, President of the board; Edward G. Ward, Superintendent of Schools; Dr. Joseph H. Hunt, Chairman; Horace E. Dresser, Dr. John Harrigan, John R. Thompson, Arthur S. Somers, John Greene, Dr. John K. Powell, Committee on Free Lectures, and Edward B. Shallow, Superintendent in Charge of Lectures.

The Most Popular Book in America

EBEN HOLDEN

By IRVING BACHELLER

103,132 Copies Sold in 28 Consecutive Business Days

12mo, gold lettered on red cloth, gilt top, $1.50

At All Bookstores

LOTHROP PUBLISHING COMPANY, Boston

8th Edition. 38th Thousand.

Stringtown on the Pike,

By JOHN URI LLOYD.

12mo. Illustrated, $1.50.

A perfect mirror of American life and character.

One writer says: "I lived part of Stringtown over in my sleep the night I finished it. I knew just such characters as Old Cupe in the country where I was born."

For Sale Everywhere.

DODD, MEAD & CO., Publishers, N. Y.

The RICHARD MANSFIELD Acting Version.

KING HENRY V.

THIS version of Shakespeare's most popular and frequently acted History Play was for the first time presented by Mr. Mansfield and his company of players at the Garden Theatre, New York, on October 3 The book, besides giving the text exactly as arranged for this remarkable spectacular production, has an Introduction by Mr. Mansfield, Notes on the Heraldry of King Henry V. by Alfred J. Rodwaye, F. R. H. S., two photogravure illustrations and various heraldic devices for a cover design in five colors, headbands, tail-pieces and initial letters, all of which were executed specially for the present volume. The text is carefully annotated after the best Shakesperian criticism, and to facilitate reference all notes are placed at the bottom of the exact page where the elucidation is necessary.

French folded cover. Narrow octavo. 50 cents net.

McClure, Phillips & Co., Publishers, New York.

"There is a grim, controlling fascination in these dozen tales of London life in an Inn of Court"—Boston Transcript.

MEN OF MARLOWE'S.

By Mrs. HENRY DUDENEY. $1.25.

HENRY HOLT & CO., New York.

Pocket Size Standard Novels.

Thackeray's Works and Dickens' and Scott's Novels. Thinnest printing paper in the world used. Large type, easy to read. Size 4¼ by 6¼ inches and not thicker than a monthly magazine. Bound in cloth $1.00 each. Prospectus mailed free on request, or books sent prepaid on receipt of price. THOS. NELSON & SONS, 37 E. 18th St., New York.

NELSON'S WALL STREET LIBRARY includes 3 volumes: (1) NELSON'S A B C OF WALL STREET; (2) WOODLOCK'S ANATOMY OF A RAILROAD REPORT AND TON MILE COST; and (3) CRUMP'S THEORY OF STOCK SPECULATION. Bound in cloth and leather. Postpaid, $1.00 each. S. A. NELSON, Publisher, 10 and 18 Park Place, New York.

Heinigke & Bowen, New York. MEMORIAL WINDOWS

ALEX. DELMAR'S "ANCIENT BRITAIN," elucidated by inscriptions and coins, $2. CAMBRIDGE PRESS, 97 Reade.

STENOGRAPHY AND TYPEWRITING; MANUSCRIPTS a specialty. Mrs. WHITWORTH, 139 West 104th St., N. Y. City.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS.

THE PAPERS OF CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE.—Mr. Herbert Friedenwald, in behalf of the Historical Manuscripts Commission of the American Historical Association, has undertaken to edit for publication the papers of Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase. The work, the extent of which is not yet discerned, like all publications issued by the Historical Association, will be printed by the Government. The Massachusetts Historical Society, which has the custody of a considerable body of the Chase papers, has forwarded its collection to Mr. Friedenwald at the rooms of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania, 1,300 Locust Street, Philadelphia. The editor being anxious to procure as large an amount as possible of Chase letters and papers which are known to be in private hands all over the country, has sent to us a letter, from which the following is an extract:

In order that I may procure as many Chase letters and papers in private hands as possible, I beg to request that you will have the kindness to insert in THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW a notice asking persons having Chase papers in their possession to forward the same or exact copies to me. If originals are sent, (and they are preferred,) they will be copied as expeditiously as possible and then returned.

DICTIONARY OF NATIONAL BIOGRAPHY.—The English publishers of that monumental work, the "Dictionary of National Biography," Smith, Elder & Co., are to be congratulated that with the new year they have decided to institute a new arrangement in regard to the distribution of the dictionary. They are willing to accept orders for the work for a limited period on the system of payment by installments. The set of sixty-three volumes will be supplied at once in return for a small initial payment and an undertaking to pay the balance by monthly installments. We are informed by the prospectus that "the total of these payments will slightly exceed the present price of the work, which will be maintained for volumes or sets purchased in the ordinary way; but the immediate possession of the work will be placed within reach of those who have been deterred from acquiring it by the expenditure involved in its purchase." Although there is nothing new to American publishers about this scheme of distribution, it is nevertheless true that the installment plan of purchase is comparatively new in England; but we trust that the American publishers of the "Dictionary of National Biography" may win the gratitude of many literary workers and library associations of moderate means by emulating Smith, Elder & Co. in this particular instance.

THE CORNHILL.—Mr. George M. Smith's series of literary recollections, which are being published simultaneously in The Cornhill Magazine and in The Critic, open in the current numbers of these periodicals with a description of the origin of The Cornhill Magazine. Therein we learn that the circulation of the first number of The Cornhill was 110,000, an unprecedented triumph. The name "Cornhill," we are told, was much ridiculed at first, and it was suggested that Smith, Elder & Co.'s venture would be followed by "The Smithfield Review" or "The Leadenhall Market Magazine." As Mr. Smith points out, it was followed by Temple Bar, Belgravia, St. Paul's Magazine, The Strand, and other periodicals, taking their names from their birthplaces. The largest sum expended on the literature of a single number was £1,138 3s. 8d. in August, 1862. The largest payment for a novel was £7,000 for "Romola" to George Eliot, who might have had £10,000 if her artistic conscience had permitted her to divide it up into the sixteen parts required by Mr. Smith. The largest payment for short articles was £12 12s. a page to Thackeray for his "Roundabout Papers."

AN EXTRAORDINARY ITEM OF WESTERN BOOKMAKING.—We learn that The Philosopher Press, which is situated "at the Sign of the Green Pine Tree," in Wausau, Wis., is engaged in the production of an edition of "The Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam," which is expected to occupy a high place among the éditions de luxe of recent issue. The edition will comprise 100 copies on handmade paper, to be sold at $25 each, and twenty-six copies on Japanese vellum, in full levant leather, to be sold at $100 each. The pages of the entire edition will be bordered with a Persian design, in which the gold will be hot-stamped leaf, this being the only process by which gold can be successfully used in book decoration. The borders will be filled in by hand with water colors in the rich colorings with which the Persian art abounds. "The Rubaiyat" has been published in numerous highly embellished editions, but the edition of The Philosopher Press will possibly be the first in which genuine Persian decorations are used.

THE TRIBULATIONS OF A LITERARY ADVISER.—Mr. C. Kernahan, in lecturing before the London Institution recently, took for his subject "The Confessions of a Literary Adviser." He did not treat of the literary adviser in his capacity as the right-hand man of the publisher, but as the adviser whose advice literary aspirants are always craving. Mr. Swinburne once told him that if he had made it a rule in life to answer only those letters that came to him from friends and relatives, his contributions to criticism and poetry would have been augmented by the addition of at least three more books containing some of his best work. Mr. Kernahan said that persons who wrote for literary advice to Swinburne, Andrew Lang, and Kipling, did so, of course, because of their intense admiration for those distinguished authors; but those who wrote to the average literary adviser did so because of their intense admiration for their own work, and that was much less gratifying. He said that he once received a letter from an entire stranger, beginning: "I understand you are a Christian man, and I am truly thankful to learn it. When you learn my story you won't have the heart to refuse my manuscript. Two weeks ago to-day my wife ran away from me, and I haven't heard of her since." Mr. Kernahan said that he did not even trouble himself to express sympathy with the writer's domestic affliction, for he happened to know that others had been written to in similar terms, and that in the matter of runaway wives the man, if judged by his letters, must have been a veritable Bluebeard. Incidentally, Mr. Kernahan told a short anecdote of the late Gustave Doré, which had, he believed, not been related before. When Tennyson was nearing sixty years of age, and his fame might fairly be assumed to be world-wide, Mr. Edward Moxon, the publisher, decided to approach Doré and commission him to illustrate the "Idylls of the King." After Doré had considered the proposal, he asked: "Who, then, is this M. Tennyson?"

LITERARY ARTICLES VS. BOOK REVIEWS.—The idea that literary articles about books are, in certain cases, much more preferable to all concerned than so-called literary criticism, is making headway in some of our literary monthlies. The current number of The Book Buyer, for example, contains an article based on "Tommy and Grizel," written by Mary Taylor Blauvelt under the title of "The Artistic Temperament"; an article singularly free from the ordinary cant of the reviewer is "Mr. Howells and His Friends," by Edmund C. Stedman, based upon the recently published "Literary Friends and Acquaintances," while Prof. Brander Matthews, in discussing Prof. Wendell's "A Literary History of America" contrives to present a very readable and enlightening essay on the same subject. All this is quite a relief from the ordinary book review. It reveals a cheerful tendency not hitherto noticeable. It is unfortunate, however, that the books which can be treated of in the broad, entertaining way indicated are as yet in the small minority. But incidentally, there is set up a new and worthy goal for the author to strive after.

THE RUSKIN HEADSTONE.—The headstone to mark the grave of Ruskin in Coniston churchyard is a tall cross of the type lately received from ancient models of the age before the Norman Conquest. Mr. Ruskin left no directions on the subject, but it was felt by his friends that, as he wished to be buried in Coniston churchyard, he would have wished for some headstone of a quiet and unpretentious and yet of an artistic and decorative kind. The cross is of the hard green stone of Coniston, supplied from the quarries of Tilberthwaite, and is not liable, it is said, to chip or lose its pleasant gray-green color. On the side facing the grave, and looking east, at the bottom, is a figure with a lyre, representing his earliest works, poems, and the "Poetry of Architecture." Above this, in a panel of the interlaced work so often seen on such crosses, are Ruskin's name and the date 1819-1900, the only lettering thought necessary, for all the rest is told in pictures. The south side is filled with a scroll of his favorite wild rose, and on the boughs are three of the creatures he wrote about with affection—the squirrel, the robin, and the kingfisher. This is meant to symbolize his interest in natural history. The west side, looking toward the mountains, represents his ethical and social teaching. At the bottom is the parable of the workmen in the vineyard receiving each his penny from the Master, "Unto this Last;" then a design of "Sesame and Lilies," and in the middle, "Fors Clavigera," the angel of fate holding the club, key, and nail, the significance of which every reader of his work will easily recognize. Over that is "The Crown of Wild Olive," and at the top "St. George and the Dragon." The north side is a simple interlaced pattern. The crosshead on each side bears the globe, symbolizing in those old sculptures the Sun of Righteousness, and the other side has a disk with fylfot, or revolving cross, accepted all the world over as the emblem of eternal life.

HUNTING WOMEN.—Mme. Sarah Grand, who should have been leaving England for America on the eve of Christmas to deliver a series of addresses in the States, has postponed her visit until the coming Autumn. She has only just completed a series of addresses to the literary societies in the midlands and the North of England and in Scotland, speaking everywhere to crowded and enthusiastic audiences. The fatigue from which she suffered at first passed away toward the end of her tour, but Mme. Grand was advised to take a complete rest before undertaking so long-sustained an effort as a tour in the United States must necessarily be. Sarah Grand's experiences as an orator were not without their unforeseen and comical incidents. Interviewed in a midland town as to whether the professions were not sure to take the bloom off sweet young womanhood and destroy its charm, Sarah Grand replied that she saw no reason why it should do so, and she pointed out that hunting or any other sport must naturally coarsen women more than a profession, as in fact the law courts alone prove that it does—the obvious point being that, even so, hunting men did not object to associate with hunting women, and that therefore the attitude of professional men would be the same toward professional women. This statement, that virile pursuits like hunting coarsened more women in a week than the professions, which are not necessarily virile, did in a year, aroused the fierce pen of an anonymous gentleman who writes the hunting gossip for a sporting paper, and he, amid dark hints of "horsewhippings" and the alarming threat that he did not intend to spread Sarah Grand's name by taking any notice of her in his columns (!) proceeded to attack her "diseased brain," her "neurotic novels," and her evil genius generally. Needless to say, it soon got about that Sarah Grand had said that all hunting women were coarse, and a furious fire was opened by those strange convention-bound folk who can see no unwomanly act in women pursuing the most virile of sports while in the same breath they cry beware on all women who attempt to enter the not particularly virile callings of the professions.

THE SIENKIEWICZ FETE IN WARSAW.—It is said that the preparations now on foot in Warsaw to celebrate the twenty-fifth "literary anniversary" of Henryk Sienkiewicz have outgrown the original plans for the celebration, while a subscription started for the purpose of purchasing an estate for the novelist is increasing beyond the most sanguine expectations. An important feature of the celebration is expected to be the reception of a message from the Czar of Russia, who is well known as a devoted reader of Sienkiewicz's novels. Of course the Pole will be expected to reply, and many guesses are being made in Warsaw literary circles concerning the language in which the reply will be made. A few years ago the novelist was elected a member of the Academy of St. Petersburg, and it became incumbent on him to thank that learned body, which he did, not like a rebel in Polish, nor again like a traitor to Poland's own cause, in Russian, but in austere Latin, concerning which no comment could be made. It is possible that he may reply to the Czar's message in the same language.

NOTES AND NEWS.

Robert Herrick, who wrote "The Web of Life," a novel which called forth considerable adverse criticism from certain Chicago circles, has a new book which The Macmillan Company will shortly publish. It is entitled "Jock O'Dreams," and has for its heroine the daughter of an Ohio manufacturer. The underlying idea is that the world does not exist except from the individual's point of view.

"Distinguished personages and others who at one time or another have been guests of the Lotos Club may have varied emotions on learning that a volume entitled "After-Dinner Speeches at the Lotos Club" will shortly be presented under the auspices of the club. The book will have an unmistakable general interest, nevertheless, for it will contain one hundred of the best speeches which have been delivered at the club's tables during nearly thirty years, including the efforts of men like Charles Kingsley and Wilkie Collins, Mark Twain and Wu Ting Fang. Mr. Chester S. Lord, Secretary of the club, has charge of the subscription list.

Longmans, Green & Co. will publish before long a new novel by Lady Ridley, entitled "Anne Mainwaring." Lady Ridley, it may be recalled, as Mrs. Edward Ridley, wrote about five years ago a clever tale entitled "The Story of Aline," which is now out of print.

Prof. John Bascom of Williams College, well known as a writer on scientific and philosophical subjects, has written for G. P. Putnam's Sons a strictly orthodox volume which will be entitled "The Goodness of God." Considering the source of this book, it should be carefully examined even by those who might turn away from the subject if presented by a less experienced hand.

Mr. W. D. McCracken has prepared for Henry Holt & Co. a new and enlarged edition of his "Rise of the Swiss Republic." Mr. McCracken is well known as an authority on Switzerland through his lectures and books on the romance and politics of the Teutonic Cantons.

"Hero Patriots of the Nineteenth Century," by Edgar Sanderson, with portraits, and "The Virgin Saints and Martyrs," by S. Baring-Gould, with illustrations, will shortly be presented by Thomas Y. Crowell & Co.

John Williamson Palmer, who wrote the Confederate ballad "Stonewall Jackson's Way," will shortly publish through the Funk & Wagnalls Company a collection of lyrics and ballads. The late William Henry Hurlburt once said that Mrs. Howe's "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the ballad above mentioned constituted "about the sole surviving poetry of the civil war."

The Macmillan Company announces a new edition of "April Baby's Book of Tunes," by the author of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."

"German and Swiss Settlements in Provincial Pennsylvania," by Prof. Oscar Kuhn, which Henry Holt & Co. have in press, will deal with a subject that has never yet, we believe, been treated in a broad way. As a side light on early American history, the book will have considerable to say to the general reader.

Gen. J. H. Wilson has rewritten his book on China, including in it an account of the Boxer insurrection. It will be remembered that Gen. Wilson was one of the officers in command of the American troops in China, and has just returned to this country. D. Appleton & Co. will publish the book early in February.

"The Story of the Papacy," by the Rev. William Barry, who has hitherto been mentioned as "the priest who wrote fiction," is now in active preparation at G. P. Putnam's Sons. It is a serious work, and is said to possess considerable authority on the contending influences which finally crystallised into the early diocese of Rome.

The Rev. Frank C. Haddock of the New England Conference has written a volume on the training of the will, which he is publishing at his home, 319 Boston Street, Lynn, Mass. It is entitled "The King on His Throne; or, Power of Will to Direct Mental Culture." It is neither a study of the occult nor of the metaphysical, but is a plain, practical, and scientific treatment of the will, which appears to be full of suggestion for everyday people.

Since S. R. Crockett put the finishing touches to "The Silver Skull," which will shortly be presented by the Frederick A. Stokes Company, he has been all over the locality described in the book. The scene of the story is laid in the "heel of the Italian boot," and reveals a romance of the stirring times of Ciro, the priest, and of Vardarelli, "Robin Hoods of the South, heroes of the people."

John Fiske will review the new life of Thomas Huxley in The Atlantic Monthly for February. In the same number will be presented the first of a series of descriptive articles about typical American cities, which will be entitled "A Plea for New York," by J. K. Paulding. An unsigned paper, entitled "The Confessions of a Minister's Wife," will contain comments on the present religious situation from a point of view which is quite unusual.

"The Life of Gen. Israel Putnam," by William Farrand Livingston, will form the forthcoming volume in G. P. Putnam's Sons American Men of Energy Series. The study of this man should be interesting, for so far his personality has been confined principally to school histories and youthful fiction.

Longmans, Green & Co. are publishing "Morte Arthure," an alliterative poem of the fourteenth century, transcribed from the Lincoln manuscript written by Robert of Thornton. Introduction, notes, and a glossary have been furnished by Mary Banks.

It is only right to say that in the Cyclopaedia of American Biography published by D. Appleton & Co., although Mr. Gribayedoff made several of the full-page portraits, all of the hundreds of vignette illustrations were engraved by Jacques Reich.

Stephen Phillips's "Herod," which continues to have orders on the waiting list at John Lane's, will shortly be presented in French, German, Italian, Russian, and Swedish translations. It would not be surprising, for obvious reasons, if the Italian version should have a certain quality lacking in the original.

Julian Ralph, in writing to his American publisher, The Frederick A. Stokes Company, tells of the Order of Friendlies just founded by Kipling, and composed of the members of the staff of The Friend, a remarkable newspaper, conducted for Lord Roberts at Bloemfontein, by Kipling, Ralph, Doyle, and other writers, including Generals and noblemen. Mr. Ralph's new book is to contain much new matter, with his remarkable letters from Pretoria to America, the correspondence having been remodelled and rearranged.

D. Appleton & Co. have just issued a "New Pronouncing Dictionary of the Spanish and English Languages," which will be of interest to persons whose acquaintance with Spanish has been brought about by recent political contingencies. The book contains a good many words and definitions which may be called "West Indian Spanish."

A pretentious study of Robert Louis Stevenson and his work has been written by Mr. Bellyse Baildon of Edinburgh, concerning which we lack details, except that the London publishers will be Chatto & Windus.

"The Life of Lord Monboddo" will shortly be presented by E. P. Dutton & Co. Monboddo, it will be recalled, is prominently mentioned in Boswell's "Johnson," and was the central figure of a brilliant literary circle in Great Britain about a century ago. He has been called the connecting link between the ancients and Darwin on the theories of evolution.

Longmans, Green & Co. have issued a tasteful little leaflet concerning the cheaper edition of Lieut. Col. Henderson's "Stonewall Jackson and the American Civil War," which, besides portraits, maps, and plans, has an introduction by Field Marshal Wolseley.

Thomas Whittaker will publish in a few days "How to Study the Life of Christ," a handbook for teachers and other biblical students, by the Rev. Alford A. Butler, Warden of the Seabury Divinity School, Faribault, Minn.

Brentano's has just received the following books from Paris: A volume of very interesting reminiscences of Denormandie, the well-known Senator, under the title of "Temps Passé Jours Presents"; Eugène Joliclere's "Une Femme du Monde"; Henri Lavedan's "La Valse des Départs"; Guy de Maupassant's "Les Dimanches d'un Bourgeois de Paris," and Henryk Sienkiewicz's "Par le Fer et par le Feu," being the Polish historical novel of the seventeenth century, known in English as "By Fire and Sword."

According to the report of the Library Committee of the New York Academy of Medicine, the library of that institution is growing rapidly, the additions for the last four years being at least 3,500 volumes a year. The number of books in the library Nov. 30, 1900, was 89,000 volumes. During the year 3,649 volumes were added, and in the circulating department 971 books and 832 journals were issued to 194 readers. Eleven thousand five hundred and twenty readers have registered during the year in the reading room.

A study of "The Athenian Drama," including a series of verse translations from the Greek dramatic poets, is being edited

JUST ISSUED.

MOORE'S

METEOROLOGICAL

ALMANAC

—AND—

WEATHER GUIDE,

By PROF. WILLIS L. MOORE,

Chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Illustrated with half tone engravings; diagrams, and 32 full page charts in two colors.

An indispensable book for the Farmer, Horticulturist, Mariner, Shipper, Merchant, Tourist, and Health Seeker.

Paper cover, 25 cents.
Cloth cover, 50 cents.

HANDY GUIDE TO FLORIDA.

Georgia, the Carolinas, and the Gulf Coast. With maps and illustrations.

Paper, 25 cents; cloth, 50 cents.

Norton's Complete Handbook of

HAVANA and CUBA

By ALBERT J. NORTON.

Illustrated. Cloth, 12mo, $1.50.

GUIDE TO CALIFORNIA

Via the Santa Fe and Union Pacific.

Illustrated. Paper, 50 cents; cloth $1.00.

RAND, McNALLY & CO.

PUBLISHERS.

ENGLAND.

A VALUABLE COLLECTION OF PENN PAPERS AND DOCUMENTS.

MESSRS. SOTHEBY, WILKINSON & HODGE will sell by auction at their house, No. 13 Wellington Street, Strand, London, England, early in February,

A VALUABLE COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPH LETTERS, DOCUMENTS, &c.,

in the autograph of and addressed to William Penn, (the Founder of Pennsylvania,) the property of Lady Sudeley, who inherited them from her uncle, to whom they were bequeathed by Lady Sudeley's cousin, Mr. Granville Penn, great-grandson of William Penn, including:

(A) "My Last Will and Testament made and writt in my own hand this twentyth day of ye 8th month ye year 1705 in ye 60 years of my age." This extremely interesting Document covers 4 pp. 4to, and is signed "Wm. Penn." A Codicil is added, covering 3 pp. 4to, dated 8th of 8th, 1706, and also dated at the end, 21st the sixth month, 1707, signed "Wm. Penn," and witnessed by Tho. Cuppage and Chas. Willcocks. The whole of the Will and Codicil is in the handwriting of Wm. Penn, except the signatures of the witnesses. A valuable and most interesting document.

(B) Copy of William Penn's Patent of the Grant of Pennsylvania, dated 4 March, 1680.

(C) "The Case of Wm. Penn," an unsigned Document, giving particulars of the reason that caused him to give Pennsylvania over to the English Government, &c.

(D) Copy of Letter to Archbishop Tillotson from William Penn, entirely in his autograph and signed "Wm. Penn," 3 pp. folio, dated 30 Aug. 1691.

(E) Minutes of Council at the Committee of Trade and Plantations at the Council Chamber at Whitehall, dated Aug. 3, 1694, in reference to the rights of Wm. Penn to Pennsylvania, &c., covers 8½ pp. folio.

(F) Certificate of the Birth of John Penn, in the autograph of William Penn, dated Philadelphia, 4th 12 month, 1689, and signed by the witnesses present at the birth.

(G) Wm. Penn, A. L. 12 pp. 4to, to Lord Romney dated Pennsylvania, 6 7th month, 1701, extremely interesting letter.

(H) Penn (Mrs. William) A. L. s. 1½ pp. 4to, 13 Nov. 1718, to her son William, in reference to her late husband Wm. Penn.

(I) Penn (William) Copy of Document relating to various Grants to William Penn, &c., &c.

(J) Buckingham (George Villiers Duke of) A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, June 16, 1678, to the Lord Treasurer, in reference to Wm. Penn.

(K) Penn (William) Small Manuscript in his Autograph covering 138 pp. 12mo, being "My Irish Journal farthest from London on ye 15 of ye 7th Month, 1669," giving very interesting details of his Life, &c., in Ireland.

(L) Penn (Admiral Sir William) father of Wm. Penn, two A. L. s. 2 pp. 4to, dated Oct. 12 and 22, 1667, to his son William Penn.

(M) Elizabeth (Princess of the Rhine) two A. L. s. 4-14 Sep. 1677 and 29 Oct. 1677, to Wm. Penn, on most interesting subjects.

(N) Penn Family. Various copies of letters, &c., of William Penn, and copies of Letters addressed to him. Pedigrees, portraits, &c., &c., relating to Wm. Penn and his descendants.

(O) A Miniature in water-colours of Sir William Penn, after Sir Peter Lely, in morocco case; and Two Engravings from the original.

BOTH TRUSTEES AND THOSE WHOSE PROPERTY IS HELD IN TRUST SHOULD SEND $1.50 FOR

LORING'S TRUSTEES HANDBOOK.

Little, Brown & Co., Publishers,
254 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

IAN HAMILTON'S MARCH

By WINSTON SPENCER CHURCHILL. Together with Extracts from the Diary of Lieutenant H. Frankland, a Prisoner of War at Pretoria. Maps and Plans. Crown 8vo, $1.50.

LONGMANS, GREEN & CO., N. Y.

"FROM INDIA TO THE PLANET MARS," 50c.; "Russia and the Russians," 25c.; "Following the Equator," by Mark Twain, 25c.; "Fight for Santiago," (pub'd $2.50,) 50c. THE BOOK MART, 160 4th Ave., New York.

by George C. W. Warr for Longmans, Green & Co. The first volume, which is now ready, is a translation, by the editor, of the "Orestela" of Aeschylus.

Miss Julia Marlowe, who will appear as the heroine in Ronald MacDonald's "The Sword of the King," has written to the author to express her delight at the opportunities offered by the character of Phillipa Drayton, and to add that she is industriously engaged in studying that part of Macaulay's history which covers the reign of William III., in which the action of the book and play takes place.

An Important Catalogue of Japanese Pottery.

The Boston Museum of Fine Arts calls attention to the forthcoming catalogue of its collection of Japanese pottery now in preparation at the Riverside Press. Edward S. Morse passed several years in Japan as Professor of Zoölogy at the Imperial University at Tokio, during which time this collection was made. Several years ago it was purchased by a number of Boston men and presented to the Museum of Fine Arts, Prof. Morse being made Keeper of Japanese Pottery to the Museum. Under his supervision many important additions have been made to the collection, while the last twenty years have been given to the preparation of the Catalogue of Japanese Pottery which is about to appear. Prof. Morse's literary qualifications for this undertaking are proved by the fact that his residence in Japan has called forth other books, one of which, "Japanese Homes and Their Surroundings," is said by The Japan Mail to be "the first book on Japan since Siebold's."

The preface to the catalogue states that Prof. Morse had certain specific objects in view in forming his collection, one of the chief ends sought being to make a collection of Japanese pottery which would equal the famous collection of the potteries of England, Holland, France, and other countries now in the museums of Europe. In the great foreign museums may be seen the pottery of all European countries, representing all the ovens and marks known from the earlier days down to the present time. Japan, the greatest pottery-producing country in the world, on the contrary, will usually be found represented by a single case of poor specimens, often found mixed with Chinese wares. Prof. Morse's great effort has been to secure a fully representative collection of all known specimens, some of which are more curious than beautiful, while some are even positively ugly.

The importance of each specimen has been fully weighed in accordance with the effort to secure the work not only of every known family of potters in Japan, but of all the generations of each family and their collateral branches with the various marks used by them. So far as possible the range of the work of each potter has been attempted. The different kinds of objects made in pottery have not been overlooked, and while this portion of the collection would be more appropriate in a museum of ethnology, the artistic character of the people is well illustrated by the objects associated not only with their tea drinking, writing, flower arrangement, &c., but with the more humble service of the kitchen.

The catalogue contains 5,374 numbers, of which 4,118 are in the museum exhibition cases. These represent 59 provinces and 603 potters, the various signatures of these potters to the number of 1,545 being given.

The importance of both collection and catalogue may be estimated from the fact that this collection is believed to be larger in the number of potteries and marks as well as in provinces represented, than all the other public collections of Japanese pottery in the world; possessing not only all the kinds of potteries and marks represented in European and American museums but hundreds of others not found in these collections, nor described in published works on the subject. While the possession of nearly all the originals figured in Ninagawa's famous work, also serves to add to the importance of the collection.

The collection is contained in forty numbered cases; photogravure plates of each case being found in the catalogue. An outline guide plate, drawn by Prof. Morse, accompanies each photogravure plate, the outlines being numbered in accordance with the catalogue, while in the catalogue itself, to each potter's name will be found added the number of the case in which his work is to be found.

In addition to the forty case-plates, there will be found twenty-eight photogravure plates, showing two hundred and twelve of the more important or rarer objects listed; these larger representations showing the individual features of these pieces most beautifully:

Separate alphabetical indices of provinces, potteries, and marks have also been compiled, which will be found of the greatest value to students and collectors generally. Another very interesting feature of the catalogue will be found in the 1,545 potter's marks, scattered through the text. The plates are all beautifully executed; the individual features of each piece being so well brought out that notwithstanding their diminutive size—and especially so in the case-plates—every one at all familiar with Japanese pottery can readily identify most of them.

The catalogue is to be made in two editions: one of which, the regular edition, forming a large quarto volume of 384 pages, bound in boards, is to be issued at $20 per copy, while an edition on large paper, in two volumes, may also be obtained. This will be limited to fifty copies, bound in boards, and is to be had at $50 per set.

Subscriptions to this catalogue may be sent to the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, Mass., from whom circulars or any further information can doubtless be secured.

Decorations of the John Rylands Library.

On the inauguration of the John Rylands Library in Manchester, England, on Oct. 6, 1899, Mrs. Rylands, the donor of the library, its building and equipment, which was given both as a memorial to her husband and as an aid toward the higher education of the community, presented to each guest then present a dainty little pamphlet which gives an exceedingly interesting account of the building and its decorations.

The library is situated in Deansgate, one of the most important thoroughfares in the city, its architect being Mr. Basil Champneys of London, whose plans included appropriate carvings on the exterior of the building, among which are the initials "J. R." over the centre of the main doorway, while on the left hand will be found the arms of St. Helen's, Mr. Rylands's birthplace, and on the right the arms of the Rylands and Tennant families, to the latter of which Mrs. Rylands belongs. Different portions of the front elevation display the arms of the several universities—Oxford, Cambridge, Durham, London, the Victoria University, Aberdeen, Edinburgh, Dublin, the Royal University of Ireland, and Owens College, Mancheater.

As the building is entered, facing the main doorway will be found a symbolical group, the work of Mr. John Cassidy of Lincoln Grove studio, Manchester, representing theology in the centre holding a Bible, directing Science, an old man with a globe, absorbed in study and discovery, while Art, a youthful metal worker, turns aside to listen; the thought expressed by the sculptor of the group being that science and art derive their highest impulses from religion. On each side of the vestibule is a wide stairway, one side showing the arms of the City of London, the other those of Liverpool, while over the entrances to the principal conference room will be found the arms of the City of Manchester and those of the Royal Borough of Salford.

The principal library is surrounded by a gallery, terminating at the northern end by an apse, in front of which stands a statue of the late John Rylands, also by Mr. Cassidy, with a great stained window above. The clerestory windows, like all others in the building, are glazed with the round glass familiar to students of German art in the fifteenth, sixteenth, and seventeenth centuries, and lately revived here.

The library consists of between sixty and seventy thousand volumes, arranged in the principal library, the Bible room, the Aldine room—containing numerous valuable specimens and memorials of the Venetian school of printers, while the room devoted to early printed books contains priceless treasures, including the Althorp books.

A series of portrait statues by Mr. Robert Bridgman of Lichfield, twenty in number, representing the most eminent men of different ages and countries, in literature, science, and art, are ranged in niches along the gallery front. These include John Wyclif, William Tyndale, Myles Coverdale, and John Rainolds, or Reynolds, the originator of the revision of 1611, usually known as King James's version. John Gutenberg and William Caxton represent printing, Sir Isaac Newton and John Dalton, science; Herodotus and Gibbon, history; while philosophy, ancient and modern, is symbolized by Thales of Miletus, and Francis Bacon, Lord Verulam; Homer, Shakespeare, Milton, and Goethe represent poetry, while Luther and Calvin, John Bunyan and John Wesley stand for the Reformation and British evangelical theology.

The two great stained windows contain forty figures, which, with the statues, form a not inadequate representation of all that is greatest in the intellectual history of mankind. The north window is symbolical of theology, and contains effigies of Moses, Isaiah, John, and Paul; four great fathers of the Church—Origen, Chrysostom, Jerome, and Augustine; mediaeval philosophy in the persons of Anselm, Thomas Aquinas, and Duns Scotus; while later phases of theological development are represented by Erasmus, Beza, and Melanchthon, Hooker, Cartwright, Grotius, Bishop Butler, Jonathan Edwards, and Schleiermacher.

The south window is devoted to Literature, Music, and Art—Plato, Aristotle, Lucretius, Cicero, Descartes, Locke, Kant, and Hegel standing for ancient and modern philosophy; ancient and modern moralists by Socrates, Epictetus, Marcus Aurelius, Dr. Johnson, William Wordsworth, and Thomas Carlyle; poetry, art, and music being represented by Aeschylus, Raphael, Beethoven, Dante, Michael Angelo, and Handel; both windows having been designed and made by Mr. M. C. E. Kempe of Nottingham Place, London.

The main design of the library, in its bearing upon philosophy, ethics, and intellectual culture, is further demonstrated by an admirable series of Latin mottoes, carved on ribbon scrolls between the windows of the clerestory, a printer's device being placed below each motto. These mottoes, twenty-eight in all, are particularly striking, as will be seen from the few given below:

Credo ut intelligam. (I believe, in order that I may understand.)

Sapere aude: incipe. (Have courage to be wise. Begin!)

Possunt quia posse videntur. (They can, because they think they can.)

Tolle, lege. (Take and read.)

Nullius in verba magistri. (Do not blindly follow any master.)

Humani nihil alienum. (All that is human has interest for us.)

Per nos, non a nobis. (Through us, not by us.)

Securus judicat orbis terrarum. (The universal judgment may be trusted.)

Quod fugit usque sequar. (What flies me still will I pursue.)

Otium sine litteris mors est. (Leisure without literary occupation is death.)

Nemo solus sapit. (There is no monopoly in wisdom.)

Tendit in ardua virtus. (Courage breasts the steep ascent.)

Integros haurire fontes. (Draw from unpolluted springs.)

Absunt studia in mores. (Study builds up character.)

Have You Read

Lessons in Love

BY KATRINA TRASK.

The New York World says:

"They are veritable gems in their brilliancy and their purity. If it is true that 'all the world loves a lover,' it is likewise true that the best part of the world loves a love story, and these stories by Mrs. Trask are marked by keen observation and wide experience of life utilized with fine literary art."

The Outlook says:

"They are full of the quality which Mrs. Trask's work never lacks—intensely imaginative power, vividness of feeling, and a touch of that passion which is the element of life."

The Portland Transcript says:

"They are admirably written. Mrs. Trask is past mistress of this graceful form of narration, and they are widely different from any other sketches of the year."

Frontispiece by Sterner.

$1.25.

HARPER & BROTHERS,
NEW YORK.

"The most American story I ever read."
—Dr. John Henry Barrows.

The Darlingtons,

An American Novel,
By ELMORE ELLIOTT PEAKE.

Published (Cloth, 12mo, $1.50) by
McCLURE, PHILLIPS & CO., New York.

DON'T FORGET

that you get FREE with every copy of
VENGEANCE IS MINE
a beautiful platinum print of the heroine, Kate Ingleby.
NEW AMSTERDAM BOOK CO.

HENRY MILLER, Bookseller and Importer, 1 Barclay St., opposite Astor House.

We sell all new Books, except net ones, at 25 per cent. off publishers' prices.

"DEACON BRADBURY

is, in many respects, as distinct a character as David Harum."
—Phila. Item.

To Authors Seeking a Publisher

Manuscripts in all branches of literature, suitable for publication in book form, are required by an established house. Liberal terms. No charge for examination. Prompt attention and honorable treatment. "Books," 141 Herald, 23d Street, New York.

A New Volume by Dr. Theodore F. Wolfe.

LITERARY RAMBLES AT HOME AND ABROAD

By the author of "Literary Shrines," "A Literary Pilgrimage," and "Literary Homes and Haunts." Illustrated with photogravures. Buckram, $1.25.

J. B. LIPPINCOTT COMPANY,
Publishers, Philadelphia.

M. F. MANSFIELD, 14 W. 22, N.Y.

Manual Democal—Rocchi . . . . 75c.
Brain and Body—Wilson 1.00
Gentle Art of Good Talking . . . . 75c.
Catalogue on Request.

SLAUGHTER SALE

of Publishers' Samples.
AUCTION EVERY DAY AT 12 O'CLOCK.
Many Standard Works in Handsome Bindings.
148 FULTON STREET, NEW YORK.

AN EXPERIENCED WRITER WISHES POSITION in Editorial, Advertising, or Publication departments. Has had considerable experience in making reviews, compilation, editing, revising, condensing, and advertisement writing. Address D., Box 191 Times Office.

QUERIES AND ANSWERS.

EDWARD HOWLAND, Waterbury, Conn.: "I have a copy of the life of Patrick Henry, by William Wirt, published in New York in 1835 by the Harpers. Is it of any especial value?"

This edition has little value. The original edition, printed in Philadelphia in 1818, has recently sold for $3. The book is still in the market, H. T. Coates & Co. publishing a reprint at 35 cents.

MISS E. B. MITCHELL, 2,112 Newkirk Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.: "In The Dial, the first number of which was issued in 1840, the names of the writers are not given, only occasionally in initial letter. Is there published or obtainable a complete list of the contributors to the four years of that periodical?"

A list of Emerson's contributions to The Dial will be found in the appendix to James Elliot Cabot's "Memoir of Ralph Waldo Emerson," (Boston, Houghton, Mifflin & Co., 1887, two volumes, $3.50.) For a general list of contributors see G. W. Cooke's article in "The Journal of Speculative Philosophy," July, 1885.

"L. R. S.," New York City: "I inclose several examples of memoria technica on the Decalogue; the authors I am unable to give. The first seems to be the one for which Mr. James W. Cheney asked in THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW of Dec. 29:

I.

Thou no God shalt have but Me;
Before no idol bow the knee;
Take not the name of God in vain;
Nor dare the Sabbath Day profane;
Give both thy parents honor due;
Take heed that thou no murder do;
Abstain from words and deeds unclean:
Nor steal, though thou art poor and mean;
Nor make a willful lie, nor love it;
What is thy neighbor's, do not covet.

II.

(1) Have thou no gods but Me; (2) Nor graven type adore;
(3) Take not My name in vain; 'twere guilt most sore;
(4) Hallow the seventh day; (5) Thy parents' honor love:
(6) No murder do; (7) Nor thou adulterer prove;
(8) From theft be pure thy hands; (9) No witness false, thy word:
(10) Covet of none his house, wife, maid, or herd.

III.

Worship to God—but not God graven—pay;
Blaspheme not; sanctify the Sabbath Day;
Be honored parents; brother's blood unshed;
And unpolluted hold the marriage bed;
From theft thy hand, thy tongue from lying keep;
Nor covet neighbor's home, spouse, serf, ox, sheep.

From 'Gleanings for the Curious.'—Bombaugh."

MISS M. A. RODNEY, 4,703 Hancock Street, Germantown, Penn.: "Kindly assist one of your readers who has been aided by the lists of books you frequently print, and tell me where I can obtain all of Philip Gilbert Hamerton's books."

Most of Hamerton's works are now published by Little, Brown & Co. Among them are the following: "Autobiography," $3; "Chapters on Animals," $1.50; "Contemporary French Painters," $3; "Etching and Etchers," $5; "French and English: A Comparison," $1.50; "The Graphic Arts," $1.50; "Harry Blount," $1.25; "Human Intercourse," $1.50; "Imagination in Landscape Painting," $1.50; "Intellectual Life," $1; "Landscape," $1.50; "Life of Turner," $1.50; "Marmorne," $1; "Modern Frenchmen," $1.50; "Painter's Camp," $1.50; "Painting in France," $3; "Paris," $3; "Portfolio Papers," $1.50; "Quest of Happiness," $1.50; "Round My House," $1.50; "Summer Voyage on River Saône," $2.50; "Sylvan Year and Unknown River," $1.50; "Thoughts About Art," $1.50; "Wenderholme," $1.50. Charles Scribner's Sons published at $40, in a limited edition, Hamerton's "Art of the American Wood Engraver," and the Macmillan Company issues, at $1.25, his "Rembrandt's Etchings."

LAWRENCE S. MOTT, Newark, N. J.: "There is a curious mistake in one of the closing chapters of Mr. Zangwill's 'Mantle of Elijah.' The author has one of his characters say he never did agree with Dante's 'sorrow's crown of sorrow' theory. The quotation is not from Dante, but from Tennyson's 'Locksley Hall.' The couplet runs as follows:

Comfort? Comfort scorn'd of devils! This is truth the poet sings,
That a sorrow's crown of sorrow is remembering happier things."

Reference to Bartlett's Familiar Quotations will show Cary's translation of Dante's lines to be:

No greater grief than to remember days
Of joy when misery is at hand, while Longfellow's interpretation of the same lines is,

There is no greater sorrow
Than to be mindful of the happy time
In misery.

Tennyson's reference was undoubtedly made to the original idea expressed by Dante.

GEORGE LLOYD FREEMAN, Glen Head, L. I.: "A recent number of THE NEW YORK TIMES SATURDAY REVIEW contained a review article on Sir Joshua Reynolds, by Mr. Russell Sturgis, in which the great painter is spoken of as 'the author of the well-known "Discourses on Painting" and the "Dialogues."' I never before happened to hear of such a work as Reynolds's 'Dialogues,' and would like to learn more about them. The book is not referred to in any biographies of Sir Joshua and his great contemporaries that I have met with, and if it is mentioned by Armstrong I feel certain the manuscript must have been quite recently brought to light. Chambers's Cyclopedia enumerates Sir Joshua's 'literary works' as consisting of 'fifteen discourses delivered in the Royal Academy, three essays contributed to The Idler, notes to Mason's translation of Du Fresnoy's "Art of Painting"; a few notes for Dr. Johnson's edition of "Shakspere," and notes of his tour through Flanders' in 1781. That is all. Can you give me any light on the subject, or will Mr. Sturgis kindly do so? Also, I would like to know something concerning the 'John Russell' whom he ranks along with 'Richard Wilson, Romney, Morland, and their contemporaries,' but whom I completely fail to identify."

John Russell is considered at length in the National Biography, and a quarto book about him, with illustrations, was issued not so long ago by George Bell & Sons. The dialogues by Sir Joshua Reynolds are printed in John Wilson Croker's edition of Boswell's "Life of Johnson." In the five volume edition, (Murray, 1831,) the dialogues come in the appendix to Vol. IV., and in a note, Page 169 of the same volume, their origin is discussed and their authenticity vouched for. It is one of the attractions of Mr. Armstrong's admirable book that these out-of-the-way pieces of shrewd criticism and good wit are considered carefully and extracts of them given.

